OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 21

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1920

NUMBER 44

Close of the Campaign

The presidential campaign is drawing to a close. Had the campaign closed a month ago the advantage would have been with the Republicans, because they began this campaign before the armistice was signed and have continually kept their propaganda before the people. However, the drift the past few weeks has been to the Democratic party, for the people have discovered that they have been furnished a spurious brand of information by the Republican party; that where the information has not been an outright falsehood it has been full of misrepresentations, misconceptions and overdrawn conclusions. This has been true especially in their treatment of the League.

They have preached that the League was the creation of President Wilson alone; that he consulted no one and ignored all; but that is just as false as are many of the other statements issued by the Republican committee, and reiterated by Republican speakers. Three of the most prominent Republicans were consulted at various times, one of whom, Ex-president Taft, was at this end of the cable while President Wilson was at the other during the Paris conference. Former President Taft suggested four amendments, all of which were adopted. Charles E. Hughes, former Justice of the Supreme Court and Republican candidate for the presidency in 1916, submitted seven amendments, and five of them were adopted. Elihu Root, the brainiest man in the Republican party, offered six amendments, five of which were adopted. And yet, with fourteen amendments adopted at the suggestion of this famous trio of Republicans, we are still told in press and forum that the League is a one-man affair, and this glaring lie is accentuated by its continual circulation and repetition by men who know it to be a lie.

Falsehood and misrepresentation have been the keynote of the Republican campaign, which, as we have said began before the signing of the armistice. It had its birth in infamous lies about the president and has continued a brazen, uninterrupted flow of lies about the League of Nations. Anyone who has read the League of Nations and has also heard a Republican discuss it from a platform knows this is so. And there is no question but a telling effect has been made against the League by those who have read and heard these statements and have not read the text of the covenant.

So shameless has become the orgy of falsehood and smirking hypocrisy that the Republicans convict one another of deceit with perfect equanimity. Mr. Harding says he is against the League of Nations, still Messrs. Taft, Hughes and Root support him asserting that, notwithstanding what the Republican nominee says to secure the support of Borah, Johnson, et al, the declaration is not of any value, for Harding is for the League at heart. "Get'em goin' an' comin'" is the motto of the Republicans.

Therefore, is it any wonder that people who seek the proper light, unprejudiced by partisan statements and affiliations, are beginning to show their loathing and aversion over such despicable actions, insincerity and double-dealing? Is it any wonder that the men guilty of foisting this orgy of politics upon the people have felt that the 2nd of November was a long time off, knowing as they do that their chances have been slipping day by day, and that each hour drives another nail into the coffin of Republican hopes? Day by day, hour by hour, as each mendacious lie has been exposed, as every act of duplicity, monumental in its littleness, has the white light of publicity thrown on it and it is shown to the people in all its hideousness, boast of victory since June has dwindled to a whisper, and the old guard is praying to the God of battles that their misrepresentations and false practices may find lodgment in the fertile soil of enough ignorant minds to put their candidate over.

A democratic legislature will give the people of New Mexico a square deal all around, and repeal some of the vicious legislation now on the statutes. Vote for E. M. Brickley and A. C. McCamant.

One of the most important offices in the county is that of assessor. The requirements for that office are honesty, ability to see the right and the courage to perform it. All these qualities John L. Bryan possesses. He is one of our solid, substantial citizens, straight as a string, and voters cannot go wrong in giving him their support.

Queer Combination

The Anti-Saloon League of America, through its executive committee, has prepared a pamphlet urging all prohibitionists to support Harding for president, arguing, of course, that Mr. Harding is such a good prohibitionist, Cox the opposite. In New Mexico this little bon mot is being distributed by the Republican committee, and that, too, at the eleventh hour. The Anti-Saloon League has some nice things to say about Senator Harding and Senator Harding has some nice things to say about himself; hence the association is a community of interests. However, men have a faculty of saying and writing things to please, but sometimes records are established that are wholly at variance with spoken and written declarations.

Now the record on that subject is this: Mr. Harding voted in the United States senate against prohibition in the District of Columbia. He voted against prohibition in Porto Rico. He voted against war time prohibition. He voted to postpone putting the prohibition amendment in operation for six years after its passage; and this last vote might have been influenced by a desire to dispose of his brewery stock. We have no objection to Senator Harding's record on prohibition, because he was wholly within his rights and, if the truth were known, he probably represented the opinion of a majority of our people; but we do object to a man occupying both sides of the fence—"running with the hare and holding with the hounds." To use an old expression: "We wish to the Lord he would be pigs or pups one."

Governor Cox has not been in congress since the prohibition question reached national proportions; hence he has no record on that subject except an unbroken record for a strict enforcement of the law. He declares openly, wherever he goes, he stands for a rigid enforcement of the prohibitory law. One wonders what was the ruling motive of the Anti-Saloon League to ignore the Harding record. After such a record, it's a little thin for the League to say it is satisfied with the Senator's position.

Repression by Publication

(Albuquerque Morning Journal.) We can not deal with the women of the Republican State Executive Committee as we would like to deal with them. In spite of their methods in politics, which are the worst we have ever seen used, they are women. At mothers' knee we learned a deference which has always been almost a reverence, for womanhood.

For years we have believed that woman suffrage would elevate the morals of politics. We still believe it. We can not but feel that the mother in the home will seek the welfare of her family regardless of politics.

But the spectacle of these women resorting to the methods of ward-healers to carry an election is disheartening.

They know that no responsible democratic leader countenanced the Portales Journal's editorial. Yet they seek to encompass the defeat of Judge Hanna by its use in arousing religious prejudices. It makes thoughtful peopleshudder.

Not the issues of the campaign are to settle the election but an appeal to the deepest prejudices of the ignorant. O, that the authors of the movement were men that we might denounce them as their conduct deserves.

If they can make it work this time they will try it again. The repudiation of their methods must be too emphatic to leave any doubt in their minds about the wisdom of its future use.

They ask us if we would have suppressed these editorials. We would, except to condemn them bitterly in general terms and to constructively build sentiment against any such expressions. The ladies ask if we would leave the Spanish-speaking people in ignorance of the 'insulting charges' made against them. We would.

If an irresponsible person made charges on the street against the character of Mrs. Asplund we would not publish the charges in black face type on the front page of a paper, or circulate it in Spanish all over the state as a "vindication" of her womanhood. We would compel the slanderer to retract before any one to whom he had said it and then would hush it up.

That is, we would unless we wanted to destroy the happiness and future of Mrs. Asplund and her family. To do otherwise would be to strike as an enemy under the guise of being a friend. Publishing slander to 'vindicate' the one slandered is a joke—or a tragedy.

Special Election Returns

Election returns will be received at the Crystal Theatre Tuesday night by special wire from the Western Union telegraph lines. A special telephone will also be installed for receiving county returns, and as national, state and local returns are received they will be announced from the platform and bulletin. This will begin at 7:00 p. m. and continue until 3:00 a. m.

Two shows will be given at the theatre for the entertainment of the public. The famous Russian Star, Naniyova, will be presented in the "Heart of a Child;" and the first show will start at 7:00 p. m., the second at 8:30 p. m.

The theatre will be open for those who wish to remain after the show to hear the election returns. Admission to the show, 25 and 15 cents, including war tax; no extra charge for the election returns.

Barnum Was Right

People at one time were inclined to laugh at the declaration of P. T. Barnum, the greatest circus man of his day, that "The American People Liked to Be Humbugged." But now after more than a quarter of a century has passed since that famous remark was made, the truth is beginning to soak in and there is additional proof that humbuggery has more devotees today than in Barnum's time. The man or woman who has read the League of Nations knows that no subject has been so grossly misrepresented. And yet where one has read the text of the covenant five have only heard about it, and there is as much difference as there is between daylight and dark. Yet humbuggery will govern a big percent of the five, because they don't know the real facts, and are easily hoodwinked.

Just the Same

The men who dictated the constitution and made it possible for four counties to govern in the selection of one-third of the state senators and a proportionate number of the representatives, not to mention the unfair manner in which the judicial districts were also formed, are the same men who ran the state Republican convention this year and dictated its nominees. They are the same men who hope to keep control of the legislature and put over a similar piece of work, for the coming legislature will have, as one of its duties, the redistricting of the state. Are you for a fair redistricting of the state? If you are, you can scarcely hope to see that result should the same men who made the constitution be given control of the coming legislature. That, then, being the case, voters who know the present representation to be unfair can remedy the wrong by the election of Brickley to the senate and McCamant to the legislative house. Honest voters can not object to a just apportionment; dishonest politicians do, as the record shows. Vote for Brickley and McCamant.

The state of New Mexico will continue to lag behind the progressive states of the west as long as the republican party is controlled by a boss syndicate. It will be up to the republican voters of the state next Tuesday to put an end for all time to boss rule in New Mexico, by voting for the democratic candidates, who stand for progress and prosperity.

When all is said, there is no office in the county that calls for better business capacity than the board of county commissioners. With men like John W. Owen of Corona, John C. West of San Patricio, and Newt Kemp of Capitan, composing the board, the tax payors can rest assured of a business administration of county affairs. Vote for all three—you can't better them.

In recognition of the conscientious services rendered the public as probate judge, George Kimbrell will be continued in that important office.

Stratford Is the Place of Peace

Shakespeare's Old Home Casts Softening Spell Over Its Throngs of Visitors.

RESTFULNESS IS ITS LURE

Voices of Strangers Are Not Lifted in Hilarity—Villagers Enjoy and Appreciate Shakespeare—Many Americans There.

Stratford-on-Avon.—The poet of Shropshire has given his high metrical authority to the statement that the quietest places under the sun are in that county; but he refers to places only, and obviously is not thinking of towns, of which the quietest under the sun is surely Stratford-on-Avon. It assimilates its visitors without noise, much as Shakespeare himself comprehends the heights and depths of human life easily as to the manner born.

There are plenty of strangers here this summer, but they do not make a crowd and their voices are not lifted in hilarity. Perhaps they are under the softening spell of genius. The nearest approach to merriment I have yet noticed, however, was in front of the birthplace. It was already full of sightseers, and a little throng awaited entrance on the pavement. Among them was not one "in the learned way," as Boswell puts it, but the whole company bore the plain, sturdy, bucolic stamp. Dressed in their customary Sunday suits of solemn black they revered the immortal memory with contrasted cheerfulness.

In the train from London a Frenchman on holiday asked me for advice on motor traveling between Stratford and Leamington. Having just four hours to spend in Stratford he was proposing to see all the sights, to attend the summer festival matinee of "As You Like It" in the Memorial theater, and to catch a glimpse of Warwick on his way back to the railway. Evidently Americans are not the only folk who can hustle. He might have been reassured on the motor question. Such is the enterprise in this direction that it is calculated that sixty char-a-bancs and the like stay in Stratford every day. They take their passengers to the many delightful towns and villages in the neighborhood and bring in the inhabitants of spots which would otherwise be remote.

Villagers Enjoy Shakespeare. A large proportion of the audience of the summer festival are villagers, who have learned to rely on the motor as a means of conveyance, and they do, I am assured, really appreciate Shakespeare. Not only that, but they possess an inborn aptitude for Old English dances and pageantry. The stories one hears of Maypoles and Morris dancing in some of the villages suggest either that Shakespeare's England has never died, or has been revived by the agencies that aim at re-creating the drama in the countryside. But it should not be concluded that these village festivals are manufactured by artistic labor. On the contrary, they are described as the spontaneous sports of the young in which the old are not afraid to join. Stratford itself has more than one open place to which a Maypole would seem no alien addition. From time to time much has been said and written of its commercialization. With some, the memory of Shakespeare may have become a trade, like aluminum or anything else. Others have shown how little they fear the intrusion of a factory. Yet the town remains a very passable village of that in which Shakespeare was born. The spirit of the Elizabethan village still broods over its timbered houses and spacious streets, and the business in memorabilia has not succeeded in destroying their meaning. No town can get peace for the asking, and it is peace which Stratford has secured by some seal-divine right and retains in spite of every provocation to barter the possession.

Many Americans There, Too. The Warwickshire meadows are as smooth and green as ever. There the river glides at its own sweet will with the placidity of other streams but none of their dullness. One wonders whether it is only for Shakespeare that the whole world comes to Stratford, or whether some part of the compulsion is not that desire for retreat which he has expressed in many a remembered passage. Be the attraction what it may, the visitors this very year form a kind of conspectus of Stratford's universal attraction. It need hardly be said that there have been many small parties of Americans. From various registers may be gathered an idea of their representative character, for Denver follows Boston and New York is next door to Colorado in these undeniable pages. South America is there, too. Australia stands high in the list of Dominion visitors, and after Australia comes South Africa.

TRIBUTE TO BRITISH

New Home for Orphans of War Heroes Is Opened.

Funds to Buy and Maintain It Given by American Admirers of English Valor.

New York.—A home for fatherless sons of British war heroes has just been opened in Reading, 40 miles from London, by the National Allied Relief committee, working with funds raised in the United States, according to an announcement made by that organization, whose headquarters are at No. 2 West Forty-fifth street, New York. The announcement stated that the money for the home was supplied "through American admirers of British Valor," and that the home was "a tribute of appreciation and a memorial from the American people." Lieut. J. G. Churchill of the British army has been named headmaster of the home, and his wife, Mrs. Churchill, has been appointed matron. It will be under the protection of the British ministry of education. It will be a home for 48 boys.

A check for maintaining the home was taken to England a few weeks ago by John Moffat, chairman of the National Allied Relief committee, and turned over to the British management committee. The home was formerly St. Andrew's home of the Waifs and Strays society of England and was purchased furnished and fully equipped.

The British management committee is composed of Col. Arthur C. Murray, chairman; Maj. J. J. Astor, treasurer; Evelyn Wrench, secretary; Lieut. Col. A. S. Cleaver, Robert Grant, Jr., G. Mills McKay and James Van Allen Shields. The honorary patrons of the committee are Earl Reading, formerly British ambassador to the United States; Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, the Belgian ambassador; Kijuro Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador; and Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university.

Didn't Need to Be Egged On. Cincinnati.—Two boys are held in juvenile court, but no charge is docketed against them. It was this way: They decided to have an egg battle, secured several dozen eggs, repaired to an empty room and there had it out. Police arrived as the last egg were being thrown.

Sterling, Ky., and is to be immortalized in stone along with his owner, according to an order just placed with a local monument company. Fizer, when he died a year ago, set aside $1,000 for a monument, which shall contain a life-size likeness of the dog.

This One Starting Young. Huntington, Ind.—Girls have been known to give wrong phone numbers to chance acquaintances. Katharine Parrott, aged three, who ran away from home to find her daddy's office, fooled her gentleman friend, too. He was a policeman. She told him her phone number was 1908 when it was 1908.

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Our Allies to Owe Us Twelve Billions

WASHINGTON.—The allied governments will owe the United States nearly $12,000,000,000 for loans made to them during the war by the time they are scheduled to resume interest payments in 1922. Negotiations are still in progress between Great Britain, France and the other allies on the one hand and the United States treasury on the other in regard to placing the loans on a new basis with interest due, but unpaid, included in the principal.

By virtue of the accounts repaid, the total outstanding principal of the loans is now $9,455,401,523. Cuba is paying its interest regularly. Russia paid interest up to Nov. 15, 1917. The other debtors paid interest in full up to the spring of 1919, when they ceased to pay on account of the unsettled exchange situation and sought a three-years' suspension of interest payments; now the subject of the negotiations with the treasury department. The debtor nations undertake to pay in full eventually both the principal and the interest in arrears, compounded semi-annually.

The interest accruing between April, 1919, and May, 1920, totalled $463,215,615.

The United States loaned a total of $9,584,022,045 to nations at war with Germany, distributed as follows:

Debtor	Loaned	Repaid
Great Britain	$4,277,000,000	$84,104,007
France	2,967,477,800	12,147,006
Italy	1,621,528,968
Belgium	328,745,000	10,000
Russia	187,729,750
Czechoslovakia	60,524,041
Serbia	26,760,485	600,000
Romania	23,000,000	1,794,180
Cuba	10,000,000	600,000
Greece	10,000,000
Liberia	26,000

America Is a Nation of Coffee-Drinkers

THE people of the world annually consumed more than two and one-half billion pounds of coffee in pre-war days—enough to load a train of cars reaching from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, says a communication to the National Geographic society, issued as the third of a series of bulletins on "Where Our Imports Come From."

This consumption now perhaps is nearer 3,000,000,000 pounds, and, in the United States alone 42 per cent more coffee was drunk during the fiscal year 1919-1920 than in the preceding 12 months.

Three-fourths of the world's coffee is grown in Brazil, a country that has become rich from its coffee industry alone. Europe and North America bear approximately the same relation to the consumption of coffee that Brazil does to its production, these two continents using nearly four-fifths of all the coffee the world produces.

Holland is the greatest coffee drinking nation on the globe. It uses 15 1/2 pounds per capita annually, while we use 12 pounds, Germany 8 1/2 pounds, Austria-Hungary two and two-fifths pounds, and the United Kingdom two-thirds of a pound. On the other hand, we use less than one pound of tea per capita, while the United Kingdom uses nearly seven pounds. Canada is about two-thirds English and one-third American in its use of coffee and tea;

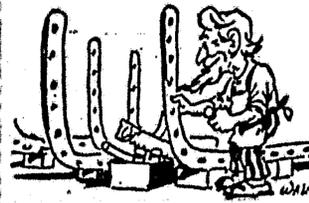

It shows a decided preference for the tea, but drinks less of it than the mother country, making up the difference with coffee. The Germans and the Austro-Hungarians use only a negligible quantity of tea.

The coffee plant is a shrub which, under cultivation, grows from four to six feet high. In its wild state it grows three or four times as high as in its cultivated state. The dwarfing of the plant increases the crop and facilitates picking. The leaves are of a fresh green color; the flowers are white and have an odor strongly resembling jasmine.

The green coffee berry of commerce is nothing more nor less than the seed of the coffee "cherry." These "cherries" turn crimson on ripening. They are then picked, the pulp is taken off by machinery, and the two husks which lie between the pulp and the seeds themselves are removed.

Three of Uncle Sam's Battle Cruisers

KEELS of three United States battle cruisers were laid in one day recently. Secretary of the Navy Daniels said that it was an event believed to be unprecedented in the history of shipbuilding when within the space of a few hours the keels of three battle cruisers were laid. One of these vessels, battle cruiser No. 3, the Saratoga, is being built by the New York Shipbuilding corporation at Camden, N. J.; the other two, battle cruiser No. 5, the Constitution, and No. 6, the United States, are being built side by side at the Philadelphia navy yard.

The keel of another vessel of this class, the Constellation, was laid in August 18 at the yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, at which yard preliminary work is going ahead on a sister vessel, the Hanger.

Similar preliminary work is also being done in the sixth of the class, being built by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation at its Fore River plant, where the keel of the Lexington will be laid very soon.

"These are the largest and fastest battle cruisers in the world," said Secretary Daniels. "They were originally authorized in 1916 as a part of the three-year building program, but their construction was suspended during the war. Since that time their designs have been redrawn to take full advantage of the lessons learned from war experience, with the result that the vessels are materially larger and more powerful than at first contemplated."

Famous names in United States naval history are some of these, and most famous is that of the Constitution. In defeating the Guerriere in the War of 1812 the Constitution won the victory that made the United States navy. The original Constitution lies at the Boston navy yard, though launched in 1797. It was proposed to dismantle her in 1823, but Holmes' poem, "Old Ironsides," saved her.

Farmers Must Be Given Immediate Help

AN OFFICIAL statement by the American Farm Bureau federation, summarizing its investigation into business, industrial and agricultural conditions, declares that America "is facing an agricultural economic condition which, if not intelligently dealt with, will lead to consequences so grave as to affect all industry to the point of impeding the social order." The statement says farmers must be given immediate help in transportation, finance and labor, and recommends the following as remedial efforts which would go a long way toward solving agricultural difficulties: Preferential treatment in transportation to all farm produce held for shipment and to all goods consigned to farmers which are necessary to conduct the business of farming. More profits for farmers, better distribution systems which would tend to eliminate middlemen and stabilize prices. Ample finance, with rural banks ap-provision of rural labor, and the statement declares that the above can be accomplished only by lowering industrial wages or increasing farm wages.

Encouragement of immigration. The statement, in asking encouragement of immigration, declares that this is necessary to supply labor, and adds that "the mere fact that a man cannot speak American does not mean he will not be a good citizen."

The statement closes with a plea that the farm and farm life be advanced to overcome the tendency of

WOMEN'S VOTE LARGE

6,500,000 Are Eligible to Ballot in November Election.

Washington.—Figures compiled by the census bureau and other government departments indicate that the number of women in the United States over twenty-one years of age is 28,350,000, of whom approximately 23,000,000 are eligible to vote in the November election. This estimate makes liberal allowance for alien women, American women married to aliens and her ineligible. Exact figures are not available on the number of women over twenty-one, but based on the figures from which is based. Census bureau officials state, however, that this year at least 1,000,000 of the 6,500,000 reservations; 6,007 Chinese and Japanese women ineligible to vote, a comparatively small number of American women married to aliens and barred from voting for that reason, and a larger number deprived of the ballot under state statutes in harmony with constitutional provisions. The total of those ineligible was estimated at about 1,500,000.

American women married to aliens are not eligible to vote, the Department of Justice has held, but foreign-born women married to American citizens or whose fathers have become American citizens are entitled to the ballot, without naturalization proceedings.

Amazement and Horror

The women members of the State Republican Executive Committee regard with "amazement and almost with horror this effort of a democratic editor, acting as a spokesman for the Democratic party, to appeal to race and religious prejudices." This expression, quoted above, is made use of by the aforesaid women of the Republican State Executive Committee in a declaration defending their action in having the contemptible editorial in question translated into Spanish and sent into every Spanish-American precinct in the state. In addition to the translation and circulation of this infamous production penned by an irresponsible person and appearing in an obscure democratic weekly, these women and the republican state and county committees are endeavoring to make it appear that the editorial not only represents the sentiment of Judge Hanna, the democratic nominee for Governor, but that it also represents the sentiment of the democratic party.

Neither these women nor the republican committees tell the voters whom they are endeavoring to influence by injecting race and religious prejudice into the campaign, that Judge Hanna, when he reached the town where the editorial was published, roundly denounced the author and scathingly rebuked anyone connected with it, and stated as his belief that it was a scheme of the republican leaders, despairing of winning by fair means, to stir up race and religious feeling against the democratic party; and the fact that the state republican committee, men and women, are circulating this poisonous stuff, is conclusive evidence that Judge Hanna put his finger on the authority for utterance of such an absurdity. Nor do these same committees, state and local, inform the voters of the indignation expressed by the democrats in the community where the offending paper is published; the resolutions of the democratic county committee condemning it, and the final demand, which was heeded, for the retirement of the editor from the county ticket, and equally condemnatory actions by the democratic state committee and every democrat in New Mexico connected with the campaign. Oh, no! they didn't do that; for to do so would give the lie to their own charge that Judge Hanna and the democratic party favored such a sentiment.

How men can expect to retain the respect of honest people who will be guilty of circulating such stuff—at the expense of truth and honesty; merely to acquire a political advantage, must puzzle those who are unacquainted with the lengths to which the republican leaders will go, and how far assertions. The purveyors of scandal are not less culpable than the author, and the man or woman sinking so low is certainly not an edifying spectacle. They may justify their action by salving their conscience with the thought that they are helping their party; and, indeed, these same authorities, it may be remembered, circulated a dirty, vile and scurrilous report on a prominent democratic candidate four years ago, and he was elected to the U. S. Senate by over 3,000 majority. Condemning the injection of race and religious prejudice into the campaign, even "viewing it with horror," is one of the finest comedies of the campaign. The perpetrators and abettors of this gem of purest ray serene must keep in perfect condition by the generous use of carbolic acid solution and formaldehyde.

That the rank and file of the republican party endorse such dirty tactics we do not believe, for to believe such a thing would be to believe that no question, no matter how upright and moral, would receive fair treatment if the other side of the scales contained the hopes of the republican party. We do not believe it because the rank and file of the republican party have no part in the dissemination of villifications, slander and half-baked statements containing so little truth that they are worse than lies. We do not believe it, for to do so would be to deny the rank and file of the republican party the possession of a spark of honesty; to proclaim them as poor sports, incapable of granting a square deal. We don't believe it—but we do believe there are thousands of republicans in our state who are going to teach these tricksters a lesson they will never forget; so that future campaigns will be conducted on merit, by meritorious men, and that any one who endeavors to introduce such nefarious practices will be shamed into silence.

Peace, Progress and Prosperity. This is exactly what a democratic victory on November 2 means.

The tide is turning in the National election. The latest reports concede Indiana and Ohio to Cox.

Vote against the $2,000,000 bond issue. In thirty years the interest would exceed the principal.

Lieut. Colonel Chas. Whittlessey, former commander of the "Lost Battalion" who told the Germans to "go to hell" when they demanded the surrender of his troops, has announced his support of the League of Nations and his intention to vote for Cox.

Bursum, Sully and Hawkins are no longer the republican party of New Mexico. The people could no longer stand for their party being controlled by bosses. Even the Santa Fe New Mexican, the strongest republican organ in the state, was compelled to turn them down.

LEE H. YORK

The above is a likeness of the Democratic nominee for District Attorney for the Third Judicial District. Mr. York came to Lincoln county in 1880, and has made Lincoln and Otero counties his home since that date. As a lad he attended the country schools in the Sacramento mountains, and later went to Alamogordo to pursue his studies, and there worked his way through the High School. He labored as janitor to acquire funds with which to meet his expenses, and now in the place where he wielded the broom he enjoys the distinction of serving his people as president of the board of education.

Mr. York taught school for a number of years, during which time he took up the study of law, as many of our best lawyers have done. He was admitted to the bar in 1914 and engaged in the active practice. He was elected to the legislature from Otero county in 1916 and left a clean record in the statehouse. The district was arranged primarily for a republican, containing two strong republican counties, but party lines are not so strict this year, and it looks now like victory, which he richly deserves, for Mr. York.

Judge Richard H. Hanna will without question be the next governor of New Mexico. Help give him a democratic legislature to put into effect the reforms for which he stands, and which the people demand. Vote for Brickley and Jameson for the Senate, and McCamant and Coleman for the House, and you will have done your part as a good citizen of New Mexico.

The rank and file of the republican party in New Mexico has revolted against ring rule. They are going to smash the Bursum-Fall-Hawkins combination on election day, by voting the Independent or democratic tickets, and returning the party back to the people. No more boss rule, is their slogan.

A law maker is perhaps the most important office in the gift of the people. When you vote for Brickley and McCamant you will vote for men who will devote their best talents not to law-making, but to purging the statutes of the vicious laws already there. These men can not be handled. They will represent Lincoln county and work for the interests of their people. Elect them.

To call it the republican ticket is misleading. It is the ticket of the bosses, hand-turned for the corporations.

At this time, we teachers wish to thank the parents for their hearty co-operation and good will. Our relations with the patrons of the school have been most pleasant. This fine spirit not only makes school life happy for teachers and pupils but also does much to advance the standard of the school and community.

The Camp Fire Girls' hike to Manchester, last Saturday, was keenly enjoyed by all. They had "lots of fun" in spite of the fact that it turned cold during the outing. Part of the day was spent in climbing, and part in sitting around the camp fire. The girls wish to hereby express their thanks to Mrs. French, Mrs. Garrard, Mrs. Lujan, and Max Taylor for their kindness in taking the nineteen girls and the two guardians out to the mountains and bringing them back. Misses Herron and Fordon are the two "Guardians" of the Camp Fire Girls.

This is an examination week of the second month of the school year. A spirit of industry and application to the work in hand prevails among both pupils and teachers. At the close of the first fourth of the school year we find a continuance good will toward all, a spirit of comradeship, an absence of strife, envy, all things disagreeable. This is the condition the teachers are striving for. It makes school life happy for the pupils while they are doing the work they ought to do. It attracts pupils and gives us an attendance and punctuality which threats and force could never do. An official board will play during the week...

The members of the State Department of Education expressed themselves well satisfied with the conditions they found and were delighted to note the remarkable improvement over the conditions existing two years ago. The school building in now clean and in splendid condition. During the past year a furnace has been installed so that every room is comfortable, well heated and well ventilated. The qualifications of the teachers have been raised and are now such as will meet the requirements of the North Central Association of Accredited High Schools. This school is now assured placement on the accredited list. Mr. T. P. McCollister is the city superintendent and W. J. Klopp is the principal of the High School. Under the leadership of these two men, the work is progressing exceedingly well. There are one hundred ten pupils in the first six grades. Last year there were about one hundred. There are now fifty-seven pupils in the junior and senior high school. Last year there were thirty-five. The work is well organized, both teachers and pupils showing a fine spirit of co-operation.

In the home economics classes there are thirty-nine girls enrolled. The girls will organize the local branch of the State Association of Vocational Agricultural and Home Economics and will send a demonstration team to

Amazement and Horror

The women members of the State Republican Executive Committee regard with "amazement and almost with horror" this effort of a democratic editor, acting as a spokesman for the Democratic party, to appeal to race and religious prejudices. This expression, quoted above, is made use of by the aforesaid women of the Republican State Executive Committee in a declaration defending their action in having the contemptible editorial in question translated into Spanish and sent into every Spanish-American precinct in the state. At this time, we teachers wish to thank the parents for their hearty co-operation and good will. Our relations with the patrons of the school have been most pleasant. This fine spirit not only makes school life happy for teachers and pupils, but also does much to advance the standard of the school and community.

The Camp Fire Girls' hike to Manchester, last Saturday, was keenly enjoyed by all. They had "lots of fun" in spite of the fact that it turned cold during the outing. Part of the day was spent in climbing, and part in sitting around the camp fire. The girls wish to hereby express their thanks to Mrs. French, Mrs. Garrard, Mrs. Lujan, and Max Taylor for their kindness in taking the nineteen girls and the two guardians out to the mountains and bringing them back. Misses Herron and Fordon are the two "Guardians" of the Camp Fire Girls.

This is an examination week of the second month of the school year. A spirit of industry and application to the work in hand prevails among both pupils and teachers. At the close of the first fourth of the school year we had a continuance good will toward all, a spirit of comradeship, an absence of strife, envy, all things disagreeable. This is the condition the teachers are striving for. It makes school life happy for the pupils while they are doing the work they ought to do. It attracts pupils and gives us an attendance and punctuality which threats and force could never do.

An artificial fog will play during the week, showing bers of the State Department of Education expressed themselves well satisfied with the conditions they found and were delighted to note the remarkable improvement over the conditions existing two years ago. The school building in now clean and in splendid condition. During the past year a furnace has been installed so that every room is comfortable, well heated and well ventilated. The qualifications of the teachers have been raised and are now such as will meet the requirements of the North Central Association of Accredited High Schools. This school is now assured placement on the accredited list.

Mr. T. P. McCollister is the city superintendent and W. J. Klopp is the principal of the High School. Under the leadership of these two men, the work is progressing exceedingly well. There are one hundred ten pupils in the first six grades. Last year there were about one hundred. There are now fifty-seven pupils in the junior and senior high school. Last year there were thirty-five. The work is well organized, both teachers and pupils showing a fine spirit of co-operation.

In the home economics classes there are thirty-nine girls enrolled. The girls will organize the local branch of the State Association of Vocational Agricultural and Home Economics and will send a demonstration team to

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I used for Cardui."

The Woman's Tonic

"I found after one bottle of Cardui I was improving," adds Mrs. Crosswhite. "Six bottles of Cardui and . . . I was cured, yes, I can say they were a God-send to me. I believe I would have died, had it not been for Cardui." Cardui has been found beneficial in many thousands of other cases of womanly troubles. If you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, why not try Cardui? It may be just what you need.

CONSOLIDATION

In visiting the schools it has been found that in many of the districts consolidation has been effected and adequate transportation facilities provided. At Corona there is an inter-county consolidation of districts in Lincoln and Torrance counties. Three trucks are used at this school. At Ancho there was a re-districting to include Tecolote, placing this village in the same district as Ancho. The children are brought from Tecolote to Ancho

Amazement and Horror

The women members of the State Republican Executive Committee regard with amazement and almost with horror this effort of a democratic editor, acting as a spokesman for the Democratic party, to appeal to race and religious prejudices. This expression, quoted above, is made use of by the aforesaid women of the Republican State Executive Committee in a declaration defending their action in having the contemptible editorial in question translated into Spanish and sent into every Spanish-American precinct in the state. In addition to the translation and circulation of this infamous production penned by an irresponsible person and appearing in an obscure democratic weekly, these women and the republican state and county committees are endeavoring to make it appear that the editorial not only represents the sentiment of Judge Hanna, the democratic nominee for Governor, but that it also represents the sentiment of the democratic party.

Neither these women nor the republican committees tell the voters whom they are endeavoring to influence by injecting race and religious prejudice into the campaign, that Judge Hanna, when he reached the town where the editorial was published, roundly denounced the author and scathingly rebuked anyone connected with it, and stated as his belief that it was a scheme of the republican leaders, despairing of winning by fair means, to stir up race and religious feeling against the democratic party; and the fact that the state republican committee, men and women, are circulating this poisonous stuff, is conclusive evidence that Judge Hanna put his finger on the authority for utterance of such an absurdity. Nor do these same committees, state and local, inform the voters of the indignation expressed by the democrats in the community where the offending paper is published; the resolutions of the democratic county committee condemning it, and the final demand, which was heeded, for the retirement of the editor from the county ticket, and equally condemnatory actions by the democratic state committee and every democrat in New Mexico connected with the campaign. Oh, no! they didn't do that; for to do so would give the lie to their own charge that Judge Hanna and the democratic party favored such a sentiment.

How men can expect to retain the respect of honest people who will be guilty of circulating such stuff—at the expense of truth and honesty, merely to acquire a political advantage, must puzzle those who are unacquainted with the lengths to which the republican leaders will go, and how far assertions. The purveyors of scandal are not less culpable than the author, and the man or woman sinking so low is certainly not an edifying spectacle. They may justify their action by salving their conscience with the thought that they are helping their party; and, indeed, these same authorities, it may be remembered, circulated a dirty, vile and scurrilous report on a prominent democratic candidate four years ago, and he was elected to the U. S. Senate by over 3,000 majority. Condemning the injection of race and religious prejudice into the campaign, even "viewing it with horror," is one of the finest comedies of the campaign. The perpetrators and abettors of this gem of purest ray serene must keep in perfect condition by the generous use of carbolic acid solution and formaldehyde.

That the rank and file of the republican party endorse such dirty tactics we do not believe, for to believe such a thing would be to believe that no question, no matter how upright and moral, would receive fair treatment if the other side of the scales contained the hopes of the republican party. We do not believe it because the rank and file of the republican party have no part in the dissemination of vilifications, slander and half-baked statements containing so little truth that they are worse than lies. We do not believe it, for to do so would be to deny the rank and file of the republican party the possession of a spark of honesty; to proclaim them as poor sports, incapable of granting a square deal. We don't believe it—but we do believe there are thousands of republicans in our state who are going to teach these tricksters a lesson they will never forget; so that future campaigns will be conducted on merit, by meritorious men, and that any one who endeavors to introduce such nefarious practices will be shamed into silence.

Peace, Progress and Prosperity. This is exactly what a democratic victory on November 2 means.

The tide is turning in the National election. The latest reports concede Indiana and Ohio to Cox.

Vote against the $2,000,000 bond issue. In thirty years the interest would exceed the principal.

Lieut. Colonel Chas. Whittlesey, former commander of the "Lost Battalion" who told the Germans to "go to hell" when they demanded the surrender of his troops, has announced his support of the League of Nations and his intention to vote for Cox.

Bursum, Sully and Hawkins are no longer the republican party of New Mexico. The people could no longer stand for their party being controlled by bosses. Even the Santa Fe New Mexican, the strongest republican organ in the state, was compelled to turn them down.

LEE N. YORK

The above is a likeness of the Democratic attorney for the Third Judicial District. He in 1880, and has made Lincoln and Otero date. As a lad he attended the country schools, and later went to Alamogordo to work his way through the High School where he earned the money with which to meet his expenses. When he came to Carrizozo he worked the broom he enjoys the distinction of president of the board of education.

Mr. York taught school for a number of years, and in 1914, as many of you know, he was admitted to the bar in 1914 and was elected to the legislature from Otero record in the statehouse. The district republican, containing two strong republicans, not so strict this year, and it looks now serves, for Mr. York.

Judge Richard H. Hanna will without question be the next governor of New Mexico. Help give him a democratic legislature to put into effect the reforms for which he stands, and which the people demand. Vote for Brickley and Jameson for the Senate, and McCamant and Coleman for the House, and you will have done your part as a good citizen of New Mexico.

The rank and file of the republican party in New Mexico has revolted against ring rule. They are going to smash the Bursum-Fall-Hawkins combination on election day, by voting the Independent or democratic tickets, and returning the party back to the people. No more boss rule, is their slogan.

A law maker is perhaps the most important office in the gift of the people. When you vote for Brickley and McCamant you will vote for men who will devote their best talents not to law-making, but to purging the statutes of the vicious laws already there. These men can not be handled. They will represent Lincoln county and work for the interests of their people. Elect them.

To call the republican ticket misleading. It is the ticket of the bosses, hand-turned for the corporations.

A Man Whose Life

has been an open book in Lincoln county for half a century is before the voters of Lincoln county for re-election to the office of probate judge. The average voter, acquainted with conditions, will not hesitate to support George Kimbrell for this office, unless party is put above the man. Worth and service, care and honesty, character and experience are the distinguishing features that make George Kimbrell a popular candidate with all the people.

Governor Larrazolo is supporting the Independent Democrats in order to defeat boss-rule in New Mexico, and he is backed up by all republicans, whom desire better government.

The democratic candidates who have been over the eastern part of the county, state that many of the republican voters there will vote against the state ticket, and the nominee of the gang who stole the nomination from Larrazolo.

MONEY YOU MAKE?

Where does your salary go? Who is getting the benefit of it? Unless you are saving something out of it every payday it is the other fellow and not you whom your work is aiding. Don't let the other fellow save those dollars of yours which you should save for yourself. Make it a point to put away 7% or 10% of your salary every payday. Invested in War Savings Stamps, which can be gotten at the postoffice or bank, it will be absolutely safe and bringing you interest at the rate of 4% compounded every three months. It is better to save than to be sorry.

HAVE YOU DONE THIS?

Have you gotten that other War Savings Stamp this week? The time to begin saving is now—not tomorrow. It is better to be ahead of the game, even if it is only a dollar or two, than it is to be a nickel behind.

TWO AND A HALF MILLION COME TO HOLDERS OF THIRD LOAN BONDS NEXT MONTH

The total value of Liberty Bonds bought in the district was $116,319,660. The interest thereon at 4% will be due and payable at any bank on September 15; it will amount to $2,469,922 for this, the seventh reserve district, according to Mr. Hume. A like amount of interest on the same bonds will be paid in six months later, on March 15, 1931. Bankbooks are frequently finding bonds issued in 1917 and 1918 from which no interest coupons have been clipped.

PARSONS NEWS LETTER

Now that the hunting season is on, the woods are full of town-squawks and the whis of the bullet in more often heard than the turkey call.

Mrs. Thomas Graften, who is suffering from a bad attack of tonsillitis spent several days last week at a local hospital in Carrizozo.

Hubert Reddy is assisting in the construction of the new mill at the Helen Rae mine.

Local snows, cold weather and high winds are more the order of the day than the usual balmy October weather.

Mrs. T. O. Barrett and daughter Gwynne, who have been visiting Miss Charlotte Rice for the past two weeks, are visiting Miss Mildred Peters of Capitan before returning to El Paso.

Mr. A. E. Warren has returned to spend the winter and has gone to work in the Helen Rae mill.

A heavy snow storm Sunday put a stop to the hunting for a while. Many hunters were snowed in for a few days. Two feet of snow fell at Parsons and it is deeper as you get up into the hills.

Dr. and Mrs. Worley and two sons, Mr. Soderland and Miss Crezir from Fort Stanton were week visitors of the Rice family.

Milda Minnie Marie says she thinks it is about time she was getting some teeth. Everybody else has teeth.

Mr. Gatewood, mail rider between Nogal and Parsons, took a couple of days off to go hunting. It is the first time Mr. Gatewood has missed carrying the mail for a day in two years.

School Notes

The school owns a fine little Wireless Telegraph instrument which is in perfect working order and will show the principles of wireless telegraphy just as well as one costing a hundred thousand dollars.

At this time, we teachers wish to thank the parents for their hearty co-operation and good will. Our relations with the patrons of the school have been most pleasant. whistle will prove to you that some persons can hear sounds that others can not hear. The beautiful manometric flames will be shown, by which you may see the 256 vibrations of the human vocal cords when middle C is sounded. The object of this entertainment is to show the people of Carrizozo a part of the fine equipment of the Carrizozo High School, one of the reasons why the high school was so readily accredited to all the colleges of the state of New Mexico.

Special attention to the next item. On November 12, in the high school assembly room, the present class in chemistry will give a program demonstrating the uses of the physics apparatus which was used last year by the class in physics. We wanted to give this entertainment last year but could not get some of the apparatus in time. Some of the striking and pleasing experiments in physics will be made. Some demonstrations with the air pump will be made, with the Cartesian Diver, the Sonometer, the Cup of Tantalus. There will be two solos: one on the single organ pipe, one on the somometer. A genuine sparking machine will furnish genuine instruction and delight to the young. Many curious tricks will be done with the Toepler-Holtz machine. The electric-magnet will, among several tricks, pull the hairpins from the head of a beautiful Circassian lady, allowing her hair to fall over her shoulders in rippling waves of gold.

ROAD BUILDING

MUCH DEPENDS ON HIGHWAYS

Leading Manufacturers Have Abolished Ten Rating and Are Fitting Trucks to the Job.

Every farmer knows that a horse's efficiency depends to a large extent upon the roads over which it hauls. For example: One horse on a concrete road will pull as much as two horses on a macadam highway. The same load on a good earth road requires five horses and on loose gravel, ten.

Obviously it is to the hauler's advantage to have roads permitting the hauling of maximum loads with a minimum of power.

If a horse drawing two-ton loads over city pavements is sold to a farm-or, the seller does not tell the buyer the horse will haul two tons in the country.

The farmer knows his conditions and what he can expect.

In view of the fact that farmers are using an ever increasing number of motortrucks, it is interesting to note what a leading transportation authority recently said about doing this with trucks, that is, calling them two, three, four, etc., ton trucks.

"Obviously it is as illogical for a motortruck manufacturer to label his truck a two-ton hauler as it would be for a horse dealer to say how much a horse would haul. Clearly in either case the load which may be transported depends almost entirely upon conditions. For this reason leading manufacturers have abolished the ton rating method and are fitting the trucks to the job. A transportation engineer goes over the hauler's conditions thoroughly. All his difficulties and advantages are carefully considered, and the proper size unit prescribed. Thus, a truck formerly rated at two tons may be used for a four-ton load in the city, while in an unusually bad section of the country a unit with a larger rated horse power capacity may be necessary, if the owner is to prevent wasteful depreciation."

In other words, manufacturers are taking advantage of the experience gained in horse hauling. They realize it takes "ten horses on loose gravel and one on concrete." They are selling their transportation accordingly.

APPROVE HIGHWAY PROJECTS

Preliminary Estimate of Cost of Improvements is Approximately $384,900,000.

Up to June 30, 1920, 2,085 projects involving a total of 29,319 miles of road had been approved by the secretary of agriculture. The preliminary estimate of the cost of these projects is approximately $384,900,000, of which approximately $163,841,000 will be approved as federal aid. On the same date 2,116 projects representing approximately 15,844 miles had either been completed or were under construction. The estimated total cost of these projects in various stages of construction and completed, is $200,000,000. The total cost of federal-aid work approved by the secretary in the 19 months subsequent to the signing of the armistice and prior to July 1, 1920, which is approximately $330,000,000, exceeded by $63,000,000 the cost of all road and bridge work done by states and counties in this country in 1915. The value of the work completed during that period amounted to $80,000,000, a rate of construction equaling that of the Panama canal.

MAINTAINING DIRT HIGHWAY

Where Patrol System is Used, Light-Blade Grader is Best Tool to Stand Heavy Work.

The best tool for use on earth road maintenance is a light-blade grader. Where a patrol system of maintenance is used, this system is the very best. The ideal grader is one strong enough to stand the required strain when pulled by four horses in cleaning out ditches and other necessary work that is too heavy for two horses, yet light enough and so constructed that the draft will be such that two horses can easily pull it when doing ordinary grader work.

LACK INOCULATION AND LIME

Causes of Failure of Many Alfalfa Seedlings Reported to Iowa Experiment Station This Year.

Out of 1,073 alfalfa seedlings reported to the Iowa experiment station this year 14.5 per cent failed. Of these failures 88.1 per cent were due to lack of inoculation, lack of lime, or both. Inoculation is very important.

AT-HOME DRESSES

Simple Effects Characterize the Models Now Offered.

Little One-Piece Gowns of Soft Wool or Silk Fabric Are Favored by Millady.

Never were the costumes designed for the afternoon of "the day" at home so alluring in unusual artistry in simple effects.

The modes for the afternoon, when friends arrive to chat informal how'dya over cups filled with impromptu-brewed beverage, are quite wonderful in simple adjustment and decoration that typify the best artistry. Many of the models promise a permanency of respect for comfort, good health and beauty in the development of modes.

The little gowns for the afternoon at home are especially simple in the portrayal of a hostess' good taste in separating herself from any hint of being overdressed.

One model is a combination of skirt and jacket. The skirt is of black taffeta, quite plain, with exception of an apron of the same fabric, at the front, caught up in soft wattle folds at the left side, and secured at the hip line in one soft, long loop and longer end of the same fabric.

The back of the skirt is scantily fulled. The jacket is of white lace over fine black net, and it hangs straight to the hip line. The fronts form a low V, and attached to the edges and to the scolloped neck, in the back, is a wide Venice lace bertha, flowered on an almost transparent background.

Little black beads glisten on the neckline and sweeping neck line. The open front of the vestee is filled with six rows of soft lilac taffeta ribbon, scantily fulled into ruffles. The sleeves are elbow length, finished with narrow Venice lace. This model is declared one of the extremes in "dressiness" for the afternoon at home.

Little one-piece gowns of soft wool or silk fabric, daintily and plainly developed are especially in favor for millady's at home afternoon. Skirts and blouses, in odd or usual combination, are shown in great variety for these occasions.

One blouse has a front of red chiffon satin and attached sides and back of twill wool fabric. These sides are gathered at the waistline, and depend straight to the hip line. The plain back is similar. The sleeves are of the wool fabric, bell shaped at the wrist. Many of the blouses are quite plain, of lace, soft silk or wool—and others are fluffy and frilly things, but not at all suggestive of elaboration.

CHIC HAT OF AUTUMN BROWN

Here is shown an appealing hat of autumn leaf brown velvet; it is trimmed with a feathery fancy of the same color.

MANY CAPES WORN IN PARIS

French Styles Counted on to Hold Sway Throughout Country for Fall Wear.

Wise in the changed ways of the world, we no longer look every autumn for a complete revolution in fashion, such as used to happen in the old days, when every gown and suit in a woman's wardrobe might become unwearable almost over night, says a Paris writer in Vogue. Individual taste in dress is allowed its way nowadays, in a manner which was never dreamed of in our mothers' philosophy. Nevertheless, as summer wanes, we look eagerly for indications of coming modes in the dress of women whose ideas as a rule influence the mode, and we attend smart gatherings with our eyes wide open for any indication of future intentions on the part of the great couturiers.

What is worn in Paris during the Grande Semaine still has its bearing on what will be worn by the rest of the world in the autumn. Some of the early events were held in cool and threatening weather, with great gray clouds overhead, ready to pour rain on any expensive fanny. The later races were held in magnificent sunshine, but because of the first damp experiences, every other woman was provided with a cape, and every possible variety of this garment was to be seen. In all materials, from rubberized white tulle, with a big collar of black silk cloth, to filmy lace, collared inconspicuously, but charmingly in black fox-

DUVETYN AND SATIN DRESS

A dress of duvetyne and satin in wonderful shade of apricot, verging toward orange. On the skirt is embroidered realistic bunches of grapes.

USE RIBBON LOOP TRIMMING

Decoration Popular for Frocks, Millinery and Negliges, as Well as Fancy Work.

A ribbon trimming that is very pretty is made of ribbon loops. Satin ribbon about an inch wide is the favorite ribbon to make it of, and the loops are applied in all sorts of ways. Flat loops about two inches deep are perhaps the most favored. Pale pink ribbon loops make the sole trimming on a young girl's party frock of pink georgette and are looped at intervals of a few inches apart around the round baby neck, hang just below the wide arms at the top of the skirt and are looped upward on the short bell sleeves and upward from the hem.

On millinery loops of grosgrain ribbon, to imitate fringe, around the crown of this year's turbans are very good. Other wearables on which this popular ribbon loop trimming is seen include negligees, camisoles, petticoats, children's frocks, evening frocks and fancy work, such as sofa cushions and bureau accessories.

Wool Flowers and Trimmings. For fall, crocheted and embroidered wool trimming for hats will be more widely used than ever. Stiff geometric designs embroidered on felt, duvetyne and velvet in all colors. It is said by designers, will be fashionable. Wool embroidery on a net foundation if it is slightly raised, gives the effect of having been crocheted instead of worked through the material.

Boudoir Coat. For the boudoir, to give added warmth, little silk coats are worn instead of sweaters. They are sometimes padded with cotton for warmth, but what they are so supple that they cling to the figure charmingly.

THE LATEST PARIS COIFFURE

Hair Drawn Back Loosely From Forehead and Waved in Large Knot; Combs Used.

Fan-shaped coiffures are the fashion in Paris for evenings. This method of hairdressing is particularly suitable for the tall, slim figure. The hair is drawn back loosely from the forehead and waved in a large knot just above the nape of the neck.

From the knot there stands up a wide, high fan-like wave of hair, supported by invisible combs, which often reach four to six inches in height. The general effect is striking. Hair is now usually worn in its natural color, and the use of henna and other coloring matters is vanishing.

An effective headpiece is formed by a narrow band of brilliants just above the brow, which holds on the left-hand side a beautiful spray of black oespre's drooping over the face.

Applique Work for the Home. Attractive and original luncheon net, table runners, curtains, etc., can be made by applique work. Lines, either unbleached or colored, is generally used. The designs are carried out by using patches of contrasting colors.

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3811 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 605 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Still Slipping

The Republican machine, smarting under the continuous and unanswerable attacks made upon the machine's record in New Mexico since the incoming of statehood, is resorting to trickery and misrepresentation of the most papable sort.

The charge is now made that Judge Hanna advocates return to the old system of highway construction in New Mexico. Judge Hanna stands squarely upon the declaration of the Democratic State platform which advocates revision of the present road law so that a law may be had—

"Creating a State Highway Commission having direct supervision of all highway construction and maintenance under an effective budget system which will insure good roads at a fair and reasonable expense."

These are the words of the platform adopted at the Las Vegas convention. The purpose of Judge Hanna and the Democratic party is to abolish paid supervisors of roads in the counties. These supervisors are entirely independent of the State Highway Commission, and also they are independent in their actions of the county commissioners who pay them. If the present law should remain on the statute books, Judge Hanna, when he becomes governor, would have the appointment of twenty-nine road supervisors. His purpose is to dispense with them and have their salaries matched by the Federal road fund for the actual construction of roads in the state.

In naming Harry G. Norman for treasurer, and Ralph M. Treat for clerk, the democratic convention made excellent selections. They are thoroughly capable men and they are making a winning campaign. They are well known, have many friends among the independent voters, and will carry into their respective offices a practical and personal knowledge of the duties of each, which is a guarantee of efficient service.
