OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 21

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1921

NUMBER 19

The Demos Wallop the Repubs

The big game of the season—the first and the best—was pulled off at the ball park last Sunday afternoon. It was a battle of the giants and right nobly was it waged until the signal to cease firing was sounded. Democrats and Republicans composed the rival teams, and when the smoke of battle cleared away and the final and official result announced it was found that the Democrats had won—had several lengths to spare—the score showing 17 tallies for the Democrats, while the Republicans made only 11.

The line-up follows:
Democrats Pbs. Republicans
Brickley p Rolland
Garcia c Salcido
Paden 1b Baker
Spencer 2b Adams
Treat 3b Lujan
Casier ss Chavez
Bryan-Norman rf Farley-Burke
Anderson cf Long
Haley lf Barnett

Both moundsmen were handicapped by not having catchers who could hold them. Harry Norman first tried to freeze to Senator Brickley's delivery, but it was beyond him, the senator's hard, straight balls had so much smoke that it required a seasoned catcher to tie onto them, and as the spit balls began to girdle, some of them taking a 45 degree angle and finding lodgment on the roof of the grandstand, Harry gave up, was to sent the outfield and Dave Garcia took the position behind the bat. Dave nailed the senator's passes, grabbed them out of the air and picked them out of the sand at will; and from that time the Demos held a comfortable lead.

It is but fair to say that Mayor Rolland did some fancy twirling for the Repubs, and put 'em over so swiftly that they fairly sizzled, and the batters experienced great difficulty in connecting with them. He was compelled to slow down, however, as the Repubs had no substitute catcher, and the grilling that Max got behind the bat was too much for any one man; and the result was that the Demos hammered the ball all over the field.

It was a game replete with sensational and hair-raising plays and not a single error was made by either team. The fielding of both teams was superb, and in base running a new mark was set. It was asserted, however, that the umpire, Wayne Van Schoyck, who is a Demo, favored his party in close decisions, and this charge was rather vociferously reiterated when Senator Brickley was accused of cutting across directly from 2d to home plate, passing up 3d by 40 feet. The umpire not having seen the play, even, indeed, if it was made, naturally declined to call the runner out, and another score was added to the winning team's big total. The senator, himself, says the charge is a base fabrication; that he could show the print of his foot on the 3d base bag. Inasmuch as a pitcher, like a poet, is granted a certain license, it must be confessed by our friends, the enemy, that 40 feet is a very small thing on which to hang a protest.

The day was a little chilly and raw; therefore the crowd was not present that was expected, but those who did attend were good sports and showed their appreciation of good sport by enduring the unfavorable atmospheric conditions rather than miss the opportunity of witnessing a game that is seen only once during an average lifetime.

In a Bad Fix
It is easy to write news when there is any news, but if you live in a town where the dogs won't fight, and the cats agree, and the roosters don't crow, what are you going to do? Your subscribers expect you to write something breezy, anyhow, and you are certainly in a d—l of a bad fix. The carnival has come and gone, the court has adjourned and nobody hurt except perhaps the taxpayers, and most of the moonshiners and bootleggers are in jail. The sun does shine most of the time and the wind blows all of the time. Spring is past due, yet winter lingers, so we are in rather a doubtful mood as to whether we should buy more coal and more heavyweight clothes or try to shiver through a few more days and then hunt up our ice-cream freezers and light-weight stuff. This is a wonderful, doubtful world, anyhow, even if we do have an occasional quiet day when the wind does not blow.

HONOR THE FALLEN.
Again the American people will honor the heroes who have fought and died for their country. It will bring sorrow and sadness to a nation of people, and painful memories to many hearts. But it is a sacred duty we owe to those who have made the great sacrifice. It is a privilege to those who have benefited through the misfortune of others. A nation is only as great as its people, and the record of America's greatness is illuminated by the graves of her fallen sons. No word that we may utter, no act that we may perform, will add to or detract from the nobility of their great service to their country. But we may be true to ourselves, to our country, and to our god, by reverently commemorating the noblest act of mankind—the sacrifice of life that home and country may be preserved, and that others may live and prosper.

We would deem it idle to attack, after the fact, the action of a majority of the board of regents of the New Mexico Normal University, for their discharge of Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts as president of that institution and the selection of Jonathan H. Wagner in his stead, except for the fact that such betrayal of the public interest must be made inexpedient before it crystallizes into a habit in this state. Sec. Romero, a local political boss of the most objectionable type, impertinently demanded the head of Dr. Roberts. His demand was granted. No more unworthy request was ever made. There was every reason of decency why it should be refused by the governor. The spectacle of this ignorant, selfish politician being able to brow-beat a reluctant governor of a great state, leaves us almost speechless. This is not a mere question of the competency of Dr. Roberts. Sec. Romero would not know competency in any line if he encountered it, except in intrigue and maliciousness. Jose Sena, an arrogant bigot and servile tool of Romero, is utterly unfit for such a task. Mrs. Hidalgo is probably a well-intentioned young woman of twenty-one. The third member, a good man, is completely blinded by personal animosity. The public will accept the

Dog License
The annual dog tax in the sum of $1.00 for each male dog, and $2.00 for each female dog kept in the town of Carrizozo, must be paid by the owners of such dogs not later than June 1st, for the year 1921. Tags must be secured and kept on all dogs on which tax has been paid. Dogs not wearing a 1921 tag after June 1st, 1921, will be subject to the disposition provided in Ordinance No. 2 of said town.

Boys' Leg Broken
Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Peckham's little son fell from a window last Saturday afternoon and sustained a broken leg. The injured member was set, placed in a plaster cast and the little fellow seems to be getting along very well. The Peckhams are recent arrivals, the father holding a chair in the Snow barber shop.

judgment of Dr. Boyd and John Morrow that Dr. Roberts should have been continued. Certainly Romero should not have been allowed to oust even an incompetent man.

Politics, and politics alone, dictated Dr. Roberts' dismissal. Politics, and politics alone, dictated the selection of J. H. Wagner to succeed him. Politics, and politics alone, will dictate who shall be on the faculty. At one blow this great school, so vital to our system of education because it provides us with teachers, is given a shock which will set it back ten years. The selection of a politician-educator as the new president, aggravates the situation.

Nothing has happened in New Mexican politics in a long time which the Journal so much regrets as this precedent of turning our schools over to the politicians.

School Notes
(Staff, E. E. Cole.)
On Monday morning Dr. Roberts visited the High School and gave an "intelligence test." Such a test is made up of questions to test the quickness of perception, how readily an idea can be grasped, how quickly something hidden can be dug out. A chart for the interpretations was left with the superintendent. The doctor is visiting the leading schools in the east part of the state.

Last Saturday the Boy Scouts went to Water Canon. They report a delightful time. On the same day the fifth grade accompanied by the teacher made a picnic trip to the Bar-W ranch. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The class play "Mr. Bob" will hold the stage at the Crystal Monday and Tuesday evenings. Commencement exercises will be held at the Crystal on the evening of the 18th. Following is the program:

Investigation..... Rev. W. Hoffman
"Share Brightly Shining"..... Girls' Glee Club
Salutatory..... Lillian Merchant
"Appreciation"..... Laureen Wilson
Valedictory..... Eva Wack
Address..... Pres. D. B. Hill, State University
"O Baccalaureate May"..... Girls' Glee Club
Presentation of Diplomas..... Supt. E. E. Cole
Flower Girls..... Dolita Richard, Teresa Bismut
Benediction..... Rev. G. C. Higbee
I wish to announce at this time the honors of the senior class. During the last four years Miss Eva Wack has made an unusual record, having 18 1/2 credits, 5-8ths of a year's work more than necessary for graduation. The number required for graduation is 16 credits. Miss Lillian Merchant has 16 1/2 credits and Miss Laureen Wilson has 15 credits.

Shooting at Corona

Corona was the scene of a shooting Wednesday afternoon. A wire was received about 6:20 Wednesday night calling Dr. Johnson and the sheriff, who left immediately for the scene. When they reached Corona they found that Dr. Davis had been shot twice—in the wrist and in the neck. Neither wound appeared, from examination, to be serious, however, and the attending surgeon announced that the wounded man would readily recover.

Dr. J. T. Stone is charged with the shooting. The near tragedy, it is said, is the result of a disagreement over a case. Dr. Stone had a hearing before Justice Wetmore yesterday. He waived examination and was placed under a $1,000 bond. The bond was given and the defendant released.

Scooting is Good

We note in the daily press that the draft evaders are to be gathered in and punished. Following our usual custom, advance information has been published broadcast in order that the guilty may take to the tall timber while yet there is time. If any be overbold, and remain in their accustomed haunts, possibly some other form of warning will be employed, coupled with an urgent intimation that it is time to scoot while the scooting is good. If any are so foolish as to continue to decline to take safety in flight, we presume they will be reluctantly pinched and politely requested to face the music. In any other country the arrests would be made first and the publishing done afterwards. Good-bye, slackers! Go as far as you can and forget to return.

Red Cross Health Information

ADENOIDS IN CHILDREN
The human lungs need filtered air just as much as does the general system needs pure, filtered water. One child in every ten, according to estimates and results of examinations of large numbers of children, are not getting filtered air because of an obstruction in the nasal passages called "adenoids" which cause mouth breathing.

Air breathed into the lungs should be moistened and filtered by passing through the nose and coming in contact with a moist cushion or filter of tissue. If this tissue becomes abnormally enlarged it stops up the common avenue of breathing and air must then pass directly through the mouth and into the lungs without filtration.

The strain upon the lungs in receiving this unpurified air lessens the child's resistance to disease. It is likely to have repeated colds and soon show signs of nasal catarrh. The nose, shut off from its normal supply of air becomes an ideal breeding place for disease germs. The development of chronic catarrh, a frequent result of adenoids, may lead to loss of the sense of smell, altering of the facial expression and disfigurement of the jaws and teeth.

Adenoids can be detected in children by a variety of signs. Sleeping with mouth open, snoring and frequent strangling coughing spells, being among the most common symptoms. Backwardness in school is a very frequent result of the obstruction in the nose. If there are signs of an obstruction in the air passage way the child should be examined by a reputable physician, and if adenoids are discovered they should be removed. If the child is under ten the operation is a very simple one.

Even a few months neglect of adenoids may result in considerable damage from mouth breathing, and a permanent physical defect.

Range Management Experiments by Agricultural College.

Denver.—"Range management experiments to determine maximum carrying capacities and beef production have been undertaken by the Colorado Agricultural College in co-operation with the United States Forest Service," said Lynn H. Douglas, grazing inspector of the local forestry office.

The experiments which will cover a period of five or six years and determine the best methods of handling foothill ranges, will be conducted on the Agricultural College's 600-acre pasture by E. J. Maynard, who is in charge of animal investigations for the college.

"There are thousands of acres of pasture land owned by stockmen in Colorado, which are similar to those on which the experiments are being conducted, and the results of the work will be valuable to the ranchmen," said Mr. Maynard, who went to Sedalia, Colorado, to select steers for the management tests.

The steers will be weighed periodically after being turned into the pasture which is merely fenced, native range and the condition of the forage will be inspected. When grazing should begin in the spring and the length of time it should last will be important points determined in connection with the experiments.

After the investigations are completed, the Agricultural College will compile and publish a bulletin which will give the results of the work.

Big Program for Music Week.
The program for Denver Music Week is assuming huge proportions.

During the week of May 15, over 200 recitals by music teachers and pupils of the city will be given, in addition to which Denver school children will take part in at least twenty-five operettas.

Seventy-five churches of the city will have special sermons or additional choir and Sunday school features.

Fifty events, including the opera "Martha," will take place in the city Auditorium alone during the week. For the convenience of those out of town folk, living up to and beyond a radius of twenty-five miles of Denver will be allowed to make reservations by mail.

More events will be held out of doors at the Civic Center. All stores, factories, clubs, organizations of all kinds, will observe the week with specially arranged programs.

And the outstanding feature of the whole week is that no admission to any event will be charged the public.

Wool Growers to Sell Own Sheep.
Salt Lake City.—Western wool growers have made arrangements for the opening of commission houses to sell sheep at the eastern markets as a measure for reducing their costs to a basis in keeping with reduced market prices of wool and lambs, according to an announcement made by F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association.

Danger of Forest Fires Lessened.
Denver.—Danger of fire in the national forests has been greatly lessened for 1921 by the big snow fall, according to a statement recently issued by Allen S. Peck, chief forester. "Up to the time of the big snow, which resulted in the deposit of an average of five feet in most of the Colorado forests, forestry conditions were considerably disturbed over the entire range," he said. "It had been an abnormally dry winter up to that time. The snow has been

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Wanted: Mail Robbers at $5,000 Each

WASHINGTON.—Apparently the mail robbers pulled a boner when they did a bit of robbing at Sullivan, Ind. Anyway, Sullivan is the home of Postmaster General Hays. And it looks as if he was a bit peeved. Anyway, he has issued this formal order:

"To any postal employee or other person who brings in a mail robber the Postoffice department will pay a reward of not exceeding $5,000. All essential postal employees will be fully armed and every man is expected to uphold the honor of the service."

"These robberies must stop and stop now," said Mr. Hays in discussing the order. "We are going to use every power available to do this, no matter how drastic it is. The West knows how to handle these criminals, just as they used to in the old Wells-Fargo days."

Mr. Hays called in consultation Rush D. Simmons, the newly appointed chief inspector, and the retiring chief inspector, George M. Sutton. He also had before him recommendations made by Mr. Simmons and Mr. Sutton to meet the emergency and the confidential reports giving details of the more recent robberies.

It is the intention of the department to arm all employees who may have charge of valuable postal shipments, either on trains or in the post-offices. These employees will also be directed to shoot when they find themselves confronted by thieves.

Employees in the city services who deliver small quantities of registered mail may not be included among those supplied with firearms, but otherwise the plan will be made a very general one.

There have been reports of late which would seem to indicate that some of the mail robberies have been committed by men who were formerly in the employ of the Postoffice department and who know the "ropes." The department is especially anxious to bring about the arrest of some of the robbers of this type.

This Congress to Regulate Immigration

IMMIGRATION is to be regulated by this congress. The immigration bill passed in the last days of the Wilson administration and killed by a pocket veto is to be put through practically in the same form, according to an understanding arrived at between its sponsors and leaders of the senate and house.

As passed by the last congress, the bill provides that the number of aliens of any nationality who may be admitted in any one year shall be limited to 2 per cent of the number of foreign-born persons of such nationality resident in the United States, as determined by the census of 1910, and that, after July 1, 1921, the number of aliens of any nationality who may be admitted in any one calendar month shall not exceed 15 per cent of the total number of such aliens admissible in that fiscal year.

Aliens returning from temporary visits abroad and aliens who are professional actors, artists, lecturers, singers, or nurses, ministers, professors, or aliens belonging to any recognized learned profession, or aliens employed as domestic servants may be admitted even if the maximum have entered the United States in the same month or year, but only aliens of these classes arriving before the entrance of the maximum number shall be counted in reckoning the percentage limits as provided in the act.

A few changes have been made clarifying especially the paragraphs concerning the countries whose political boundaries have changed since 1910.

A new provision limiting to 50,000 the immigration from any country in any one year may be added to the bill if its sponsors can satisfy themselves that the passage of the measure will not be endangered or deferred thereby.

This provision meets the objection previously urged against the bill that it reduces below the normal flow of immigration the number of immigrants admissible from Belgium, France, the Netherlands, Denmark and Switzerland, while tremendously increasing the number permitted to come from Germany above the number actually arriving annually from Germany for a considerable period preceding the World war.

Smoot Explains His Sales Tax Bill

TEXT of the sales tax bill, introduced by Senator Smoot of Utah, shows that the bill imposes a tax of 1 per cent on all turnovers, with an annual exemption of $5,000, the effect of this being to exempt smaller farmers and tradesmen. It has been estimated that the 1 per cent would yield more than $2,000,000,000 annually.

In a statement in behalf of the plan Senator Smoot says its advantages are extreme simplicity of assessment and collection, a low tax rate, applying uniformly on all commodities, and absence of complicated features which make it difficult for the taxpayer to know at any time what his tax liabilities are. Senator Smoot defines the proposed general sales tax as follows:

"A tax on the gross value of goods, wares and merchandise, whether raw material or manufactured, or partially manufactured products, whether of domestic or of foreign origin, and such as are generally sold or exchanged and delivered for domestic consumption, whether in barter or on a cash, credit, or installment basis, which tax shall accrue at the time of sale or lease of all such goods, wares and merchandise, at a rate of 1 per cent of their total value at the time of such change of ownership. The tax also applies to the total amount or amounts received on all leases of goods, wares and merchandise."

Merchants and others making sales subject to the tax would make quarterly payments to the government.

The bill exempts sales and leases made by the federal government, states and municipalities, foreign governments, mutual ditch or irrigation companies and hospitals and other corporations organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes, and also goods sold or leased for export.

Weeks Hops Off in the Flying Game

THEM first move toward the rehabilitation of the army aviation service has been made by Secretary of War Weeks. It is the placing of orders for 200 modern pursuit planes and 85 Martin type bombers, which will cost approximately $2,240,000.

The pursuit planes of the Thomas Morse type, thoroughly up to date in every particular, were ordered from the Boeing company of Seattle, Wash. The Martin type bombers were ordered from the L. W. F. company of Garden City, N. Y. The 200 pursuit planes will cost $1,400,000 and the bombers about $24,000 each. The latter will be equipped with Liberty motors to be furnished by the War Department.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Have You Tried It?
Everybody has read the above headline; how many believe it? Have you a little-one in the home, and has that dear little mite when its stomach was not just right felt the comforts that come with the use of Fletcher's Castoria? You have heard the cry of pain. Have you heard them cry for Fletcher's Castoria? Try it.

Just help baby out of its trouble tomorrow with a taste of Castoria. Watch the difference in the tone of the cry, the look in the eye, the wiggle in the tiny fingers. The transformation is complete—from pain to pleasure. Try it.

You'll find a wonderful lot of information about Baby in the booklet that is wrapped around every bottle of Fletcher's Castoria.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

An American $2 Bill Did This

AFTER.

Somewhere in America is the happy man or woman who contributed the $2 bill which wrought this miracle. More than a quarter million other helpless little victims of Turkish cruelty and oppression are knocking at the doors of the Near East Relief orphanages in Western Asia. Many more American $2 bills are needed now to let them in and to care for them until they can care for themselves.

CONGRESSMEN FAVOR FILIPINO INDEPENDENCE

Congressman Ed. Ward J. King of Illinois.

Washington.—"The appointed hour is here: let the Philippines be free." This was the keynote of a speech by Congressman Edward J. King of Illinois, (Republican) in which he reviewed the American occupation of the islands from the first day to the present time. He declared that the United States was honored to grant independence without further delay.

Congressman King is one of an increasing number of Republicans in the House who are urging quick action on Philippine independence. Mr. King is the author of a bill which provides that within one year the Philippine government, under presidential proclamation, may assemble a convention and frame a constitution.

After the constitution is ratified by the Filipino people the President may recognize the Philippine islands as "a separate and self-governing nation." The transfer of authority is to be completed within one year. Provision is made for safeguarding American investments in the Philippines and for the providing of coaling stations and submarine bases in the islands by the United States.

Word from the Philippines is that the people expect early independence and will be sorely disappointed if they do not get it.

"No nation has the right," said Congressman King, "to hold another people in penance, even though it may be argued by the professoriate that the condition is simply one of 'tutelage.'"

"A little more observance of the golden rule in national and international affairs would soon dispel that desire for exploitation, the fiercest foe of freedom in the world today."

"When we went to the Philippines we declared before the whole world that we were not actuated by any selfish desire of conquest or territorial aggrandizement, but solely by humanitarian impulses."

Congressman King called attention to the fact that Filipinos are now raising funds to erect a monument to Admiral Dewey, which he said was indirectly a tribute to the American people as well as to Dewey. He recalled the cable that Dewey had sent to President McKinley, which was as follows:

"In my opinion these people (Filipinos) are superior in intelligence and more capable of self government than the natives of Cuba, and I am familiar with both."

Congressman King then recited the preamble to the Jones law, passed August 29, 1916, and declared it was a definite pledge of independence. The preamble stated "It is as it has always been the purpose of the people of the United States to withdraw their sovereignty over the Philippine Islands and to recognize their independence as soon as a stable government can be established therein."

Congressman King stated there was no question but that the Filipinos had established the specified stable government and, therefore, it is the solemn duty of the United States to grant the promised independence.

ASKS INDEPENDENCE FOR PHILIPPINES

Manila. — Francis Burton Harrison, former governor general of the Philippine Islands, offered to tender his resignation eight months ago upon condition that the Secretary of War recommend to President Wilson that a Filipino be appointed his successor. He made the offer while in Washington in 1919.

Discussing Philippine independence, the governor general said:

"I can see in the future a very beautiful vision. When the flag of the Philippine republic shall be hoisted, when the Stars and Stripes will come floating down to the strains of 'The Star Spangled Banner'—that flag, Old Glory, so rich in happy and honorable achievements, will be made doubly dear because it will mean that the United States will have kept its word to the people of the Philippine Islands."

School of Journalism in Philippines Manila.—A school of journalism, the first in the Far East, has been established at the University of the Philippines, in Manila.

Admission to the School of Journalism is limited to the fourth year students who have shown marked ability in the use of English. The course is open to both men and women.

Schools Are Making Filipinos An English Speaking Race

This is the type of schoolroom that is rapidly making an English speaking nation out of the 10,000,000 inhabitants of the Philippines.

If a teacher in a public school in the Philippines desires to punish a child, she doesn't have to apply the ruler. She simply sentences the offending pupil to remain away from school a few days!

This is the most severe punishment she can inflict, for Filipino children take an almost abnormal pleasure in going to school and acquiring an education. The all-Filipino legislature, in response to the popular demand for "schools, and still more schools," is constantly increasing its appropriations for education, but the schools can scarcely be constructed fast enough to care for the ever-increasing enrollment. The school enrollment is now 592,000 without any compulsory attendance laws. When Dewey sailed into Manila Bay there were 2,100 private schools in the islands. Today there are 6,500 schools and colleges, with 17,000 Filipino teachers and about 1,000 other teachers, 841 of whom are Americans.

The University of the Philippines is the center of learning of the entire Orient, and is the pride of the Filipino people. It has an enrollment of 3,500 students. Santo Tomas university of Manila, older than Harvard, is another famous seat of learning.

The school system includes normal schools, agricultural colleges, twenty-seven farm schools, a nautical school and a school for the deaf and blind.

The Filipino pupil, in addition to learning English and in addition to his regular studies, learns basket making, embroidery and hat weaving, the trades peculiar to the islands, as well as the domestic sciences and pedagogy. There are more positions than can be filled by the trade school and commercial college graduates. The trade and agricultural schools produced $1,178,850 worth of goods in 1919.

There is nothing that the Filipino people take more pride in and that they are more grateful to the United States for, than their school system, which has been declared by many competent critics to be one of the finest in the world. While the system was implanted in the islands by Americans, every cent of the cost has been cheerfully borne by the Filipino people. The schools are making an English speaking race of the Filipino nation. English is the official language, and it is declared will continue to be when independence is granted.

"The Filipino boys and girls are well balanced, docile and industrious pupils," says Julius B. Wood, who was sent to the islands by the Chicago Daily News to investigate conditions there. "To attend school is a privilege to a Filipino child or young man, not an unwelcome duty. In the cities those who work days go to school at night."

University of the Philippines which has an enrollment of 3,500 students.

"Today there is hardly a barrier where youngsters cannot be found who speak English. One-third of the house of representatives and eighteen of the twenty-four senators speak English. In the next election, in 1922, the young men of the new schools will be stepping into control, and the first great goal of the public school system will have been reached."

Do You Know the Facts about building costs?

Do you know that lumber and building material are down?

Have you talked to us lately about building?

Do you know how reasonably you can make needed repairs, build your new home, or remodel your old one?

Better get in touch with the situation at once.

The big building program that was expected in 1920 failed to develop. The manufacturers were caught with too large stocks, and were forced to turn them over at almost cost.

We can show you a substantial saving on every item in our line.

But it's only fair to tell you this condition may be only temporary. The country is short more than a million homes. Our own town is short at least ONE HUNDRED HOMES. When people begin to do this long-delayed building, demand will increase rapidly, creating another shortage of materials and prices will advance again.

If you are planning to build, remodel or repair, come in and let us give you figures. Then when we show you the actual savings over last year's prices, and show you how favorably present costs compare with the former era of low prices, make your decision.

NEWS GOES FAST Gives Tanlac Credit For Splendid Health

Drum-Beat in Africa Has Telegraphic Speed.

Marvelous System of Signaling Has Long Been One of the Wonders of the World.

News is carried by drum-beat in Africa at a rate as fast as the telegraph, writes A. S. Crawley in the London Daily Mail.

"The natives of Central Africa have a wonderful system of signaling from village to village by drum-beat," he says.

"Generally the property of the chief, these official drums, which are many, forming a set of varying size, are as a rule of the species known as Incision-drum. This is a long, narrow, hollow cylinder, made from a tree trunk, with the ends closed.

"The drum is placed in either a horizontal or vertical position, the former producing the best results. Big drums carry more than ten miles.

"By relay a message may travel 1,000 miles in little more than the velocity of sound.

"The drum-telephone depends upon an elaborate code of sounds. European travelers often order their dinner and night's lodging at the next village by a drum-message. The villagers use it as we use a postal, telegraph and telephone service—and there are no charges.

"For the home service the drum plays the part also of the church bell, the clock, the town crier and the daily newspaper. For instance, Rev. James Rooco, whose African adventures and discoveries have recently been reported, notes that it announced a birth or a death, the new moon and the weekly fast day.

"To help understanding of the marvelous code, as complete as a language, the remarks of Sir Arthur B. Killa (writing of West Africa) are in point:

"To a European the rhythm of a drum expresses nothing beyond a repetition of the same note at different intervals of time, but to a native it expresses much more. To him the drum can and does speak, the sounds produced from it forming words and the whole measure of rhythm a sense."

"Thus, at a dance of 'companies,' in one measure they abuse the men of another company . . . then the rhythm changes and the gallant deeds of their own company are extolled. All this, and much more, is conveyed by the beating of drums, and the native ear, trained to detect and interpret each beat, is never at fault."

Midget Babies Often Thrive.

Parents whose children are abnormally small at birth can take heart, for recent figures show that they usually frequently grow up quite robust, and of normal proportions. According to the observations of an English doctor, a girl baby born 18 years ago, to a Mrs. Warwick of Barrow-in-Furness, for instance, weighed only one and three-quarter pounds. She now turns the scale at 150 pounds, and is an exceptionally healthy and intelligent child.

Even more remarkable is the case of Leonard Merrick, who stands over 6 feet high and weighs 180 pounds, all brown and muscle and sinew. At his birth, 25 years ago, he weighed only 15 ounces, his head was not much bigger than a billiard ball, the mouth was only just about the size of the end of a pencil, and the mother's wedding ring would slip easily up the arm as high as the shoulder.

A baby exhibited at one of the meetings of the British Obstetrical society weighed only 20 ounces and the Medical Times once announced the birth of one that turned the scale at exactly one pound. Both these grew up strong and healthy, and of normal proportions. In short, a small infant seems likely to do as well as a big one, always provided, of course, that it survives the perils of babyhood.

Rivals.

Gilbert K. Chesterton said the other day in New York:

"I am sick of the great horde of free verse poets that has sprung up among us. These little wretches grad out a few hundred words of silly twaddle that is without rhyme and without reason, and then they thank themselves the superiors of Swinburne."

"At the Greenwich village tea yesterday a scrawny little free verse poet said:

"I'm awfully sorry D'Annunzio has capitulated, you know!"

"Are you?" asked an old maid in sandals. "Why?"

"Notwithstanding our already overcrowded market," said the poet, "that dwarf is sure to start writing poetry again."

Never Outfitted.

Oil-soaked hair is a novel form of soldiers introduced by the Russian bolshers, which recently opened in Paris. The women dancers have cut their hair short and so attracted it with oil that it looks like a straw hat. Their eyebrows are painted in a long line line, which runs right back to the roots of the hair, giving the face the appearance of a rabbit's tail.

"Several years ago I commenced having periodic spells of sickness and a few months ago I had an attack that I thought would finish me. When I did finally get up, I was scarcely able to go. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat caused so much gas on my stomach I could hardly get my breath.

"At night I was often so bloated I couldn't breathe while lying down and just had to sit up and struggle for air. At times I had cramps so bad I could hardly endure it.

Absence of Disease Isn't Health; You Need Vitality, Energy

You may have no particular disease, and yet fall far short of enjoying real health. To be actually healthy you must be sturdy, alert, vigorous, a-sparkle with enthusiasm and the joy of living—fakely bubbling over with vitality and energy. Are you thus?

If you are well, yet listless and unambitious, it is because you lack some quality that would fill you with vim and drive, and give them out of ten the sole cause of this lack is found to be discarded, weak blood.

U. S. Weather Is Not Home Brew

icy Blasts and Torrid Zephyrs Are "Imported" From Other Countries as General Rule NOT SUBJECT TO REGULATION

There is No Way of Suppressing High and Low Disturbances and Atmospheric Pressure is Boss of Its Own Whims.

Washington.—People who complain about the weather, who kick because it is too hot, too cold or too windy, as the case might be, are reminded by the National Geographic society that the weather is not home-brewed.

Most of it comes sweeping in from other countries, blowing up beyond the three-mile limit without passport or tariff restrictions. Some of it might bear the brand, "Made in the U. S. A.," but as a general thing it is imported. For the most part the American supply of rain, snow, blizzards, cold waves and hot waves, tornadoes and tempests, come tumbling in from the northwest and the west. A smaller percentage, the society reports, come from the north and southwest, but now and then the wind in the Gulf of Mexico and the South Atlantic licks up its heels and there is trouble.

But, say the feathery men of the society, it is worth noting that some of the weather enters the country through the stretch of the Atlantic coast north of Cape Hatteras, the section into which pours the vast bulk of material imports, and in which occurs a majority of the main disasters on American shores.

Alaska Storm Center. There is some consolation to enthusiasts for the "Made in America" movement, the society says, in the fact that the great majority of disturbances that enter the states originate in Alaska, or in the great warm cauldron of the North Pacific, between the Aleutian islands and Hawaii, which is almost a United States sea.

So the weather is not subject to regulation. There is no way of suppressing high and low disturbances. Atmospheric pressure is boss of its own whims. The groundhog is not nearly so accurate a prophet as a little vase at the edge of the sea.

"The areas of disturbance—'lows' and 'highs'—made familiar to large numbers of people by the rough circles and ellipses that indicate them on the daily weather maps of the weather bureau," says the society bulletin, "cross the continent usually in three or four days. Usually rain or snow falls in the 'low' areas or slightly in advance of them. The rains that occur in the arid parts of the West, however, usually follow in the passage of the 'lows.'"

The "highs" that traverse the United States have fewer places of origin than the "lows"—Alberia, North and South Pacific, Rocky mountains and Hudson bay. They usually bring cooler weather. The bitterest cold waves known in the region from the Great Lakes eastward follow "highs" that drift down from the Hudson bay, but judging by the recent winter performance there was not much drifting.

The bulletin does not explain why the last winter fell so far below the usual average, or whether this may be taken to mean that the approaching summer will break all records for heat, considering its early start.

Hit by Vise Frauds

Travelers in Orient Are Victims of Swindlers.

Favorite Means of Livelihood Among Minor Officials—Also Practices Money and Ticket Frauds.

Constantinople.—Swindling travelers in connection with passport visas has become one of the favorite means of livelihood of minor officials in the Orient and Balkan countries.

Mrs. J. H. K. Polly, wife of an American business man living in London, recently was a victim of this fraud while traveling on the Orient express, running from here to Paris. When the train was passing from Bulgaria into Serbia an official in uniform representing himself as a Serb inspector, demanded to see her passport.

Informing her that the visa obtained at the Serb legation in Constantinople was invalid and ordered her to leave the train. After protestations, he consented to accept $25 to let her continue her journey. She had already paid $80 for visas of her passport.

Before leaving Constantinople many travelers are obliged to give large sums to get visas which later may be declared invalid in this manner.

Since refugees from Russia are not wanted in other countries, where they may become public charges, few passports are granted them officially, but they are furnished with proper papers for sums ranging from $20 to $100. As these refugees are poor, they are often obliged to spend all but their traveling expenses for visas.

Another form of swindle results from the general European laws against taking large sums of silver, gold or paper money of a given country into another.

To prevent such traffic governments place officials at frontiers, who demand of each traveler the sum of foreign cash on his person. If he declares

Solons Send Pages to Witness Circus

Sacramento, Cal.—"Mister Speaker-r-r!" "This is circus day," said Assemblyman Frank L. Coombs, when the assembly convened. "I think that if this assembly could take a day off yesterday to go to the ball game it might let the pages have the afternoon to go to the circus. We were all boys once, except those of us who were girls." Then Mr. Coombs, whose suggestion was approved unanimously, glided the illy by taking up a collection to pay the pages' admission, buy their peanuts and otherwise make the day bright, and five small boys stepping high and smiling widely, left for the fair of the blood-sweating behemoth.

AMERICANS HELD IN RUSSIA

Anna Kaiser Escapes as British Subject and Tells of the Horror of Reds.

Constantinople.—Russian Bolsheviki are bitter toward Americans, and are not permitting them to leave Russia, said Anna Kaiser of Philadelphia upon arriving here.

She came to this city on board the steamer Reichl Pasha, which landed at Odessa a number of officers and soldiers who had formerly served in south Russia under General Wrangel, anti-Bolshevik leader. She declared, French, Italian and British citizens were allowed to depart from Odessa.

"I left as a British subject," she said, "the few Americans who were in Odessa having been refused permission to leave. A number of General Wrangel's officers who were taken to Odessa were shot, and the remainder were taken before the central soviet and then sent to the army of fatu workers.

even today in the wilds of Bolivia and skull fractures are common. Other heads are perforated now and then in the bacchanals and festivals whooped up occasionally with great quantities of intoxicants, the investigators reported.

When the laughter and the free-for-all quiet down, the medicine men get out their sharp pocket knives and make incisions into the injured skulls of the sufferers, frequently covering the aperture with absurd. During the operation they scrape around the wound with a chisel.

Modern anesthetics are unknown to the medicine men. They put their patient into insensibility by constant use of the "coo" plant. This also is employed for healing purposes and is commonly applied to wounds, bruising and contusions.

INDIANS MEND SKULLS

Prehistoric Medicine Men of South America Were Skillful.

Scraped the Bone With Knives of Stone or Obsidian and Covered Hole With Gourd.

New York.—Prehistoric Indians of South America had crude medicines which they removed splinters of arrow-heads and stone bludgeons from wounded warriors by cutting through the skull with knives of stone or obsidian and other simple instruments wrought from copper and bronze. Scraping the patient's head, they covered the hole with a gourd.

American Museum of Natural History. Of nearly 1,300 skulls collected in South America by the late Dr. Adolph Bandelier for exhibition in the museum, about 5 per cent has been operated upon.

To surmount the practice is known as trepanning. It consists of removing a sliver of bone—of bone from the skull with a saw, called a trephine.

Complex fracture of the skull with depression of the bony plates must have been common occurrences during the ancient tribal wars when clubs headed with stone and copper along with slings, the "bola" and the "titi" were slung in numerous instances, the reports of the museum.

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Brings a Ray of Hope to Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any housecleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sarsaparilla and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound I strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight-pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they asked me what made me strong I told them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.'—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass. This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.

Embroidery Is Used in Paris

Since it is the little things about the French fashions of this season that, paradoxically enough, are new and arresting, then it is the little things which demand our attention for more than a passing moment, writes a Paris fashion correspondent. About all the gowns, whether or not they are new in style, there is some entirely fresh note in the way of their trimming. The subtle little ways that the French can find to tack a new expression of adornment about a gown are continually surprising, even to those who know them best.

They announce that embroidery is not as good in style as it once was and then they proceed to tuck in tiny touches of embroidery that are beautiful in themselves and without which the gown would amount to nothing at all. The conclusion is, then, that one cannot take their word on generalities, but that, if the French dressmaker is to be fully understood, her productions must be regarded "as it is" and in detail, for she contradicts herself just about as often as she makes a gown, and in this way she asserts her own artistic right to be called a designer. No road is the right road for her except the one that she chooses to take the next moment.

There is more and more of a tendency to make many gowns which are entirely plain, but, on the contrary, when there is trimming, it assumes an altogether new importance, because it is judiciously done. It is something which must be studied to be appreciated, and there is no possibility of using a spot of trimming to cover up a defect. The lines and the trimming of the new gowns all work together; they do not overlap in any instance, but each has its distinct part.

Small Amount of Trimming.
As a rule, nowadays, there is not a great deal of trimming on any one gown, but for that very reason each bit of it assumes an enhanced value. The embroidery that one sees is not so lavishly applied; it is distributed in more or less isolated spots. The tendency is more toward the distribution of large motifs, with big spaces left between them, rather than to lump them together in any one place. But, just for an exception, in the collection of Patou there are to be found a number of embroidered trimmings very finely done and applied in closely set rows. Another embroidered trimming has pearls superimposed on a loosely woven red woolen material, which is, in its turn, applied as the trimming of a frock of blue serge.

Many of the designers are using printed materials, silks and even cottons, out of which they pick a certain pattern and proceed to embroider. It again with threads or with beads. Martial et Armand have done this with a piece of foulard printed in Persian pattern, to which they have added certain groupings of tiny beads and outlinings of soutache braid.

There is an original sort of trimming made of medallions of enamel in iridescent shades of blue and black. They look very lovely when used for trimming a dress of some dark material.

Afternoon Frock of Black Lace and Black Satin With Roses at Waistline.

In fact, enamel arranged in various sorts of ornaments is very much used by the French creators this season. Point uses enamel to make a set of cuffs for one of his costumes. Point has another trimming made of little rings of wooden material, which, when they are grouped together, give something the effect of edgings of ostrich feathers.

Strings of Wooden Beads.
Most of the designers are showing this season strings of wooden beads in strongly contrasting colors as red and black, for instance. They are using, too, collars of small ostrich feathers with lace, edged with intricate beaded though they cannot in any way be said to dominate the trimmings mode. Madeleine et Madeleine use acorns to fringe the hem of the thinnest of chiffon frocks. They give a quivering look to the thing, which is what the French love to call "amusing." The clicking sound of these wooden beads knocking against each other is not the least of their charming ways, for they achieve in this way a certain piquancy.

Again in the collection of Madeleine et Madeleine one sees a gown of thin muslin in gray, with turtle dove plumes laid on flat for trimming. They have a street frock, the collar of which is clasped by a woolen rose standing out in bold relief, and two more of these flowers are placed at one side of the belt. On the belt of another gown there is an enormous cocarde made of black crepe satin, with a red center. For trimming the designers love to use rows of little flat flowers placed along the edges wherever it is possible to use them. Sometimes they are flowers, and again they are fruits, and they are always most delicately and intricately put together.

Molyneux uses a collection of flowers and fruits lacquered over for a finish, and these he winds into a garland to be used for trimming on a gown wherever they feel most at home. Lelong likes to use great flowers made of soft pieces of leather, though he is apt to substitute a rosette of silver ribbon.

Flowers for the Waistline.
On evening gowns there are any number of these flowers and garlands used at the waistline. Fates blends two huge roses in two shades of pink on the evening gown of black satin. Cle makes a big bouquet of different sorts of blossoms to blend with his preferred gowns of the Second empire. Then sometimes, and just for the sake of originality, he places the flowers at the back instead of the side.

Doeuillet trims some of his tailcoats with edgings of silk braid alternately arranged. His favorite combination of color is dark blue and black. There is, too, in this collection a rose taffeta gown that is trimmed with some of the same material pinked on the edges. Another frock has little leaves cut from woollen cloth and placed closely together applied on a surface of beige mousseline.

Jade is used over and over again for buttons, for cocochons, fur buckles, for collars, for girdles. Lelong has a gown trimmed with braiding of lacquered ribbon. Most of the couturiers use silver net embroidered or embellished in some way or other. It is an extremely popular sort of trimming material. And so is lace. That has not fallen one whit from its fashionable place gained during the last season. In fact, if anything, it is smarter than ever, for it is most particularly suited to the making of the trimmer and richer dresses for springtime wear. Sprigged feather edging and marabou are also being used to a large extent. Doeuillet has a gown of black satin made over a foundation of green satin, and the edge of the overskirt is trimmed with a fringe of black and green ostrich feathers.

If you have a mind to adorn your city by incorporated monuments, first considerate in yourself the most beautiful monument of gentleness and justice and benevolence.—Epictetus.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

A delicious dumpling to use in chicken soup is prepared as follows:

Dumplings.—Take one cupful of melted chicken fat, two cupfuls of milk, two cupfuls of flour, a pinch of nutmeg and a teaspoonful of salt. Heat the fat and milk; when boiling, add the flour to which has been added the nutmeg and salt, cook until it leaves the bottom of the saucepan; cool and add the eggs one at a time, beating well between. Drop by spoonfuls into the boiling soup.

Honeycomb Pudding.—Take one cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of sweet milk, four eggs, one teaspoonful of soda. Mix as usual and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Sauce: Take one-half cupful of brown sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of cornstarch, one-half cupful of water; cook until thick; then add one pint of whipping cream.

Emergency Dish.—Put a cupful or more of roast beef through the meat chopper, add a small onion also ground through the chopper. Peel and grind four to six potatoes. Grease with sweet fat a deep granite or earthen baking dish, put in the potatoes, season well, add the meat and onion, cover and cook until nearly done, then uncover to brown. This makes a very appetizing dish and one which uses all bits of cold meat.

Shrimp Wiggle.—Take one can of shrimps, two cupfuls of milk, one-half can of peas, one tablespoonful of flour and seasoning. Make a cream sauce with the flour and milk, add the peas and shrimps cut in pieces. Bake in ramekins, using buttered crumbs to finish the top.

Cherry Salad.—Take a can of white cherries, seed, add thirty marshmallows cut in quarters and one-fourth of a pound of almonds blanched and shredded. For the dressing use the yolks of two eggs, the cherry juice, a little lemon juice, flour and butter to thicken. Cook until smooth. Serve the salad well mixed with the dressing on head lettuce.

He that has character, need have no fear of his condition. Character will draw condition after it.—H. W. Beecher.

NICK DESSERTS.

Desserts which are easy to make, good to eat, pretty to look at and not expensive are very popular. Among these you will find some.

Graham Pudding.—Take one cupful of each of molasses and sweet milk, one cupful of graham flour, one cupful of slightly chopped raisins, a little salt, two teaspoonfuls of soda dissolved in a little warm water; mix and beat well and steam for two hours. Serve with the following sauce: One well-beaten egg, one cupful of powdered sugar, one cupful of whipped cream, one teaspoonful of vanilla.

Grapenut Pudding.—Pour three and one-fourth cupfuls of boiling water over two cupfuls of grapenuts, then set aside to cool. Beat the yolks of two eggs with three-fourths of a cupful of cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg; then add two cupfuls of nutmeats, one-half cupful of raisins and the same of dates, with a generous pinch of salt. Mix this with the grapenuts and fold in the stiffly-beaten whites. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes or steam one hour. Serve with a lemon sauce or with whipped cream.

Trilly Cream.—Take one-pound box of marshmallows, one can of pineapple, one cupful of whipping cream. Cut the marshmallows into quarters and let them soak in some of the cream and pineapple juice. Cut the pineapple into small bits and drain. Beat the cream and when stiff stir in the drained marshmallows and pineapple, then add chopped walnuts or blanched almonds and cherries. Serve in sherbet cups and garnish the top with a maraschino cherry.

Damson Pudding.—Take one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, one cupful of flour, one cupful of damson preserves, three eggs, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in three tablespoonfuls of sour milk. Mix well and bake. Serve with a sauce prepared as follows: One cupful of sugar, one pint of milk, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one teaspoonful of vanilla, the whites of two eggs. Mix and cook all except the eggs for ten minutes, then fold in the beaten whites; serve with vanilla and orange.

Bread Pudding.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of fine soft bread crumbs, measured lightly; one egg, beaten, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two cupfuls of milk. Beat the sugar and salt into the beaten egg, add the milk and gradually stir into the crumbs. Let stand until an hour, then bake in a deep

Mrs. Chas. B. Ellsworth left last night for Wichita, Kansas, to join her husband who recently located in that city.

Dispatcher Northhaus is carrying his arm in a sling this week, caused by racking foul of the cranking mechanism of his siver.

Mrs. Phillip Reasoner who has been very ill the past week at the Reasoner home at Jicarilla, has been moved to Carrizozo for medical treatment.

Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, president of the State Normal, Las Vegas, was here Sunday and preached at the Methodist church in the evening.

The M. E. Missionary Society will have a food sale Saturday, May 14, at Stimmell's office. Lots of good things to eat, and reasonable, for Sunday dinner.

Ed. Long, who recently sold his tin shop to J. D. Adams, with the expectation of going to Raton, has repurchased the shop, and will remain in Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rice and daughter, Miss Charlotte, came over from Parsons Tuesday evening and left the following morning for El Paso for a short visit.

Mrs. C. A. Perkins has been quite ill the past week. She has been advised to try a lower altitude and will probably return to California.

Mrs. A. E. Lesnet is here from Roswell visiting her children and their families, Mrs. G. J. Dingwall and Mrs. Crawford and F. W. Leauet.

The Barnett grocery sale is attracting considerable attention, especially from the rural districts, as the goods are being sold in case lots.

Geo. L. Ulrich, president of the Exchange Bank, returned this week from Santa Fe. He has spent the past three weeks at the capital with the tax commission, of which he is a member, going over tax matters.

The general store has closed at Ancho, the brick plant having shut down some time ago. That leaves only the school and post-office in operation in what was until a short time back a rather live industrial center.

Conductor R. T. Vaughn returned this week from a visit in Los Angeles, where his family is staying. His return was hastened by a subpoena to be present as a witness in the Gokey damage suit being tried in the El Paso courts.

Owen I. Langseth, manager of the co-operative store the past winter, tendered his resignation, and left Saturday evening for Denver. Mr. Langseth, by fair dealing and gentlemanly conduct, made many friends during his short stay and their best wishes go with him.

Fred W. Smith returned last week from northeast Texas where he went several months ago with a shipment of about eighty mules. Owing to the lightness of money, he failed to sell them, and later traded them for 640 acres of land in a cotton-growing section, and, after a short visit here, will return and try his luck in the cotton fields.

D. R. Stewart, manager of the lumber company, returned Wednesday from a week's trip to north east Texas. He stated that a long dry spell was broken by several good rains, and that the prospects for farming are brightening. The range is putting on a green appearance, which looks good to the stockgrower who has been feeding his herds. On the whole, the outlook is good.

G. B. Greer was in from his goat ranch in the San Andres this week. He stated the increase in his herd will exceed 100 percent, and that it would do one's eyes good to watch about 500 frolicsome young kids playing around. As there is plenty of feed in the mountains he is prepared to hold them until such time as the markets get back to normal, and lambs and mohair again reach par.

Methodist Church

We had a great day at the First Methodist church last Sunday. The Sunday School attendance was at its height and our superintendent after an enforced absence of a few weeks was again in his place. A splendid audience assembled in honor of Mother's Day. Through the courtesy of the Epworth League a box of white carnations had been provided. They were especially for the older mothers whom they had planned to bring to the services, and were distributed to other mothers present. The Epworth League devotional service was lead by Miss Grace Moss. A business meeting will be held Wednesday evening and final arrangements made for an outing to be enjoyed in the near future. Work on their tennis court has begun this week. One of the largest audiences we have seen lately was present to hear Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts at the evening hour. He delivered a helpful and scholarly address. Next Sunday we can continue, and even surpass, the above high standard by each one doing his individual part. There are classes for all in the Sunday school, and exceptional opportunities for the young people in the Epworth League. At the morning hour the pastor will resume the educational theme to which attention was being given before the protracted services. In the evening the Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered to the graduating class of this year. All not duty bound elsewhere are cordially invited to these services.
