OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 21

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1920

NUMBER 50

Pardon of Villistas Now Up By Court

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 7.—District Judge Reed Holloman late yesterday, following arguments, made permanent the temporary injunction granted by him 10 days ago, restraining the warden of the state penitentiary from releasing the 16 Villistas, serving life terms for their part in the Columbus raid in 1916. The bandits were pardoned by Governor Octaviano A. Larrasolo, just previous to his departure for Mexico City, to attend the inaugural ceremonies inducting into office Alvaro Obregon, the new president of Mexico.

It is said that an appeal to the supreme court of New Mexico will at once be taken by the counsel for the Villistas, but a decision there is not expected until January. The term of Governor Larrasolo will expire December 31.

This is the first time in New Mexico that the right of a governor to grant a pardon has ever been questioned. The application for the injunction was based on a state statute, providing that the state board of parole shall consider and make recommendations on applications for pardons.

Death Follows Operation

At Fort Stanton last Friday afternoon Esquilpa Gonzales, of Hondo, died following an operation for appendicitis. The deceased had been suffering for several days prior to the operation and when a physician was called a diagnosis disclosed that he was suffering from appendicitis and he was hurried to Fort Stanton at once. The operation was performed but the case was in such an advanced stage that the patient was overcome by inflammation and succumbed shortly thereafter.

The young man, who was about twenty-five years old, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gonzales of Hondo, and was one of the brightest young men in his section of the county. He had had the advantages of excellent training and took the course in the Military Institute at Roswell. His untimely death is mourned by a large circle of friends in his community, and acquaintances throughout the county deeply sympathize with the family.

Nobel Peace Prize will be Conferred on Wilson

Copenhagen, Denmark, Dec. 7.—Announcement is made that the Nobel peace prize will be conferred on president Wilson of the United States on December 10.

The Nobel peace prize carries with it a grant of about $40,000, which is one-fifth of the annual interest on about $6,000,000 left for that purpose by Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish scientist and the inventor of dynamite, who died in 1896. The only two Americans who in the past have received the Nobel peace prize were Theodore Roosevelt in 1906 and Elihu Root in 1912.

Died in Alamogordo

Chas. Armstrong Helm, a young man in an advanced stage of tuberculosis, who lingered here a few months during the summer, in the hope of regaining his health, died in Alamogordo last week. He was a landscape painter, and had several of his paintings on exhibition at Lincoln State Bank. The following is from the Alamogordo News:

The death of Charles Armstrong Helm occurred last Sunday at one of the local sanitariums.

The deceased was apparently a man of more or less mystery and he never gave more information than necessary to establish his genuineness as a subject for assistance in his last days.

He was a gifted painter and did a considerable amount of scenery painting for various patrons in this vicinity and at Carrizozo. Hope was ever in his heart and his cheery disposition animated others who were in his same plight and was an example to others who were possessed of good health. There came a time in a few months when he had to take to his bed—even then it is related that he went on with his painting though propped up with pillows. From what information he gave he was a native of Oregon. When the war broke out he went and joined the Canadian forces and was private in the 3rd Bat. Royal West Kents, Imperial Forces in England. He saw service in France and was gassed at Passchendaele. He was in the Clestone Military Hospital in England as a consequence of the gas for 10 months.

Various organizations assisted in his maintenance during the last days and preparations were being made to continue the relief.

The American Legion local took charge of his funeral.

Armstrong gave no information as to his family connections whatever, and that portion of his history is unknown here. Evidently he was a man of culture, refinement and education. His family connections, it is presumed, were of the very best.

A "Keeping Fit" Talk

Dr. D. W. Gudakunst, representing the United States Public Health Service, co-operating with the New Mexico State Department of Health, spoke in the assembly of the Carrizozo High School on Thursday morning—to the boys at nine o'clock and to the girls at ten. Dr. Gudakunst is a graduate physician and surgeon, had three years experience in the army besides some practice. Members of the school board and parents of the pupils attended both of these lectures. The lecture was sensible, dealing with the dangers attendant upon immoral conduct and the diseases arising from it—the "keeping fit" side of the question and not the sensational. The lecture was highly entertaining and profitable to the boys and girls of Carrizozo.

The stores are busy this week unpacking holiday goods.

Congress Assembles

The United States Congress assembled at Washington Monday for the third session for the term ending March 4, 1921. A special session began in April, 1919, the regular session opened a year ago and this, the third session of the same congress, will mark the finish of one of the most remarkable eras in American legislation.

President Wilson sent his message to the congress the day following its assembling. It is said to be one of the shortest messages to congress in regular session ever transmitted. The message makes a number of recommendations that failed to receive attention at the past session and urges prompt action on many important subjects.

The principal topics handled were:

- Revision of the tax laws with income and profits taxes simplified.
- Philippine independence.
- An Armenian loan.
- Economy in government appropriations and expenditures, and creation of a "workable budget system."
- Cold storage and other laws affecting the cost of living, and the federal licensing of corporations as recommended in previous messages.

Rehabilitation and training of disabled soldiers and sailors. No bonus was recommended. No direct reference was made to the League of Nations or the peace treaty fight. A quotation from Abraham Lincoln in the opening sentences may, by inference, be called a reference. It was: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

On democracy the paragraph says:

"The old world is just now suffering from a wanton rejection of the people of democracy and a substitution of the people of autocracy as asserted in the name but without the authority or sanction of the multitude. This is the time of all others when democracy should prove its purity and its spiritual power to prevail. It is surely the manifest destiny of the United States to lead in the attempt to make this spirit prevail."

The closing paragraph is regarded as the president's valedictory. It reads:

"I have not so much laid before you a series of recommendations as sought to utter a confession of faith, of the faith in which I was bred, and which it is my solemn purpose to stand by until my last fighting day. I believe this to be the faith of America, the faith of the future, and of all the victories which await national action in the days to come, whether in America or elsewhere."

Good Business

(Magdalena News)
When reading the News it is good policy to pay particular attention to the advertising therein, especially at this time of the year. In the advertising columns is revealed the interest the merchants take in placing their wares before the buying public, and you can secure the bargains offered only by knowing they are being offered. In fact our advertising columns are a directory of the live merchants, who procure the best and latest the market affords.

The Special Revenue Commission Report

The report of the Special Revenue Commission created at the special session of the Fourth State Legislature last winter was filed with the governor on Tuesday, November 23rd. This commission consists of H. J. Hagerman, chairman; John Joerns, A. G. Simms, W. W. Risdon and W. G. Haydon. All members signed the report except two who concur with reservations to be later stated specifically.

The report covers nearly 250 typewritten pages, legal size, with forty additional statements and tables appearing in the appendix. In a general way it deals with the whole subject of state and local governmental administration, but with special reference to the revenues and expenditures.

After a chapter of general discussion dealing with the increasing cost of government and its enterprises the report opens with what is considered as its most important subject, that of a proper administration of assessments, and recommends an expert state tax commission, district supervisors and local assessors. The aim is to evolve an organization of capable persons to handle the business of assessing property for taxation in the state. There can be no doubt as to the importance of this feature of the report. If everything else should fail to meet with legislative and executive approval, this proposal would establish a proper system for the fair, full and complete assessment of property will, we believe, meet with the people's sanction.

The Slump in Farm Stuff

Ed. Pfingston was down from his Mesa farm Tuesday. The farmers, he stated, feel disappointed. Bumper crops were harvested, and just when ready to market, prices dropped. They have housed their produce, and there it will remain until prices rise at least 20 per cent above the cost of production. There is no demand for their produce any way, even at the present low market price. They payed high prices for seed, extra wages for farm help, expecting extra prices for their products, only to find that the prices offered would not pay for the cost of production. Therefore, they intend to hold their stuff until prices go up a few notches any way. He said the Mesa farmers have enough to keep the pot boiling until that time arrives.

Co-Operative Store Opens

The Carrizozo branch of the Pacific Co-operative League opened its store for business. As had been announced in a previous issue the League purchased the stock and fixtures of the Rely & Lujan Grocery and Market. The stock was invoiced and turned over to the new owners and when the doors opened Monday morning new men were at the helm.

E. L. Duncan came over from the coast and supervised the transfer and remained until yesterday to assist in the inauguration of the co-operative store. Owen Lujan dealt with Mr. Duncan and remains as manager.

Judge Gatewood Dies

Word has been received by officials of the local order of W. O. W. to the effect that Judge Gatewood, formerly of Roswell, and a member of the Roswell lodge W. O. W. had died at Brownfield, Texas, Dec. 3.

Judge Gatewood was 72 years of age. He came to Roswell 20 years ago, and entered into partnership with Judge Bateman, in law. He was known as a shrewd criminal lawyer.

Three years ago he went to live with a daughter, Mrs. Graves in Brownfield, who survives him.

He also leaves a son, Boyd, who is a newspaper man in San Bernardino.—Roswell News.

Fort Stanton Comes Through

We had an interesting letter this week from an old friend at Fort Stanton in which he incidentally spoke of the Red Cross drive for membership, and expressed regret that conditions were such that they could not go over the top this time as in former drives. It will be remembered that during the past four years Ft. Stanton exceeded every quota assigned, whether it was a bond drive, or a drive for the Red Cross, Salvation Army or any act of mercy or patriotism, and in proportion to population and wealth exceeded any community in the county.

Naturally, such a record was one of which to be proud and the present enrollment of membership in the Red Cross, and the funds collected for the same, struck our old friend as entirely inadequate, in view of the Fort's accomplishments in the past. However, the results need not disappoint him, for the old Fort is still in the lead and again sent in, proportionately, more memberships than any other section of the county. To our old and loyal friend, and for all of those for whom he speaks, we wish to say that the Chapter accords Fort Stanton the chief place, without disparaging the efforts of others; for to it the honor rightly belongs.

The State Income Tax Declared Unconstitutional

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 6.—District Judge Reed Holloman here today held the state income tax law unconstitutional, upholding all the contentions of those who attacked the law in the courts, chief of which were that its "graduated" features invalidated it and that it discriminated by taking domestic and not foreign companies.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court with the hope of securing a final decision without delay in order to clear the way for possible further income tax legislation at the 1921 session.

Health Week for buying Christmas Seals

"It is well," says Acting Governor Pankey in a proclamation announcing 'Health Week,' "for us to keep in mind at this season of giving and rejoicing the unnecessary burden laid upon individuals and our state by preventable disease. It is right that we do everything in our power to lighten that burden and to add to the sum total of happiness."

The proclamation designates the week of December 12 to 18 as "New Mexico Health Week," for the purchase of Christmas seals to carry on the world-wide fight against disease and to thus promote the work of the state and county health organizations.

Basketing

Next Saturday at 2:30 in the afternoon, at the High School basket ball grounds, will be played a "double-header" game between Capitan and Carrizozo high school teams. The Carrizozo team last year defeated the Capitan team, at Capitan, and the game of next Saturday is a return game. The team from the mountain town is doubtless coming for "scalps." The boys from Capitan will play our boys at the same time; that is, the same afternoon. The two games will be hotly played and we believe the people of Carrizozo will be highly entertained. A small admission fee will be charged.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

League of Nations Assembly Is Trying to Find Some Way to Save Armenia.

AMERICA ASKED TO MEDIATE

Balfour Suspects Plan to Recognize Kemal Pasha—Poles and Bolsheviks Resume Negotiations—Affairs in Greece—Murders and Reprisals in Dublin.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

What shall be done to save Armenia? That is the question that absorbed much of the attention of the League of Nations assembly last week, and it is not yet solved, nor, apparently, in the way of being solved. The Armenian problem was forced on the attention of the assembly by the repeated questions of members of delegations whose countries would not be involved, and the representatives of the greater powers were compelled to take it up. The net result, so far, is the appointment of a commission which will examine the Armenian situation. Sir Robert Cecil, South Africa, is its chairman, and the other members are: Henri La Fontaine, Belgium; Dagobert Fridolf Nansen, Norway; Honorio Pueyrredon, Argentina; Signor Schaschi, Italy; and René Viviani, France.

In the course of the debate Viviani proposed that the league council should seek some government which will mediate for Armenia with the Turkish nationalists and try to obtain a cessation of hostilities. The council thereupon cabled to President Wilson asking the United States to act as mediator in the case, pointing out that although the senate had rejected the mandate for Armenia, a new situation had arisen and a new solution was possible. The United States is not asked to send an expeditionary force and only a small outlay of money will be necessary, since we are asked merely to represent Armenia by entering negotiations toward ending warfare with Kemal Pasha. It is believed in Geneva that the Nationalist leader would welcome America as mediator because the fixing of the boundaries of Armenia was left to President Wilson.

M. Viviani declared that the United States would be the most logical power to represent Armenia in the proposed negotiations, and that the fact that it was not a member of the league would not interfere. Some correspondents saw in all this talk an endeavor to "lure" the United States into the league. Mr. Balfour saw more than this in the French plan. He believed it was the beginning of an effort to tear up the treaty of Sevres with Turkey and to deprive Greece of the territory given her by that pact; also that it was designed first to recognize Mustafa Kemal Pasha. He demanded whether the Kemalists would be offered money or territory as a bribe to cease attacking the Armenians, and said Kemal was entirely indifferent about the league's opinion; furthermore, he did not believe a mandatory power for Armenia could be found anywhere in the world, and said the league could not send an expedition into Asia Minor unless it was under the control of some treaty signing power.

Various delegates asserted their belief that the United States would now accept the mandate and furnish the expeditionary force, which, according to Doctor Nansen of Norway, would require 50,000 men and $100,000,000. High French officials in Paris said on Wednesday that France would not send a man or spend a franc on an Armenian mandate, but intimated that she might ask Kemal Pasha what changes in the treaty would make it acceptable to him.

be refused admittance. This accords with the position taken by the United States administration some weeks ago.

The league council decided to limit the scope of policing operations to the Vilna region and to keep the league "army" down to 1,800 men. Of these Spain will supply 800, Sweden 100, France at least 1,000, and Great Britain and Belgium small detachments. Holland and Switzerland refused to participate.

Peace negotiations between Poland and soviet Russia were resumed after a lapse that threatened the renewal of active hostilities. The Poles, however, consented to withdraw their troops to the armistice line. Moscow notified Lithuania that the Red forces would have to occupy Vilna, which is still in the hands of General Zeligowski. The soviet government has now pretty nearly cleared Russia of all its active opponents. Petlura's troops have about all escaped from the Ukraine into Poland and have been disarmed there, and now it is announced that General Semenov's campaign in Siberia has collapsed entirely. His last base has been taken by the Reds, the corps that was defending it having mutinied, killed its officers and joined the Bolsheviks. Semenov himself has fled to Japan.

Unless the temper of the Greek people changes, they will vote, on December 5, for the return of Constantine to the throne. This will be the logical outcome of the victory of Gounaris and Rallis in the election. However, the new government is placed in a somewhat uncomfortable position, set to restore the ex-king will be to alienate France and possibly Great Britain. The former has warned Greece that it will withdraw its material and moral support, but it is not known certainly what attitude Lloyd George will assume. The Greek newspapers favorable to Constantine assert that Great Britain is willing to recognize the right of Greece to manage her own affairs and that King George is in constant communication with Constantine and has assented to his return to the throne.

Of course, Rallis and his confederates are most worried over the possible effect of the restoration on Greece's adventure in Asia Minor. They can hardly hope to maintain their army there against the Turkish nationalists and the Arabs without the active cooperation of the entente allies, and, too, they rely on the British to supply the money needed for the occupation. It is said by them that Venizelists left the treasury empty, destroyed quantities of documents and left Athens without informing their successors of the state-of-business in the various departments.

Queen Mother Olga, the regent, staged a triumphal return last week for two of Constantine's brothers, Prince Andreas and Prince Christopher. They were received by enthusiastic crowds and escorted to the palace. The same day the foreign newspaper correspondents made formal complaint that the press censorship was being continued and that their dispatches were suppressed or delayed. Rallis and Gounaris made explanations and promised all restrictions should be removed.

Paris had press dispatches from Smyrna saying the Greek army in Asia Minor was split into two camps, one for and one against Constantine, and that fighting between them already had broken out. Some of the troops were said to be generalizing themselves, declaring they were done with the war against the Turks.

Sunday, November 21, was a day of bloodshed and terror in Dublin. The Sinn Fein assassins early in the day put into execution a deliberate plan of murder, calling 14 British officers or former officers to their death and shooting them dead. About sixty others were wounded in these attacks. The black and tan got into action at once, making many arrows. Then they scurried into Creagh park, where 11,000 persons were watching a football game, and being hoisted and attached, fired on the crowd. Several spots of poison were killed and being scattered between the wind and the crowd.

roots were made by them and quantities of documents said to be incriminating seized.

Though attacked bitterly by the opposition press and members of parliament for this Dublin affair as well as for its Irish policy generally, the government defended its position with extraordinary tenacity, and to support it made public captured documents which were said to expose Sinn Fein plots for a campaign of terrorism in England, including assassinations and the destruction of property by dynamite and fire. In the house of commons Wednesday night Lloyd George scored a notable victory. Former Premier Asquith moved a resolution expressing abhorrence of the Dublin assassinations and urging immediate steps to pacify Ireland. Col. John Ward by an amendment changed the motion into an expression of admiration for the courage of the crown forces in Ireland, and this was adopted by a vote of 506 to 88, amid the cheers of the government's supporters.

An echo of the Irish trouble was heard in New York Thanksgiving day, when an anti-Kaglish mob undertook to sack the Union club on Fifth avenue. On the club building was flying the American flag between British and French flags, and the manager was asked to remove the British emblem. He complied, but later the flag was replaced, and then the mob attacked the building, breaking in its windows and destroying most of the paintings and furnishings before the police could disperse it.

The American commission on conditions in Ireland is hearing many witnesses and has now decided to send a special committee to conduct a first-hand investigation. It is made up of Maj. Oliver P. Newman of Washington, Rev. Dr. Norman Thomas and Arthur Gleason of New York and J. H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor.

The row between the Western Union Telegraph company and the administration has reached the acute stage. It has to do with the laying of certain cables at Biscayne bay, Miami, Fla., permission for which was granted some time ago. Connected with it was the attempt to land a cable from Barbados, which the Navy department prevented. The company thereupon declined to carry further messages for the State department at reduced rates, and the Navy department threatened to destroy the bay cable if the construction work was not stopped. The company applied for an injunction to restrain Secretary Daniels from interfering with the work, and the next day Secretary of War Baker revoked the permit for the laying of the cables. The courts must now decide the entire matter.

President-elect Harding and his party landed at Cristobal on Tuesday for a five-day visit in the Canal Zone. Wednesday he made a trip on the canal to Panama City and called on President Porras. Later the president crossed into American territory to return the call. Thursday Mr. Harding had a game of golf, followed by dinner with President Porras, and Friday he returned to Cristobal, whence he sailed on Sunday for Norfolk.

A Thanksgiving day announcement was made to the effect that John D. Rockefeller had given to charities and public institutions the sum of $68,768,867, in memory of his late wife. The fund is being administered by the Laura Spellman Rockefeller memorial, chartered in New York, and the beneficiaries are mostly organizations in the support of which Mrs. Rockefeller was especially interested in her lifetime. More than eight millions of the fund already has been appropriated to 24 institutions. It is estimated that this brings the total of Mrs. Rockefeller's gifts up to approximately $175,000,000, making her the most munificent great woman in history.

Customs inspectors, one of the best known of the United States coast guard, was killed and another wounded when a small boat carrying a load of dynamite exploded in the bay near the coast.

FRIEND OR CURSE?

Both Designations Have Been Bestowed on Sleep.

Truth Is That the Hours of Slumber Can Be Made Subservient to the Firm Will.

Sleep, at the right time, is one of man's foremost friends and benefactors; at the wrong time it is a curse, for it comes as the paralyzing incubus upon his hand and his mind when he should be broad awake and at his work, declares a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger.

It is a solemn thing to think about, that if we average eight hours of every twenty-four in slumber we are in the land of Ned for a third of our whole term on earth. At this rate the man who lives to the age of 60 has spent twenty years in bed.

It has made some active spirits irate against nature and the established order that they should have to spend so much time unconscious and unproductive; the idleness has irked them; and burning the candle at both ends in their defiance of physiological laws they have generally paid for it. The rule is that we rest not that we may form habits of sloth and self-indulgence, but that we may find recreation and recuperation for the day that follows night—the day that tests our mettle, and urges us to endeavor. Sleep is supposed to send us back into the fray clear eyed, serene, corroborated. "I sleep when I lie down," said that poet of the mystics, Henry Vaughan, and by it he meant that his finite mortality had risen star by star till it laid hold upon infinity. The apparent humility was an aspiration. He stood at heaven's gate not by the price of life, not by self-assertion, not by being egocentric, but in the mortification of vanity and with all "chastening and subduing of the soul."

Mark Twain and Robert Louis Stevenson were two of no small number of writers who wrote in bed because of the comfortable relaxation and the seclusion. The wits of neither were hounded, and you could not call either of these prolific and successful authors lazy. But it does not follow that their mimic in respect to a recumbent posture for authorship will succeed in copying their happy grace in the way of a literary style.

The strong man seeks a workroom, not a resting place. He stays at work till his work is done. He trains himself—with an Edison—not to let himself sleep till he has tracked the sky idea he is hunting to its lair. Men who have followed an engineering career seldom—men who have fought a war—men who have sailed a ship through a storm—men of action in all times and places—can (if they will) tell us how they have made sleep subservient to their own iron wills. They have done their duty and let the respite wait till the task was ended and the wage was earned.

Boy Gave World Lamp Chimney.

The lamp chimney of today was given to the world through the misbehavior of a small boy. The first lamp having an air chamber was invented by a Swiss, Jules Argand. A wick was introduced into a hollow tube and the tube inset into the lamp. As this allowed oxygen to enter the base a much brighter flame was given than by any lamp then in use. Jules had a small brother and as small boys of that day were very like the small boys of today, Jules was instructed to watch him, and especially to look out for fire and little fingers.

Jules remembered his instructions but a few minutes and then became so busy that his little brother quite passed from his mind. He was bending over a bench, straining his eyes to see some minor defects in his work, when suddenly the room became much brighter. Jules turned and discovered the boy with a bottomless oil flask which he had lowered over the wick of the lamp. The flame had leaped up the long circular neck of the flask with greatly increased brilliancy. Argand instantly saw the possibilities before him and the modern lamp chimney was born.

Considerably Mixed.

We bought him for $5 from a little negro boy, thinking he was a full-blooded Boston bull pup. Like many bargains, he hasn't turned out so well, but he possesses all the "cuddly" qualities and clever puppy ways that would endear him to little Elizabeth, and she is very fond of him.

One day she was telling an aunt some of the cute things that the little dog had done. Auntie wasn't diplomatic; she touched on a tender spot.

"What kind of a dog is he, Elizabeth?" she asked.

"Well, auntie—I think he's partly bull dog—and well—and the rest puppy," was the little champion's reply.—Chicago Tribune.

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Who Suffered Seriously from Nervousness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Kan.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your bottles was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. # Need Radium in Fight on Cancer

Development on Foot to Substitute Meso-Thorium in Making Luminous Materials.

MEDICAL DEMAND IS GREAT

Physicians and Chemists Feel That Everything Possible Should Be Done to Conserve Radium for Therapeutic Purposes.

Philadelphia, N. Y.—So great is the demand for radium in the treatment of cancer and various malignant diseases, that a movement is now on foot withdrawing it as much as possible from the manufacture of luminous materials and other industrial purposes, that it may be employed entirely in the treatment of human ills.

How this is being effected was told Dr. Marian S. Miner, a Philadelphia chemist, who addressed the east-section of the American Chemical Society at Union college in this city. The substance advocated as a substitute is meso-thorium, a by-product obtained in the manufacture of thorium, a mineral which is extensively mined in the manufacture of gas man-comes from Brazil and India.

The ores from which thorium is obtained are imported largely from Brazil and India, although there is a limited supply available in the United States. Meso-thorium can be seen at it and therefore is an ingredient of paint which is used in the marking of clock faces, watch dials and other fine work which can be read in the dark. The demand for such supplies in the trenches during the European war greatly stimulated their manufacture both here and abroad, although they are no longer military necessities they have an extensive use in these days of peace.

Radium is itself radio-active, but is chiefly valuable because when mixed one or two per cent of cerium and heated it gives out a powerful radiance. Its use is increasing because municipalities are accepting it as a unit rather than a candlepower standard for illuminating gas, and demand for mantles is likely to increase. Consequently the facilities for making the by-product meso-thorium which would not be commercially available of itself, are being augmented.

Companies which are now manufacturing thorium said Dr. Miner. "Ever since 1914 been developing their outputs of meso-thorium, and I have been special activity along these lines in the last few months. The demand for radium in the treatment of cancer and for other medical purposes is now so great that both physicians and chemists feel that everything possible should be done to conserve it exclusively for therapeutic purposes. If radium is kept in the hands for radium in the treatment of cancer and various malignant diseases, it naturally will be held intact. The losses from its emanations are so slight that it can be used for centuries without any appreciable diminution in its properties. As everything is being done by the medical profession to concentrate the supply in this way, the consensus is that it should be held where it will do the most service to humanity.

Causes Heavy Loss.
"If various forms of radium are employed in the manufacture of luminous paint and for other mechanical purposes, there will naturally be a heavy loss of the element. Watches, clocks or penknives on which radium is used are likely to be lost, mislaid or destroyed, when the supply of the element becomes so widely distributed that the chances for recovering it would be slight.

"It happens, however, that there are also manufacturers of luminous materials who are in a position to derive both radium and meso-thorium from certain minerals, and they are inclined to set aside their radium for medical purposes and to use the meso-thorium, which is chemically identified with radium, as a luminous material. Although there has been some difference of opinion in the medical profession as to the value of radium in the treatment of maladies, there is much to indicate that it and radio-active substances generally have an important part in the practice of the healing art."

Dr. Miner also described at length the uses of other rare earths such as cerium and zirconium in the arts and sciences. He held out the prospect that some of them, which hitherto had been imported from Austria and Germany, could be obtained on a limited scale from sources on the American continent.

Erect Memorial to General U. S. Grant

Grand Statue at Washington is Nearly Finished.

Second Largest Equestrian Statue in the World Has Been Eighteen Years in the Making.

Washington.—Eighteen years in the making, a memorial to Gen. U. S. Grant is nearing completion here, and probably will be unveiled before the end of the year. It is in the form of a magnificent equestrian statue of bronze, the second largest of its kind in the world, mounted on a granite pedestal and flanked on the left by a casting of a group of cavalry and on the right by a group of artillery, both groups done in bronze.

Two huge lions in stone at the foot of the pedestal complete the memorial. The equestrian figure stands 16 feet high, weighs 10,700 pounds and costs $250,000. The memorial is located in the botanic gardens at the foot of the capitol grounds, and congress has approved removal of a section of the iron fence on the east front of the gardens to admit the statue and to provide space for spectators at the unveiling ceremonies.

Authority for the creation of the memorial was given by congress on Feb. 23, 1901. The competition for the statue was held in 1902 and the award was to Henry M. Shrady, a noted sculptor of Elmford, N. Y., whose design was selected by a jury consisting of Augustus Saint-Gaudens, Daniel Chester French, Daniel H. Burnham and Charles F. McKim.

The pedestal was designed by Edward Pierce Casey of New York, associated with Mr. Shrady, and was completed and put in place in 1906.

The equestrian statue has just now been finished, however, and was shipped here in sections by motor truck from New York city.

The memorial to the famous general and eighteenth President of the United States will bear no inscription, according to the members of the fine arts commission, who recently approved the statue in its completed form. A member of the Grant memorial commission had composed a lengthy inscription, but after careful consideration officials of the commission and of the office of public buildings and grounds deemed an inscription unnecessary.

The Hague.—The cost of getting married in The Hague all depends on the day of the week.

For some reason that has never been explained Monday is society day and marriages on that day at the city hall, where every couple must go for the official ceremony, cost 60 guilders (nominally equivalent to 40 cents each). On Saturday the charge is 5 guilders, or nothing at all, depending upon whether the couple wish a separate ceremony all for themselves or be married in groups of twenty couples at a time.

HOW IVAN WON

IVAN was a poor boy, but a very ambitious one. His father was a blacksmith, and when the great lords would come by in their armor to have their steeds shod, Ivan would sit by the forge and gaze in wonder at their handsome array.

One day Lord Raymond rode up with his beautiful daughter accompanying him on a pony. Ivan admired the young girl as she sat waiting for her father's horse to be shod.

"Have you heard the news, father?" asked Ivan's mother of her husband the next morning at breakfast. "Lord

Raymond was last night called to the war by our king, and at noon today he and his 600 men will ride forth.

"But who will defend the castle if old Earl Edmond comes against it in the lord's absence?" asked the father.

"I think there is small fear of that," replied the wife.

So at noon the long line of prancing steeds, headed by the lord, rode down the road and was soon lost to sight.

One September afternoon Ivan walked to the summit of a hill, from which he could see the surrounding country for miles. A flicking light caught his eye. There was a long procession of men winding across the valley, and all were clad in glittering armor. They were keeping close to the shadow of the woods, but when they crossed the sunlit path their swords flashed back the light brightly.

At the head rode a huge man on a black horse and nearby another carried a banner on which was a black eagle.

"It is old Earl Edmond!" exclaimed Ivan. "He is coming to attack the lord's castle in the absence of the owner."

Then far below Ivan noticed that not far from the castle was a large bridge, and below it rushed a mighty river.

"The earl will camp on this side of the big bridge this evening in the woods," said the boy aloud. "And by morning will come over to take the castle. If the timbers holding it can be cut through tonight the wicked men will fall into the river."

With this he ran to his father's shop and got an ax. Within an hour he was at the bridge and had run to the other side, near the castle. Selecting one of the big, strong posts which upheld the weight, he began to cut, and for two hours he kept at the work. At last the beam was easily broken in two parts. He then took the other post, and after three long hours of hewing and resting, he managed to also sever that. The bridge would now fall apart were anyone to walk on it. But by placing several planks over the hole Ivan made it look as if nothing had been done.

At dawn he heard the tramp of men.

PLAYING CARDS.

CARDS for games were used in Egypt in the time of Joseph, but the modern form appears much later. The Chinese Dictionary Ching-tse-tung claims their invention during the reign of Sen-ho, 1120 A. D. They appear to have come into Europe either in the wake of the Saracen invasion or with the Crusaders, who learned about them in their voyages to the Orient. The modern deck is of French extraction.

The heavy horses trotted on to the bridge, while Ivan hid in the bushes at the far end. At the head still rode Earl Edmond on his black charger. He neared the side leading to the castle. His horse came over the plank, it gave way and down steed and rider plunged into the river. The soldiers behind him could not stop their horses, and hundreds tumbled into the water after their leader.

Suddenly the sound of a huge shrill on the air and Ivan saw coming toward him along the river bank the same Lord Raymond who had marched away two months before.

Ivan told the lord how he had defeated the wicked earl and how the castle was now saved from any attack by the enemy.

"Well done, my lady!" cried the lord. "You have done better than I could have with all my men. You must come to the castle and be part of my guard, so when you are a man you can be a knight."

So Ivan took up his abode at the castle. Years afterward, when he was married to Adele and reigning over the surrounding land, he had a great pillar of stone erected at the bridge to mark the spot where one ax defeated hundreds of men.

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"SHALL" AND "WILL."

AMONG the most common errors in the use of English, and one of the most difficult to avoid, is the confusion of "shall" and "will." The rule is that in the first person, either singular or plural, "shall" must be used to indicate a future action. For example, say "I shall go to church tomorrow;" "we shall meet you there;" do not say "will go," "will meet." But if you desire to express determination, use "will;" for example, "I will go, and nothing shall prevent me;" "we will be obeyed."

In the second and third persons the usage in regard to "shall" and "will" is exactly opposite to the usage in the first person. The verb "will" expresses the future and "shall" is used to denote determination. An amusing case of misuse of the words "will" and "shall" is found in the story of the Frenchman who fell into a river and cried: "I will drown, but no one shall rescue me!"

shaking together equal parts of glycerine and rose water. The glycerine softens the skin prevents it drying or chapping, helps to prevent freckles, makes the skin feel wonderfully soft. The rose water is simply a fragrant medium used to dilute the glycerine. The skin feels delightfully dainty after it is rubbed with this mixture.

Keep the skin clean, keep the digestion right—and forget your complexion. More harm is done by over-using cosmetics than by not using them at all.

Times are not Getting Bad

Notwithstanding all the rumors of closed shops, less employment, reduced wages and the like, readjustment of our national economies is proceeding normally.

We all know that prices were far too high. Even steel, the basic industry next to farming, was twice as high as it ought to be. These prices had to come down as they fell, with the certainty of lower dividends than during the old profiteering days when net earnings were no good unless they were at least 30 to 50 per cent, it was only human nature to howl. We are now hearing the dismal howling of the fellows who know that they must soon submit to competition—the life of trade—and to reasonable profit.

The fact is that business is keeping up. Our exports are still large—they increased the last two months over the previous months. Bank clearing are only a small percentage below 1919.

Prices are lowering normally, all are agreed. But they won't go down to pre-war figures for a great many years, if ever. And the man and woman who won't buy shoes and clothes and other necessities until the prices sink to pre-war figures will have to emigrate to where clothes and food and other necessities are not needed.

Re-Adjustment

As prices of some commodities have declined of late, and some other drops are expected, the impression seems to be that everything is coming down to the 1915 level. This is far from the fact. The future undoubtedly will see advances as well as declines, for we are going through a period of readjustment in which fair prices will be sought rather than of general reduction. Government taxes on raw and manufactured goods will continue until the government's war debts are liquidated—and that will be some time. In the meantime the falling off in prices will be gradual.

The Socialist Vote

New York, Dec. 7.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president in the last election, received nearly 950,000 votes—the greatest number polled by a Socialist presidential nominee in the country's history and approximately twice the Socialist vote in 1914.

Available official and unofficial returns from all but seven states show that Debs polled 900,563, which added to the seven states' Socialist vote four years ago—48,366—would give him a total of 948,929. The missing states are Idaho, Louisiana, Montana, New Mexico, North and South Dakota, and Texas.

Debs rolled up 204,120 votes in New York state alone, excepting the soldiers' vote, the unofficial returns show more than four times the state's Socialist vote in 1916, and over three times Debs' poll in 1912.

Other states which gave Debs a sizeable vote this year included Wisconsin, 80,635; Illinois, 74,747; Pennsylvania, 70,021; California, 64,076; Ohio, 57,147; Minnesota, 56,108; Massachusetts, 52,947; New York, 47,141; Oklahoma, 25,630; Missouri, 20,242; Kansas, 15,507, and

The Beaver's Project

Prophets who have been forecasting a long, hard winter have encountered opposition. Other weather wizards have come to bat with the debs that cold calamity cryers don't know what they're croaking about. There isn't going to be any records broken by Jack Frost within the next ten months, the "open winter" prophets say, and they cite no less an authority than the truthful little beaver for these assertions.

Beavers instinctively know all about what's what and what's to be in the winter game, according to amateur meteorologists of Denver. And this year the beaver has been publishing a weather map saying there "ain't going to be no closed winter," or words to that effect. Mr. and Mrs. F. T. (meaning flat tail) Beaver of Colorado have piled up virtually no food at all to carry them through the cold season. Investigation of beaver storage plants at dams throughout the hill districts show that the cupboards are almost barren of food. Hunters from half a dozen different sections where beavers have dams have returned to Denver with the same reports—no food hoarding.

Usually the beaver family starts storing its winter supplies early in September. If the cold season is to be long and excessive the little dam builders lay in a big store, working on their harvest as long as open water permits. When instinct gives them a hunch the winter is to be mild and open, Mr. and Mrs. Beaver and the rest of the family take a fall vacation, giving their entire attention to such light tasks as damming rivers and chopping wood, a la kaiser. At least that's the story weather prophets bring to the office of the Record Stockman. We'll tell you next June whether they're right.—Denver Record Stockman.

The price of beans in the Estancia valley has dropped to the lowest mark in several years, the price offered being $3.60 per cwt.

FARM FAMILIES ASK FOR BOOKS

Announcement of the "Books for Everybody" Movement Brings Letter Flood.

INFORMATIVE WORKS SOUGHT

Requests for Reading Matter Range from Volume on Drainage to Collins' "Book of the Stars."

The announcement of the entrance of the American Library Association upon the "Books for Everybody" movement and still later news accounts of the activities of the organization along these lines resulted in a widespread appeal from residents of the rural districts of the country for books on farming. Whether the American farmer is simply endeavoring his ambition to do a good job better or whether the better crops of his neighbor, who has attended an agricultural college or school, has spurred him on to a matter difficult to tolerate. But the fact remains the farmer is asking for books. The great majority of American farmers are either without the minimum book service or they are inadequately served.

One of the points which the American Library Association in its "Books for Everybody" movement is strongly urging is the extension of the county library system in states where enabling acts have been passed—some twenty-one in number—and the proper legislation in others which have not yet taken the step. The system, with its central library and radiating lines to stations in the remotest sections of the county, assures good books to every man, woman and child who cares to reach out a hand and grasp one.

Letters Show Need of Service. The American Library Association is not giving its entire attention to the urban dweller, nor is it neglecting the centers of population for the rural districts and communities. It is, however, unquestionably eager to create a steady flow of informative reading to rural America. That the need for such service exists and that it is anxiously sought is evidenced in every letter of this nature received by state library commissions and by the A. L. A. A few excerpts have been selected because they seem to express most truly the needs of thousands of others.

When Lydia Carlson, whose farm is beyond Mason, Wis., asked for copies of "Productive Farm Crops," "Productive Vegetable Growing" and "Principles of the Practice of Poultry Raising" she echoed the book needs of her neighbors. Then she revealed the fact that her eyes are not always in the furrows by asking for a copy of Collier's "Book of the Stars."

What Others Desired. There was a pressing need behind the letter from James Duna, who lives ten miles from Convent, La., the nearest town, which has a population of only 500 people. He asked for a copy of "Practical Farm Drainage." The task of keeping his acres dry was beyond him. Walter Williams of Osseo, Wis., wanted to know if he could make fuel alcohol from frozen potatoes and spoiled fruits, and if he could, were there any books on the subject. The requests run the whole range of farm operations. Some wish to know how to treat scale, others desire facts on hog raising. Books giving information on crop rotation are in demand.

The American Library Association is raising a $2,000,000 fund to finance the "Books for Everybody" movement which during the next three years will be carried on in co-operation with existing libraries and library agencies. The money is not being raised through the medium of an intensive drive but through the individual efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries.

A Hog Story

A farmer on the Mesa was in town this week, and stated he has a Berkshire hog, in poor flesh at present, that weighs about 600 pounds. He has begun feeding him on corn, this week and expects his hogship will weigh 900 pounds by February 1921, when he will put him on the block at Carrizozo, and sell to the highest bidder. It may prove a profitable way for the farmer to dispose of his surplus corn, for which there is no demand at present.

MERRY CHRISTMAS 1920

HEALTHY NEW YEAR

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 7.—With a ringing proclamation by Acting Governor Pankey, with organized forces and sales committee in every county and with the inspiration of a splendid public purpose, the annual Christmas Seals begins in New Mexico on December 10. Governor Pankey was chairman of last year's Christmas Seal sale and is lending his active help to the sale this year. Capt. W. C. Reid, general attorney for the Santa Fe railroad, is chairman of the sale. Walter M. Connell, mayor of Albuquerque, is state treasurer. The proceeds, as usual, go to the New Mexico Public Health association. Ninety-five per cent of the money will be used by that association in carrying out its 1921 plans for fighting tuberculosis and other preventable diseases in our state. Last year the health association, with its free traveling clinic and nurses performed a wonderful service for the state, according to the health authorities. It is prepared to greatly extend its efforts in 1921.

The Christmas Seals are being sold in millions all over the world, everywhere for the aid of the warfare on preventable disease. They have become an essential part of the holiday season as the Christmas tree and the Christmas greeting. No Christmas letter or package is complete without its seal, the message of "good will to men" and evidence of organized effort against sickness and suffering.

Christmas Seals will be on sale Saturday, and thereafter until Christmas in every city, town and village in the state. Any individual who wishes a supply may obtain them from the local county committee, or by writing to New Mexico Public Health association, Albuquerque, N. M.

The Story of Oil

The Southern Pacific company this month joins the ranks of the motion picture producers, and will present for the consideration of its employees seven thousand feet of film depicting graphically "The Story of Oil." It took five months to complete this picture, which in seven reels presents, from production to consumption, the inside story of "Liquid Gold."

There is a message to be learned by all who see this film. The fuel oil industry faces a crisis; those who depend upon the industry must take heroic measures if they would stave off disaster. The picture shows what these measures are.

Consumption of fuel oil now exceeds production by 30,000 barrels a day. Reserve stocks in California are being depleted by 1,000,000 barrels a month. At the end of this year approximately ten million vehicles will be using by-products of crude oil for fuel. The Southern Pacific is now burning 60,000,000 gallons per month, or about 16 per cent of oil produced in California and production is falling.

Pains Were Terrific

Read how Mrs. Albert Gregory, of R. F. D. No. 1, Bedford, Ill., got rid of her ills. "During... I was awfully weak... My pains were terrific... I thought I would die. The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach... I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried... One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took it faithfully and the results were immediate," adds Mrs. Gregory. "I continued to get better. All my ills left me, and I went through... with no further trouble. My baby was fat and strong, and myself—thank God—am once more hale and hearty, can walk miles, do my work, though 44 years old, feel like a new person. All I owe to Cardui!" For many years Cardui has been found helpful in building up the system when run down by disorders peculiar to women.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

imately $8,000,000,000 in Victory notes, war saving securities, and treasury certificates of indebtedness will be due for payment within the next three years, treasury figures show.

Retention of the present aggregate levy of taxes, or maintenance of the annual revenue of the government at about $4,000,000,000, then is held to be unavoidable on the face of average expenditures estimated for the period.

Recommendations to be made by Mr. Houston, it was understood, will propose abolishment of the excess profits taxes in their entirety and the substitution thereof of a graduated income tax of a substantially deeper cut than under present revenue laws. It was believed the new income taxes would apply only to incomes above $5,000 annually and that provision would be made for a graduated increase even on the additional tax as the amount of income grows larger.

The secretary is expected to advise congress that the strictest economy in federal appropriations is necessary if the program outlined on the basis of $4,000,000,000 tax bill is to be accomplished.

WASHINGTON.—The nation will face a continuation of the annual tax bill of $4,000,000,000 for at least three years if congress adopts recommendations drafted by treasury officials and laid before Secretary Houston for approval. Mr. Houston, it was stated, probably will include such recommendations in the form of an analysis of the government's financial condition in his annual report to congress.

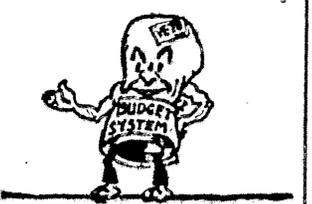

The analysis will show, and accompanying recommendations will suggest, it was said, that a three year program for tax revision is required in order to meet maturing government obligations and cover current federal expenses and that approx-

New Administration to Tackle Budget

WASHINGTON.—With the government likely to spend $4,000,000,000 or more annually for years to come, the working out of an effective budget system will be one of the first tasks of the Harding administration. The bill establishing a budget system may be passed in advance of the inauguration of Senator Harding as president next March.

The Good-McCormack budget bill is pending before the senate, after having been passed by both houses last spring, vetoed by President Wilson and re-passed by the house. As passed a second time by the house, a provision which the president objected to because he thought it encroached upon constitutional powers of the president with respect to the removal of officers appointed by him, was eliminated.

In case the bill is passed during the winter session in advance of March 4, there is a likelihood of the organization of a budget bureau before Senator Harding takes office as president. Under the bill the secretary of the treasury is made the director of the bureau while an assistant director is provided to be appointed by the president at a salary of $10,000 a year. A general accounting office also is created headed by a controller general and assistant controller general appointed by the president at salaries of $10,000 and $7,500 respectively.

The new administration is expected to get the budget bureau in working order so that estimates may be submitted under the new plan to congress in December, 1921, for appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1922.

Already the house has adopted a change in rules that was intended to be supplemental to the budget bill. This change centers in the hands of the appropriations committee the authority to report appropriations heretofore scattered among the committees on agriculture, foreign affairs, Indian affairs, military affairs, naval affairs, postoffice and postroads, and rivers and harbors. One large committee of thirty-five members will do the work which has been divided among eight committees.

Ten Thousand Have Lost Liberty Bonds

More than 10,000 owners of Liberty bonds and Victory notes have lost their bonds either through theft, through destruction by burning, or through some form of carelessness. The last official figures showed 7,583 persons having lost their bonds, of whom 6,038 were holders of coupon bonds. These figures are up to the close of the last fiscal year.

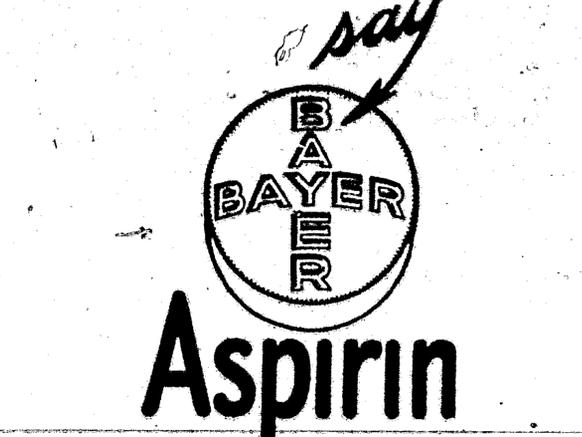

For those who have lost their coupon bonds there is little relief. For those who have lost registered bonds there is every probability of relief. Government officials say probably 50,000,000 coupon bonds still are in the hands of purchasers. The tales of those who had lost their coupon bonds are most pitiable in many instances. Poor women who have struggled and saved to purchase government securities, either through carelessness or a variety of unfortunate circumstances suddenly find themselves minus the bonds. They endeavor to recover them, fail, and then present their plea to the government. Of the thousands who have pleaded for the substitution of securities for coupon bonds, only a negligible percentage have produced sufficient proof of loss to permit the government to relieve them.

Heigh Ho! 100 Women and Musical Satire

THE first theater production company ever planned, organized and managed by women, backed by a founders' association of 100 women in official life and from business and professional circles in Washington, including Miss Mary Anderson of Chicago, chief of the woman's bureau of the department of labor; Mrs. Helen H. Gardener, civil service commissioner, and Mrs. Clara Sears Taylor, rent commissioner District of Columbia, recently launched its first venture, "Heigh Ho," a musical satire.

The officers of the new organization, the Washington Theater Productions, Inc., Mrs. Glenn A. Smith, Tina, Miss Katherine S. Brown, and Mrs. Mary Holland Kincaid, are well known in the Middle West. Mrs. Tina was born and reared in Chicago; Miss Brown made Chicago her headquarters while acting as western producer for national theatrical managers, and Mrs. Kincaid was a member of the staff of the Milwaukee Sentinel and of the Star Ocean. The building of the new theater, concert hall, all fully equipped. Plans for the building have been drawn, but without waiting for the completion of the edifice the founders already are at work on productions, leading off with "Heigh Ho," which will play in Baltimore and Richmond, and reach Chicago before the end of the season.

50 Years Ago

A young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce who afterward moved to Buffalo, N. Y. He made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and he put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union. For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to. It is now sold by druggists in tablet form as well as in liquid.

LEAVENWORTH, KANS.—"I was all run-down from a complication of diseases. My next-door neighbor recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription because she had taken it with fine results. I decided to take it and after taking two bottles of the medicine I was entirely well. It is surely God's gift."—Mrs. F. G. LEVINGWORTH, 713 Seneca Street.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism

If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away. For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.E.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism. Begin taking S.E.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you the best doctor's advice.

Definition of a Friend.
 Some one defined a friend as "one who is truer to me than I am to myself." We are not always true to ourselves, and one of the highest offices of friendship is to hold the life true to its best. The love that does not make us long to be better and stronger for its sake, and in gratitude for its possession, is not the highest type of love.

Public Health Report

Mrs. E. A. Greene, the Red Cross nurse, visited a number of school districts in the county the past month, including Lincoln, Picacho, San Patricio, Arabela, Blue Water, Clear Creek and Tinnie. In San Patricio she found the school badly crowded, and conditions not pleasing, with five cases of whooping cough.

Picacho has a good school building, with a small attendance—54 pupils and three teachers.

In the Lincoln school, the children were found to have many defects. In the higher grades some had defective vision.

The school at Alto was closed on account of the teacher being on vacation.

Ancho school has recovered from the diphtheria, and the quarantine is lifted.

Two cases of scarlet fever was found at Nogal. The teacher and some others were exposed, and the school was closed. Many children were found in the schools who have not been vaccinated—In Lincoln 23, in Picacho 14, in San Patricio 30, in Arabela 1, in Blue Water 4, in Clear Creek 4, and in Tinnie 8.

336 were examined during November.

Saturday Night's Dance

Saturday evening last in the K. P. Hall the local Trainmen Lodge gave its first annual ball. It was one of the most pleasant affairs of its kind this season, and nearly every section of the county was represented. Corons, perhaps, sent the biggest delegation, six or seven cars coming from that point. Alamogordo, across the line, sent some of its best. The music was delightful, the crowd in accord with the occasion, resulting, of course, in a pleasant evening. The first annual ball of the Trainmen was held at the

State Health Officer Luchett was here Monday night from Santa Fe. He met a number at the K. P. Methodist Church

Last week realized the practical completion of work which has been in progress at the Methodist Parsonage since the beginning of the Conference Year. All the rooms have been newly calcimined, all the interior wood-work has been cleaned and varnished, the floors refinished, weather-stripping placed around windows and doors, a sink and pump placed in the kitchen and the sleeping porch remodeled in such a way as to practically add another room. The lumber yard has furnished the lumber about at cost and the hardware and canvas used have been supplied at a discount in recognition of the unselfish nature of the enterprise. The materials are purchased by the local department of the Women's Missionary Society. All labor has been gladly donated as a contribution to the progress of Christ's kingdom.

Rev. J. B. Cochran will be with us next Sunday; hold the first Quarterly Conference and preach at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Cochran is the Presiding Elder of the Albuquerque District, having been appointed to take the place of Rev. J. C. Jones, who goes to the Roswell District. Rev. Cochran is not a stranger in this community, having occupied this office heretofore. To those who have not known him it may be said that he is a splendid gospel preacher and the church and community will enjoy hearing him. The pastor, Rev. C. C. Higbee, will preach at the eleven o'clock hour, the text being: "Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?" Matt. 11:30.
