OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 21

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 23, 1921

NUMBER 38

H. O. Bursum Carries Lincoln County by a Majority of 234

Unofficial reports from every precinct in the county give Bursum, republican candidate for United States senator, a majority of 234 over Hanna, democrat. The majorities by precincts are as follows:

Precinct	Hanna	Bursum
1—Lincoln.....	—	43
2—San Patricio..	—	81
3—Arabela.....	—	98
4—Pisacho.....	—	21
5—Rabenton....	—	49
6—Esaiñosa....	—	18
7—Jicarilla....	1	—
8—White Oaks..	30	—
9—Capitan.....	—	32
10—Raidoso....	—	25
11—Nogal.....	17	—
12—Bonito.....	40	—
13—Corona.....	—	77
14—Carrizosa...	105	—
15—Oscuro.....	—	1
16—Ancho.....	4	—
17—Spisadle....	14	—
Totals.....	211	445

Bursum's majority....234
A very light vote was polled, only five precincts casting over 50 per cent of its vote, while five cast less than 40 per cent, and one precinct casting less than 20 per cent. Both parties suffered in the aggregate by the scant vote, but the democrats were the greater sufferers, inasmuch as their vote was scattered over greater areas. The per cent cast does not represent the proportional party vote by any means, for had the vote been such, a majority for Hanna would have been recorded. Such speculation butters no parsnips, we are quite well aware, but the fact remains, nevertheless.

Missionary Meeting

The ladies will bear in mind that the M. E. missionary meeting to be held at Mrs. Ralph Treat's home Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 27, is an important one. There will be an interesting program, followed by a business session.

At State College

Howard O. Mason, of Clovis, has been appointed major of the battalion of Reserve Officers Training Corps at the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. Among the new captains at that institution is one of our home boys. The three new captains are: R. M. Keeler, Tucuman; Rufus B. Braum, Carrizozo, and C. M. Hare, Las Cruces.

A small bank balance is a true sign of a hard winter.

Old-Timer Here on Visit

Dr. B. Collard, of Denver, Colo. stopped off here a couple of hours Monday. Mr. Collard was at one time connected with the Byrd group of patented mining claims on the Bonito, the best known of which was the "Old Crow," located close to Tom Grafton's place. It has been nearly 20 years since Mr. Collard left here, and he expects to spend several weeks in the hills looking up old landmarks and locations, and meeting any old acquaintances who may still be there. He was surprised that Carrizozo had grown from a whistling post to a thriving little city. Mr. Collard left the same afternoon for Nogal and Pecos.

Soldier Boys, Attention!

The "Clean-Up Squad," connected with the Vocational Training and Rehabilitation Service, will meet at the court house, Carrizozo, on Thursday, Sept. 29, for the purpose of hearing any complaints of ex-service men suffering from disability, and for granting interviews to applicants for new claims. Ex-service men who believe Uncle Sam owes them something and who live in distant parts of the county, should not fail to be at the court house on the above date to state their grievances and have their claims filed for adjustment. The "Clean-Up Squad" expects to do its work in this county in one day.

Chicken Pie Supper

The ladies of the M. E. church will serve a chicken pie supper on Friday evening, Sept. 30, at the Luis hall, from 6 to 8 o'clock. Following is the menu:

Chicken Pie includes Gravy and Mashed Potatoes and Noodles
Jelly Salad
Bread and Butter Sandwiches
Choice of Pie, or Ice Cream Cakes Coffee

Tickets, 75 cents. A special effort is being made to raise $400 before the next annual conference. Your patronage is helping a home institution.

The Unemployed

Labor reports show there were 447,000 unemployed factory workers in June in New York state, and conditions have not improved greatly since. In Illinois the number was 203,000; in Ohio, 204,000; in Pennsylvania, 371,000; in Michigan, 108,000; in Wisconsin, 78,000; in Indiana, 79,000; in Minnesota, 78,000; in Iowa, 22,000.

This winter you can cut down your old bathing suit for a dress.

Papa Can Make 200 Gals. of Wine—in Some States

A press dispatch from Washington says internal revenue bureau officials acknowledge that heads of families may, on filing notification with the local revenue collectors, manufacture 200 gallons of wine yearly for home use. The wine must be manufactured at home, if possible. It must be made by the head of the family, and the wine so produced may not be sold or removed from the place of making. But—

B. C. Hernandez, collector for New Mexico, says that while a federal ruling gives the collectors the power to issue such permits in states where there is no prohibition law, the permit would be of no use in New Mexico, which has such a law. Again but—

The "big noise" in the enforcement of the prohibition law says those who are permitted to manufacture wine must hold the alcoholic content down to one-half of one per cent.

There are so many "buts" and so many "butting in" with advice and "information" on this question that the wise man lyeth low and sayeth not a word.

S. P. Reduces Tariff on Livestock

The Southern Pacific Railroad company has asked the New Mexico corporation commission's permission to put into effect on one day's notice reduction of rates for cattle, sheep and hogs. The permission was granted.

The cuts amount to 20 percent on cattle, subject to $118 minimum for 36-foot cars; sheep and hogs subject to $94.50 minimum for single-deck cars; sheep subject to $118 minimum for double-deck cars, and hogs subject to $180 minimum for double-deck cars. The rates apply to both intrastate and interstate shipments and expire December 31.

"Coming Back"

There is much increased interest in mining operations, particularly in the production of gold, and financial assistance is again obtainable to an enlarged extent compared with the almost complete lack of financial backing for mining a few months ago. Men seem ready and willing to go back to work at wages modified to fit new conditions, and this attitude is being reflected in increased employment.

It seems very probable that the threatened oil workers strike in California will be amicably settled without interruption of work in the fields and plants of the various companies, on the basis of a reduction of $1 a day in wages.

Old-Time Bushel of Corn

Before the Eighteenth amendment a bushel of corn would make one gallon of whisky. The farmer got 43 cents, the distiller got $1.58, the government got $1.08, the railroad got $1.14, the wholesaler got $5.75, the retailer got $12.50, and the consumer got delirium tremens.

While America lost 45,000 in battle during the world war, 126,000 were killed accidentally at home.

41,637 Illiterates in New Mexico

There are 41,637 illiterates in New Mexico, according to the 1920 census, the term "illiterate" being used to describe persons over 10 years of age unable to write. Of the total, 23,757 are native whites or of native parentage. By counties, the percentage of illiteracy ranges from 39.8 in McKinley to 4.2 in Chaves.

New Mining Law

The bill introduced by Carl Hayden, democratic congressman from Arizona, providing for a change in the assessment year, with respect to unpatented claims, has become a law. Claimowners will have until 12 o'clock, noon, July 1, 1922, in which to complete assessment work for the year 1921. Thereafter the work for each year must be completed by noon of July 1, instead of by midnight December 31, as formerly. Work for the year 1920 became delinquent July 1, 1921, according to the provisions of the former law that made work performed on or before July 1 applicable as of the calendar year 1920.

R. R. Employees Vote to Strike

Railroad employes throughout the country have received the official announcement that railroad shopmen belonging to the six federated shop crafters' unions have voted to strike against the general railroad wage reduction of July 1 last, but will defer action pending promulgation of working rules now pending before the U. S. railroad board.

The unions seek to retain the present national agreements intact, and their leaders assert that the railroads are opposing demands of the unions as a part of a movement to crush organized labor.

They're for Prohibition

The grape-growing industry of California is prosperous, largely because of prohibition, declares Edward Sheehan, president of the California Grape-Growers' Exchange. He says the profits of the growers have trebled with prohibition. Where three years ago the average price for grapes was $10 to $20 per ton it is now around $75 to $100 per ton.

Came to Their Senses

In the face of a housing famine all over the land the building trades strikes to maintain war scales of wages are crumbling. The latest to fall is at San Francisco, where for four months normal building of homes and business houses has been held up. Its struggle to maintain the war-wage expansion three years after the armistice was signed was a technical blunder. That fatal policy has depressed business and injured all other industries and forced the ranks of the unemployed into the millions.

Voting Was Slow Work

Voting Tuesday was a slow proposition, and a puzzling one for many voters who became impatient over the wearisome task. When a voter stepped up to the judges desk, gave his name and was checked off on the registration books, he was handed 12 different ballots—one ballot containing the names of the candidates for United States senator and eleven amendment ballots. In order to vote intelligently, he had to read at least a part of each amendment in order to get an idea of what it meant. This took a little time with some of the voters and a great deal of time with others, causing a wait for many. The wise ones familiarized themselves with the amendments before going to the polls and made a list of the ones they favored, thus saving time.

Crossed the Divide

Death comes to all—old and young, rich and poor. But when the Grim Reaper lays his icy hand on a person in the prime of life, and apparently in good health, it causes a shock to his friends and acquaintances.

C. A. Perkins was scarcely 35 years of age, yet death claimed him. Mr. Perkins was a native of Alabama, but had been a citizen of Lincoln county the past six years. He was a practicing attorney in Carrizozo, and up to a year ago was city attorney, an office he resigned when he temporarily gave up the practice of law on account of his eyes, which gave signs of failing. He moved to a ranch near Ancho, and was doing nicely in the stock business until his health began to fail. On the advice of his physician, he returned to Alabama about a month ago in the hope that his native air would prove beneficial. But it was a vain hope, and he sank steadily until a week ago, when he passed away. He leaves a wife, a 10-year-old son and a host of friends to mourn his untimely demise.

Lincoln County's Vote on Constitutional Amendments

It has been difficult to secure the amendment results in this county, owing to the fact that all early information was confined to the senatorial result. We, therefore, had to await the arrival of the poll books, and even now some of the books appear to be in the ballot boxes, and as the boxes are locked there is no local authority for unlocking them. However we give the figures on 14 of the 17 precincts of the county, and the majorities for or against each of the 11 amendments are given herewith:

- No. 1—Women to hold office. For, 52.
- No. 2—Alien land law. For, 377.
- No. 3—State superintendent. Against, 180.
- No. 4—Soldiers' exemption. For, 181.
- No. 5—Placing burden of proof on carriers instead of on coporation commission. Against, 373.
- No. 6—Fixes time for officials to take office and also a budget. Against, 386.
- No. 7—State land commission of three members. Against, 407.
- No. 8—Restricting tax levies. Against, 454.
- No. 9—Restricting municipal indebtedness. Against, 281.
- No. 10—County superintendent. Against, 237.
- No. 11—Road bonds. For, 149.

Curbing the Movies

The "movie" is becoming the rival power that can get publicity for itself without using the newspapers, and can exist without them. This is its boast. But there is a fly in the ointment. The "movie" may be able to run independent of newspaper publicity, but it has to reckon with public opinion, and just now the public is in no humor to stand any more breaches of the proprieties by motion picture producers, who have reached the limit of disregard for that opinion. There are more bills in the legislatures to regulate "movies" than ever before. They are accused by the pulpit of causing the wave of crime that has swept over the country from Maine to Los Angeles, says The Manufacturer.

Requests to President Harding for charity are so numerous that a special form letter is used in replying.

IMPROVED ROADS

PROPER WIDTH OF HIGHWAYS

Eighteen Feet Should Be the Minimum, Not the Maximum on Main Traveled Roads.

Through all the years we have been trying to maintain from forty to sixty-foot roads in a large percentage of our public highways when such a width was wholly unnecessary. The road sides have not been cared for because they were waste land and this lack of care has made them spreaders of weed seed and hay fever. A narrower roadway, well kept, would in most cases serve all the purposes required, drainage and safety, says the Successful Farmer.

Now that the roads are to be hard surfaced the tendency is to go to the other extreme in order to save taxes for paving. We must look ahead. If we put down a paving that will last fifteen or twenty years, we must estimate if possible the amount and kind of traffic it will bear at that time.

Fighting the Finishing Touches on Hard Surface Road.

If the road is dangerously narrow now, as is the case where less than eighteen feet is paved, what will it be in twenty years?

Eighteen feet should be the minimum, not the maximum, and on main traveled roads a greater width will seem narrow in twenty years. In England and France the roads are paved clear to the fences or sides of the highway, unless a curb and sidewalk or bicycle path is maintained between the road and fence. Every foot is kept in good condition. Good drainage is as much a part of the European highway as is the case with our city paved streets.

We are at the beginning of motor transport. Unless we look ahead and provide wider pavements, we will find the highways crowded and our possible relief from railway congestion annulled. A few dollars saved now in narrowing our paved highways will prove a short sighted policy.

We have already seen the folly of constructing our canals too narrow and locks too short. The great lakes boats needed in Atlantic transport during the war had to be cut in two and taken through the canals in pieces. Ocean ships cannot reach interior ports until the canals and locks are enlarged. This is a highway lesson to us. Look to the future.

ROAD LEGISLATION OPPOSED

Engineers, Dairy Farmers, Fruit and Vegetable Growers Making Vigorous Protests.

All industry and a great portion of the agricultural interests of the country are up in arms against the hasty and ill-advised legislation already enacted by a few states and pending in others which threatens to strangle one of the nation's most essential industries, motor truck transportation, says a writer in an exchange.

The protests come from highway engineers, dairy farmers, fruit and vegetable growers, grain belt shippers, all lines of industry and commerce and other operators of motor trucks and their patrons.

They say increased license fees and restrictive legislation have been effected without sufficient investigation and without conclusive evidence.

A sensible solution is being worked out by the state of Illinois. The state highway department has under construction an experimental road containing 84 test sections, each section differing from the others in design.

Building in South.

A stretch of hard-surfaced road in the southern states, twenty-five miles in length, was difficult to be found six years ago, whereas at present there are any number of hard surfaced roads from twenty-five to 100 miles in length.

Acquire Road Trees.

The state highway commission in California has the authority to acquire roadside trees along its highways.

WAYS WITH POTATOES.

With hundreds of ways of serving potatoes, the average housewife will confine her family to a dozen or two, thinking she thus has a large variety. It costs some thought to keep going during the summer, but the results are worth the effort, which affords a relief from monotony.

Roasting Potatoes

With Savory Sauce.—Peel the potatoes and slice on a slicer in small strips; when three are prepared cook them in boiling salted water twenty minutes. Brown in two tablespoonfuls of fat two small onions chopped, two teaspoonfuls of mixed herbs. Add two tablespoonfuls of flour, then when well mixed add a pint of milk, two teaspoonfuls of salt and plenty of pepper to season. Cook twenty minutes, strain and pour over the cooked potatoes. Sprinkle with cheese and serve. The cheese may be omitted if not desired.

French potatoes are universally well liked. Peel, halve and parboil for five minutes, then place around the roast, basting until a golden brown.

Spanish Potatoes.—Peel and boil in salted water until the potatoes are done. In the vegetable dish place two tablespoonfuls of butter and one of minced onion for each half dozen small potatoes. Turn in the well-drained potatoes and chop with a knife, mixing well; season with pepper and serve hot.

Potato Balls With Peas.

Make small balls of well-seasoned mashed potato, cook until well browned, flatten a hollow in the center of each and put into each a spoonful of hot seasoned green peas. Serve on a platter with well-browned veal birds. These are prepared by pounding the steak, cutting in strips, stuffing and fastening with a toothpick or two, browning in butter, then simmering in a little cream for an hour.

RECIPES WORTH WHILE.

A hollandaise sauce is delicious when well made, but the best of them will curdle at the last moment. Here is one which is easy to make, true to flavor and quite reliable:

Melt in a double boiler three tablespoonfuls of butter; add two flour and blend well. Add, gradually, one cupful of boiling water, stirring continuously until thickened. Season with one-half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of cayenne and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. More lemon juice may be added if needed for the dish with which it is served. Leave the sauce in a double boiler over the heat until it is ready to serve. Then add the yolks of two well beaten eggs; reheat and serve at once.

Hollandaise sauce is delicious poured over tender young turnips cut in cubes, brussels sprouts or asparagus. It is fine to serve with baked or boiled fish.

Peach Cream Pie.—Bake a pastry shell and fill with sliced peaches. Pour over them the following filling: Take two cupfuls of scalded milk, one-half cupful of sugar, one-third of a cupful of flour, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, and cook together for 15 minutes. Cool, flavor with lemon and pour over the fruit. Serve topped with whipped cream.

Poached Eggs, Ham and Hollandaise.—Cook very thin slices of ham in a hot frying pan until well fried. On rounds of toasted buttered bread place a piece of ham, then a poached egg; sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour hollandaise sauce over each; sprinkle with a bit of minced parsley and serve.

Golden Glow Ice Cream.—Boil together two cupfuls of sugar and one of boiling water for five minutes; add one cupful of grated pineapple, one quart can of apples, put through a sieve, and the juice and pulp of two oranges. Scald two quarts of rich milk; add a tablespoonful of flour mixed with a little cold milk, and cook until the starch is well cooked. Blend the milk and fruit mixture, and freeze. This makes a gallon.

Conserve of Beets.—Carefully peel one dozen small beets and cook them in a pint or more of water until tender. Skim and add four pounds of sugar, the juice of six lemons and the strained pulp of four orange cloves and four inches of cinnamon tied in a small bag. Boil for one hour. Remove the spice bag, skim out the beets and place in a jar. Put the syrup in a thick and pour over the beets. The beets may be served as a conserve and the juice may be used for various purposes to conserve, for various purposes.

"I guess I know," said George, seriously. "I've got on Henry's shirt and his pants and his shoes."

Bursum Elected

The returns from Tuesday's election show Bursum's majority for United States senator to be between 5,000 and 7,000. The majority is surprising to some extent, though the result is not particularly so. However, among forward-thinking men the disappointment is, nevertheless, keen.

It is easy enough to say why such a result. The organization by the republicans which got out a good party vote, even though only about a 60 per cent vote was cast, is outstanding. Then, of course, there were promises of drainage, aid to farmer and stockman, soldier relief and such things, which many believed would be more easily accomplished through a representative in political harmony with the administration. Then, too, there were those who believed the republican candidate had reformed, forgetting that there is only one famous reformation worth while, recorded in history, and that was nearly 2,000 years ago on Calvary. If we mistake not, many good men and women are due for an awakening, for by their votes they have but more firmly fastened the "system" on New Mexico. Mr. Bursum is but an embodiment of the "system," and is not less so since the election than before.

Sore? Oh, no, old dear; just dealing with facts as they have existed in New Mexico for more than twenty years; that still exist and will continue to exist until the good men and women of the state determine on a house-cleaning.

Ranch Sold

A deal has about been consummated in which the I-X ranch, which was owned by Finley & Son, becomes the property of a Texas ranchman. Finley & Son had previously disposed of most of their stock, so the stock were not involved in the transaction. The I-X ranch is one of the oldest and best-known ranches in Lincoln county, and, while no figures have been made public, the sale price, no doubt, ran well up into a tidy sum.

Last Friday was a big day across the track. It was Mexico Independence day, and many were present from outlying communities. A band was brought from El Paso and furnished delightful music throughout the day and night. The towns gave liberally toward the cost of the band and were aided by the de-

First Methodist Church

After commemorating the sacrament of the Lord's supper last Sunday morning, a church conference was called at which the roll of membership was revised, the work of the year reviewed and plans laid for the coming year.

Children's day will be observed next Sunday at 11 a. m. Those not duty-bound elsewhere are cordially invited to hear the program the children will render at that hour.

It is not our purpose to interfere with the revival now in progress at the Baptist church, but as this is one of our annual observances and the fiscal year ends with the first Sunday in October, the last Sunday in September is our only remaining opportunity. The Epworth League will meet at 6:30 p. m. There will be no evening service in deference to the revival meeting.

Let All Pay Taxes

(From The Manufacturer)

The taxation shoe begins to pinch harder as the enormous war tax levies must be met out of peace-time profits. The demand that special privileges, such as tax exemption for many kinds of securities, be removed is becoming nation-wide.

Over $30,000,000,000 of such investments are now held by bond-buyers who escape paying any tax on their incomes, thus doubling the tax rate on productive industry and the citizen who is today working to make a living.

"Were the tax exemption privilege entirely withdrawn," said George A. Taylor, president of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association, "there would be approximately $16,000,000,000, aside from Liberty bonds, amenable to taxation. This, at the normal income tax rate, would yield $1,000,000,000 annually, relieve the people of a huge tax burden, and divert amazingly large sums from non-productive to productive uses."

Unless this tax-exemption privilege is curtailed, increasingly large sums will be withdrawn from all lines of productive development and placed in tax-exempt securities, thus reducing the chances for employment on one hand while increasing the individual tax burden on the other.

Will Discuss Mining Industry Problems

The New Mexico Chapter of the American Mining Congress, which was organized a year ago, will meet in annual session at Silver City October 3. Most of the members will attend, and the secretary of the organization has also sent invitations to 100 mining men and operating companies, asking them to take part in the discussions as to problems to be met by the mining industry during the next 12 months.

Women are more careful in addressing letters than men, says an employe of the dead letter office at Washington.

Oil Workers Hold Fields

A lawless condition exists in the San Joaquin valley oil fields, and leaders in the strike of oil field workers there seek objects which mean socialization of the industry, says a statement made by the Oil Producers' association. The statement declares the purpose of the strike to be "to bring pressure on the government to interfere and assume obligations of mediation and arbitration which they (the workers' leaders) intend shall develop into control of the industry."

The statement further says a "super-government" has been set up and that highways are guarded by strikers, vehicles using them are stopped and passengers permitted to pass only by permission of the strikers. Constables in these districts have deputized several hundred strikers, thus permitting them to carry arms openly. At night barricades have been erected across highways.

The election at Angus Tuesday was well attended by voters from the upper Bonito valley.

Bryan Robison, not content with teaching the highest school in the county, must ascend the highest mountain, too. He, with a party of young people from Eagle Creek, climbed Blanco peak last Saturday and he enjoyed the sensation as a mountain climber so much that he intends to do Nogal peak next.

Tommy Tucker and Miss Louise Kurtz, of Fort Stanton, visited friends in Parsons Sunday. For the sake of adventure, they left the safe and sane road and came by way of Nogal canyon and attempted to climb the Nogal divide in their little Red Arrow. They made a good start up the hill, but finally decided that walking was the easier mode of travel.

The storm Saturday dug out ruts and uncovered rocks in the road that had been overlooked by previous storms this summer, and unless a little road work is done before the first of the month the postman is not going to enjoy his new route when he gives up his faithful horse for an uncertain "Lizzie."

Recent frosts are beginning to color the hills as well as making people sit up and take notice that their wood piles are not what they should be at this time of the year.

MANILA CARNIVAL BIG ATTRACTION OF FAR EAST

This is the season of the year when the Philippines become the playground for the entire orient. It is carnival season in Manila.

In 1908 the first Philippine carnival was held on historic Wallace Field in Manila in February, when the climate of the islands is at its best, and such succeeding year there has been a larger and more elaborate celebration. The 1920, or Victory Carnival, will be the greatest event of its sort ever held anywhere in the Far East.

There are commercial and government exhibits in connection with the carnival, and on no other occasion is it possible to gain at once such a comprehensive idea of the production and development of resources of the archipelago as that which is offered the visitor at the carnival city.

In the evenings the carnival becomes the center of Philippine and oriental social activity. A huge open air auditorium serves for the elaborate nightly balls, and on its mammoth floor thousands of couples swing together to the strains of music furnished by the famous Constabulary and other military bands. Probably at no other place in the world will one see an equally impressive cosmopolitan spectacle.

The Manila visitor who can plan his trip to arrive at the Pearl of the Orient for carnival time may well deem himself fortunate.

Washington News Letter

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, Sept. 20.—Repeal of the administration's recommendation to repeal the excess profits and higher surtaxes to become effective January 1st, 1922, was a marked feature of the work of the senate finance committee in revising the tax law as passed by the house.

Although it sustained the house bill provision to make these taxes payable this year, the senate committee made many important changes in redrafting the bill, the most important of which are as follows:

Increasing the corporation tax from 12 1/2 per cent, as provided in the house bill, to 15 per cent. Repealing the capital stock tax effective July 1, 1923.

Eliminating the house provision exempting the salaries of the president and judiciary from income tax.

Eliminating the house provision exempting expenses of traveling salesmen from income tax.

Eliminating the house exemption of $500 on income received from building and loan associations.

Eliminating the house provision allowing corporations to deduct from taxable incomes the contributions made to charity.

Restoration of the transportation taxes (repealed by the house bill) at one-half the present rate.

Although it was not decided at this writing, it is reported that the senate committee is virtually agreed on restoring the tax on express packages and the duty of five per cent on candy, which had been lowered by the house to three per cent.

Many minor changes have been agreed upon or are contemplated. No general review of the bill can be given accurately at this time.

The retention of the excess profits tax and the higher surtaxes for 1921 and the restoration of duties eliminated or lowered by the house with a further increase of the tax on smaller corporations does not harmonize with the administration claims of reducing government expenditures. The senate finance committee evidently believes these taxes will be needed, or it would have permitted the administration to keep its pre-election promises of reducing or repealing them.

With the exception of sustaining the house in making the repeal of excess profits and higher surtaxes effective January 1, 1922, the tax bill which will be reported by the senate finance committee will differ in many particulars from the house bill, but promises to be no more satisfactory to the general public.

In addition to the voice of the people crying in protest against the inequalities of the tax bill, may now be heard the vociferous cries of the big corporations and the plaintive tones of the oppressed multi-millionaires. They will still have the consolation, however, that they will be relieved of a large part of their taxes in 1922, the burden of which will be shifted to the backs of less fortunate people.

Mrs. Pearl Hughes, who has been visiting at Engle and other points along the Rio Grande valley, returned the past week and is at the Craven home in Water Canyon.

School Notes

(By Special Agent E. E. Cole.)

Friday morning of last week the high school had the pleasure of a visit from Rev. Vermillion and Mr. Woodruff, the evangelist and the singer at the Baptist church. Mr. Woodruff had the high school sing the chorus of "There's a Long, Long Trail," followed by "America." Rev. Vermillion then addressed the students. He said, in substance: "You are a value or a detriment to society according to your life. So live as to bless your fellow men and make the world better. Properly relate yourself to God. Make your life count in the community. You are valuable to the world as you train yourself for service."

The girls in the seventh grade have organized a sewing club, which meets Saturdays with Mrs. Nellie Clark, the teacher of the seventh grade, as leader. The name of the club is "The Busy Bees." They meet next Saturday afternoon with Louise Sweet.

The "Camp Fire Girls" have organized for the new year, with Misses Herron and Fordon as "guardians." This is a very fine organization of girls only, with the highest ideals, and their club last year realized the very best results.

The flagpole has been repaired and now "Old Glory" floats aloft every day of the year, unless the weather is too bad.

With the proceeds of the class play of last year a fine large bass relief of "The Spirit of '76" has been purchased. The piece has just been received from Caproni Bros. of Boston, and will be formally received by the high school on "visitors' day," October 5th. The public is cordially invited to be present. The program will commence at 3:30, and will be as follows:

"America" High School Presentation ... Lillian Merchant Acceptance Herndon Rely "The Spirit of '76"..... Claire Adams "The Star Spangled Banner"

.....High School The next "visitors' day" is Wednesday, October 5.

The "Boy Scouts" met at the schoolhouse last Thursday night. Three of the members were didate know the scout law, sign, salute and significance of the badge, the composition and history of the flag and the respect due the flag.

The Foreign Exemption Clause

A feature of the tax bill which has been widely discussed in the press is the exemption of persons and corporations from taxation 80 per cent of whose incomes are derived from business done abroad. The manner in which this provision will work out has been clearly forecasted by Representative Beck (Republican, Wisconsin), as follows:

"Another provision of this bill which seems indefensible to me is that which exempts those persons and corporations from taxation 80 per cent of whose incomes are derived from business done in foreign countries. A very plausible reason was offered for this exemption. It is said that it was done to place our own citizens on an equal footing with citizens of other countries in developing foreign trade. But here is what will happen. The railroad officials and their security holders have taught some of our captains of industry a great lesson. They have been organizing subsidiary companies, whose stock is owned by railroad officials and railroad security holders, for the manufacture and repair of cars and locomotives and have been taking this class of work out of shops owned by the stockholders of the railroads and placing it in these subsidiary companies at four and five times what it cost to do this work in the railroad shops, and in this way they have been bleeding the public of millions and millions of dollars. Failing to bleed the public of still more millions, they are coming in here with a bill next week that will enable them to reach over into the treasury and take out $500,000,000 more.

"Now, what will happen under this bill? Why, the tanners, the manufacturers of farm machinery, the coal barons, the makers of boots and shoes, the grain buyers, the tobacco trust, the millers and dozens of others will form subsidiary companies to sell goods in foreign countries and will not pay a cent's tax on the millions they will probably make. They will pay nothing for the service Uncle Sam's renders them in affording them the opportunity to make good money abroad."

Billions of Dollars Idle

It is claimed that three billions of dollars are hidden around houses and carried in pockets by the people of the United States. All this is subject to almost instant destruction by many causes. If this was deposited in banks, thus releasing it for useful purposes, it would go a long way toward financing necessary business today, besides affording the depositor a source of protection and income.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Kootai, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—light, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headaches. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Thedford's Black-Draught" is on the package. At all drug stores.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

British Cabinet Invites the Irish to Confer With It at Inverness.

ULSTER ARMING FOR FIGHT

League of Nations Assembly Confronted With Demand Involving Monroe Doctrine—Judge Landis Releases Building Industry of Chicago From Its Bonds.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD:

Ireland declines to relinquish her place on the front page of the world's news. As was predicted, De Valera's note to Premier Lloyd George merely continued the controversy, acceptance of the British dominion offer being again refused and the Sinn Fein arguments repeated. Adherence to the principle of government by the consent of the governed was insisted upon, and once more it was made clear that by this Ireland means that she must be treated as an entirely independent nation.

Lloyd George was in Inverness, Scotland, when the note reached him, and the British cabinet was called upon there to formulate a reply. The ministers were in half humor at being forced to make the trip and the prospect for a conciliatory answer to the Irish was gloomy. De Valera forestalled an adverse decision by the statement that if England issued an ultimatum war would result. Of probably more effect was a message to the premier from the parliamentary committee of the 'Tru' Union congress and the national executive board of the Labor party, urging the government to invite representatives of the Irish people to meet them face to face in a conference, and declaring that "it would be a disaster if the deep and spontaneous feeling for peace now pervading the two peoples was allowed to evaporate while their representatives engaged in a controversy by exchange of notes."

Several hours of debate put the cabinet members in a more cheerful frame of mind, and a new note was dispatched that invited De Valera to send delegates to a conference with the cabinet at Inverness on September 20 for a renewed consideration of the peace proposals. This sounded fine, but there was a fly in the ointment. The condition was imposed that it must be understood that Ireland was to remain in the empire. No doubt De Valera will send delegates to Scotland, but whether the discussion will be fruitful so long as they are asked to accept this compulsory stipulation is questionable.

In a speech at Armagh Commandant O'Duffy of the Irish republican army declared that south Ireland would compel Ulster to unite with it by use of the boycott, and that if that failed, lead would be used. Belfast Unionists have accepted this as a direct challenge and are arming themselves for the conflict. Steps are also being taken to revive the Ulster volunteer forces. The Ulster press is exulting over the prospect of a renewal of hostilities between the British and Sinn Fein.

Sir Horace Plunkett, one of the wisest of Irishmen, sees nothing but two incompatible contentions—no progress whatever towards reconciliation. He wants a vote of the whole Irish people on the matter.

The assembly of the League of Nations, now holding its second meeting in Geneva, has been put up against a difficult proposition by the delegation from Bolivia. They demanded that the old dispute over the province of Tacna and Arica, now under Chilean administration, be placed on the agenda of the assembly, and that the treaty of 1904 between Bolivia and Chile be taken under consideration for possible revision. The Chilean delegation led by Augustin Edwards, argued strenuously against the proposal, saying that the treaty of 1904 was a permanent settlement of the dispute.

competent to revise treaties unless they are "inapplicable."

Obviously the Monroe Doctrine is involved in the dispute. Carlos Aramayo, head of the Bolivian delegation, stated that Bolivia on several occasions had requested the United States to examine the Bolivian-Chilean treaty, but the Washington government had steadfastly refused. "The South American states do not consider themselves bound by the Monroe Doctrine," he added. There are a number of prominent Americans in Geneva watching the proceedings, and they are urging President Harding's administration to make known its view as to the competence of the league to intrude in Central and South American problems in direct defiance of the Monroe Doctrine, pointing out that the European states would be enabled to capitalize the petty differences between the Latin-American republics by posing as disinterested benefactors, through which the allies would gain concessions.

The league assembly was loath to make any decision in the matter, and at the suggestion of Van Karnebeck of Holland, who had been elected president, the discussion went over to a later date.

Hjalmar Branting of Sweden in Thursday's session charged that the league had been extravagant and had discriminated against nations that remained neutral in the war. He especially criticized the action of the league council in giving the Aland Islands to Finland. Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa, defended the league against these accusations, and then went on to severely criticize the "purely negative" position of the United States which he said was responsible for the delay in the application of mandates. The American government recently sent notes to the allies reiterating its claim to equality with them in the disposition of the former possessions of Germany and her allies in the war.

Among the first things the assembly did was to reject the amendment to the covenant proposed by Argentina, that all sovereign states should be members of the league unless voluntarily abstaining from membership. In Buenos Aires it was believed the temporary withdrawal of Argentina from the league would now be absolute and permanent and that certain other Latin-American republics might also withdraw.

The Greek and Turkish Nationalist armies were locked in bloody battle on the route to Angora, and the Greeks are reported to have the best of the fighting, although their losses are heavy. The Turks lost some 12,000 men and are falling back steadily.

Equally fierce but with fewer fatalities is the fighting between the Spanish forces and the Morocco tribesmen. The Spaniards are using bombing airplanes against the Moors who occupy almost inaccessible strongholds in the mountains. The tribesmen besieging Melilla also are kept busy dodging air bombs. However the Spanish supplies are running short and the offensive may be abandoned.

Directly applicable to the Chicago district but materially important generally was the decision of Judge Landis as arbiter of the building trades disputes. After several months of careful study the jurist decreed that the wages of the men in the trades concerned should be reduced by from 10 to 20 per cent and promulgated new rules and working conditions that it is believed will speedily restore the building industry of Chicago to a sound condition. The new rules free the Chicago district from the domination of the contractors' association, labor unions, material men's cliques, or from combinations entered into by all three of them. The home builder can now put up any kind of a house he likes, with any kind of material, without fear of interference from business agents. Employers can now employ and discharge men according to their efficiency or inefficiency, and not because some business agent gives the word. Material men are free to compete openly against each other.

The union workers mutually were greatly dissatisfied with the new wages granted them, but since the union selected Judge Landis for the job they were obliged to accept his decision. The union leaders are now trying to get the new wages reduced.

make more than before since the new agreements eliminate jurisdictional strikes and they will have steady work. More important in the long run is the fact that Judge Landis has freed the union workers from the imminent danger of the open shop. The carpenters, plasterers and sheet metal workers declined to enter the arbitration, and some other crafts were excluded because they refused what the judge considered suitable agreements. It is predicted those crafts will have to contend with the open shop before very long.

Uncle Sam's troops did not have to fire a shot in West Virginia. As soon as they entered the disturbed region the rebellious miners submitted and were disarmed and sent home. Quiet came so speedily that preparations were being made last week to send some of the troops back to their camps.

Meanwhile another but less serious mine war was brewing in southern Illinois, where the union floor spar miners were gathering, with arms, to march through Hardin county. Their objectives were the towns of Rosciore and Elizabethtown. The miners had several clashes with deputies and detectives, who, according to the union officials, are creatures of the mine operators. Governor Small ordered an inquiry into charges of persecution and abuse made against the Hardin county authorities, mine officials and guards. The trouble there involves both wages and unionism, and, as in West Virginia, is of long standing.

The conference between Mexican officials and American oil men concerning taxes on Mexican oil resulting in an agreement highly satisfactory to the Americans and the resumption of work in the Tampico fields. It was believed this would lead to the speedy settlement of the treaty dispute between the United States and Mexico and the recognition of the Obregon government. At present, however, the diplomatic deadlock remains unbroken.

Memorial services, solemn and beautiful, were held in Westminster abbey for the American and British victims of the ZR-2 disaster, and about the time the muffled notes of a bugle there played "The Last Post" the British cruiser Dauntless steamed slowly out of Devonport harbor bearing the remains of the American dead back home for burial. As the Dauntless passed every battleship in the harbor fired minute guns.

Charles G. Dawes has completed a tentative draft of the federal budget for the next fiscal year and submitted it to President Harding, who heartily approved it. The President has also declared himself pleased with the course adopted by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board and with the progress made by the joint committee on reorganization of the departments and bureaus. In a long letter addressed to Senator McCormick the President replied to the criticisms of the administration by Chairman White of the Democratic national committee. He praised the work accomplished by congress, and said: "It is plain that we are working our way out of the welter of waste and prodigal spending."

The senate finance committee is struggling manfully with the house tax revision bill and called on Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for a lot of information, after which it began rewriting the measure. Senator Calder has devised a plan for inclusion in the bill of a tax on distilled spirits and beer which he believes would yield $175,000,000.

The great hordes of unemployed in England are in an ugly humor and are holding demonstrations in many cities that are little short of riots. In Bristol they carried red flags and attacked the building occupied by the board of guardians, and in Liverpool they were kept from violence only by the pledge of the lord mayor that a plan to give them work would be formulated.

The British Trades Union congress adopted a resolution approving the calling of a conference on limitation of armaments, but declaring that such a conference would be a failure unless it was a conference of all nations.

Business conditions in Arizona are improving if it can be judged by the increased number of articles of incorporation which have been filed with the State Corporation Commission of late. New business enterprises often mean new money coming into the state; they place money in circulation, and if nothing more they are based on the supposition that an enterprise has been found which will attract investors by its merits.

The rodent destruction crew which has been at work for some time on the Zuni Indian reservation is meeting with good success, and by late fall most of the prairie dogs will have been killed. The tract of land which the crew has been working on is about thirty miles long by ten wide and contains about 50,000 acres. The land is said to be valuable for agriculture purposes, but for a long time has been almost worthless on account of the rodents of the dogs.

Mining properties in the Twelfth Federal Reserve district, including the seven states of Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington, produced more silver, gold and lead, and less copper during July than in the corresponding month last year, according to reports made public by John Perrin, federal reserve agent at San Francisco. The reports were received from twelve largest mines located in Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah and Idaho.

A movement has been started in Gallup to divert the flood waters of the Puerco river so that there will be no danger of future floods. Several times this season the west side of the city has been under from one to two feet of water and the loss in property has been heavy and plans are now being made for the construction of dykes to prevent this. If the funds can be raised a concrete wall about ten feet high will be built so that the river will be held in its channel instead of flowing over the low lands of the city. The total cost of the improvement will be about $40,000 when it is completed.

At a recent meeting of the Sweet Potato Growers' Association, plans were completed for the new warehouse which will be erected in Fort Sumner, N. M., to care for the season's crop. The lots for the site have been purchased and actual construction work will be started soon as the material can be placed on the ground. The crop this year will be one of the largest ever grown in the valley and it is possible that the growing of sweet potatoes will soon become one of the principal industries of the valley.

That no one in Arizona in 1919 had a personal income exceeding $800,000 and that only one citizen could boast an income of this amount is shown in the list of personal income tax returns as filed for that, an account of which was released by Judge Alfred Franklin, collector of internal revenue for the district of Arizona.

Little Helen, one of the youngest set of Scripto society, was raising her sister, who was old enough even to go visiting and stay away from home three whole days and nights. She was getting more lonesome every hour and after having been told several times by her mother that Louise wouldn't be home until Friday, finally hit on a plausible pretext for getting sister home.

"Mother, let's write and tell Louise that we have a new baby at our house. I know she would come home then."

"But we could not write that—that wouldn't be the truth, and it isn't nice to tell things that are not true."

That apparently settled the matter, but Helen added: "Well, we could tell her it was a new baby doll when she got home—that would be all right, wouldn't it?"—Indianapolis News.

Garages Lead Homes in 1920

Review of Building Construction Figures Discloses Some Interesting Information.

HOME CONSTRUCTION DROPS

Money Spent on Moving Picture Theaters Equals That for Churches and Hospitals—New Residences Fail to Keep Pace With Marriages.

Washington.—More garages than houses were built in the United States last year and more money was spent in the erection of motion picture theaters than for churches and hospitals combined.

The discovery of the way of garage building and the boom in the establishment of new motion picture theaters was made by Secretary Davis in reviewing the figures on building construction for 1920 compiled by the labor department for 196 cities in the United States containing more than 32 per cent of the total population.

Mr. Davis' perusal of the figures further showed that the outlay for garages exceeded expenditures for erection of schools. He also found that home building failed utterly to keep pace with the number of marriages long considered an accurate gauge by which to measure the normal construction of dwellings. It is the opinion of the labor secretary that the prospect of catching up on the housing shortage is black indeed.

"The reports from 196 cities of more than 35,000 population each," said Secretary Davis, "show that $1,204,490,764 was expended in building construction in 1920. The population of these cities totals 34,572,904. There were 68,867 one-family houses constructed at a cost of $286,124,868, or 24.6 per cent of the total amount of money spent in all kinds of building. There were only 5,402 two-family houses built; but while in all the one and two-family houses combined there were but 81,265 families provided for, there were 98,121 garages built.

"To be sure, an unknown number of families were provided for in the 1,400 apartment houses that were built as such and the 230 apartment houses built with stores combined. Still, making liberal estimates for these, automobiles fared better than families. There were 428 moving picture and other amusement places built in these cities during the year at a cost of $40,523,140, or considerably more than the cost of churches and hospitals combined; and while these cities constructed 547 school houses their cost, $50,023,140, was but little more than half the money spent on the garages.

Building Lags. The importance of these figures from a social point of view is that they show that building construction for the purpose of housing families lags far behind the current increase in the demand for houses. If we apply the marriage rate that obtained in 1919 to the population of these 196 cities we find that in 1920, 862,786 marriages took place in the cities considered. It used to be that a marriage very generally meant a new separate family and a new demand for a home either through purchase or rental. Thus, those conditions have somewhat changed, but if only half of the newly married couples seek homes to themselves we are building not more than half of the accommodations required,

Barber Completes Job Lightning Only Half Did

Bozeman, Mont.—Steve O'Donnell, a Gallatin Valley ranchman, came into town after a hair cut. The barber who served him charged only two bits, half the price of a regular trim, when O'Donnell told how he came to need tonorial attention on the left side of his head only.

O'Donnell said lightning struck the hay-rack on which he was riding. When he recovered consciousness he found the right side of his head has been shaved as cleanly as though a razor had been applied. Otherwise he was uninjured and his team escaped injury, O'Donnell said.

The barber warned other customers against too much familiarity with lightning, advising them he would not make a habit of the price reduction.

so that instead of catching up with the result of the cessation of residence building during the war we are not providing for in housing more than 50 per cent of the newly established families."

BEST INFORMED COP

Recently the chief of police of Chicago started a few scouts out to find which one of his 4,500 policemen was the most polite and best informed. Policeman Patrick J. Sheehy, stationed at Dearborn street bridge, was the prize. When Sheehy went on the police force he was not very well read, and seeing that the public asked a great many questions, he began to study nights; today he can tell you where to buy a straw hat cheapest, what the fare is from New York to Hong Kong, or any other question you can propound him.

FACES OF MEN ARE CHANGING

New Type Being Developed, Says English Painter.

Experts Differ as to Whether This Means Englishmen are Handsomer or Uglier.

London.—Since Prof. Arthur Keith of the Royal College of Surgeons announced that the faces of men are changing a heated controversy has arisen as to whether the change is for better or worse.

Sir William Orpen, the famous portrait painter, says Englishmen are growing handsomer every day. "A firmer type, a stronger jaw is developing," he declared. "Men are approximating more to what is known as the strong silent type."

"I believe you can make yourself like anything you wish within limits. One of these limits is that you become like the people you live with, either in actual life or in the life of the mind. That is why the Englishman is becoming like his strong silent ideal.

"I have also found that husbands grow like their wives and wives grow like their husbands very frequently." On the other hand, Professor Patrick Geddes of University college, Dundee, the zoological authority, says emphatically that men are not growing better looking. Presumably he thinks they are becoming uglier.

Professor Keith, whose annual report to the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, started the controversy, is not saying whether the male face is on the upgrade or down. All he admits is that from the evidence he has accumulated he is convinced that definite changes, particularly in the face and jaws, have been taking place in a large proportion of the British people during the last century or two.

In an effort to decide the issue several experts in the geography and topography of the human "map" have made exhaustive tours of the National Portrait Gallery, which contains some thousands of paintings of English historical personages for the last 400 years. But the investigation failed to convince the experts that there had been any change great enough to improve or spoil English male beauty.

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Uncle Sam's Sword Hand Made Stronger

WASHINGTON.—The establishment of a war plans division in the general staff of the army and creation of a war council have been announced by Secretary of War Weeks, through publication of an order by Gen. John J. Pershing, the chief of staff, directing reorganization of the general staff.

General Pershing's order is the consummation of a plan originated by Secretary Weeks whereby there would be organized within the general staff a special war staff ready for the call to war at a moment's notice, with its organization perfected to the point of functioning as it should in time of war.

"Through the plan worked out by General Pershing and General Harbord, the assistant chief of staff," said Secretary Weeks, "we will have a well organized war staff, which can function for war at a moment's notice without crippling any branch of this general staff at home.

"The plan has been worked out by the two generals who were the best fitted to do it, and in their plan they have embodied the best features of war staff organization as developed in the World War."

General Pershing, as chief of staff of the armies, is the head of the war plans division created in the general staff, which will counsel from time to time with the war council, consisting of the secretary of war, the assistant secretary of war, and the chief of staff.

The order reorganizes the general staff into the five following divisions, each under immediate control of an assistant chief of staff. Personnel division (first division). Military intelligence division (second division). Operations and training division (third division). Supply division (fourth division). War plans division.

The war plans division is to be so organized as to enable it, in the event of mobilization, to furnish the nucleus of the general staff personnel for each of the general staff divisions required at the general headquarters in the field.

Views of Sawyer on Rehabilitation

THE question of hospitalization of the World War veterans is one embracing many important features which have heretofore been unnecessary in the construction of proper hospitals for the care of civilian sick, according to Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, the President's physician and military aid.

"There is nothing too good for the World War veteran who is trying to regain his health and re-establish himself in civilian activities," he says. "A vocational training program which is carried out on the basis of entertainment and hospital occupation is unfair, both to the World War veteran and to those who have the responsibility of operating such an institution.

"Reasonable engagement such as will improve both mind and body should be the policy of the rehabilitation forces. To make such a plan workable it is quite important that every institution giving hospital care to the ex-soldiers should have a well-equipped and perfectly arranged special apartment in which vocational training can be carried on. With an academic course as the underlying principle, it will then be quite easy to carry out a commercial course which would lead into all the practical lines of business, such as banking, accounting, etc.—There should be an industrial branch of the educational system. There should be an agricultural course.

"Some have an idea that there is such a difference between the various classes of patients that each must have a separate institution in which to be treated. With that view I am not in accord. I know after a third of a century's contact with all classes of patients that it is perfectly possible for all classes of cases to be treated in the same institution. It is unjust to stamp any as defectives."

I. W. W. Poet in Jail Years to Be Free

YEARNING for liberty, Charles Ashleigh, poet and a "follower of the road" by inclination, languishes today a prisoner in Leavenworth, buoyed only by the hope of pardon from President Harding. Through the intercession of Vachel Lindsay, Harriet Monroe, Hudson Maxim, Charles Ham Kennedy, Judge Anderson of Boston, Mary Heaton Vorse and others who believe in his innocence, Ashleigh hopes that Attorney General Daugherty will recommend his pardon to the President. He went to the federal penitentiary on April 25, 1921, to serve a sentence of ten years' imprisonment passed on him in Chicago by Judge Landis for violation of the espionage act, the selective service act, and a number of other statutes, as a member of the I. W. W. He was also fined $10,000.

Ashleigh is thirty-three years old. He was born in London and has worked in South America on newspapers. His longing for the beauties of nature finds expression in poetry. One of his poems, entitled "When I Go Out," contains these lines:

O be to me tender, leaves that wait outside
This sultry wall, and keep inviolate
Until I come to you with love-dumb lips
From out this dull tenement of hate;
Out of the fresh breathing of the earth
To draw allayment of my rasping fear,
My woundings and my festering, till my mind
Is soothed by winds that draw like nurses' near.
When I go out, . . . O roads of all the world!
O beauty, fields and cities, do not fail!
Wait, strong friends, my coming—let me
Once more drink glory on a careless trail.

Disarmament Demonstration by Women

MOVEMENT for a world-wide demonstration for disarmament participated in the women of all nations, to be held on Armistice day when the international conference convenes in Washington, has been initiated by organized American working women through the National Women's Trade Union league. Telegrams inviting participation of a score of women's organizations of the United States and the organized women in 48 nations which sent delegates to the Second International Congress of Working Women in Geneva have been sent out on behalf of the National Women's Trade Union league by Mrs. Raymond Robins of Chicago, its national president.

"To strengthen the governments in their desire to disarm by giving unequivocal expression of the women of the world," is the purpose of the demonstration. The American demonstration will focus in Washington, where it may take the form of a parade, and it will doubtless be carried out locally all over the country. The best of the message of the National Women's Trade Union league to the women of all nations is:

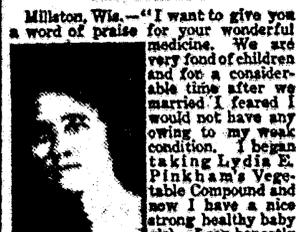

After day for the opening of the momentous disarmament conference at Washington. When we remember the joy that went up from the people of all nations in thanksgiving that peace would once more dwell on earth, no other day would lead the same significance throughout the entire world as this anniversary of November 11, 1918.

"Since that day the aftermath of the war, with its hunger, suffering and misery, has appalled the conscience and paralyzed the spirit of mankind. This is the great hour for women of the world to help by their united voice, to the darkness that enveloped it. The governments will be strength-

Hygienic Dish-Washing

The hygienic importance of electric dish-washing has been shown in a report by Surgeon J. U. Cummings of the United States Army. Investigating the effects of the influenza epidemic in institutions having a quarter of a million people, it was found that where dishes were washed by hand there were 324 cases of the disease per 1,000 persons; but in hotels and other places having electric dishwashers the rate was only one-third as great, or 108 per 1,000. The washing by the machines is not only more thorough than hand washing, but hotter water is used, and this insures more effective sterilization.

Would Signal Correct Time

A dimming of electric lights each night at eight o'clock as a national time signal is being urged as a measure that will distribute the correct time regularly to all who are within sight of an electric light. In the same way that the time ball is dropped down the staff at noon and clocks are regulated by telegraphic or radio signals from the naval observatory in Washington, it is suggested that power plants regularly flash the correct time daily over their electrical systems.

FIND LOST BATTALION OF YANKS

Navy Department Forgot Marines Soldiering in Cuba.

Six Officers and 274 Men Posted in Island During War to Protect Sugar Property.

Washington.—A "lost battalion" of United States Marines, 6 officers and 274 men, were formally "found" by the Navy department a few days ago. Since August, 1917, the battalion had been stationed in Camaguey, Cuba, in the very heart of the island, with no apparent reason for its being kept on with an assignment since the days of the war.

The discovery of the "missing" battalion was made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy after much searching of records and inquiry among military officers who were stationed in Cuba during the war.

sent in the Cuban town after Leroy Foster, an American engineer and former navy officer, had been attacked and beaten by Cubans.

"What are the marines doing in Camaguey?" Mr. Roosevelt asked himself after looking at the map of Cuba, and was asked by others equally inquisitive. Nobody seemed to know. Maj. Gen. Lejeune, commandant of the corps, said they were there all right, but could vouchsafe no additional information. The navy list showed marine officers regularly assigned to the Camaguey post, but the warrant for such duty seemed to be lacking.

Finally ancient papers were found which showed that, back in 1897, shortly after Spain finished the war on the heels of the United States, the Cuban government had requested the State department to permit the stationing of American marines at Camaguey to guard sugar properties against pro-German plots.

Skunk Is Outdone by Nomia Pygmaeus Bug

Minneapolis, Minn.—The nomia pygmaeus is a concentrated rival of the skunk.

This is the text Dr. William A. Riley, chief entomologist at the university farm, has read to International Falls. The citizens of the city, being assailed by a terrific odor, had at first thought their sewage system was faulty, but later placed the blame on some strange insects which were being trodden upon. Nomia pygmaeus is an Arctic species of the beetle, which gives off a terrible odor when killed or injured. It rarely invades towns, but unfortunately, when it does there is no way of avoiding it.

Considerable work is going on in the Jicarilla placer field, but it is mostly of a preparatory nature—developing water, building dams, excavating to bedrock, etc. But the real work of washing the alluvial gravel is expected to begin before spring. One well was pumped for 212 gallons a minute for 24 hours without lowering the depth of the water. Some say the gravel is of too low a grade to pay, unless worked by up-to-date placer machinery, while others contend that the dirt will average $5 a yard and can be shoveled into the sluice boxes at an expense of 50 cents. All, however, agree that the dirt contains gold in small quantities, with the chance of uncovering a pocket of coarse gold. When water is turned on in the spring it may prove to be all that is claimed for it by the optimists.

State and National Banks

The number of state banks in the 48 states of the union exceed that of the national banks by 14,562, the actual number of each, reported by statistics gathered to August 4, being, state banks, 22,705; national, 8,143. This feature is not surprising, inasmuch as many states permit the organization of banks with capitalization of $15,000, whereas no national bank may be organized with less than $25,000. The one thing that is surprising, however, that, notwithstanding the large capitalization of many national banks, their enormous deposits and volume of business, the aggregate business of the state banks exceeds the national. From the same statistics we take the following figures, showing the standing of the two classes of banks:

	Capital Surplus and Undivided Profits	Deposits	Loans and Discounts	Real Estate, Stocks, Securities, etc.	Total Resources
Totals (Average date March, 1921)	$5,587,081,143.55	$23,780,750,818.50	$15,440,134,506.28	$6,877,626,308.48	$69,685,597,000.00
Totals for all National Banks	2,738,815,000.00	15,478,354,000.00	11,060,887,000.00	4,028,059,000.00	23,307,051,000.00
Excess of State Banking Institutions	$2,848,266,143.55	$8,302,396,818.50	$4,379,247,506.28	$2,849,567,308.48	$10,308,546,000.00

As interesting and comprehensive as the above figures are, showing as they do the vast resources of our banking institutions, there were many other interesting and illuminating things in the address of E. C. McDougal, before the twentieth annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, at Philadelphia. We quote one paragraph, which deserves serious consideration:

"We must not misunderstand the statements of high financial authorities when they say that the worst is over. That does not mean that the worst of the depression is over, but that the money strain is over. As a matter of fact, if business had continued good the money strain would have been as bad as ever. The strain is relaxed because business is bad. Easy money at this time is not a good sign. It is a bad sign. Business men understand this thoroughly—they are not misled. Danger lies in the fact that many congressmen are not business men, and that in Washington they are not in a business atmosphere but in a political atmosphere. Some may be honestly misled, others deliberately may take advantage of public statements that the worst is over as an excuse why congress should do nothing. That will not satisfy our citizens. Congress cannot 'pass the buck' and escape responsibility. President Harding has spoken. Secretary Mellon has spoken. The entire country is behind them in their stand for retrenchment and reduction of taxation. No excuse will satisfy the nation. Unless congress acts at once there is grave danger that this winter we shall face the worst conditions that this country has known in this generation. Wages surely will continue to fall, unemployment probably will increase, men, women and children will be cold and hungry."

State Gets Part of Forest Receipts

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 22—New Mexico has just received a check for $22,584.57 from the treasury of the United States as its share of the national forest receipts for the year ending July 1. This amount consists of $21,491.12, which represents 25 per cent of the receipts from the national forests in the state, and $1,093.45 because of school lands in the forests.

The amounts are considerably smaller than usual because of the greatly reduced national forest receipts. In 1920 the total receipts of the forests in New Mexico were $313,000, while this year they dropped to $84,000. This reduction is due largely to the concession made to the stockmen by giving them until December 1 to pay grazing fees which would ordinarily have been paid last spring. A portion of the reduction is due to the reduced sales of timber.

Pioneer Miner Dies

Clinton A. Dimmick, one of the best known of the pioneer mining men of New Mexico, died Sept. 13 at his home at Silver City after a long illness from cancer. He was the discoverer of the Silver Cell mine at Pinos Altos. A fortune in rich silver ore was taken from the mine almost at grass roots. A chunk of this ore, valued at $1,500, won the first prize at the Columbia World Fair in Chicago in 1893.
