News Notes from Outside Points

FORT STANTON

Dr. McKeon with Dr. Sloan spent last Sunday afternoon in taking a drive to Lincoln.

Mr. Walter-Scott has returned from a business trip in the south.

The local postoffice has been supplied with the latest weighing scales sent direct from the Post Office Department at Washington.

The following were the reels run at the Post Theater last week: Pathé Weekly No. 49, Alkali's home coming; An Exciting Honey Moon, in two reels, being one of the best shows given here this season.

Special Non-Sectarian Services for the children of the Post in the library hall next Sunday evening. Adults as well will take part in the services.

The Vanzant Emporium is doing big business at the old stand on the "square" with special emphasis on the word "square."

The No. 11 Billiard rooms have been closed indefinitely.

Special George Washington celebration in the library hall Sunday evening February 22nd.

Miss Dorothy Smith spent one day last week with little friends at Lincoln.

A large shipment of Asbestos shingles have arrived to be placed on No. 10 store room.

The material for the chapel Belfrey is arriving and soon will be placed adding much to the architecture as well making convenient to hear the sweet toned bell in all parts of the Post.

Messrs. P. Pegram and W. Williams of Lincoln visited with friends at No. 4 one day last week.

Among the promotions in the Post school last week were that of Lawrence Darby and Ina Hall from the Preparatory to First Grade.

A supply of the beautiful Fort Stanton View calendars have been sent to the Public Health Bureau complimentary from the Fort Stanton Amusement Association.

The Surgeon General has acknowledged same with a special vote of thanks to C. H. Babbs through the local commanding officer.

Also the Bureau has been given a supply of the Ft. Stanton Souvenir books which are likewise highly appreciated, and will tend to give our eastern friends a better idea of Uncle Sam's popular sanatorium in New Mexico.

During the Non-Sectarian services in the library hall last Sunday evening the Chaplain spoke on the second Commandment of God, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

In part he said—"It is not necessary to insist upon the reasonableness of this Divine Law. Since God is the infinitely perfect being, unutterably worthy of the deepest reverence and adoration, the very least that we can do is to speak with reverence His Holy Name.

There is a difference between blasphemy and swearing by the name of God. A blasphemy is far more guilty than an oath, although the latter is most reprehensible. An oath consists in taking the name of God in vain; but a blasphemy implies a slur outrage, a direct insult, unless it is not truly uttered with a deliberate intention of evil; an undoubted blasphemy is a grievous sin, while an oath seldom reaches an equal degree of guilt. It is blasphemy to revile religion, or things of God; to rail for instance against the true christian methods of conducting religious ceremonies, etc. Remember, that God is the Infinite, Perfect Being upon whom we depend for life and existence. He is that Being Who filled the heavens and earth, and holdeth all things in the hollow of His hand. The blessed in heaven keep singing unceasingly "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God." Remember the name of Jesus originated in heaven and was brought to this earth by an angel. It was borne by our Redeemer. In the name of Jesus the Apostles preached the gospel. By it devils were cast out, the sick were healed, and the dead raised to life. At that name the angels in heaven bow and cover their heads. In no other name is salvation given."

Mr. and Mrs. Myles passed through from Ancho a few days ago enroute to White Oaks, where Mr. Myles has secured a position at the power plant.

M. A. Price of Ancho, made a business trip through this camp to White Oaks the fore part of last week.

Mrs. E. H. Talbert, is engaged at present teaching the Fambrough children on the east side.

Miss Vergie Moberly is here from Meek on a visit to friends.

Mrs. Davenport's condition changed very suddenly for the worse a few days since, and she is now very low.

E. E. Wilson has been kept in several days the past week with grip.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the dance the past week-end.

Albert Ross idled a few days in White Oaks the past week.

Andrew McBrayer returned from White Oaks, where he had secured work at the mines. But didn't like the proposition, and only remained there a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey of near Ancho was here to participate in the dance.

Mr. Ross and son, Albert, will leave for their home near Mountainair about the middle of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cleghorn, Miss Anise Fewell, Clarence Palmer and several others were here for the dance, from Texas Part.

An auto load of merry young people from Corona were here to contribute their share of neighborliness to the dance.

Indigging out a placer hole, Mr. Ross encountered a fine flow of water. He now has two good wells on the place, both discovered accidentally. The first well has afforded an abundance of water for ten or twelve years.

Miss Isabel Lee and brother, Fred, from White Oaks, were in camp to attend the dance.

Jesse May of the Nogal country came in with a large load of late vegetables the past week.

Mr. Fambrough, we learn, went to El Paso this week for treatment. His health has not been the best for quite a while, and we hope for no serious complications to appear.

There are a few cases of grip in camp, but all are improving with little chance for bad developments.

In the last report the Franklin transaction, reported last week, simmered down to him selling an interest in and not the whole of either claim. He is going to try a cyanide process in the near future.

Max Guevara returned Monday from Carrizozo and Alamogordo. Mrs. Liberato Guevara was postmistress during his absence.

A. H. Norton is showing great partiality to one foot now-a-days, by having the other do the work; cause, rheumatism.

Capitan

Mrs. Fiske has partially recovered from the fall she had some time ago.

We are enjoying fine weather at present.

Mrs. Marshall West is going to move back to the ranch on Little Creek, on account of spring work.

Mrs. Ella Robinson, formerly Mrs. Ella Bingham, of Capitan, has moved to her ranch on what is known as Bitter Canyon, north of the Bonito.

Mrs. Elsie Rogers and her brother, Mr. Porter, were up from the "Chimneys," this side of Roswell. They drove over in the afternoon in their car to view Fort Stanton.

Our school is making good progress.

Brother Haywood filled his regular appointment here Sunday. We enjoyed his sermon very much, as he hit some of us just right.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coe and baby passed through Capitan this week on their way to Ft. Stanton, to visit friends and to witness the picture show at the Fort.

White Mountain

Mr. Eugene Montague and Miss Agnes Bennett were up from Three Rivers visiting Miss Florence Nabours.

M. H. Cook stopped off here en-route from Roswell to El Paso in his automobile.

H. S. Scheffey was a visitor to Carrizozo, returning by automobile with Mr. Cook.

Norman Riggs spent a couple of days in Carrizozo this week.

Jim Nabours has been up to the Grumbles ranch near Carrizozo, where he is wintering his cattle.

Begin to go to Church Sunday Feb. 15
THE PASTORS' WELCOME

To have a Sunday set apart as the day when every one is to start again to attending church has struck a responsive cord in the hearts of the people. There has gone up a hearty amen. The two churches—Baptist and Methodist, have taken it up. The newspaper men have tended their services heartily, and we rather think there are many outsiders who think this is a good move. Many have explained that the reason they do not go to church is that they have just gotten out of the habit. Such is largely the case. Now we come to you with a day set aside when every one may recall and react on that old custom. There are some habits that ought not to be acquired, but a church-attending habit ought to cling to everyone.

So here is to your health Carrizozo in a larger church attendance.

Interest in The News' popular voting contest is now at fever heat, and the contestants and their friends are hustling for new subscribers and renewals in a manner that is very interesting. They realize that the one who wins the beautiful piano will get a prize worthy of their efforts and they are doing all they can to see that their favorite candidate comes home ahead.

That the capital prize is certainly worth a lot of hustling goes without saying.

You will have to hurry to get your votes in as the second count in this great contest comes off Feb. 2d, the bonus votes hold good only until then.

Don't wait. Keep on hustling because, while you are laying off some one else may be working and getting the new subscribers that you might have had if you had kept going. Ten Dollars in Gold to the contestant making the greatest gain since the first count; Five Dollars in Gold to the contestant making second greatest gain. The ballot box closes at 12 o'clock noon, and the count will take place at 1:00 p.m.

At the same time don't forget the merchants coupons. Every time you get forty of them you get an extra bonus of 500. It doesn't make any difference whether the coupons all come from one merchant or not, as long as you bring them in, in bunches of forty.

It never pays to stop even to get your breath. Just keep on going. Your friends will see that you are doing your best to win, and will all turn in and help you. Nothing comes to him who waits, and the ones who do the hustling are rewarded in the end. The second count will be made Monday afternoon, Feb. 2, by the judges.

Do not forget the prizes the merchants are giving. If not fortunate enough to secure the piano, you may receive one of the merchants' prizes, and they are well worth working for.

Bear in mind that the ballot box is closed for the second count at 12 o'clock, Monday, Feb. 2d. Be sure and have your votes all in by that time so that you will have a fair chance to show what your standing is.

For the next few days the following bonuses will be given and may be withdrawn at any time. Remember these are positively the largest bonuses that will be given for these subscriptions during the contest, so get busy and get subscriptions while the bonuses are big and your work will count for the most. Here are the bonuses.

For every 7 new subscriptions 10,000 extra-bonus-votes, making

A REAL Veiled Bride

BALTIMORE—Romance dead? Some one said so recently, and a few days afterward, a Baltimore doctor led to the altar a woman wearing a veil. After the ceremony, when she lifted it, for the first time did he behold the woman he had married.

Romance dead? Whoever reads the papers knows that romance lives joyous and unbounded, triumphing over space, over convention, over bigoted prejudices.

It is the very age of romance. A dark day it is that fails to record some new invention, some fresh story of success achieved over insurmountable difficulties; the victory of some bold lover who has snatched his lass from parents deaf to the appeal of youth that must be served.

Today romance has the courage of its convictions. Romance has its rights. Judges, juries, public opinion bow before it, rejoice in it. Romance is the pearl in the oyster, the half obliterated masterpiece in the second hand store, the yellow tint in the prospector's pan, the golden note in the stammerer's voice. In every phase of human activity romance has its place and its turn. And the best and most gracious of its qualities is that you never know when or where it may manifest itself.

Take the story of the doctor and his veiled bride.

Doubtless he is known to thousands of people in Baltimore. An Englishman by birth, as James W. Hellyer he officiates and does business as the agent of a Cuban land company. But having an active and aspiring mind he took up medicine some time ago, passed his examinations and practices under the name of Dr. Francis W. Hartley. He is twice a widower and is fifty-six years of age.

Not Beyond Age of Romance. "Stop! You think that a twice widower of fifty-six and romance are incompatible?"

You do not know life, then. If you have lived right and your veins are young, you begin at fifty to realize the possibilities of the splendid and wonderful game that life is. Just remember, please that Hartman was over fifty before he saw the Promised Land of the Union Pacific. And was not that perennial youth, Andrew Carnegie, well over the meridian before he entered fully into the kingdom of steel?

But Dr. Hartley is just fifty-six and has faith. Faith is far more necessary than bread for one never needs bread who has faith. He is vital, this Dr. Hartley genial and generous, exuberant. Over zealous, perhaps, if you don't understand that he has rather more vivaciousness of imagination than the average person.

There came to visit him in Baltimore a friend of his, an officer of the Cuban land company. He is a good fellow and a proper man, but it's a lonely life off there among Cubans. So he confided to the doctor.

The doctor prescribed a wife. Fine! But how is one to get a wife out of land like that? A wife means a campaign. How is one to prosecute a campaign living far off in Cuba? "There's a woman, your woman, your soul-mate in the world," says the doctor. "Advertise for her and venturing is good. Only foolish, narrow minded people object to it. Advertise, man!"

Sometimes Well to Take Advice. There are others of Dr. Hartley's type, and when one of them gives you advice you might as well succumb, because they'll take it themselves if you don't.

In this instance dependent does not say what the Cuban responded. The doctor took the burden on his own shoulders. He explains the facts of his friend's case and the kind of woman his friend (he) should have to make him happy. (One is prone here to remember a certain Miles Standish and John Alden.)

It appeared this fateful advertisement in a matrimonial paper that is published in Boston.

There were replies. Unsatisfactory. The Cuban intendant having finished his leave of absence, returned to Cuba. More replies came.

At last a letter. It was guarded—inquiring—yet interested—a personality, rare, different to the doctor, compelling, pierced through the traced signs on the white paper.

Now, Dr. Hartley has imagination which includes intuition—perhaps clairvoyance—a great many things we all use some time or other and know nothing about. Commonly, the feeling he had is called a "hunch."

When Dr. Hartley read this particular letter he realized that the woman who wrote it was not meant for his Cuban friend, but for him. She was his soul mate. If you had found him at that particular moment and had asked him to explain just why a rather stilted note containing rather careful inquiries should give him a conviction so poignant, he could not have told you any more than the man who believes in Heaven can tell you just why.

Through a locked door she listened to his plea for forgiveness.

He knows. Well, Dr. Hartley knew.

Some Inevitable Delays.

There were delays. Even in this age of romance mind does not immediately fly to mind. Letters passed back and forth. The Doctor's understanding of his true soul mate ripened. More clairvoyance. Before her letters came he would sit at his desk and write out her very words that were on the way to him.

Time and again he did this, so he says.

Dr. Hartley explains that this power represented an absolute consonance of soul a real communion of spirit. He proclaimed vociferated, that he had found his soul mate, that there were soul mates, dull fools to the contrary, and that he knew and she knew and that he would show people the faith that was in him.

He did. He told his friends that he would marry this correspondent of his with out even setting his merely mortal eyes upon her. His intuition, his telepathic vision, had shown her to him a thousand times. If one really believes, why ask to be shown?

Ordeal a Matter of Necessity. It is time to introduce the woman in the case, the woman who is still veiled who must remain veiled to the altar just to prove Dr. Hartley's faith. That she deemed the ordeal important is denied. The idea has a certain value of its own, she now admits. One should marry for the mind not for the eye, she says now. But she wasn't a bit pleased to be made a Roman holiday of just because her prospective husband had a resounding imagination.

She is, or rather was, a Mrs. Marian Clark Arnett, the daughter of Rear Admiral Clark of the United States navy, and she is the widow of one Frederick Arnett, a Boston banker. An accomplished, intelligent, cultured woman, forty-five years of age, of decided musical tastes, she has traveled widely, has an excellent social position and is, perhaps, the last person one would think of as a candidate for marriage through a matrimonial paper.

One need not be clairvoyant to realize that this conservative and highly respectable lady resented the exuberant happiness that Dr. Hartley insisted on sharing with the newspapers. If one has lived long in Washington, in Boston and in Philadelphia, one knows that it is not good form to use brass bands to testify to excited emotions.

In unmistakable terms she conveyed this to the doctor. Indeed she threatened to revoke her consent to the marriage.

Dr. Hartley Equal to Occasion. Imagine Dr. Hartley at this juncture. At the giddy summit of his exaltation to be tripped up on a question of etiquette, and yet he had declared a thousand times that he knew Mrs. Arnett's mind as he knew his own.

Mrs. Arnett was then stopping in Philadelphia, and there Dr. Hartley conveyed his physical presence. The situation was too acute for correspondence or even the telephone. But at this critical juncture do you see him entering the drawing room of his beloved? That would be a surrender to the commonplace. A locked door intervened between. On one side she sat, he on the other, and he pleaded, explained, justifying with all the eloquence of which he is master.

Considerable, for Dr. Francis Hartley, when not engaged in the practice of medicine or of selling Cuban lands, expounds in the pulpit. It is a special cult of "New Thought," that is his creed.

No mere wood could neutralize the X or Y rays of his voice and personality. The widow saw the light and succumbed to his fiery enthusiasm.

Then the final date was set for the wedding. The wedding that was to be different from every other wedding—just to prove the doctor's faith and show dull twentieth century Baltimore and Philadelphia folk that the old troubadours had nothing on him when it came to a demonstration of love.

Moreover, a few days before the ceremony the registered mail brought to Mrs. Arnett a deed to Dr. Hartley's property in Baltimore—house, lot and other tangible things, not fully described so far.

Could Lochlinvar, however bold, or Provencal troubadour do more?

Veiled During Ceremony. On the evening of Nov. 11 Mrs. Arnett arrived in Baltimore and was met only by Allan Hartley, the Doctor's son. She wore a thick black automobile veil. The young man escorted her to the Franklin Square Baptist church, where the brave and faithful bridegroom awaited her. A few friends were present. The soul mates stood with clasped hands before the pastor, her features reluctantly enshrouded by the dark drapery; he trembling, eager, resolute, but his eyes determinedly averted. The fateful words were pronounced. They were husband and wife.

Then slowly, gently, Mrs. Hartley raised her veil and for the first time showed herself to her husband. Her photograph, those say who have seen the unveiled bride, does far less than justice to her undoubted physical charms. Dr. Hartley's friends insist that while he has undoubtedly married a very agreeable, cultured and decidedly comely woman.

And both are as happy as happy can be—Sunday Magazine of the New York World.

Wisdom of Women. Women are the inheritors of the oldest, most universal human wisdom. They have more sense than men, for the simple reason that a man has to be a specialist, and a specialist has to be a fanatic. The normal man all over the world is a hunter, or a fisher, or a banker, or a man of letters, or some silly thing. If so, he has to be a wise hunter or a wise banker. But nobody with the smallest knowledge of a professional life would ever expect him to be a wise man. But his wife has to be a wise woman. She has to have an eye on everything an eye on the things that fanatical bankers forget. If the banker is melancholy, she must teach him ordinary cheerfulness. If the banker is too convivial, she must teach him ordinary caution. If she had four husbands, she would be an optimist to the pessimist, a pagan to the Puritan, and a Puritan to the Pagan. For she is the secret health of the world.—Chesterton.

Jura Centenary. Preparations are being made for the celebration of yet another Swiss centenary—that of the admission into the confederacy of the Bernese Jura, which the powers added to the canton of Bern after the downfall of Napoleon. The territory had previously belonged to the prince bishop of Bale; and the change in its status did not, at the time, satisfy either its inhabitants or the Bernese. The latter only accepted the addition to their dominions reluctantly, as an inadequate substitute for their lost possessions in the cantons of Vaud and Aarau. The former would have preferred to join either the canton of Bale or that of Neuchâtel. The powers, however, settled the matter over their heads; and the arrangement has worked well, in spite of the fact that the Bernese are German-speaking Protestants and the Jurassiens are French-speaking Catholics.

WASHINGTON CITY SIDELIGHTS

To Work Out Problems Confronting the Poor

WASHINGTON—"Model House," the four-room sociological laboratory, in which the workers of Neighborhood House intend to work out the problems that confront Washington's poor, was opened to the public for inspection December 15. The trustees of Neighborhood House at a previous meeting decided that the inspection should follow a public reception in Neighborhood House on that date.

"Model House" is a two-story, four-room building, typical of the "alley houses" of the capital, in which many of the city's less prosperous are forced to live. In this house the settlement workers are to carry on a series of experiments to determine the cheapest and best way for the poor man and his family to live.

The carpenters worked hard to bring the house up to the standard of sanitation, that the workers feel should be demanded of every landlord. Then, it was to be furnished on a scale that it was figured the man who supports a family of wife and three children on $9 per week, which taken as the average family and wage of the alley inhabitants, would be able to afford.

The furniture cost between $100 and $150. Everything is cheap, but comfortable, and each article bears a tag showing its cost and the store at which it was purchased for the guidance of future buyers.

Once the house is fully furnished the boys and girls of the settlement will take charge of the housekeeping under the instruction of settlement officials. Daily meals will be cooked, care being taken by the young housewives to keep well within the $9 weekly wage, and such sewing as would be necessary for the family of father, mother and three children will be done. The girls will attend to the cooking and sewing, and the boys of the settlement clubs will take over the duties of the man of the house.

Not only will the girls of the settlement clubs have a chance to learn housekeeping and cooking in a real house, but the "Model House" will be opened to about 80 girls of the cooking and sewing classes of the public schools in the district of Neighborhood House.

Georgian Defies a Sacred Southern Tradition

WILLIAM C. ADAMSON, representing the Fourth district of Georgia and uniformly called "Judge" Adamson because of his service on the city bench of Carrollton back in the eighties, is the one man in congress who defies the sacred southern tradition that no statesman should appear in anything but a large black felt slouch hat.

"Judge" Adamson prefers a flat, drab golf cap, which he wears with the same nonchalance that he wears his large and unpressed trousers of Carroll county (Ga.) design.

Once, long years ago, the little William Adamson was taken to school for the first time by his parents. It was a country school where the birch rod had full sway. Little William, being left to his devices, made an experiment with his hands. He patted the top of his head and rubbed his stomach at the same time, which requires great muscular control.

The big boys and girls around him caught sight of the phenomenal exhibition, and in less than ten minutes nearly every pupil in that log schoolhouse was trying the Adamson trick with varying degrees of success. At the end of ten minutes the large and raw-boned schoolmaster had despaired of getting order again and started in to whack his school with a fine and unyielding bit of birch.

It is history that about every pupil caught a taste of that birch rod except the innocent looking William Adamson.

Long years passed. Little William had become a congressional leader. He was chairman of the great interstate and foreign commerce committee, which deals with railroads and trusts, and which framed the Panama canal act. The principal of the big school which has grown up on the spot where the little old log schoolhouse was in the old days, invited "Judge" Adamson to speak there.

He accepted and told the story of his first day in school, and illustrated it with a fine demonstration of patting his head and rubbing his stomach. The fever caught the school again the very next day. Every scholar who heard the "Judge" tried the trick. It nearly broke up the classes for a month after.

And now, says "Judge" Adamson, the principal of that school wouldn't have his famous alumnus make another address there for any consideration unless he ties his hands.

Traces Peculiar Dialect of the Southern Negro

REPRESENTATIVE JAMES L. BYRNES of South Carolina comes from a state in which there is a vast negro population and their dialect has been one of his particular studies. In some sections there are words used among them that are almost unknown to the whites and it would be impossible for a northern visitor to comprehend a word of their speech.

Tracing back the occurrence of similar words among the Jamaica negroes, he has arrived at the conclusion that many of them did not come directly here from Africa, but that their ancestors were first imported to Jamaica and their descendants brought over to the coast of Carolina.

He tells of some odd words of their manufacturing. In a case in court the defendant, tried for assault, was a husky man whose jargon was most difficult to understand. He had tried to brain a companion with an ax. When asked about the matter he squared himself off and replied:

"Well, judge, I seen him coming 'round the corner so stropulous, and as soon as he got catapous to be electrocuted, was asked by the sheriff if he wished to say anything before the cap was put down on his head. The culprit looked wildly around for a moment, and then remarked:

"Yassar, I want ter tell you all that these here doings will sholy be a lesson to me."

Letter With Picture Address Reaches President

OF all the thousands of letters that arrive in the White House mail bags, the most unusual arrived several days ago from Wichita, Kan. It has no written address. The sender, however, sketched on the face of the envelope a good likeness of President Wilson, together with certain symbols indicating its destination. The clerks of the railway mail service had no difficulty in deciding where it was to go, and sent it to the Washington postoffice. When it reached here it was sent to the White House. The president smiled when he saw it, but made no comment. Who sent the letter is a mystery. There was nothing inside, although the envelope was marked "personal." Several years ago, when Theodore Roosevelt was president, a similar letter was received at the White House. It had no written address, but merely a pair of large eye-glasses and a set of prominent teeth, which had been made popular by the cartoonists. Its destination was plain and it arrived at the White House without delay. The directions in the letter to President Wilson read, when the "picture writing" was translated, "Woodrow Wilson, Care of Uncle Sam, United States of America."

"CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

No sick headache, biliousness, bad taste or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageaway every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your store. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipation. Adv.

Old Adam.

Little Henry, like many other little boys, was very fond of playing at being a railway train. He liked to pretend to be the engine and to dash around the house with a great noise of puffing and tooting.

The other day the stork brought Henry a sister. He was taken in to see the baby and regarded her for a time with an expression of grave curiosity. Then his face lighted up.

"Now," said he, "I shall have somebody to be the tender, anyhow." New York Evening Post.

ENDS DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" cures sick, sour stomachs in five minutes—Time It!

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy andaches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste. remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.—Adv.

Nothing on Her. Margery and Helen lived quite near each other and occasionally played together. One day, when they met Helen said boastfully:

"We keep a butter." Margery remained thoughtful for a moment, then suddenly cried, exultingly:

Seaborn T. Gray, a pioneer citizen of Capitan and Lincoln county, is reported to be quite ill at his home. His many old friends hope the attack is only a temporary one and that he may soon recover.

Sheriff Chavez has the walls up of his new dwelling, and hopes to have the building ready for occupancy at an early date. He is temporarily domiciled, with a portion of his family, in the upper story of the jail.

Seven new residences completed, or nearing completion, is a pretty good record for a small town. And most, if not all of them, are quite substantial buildings, which not only add beauty but permanence to the town.

W. M. and Fred Ferguson brought down a bunch of yearlings Sunday from the Mesa and placed them in M. M. Duke's pasture. There were seventy head in the bunch, which they will shortly increase to one hundred when all deliveries are made.

R. A. Duran came up the latter part of last week from Lincoln, after having been confined to his home by an attack of pneumonia. He remained for several days here, but the trip was too much for his weakened condition, so he returned home, to take a rest and to recuperate.

Will T. Coe came over Monday from Glueco to have some dental work done. While here he dropped into THE NEWS office, renewed his subscription and gave us an encouraging word, which was highly appreciated, if for no other reason than like angels' visits—few and far between.

Elias G. Raffety, the hustling townsman and booster of Oscuro, was here Tuesday looking after some land interests. He was accompanied by Seth F. Crews, J. W. Dalton and C. F. Grey. The two former are from Chicago, Mr. Crews very recently, and are interested in the development of the Oscuro section. We take pride in welcoming such men to our county.

R. J. Hutchinson is expecting Mrs. Hutchinson in from Albuquerque Sunday. He has secured apartments at the Temple Hotel.

C. Walker Hyde made a trip up the line as far as Duran Tuesday. He intimated that Carrizozo wasn't the only place where the wind blew.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Crawford and son, Lesnet, returned Friday evening from a month's visit to points in Texas, including a trip to the gulf and a sail thereon.

Mrs. Arthur Arrington has arrived from St. Louis to join her husband who is employed at Ziegler Bros. They have come to housekeeping in the Fairy cottage.

Felipe Tafuya, a comparative stranger, and penniless, died here Tuesday night and was buried the following day. A fit of coughing brought on a hemorrhage which resulted fatally.

Prisoner Escapes

SAM EDWARDS, who has been in jail the past two months, charged with stealing a saddle, made a successful break for liberty Wednesday evening. Jailer Lujan let Edwards out of the cell to assist in the kitchen, and while the jailer had his back turned Edwards stepped out into the darkness, and is still going. The sheriff is not in town, but deputies have looked for the fugitive, but he is still missing.

Mortgage Sale

Whereas, by their mortgage deed bearing date July 20th, 1909, which is recorded in the County of Lincoln in Book "X" of Records of Mortgages Page 66 of the said county, Miles I. Jackson and Estelle Jackson, his wife, conveyed to Foxworth-Galbraith Company, the northwest quarter of Section four Township ten South, Range one East, County of Lincoln, State of New Mexico, the said mortgage was made to secure the said Foxworth-Galbraith Company in the payment of the sum of $1000.00 as evidenced by a promissory note of the said date payable one year after date with interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum and an attorney's fee of 10 percent in case of legal proceedings on the said note.

Whereas, by the terms of the said mortgage it was provided that in default of the payment of the said sum of money or the interest thereon when the same became due and payable then the said Foxworth-Galbraith Company was authorized to take possession of the said property and after having given notice of the time and place of sale by publication in some newspaper printed in the County of Lincoln at least twenty days prior to the time of sale, to expose at public auction and sell to the highest bidder for cash the said property and to execute and deliver to the purchaser thereof a good and sufficient deed therefor, and apply the proceeds arising from the sale to the payment of the note and interest, first paying out of the proceeds the cost of the said sale and the cost of any suit retained to the parties of the first part.

Whereas, the said note became due on July 20th, 1909, and the said parties have failed to pay the balance due of $1000.00 on said note and the interest accrued thereon.

Now therefore, in consideration of the premises notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of March, 1914, at the front door of the Court House at Carrizozo, New Mexico, at ten o'clock a. m. of the said day the undersigned will by virtue of the power given in the said mortgage expose and sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the said real estate above described, for the purpose of satisfying the said indebtedness and paying the cost and expense of this sale.

FOXWORTH-GALBRAITH COMPANY,
J. L. LAWSON, Attorney for Mortgagee.
Alamogordo, N. M. 1-30-11

Notice

Notice is hereby given, that Martin H. L. Goodin, Administrator of the Estate of Lydia G. Kille, deceased, has filed in the Probate Court of the County of Lincoln, State of New Mexico his final report, together with his petition to be discharged as sole administrator of said estate.

The Court has set the hour of One o'clock P. M. on the first day of the March Term of said Court, the same being, March 2nd, 1914, as the time for hearing objections or exceptions to said final account and the hearing of said petition for the discharge of the administrator of said estate, at which time any person interested may appear and file his objections or exceptions in writing to said account and contest the same.

Dated at Carrizozo, New Mexico this 6th day of January, A. D. 1914.
DORVINO LUCERO,
Probate Judge.

Attest: ALBERT H. HARVEY,
County Clerk.

You Predicted The Coming of This Car

When you saw the automobile had come to stay you said: "Some day they will make a car that is thoroughly reliable, and sell it at a price within the means of the average business man."

"Some day they will make a really practical car, a car so compact in construction and so well built that it will be as dependable as a trucking wagon. When that time comes, I'll buy my car." And here it is:

DO YOURSELF GOOD

And Help Us at the Same Time

THIS clearance time is a time when our customers can really render us service, and when we show appreciation of it by very low prices.

We want to clear each season's goods in their season; get every winter article out of the way of Spring goods. That explains our low prices; it's a time when you buy things because they're bargains; and when we're glad to sell them at lower prices than usual in order to clean up and straighten out the stock and get ready for the new Spring goods.

The President's Trust Message

PRESIDENT WILSON'S trust message to congress has met with a chorus of approval from all parties and all interests. Not only has "big business" signified its willingness to accept the terms proposed by the president, but the biggest ones in the big affairs confidently assert that we are on the eve of a wave of boundless prosperity. That the gloved hand is often more effective than the mailed fist is clearly shown in the acceptance of the president's suggestions. The president, seemingly, has been able to find the key to unlock the interlocking directorates and the unscrambling of "big business" is now in process. The Sherman anti-trust law is efficacious in the proper hands.

Church Attendance Growing

WE are not prepared to say whether the people of Carrizozo are getting better, or whether they are looking for entertainment, or whether they go to see and be seen, but we do say that the attendance at the churches are growing. We not only have this information from the pastors, but a slight observation on our own part convinces us that the statement is true. We can recall when we were one of three adult males present at a church service in the town, with about twice as many ladies, and about twice as many children as ladies. It was lonesome. Conditions are changing and people change with them; and we expect the "Go to Church" movement will gather strength as it proceeds.

Major Acquitted

THE celebrated poisoning case, that has been on trial at Alamogordo for the better part of three weeks, came to an end Tuesday night when the jury brought in a verdict acquitting H. H. Major on the charge of poisoning his daughter. To those who had kept in touch with the case the verdict came somewhat as a surprise, but it must have been otherwise with the jury, as it required but little more than an hour to reach the verdict of not guilty.

The Renfrow-Crockett Well

THE new well of Renfrow and Crockett, west of the Malpais, which failed, when tested, to supply a sufficient amount of water, has been sunk to the depth of 802 feet by the Keahn Bros., and it is said a good stream was encountered. This, if true, will save those who have taken their cattle over there a big loss.

The ELECTRICAL WORLD

SHADE FOR ELECTRIC LAMPS

Clamps on Globe of Incandescent Light at Any Angle Desired—Convenient in Bedroom.

An objection that has hitherto been raised to incandescent electric lamps is that there has been no satisfactory way to shade them. A Kentucky man has overcome this difficulty by the invention of a most ingenious shade that can be clamped on the lamp in a twinkling and in any position desired. The shade consists of a metal disk bent into semi-cylindrical form and provided at its center with spring claws adapted to press against the globe and hold the device in position. As will readily be understood, this shade can be fastened in any position.

Electric Lamp Shade.

even on the bottom of the lamp, though the shadow is cast in only one direction. Such a device, however, has many uses and is particularly convenient in bedrooms that are lighted by incandescent lamps as it enables the nurse to protect the patient's face from the direct rays of the light, yet have other parts of the chamber well illuminated. The shade is so small and compact that traveling men who have felt the need of such an article in hotels where they have stopped can carry it without trouble.

ELECTRICAL SHIP DOES WELL

Tynemount Built to Demonstrate Advantages of Electric Transmission for Large Vessels.

Perhaps one of the most interesting ships of the year is the Tynemount, a vessel built to demonstrate the advantages of electric transmission to the propulsion of large ships, writes J. R. Wilson in Power. Built for the Montreal Transportation company, this vessel, which is of 2,400 tons displacement, is equipped with two four stroke cycle, six cylinder, 300 horsepower Diesel engines driving three phase alternators at 400 revolutions per minute, the latter in turn supply a 500 horsepower electric motor which drives a single propeller.

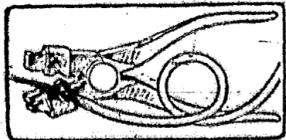

The engines are both divided into groups of three cylinders and the camshaft of each is driven by a vertical shaft arranged between the two groups. The bedplate is cast in two pieces and bolted together, and joined with the alternator bedplate at the flywheel end of each engine.

Starting is effected by means of compressed air, three cylinders only being fitted with starting valves. A device for stopping the engine and means of controlling the amount of air delivered by the air compressor are also provided on the control pillar. Near at hand are the electric controller of the transmission system, the whole providing for the operation of the propelling machinery; controls are also carried to the bridge. At the after end of each engine a three stage air compressor is fitted, driven direct from an extension of the engine crankshaft. This extension also provides means for driving the lubricating and circulating water pumps. The fuel pumps are driven by eccentrics from the camshaft.

TELEPHONE LINES IN CABLE

Biggest Underground System in Country Extends From Boston to Capital of the Nation.

One of the big latercity underground telephone cable systems in this country, with ten large cities on the main trunk line, has just been completed, and for the first time the telephone of the northeastern part of the United States is safe from the winter's snows and winds.

This underground telephone cable runs for 450 miles from Boston, the headquarters of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, to Washington, the capital of the nation. It runs through and connects the cities of Boston, Providence, Hartford, New York, Jersey City, Trenton, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Baltimore and Washington.

Practically the first serious consideration of the necessity of such a step was given after the blizzard of March 4, 1908, when so many cities were cut off entirely from the outside world, both in transportation and communication, says the Indianapolis News.

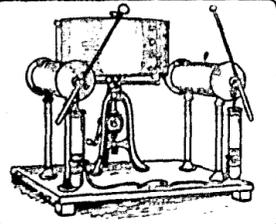

In this actual construction of the cable line in 40 mile lengths, the amount of material used was enormous. There were 4,690 reels of cable required, with a total weight of 8,900 tons, a load for 392 freight cars. The weight of the copper wire was 6,800,000 pounds and the total length of the wires is 347,424,000 feet. The lead sheaths for the wires total 11,060,000 pounds and would cover an area of 169,400 square yards.

Each individual wire is wrapped along its entire length with a specially prepared tissue paper, and the amount of the paper used would cover an area of 2,900,000 square yards. In the cable are 74 pairs of duplex cable wires.

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour-bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try This! Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first, yet—really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Adv.

DISFIGURED WITH PIMPLES

Whitewater, Colo.—"Eczema broke out all over my little grandson's face and body. It just looked as though blood poison would set up at times when he would scratch himself so much. His clothing irritated his body and he lost his rest at night. The disease was so irritating and would itch so that I have seen him in such an irritating condition that he would cry and scratch himself until the blood would run. He was very much disfigured as the skin would be torn from his cheeks from the scratching.

SHIRT REQUIRES CARE

WILL REPAY ATTENTION GIVEN TO IT IN THE LAUNDRY.

Really No Secret, and a Very Little Amount of Work Gives Satisfactory Results—Cold Water Starch is Always Best.

After washing pass the shirt through thin hot water starch before it is hung up to dry. This you will find will give just the right amount of stiffness to the body part of the shirt.

Then hang it out in the open air, and when quite dry starch the cuffs in cold water starch in exactly the same way as you do a gentleman's shirt; then if there is an attached collar starch this, and also the box-plait which goes down the front.

Remember to always wet the part just beyond where the starch will go; this will prevent the starch spreading. When this is done sprinkle the remaining dry parts with cold water, roll it up tightly in a clean cloth, and lay it aside for a short time until you are ready to iron it.

Take the shirt out of the cloth and place it with the neck part towards the edge of the table. Iron the collar first until it is perfectly dry, then iron the yoke on both sides.

Next do the cuffs, and then run the iron inside the sleeve a little way so as to dry the gathers and the thicker parts. Now open the sleeve out as flat as possible and iron it front and back.

If you possess a sleeve board this will lighten your labors considerably, as it is almost impossible for the sleeve to be properly ironed if it lies flat on the table.

When ironing the sleeve without a board slip the hand inside once or twice to prevent the starch sticking. Pay special attention to the top part of the gather.

Iron the bodice part of the shirt last of all. Finally, polish the collar and cuffs.

First pin the two fronts together, top and bottom, and lay the fullness into plaits. Next lay the sleeves down the sides of the back and turn them upwards again so that the cuffs show at the neck. Pin them into position and turn over the sides, also pinning them together.

Fold the end upwards, making it a convenient size. On no account press these folds with an iron; they should all be done as lightly as possible to avoid undue creasing.

Cold water starch is made in the following way: Mix the starch to a smooth cream with cold water, then add borax dissolved in boiling water in the proportion of a teaspoonful to a teacupful of starch.

Fried Chocolate Nut Cakes.

Beat to a cream one cupful of sugar (3 cents) and two tablespoonfuls of butter (7 cents), then add in the order mentioned half a grated nutmeg (1 cent), two heaping tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate (5 cents), two well beaten eggs (8 cents), one cupful of sweet milk (2 cents), a pinch of salt, three-quarters of a cupful of chopped walnut meats (8 cents), two teaspoonfuls of baking powder (1 cent), and enough sifted flour to form a soft dough (about 4 cents). Roll out, cut with a ring cutter and fry to a golden brown in deep, hot fat. Drain for a few moments on brown paper and when cool roll in powdered sugar.

Helpful Hints.

When the cover of your teakettle or other kettles lose their knobs, as they are apt to do, just put a screw through from the inside and thread a cork on it. The cork is a non-conductor of heat, and will not get hot. A few minutes time will give you a cover as "good as new."

When a tin dish "springs a leak" just spread a piece of putty over the hole on the outside and let it dry thoroughly. A pan or basin mended this way can be used almost as long as a new one.

Cake and Custard.

Make a plain boiled custard with one pint of milk, yolks of three eggs, one-third cup of sugar, saltspoon of salt, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the eggs and sugar, add the hot milk and cook till creamy; put in the salt and vanilla and cool. Then cut stale cake into strips, or split ladyfingers in halves, and spread with jam. Put them on the sides and bottom of a flat glass dish and gently pour the custard over.

Cranberry Slump.

Make a biscuit dough with one pint of flour, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of baking powder and milk to mix. In a pudding dish put one quart of washed cranberries, add one cupful of sugar and one-half of a cupful of water and cover with the crust. Cover and cook slowly in a moderate oven for one hour. Dust with sugar and serve with cream or a sweet sauce.

Paradise Pudding.

Three pared apples chopped fine, a half cupful of currants, a half cupful of sugar, two cupfuls of bread crumbs, three eggs, grated rind and juice of half a lemon; mix, put in a well floured pudding bag and boil one hour and a half. Serve with liquid sauce.

Substitute for Lard.

When baking griddle cakes, instead of greasing the griddle, rub it with a small bag of salt. The cakes are just as brown and the kitchen not filled with the odor of burning lard.

MACHINE FOR MIXING PAINT

Excellent Device Constructed of Medium Sized Oil Barrel and Rear Wheel of Brake Bicycle.

As a considerable amount of painting had to be done on our farm, I devised the following paint mixing machine, which greatly reduced the work of mixing and also mixed the paint far better than it would have been possible to do by hand, writes Wilson S. Suttin in the Popular Electricist.

A medium sized oil barrel was procured and also the rear wheel of an old coaster brake bicycle. The head of the barrel should be removed and the entire coaster brake taken off the bicycle wheel. A board about six inches wide and long enough to project over the end of the barrel so as to hold a small motor, was then obtained. In the center of this board a hole was bored large enough for the shaft, upon which the paddles are located, to revolve freely. This bearing must be kept oiled. The shaft was then fastened on the hub of the bicycle wheel.

Any small motor of one-fifth horsepower or over will furnish sufficient power. In our case we used the washing machine motor. The pulley, if possible, should be removed and reversed on the shaft. The small projecting end must then be tightly wound with adhesive tape. If the pulley has no projecting end, the pulley itself may be wound with tape. The rest of the drawing is self-explanatory.

When the lead and oil are first placed in the barrel, they must be stirred for about ten minutes. Then the stirring outfit can be lowered into the barrel, the rim of the wheel resting on the pulley of the motor.

DUSTING BY COMPRESSED AIR

Problem of Removing Fine Rock Dust From Workmen's Clothing Solved by New York Employees.

Compressed air has superseded steam as the motive power for driving rock drills on many of the large excavating jobs in New York city. The men who direct the operations of the air drills and the men who work in the trenches have discovered a new use for the compressed air after the day's work is done.

The powerful drills pulverize a large amount of rock and the dust is wafted all over the vicinity in which the drilling is being done. The men's clothes become covered with a layer of the pulverized rock, which is extremely difficult to remove by ordinary methods.

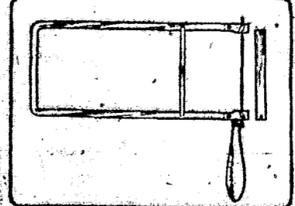

The problem of removing this fine rock dust perplexed the men until one of them found the solution by removing the end of the hose which carries the compressed air to a drill and directing the powerful air current on his dust-covered clothes. With a hissing sound the air rushed out and swept away the rock dust instantly. In five minutes the man had cleaned his clothes to perfection.

Now all the men working on jobs where compressed air is used are using the up to date method of cleaning their apparel.

SAWING COPPER AND BRASS

Saw Frame is Made More Rigid So as to Keep Blade From Breaking—Tension Can Be Varied.

Desiring to do some sawing on copper and brass with a hand scroll saw, I stiffened the frame in the manner shown so that it would keep the saws from breaking. A notch was cut in each end of a strip of wood, just long enough to fit tightly in the saw frame.

Using Hand Scroll Saw.

Writes L. L. Llewellyn of Hayward, Cal., in the Popular Mechanics. The tension of the saw blade can be varied by changing the location of the strip of wood.

MAKE POLES OUT OF GLASS

German Manufacturing Concern Finds Wire in Them to Secure Proper Solidity and Strength.

Near Frankfurt, in Germany, there is a manufacturing plant which turns out glass poles for telephone and telegraph wires, says an exchange. In order to give them solidity and strength there is a thick framework of woven wire in the glass. These poles are taking the place of the wooden ones in many sections of Germany.

It may be that in time all such telegraph and telephone poles throughout the world will be made of glass because there are so many advantages in them. In the first place, they will last practically for all time, except in cases of unusual accident, where they may be broken, as in railroad wrecks. They will last even longer than iron or steel, as weather has practically no effect upon them, nor can insects get into them and destroy them.

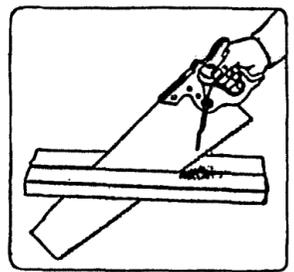

And in these days when wood is becoming more and more valuable it will be quite a saving of the precious wood to make such things of glass. Experiments are also under way for the manufacture of railroad ties of glass in which wire netting is imbedded in the glass.

Paving blocks are made of glass and have proved to be a most valuable material for street surfaces, being fitted together in such a manner as to be water tight, no water running down between the blocks. There are, in Lyons, France, a number of streets paved with glass, and they have a better resistance than stone, and also are not such great conductors of heat as stone. These glass paving blocks are now said to be actually cheaper than the granite blocks.

DUST BLOWER FOR HANDSAW

Enables Carpenter to Keep Line He is Following Clear of Sawdust—Worked by Thumb.

Carpenters will welcome the hand-saw blower and hanger designed by a California man. With it they will be able to keep the line they are following always clear of sawdust so that they can cut along it accurately. The blower is removably attached to the upper part of the saw handle, where it can be operated by the workman by the pressure of his thumb. It consists of a rubber bulb with a metal tube depending from it and bent inwardly below the handle of the saw so that it lies close along the saw blade and the exhaust from it is directly in the path of the tool. Anyone who has used a saw to any extent knows how the wood dust collects in front of it, often so obstructing the mark to be followed that it cannot be seen. Instead of the carpenter having to stop and blow the sawdust away, as heretofore, he can now keep the track clear by an occasional pressure of his thumb on the blower bulb, the out-rushing air sweeping the powdered wood out of the way.

REAL DISHWASHING AN ART

With Proper Preparations and Material, Much of the Drudgery May Be Done Away With.

The art of dishwashing has become almost extinct in this quick-going age when the only way to do a thing is to do it at once and have it soon over. Yet real dishwashing is an art.

Dishwashing requires two dishes: one in which to wash and the other to rinse the dishes; an abundance of heavy linen towels, some lighter ones for glasses, a good dish mop and dishcloths. The dishcloth should be of strong linen. Stair crash is excellent for this purpose, as it will become soft enough to be flexible and is very durable. Make these cloths about ten inches long, of narrow crash and hem them to prevent the edges from fraying when they are put through the laundry.

First of all, the dishes should be gathered up and properly scraped, then held for a moment under the hot water faucet to take off the first coating of grease. Any dishes or knives and forks used for fish should be carefully wiped with paper, as dishcloths are infected by fish immediately.

Put the dishes in hot suds. Use the dish mop freely and transfer them to the other pan to be rinsed. Let this second pan be very large and have a wooden drain fitted in two inches from the bottom, so that the boiling water poured over the dishes will drain off them. This is the best and safest way of rinsing.

In washing the silver use a silver soap and thus avoid the weekly silver cleaning day, with the added inducement that the silver is constantly bright.

Wash spiders, pots and kettles separately and with an iron dishcloth. Pots and kettles should be washed inside and outside and thoroughly wiped before being set away. The coffee pot and teakettle should be boiled out at least once a week with soda and water to keep them tastelessly clean.

FOUR CHEAP CAKE RECIPES

Any One of Them Sure to Be Appreciated Either for the Family Table or Guests' Luncheon.

Banana Cake—Beat two eggs, put them in a cup and fill it with cold water and melted butter, using equal quantities of each, one cup of sugar, 1 1/2 cups of flour and three teaspoons of baking powder. Bake in layers. Spread each layer with frosting and slice the bananas (very thin) over the frosting. Frost the top.

Feather Cake—One cup sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter, one-half cup milk, one cup flour, one egg, one teaspoon baking powder, pinch of salt. Flavor to suit taste.

Lemon Jelly Cake—One cup sugar, two tablespoons of butter, two eggs, three-fourths cup water, two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder. Bake in three layers and put together with the following: Three-fourths cup of sugar, one egg and the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Cook in double boiler. To make orange jelly cake use an orange in place of a lemon.

Orange Cake—One-half cup butter, two cups sugar, creamed; add one cup milk, two eggs well beaten, three cups flour with two tablespoons of baking powder sifted in. Flavor with orange juice or extract. Bake in layers and put together with icing and very thin slices of oranges, also cover the top with icing.

Some Timely Recipes.

Del Monte Salad—Use only firm white lettuce, wash carefully and put on ice to crisp. Cut head in quarters, using one quarter for each portion. Tomatoes peeled and cut in quarters. Asparagus tips served in ring of green peppers. Mayonnaise dressing.

Waldorf Salad—Take equal quantities of celery and chopped sour apples. Serve with mayonnaise dressing which has chopped walnut meats in it.

Endive Salad—Wash carefully and put on ice to crisp. Serve with French dressing and cheese crackers.

White Grape Salad—Remove the seeds from the grapes; serve on crisp white lettuce leaves with a French dressing.

Whole Wheat Bread.

One and one-half pints of whole wheat flour, one teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonfuls of salt, three-quarters pint of cold water. Sift the dry ingredients together (having the teaspoonful of soda rounding and the salt and cream of tartar level); then add the water; stir thoroughly; place in a well-greased round tin, cover with a buttered paper and steam for one hour over constantly boiling water. Remove from the steamer and bake for three-quarters of an hour in a slow oven.

Dust the Window.

The glass of windows would need cleaning far less often if it were dusted regularly, inside and out, if easily reached. A folded pad of newspaper is the best thing to use, and if this is sprinkled with a few drops of ammonia or paraffin it will serve for window cleaning also. When the windows are to be washed they should be dusted first with the newspaper pad if very dusty, and the cleaning and polishing will be more easily done.

Economical Curtains.

When making curtains of any kind make the hem the same width each end so the rod may be run through either. The stitching does not show and once a month, or oftener, the curtains may be reversed, and they will more evenly.

Housework is a Burden

The daily cares of keeping house and bringing up a family are hard enough for a healthy woman. The tired, weak mother who struggles from morn to night with a lame, aching back is carrying a heavy burden.

Many women believe that urinary disorders and backache are "female troubles" and must be endured. But men suffer the same aches and troubles when the kidneys are sick.

Women are especially subject to kidney disease. Tight clothing, indoor work, the ordeal of childbirth, the worry, and the stooping, straining and striving of housework all help to bring it on. At first the trouble may be only backache, sick headache, dizziness and a dreary, dull languid feeling, but this condition is dangerous to neglect, for dropsy, gravel and deadly Bright's disease start in some such small way.

Don't be discouraged. When backache, nervousness and irregular or painful passages of the kidney secretions begin to bother you, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that has brought new life and strength to thousands of suffering women. There are no poisonous nor narcotic drugs in

Made Well After Doctors Failed

Mrs. John Bramley, 14 1/2 St. Gessley, Colo. says: "I believe I would be in my grave if I hadn't used Doan's Kidney Pills. The first sign of kidney trouble was a constant ache in my back. I dragged along, day after day, feeling too tired to attempt my housework. Then came frequent dizzy spots that made me weak for hours. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and very distressing. My feet ached and swelled until I could hardly stand. The swelling extended upwards to my limbs and hips. For three months I hardly slept enough to keep me alive. I was awfully nervous and irritable. My case puzzled the doctors and their medicine didn't help me. A relative had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills and advised me to try them. I did, and the results were wonderful. The backache stopped, the swelling went away and I rested better. The kidney secretions got all right and once more I enjoyed good health. Recently the kidney secretions were analyzed by the doctor and he found no signs of kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills alone cured me."

Poor Woman's Gift. A poor blind woman in Paris, we are told, put 27 francs into a plate at a missionary meeting.

"You cannot afford so much," said one.

"Yes, sir, I can," she answered. On being pressed to explain, she said: "I am blind, and I said to my fellow straw-workers, 'How much money do you spend in a year for oil in your lamps when it is too dark to work nights?' They replied, 'About twenty-seven francs.'"

"So," said the poor woman, "I found that I could save so much in the year because I am blind and do not need a lamp, and I give it to shed light to the dark heathen lands."

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED

R. F. D. No. 2, Seymour, Mo.—"My scalp broke out with fine pimples at the start. They itched and burned so much that I was compelled to scratch them and they would fester and come to a head and break out again. The trouble was attended by such burning and itching I could not sleep, also when I sweat it burned the same. My hair fell out gradually and the scalp kept rough and dry with itching and burning. After about two years the pimples broke out between my shoulders. My clothing irritated them. I was troubled with that eczema five or six years.

I tried everything that was recommended without any benefit until I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment according to directions, and Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me sound and well in two weeks." (Signed) S. L. Killian, Nov. 22, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

His Disposition.

During a concert tour of the late Theodore Thomas and his celebrated orchestra, one of the musicians died, and the following telegram was immediately dispatched to the parents of the deceased:

"John Blank died suddenly today. Advise by wire as to disposition."

In a few hours the answer was received, reading as follows:

"We are broken-hearted his disposition was a roving one"

Testimonial From High Authority

Mrs. B. L. Wilson of Nashville, Tenn., is quoted in the World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago, Grand Prize and Gold Medal, Paris Exposition, 1912.

"Some little time ago I made a careful study and investigation of the baking powder subject and I feel fully repaid. I am firmly convinced from the results I have received that there is no baking powder to equal Calumet for wholesomeness and economy, and I also recommend Calumet Baking Powder for its never failing results."

Calumet also received the Highest Award at the World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago; Grand Prize and Gold Medal, Paris Exposition, 1912. This will, without a doubt, prove interesting and very gratifying to the friends and customers of Calumet Baking Powder. It has always been found that Calumet is economical to use.—Adv.

In Her Glory.

A woman visited a friend whose husband thought of moving out into the country.

"Getting back to the land is all well and good," she said, "but could you be contented to live in a little place?"

"Yes," replied her friend. "I think I could if I were the only one there who owned an auto."

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fitch.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Their Natural Affinity.

"What do you think of this movement to encourage women to take up farm work?"

"Well, women always were attracted to husbandry."

The Family Doctor. "I am the family doctor."

"But I thought you were a veterinary surgeon?"

"So I am but their family consists of a French terrier, a St. Bernard and a Chinese poodle."

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and indigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 60-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.

His Contribution.

A little boy of five was invited to a children's party. The next day he was giving an account of the fun, and said that each of the little visitors had contributed either a song, a recitation, or music for the pleasure of the rest.

"Oh, poor little Jack!" said his mother. "How very unfortunate you could do nothing!"

"Yes, I could, mother," replied the young totterer. "I stood up and said my prayers!"

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT, BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make it Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Luxuriant and Remove Dandruff—Real Surprise for You.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store and just try it. Adv.

Left Daddy Thinking.

"Little Girl—Papa, didn't you whip me once for biting Tommy?"

Father—Yes, my child, and you hurt him very much.

Little Girl—Well, then, papa, you ought to whip sister's music teacher, too, for he bit sister yesterday afternoon, right on the mouth, and I know it hurt her because she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him.

Dickering. "Ordered your winter coal yet, old man?"

"Ordered it? I'm not in a position to order it. But I'm making overtures for it."

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any good grocer. Adv.
