OLDEST AND LEADING NEWSPAPER IN CIRCULATION IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO

VOLUME 23

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 21, 1923

NUMBER 38

Decreased Valuations

Santa Fe, Sept. 18.—Despite a shrinkage in the state's taxable wealth in the last year, estimated at $20,000,000 to $30,000,000; the state administration has been able to hold down the state's levy to last year's level—4 1/2 mills.

But for this shrinkage—caused chiefly by economic conditions, there would have been a sizable reduction in the rate. However, the loss in taxable property made it impossible.

As it is there will be a decrease in the amount of taxes it produces. Obviously, 4 1/2 mills will not yield as much taxes on a valuation estimated at $300,000,000 to $310,000,000 as the same rate on a valuation of more than $330,000,000—last year's valuation.

In other words, the present state administration is going to have less taxes than the preceding administration, and, having less, spend less.

Also the 4 1/2 mills will not bring in as much taxes as 5 mills on a valuation of more than $363,000,000, in 1921. That was the state's levy for that year—before Governor Hinkle began to make "cutting" popular. The 1922 levy was made during his campaign for governor; and "cutting" was being rather widely talked about at the time.

The 4 1/2 mills for 1923 includes 3 for general purposes, 1/2 for schools and 1 for roads. The distribution is the same as last year's.

The federal aid road levy, which is not regarded as a state levy and therefore not included in the 4 1/2, has been reduced from 1 1/2 mills for 1922 to 1 for 1923.

Tom Carr Married

Tom Carr, cashier at the local railway station, who left here last week, ostensibly for a visit to his mother in Mississippi, is reported to have stopped at Mineral Wells, Texas, and married. He will continue his trip, double instead of single, and will return in due time to again take up his residence in Carrizozo, but with his freedom more restricted than in the past.

Japanese Relief Campaign

As Vice Chairman of the Red Cross of Lincoln County I wish to thank those who helped raise our quota for the Japanese earthquake sufferers. Our quota for this county, was one hundred fifty dollars. One hundred eighty-nine dollars and forty-five cents have already been sent to headquarters with, perhaps, one more district to hear from. We have already gone over the top by about thirty per cent. The fine thing about it is the readiness with which people subscribed. It proves after all that the whole world is kin.

I wish to give special thanks and credit to the ladies and gentlemen who solicited the people of the county. When asked to help they responded most readily and cheerfully. The finest quality in the universe is the spirit of service and sacrifice. I also wish to thank Mr. Brickley for very valuable advice and assistance.

The ladies who solicited the funds are Mr. Blaney, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Stadman, of Carrizozo; Mrs. Burl Sears, of Capitán; Mrs. B. D. Garner, of Picacho; Mr. A. W. Varney solicited for Corona.

The amounts obtained are:

Carrizozo	$126.86
Corona	26.00
Capitan	25.59
Picacho	10.00
Total	$188.45

E. E. Cozz, Vice Chairman.

Roswell Flooded

The city of Roswell, and vicinity, suffered from a severe rain and hail storm the first of the week. The hail, in a restricted area, damaged the fruit and cotton crops considerably, and the heavy rains swelled the Hondo and Spring rivers to such an extent that the streams left their course, flooding the streets and filling basements. The loss by flood, however, was much less than at first reported, yet it was of sufficient magnitude to cause a great deal of inconvenience and arouse the fear of the inhabitants. There was no loss of life, and after the recession of the waters the city resumed business as usual.

Cow-Boy Reunion

The town of Corona, our lively little neighbor on the north, is making preparations to spread itself for two days, in a big Cow-Boy Reunion. The dates, which the committee having the affair in charge announce, are Friday and Saturday, October 5 and 6.

Many attractions for the two-day event are scheduled, among which will be a big free barbecue, base ball game, horse racing, broncho riding, steer and goat roping, burro races, wild cow milking and kindred sports. The two evenings will be given over to dancing, which will be a most attractive feature, to be staged in the spacious hall, with the cow-boys in full regalia, and a select orchestra to keep the crowd "a-milling."

The event will not only be attractive by reason of the splendid program that has been arranged, but it will also be a pleasure to meet the open-handed people of Corona and to enjoy their well known hospitality. Corona expects you, October 5th and 6th, and everyone who can should journey to the little village that opens its doors wide, and spend two days with the joy-makers in that part of our county.

Thought He Was Lost

Last Saturday afternoon, just after his return to the store from his mid-day meal, Roy Skinner was notified by phone from his home on the Highlands that his little four-year-old son was missing. Roy jumped into his runabout, sped home, where he was joined by Mrs. Skinner, and the two drove all over town, inquiring for the missing child. Nothing could be heard of him, and the parents again returned home to institute their search anew. Before leaving the second time, Mrs. Skinner decided to remove her hat and started to place it in the rear of the runabout. Upon lifting the cover, she discovered the youngster, who had been in there all the period his parents had been scouring the town for a sight of him, and the smile he gave his mother indicated that the young sprout had keenly enjoyed the ride, and was wholly unconcerned over the flight he had given his parents and the members of the family.

School Notes

(By Sept. E. E. Cole)

The pupils are still coming into the High School—two more this week. 19 of the pupils of the Senior High School is made up of pupils from outside Carrizozo.

The Ginn & Co. Silent Reading Flash Cards were very well explained by Mrs. Blaney at the teachers' meeting held last Wednesday. These cards will be used in the first six or seven grades of the schools.

"Dickey," the little canary bird in Mrs. French's room, "Makes Merry All the Day," and is a source of great pleasure to the children of the third grade.

Presentation of the "Winged Victory" occurred on Friday afternoon of this week. The presentation was by Grace Taylor of the Class of 1923. The acceptance on the part of the school was made by William Kahler, president of the Class of 1924. The "Winged Victory" is a very appropriate present, and stands for and strongly suggests effort, work, dig, grind, persistence, faithfulness to ideals and anything else that brings accomplishment. It is a beautiful piece of work and adds much to the artistic and classical appearance of the High School.

Friday afternoon, September 7, at four o'clock, the Women's Club of Carrizozo gave a reception to the teachers of the town at the home of Mrs. Ulrich. There was a large attendance of the Club and the teachers were delighted with the cordiality and good will shown by the ladies.

The teachers of Carrizozo hope that the parents of their pupils will visit the schools often during the coming months. It will benefit the school, the parents and the teachers.

On Friday of last week the three upper classes of the High School gave a reception to the Freshmen, over twenty in number. Of course, it was not in the nature of the usual reception. The "freshies" had a mysterious, dark and somewhat dangerous path to tread, but they are all at school this week.

The School Board has had the fire escape on the High School building fixed with a smooth metal. The slide is now in perfect working order. It was good as a check to see the faces of some of the pupils when they slide down the last time.

Coal Strike Averted But--

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania deserves all the praise, he will receive for having prevented a cessation of hard coal mining this winter, after the agencies of the national administration had failed. The strike is averted, but the results of the governor's efforts will fall far short of public expectation if the increase in the price of coal is to be paid by the consumer. Governor Pinchot himself realizes this, and in an open letter calls upon the national administration to take the necessary action to protect the public.

It is already forecasted that the report of the National Coal Commission will show that the operators are making unwholesome profits, and the people are in no mood to countenance profiteering, either by the operators or distributors.

In the 1920 Republican national platform, the Democratic administration is condemned for alleged failure to enforce the anti-profiteering law. The implication is that the Republican party would enforce these laws if it came into power. Everyone knows that the profiteering law has been farcical. The provisions that were to be filled with profiteers by Attorney General Daugherty are still vacant. The Attorney General has been made the adopted child of the east end of the Republic, no National administration.

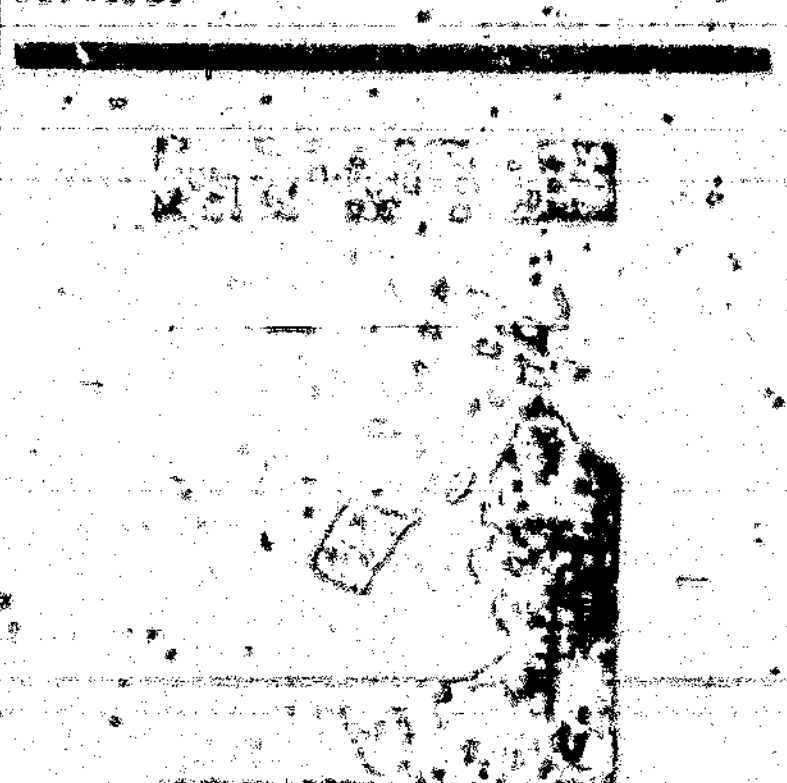

Governor Pinchot's letter indicates that he feels he has done the major part in preventing a strike on the Pennsylvania and adjoining fields, and that of the public is to pay an extra cent for coal this winter if the national administration does not act.

Base Ball Sunday

Fort Stanton will be here Sunday and meet our team in a local diamond. The receipts from the game are going for the benefit of some of our players who were recently injured in a game. Everybody had out. A good attendance would be most worthy on this occasion.

Socorro Road Work

Work on the Carrizozo-Socorro road will begin Monday. W. M. Ferguson will have charge of the work, and will take a crew to the Wash Hale place and work in both directions from that location. State Highway Engineer French will be here and go over the route and outline the work. The state is putting up the money and state machinery will be shipped to San Antonio and brought out over the line where it will be used. Authorities claim this important highway will soon be ready for service.

There's two sides to gambling in stocks your side and the inside.

Coal Strike Averted But--

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania deserves all the praise he will receive for having prevented a cessation of hard coal mining this winter, after the agencies of the national administration had failed. The strike is averted, but the results of the governor's efforts will fall far short of public expectation if the increase in the price of coal is to be paid by the consumer. Governor Pinchot himself realizes this, and in an open letter calls upon the national administration to take the necessary action to protect the public.

It is already forecasted that the report of the National Coal Commission will show that the operators are making unusual profits, and the people are in no mood to countenance profiteering, either by the operators or distributors.

The prison cells that were to be filled with profiteers by Attorney General Daugherty are still vacant. The Attorney General has been made the adopted child of the tail end of the Republican National administration.

Governor Pinchot's letter indicates that he feels he has done the major part in preventing a strike in the Pennsylvania and adjoining fields, and that of the public is to pay an extra price for coal this winter it will not be his fault, but that of the National administration.

Q. O. P. Smoke Screen

The brief summary of the pamphlet, "What the Tariff Does to Kansas," issued by the Fair Tariff League of which Mr. H. E. Miles is the chairman, sent out a short time ago in the Weekly News Service of the Democratic National Committee, drew a statement from the Republican National Committee that is unparalleled for misrepresentation and downright falsehood. The statement appeared in the New York Herald of September 6, sent from its Washington Bureau. Before quoting the Republican National Committee, the Herald's Washington correspondent said:

"Today the Democratic National Committee said an investigation had revealed that the tariff act had cost the people of Kansas $26,419,876 and benefited them to the extent of only $256,694. Of the total loss, the farmers, it was stated, had to stand $11,649,246."

The correspondent added: "Farm organizations have joined in this campaign."

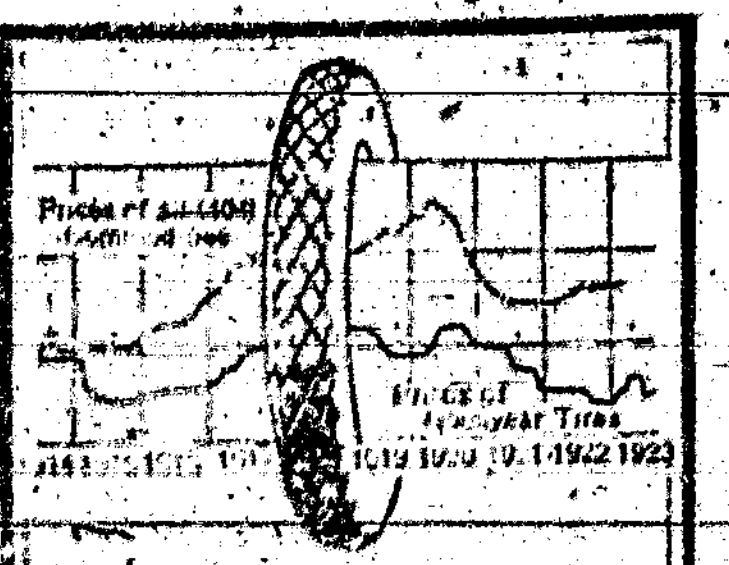

The correspondent then quotes the Republican National Committee as follows:

"Free trade lobbyists maintaining exposures of Washington and conducting a very extensive publicity campaign, are out in a new attack on the Fordney Tariff in an effort to result in the passage of the proposed tariff act. The attack is being conducted by the National Farmers' Union, the National Grange, the National Live Stock Raisers' Association, the National Wool Growers' Association, the National Cotton Raisers' Association, and the National Tobacco Raisers' Association. These organizations are maintaining a campaign of misrepresentation and downright falsehood."

The simple fact is that the pamphlet, "What the Tariff Does to Kansas," was compiled by the experts of the Fair Tariff League of which Mr. H. E. Miles is chairman, with offices in New York, not in Washington. The Fair Tariff League has issued a protective tariff and I frankly say that as the old tariff is the best of protection here and abroad. It is a part of our government, and the general interest of the people and the country. In furnishing reliable statistics of what the tariff does to the various states in the Union, Mr. Miles is providing the public with the finest possible educational lessons of the highest value with respect to the Fordney-McCumber Profiteers' Tariff, which is costing the people of the United States $4,000,000,000 a year, $3,500,000,000 of which goes into the pockets of the specially protected interests. It is this infamous tariff which is chiefly responsible for the disastrous conditions of agriculture, which maintains and at times increases the high cost of living and which is detrimental to honest and legitimate business everywhere.

THOUGH always highest in quality, Goodyear tires are never high priced, as this chart shows. See how Goodyear tire prices for years have kept under the average price level for all commodities. Today, the best tires Goodyear ever built sell for 27% less than in 1920; 30% less than in 1914. This is a good time to buy Goodyears.

As Goodyear's reputation for quality is well known, you can buy with confidence. All Goodyear tires are guaranteed for a year or more.

President Coolidge is on record as saying: "When you substitute patronage for patriotism, administration breaks down," but, as the Louisville Courier Journal editorially remarks: "That was before he fell in with Stemp."

From "Business Notes and Trade News" in the New York Herald the following headlines are extracted: "Rapid Recovery From Low Period of Dullness Is Expected After Today." This will come as a surprise to those who have been reading in other Republican papers that business is overblown and that we are undergoing a period of great depression.

According to the report of the President's Commission on the Tariff, the total cost of the tariff act in 1922 was $26,419,876 and the benefit to the farmers was only $256,694.

The simple fact is that the pamphlet, "What the Tariff Does to Kansas," was compiled by the experts of the Fair Tariff League of which Mr. H. E. Miles is chairman, with offices in New York, not in Washington.

The Fair Tariff League has issued a protective tariff and I frankly say that as the old tariff is the best of protection here and abroad.

STATE NORMAL UNIVERSITY

East Las Vegas, Sept. 20. Contrary to the rumor that has gone out into some parts of the state, the Normal University here has opened for the fall term with a good enrollment in all departments and will run on its regular schedule through the year.

Under the presidency of former Dean Frank Caroon, the institution has been placed on a cash budget basis. The existing deficit, which is the out-growth of the disastrous fire in 1922, will be carried along, all creditors having agreed to wait until their accounts can be paid.

The faculty for 1923-24 is made of professors who not only are specialists in their line but also have the degrees and the experience needed to place the Normal's College Department on the standard college list. Most of the faculty are graduates of such universities as Berkeley, Leland, Stanford, Columbia, John Hopkins, Chicago, Wellesley and Missouri.

A ten per cent reduction in salaries and rigid economy in all departments will constitute the Normal's contribution to the relief of a tax-burdened New Mexico, according to the present administration, but the standard of the school is being not only maintained but actually elevated.

What did you say? "Give it to the one who will give you the most." The case of the "Dear Ben" letters after you are through with it, are some of the most pleasant letters you will ever receive. The "Dear Ben" letters, signed by L. B. Howland, secretary to former Representative Stemp, the latter now secretary to the President, to the Virginia office-traveling exposure.

Mr. Stemp's defense was that the money was being collected for the Republican National Committee, but if this is true it is a promise of a public service which should not at least escape notice by the National Civil Service Reform League.

New Ford Models

The first of the new type Ford cars which recently arrived here are now on display at the Western Garage, Inc., local Ford dealer.

The higher radiator, now standard in all Ford types, has brought a general improvement throughout the entire line and the new radiator apron blending with similar effect on the fenders gives the front of the cars a highly finished appearance.

The touring car shows a decided improvement, having a more streamline effect. It is lower in appearance, a feature adding much to the attractiveness of the slanting windshield and one-man top.

The Ford Runabout is likewise much improved and looks more sturdy.

New In Design

The Coupe is entirely new in body design and construction. There is a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and greater luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator. The doors are wide and heavily framed. A larger compartment at the rear gives increased room for luggage and the new type rear fenders are more secure. Ventilation is the cowl and a visor over the windshield add to the exterior appearance, effecting a high quality aspect.

Interior arrangement is most convenient and the upholstery is choice. The seat is deeply cushioned and the cushions are divided, making it easy for filling the gasoline tank under the seat. A small recess shelf at the rear of the seat is handy for parcels. The door windows are equipped with revolving type window regulators permitting desired ventilation. Doors are provided with locks.

Beauty Is Enhanced

The higher radiator has greatly enhanced the beauty of the Ford Four Door Sedan. Many little improvements and refinements are noticeable including revolving type window regulators for all door windows and dome light for illuminating the interior.

The new cars will be on display at the show rooms of the Western Garage, Inc., for the next few days.

LADY GOT SO WEAK COULD SCARCELY STAND

After Suffering From Many Female Troubles This Lady Heard of Cardal and Took It, She Says, "Until I Was Well."

"SOME TIME AGO," says Mrs. Susan McFarland, of R. F. D. 2, Bowie, N. C., "I suffered a great deal with weakness common to women. I had bearing-down pains, my sides and back hurt, and my limbs drew. I would get so weak in my knees I could scarcely stand."

"I was very nervous, and could not rest. I didn't feel like eating. I grew thin, and did not have ambition for anything."

"I had been trying other remedies... but did not get any better."

"Some one told me of Cardal, and what it was recommended for. I also took a Ladies Evening Almanac and read of a case something like mine. I told my husband to get it and I would try it."

"I saw a great improvement after the first bottle (of Cardal), so I kept it up until I was well. Now I see the picture of health."

"Thousands of other women have written, in all of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardal, and I recommend it to others."

"Cardal has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of women's common troubles. Try it."

Permit is granted Wm. J. Humphrey to construct an adobe garage upon the rear of lots 24, 25, and 26, in Block 9, of Carrizozo.

The report of the water committee shows that difficulty is being encountered by the water man in collecting amounts for water distributed by means of the water wagon; also that the rates for water having been based upon the probable use of water by means of connections with the water mains by all business houses and residences situated along the the water mains are found too low on account of the fact that many such business houses and residences have not connected up for water. After due consideration of this report, and the same having been fully discussed, Trustee Henry Lutz, Sr., makes a motion that all water wagon bills to be collected by the water man shall be reported to the superintendent of the Water System at such time as they become delinquent, and that water shall be cut off from all customers whose delinquent account has been reported, not later than ten days after the making of such report; also, that on November 1st, 1923, barrel rate for water distributed to all customers within 100 feet of the Village Water System shall be raised to 75c per barrel. Upon the seconding of this motion by Trustee T. E. Kelley, and put to a vote of the members the same carries and is declared by the mayor to be effective.

No further business appearing, the board adjourns.

$2 Poll Tax in 1924

The new school code, passed by the last legislature, increased the poll tax to $2, and made it applicable to both sexes. Confusion arose, however, as to whether it became effective this year or the next, and opinions differed so materially that finally, in Albuquerque, a friendly suit was brought to determine the matter. The district court held the terms of the code, requiring both men and women to pay $2 poll tax, were effective for 1923.

The case was appealed to the state supreme court, and that tribunal has just handed down a decision reversing the lower court, and instructed it to dismiss the complaint.

Look Out for the Sharks

The newspapers recently carried a pathetic story of an aged couple who invested and lost $15,000 in worthless stocks. It was all they possessed and all of their savings of a lifetime. Their money was fooled away from them by the glittering promises of an unscrupulous broker who promised he would make them millionaires.

It is because the world is full of sharks absolutely without mercy, and full of people who believe that they can get something for nothing that our poor homes and pensionaries are full and many people discouraged and heartbroken.

Don't be fooled into thinking there is any easy road to wealth. Hard work and prudent investment are the only means to lasting prosperity.

World Lumber Demand

It is estimated that the earthquake in Japan will necessitate the use of large quantities of Pacific coast lumber to repair the damage.

The situation simply emphasizes the fact that lumber is still the great universal building material.

As world demands require the cutting of our forests, it is constantly becoming more apparent that a policy encouraging the replanting of trees for a new timber supply is essential.

Louisiana is demonstrating that the foremost inducement to tree-planting is a taxation policy which recognizes the long time required for tree growth and the necessity of not eating up ultimate profits through taxation during intervening years.

The state must take its tax from timber at the same time the company which plants the trees takes its profits; namely when the tree is cut for market.

This principle is becoming more generally recognized over the country.

Gasoline Price War Makes Motorists Happy

Motorists of middle-western states forgot some of their motor pet-peeves when they received the news that the Standard Oil company of Indiana had slashed the price of gasoline following the people's war on the high price of this product. Like these pretty girls, they all ordered the attendants to "fill it up."

U. S. Experiments Cut Cost of Gas

Adjustment of Carburetors on Government Trucks Reduces Consumption of Fuel

Washington.—Substantial savings of gasoline by the periodical adjustment of carburetors based on the results of analysis of exhaust gases from automobile engines are said to be feasible by the Department of the Interior following experiments made by the bureau of mines on the fleet of motor trucks used by the government fuel yard in Washington. As the result of carburetor adjustments made by gas analysis in the bureau's experiments, an actual increase in efficiency in mileage and saving of gasoline amounting to 25 per cent was attained. The tests demonstrate that a portable carbon dioxide indicator for testing the exhaust gases of a motor vehicle gives a positive indication of the carburetor adjustment, removes all guesswork of such adjustment and is perfectly feasible practically.

Samples of Gas Tested.
The government fuel yard trucks tested by the bureau of mines ranged in capacity from two and a half to seven and a half tons. During the winter months, when the demand for coal is heavy, from 50 to 65 trucks are used. Samples of the exhaust gas were taken on the trucks kept in service for summer hauling in order to determine the carburetor adjustment as used. Changes then were made to a more economical adjustment whenever possible, without sacrificing flexibility of operation and power. In all but one case the carburetors were found to be adjusted too rich for maximum power and economy. Increase in Mileage Noted.

The actual increase in mileage and saving of gasoline due to the carburetor adjustments made by gas analysis when the month previous and the month following the adjustments are compared showed an increase in mileage of 25 per cent for the second month after adjustment, 10 per cent for the third month, 5 per cent for the fourth month. When the mileage is compared truck for truck, and not taking into consideration the distance each traveled during the month, the increased mileage equaled 115, 112 and 113 per cent, respectively.

The adjustment of carburetors by analysis of exhaust gas is based upon the fact that the carbon dioxide in the exhaust is a direct indication of the amount of air and carburetor adjustment. In fact, the effect of the carburetor adjustment can be determined by properly adjusted for maximum power and gasoline economy.

Adjustment Usually Rich.
Other carburetors being examined, the mileage obtained varies as the percentage of carbon dioxide in the exhaust gas and carburetor adjustment. This has been true recently by road gauge tests in the past. Usually the adjustment is far too rich for maximum economy. There are, however, exceptions to this rule. A determination of the carbon dioxide content of the exhaust gas while the vehicle is being operated on the road gives a positive indication of the carburetor adjustment.

The results of the bureau of mines experiments show that adjustable carburetors tend to become more richly adjusted with lapse of time, and that the adjustments should be checked at least every two months to maintain the most economical adjustments. The bureau suggests that one driver may be able to get considerable more mileage than another, due to the method of driving. The mileage is greatly increased by disengaging the clutch whenever possible and constant. In approaching a heavy grade, sufficient momentum should be obtained to carry the vehicle a considerable distance up the grade before making it necessary to change the gears. Weather has a marked effect on the mileage obtainable. In general, a motor runs better at higher humidity and temperatures. Rainy weather decreases the mileage consumption of the motor.

Injunction to Stop Woman "Making Love"

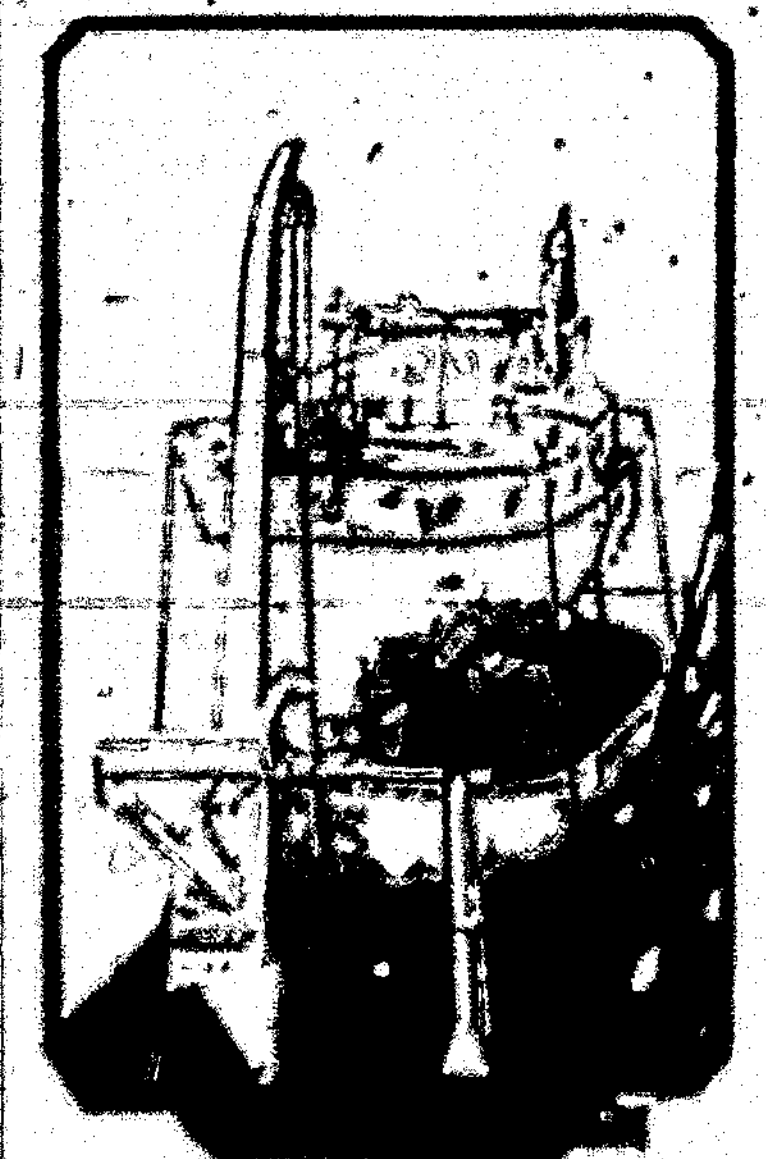

Detroit, Mich.—Judge Hoffer granted an injunction restraining Louise Keef, from following, molesting and openly making love to Joseph A. Gregg.

The two had been friends, the pet-tion said, but for nearly a year Miss Keef's attentions had been unendurable and harassing to Mr. Gregg. She hid behind "telephone poles, garages and trees." It was charged, and came upon him unawares.

She said, "Hello, grandpa," to him a few days ago while he was talking on a corner to a young woman friend and then turned and said, "Hello, grandma," to the young woman, according to the petition. He called police and Miss Keef was ordered to leave him alone but, according to Gregg, she refused to do so.

RHINE-DANUBE CANAL READY FOR SHIPS SOON

Vessels to Travel From North Sea to Black Sea.

Rotterdam, Holland.—Ships will have a bad time of it if they could not go to the Black Sea by the new canal. The canal is now being built and will be ready for use in a few months. It will connect the North Sea with the Black Sea.

The Rhine-Danube canal, which was begun in 1911, will connect the North Sea with the Black Sea. It will be a great boon to the shipping industry of Europe, and will greatly increase the trade between the North Sea and the Black Sea.

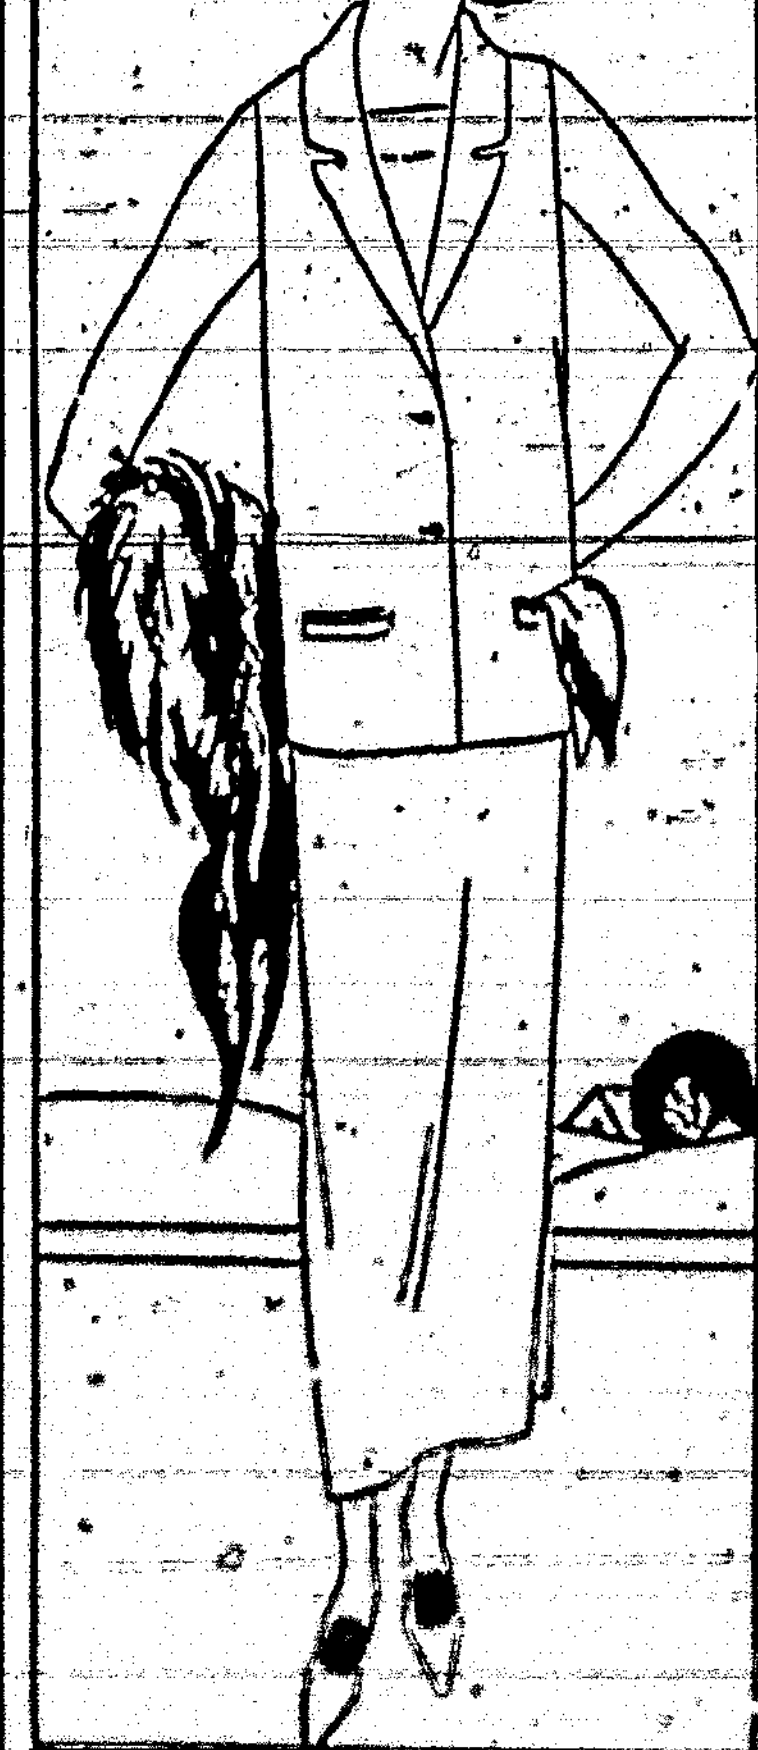

New tourist routes are to be opened up for excursion steamers which will make the Rhine trip in beauty and comfort. It is expected that the canal will be ready for use in a few months.

Plain Suit to Be Favored for Fall

Those who are inclined to study smartness in their clothes favor tailored suits for early fall, says a fashion writer in the New York Times. After so many flounders and pinnacles, mono sleeves, bloused backs and tie sashes, the tailored lines with their trim perfection come as a great relief.

There are certain women, and their number is by no means small—who look better in a strictly tailored suit.

than in any other sort of attire. They take on an air of importance to clothes like these, at the same time being more of their femininity and beauty, and they are dressed correctly for almost any hour of the day.

A really well-cutting suit is not an easy thing to achieve, for one cannot go into a department store, try on a suit and walk out with what is called a perfectly fitting garment. Tailored suits do not grow that way. They must be fitted and coated and pressed over before they assume the shape that is right. But once having achieved this perfection, they hold their lines through an eternity of months, not to say years. They can be subjected to as many pressings as a child's suit can stand, and each time they emerge from the steaming and pressing process something seems to have been added to their appearance, rather than subtracted.

Some tailors are wizards. They can shape the lines of a single suit so that they make the largest figure look slim and those out of proportion seem to slip into the body. Tailored suits are made from the wearing of a tailored suit so long as it makes one's body look to have been right to begin with.

Each distinct in itself. There are several styles and types of the new tailored suits, but each one is distinct in itself and the lines of one must not be mixed with those of another if the suit and its accessories are to be preserved. There is the skirt suit, the jacket suit, the suit with the long coat, the suit with the long coat and the suit with the long coat and the suit with the long coat.

They are almost devoid of trimming, with only bound and braided edges to distinguish them from the more severely tailored suits. There is one suit which is fitted in at the waistline, though ever so slightly. It has an individual air and when one is gifted with a good figure and classic lines there is nothing that can set off its beauty to better advantage than this model of a suit. It is made of black rep or dark blue twill or sometimes of tan or gray in these same fabrics. It is often bound with braid to carry out the formality of its design and great pains have been taken to arrange its fastenings in the way of small buttons.

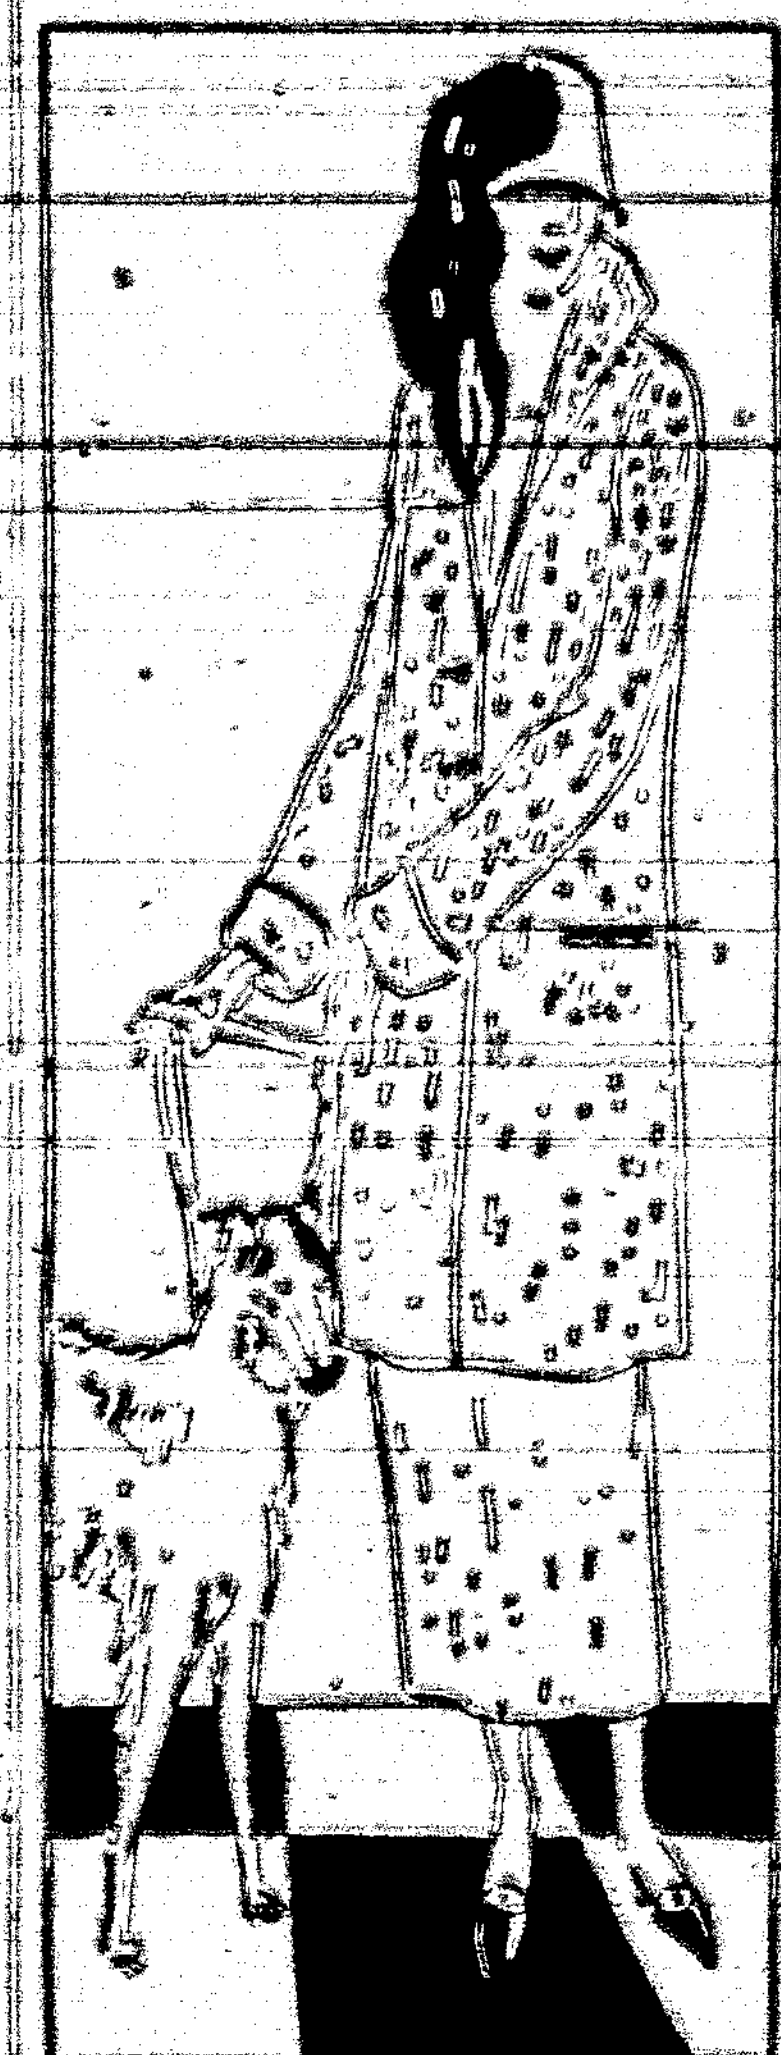

The skirts of all these suits are plain, else they would not be tailored. No plaits are permitted, and the fitting of the skirt is so slim as to be almost tight. It is a continuation of the line of the coat and nothing more. Sometimes it has two pockets in the front but these are inconspicuously inserted, mere slits with tailored edges. When it comes to the wearing of a suit, there are accessories to be considered. Unless they are right the suit itself amounts to nothing. And it is a fact that the extra fixings one wears with suits differ materially from those worn with other sorts of clothes. They also take on that tailored air, even though they cannot be called the last word in tailoring. They drop, as it were, all extra loops and danglers, and remain plain after the manner of the suit.

Plain Hats Have the Call.
Hats are plain. Many of them have no trimming, merely arrangements of lines that go to make up the shape. The clever designer lets it go at that, having spent all of her energy and her artistic skill upon the creation of that one thing—its shape and color.

The poke behind is a favorite for autumn. It has little or no trimming, but sometimes its brim is made of brocade or embroidery and again its crown is so buckled, but the pattern is so much of an all-over affair that it can hardly be called trimming. It is a fabric in itself and part of the hat's construction.

Tails are good, especially of the all-over embroidered variety. There is the classic, which is just as smart today as it was at the beginning of the summer season. It is dark in tone, usually, and its trimming is likely to be of the same color. In fabric or some that sort of leather arrangement. The trim often runs down all the way around the face, but sometimes it turns back at a well cut over the face and again at the back, giving a very smart, well more becoming to certain faces than the more severe line.

Gloves are another important matter. The better they are, the more the corresponding even better. The latter are short and roll over the wrist.

steeves of the coat is a graceful and interesting fashion. Shoes and stockings are important. There are pointed and graceful slippers meant to be worn with the sort of tailored suit which has just been described and they are even ornate in appearance. The stockings are light, worn either with shoes to match or with black pumps.

The kerchief is an important part of all clothes just now, whether it be one that is extremely large and ample or one of those little gray handkerchiefs which are meant to stick into the pocket of your suit to give that touch of bright color so much in demand when the modern styles are considered as a whole.

RATS STAGE DOPE ORGY; U. S. AGENTS GET BUSY

Rodents Eat Narcotics Stored in Building at New Orleans.

New Orleans.—Deaths of the narcotic enforcement division, whose duties, among other things, include the ridding of "dope" peddlers, have directed their attention to something new—the rodent "dope" fiend. Until a few months ago, it seems, the rats which infest the federal buildings were nice, gentle, home-loving rodents, but recently something happened. Shortly a wave of destruction swept through the building. Offices were found in turmoil. Records were given to scraps. Crowded desks were swept clean of papers and books. Glaring desk surfaces revealed countless rat tracks, night testimony of midnight orgies.

W. F. Ferguson, assistant controller, seized by action by scores of complaints, purchased 150 traps and baited them with the sweetest cheese obtainable, crisp bacon and even chunks of porterbouse steak. Only one young and inexperienced rat was caught. Regular rat food had lost its lure.

Narcotic sleuths recalled that it was about the time they had first stored marijuana, commonly known as "maggies" in their offices, that the rat destruction began. Also they recalled that a large quantity of "maggies" had disappeared.

The agents examined their stores of confiscated cocaine and morphine. Packages had been gauged open and the imprint of rat noses found in the open boxes. "Dope" worth thousands of dollars was gone. The rats, they suggested, apparently had first become enmeshed in the residues of the "dope" monster when they chewed on the "maggies," shattered nerves forced

Laborer Has More Trunks Than Royalty

New York.—FRANCISCO LOCA, laborer and coach and harness maker (contacted) of Italy sailed on the same ship from New York city to Europe. LOCA had 30 trunks; the royal couple only 10.

FRANCISCO had prepared for any emergency while on the ship. He was explained in broken English.

Large steel boxes were purchased to hold the stores of the narcotics. Special traps were ordered built, and when these are ready they will be baited with morphine and cocaine, Mr. Ferguson said.

The possibility of rats spreading the "dope" habit is to be investigated by officers of the United States public health service, it was said.

Hondo News Items

Hondo, Sept. 19. The school is progressing nicely, with the enrollment continually growing.

Mr. Wesley Brown of Picacho spent Tuesday with Mr. W. E. Wootson.

The signs of the big rains last Saturday have about all disappeared and the road is in good condition again.

The orchards are all full of folks now, gathering the big red apples which are so plentiful this year.

Buster Wootson made a flying trip to Roswell Monday to get help to gather his apples. He came back with five men, so we imagine he will be making some signs of labor show up in his orchard this week.

Every boy and girl made a special study of the eclipse of the sun last week, each one being required to tell why there was an eclipse, and all took a good look at it through smoked glasses.

We are watching very carefully the little cotton patch in our community to see how it is going to get along during the next five weeks. It is coming bravely now, but it looks as if it won't be able to open much before Mr. Frost gets here.

We understand that the Hondo Community Club will have its first program on Friday evening, Sept. 21. Two years ago we had a splendid literary society, and we are hoping it will be as successful this year.

It seems that every community, when it begins to wake up and try to grow, will find that there is someone one always close at hand to put the brakes on and hold back all they can, or throw lead of watermelons, grown on chunks into the machinery to try to stop the thing altogether.

Our high school is going along nicely with a good enrollment, and every pupil seems to be doing fine, although each one of them has received either a written or verbal invitation (or both) to go elsewhere.
