Coal Digging Begins

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Soft coal operators and miners in two more states made peace today while anthracite operators and miners representatives' meeting in Philadelphia adjourned a joint conference subject to call without reaching an agreement.

Illinois and Indiana miners were prepared to enter the pits tomorrow, following the lead of Michigan, Iowa and Wyoming miners who yesterday concluded agreements with operators. Southwestern operators and miners were holding conferences at Kansas City in an effort to bring about a settlement.

The peace negotiations already completed caused the department of labor to estimate the weekly bituminous coal production at 9,000,000 tons within a week.

All the agreements thus far concluded in the bituminous industry have been based on the settlement concluded at Cleveland last week between John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and his associates and operators from seven states. By the terms of this agreement the miners returned to work at the same wage scale and under the same working conditions as which they struck on April first, 144 days ago. This agreement is to remain in effect until next March 31, with provision for a fact finding commission to investigate the coal industry and selection of a sub-committee of operators and miners at a joint conference at Cleveland October 2 to determine methods of negotiating future wage scales.

The agreement between Illinois miners and operators came after almost continuous conferences lasting for five days between operators and miners joint committees and sub-committees.

Today's agreement merely provides for continuing, present wages and working conditions until next March 31, eliminating the clause providing for negotia-

N. M. N. U. Staff

Las Vegas, N. M., Aug. 18.—The New Mexico Normal University of East Las Vegas has recently added to its faculty ex-President James M. Cook of the Baptist Motexuma College of Las Vegas. Mr. Cook was called to the presidency of the new Baptist school administrative career in Texas. After a year's preliminary work for the new school, his resignation was submitted to its Board of Trustees and he entered the service of the Normal University as one of its summer session instructors. The connection thus begun is now made permanent. Ex-President Cook will be employed in the College department as one of the Professors of Education, handling divisions in Psychology and School Management. His combination of scholarship and practical administrative school work make him a most valuable addition to the faculty of the Normal University.

His appointment practically completes the teaching staff for the coming year and adds to its reputation as the strongest and best one the Normal University has ever had. The faculty is recruited from all of the strong and well known schools of the country—Columbia, Chicago, California, Colorado, Indiana, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin and numerous others, and is marked for successful teaching experience as well as for preparation in these best schools of the country.

Conditions for formulating a new contract to begin when the present one expires, this clause being supplanted by the Cleveland plan of negotiation.

President Farrington, of the Illinois miners' union announced tonight that every Illinois operator had signed the agreement and said that all men had been ordered back to work in this state, predicting normal production by Monday if the trains are able to move the coal.

School Opens

(By E. Cole)

The schools of Carrizozo will open Sept. 4. Classes will be called, names of books and needed supplies given, and lessons, as far as possible, will be assigned, after which the pupils will be dismissed for the day; the real work will begin Tuesday.

Supt. Cole will be in his office at the High School all of next week and will be glad to consult with parents and pupils concerning the work of the coming year. These consultations should occur before Saturday as the superintendent will be busy with the teachers on that day.

The general teachers' meeting will be at 9 o'clock on Saturday, at which all the teachers are expected to be present. The meeting of the high school faculty will be held at 10:30.

It is important that all pupils be present on the first day of school, thereby getting a good start. This is especially important to pupils of the high school where there is great privilege in the selection of studies and where the daily program is arranged to meet the requirements of those who are about to be graduated.

Carrizozo Entertainers

The Carrizozo Entertainers announce that their next number will be a moving picture. The proceeds from this entertainment will be applied on the indebtedness as if it were a regular attraction by the entertainers themselves. The matter has been taken up with Mr. Sterling who courteously consented; four of the leading moving picture concerns were consulted and all agreed to select a picture, give a good reduction in price and allow its use for the purpose stated.

The committee finally selected a Pathe production, "Lady Godiva" Story of the glory of a woman's purity. Picture-Play states if you enjoy authentic Old World settings and skilled actors this will appeal to you.

It is recommended that all read "Lady Godiva" by Alfred Tennyson; read also the legend of the lady and be prepared to enjoy one of the greatest pictures shown here. Conditions are such that the Entertainers can put on this picture at their regular price 25 and 50.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Prospect Considered Bright for Early Settlement of the Coal Miners' Strike.

PROPOSALS FOR COMPROMISE

President Harding's Final Suggestion for Ending Railway Strike Under Consideration—Brotherhood Men Are Restless—French Plans Concerning Germany Opposed by Other Allies.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
UNLESS the coal operators, the officials of the miners' union and the authorities in Washington are badly off in their guessing, the coal strike is almost over. The four-state conference called by President Lewis in Cleveland was considering favorably this agreement:

1. A "four state" basic contract, perhaps expanded to include northern West Virginia, under which the old wages and working conditions in the contract which expired last March 31 will be continued until next April 1.

2. A fact finding body to be set up under approval or by appointment of President Harding to find out what is the matter with the coal industry and what can be done to straighten it out. Despite action is being delayed in hope that the Illinois and Indiana operators will change their minds and participate. Hitherto the operators have sought to break away from the idea of a central competitive district in which the miners insist. By getting some producers from each of the four states into the agreement, irrespective of how small a minority of production they may represent, the United Mine Workers argue they carry their contention by getting a settlement on a four state basis. But the contract will be binding only upon those who sign up, and Illinois, which produces about twice as much as any other state in the central field, will have only a few individual signers, the big associations standing pat on their own proposals. However, the theory most generally expressed at the conference was that once mines in the East begin to open up, there will be a rush on the part of Illinois and Indiana producers to sign up.

In Washington the government officials were predicting the early settlement of the bituminous strike through the adoption of a compromise agreement embracing these features:

Restoration of last year's wage scale until next March, with continuation of the check-off system.

Creation of a coal commission to investigate the situation and to recommend a new agreement.

Postponement of further controversy until next spring, by which time the proposed investigation will be completed.

It was reported that President A. M. Ogle of the National Coal Association was favorable to this plan and that Senator McKinley had advised that the Illinois operators were inclined to enter such an agreement.

Governor McCray's effort to reopen Indiana mines under military guard proved more of a gesture than an accomplishment. Very little coal was produced during the week and most of the men employed deserted, fearing for their lives. The governor intimates that if all other plans for averting a fuel famine in the state failed, convict labor would be employed to get out coal under martial law. On the other hand, the impeachment of McCray for sending troops into the coal field was demanded by a mass meeting of students and miners labor men at Terre Haute.

It was the general belief that if present negotiations fail to end the strike, President Harding will show the troops and operate them under guard of federal troops. That he might await the sanction of congress for such a course was indicated by ship attendance when the house should reconvene this week, instead of the taking of the usual three-day recess. Democratic Leader Garrett wired all Democratic members to be in their seats Tuesday, but the Republican leaders took no such action.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S desire for congressional help applies equally to the railroad strike, which if anything is becoming more serious. His latest and, in his own words, last suggestion for peaceful settlement of this controversy was that the shopmen return to work and that both sides submit the question of seniority to the railroad labor board. This was instantly rejected, informally, by the leaders of the shop crafts, who called for a general conference of all the railroad labor organizations in Washington on Friday, to consider a formal reply and to adopt measures to make the strike more effective. Mr. Jewell said the answer to the President might not be ready for several days.

The shopmen are trying in various ways to obtain the active support of the brotherhoods, and in a measure are getting it. Engineers, firemen and trainmen are ordered by their chiefs to take no chances with defective equipment. Despite the details of railway officials, the union leaders declare that engines and cars are deteriorating rapidly, and more than insulate that this is the cause of recent bad wrecks.

Another serious threat by the brotherhoods developed from a clash in Joliet, Ill., between strikers and a sheriff's posse, in which a striker and a railway detective were killed and the sheriff dangerously wounded. State troops from Chicago were hurried to the scene and some of them, being stoned from ambush, fired at their tormentors. Brotherhood men on the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad to the number of 1,500 promptly quit work, saying their lives were endangered by the bullets of the troopers. Their action was approved by the brotherhood heads and President Stone of the engineers said: "There will be 100 such cases soon if conditions are not changed. We are not going to have our men shot up or beaten up or threatened by armed guards at railroad shops and yards. When the men cannot go to work without having irresponsible armed guards endangering their lives, they may go home and stay there until the condition is removed."

If these remarks were aimed at the private forces of guards maintained by railroads they may be to some extent justified. If Stone meant to imply that brotherhood men are abused by state troops, in Illinois or elsewhere, the best information obtainable is that his implication is false.

CHICAGO'S street cars and elevated trains were running again Monday after the six-day strike which cost the employees and companies some $1,200,000 and the business industries of the city many millions more. The compromise reached provides for a reduction of 12½ per cent in wages.

SEVERAL important changes were made in the McCumber tariff bill by the senate last week. After listening to charges by Senator Smoot that American sugar refiners, who control the bulk of the Cuban sugar production, are trying to destroy American producers, the senate adopted his amendment by which the duty is raised to 2.80 cents a pound on full duty sugar, and to 1.84 cents on Cuban sugars. The McCumber bill rates were 2 cents and 1.66 cents, respectively. At the demand of the agricultural spokesmen, the senators almost unanimously voted to restore potato to the free list. Next the senate, despite the arguments of western agriculturists, voted to keep hides on the free list and placed in the duty-free column boots and shoes, leather of cattle hides, harness and saddlery and gloves of cattle hides. The duty on satchels, belts and boxes and cases of leather was made 30 per cent instead of 40, as in the McCumber bill.

IN THE Ohio primaries the Republican nominee of the Harding administration

Democrats of Arkansas re-nominated Governor McRae, who was supported by organized labor and the Ku Klux Klan, defeating Judge Toney. In Alabama Judge W. W. Brandon won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by a large majority.

TO THE allied premiers and other statesmen assembled in London, Premier Poincare submitted France's plan to compel Germany to pay reparations or to get the money from the country in other ways. He declared France was in a desperate financial condition, and threatened to act alone against Germany if the allies failed to support her just claims. Poincare's demands, briefly, were for control of the following: First, licenses of exports; second, financial exploitations of mines; third, state forests; fourth, participation in German industrial companies.

Lloyd George, with the support of the Belgians, Italians and Japanese, forced the submission of the French plan to a committee of experts, saying: "It is all a question of the method of getting everything from Germany, whether the method bring trouble or cash, and every sanction should be submitted to a test."

THE experts fulfilled expectations by rejecting the French proposition, all but the French members being agreed in opposition to them on every major point. The situation became so acute that both the British and French cabinets were called together, and each gave full support to the stand taken by its premier. As neither side showed any signs of yielding, it appeared as if the entente were soon to break up, leaving France isolated. The British position may be summarized thus: Germany is unable to pay; she is ruined, and an effort to squeeze large sums from her would merely add to her difficulties without profiting the allies and, besides, would delay the economic reconstruction of Europe.

The French contention is that Germany still is economically powerful and able to pay a great deal, but that, partly by design and partly by circumstances, she has assumed an appearance of weakness which in fact does not exist. Poincare is willing to grant Germany a brief moratorium to see whether she is willing to promote financial reforms and apply productive measures that would yield some money for reparations. But he has no confidence in the good faith of Germany.

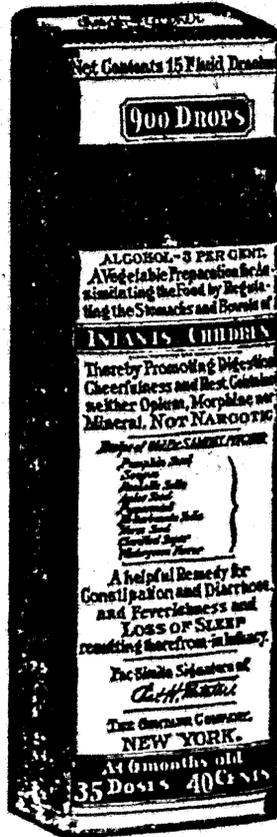

IRISH rebels, still on the run, are doing as much damage as they can. Before abandoning Queenstown they set that city afire, blew up a railroad bridge, and blocked the entrance to Cork harbor by sinking barges in the narrow channel. They thus hoped to head off the attack of the nationals on Cork, to which they retreated. The Free Staters, however, landed at several points and the fight for Cork was under way at last reports. The irregulars also seriously interrupted cable communication between America and Europe by seizing the Irish coast landing places of ten of the seventeen lines between the continents. It was feared they would destroy these plants.

Joseph O'Sullivan and Reginald Dunn, the murderers of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, were hanged in London, all pleas in their behalf having been denied by the English courts and officials.

PORTUGAL is having a general strike caused by the rising prices of food. Martial law has been declared, constitutional guarantees suspended, and the government has moved to Fort Cascaes.

AMONG the train wrecks mentioned in the discussion of the shopmen's strike, the worst was near St. Louis, Mo., when a steel coach passenger train on the Missouri Pacific, running past the block signals, collided with the rear of a local train. Thirty-seven persons were killed and 186 injured.

LATER reports from Swatow, on the Chinese coast, show that the typhoon which struck that city recently was one of the worst in the region.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Select Carefully

"A stream will not rise higher than its source," and it is equally true that a government will be no better than the men, or women, who are delegated by the people to run it. But, in the final analysis, in a government like ours, the people are responsible for the kind of government they receive.

Political parties are essential, for there are honest differences of opinion as to policies to be pursued, and from these differences political parties had their birth; and as new conditions arise and new problems have to be met the line of cleavage becomes more marked and the system of government advocated is promulgated by regularly organized bodies, called conventions. These conventions have their beginnings at home—every man and woman may exercise the privilege in townships or precinct, and take a part in framing these policies and in the selection of officers who are to put those policies into effect.

It is true, there is a large independent vote that takes no part in primaries or conventions, and relies upon its judgment to select the candidate at the general election who best represents its idea of government—forgetting that its absence from primary and convention, as in sometimes the case, leaves it only the "choice between two evils." It is, therefore, evident that, to secure good officials, the first and necessary step is to select the right kind of delegates, and the initial move begins at the precinct primary—at home. Failing to do this, but increases the power of machines, gangs and cliques and results in the selection of candidates who often give more thought to the machine than they do to the people.

The foregoing thoughts arise at this time for we are just entering a campaign for the selection of county and state officials, as well as federal, and in this county the Democrats lead off with a county convention which is called to meet here next Monday, the primaries having been called, in most precincts, for tomorrow. The delegates chosen at these primaries will go to the county convention and there name a list of county officers and elect those who will go form a like service in the naming of candidates for state and federal offices. The Republicans will, of course, do the same thing later, their primaries and conventions not yet having been called.

If conditions, signs and portents are valuable in pointing to a resultant conclusion, this is a Democratic year, and while the obligation to select capable and honest candidates rests equally upon all parties, success which seems assured to the Democrats should make the members of that party very careful in the selection of its candidates, which, again we reiterate, must have its beginning at the primaries.

It too often happens that a convention, in order to carry favor with a certain section, element or power, is led to make a nomination that often ends in grief—more especially, should the unfit nominee be elected; for then all the people suffer. It also happens that contests arise over some of the so-called principal offices and the importance of some of the other offices are overlooked. This is true of the position of county commissioner—not important in the matter of salary, but so far as the welfare of the county is concerned the most important position to be filled on the ticket. A ship without a rudder is scarcely more helpless than a county without a good board of commissioners. Availability, at least as a sop to satisfy some disaffection, should not have a place in the selection of any candidate, and particularly for that of commissioner; nor should anyone be placed on the ticket merely to fill out. The convention should take every nomination seriously, and to do this the precincts must send the proper representatives to the county convention. After nominations are made it is too late to regret your failure to attend the precinct primaries and exercise the right to voice your choice, whether that choice be for county, state or federal place; for as certain as the sun shines somebody is going to do it; and that leads us back to the proposition that all good citizens should attend the primaries, name the delegates and assume the responsibility of government. When men and women do this, and do it thoroughly, we shall no longer have reason to complain of the kind of government that is given.

Prohibition-Bonus Poll

The Literary Digest's poll on prohibition, which represents a count of more than three-quarters of a million votes up to and including August 15, shows no decided changes from earlier reports. True, the women vote, on a special poll, had reduced the most majority slightly, but additional polls from factories and plants, which have been exceedingly "wet," even unto repeal of the prohibition amendment, keeps the wet lead up to the percentages given out in former announcements.

The result of the poll on the 15th stands as follows:

For Enforcement,..... 302,515
For Modification,..... 332,328
For Repeal,..... 162,632

The woman vote so far counted shows:

For Enforcement,..... 22,716
For Modification,..... 21,019
For Repeal,..... 11,709

Polls have been made of five factories and the result is:

For Enforcement,..... 914
For Modification,..... 7,598
For Repeal,..... 3,315

The bonus poll shows a slight gain against the bonus over the last poll, though the result still remains pretty equally divided. The totals are, for the bonus 382,113, against, 394,903. The woman vote so far counted, gives the bonus a boost, the result being, for 32,060; against, 22,857.

The vote on the prohibition question exceeds that cast on the bonus, though the card ballot contained both propositions, by almost 10,000, showing that the prohibition question received more attention.

Convention Arrangements

Status of American Citizens

Should an American woman who marries an alien lose her citizenship?

The bill introduced in the National House of Representatives (H. R. 12022) by Representative John L. Cable of Ohio has aroused a great deal of interest in the question covered by the proposed measure, the individual citizenship of women in the United States without regard to the standing of their alien husbands. In the article in this issue of the News liberal extracts from the bill are given, and data from other sources are presented which will be of interest to all who have given this subject consideration. The article, which appears on another page, is entitled "Independent Citizenship for Married Women."

This is but one of the articles of outstanding current subjects treated in the News from week to week, and the entire series will well repay careful perusal and study.

Stands for Economy

Five months ago New Mexico democracy took a decided stand for economy in state administration.

This stand, given voice by the state chairman, found instantaneous indorsement; it was a good stand, one that gave the citizens of the state a prospect of their first administration in many terms where efficiency and economy stood foremost. It was so good that with the organization of a state headquarters, the Republican chieftains seized upon it with a vigor that would have done them credit had it been an original thought.

In the early publicity sent out from the Republican headquarters, it was announced very definitely that the Republican campaign was to be one on a platform of efficiency, economy and general education of the public in what the administrative departments have accomplished in behalf of these two virtues. After this statement from the G. O. P. a credit line should have been run from the Democratic statement of aims.

New Mexico has had years in which to judge the effect of economical administration during Republican regimes. Campaign promises to meet popular demand have come to life in original form and inspired at other times by that public demand. However, the things the Republican party is now promising represent a complete reversal of their own policy. The state is crying against excessive taxation. This same Republican administration in manifold has brought about New Mexico taxes of today. That is the record of performance contrasted with campaign promises. A radical revision of governmental expenditures is essential, a fact the Republican forces admit in adapting the Democratic platform to their own use.

The New Mexico electorate in November will be faced with the proposition of continuing the present system of administration or changing to one where the interests of the whole state dominate its conduct.

Independent Citizenship for Married Women

THERE is a movement in many civilized nations for independent citizenship for married women. The conviction that the citizenship of married women ought to be a genuine right which cannot be taken away from her knowledge, consent, or wish is not confined to legislative proceedings or resolutions in this country. In April, 1922, a bill was introduced in the French senate providing that the French woman who marries an alien retains her French citizenship unless she makes formal declaration that she prefers to take the nationality of her husband. In England a bill, which 60 women's organizations of the British Empire heartily indorse, dealing with independent citizenship of married women has lately been brought before the house of commons. It provides for the restoration of their British citizenship to British women who have married aliens.

The International Council of Women, the largest of the international organizations of women in representing the greatest number of countries, at its meeting at Copenhagen two years ago expressed in a resolution the belief of women of many countries that the citizenship of married women should be upon an independent basis and their sincere conviction that legislative bodies will soon come to recognize the justice and common sense of the women's stand in the matter.

In this country the principle of independent citizenship for married women has been indorsed by both the Republican and Democratic parties and was incorporated in their 1920 platforms. In congress there is pending a bill (H. R. 12022) relative to the naturalization and citizenship of married women. It is indorsed by the American Association of University Women, National Federation of Business and Professional Women, Council of Jewish Women, General Federation of Women's Clubs, National League of Women Voters, National Women's Trade Union League and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The Carnegie foundation made a special investigation to determine the attitude of various judges exercising jurisdiction in naturalization cases, and in that study replies from 850 judges were 2 to 1 in favor of naturalizing women as individuals, and practically 2 to 1 in favor of allowing an American woman to retain her citizenship regardless of marriage to an alien.

Representative John L. Cable of Ohio is the author of the bill now pending in the house. In committee of the whole the other day, Mr. Cable made a speech in support of his bill. Following are some of the points he brought out:

"A woman's citizenship should not be determined by her marital status. Justice and common sense should permit a married woman to act upon her own wishes and qualifications for naturalization rather than those of her husband.

"A natural-born American must wait 21 years before she or he is permitted to participate in the government of this country. A foreign-born man or single woman who comes to this country and resides here continuously for five years, if he qualifies before the courts, may become naturalized and acquire the right of suffrage. But a foreign-born woman who comes to this country one day automatically becomes an American citizen the next if she marries an American citizen or if her husband becomes naturalized. With one day's period of residence, as compared to the natural-born American's 21 years of residence, she acquires the same rights, privileges, and benefits in and to our government. She is not required to be able to speak the English language, to know of our customs and laws, our Constitution, and to be attached to the principles of our government; she does not even have to renounce allegiance to her foreign ruler and take the oath of allegiance to Uncle Sam.

"Citizenship in this country should not depend on the marriage status, but should be based upon loyalty to our country and a knowledge of its language and laws, as well as a wish or desire to become an American citizen. On the other hand, under our present law a married alien woman who may have resided in this country for many years and who has learned to love America, who knows our language, our customs, our laws, cannot become an American citizen except by the naturalization of her husband. Why should her citizenship depend upon the will of her husband?

"The bill under consideration repeals that section of the present law which provides 'Any woman who is now or who may hereafter be married to a citizen of the United States and who might herself be lawfully naturalized shall be deemed a citizen,' and in its place provides that when an alien woman marries an American, or when her husband becomes naturalized, she does not automatically become an American citizen, but if she also desires to become an American citizen she may do so by being naturalized through a shortened process.

"The present law permitting the naturalization of foreign born deals directly with the husband and father and gives the wife and mother but secondary consideration. The husband is the one who is educated. He is the one who must learn to speak the English language, to know our country, its Constitution, and laws. He is the one who must be attached to the principles of our nation. He only renounces allegiance to his foreign ruler, and in most cases he only appears in open court and declares on oath that he will support and defend the Constitution. The husband is the one who must be fitted and prepared for his part as an American citizen. Even the children are sent to public schools, but what of the wife? The true process of naturalization should include the education of the mother of this immigrant family. The mother's influence and guidance would be lost to the family without the education that naturalization proceedings provide and require. My bill is intended to permit this wife and mother to learn something about the country. She is the one who should guide these children and ought to have the same privilege of an education as the father.

"Under the present law 'any American woman who marries a foreigner shall take the nationality of her husband.' This bill repeals that provision of law in line with the Republican and Democratic national platforms. The Republican platform in part provides: 'An American woman resident in the United States shall not lose her citizenship by marriage to an alien.' And the Democratic platform dealing with this subject advocates: 'Federal legislation which shall insure that American women resident in the United States, but married to aliens, shall retain their American citizenship.'

"In my opinion the rich American woman who marries a title and lives abroad should cease to have the privileges and benefits of an American citizen, and under my bill special provision is made that if she resides continuously for two years in the country of which her husband is a citizen or subject, or resides continuously for five years abroad, she is presumed to have ceased to be an American citizen.

"But there are many American girls who marry foreign-born and who continue to reside in this country. Their loyalty and fidelity is with the United States. Since the nineteenth amendment grants equal suffrage to women, so also should they have equal rights with reference to citizenship. An American citizen who marries an alien girl still retains his citizenship; so also should the American girl who marries the alien man. We should not relinquish our rights to legislate or withdraw our country's protection from these natural-born American women; their personal and property rights should be determined by our laws; and we should not by legislative action surrender this right to any foreign nation.

"The purpose of the bill is to place citizenship on the highest plane possible. It is a privilege and not a right. Participation in our government and the protection by our country should not be determined in the case of married women solely by a marriage ceremony."

Southwest News From All Over New Mexico and Arizona

Cost of re-routing approximately fifteen miles of the El Paso & Southwestern railway tracks between Lewis Springs and Benson, which will be necessary by the proposed irrigation project of the San Pedro Water Users' Association, will be about $2,000,000, it became known recently.

John T. O'Rourke was drowned in the Rio Grande at El Paso when an automobile he was driving plunged down a ten-foot embankment into deep water. A passerby, attracted by a hat floating on the water, dived and found the machine with the dead driver seated at the wheel.

At a joint meeting of the Santa Cruz county board of supervisors and the county highway commission it was decided to build a bridge costing approximately $18,000 across Sonotta creek at Patagonia. The structure will span the creek on the new state highway between Patagonia and Cochise county.

Construction of the new mill for the Stargo Mines, Inc., in the Clifton, Ariz., district, is being pushed and it is expected that the plant which will handle 150 tons daily, will be completed by the 15th of September. The Stargo Company, which is controlled by Benjamin Getzoff of New York, is now employing about fifty men.

The new railroad, extending from Lucero, on the National Lines of Mexico to the properties of the Abumada Lead Company, and the Mesquon Mining Company of Warren, Ariz., which are located in the Los Lunas district of Chihuahua, has been completed. Shipments of about 300 tons of lead ore will soon begin to the El Paso smelter.

Members of Fred Ellber's post, American Legion, met recently in Douglas to discuss definite plans for entertainment of the delegates to the state convention to be held in Douglas Sept. 18, 19 and 20. W. J. Murphy, chairman of the entertainment committee, presented an outline of a program the committee has prepared, which includes several novel and interesting numbers.

Several hundred men have been added to the United Verde Copper Company payroll with the operation of a third reverberatory at the Clarkdale, Ariz., smelter. Near Jerome steam shovels are handling some 2,000 yards of material a day and are approaching the old mine workings, from which it is expected a large tonnage of good smelting ore will be obtained. The recently completed Oettrill furnace treating plant is now in operation.

Mating customs in vogue for countless generations among Indians on the Camp Verde reservation, fifty miles east of Prescott, are to be supplanted at once by the marital laws of the white man. Supt. J. O. Barnard of the reservation was busy recently issuing marriage licenses, and five ceremonies were performed as the first of a series of weddings in wholesale lots. "We are attempting to make these people feel they are mating as human beings and not as animals," remarked Superintendent Barnard. Sam Jimulla and a woman who has been his mate for thirty years after the custom of the Mohave Apache Indians, were the veterans of the unique group that faced a local justice of the peace.

That the War Department has no knowledge of a contemplated abandonment of Camp Harry J. Jones, as was rumored in Douglas recently, and that repairs to the buildings and an increase in the personnel is being contemplated is the information contained in two letters from Secretary Weeks to Representative Carl Hayden, copies of which were received by George E. Buxton, president of the Douglas Chamber of Commerce and Mines. The letters were replies to Representative Hayden's inquiries made at the behest of the Chamber of Commerce.

The city council is calling for bids for the paving of six blocks of Allen street in the business district of Tombstone. Paving of five miles of state highway will start soon. The addition to the grammar school is to be completed within two weeks. Work on the Union High school will soon be under way. It is an $80,000 project. The Fairbanks section of the Tombstone-Nogales section of the state highway will be completed during the next thirty days. Work starts soon on the three-mile lateral from Huachuca station to the Tombstone-Nogales state highway junction.

BETTER ROADS

MINIMUM WIDTH OF HIGHWAY
Hard-Surface Roads Should Be at Least Eighteen Feet Wide for Safety of All Concerned.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A minimum width of 18 feet for hard-surface roads is recommended by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. The maximum width of truck body generally permitted is 8 feet, and 5 1/2 feet is the ordinary clearance width of automobiles. At an average speed of 30 miles an hour it is unreasonable to expect the driver of an automobile to drive with the wheels closer than 1 1/2 feet to the edge of the pavement, says the bureau. For trucks at an average speed of 15 miles an hour, this distance should not be less than 1 1/2 feet on account of the great width of the rear wheel. Three feet seems to be a minimum safe clearance between bodies. Inasmuch as a certain amount of truck traffic is to be expected on all main country roads, the minimum width of surface should be 18 feet to provide these clearances when an automobile needs a truck.

Where the frequency with which trucks pass each other becomes a big factor, as in the neighborhood of large cities, the minimum width of pavement should be 20 feet to provide a clearance of 3 1/2 feet and a safe distance of wheels from edge of pavement.

ALLOW FOR FUTURE TRAFFIC

Count of Automobiles on Number of Roads in Tennessee Shows Surprising Fact.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In building a road liberal allowance should be made for future increase in traffic, says the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. A traffic count conducted by the bureau in co-operation with Tennessee officials on a number of roads in Davidson county, in which Nashville is located, shows surprising facts when compared with a similar count in 1916. During this period automobile registrations have doubled, while the number of motor vehicles on the roads is five times as great as in 1916. In 1916 horse-drawn and motor-vehicle traffic were almost equal in volume. In 1921 horse-drawn traffic had increased only slightly in volume and constituted 16 per cent of the traffic, motor vehicles constituting 84 per cent.

Observations in this and other countries lead to the conclusion that volume of traffic may increase in much greater proportion than the number of motor vehicles and will also depend to a large degree on the condition of improvement of the road and on the economic conditions in the adjacent territory.

ROADS IN FEDERAL-AID PLAN

System Designed to Serve Whole Country and Will Be 180,000 Miles in Length.

The chief of the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture will probably never personally inspect all of the system of federal-aid roads provided for by the federal highway act and for which initial appropriations have been made.

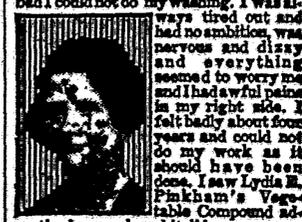

The system is being designed to serve the whole country and will be approximately 80,000 miles in length. Should he make an inspection, traveling at the rate of 80 miles an hour, 8 hours a day on all working days, and not go over any mile twice, it would require nearly two and one-half years to complete the job.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me. I had had a pain in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." — Mrs. Elizabeth Long, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

His Inference. Tobe Smithers and Gabe Gunshum of the Mount Piggy region of the Ozarks were guests of a hotel in the Big Burg lately. Some time after they had retired for the night they were rudely awakened by the fire chief's car raring past with its siren screeching in an unknown tongue.

"What the blue heck was that?" cried Mr. Gunshum.

"I d'know persactly," replied Mr. Smithers, "but I reckon some fellow has stayed out too late and his wife is humping him." — Kansas City Star.

The man who is dissatisfied with his work is never happy.

Shelley's Sense of Humor

He cared little for comedy, at least in his early years. He was too intent upon his deeper grooved over the imagination of life. His sense of humor developed later than his other faculties. A lively sense of fun he did not have, writes Gertrude Magruder in the North American Review. He gales of laughter. He was the best of companions, a master of the art of conversation, the friend of children; and his pleasure in boats was an un-failing enthusiasm, whether he made them of paper and sailed on them in imagination or pulled at the oars on the Thames or the Arno or floated on that fatal sea which nobody else has reproduced in such living form.

CLIENT "SPILLED THE BEANS"

Altogether Too Tired in Answering Question Put to Him by His Own Attorney.

"Were I giving advice to a young lawyer," said an attorney the other day, "I would advise him to be careful about placing his client on the stand. It is at least as well to know what he is likely to answer to his attorney's leading questions. Some time ago," continued the lawyer, "a case was tried in which the plaintiff's attorney certainly 'spilled the beans,' though actually it was a cargo of bread, rolls and cake that was upset. A baker's wagon had been hit by a train in spite of the 'Stop, Look, Listen' sign, and the driver sued. On the stand he was asked how he conducted himself when he came to the crossing, and he replied: 'I just trotted gently across, looking the other way and thinking about nothing in particular.' The attorney threw up the case on the spot, but it was really a lack of foresight on his part," continued the narrator.

PUTTING MOTHER IN WRONG

Small Boy Quick to Observe Point That Might Enable Him to Escape Punishment.

It was cherry time and Richard insisted on running out in the orchard and eating the half-ripe cherries. His mother told him how much better it would be for every one if he only left the cherries until they were ripe, so they could be enjoyed. She also warned him she would punish him if he went to the orchard again.

Soon she saw him pulling off the green cherries and she went out and cut a tiny switch from the tree. Richard saw her coming toward him, switch in hand, and the little lad said to her earnestly:

"Mother, if you had only left that switch on the tree just think what a fine big limb it would have been some day!"—Exchange.

A Presbyterian Next Time.

Little Mary Lou, aged six, had always been an ardent Methodist, but was one day persuaded by a small playmate to visit a Presbyterian Sunday school. She was enthralled by the new surroundings and was especially infatuated with the charming young teacher who so cordially invited her to come again.

"I'd like to," said Mary Lou wistfully, "if I didn't have to go to my own Sunday school. But do you know, if I had my life to live over again, I just believe I'd be a Presbyterian."—Kansas City Star.

John D. Enigma to Neighbors

Richest Man Rarely Seen in Tarrytown and is Guarded From All Questioners.

GIVES CAMERAMEN A CHANGE

Recently He Let Photographers Shoot Him to Heart's Content, but Reporters Still Are Barred—Stories About Dimes.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Is John D. Rockefeller, passing the Indian summer of his life on his vast estate in the Pocatello hills, at last letting down the barriers he has always raised against photographers and reporters?

This is a question which has been interesting the newspaper profession ever since the world's richest man, on a recent Sunday, permitted camera men to snap him to their heart's content after they had consented to follow him into church for service.

Mr. Rockefeller, who bears the reputation of being one of the most camera-shy men in America, may be becoming more lenient in his attitude toward photographers, but as yet he has given no indication of taking reporters into his confidence.

An effort to interview Mr. Rockefeller on the recent occasion of his eighty-fourth birthday anniversary—made, as usual, through a third party representing the household—brought the response "Impossible." As no reporters as yet have succeeded in storming the well-guarded gates of the Rockefeller home, the modern Croesus goes un-interviewed.

Enigma to Fellow Townsmen.

Even to his townsmen the little man, slight of frame, who appears in mid-summer in leather waistcoat, overcoat and muffler, is very much of an enigma.

Tarrytown points out to each visitor the home of John D. Rockefeller, urges the visitor to go up and see where Rockefeller lives, talks constantly about Rockefeller—but rarely sees him itself.

Very seldom do Tarrytowners get inside the gates which guard the big home back in the hills. Once in a while they see John D. come downtown and sit in his machine while a chauffeur goes into a bank or a store—but Tarrytown almost never talks to its richest citizen. He comes and goes—there is excitement while he is downtown, and discussion afterward. And that is all of Tarrytown's claim on its most famous citizen.

Ever since the oil king celebrated his eighth-fourth anniversary Tarrytown has been seething over the question of who is its oldest citizen. There is no question as to the most famous. An ancient who sits in front of the big hardware store just around the corner from the station concedes first place to John D. The ancient admits he is only eighty-three. But an Italian has asserted his grandfather is eighty-eight, and there is a farmer who lays claim to ninety. Still, even in the face of odds Tarrytown stands loyally behind its prominent citizen and announces to the world that its oldest citizen today is none other than the man who made oil famous.

But the town maintains that Mr. Rockefeller is still a youngster in spirit.

"Any man who plays golf as frequently as he does," began one citizen, when he was interrupted with a question as to whether John D.'s private links were regular alike.

"Certainly, but John D. goes around slowly," replied the citizen, but another Tarrytowner broke in with a denial.

"It is not. It is only about four hours of a normal course. And John D. takes three hours to make two of 'em."

Last but not least, in Tarrytown's viewpoint toward its leading citizen is the tradition of the dimes, the day of days for the boys and girls. Sporadically John D. Rockefeller gives 10-cent pieces away to children. How did it start?

Stories About Dimes.

Three stories are current:

Number 1—Three boys, many years ago, walked up the hill, climbed the stone wall, went up to the porch and saw Mr. Rockefeller. They asked him for a dime apiece—and got it. Since then, it is said, the oil magnate has had his yearly party.

Number 2—A boy was standing

Lad, Asleep, Steals Ride on Front of Locomotive

Hammonton, N. J.—When a Pennsylvania railroad bridge train from Atlantic City passed through here at high speed last night the motionless form of a lad was seen on the front of the engine. When the train stopped at Broad street station, Philadelphia, railroad officials found the body of a boy seven-teen years old lying inert on the fore part of the locomotive.

He was alive, but asleep, and had made the ride, almost 70 miles, in this dangerous position, sometimes rushing through the darkness at 70 miles an hour. The passenger was Frederick Herbert of Shawnee, Okla., homeward bound without the formality of paying regular rates. The Philadelphia police took the nerry lad in tow.

downtown when the Rockefeller machine, drove up. A package dropped out. The boy picked it up and handed it to Mr. Rockefeller personally. The boy got a dime and John D. Rockefeller got an inspiration which he has followed ever since.

Number 3—A lad was lost. He wandered onto the Rockefeller mystery links. The oil king saw him. He took him into the house, gave him a dime and sent him home. And the 10-cent party sprang from that.

Whatever the cause, "dime day" has become to the youth of Tarrytown a day apart, ranking with Christmas and the Fourth of July.

UNITED STATES GETS STOLEN CARS

2,120 Automobiles Recovered by Uncle Sam's Theft Squad.

Burns Men Get Conviction of 1,113 Under Dyer Automobile Law—American Automobile Association Helps Federal Officers.

Washington.—Since the passage of the Dyer anti-theft automobile law in October, 1910, the bureau of investigation, Department of Justice, has recovered 2,120 automobiles, worth at a fair second-hand valuation $2,507,203, according to figures compiled for the American Automobile association.

The department has investigated 2,301 cases, which involved 4,395 persons. There were 2,773 persons arrested, of whom 1,533 were indicted and 1,113 convicted. These convicted persons received sentences amounting in the aggregate to 2,350 years 6 months 11 days, and paid fines of $41,140.

The American Automobile association took an active part in supporting the Dyer anti-theft bill, which was prepared by Representative L. C. Dyer of Missouri, who is an active member of the Automobile Club of Missouri, and who was assisted in obtaining facts necessary for the preparation of this measure by the Automobile Club of Missouri and the A. A. A. Credit for the enforcement of the law is due largely to William J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation.

The outstanding feature of the Dyer law is that it places interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicles under federal law and makes such an action punishable in federal courts. Formerly hands of unscrupulous men had maintained assembling factories at various points and were able to alter a stolen car as to make it practically unrecognizable to the original owner.

Officials of the A. A. A. are working with federal officials and heads of other organizations to induce motor car manufacturers to mark permanently all automobiles so as to make identification more easy.

NEW U. S. CURB ON NARCOTICS

"Dope Fiends" Path Is Made Much Harder by Safeguards on Blanks.

Washington, D. C.—Stringent regulations to prevent "dope users" from obtaining narcotics on stolen blanks have been issued by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair. All agents and other persons registered under the Harrison narcotic law were instructed to report immediately the numbers of any stolen or lost order forms. The new orders, it was explained, were issued as another means of closing the door to the illegal use of narcotics,

STRIKE COST IS VERY HEAVY

Loss to Labor in 1921, Due to Disputes, Was $132,000,000.

Survey Indicates 10,000,000 Man Hours Lost Daily in Disturbance—Building Trades Lead, With Printers Second.

New York.—The loss of time due to strikes in the present year will undoubtedly exceed that of last year, according to figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board, 10 East Thirty-ninth street. The board estimates that at present 1,200,000 workers are idle because of strikes in various industries, entailing a direct loss of approximately 10,000,000 man hours of work each day.

was $,780; in 1917, 4,450; in 1918, 8,353; in 1919, 8,577; and in 1920, 8,254. The number of persons involved in 1,587 of the strikes and 95 of the lockouts reported in 1921 was 1,096,658.

The total duration of 1,409 of the strikes and 70 of the lockouts last year was 60,105 days. The average duration of the strikes in 1921 was 60 days. Estimating the average wage of the workers in these strikes and lockouts at $2 a day, the total loss of wages alone due to this number of labor disputes in 1921 would be about $132,000,000.

Two and a half times as many strikes occurred in the first half of the years as in the last half, says the report, the largest being that of the marine workers in May, involving about 140,000 strikers and embracing all the principal ports of the United States.

leading the country with 350, Pennsylvania second with 208 and Massachusetts third with 108. As usual, the board states, New York city led among cities with 180 strikes and lockouts, followed by Chicago with 86, Philadelphia with 49 and Boston with 43.

"Considered by industry groups, the building trades in 1921 led all others with 588 strikes and lockouts," the report says. "Printing and publishing came second with 473 such disturbances, the clothing industry was third with 202, and the metal trades were fourth with 153. In 1920 also the building trades led with a total of 511 strikes and lockouts, while in 1919, 1918, 1917 and 1916 that doubtful distinction belonged to the metal trades, with totals of 581, 411, 515 and 547, respectively.

"In the last three years an increasingly large proportion of strikes and lockouts have been settled in favor of the employees, while in the preceding three years, when the war was still in

To Go to Higher Court.

Denver.—Petitions for an injunction against the Moffat tunnel commission will be heard in the District Court of Golden, Aug. 23, and will be carried immediately to the Supreme Court by the loser in the case. The case was set by Judge Samuel W. Johnson recently when he granted the petitioners a continuance of three weeks. Norton Montgomery, the tunnel commission's attorney, said that the case can be carried to the Supreme Court and given immediate hearing if completed by Sept. 1.

John R. Smith, attorney, seeks an injunction on his own behalf and of the Wolfe Brothers' Land Company.

Attorney Montgomery urged upon the court the necessity of quick settlement of the case, in order that the work of tunnel construction may start at the earliest possible moment. Based upon the proposed rental of the tunnel for $500,000 a year, delay is costing $2,000 a day, he said.

"Let's see you shoot this hat off my head," said the woman, pinning the captain's cap on her head, according to the story. The captain pulled the trigger and the woman fell with a bullet in her brain. The officer was arrested, according to informants.

At the same time, he announced that he would file contempt proceedings against four strikers who were arrested on charges of threatening employees.
