

Parsons

A succession of hard frosts following a protracted rainy spell has caused the glory of the gardens to depart, but in compensation old Jack Frost has painted the hills in glowing colors.

Mr. James Simms of White Oaks spent several days in Parsons visiting friends.

Mr. Robertson, of the Helen Rae mine and James Escue drove up to Parsons Saturday in Mr. Robertson's Ford. They expected to return home the same day but the car thought otherwise, so the gentlemen were compelled to return to Parsons for the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Marriam motored to Carrizozo the first of the week with Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Brown, from Storm Lake, Iowa, and Mr. Townsend, from Oscola, Ind., arrived last week in time to attend the stockholders meeting of the Parsons Mining Company. Mr. Townsend left Tuesday and will visit the fair at San Francisco before returning home. Mr. Bronson is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Anderson and is enjoying the mountain scenery as well as being interested in the various mines in this locality.

Mr. and Floy Skinner and daughter, Bly, and Mrs. Coc and children were entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Combs.

M. Lawrence Markley has joined the bachelor colony at the Parsons mill.

M. McReynolds is hauling cement and other supplies from the Walnut station to the Parsons mill.

Mr. W. G. Wells and H. L. Bourgeois have returned from Capitan where they have been for the past week. Since his return home, Mr. Wells has joined the ranks of the sick.

Mr. Ambruch paid his customary visit to town Sunday.

Mrs. Gumm returned Tuesday night from a visit to schools in the Block ranch country.

Robert H. Taylor and A. H. Harvey left Monday night for Clovis, where they were called as witnesses in the county seat litigation.

Obsequies of Late

Mrs. George Oliver

The funeral of the late Mrs. George Oliver, who passed away at Ft. Stanton Thursday, September 23, took place Saturday afternoon at St. John's Church, Lincoln, Chaplain Frund, P. H. S., officiating and assisted by the rector of Lincoln, Rev. J. H. Girma. The flower pieces, notably crosses and wreaths of natural flowers, were many and most beautiful.

The following is the order of services as held at the church and cemetery:

Funeral Procession—Chaplain Frund and Father Girma chanting the "Miserere" enter church. Arriving at the altar, a solo, "Selected," was rendered by Mrs. F. C. Smith, assisted by Mr. S. Beckstrum, violin, and Lieut. J. R. Besse at the organ. The "Liberia" being now recited by the clergy, a duet of violin and organ rendered "Veni Jesu." Funeral sermon by Chaplain Frund. Mrs. F. C. Smith rendered her second solo, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," during which the farewell view took place. At the cemetery Father Girma officiated, assisted by Chaplain Frund.

The following notes were taken from the sermon: "Death, my dear friends, although common, has its terrors only as to time, place and victim. It is when it visits a loved one that we are compelled to heed its presence. God has designated that everything which happens upon earth is for a purpose, and so this afternoon in the Christian spirit we find two points given for our study, namely: that of deceased, and secondly, our lesson to be derived therefrom. The deceased, a loving young mother, was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. In childhood she was always a student of that which pertained to a higher education. As a devoted child of the Holy Faith she presided often at the organ here in this church. She was a lover of children, as is well verified by her being loved by every pupil who came under her charge while teaching in the various schools of this county. Mrs. Oliver sacrificed all to become a wife and mother. The world today has little care for those who try to live as God demands. The young mother is an exception, and she doing her duty, as wife and mother, is the one whom God loves, and will reward the most. A great consolation in this hour to the loved ones she has left behind is that an angel remains in the five months' child, Master William James Oliver. Were life to return for only a few moments into these mortal remains, well may we presume that her words would be, 'Courage, loved ones, I wish to meet you soon. Pray for my soul, pray for your souls that our day of parting will be a short one.' And in return would we hear the earthly parents responding in crying out, 'Daughter, we miss you, but your presence spiritually remains.' A brother is answering by saying, 'I will live a life that will give me permission to meet my sister soon.' And the husband is heard pleading for courage to persevere alone in this world with the angel, the fruit of their betrothal. Our lesson is to so live that when death calls us we may be found eligible to enter the eternal home of peace, there to join this and all our beloved ones of the past."

William E. and Phillip H. Blanchard were in the past week from their ranch on the Mochos. They report range conditions good and stock in fine condition.

Roswell Exposition Opens Monday for Week

Ten horses that have never felt the weight of a saddle will be brought in front of the grand stand at the State Live Stock and Products Exposition at Roswell next Tuesday, and ten cow boys will draw numbers for them. The cow boy that first puts his horse around the half mile track wins one leg on the week's race. This will be repeated on Wednesday and Thursday and each day the cow boys will draw their horses by number. The one having the largest number of victories wins the race and $100. This and a number of other specialty stunts is attracting the attention of the cow boys all over New Mexico.

The fair opens Monday and everything will be in place by noon. Visitors on Monday are assured of seeing as much as they will any other day. The horticultural and other buildings will be in readiness by Monday noon.

There will be good racing on four afternoons, beginning on Tuesday, almost $1500 being offered in purses.

The convention of the New Mexico Bankers' Association begins Monday and closes Tuesday night with a big banquet. Wednesday will be cattlemen's day at the fair and a state association will be formed. They will have a banquet in the evening. Thursday is hog growers' day and the Eastern New Mexico Swine Breeders' Association will have a meeting and a banquet at night. The sheep men will have Friday and they expect to have an informal social meeting and dinner in the evening. Friday will also be school children's day, when they will be admitted free. A number of special events have been planned for them Friday morning, and this feature of the fair is attracting much attention.

Jack's Peak

Mrs. Edna Burnett made a business trip to Ancho Saturday.

On Independence Day the Mexicans held a reunion to celebrate. With a three-day picnic, interspersed with dancing, etc., old Raberton "came alive" once more.

Max Gubarra, an Ancho merchant, came in last week for a load of melons.

Mr. Gibson, from the Comery ranch, was in the settlement Sunday, week.

There was a load of melons hauled to White Oaks last week, and out of load ten melons were sold. Fast town, eh?

A dance at Jicarilla last week called out a few of the young folks from this vicinity.

Burnett Brothers are about ready for shearing their herd of Angoras.

Messrs. Comery and Davis were in the settlement on business Saturday last. Mr. Davis is the principal of Ancho's school.

There is a fine flock of turkeys in this settlement, which are growing and fattening for the Thanksgiving trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Wilson and family were visiting in Jicarilla Sunday last.

Mrs. Burnett received five new pupils into her school last week. Though late, there is yet time to do some good.

We do not want quail hunters in our fields. The birds are too valuable to kill. A great many were shot and many were frightened off a year ago. If the loss was in the killed it would not be so great, it is the fright from the guns and the dogs that scares so many away. We notice they have diminished in number notwithstanding that each pair has raised their usual number.

The farmers in the east are wearing little bronze buttons inscribed, "Ask us the price." We hope to see the farmers of the west take up the motto and live by it.

Though contrary to law, we notice new fences made across old roads. Of course there is a way around if one will only keep going. By taking a camping outfit we would eventually make the trip to White Oaks or other places south. The law on the subject was published in both places for such a long time that people nearly learned it by heart.

J. B. Mochlo, of Mochlo Brothers, ranchmen and farmers north of Capitan, was here Monday to Tuesday. Mochlo Brothers, in addition to running cattle and sheep have developed a fine farm, which is watered by two springs from the Capitan mountains. They have cut and housed fifty tons of alfalfa, have a splendid young orchard and vineyard, and in many ways are showing the old residents how to do things.

Jicarilla Gold Ore

William Mehrmann, of Jicarilla, brought in some excellent samples of sulphide gold ore which he has struck on his lode claim about two miles south of Jicarilla postoffice on the Prince Albert claim. The samples are highly mineralized, and although an assay has not yet been made it should show good values.

The ore has been exposed to a depth of about 75 feet and shows a vein approximately seven feet in width. It is not a free milling ore, but will require smelter treatment. The surface of the claim carries quite an amount of free milling ore which has assayed formerly as high as $256 per ton.

Mr. Mehrmann is now endeavoring to interest capital in his property. Samples of the ore are on display in Denny & Osborn's office.

Mrs. J. O. Nabours returned Saturday from a visit to her son, Ben, and his wife at Baca ranch. She was met here by her husband and they went to their White Mountain home later this week.

A splendid program tonight at the Crystal.

SEEING LIFE with JOHN HENRY & George V. Hobart

My friend, Hep Hardy, presented me with a neat little gold hammer day before yesterday. Why, I don't know.

But now that I have it I might as well use it.

Every time I hop into one of those roomy, comfortable street cars in a city of the second, third or even fourth class I immediately contrast it with the wood boxes we use in New York, and I find myself growing red in the face and biting my nails.

Those Squeezer cars that prowl the streets of New York are surely the breathless limit, aren't they?

The Squeezer car is the best general imitation of a rough-house that has ever been invented.

They are called Squeezers because the conductor has to let the passengers out with a can opener.

Brave and strong men climb into a street car, and they are full of health and life and vigor, but a few blocks of the road they fall out backward and inquire feebly for a sanitarium.

To ride on a Broadway street car, for instance, about eight o'clock of an evening brings out all that is in a man, including a lot of loud words he didn't know he had.

The last census shows that the street car in the city of New York have more ways of producing nervous prostration and palpitation of the brain to the square inch than the combined population of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Tinkordam and Gotterdam-morning.

To get in some of the street cars about six o'clock is a problem, and to get out again is an assassination.

One evening recently I rode from Forty-second street to Fifty-ninth street without once touching the floor with my feet.

Some of the New York street cars lead a double life, because they are used all winter to act the part of refrigerators.

It is a cold day when we cannot find it colder in the street cars.

The germs in our street cars are extremely sociable and will follow a stranger all the way home.

Often while riding in the New York street cars I have felt a germ rubbing against my ankle like a kitten. Being a gentleman, at least superficially, I did not reach down and kick it away, because the law says we must not be disrespectful to dumb brutes.

Many of these street cars are built on the same general plan as a can of condensed milk.

When you get out you cannot get in, and when you get in you cannot get out, because you hate to disturb the strange gentleman that is using your knee to lean over.

Between the seats there is a space of two feet, but in that space you was the loud pedal on a piano and he started to play the "Blue Danube Waltzes."

That man was such a hard drinker that he gave me the gout just from standing on my feet.

Then I jumped off and swore off and swore at, and walked home.

If the man who invented the idea of standing up between seats in a Squeezer is alive he should have a monument.

My idea would be to catch him alive and place a monument on him, and have the conductor come around every ten minutes for his fare.

I've been up and down and over and across in the surface cars and my experience is ornamented by ripped trousers and discolored shins, but my intellect blows out a fuse every time I try to dope out the real way not to be an End-Seat Hog.

Last Monday I jumped at an early-bird open-face car and it seemed that all the world was filled with joy and good wishes.

I was smoking one of those Bad Boy cigars. I call it a Bad Boy cigar because as soon as it goes out it gets awful noisy.

The car was empty with the exception of a couple of benches.

Two blocks farther on the car stopped and a stout lady looked over the situation.

I think she must have been color blind, because she didn't see the empty seats and decided to cast her lot with me.

It was a terrific moment.

"John," I said to myself, "don't be a Hog—move over!"

And virtue triumphed.

I moved over, and the stout lady settled squashfully into the end seat.

Her displacement was about fifteen cents' worth of bench.

After we had gone about ten blocks more every seat in the car in front and behind us was crowded, but nobody could get in our section because the fat lady held them at bay like Horatius held the bridge in the brave days of old.

People would rush up to the car when it stopped, balance carelessly fore and aft until their eyes rested on the vacant seats in our direction, and then they would see the stout lady sitting there, as gracefully as a concrete Sphinx.

The people would look at the stout lady with no hope in their eyes, and then, with a sigh, they would retire and wait for the next car.

No one was brave enough to climb the mountain which grew up between him and the promised land.

After a while I began to get a tooth-ache in my conscience.

"John," I said to myself in a hoarse whisper, "perhaps after all you were

FOR BETTER ROADS

WEST VIRGINIA'S BAD ROADS

Farmers Lose Immense Sums Each Year Through Their Inability to Get Products to Market.

"Bad roads in West Virginia cost the state $50,000,000 a year," declared A. D. Williams of Morgantown, state road engineer, to a Washington Post representative the other day.

"I mean by this that at least that much money is wasted every year by reason of the inability of the farmers to get their products to market. Thousands of tons of apples and other fruit, garden truck and food supplies are allowed to rot in the orchards and gardens because the roads are too bad to haul to market. Just to illustrate, Joe Swope, editor of a county paper, noted that he was paying one dollar a bushel for apples. A neighbor in an adjoining county, sixteen miles away, wrote the editor and said he would over, me and I had a short but exciting visit to the slums.

Since that eventful day I have moved over thirty-six times, and out of the thirty-six people I gave the end seat to all but three of them belonged to the Muclilage family, and stayed there.

Therefore I made myself a severe promise not to worry any more about my Hog qualifications when movable or immovable on an openface car.

I will do as my conscience dictates, and walk downtown as much as possible.

And, speaking of street cars, I was in one of those cities recently where some of the cars stop on the near side of some of the streets and some stop on the far side of some of the streets.

Honestly, they had me in the air.

I left the hotel to attend to some business downtown and went over to the near side of the street to wait for a car.

When the car came along I held my thumb up in the atmosphere warningly, but the motorman kept on to the far side and stopped.

By the time I ran over to the far side he was gone again, and another car had stopped at the near side.

When I rushed back to the near side the car passed me going to the far side, and now the near side looked so much like the far side that I went back to the other side, which should have been the near side, but how could it be the near side when the car was on the far side, and I could not get near the side in time to catch the car before it was far away on the far side?

Just as I rushed back again to the far side the near side became the nearer side to catch the car, and when I rushed over again from the far side to the near side the nearer I got to the near side the clearer I could see that while the far side was far away it was nearer than the near side, which was always on the far side when I hoped to take a car on the near side.

Then I began to grit my teeth and made up my mind to anticipate the action of the next car by standing half way between the near side and the far side, so that I could run to either side, the emergency called for.

I was standing there about a minute, much pleased with the idea, because the near side was about as far away as the far side, when just then an automobile sneaked up behind me and one of the forward turrets struck me on my personal far side and hoisted me over to the near side just as a car left for the far side.

I reached out my hand to grasp the far side step, but I missed it and caught the near side, and by this time the car was on the far side and the motorman grabbed the near side of the electric controller and pushed it over to the far side, whereupon the car started for El Paso, Tex., at a speed of about 3,000 miles a minute, and there I was with the near side of four fingers holding on to the far side of the step and the rest of my body sticking straight out in space like a pair of trousers on a clothesline in a gale of wind.

Then suddenly the near side of my fingers refused to hold on to the far side of the step, and with the near side of my face I struck the far side of the tracks, and the near side of my brain saw every individual star on the far side of the Universe.

Then I went back to the hotel and crawled into the far side of the bed while friend wife sent for a near-side doctor who lived on the far side of the block.

give the newspaper man all the apples he wanted if he would haul them away.

"The building of good roads is a tremendous economical problem, not merely one of convenience. The automobile undoubtedly has been largely instrumental in bringing about the good roads movement, or rather in giving impetus to it. That and the high cost of living are principal factors in the general campaign now going on in many states for good roads.

West Virginia this year will spend $5,000,000 in improving her highways, the different counties having voted bonds to that amount, and in the whole United States the amount spent for good roads this year will probably reach $250,000,000. Last year we spent about $200,000,000, and the increase this year will be fully 20 per cent, I believe."

More Drags Needed. The splitlog drag has contributed more toward the economic maintenance of public highways than any implement of modern usage. It does not require special acts of the legislature, bond issues nor expensive educational campaigns to make it available as usually precedes construction work. A drag can be built or purchased for $20 and is easily operated by anyone who can drive a team. We need more drags.

Tar-Macadam Road. The tar-macadam road has given the best service of any form of street surfacing tried in Calcutta.

Two Good Schemes. There are two schemes which may be used to advantage on the roads. The first is to grade with a traction engine, the second to let the grading by contract.

No Permanent Development. Without good roads, there can be no development that will be permanent and enduring.

Place for Tractor. The tractor is finding a great place in road building.

The General Says:

Know why and know how are essential to any success. Every one of us has to acknowledge that the same sort of military preparedness that fits a nation for its defense is the most effective principle in making an industry of any kind accessible and profitable both to manufacturer and consumer.

This Great Roofing Organization Is Trained Like an Army

Three enormous mills—offered and manned by the best trained force ever enlisted in an industrial army—three huge factories that are run like clockwork.

Military exactness in the securing and selection of raw material, and in every step from then on until the finished product is distributed and sold.

Constant readiness—being prepared every minute for the work to be done the next—Right there you have your finger on the great, essential reasons for the unflinching satisfaction every user finds in

Certain-teed

ROOFING

This roofing certainly has no superior. It is the best roofing that can possibly be made and it is manufactured in and guaranteed by the largest Roofing and Building Paper Mills in the World. 1-ply is guaranteed 5 years; 2-ply, 10 years, and 3-ply, 15 years, and this guarantee means the minimum life of the roofing. Thousands of Certain-teed Roofs all over the country are outliving the period of the guarantee.

When the General first entered the field the cost of roofing was two or three times more than it is today and the quality was not as high as Certain-teed is today. By reason of his enormous output the General has not only been able to bring down the cost and selling price of roofing, but he has also been able to raise the quality to its maximum. Today every fifth roll of roofing sold bears the Certain-teed label.

These shingles are made of the same high-grade materials as are used in Certain-teed Roofing. This process recognizes the principle that roofing materials don't wear out—they dry out. Therefore, Certain-teed Roofing is made with a soft center asphalt and coated with a harder blend of asphalt, which keeps the soft saturation within—the life of the roofing—from drying out quickly. This produces a flexible shingle, a true sign of thorough saturation in the slowest drying asphalt mixtures that can be made for roofing purposes. A thick, stiff or heavy-bodied asphalt shingle is by no means a proof of durability on the roof.

We use only genuine crushed slate in natural green or red colors for surfacing the Certain-teed Shingle. No painting is necessary. We don't try to use old brick, common rock, or crushed tile from old tile roofs. The slate also increases the fire-resisting qualities, thereby minimizing fire dangers and lowering insurance rates.

Certain-teed roofing, shingles, wall boards, fells, building papers, etc., bearing the General's name, are sold by your local lumber or hardware dealer at very reasonable prices. Don't send your money away for these goods. Patronize your home dealer.

WANTED TO GET IT RIGHT

Walter Was Up Against an Order Which Was Decidedly a New One to Him.

Once a short little woman and her tall husband went to a cafe of the cheaper sort for dinner.

"Will you have oysters?" asked the husband, glancing over the bill of fare.

"Yes," said the little woman, as she tried in vain to touch her feet to the floor, "and, Henry, I want a hassock."

Henry nodded, and as he handed his order to the waiter, said: "Yes, and bring the lady a hassock."

"One hassock?" asked the waiter, with what Henry thought more than ordinary interest, as he nodded in the affirmative. Still the waiter did not go, but brushed the tablecloth with a towel and rearranged the articles on it several times, while his face got very red.

Then he came around to the husband's side, and, speaking in a whisper, said: "Say, mister, I haven't been here long, and I'm not on to all these things. Will the lady have the hassock broiled or fried?"

Under ordinary circumstances four into two won't go, but the Squeezer cars defy the laws of gravitation.

A Squeezer conductor can put twenty-six into nine, and still have four to carry.

For a man with a small dining room the Squeezer car has its advantage, but when a stout man rides in them he finds himself supporting a lot of strangers he never met before.

One morning I jumped on one of those Squeezers feeling just like a two-year old, full of health and happiness.

During the first seven blocks three men, fresh from a distillery, grew up in front of me and removed the scenery.

One of them had to get out in a hurry, so he kicked me on the shins to show how sorry he was to leave me.

One of the other two must have been in the distillery a long time, because pretty soon he neglected to use his memory and sat down in my lap.

When I remonstrated with him, he replied that this is a free country, and if he wished to sit down I had no business to stop him.

the Hog because you moved over. After the lady had climbed over you she would have kept on to the other end of the bench where now there is nothing but a sultry space."

I began to insult myself.

"John," I exclaimed inwardly, "what do you know about the etiquette of the street car? According to the newspapers it is only a Man who can be a Hog on the street cars, and since you are the original cause of blocking the port when you moved over, you must be the Hog!"

Then I got so mad at myself that I refused to talk to myself any further.

The next day I was riding downtown on the end seat with my mind made up to stay there and keep the harbor open for commerce.

"Never," I said to myself, "never will anyone become a human Merrimac to bottle up the seating capacity of this particular bench while the blood flows through these veins and the flag of freedom waves above me."

At the next corner a very thin little gentleman squeezed by me with a look of reproach on his face, the like of which I hope never to see again, but I was Charles J. Glue and firm in the end seat.

Then a couple of Italy's sunny sons of the name of Microbe and Germicide crawled over me and kicked their initials on my kneecap and then sat down to enjoy a smoke of domestic rope, which fell across my nostrils and remained there in bitterness.

After I had been stepped on, sat on, clawed at and scowled at for

Be Warned in Time

Do you have backache? Are you tired and worn out? Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed? Are the kidney secretions irregular? Highly colored; contain sediment? Likely your kidneys are at fault. Weak kidneys give warning of distress. Heed the warning; don't delay—Use a tested kidney remedy. None so well-recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. None so universally successful.

A Colorado Case

Mrs. Alvira Day, 27 R. Second St., Montrose, Colo., writes: "I suffered from pain in my back and there was swelling over my kidneys, especially in the morning, when I first got up. I had a very bad attack and my kidneys were weak. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened them and I have never had any more trouble. My kidneys are now as good as new."

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Don't Persecute Your Bowels

Get out cathartics and purgatives. They are brutal, harsh, unnecessary. Try CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Purely vegetable. Act gently on the liver, stimulate bile, and soothe the delicate membrane of the bowels. Castorol, Cascarella, Senna, etc., are not in them. Safe and indisputed, as millions know.

SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

Partine

A Soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed. For Douche.

In the local treatment of women's ills, such as leucorrhoea and inflammation, hot-douches of Partine are very efficacious. No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthy condition Partine produces and the prompt relief from soreness and discomfort which follows its use. This is because Partine has superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties.

For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Partine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been relieved say it is "worth the weight in gold." At drug stores.

Large box or by mail. Sample free. The Faxon Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

Eight Bands, Horse Races, Rifle Matches, Encampment of Boys and Girls—State Fair Whale of Show

The big amusement features of the next state fair will surpass in magnitude and excellence anything that has ever been known in this section of the country. While the fair is based primarily on the development of the resources of every county in the state, the management has not lost sight of the fact that the people want to be entertained, and there will not be a dull moment for visitors from early Monday morning until the lights are put out Saturday night.

In the first place, there will be eight bands, all of them of high caliber and several of them of national reputation. What it means to have the bands playing all the time—what a spirit of enthusiasm and merriment it puts into the minds and hearts of the crowd, only those who have experienced the sensation can appreciate. But the bands will not be the only or greatest of the pleasures of the fair. The shows at the grounds, and especially the night shows, will hold the rapt attention of the thousands of visitors to the fair and beyond all doubt will be the greatest drawing card ever presented to the New Mexico public.

No better horse racing has ever been seen in the west than that which will take place on the track at Traction park. So great was the interest shown in the race program among the big horsemen at the Colorado fair that the first thing Secretary Wiley found it necessary to do, on his return from Pueblo after visiting that fair was to increase the stable facilities originally provided, which were larger than any that had been deemed necessary at any previous fair. At night an elaborate fireworks display will be shown; there will be sword dancing, an illuminated horse show, interpretations of modern dancing, an illuminated balloon ascension and parachute drop, the big midway attractions, a society vaudeville and all the other sensations that go to give real thrills to a pleasure-loving crowd.

Interest in marksmanship has been given a decided impetus by the announcement that a state shoot will be held in Albuquerque during the fair, during which prizes will be given for individuals, club and team championship competitions. There are nineteen rifle clubs in New Mexico, including in their membership some of the best shots in the United States, and it is the intention at the time of holding this shoot to form a state organization of rifle clubs that will give matches at stated times at different points in the state. All who are interested in rifle shooting should write to H. C. Miller, box 650, Albuquerque, who is the secretary in charge of the shoot.

The boys' and girls' club, under the direction of J. H. Toulouse, has assumed such proportions that it was found necessary to call Mr. Toulouse in from his canvassing trip, as there was danger that a larger crowd would be present than it would be possible to accommodate. There will be at least two hundred boys and girls at this encampment, representing nearly every county in the state. Lectures will be given them by members of the faculty of the agricultural college and by a representative of the United States department of agriculture and everything possible will be done for their instruction and entertainment while they are in Albuquerque.

We handle Flour, Feed and Stock Salt. Just received a car of fine Alfalfa and Oat Hay. And we are always pleased to quote prices. Humphrey Bros.

Two shows at the Crystal theater each evening of Field Days. First show at 7, second at 8.

State Fair Visitors Should Visit University.

President David R. Boyd, of the State University, has asked the newspapers to publish a general invitation to New Mexico people who visit the coming state fair to visit the university and become better acquainted with its work. Dr. Boyd believes that the large increase in attendance at the university this year, an increase of nearly one hundred per cent, is due largely to a better knowledge among the people of the state of the work the university is doing and the advantages it offers. He is anxious to further extend that knowledge and believes the state fair offers an excellent opportunity.

The university will maintain an exhibit in the state fair grounds, that will consist chiefly of a fest room, where fair visitors may take breath or address a post card, and where student and faculty committees will be in attendance during the day. At the exhibit parties to visit the university under the personal conduct of faculty members will be arranged to suit the convenience of visitors. The excellent jitney service now maintained to and from the university will make the trip a pleasant and interesting interval between fair sight-seeing and amusements.

State Tax Commission Completes Its Labors

The state tax commission was in session at Santa Fe from August 26 to September 19, not only in daily session during this period, but also for many nights, in wrestling over the tax problem. From George L. Clrick, a member of the commission, we have secured some information concerning tax matters and their relations of the commission thereto.

The total state expenses will be, in round numbers, $914,000. The law limits the levy to 3 mills for general state purposes. One-third of one mill has been utilized by the state road commission, so that one-ninth of the general purpose levy has gone and yet the $914,000 remains to be provided for. Therefore, the commission is in reality restricted to a levy of 2 2/3 mills.

The total amount on all the tax rolls when the commission convened last month was $283,000,000. Something like a $20,000,000 raise was made on various classes of property. So that the total valuation for the state is $303,000,000. On this valuation a levy of 2 2/3 mills will produce $727,200, but, figuring on a 90 per cent collection reduces the sum to $654,480.

A part of this shortage the commission figures may be made up from special levies, such as the mine tax, interest and sinking fund, commissions, interests, etc., amounting to $135,000. Therefore, the maximum, counting upon a 90 per cent collection of taxes, which is a higher percentage, by the way, than many counties collect, and all other sources of revenue, we shall have a total of $789,480, or $21,500 less than is required for state purposes. This deficit will have to be taken care of when the legislature convenes.

There was only one blanket raise made by the commission, that effects Lincoln county, and that was 10 per cent on furniture. A raise of 15 cents per head was made on sheep throughout the state. Cattle were given a 10 per cent raise, except in Lincoln and two other counties. Property that had been omitted by the assessors was placed on the rolls and with the raises total, as has been said, about $20,000,000, giving a total valuation of $303,000,000.

Asked to Prepare Outline for Manual

We have a pardonable pride in the advancement our school is making and the enviable record that Superintendent McCurdy has achieved among the educators of the state. As a result of Professor McCurdy's work in the New Mexico State Manual last summer, he has been requested by the chairman of the committee on the preparation of the Institute Manual to furnish the algebra outline.

Professor McCurdy received the following request from Chairman Enloe, which is highly complimentary:

"As you may know, I am the chairman of the committee to make the Institute Manual, and I am going to ask you to furnish us an outline in algebra. Your work here last summer was very satisfactory in this line and I believe you are very competent to do this work and give us a good outline on this subject. Please write by return mail if you will prepare this work, as I am to have this book ready by the first of January."

Department of the Interior
United States Land Office
Roswell, New Mexico

September 23, 1915.

To Samuel C. Chapman, of Carrizozo, N. M., Contestant:
You are hereby notified that Truman A. Spencer, who gives Carrizozo, New Mexico, as his post office address, did on September 23, 1915, file in this office his duly corroborated application to contest and secure the cancellation of your Homestead, Serial No. 01629, made February 4, 1909, for NE 1/4 Sec. 14, Township 8 N., Range 10 E., N. M. P. Meridian, and as grounds for his contest he alleges that said Samuel C. Chapman has for the two years last past wholly abandoned the said land and has failed to live on same or cultivate or improve the same in any manner.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegations will be taken as confessed, and your said entry will be cancelled without further right to be heard, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the FOURTH publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer, under oath, specifically responding to these allegations of contest, together with due proof that you served a copy of your answer on the said contestant either in person or by registered mail.

You should state in your answer the name of the post-office to which you desire future notices to be sent to you.

SOME HINTS FOR BUILDERS

Great Care Should Be Taken in Selection of the Most Substantial Roofing Material.

If you were without preparation or plan, rudely placed in a wilderness, your first thought would be of food supply and your next of shelter...

Only in recent years has the handling of cement in building work been understood properly, and progress is still constantly being made with it.

One of the most significant developments of recent years is the crushed slate surfaced asphalt shingle which is, on new construction and old, rapidly supplanting the wooden article.

The purchaser, however, should guard himself against buying a slate surfaced shingle that is not guaranteed by a reliable and responsible manufacturer.

Naturally indignant, Lige, an old dorky, was suing his wife for a divorce, and stated in his allegations that his wife had run off with another negro and that she refused to return and live with him.

A party meeting up with Lige remarked: "Lige, I understand that you are suing your wife for divorce?"

"Yes, sir, boss; I done gone and sued her."

"Well, Lige, upon what grounds are you bringing your suit?"

"Boss, it's jist like dis: She bin run'd off wid 'nudder nigger 'bout fo' years and I jist made up my mind to quit her."

He Understood. "My husband has deserted me and I want a warrant," announced the large lady.

"What reason did he give for deserting you?" asked the prosecutor.

"I don't want any lip from you. I want a warrant. I don't know what reason he had."

"I think I understand his reason," said the official feebly, as he proceeded to draw up a warrant.

Be happy. Use Red Cross Bag Blues much better than liquid blue. Delights the laundress. All grocers. Adv.

The old taper frequently gets away with more than he can carry.

What does it avail a woman to have troubles if she can't tell them?

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved. Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicine."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, Kennebago, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Children Who Insist on Being Real Americans

WASHINGTON.—While the new "Americanization day" idea, for instilling the spirit and ideals of the United States into naturalized citizens, will undoubtedly appeal to many in Washington, a large number of the foreign-born of the city are already devoting much time and thought to becoming real Americans.

The foreign-born children are "all Americans," despite their foreign origin. It is doubtful if the much-discussed hyphen will ever be attached to them.

An incident which recently happened when a teacher of a kindergarten had her pupils out for a walk and, pointing to a bright-appearing boy near the teacher, asked his nationality.

"He is Russian," replied the teacher. "No, I am not," quickly retorted the five-year-old; "I am American."

"I did not mean you were Russian," explained the teacher. "I meant that your mother and father are Russians."

"No, they are not, either. They are Americans, too," came back the answer, quickly.

United States' Crusade Against Weight Frauds

AMERICAN consumers of print butter are paying more than $5,000,000 each year for butter they do not get. This is because the weights of the commodity they actually receive are supposed to be buying.

It is because of the conditions of affairs of which these things are only samples that the division of weights and measures of the bureau of standards has directed many of its activities in recent years toward securing the enactment of better weights and measure laws by the federal government and the several states, and toward bringing about stricter enforcement of existing laws.

Training Good Cooks for Uncle Sam's Soldiers

OF late years—since 1906—the United States army has been no longer a mass of men who simply got food. They are now scientifically fed by men who have studied the subject, and in a practical way by presiding over ovens and stoves in schools.

The barracks kitchen is used for the preparation of most of the food, but there is also outside a "field kitchen," in which the cooking is virtually done in the open.

Experiments at the Government's Chicken Farm

THERE'S a sixty-acre poultry farm thirty minutes' ride from Washington, light upon at least one of the many problems which arise constantly to amateur or professional.

Whenever a local breeder of feathered stock is puzzled by a question of feeding, breeding or housing; whenever he is uncertain as to what strain of chickens had better be specialized upon to meet his particular need; whenever he would like to know how an expert would go about handling fowls with nothing more than the equipment expected of an ordinary, privately owned farm, it will pay him to look over this particular establishment.

Daylight Saving in Canada. Considerable attention is being given throughout Canada to a so-called daylight-saving scheme. The movement in Halifax is in accord with an effort all over the Dominion to have the clock put back one hour on April 1 each year, continuing to some autumn month, in order to give more daylight for work and pleasure.

Ink Eradicator. A very good way to remove ink stains from cloth is to wash them with boiled rice. Rub the rice on the stain as you would soap, and wash with clear water.

To Keep Pies From Burning. To prevent cakes, pies and other pastry from burning on the bottom, sprinkle the bottom of the oven with fine, dry salt, and your cake or pies will bake perfectly.

Oil Cloth Table Mats. Oil cloth table mats for the children will save many soiled table cloths. They can be made by taking either a square or an oblong of white linen, drawing threads and hemstitching all around. Sew on a back, making the finished article look very much like a pillow cover with one end open for the pillow.

Dried Bread Crumbs. Dried bread crumbs absorb more liquid and, therefore, are better for a moist dish, but crumbs grated or crumbled from a fresh loaf take a lighter, more delicate color, and are better, therefore, for a very dainty dish.

Children Who Insist on Being Real Americans (continued). The foreign-born children are "all Americans," despite their foreign origin. It is doubtful if the much-discussed hyphen will ever be attached to them.

KEEPING BABY WELL

MATTERS OF GREATEST INTEREST TO EVERY MOTHER.

Care of Infant in City Much Greater Than in Smaller Places—Welfare Societies Have Done Excellent Work.

(Prepared by the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.)

There is no doubt that the problems which arise in taking care of a baby in summer are more difficult for the city mother than for the one who lives in a village or in the country.

Overcrowded houses, lack of fresh air, of sunshine, and of open spaces for play and out-of-door life make very hard conditions under which to try to rear healthy children.

During the summer months in most of the larger cities there is an enormous increase in the number of sick babies, many of whom fail to survive this period.

The object of these welfare stations is to keep the babies well, and to prevent illness by watching the babies closely and by teaching the mothers how to take care of them.

These stations are sometimes maintained by the city and sometimes by a private society. The mother can find out the location of the station nearest her home from the papers, or by inquiring of the health officer.

The baby is weighed at each visit, and examined to see if he needs any special care. If so, the doctor explains this to the mother. The baby should be brought back to the station at regular intervals in order that the doctor and nurse can watch him.

After the baby is born and the mother is up again, she may, if she chooses, send word to the station nurse, who will come to see her, now and then, until the mother is able to take the baby to the station again.

Mothers who are ill or worn out with the burdens of home, may find in a visit with the baby to such a station unexpected help in their problems. Some effort is made to teach mothers the rudiments of domestic science in the home, when this is needed.

Mothers especially who go out to work by the day, should try to send the baby to the station by a caretaker, for such babies need the welfare station's help even more than others.

If some member of the family is sick other than the baby and the baby is registered at the station, the nurses and doctors there will usually be able to advise her where and how to seek assistance.

These infant welfare stations are intended for the use of all mothers in the neighborhood who need help in the care of their babies, and no one needing it, should fail to avail herself of this opportunity.

Oil Cloth Table Mats. Oil cloth table mats for the children will save many soiled table cloths. They can be made by taking either a square or an oblong of white linen, drawing threads and hemstitching all around.

Dried Bread Crumbs. Dried bread crumbs absorb more liquid and, therefore, are better for a moist dish, but crumbs grated or crumbled from a fresh loaf take a lighter, more delicate color, and are better, therefore, for a very dainty dish.

To Keep Pies From Burning. To prevent cakes, pies and other pastry from burning on the bottom, sprinkle the bottom of the oven with fine, dry salt, and your cake or pies will bake perfectly.

TOOK MUCH FOR GRANTED Colored Porter May Have Been in Error as to Just What He Was Wanted to Hear.

Bert Winter, formerly in the law office of Gov. Samuel M. Ralston of Lebanon before Mr. Ralston became governor and now a deputy examiner of the state board of accounts and president of the Boone County Back Home club at the statehouse, has just returned from a trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition and intermediate points, part of which he traversed as a member of the governor's party.

Out in the wilds of the Rocky mountains Bert said he wished his shoes shined and he called to the porter on the parlor car.

"Come here, George; I want to converse with you."

"I'll hear your conversion," replied the amiable George, as he hurried to the smoking compartment.—Indianapolis News.

Safety First. "The cook left today. I'll have to make the dinner myself."

"Don't do it, dear. Let's go to a restaurant. It's cheaper than paying a doctor's bill."

It is always easier to blame the man who gives us advice than to blame our own judgment for acting upon it.

Did He Put His Foot in It? An English soldier, a member of the Second South Staffordshire regiment, says that one bitterly cold night in early spring he and his mates came out of the trenches. They were billeted in a barn, where they were packed in very close.

"Though numb with cold, we were soon asleep," said the soldier, in telling the incident. "I was awakened in the night by one of my chaps trying to put his boots on. After he had been trying for a minute or two I heard the fellow next to him say:

"What the — are you doing?" "Putting my boots on," was the reply.

"Well, that's my foot, you fool!"

The Big Barnes Circus Is Coming

Six-hundred educated animals! Program of instructive, laughing, amazing, thrilling acts, all done by animals.

The Al. G. Barnes big 3-ring wild animal circus will exhibit in Carrizozo on Friday, October 22, giving performances at 2 and 8 p.m.

Much can be claimed for the originality and genuine merit of this big circus. There is all the pomp and splendor of the circuses we have known in the past. All the glittering tinsel, sawdust rings, inspiring music and grand entrance of stately horses, ponies, elephants, performers and clowns. Peanut and pink lemonade vendors cry their wares and add to the general good spirit; yet, when the performance starts, one instantly recognizes a wide departure from the conventional, stereotyped routine which has prevailed since the earliest days of tented entertainment.

Instead of the usual, one sees the very unusual in the Barnes' program. The principal acts are done by educated wild and domestic animals in two rings and a big steel-barred arena. These animal actors number 600 and are trained to an amazing degree of proficiency. Such vim and dash do they put into their work that not a dull moment is experienced from the grand cavalcade entry until the final group of man-eating lions are driven to their cages.

There are acrobats, jugglers, aerial performers, high-divers, bare back riders and all other forms of circus entertainment, but, instead of people appearing in the acts, wild and domestic animals take their places. Lions, leopards, pumas and bears ride galloping horses; sea lions juggle balls and other articles, dogs and monkeys jump from the top of the tent into nets; elephants act as clowns and do many other comical things; high school horses and beautiful ponies appear in brilliant dances and military drills, in fact almost every species of animal is shown as an actor.

Twenty-four man-eating African lions are introduced in one act, the most sensational wild animal act ever shown. Sixty tigers, leopards, pumas, jaguars and bears are presented by a coterie of young women trainers.

A great array of clean, clever comedy permeates the entire program provided by fifty comedy elephants, dogs, pigs, goats, monkeys, ponies, zebus and Danger, Dynamite—mules.

A glittering, mile-long street parade in which six bands take part is presented to the public at 10:30.
