District Court Suddenly Adjourns

STARTINGLY sudden was the adjournment of the Lincoln County District Court this week, after having been in session, all told, little more than a week, the members of the petit jury having served only four days. The petit jury was discharged Tuesday morning and the grand jury finished its labors and was discharged Wednesday morning. Before going into the question of this sudden termination of this session of court it is necessary to relate some of the previous proceedings. Saturday afternoon the grand jury made a partial report, returning ten true bills. Monday morning five pleas of guilty had been entered in response to the same number of indictments, to wit: two against Rafael Marquez, one on the charge of discharging firearms within a settlement, the other charge being an assault with a deadly weapon; Felipe Chavez, larceny of a horse and Jacobo Trujillo, larceny of a colt; Harry Roy, raising a check. In addition to the pleas of guilty, Miguel Garcia was given a jury trial, verdict guilty, with recommendation of clemency. Besides the disposition of these new indictments the court had heard other charges coming over from last court, from which, however, no convictions resulted, the judge, in some of the cases, ordering an instructed verdict of acquittal.

Rafael Marquez received a penitentiary sentence of from 1 to 2 years and a fine of $500 in each case; Felipe Chavez 2 to 4 years and a fine of $500; Harry Roy 1 year to 15 months and a fine of $500, and Miguel Garcia is to be sentenced next week upon the return of Judge Medler from Santa Fe. Jacobo Trujillo, who had plead guilty to the larceny of a colt, having been jointly indicted with Procopio Gustamante, was discharged by the court upon the return of a verdict by the jury acquitting his confederate. From this verdict grew the somewhat sensational discharge of the jury that brought in the verdict and later, also, of the other twelve members of the regular panel. The verdict was reported Monday evening, the court took a recess until the following morning at which time the proceedings that terminated this session of the court took place. Many versions were given of the morning's sensation, but Judge Medler dictated to Stenographer Strawbridge a statement, not only of his remarks to the jury, but of the incidents leading up to and causing their discharge. A copy was furnished The News and it is herewith appended:

The trial of criminal cases at the present term of court were brought to an abrupt end on Tuesday morning the 14th by the summary action of Judge Medler in discharging the present petit jury panel after the returning of a verdict of acquittal in the case of State vs. Procopio Gustamante, charged with the larceny of a colt. The indictment in the case was returned jointly against Procopio Gustamante and one Jacobo Trujillo. Trujillo had previously plead guilty. During the trial of the case against Gustamante, Trujillo was used as a witness on behalf of the State and he testified that he and the defendant Gustamante had taken up and driven off the colt from the place where it ranged in company with its mother. The defendant Gustamante in his own defense had gone upon the stand and admitted that he assisted in driving the colt away, in hitching it up to one of the teams that he and Trujillo were driving, and that they had driven the colt over to Trujillo's place where it was left.

The jury, within half an hour after retiring, returned a verdict of not guilty against Gustamante. Upon the court convening on Tuesday morning Jacobo Trujillo, who had previously plead guilty, was called into court and the Judge there explained to him, that altho he had previously plead guilty, the effect and result of the verdict of the jury in the case against Gustamante, his co-defendant, finding him not guilty, was to find that he, Trujillo, had not engaged in the transaction of stealing the colt. The court then advised Trujillo that he was entitled to some clemency on account of his plea of guilty and would receive consideration on account of that plea, and from the further fact the jury having refused to convict his co-defendant, Gustamante, the court would discharge him from further attendance upon the court.

The court then having the jury before it, stated that he had refrained from saying to them what he was inclined to say at the returning of the verdict the night before, having allowed the matter to go over till this morning, and after having considered it during the night he had come to the conclusion to discharge them from further attendance upon the court at this term. He further said that he understood that eleven of their number were for acquittal and one of their number was for conviction. The court characterized their verdict as a flagrant miscarriage of justice and could not allow the same to pass without taking exception to it; that the defendant Gustamante had practically admitted the stealing of the animal and had only set up as an excuse that somebody told him to do it; that is, that Trujillo had asked him to assist in stealing the animal; that if juries were inclined to acquit in such cases, in view of such plain evidence, that there was very little consideration given to the law and order element in the County.

The Court intimated that the jury might have been mistaken in their verdict and would give them credit for

When death, scattering on the gale,
Sweeps darkly round the helmed folk,
And lighted waves rush wildly back,

that; but as there were other important cases to be tried at this term of court, the court would not take any chances in trying any more cases before the men constituting this jury, and discharged them from further attendance upon the court. The court further said that they had disregarded entirely the evidence of the co-defendant Trujillo who had plead guilty, and had also disregarded the evidence of the defendant himself when he testified that he had gone and helped take the colt and drive it away and put it in Trujillo's pasture. The court further said that when such a verdict was returned upon the kind of evidence as produced in this case, he would not countenance it. Having discharged the twelve men constituting the panel trying the case against Gustamante, the other twelve men, were also discharged. The court explained that it would be necessary to issue a special venire, putting the county to extra expense, which would not be justified to try the two or three other cases remaining for trial at this term of court.

The following is the report of the grand jury:

We, your Grand Jury, have the honor to submit this our final report:

We have been in session 9 days and held 3 night sessions, during which time we have investigated 30 cases, examined 91 witnesses, returned 78 True Bills and 12 No Bills.

We have made diligent and careful investigation of all offenses coming to our knowledge and have tried to pass in a dispassionate and impartial manner upon each case presented to us.

We note a number of cases referred to us from the Justices of the Peace in various precincts of the County which should have been settled and disposed of by said Justices thereby saving the county considerable expense and trouble, it being clearly shown by the original complaint that said Justices in those cases had complete jurisdiction; and cases of that character that have been presented to the Grand Jury are herewith returned to the Court with specific recommendation that they be referred back to the Justices of the Peace from which they came with instructions to proceed to the final disposition of such cases in accordance with the instructions given the Grand Jury by the Court.

Owing to the fact that during the past five years the County records have been in the town of Lincoln and the sessions of Court have been held in the town of Carrizozo, no grand jury during this period has been able to make an investigation of said records. We have gone into this matter as thoroughly as possible through committees appointed for that purpose, which committees reports are hereto attached and made a part of this report.

We wish to express our thanks to the Court, the District Attorney and Court Officials for the courtesies extended to your Grand Jury in the discharge of their duties.

There being no farther business before us, we respectfully beg to be discharged.

J. A. HALBY,
Foreman of the Grand Jury.

To the Honorable Chairman and Members of the Grand Jury:

Gentlemen: We your committee beg to report that we have examined the books of the Sheriff and owing to the short time and opportunity we have had, we have been unable to make a thorough examination and would therefore suggest that the traveling auditor be asked to make a thorough examination of the same.

We also suggest as the original plans of the jail have not been completed as to heating, sewerage and ventilation, that some temporary means be applied to meet immediate requirements.

We also find Court House and Jail in good condition but badly in need of water for sewerage. We would also suggest that the prisoners, that can be used for such, be used to clean up and level the Court house yard.

We also find that accommodations in the ladies' ward of the jail are very poor.

Yours very respectfully,
E. T. COLLIER,
J. A. MCPHENSON,
R. E. STRIDHAM,
Committee.

To the Honorable Grand Jury Assembled:

We, the committee appointed to investigate the condition in the office of the County Clerk, beg to report, that after making said investigation as thoroughly as possible, we find that on the completion of the removal of the records, from Lincoln, that they have since been left in an open manner in the private office of the County Clerk instead of being placed in the vaults in the new Court House as should have been done.

We therefore recommend that the office of said County Clerk be moved with all possible haste to the new Court House and the records placed in the vaults where they will be safe.

We also find that at present there is no accurate check kept between the County Clerk and the County Treasurer as to Clerk's fees collected.

We also recommend that the new set of books as ordered by the State Traveling Auditor be put into immediate use as we understand has been ordered by said Traveling Auditor.

In view of the loose manner in which these affairs have apparently been handled we consider it only fair to the people of the county to recommend that the Traveling Auditor be asked to make an audit of the county records, in order that these things may be speedily straightened out.

ROBERT H. TAYLOR,
R. E. LEMON,
HENRY SILVA,
Committee.

To the Honorable Foreman of the Grand Jury:

A Marvelous Escape

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

A PUBLIC dance will be given at the Rail Road Club House Halloween, October 31. The affair is to be a masquerade and all attending are expected to masque. Music by the orchestra.

Chronic Dyspepsia

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

Moving to New Quarters

GRAY BROS. are moving into their new building today. The new building has just been completed, is located on Main street, adjoining Johnson Bros. Garage. The building just vacated by Gray Bros. will be used for the post office and will be occupied just as soon as it can be made ready.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. It cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. For sale by all dealers.

Off for the Pen

SHERIFF CHAVEZ, accompanied by W. D. Gray, W. S. Norman and Geo. C. Clements as guards, left last night for Santa Fe with four prisoners for the state penitentiary. ## District Court Suddenly Adjourns

We the committee appointed to examine the records of the office of the County Treasurer beg leave to make the following report:

We find the office to be kept neatly, efficiently, and accurately. A complete system of books seems to eliminate chances of errors.

We find that the books of the Treasurer show a balance of $21714.04 to be accounted for on the 1st day of October, 1913.

We find that there is a balance to the credit of the County in the Exchange Bank of Carrizozo to the full amount of the balance which was $21714.04 on the first day of October, 1913.

We believe that the Treasurer, Dr. T. W. Watson, makes an earnest effort towards the collection of all taxes due the county.

We find that receipts are issued for all money collected by the Treasurer, and that all moneys for merchant licenses should be sent directly to the Treasurer of the County and not to the Assessor whose duty it is to assess the amount of the license.

Done at Carrizozo, N. M., this, the 14th day of October, A. D. 1913.

RUFUS CHOATE,
JAMES SIMMS,
L. S. HUST,
Committee.

To the Foreman and Members of the Grand Jury:

Gentlemen: We the undersigned members of the committee appointed by your foreman to investigate the condition of the Assessor's office, report:

That we have interviewed the Assessor, Mr. Henry Corn, and have examined such of the books of this office for recent years as seemed to be within reasonable reach of your committee at this time. Mr. Corn has informed us that the 1913 Tax Roll is now in the hands of the State Board of Equalization at Santa Fe but we examined the others for several years back, and all seem to be properly and well made up so far as we were able to determine.

That from such inquiries as we have been able to make, from Mr. Corn and others, that Mr. Corn has been and is discharging the duties of Assessor in a thorough and painstaking manner and without favor and that he has most capable clerical assistance.

Your committee found, however, that in the matter of the commercial and other licenses, there seems to be some confusion of duties among the offices of Assessor, Treasurer, and Clerk, and the lack of a proper system for making and preserving in the Assessor's office a record of such licenses. It seems that it is the custom for the Clerk to issue these licenses upon receipt or order of the Treasurer and that the Treasurer issues such order upon receipt of an application from the party desiring the license, accompanied by the fee for the license. This seems to your committee to be entirely proper, but it appears that the applicant sometimes presents his application to the Assessor, sometimes to the Clerk and sometimes to the Treasurer. Mr. Corn tells us that where application is made to the Clerk or Treasurer, there is no record in his office of the transaction and when he receives the application his only record of the transaction is the stub of the receipt that he issues to the party for the amount of the fee and that he pays this to the Treasurer but takes no receipt from him for same. In any case there is only an imperfect record in the Assessor's office of these transactions, or none at all.

Inasmuch as it seems to be the duty of the Assessor to fix the amount of the fee for these licenses in accordance with law, your committee suggests that the Grand Jury request the Court to issue such instructions to these officers, either directly or through the County Commissioners as will remedy the defect in the records of the Assessor's office, and it seems to your committee that this might be best by requiring all persons desirous of securing such licenses to present proper application to the Assessor for the approval and endorsement and that the Assessor be required to keep a complete record (or copy) of all such applications and we would suggest that the Assessor be instructed not to receive the fee and the Treasurer be instructed to issue to the Clerk his order for a license upon application bearing the endorsement of the Assessor.

These suggestions meet with the approval of the Present Assessor because he would be relieved from the handling the fees and his office would be provided with a proper record of the transactions.

Carrizozo, October 13, 1913.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. F. GODDARD,
JOS. M. MONTANA,
D. D. TIFFANY,
Committee.

In the Far Northwest.

SHADDOCH P. JOHNSON, a conductor on the local road, now taking an extended leave of absence, sends us a card from Alberta province, telling something of that country and of his visit there. We quote as follows: "The chief asset of this Canadian west is that wheat will grow 64 bushels to the acre and pat-

125. The 1913 grain yield will total almost 200,000,000 bushels of wheat and 300,000,000 bushels of oats--or over 500,000,000 bushels in all; bringing $170,000,000 to these western farmers. This is off of only 12 per cent of the cultivated land. "Leave tomorrow (October 8) on a hunting trip to Fort McPherson--up in the Arctic Circle, in the extreme far north."

As with the orchardists of Lincoln county thought about it at the time, the little exhibit they made here at our two days' fall festival bore fruit and has further helped to put Lincoln county on the map. The small assortment of apples Geo. W. Coe and T. H. Kirkland sent to our Commercial Club, which later went to the state fair at Albuquerque, won five different prizes--three firsts, one second and one third. Our firsts were, "Best Plate of Pawaukes," "Largest and heaviest Plate of Apples" and "Best Plate of Belle Flower." We had the second best plate of Greenhugs, and we took third in a special prize. To the orchardists who furnished the exhibit and to W. L. Gumm who transported a part of it to this point and arranged it the thanks of the Commercial Club are heartily extended. Next year with a little more effort we should make a splendid showing.

Stearns-Poague

B. Hamilton. The groom is a popular railroad man, employed in the local yards, and the bride has resided in Carrizozo for a number of years, and recently employed in the dry goods department of the Carrizozo Trading Co. THX NEWS joins the many friends of the couple in wishing them much happiness.
