

Carrizozo News

A Journal Devoted to the Interests of Lincoln County

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, OCTOBER 9, 1914.

NUMBER 38

VOLUME 1

El Paso Breaks Even On Ball Game

El Paso was very lucky getting a win with the $7500 purse hung on the field meet committee. After winning Saturday's game 2 to 1 Carrizozo turned the tables Sunday and won 3 to 1. Although the Browns lost Saturday's game it was one of base ball fortunes. The best team using by being outlucked. Dolan was on the mound for Carrizozo and pitched the best game of the season only passing the man and allowing only four hits 2 of which were scratches, and striking out 11 batters. Fisher also pitched good ball not passing anyone and striking out 12 but allowing 7 hits. The Carrizozo boys being over confident and too anxious to hit Fisher was the real cause of same going as it did they fielded a good game only 3 errors being marked up but they seemed unable to bunch their hits. And umpire Wood allowed Fishers to take unreasonable privileges and not making him stay within the defined rules this also had its weight against Carrizozo's chance to win. Fisher was allowed to deliver the ball without facing the batsman also was allowed to step into box and deliver the ball to either batsman or baseman and still the umpire permitted it and this was one of the things that helped them to win. Carrizozo won the toss and took the outfield. Dolan walked the first man and he stole second next batter hit through infield for a single taking 2nd on the throw and the runners scoring, next man up about a high one to right Dingwall being unable to hold it on a hard try and the error which was a hard chance allowed runner to score, next batter filed to center and Dolan struck out the next first inning El Paso 2 runs no hits. Carrizozo was retired one two three. Second inning was almost a duplication of the first for El Paso, runner beating out a throw to first and another scratch through second scoring the runner. This was the last of the scoring till the fifth when El Paso marked another. Carrizozo being unable to advance beyond third till the ninth innig when they almost turned the game into a victory. Dolan should have had a shut out game, and was given good support except in first inning but the players on these two errors should not be criticized for they were hard tries and they took long chances but fate seemed against them so Carrizozo lost 4 to 2 and El Paso took home the bacon. Carrizozo was determined to show up the El Paso team if they had to keep them here all winter in order to beat them but the boys being sore over losing Saturday's game got revenge and saved the people of Carrizozo that extra expense. Dolan and Fisher both worked hard in Saturday's game and both caught cold so Fisher not wanting to lose his reputation he did not pitch but allowed a Mr. Campbell, a "Cactus Leaguer" who had been playing last few games with the fast Everybody's team, do the firing stunt. Say if that is the class of pitcher that City League and Cactus League love why Carrizozo will buy a franchise in that league next year. Say, he was the biggest and we have met this year and honest he couldn't pitch hay, much less put them over. Shorty shut up, walked and say it was all of them cause every man went to bat in that innig, and when Mr. Campbell saw Nickel coming to bat he called him so Mr. Campbell favored him and requested Mr. Hammond to pitch the second inning. Hammond pitched well but being a better pitcher than Campbell, he pitched a better ball. Well they really pitched out and El Paso boys were in the lead and they were up. And El Paso boys were in the lead and they were up. And El Paso boys were in the lead and they were up.

big swings and set down. Say that Hightower boy sure pitched some game, he had those fellows at his mercy at all times, never getting in a bad hole, and he certainly decreased some batting averages, and then those Carrizozo boys sure did give him some good support, and do you know that fellow Dolan is sure some short stop best in the world, he picked'em out of the dirt and out of the air, say he sure was there, and honest, no joking-he got a hit when the bases were full, and that is some stunt when you are fielding a good game, to also keep up your batting average. And that outfield sure did some nice work, why that club footed Gothany-Nickol pulled off the most sensational running catch of the season, just like Shorty did in Saturday's game. Say you know those two old plugs are sure some outfielders, both those fellows went through the whole season with only one error each. Well it was just one two three for El Paso, and every now and then Carrizozo slipping one over, and when the smoke cleared away so you could see Oscar's new score board, El Paso had 3 marked up while Carrizozo had 9. But take both games they were very good class of base-ball, but it looks funny to me how El Paso got away with it, when we out class them all the way round. And their lineup cannot be shifted, while take the Carrizozo team every man can be shifted, and the boys showed Sunday they were fast when they hit their stride, but don't think now that El Paso bunch is slow for they are a fast bunch and the best ball team ever brought to Carrizozo. They not only play base ball, but they are a nice bunch and gentleman on and off the field, and we hope to be able to meet them next season. The Base Ball Committee is to be congratulated for their efforts in securing the class of base ball they did, as it was the best yet, being the drawing card of the Meet. But I still say Dolan is the best pitcher yet.

Rules and Regulations for Lincoln County Declamatory Contest

I. THE CONTESTANT

1. Each and every contestant must have been a resident of Lincoln county for at least six months next preceding the contest.
2. Contestants shall be divided into three classes.
- CLASS A: Any High School pupil who does not exceed twenty-one years of age and who has not received a gold medal in a county contest since coming into the High School.
- CLASS B: Any pupil in the 6th, 7th or 8th grade who does not exceed 18 years of age.
- CLASS C: Any pupil in the 4th or 5th grade who does not exceed 15 years of age. No pupil shall enter class B or class C who has received a gold medal in a previous county or state contest.
- No school shall have more than one representative in each class.
3. No contestant shall be trained by a professional elocutionist for the contest.
4. The successful contestant in each class shall receive a gold medal.

II. GRADING

The contestant shall be graded on the following points and each point shall be valued at ten per cent:

1. The manner of taking position for declamation.
2. Posture throughout declamation.
3. Delivery:
  - A. Tone of voice.
  - B. Facial expression.
  - C. Gesture.
  - D. Memory.
  - E. Repetition.
  - F. Enunciation.
  - G. Pronunciation.
  - H. Manner of leaving stage.

Each under number 3 shall be valued at ten per cent.

The selection for declamation shall be approved by the teachers of the school is not in possession of the County Superintendent.

Field Days Big Success

I T was a big success from any standpoint—the Fall Field Day Meet at Carrizozo Friday and Saturday. The crowd was a jolly one, and came from all points of the compass—on horseback, in buggies, hacks, autos and trains. Corona, possibly furnished the largest delegation of any outside community, although Ancho, White Oaks, Nogal and Oscura, also supplied large delegations, while a sprinkling came from the Capitan, Bonito and Ruidoso country—thus making the gathering a very fair representation of the county's population. Tularosa was with us the second day with a fine basket ball team—two of them, boys and girls, and not only helped swell the crowd, but gave zest and vigor to the sports. Also El Paso was here with her ball team and its adherents, and, all told, we had a most cosmopolitan crowd, all good mixers and everyone out for a time.

The first number on the program at the grounds began at 2:30 p. m., Friday—a basket ball game between the Corona and Carrizozo High School girls. It was a very interesting game throughout, each team having about an equal number of supporters, and the efforts of both teams made the welkin ring with the shouts of the assembled throng. Corona, however, proved too strong for our team, winning the game by a score of 20 to 5. By winning this first game, Corona, under a stipulated agreement, won the right to contest in the next day's game with a new team.

A free-for-all quarter-mile race followed, for a purse of $75.00. It was somewhat difficult to secure entries, but the necessary three horses were finally entered—Frank Wallace's sorrel, the West mare and an unknown, the first two running the race through, the Wallace horse winning with ease.

The crowd gradually worked back to town, many to take in the evening's entertainment, which consisted of a moving picture show and a dance. Others took a new hitch in their suspenders—getting ready for bigger things to be pulled off the next day.

At 9:30 Saturday morning the second basket ball game was called, the contestants being Tularosa and the successful Corona team of the day before. This game, by many, was considered one of the best features of the entire meet. It was a battle royal from start to finish, and what the Tularosa team lacked in weight and stature they made up in in celerity of movement and accurate judgement. But Corona was there again, just as the day before, and fought harder than ever to retain the laurels she won from us; and her mobility and stature swung the pendulum the same way as the day before and the game ended with a score of 19 for Corona and a score of 12 for Tularosa.

Ware Brazel won the first prize in the 50 yard boy's foot race—$3.00 and Mays Hamilton took second—$2.00. The 100-yard dash—as quite a number entered, three of whom finished like rare horses—(Gocker?) Tularosa, first, Grover Hightower, second, Jack Cleghorn, White Oaks, third. The prizes were $7.50 and $2.50. The Goat Roping Contest proved to be very interesting as well as amusing, and they were dandy goats, it took forty-nine boys to keep them corralled before the roping. Jno. Cain won first prize, $7.50, time 20 1-2 seconds. P. Johnson, Jr. taking second prize, $2.50.

Then came the big eats, plenty of nicely barbecued meat for everybody, bread, pickles and coffee in abundance. Every one with a big smile and enjoying themselves. After dinner came the ball game between El Paso and Carrizozo, an account of same will be found in another column. The evening was spent in dancing at the Crystal Theatre, where a large crowd enjoyed themselves until midnight.

Good Time To Keep Out

THE professional peace doves, well-meaning but usually foolish men and women, almost always American, should now improve the opportunity to do the sensible things and keep out of this European middle until such a time as efforts for peace will be of some effect.

Every man and woman, of all nations, with any humane feelings, must deplore the fact that hundreds of thousands of men are being killed, and millions of people made miserable, by a war which means nothing but the aggrandisement of some ruler or another.

We may want the war to stop, but when we appeal to the warring peoples in the name of Christianity, or any other religion, we simply make a painful exhibition of either our ignorance or our hypocrisy. This war is not the making of a day, a month, or a year, but it has been carefully prepared for during something like a quarter of a century, and all the nations engaged are as nearly prepared as they ever could be. Germany has to conquer more territory for an increasing population, or quit growing, and having made preparations to conquer, the nation will make the try. In preparing for this very event Germany has made many enemies. Russia, because Germany must acquire part of Russia; England because Germany is a dangerous commercial rival, and other nations have grown hostile because of the overbearing attitude of Germany—militarism in all things. Russia has gone into this war for the purpose of destroying Germany as a commercial power, and the other nations for other reasons. But, Christianity or no Christianity, this war will be fought until one side or the other is decisively whipped, and any interruptions will have the same result as the dove of peace business in Mexico since the Madero revolution—cost thousands of lives, unnecessarily. This is a fact, and those men and women who went around the two countries trying for reputations as bearers of peace can just take credit for the killing of twice as many men in Mexico as would have been killed if the fight had been permitted to go to a finish from the very start; and any peace business in Europe at this time will result in more lives destroyed.

We may sympathize with the men who are rushed to their death because some ruler seeks fame, and with the families of those men, but even this sympathy may be extended to those who neither desire nor appreciate it. Take, as an example, the men of Serbia and Montenegro. When they opened their eyes on the world their mothers were singing to them the glories of war and the pleasure of slaying their enemies. They are the survivors of a thousand years of war, and have within them the undying hatreds bred by a thousand years of being hunted by their enemies. They survive for the same reason that a lion, a tiger of a killing animal survives in some mountain cave—the hunters are afraid to go in after the hunted. They do not want sympathy, and only their enemies will talk of peace until they have torn their enemies limb from limb, and taken from them their lands, together with an ample revenge for centuries of persecution and oppression.

At the present time Italy, Turkey, Bulgaria, Rumania and Greece have mobilized and are ready. With the exception of Italy they are almost sure to get into it, because they want to fight their enemies, and they want no sympathy and expect neither sympathy nor mercy. They will be happy only when at each other's throats.

Switzerland has mobilized, and having already mentioned the fact that indemnity will be asked for the expenses of maintaining neutrality, may be expected to join in the free for all at any time.

Holland, on the north, has mobilized, and while actually wishing to keep out at present, will probably be in the game in time to demand back a portion of provinces taken from her in the past.

Sweden, Denmark and Norway are trying to remain neutral, but will probably be forced into the war when the present contenders, desperate, violate their neutrality.

The hatreds of centuries are being wiped out in blood, and no appeals in the name of religion or humanity will be listened to until some of the nations gets a decisive whipping, and then suggestions for peace will come and can be acted upon with some assurance of success.

And after all this is over the peace advocates seeking reputations can keep themselves busy, and indeed have all the real business they can attend to, keeping the Bear and the Lion from chewing one another over the division of the bones of a Turkey. If they can keep the second series of wars from being pulled off it will be glory enough, and something of real value to the world.

Russia is the real world's danger. Her countless millions are sweeping southward and eastward, relentless in the determination to wipe from the list of powers both Germany and Austria-Hungary, and take other lands now far beyond their borders. They are on their way to southern seas.

III. THE JUDGES

1. The number of judges shall be three.
2. The County Superintendent of Schools shall appoint a committee of three to select the judges.
3. No relative of a contestant shall serve as a judge.
4. No teacher shall act as a judge who is or has been a teacher of the contestant or who is a member of the faculty in the school which the contestant represents.

White Oaks

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reasner and Mr. and Mrs. Dixon were up from Carrizozo Sunday. White Oaks was well represented at Carrizozo during the field days. Every one reports a good time. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mayer returned last week from an extended trip to California. They are now occupying the Mayer residence on Main Street. Mr. and Mrs. W. Smithson were here with

Committee

Mrs. E. V. Jewett
Miss Donny Franks
Geo. E. Cardwell
S. R. Moss
Miss Beulah Brazel
Miss Bernice Barber

Picacho

M. W. Votow made a business trip to Tinnie last Sunday. Reiley McPherson returned home today from Capitan, where he has been visiting for about a week. Mrs. E. O. Slaughter has been on the sick list this week. E. O. Slaughter went to El Paso Sunday.

his moving pictures Monday night. Charles Littell and Wayne Van Schoyck were business visitors in Carrizozo Monday. E. E. Slaughter arrived from El Paso Monday to take charge of the construction work on the power line to Carrizozo. E. L. Queen, W. F. Jones, and M. A. Palmer were called to Carrizozo Monday as jurors. The Wild Cats have a force of men working on their pipe line above town getting it in shape for winter. John Lee, Sr. is confined to his home with a severe cold. C. H. Stearns representing the Ridenour Baker Grocery Co. of Kansas City, was calling on our merchants Monday.

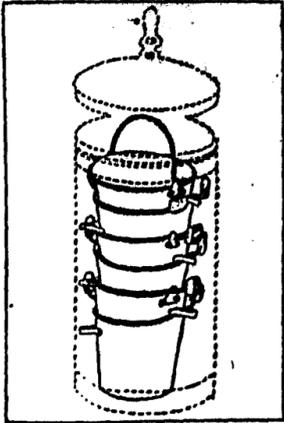

Clark and Miss Nellie Grant, Z. D. Ross, of Alamogordo, were visitors at the Boarder last week a visitor at the Sunset Ranch last Thursday. John Carey and son, Valley, Mrs. Bill Carey of Manila, were home visiting their family, has been visiting at the Boarder last Thursday. Mrs. O. C. Grant of Manila

INDUSTRY MECHANICS

MEANS FOR COMBATING FIRE

Buckets Placed in Tank of Water Are Hidden From View—Not Taken for Other Purposes.

Means for combating fire in the early stage are always advisable, and often compulsory, and the typical row of fire buckets so often seen in offices and in industrial establishments is anything but imposing, and, exposed as they are, the contents are often spilled or evaporated or maliciously emptied. The buckets in a tank shown in the illustration are a recent invention and have a number of novel features. The tank is filled with water, and as there is a substantial cover on it the water does not seriously suffer by evaporation and the buckets are at the same time hidden from view. Another of the novel features is the weighting of the handles on the buckets so that the ball of the top bucket is always upright and extended above the level of the water and as it is seized and raised from the tank it is filled to its full capacity. Thereupon the ball of the next bucket swings upward ready for use.

Handy Fire Buckets.

CHIMNEYLESS STEAM BOILER

Combustion Gases Disposed of by Passing Them into the Steam of the Engine's Cylinders.

The chimneyless steam boiler and furnace now in operation on a Russian torpedo boat, the invention of a Russian naval engineer named Schmidt disposing of its combustion gases by passing them into the steam of the engine's cylinders. Liquid fuel, easily yielding to combustion without smoke, is essential. The combustion gases are cooled from about 3,600 degrees to 1,800 degrees F. on leaving the heating surface of the boiler, and they are then passed into a tube into which a fine spray of cold water is injected under pressure. This cools the gases to between 650 degrees and 900 degrees F., converting the water into superheated steam of the same temperature. The mixture of steam and combustion gases is led to the upper part of the boiler, where it is mingled with the boiler's ordinary supply of steam, and is sent into the cylinders. The boiler, besides requiring no chimney, is claimed to have the further advantage of very high efficiency, utilizing 90 and even as high as 97 per cent of the heat of the fuel.

COVERING FOR BEVEL GEARS

Hood Consists of Cylindrical Piece of Sheet Metal Cut So as to Present Triangular Form.

Bevel gears are the most dangerous because on account of their shape they are more difficult to protect. They are especially hard to safeguard where used on a shaft that extends both ways from the horizontal gear. The sketch is descriptive of a hood for covering such gears, says Popular Mechanics. The hood consists of a cylindrical piece of sheet metal, cut at an angle of 45 degrees at both ends so as to present a triangular form. The hole for the shaft should be so large that the shaft cannot touch the hood, the latter being anchored with supports which are shaped to suit the conditions.

Safety Covering for Bevel Gears.

Domestic Vessels of India.
Most of the domestic vessels used by the people of India are made of copper or brass, and departures from this usage is rendered difficult from certain fiscal observations of the government.

LAMP CAUSES EYE DISEASE

Safety Device Seriously Impairs Sight of Underground Workers, Especially Coal Miners.

While progress in science has enabled industrial concerns to greatly increase their output and has made the life of the worker much easier, at the same time it exacts its penalties and it has recently been discovered that the safety lamp used by the modern miner has greatly increased the prevalence of an eye trouble which seriously impairs the sight of the underground worker, especially coal miners. This trouble has been known for some time and is believed to be caused by the great eye strain to which the men are subjected when working in the dim light of the safety lamp. In mines where an open flame light or candle can be used, the disease is rarely found. In Great Britain records show that some 1,618 miners were found to be suffering from the disease during one year, and the loss in money is estimated at more than $15,000, represented by the compensation paid these men under the law. This, of course, does not take into account the reduced earning capacity of the men during the progress of the disease to that point of acuteness which made them eligible to compensation under the law. This is one of the occupational diseases to which much study is now being given, though no real remedy has yet been found.

SCREW MADE TO HOLD FAST

Supplied With Slot Along Length With Edges Which Prevent Its Easy Withdrawal.

Carpenters and woodworkers will be interested in a screw of new design which has been recently patented for the purpose of preventing the screw from working loose after it has been once driven into place. In the manufacture of much medium-grade furniture screws are made use of, although they are tabooed in the first-class productions. In furniture the screws are bound to work loose after the piece has been in use a little while, and if not given attention it is not long before the furniture will fall apart. Instead, in such a piece constant attention is required to keep them together and fit for the service for which they were designed. The new screw has a slot along its length with edges so shaped that they offer no resistance to the passage of the screw as it enters, but a series of little heels or projections stand in the way of its withdrawal.

A Hold-Fast Screw.

NOTES OF INDUSTRY AND MECHANICS

Matches can be made waterproof by dipping in hot melted paraffin.

Chinese exports of fireworks to the United States are yearly diminishing.

It is only necessary to boil a cork for five minutes to make it fit any bottle.

A chimney 115 feet high will sway, without danger, as much as 10 inches in a strong wind.

Next to the United States, Germany and France are the largest producers of iron ore in the world.

The United States has more than 6,000,000 factory employees, and 1,600,000 railroad employees.

That it is very cool and light is the claim for a new perforated metal band for the interior of stiff hats.

An excellent waterproof brown paper is being made in England of which 80 per cent of the material is peat.

Portable power plants up to 50-horsepower that use crude oil for fuel are coming into common use in France.

Cork slabs, compressed from a thickness of 14 inches to half an inch, are being tried out for flooring in railroad cars.

An Illinois man has patented clamps to hold paint brushes on the ends of poles at any angle to save painters the need of ladders.

Russian railroads protect their coal telegraph poles against decay by soaking them for several months before use in strong brine.

DAY OF THE BLOUSE

HAS BECOME INDISPENSABLE PART OF WARDROBE.

Nothing Really Seems Able to Take Its Place, Either for Usefulness or for the Pretty Effect It Gives to Costume.

Those who have neglected to provide themselves with separate blouses for warm weather wear have doubtless before this time realized their mistake. The separate blouse of silk, linen or of sheer cotton has a very important place in the wardrobe of the modern woman. For golf, tennis, walking, rowing and for all summer sports there is nothing that can take the place of the separate blouse. The fashionable loose blouse that is worn this season, with a separate skirt of tub material, or with a coat and skirt to complete a costume is, without doubt, prettier than blouses ever were before.

The waist that the smart girl will want—that is, if she is not too stout—is one that is of two materials. The models of this type vary a little, but the general lines are the same. The heavier material is used for the fronts, which are straight strips about two and a half to three inches wide each. These continue up in a rounded or V-shaped piece that fits the neck much the same as the neck and front facing of an ordinary kimono, with the exception that the fronts do not lap over each other, but meet edge to edge.

The sleeves are finished with a band of the heavy material and at the waist line with a shaped vest girde that comes well down over the hips and fastens at the front. The back, sides and sleeves of the blouse are of the sheer goods and are generally cut in one piece. The effect when finished is that of something between the now long-waisted blouse and the long-lived loose blouse.

A feature that is very marked in the new sport waists is the set-in sleeve. There is nothing particularly new in the shaping of the sleeve itself, but the fact that it is not cut in one with a part of the waist, as has been the custom for several seasons, makes it striking, and at the same time the change is decidedly pleasing. The sleeves are generally long, but some blouses do show them three-quarter length. They are either finished in bishop style or the regulation coat type.

There is much to be said in favor of silk for the sport blouse. Such blouses keep clean longer than linen or cotton waists, and should they become tumbled it is a very easy matter to press them in one's room with an electric iron. Another thing in their favor is that they are easily laundered.

Skin Lotion.
A lotion composed of two ounces of lettuce juice, two drams of can do cologne, two ounces of distilled vinegar and four ounces of elder flower water is said to be especially good for allaying heat and irritation of the skin. Dab the skin with it frequently.

Designs on Candles.
To make white candles look pretty pick out some very pretty paper prints—some that are not too large for your candle—wrap the prints around the candle with the design to the wax; take an electric globe or a paper (lighted) and run up and down the candle on all sides. When you think the wax has softened enough to allow the design to come off and allow the print to stay on until the wax hardens, again, then remove. Some designs drawn in gold ink make pretty candles.—Christian Science Monitor.

Beauty Don'ts.
Don't forget that bright colors should not be worn by those who are inclined to be stout.
Don't rub the eyes too roughly with the towel after washing. They are liable to get inflamed if you do.
Don't get your eyelashes with the idea of making them grow. You will do them lasting harm instead.
Don't dress your hair too low over the brows. Thin and scanty eyebrows are largely passed through this.
Don't lean your elbows on the table. If you make a habit of doing this the skin at the elbows will become scaly and hard.
Don't forget that glycerin and cucumber have a very softening effect upon the skin, rubbed into the skin regularly every night.
Don't give up walking in the hot weather. Remember that a certain amount of exercise is necessary every day if you want to keep well.

Very Kept White.
As the French ivory toilet sets are now so much in vogue and people are having trouble to keep them from turning yellow, they may be glad to know that by wiping them with alcohol instead of water they will retain their natural color. This also applies to piano keys. Water should not be used on them.

After the Tangle.
When your feet are sore or tired, soak them for 30 minutes in water to which have been added a teaspoonful of green salt, a tablespoonful of ammonia and a tablespoonful of common salt.

Make All Mankind Better.
Good roads promote social intercourse, they prevent intellectual stagnation and increase the business and prosperity of our provinces; they contribute to the glory of the country and make all mankind better and broader, greater and grander.

Farmer's Mandragora.
A farmer stumbled along his road, he was seriously hampered in getting to the market with his wretched

EASILY MADE UTILITY BOX
Useful and Attractive Article for the Bureau May Be Put Together for a Few Cents.

The material required to make a utility box for the bureau is as follows: Six oblong pill boxes, ten cents; two yards of ribbon, three-quarter inch, ten cents; one yard broad ribbon, 15 cents. Total 35 cents.

Remove the drawers from each pill box. Arrange the outside cover sections in three rows of two each, as in illustration. Paste these boxes together in this position. Take the narrow ribbon and cover the four sides of each drawer by pasting. Sew on the short side of one of the drawers a button, on another a hook and so on, as in illustration. These can serve as handles as well as labels for the contents of each drawer. Slide the drawers into place. Take the broad ribbon and, starting at the bottom, wrap it around the outside of the cabinet, pasting it at the bottom. Cut a piece of paper the exact size of the bottom and place it over the ribbon, thus hiding neatly the seaming piece of the ribbon. Finish by making a row, rowette or bow at the remaining ribbon and tack it on the top.

SHOES THE FEET AND ANKLES

Style in the New Dresses Make the Donning of Dainty Footwear an Absolute Necessity.

The trend of style in the skirts and new dresses and suits tends to a continued display of feet and ankles. Hence the necessity for dainty footwear. The new colonial pumps are in a combination of materials and colors. The vamps are usually of patent leather or dull calfskin combined with colored uppers or inlays of suede, figured cloth or kid. The principal colors are champagne and fawn.

The latest button slipper or low shoe is made of putty-colored antelope and black patent leather, with sandal straps and buttons. The shoe fits high over the instep, with a snug fit up to the ankle and an ornamental ankle strap. The latest novelty in evening slippers is made of black satin embroidered in silver, crystal beads and rhinestones. Buckles are not so prominent, and all ornaments are very small.

TAILORED EFFECT

A very attractive model of white bontaline. Note the new drapery on the skirt.

Airy Nightclothes Hygienic.
Since there has been such an outcry against the style of clothes worn by men and women (in what is virtually a torrid climate during the summer months) because of the unhygienic warmth, especially in men's clothing, a crusade has been begun against nightclothes. One authority claims that pajamas are too restricting for wear except when traveling, as in the case of commercial men, who change their beds nightly and are exposed to temperature changes. For once it is claimed that women dress more sensibly than men, as sheer cool nightgowns are hygienic and allow ventilation, so inducing refreshing sleep, especially when the gown is sleeveless.

Designs on Candles.
To make white candles look pretty pick out some very pretty paper prints—some that are not too large for your candle—wrap the prints around the candle with the design to the wax; take an electric globe or a paper (lighted) and run up and down the candle on all sides. When you think the wax has softened enough to allow the design to come off and allow the print to stay on until the wax hardens, again, then remove. Some designs drawn in gold ink make pretty candles.—Christian Science Monitor.

Beauty Don'ts.
Don't forget that bright colors should not be worn by those who are inclined to be stout.
Don't rub the eyes too roughly with the towel after washing. They are liable to get inflamed if you do.
Don't get your eyelashes with the idea of making them grow. You will do them lasting harm instead.
Don't dress your hair too low over the brows. Thin and scanty eyebrows are largely passed through this.
Don't lean your elbows on the table. If you make a habit of doing this the skin at the elbows will become scaly and hard.
Don't forget that glycerin and cucumber have a very softening effect upon the skin, rubbed into the skin regularly every night.
Don't give up walking in the hot weather. Remember that a certain amount of exercise is necessary every day if you want to keep well.

Very Kept White.
As the French ivory toilet sets are now so much in vogue and people are having trouble to keep them from turning yellow, they may be glad to know that by wiping them with alcohol instead of water they will retain their natural color. This also applies to piano keys. Water should not be used on them.

After the Tangle.
When your feet are sore or tired, soak them for 30 minutes in water to which have been added a teaspoonful of green salt, a tablespoonful of ammonia and a tablespoonful of common salt.

Make All Mankind Better.
Good roads promote social intercourse, they prevent intellectual stagnation and increase the business and prosperity of our provinces; they contribute to the glory of the country and make all mankind better and broader, greater and grander.

Farmer's Mandragora.
A farmer stumbled along his road, he was seriously hampered in getting to the market with his wretched

GOOD ROADS

MAINTENANCE OF GOOD ROAD

To Prevent Water From Standing on Traveled Way Surface Should Be Raised in Center.

If you look at the ordinary country road after a shower, you will see small puddles along the wheel ruts and sometimes larger pools. This water stays on the road surface because it cannot drain away into the side ditches. If you look closely you will see said ditches which have grown up with bushes and weeds in many cases, and which are so far from the traveled part of the road that the rain water does not drain into them. That part of the roadway where the wagons travel is called the traveled way. To prevent water from standing on the traveled way, the road should be raised in the center and should slope gently into broad, shallow ditches. It is then said to have a crown. If it is ten feet from the center of the road to the side ditch, the surface at the side ditch should be at least ten inches lower than it is at the center where the horses travel. The road then has a ten-inch crown. The rain that falls on a road properly crowned will run quickly to the side and not soak into the surface or form pools. The side ditches for surface water should run parallel to the right of way, and should be open at every low point so that the water can run out of them into neighboring brooks or streams. If the ditches merely collect the water from the road surface and it cannot run away, large pools will be formed along the roadside, which will gradually soak into the soil beneath the road and make it so soft that the wheels of wagons will cut through the road surface and soon destroy it.

Sometimes water runs from land along the road into the road, and forms a little stream down the wheel tracks or in the middle, where the horses travel. When driveways into farm yards are built across the side ditches they frequently form channels for water from the farm yard to run into the road. The pipes under driveways become filled with leaves or rubbish and the water can no longer run away. If the driveways that stop the ditch water were rebuilt so that no pipes were necessary and the ditch could be left open, much trouble from surface water would be stopped.

To keep a road smooth and crowned the best method is to drag it with a road drag. A road drag is made easily with two halves of a log which has been split. The log should be about six or eight inches in thickness and about six or eight feet long. The two halves of the log are set three feet apart with the smooth faces forward and upright. They are then fastened together with braces set in holes bored through the log. A pair of horses may be used to drag the road, and are hitched to a chain fastened to the front half of the log. The road drag should move forward so that it slants across the road in such a way that a small amount of earth will glide past the smooth face of the log toward the center of the road, thus forming the crown. The edges of the logs will smooth out the ruts. The best way to drag is to begin at the side ditch and go up one side of the road, and then down the other. In the next trip the drag should be started a little nearer the center, and the last trip over the road the drag may work close to the center itself. Small ridges of earth will be thrown in the horse track and smeared by the round side of the log smoothly over the road. Smearing the earth by the drag is called "puddling," and it tends to make the surface of the road smooth and water tight after the sun comes out. The road is always dragged after it has rained, and not when it is dry. A good, strong pair of horses with a well-built drag can drag three or four miles of road in a day, and it is the best way to maintain good roads. In every county some farmer owns a drag and drag the road when it rains, and he would always find the road in good condition when he goes to market.

Limestone Macadam Road in Virginia, apart with the smooth faces forward and upright. They are then fastened together with braces set in holes bored through the log. A pair of horses may be used to drag the road, and are hitched to a chain fastened to the front half of the log. The road drag should move forward so that it slants across the road in such a way that a small amount of earth will glide past the smooth face of the log toward the center of the road, thus forming the crown. The edges of the logs will smooth out the ruts. The best way to drag is to begin at the side ditch and go up one side of the road, and then down the other. In the next trip the drag should be started a little nearer the center, and the last trip over the road the drag may work close to the center itself. Small ridges of earth will be thrown in the horse track and smeared by the round side of the log smoothly over the road. Smearing the earth by the drag is called "puddling," and it tends to make the surface of the road smooth and water tight after the sun comes out. The road is always dragged after it has rained, and not when it is dry. A good, strong pair of horses with a well-built drag can drag three or four miles of road in a day, and it is the best way to maintain good roads. In every county some farmer owns a drag and drag the road when it rains, and he would always find the road in good condition when he goes to market.

Smile on wash day. That's when you use Red Cross Bag Blue. Clothes whiter than snow. All grocers. Adv.

Poverty is no disgrace, but wealth can't always say as much.

The only exercise some people get is throwing bouquets at themselves.

Too Dangerous to Overlook
Kidney trouble is too often overlooked and the often neglected. But the kidneys give early signals of distress that should not be mistaken. Backache, headache, dizziness, neuralgic pain, too frequent, scanty or painful urination are all signs of kidney weakness and should be met with promptness.

A Colorado Case.
Mrs. Alvera Day, 35 years of age, residing in Colorado, was afflicted with kidney trouble. She had been suffering for several years with backache, headache, dizziness, neuralgic pain, too frequent, scanty or painful urination are all signs of kidney weakness and should be met with promptness.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

IN ALL OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

There is No Hardly A Woman Who Does Not Rely Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Princeton, Ill.—"I had inflammation, hard headaches in the back of my neck and a weakness all caused by female trouble, and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with such excellent results that I am now feeling fine. I recommend the Compound to all. I shall be glad to have you publish my letter.

There is scarcely a neighbor around me who does not see your medicine."—Mrs. J. F. JOHNSON, R. No. 4, Box 30, Princeton, Illinois.

Experience of a Nurse.
Poland, N. Y.—"In my experience as a nurse I certainly think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a great medicine. I wish all women with female troubles would take it. I took it when passing through the Change of Life with great results and I always recommend the Compound to all my patients. I know of their condition in time. I will gladly do all I can to help others to know of this great medicine."—Mrs. HORACE NEWMAN, Poland, Herkimer Co., N. Y.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Purely vegetable—act surely and gently on the liver. Cure Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, and Indigestion. They do their duty. SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

Small Pills. Small Dose. Small Price.

Important to Mothers.
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Wm. C. Carter in Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

The Psychology of It.
Stuyvesant Ogden, San Francisco millionaire, said in Washington the other day:

"The present business depression—is, indeed, there be a business depression—is psychological. There is, I mean, no smallest excuse for it. It is born of the nightmare fears of men's minds. In a word, it reminds me of a music hall girl.

"The stage manager of a music hall rushed to the proprietor the other night and said:

"Turn it refuses to go on with her trained mico. She says she's been completely unnerved ever since that young student was eaten in Chicago."

Insurance Against Appendicitis.
Lloyds of London have recently issued a form of insurance against appendicitis. The claims have been so numerous that they have found it necessary to double their premiums.

Smile on wash day. That's when you use Red Cross Bag Blue. Clothes whiter than snow. All grocers. Adv.

Poverty is no disgrace, but wealth can't always say as much.

The only exercise some people get is throwing bouquets at themselves.

Too Dangerous to Overlook
Kidney trouble is too often overlooked and the often neglected. But the kidneys give early signals of distress that should not be mistaken. Backache, headache, dizziness, neuralgic pain, too frequent, scanty or painful urination are all signs of kidney weakness and should be met with promptness.

A Colorado Case.
Mrs. Alvera Day, 35 years of age, residing in Colorado, was afflicted with kidney trouble. She had been suffering for several years with backache, headache, dizziness, neuralgic pain, too frequent, scanty or painful urination are all signs of kidney weakness and should be met with promptness.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold by all druggists and are guaranteed to give relief.

Republican Insincerity

More About High Salaries

The Republican party of New Mexico is on record as to county salaries. The party cannot recede from the principle laid down by the Senate in its fight against Governor McDonald in the passage of two high salary bills under the party whip. To approve of less salaries for county officers than those incorporated in the Senate bills would be to repudiate Senator Holt, Senator Crampton, Charles Springer and others who control what is left of the Republican party. It is true, the people of this state have repudiated the party, and are not with the leaders in their attempt to loot the county treasuries of the state, and this has left the leaders more in control of the party machinery than ever before. There is now no resistance within the party to the methods and policies of the bosses, and the most beautiful harmony ever known is the result. The Republican party leaders are unalterably on record for high salaries, and no matter what pre-election promises may be made, the man of that party on the floor of the Legislature will be bound by that principle.

One of the leaders, in talking to the writer in Santa Fe, during the convention, said, "Yes, we will put a 'low salary plank' in the platform, but when we are elected we will do as we please with it." This is an old game, overworked by these same bosses, and will not catch the people this year. The safest way is to guard these bosses from the temptation to "put it across once more!" for as sure as they get the chance they will do it. They simply can't resist the old way.

MR. REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE, WHERE DO YOU STAND ON THIS ISSUE?

Those Shameless Amendments

All of the proposed amendments to the State Constitution are vicious, but especially so to the one to Article VIII, abolishing the State Board of Equalization and removing all restrictions regulating the taxing power. It is an effort by the old Republican organization to control the tax system of the state. The men who have pulled the strings which operate Republican puppets in the Legislature are pushing this amendment because they hope to retain control of the next Assembly and thus regulate taxation matters to suit themselves and the interests which they represent. The voters of New Mexico cannot afford to take any such risk. This amendment—all of the amendments—should be, and will be, defeated in November.

HERNANDEZ PROVES CONVINCING SPEAKER.

(From the Farmington Times-Herald.)
We are very glad that B. C. Hernandez visited this county. We are extremely sorry that he was not greeted with better audiences. Mr. Hernandez is a pleasant gentleman, who can convince the majority of any audience in a ten-minute talk that he ought not to displace Ferguson as a representative of this state in Congress.

WHY DOES MR. HERNANDEZ OBJECT TO "PERNICIOUS ACTIVITY" OF GOV. McDONALD?

The old system in New Mexico when the people paid the taxes and the pill holders squandered the proceeds, has about come to a close, notwithstanding the bitter denunciation by the leaders of the Republican platform wherein the Governor of the state was denounced for "pernicious meddling." But for this "perniciousness" B. C. Hernandez probably would not be the Republican candidate for Congress. Benigno was one of the victims of the Governor's "perniciousness"—he had to "cough up!"—hence his willingness to make the race for Congress on that most treacher platform.

CHAPLAIN FRUND'S ADDRESS ON PEACE SUNDAY

"The Right of Power"
The man never lived and probably never will live, who has not made a mistake. The old adage, "No err is human, to forgive divine," always remains true; and while any man may make a mistake, it is only a foolish man, as Cicero affirms, who will continue in his error.
We feel the truth in the lines of the poet, Burns, who proved to his own sorrow, that, "to step aside is human." He who does not know how to learn from his mistakes, turns the best schoolmaster out of his life. It is only an error of judgment, after all, to make a mistake; but it argues a flaw in character to cling to it; as the Chinese proverb says: "The glory is not in never failing"

Hernandez's Own Showing

A DAMAGING DEFENSE.

The New Mexican has made no attack on Mr. Hernandez. When he was accused by others this paper declared that it would reserve judgment until he had had a chance to defend himself. But after carefully reading Mr. Ely's so-called vindication of his candidate's record as Treasurer of Rio Arriba County, published in yesterday's Albuquerque Journal, we are forced to the inevitable conclusion that Mr. Hernandez is utterly unfit to hold any public office, here or elsewhere.

Probably no more extraordinary document has been issued as campaign material in the history of American politics.

We have not space to quote the statement in full. But one passage is typical of the whole. It is from Mr. Hernandez's letter to Mr. Ely, and purports to be an explanation of his act in marking as "Paid" unpaid taxes due from his relations, and from a company in which he was interested:

"The items marked 'PAID' on the general tax roll were taxes assessed against good, reliable people in our community—and personal friends of mine. I didn't want them to appear as delinquent on the roll and to have to pay a penalty."

No words could give a better picture of the mental caliber of Mr. Hernandez or of his conception of the obligations of a public office. Mr. Ely must be aware of what would happen to the cashier of a bank or the auditor of a railroad who held views similar to the above of his duty to his employer. It is doubtful whether Mr. Ely would engage such a man to manage his own private affairs. Does he consider the people of New Mexico less exacting employers than the average merchant or banker? Or is it possible that he regards public business as of less importance than private?

Mr. Ely's comments on the whole transaction are nothing less than amazing. His theory seems to be that Mr. Hernandez meant to deduct the amount from his own commissions, but that by a mysterious lapse of memory, lacking three years, he forgot to carry out his laudable ambitions. He pretends that "the man" could surely not have "intended to do a thief." This from a campaign manager, in behalf of his candidate for Congress!

Unless further evidence be produced the New Mexican will gladly accept Mr. Ely's version of the facts. No one who knows Mr. Hernandez would willingly believe that he "intended" to be a thief. Nor can anyone who reads his letter to Mr. Ely and Mr. Ely's attempt at apology believe that he is a fit man to represent the people of New Mexico in any capacity whatever. If every word in Mr. Ely's statement be true, it forms far and away the most damaging arraignment of Mr. Hernandez's candidacy that has yet been published in this campaign.

Personally we have nothing against Mr. Hernandez. We like him. We think that the last word on his qualifications was uttered by his running mate, the Honorable Hugh H. Williams, who pronounced him "a mighty nice little fellow." But a nice little fellow with such exceptionally vague ideas of his duty to the public is an impossible candidate for the Congress of the United States.—From Santa Fe New Mexican of Sept. 25th.

but in rising every time you fall."

We learn wisdom from failure much more than from success; we often discover what will do by finding out what will not do; and, perchance, he who never made a mistake, never made a discovery.

An old philosopher once remarked of his studies, that he had become all the better acquainted with the country for having the good luck sometimes to lose his way.

If wisdom comes as the result of such experience, we are gainers by the loss. It would be quite a task to particularize on so extensive a subject as the one before us this evening, namely "The war" as now raging in Europe. Most people today in this great land of the free can bear witness to the fact that viewing the question through their natural glasses of reasoning, there is hardly a limit to its terrible effects on the world in general. The main object in all we do, or say, no matter what the topic may be, it is to learn a lesson. This applies also as in our relation or benefit we learn from others and their actions, no matter what they may be. You will therefore dwell with me for a few moments this evening on the "Lesson" taught by this war, first, as its relation to God, and secondly, the relations to man.

AS REGARD GOD.
The lesson taught is God's

ANOTHER FALSE ISSUE.

The following letter from the secretary of the Interior of the United States to the Honorable Harvey H. Ferguson is significant in view of the absurd plank in the Republican platform condemning the federal land policy of the present Democratic national administration.

"The Secretary of the Interior, Washington, Sept. 24, 1914.

"My dear Mr. Ferguson: Permit me, on the passage by the House of the last of our bills for the opening and utilization of the lands of the West, to congratulate you most earnestly on the helpful and efficient part you have played in the passage of these measures, and to express the earnest hope that you may be returned to give further support to our president and make more splendid the record of our party. Sincerely yours, FRANKLIN K. LANE. Hon. Harvey H. Ferguson, House of Representatives." This letter, and the recently published letter of Hon. A. A. Jones, first assistant secretary of the interior, on the same subject, expose another desperate play of the Republican organization, whose platform proves to be composed largely of false issues.

QUESTION OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

No, gentle reader, the following is not a comment of the Journal on political conditions in New Mexico, however well those conditions fit the comment, but is from an editorial in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Republican, telling why, while supporting the rest of the ticket, it is against the re-election of Penrose to the United States senate:

"Voters who call themselves Republicans who support a corrupt organization in preference to voting for a clean Democrat, display a partisan-ship totally inconsistent with the highest type of citizenship."

The highest type of citizenship of New Mexico is face to face with the same problem that confronts the Republican voters of Pennsylvania. While Mr. Hernandez is not a boss, he is the nominee of a little coterie of bosses who have been using the party as their private property for years, and propose to so continue to use it.

Read again the words of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and apply to conditions in this state. It fits precisely.—Albuquerque Morning Journal.

The foregoing editorial statement of the Albuquerque Journal, a Republican newspaper opposed to Mr. Hernandez, is just as true of the Republican candidates for the legislature as it is true of Mr. Hernandez. However good a man the Republican nominee may be, he will, if elected, go into the Republican caucus and be bound by its action and this caucus will be owned by the "little coterie of bosses" who have been using the party as their private property for years. It fits precisely. The little coterie of bosses controls the Republican party and will control a Republican legislature in the future, as they have controlled it in the past, for high salaries and all sorts of taxation abuses. Will the citizens of New Mexico permit the state to be plundered?

wonderful power over this universe, and notably over erring man. He has taught us from the beginning of time, what a lesson can be obtained from war. He fought it in two storming battles, "Self and Man about." In every instance He proved to us the power alone invested in him "from the Father. He being infinite knows all things and does all things. We being finite know little if anything when in comparison to Him.

In the beginning of this discourse I spoke to you of how natural it is to err, but in referring to God we find no such thing as error, since He is all perfection. Therefore, referring to God and this war in philosophical and dogmatic sense, we must simply say "As He so will, so must it be."

AS REGARD MAN.

Because of the fall of Adam, man has inherited this weakness of erring. Because of that sin, which was the first battle between good and bad, and thus in particular and in general man is subject to warfare be it between individuals, communities, nations, etc. We learn also that next to the combat with sin, the combat of man with man, regardless of whether for good or bad purpose, seems perpetual.

The present conflict indeed is one of a most serious nature, and is said to be the greatest of all wars ever had at any time. We will ask, therefore, why? and find the usual causes, namely, enmity, jealousy, eagerness for

STILL ON THE MAP

I buy Cow Hides, Sheep and Goat Pelts.
Sell Dry Goods, Groceries, Hay and Grain.

LOOK ME UP ON THE MAP
John H. Boyd, Oscura, N.M.

power, honor, etc., all for worldly advantage, but not a single cause for spiritual, and will we wonder at this since the increase with human population came increase of man's disregard for Divine Laws, which is in fine the majority being anti-religious. When the vital principle has been lost what may we expect but this human destruction, this waste of all God's works, blessings, etc.? We will cry out with the sayings of holy writ, "Suffer all to grow until the harvest, and then will be separate the wheat from the chaff, placing the wheat into our barns and the chaff in piles to burn."

Many are innocent and must give up their lives in this conflict, many there who having forgotten their God are forcing a continuation of the conflict, but rest assured the all just God will be present at the harvest.

What is our position therefore, today? It is to plead before the throne of the same God who is angered and insulted by the sins of man so as to allow this war, to Him we shall appeal and after thanking Him for giving us a peaceful nation, to bring the same to those of our stricken brethren across the waters. God may justly be styled as angry with those destroyers, and pleased with us of the Christian Nations, and therefore we appeal to Him as His friends to lessen the burden of those unfortunates, and having learned the lesson may those who are left after the smoke of shot, and shell have passed be ready to join God's band of true followers.

The desire to gain power was the cause of hell itself being established, and on down through history we find it one of the curses among mankind. To govern, to be in power has made and will dominate man's desires for all time. It is only the other side, Christ's side, that has the right to rule since He is the author of all power and through Him alone can power be rightly adjusted.

Power rightly placed is absolutely necessary, but power invested in those who have not the proper disposition in keeping it means a loss to a community, state or nation.

My dear friends behold the flag of this country of the free (a beautiful decorated cross with the stars and stripes resting on the arms was placed just above the speaker's head) there resting upon the arms of the cross. It tells us of the only true peace of any nation, namely, that without Christianity there can be no rest or peace in any nation or between any nation. Let us pray, first, thank God for our nation at peace with all, and secondly, asking for a true peace as only God can give to all those unfortunate nations now in battle array.

NOTE.—The hall was most beautifully decorated for the above occasion, the "Cosmos" flower predominating. Large vases of these flowers were placed down the aisles and in the windows, presenting a most pleasant effect. A large attendance was had and the exercises were highly appreciated.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends, for their sympathy and kind assistance during the illness and after the death of our darling baby, Catherine, and we are also very grateful for the beautiful floral offerings.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humphrey.

Foxworth-Gabrath LUMBER COMPANY.

Shingles, Doors, Sash, Mouldings, Building Paper, etc.
Sewell's Paint, and everything in the line of Building Material.
Carrizozo, New Mexico

READ THE

ALBUQUERQUE EVENING HERALD

News of the World by Associated Press Leased Wire.
News of New Mexico and Eastern Arizona by Special Correspondents.
Daily Stock Market Quotations, including Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, Hay and Grain.

FAIR IN POLITICS; DEMOCRATIC IN PRINCIPLE.

ALL THE NEWS THE DAY IT HAPPENS
ALL THE NEWS THE WAY IT HAPPENS

Favorable train service places the REGULAR EDITION of the Albuquerque Evening Herald in most parts of the state ahead of every other daily paper.

THE EVENING HERALD

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO.

50 Cents per Month - $5.00 per Year

THE STAG SALOON

GRAY BROS.

The Best Brands of BOTTLE AND BARREL WHISKIES.
SEIPP'S & BUDWISER BEER.
BILLIARDS AND POOL.
Choice Cigars.

The Carrizozo Bar

|                             |                    |
|-----------------------------|--------------------|
| All Bonded Whiskey          | $1.75 per Quart.  |
| Port Wine                   | .50 per Quart.     |
| Blackberry Brandy           | .50 per Quart.     |
| Old Kingdom Blended Whiskey | $4.00 per Gallon. |

Wholesale Prices on Seipp's Beer to Outside Dealers.

MOVING PICTURES

At Bank Hall

Tomorrow Night

Also

TUESDAY and THURSDAY

Every Week

CASH MEAT MARKET

AND FAMILY Groceries

FRESH AND SALT MEATS
FRUITS AND VEGETABLES
FULL LINE OF STAPLE GROCERIES

'Phone 46
Phone Orders Receiving Prompt Attention

PATTY & ADAMS

SECOND DOOR NORTH OF POSTOFFICE

SHANGHAI, WONDER CITY OF ORIENT

LIKE most cities in the far East, Shanghai is the proud possessor of a fancy name. "The Gem of the Orient," it is called, and it is, in more ways than one, a "gem," depending entirely on the sense in which the term may be applied.

It is certainly one of the most interesting cities in the world, and no visitor to the Orient should leave it out of his itinerary.

It presents the curious anomaly of being a Chinese city, whose affairs are administered by foreigners, writes J. M. Grady in the Denver Post.

First there is the international municipal council, whose acts are subject to revision by the consular council, representing the foreign consuls resident in Shanghai, and the decisions of this latter body are subject, in turn, to revision by a council composed of foreign ministers residing in Peking and duly accredited to the government of China by their respective countries. There is no appeal from the decisions of this latter body. It is, in fact, a court of last resort—so far as the city of Shanghai is concerned.

Although the British "saw it first" and their commercial interests are perhaps larger than those of other nations, they do not by any means dominate the place, as for instance, they dominate Hongkong, and I hope I may, in passing, be permitted to remark, that it is quite as well they do not, and for the reason that while the very air of Hongkong is saturated with insolent snobbery, there is, in the delightful cosmopolitanism of Shanghai society, a charm all its own.

Having said so much without fear, favor, affection, malice or ill-will, I will state that on the forenoon of the Sunday after my arrival in Shanghai I lost my way while wandering through a section of the settlement occupied by the poorer class of Chinese, none of whom understood a word of English. I noticed a Hindu empire as to fill its disciples with joyful enthusiasm and its enemies with alarm and dismay.

Twenty-five years after the death of Christ St. Paul, writing to the Romans, congratulates them in that their faith "is spoken of in the whole world."

About thirty years later, Pliny, pro-praetor of Bithynia, in a letter to the Emperor Trajan, reported that in consequence of the rapid diffusion of Christianity the temples of the gods were almost abandoned and the sale of victims for the sacrifices well-nigh suspended; and asked what course he should pursue to check its further progress.

St. Justin Martyr, whose death occurred 66 years after that of St. John, declared that "there is not any race of men, barbarian or Greek, or of those who are nomads or shepherds in tents, among whom prayers and eucharists are not offered to the Father of the universe through the name of the crucified Jesus."

St. Irenaeus, who was born in 120, records with great force the marvelous propagation of Christianity up to his own time. "The church," he said, "scattered throughout all the world, even unto the ends of the earth, received from the apostles and their disciples the faith in one God, the Father Almighty. The church, having received this faith, although it is scattered abroad through the whole world, carefully preserves it, dwelling as in one habitation, and believes alike in these doctrines, as though she had one soul and the same heart."

Tertullian, who was born about the year 160, speaks in still more forcible language of the progress of Christianity: "We are but of yesterday," he says, "and yet we have filled every place belonging to you, cities, islands, castles, towns, assemblies, your very camp, your tribes, companies, palaces, senate, forum. We leave you only your temples." Again: "The Kingdom of Christ has no limits. Everywhere, there is faith in Him. All peoples honor Him."

Clement of Alexandria at the close of the second century writes: "The word of our Master did not remain in Judea, as philosophy remained in Greece, but has been poured out over the whole world, persuading Greeks and barbarians alike, race by race, village by village, every city, while houses and hearers one by one, may not a few of the philosophers themselves."

It is worthy of note that all the writers I have quoted lived in the first or second century, and the latest of them was removed from our Saviour by an interval of only about 100 years.

THE GOD-MAN.
By H. L. YAEGER, D. D., President General Synod of the Lutheran Church in United States.

"The Bible is the only book that unfolds to us the realities of eternity," says Matthew Hale.

The Bible furnishes biographies of a number of the greatest men who ever lived: Moses, Noah, Solomon, David, Paul; what a list of notable! But it gives the life and words of the greatest man who ever lived, Jesus Christ, son of God as well as son of man.

A soul-consciousness of a human, personal Saviour has been the experience of the race. It is clearly seen in the ancient pagan world. Pagan gods are largely in the form of men. In Jewish history, the very keynote of the promise was, "The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head." The incarnation brought not a new theory or principle into the world, but a man. God became man.

The person of Christ has been a great theme of study for the past several centuries. At the great church council at Nice in the year 325, at Chalcedon in 451, at Constantinople in 553, the principal theme at all was the person of Christ.

This led to a closer study of the song birds' tongues had nothing on the wealthy and extravagant Chinese of Shanghai, for whom means are frequently provided in some of these restaurants—covering over one hundred courses, and including such tid-bits as birds' nest soup, bears' paws, skylarks' tongues, thrushes' brains, sharks' fins, canary birds' livers, and other dainties too numerous to mention.

And when I tell the reader that a plate of birds' nest soup—for a starter—costs $25, he will have a faint idea of the amount of his "check" should he ever visit a Foochow road restaurant and try to hit the pace set by a Shanghai Chinik.

There is another, and equally interesting, side to Chinese life as seen within the walls of the native—the other extreme, in fact—where tens of thousands toll all day, every day, and well into the night, running at high pressure all the time, in order to earn enough to keep body and soul together.

British There First. Although the British "saw it first" and their commercial interests are perhaps larger than those of other nations, they do not by any means dominate the place, as for instance, they dominate Hongkong, and I hope I may, in passing, be permitted to remark, that it is quite as well they do not, and for the reason that while the very air of Hongkong is saturated with insolent snobbery, there is, in the delightful cosmopolitanism of Shanghai society, a charm all its own.

Having said so much without fear, favor, affection, malice or ill-will, I will state that on the forenoon of the Sunday after my arrival in Shanghai I lost my way while wandering through a section of the settlement occupied by the poorer class of Chinese, none of whom understood a word of English. I noticed a Hindu empire as to fill its disciples with joyful enthusiasm and its enemies with alarm and dismay.

Twenty-five years after the death of Christ St. Paul, writing to the Romans, congratulates them in that their faith "is spoken of in the whole world."

About thirty years later, Pliny, pro-praetor of Bithynia, in a letter to the Emperor Trajan, reported that in consequence of the rapid diffusion of Christianity the temples of the gods were almost abandoned and the sale of victims for the sacrifices well-nigh suspended; and asked what course he should pursue to check its further progress.

St. Justin Martyr, whose death occurred 66 years after that of St. John, declared that "there is not any race of men, barbarian or Greek, or of those who are nomads or shepherds in tents, among whom prayers and eucharists are not offered to the Father of the universe through the name of the crucified Jesus."

St. Irenaeus, who was born in 120, records with great force the marvelous propagation of Christianity up to his own time. "The church," he said, "scattered throughout all the world, even unto the ends of the earth, received from the apostles and their disciples the faith in one God, the Father Almighty. The church, having received this faith, although it is scattered abroad through the whole world, carefully preserves it, dwelling as in one habitation, and believes alike in these doctrines, as though she had one soul and the same heart."

Tertullian, who was born about the year 160, speaks in still more forcible language of the progress of Christianity: "We are but of yesterday," he says, "and yet we have filled every place belonging to you, cities, islands, castles, towns, assemblies, your very camp, your tribes, companies, palaces, senate, forum. We leave you only your temples." Again: "The Kingdom of Christ has no limits. Everywhere, there is faith in Him. All peoples honor Him."

Clement of Alexandria at the close of the second century writes: "The word of our Master did not remain in Judea, as philosophy remained in Greece, but has been poured out over the whole world, persuading Greeks and barbarians alike, race by race, village by village, every city, while houses and hearers one by one, may not a few of the philosophers themselves."

It is worthy of note that all the writers I have quoted lived in the first or second century, and the latest of them was removed from our Saviour by an interval of only about 100 years.

THE GOD-MAN.
By H. L. YAEGER, D. D., President General Synod of the Lutheran Church in United States.

"The Bible is the only book that unfolds to us the realities of eternity," says Matthew Hale.

The Bible furnishes biographies of a number of the greatest men who ever lived: Moses, Noah, Solomon, David, Paul; what a list of notable! But it gives the life and words of the greatest man who ever lived, Jesus Christ, son of God as well as son of man.

A soul-consciousness of a human, personal Saviour has been the experience of the race. It is clearly seen in the ancient pagan world. Pagan gods are largely in the form of men. In Jewish history, the very keynote of the promise was, "The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head." The incarnation brought not a new theory or principle into the world, but a man. God became man.

The person of Christ has been a great theme of study for the past several centuries. At the great church council at Nice in the year 325, at Chalcedon in 451, at Constantinople in 553, the principal theme at all was the person of Christ.

This led to a closer study of the song birds' tongues had nothing on the wealthy and extravagant Chinese of Shanghai, for whom means are frequently provided in some of these restaurants—covering over one hundred courses, and including such tid-bits as birds' nest soup, bears' paws, skylarks' tongues, thrushes' brains, sharks' fins, canary birds' livers, and other dainties too numerous to mention.

And when I tell the reader that a plate of birds' nest soup—for a starter—costs $25, he will have a faint idea of the amount of his "check" should he ever visit a Foochow road restaurant and try to hit the pace set by a Shanghai Chinik.

There is another, and equally interesting, side to Chinese life as seen within the walls of the native—the other extreme, in fact—where tens of thousands toll all day, every day, and well into the night, running at high pressure all the time, in order to earn enough to keep body and soul together.

Although the British "saw it first" and their commercial interests are perhaps larger than those of other nations, they do not by any means dominate the place, as for instance, they dominate Hongkong, and I hope I may, in passing, be permitted to remark, that it is quite as well they do not, and for the reason that while the very air of Hongkong is saturated with insolent snobbery, there is, in the delightful cosmopolitanism of Shanghai society, a charm all its own.

Having said so much without fear, favor, affection, malice or ill-will, I will state that on the forenoon of the Sunday after my arrival in Shanghai I lost my way while wandering through a section of the settlement occupied by the poorer class of Chinese, none of whom understood a word of English. I noticed a Hindu empire as to fill its disciples with joyful enthusiasm and its enemies with alarm and dismay.

Twenty-five years after the death of Christ St. Paul, writing to the Romans, congratulates them in that their faith "is spoken of in the whole world."

About thirty years later, Pliny, pro-praetor of Bithynia, in a letter to the Emperor Trajan, reported that in consequence of the rapid diffusion of Christianity the temples of the gods were almost abandoned and the sale of victims for the sacrifices well-nigh suspended; and asked what course he should pursue to check its further progress.

Back to the Bible

Application of the Scriptures to the World Today as Seen by Eminent Men in Various Walks of Life

Copyright, 1914, by Joseph B. Bowler

THE WORLD'S MIGHTIEST MORAL REVOLUTION.

(By His Eminence JAMES CARDINAL GIBBONS.)

"To the influence of this Book we are indebted for all the progress made in true civilization, and to this we must look as our guide in the future."
—U. S. Grant.

At the dawn of Christianity the Roman empire, after having reached the summit of intellectual culture, had sunk into the lowest depths of moral and religious degradation.

When Christ appeared, He called about Him twelve men and made them the instruments of the mightiest moral revolution that has ever taken place in the annals of time.

In a few years Christianity had secured so strong a foothold in the Roman empire as to fill its disciples with joyful enthusiasm and its enemies with alarm and dismay.

Twenty-five years after the death of Christ St. Paul, writing to the Romans, congratulates them in that their faith "is spoken of in the whole world."

About thirty years later, Pliny, pro-praetor of Bithynia, in a letter to the Emperor Trajan, reported that in consequence of the rapid diffusion of Christianity the temples of the gods were almost abandoned and the sale of victims for the sacrifices well-nigh suspended; and asked what course he should pursue to check its further progress.

St. Justin Martyr, whose death occurred 66 years after that of St. John, declared that "there is not any race of men, barbarian or Greek, or of those who are nomads or shepherds in tents, among whom prayers and eucharists are not offered to the Father of the universe through the name of the crucified Jesus."

St. Irenaeus, who was born in 120, records with great force the marvelous propagation of Christianity up to his own time. "The church," he said, "scattered throughout all the world, even unto the ends of the earth, received from the apostles and their disciples the faith in one God, the Father Almighty. The church, having received this faith, although it is scattered abroad through the whole world, carefully preserves it, dwelling as in one habitation, and believes alike in these doctrines, as though she had one soul and the same heart."

Tertullian, who was born about the year 160, speaks in still more forcible language of the progress of Christianity: "We are but of yesterday," he says, "and yet we have filled every place belonging to you, cities, islands, castles, towns, assemblies, your very camp, your tribes, companies, palaces, senate, forum. We leave you only your temples." Again: "The Kingdom of Christ has no limits. Everywhere, there is faith in Him. All peoples honor Him."

Clement of Alexandria at the close of the second century writes: "The word of our Master did not remain in Judea, as philosophy remained in Greece, but has been poured out over the whole world, persuading Greeks and barbarians alike, race by race, village by village, every city, while houses and hearers one by one, may not a few of the philosophers themselves."

It is worthy of note that all the writers I have quoted lived in the first or second century, and the latest of them was removed from our Saviour by an interval of only about 100 years.

THE GOD-MAN.
By H. L. YAEGER, D. D., President General Synod of the Lutheran Church in United States.

"The Bible is the only book that unfolds to us the realities of eternity," says Matthew Hale.

The Bible furnishes biographies of a number of the greatest men who ever lived: Moses, Noah, Solomon, David, Paul; what a list of notable! But it gives the life and words of the greatest man who ever lived, Jesus Christ, son of God as well as son of man.

A soul-consciousness of a human, personal Saviour has been the experience of the race. It is clearly seen in the ancient pagan world. Pagan gods are largely in the form of men. In Jewish history, the very keynote of the promise was, "The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head." The incarnation brought not a new theory or principle into the world, but a man. God became man.

The person of Christ has been a great theme of study for the past several centuries. At the great church council at Nice in the year 325, at Chalcedon in 451, at Constantinople in 553, the principal theme at all was the person of Christ.

This led to a closer study of the song birds' tongues had nothing on the wealthy and extravagant Chinese of Shanghai, for whom means are frequently provided in some of these restaurants—covering over one hundred courses, and including such tid-bits as birds' nest soup, bears' paws, skylarks' tongues, thrushes' brains, sharks' fins, canary birds' livers, and other dainties too numerous to mention.

And when I tell the reader that a plate of birds' nest soup—for a starter—costs $25, he will have a faint idea of the amount of his "check" should he ever visit a Foochow road restaurant and try to hit the pace set by a Shanghai Chinik.

There is another, and equally interesting, side to Chinese life as seen within the walls of the native—the other extreme, in fact—where tens of thousands toll all day, every day, and well into the night, running at high pressure all the time, in order to earn enough to keep body and soul together.

Although the British "saw it first" and their commercial interests are perhaps larger than those of other nations, they do not by any means dominate the place, as for instance, they dominate Hongkong, and I hope I may, in passing, be permitted to remark, that it is quite as well they do not, and for the reason that while the very air of Hongkong is saturated with insolent snobbery, there is, in the delightful cosmopolitanism of Shanghai society, a charm all its own.

Having said so much without fear, favor, affection, malice or ill-will, I will state that on the forenoon of the Sunday after my arrival in Shanghai I lost my way while wandering through a section of the settlement occupied by the poorer class of Chinese, none of whom understood a word of English. I noticed a Hindu empire as to fill its disciples with joyful enthusiasm and its enemies with alarm and dismay.

The Bible teaches that Christ had a human nature; not the appearance of a man but a real man with a body and a rational soul. His life, His work and His death all show this fact. Paul speaks of "the man Christ Jesus."

The Bible also teaches us that there was a oneness of Christ's person. The two natures unite in one person; unmixed, not blending one with the other; unimpacted, neither one nature interfering with the other; inseparable, neither one performing its functions in the absence of the other. These two natures unite in forming a distinct and unique personality—a divine-human personality, such as the world had never seen and never will see again because there will be no need for such a being again. This oneness is feebly expressed in our own personal institutions. Our mental and physical nature unite in forming one personality.

UNBELIEF AND INHUMANITY.
By WARREN A. CANDLEY, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

"The gospel is not merely a book—it is a living power—a book surpassing all others."
—Napoleon Bonaparte.

Moses went to deliver Israel from bondage after he had seen the vision of Jehovah at the burning bush. He demand upon Pharaoh to let Israel go was met by the abrupt reply, "I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go." (Exodus 5:1.)

In the response of the Egyptian despot to the man of God is disclosed the source of "man's inhumanity to man." He flatly declared that since he was ignorant of God, he would not liberate the Israelites from bondage. Ignoring the God of Israel he had no respect for the descendants of Jacob except as they could serve industrial and political ends in his kingdom. And this is always the case; when men lose sight of the relations of their fellow-men to God, they proceed to depreciate their religious value and use them for their own earthly and selfish ends. Many perishes when God is no longer seen.

While it is true that some men professing religion have been cruel, and some unbelievers have been humane, the fact remains nevertheless that with the generality of men human rights are despised just in proportion as the sense of God fades away from the heart. The claims of mankind are recognized when God is regarded in the soul.

It was no meaningless incident that after the great spiritual power manifested at Pentecost the early Christians "sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need." (Acts 2:45.)

Inhumanity prevailed over all "that hard pagan world" into which Christianity went first with its ministry of mercy. The stoical philosophy, the best of the time, even as elaborated by one like Seneca, declared sympathetic pity a vice of the mind. In sharp contrast with such a heartless sentiment is the conduct of the Archbishop Laurentius, who when called upon by the prefect of Rome for the treasures of the Roman church, presented under the colonnades the poor, the sick and crippled whom it had sheltered and nourished.

True adoration of God inspires warm affection for men. The wonderful act of Mary when she announced that Lord has yielded more beneficiaries to the poor than all the calculating schemes of all the objecting Judases who have ever lived.

Ancients Implanted Teeth.
Dr. Marshall H. Saville, loutab professor of American archaeology in Columbia University, discovered in a trip to Ecuador last year evidences of successful transplanting of human teeth by dentists of Atacames more than one thousand years ago.

"In a skull found on the right bank of the Rio Atacames," writes Professor Saville in the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union, "is a right lateral incisor, which does not belong to the jaw, but was implanted to replace the missing incisor. There seems to be no reason to doubt that the replacement was a genuine triumph of the ancient dentists."

New York dentists said that modern dentistry had as yet been unable to successfully transplant teeth. Frequent attempts, it was said, have been made, but the transplanted tooth soon decays. Such an undertaking, it was pointed out, is in line with investigations by Dr. Alexis Carrel and others of the Rockefeller Institute.

Stops Noise of Traffic.
An inexpensive method of abolishing the noise of the city traffic is being tried at Frankfurt. The street paving is of stone blocks, being placed out to a depth of about an inch; beneath is poured over the street in a layer an inch thick. Sand being sprinkled on, the surface is smoothed

FINE BREAKFAST FRUIT

HUCKLEBERRY HAS MUCH TO RECOMMEND IT.
Best Eaten With Cream or Served at the First Meal in Cakes or Muffins—See Recipe in One of Old Virginia's Recipes.

The huckleberry is not a highly flavored fruit. Containing very little acid, it seems rather insipid to many tastes, but eaten with good rich cream or in the various delicious puddings, desserts and cakes known to the country housewife, will increase your esteem for this, especially wholesome berry. It does not require cultivating. On hillside and mountain clearing or in old pasture fields, and bordering the bubbling brooks, the prolific huckleberry and the lighter-colored, sweeter, and softer blueberry are found in great profusion, and often going to waste, so far as we complaining, short-sighted mortals are concerned. The fully ripe huckleberry does not require sugar; but providing for a very sweet tooth you should not use more than half a cup of sugar to a quart of the fruit.

Huckleberries for Breakfast.—Huckleberries are really the only fruit that may be served for breakfast in cakes or muffins. And they go so well with the summer cereals. A bowl of flakes, or even crisp soda crackers, berries and rich new milk or cream, ice cold, and without sugar, will furnish an ideal summer breakfast for any one, and especially the children. It also makes a very good and satisfying business lunch.

Huckleberry Griddle Cakes.—Pick over a pint of fresh berries and wash them well in cold water, then drain dry. Mix together two cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Beat an egg light and mix with a pint of milk. Roll the berries in some flour until they look like little white balls, then add to the batter. Bake on a hot griddle that is well greased. If these are served for luncheon or tea, dust powdered sugar and cinnamon over them.

Huckleberry Toast.—Pick over, wash and stew a pint of berries, thickening a little with cornstarch or flour. There should be plenty of juice, and the berries sweetened a little. Put a layer of buttered toast in a baking dish, pour some of the berries over this, put in another layer of toast and more berries. Cover and let stand in the warming oven or coal oven for half an hour before serving time. This makes a nice pudding if baked in the oven and covered with a meringue flavored with lemon or served with whipped cream.

Huckleberry Corn Pone or Muffins.—Scald two cups of soft cornmeal with boiling water; add a heaping tablespoonful of flour and milk enough to make rather a thick batter. Mix in two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two-thirds of a cup of light brown sugar and a pint of berries. Bake on a pan, making the pone half an inch thick, or in muffin rings.

Virginia's Huckleberry Tea Cake.—Cream a cup of butter with two cups of sugar. Beat the yolks of five eggs light, stir in, and add a cup of sweet milk. Sift together three cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a teaspoonful of nutmeg. Add to the first mixture and beat to a smooth batter. Then stir in gently the whites of the eggs, beaten to a stiff white froth. Wash a quart of ripe huckleberries, pouring off all that floats on the surface. Drain and roll in flour, then stir into the batter with a wooden paddle, so as not to break or bruise them. Bake in a loaf or deep biscuit pan, in moderately hot oven of steady heat, until a broom straw comes out clean from the center of the cake.

Dried Cherries.
The housewife who has an eye to the demands of the following winter, when fresh fruit is not to be had in abundance, will welcome this recipe for drying cherries. Select the most perfect fruit and cut the stems off close. Don't pull the stems, as this bruises the fruit and allows the juice to escape. Now spread and allow to dry slowly in a cool oven. When thoroughly dry pack away in boxes and have on hand for next winter. They may be used when soaked in almost any of the ways in which the fresh fruit is used, or they may be stewed with sugar, water and a little lemon juice.

Roast Duck, Olive Sauce.
Dress, clean and truss two ducks; place on rack in dripping pan; sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover breast with thin slice of fat salt pork; bake about one hour in a hot oven.

Olive Sauce.—Melt one and one-half tablespoonful butter and stir until well browned; add two tablespoonfuls flour and pour on gradually one and one-half cupfuls brown stock; take ten pitted olives, cover with boiling water and cook five minutes; drain and add to sauce; season with salt and pepper.

Whitening Floors.
To whiten hardwood floors add two tablespoonfuls of paraffin to the hot, soapy water used for washing the floor. This is an old remedy, but a good one, for it not only cleanses the boards, but it destroys any insects that may be lurking in cracks of the floor.

New Polish.
Brush floors and let them run out be incised with a special preparation which will prevent them from regaining their original condition.

ONLOOKER

HENRY HOWLAND

O TIME!

Backward, turn backward, O time, in your flight!
Giv' me conceit again, just for tonight; Carry me back to the days when I wore Leyd clothes and, in fact, was a way sopher;
Smooth from my forehead all traces of care;
Cover my poll with a thatch of dark hair; Put all the doubts that assail me to sleep; Give back the self-love I neglected to keep.

Tired of the hollow, the base and untrue, I long to be somewhere around twentry-two;
With the boundless conceit that enlivened me then;
When I fancied I wielded a masterful pen;
When I thought that the things which I wrote were sublime,
And was sure that my fame must endure through all time—
When I proudly believed that my wisdom was deep
And that genius was resting when I went to sleep.

Turn backward, O time, for tonight, won't you please,
And let me be gladdened by youth's ecstasies;
Permit me to have the cock-sureness of years,
That I had when I strutted, a proud sophomoric,
Believing I knew all a mortal might know,
And sure I was chosen to lead here below.

Oh, put all the doubts that perplex me to sleep,
Give back the conceit I've neglected to keep.

"When Things Go Wrong."
"Mother, where is that lucky stone of mine?"
"I don't know."
"Hurry and find it, I want it."
"But I thought you had decided that it was foolish to believe in charms."
"Never mind. Things have been going against me lately."

Ornamental.
"Oh," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "are you an admirer of Shelley? I see you have his poems."
"No," replied her hostess, as she laid off her $900 fur. "I don't care anything about the poems, but the book makes such a nice ornament for the center table."

A GIRL'S WAY.
"But," he complained, when she had refused him, "you have given me every reason to believe you cared for me."
"I do care for you, George."
"Then why won't you be mine?"
"I want to let your stocky mother and sisters understand that I don't consider you good enough for me."

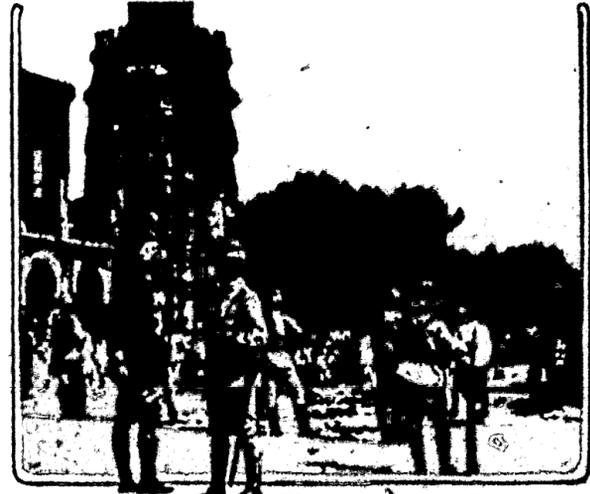

Canny.
"Why didn't you rent that house to the lady I sent around yesterday?" asked the owner of the building.
"I was suspicious of her," replied the agent. "She agreed to take it without having any rebuilding done."

A More Effective Scheme.
"Are you in favor of having married men wear rings on their thumbs, Mrs. Ferguson?"
"No, I think it would be more effective if all married men were compelled to let their whiskers grow."

Not as Bad as He Feared.
"I will be your Nemesis," she hissed.
"All right," he sneered. "I was afraid you might take advantage of the fact that this is leap year and insist on being something else."

All That Was Left for Him to Do.
"What do you propose to do now?" asked the American who had been convicted in an English court of murder.
"I shall now proceed," his lawyer replied, "to collect my fee."

Evidently a Minion.
"They say his wife has Indian blood in her veins."
"That must be a mistake. Indians are supposed to be eternal and strict."

BRITISH SECTION, SHANGHAI

such favorable, sanitary and hygienic conditions, with the result that many of them have amassed great wealth and have become luxurious.

They have erected magnificent homes, in a semi-Oriental style of architecture, in the midst of grounds which the landscape gardeners' art has converted into fairylands. They travel about in costly equipages, attended by retinues of gorgeously livered servants.

Women Are Gorgeous.
Their women's arms are encased in bracelets, around their necks are ropes of pearls and their heads are covered with precious gems, while the gorgeous colorings of their figured silk costumes fairly dazzle the eyes of the beholder.

Not are the masters of all this splendor a whit behind in the matter of personal adornment. These wealthy and effeminate Chinamen seem to never allow the question of cost to enter into their calculations in the matter of picturesque display. If their luxurious habits carried them no further they might be passed up without further comment, but such is far from being the case.

Foochow Road, Shanghai, is the earthly paradise of Sybaritic Chinamen—not only of Shanghai but of the entire Orient. On this road—wall back of the Ming—are to be found imposing buildings in variegated styles of architecture, gorgeously decorated, standing in their own gardens and used as tea houses, singing houses, theaters and restaurants, stocked with all those delicacies so dear to the Oriental and calculated to stimulate a jaded appetite or produce a new sensation.

In these places are to be witnessed, nightly, scenes of unrestrained license and Chinese debauchery, of Chinese profligacy and Chinese dissipation.

The Roman emperor who, in order to improve his singing voice, fed on polliceman, with a rifle slung over his shoulder, guarding the entrance to a very large building. Not understanding English himself, he led me across a court yard and into the office of the building, which later I found was the municipal police court. In this office were two young Englishmen and several native clerks.

The Englishman treated me with greatest courtesy, looked up the

W. L. DOUGLAS

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY

By wearing the W. L. Douglas shoe because for 25 years it has been the shoe that has saved the most money. It is the shoe that has saved the most money. It is the shoe that has saved the most money.

A GOOD COMPLEXION

GUARANTEED. USE ZONA POMADE

The beauty powder compressed with healing agents, you will never be annoyed by pimples, blackheads or facial blemishes. If not satisfied after thirty days' trial your dealer will exchange for you in other goods. Zona has satisfied for twenty years—try it at our risk. At dealers or mailed, 50c.

ZONA COMPANY, WICHITA, KANSAS

DEFIANCE STARCH

is consistently growing in favor because it does not stick to the iron and it will not injure the finest fabric. For laundry purposes it has no equal. 16 oz. package 15c. 1-3 mers starch for same money.

DEFIANCE STARCH CO., Omaha, Nebraska

BROOM CORN

HAVE YOU ANY? WRITE US.

Coyne Brothers

416 W. SOUTH WATER ST., CHICAGO

GOOD YEAR TIRES AT ANTE-BELLUM PRICES

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announce "No war prices on Goodyear Tires." Mr. F. A. Stebbins, president of the Company, thus explains their unique position.

"We advanced Goodyear prices, as others did theirs, when the rubber panic came. Almost in a day crude rubber rose in New York from 55 cents per pound to much over a dollar.

"The New York supply was too small to consider. We called our London people to buy up the pick of the rubber there. By acting quickly and paying cash they obtained 1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber.

"That big supply of rubber is now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply.

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires.

"We are running our factory with three shifts of men, twenty-four hours a day. So long as we remain in this fortunate position on rubber, we shall supply tire users at before-war prices to the limit of our capacity."

Regular Fallacies.

1. That mosquitoes only bite once.
2. That mosquitoes only live one day.
3. That mosquito bites won't itch if you don't scratch 'em.
4. That if you hold your breath you can catch a mosquito and slay it.

"My experience is that mosquitoes only bite once (in the same place); that they only live one day (at a time); that their bites won't itch if you don't scratch 'em (but rub 'em with sandpaper and the edge of a brass key instead); and that if you hold your breath you can catch a mosquito and slay it (provided you have a shotgun in each hand and are a good shot).

The Follow-Up Method.

"Why do you get the pretty girl job first? Is that fair?"

"Best for all concerned," declared the head of the school of stenography. "The pretty girl soon marries her employer, and then there's a permanent job for one of the plainer young ladies."

Herold Measures.

"My doctor is evidently determined to get a rest."

"What has he done?"

"Sent all his patients to the mountains and he's going to the mountains."

Many a man who starts at the foot of the ladder manager by great grit and determination to be there at the finish.

A girl in the land may have been some time in cold storage. Then what?

Sore Eyes

Granulated Eyelids, Itchy, Swollen, Red, and Watery, are relieved by WALBANK Eye Ointment. No Stinging. No Pain. No Discharge. At Your Druggist's or WALBANK, 1001 15th St., Denver, Colo. Sold by all Druggists or WALBANK, 1001 15th St., Denver, Colo.

MAKING ATONEMENT

By GEORGE MUNRON.

The Rev. Jed Williams sat in his chair inside the tiny living room of the parsonage, his wife by his side, and neither spoke for a long time. At last the old man raised his head.

"They ains will find thee out!" he murmured. "Well, Eliza, this means that we shall have to move out of Elmer."

Eliza Williams pressed his hand, but did not answer him. What was there to say? Her husband had once killed a man. Now everybody knew. It meant the end of his ministry, and he was too old to begin life anew.

They had been three years in Elmer, and had come to love the place. But with the curiosity of small towns, the parishioners had never ceased to pry Mrs. Williams with questions. And because she apparently wished to keep her affairs to herself, they had become more inquisitive still.

"If there's one thing people would like more than another, Jed," she had said, only the preceding week, "it is to pry into the secrets of people's lives."

"I don't know, my dear," her husband had answered. "Folks are more or less the same everywhere—a little inquisitive, no doubt, but good at heart. I am sure they are good. I must believe that, as a minister, Lizzy," he added.

Jed Williams was fifty-five. Five and thirty years before he had accidentally killed a man. It was a fight; Jed was hot-blooded and struck at the taunt. His enemy fell and fractured his skull upon the curb. Jed was two months in prison; then he was found guilty of a minor degree of manslaughter and imprisoned for one month longer.

When he came out he began to study for the ministry. Because he had killed a man, he resolved to devote his life to saving men. He went to a distant state, where he was unknown, and obtained a pastorate there. It was there he met and wooed his first and only sweetheart. Before he asked her to be his wife he told her the story. And she, clinging to him, vowed to let her love and trust accompany them all their days together.

Two years later a man who had known Williams in his own state came to the town. The story became public property. A majority of the congregation of the First church stood by him, but he resigned rather than cause a split.

Again he started life anew, and in ten years was minister of one of the largest churches in Chicago. And again the story came to light. Again Williams began in a country parsonage.

He himself accepted his chastisement humbly, as his punishment, but his wife never ceased to rebel against the fatality that pursued him.

However, his seven years at Kingston had passed uneventfully, and then followed the three at Elmer. They were growing old now; earnestly they prayed that the miserable secret might be allowed to remain in its grave.

"Then, the day before, a man of the old Chicago congregation, who was visiting Elmer, had met Williams on the street. In the man's embarrassed looks and hesitating words the parson read, not only the remembrance of his secret, but the fact that he had already made it public property.

"Jed," suggested his wife, "don't you suppose that if—if you hadn't resigned from all those posts so precipitantly the people would have stood by you?"

He shook his head mournfully. "It may be," he answered, "but I couldn't be the cause of differences among my people. No, my dear, we must leave Elmer. Only there is something to be done first."

"Yes, Jed dear?"

The old man rose and stood before her; a fire burned beneath the palest humanity of his bearing.

"Elizabeth, my dear, I have—well, run away," he said. "But this time I am going to make my confession to the Lord and to my people!"

"Jed! Not after all these years!"

GOOD METHOD OF PRESERVING

Most Popular in California, It Is Well Worthy of Adoption in Other Localities.

Certain fruits, like strawberries, cherries and raspberries, are particularly pleasing when prepared by a method which originated in California, the land of fruit. The proportions should be:

One pound of fresh fruit; one pound of sugar. Place a layer of fruit in the bottom of a large enamel preserving kettle and add one or two tablespoonfuls of water and alternate with layer of sugar. Heat very slowly and carefully until the sugar is melted, avoiding crushing the fruit. Boil from six to eight minutes, then pour the mixture in thick layers into large platters and set in the bright sunshine for a day. It should thicken or "jelly" on the platter, after which it may be placed in sterilized jars and sealed with paraffin.

Very often peddlers and druggists, too, offer the housewife "preserving powders" to help her in putting up her preserves. These powders do prevent the decay of fruit or vegetables, but they are dangerous and, indeed, poisonous in many cases. Never use them under any circumstances, as the proper way to sterilize is by means of heat, and it is not necessary to resort to any kind of preservative if you follow clear directions.

Someone writes asking whether best sugar can be used in jelly making. It appears that both sugars are equally pure and there is no difference in taste or appearance of jellies made from either. If, therefore, anyone is in a locality where beet sugar is cheap, it would be just as well to use this as the more expensive cane sugar.

LEFTOVER LAMB WITH RICE

Good Method of Disposing of the Remnants of the Joint of the Day Before.

Method.—Take lean remnants of roast lamb and cut into thin slices, removing all fat or brown rind. Take leftover gravy, first taking off the fat, and add one to two teaspoonfuls of catsup or chili sauce to a cupful of gravy. Pour this over the meat and let it heat and simmer slowly. According to amount of meat on hand so that you have enough gravy to make the dish the consistency of a thick stew. Toward the last add a teaspoonful of flour dissolved in cold water to every cupful and let this thicken well. A spoonful of grated onion can also be added. Season rather highly with pepper and salt and place in center of deep platter when serving and surround with steamed or boiled rice.

If the meat portion is rather small supplement with a cupful of stewed tomatoes added to the meat, or lay thick slices of nicely fried tomatoes over the meat after it is on the platter.

MANY COLDS DUE TO BATH

Not Always Easy to Account For, but That Is One of the Most Common Causes of Annoyance.

One of the peculiarly aggravating things about a cold in the head is that its origin is so difficult to trace. It may have been caught while standing before an open window, or riding on a street car without sufficient wraps, or finding a concert hall or church drafty, but in the majority of instances the question must be left unanswered. This is especially annoying to the thoughtful person, for it handicaps the prevention of similar exposure; we cannot guard ourselves unless we know against what we need to guard.

One of the most prolific causes of catching cold, however, is often overlooked. This is a bath. First of all, few people seem to bear in mind that rubbing with a towel after a bath is not mainly for the purpose of drying oneself. That needs to be done, of course, but if we take a bath and then merely dry ourselves with the towel, we are deliberately inviting a cold.

If the skin be merely dried, much moisture will remain. This will evaporate quickly. Evaporation, as is well known, is perhaps the speediest method of producing cold that exists. It cools the skin too quickly, and a severe cold is often the result.

The action of cold water, moreover, holds the blood back from the skin, leaving it without this warming protection.

The towel after a bath should be vigorous and prompt. The friction should be so energetic that the skin becomes reddened, for the reddening shows the return of the blood to the surface. This will prevent many colds to which people are subject.

Another reason why we catch cold in a bath is due to the shape of modern bath tubs. In many instances, in order to cover the whole body, the neck and shoulders are lowered into the water, so that—especially among men—the lower part of the head is wet enough to saturate a couple of inches of hair above the neck.

Sufficient Reason Necessary.

First Question.—Why on earth did those folks give you so much more cold than welcome than they gave me?

Second Question.—Oh, that's easy. They knew I'm a vegetable.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults of his own.

PIMPLES ON HEAD ITCHED

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret, it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one cot he was healed and he has a fine growth of hair."

(Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 28, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MEASURE MOUNTAIN SNOWFALL

Information Sought to Show Water Available for Irrigation.

Denver.—Forest officers on the national forests in Wyoming will co-operate with the United States Weather Bureau during the coming winter by securing an accurate record of the depth and density of snowfall in the mountains. This data is sought by the Weather Bureau. It is said, for the purpose of basing its forecasts on the probable amount of water available for irrigation throughout the state. It is also of value to the forest service in its study of the climatic conditions throughout the various national forest regions of the West.

According to local forestry officials, the general plan provides for the installation and reading of snow scales located at elevations ranging from eight to eleven thousand feet and on representative sites in the different types of forest growth and drainage areas. Beginning the last of November these scales will be read by forest rangers at the end of each month during the season of snowfall. It is planned to place no less than twelve snow scales on each of the seven forests in the state, covering the following principal drainages: North Platte, Green, Snake, Upper Yellowstone (including the Big Horn and Shoshone rivers), and the Lower Yellowstone (all east of the Big Horn range).

FOOD FACTS

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerves and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but in two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 15 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Look in piggy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and so.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults of his own.

PIMPLES ON HEAD ITCHED

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret, it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one cot he was healed and he has a fine growth of hair."

(Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 28, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MEASURE MOUNTAIN SNOWFALL

Information Sought to Show Water Available for Irrigation.

Denver.—Forest officers on the national forests in Wyoming will co-operate with the United States Weather Bureau during the coming winter by securing an accurate record of the depth and density of snowfall in the mountains. This data is sought by the Weather Bureau. It is said, for the purpose of basing its forecasts on the probable amount of water available for irrigation throughout the state. It is also of value to the forest service in its study of the climatic conditions throughout the various national forest regions of the West.

According to local forestry officials, the general plan provides for the installation and reading of snow scales located at elevations ranging from eight to eleven thousand feet and on representative sites in the different types of forest growth and drainage areas. Beginning the last of November these scales will be read by forest rangers at the end of each month during the season of snowfall. It is planned to place no less than twelve snow scales on each of the seven forests in the state, covering the following principal drainages: North Platte, Green, Snake, Upper Yellowstone (including the Big Horn and Shoshone rivers), and the Lower Yellowstone (all east of the Big Horn range).

FOOD FACTS

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerves and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but in two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 15 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Look in piggy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and so.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults of his own.

PIMPLES ON HEAD ITCHED

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret, it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one cot he was healed and he has a fine growth of hair."

(Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 28, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MEASURE MOUNTAIN SNOWFALL

Information Sought to Show Water Available for Irrigation.

Denver.—Forest officers on the national forests in Wyoming will co-operate with the United States Weather Bureau during the coming winter by securing an accurate record of the depth and density of snowfall in the mountains. This data is sought by the Weather Bureau. It is said, for the purpose of basing its forecasts on the probable amount of water available for irrigation throughout the state. It is also of value to the forest service in its study of the climatic conditions throughout the various national forest regions of the West.

According to local forestry officials, the general plan provides for the installation and reading of snow scales located at elevations ranging from eight to eleven thousand feet and on representative sites in the different types of forest growth and drainage areas. Beginning the last of November these scales will be read by forest rangers at the end of each month during the season of snowfall. It is planned to place no less than twelve snow scales on each of the seven forests in the state, covering the following principal drainages: North Platte, Green, Snake, Upper Yellowstone (including the Big Horn and Shoshone rivers), and the Lower Yellowstone (all east of the Big Horn range).

FOOD FACTS

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerves and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but in two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 15 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Look in piggy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and so.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults of his own.

PIMPLES ON HEAD ITCHED

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret, it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one cot he was healed and he has a fine growth of hair."

(Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 28, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MEASURE MOUNTAIN SNOWFALL

Information Sought to Show Water Available for Irrigation.

Denver.—Forest officers on the national forests in Wyoming will co-operate with the United States Weather Bureau during the coming winter by securing an accurate record of the depth and density of snowfall in the mountains. This data is sought by the Weather Bureau. It is said, for the purpose of basing its forecasts on the probable amount of water available for irrigation throughout the state. It is also of value to the forest service in its study of the climatic conditions throughout the various national forest regions of the West.

According to local forestry officials, the general plan provides for the installation and reading of snow scales located at elevations ranging from eight to eleven thousand feet and on representative sites in the different types of forest growth and drainage areas. Beginning the last of November these scales will be read by forest rangers at the end of each month during the season of snowfall. It is planned to place no less than twelve snow scales on each of the seven forests in the state, covering the following principal drainages: North Platte, Green, Snake, Upper Yellowstone (including the Big Horn and Shoshone rivers), and the Lower Yellowstone (all east of the Big Horn range).

FOOD FACTS

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerves and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but in two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 15 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Look in piggy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and so.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults of his own.

PIMPLES ON HEAD ITCHED

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret, it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one cot he was healed and he has a fine growth of hair."

(Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 28, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MEASURE MOUNTAIN SNOWFALL

Information Sought to Show Water Available for Irrigation.

Denver.—Forest officers on the national forests in Wyoming will co-operate with the United States Weather Bureau during the coming winter by securing an accurate record of the depth and density of snowfall in the mountains. This data is sought by the Weather Bureau. It is said, for the purpose of basing its forecasts on the probable amount of water available for irrigation throughout the state. It is also of value to the forest service in its study of the climatic conditions throughout the various national forest regions of the West.

According to local forestry officials, the general plan provides for the installation and reading of snow scales located at elevations ranging from eight to eleven thousand feet and on representative sites in the different types of forest growth and drainage areas. Beginning the last of November these scales will be read by forest rangers at the end of each month during the season of snowfall. It is planned to place no less than twelve snow scales on each of the seven forests in the state, covering the following principal drainages: North Platte, Green, Snake, Upper Yellowstone (including the Big Horn and Shoshone rivers), and the Lower Yellowstone (all east of the Big Horn range).

FOOD FACTS

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerves and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but in two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 15 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Look in piggy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and so.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults of his own.

PIMPLES ON HEAD ITCHED

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret, it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one cot he was healed and he has a fine growth of hair."

(Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 28, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MEASURE MOUNTAIN SNOWFALL

Information Sought to Show Water Available for Irrigation.

Denver.—Forest officers on the national forests in Wyoming will co-operate with the United States Weather Bureau during the coming winter by securing an accurate record of the depth and density of snowfall in the mountains. This data is sought by the Weather Bureau. It is said, for the purpose of basing its forecasts on the probable amount of water available for irrigation throughout the state. It is also of value to the forest service in its study of the climatic conditions throughout the various national forest regions of the West.

According to local forestry officials, the general plan provides for the installation and reading of snow scales located at elevations ranging from eight to eleven thousand feet and on representative sites in the different types of forest growth and drainage areas. Beginning the last of November these scales will be read by forest rangers at the end of each month during the season of snowfall. It is planned to place no less than twelve snow scales on each of the seven forests in the state, covering the following principal drainages: North Platte, Green, Snake, Upper Yellowstone (including the Big Horn and Shoshone rivers), and the Lower Yellowstone (all east of the Big Horn range).

FOOD FACTS

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerves and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but in two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 15 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

Look in piggy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and so.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catastrophic Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Waynesboro, Va., writes:

"I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

The easiest way not to settle a dispute is to go to law about it.

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any grocer. Adv.

A critic should have a good memory. At least he should never forget that he has faults

The last week of another conference year is here. We have spent a year as a citizen of your town, as your neighbor, and as the pastor of the Methodist Church in your midst. We have met you in public meetings, in your homes, and in the church. We have tried to enter into every interest of your commonwealth and endeavored to make known that we were a friend to every worthy element of your town. Then what we have not agreed to, or thought was for the abiding good of the town and church, we have frankly, but kindly denounced. Our view point may not be yours, for our standpoint is that safety and security is in moral and religious living. It is our conviction that permanency in prosperity and happiness is established alone in the character of the people. It has been our desire to meet and greet every one, both in and out of the church cordial, and have desired to make such greetings genuine. There may have been some whom we have not understood but it has been our effort to cultivate the friendship of our people.

We have been the recipients of many favors. Two or three have invited us to share the hospitality of their homes; others have driven by in their cars; others have favored us with vehicles; others have called in our home, some formal and a few informal; to the editors who have opened their columns to us, granting space unstintingly. To all of these we extend our hearty appreciation and hope for them many friends and many happy days in this life, and evoke the favor of Him who sent us upon them.

Many have contributed to our support. Some who attend church regularly, those who rarely attend, and some who have not attended at all. We take this way of extending to them our thanks and pray that our Father and theirs may bless their homes, granting security from the mroads of sin and that having this share invested in bringing about His kingdom, they may be careful to invest themselves so as to win a place when His kingdom is established in the world to come.

We leave in a few days for the session of the Annual Conference which meets in Pecos City, Texas, October 4th. We never know where we will be sent, may be changed to another charge or we may be sent back. In case we are sent back we will serve you as best we can. We have tried to walk circumspectly and have a clean record for right living in your town. As to our success in this all important line you may judge for yourself. If we return by God's grace we hope to live as no one can gain say.

Mrs. Hendrix joins heartily in sending thanks.

J. W. Hendrix,
Pastor Methodist Church.

PORT STANTON

Mrs. F. C. Smith of No. 1 is leaving in a few days for an extended trip in the east, going by way of Chicago. She will be absent a month or so.

Mrs. French Simpson of New Orleans, visiting Dr. and Mrs. Smith at No. 1, is enjoying her stay immensely. Dr. Simpson is a member of the U. S. P. H. S.

Last Sunday evening in Library hall Chaplain Frund opened the non-sectarian services with a special program, it being "Peace Sunday" as proclaimed by President Wilson. A large attendance was present and the hall was specially decorated for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Sisson returned Tuesday from El Paso where Mr. Sisson had been in the mountains.

The State is improving nicely and it is expected to soon be able to resume its duties in the Chief Executive.

A number of patients are enjoying a week's camping up on the eastern part of the reservation. They promise to bring a deer to the Post.

Daily services are being held in the chapel at 8 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. known as daily "Peace Services."

Messrs. McElhone, Hanga, Johston, Keough and Captain Van Zant visited Lincoln Sunday afternoon, making the trip in the Van Zant car.

Dr. F. C. Smith, Dr. Ruoff, Mr. and Mrs. H. Leach and Miss Olga Kers of Cleveland spent Sunday on an outing up in the Capitan, reporting a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Keyes, Miss Ruby Saunders, Jack Corn and Stanley Crosby, all of Massachusetts and spending the winter at Roswell, made a pleasant visit with Mr. Nichols of No. 3, B. Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. They returned to Roswell Monday in the Keyes' car.

Miss Olga Kers of Cleveland is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leach at No. 3, A, for a few weeks.

Dr. McKeon and wife are visiting at San Bernardino, Calif., for a couple of weeks, returning to Ft. Stanton at the end of the present month.

Messrs. Dr. Currie and Furgerson of No. 4 are contemplating a thirty days' visit to their respective homes in the east in the near future.

Captain Van Zant motored to Parsons last Friday to bring home Mrs. Bagg, Mrs. F. Simpson and son and Miss Dorothy Smith, who had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rice.

Chaplain Frund, Miss O. Kers and Mr. Furgerson visited Lincoln last Saturday, making the trip in the Furgerson car.

Miss Helen Rice of Parsons presided at the piano during the "Peace Services" in Library Hall last Sunday evening. Miss Helen is a sister to Mrs. Weber of 13, B.

A number of dinners have been given about the square in the past week in honor of the various guests visiting.

FOUND—Gentleman's coat between town and Coyote Springs, owner can get same by calling at Dr. R. C. Hurton, one mile south of town and paying for this add.

STATE.

W. J. McDonald, ..... Secretary
 E. C. Deas, ..... Light Governor
 Antonio Lucero, ..... Secretary of State
 F. W. Clancy, ..... Attorney General
 W. B. Sargent, ..... Auditor
 O. N. Marron, ..... Treasurer
 E. F. Evers, ..... Land Commissioner
 Alvan N. White, ..... Supt. Pub. Instruction
 C. J. Roberts, Chief Justice, ..... Judges of the F. W. Parker, Member, ..... Supreme
 R. M. Hanna, Member, ..... District
 H. M. Williams, Chairman, ..... Corporation Com.
 M. S. Groves, Member, .....
 O. L. Owen, Member, .....
DISTRICT.
 Edward L. Meeler, ..... Judge
 H. B. Hamilton, ..... Attorney
COUNTY.
 Melvin Franks, Chairman, ..... Commissioner
 W. M. Ferguson, Member, .....
 B. A. Duran, Member, .....
 Doroteo Liscro, ..... Probate Judge
 A. H. Harvey, ..... County Clerk
 John Cole, ..... Sheriff
 Henry M. Vorn, ..... Assessor
 T. W. Watson, ..... Treasurer
 Mrs. W. L. Gunn, ..... School Superintendent
 Frank E. Tignor, ..... Coroner

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
 DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
 U. S. Land Office, Roswell, N. M.
 Sept. 8, 1914.

Notice is hereby given that the State of New Mexico, by virtue of Acts of Congress approved June 21, 1906, and June 21, 1910, and acts supplementary and amendatory thereto, has filed in this office several lists for the following described land:

List No. 2992 Serial No. 029142
 SW-1 SW-1 Sec. 23 T. 9 N. 13 E. N. 1 E.
 Mar. 40, 1906. Serial No. 029143
 List No. 2993 Serial No. 029144
 NW-1 NE-1, SE-1, SW-1 Sec. 21 T. 9 N. 13 E.
 N. M. Mar. 19, 1906. Serial No. 029145
 List No. 2994 Serial No. 029146
 SW-1 Sec. 1 N. 12 NE-1, SW-1 NE-1
 Sec. 1 T. 7 S. R. 11 E. N. M. Mar. 20, 1906.
 List No. 2995 Serial No. 029147
 NW-1 NE-1 Sec. 11 NW-1 NW-1 Sec. 12 T.
 7 S. R. 11 E. SW-1, SW-1, Sec. 9 T. 7 S. R.
 11 E. N. M. Mar. 20, 1906. Serial No. 029148
 List No. 2996 Serial No. 029149
 NW-1 NE-1, SW-1, SW-1, NW-1, NW-1,
 SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1,
 Mar. 20, 1906. Serial No. 029150
 List No. 2997 Serial No. 029151
 NE-1 NE-1, NE-1 NW-1, SW-1 NW-1, SW-1
 SW-1 Sec. 4 NE-1, NE-1 NW-1 Sec. 12 T. 7 S.
 R. 11 E. N. M. Mar. 20, 1906. Serial No. 029152
 List No. 2998 Serial No. 029153
 NW-1 SW-1, N. 12 SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1,
 SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1, SW-1,
 Mar. 20, 1906. Serial No. 029154
 List No. 2999 Serial No. 029155
 SW-1 Sec. 1 N. 12 NE-1, NW-1 Sec. 2 T. 7 S.
 R. 11 E. N. M. Mar. 20, 1906. Serial No. 029156
 List No. 3000 Serial No. 029157
 NW-1 SW-1, SW-1, NE-1, N. 12 NW-1 Sec. 6
 T. 7 S. R. 11 E. N. M. Mar. 20, 1906.

Protests or contests against any or all of such selections may be filed in this office during the period of publication hereof, or any time thereafter, and before final approval and certificate. FRANK PATTON, Register.

FALL OPENING

Our opening of our new store will be an Event Worth both watching and waiting for

It begins next Monday, October 12, and we invite everybody, especially the ladies of Carrizozo and Lincoln County, for Monday afternoon, to see the grand display of our new fall and winter dresses, suits, coats, etc.

Will present each Lady calling Monday with a nice souvenir.

Welch & Titsworth
 WHOLESALE and RETAIL

- Fruit Jars
- Jar Caps and Rubbers
- Seed Wheat
- Hay Balers
- Mowing Machines
- Hay Rakes
- Bale Ties
- Dry Batteries
- Dynamite
- Blasting Caps
- Fuse
- Wagons
- Hacks
- Buggies
- Time
- Sulphur, etc.

Special Prices on Goods in Quantities

Welch & Titsworth
 CARRIZOZO, N. M.

Stoves and Ranges, Builders' Hardware.
N. B. TAYLOR & SONS
 Blacksmithing and Hardware
 CARRIZOZO & WHITE OAKS
 Tinware, Paints, Glass, Oils of all kinds.
 Harness, Ammunition, Etc.

PABST BLUE RIBBON BEER
HEADLIGHT SALOON PORFIRIO CHAVEZ
 Carrizozo, New Mexico
 Whiskies, Beer, Wines and Cigars
 Pool Room in Connection

Special Facilities for Banquet and Dinner Parties.
Carrizozo Eating House