A Retrospect of Some Things New Mexican

(By Bernard S. Rader)

Not a state in the union has the natural resources that our good state of New Mexico has—at least in proportion to population—and yet no state has been exploited and robbed as our state has been. It is the fourth in area of all the 48 commonwealths. It has the biggest timber area of any state. It probably overlaps any other three states combined in coal area and coal quantity.

No state in recent times had any such princely gift of land made to its schools and institutions—and yet, to use an Irishism, God forgive those responsible for it, it has the worst constitution of any state in the union, without parallel for what it does not contain. It is exploited, bossed and governed by as barefaced a gang of political brigands as ever "scuttled a ship or cut a throat." It is the most backward state in the union. It actually lost 55,000 people in the last decade, because it is short that number in coming up to the population it should have had at the average rate of increase throughout the nation.

Our state is the only one in the union without a direct primary law, or a workable corrupt practices act, hence our bosses and our lack of any of the modern people's laws possessed by other states, such as the initiative, the referendum, the recall, an effective state corporation commission, an effective state tax commission, or any other modern progressive law enjoyed by all other states. This is why we still work under the rotten convention system that has been discarded by every state in the union except ours. This is why in every election corruption and bribery are rampant, and it is why the big interests run our government and dodge taxes.

The mines alone of the state, under the infamous and criminal tonnage tax law of 1915, have, as compared with our sister state of Arizona, escaped the payment of $11,000,000 in taxes in the past five years. Yet they want us to vote to issue $2,000,000 in road bonds this fall to make up a part of the deficit caused by such criminal tax dodging. In any state in the union, except New Mexico, the state officials would take such a matter into the courts and have it pronounced unconstitutional, as discriminatory and, moreover, would sue for it and recover it on the theory that a tax escaped under an unconstitutional law is still due.

When one looks back and sees things in retrospect, back in territorial days, and sees the whole property of the territory for a generation at only $30,000,000 or $40,000,000, and sees even now our whole return at $370,000,000, when everyone knows we have at least a billion dollars' worth of property in the state subject to taxation, it is enough to sadden every well-wisher of the state. And, too, to see the old rotten machine about to nominate the man for the senate who put "Bull" Andrews over on the state, and was made chairman of the republican state central committee for his work in getting the "Bull" nominated—yes, a man who has never done even one constructive thing for our commonwealth, but in the proximate cause of the enactment of every evil law the big interests have put over on us and of every good law killed for a generation.

Well may we be sad for our state. Well may we wonder if any of us will live to see an end of this political brigandage. The way to do is to refuse to vote for nominees of the big interests on either side of politics. You can vote for but one candidate at the coming election. Then why not write in the name of the person of your choice and vote for him as a rebuke to the bosses and tax dodgers and to preserve your self-respect? Have you the courage? If so, then do it.

Calls Meeting War Mangers' Conference

The London Daily Herald has this to say of the disarmament conference to be held in November:

"We must not be too confident of President Harding's power to realize his high hopes. The conference is going to be a conference of big business and great interests, whose concern is profits before peace. They are going to haggle over the riches of the far east; they are going to bargain for power. They will talk disarmament over batteries of the newest designs of guns and the latest thing in battleships and submarines.

"Good intentions are at a discount when faced by the deeds of big business materialists. A strong body of opinion in America is determined that America shall be a power in the east, for there is where the profits are to be made."

Recommend Reduction on Livestock Rates

Railroads should reduce voluntarily their freight rates on livestock to 80 per cent of the present rates, but should not reduce rates which at present are less than 50 cents a hundred pounds, says the interstate commerce commission in a report made public last Monday. The commission did not enter an order in the case, which was held open.

The case, which involves principally rates on carload shipments of cattle in the entire western and southwestern producing territory, was brought by the National Livestock Shippers' league and various other livestock shippers' associations.

The complainants, the commission said, presented their case largely on the basis of economic necessity, adding that "they do not seriously assail the livestock rate structure."

U. S. Still Wet Despite National Prohibition

W. D. Seabrook, who has been writing for the El Paso Times a series of articles exposing the gigantic operations of the bootleggers' ring and allied criminal industries, concludes the series with the following:

"The greater part of the United States is 'wet' despite national and state prohibition laws.

"The present machinery for law enforcement is inadequate—not because the agents are incompetent, but because they are too few.

"The only hope of making the country dry in the immediate future—that is within one, two or three years—is to increase materially the agencies for law enforcement and at the same time to create a dominant and more active public sentiment in favor of enforcement.

"Even if the entire army and navy of the United States is mobilized against the bootleggers, they will continue to exist and do business as long as large, dominant masses of the public patronize and support them."

Gone to Market

O. W. Bamberger, manager of the Carrizozo Trading Co., left Tuesday for the St. Louis markets. He will go from St. Louis to Chicago to look the markets over there. A large and complete line of fall and winter goods will be purchased, and Mr. Bamberger hopes to purchase them at such prices that his company can sell them to customers at low prices. He will return about the 30th of the month.

Silver Tea

The ladies of the Methodist Missionary society will give a tea Friday afternoon of next week (August 26), at the Lutz hall, from 4 to 7 o'clock. There will be plenty of sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice tea, and a program of music. Everybody is invited to attend. The tax will be a free will offering of silver money.

Blind Man Guilty of Awful Crimes at El Paso

Ramon Ramirez, blind Mexican, 19 years of age, has confessed to the murder at El Paso Monday night of Mrs. Conrado Salazar and the infliction of serious if not fatal injuries on her young son and her daughters, Fannia and Ophelia.

"Yes, I killed them," Ramirez admitted to officers. "I wasn't mad at them. I wanted to kill them all. It would be better for them."

Mrs. Salazar was stabbed to death while she slept, and her baby son, Conrado, jr., who was in bed with her, was clubbed on the head. The skulls of Fannia and Ophelia were broken while they slept in an adjoining room. Two children, Lillie, aged 1 1/2, and Alveda, 3, asleep on a cot, escaped injury. Ramirez was arrested the following morning in a shed about half a mile from the scene of the tragedy. He was asleep when the officers found him.

Mrs. Salazar was a daughter of Thomas Martinez, wealthy resident of Tularosa, and a sister of Thomas Martinez, jr. who was drowned under what police termed "mysterious" circumstances about two months ago near Three Rivers, N. M.

Bursum Republican Nominee, Democrats Have Not Acted

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 19th.—The republican state convention on Thursday evening nominated Holm M. Bursum, of Socorro, for United States senator. Frank H. Hitchcock, former postmaster general, was conspicuous in his advocacy of Bursum's nomination. A. E. Renchan was temporary chairman and made the keynote speech. Mrs. A. B. Stroup succeeds Mrs. Warren as vice chairman of the state committee.

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 19.—At this hour (1 p. m.) the democrats had not nominated a candidate for senator. Mrs. Frances E. Nixon, of Ft. Sumner, delivered the keynote address.

5,735,000 Persons Idle in United States

Secretary of Labor Davis reported to the senate last Tuesday that there are 5,735,000 persons out of employment in the United States, according to the best estimates available at this time. This does not include figures as to the number of former service men out of work, as these could not be obtained. The report was made in response to a senate resolution calling for figures.

Silver Stocks Are Small

Total silver purchased by the government at $1 an ounce under the provisions of the Pittman act now amount to 57,468,697 ounces. Total imports of foreign origin silver into this country, January to May 20, are $22,676,662 value, or about 37,850,000 ounces at the five months' average price of 60 cents an ounce. Exports of foreign silver are $18,520,550, representing excess in imports of $4,156,112. It has been carefully estimated that consumption of foreign silver in this country so far this year is more than 10,000,000 ounces. Uses by film companies and silversmiths are exceptionally large. Silver stocks at present are fairly small and are not even unusual for Shanghai, in view of the new and larger banking system of China. Silver holdings of the leading banks of Europe have increased during the past three months.

The Pittman act has been the one ray of light in the western mining industry, as it kept the silver mines operating.

The Rockefeller Wealth Is Greatly Exaggerated

New York, August 17.—John D. Rockefeller, jr., says his father's wealth never reached a billion, and has been reduced materially by gifts in recent years.

This announcement was provoked by the publication of an estimate putting the elder Rockefeller's estate at $2,400,000,000.

Probably no man that ever lived has had so much discussion as to his wealth as John D. The bankers are as much muddled on this subject as the public. Nearly 15 years ago a high officer of a Rockefeller bank told a New York editor that the Rockefeller income for the preceding year was $65,000,000, yet it is an open secret that the largest individual income tax paid in one year in this country through the internal revenue department was $36,000,000. That means gross about $54,000,000 and $18,000,000 net after paying the tax.

The general public has an idea that everything John D. owns is gilt-edged. It is not. He has been terribly stung in many of his investments. He is the largest stockholder in at least two rather important railways that never have paid a dividend on their common stock.

It is the old story of the shoemaker sticking to his last. Mr. Rockefeller has been a wizard in oil, and anything but that in various of his other ventures. His income has increased from his investments in U. S. Steel, but not particularly from the money he put in Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Returns From Market

Albert Ziegler, of the firm of Ziegler Bros., returned Saturday from the eastern markets. He visited Pittsburg, Chicago and other central points and purchased a serviceable line of goods for the trade. These goods will be coming in soon and will be on display as soon as it is possible to unpack and arrange them. The well-known firm will show a variety of wearable goods that they will offer to the trade at suitable prices.

Tigert Brands Amendment Eight as "Reactionary"

John J. Tigert, United States education commissioner, in a letter to the state superintendent of schools, declares proposed constitutional amendment No. 8 "reactionary" and says its passage would be a severe blow to the rural schools of the state. Mr. Tigert's letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Conway: My attention has been called to the campaign in New Mexico which proposes to amend the constitution of the state and reduce the school levy from 18 to 10 mills. The suggestion of such a thing seems so tragical to me that I have taken the liberty to write to you about it. All educators realize that we are in a crisis. The greatest difficulty in the way of efficient schools is the lack of proper funds. Two-thirds of the schools in the United States are one-room schoolhouses. I do not know what the proportion is in New Mexico, but take it that the proportion of one-room schoolhouses in New Mexico is as great if not greater than in the nation. The National Education association estimates that only one out of five teachers at the present time are really properly trained. This is because in the past we have not been able to secure sufficient funds to pay salaries which would be an incentive to teachers to go through the necessary training to be efficient. Proportionately by far the greater number of inefficient teachers are in the rural schools. In my mind, the stability of our educational system, together with the national welfare, are tied up with the success or failure of our efforts to improve rural school conditions.

"In view of the above considerations, I trust that in the midst of financial and industrial depression that we will not allow financial support of rural schools to be diminished. Any such action would be fatal. I cannot believe that the good people of New Mexico will allow this reactionary program to take effect at this time. Very cordially yours, JOHN J. TIGERT, Commissioner."

The Kid's Bill of Sale

Charley Siringo, cowboy detective and writer of detective tales, came to the city today from his ranch and brought with him a photograph of a bill of sale made out by Billy the Kid, the famous outlaw, dated October 24, 1886. Billy the Kid's name was W. H. Bonney, and he writes about "one sorrel horse" branded "B. B." Billy gave the horse away at a poker game when a friend gave him a gold watch.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Supreme Council Assembles in Paris—President Harding Attends Pilgrim Tercentenary Fete—Sweet Bill for Disabled Veterans Finally Passed by Congress.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Americans who have long been held prisoners by the Russian Bolsheviks have been released, unless latest reports are misleading, and America, unofficially but energetically, has gone to the relief of the starving, pestilence-stricken Russians.

It was announced in Washington that soon after the President's return from his New England holiday, the formal invitations to the conference on limitation of armaments and far eastern questions would be issued.

Speaking at the tercentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims in Plymouth, Mass., President Harding declared his belief that the disarmament conference would bring to the whole world a new era of peace and freedom.

President Harding went to Plymouth by water, and after attending the Pilgrim fete he had several days of rest at Secretary Weeks' country home in the mountains near Lancaster, N. H.

It looks as if the federal authorities were on the point of clearing up the long series of big postal and bond robberies in various parts of the country.

Other charges relate to employees in the prohibition enforcement wing, involving them in aiding persons to get possession of liquor for illegal purposes and in suppressing evidence that might lead to detection and prosecution of offenders.

British shipping interests and those of America as represented by the federal shipping board are entering a war for cargoes that may have far-reaching results. It all started with the efforts of some American ship operators to get a share of the cotton carrying business from Egypt.

The seven former members of the Chicago White Sox ball team and two alleged accomplices who were charged with conspiring to throw games in the world's series of 1919, have been acquitted by a Chicago jury, apparently because the jurors did not think the specific intent to defraud the public and the baseball owners was established by the prosecution.

As to the moral guilt of the accused ball players, the American public has had little or no doubt, and its belief will not be altered by the verdict of the jury which probably was made necessary by the technicalities of the law.

The unemployment situation as it affects the ex-service men, is decidedly serious, especially of course in the large cities. It is said that in Chicago, for instance, hundreds of them are walking the streets, jobless and homeless, and one post of the American Legion has asked the governor of Illinois to have the National Guard armories thrown open to them, and some arrangement made for giving them plain food until they can find employment.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—this article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

Indianapolis.—When the Grand Army of the Republic holds its annual reunion this year more than 10,000 of the Civil war veterans who attended the encampment of 1920 will be counted among the missing, as the ranks have been depleted to this extent through the last year.

The total membership of the G. A. R. today is 93,155, while its membership in 1920 was 103,258.

The total membership is scattered among 4,445 posts in every state. Ohio, with 10,241, has the largest membership, with Pennsylvania second with 9,122; New York third, 8,793; Illinois fourth, 6,903; Indiana fifth, 5,949; Massachusetts sixth, 5,356. No other state has 5,000 or more members.

Property owned by all posts is valued at $2,075,027, including real estate worth $902,941.

Members in the old Confederate states total approximately 2,200. The G. A. R. was organized in Illinois in the spring of 1860. Who its originators were is a matter of tradition, rather than of record, says the report made to the national encampment in 1900 by N. P. Chipman, then adjutant general of the national organization.

First Post in 1866. "There can be no doubt that the late Col. B. F. Stephenson of Decatur, Ill., was one of the prime movers," says Chipman's report. "Being recognized as such, he organized the first post at Decatur, Ill."

By July, 1866, there were 40 posts in Illinois, representatives of which met in convention and organized the state department. Stephenson was by common consent the provisional commander in chief, and posts were organized in other states, resulting in the first national encampment being held at Indianapolis, November 20, 1866. After the Indianapolis convention Chipman records that "posts seem to have sprung up as if by magic in all parts of the North," but he adds there was no record of progress. Ten states were represented at the Indianapolis encampment, 21 states in 1867, 24 in 1868, 37 in 1869—having 2,050 posts.

At the 1900 encampment a mutual life insurance scheme was proposed. It being said that the G. A. R. had 240,000 members. In 1867 it had been said that the state departments "claimed to represent a constituency of over 200,000." But there is no authentic record of the number for the early years, the insurance proposal, containing an estimate, it is thought, and the 1867 estimate being regarded as the number of Union soldiers living in the jurisdiction of the state departments represented at the convention. For instance, the adjutant general's report at the 1870 encampment, when there were 30 departments, says it is "absolutely impossible for me to furnish anything like a correct report of the present membership."

Decline Constant Since 1860.

In 1860, however, reports taken as authentic state that the membership was 400,490, the highest mark recorded. From 1878 to 1890 the growth was rapid, being from 12,000 to 83,000 annually. Since 1890 the decline has been constant except for a 3,000 gain in 1906, said to be due to prospects of favorable pension legislation. Subsequent enrollment figures from the time the G. A. R. reached its zenith to the present time follow:

Table with 4 columns showing membership numbers for years 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920.

WAS THE NEIGHBOR'S CHICKEN

Incident That Was Embarrassing, Although It Also Had an Amusing Side to It.

Some years ago, while living in the suburbs, we kept a few chickens; our neighbors also had chickens. After the garden season was over we let them run, as did our neighbors. In this way I suppose they got more or less mixed.

One day I decided to have a chicken for dinner, and, not liking to kill it myself—my husband being away—I asked our neighbor if he would kill it for me. He kindly consented, so I brought out the particular fowl I had selected. He killed it, and I thanked him and proceeded to prepare it for dinner.

When dinner was over I went out to feed the chickens. What was my surprise to find among them the fowl I thought I had just eaten. It was my neighbor's chicken I had asked him to kill for me.

Of course, I lost no time in making apologies—and also insisted that they take ours instead, and they had a good laugh at my expense.

Literary Invention.

"Yes, sir," said the author. "I figure I've got the one best seller of all history."

"What's the plot?" inquired the publisher, doubtfully.

"Never mind the plot," said the author. "You know everybody's skins and jumps about in a book. Well, I've just picked out the places they jump to, and put 'em all in the first two chapters."

With a cry of joy the publisher embraced the author and threw him out the window delightedly.

Surgeons Sew Up Cut Inch Long in Heart

New York.—Four stitches were taken in the heart of Frank Farino, sixteen, stabbed accidentally. The wound was an inch long. After the operation, performed through an opening made between two ribs, Farino asked to sit up. Doctors are hopeful for his recovery. The operation required 35 minutes, stitches being taken only when the heart was contracted. Dr. James M. Downer and Dr. George Doyle performed the operation, said to be the first of its kind.

HOPE TO COME BACK TO U. S.

Deported Radicals Are Fleeing From Soviet Rule.

Reported to Be Greatly Disappointed at What They Found in the "Promised Land."

Riga, Latvia.—Little groups of Russian-Americans, who were deported or volunteered to go from America to soviet Russia, are trickling back across the Latvian frontier from the land of the Bolsheviks very frequently these days. All hope to get back to the United States.

These emigrants, according to American consular officials, who hear their stories and have to tell them there is not much chance for them to get back, are greatly disappointed with what they found in the "promised land."

They tell of starvation and long rides in trains so packed with people that there is scarcely room to breathe. Besides those who have succeeded in getting to Latvia, there are many others who have written friends in Riga asking for money from America. The Moscow correspondent of the Riga Rundschau writes as follows about the Russian-Americans inside the country:

"The numbers of Russian communists expelled from America, who with wry faces are selling their last goods and chattels on the Moscow market places, are increasing every day. "The soviet government is doing its utmost to keep these people above water by giving them even whole factories to run and manage. But as these factories are very much run down, even American spirit and energy is not sufficiently strong to set them in operation."

"A little better off are those of the immigrants who have managed to take with them from America their tools or goods produced by their trade. Such people are doing a big business and can afford to live well. Thus, one party of emigrants has succeeded in installing a small sawing factory containing about 800 sawing machines.

"Formerly the soviet government simply would have confiscated this lucrative enterprise, but at present the government is a little wary, the more so as in this case they have to do with immigrants whom they make a point of treating with the greatest possible courtesy and consideration. "Quite recently there arrived a party of Americans whose specialty is the construction of small dwelling houses. They are welcomed and aided by the soviet government."

WOMEN OF MIDDLE LIFE

A Dangerous Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good. If you think it will do some one to try the Vegetable Compound you may publish this letter."—Mrs. A. KELLEN, Afton, Tenn.

Mrs. Mary Lister of Adrian, Mich., adds her testimony to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

to carry women safely through the Change of Life. She says: "It is with pleasure that I write to you thanking you for what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I was passing through the Change of Life and had a displeasant and weakness so that I could not stand on my feet and other annoying symptoms. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me, so I got more. It cured me and I am now doing my housework. Your medicine is certainly woman's friend and you may use this testimonial as you choose."—Mrs. MARY LISTER, 405 Frank Street, Adrian, Mich.

It is said that middle life is the most trying period in a woman's life, and owing to modern methods of living no one woman in a thousand passes through this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying symptoms. These annoying spells, the dreadful hot flashes that send the blood rushing to the head until it seems as though it would burst, and the faint feeling that follows, as if the heart were going to stop, these annoying and many symptoms are all symptoms of a nervous condition, and indicate the need for a special medicine. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It acts in such a manner as to build up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms. Women who should remember that the most common cause of nervousness is the menstrual one—they are not caused by serious diseases, or by anything, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many seemingly serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative and often prevents serious troubles.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Allments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write for it to the publisher, Dr. J. C. Foster, Lowell, Mass.

LIVES LIFE OF HERMIT 33 YEARS

Man Visits City for First Time and Sees First Woman.

Swift Change Comes and He Immediately Sheds His Whiskers and Buys Store Clothes.

Omaha.—Tracy Gillis, older than Brigham Young when he took his third wife, has just let his eyes first see a woman. He also has had his first remembered view of a railroad train, a street car, a daily newspaper and a fiction magazine.

Upon seeing a woman for the first time, Gillis visited a barber shop and had his long hair cut and his face shaved.

Gillis is thirty-three years old. He was born in Chicago. His mother was an actress and his father a disciple of Moody and Sankey. But for a third of a century father and son, the of John the Baptist dwelling in the wilderness, have lived alone on a western Nebraska ranch 40 miles from railroad, with no stranger stopping within its fence posts.

George Willis, the father, died recently, two years short of the fourscore and ten which he believed that had been promised to him. Tracy, the son, buried the body on the ranch and went on with his farm work. Today he came to Omaha on his pioneer journey with a load of cattle.

According to the young man's tale, the older Gillis trafficked, with his neighboring farmers' only on their property and never on his own, for fear his son's ears should pick up hints of civilization. The father fled to the West with the aim to save him from the degrading stage addresses in Chicago's old Haymarket theater.

His long locks on every day street were kept tucked up, Tracy Gillis of my mother and warned me to avoid all sinful men."

With the money from the sale of his cattle Gillis changed his home made garments for a suit of store clothes. He also bought a safety razor, a tube of tooth-paste and two milk neckties. He is willing to admit that one glimpse of the city has demoralized him. In his plans for the future, which include continued residence on his secluded farm, he mentions a wife and a course in agriculture.

Highway Improvement

GOOD ROADS SAVE MUCH GAS

Trucks Use Twice as Much Fuel on Dirt Highways as on One Built of Concrete.

That good roads cut the cost of gasoline more than 50 per cent is stated by "Freight Transportation Digest." A loaded two-ton truck was used in a test and in running 100 miles on an earth road consumed 17.3 gallons of gasoline, making an average of 5.78 miles a gallon. The cost figured at 25 cents a gallon was $4.33. The same truck was used on a concrete road and traveled the same distance on 8.40 gallons of gasoline, making 11.78 miles per gallon. The cost in this case, figured on the same basis, was $2.12. The net savings in cost of gasoline on the improved highway was therefore $2.21, or more than 100 per cent.

Statisticians could step in here and conjure a colossal sum to represent the savings in gasoline cost if all the highways of the United States were paved, remarks the Columbus (O.) Dispatch. They could, for instance assume that all of the one-half million motortrucks in the country were two-ton trucks, and on this basis figure out a saving in gasoline costs equal to a couple of Liberty loan issues.

This enormous reduction in gasoline costs, coupled with the ability to handle loads with less tractional effort, has become one of the strongest arguments for good roads. The two tests cited in this instance show conclusively that poor roads are expensive to the farmer and merchant alike. The farmer who hauls with a motor-truck is getting only one-eighth of the profit he could get and the merchant and intercity freight truck operator are paying out twice what they should for gasoline and are getting only one-eighth of the profit they could get.

GOOD GUIDE FOR TRAVELERS

Arrows on Signs Mark Detours on Iowa's Highways and Point Out Proper Direction.

All detours around roads closed to traffic in Iowa are carefully marked for the guidance and protection of travelers. Signs are erected at intervals so that the proper direction can be taken with the slightest deviation from the regular route. The signs, as furnished by the state to the counties at cost, have a yellow arrow printed against a black ground, with the word "detour" above and below the arrow.

The blank sign furnished to the counties is shown in the upper corner, and as used, in the lower. The larger illustration shows how the signs are disposed to guide traffic around a closed road.

When the sign has been placed with the arrow pointing in the proper direction, the "detour" below is deleted with black paint. The name of the place the arrow is pointing to, and other information, is stenciled inside the arrow.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

MATHEMATICS OF BAD ROADS

Farmer Solves Problem of Hours Lost in Making Trip Over Road That is Deep in Mud.

If it takes a farmer, making a trip through the mud one hour and a half longer than when the roads are firm, how many hours are lost in a year if 1,000 farmers make an average of 12 trips a month? What would be the monetary loss if each 1 1/2 hours lost be estimated at 75 cents per hour for each man and his team? This "two-in-one" proposition gave our old cat considerable trouble, but he finally worked it out thus: One farmer multiplied by 1 1/2 hours multiplied by 12 trips, multiplied by 1,000 farmers, multiplied by 12 months equals 216,000 hours lost; going a step further, and multiplying 216,000 by 75 cents, you have $162,000 per annum lost to the farmers. Our old cat is now pondering how many road bonds this annual loss would float at 5 per cent interest.—Union Times.

To Order Referendum on Rail Pay Cuts

Cleveland, O., Aug. 15.—The call for the referendum of all the members of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America to determine their attitude on wage reductions ordered by the United States railway labor board, under which they have been working since July 1, may be issued before the end of this week, according to officials of the railroad brotherhoods here tonight.

Acting on the questions of the conference of general chairmen in Chicago on July 1, the brotherhood chiefs are holding conferences with railway executives in each of the four regions established by the interstate commerce commission. They are putting up to them these four propositions:

That the wage reduction already ordered be recalled and the old rates of pay restored.

That no reduction be required or sought.

That no effort shall be made to take time and one-half pay away from their members.

That for a fixed period no attempt be made to cancel or change present schedules or working rules.

Executives of the eastern railroads, after a conference between their committee and the brotherhood chiefs, rejected all these propositions last Thursday.

"Are there any decent men left?" tearfully asks dear old Beatrice Fairfax. Yep; there are a few of 'us left—but we wear smoked glasses when the women are on parade.

She is a fortunate girl who learns early in life that there is no such thing as a harmless flirtation.

Thrift talk from the government—well, we prefer advice on the subject from some other source. Thrift has never had a look-in at Washington.

When a fellow tells you that the world owes him a living, do business with him on a strictly cash basis so that he cannot collect from you a part of what he thinks is coming to him from the world.

William Joseph Simmons, Imperial wizard of the Knights of Ku Klux Klan, insists under oath that this secret organization is an "institution of chivalry, humanity, justice and patriotism." Ye gods, to what depths have we descended that it becomes necessary for armed, masked men, under cover of darkness, to uphold justice and patriotism!

If you know their children you have a fairly good idea of what the parents are without taking the trouble to cultivate their acquaintance.

Mayor James Rolph, jr., of San Francisco, made a speech of welcome to the delegates to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention, but discreetly made no reference to the fact that his blooming old town is the "wettest" spot on the prohibition map.

Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma representative in congress, wielded the gavel in the speaker's chair the other day, the first woman to enjoy this distinction. How long will it be until this country has a president whose clothes button up the back?

Miss Robertson, the congresswoman, said the other day in regard to the possibility of a woman serving on the American delegation to the disarmament conference.

ence: "Show me a woman who is qualified and I might urge her appointment"—and then gave as one of the necessary qualifications the faculty of "listening a great deal and saying little." Evidently this qualification bars the sex, in Miss Robertson's opinion.

If everyone attended strictly to his (or her) own business what an enormous crimp it would put in conversation!

It is difficult to determine just how crazy a man is until he owns an automobile or breaks into congress. Representative Herrick of Oklahoma has introduced a bill in the house to prohibit newspapers and motion picture companies from conducting beauty contests. If this bill had not been introduced no one outside of Oklahoma would have known that a balmy bird named Herrick is in congress.

Bernard S. Rodey suggests, in effect, that a voter may retain his self-respect and at the same time repudiate gang methods by writing on the ballot at the coming election the name of the person of his choice. The gang would be tickled pink if this suggestion were followed. As long as voters maintain their self-respect in this way they have about as much chance of defeating the gang as Henry Ford has of being elected mayor of Jerusalem. Organization is necessary to make a winning fight against organization.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger (republican) says members of congress "know what ought to be done, but they are afraid to say so and afraid to vote for the necessary measures. They are fearful of the demagogues, afraid of criticism and alarmed for fear they may lose their seats." To put it stronger, they are the most conspicuous bunch of moral cowards ever assembled under one roof—the lackeys of vociferous, highly-energized fanatics and the valets of big-business buccannery.

Women's Clubs to Meet at Roswell

Plans are already under way for the entertainment of the State Federation of Women's Clubs which meets the latter part of October at Roswell, says a dispatch from that city. The largest list of registered delegates that ever attended a federation convention in New Mexico is expected to be present at this meeting, which marks the tenth anniversary of the federation.

It is said the program includes an array of talent which has never before been together in New Mexico. This is the year for the biennial election of officers and it is said Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Raton will each have a candidate for the presidency.

Washington News Letter

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—Upon President Harding's return to Washington from his latest vacation in New Hampshire it was agreed among republican leaders after a conference with the executive that congress will take a recess after the passage by the house of the tax bill, which at this writing has not been introduced, the passage of the farmers' relief program and the extension of the emergency tariff act until the permanent tariff law shall be enacted.

This means, of course, that the tax bill, which should be one of the most carefully considered of all, will be rushed through at high speed, thus recalling a recent colloquy in the house, as follows:

Mr. Mondell (republican floor leader): "The tax bill will pass house much sooner than the date the gentleman fixes."

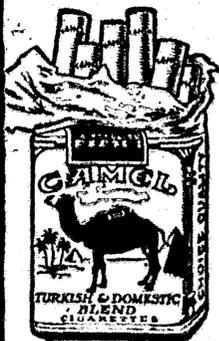

Mr. Maun (former republican floor leader): "I hope not. A good tax bill will not pass then if it passes quickly. The sooner it passes the poorer it will be if it passes without consideration in the committee and without consideration in the house. What I said a while ago would then be true, God help the country!" (Applause.)

No attack made upon the republican administration to date has caused more comment than that made by Representative Keller (republican, Minnesota), one of the really important men of the great northwest. No democrat has been so severe in his criticism of the administration as Mr. Keller, because the democrats have been charitable toward the struggling administration and sincerely desirous of aiding it to solve the problems that confronted it largely as a result of the obstructive tactics of the republicans in the last two years of the democratic administration.

Some of the indictments brought against the republican party by this able republican, representing a great agricultural constituency, are:

"Our ability to compete with other nations for world markets—and consequently our prosperity—primarily depends on reasonable transportation charges, low interest, cheap power, easy rents, low taxation, efficient labor and systematic distribution. We have adopted a policy which has brought about the exact reverse of these ideal conditions. . . . The government has attempted to legislate upon every one of these vital problems within the past six months, but instead of honestly searching for the best way out of our financial difficulties, and welcoming the disinter-

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

He suggests repeal of the excess profits tax, reduction of the higher tax rates on individual incomes, increase of the corporation tax, retention of the ruinous transportation tax and the income tax, with non-on first-class postage. This ruinous policy will further depress industry and fail to raise sufficient revenue for the government's needs. . . . Less than 5,000 persons—most of them war profiteers—pay the high surtaxes on incomes of more than $100,000 annually, yet Secretary Mellon wants to cut in half the $500,000,000 which they contributed to the upkeep of the government and throw the additional burden upon small manufacturers, jobbers, merchants and workers and farmers.

"Most members of the house want to carry out the people's wishes, but a little dominant minority has tied down the safety valve of free discussion until an explosion impends which will scatter the republican party from Maine to California."

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

BUSINESS MATTERS.

The materials of advice are variable, but the ones we make of them should be constant.—Epictetus.

IT IS just as important for a woman to have regard for the rules of good form in the transaction of her business affairs as in matters purely social. Sometimes a woman who is irreproachably correct in all social conduct, and who is courteous and good breeding personified in her social relations, is careless of rules of courtesy and good breeding in her business transactions. In a small town especially, such duplicity of conduct is sure to lead to unpopularity. What good is it if a woman is charming to Mrs. Smith, whom she meets in her club, if she is discourteous to Mrs. Smith's husband, who is cashier in her bank, or what good can it do to be pugnacious in all her dealings with Mrs. Brown if she neglects to pay what she owes to Mr. Brown, who runs the grocery store.

Remember then that when doing any sort of business with any sort of person, you should begin the transaction with a courteous "good morning." If you ask a favor of a tradesman or anyone with whom you do business, do not fail to let him know that you regard it as such.

If you are not going to be able to pay your bills on the first of the month, do the courteous consideration thing about it. Go to the grocer, or butcher, or doctor, or dentist, and tell him that you find it impossible or inconvenient to do so, and ask him for the favor of extended credit. Do not simply neglect payment and then pretend when you do pay that it is simply a matter of carelessness or forgetfulness on your part.

If a tradesman is courteous enough to remember your name in doing business and addresses you by it, do not forget that it is just as considerate if you remember his name likewise.

Remember that it is just as inconsiderate to ask your grocer to make a special trip of his delivery wagon because you have carelessly forgotten to give your order till afternoon, as it is to ask a neighbor to put herself out to do some favor for you. If the grocer does accommodate you, then you should express your appreciation with just as much courtesy as though the transaction was one of a social sort instead of purely business. (Copyright.)

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LUNIE

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"THE NEWS ARE"

THERE are certain words in English which are seemingly plural in meaning because they are plural in form, ending in "s." But they are really singular in meaning, and therefore they should take the singular verb, not the plural, although the proper use may seem incorrect. Among such words are "news," "politics," "economics." One should not say, for example, "The news concerning the war are good"; "politics, when properly conducted, are a good pursuit for a citizen"; "economics have been called the dismal science." In all of these cases, use the singular verb.

There are, however, certain words ending in "s" concerning which there is doubt. Grammarians differ frequently concerning the proper verbs to be employed with such nouns as "headquarters" and "alma." "The general's headquarters were (or was) at Richmond," we may say; "the alma given to the poor family are (or is) not sufficient for its maintenance." "Almas" may be either singular or plural, accordingly as the means is or are singular or plural. (Copyright.)

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

By MILDRED MARSHALL

ELIZABETH.

ELIZABETH is a holy name and has a Germanic origin. It likewise has many derivatives, contractions and diminutives as Mary.

Going back to early biblical times we find that the wife of Aaron possessed a name popular at that time, in that it contained a dedication to the deity. This name was Miriam, meaning God hath sworn. In the Latin this was called Elizabeth. The mother of John the Baptist bore this name and her first historical namesake was the Maccabean Princess Elizabeth, the daughter of Jorjanev, and the object of the romantic love of the famous poet and sea king, Harold, Hardegar of Norway, through her the name became popular in Denmark, whence it was brought to Germany.

brought her name great prominence in Germany. Elizabeth W. Godville, whose mother was Hecquette of Luxemburg, was the first English Elizabeth on record. Elizabeth of York is another famous English woman of that name, supposed to be the object of the political courtship of Henry of Richmond, but the most famous of all the English Elizabeths was of course the famous queen whose personality and achievements are immortal in the world's history.

Elizabeth's talismanic gem is the diamond, which is said to give its wearer strength, indomitability and freedom from all danger since, according to an old legend, the diamond absorbs all poisons into itself, thus protecting the one who wears it as an amulet. Tuesday is Elizabeth's lucky day and 8 her lucky number, the Lily, signifying innocence, is her flower. (Copyright.)

THE SANDMAN STORY

BRAVE IKEY DUCK.

IKEY was a young duck, that his mother had a great deal of trouble with, because he ran away every time he found a chance, and as Madam Duck had many ducklings besides her son to look after, Ikey found many chances.

"Some day you will meet Mr. Fox," said his mother, "and then it will be too late to be a good duckling, for Mr. Fox carries off all runaway ducklings." "But I am not afraid of Mr. Fox," said brave Ikey. "I am going to grow up to be a big, brave duck, like Grandpa Drake, so I cannot be afraid of anything."

"Grandpa Drake would not like to meet Mr. Fox," said Madam Duck, "for Mr. Fox carries off to his cave in the woods big and small ducks." Ikey Duck did not answer, but waddled along after his sisters and his mother until they were hunting in a puddle for things they liked, and Ikey saw another chance to run away.

Down to the duck pond he waddled and away he swam to a part of the pond where he had never before been. How little Teddy Bear happened to be sitting under a bush by the pond was never known, but there he was, and Ikey Duck, swimming along, saw his shining eyes and open mouth.

"Ah, Mr. Fox!" said Ikey Duck to himself, "I will show that fellow, he can't scare me." Right up close to the bank went brave Ikey and began to quack at Teddy Bear, and, of course, Teddy did not move.

"He is afraid of me," said Ikey, "I wish mother could see me now. I am sure she would think I am quite able to take care of myself." And then brave Ikey opened his bill, snapped at little Teddy Bear, and, tugging at one foot, pulled him into the water. Away he went, with Teddy still held by his foot, skimming over the water.

Madam Duck and her children were at the side of the pond when Ikey swam up by the barnyard. "What have you found?" asked his mother, her eyes wide open with surprise, while the little ducklings ran up the bank in alarm.

"It is Mr. Fox," said Ikey, letting go of Teddy Bear's foot. "He is afraid of me, mother. I told you I was not afraid of him, and, you see, I am not."

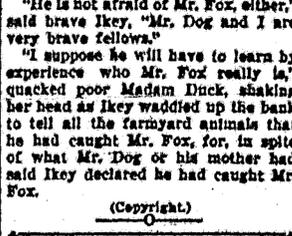

Madam Duck did not know at first just what to do or say, and she stepped back to take a good look at a safe distance.

"It isn't Mr. Fox—I am sure of that," she said, "but what it is I do not know. I will get Mr. Dog. He is very wise and knows about everything."

"That is a toy," said Mr. Dog, when he saw Teddy Bear. "It belongs to the master's children." And with that Mr. Dog picked up Teddy and trotted off to the house.

"He is not afraid of Mr. Fox, either," said brave Ikey, "Mr. Dog and I are very brave fellows."

"I suppose he will have to learn by experience who Mr. Fox really is," quacked poor Madam Duck, shaking her head as Ikey waddled up the bank to tell all the farmyard animals that he had caught Mr. Fox, for, in spite of what Mr. Dog or his mother had said Ikey declared he had caught Mr. Fox.

How It Started

"THE WHITE FEATHER."

THIS phrase, which is now general-ly used to express cowardice or "chicken-heartedness" on the part of him to whom it is applied, originated in the days when gamecock fighting was a fashionable sport and the cocks were carefully bred. A gamecock of pure blood had universally dark plumage; but the cross-strains, which were not fighters, literally "showed the white feather"—white feathers appearing in their plumage.

Special Care of Baby. That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases. Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food. A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your sick child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived. Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups. Ira Robinson was over from the Bonito district this week. He stated that the farms never looked better, but that the farmers are in a brown study as to what they will do with their produce if prices continue to tumble.

The republicans held their county convention at Capitan last Saturday, and the democrats held theirs Tuesday of this week in Carrizozo. The delegates in both conventions go uninstruced for a candidate for United States senator.

O. L. Byron, pharmacist at the Rolland drug store, received a visit from a brother this week. Mr. Byron and brother are now in the Sau Andreas mountains on vacation, and by prospecting for precious metals, are combining business with pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Bacot and children and Mr. and Mrs. William Gallacher left Tuesday morning overland for Hurley, N. M. They go on a visit to Mrs. Bacot's and Mrs. Gallacher's parents, and will be absent ten days or two weeks.

L. R. Lamay was down from the Mesa this week. He said harvesting would begin in a week or two, although spring wheat is already in the shock. There has been more moisture there this summer than usual—a little too much in some places. In July eight inches fell on the Mesa, while the Bonito and South Park recorded eleven inches. At least five inches have fallen so far this month. Cattle in the pastures are rolling fat. The grama grass is knee high and is already heading.

Mrs. D. R. Stewart and daughter, Miss Lucille, returned Friday from a three-months' visit at Marlin, Texas. The trip appears to have been beneficial to both. Mrs. Stewart credits the hot springs of that place with eradicating her rheumatism, and Miss Lucille had a delightful time at the resort.

J. S. Ross this week received a letter from his wife, who is in Los Angeles, in which she states she is rapidly recovering her health. She began improving from the time she left here, and as she approached sea level the improvement was more pronounced. A month or two at sea level may completely restore her health.

Joe Cochran was down from the Nogal district the first of the week. Joe is working a gold prospect on the mountain this side of the peak and facing Carrizozo. The rock, when pulverized, pans freely. He believes it to be the most promising prospect in the district, giving indications of developing into a good mine. It is a tunnel proposition.

The E. P. & S. W. water company is putting in a seven-mile pipe line from Carter Canyon on the Bonito to Fort Stanton. It is to be a four-inch pipe, sufficient to supply the needs of the Fort. It is a preliminary step to appropriating the remaining water in that stream. Fort Stanton heretofore got its water supply solely from the Bonito.

Judge and Mrs. Seth F. Crews came in Monday from Fairfield, Illinois, and will again make Oscura their home. They report exceedingly unpleasant weather conditions in Illinois, the heat being almost unbearable, especially to those having once enjoyed the delightful summers here. It goes without saying that they are greatly pleased to get back, and so are their many friends.

Will G. Thornboro arrived Monday from his home in Canton, Illinois. Mr. Thornboro and son took a circuitous route to reach here this trip, going through Colorado, Utah and to California, returning by way of southern California, Nevada and Arizona. At El Paso father and son separated, the son going to Tulsa, Oklahoma, while the father came on here to look after his mining interests. Mr. Thornboro, who left here for Illinois several years ago, makes an annual pilgrimage to Lincoln county, where he still retains interests, and to great old friends of bygone days.

We were especially gratified with the Epworth League meeting last Sunday evening. The help these young people rendered in the choir is much appreciated. Rev. W. E. Lyon, centenary secretary of the New Mexico and northwest Texas conferences, was with us last Monday evening and told us of the work being done throughout this great movement. He audited the books of the treasurer and found them to be in perfect balance.

Rev. J. B. Cochran, of Albuquerque, presiding elder of the Albuquerque district, will be with us next Sunday. Rev. Cochran has lived in New Mexico a number of years, and is well and favorably known to many in this community. Enormous Newspaper Circulation in U. S.

Washington, Aug. 15.—More than eleven and a quarter billion copies of daily newspapers are printed annually in the United States, averaging one copy a day for every three and one-fifth persons of the country's total population, latest statistics of the bureau of census show.

Circulation of the nation's 2,433 daily newspapers aggregated 22,735,937 copies a day, an increase of 13.8 per cent in the five years since 1914. The circulation of the 592 Sunday newspapers was 19,929,834 copies each Sunday during 1919, an increase of 14.9 per cent.

The aggregate circulation of these daily and Sunday newspapers, therefore, was 11,270,559,316 copies or 106.6 copies per capita for the year.

The total circulation of the country's 20,431 newspapers and periodicals aggregated 15,475,145,102 copies for the year, an increase of 7 per cent per issue in five years. That includes daily, Sunday, tri-weekly, semi-weekly, weekly, monthly, quarterly, and all other newspapers and periodicals.

The printing and publishing industries' products were valued in 1919 at $1,528,856,503, of which newspapers and periodicals contributed $808,066,035, and newspapers alone, $612,718,515, an increase of 116 per cent in five years.

Newspaper subscriptions and sales aggregated $204,985,214, an increase of 103.9 per cent.

Advertising totaled $407,760,301, an increase of 121.5 per cent.
