OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 21

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1920

NUMBER 46

Official Canvass

The Board of County Commissioners met Monday to canvass the election returns of Nov. 2. The official count differs slightly from the unofficial report published in our last week's table of precinct reports, but makes no changes in results, so far as the election of candidates is concerned. The two most important changes are in the vote for sheriff, wherein Harris' majority over Duran becomes 27 instead of 7, and Hulbert's majority over West in the first commissioners' district is only 9 instead of 59.

The official canvass gives the following totals:

Court Opens

District Court convened Monday, Judge Edwin Mechem presiding. All court officials were present, and the empanelling of the grand jury began. Upon the completion of the grand jury, Bert Bonnell was appointed foreman and the body immediately began its labors.

Wednesday night, after one of the shortest sessions in the history of Lincoln county, the grand jury made its final report and was discharged. Fifty-four true bills were returned and three no bills.

The greater number of the bills were for minor offenses, involving almost every community of the county, and related to operation of punch boards, slot machines and some gambling charges. Two murder cases and a few larceny cases are among the number.

The petit jury was empaneled Wednesday and discharged until Monday, Thursday being a holiday and the court having a large amount of business before it which could be transacted without a jury.

The session will probably run into the third week, but will close on or before the 27th as the term for Dona Ana county opens on the 29th. Quite a number of lawyers from various points of the state are present, and many litigants and witnesses are also on hand.

Surplus Shipping Material Is Sold for $15,000,000

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Sale of the shipping board's surplus materials on the Pacific coast, estimated to be worth about $15,000,000 to Barde Brothers, incorporated, of New York, was announced today by chairman Benson. Under the contract, he said, the board is guaranteed 50 percent of the appraised value of the materials, which must be sold by the Barde Brothers west of the Rocky Mountains within one year.

Barde Brothers are to get returns in excess of 50 percent appraised value up to 60 percent and all returns above 60 percent are to be divided, 75 percent to the board and 25 percent to Barde Brothers. A bond for $1,000,000 was deposited by the purchasers. Efforts to dispose of the stocks through direct sales failed to bring advantageous offers and the board then adopted the present plan.

Fourth Annual Roll Call of American Red Cross

Canvass for Renewal of Memberships to be made November 12 to 25

The fourth annual roll call of the American Red Cross began yesterday, 11th, and will last until the 25th. The call is nationwide.

Locally the Red Cross is maintaining a home service secretary and the Lincoln County Chapter is doing some good work in the various communities in a most commendable way. It is deserving of unstinted support.

The work of the Red Cross is known to all, and it is safe to predict that the roll call for 1921 will result in largely increased membership in the county.

Lincoln county contributed its full share in war work, generously supported the Red Cross in all its efforts, and is counted upon to lend substantial aid to the peace time program of the organization.

Thousands of young fellows who were in robust health before the war, are now needing the care of the Red Cross as much as they did in the filthy, shell-raked trenches of Flanders. Are we going to let them die for want of care?

A number of young girls have volunteered their services to conduct a tag day, and put Lincoln county over the top once more. Enroll and wear a 1921 button.

Spain's Grapes will make 607,660,000 gals. of Wine

Madrid, Spain, Nov. 9.—The wine grape harvest of Spain this year will probably produce 66,050,000 gallons of wine above last year's figures. An official forecast shows the grape harvest to total 8,375,200,000 pounds, which it is estimated will result in 607,660,000 gallons of wine.

Farmer Labor Vote

Last week no returns were given on the Farmer Labor vote in the unofficial reports from the precincts, although we had the names of all the candidates of that party in the table published. This week we have had access to the official poll books and can give the results by precincts, omitting names of candidates.

Precincts 1, Lincoln, 2, San Patricio, 3, Arabela, 4, Pisacho, 5, Rabenton, and 12 Bonito, the party received no vote for presidential electors nor state candidates.

In precinct 6, Escudoso, no vote for electors, but a scattering vote from 1 and 15 for state offices. Precinct 7, Jicarilla, gave 2 for state offices, nothing for electors. White Oaks, precinct 8, 2 for the state and nothing for electors. Capitan, precinct 9, gave 5 straight for national and state.

Precinct 10, Ruidoso, gave 6 for the electors and 5 for state ticket.

Nogal, precinct 11, gave 4 for national and 2 for state ticket.

Corona, precinct 13, cast 4 for electors and 5 for state.

Carrizozo, precinct 14, cast 13 for electors and from 7 to 15 for various state officials.

Oseuro, precinct 15, cast 3 for electors and 1 to 4 for state officials.

Precinct 16, Ancho, gave the electors nothing and on the state ticket Frank J. Ashe for auditor was given 1 vote.

Precinct 17, Spindle, gave 1 vote for electors and state ticket.

The highest vote for electors in all the precincts was 36, while the highest vote on the state ticket, combining the highest vote given any candidate in any precinct, was 57.

Enroll in the Red Cross, and wear the 1921 button.

Reaction Against Labor

New York, Nov. 7.—Samuel Gompers, in presenting an American Federation of Labor charter to the newly organized Central Trades and Labor Council of Greater New York Saturday, exhorted members to conduct themselves in a manner befitting the high standards of organized labor.

In a brief address upholding the cause of labor Mr. Gompers asserted "reaction has jumped into the saddle" and that he believed an organized movement is on foot by big business to undermine labor.

"It has never been so essential as now for unorganized labor to rally to the cause of unionism," he added.

The labor masses must stand together and meet their opponents manfully and heroically, he declared, and urged alertness to combat successfully disorganizing movements.

"We must be clean and honest," he added, "so that no finger of suspicion may be pointed at us."

Mr. Gompers said that while the men and women constituting the labor movement had made some mistakes in the past, these were few in comparison to the large number of persons involved, and that organized labor as a whole enjoyed a clean record.

The new organization, representative of more than a half million workers in Greater New York, will meet next Tuesday to elect officers. It is an outgrowth of the Central Federated Union in New York and the Central Labor Union in Brooklyn and also encompasses a number of union locals which were not members of either of the old organizations.

Appreciation

Ed W. Harris, sheriff-elect, desires to express his appreciation to the people of Lincoln county for the generous support accorded him in his race for sheriff, and promises a faithful performance of his duties in the office to which he has been chosen. He will further appreciate the aid and advice of the people in the execution of his official duties and pledges his best efforts to fulfill every obligation.

Lincoln News Items

On the evening of Oct. 30 the children of the Lincoln Consolidated schools gave a Hal-lowe'en party, and tho the weather was disagreeable, everyone enjoyed the evening very much. Dainty refreshments were served and games played.

On the afternoon of Oct. 30 the Girls Basket-ball team of Capitan came to Lincoln for a game with the basket-ball team of Lincoln. The score was 29 to 9 in favor of Capitan. The Lincoln girls played a good game but they need practice in team work. A few of the Capitan girls stayed for the party. Capitan has a fine team.

A return game was played Nov. 6 in which the Lincoln girls were defeated. After the game the Lincoln girls were nicely entertained by the Capitan girls at a Box Supper and a dance.

The new school house will be completed by Thanksgiving. The school is planning a program for the dedication of the new building.

The people who so kindly let us use their cars in behalf of the Basket-ball team were: Mrs. Penfield, Mr. P. Chavez, Mrs. Pfingsten and Mr. Mims. We appreciate their spirit very much.

The Lincoln consolidated schools have an enrollment of 125 pupils and an average daily attendance of 110 pupils.

Public Health Report

October was a busy month for the County Health Nurse, Mrs. E. A. Greene. The schools at Ancho, Bogle, Capitan and Fort Stanton were visited. A good part of the month was devoted to examination of the school children. Several cases of defective vision and inflamed eyes were found in the Ancho school, besides a number of children not vaccinated.

All pupils in the Capitan schools were found in a good health, except a few cases of enlarged tonsils and defective vision.

Three cases of chicken pox, one of typhoid and one of pneumonia was reported from District 7 last month.

Gems Found in Many Countries

World's Annual Production of Diamonds Worth Only About $65,000,000.

IS AN ANCIENT INDUSTRY

In India It Antedates Christ's Birth by Many Centuries—Total Production to End of 1919 Was 187,900,000 Metric Carats.

New York.—Writing in the Engineering and Mining Journal, Sydney H. Hall tells an interesting story about the world's diamonds. Their sources are scattered pretty widely over the globe, but with the exception of two or three of the big South African mines the gems are found generally as the result of small operations. Mr. Hall writes:

"Diamonds are much more widely distributed than is commonly supposed. The value of the gem, its physical and chemical intractability under most conditions, and its relatively great brilliance, even in the rough, have perhaps led to the discovery of a large proportion of its occurrences. On the other hand, its minuteness, together with the fact that the habit of the rough stone is unknown to many prospectors and engineers, has doubtless caused many occurrences, possibly even of commercial importance, to remain undiscovered.

Fields Discovered by Accident.
"The Kolar field, the most important Indian producer in Traverser's time, was found by a poor native while plowing his millet field. A monk, formerly resident in India, first recognized the true character of the Brazilian gem, although gold miners for years had treasured them as curiosities.

"Though the known occurrences of diamonds are much more numerous than those of many well known minerals—cryolite, for example—a map of the carbonada occurrences would be blank except for a couple of dots in the states of Bahia, in Minas Geraes, Brazil, and in Borneo. In Brazil itself diamonds were found in 1727, and carbonada only in 1843.

"It would be strange if scattered diamonds do not occur in South Carolina, but the reported finds need confirmation, as certainly do those from Illinois near Ashley; near Syracuse, N. Y.; in Missouri; Yankton, S. D.; Santa Maria river and Philadelphia, Ark.; Cleveland, O., and San Juan county, Colo.

"Persistent rumors were current 50 years ago that diamonds occurred in the Sierra Madre, near Acapulco, Mex., but occurrences in this locality are doubtful, as are several others reported in Mexico. The reported finding of a large diamond at Nipissing, Canada, should be accepted with reserve, and the rumors 60 years ago that diamonds occur in Nova Scotia are doubtless without foundation.

"Diamond mining is an ancient industry, and in India antedates Christ's birth by many centuries.

"The total production of diamonds to the end of 1919 was approximately 187,900,000 metric carats, of which South Africa has produced about 158,750,000 carats, or 84.8 per cent; Brazil about 24,000,000, or 12.8 per cent; India a little over 12,000,000, or 6.3 per cent, and the Southwest Protectorate, 6,150,000, or 3.2 per cent. Borneo has perhaps produced in all 1,000,000 carats, and the Belgian Congo, Australia, British Guiana, Rhodesia, named in their relative order of importance, together with other localties, have produced a further 1,000,000 carats. The 187,900,000 carats would fill a box slightly under eight feet cube. The value of the rough product can be placed at about $1,750,000,000, and before the stones reach the ultimate consumer at probably two or three times this sum.

World's Supply Increases.

"Like that of the major metals, the diamond output recently has been many times that of the former annual production. Indeed, since 1899 about 80 per cent of the diamonds which have been produced in all time have been mined. More than most mineral products, however, the stock of diamonds is accumulating, as, except for the loss in cutting, which probably averages slightly over 30 per cent, there is no notable wastage, and the world's stock of cut stones must now approach $5,000,000 carats.

"It is difficult to name a normal year's diamond production, but for 1912 and 1913 it was from 6,100,000 to 6,700,000 carats, worth $53,000,000 to $72,000,000. Production hereafter will be determined largely by the diamond market, for the dominant production, that of South Africa, is in the hands of strong financial interests.

"Except for the De Beers, Premier, and Jagersfontein pipe mines, in South Africa, the diamond production is from relatively small operations. In 1913 the Premier diamond mine alone, however, treated 1,435,000 loads of blue ground, or, say, 9,301,500 tons worth approximately $1.10 a ton, at a cost of 67 cents a ton. For comparison, in 1916, the Utah Copper company treated about 10,904,000 tons of copper ore. The Premier diamond product could be carried in a large dress suit case."

Export of Locomotives to Break Record This Year.

Orders for Locomotives From American Railroads Will Not Be Relatively Large in 1920.

Washington.—Exports of steam locomotives from the United States this year are going to break all records, according to the official figures shown in the monthly summary of foreign commerce of the United States. The exports in July numbered 184, valued at $4,742,506, as compared with 17, valued at $322,775, in July, 1919. In the first seven months of 1920 the locomotives exported numbered 1,025, valued at $32,544,848, as compared with 446, valued at $15,425,490, in the same period of 1919, or 660, valued at $15,425,490, in the first seven months of 1918. The best previous record was reached in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918, in which period there were exported 1,457 locomotives, valued at $35,890,692.

In the United States, according to figures in the Railway Age, class 1 railroads ordered in the first nine months of this year only 1,403 locomotives, 40,254 freight cars and 814 passenger cars. Canadian roads ordered 154 locomotives, 10,778 freight cars and 174 passenger cars. The total orders for freight cars placed in the United States amounted to 57,172. "The figures," says the Railway Age,

"show that the railroads are not ordering cars anywhere near in proportion to their needs. Locomotives are being contracted for on a proportionately better basis, but if the rate of buying for the rest of the year continues on the same basis as for the first nine months, it is evident that the totals of locomotive orders for the year will not be relatively large."

MILK FLOOD CLOGS BOWERY

Traffic Tied Up for Hour When 4,320 Bottles Are Smashed in Accident.

New York.—The gutters of the Bowery were awash with milk Sunday. A large truck containing 240 cases, or 4,320 bottles, of the liquid, was overturned at Broome street, when the wheels became jammed in the car tracks. Every bottle was smashed. Traffic on the Madison avenue and Third avenue surface car lines was tied up for more than an hour.

Patrons of Bowery lodging houses are aroused over announcement of an advance in rates. The Bowery "hotels" have increased their prices from the 15 and 20 cent schedule, maintained for many years, to double these rates, in many cases, with an average rate now of 40 cents.

In connection with the increased rate many of the proprietors have eliminated the clean towel, formerly thrown in with the night's lodging.

Pays Taxes on the Smell.
Louisville, Ky.—The Bernheim Distilling company thinks it's going a bit too far to tax it for the smell in its empty whisky barrels. But the government has already collected $5,000 and is fighting a suit of the distilling company to recover it. The government alleges the company poured boiling water into empty whisky barrels with nothing but the smell left, and then evaporated the water, securing a large quantity of alcohol.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

A vegetable dish which is well liked and may be prepared with either fresh or canned tomatoes is—

Scalloped Tomato and Green pepper.—Take about half the bulk of tomato in soft, fine bread crumbs.

For a cupful of crumbs, melt one-fourth of a cupful of butter, put one or two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, mix the rest of the butter through the bread crumbs. To the butter in the saucepan, add a slice of thinly sliced onion and half a small green pepper shredded fine. Stir and cook until softened, then mix through the crumbs. Arrange the tomatoes and prepared crumbs in alternate layers in a baking dish, sprinkling each layer of tomatoes with salt and pepper. Have the last layer of crumbs; bake twenty minutes.

Russian Salad Dressing.—Mix together one-fourth of a cupful of olive oil, one teaspoonful of vinegar, one-fourth teaspoonful each of mustard and salt, one-half teaspoonful of paprika and one-fourth cupful of chili sauce; then gradually, using the egg beater, add one-half cupful of mayonnaise dressing.

Pot-Roasted Pork Chops.—Choose chops with only a medium amount of fat and somewhat thicker than usual. After browning the chops on each side in a frying pan, add an onion cut fine and pepper and salt. Cover with water and let simmer on the back of the stove for an hour and a half. Add a little flour to thicken the gravy, and serve. The flour if added while the chops are browning, will be of better flavor.

Pecan Sausages.—Mix together three-fourths of a cupful of hot cooked cream of wheat, one-fourth of a cupful of finely crushed pecan meats, half a teaspoonful each of powdered thyme and sage; mix all thoroughly, then add one egg beaten light and form into shape to resemble link sausages. Place in a pan well greased, and bake twenty minutes. Serve with bananas cut in halves and then in quarters crosswise, rolled in flour and fried on both sides in hot fat. Serve with a cupful of tomato or cream sauce.

We must fight our way onward. We must be brave. There are obstacles to be met and we must meet and crush them.—David Copperfield.

HOW TO PREPARE RICE.

The black man's recipe to dress rice runs: "Wash him well, much wash in cold water; the rice flour make him slick. Water boil already fast. Throw him in; rice can't burn, water shake him too much. Boil quarter of an hour or little more; rub one rice in thumb and finger; if all rub away, him quick done. Put rice in colander, hot water run away; pour cupful of cold water on him, put back rice in saucepan, keep him covered near the fire, then rice all ready. Eat him up!"—Gertrude Morrison, in American Cookery.

Rice may be used as a substitute for vegetables, as a thickening for soup, an addition to bread sponge, a salad, a main dish, a dessert. There are but a few of the many accomplishments of this dainty food.

Wild rice is obtained in abundance in many of our states and those who have been treated to this wholesome cereal like it very much. It is very similar to the tame rice except it is not polished, which leaves the food value (which in the tame rice is polished away) that is so important in the growth and health of the young.

Rice With Meat.—Take two cupfuls of boiled rice, one cupful of chopped fresh meat, browned in a tablespoonful of sweet fat; remove the meat, add a small onion finely minced, a tablespoonful of minced parsley or half of a small green pepper cooked in the same fat. Place a layer of the cooked rice in a baking dish, cover with a layer of the meat, season well, add some of the onion and pepper. Repeat until the rice and meat are used, cover with one cupful of tomato and bake slowly for an hour.

Baked Rice and Codfish.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of well-washed rice, one cupful of water and four cupfuls of milk. Add the water and the milk gradually to the rice while cooking and cook half an hour. Remove from the stove and add one cupful of rich milk, two well-beaten eggs and three cupfuls of shredded codfish, pepper and salt to taste. Bake in a moderate oven forty-five minutes. Serve with drawn butter sauce.

Baked Rice Pudding.—Take one-quarter of a cupful of well-washed rice, one cupful of milk, sugar and nutmeg or cinnamon to taste, one-half cupful or less of raisins. Bake in a slow oven, stirring occasionally during the first hour of baking, for three

The subject of the Sunday school lesson was the golden rule, so during the next week when little Anna was naughty and her mother had to use her stick real hard and put her in a chair to reflect, she asked Anna what she thought about it. STAYED AT HOME

In Lincoln county, in New Mexico and in many other states of the nation, it was the "stay-at-home" that put the republicans over. The reasons for this large stay-at-home vote are best known to the ones who did so, but speculation may be indulged since the results are known. Of course, speculation elicits no officials, after the results have been announced, and yet it affords some measure of satisfaction to the speculator who can see what might have been, as well as what would have been, had a greater interest been manifested in the rural districts.

The "stay-at-home vote" affected both parties, but in Lincoln county and New Mexico the democratic loss from this source was immeasurably greater than the republicans, and the same ratio of loss throughout the nation easily accounts for the results of the 2nd of November.

For instance, in Lincoln county after deducting for double registration, which prevailed in practically every precinct, over 500 democrats stayed at home. The republican stay-at-home vote was less than half that number. In the state 10,000 democrats stayed at home.

It is now too late to answer the question "Why didn't you get out your vote?" but it is not too early to say next time we will.

County School Survey

The school at Lincoln four years ago consisted of a one-teacher school. Now under consolidation we find a five teacher school, consisting of various grades and first year high school with a college graduate in charge and full credit will be given for this work. The corps of teachers is all that could be desired. A new building is in progress, which will be a splendid addition. Two transportation routes are busy transporting children from former districts 18 and 27. Messrs. A. C. Hulbert and Fred Pingleton, truck owners, have charge of the transportation.

The school at Honda was found to be in splendid condition. The children awake to the necessity of an education and competent teachers ready and willing to assist in obtaining same.

The school building at Tinsie was found to be neat and sanitary. Each child seems to have a special aim in its work.

The school at Picocho is making its mark in school statistics. The Attendance Banner for September was won by Mr. Wilfirth's room with an average attendance of 98 per cent. Mrs. Ruth Wilfirth's room is winner for October. Picocho has a transportation route from the Bonnet Ranch community. Mr. Perfecto, owner of hack transport children.

At San Patricio we found the school overflowing. The bonds voted last spring were not sold in one bid were received, but better things are coming. The transportation of 85 children from former School District No. 10 is carried on by Clifford Curry, owner of the truck. Consideration is a move in the right direction, and we hope next year to have better school building and adequate transportation facilities.

Friday was spent visiting the school buildings in Carrizozo.

not as an anesthetic. Supt. Cole is very efficient and has been very fortunate in the selection of his co-workers. The School Board desires to make Carrizozo Schools second to none.

Owing to business, Mr. Conway was not able to finish the survey at this time, but will return at some future date.

An epidemic of diphtheria has made its appearance in Ancho. It was found necessary to close the school for a time. Everything possible is being done to allay the disease and prevent its spreading to other communities. A strict quarantine is being maintained.

The State Teachers' Association meet at Albuquerque, Nov. 20 to 24th inclusive. An excellent program has been prepared by the executive committee, and every teacher is urged to attend and reap the benefit of this splendid program. Special services in churches Sunday. Rates of one and one third fare for round trip have been secured. Hotel accommodations may be secured by writing Mr. John Milne, secretary of the association or the Chamber of Commerce, Albuquerque, N. M.

Fort Bayard San Has 1,000 Patients

Washington, Nov. 8.—The U. S. Public Health Service Sanatorium at Fort Bayard, N. M., which was recently taken over by the army, has already been nearly filled to its capacity of 1,000 patients, and the demand for milk has made it necessary to increase the fine dairy herd that was taken over with the sanatorium. For this purpose a trainload of purebred Jersey milk cows and of well-bred Holstein beef cattle was recently shipped to it from the Public Health Service Sanatorium at Fort Stanton, N. M., where the herds have increased in excess of the needs of the station, though this has been running at full capacity.

Resolution

Whereas, the Divine Ruler of the Universe in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to call from our midst the wife of our brother, R. T. Cribb, therefore be it Resolved—That Carrizozo Lodge No. 30, I.O.O.F. express its sincere sorrow and sympathy to the bereaved husband in the loss of his beloved wife, which, though gone before, shall never be forgotten; and

Be it further resolved that this memorial be spread on the minutes and a copy furnished the local papers.

OUTLINES FOR SCHOOLS FOR SAVINGS DIVISION

Dallas, Texas.—Valuable suggestions, in the form of outlines, will be furnished to teachers of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District to aid them in conducting the "earn, save and invest" campaign of the Government in the schools this year, according to Clarence W. Hume, Federal District Director.

Material for primary grades will be prepared for the Division by Mrs. Ella F. Little, Primary Supervisor of Rural Schools, of the State Department of Education of Texas, said Mr. Hume. "A specialist in elementary school work will prepare suggestions to be sent teachers of fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, to be used in connection with either language or history recitations, or both. Mr. L. H. Hubbard, Superintendent of City Schools, Dallas, Texas, will prepare matter for use by high school pupils in their English classes. Negotiations are under way for a specialist in history to furnish the Division outlines for use of high school classes and teachers of history.

"These suggestions will be usable in high school classes already organized; additional classes or periods will not be necessary. They will relate to matters discussed in text books, offer interesting side lights on topics there presented and show how they naturally develop into approval of the principles promulgated by the Savings Division. They are simple: earn something, live on something less, save; invest, put your savings where they are safe and earn something. When school children do this they will find Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates most convenient in accumulation, and safe, savings accounts in banks also meet with approval of this campaign."

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS URGE FUNDS BE PLACED IN U. S. SECURITIES

Montreal, Canada.—The Fortieth Convention of the American Federation of Labor, by unanimous vote, declared regular and systematic investment in Government securities a part of its permanent policy for the benefit of its members and the welfare of the country. The resolution bearing on this subject reads in part: "The American Federation of Labor reiterates its former endorsement and approval of the plan of the Savings Division of the United States Treasury Department now being operated in each of the Federal Reserve Districts.

"All International Unions and Federal Unions are urged to advocate Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates as the best and safest method for saving and investment their members can adopt, against the schemes of those who are now undertaking to take advantage of the Government's savings program and the savings habit formed during the war by introducing thrift systems in industry, through which they will make a profit from the savings of workers."

The convention also recommended local unions place their funds in government securities, buy Liberty and Victory Notes and hold them to maturity. The convention's final resolution asked that the government continue and extend the savings work through each of the Federal Reserve Districts.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BOND FOR SAME REASON YOU BOUGHT IT

"Whatever your motive for buying Liberty Bonds," says Scribner's Magazine, "the same motives should impel you to manage your investment thoughtfully. Usually selling bonds is unwise as well as unpatriotic. If money is needed for an emergency, money can be borrowed at the bank, with the bond as security. If selling a Liberty Bond can not be avoided, sell it through a banker or broker of known integrity, who has facilities for handling it at very small cost."

"He who spends more than he earns trends the path thieves have trod since the invention of bills; only luck can keep him from reaching its end. Live within your income; give your dollars a chance to work for you. Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates are within the reach of every one not on the thief's road."

The laborer works for his money; the capitalist's money works for him. Put 14.36 in a War Savings Stamp and be a capitalist.

The American people spend more money annually for tobacco and chewing gum than the entire issue of Liberty Bonds.

LIBRARIANS JOIN FIGHT ON UNREST

American Library Association inaugurates Nation-wide "Books for Everybody" Movement.

WILL AID FOREIGN BORN.

Social Problems Can Be Solved by Teaching American Ideals and Traditions.

The spirit of unrest that has been sweeping the country indicates that the foreign born, who have flocked to the United States from every corner of the globe have not been given the proper help and encouragement, in the opinion of the 4,000 librarians who make up the American Library Association and who are now enlisted in a "Books for Everybody" movement. The effort is a concerted movement to carry out the Enlarged Program which the association has adopted. There are approximately fifteen millions of foreign born in the United States and of this number six millions do not read or speak the English language. One phase of the Enlarged Program will be to bring the publisher and translator together with the view of furnishing the proper books in sufficient numbers to carry the message of American ideals and traditions to this vast army of unenlightened people. They have been largely dependent upon the foreign press for their written messages. Many men who live with their fingers on the pulse of current events are firmly convinced that a sound foundation in Americanism can be easily built among the foreign born if the proper literature is placed within their reach in a language they can understand.

No Drive to Be Held.

In order to carry out the Enlarged Program two million dollars will be required. This money will not be sought through the medium of a campaign or an intensive drive, but will be obtained through the individual efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries. The American Library Association will bend every effort to bring about the nationwide adoption of each of the cardinal points in the Program, which includes the extension of the county library system and the establishment of more industrial and business libraries. It now has in operation book service to the United States Merchant Marine, Coast Guard, Lighthouse Service and hospitals of the United States Public Health Service. The needs of the 70,000 blind persons in the United States will be cared for. At present the number of books available is woefully inadequate. This will be remedied and the joys of good literature will be brought into lives that are darkened by a veil which will never be raised by any other method.

Not all the work of Americanization lies in the great centers of population. Great sections of the country where industry is carried on by foreign workers do not know public library service. There are important mining states where less than a score of libraries exist. One mining state has but two public libraries.

MORE BOOKS FOR BLIND.

American Library Association Behind Movement to Bring Good Literature to Those Who Walk in the Dark.

There are between 75,000 and 80,000 blind people in the United States. The supply of books in the recently adopted uniform Braille type for their use is inadequate, there being less than 100 titles existing in that print. The American Library Association has included in the projects of its Enlarged Program the raising of additional volumes. It has already succeeded in inducing several well-known authors to finance the brailleing of one or more of their books. In inaugurating its "Books for Everybody" movement a fund of $1,000,000 will be raised to carry out the provisions of the Program, the money to be obtained not by a stamp, patent or drive, but through the efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries.

Four Billion Tax Bill to Continue

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Should congress adopt recommendations drafted by treasury officials and which, it is understood, have been laid before secretary Houston for approval, the United States will face a continuation of the annual tax bill of $4,000,000,000 for at least three years.

Mr. Houston, it was said, probably will include such recommendations in the form of an analysis of the government's financial condition in his forthcoming annual report to congress. The analysis will show, and accompanying recommendations will show, and suggest, it was said, a three year program for tax revision is required in order to meet maturing government obligations and cover current federal expenses, and the approximately $8,000,000,000 in Victory notes, war saving securities and treasury certificates of indebtedness

Retention of the present aggregate level of taxes or maintenance of the annual revenue of the government at about $4,000,000,000 is held to be unavoidable on the face of average expenditures estimated for the period.

Recommendations to be made by Mr. Houston, it is understood, will propose abolishment of the excess profit taxes in their entirety and the substitution thereof of a graduated income tax of a substantially deeper cut than under present revenue laws. It was believed the new income taxes would apply only to incomes above $5000 annually and that provision would be made for a graduated increase even on the additional tax as the amount of income grows larger.

The secretary is expected to advise congress that the strictest economy in federal appropriations is necessary if the program outlined on the basis of a $4,000,000,000 tax bill is to be accomplished. He has said there was no way to estimate with any degree of accuracy what even the present laws would yield in revenue because of the rapidly changing conditions in business as a result of after the war transition and readjustment.

Mr. Houston's view of this was said to be that tax receipts would be materially lower later in the present fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1921, and that therefore the government income under the present revenue laws could not be taken as a basis for calculating future receipts.

The attitude, which is held also by practically all treasury officials having to do with tax collections, forecast a task of great difficulty for the framers of the revenue act. The treasury will insist strongly on legislation, which would produce $4,000,000,000 for the next year, but the ways and means of getting it will be left to congress except for the suggestions contained in the treasury's report. In fact the tax laws framers will be informed that there is no alternative to voting a revenue act that will produce the required amount.

The program for handling the national debt can be accomplished only through annual revenue of $4,000,000,000 treasury officials hold. With the Victory notes maturing in 1923 and the war savings securities falling due in the interim and until 1924, it was declared a possibility that the four billion dollar tax level might have to be continued even until the latter date.

Treasury views are expected to clash with those of the Republican majority in congress on questions of ways and means of obtaining the needed revenues. But with the changing administration, it was understood the present regime at the treasury would merely suggest and offer little argument in support of their stand for repeal of the excess profits taxes and replacement of the amounts so gained by higher income taxes.

It was expected that tariff questions would be brought into the discussion—that those in charge of tax legislation might seek to offset some of the deficit by higher duties and customs, according to the treasury's argument for wiping the profits tax provision off the statute books.

The treasury is committed to a continuation of the sale of savings securities. Although amounts thus obtained are small, they help materially in relieving current burdens of demand on the treasury. This feature of the financial status of the government will also have to be considered in the next tax laws, since officials believe it offers one road for the distribution of small amounts of the tax burden over several additional years.

It was said to be only a means of deferring payment but after

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Narazon, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so listless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shell. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and badly upset.

I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just listless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it . . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for it more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it.

can be better handled. Meanwhile the treasury will carry on its announced program of short term financing, issuing certificates of indebtedness to meet current requirements in anticipation of quarterly payment of income and profits taxes.

It was said the certificate issued probably would continue on a monthly basis until congress indicates what it will do in the way of tax legislation.

A Luncheon

On Thursday, Nov. 18, in Lutz Hall, the Woman's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will serve a two-course luncheon and coffee between 4 and 7 p.m. Liberal provision will be made for everyone. The price will be fifty cents.

F. M. Brickley, cashier of the First National Bank and state senator elect, returned this Monday from a week's trip to Torrance county.

Father J. H. Girma, who has been the Catholic pastor of the Lincoln and Carrizozo dioceses for about 16 years, will leave Sunday for Villanueva, San Miguel county where he will be pastor of the church of Our Lady of Guadalupe. His many friends in all parts of this county regret his departure. His successor has not yet been appointed.

School Notes

We have been advertising a demonstration of our physics apparatus for Friday night of this week, but shall have to postpone it till Friday night of next week. This is on account of the entertainment by The Montague Light Opera Singers, next Friday night, at the Crystal Theatre. The entertainments furnished by the Lyceum cannot, of course, be put off. However on Friday, the 19th of November, we shall have our high school entertainment, and nothing shall prevent it. So remember the date.

having trouble finding seats for the pupils. We made a liberal estimate, at the beginning of the school year, and thought we had seats for all the pupils who would be in school during the year.

Already we have had to add three whole rows of seats in three of the middle grades. The Senior High School is 50 percent larger than at the same time last year.

We urge parents and friends of the pupils to visit the schools at any time. You will find the rooms in good order, teachers earnest and attending to business, pupils quiet, orderly, working. When Assistant State Superintendent of Schools, Mr. John V. Conway, visited our schools last week he pronounced everything in first class condition. Visit the schools and you will know what you are talking about if you wish to praise or criticize them. We believe they are in good order, with both pupils and teachers working hard.

Armistice Day was observed by the upper grades in the high school room. At fifteen minutes of eleven, Mr. Brickley, local Commander of the American Legion, at the invitation of superintendent Cole, addressed the students, and at eleven o'clock all stood at attention, facing the west for one minute. We were all glad to thus honor those who gave up their lives, health and strength in the late war. Mr. Brickley made a fine address to the students and we wish to further express our appreciation in this public way.

The following is the program for Friday, Nov. 12, in the high school:

- Call to Order President
- Reading of Minutes Secretary
- Critic's Report Lois Jones
- Business meeting School
- Song 'O Fair New Mexico' School
- Parliamentary talk Will Johnson
- Current Events Wm. Kahler
- Piano Solo Ada Corn
- Paper Jewell Miller, Rolla Place
- Song "America, the Beautiful" School
- Reading Kastler Taylor
- Debate, Jeannette Johnson, V.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

British Cabinet Succeeds in Its Efforts to Settle the Coal Miners' Strike.

EMERGENCY ACT IS PASSED

Government Ready for Any Contingency—Irish Everywhere Deeply Affected by MacSwiney's Death—Prince Paul Offered Greek Throne—American Farmers' Strike by Hold.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Excepting for our presidential campaign, of whose closing days there is little or nothing to say, the affairs of Great Britain supplied the most interesting and important news of the week. The strike of the coal miners, with its threats of further and greater economic troubles, added to the Irish problem, gave the British enough to worry over and these two matters continued to draw the attention, sympathy or otherwise, of the English-speaking world.

Prime Minister Lloyd George and his cabinet were unremitting in their efforts to settle the miners' strike, and on Thursday it was announced that they had succeeded in the miners would accept the plan. After repeated conferences with the labor leaders a tentative agreement was reached.

The settlement upon which the miners' delegates, coal mine owners, and the government are agreed is a very complicated one. Briefly the men get a sliding advance of two shillings to one shilling six pence, according to age as was originally demanded.

The miners and owners solemnly pledge to cooperate to secure an increased output of coal. National and district committees are to be established immediately to control the output and a joint national wage board will be established at the earliest possible time before March 31 for regulation of wages for the whole industry, with regard to profits of the industry and the principles on which profits should be dealt with.

The miners' executive committee was to submit the settlement to the miners' federation for approval, so the return of the men to the pits will not be delayed.

The railway men and transport workers, in view of the hopeful character of the negotiations, postponed any action looking to a sympathetic strike.

Though very optimistic, the government made ready for all contingencies by rushing through to final passage its emergency bill. This arms the government with added powers to enforce the law in case the strike continues and the rail and transport men become involved. Though it was passed by a large majority, some concessions were demanded and received by the labor party. The law as enacted provides that nothing in the act shall be construed as authorizing the proclamation of any form of compulsory military service or industrial conscription or make it an offense for any person to participate in a strike or peacefully persuade any other person to participate in a strike.

Tenace MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, finally succeeded in starting himself to death in Brixton jail, a "suicide" in the sense of Irish freedom. The second death among the biggest strikers in prison in Cork also was recorded. These events deeply affected all the Irish in Ireland and America as well, and there were numerous meetings and other demonstrations in connection with the deaths. The impact of these deaths upon the people is being felt in many parts of the world.

The coroner's inquest on MacSwiney was held Wednesday. The British jury refused to accept the position that MacSwiney was a suicide, bringing in a verdict that "The deceased died from heart failure due to a dilated heart and acute delirium, following scurvy due to exhaustion from prolonged refusal to take food." The body was then taken to St. George's cathedral in Southwark, where it lay in state. Thursday requiem high mass was said and then a tremendous throng of Irish and their sympathizers accompanied the casket to Euston station, whence it was taken to Cork. In that city arrangements were made for the final ceremonies on Sunday, and there was a great deal of uneasiness over what might occur. The authorities placed no limit on the size of the procession, forbidding only military formations. The people of Cork were said to be in sullen and threatening mood.

The Irish sympathizers in the United States are not letting up any in their activities. The other day a delegation of them, headed by Frank P. Walsh, presented to Secretary of State Coby arguments favoring the recognition of the "new republic of Ireland." Mr. Coby listened without comment, but cautioned Mr. Walsh, when reference was made to Eamon de Valera as "president" of Ireland, that as secretary of state he could hear them only on the understanding that they were there as American citizens and not as representatives of officials of the Irish people.

"We demand recognition, not as a favor," said Mr. Walsh, "but as a right. The Irish republic is now established as a de jure and de facto government. Its stability and representative character are attested by the indorsement of the ballots of 90 per cent of the Irish people. The courts of the Irish republic are functioning daily and their decisions are respected by the entire population."

Though not so important an event as it would have been before the World war, the death of the king of Greece may lead to developments of some moment in that country. Alexander died on Monday as the result of a monkey bite. The state council at once decided that the throne should be offered to his younger brother, Prince Paul, but stipulated that if he accepted former King Constantine must formally renounce his claim to the crown. Paul let it be known that his decision must be made by his father. There is a chance that if he declines the throne will be offered to Prince Christopher, Constantine's brother, who early in the year married Mrs. William B. Leeds, an American. Still more likely, however, is the establishment of a republic, probably with Premier Venizelos as its first president.

The expected concerted movement of the Reds against Baron Wrangel in southern Russia has not developed very rapidly, possibly because the Bolsheviks are too much occupied in combating revolts within the territory which they control. The latest of these outbreaks are reported to be in the regions of Odessa, Kherson and Podolia. That the situation in the Moscow district is serious for the soviet government is indicated by the fact that Dzerzhinski, president of the extraordinary executive committee, has been appointed commander in chief of all the troops there. He is the most brutal of all the Bolshevik leaders and is considered responsible for much of the Red terrorism and for many murders.

Meanwhile Wrangel continues to insist on his advances and to capture prisoners and material; and he does not seem to have lost any ground to the Reds.

The all-Russian soviet has ratified the peace treaty with Poland, and has given the Poles more territory than they asked at first, in return for a pledge not to help Wrangel.

Being informed by their military telegrams in Lithuania that large bodies of well equipped German troops were crossing into that country from East Prussia and concentrating in the Curia region, the allies protested to Berlin, but the German foreign office replied that it was prepared to prevent the march.

the Lithuanians in an offensive against the Poles. The plan, apparently, is first to drive Zeligowski out of Vilna and then sweep southward to Suwalki, Grodno and the Ossowicz fortresses. The matter of Vilna was referred to a plebiscite by the council of the League of Nations.

Last Tuesday the council adopted the plan for a permanent court of international justice recommended by The Hague committee of jurists, with the exception of the provision for obligatory jurisdiction. The plan was in large measure the work of Eilhu Root. The council closed its session Thursday.

Some of the farmers of Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and the Northwestern states began last week their "strike" against the low price of wheat on the Chicago board of trade. Following the instructions of their organization leaders, they are withholding their wheat from the market, and the effect of decreased receipts began to be felt at once. In the vicinity of Wichita, Kan., farmers picketed the roads, urging those on their way to the elevators to turn back.

The wheat raisers of Iowa were urged to take part in the "strike" by E. A. Cunningham, secretary of the state farm bureau, who said the Iowa wheat crop cost $1.58 a bushel to harvest and the oats crop cost 75 cents a bushel. He blamed manipulation for the recent sharp declines in prices of grain.

"There is no justification for the tremendous break in the market," he said. "We believe a reaction must come. We urge every farmer to withhold his commodities."

"The situation cannot become more serious and a further decline can do nothing more than to add to the seriousness of the situation. On the other hand, a reasonable reaction would probably avoid financial ruin."

The farmers are asked by Mr. Cunningham to buy nothing but essentials. Farmers complain that they have to pay high rates to borrow money to handle the bumper crops.

Meanwhile Canadian wheat, which is coming into the United States duty free for milling purposes, is being bought in large quantities by mills and exporters in this country. The duty on Canadian wheat was taken off by President Wilson at the suggestion of Wheat Director J. H. Barnes in the effort to reduce the cost of living. It was expected that in this way our millers would be enabled to lower the price of flour; the effect was limited, however.

For the first time since he was taken ill more than a year ago President Wilson delivered a speech on Wednesday. A group of pro-league Republicans, headed by Hamilton Holt, called on him in the White House, and in response to their address he spoke, from his wheel chair, in defense of the league covenant as he brought it from Paris. In upholding article 10 he said: "It is the specific pledge of the members of the league that they will unite to resist exactly the things which Germany attempted, no matter who attempts them in the future. It is as exact a definition as could be given in general terms of the outrage which Germany would have committed if it could."

Instead of being a threat of war, he said later, article 10 is "an assurance of the concert of all the free peoples of the world in the future, as in the recent past, to see justice done and humanity protected and vindicated. This is the true, the real Americanism. This is the role of leadership and championship of the right which the leaders of the republic intended that it should play. The so-called Americanism which we hear so much prating about now is spurious and invented for party purposes only."

One sporting event closed last week and another began. In the international balloon race, in this country, the Belgian entry Belgica was declared the winner. WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Uncle Sam's Latin-American Squadron

WASHINGTON.—A squadron of nine war vessels has been formed to patrol the waters of Central and South America, operating as a distinct command from either the Atlantic or Pacific fleet. Rear Admiral Benjamin C. Bryan has been named as the commander of the first Latin-American squadron.

His force consists of five light and speedy cruisers, the Dea, Galveston, Des Moines, Cleveland and Tacoma, and the gunboats Ashcroft, Niagara and Sacramento, with the Dolphin, formerly the official vessel of the secretary of the navy as flagship.

The squadron will have its base at the Canal Zone, which will enable it to transfer in whole or in part from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and makes possible the speedy mobilization of an adequate force to meet any emergency.

Admiral Bryan will have several thousand men under his command, and the character of the fleet will permit of the close patrol even of shallow tidal waters.

It was explained at the navy department that the object of creating the Latin-American squadron was to centralise command of all vessels on duty in those waters and eliminate complications as to assignment of vessels for special duty there.

Secretary Daniels said that the arrangement had been completed after consultation with admiral Rodman, commanding the Pacific fleet, and Admiral Wilson, in command in Atlantic waters, and that it was designed to simplify the transcendently extensive patrol along the Latin-American coast.

It is known, however, that the State department has shown great interest in the report from naval and other sources of the recent disorders in Honolulu, and the various exhibitions of ill-feeling aroused by the three-cornered dispute over boundary lines which has involved Chile, Peru and Argentina.

Central America is a froth of conflicting ambitions, national and personal, of industrial unrest and anti-foreign sentiment, according to reports from Americans in that troubled section.

Can't Entirely Supplant the Lowing Kine

ACK of pasturage for dairy cattle in the vicinity of Nitro, W. Va., resulted in the establishment at that war-built city of a "mechanical dairy," where milk and cream equivalent to the output of a farm with 1,500 milk cows was produced, according to a government report just published. Bottles and cans of the fluid were labeled "reconstructed" milk or cream and "nitrolac."

Accommodations for 25,000 inhabitants were provided at Nitro; schools, churches, hospitals, department stores, restaurants, and all the other elements of a modern well-equipped community being part of the project.

As a constructive problem, it was comparatively simple, but officials began to strike things as soon as they approached the task of insuring a supply of staple foodstuffs, particularly of fresh milk.

Nitro is situated in a mountainous district, where little, if any, natural pasturage is available. Local milk supplies were barely sufficient to satisfy the normal demands of Charleston, the nearest metropolis.

Expansion of the natural supply being out of the question, the public health service was asked for aid and the first "mechanical dairy" resulted. The process used is described as the "amalgamation of butter fat obtained from unsalted butter in a solution of skimmed milk powder, or diluted evaporated milk."

A building 150 feet long by 51 feet wide, was constructed and provided with huge mixing vats, refrigerators and bottling apparatus.

Chemically pure water was used in the mixing and careful tests made of the product, which proved to be a little superior, if anything, the report said, to natural milk.

This should encourage the Department of Agriculture to speed up its efforts at the forest service laboratory at Madison, Wis., to produce just-as-good cattle food from sawdust!

The Capital Will Like Zoning System

THAT one of the best moves ever made for Washington was the installation of the zoning system of city planning is the opinion of Albert J. Frederick of St. Louis, a visitor. He says the move has attracted the attention of dozens of large cities, which are watching with eager interest the effect of the zoning system at the national capital.

"The system, although practically new in St. Louis, has done wonders for that city," Mr. Frederick continued. "Property values have risen and have become stabilized by reason of the installation of zoning, and men who were bitterly opposed to the move at first now give it their most hearty commendation."

"Washington has a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate the effectiveness of the plan. The capital has very few manufacturing plants to start with, and is so arranged as to present few obstacles to a complete zoning system than any other city in the country, if not in the world. And you will find, when the plan is in full effect, that the entire citizenship will agree that it is one of the best things that ever happened for the city."

"The zoning system bars manufacturing plants from invading residential sections, and thereby insures the man who buys a home against having a boiler factory or some other similar plant established next door, or even in the same neighborhood. On the other hand, it secures to the manufacturing element absolute domain over certain sections, and leaves outlet for growth and development such as any going concern is bound to need."

"With Washington fairly under the zoning system, I predict that it will become a model city to which experts from all parts of the country will be sent to obtain ideas for zoning other cities."

These Farmers Make No Large Profits

FIGURES on farm profits covering seven years in two areas and five years in a third, made public by the United States Department of Agriculture show that comparatively few of the farmers in the groups studied have been making large profits during the recent years of comparatively high prices.

The figures indicate clearly: That the farmer's average return on investment increased from 4 per cent in 1912 to 7 per cent in 1914.

That most of them are making less than $500 cash per year now and above the things the farm furnishes toward the family living which, however, constitutes a very important factor.

The three groups of farms studied are located, respectively, in Washington county, Ohio; in Adams county, Illinois; and in Adams county, Iowa. The average return for the seven years, 1912-1918, was $650; the labor income, $375; the return on investment, 4 1/2 per cent; the food, house rent, fuel value supplied by farm, $200 per year.

FAINTING AND DIZZY SPELLS

The Cause of such Symptoms and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite, and had fainting spells. I suffered for two or three years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little book. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy. I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it, and am glad to help others all I can. Mrs. E. D. Dumas, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y."

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover, this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extracts of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Main Idea With Yeunpeter.

A Youngster had caused his dad much worry by crossing streets without looking first for passing vehicles. To impress upon the youngster's mind the necessity of being more careful, he was telling his wife in the boy's presence a story of another little boy who while crossing the street with an ice cream cone, had been run down by a heavy motorcar. For a brief moment the child sat in deep thought; then asked: "Did he get the cone, pop?"

Old Greece Is In Style Note

Paris designers are using ever so many Greek effects in dresses, writes a prominent fashion correspondent. The romantic morganatic marriage of the young king of Greece and his June visit to his bride, living in Paris, set the French dressmakers to thinking of the beautiful possibilities for fall fashions in the native Greek costume, both ancient and modern, the result being a decided Greek note in the autumn collections.

The wife of the king of Greece, who is very beautiful, and her younger sister, equally lovely, wear charming Parisian clothes. The youth and beauty of these two girls plus the royal romance of one of them appeal to the creative genius of the Paris dressmaker and milliner, consequently "a la Grecque" will be very fashionable in Paris. As there is so much of real merit in Greek inspirations, one may expect many lovely things during the coming winter.

Designers Turn to Greece.
Greece is only one of the many countries to which designers have turned for their inspiration. Makers of clothes appear loath to give up any successful idea that has been brought out recently, and we find the old mingled with the new.

The Egyptian influence is still felt, as is the Italian Renaissance. To Paris have dressmakers turned for embroideries and to Russia for loose, baggy sleeves and blousing bodices as well as embroideries. Truly, we have an unusual mixture of fashions. Spanish styles have not relinquished their hold. Many ideas are still gathered from the picturesque costumes of Spain.

There are several things, however, upon which all agree—the slender silhouette, the more somber colors for day time wear—black, browns and grays leading—and, striking contrast to these, brilliant hues for the evening. They agree, too, in the tendency toward the high collar, long sleeve and the unevenness of skirts at the hem, which tends to make them more graceful. All of these points are brought out in every collection. The collections are being constantly augmented and we may expect a great many interesting developments from the numerous ideas already advanced.

Dresses that fit in with the present-day fashions may be made by using the forms of the ancient Greek costumes with few changes. In an interesting frock we see the straight Greek dress of about the sixth century. The embroideries are exact copies of those used in an old Greek costume. In the sleeves lies the only real change in the design. A medium shade of tan duvety is used for this frock and the embroideries are in beautiful shades of brown. A narrow belt of brown leather girdles it.

Model of Mousseline.
An interesting model is developed in coral mousseline do sole and gold cloth, with coral chains forming a glide and shoulder straps. It will be recalled that the ancient Greek military dress showed plaits and even that of the present day carries a remnant of Plaited Dress of Blue Crepe Roman Embroidered in Gold.

The idea of plaitings which were so characteristic of the costume of Greece during the height of their imperial glory.

We usually think of Greek dresses as having been simple and beautiful always, consisting of the straight chiton—a garment which was cut and partly sewn—or the costume achieved entirely by means of drapery. The Greeks, however, had changing fashions just as we have today. There were periods of opulence, when the dress fabricators used bright and gold, the latter forming the embroidery and bands on the skirt and on the jacket. A big double lapped sash at one side is seemingly a continuation of the crepe bodice.

Autumn Models Have Plaits.
Any number of the smartest models for autumn have plaits. Coats, suits and frocks fresh from their recent voyage from Paris show plaits of every kind and description, which indicates that it is impossible to go too far with this trimming to please women.

One of the most extreme uses of plaits for the new season appears on a model suit developed in beautiful crepe Roman. Black is the color selected for this suit, the coat of which is very long and slightly blousing at a low waistline. The sleeves are loose and cut in one with the garment itself.—The interesting application of plaits lies in the form of a fan-shaped panel on the jacket. This panel has fine horizontal plaits placed as closely together as possible. These lie very flat. The skirt has a corresponding plaited panel in the front, which hangs a few inches below the hem of the skirt itself. A lovely white embroidery and white fox collar and cuffs emphasize the Vogue for black and white. A band of the embroidery is placed down either side of the panel and around a shoulder and back yoke in the coat.

Designers Use Erminette.
A few years ago, when women wore white furs in the sweltering heat of summer, the craze for white fur reached such an extreme that for some time after the well-dressed woman was loath to wear any white fur. We can only hope that the present-day revival will not run to any such extreme. For the present, at least, snowy fur trimmings are on models from the most exclusive houses.

Erminette is being extensively exploited as a trimming by the Paris designers. This fur very closely resembles real ermine, one of the pelts always greatly in vogue. While it is not as expensive as the real fur, it is not cheap. As well as being used for a trimming in the form of narrow edging and for large collars and deep cuffs, it is combined with seal in evening wraps. White skunk is used to make great muffing collars and deep cuffs on the most elaborate of evening wraps, some of the newest of which are formed of beautiful silver brocades.

One great designer has invented an entirely new shoulder line of Greek influence in which the material is held up over one shoulder and cut to appear as though falling off the other.

Embroidery Is Featured.
Martal et Armand feature embroidery on the backs of garments only. A large disk design in contrasting colors is a favorite pattern. An embroidery design may extend across the back of a coat from shoulder to shoulder or be placed horizontally from shoulder to hem. On dresses the embroidery used in the latter way is very often of silver threads. Black embroidery on white velvet, white satin and white net is prominent. A few models show white embroidery on black, the preference being given to the former.

An interesting model in white and black has a foundation skirt and bodice of black satin, with the tunic of white net embroidered in a grape design, the grapes being white and the leaves black. White velvet dresses are embroidered in heavy black silk and jet.

Gray wool on blue serge is a combination that we have grown accustomed to and one that is still used, but white worsted embroidery on

TREED BY CATTLE

Childish Adventure That Might Have Been Tragic.

Dog's Impetuosity Got His Little Companion's Trouble Which Nearly Had Serious Ending.

During my early childhood at the old homestead in Illinois, writes a contributor, my older sister, Lois, my brother, Marion, and myself, in company with a neighbor girl, Martha Wilson, had many interesting experiences in rambling through the woods not far from our house.

We were accompanied on one trip by our faithful dog, Old Bull, as we always called him. While we waded through the tangle of vines, rose-bushes and other shrubbery, Old Bull raced through the woods in quest of rabbits and other game. Finally, treading a squirrel, he made the woods resound with his eager barks. Some cattle grazing on the hillside raised their heads and started out to investigate. Others joined them, and when they saw the dog they all made a rush for him. Old Bull bolted for the cemetery that we had entered out of curiosity and, leaping the fence, took refuge with us. My sister, Lois, scolded him and would have quieted him, but Martha kept sickling him at them.

He needed very little encouragement, and his constant barking and the bawling of the cattle attracted the attention of all the other cattle, and they came galloping up to join in the fray. As the fence did not appear very strong, Martha and Lois decided that we had better try to slip out at the opposite side of the cemetery. This plan might have worked successfully if I had been older, but I was only five years old and very badly frightened. Old Bull followed us, barking as he went, and the cattle were close behind. We had gone only a short distance from the cemetery when the whole drove came plunging and bawling after us.

Fortunately, there was a fallen tree in which we took refuge, but as it was only a few feet from the ground we were safe only as long as Old Bull could hold them at bay. Martha and Marion kept sickling him at the cattle, while Lois tried to quiet me. The noise of the dog and of the cattle threw me into a paroxysm of terror. The cattle, standing all about us, would bellow and bawl, toss their horns and paw the ground. Suddenly one made a lunge for the dog, and he ran back under our fallen tree, and the cattle moved in a little closer. Then the dog redoubled his efforts and dashed frantically at the cattle, first in one direction, then in another.

But Old Bull was becoming exhausted, and the cattle were gradually closing in. They acted more like wild beasts than domesticated cattle.

Even Martha was frightened, although she was too brave to cry. The maddened animals would soon fess us on their horns and trample us underfoot. Desperately the dog made his last rush and then dropped back under our tree exhausted.

The cattle were rushing in upon us with loud bellows when a farmer heard the deafening noise and came running toward us. He seized a big club and, calling up his two dogs, drove the cattle back to a safe distance.

Martha and Lois had almost to carry me, for I was prostrated from the fright and the noise.

Old Bull, after a good drink of water, crept under the welcome shade of an old apple tree, and our mothers welcomed us with open arms when they saw our disheveled appearance.—Youth's Companion.

The Useful Volcano.

The scarcity of coal is stimulating the search for other sources of heat and power. Much has been heard of "white coal" or the ingenious use of water power. In Italy they have hit upon another plan which promises to revolutionize the industry of the country. There are several places in Italy where the internal heat of the earth comes so near the surface that it may be tapped. In other words, the volcanoes are being harnessed to supply power. The tests already carried on are reported to have proved very successful and the work will doubtless be greatly extended. The heat thus drawn from the earth is converted into electric energy which is transmitted for great distances and employed to run railroads and operate mills. There is practically an inexhaustible supply of heat or power and it is believed that the pressing coal problem of Italy will eventually be solved.—Boys' Life.

Red Plows for China.

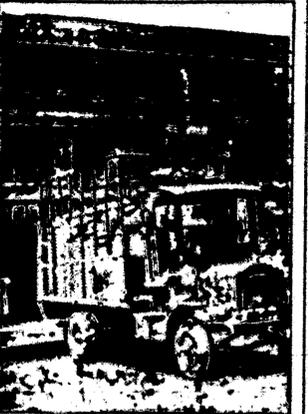

Chinese farmers are becoming more and more interested in American farm tools, and as time goes on a steadily increasing number of such implements will undoubtedly be made in the United States and sent overseas to do their appointed work in the soil of China. Very likely, too, for such is the impelled advice of John H. Reiser, dean of the college of agriculture and forestry, University of Nanking—such tools will be painted red and lettered with a Chinese name. The college is studying the Chinese farmer, his practical needs and his customary habits of tool use, and it appears that, whereas the American farmer's plow is often painted blue, the Chinese farmer likes

Highway Improvement

NEED FOR BETTER HIGHWAYS
Freight Congestion on Railroads Has Emphasized Importance of Our Country Roads.

We are being treated to a demonstration of what happens when the arteries of commerce become diseased, congested and run down. The lack of adequate transportation facilities on the railroads of this country mounts into the millions of dollars in the delays that are occasioned. Our railway system, like our agricultural methods, have grown up so gradually, keeping abreast, even ahead of the demands of commerce, we have come to look upon them as a matter of course. But the even balance between transportation facilities and demands of commerce is easily upset, as the experience of the past few months has demonstrated.

Our railroad system needs rehabilitation. But along with the improvements of the railroads there is great need for a material improvement throughout the land. Over the country roads move the raw materials that go to make up a vast proportion of the tonnage carried by the railroads. The present freight congestion has emphasized the importance of the country road. It has proved the value of hard surface roads as passageways for freight carried in motortrucks and automobiles.

Much relief for the railroads has come through the immense tonnage that has moved this summer on motor trucks. A greater tonnage would undoubtedly have moved in the same manner if our highway system had been fit. The time has come when the mileage of concrete, brick or other hard-surfaced roads must extend in an ever-increasing network until the remotest parts of the country can have the advantage of quick transportation every day of the year in a motor vehicle.—American Fruit Grower.

ROCK FOR HIGHWAY BUILDING

First Systematic Efforts to Determine Value Were Made in French Laboratory in 1878.

The first systematic attempts to determine the value of rock for road building purposes by means of laboratory tests were made in France, where in 1878 a road materials laboratory was founded in the French School of Bridges and Roads. Here the Deval abrasion test was adopted, and this test with slight modification has been accepted as standard throughout the United States. The test is named from its inventor. It was first used in connection with contract work in the city of Paris. Many valuable data were collected in this laboratory on the hardness and toughness of rock, and tests for these properties were developed which were, in principle, the same as those in use today.

ARGUMENT FOR GOOD ROADS

Judgment Rendered Against County Because Culvert Was Obscured by Weed Patch.

An argument for good roads that carries with it a sharp punch in the way of a substantial judgment for damages is disclosed in a recent decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin. In this case it appears that when a machine went out of the traffic path of an old-fashioned country road for the purpose of letting a tractor pass it struck the cement curbing at the end of a culvert which crossed the road at this point. Being covered with weeds the obstruction was not seen until the accident occurred. The county was held liable in damages for the accident.

ALL THE TIME HE WANTED FLEA EMBALMED IN HONEY

Excellent Reason Why Traveler Need Not Worry Over Possibility of Missing His Train.

A Cleveland man with business interests in Illinois tells of an incident at a railway junction in that state. He was hungry and it was only two minutes before the departure of his train.

He rushed up to the counterman and exclaimed: "Give me a sandwich and a cup of coffee, quick! Haven't time for anything else."

"My friend," said the man behind the counter, "take all the time you want. Just eat your eye over this menu and I'll telephone the superintendent to hold the train a while."

"Do you mean to say that he will actually hold the train while I eat?"

"Sure, friend. This is a branch road, and there's no other train coming or going over it this morning. The superintendent will want you to have a good meal—he owns this lunch-room."

An Arabi, "I'm kind o' glad," said Bill the Burg, "that I never learned to read and write."

Little Insect Pest Found Which Met Its Fate in Egypt Many Thousands of Years Ago.

It is believed that the earliest food store laid aside for his wants by man, and which is still in existence, is a jar of honey found in an Egyptian tomb, and probably placed there for the sustenance of the dead during the journey across the Stygian river, says the American Forestry Magazine. When found, the honey had changed into a very dry candy and it had lost its sweetness, though it could still be identified as honey.

In the bottom of the jar, well covered with honey, was a dead flea of precisely the same sort as those which plague Egypt to this day. Apparently, the insect had hopped into the jar while the last rites over the dead were being observed, and when the jar was corked, the little fellow was shut up within, and, like the true patriot, he probably would have declared that death was sweet. Anyway, he sank to the bottom while the honey was still soft, and there the archeologists found him after a good many thousands of years.

The county commissioners were in session the first of the week counting the votes cast at the late election. Owing to some of the poll books being sent in without being signed by the judges, they were compelled to adjourn until the judges arrived and signed their reports. The vote is practically the same as published in last week's News, a difference of a few votes being found in some of the precinct returns, which, however, did not alter the general result.

We hope a good crowd will greet the Lyceum singers at the Crystal tonight. Everybody attend.

E. M. Brickley Speaks at High School

Senator-elect Brickley, commander of the local American Legion, spoke to the upper seven grades of the Carrizozo schools, in the assembly room, on Armistice Day. The address, began at 10:45, continued till 11:00 when he had all the students rise, face the west and stand at "Salute" for one minute. Mr. Brickley said "Be good Americans, obey the laws. If you do not like the laws, change them through the ballot, not by the unlawful force of the minority. When the minority tries to rule, we are in anarchy. 'Let the majority rule' is true Americanism. If you did not get the president or governor you wanted, he is your president or governor nevertheless. We are all Americans and love our country." Mr. Brickley's talk was full of the highest type of Americanism.

The Methodist Church

Last Sunday was by far the best day we had at our Methodist church this conference year. Next Sunday will be devoted to the Missionary Enterprise of the church. The Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. will stress this phase of religious work. At 11:00 the pastor will preach on this theme, his subject being "The Homeless Child." At 6:30 p. m. the Epworth League will conform its devotional hour to the missionary idea. And at 7:30 the Woman's Missionary Society will have entire charge of the hour in place of the evening sermon. Special music will feature the entire day. In the evening a free-will offering will be taken for advancing the missionary work. The above is in connection with the "Week of Prayer" which will be observed by Methodist churches.
