We had quite an episode in our village last evening. A gentleman got off the west bound limited, a circumstance rather unusual. He headed at once for the residence of Mrs. Deel. The few, or some of the few, suspected the cause of the gentleman's appearance, when he and Mrs. Deel started to the county seat in Mrs. Deel's auto, making their return a little before 5 p. m. Supper was announced as being ready but on reaching the door we were requested to wait a moment when Mrs. Deel slipped in and around the gentleman, who had handed the writer a paper that was self-explanatory. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Duncan much joy and a prosperous future.

We are now in the midst of sheep shipping. Something near 40,000 have been shipped already and there are more to follow.

Sweetest Girl in Dixie

George Atterberg's famous production, which will exhibit in Carrizozo, N. M., under canvas, one night only, Wednesday, November 15, comes about as near pleasing all classes of people as any one show could. There has never been any adverse criticism from the press, pulpit, or the public, and in speaking of the show the Atchison (Kansas) Champion says in part: "It was all that was promised and even more. There have been a number of dollar shows here that did not please as did this one. Not one member of the company can be harshly criticised. The piece is a good, wholesome story of the South. There is a negro mammy and negro servant who are true characters of good old slavery days."

Mr. Atterberg carries a cracking good band and orchestra and a free hand concert will be given in front of the post-office at 12 o'clock on the day of the show, and another at the tent at 7:30.

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give

GREAT MAJESTIC RANGES

"The Range With a Reputation"

FOR ONE WEEK ONLY Commencing Nov. 13th

This $8.00 set of Granite and Copper Ware FREE

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, we will give with every Majestic sold, one handsome set of kitchen ware as illustrated. Every piece is the finest of its kind and the entire set cannot be purchased for less than $8.00. The price of the Majestic remains the same as always and the quality of the stove is the same. This kitchen ware is an out and out present. See it at our store.

EVERYBODY WELCOME

Even though you do not want to buy a new range right now, it will be worth your while to attend this demonstration and know all about the Majestic Range. You are placed under no obligation to buy.

During this week we will have a special demonstrator from the Majestic Factory to explain how the Majestic is made and why it is absolutely the best range; why it lasts longer and cuts down repair expenses; why it bakes bread evenly, top, sides and bottom without turning; why it uses so little fuel and saves food waste. He will explain its labor saving construction and why it heats an abundance of water good and hot—a mighty convenient and useful thing to have a big supply of hot water always on hand, isn't it. To buy a range by mail is almost certain to end in disappointment and loss of money. It may be "exactly as represented" yet not be what you thought it was, nor what you wanted. Here you can see every part of the Majestic—you can know what you are getting before you buy. Decide now that you will discontinue using that old, worn-out range. You will save money in fuel, repairs and cooking. Buy a Majestic the range with 25 years reputation. The demonstrator will answer any question relating to stoves.

KELLEY & SON

The IRON CLAW by ARTHUR STRINGER

AUTHOR OF "THE OCCASIONAL OFFENDER," "THE WIRE TAPPERS," "GUN RUNNERS," ETC. NOVELIZED FROM THE PATHE PHOTO PLAY OF THE SAME NAME

SYNOPSIS

On Windward Island, Pallidori intrigues Mrs. Golden into possession of evidence of evil which causes Golden to capture and torture the Italian by branding his face and crushing his hand... Mrs. Golden's daughter, Margery, twelve years later in New York is marked (one recovers Margery from Legar and takes her to her father's home...)

FOURTEENTH EPISODE

The Plunge for Life.

A strange mood of happiness, an unreasoning as it was inexplicable, seemed to have taken possession of Margery Golden. A less timid light shone from the depths of her pool-brown eyes. At all times of the day, too, she could be heard singing about the house... This wayward blitheness of spirit was something more than a puzzle to her heavy-browed father, who found little in the situation immediately confronting him to cause him any undue lightness of heart... After all Jules Legar's campaign for the possession of that pregnant scrap of parchment which carried the key to the secret of the lost treasure of Windward Island, the long-fought-for document had suddenly disappeared from the Golden vault...)

Crossed to the Cliff Edge.

he's as big a crook as this Iron Claw himself. For honest men don't crawl into river caves! Golden was about to reply in the affirmative to this self-obvious statement, when he was interrupted by the entrance of his daughter... 'But suppose our fugitive,' said the brown-eyed girl as she smiled down on the somewhat startled police captain, 'had enemies who seemed at the moment stronger than he was and at the same time found himself in possession of something which it was essential that he should guard? Wouldn't it seem natural for him to go where he'd be least likely to be found?'...)

goes to the police for protection. When a crook has made a haul, and is shaky about losing his swag, he beats it to his Malina, to his fence, the same as your friend the Laughing Mask has done... 'I'm ready,' announced Enoch Golden... With a gasp of sudden resolution Margery rang the bell, called for her roadster, and struggled into her hat and coat, as she ran down the sandstone steps to the street... She sped off through the city at a rate that was an open and obvious violation of all the speed laws...)

She went on, from that moment, crowding every inch of speed out of her car, exulting in the fact of its power, ignoring the shouts of onlookers as she swept up through Coleman's village, took the turn in a smother of dust, and brought the steaming roadster up sharp against a cedar hedge... From a crevice in the broken rock-face below her a figure wearing a yellow mask looked cautiously out and waved up to her with an equally cautious signal...)

mental problem that engrossed her preoccupied her attention to the exclusion of everything else. Then a voice behind her spoke: 'Can you see any of them?' Margery turned to the man in the yellow mask, who stood close behind her... 'No,' said Margery, in answer to his question. 'We have a few minutes' grace. Do you think it surely the wisest thing to do; do you think it necessary beyond all doubt that I go away with you? I know you must realize what that must mean to me—I cannot but think of father!'

They're coming," the Laughing Mask whispered to Margery Golden, as he drew her closer in beside the rocky wall of the tunnel. Then, using the up-ended table as a screen, he advanced with her toward the cave mouth, slowly, silent, foot by foot... They were within six feet of the opening when Legar turned about to give a word or two of command to his followers...)

An involuntary gasp of consternation burst from that startled group of gangsters as they stood watching the clasped figures hurtle through the air, strike the surface of the water clean, and go down into its blue depths... 'Don't answer it!' warned the girl. 'But Wilson or another of the servants will surely come to answer it, explained the Laughing Mask as he moved toward the only door that he had not locked on entering the library...') crossed the room to the vault and swung to the heavy safe door... With an oddly birdlike movement of the head the girl stopped and stared intently at his figure, clearly outlined against the dark folds of the portieres behind him... But Legar fought, backed close against the rock, with the ferocity of a wildcat holding on every attack and with his falling iron claw sweeping back every assailant...)

An Involuntary Gasps of Consternation Burst From Them.

Blamming the room door shut upon Wilson and the footman, Legar, his look of triumph gone from his features, stared frantically around the room. He dashed to a Perugian panel screen of ancient design, its panels fashioned in sixteenth century tapestry, and crouched behind it, his revolver still in his hand... 'Margery! My daughter shut up in the vault, you say, Wilson?' cried her father... 'Yes, sir, shut up in there with the man in the yellow mask, the man as these officers, sir, have been looking for!'

The clicking levers were beginning to work more rapidly. In another moment the great vault door would swing open—to what? 'Quick, Margery,' he whispered, 'what I have just given you is what I have called the octopus bomb. It will save us, if the need should be dire, if there should be no other manner of escape...'

As the man in the mask finished the rapidly spoken words the door of the vault swung outward, Margery stepped forward... The detectives, with whom the room swarmed, paid no heed to Margery. Their quarry emerged from the gloom of the vault a moment after her. He glanced about—from revolver muzzle to revolver muzzle, all leveled at him, Margery glanced back at the Laughing Mask as he stood thus, facing this desperate dénouement...)

Legar had flashed across the room like a missile from a catapult. Three of the detectives were knocked from their feet. The others gaped at the shattered window... 'Inside the Golden library, the detective who had tried to disclose the identity of the Laughing Mask was again intent upon solving this mystery. That is why he had remained behind...')

He slipped his revolver from his coat pocket and ran through the car. With a bound he was upon the front platform and slipped the catch of the door behind him... 'Start the car—now!' cried the Laughing Mask... Instead, the motorman lifted the controller handle from the box and would have struck the Laughing Mask's revolver hand, but the latter stepped back and thrust the motorman off the platform with a terrific shove of his foot...)

Legar had flashed across the room like a missile from a catapult. Three of the detectives were knocked from their feet. The others gaped at the shattered window. The captain was the first to recover his wits... 'The Laughing Mask looked straight into the beady eyes before him and he saw that their gaze was not of the sort that is open to argument or persuasion...')

'Drive on over the end of the bridge,' commanded Golden, 'and let us go down below.' The searchers went down the declivity to the water side and there lay the wrecked trolley car, smashed to splinters... 'We have hunted all along the shore,' reported one of the detectives to the captain, 'but there is no sign of the Laughing Mask's body...') he could read it and then, with his claw, he tore the paper to shreds... The Laughing Mask, too, had beat the detectives. He ran with all the fleetness of foot that his athletic build and slim strength could muster, but beyond the Golden grounds and down the nearest street to the trolley line...)

Leaped to the Sill.

As the man in the mask finished the rapidly spoken words the door of the vault swung outward, Margery stepped forward... The detectives, with whom the room swarmed, paid no heed to Margery... 'One moment, if you please, gentlemen. There is no need for this. My mask stays where it is. As for the crimes which you seem to think are matter for these revolvers—I believe this confession of the Iron Claw accounts for the chief of them and, therefore, for the rest...')

YOUNG WOMEN MAY AVOID PAIN

Need Only Trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, says Mrs. Kurtzweg.

Buffalo, N.Y. My daughter, whose picture is herewith, was much troubled with pains in her back and sides every month and they would sometimes be so bad that it would seem like acute inflammation of some organ.

She read your advertisement in the newspapers and tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She praised it highly as she has been relieved of all these pains by its use. All mothers should know of this remedy, and all young girls who suffer should try it.

Young women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.

If you know of any young woman who is sick and needs help, ask her to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Only women will receive her letter, and it will be held in strictest confidence.

NEWS and GOSSIP OF WASHINGTON

Army Ordnance Experts Find Deadliest War Bomb

WASHINGTON.—Army ordnance experts after many experiments with about a score of aerial bombs, it is reported, have found a bomb of high explosive power, combined with the use of deadly gases, the invention of an American, which is said to excel in destructiveness any similar weapon known here or in Europe.

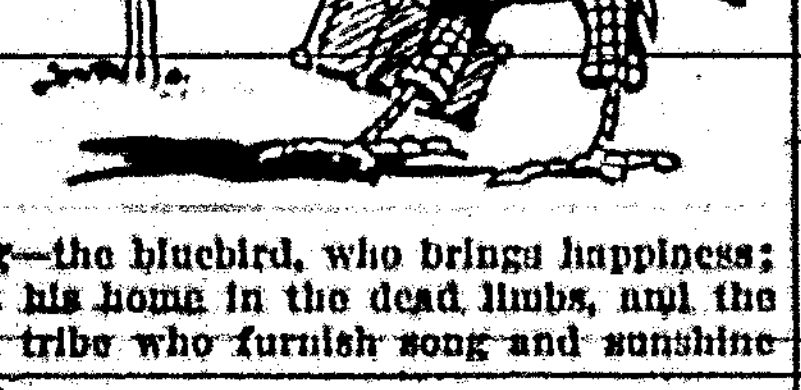

The Barlow bomb is six feet in length and approximately five inches in diameter, shaped like a torpedo. In addition to an explosive charge of T. N. T., it contains a gas chamber in which a new and secret combination of gas is used.

One of the chief features of the bomb in which it differs radically from bombs which depend for bursting force on contact with the earth or other object, is that it may be exploded in the air with full power.

Feathered Summer Residents of Capital Leaving

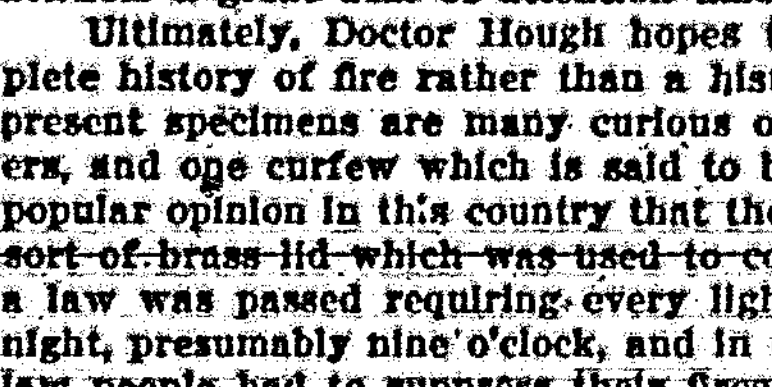

Not everyone in Washington has noticed it, but ever since the first chilly night they have been quietly slipping away, and already many thousands of Washington's summer residents have left.

It is the common observation of persons who are interested in birds, and even the observation of many other persons who have no particular interest in the subject, that the bird-protection laws of the federal government and of the various states are producing the results which are the aim of these laws.

Lineage of the Lamp Shown in Museum Collection

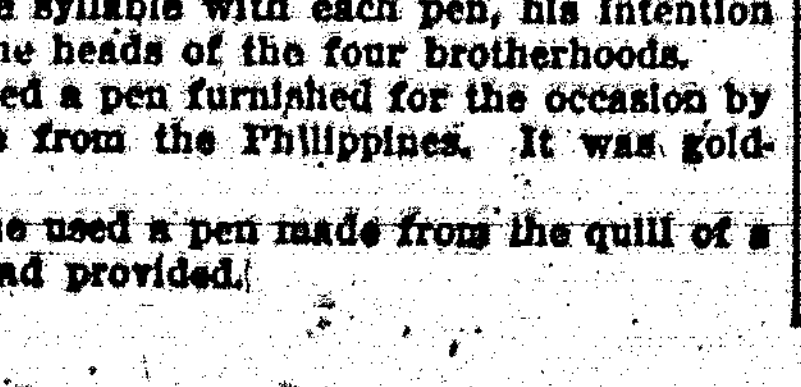

A COLLECTION of all the various illuminating devices used throughout the history of the world is now being prepared by Dr. Walter Hough of the National museum here, and will be placed on exhibition as soon as space can be found for it.

Ultimately, Doctor Hough hopes to broaden the collection into a complete history of fire rather than a history of illuminating alone.

President Must Be Able to Use Any Kind of Pen

SOME men prefer soft pens. Some prefer hard. Some couldn't write without a fountain pen. And there are still some elderly men surviving who insist on using quills.

Pennsylvania is the latest of the states to take up the question of short or open seasons on game birds, and good reasons for curbing the activities of hunters are presented in a statement of the game commission now being sent to individuals and sporting associations.

Simple Proceeding. "How would you set about abating the smoke nuisance?" "Smoke good cigars."

Worries Bring Aches

Life today brings many worries and worrying brings on kidney troubles, so the doctors say. Kidney weakness reveals itself in backache, pains when stooping or lifting, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders.

Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Prescription, Overcomes Kidney Trouble

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

Mr. Hughes Falls Dead

At noon Tuesday G.M. Hughes dropped dead from heart failure at his home in the eastern part of town. He had not been feeling well a few days prior to his death, but his condition was not such as to cause serious alarm. He was just taking a drink of water before going to the dining table to partake of his noon meal when he was stricken instantly.

Mr. Hughes came to this county from Texas with his family a number of years ago, settling on the Bonito. When the town of Carrizozo was organized he moved here and remained until death overtook him. He was regarded as one of our most substantial citizens and his death is generally deplored. He leaves a wife and a large number of sons and daughters, some of whom reside in distant parts and did not reach here for the funeral.

The funeral was conducted at the family residence Thursday morning and interment made in the local cemetery. Rev. Arthur Marston, the Methodist minister, conducted the services.

Returned From Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Luster returned Wednesday night from El Paso, to which point Mr. Luster was taken to enter Hotel Dieu for an operation. After a thorough examination, however, the surgeons decided not to operate. Mr. Luster's condition is little if any better than when he went to El Paso. We understand the difficulty to be kidney affection.

During the week commencing November 13, $8.00 worth of cooking utensils will be given away free to every purchaser of a Majestic range. This is an out and out gift and the price of the Majestic remains the same as always. See them while you are at the special demonstration next week. Kelley & Son.

Next Sunday is World's Temperance Sunday. Services at the Methodist church will be in keeping with the topic of the day.

School Notes

The girls' basket ball team played both Tularosa and Alamogordo last Saturday, leaving Carrizozo at noon, playing Tularosa in the early afternoon and Alamogordo that night in the new amusement hall. The big Tularosa team got the heavy end of the score of 21 to 8 although the plucky little team of locals fought bravely and consistently to the last. Alamo autoists met them in Tularosa but it was a tired bunch which faced the strongly reinforced Alamo delegation that evening. Carrizozo's string of victories over the Otero High school line-up was broken with victory for the latter to the tune of 17 to 6. The locals were clearly outclassed but are working hard to improve their style of play and partially overcome their natural handicaps as to size.

Mrs. T. A. Spencer, the coach, and H. C. Franklin, as manager, accompanied the team. A return game of girls basket ball will be played in Capitán Saturday, and the locals promise to give a good account of themselves at that time. Messrs. Franklin and McCurdy will play Messrs. Belknap and Kogler in tennis in the forenoon and basket ball will be called in the early afternoon.

Before the season closes there will be games on the home grounds with Hondo, Tularosa, and Alamogordo. Admission of 25c will be charged for these games. Come out and aid with your presence and quarter.

The new playground will help wonderfully when it gets settled after the plating and leveling of last week.

Drs. Paden and Johnson performed the vaccinations needed in the school Thursday morning. Business was good for a while.

Watch our advertisement in this paper for full particulars of how the children can receive a nice souvenir aeroplane on Tuesday afternoon between 3 and 5. Kelley & Son.
