Mr. Frank E. Theurer, the general proprietor of the Carrizozo Meat Market, has closed his place of business for a time at least, and will embark in other business. Mr. Theurer asks us to extend his thanks and appreciation to all his old customers, and we are sure that there are many of these latter who will see him discontinue business with a sense of regret.

Mrs. J. C. Paxton died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Peter Long on last Friday. Mrs. Paxton suffered a paralytic stroke on Sunday, June 7, and lingered until Friday, June 12th. She was in her 62nd year and had enjoyed normal health prior to her last sickness. Her remains were embalmed and shipped to Duncon, Okla., her original home, for interment. Mrs. Paxton leaves a husband, two sons and two daughters, besides a host of friends who mourn her death.

On Friday night of last week about a dozen of our young people visited the town of White Oaks to attend the ball given by the White Oaks Skating Club. They all report a fine time and an abundance of good things to eat. When it comes to baking cakes we are willing to back the White Oaks ladies to the limit, and when it comes to eating it the bunch from Carrizozo is able to hold their own with any of them.

Mr. W. F. McIntyre of Ft. Sumner, N. M., who has been visiting here for the past ten days, returned to his home yesterday.

Miss Patton of Nogal spent a few days in town the latter part of last week.

Stoddard Johnson, conductor on the South Western between Carrizozo and Duran laid off and went down to El Paso a few days ago in quest of sport and excitement. After hunting all over the city for a skating rink he was informed by a policeman that the nearest rink was up at Carrizozo. Mr. Johnson therefor packed his grip and came back home. He avers that Carrizozo has El Paso skinned in more ways than one.

Mr. Harry Dowson of the Carrizozo Bank, returned home on Saturday evening after a three weeks vacation to Los Angeles and other places of interest along the coast. He claims to have enjoyed his trip immensely and also improved his health. He came back with a good supply of fish stories fresh from the coast.

On last Saturday night the air tank connected with the lighting apparatus in Chas. Stokes' barber shop exploded and put the light out of commission. Stokes claims the tank burst from an excessive air pressure stored inside the tank but numerous customers who were in the shop attribute the cause to the line of "hot air" Charley was spiling.

"Charley" Adams offers to challenge "Doc" Paden's Ice Wagon for a 30 yd. dash, to take place here on the 4th. of July. "Charley" feels so sure of winning that he is willing to bet anything from a "nickle" to "two bits".

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pound, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hall, Mrs. Pound's parents, returned to their home in Harrington Arizona, on Sunday last.

Mr. J. P. Hardin, general manager for the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, whose home office is at Alamogordo, was in town on a business visit last Saturday.

Mr. George W. Hall made a business trip to Lincoln the first part of this week.

Mr. Howard Hall has accepted a position as agent for the Bankers Life Insurance Company. Mr. Hall is a hustler and we are sure that he will make a success of his new undertaking.

Co-Operative Observer.

N. H. Dudley of Alamogordo, is a visitor in our city this week.

James Dean is suffering from a badly swollen knee.

The Tennis Club has reorganized and are making extensive improvements on their new grounds.

Mr. H. S. Campbell and wife returned home on Tuesday from a fishing trip on the Rio Grande.

Doc Tice, of Clowderoft, arrived here on Tuesday to accept a position with the Carrizozo Bar.

TAFT Ohio Man Nominated on First Ballot

Chicago, Ill., June 18.—The first regular ballot after the nominations resulted as follows:

Taft, 703; LaFollette, 25; Foraker 16; Cannon, 61; Fairbanks, 40; Knox, 8; Hughes, 63; Roosevelt, 3; Total 979.

The nomination of Taft was made unanimous and the convention adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow, when a vice president will be nominated.

The convention was wildly enthusiastic when the nomination of Taft was announced and the delegates danced and shouted and sang.

It was an inspiring and patriotic scene.

The full committee on resolutions adopted and agreed to report favorably in the Republican national platform, a separate statehood plank for Arizona and New Mexico, thus reversing the subcommittee's action.

Mr. Ira D. Wetmore left to-day for El Paso to bring back the first Reo automobile to be placed in the new garage which is in course of construction.

What this community wants is a few more live hustling men like Mr. Wetmore.

The ball team could not make connections with the Alamogordo team for next Sunday so we will have a game on our home diamond between the regular team and a "scrub" team.

Ziegler Bros are making preparations to move into their new building on Alamogordo Avenue soon.

In his speech before the Republican National Convention at Chicago last Tuesday, Temporary Chairman, Senator J. C. Burrows, of Michigan, quoted some statistics that were highly interesting and we are confident will prove instructive to all our readers, for whose enlightenment we herewith produce: "Since the last national Republican convention, four years ago, our population has increased from 814 millions to 874 millions while 4 millions of immigrants from every quarter of the globe have found welcome in our shores and protection under our flag.

During the last four years our flocks and herds have increased in value from 2,917 millions dollars to 4,331 million.

The value of our farm products from 5,917 to 7,412 millions.

The output of coal from 74 millions ton to 90 million.

Our product of gold from 74 millions of dollars to 90 millions.

The accumulation in savings banks of 2,815 million dollars in 1903 was augmented to 3,496 millions in 1907.

The deposits on all banks in 1903, aggregating 9,553 million dollars, reached the fabulous sum of 13 million in 1907, an increase of 3,548 million dollars in four years.

Two million of spindles in our cotton mills were added, and the domestic cotton used in our factories in 1907 amounted to over 5 million bales, as against 3,924,000 bales in 1903.

The importation of raw silk to supply our mills increased from a little over 15 million pounds in 1903 to nearly 19 million pounds in 1907.

In spite of the disquieting conditions incident to the regulation of rates on the interstate railroads, 20 thousand miles of new track have been added in the past four years.

The tonnage of vessels passing through Salt Ste. Marie canal has increased from 28 millions in 1903 to 44 millions in 1907.

The output of pig iron, the barometer of trade, in 1907 was 25,781,000 tons, as against a little over 18 million tons in 1903, and our exports of iron and steel increased from $96,642,000 in 1903 to $181,521,000 in 1907.

The cotton bales wrought in American mills from our domestic fiber consumed in 1903 3,924 million bales, while in 1907 we acquired more than 5 millions.

Our exports from manufacture advanced from 468 million dollars in 1903 to 740 millions in 1907.

Our imports of raw material for use in domestic manufacture increased from 330 million dollars in 1903 to 477 millions in 1907, while our exports in the calendar year of 1907 were nearly 2 billion dollars, an increase of 30 per cent over those of four years ago."

The El Paso Evening News is one of the vilest and most loathsome "muck-raking" sheets with which the people of the southwest are afflicted. Its sense of righteousness and fair play is as limited as is its regard for veracity or facts. Masquerading under a pretext of being interested in the welfare of the "outraged public", its columns overflow with "space-filling matter" absolutely disgusting to any fair-minded reader. The following article, clipped from their issue of June 17th, and bearing the caption "Why This Man Taft", is a fair sample of the narrow and prejudicial view it is prone to take of political matters, and while its influence will be felt in such matters just about as much as would Hostetter's almanac, we feel that attention might be called to the position of the paper in this instance as a fair sample of its every day rot:

"Who is William Howard Taft and what has he done that he should receive the mantle of Theodore Roosevelt? What has he done that should merit him the credit of being Rooseveltian?"

"Taft appears to the country as a nonentity, and as a plodder who has done his master's bidding and never had any ideas of his own; who never had ideas of any kind that were not furnished him to order.

"He was once a federal judge and as such he made himself obnoxious by doing the bidding of corporations in exercising the vicious injunction power to rob citizens of their liberties. He was later ruler of the Philippines and still later secretary of war. That ends his record. In all these positions Taft did the bidding of those higher up and was never known to have any particularly original ideas of his own; especially was he prolific in initiative reform measures such as those which Roosevelt is turning to ready capital.

"Taft will not fit in the Roosevelt trousers and the sooner the country learns this the better."

Now the idea of a $15.00 a week ambulance chasing, scandal-hunting reporter, who has by force of circumstances to find a little filling-in matter, having the temerity to pen such an article about such a man, and that a newspaper published in such a lively, up-to-date and enterprising city as in El Paso, allowing such rot to enter its columns is demonstrative of the character of the paper.

But, as we have said before, the weight of their influence is so little that no concern need be felt as to their position in this or any other matter.

A New York clerk went on a two-day's vacation and his substitute discovered that he had embezzled $9,000. Here is further evidence that there is no rest for the wicked.

Doubtless D'Annunzio's impression that he will not die until 1909 is responsible for his having ordered that motor car with a speed of 50 miles an hour.

A Chester, Pa., man dreamed that he was being robbed, and when he awoke he found that his dream had come true. Still that wasn't much of a triumph.

It is almost impossible for one to imagine the inhuman punishment meted out to the person who provokes the least displeasure of a Russian court, and the gravity of the offense does not always regulate the severity of the punishment.

Recently three sacks of grain were stolen from the depleted granary of the village of Chalykh, a peasant town, and a peasant known to have revolutionary tendencies was charged with the theft. He protested his innocence, but prolonged torture forced a confession from him. The names of his accomplices were then demanded from him, but the unfortunate swore that he committed the theft alone until—red hot nails were hammered into his heels. Then he named his uncle, Bosykh, also a revolutionary. Bosykh was promptly arrested and was so cruelly beaten that in a few minutes he was a senseless mass, but still conscious. When he begged for a priest the village headman poured boiling tar into the dying man's mouth. The bodies of the two men were afterwards publicly exhibited as a warning example to revolutionists, thinking of stealing grain.

While such depredations as the stealing of grain in famine-stricken communities are of course to be discouraged and such offenses suitably punished, such a crime does not justify any such radical punishment, and it would be no more than right for our civilized nations to interfere and demand of Russia that she treat her prisoners—charged with theft, revolutionary tendencies or even treason—with a degree of humanity.

This story is told in the Macon Herald of the late Bishop W. W. Duncun of the Methodist Episcopal church.

When Bishop Duncun first went to Texas to preside at a conference there, he was suffering severely with hay fever. He was of a nervous disposition and referred to his malady with such frequency that it became a bit tiresome to the preachers. A brother got up to make a report, and in the course of it used the term "grass widow."

"Grass widow" cried the bishop. "I've heard that expression use half a dozen times since I've been here. I never heard it before. Will you please tell me sir, what a grass widow is?"

The offending brother looked as calm and as serious as an undertaker during the storm of laughter which the bishop's speech had developed. When things quieted down he said very gently:

"A grass widow, bishop, is a woman whose husband has died with hay fever."

The American Bar Association tabled indefinitely a resolution declaring that "the unwritten law is the word of God," thereby administering a severe shock to excitable gentlemen and professional pistol-toters.

It is said that a good way to ward off seasickness is to hold a looking-glass in front of the face. We know some men whom that treatment would make sicker than ever the sea could do.

A western man has invented a bottle that cannot be re-filled. Now let the geniuses devote themselves to invent a bottle that won't need re-filling.

CARRIZOZO WON

On Sunday last the Carrizozo Base Ball Team, along with about fifty of our local fans and rooters, journeyed to White Oaks to play the White Oaks team, which they conquered by a close score of 3 to 2. The game proved very interesting from start to finish. Not a man from the mining camp reached 2nd base till the eight inning which shows that the boys were playing fast ball.—In fact they just eat the game.—Of course the battery for Carrizozo was Crow and Van Schoyck, but just to show the people that they are "all round" ball players, they changed about and "Van" pitched while Crow did loyal work behind the stick.

The game from the start was a pitchers battle and they got the best of support.

That "Water wagon wonder, I've heard it remarked, just eats the ball, and I don't doubt it, you can't fool him even at the bat. Crow proved himself to be a catcher as well as a "twirler" and he also showing that he knew how to spin the ball out of the diamond, as he started the ball rolling in the 6th.

Then Hall came to the bat (and let me say that that boy knows a thing or two about the National game) and taking a "southpaw" position at the "rubber" swaked the sphere out far in the right field.

Then "Tex" the boy that held down first base knocked a single, which filled the bases. It was then that Clay showed what he knew about the game, he came to the bat and waited 'till he got one his "size" and when he did he nailed it square in the middle and brought in Crow and Hall. "Doc" Paden's single brought in "Tex." "Van" got "nipped" at 3rd. "Phoe" singled, while Bond (who took Adam's place after the latter got hit) struck out and "Gun" popped a fly to 2nd, making 3 runs in the "Lucky 6th."

The two runs of White Oaks were made in the 8th. Inning by Jones, Talerferis and "Will" Gallacher. The White Oaks team was strangled by "Tonjee", the catcher, who has been catching ball for the past eight years around Brooklyn and New York, and with "Tonjee" behind the bat, "Willie" could let out all of his steam, which he did to a "fan-tail finish."

AUTO SERVICE

On Tuesday evening of this week in the office of the Carrizozo Townships Company there was held a meeting of a number of local hustlers for the purpose of organizing a stock company to operate a local auto garage.

The meeting was a fine one and a decided success. The capital stock of the company was all subscribed and paid in, officers for the coming year were elected and contract for the garage was let. The latter will be located on the corner of Third Street and El Paso Avenue, and the officers of the company will be at the same place. Mr. Frank English was awarded the contract to contract the building.

The company expects to have several cars of the Reo make, and expect to have the first one to be here and ready for use within the next ten days.

They will also be salesagents for this car in this county and will be glad to demonstrate its superior qualities to any one anticipating the purchase of a machine.

For bread that will please the most particular, try Queen of Kansas flour, Skinner sells it.

Nominating Speech

Words of Senator Burton Placing the Name of Hon. Wm. H. Taft Before the Convention as Nominee for President

In the Republican convention at Chicago, Thursday, Senator Burton presented in nomination for Republican candidate for President the name of Hon. Wm. H. Taft, of Ohio. The nomination was made in the following strain:

This convention enters upon the grave responsibility of selecting a presidential candidate with the serene assurance that the Republican party will continue to rule the people. What assembled multitude in any land has ever pointed the way to such beneficent results for home and for the progress of the whole human race, as the recurring conventions of this grand old organization? Yet we do not rely alone upon the record of that which it has accomplished. We emphasize, even more, its supreme qualification to solve the problems of the present.

It is especially appropriate that this gathering should be held in this velour city of Chicago, where the steel hands of commerce reach out in every direction, over plain and river and mountain, to all boundless distance, bringing to the richest treasures of a continent to lay them at your feet. Here it was that the righteous uprising against slavery and barbarism sprang from the nation's conscience, raised its first triumphant voice when Abraham Lincoln was nominated. And here, again, with notes of thunderous acclaim, enraptured throngs greeted the naming of Garfield, of Blain, of Harrison, and of Roosevelt.

Again Ohio presents a candidate to the Republican National Convention. In seven stubbornly contested presidential campaigns, sons of her sacred soil have led the embattled Republican hosts to victory. The Buckeye state has surely contributed her share of statesmen and generals for the upbuilding of the nation. But that of which we are still prouder is her stalwart citizenship—the mightiest bulwark of the republic in every commonwealth—made up of America's free yeoman, ever ready to respond to the tocsin of alarm in the days of peril, or to crush corruption whenever it raises its menacing head. From this citizenship, Ohio, in the supreme emergency of the civil war, sent forth more than two hundred thousand soldiers for our country's defense, a formidable array easily surpassing in numbers the world-conquering legions of Imperial Caesar, and even larger than any army ever mustered by Britain for the field. But transcendent above all is the fact that Ohio is one of a matchless union of states linked together in everlasting bonds of amity and constituting an empire wonderful in power and almost immeasurable in extent. Each sovereign state alone would occupy but a subordinate place in the great current of the world's events, but when represented by one of forty-six bright stars on a field of stainless blue, every one forms part of an emblem of union and of strength more beautiful far than the most brilliant constellation in the heavens.

We welcome the friendly rivalry of candidates from other states from the great Empire state, the Keystone state, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, forming with Ohio a broad expanse extending in unbroken sweep from old ocean to the uppermost bound of the greatest of inland seas. Each of these presents a leader whose achievements and renown are not confined to the narrow limits of a single commonwealth. Today with fervid earnestness we wage a contest for the prize. Tomorrow, united for the fray and quickened by a common zeal, the champions of all the candidates will go forth with mounting enthusiasm to vanquish the foe.

The most perplexing questions of today arise from the bountiful development of our material wealth. Such a development can not occur without the creation of inequalities and dangers to the social fabric. I most strenuously deny that the American business man or the American citizen cherishes lower standards than the citizens of any other country. The American people are by no means depraved. But by reason of their busy absorption in varied pursuits and of the glamour which attends success in great undertakings, questionable methods have been able to engraft themselves upon the business of the country. Rich rewards have too frequently been gained by some who are none too scrupulous. Monopoly, dishonesty and fraud have assumed a prominence which calls for the earnest attention and condemnation of every man who truly loves the republic.

Against all these abuses and in the work for restoring old ideals of honesty and equality, as well as for higher standards of civic duty, one man has stood pre-eminent, and that man is Theodore Roosevelt. Against corruption in every form he has set his face with grim determination, prompt and fearless in action and with intelligent leadership which has assured the establishment of a better era in which the strong and the weak alike must submit themselves to the impartial execution of the law. There was need of a strong, courageous spirit to restrain those destructive forces which have asserted themselves in this time of growth and plenty. The story of his achievements will make up one of the brightest pages in the history of this or any age and will prove that today, as in any critical hour of social unrest or of danger, the man will appear who can grapple with the emergency.

Who so fit to take up the tasks which this wondrous generation demands should be wisely and impartially performed as his great war secretary? Since the day when, in Benjamin Harrison's administration, these two first met—the one as solicitor general, the other as a member of the civil service commission—they have been bound together by like ideals and aims, by close ties of friendship, and by exchange of mutual counsel, each with his own individuality and characteristics keeping constantly in view the ennobling vision of a better America.

They have not been satisfied that the temple of prosperity should be decked alone by the jewels of the fortunate and the opulent, but have insisted that it should still more abound in thopples which commemorate the enforcement of even-handed justice and the maintenance of that equal opportunity which spreads hope and blessing even to the humblest lane. Since the day when, less than thirty years ago, Mr. Taft denounced, with burning words, a member of his profession who had been guilty of flagrantly vicious practices and had demoralized the community, he has ever associated with the cause of true reform—with that reform which will not content itself with academic dissertation or hollow words. He has been imbued with the spirit of action. His advocacy of sounder conditions has never arisen from a desire for the exploitation of himself. It has always been based upon unswerving integrity and the courage to speak the truth, as he understands it on all occasions, no matter how influential or powerful the evils which he may attack.

No one has ever yet assumed the presidential chair who had received a more ideal preparation for the duties of that great office. As judge in state and federal courts, as solicitor general, as governor of the Philippines, as secretary of war, which has included the work of colonial secretary and director of public works, he has received his training and has always shown himself master of the situation and competent to make more honorable and beloved the American name. There have been no years of inaction in his career. He has been continuously engaged in weighty tasks and each successive service has been characterized by an increasing influence upon most vital questions.

In our domestic affairs, in whatever position he has held, he has displayed the rare union of a judicial temperament with an unsurpassed gift for administrative management. To him belongs the extremely valuable faculty of eliminating the non-essential from the complicated problems and going directly to their substance. His capacity for work is enormous, yet quite as helpful is his equable temperament, which will not allow the annoyances of life to distract or hamper him. Although of an aggressive personality, he possesses an infinite good nature, a charm of manner and a poise which have made him a model for exalted station. In the final analysis even the highest officials must be judged as men, and under this criterion Secretary Taft is now and will ever be known for his broad sympathies with every grade of humanity and as one invariably actuated by the democratic spirit which should characterize a progressive American. And yet no one can for a moment hesitate to recognize his severity in dealing with wrongdoing. While no honest enterprise need fear him, no dishonest scheme could hope to hide from the light or to escape punishment.

More than any other of our public men he has had to do with our outlying dependencies and colonial relations. It was he who took in charge the prosecution of that colossal enterprise on the Isthmus, the canal uniting the lesser and the greater oceans, and under his directing hand the completion of this most stupendous of public works is no longer a vague and distant hope, but an imminent reality. With his ever-ready skill as a pacifist, he restored tranquility in the fertile island of Cuba, so often distracted by civil strife. In the far-off Philippines, under a blazing tropical sky, he found a people of many races and tribes, degraded by centuries of misrule and oppression; and there, too he not only established the rule of law and local control in place of confusion and bloody strife, but the way to self-government, and a new recognition of the rights of the peoples and races, like individuals, under the inspiration of a friendly guide, may lift their faces heavenward and seek to climb the great world's altar stairs to nobler heights of liberty and opportunity. It is to his lasting honor that his desire was not to be known as 'Taft', the Pro-Consul, but as Taft, the Father of the Philippines. He brought them to the light of modern civilization.

In the larger sphere of world politics, we are entering into new and closer bonds with all the nations of the earth. Who is better qualified than he to lead America to her true position in this later day when the boundaries established in the century with the conditions in the distant and the kingdoms and races are beginning to realize that they have all one common destiny?

Secretary Taft has exceptional familiarity with conditions in the distant Orient—in Japan, in China. We may rest assured that our traditional friendship with Japan will continue. Moreover, the future promises that the slumbering millions of China will awake from this lethargy of ages, and she will then realize that the morning dawn of a fresher life and wider outlook comes to her across the broad Pacific from free America, her true friend and helper. We covet no portion of her territory. We desire from her, as from all nations, increased good will and that respect which knows neither bluster nor cringing on either side. Thus in this new era of larger relations, Secretary Taft, with his comprehension of national and international subjects, would furnish a certainty of peace and sustained prestige. Under him, at home and everywhere this mighty people would have an assured confidence in the secure development and progress of the country and would rest safe in the reliance that a chief executive was at the helm who, in peace or in war, would guide the destinies of the nation with a strong hand and with a gentle, patriotic heart.

And so today, in the presence of more than ten thousand, and with the inspiring thought of the well-nigh ten thousand times ten thousand who dwell within our borders, I nominate for the presidency that perfect type of American manhood, that peerless representative of the representative of the noblest ideal in our national life, William H. Taft, of Ohio.

The people of our little city owe it to themselves, their neighbors and the community to keep their yards and property in as presentable condition as possible, and should evidence more pride in the cleanliness of their yards. The Fourth of July will soon be here and many out-of-town visitors will be with us that day. Now get busy and clean up. Collect all the old tin cans, paper, ashes and other rubbish from your lots and put it in a pile in front of the property. A wagon will collect all such trash and haul it away free of charge. Mr. Wetmore of the Townsite Company, has authorized us to announce that he will have this done, and the people should show their appreciation of his generosity by complying with the above suggestion.
