OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 22

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, NOV. 24, 1922

NUMBER 47

Governor Issues Thank-giving Proclamation

We are again approaching the day established for the observance of our great national holiday, Thanksgiving Day, and in looking back over the year now drawing to a close we find, as a state and as a nation, we have abundant reasons for gratitude.

During the past year the nation was in the grip of a labor war and New Mexico came out without bloodshed and without any material interruption in business. While our livestock growers temporarily faced destruction on account of the lack of moisture, they were made able to secure financial aid and have weathered the storm.

The nation at large, while struggling under the oppressive burden of the recent war, is recovering steadily; there is plenty of labor and good wages and plenty of food. Our crops are bringing good prices, our coal mines are working at full capacity, and indications point to increased prosperity and continued peace.

Now, therefore, I, Merritt C. Mechem, Governor of the State of New Mexico, do hereby proclaim Thursday, Nov. 30, a legal holiday in the state of New Mexico.

I respectfully recommend that the people of the state assemble in their various places of worship or in their homes, and return thanks to Almighty God for the blessings we enjoy; that we recognize the conduct, supplies, assistance and individuals that we may continue to merit providential guidance and aid during the new year now at hand.

Done at the executive office this 18th day of Nov., 1922.

Witness my hand and the great seal of the state of New Mexico.

MERRITT C. MECHEM,
Governor.
Manuel Martinez, Sec. of State.

Second Week of Court

Since our last issue the first case on the criminal docket to come before the court was that of Marcelino Carabajal, charged with an assault with intent to kill. A jury was secured and the case went to trial Saturday. At the conclusion of the testimony and the arguments, the court delivered the charge to the jury and the jury retired for deliberation. It developed during the evening that the jury was hopelessly divided and it was thereupon discharged.

Monday of this week the court took up the Davis murder trial. This case, with which many of our readers are familiar, is one wherein Dr. R. R. Davis is the defendant, charged with the murder of Dr. J. T. Stone, the homicide having taken place at Corona one year ago. Attorneys A. B. Reuchan, Santa Fe, and W. C. Merchant, Alamogordo, appeared for the defense and District Attorney Newell and Col. G. W. Prichard represent the state.

The regular panel was soon exhausted, by reason of fixed opinions from a knowledge of the case, or disqualified because of being opposed to capital punishment, and a special venire was drawn. A second venire was drawn before twelve men were accepted, and the following constitute the jury that is now sitting on the case:

Manuel Griego, White Oaks; Gregorio Herrera, Capitan; Jacobo Sanchez, Hondo; C. F. Vigil, Carrizozo; Domingo Montoya, Carrizozo; Juan Zamora, Capitan; Manuel Rico, Carrizozo; Jose Duran, Ruidoso; Francisco Chavez, Hondo; Juan Padilla, Capitan; Genibebo Griego, Lincoln; Perfecto Sandoval, Piezack.

The taking of testimony began Wednesday morning. The two eye witnesses to the killing—Alse and J. L. Jones—concluded their testimony at the Wednesday night's session. Dr. F. H. Johnson, who made the autopsy, was the next principal witness, and his testimony with that of several others concluded the main introduction of evidence by the prosecution.

The defense began the submission of testimony by placing the defendant on the stand, and he was under examination when recess was taken last night. A number of witnesses are yet to be called, and the case will not likely reach the jury before tomorrow afternoon.

The Next Entertainment

The Carrizozo Entertainers will give their next entertainment Thursday, December 21, 1922, and on February 1, 1923, another, and what they expect to be the last entertainment will be given. All indebtedness excepting the rental due George Dwyer for the theatre in 1920 and 1921 is now paid. They agree that with the proceeds of the entertainment at Corona and the proceeds of the entertainment to be given in December, they can pay this account. This will leave them owing only for the rental of the Theatre for the present series, which amount is due W. T. Sterling. If the last entertainment is liberally patronized it will pay in full for the rental. Everyone is solicited to buy a ticket for these last entertainments which will clear up all indebtedness of the Redpath Lyceum Committee. An entirely new program will be readied at the next two entertainments.

Over 10,000 Majority

It has been difficult to secure definite election results in all the counties in New Mexico on any candidate, and still more difficult on all candidates. It will require the official count by the Secretary of State to determine the majorities, all of which, on national and state tickets are Democratic. Nevertheless we have been able to obtain the approximate majorities, and they run from 5,000 for Justino Baca, for Commissioner of Public Lands, to 13,000 for A. A. Jones, for United States Senator. The majorities, by counties, for Governor, which is likely to be increased by the official count, are given as follows:

ROAD BUILDING

CLEAN MATERIALS FOR ROAD

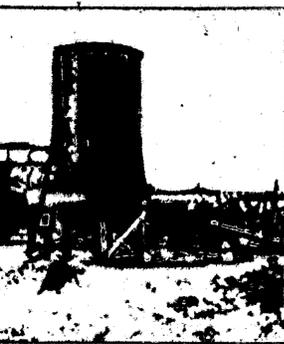

Wilder Gets Perfect Concrete Aggregate Along Route of Job by Ingenious Method.

Elimination of the long haul with the assurance at the same time that sand and gravel used in concrete road construction would be thoroughly clean and free from organic impurities...

The contractor determined to utilize this natural deposit rather than incur the expense and loss of time incident to purchase or preparation of the aggregates in town and consequent long haul to the mixer...

Accordingly he obtained a six-inch centrifugal pump and about 800 feet of six-inch iron pipe. A small sump or pit was excavated in the bed of the stream and the intake of the centrifugal pump was laid in this pit...

The supply of sand and stone in the sump was continuously renewed by means of horse-drawn silt scrapers. A screen composed of flat bars was placed across the top of the sump to eliminate intake of oversize stones which could not be handled by the pump...

course, fell through this screen while the larger pebbles rolled on over it and thence into a bin for pebbles.

Below the first screen was a sand settling box. The water and sand fell into this box and the sand being heaviest, immediately settled to the bottom while the water carrying the dirt and silt escaped through a waste-way in the top of the box...

The force of the water, sand and stone passing through the pipe line was sufficient to scour every particle absolutely free from dirt and impurity of every kind. The pump was driven by a 60-horsepower traction engine.

ROAD-MAINTENANCE TRUCK

Implement Carries Concrete Mixer and Combination Bin for Cement, Sand and Gravel.

A highway-maintenance truck, described in the Popular Mechanics Magazine, has been put into operation in California, which would seem to be the last word in complete equipment. It carries a concrete mixer and combination material bin for cement, sand and gravel. Also an air compressor and air tank which can be used for driving a rock drill for road work...

There is also a centrifugal pump which can be used for filling the water tank or for pumping out cisterns or cisterns. The truck engine furnishes all necessary power for driving the auxiliary equipment at various speeds through a special transmission. Flanged wheels may be substituted if so desired.

FOOD THAT'S DIFFERENT

Just ordinary food served in an extraordinary way is what epicureans call 'fancy cookery'; an art in which the French chef excels. It takes imagination to serve an egg so dainty, so tasty, so attractive, that it is artistic. Such a dish is Planked Ham With Eggs.

Planked Ham With Eggs.—A slice of ham minced and moistened with cream sauce is spread on a fireproof platter with depressions for each egg which is to be placed on it. Drop an egg in each small nest, season, place the dish in a hot oven to set the eggs. Serve corned beef hash in the same manner and garnish with parsley. A plank may be used, but must be very hot when the meat is placed upon it.

Salad Anna.—Cut half-inch slices lengthwise of head lettuce. On these sections lay alternately segments of orange, grapefruit and tangerines from which all tough skin and membrane has been removed. Serve with French dressing beaten smooth with a spoonful or two of catsup.

Celery With Cheese Sauce.—Cook celery cut in small pieces until tender. Butter a baking dish or individual baking dishes, put in a spoonful of celery, some seasoning, then a spoonful of rich white sauce; cover with grated cheese, finish with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven until thoroughly heated through.

French pastry owes its charm to its frivolous appearance, shape, color and decoration. The same ingredients used in the ordinary way would not appeal. We have (the most of us), not passed, from the gingerbread-man stage; we like the taste of food that appeals to the eye, imagination and color sense. The allurements of attractive food draws us to out-of-the-way places, and the most popular places where food is served are those which cater to the magic influence of well-prepared and well-garnished food.

Stafford Sausages.—Put six ounces of lean beef through the meat chopper, add one small onion, two branches of parsley. Add one cupful of cold corn mush, one teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of cayenne, one-half teaspoonful of poultry dressing; mix well to blend. Mold into sausages and fry until a golden brown in hot fat.

Oh, wisdom of the gods that made us! When the dog-cart of life at which we tug merrily, we still can slip the collar.—Clyde Davis.

MORE GOOD THINGS

When serving boiled fish, cook it in a steamer or dropped in water tied in a cheese cloth. Remove, drain, bone and skin the fish, divide into fillets and serve with...

Fingares.—Take the juice of half a lemon, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of finely-minced onion, two tablespoonfuls of minced parsley, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, half a clove of garlic, the yolk of an egg and three tablespoonfuls of water. Put the butter, lemon juice and seasoning into a saucepan and bring to a boil, add the yolk of the egg and water but do not boil; stir until well blended and thick and remove from the heat. Serve at once.

Braised Swc threads.—Wash the sweetbreads using one-half pound, cover with cold water and add the juice of half a lemon. Let stand for two hours, then simmer in hot water for twenty minutes, cool and press under a weight to flatten. Remove the tubes and cut in slices. Place two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add the sweetbreads and one tablespoonful of chopped onion, one cupful of mushrooms, and when well-heated arrange on squares of buttered toast and cover with...

Supreme Sauce.—Take one cupful of cream sauce, the juice of one lemon, one well-beaten egg, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, one teaspoonful of onion juice, pinch of powdered cloves, the same of nutmeg. Heat until very hot and pour over the sweetbreads and toast. Garnish with finely-minced parsley and sliced hard-cooked egg.

Pumpkin Pudding.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of well-cooked pumpkin, add one cupful of milk, the yolk of two eggs, a third of a cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of melted butter, a teaspoonful of ginger, a few drops of lemon extract and a little salt. Mix well, pour into custard cups and bake for an hour in a slow oven. Set the cups in a pan of hot water. Garnish with whipped cream and grated cheese. This pudding is better for children than the old-fashioned pumpkin pie.

Tanlac Put Him Back on Job, Says Davis

"I've never been much of a hand at praising medicines, but I can certainly say something good for Tanlac," said Geo. Davis, 110 Naglee St., San Francisco, Calif.

"I had a bad case of ptomaine poisoning and it came pretty near laying me out altogether. For three months I was in an awful condition and suffering constantly from diarrhea. I became weak all over and was going from bad to worse. I tried everything I knew of, but it was beginning to look like nothing would ever reach my case. Then, a friend of mine recommended Tanlac to me. And it's a fact, four bottles have made a clean sweep of my troubles and built me up to where I feel like a new man. I am working every day now and when it comes to recommending Tanlac I can't put it too strongly."

Pekinese Dog Was Due for Rude Awakening if He Went Too Far With That Cat.

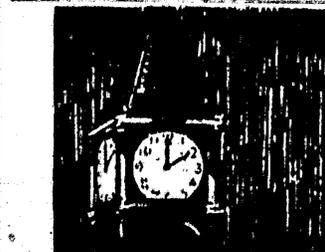

As a present to their first baby Maj. Henry Vaughn and Mrs. Vaughn, who moved to New York from Spar-tanburg, S. C., were given a fancy-bred Pekinese dog. They moved out to the country for the summer, and sent for Sallie, the old negro cook, to come up and look after the baby and Ming Toy, the dog.

Ming Toy had never seen a cat before. So, when a big tomcat came to the back porch Ming Toy, in the strongest bark he knew, promptly bayed the cat, showing great bravery for such a foolish-looking dog. Sallie looked out the back door.

"Ming Toy," she advised, "lemme tell you sump'n. You'd better quit yore proferkin' wid dat tomcat. Fust thing you know, 'at cat's gwine to get mad and 'at ain't gwine to be no place for no dog talk you. Ef'n 'at dfo cat gits started he's gwine turn you over way—but loose!"—Saturday Evening Post.

"JUST JOFFRE"—THAT'S ALL

Evidently Great French Soldier is Also Gifted With a Certain Sense of Humor.

Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, arriving in Paris, found the passenger elevator at the Quai d'Orsay station out of order and cheerfully adopted the suggestion of the station master that he might use the freight elevator. Just as the elevator boy was slamming the gates shut, there came rushing toward the lift a thick-set, elderly man, breathing heavily. He made as if to enter the elevator, but the attendants waved him off.

"I am just as heavy and as old as your 'Jone passenger,'" the man declared, "why should you refuse to take me up?" "Because this is Lord Curzon," responded the railroad man impressively.

"Oh, well, that's all right," replied the stranger, making for the stairs, "I'm only Joffre."

Particular Protection Necessary for Books Intended for Circulation in the Gilbert Islands. Not only must Bibles be attractively bound and well printed, but some of them must be perfumed, peppered and poisoned as well. Bibles going to the Gilbert Islands contain in the binding glue and the paste which fasten the cover a mixture of all of cloves, cayenne pepper and corrosive sublimate. This is to ward off a certain worm, peculiar to these islands, which destroys the bindings of books. Twelve hundred such Bibles have been sent recently by the United States Bible society on their 15,000-mile journey to Ocean Island by way of Sydney, Australia. Rev. D. Hiram Bingham, the famous missionary translator, gave his life to the preparation of the Bible in the Gilbertese language.

A Deserved Victory

The following from the Republican Boston Transcript, on the recent Democratic victory which it seems to approve, shows quite plainly that Republican disaffection had much to do with the Democratic triumph of the 7th. Editorially it says:

"The best part about the wiggling which the people have given at the polls in many parts of the country to the party in power is that the wiggling was well deserved. . . . The party in power has neglected its opportunity, paltered in the face of grave and pressing problems, played fast and loose with the veterans of the Great War, goose-stepped before organized bands of noisy minorities, honeyfugled the pacifists, enacted a tariff bill that, as we have repeatedly said, is a disgrace to the Republican party and a menace to the Nation, insulted the intelligence and inflamed the passion of the electorate in many parts of the country by appointments to office that are indefensible on any score—for example, E. Mont Reilly as governor of Porto Rico and a whole tribe of political swindlers south of the Mason-Dixon line.

"Instead of leadership in the lower house of Congress the Republicans have set up an oligarchy consisting of Mondell of Wyoming, Madden of Illinois, Kelley of Michigan, and Anthony of Kansas—the worst of the lot. Instead of resisting the impudent and insolent manner in which this oligarchy has invaded the constitutional premises of the Executive, the Executive has in too many instances, salaried before the invaders. In the place of 'one man government' at the executive end of the Avenue, the party in power has given the country a taste of misgovernment at both ends by a congressional oligarchy unfit to administer as it was to legislate."

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

THE CAMPDEN SECRET

ABOUT the middle of the Seventeenth century all England was greatly excited over what was popularly referred to as the "Campden Secret," the mystery of the disappearance of William Harrison, who was supposed to have been robbed and then murdered. A mother and her two sons were arrested, tried, convicted and executed—and then, two years later, Harrison returned and told a most remarkable story of kidnaping and adventure, filled with such impossible and conflicting statements that it has generally come to be believed that he was never very far from his own home from the time of his disappearance until his return!

But why did he remain away, and why did the persons accused of his murder give such misleading accounts of their actions that a jury convicted them of murder practically without hesitation?

The evidence brought out at the trial showed that Harrison left his house in the afternoon and walked, or was supposed to have walked, two miles to Charringworth to collect some rents. When, as evening came on and Harrison had not returned, his servant—a man named John Perry—was sent in search of him. Neither Harrison nor Perry put in an appearance that night and, in the morning, one of the sons of the missing man joined in the search, meeting Perry on his way home.

The servant maintained that he had been able to find no trace of his master, but when young Harrison joined in the search he located a bloodstained hat which was supposed to have belonged to William Harrison. Soon the entire countryside was engaged in an attempt to solve the mystery and the strange actions of Perry led to his being suspected of the crime, the alleged motive being the securing of the money which Harrison had upon him at the time. Under pressure, Perry stated that his mother and brother had frequently asked him when Harrison went to collect his rents, and added that it was his (Perry's) belief that the missing man had been murdered by Mother Perry and her son.

On the strength of this all three of the Perrys were arrested, tried and sentenced to death. Juan Perry was the first to be hanged, protesting her innocence. Richard Perry followed his mother to the gallows, and finally John Perry, Harrison's servant, later retracted his previous statement and declared that he knew nothing whatever of the crime or any possible motive.

Nearly two years after the three had been hanged for his murder, William Harrison returned to his home, apparently unconcerned, and telling a tale of having been waylaid by highwaymen, kidnaped and spirited away to the continent. For several days he stated, his captors had kept him hidden and had then put him on board a ship, though he never vouchsafed any explanation as to the motive for the outrage, for he had comparatively little money in his possession, and one of the details of his story has to do with the way in which his abductors kept him supplied with money.

Finally, he declared, he was sold to a physician at Smyrna, but he was able to give no definite description of the city nor was he able to explain how, penniless and unfamiliar with the language spoken on the continent, he was able to find his way back home.

The only apparent explanation of the entire affair is that, for some reason, Harrison's presence at Campden was inconvenient to some one then in authority. He had lived through troublous times, and had come into a changed state of affairs with new masters. He was familiar with a number of secrets, and therefore might have been better out of the way for the time being. But the precise nature of these secrets and why three innocent persons were permitted to go to the gallows for a crime which had not been committed has never been disclosed.

Well Protected.

Daniel Garber, the noted Philadelphia painter, who lately received a $2,000 award from the Corcoran gallery, has a caustic wit.

In New England last summer Mr. Garber was shown over a rich man's very expensive and ugly country estate. The rich man in the end led the painter proudly to a garden filled with execrable statuary.

"What waste," said Mr. Garber. "Waste?" said his guide. "It isn't waste. I can afford it."

"It seems like waste to me."

"How so?"

"Well," said Mr. Garber, "there are no less than a dozen scarecrows in this little garden, whereas any one of them alone would keep off the crows from a ten-acre lot."

Much More to Learn.

"You seem to have confidence in your brocken."

"When a man tells me here all he going up and here all down up, why shouldn't I have confidence in him?"

"How long have you known the fellow?"

An Inevitable Change

There are political commentators, chiefly in camps that mourn defeat, who shake their heads over the election as indicating in the American people many minds too flippant for stability, if not too radical for the safety of established institutions.

Such a reading of the shift from Harding's victory by a plurality of 7,000,000 only two years ago to the somewhat mottled but decisive Democratic triumph of November 7, ignores the deepest source of human activity, that healthy desire of change which is the key to progress, says the New York World, in an editorial review of the recent political revolution in this country.

Continuing it says: If social relations and political processes could be standardized like a machine, and if that machine functioned to the general satisfaction, there would be no need of campaign excitement. All that would be needed would be to replace worn parts occasionally from the old blue prints and the wheels would whirl on without a jar. That is not the way things happen. And such standardization—possible, so far as experience goes, only under tyranny—would not only rob life of interest; it would rob life, for all but the ruling few, of hope.

If, promising normalcy in the campaign of 1920, the Republican party had meant the normalcy of 1921, with the changes naturally flowing out of a new year's new conditions, its victory might not have brought such disappointment. It did in fact envisage and intend the normalcy of 1913; an impossible return to conditions not only eight years antedated but utterly destroyed by the shatter and sorrow of the greatest war.

Upon the unlovely face of that attempted normalcy the people looked with justified loathing and would have no more of it. They were not children, to be frightened by the mumblings and ghostly raiment of high tariff witch-finders. They were not insensate to forget the need of brightening the lives of working men and women as far and as fast as possible. They were not so blind as not to see the financial and industrial consequences of the war in Europe, so stupid as to ignore the danger that such conditions will react upon the United States, or so callous as to watch unmoved massacre and outrage in the Near East and the sapping of strength and hope over vast areas of the Old World by starvation. Less unwise and less inhumane than machine politicians of the old school thought them, they have rebelled against a policy of inaction and of reaction in a way that will be remembered.

So far as the meaning of the election can be expressed in few words, it is: "Get on with the job of developing Our America, socially and politically, in consonance with its splendid beginnings, its constant striving for advantage, its duty and opportunity in the world!" It is a spirit which would have in legislators and executives nothing timid, nothing hesitant, nothing reactionary, and which believes in the possibility of idealism in public decisions.

It has been thus far the destiny of the Republic not only to advance along its own path of progress but to help light the way for the world. It is in no mood to abandon forever the role it played for more than a century as a hope and an inspiration in other lands. It has and reasserts its faith in moral leadership. If that is radicalism, then radicalism is a word of power and virtue that should not be relinquished to the lunatic fringe of the Left Wing. If those who hold this faith are called visionary, let them retort that the only visionaries in the world of politics are too good and who vainly imagine that with their puny arms they can beat back the irresistible tides of change.

Educational News

(By Mrs. M. L. Blaney)

Friday, Nov. 24, closes the third month of the school term. The school rooms that have been unable to secure the attendance can begin their record for the month of December, next Monday, Nov. 27. I visited the White Oaks school and found the pupils doing good work under the direction of A. T. Pfingsten and Kathryn Spence. The White Oaks community makes life as pleasant as possible for the teachers in their midst.

Teachers attending the New Mexico Educational Association which convenes at Albuquerque, Nov. 27, will be allowed the time without any reduction in salary. Teachers remaining at home will teach every day but Thanksgiving Day. A large attendance of teachers at this meeting is desired because of important measures regarding teachers' certificates, salary of rural teachers, etc., will be discussed at the council meeting and presented to the General Assembly in the form of resolutions for adoption or rejection. It is your interest to be there or abide by the decision. Excellent programs have been arranged.

The Parsons school was visited Monday. This is a small school but is composed of healthy girls and boys who promise to make their school the best in county.

The Christmas vacations must be made up. I would advise that schools be closed not more than from Dec. 23 to Jan. 2. Please notify me of your plans, as I intend visiting all schools before January and would not like to make a trip and find the schools closed.

An excellent program has been arranged for Nov. 24 at the Capitán school.

School directors are asked to send all legal accounts against their districts to this office by December 20, in order that bills may be paid, and report of conditions made by Dec. 31, by order of a decision of the court. Bills must be followed as passed

Striking New Red Cross Poster

Chartered by Congress
To Relieve and Prevent Suffering
In Peace and In War
At Home & Abroad

Riveting the attention of the beholder on the fact that the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress as an official volunteer relief organization the dome of the Capitol at Washington, upon which is superimposed a large Red Cross, is the central figure of a new poster for the Annual Red Cross Roll Call. The poster, which has been pronounced one of the most striking of innumerable representations of the famous dome, is the work of Franklin Booth, a New York artist of wide renown. It will be displayed throughout the country during the Roll Call period, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, when the Red Cross membership for 1923 will be enrolled.

Junior Red Cross Praised for Work Influencing Peace

The advancing standard of the Junior American Red Cross made two outstanding gains during the last year—one in the field of domestic activity, which is rapidly linking up the schools with the Junior program, the other a gain of a dozen countries in Europe pledged to organize Juniors on the lines of the American organization. For this accomplishment the American Juniors earned the hearty endorsement of the League of Red Cross Societies for its "creation of an international spirit of human solidarity among young people with a view to preparation of a new civilization for peace."

The forthcoming annual report of the American Red Cross for the year ended June 30, 1922, will show 24,528 schools enrolled, with a total of 4,453,845 pupils wearing the "I Serve" button of the American Junior Red Cross—the badge of unselfish service earned by each individual member through personal sacrifice.

In international school correspondence 730 classes and schools engaged in friendly communication with 623 schools in European countries, 90 schools in United States territories, 13 in South Africa and 10 in a miscellaneous list of foreign countries. The work in foreign fields in establishing playgrounds, school libraries, sewing and manual training classes, homes for war orphans, school reconstruction in devastated areas, encouraging community gardens and many other activities was financed through the National Children's Fund raised by the Juniors at a cost of $338,237.40. During the year $50,922.70 was contributed toward the fund, in which on July 1 there was a balance of $201,361.53.

Carrizozo School Notes

(By Sept. E. R. Cole)
The state convention of the N. M. Teachers meets next week at Albuquerque. A good program is prepared and some very inspiring educational speakers will be present. Attendance at this meeting is a privilege and over 100 teachers will avail themselves of the opportunity, if attendance is as good as in previous years.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday of next week, the custom of former years. The various rooms are preparing programs to be given at 3:30 Wednesday. Everybody invited.

The sixth grade, Mrs. Vaughn's room, is reading the Hoosier Schoolmaster, one of the finest books for young people ever published. The example of Ralph is most inspiring, to teachers and to pupils. "While you're gittin' git a plenty," may well apply to a pupil trying to get an education. Another good maxim is, "When 'Bull' takes a fight heaven and earth can't make him let go." Mrs. Vaughn lets the best readers of the room read to the rest of the pupils. The sixth grade has an especially good program in preparation.

Listen to this! In the fifth grade, last week, not a single pupil failed to spell every word of the spelling lessons of the week. One hundred per cent in spelling for every pupil. The same grade sold a lot of lead pencils and with the proceeds have ordered a football to be used by that grade only.

Elizabeth Such presented the room a Clamp pencil sharpener, which is doing splendid work. "Thanks, Elizabeth," says the room. The fifth grade is now in the midst of a "Better English Contest," in which much improvement has been made.

The seventh grade, Mrs. Mim's room, will present a Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon which will be in the nature of a history lesson. Every phase of life among the settlers of Plymouth will be discussed and many interesting historical events will be brought out. After this a program of Thanksgiving songs and recitations will be given.

The students in this room have it prettily decorated with their handiwork, consisting of a turkey-and-wheat sheaf border for the blackboard, and for a Thanksgiving border.

Week after next is "Education Week." This year the U. S. Bureau of Education is co-operating with the American Legion and the National Educational Association in inviting every American organization, club, school, church, newspaper, magazine, theater and individual to participate in making the week a real nation-wide revival of educational subjects, given in the Carrizozo schools by local people.

8,000 HIKING CLUBS IN GREATER NEW YORK

today there are no less than 8,000 hiking clubs in Greater New York, with a total membership of more than a quarter of a million men and women, who are keeping themselves in the pink of condition and experiencing the real joy of living by getting regularly out into the open country with no other means of locomotion than their God-given legs.

The city of New York has taken official notice of the movement. On three occasions recently Mayor Hylan has congratulated the boys and girls of the public schools upon their enthusiasm in taking up the new sport of hiking. In his dedication of the great new public playground in the Bronx the other day Mayor Hylan extolled the athletic tendencies of the boys and girls and impressed upon them that there was no better or more profitable way in which they could pass their vacations and utilize their holidays than by the excursions into field and forest of their walking clubs. He gave the same message to the Amateur Athletic Union of Brooklyn a few days later, and when a club of West Side boys and girls

We have secured this material at considerable expense from a leading authority on handicraft for children, and are sure that there is nothing better to start Christmas planning than the suggestions for home needlework, etc., shown in this department, which you will find on another page of this issue.

William A. Denny, former employe of the Rio Grande Oil Company at Globe, Ariz., was arrested in Long Beach on telegraphic instructions from Globe. A complaint has been filed against him at Globe charging embezzlement of $1,235.45 of company funds.

Mrs. E. D. Nelson is believed to be dying at a road camp near Las Vegas as a result of a bullet wound, self-inflicted, officers said, after she made an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate her husband by firing a shot into a tent where he and several other men were spending the night. The bullet went wild.

There are three known dead in the fire which destroyed a large warehouse on the Chabon estate at Socorro. Mrs. Jose Crespin, wife of Jose Crespin, who perished together with his son, Cornelio, is in a hospital here critically ill. She had been ill, but the news of the death of her husband and son has caused a relapse and doctors fear she will not live.

At Tucson the experiment station has just published a "Timely Hint on Early Barst Wheat." This will be sent to all wheat growers in Arizona who are interested. This circular gives a short history of the introduction and distribution of Early Barst wheat in Arizona by the experiment station and of its displacing the common Sonora wheat. Early Barst wheat is the most valuable grain crop grown in Arizona now.

Contrary to the opinion that most of the cattle in the southern part of New Mexico has been shipped out, it is said that there are still many for sale, most of them being in prime condition. Many announcements of cattle shipments from the southern counties have been made but the fact is that only a little over 11,000 head have been shipped to other pastures, and this is only a small part of the total which are on the ranges.

Word has been received in Wagon Mound, N. M., to the effect that the Santa Fe railroad will erect large stockyards at Levy during the coming year for the benefit of the local cattle and sheep men. The matter has been approved by the Corporation Commission and an appropriation will be made by the Santa Fe for this purpose during the winter. It is thought that the yards will be ready for the spring shipping.

Judge R. S. Stanford of the Superior Court at Phoenix has set Dec. 11 as the date for the trial of C. N. Stafford, president, and E. Stafford, vice president, of the old Central Bank of Phoenix, indicted by a Maricopa county grand jury recently on charges growing out of the failure of the institution. Judge Stanford set Dec. 8 as the date for the trial of Phil Lewis, former president of the same bank, also indicted in connection with the same series of transactions.

The auto dealers and merchants of Las Vegas are planning for the big auto and style show the last of March, 1923, the dates having been set for the 20th, 30th and 31st. The big show will be held at the armory and all the latest models in automobiles will be shown at this time. Good music will be provided for the three days and a big dance will be given each night. This is now an annual affair in the city and is said to be one of the best displays of its kind in the state.

According to the reports of the Cotton Growers' Association, most of the cotton grown in the Pecos valley in New Mexico this year will run over $100 to the acre. A large part of the crop has been picked and stacked in the fields and the price has been gradually going up for some time until now the growers are getting the top notch figure for the product. The big gin which was partly destroyed by fire some time ago is running again and there is every indication that the season will be a busy one. The gin at Hagenman is running full time and is turning out about twenty bales per day.

Three of the big mining companies in Arizona have refused to pay the taxes levied against them on the ground that the taxes were based on valuations in excess of the full cash value. These companies are the United Verde Extension and the United Verde, both at Jerome, and the United Eastern of Mohave county. The Arizona state tax collector has taken action to pay the taxes but the companies are protesting.

IN MARION, ILL., great difficulty is being experienced in getting a jury to try the first batch of five defendants in the Harris Mine massacre case. The officers are persistently dodging jury service. Judge Harrison took under advisement a motion by the defense that the indictments be quashed.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Democrats Score Great Victory and Almost Capture Control of Congress.

EIGHT G. O. P. SENATORS OUT

Al Smith's Success in New York Starts His Beam for Presidential Nomination—Turkish Nationalists Goading the Allied Nations to Draconic Action.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

AL SMITH, former governor of New York, has been elected to that office again by a huge plurality and already is being boomed for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924. Regardless of party affiliations, do you think he would make a good nominee, and a good President if elected?

REPUBLICAN control of congress was almost swept away in the Democratic landslide at the election on November 7. According to the returns at this writing, the G. O. P. in the next congress will have 53 senators, compared with 90 now, and the Democrats will have 42 compared with 96 now. Doctor Shipstead, who defeated Senator Kellogg in Minnesota, represents the Farmer-Labor party.

The lower house of the Sixty-eighth congress will be composed of 225 Republicans, 207 Democrats, one Socialist, one Independent and one Farmer-Labor member. If these figures are not changed by the revised returns, the Republicans will have a majority over all of 15.

Nine senate seats were lost by the Republicans, by the defeat of Senators DuPont in Delaware, France in Maryland, Townsend in Michigan, Kellogg in Minnesota, Frelinghuysen in New Jersey, Calder in New York, Poindexter in Washington, and Sutherland in West Virginia, and of Albert J. Beveridge in Indiana. The Democrats lost two seats through the downfall of Senators Hitchcock in Nebraska and Pomerene in Ohio.

Among the outstanding results of the election was the great victory of Al Smith in New York. He defeated Miller for the governorship, which he once before held, by a plurality of more than 300,000. This makes him a logical possibility for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924, and already his enthusiastic admirers are bowing him for that honor. One possible rival, Senator Pomerene, is removed by his defeat for re-election by New York, but it is likely Cox will want to try again. Another man who may be put forward by the Democrats is S. M. Ralston of Indiana, who defeated Beveridge for the senate and who is very popular among the Hoosiers.

Necessarily the election has its effects, also, on the Republican presidential probabilities. Some politicians in Washington think President Harding will not seek another nomination because the great reverses sustained by his party are interpreted as the expression of dissatisfaction with his administration. However, if he should wish to lead the ticket again, two likely contenders for the place are now out of it—Beveridge of Indiana and Miller of New York. But there are other strong Republican possibilities. Senator Hiram Johnson of California was returned with a big plurality; Clifford Pinchot won the governorship of Pennsylvania by 205,000 plurality; and Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania easily won re-election. Any one of these may be put forward for the presidential nomination, and so, too, might Governor Allen of Kansas. There is some talk even of Senator McCarrack of Illinois as the choice of his party in Indiana, might get ambitious and offer himself. His followers, as well as those of Senator New, are accused of having killed Beveridge at the polls, and the charge seems to be true, as Republican congressmen were elected in nine of the thirteen Indiana districts.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts just managed to weather the storm. His plurality over Gaston was about 8,000—a fourth of what it was in 1916. W. N. Ferris, who defeated Senator Townsend in Michigan, announces that his first effort when he gets to Washington will be to unseat Senator Newberry.

Irrespective of partisan feeling, there will be widespread regret over the defeat of Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Poindexter of Washington, for both have proved themselves able, honest and industrious servants of the people. The same may be said for Hitchcock of Nebraska. Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, who was repudiated by his party two years ago, goes back for a third term with a majority of 54,000. Shortly before the election former President Wilson wrote a letter saying that if Reed were returned to the senate he would "of course be there a man without a party."

FOES of prohibition were considerably elated by certain features of the election. Illinoisans voted two to one for amendment of the Volstead act to permit beer and light wines; California defeated the proposed state enforcement law; Massachusetts rejected a proposal to harmonize the state prohibition law with the federal enforcement act; Governor Edwards of New Jersey, "wettest of the wets," was elected senator; New York Democrats won on a platform with a light wine and beer plank; and in Minnesota Congressman Volstead, author of the enforcement act, was defeated. The wets believe they have gained at least 50 and maybe 60 votes in the house.

On the other hand, the drys won a test vote in Ohio by 100,000, and their leaders insist they will still control congress. While Volstead was reelected, the man who beat him, Rev. O. J. Kvale, Independent, says he is "drier than Volstead." However, Volstead will normally be succeeded as chairman of the Judiciary committee by Graham of Pennsylvania, who is decidedly liberal in the matter of prohibition.

It was a sad day for the once weaker sex. Of all the woman candidates for seats in the senate and house, only one was elected, and her term will end on March 4 next. She is Mrs. Winnifred Mason Huck, who will fill out the unexpired term of her father, the late Congressman-at-Large William E. Mason of Illinois. Moreover, as Representative Alice M. Robertson of Oklahoma was defeated by a mere man, there will not be one woman in the Sixty-eighth congress.

PRESIDENT HARDING still hopes to have the ship subsidy bill passed by this congress and therefore has called an extra session to begin November 20. The measure is almost certain to encounter stubborn opposition in the senate, and many leaders of both parties believe it cannot get through.

MUSTAFA KEMAL PASHA and the Turkish national assembly are not satisfied with the victories they have already won and are threatening to stir up a lot more trouble in the Near East. The sultan's ministry having resigned, Rafet Pasha, nationalist governor of Constantinople, assumed power there, and the allied high commission accepted the new regime. But about the same time the Angora government demanded that the allied troops be removed from the city at once, stating that its occupation by foreign soldiers was inconsistent with Turkish independence. The nationalists also announced that foreign warships could not enter the straits without permission and then only one at a time, and that only one vessel of each nation should be stationed at Constantinople. These demands were firmly rejected by the allied high commission. The French agreeing with the allies that tary control over the city until peace had been established and that the terms of the Mudania agreement must be observed. The request of the nationalists that the Turkish railways in Europe and Asia that have been under temporary allied control be handed over to them also was refused. Thereupon the Turks, reiterating their demands, called three additional classes to the colors and mobilized large forces near Constantinople. Lieutenant General Harington warned Rafet Pasha he would permit no usurpation of allied authority.

The allied governments admitted the situation was acute and growing dangerous. The British suggested postponement of the Lausanne conference, but M. Poincare for France urged that it open without delay. It was said that Lord Curzon, Poincare and Premier Mussolini all would attend the meeting because of the fear that the soviet Russians would try to persuade the Turks to join them in a combine for the domination of the Near East.

TO CELEBRATE the fifth anniversary of the Russian revolution, some 400,000 soviet troops and armed workers marched in review in Moscow last week before the delegates to the Third Internationale now in session. It was an inspiring sight for the communists who dream of world revolution. Premier Lenin did not appear before the Internationale, but others told of the Red progress in various lands. Leo Kamenetz admitted that there is "a temporary victory for reaction, capitalism and imperialism in the western countries, especially in Italy and Germany," but told the workers they must hold tight to their rifles. German delegates said there would be a Red revolution soon in their country.

FOLLOWING the advice of the international economic and financial experts, the German government has asked the reparations commission for a two-year moratorium on all reparations payments—coal, iron and other goods as well as cash—and for outside financial help. The experts assert that the stabilization of the mark, the first essential for the recovery of Germany, is impossible under present conditions and charge that the existing financial policies combined with the impossible conditions of the Versailles treaty. They propose the establishment of a currency bank which should have the support of foreign banks and also 500,000,000 gold marks from the Reichsbank's reserve. The lifting of restrictions abroad against German trade and giving to Germany full customs rights are recommended.

DETERMINED, as they themselves declare, to smash the Irish Free State government or die in the attempt, the Irish republicans are keeping Dublin in a state of perpetual disorder and alarm by sniping, looting and incendiarism. Sometimes they get even bolder, as on Wednesday when they placed machine guns on rooftops and made an attack on the Wellington military barracks. There were numerous casualties before the rebels were ousted. Mary MacSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, is in Mountjoy prison and has started on a hunger strike, declaring she will starve herself to death as did her brother in a British prison. Other republican prisoners have joined her in this.

ONE of the worst mine disasters of recent years occurred near Spangler, Pa., when an explosion in a mine of the Reilly Coal company. Seventy-nine men were killed and thirty-two seriously injured. The state mine inspector says someone was guilty of negligence in not reporting gas pockets or in the methods of testing for gas.

IN MARION, ILL., great difficulty is being experienced in getting a jury to try the first batch of five defendants in the Harris Mine massacre case. The officers are persistently dodging jury service. Judge Harrison took under advisement a motion by the defense that the indictments be quashed.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

He could borrow money from an Edgeworth smoker

"I left the house in a hurry. Had bought my railroad ticket the day before, so I didn't realize I had left my money at home until I was aboard the train. I was going to a strange town to do business with a man I didn't know, so it would have been quite embarrassing."

"I went into the smoking car. I looked over the men and decided to tell my story to one of them. But which one? That was the question. It was answered quickly. A man pulled out a pipe. 'He's the man for me,' I thought. But when he took a can of Edgeworth from his pocket, then I knew."

"He lent me the trifling sum I asked for, and in thanking him I mentioned that I was an Edgeworth smoker and that was what influenced me to speak to him; a perfect stranger."

"Perfect stranger!" he laughed. "Not on your life. No pipe smoker is a perfect stranger to another—especially if they both smoke Edgeworth."

There does seem to be a friendship among Edgeworth smokers. We don't claim that the tobacco is responsible for this so much as the kind of men who smoke Edgeworth.

Perhaps you've had a similar experience. If you have, we'd like to hear of it.

And we'll send free samples—generous helpings of Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed or Plug Slices—to any man, whether he has some favorite brand or not. We know we couldn't change him from a tobacco that exactly suited him, but if Edgeworth should convince him—well, that would make us both happy.

After all, the happiest man in this world is the one who smokes a tobacco he likes.

—from the very first pipeful in the morning to the last pipful at night. For all you know, that tobacco might be Edgeworth.

Send a postcard for free samples with your name and address to Larus & Brother Company, 44 South 21st St., Richmond, Va. If you would also add the name and address of the dealer from whom you usually buy your tobacco, we would appreciate your courtesy.

Edgeworth is sold in various sizes to suit the needs and means of all purchasers. Both Edgeworth Plug Slices and Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed are packed in small, pocket size packages, in handsome tin tins, and in various handy in-between quantities.

You can also get Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed in glass jars that you'll find mighty useful.

Cause for Thankfulness

FOR what, and to whom, Thanks should I render, When I wake on the dawn of Thanksgiving? For glorious Nature in the morn of its splendor, For health in the world I'm living!

FOR the sun, "Old Sol," the fire of my days, The silvery moon and stars of the night, One warming the earth with its brilliant rays, All filling the skies with heaven's own light.

FOR the breath I breathe and the winds that blow, For flowers that bloom, so fragrant and fair, For what I believe and for what I know, For fields and forests and birds of the air.

FOR the friends I have and the friends I've had, For the thoughts I think and the dreams I dream, For the days gone by when I was a lad, For this Thanksgiving—this hour supreme.

FOR peaceful America, home of my birth, A soul acquainted with sorrow and mirth, For a dear old mother whose hair is white, Her thoughts of the day, her prayers of the night— I render Thanks to God on high.

RELIGION BASED ON GRATITUDE

Truth in Assertion There Cannot Be the One Without the Other.

Therein Lies the Particular Betterment to All Men in the Devout Feeling and Celebration of Thanksgiving.

"He that urges gratitude pleads the cause of both God and men, for without it we can neither be sociable nor religious," says the pagan philosopher, Seneca. Thanksgiving, then, if it is true, is not only an act of worship, but an influence for social advancement. Gratitude is said to be the rarest of virtues, yet it exists, and it runs like a golden chain throughout society, binding men together. Nor is it as rare as we are likely from experience and observation to think it is. False gratitude may be eloquent, but it is not easy to express real gratitude in words. "No metaphysician ever felt the deficiency of language so much as the grateful," and through that deficiency gratitude is often dumb. Neither is conduct a true test, for circumstances may deny the opportunity of its expression, or conflicting circumstances may prevent its expression when opportunity arises. There is much gratitude in the world, between men and men, for which evidence is lacking, yet there is probably no man who cannot recall a feeling of gratefulness within himself which he never voiced and for favors which he never requited. Knowing more of our own thoughts and feelings than we do of those of others we are likely to think the quality of gratitude is our peculiar possession, and cynically to agree with Rochefoucauld that "gratitude in the generalty of men is only a strong and secret wish to receive still greater benefits." Undoubtedly there is much on the surface to justify that view, but while the quality of real gratitude may vary considerably in its strength there are few if any who are wholly lacking, and the mere consciousness of it makes it a potent force in the social advancement of man. Whether thanksgiving be expressed or withheld it is an influence for betterment within every one of us, for the feeling toward others is the test of our souls.

But if that is true as between men, it is much more true, and a much more potent influence, between men and God. The sense of gratitude is the measure of devotion. If it is a mere utterance of the lips it has no meaning, no matter how eloquently worded, reasons a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. If it does not come from the heart it is a mockery; and the deeper its feeling, even though it be dumb, the closer it brings one to its divine objective. No psalm of praise can reach one-half so high as the thankful thought, which in itself is a prayer. It is more than its source, with a consequent enrichment of new strength and new courage. Gratitude, as the old pagan said, is essential to religion. There is no religion where there is no gratitude. And the power of religion is in exact proportion to the sense of thankfulness it inspires. That does not mean that God is a great almsgiver who dispenses charity for the reward of appreciation. He gives because he is God, and giving is the expression of his unaltering goodness. He gives freely regardless of thanks. He cannot be bribed to larger favors by gratitude. The effect of gratitude is upon ourselves, in the exercise of our souls and in the approach to deity through that exercise, which is the essential essence of religion.

And that effect may be collective as well as individual. We are today a nation engaged in thanksgiving. We are, in totality, a hundred million souls expressing gratitude to Him for His blessings to us as a people. If that is a mere formality it is nothing—it is worse than nothing. We may be quite sure that God does not delight in rhetoric that is but sounding brass and tinkling cymbals. We may be equally sure that we as a nation are not advanced or uplifted by sermons or prayers or speeches that, however beautifully attired, are but words. But if that thankfulness is real, if it is felt within, if we are conscious of it, if its expression comes from the heart, then is the soul of the nation raised up thereby, and given a larger vision, an increase of power, a nearer approach to the glory of divinity, by the exercise of the spirit within us, reaching out to clasp hands with its creator and the source of all its strength.

And manifestly there is abundant reason for that gratitude and its expression. We need not, we cannot, "count our blessings one by one," as the song entreats us to do. They are too many for counting, too overwhelming for measurement. We who but a short century ago were relatively insignificant now stand at the forefront of the nations of the earth, admittedly supreme in its leadership. We are self-contained, self-controlled, prosperous above all other peoples. We find ourselves, in this year of His grace, directing, in a very large measure, the des-tines of mankind. In the great catastrophe of nations we have suffered less and gained more than any other. In the annals of history no people have advanced so fast nor attained so greatly. Did we do this? Are we what we are, and possess what we have because of our superior wisdom and activity? Can we slap our chests and proclaim ourselves pre-eminent through our own might? A mere cursory glance over our record proves the contrary, proves, indeed, a guidance and support without which we would still be insignificant. Nor is it hard, in the light of this day, to understand the why of this guidance, to see that we are instruments in His hand for the achievement of a divine purpose, not for ourselves, but for humanity, of which we are a part and in whose future blessings we shall largely share. Yes, there are reasons, great reasons, for America's thankfulness today, thankfulness for our past, for our present and for our future; and if we feel this, and to the extent that we are conscious of it, and recognize it, we shall be fitting ourselves and equipping ourselves for the larger tasks that are still beyond the dawn.

COMMON TO ALL HUMANITY

Every Nation Has Set Apart Time for Special Services in Gratitude for God's Mercies.

Thanksgiving day did not originate in the United States, but days of thanksgiving were set aside for special purposes many centuries ago. Days set apart for special thanksgiving to the Lord were known to the Israelites and are mentioned throughout the Bible. They were not uncommon in England before the Reformation and among Protestants afterward.

The first thanksgiving held in North America was conducted by an English minister named Wollfall, in 1578, on the shores of Newfoundland. The pastor accompanied the expedition under Frohisher, which brought the first English colony to settle on those shores.

The earliest record of any observance of a similar service within the present territory of the United States was held by the Popham colony settled at Sagadahoc, on the coast of Maine, in August, 1607.

But the real origin of Thanksgiving as a day specially set apart for prayer and rejoicing must be attributed to Governor Bradford, first governor of Massachusetts colony. In gratitude for the plentiful harvest of 1621, following upon a period of great depression, he proclaimed a day of thanksgiving to be observed December 18 (old style) of that year.

In practical furtherance of his proclamation he at once sent out four men in search of game. Thus early in the history of the day does our good friend the turkey make his appearance; for, successful in their quest, the four sportsmen returned, struggling under a burden of wild fowl, and actually

WESTERN CANADA for Wheat Growing, Cattle Raising and a Happy Home of Your Own

Prosperous Farms and Happy Homes await those who are desirous of enlarging their present resources and securing for themselves homes in a country that, while yet in its infancy, has made itself famous by the quality of the grain it produces and by the excellence of its live stock. There are Millions of Acres of the highest class of soil available for the man whose object in life is to become his own landlord, and who wishes to share in the opportunity which has been given with the thousands of Americans who, having started on Western Canada (arms with but small means, are now writing home to their friends, telling of what they have done, lands are cheap and homesteads farther from lines of railway are free to settlers. Upon these lands can be grown the best of wheat, oats, barley, flax, grass, hay, fodder corn and sunflowers. Cattle winter in most places without shelter, and raising is highly successful. Taxes only upon land (not on improvements). Perfect climate, attractive social conditions, good neighbors, churches, schools, telephones, excellent markets and shipping facilities. The Water Mains are Here

The mains for the water works system began to arrive this week—five cars having already been unloaded. Two other cars are on the way and are expected daily. Hydrants, meters, lateral piping, joints, elbows, etc., are also on the way, and part of this material is now here.

Contractor English will begin laying the pipe just as soon as sufficient material arrives. It will be the first of the year, or maybe later, before the job is completed; although after the actual work begins, Mr. English contracts to complete the installation in six weeks.

Entertain at Corona

The Carrizozo Entertainers went to Corona last Saturday evening and put on their program in the Gymnasium before a good and highly appreciative audience. In addition to the regular program, Eb K. Jones and H. C. Franklin sang and Otto Prehm rendered a piano solo. The receipts were $48.75.

The Entertainers who took part in the program were:

Hilary Cooper, Ruth E. Brickley, Otto Prehm, H. C. Franklin, Audrey Miller, Grace Moss, Lawrence Rowland, Lois Jones, Leora Taylor, Chandler Prude, Raymond Lackland, Edwin McCarty, Florence and Kathryn Spence, George Ferguson, R. C. Pitts, Eb K. Jones and E. M. Brickley.

Others who accompanied the Entertainers from Carrizozo or later for the dance were:

A. T. Pfingsten, Max Taylor, Robert Adams, Jeanette Johnson, Winnie Taylor, Ella E. Brickley, Myrtle and Ella Rowland, Lesnet Anderson, J. C. Brickley, H. B. Jones, Sallie Johnson and Mrs. Lee Prude.

The Entertainers appreciate the courtesy extended them by the people of Corona, and were especially gratified with the reception given them by the public school faculty, Mrs. W. J. McAdams and others.

Basket Ball Tomorrow

Two inter-county basket ball games are scheduled here for tomorrow. The Alamogordo boys' and girls' teams are to play the Carrizozo High School teams tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. The visiting teams are coming strong and our boys and girls are feeling fit and are prepared to give them a royal reception. Everybody should turn out and help the boys and girls in the expense of entertaining the visiting teams. The admission will be 25c and 35c.

Booze Car Captured

Sheriff Harris captured an automobile and its driver last Sunday night, above Corona. The car contained 15 gallons of alcohol, and several cases of whiskey. On the way to town the driver killed his engine while ascending a hill, and the sheriff got out to crank 'er up. While the sheriff was busy at the crank the driver got out of the car and disappeared in the darkness. The sheriff took a few shots at the flying fugitive, which only produced an acceleration, and the prisoner escaped in the darkness. The sheriff got the motor running and brought the car and its contents to town that night.

Cattle Shipments

The movement of cattle from Lincoln county ranges is now on in earnest. Some few hundred head have been shipped to market and other hundreds sold to feeders, but the principal movement is to Mexico, where magnificent range abounds.

T. A. Spencer, of El Capitan Land & Cattle Co., has loaded out two trains—about 25,000 head—the 2d train leaving last night for the border. They go to El Paso, and thence into the state of Chihuahua over the Northwestern, and unload at Summit, near Corralitos. In all, the company will ship to Mexico about 5,000 head.

A train load of cattle will be shipped every four days for Mexican pasturage, for the next thirty days. A number of our cattle men, in addition to the company mentioned above, are preparing to ship their stuff to the same point, during the period named. They are, so far as we have been able to ascertain: E. S. Corn, Warden Bros., James Cooper, Bryan Hightower, Spence & Sons, P. M. Johnson, Wilson Bros. and Pierce Perry. From 15,000 to 20,000 head of cattle will be shipped from Lincoln county across the border for pasturage.

Parsons News Letter

The woods are full of hunters this week. A few have been successful in killing their quota of deer and turkey, but the majority became so excited at the sight of the wild creatures that they shot wild. It has taken the man who remains quietly at home and waits for the turks to come down to his barnyard and eat with the chickens to have the best luck.

Dr. and Mrs. Blaney of Carrizozo were here the first of the week, the doctor to spend a day in the woods after game, and Mrs. Blaney to visit the Parsons school. Both are very welcome visitors in this "neck o' the woods."
