Obituary.

Mrs. Lydia Goodin Ellis was a native of Missouri and came to Lincoln county in the early '80's and with her husband settled on what is known as the T—X ranch near Oscuro, where she has resided continuonsly since that time. In 1889 her first husband, F. M. Goodin died at Fort Stanton, where he had been to be cared for by the Fort doctors, and was buried in the cemetery at the fort.

She subsequently married Noah Ellis who died in Texas about 1899.

She is survived by three children, Mart L. Goodin, of Oscuro, Frank M. Goodin, of Three Rivers, and Mrs. Frank Calfee, of Three Rivers.

She was possessed of considerable property in the town of Roswell as well as the ranch and cattle in this county.

Mrs. Ellis was well and favorably known by all the early settlers of Lincoln county, her ranch on the main road from this region to Three Rivers and Tularosa, being always a stopping place for travelers and her open hearted hospitility extended to travelers was a pleasant memory to all who passed that way.

The remains were taken to El Paso for interment on Wednesday.

PAT GARRETT KILLED

WAYNE BRAZEL SHOOTS NOTED EX-SHERIFF AND CLAIMS SELF DEFENCE

From the El Paso Herald we take the following account of the killing of the well-known ex-sheriff of this county:

"Las Cruces, N. M., Feb. 29, '08. Pat Garrett, slayer of Billy the Kid, one of the most noted western peace officer, former collector of customs at El Paso, and known personally to more prominent men in the southwest than almost any other citizen of the territory, was killed today between ten and eleven o'clock, five miles east of this city, by Wayne Brazel.

The details of the killing were meager, but Brazel says it was in self defence. Brazel is now in jail at Las Cruces, having come to the city immediately after the killing, where he surrendered to Sheriff Lucero.

A coroner's jury was at once impaneled and started for the scene of the killing. It is stated that Garrett was shot twice in the head, Brazel using a revolver. Brazel stated, when he arrived here, that Garrett pulled a shot gun and started to fire at him, when he drew his revolver and shot in self-defence. Brazel was on horse-back, accompanied by a friend, and Garrett was in a buggy with a man named Miller. All were coming towards Las Cruces, when Brazel overtook Garrett, and it is said that a quarrel over range matters was renewed with the result, according to Brazel, that Garrett reached for his gun to shoot, whereupon Brazel drew his revolver and fired.

Brazel is a nephew of W. W. Cox, owner of the San Augustine ranch, in the Organ mountains east of Las Cruces. Garrett's ranch is in that section of the country, too, and it is said that there has been trouble between Garrett and Brazel for some time over a lease of some grazing land. Garrett received an anonymous letter while in El Paso about a week ago, it is said, stating that he was to be killed, and at that time is said to have told friends in El Paso that he expected there would be trouble yet between the goat and cattle men.

Garrett was appointed collector of customs at El Paso, on December 4, 1902, and served till early in of 1906. He was named by President Roosevelt as a compromise didate, there having been several applicants from El Paso and Republicans here being divided. Garrett did not claim citizenship here, but the president contended that as the district embraced all of New Mexico the appointment belonged as much to New Mexico as to Texas. The president knew of Garrett as a fearless man and was a great admirer of the collector, whom he summoned to the white house when he gave him the appointment. The president often wrote Garrett personal letters during the latter's term of office. He refused to reappoint Garrett, when his term expired, however, and named A. L. Sharpe for the position early in 1906, when Mr. Garrett retired to his ranch in New Mexico ssme miles eastward from Las Cruces. Garrett frequently visited El Paso, however, and was here only a few days ago.

Garrett was one of the best known men in the west and enjoyed the acquaintance of many men of prominence. He was a personal friend to Gen. L. Wallace, formerly Governor of New Mexico, and author of 'Ben Hur.' He was also a friend of Emerson Hough, the novelist, and about three years ago made a camping trip with Hough over the Pecos country, where he once had jurisdiction as sheriff and Hough wrote a series of articles on the days when Garrett was suppressing the cattle rustlers, including the incident killing of 'Billy the Kid.' Amon other personal friends of the deceased is Gov. George Curry, of New Mexico, Col. W. C. Greene, and others of note

Garrett's family moved from El Paso to Las Cruces when he gave up the collectorship and it is stated that they moved out to the ranch only Monday of this week. One of his daughters, Miss Elizabeth, a graduate of the school for the blind, at Austin, is an accomplished musician and lives in El Paso. Her sister, Annie, lives here with her.

Garrett was a sheriff in New Mexico for many years, first serving back in the 80's in Lincoln county, when it embraced all the Pecos country and later Dona Ana and suppressed the cattle rustlers of the section at risk of his life. While he was sheriff of Lincoln county he captured Billy the Kid and was taking him to the penitentiary at Santa Fe. At Lamy junction, a mobheld them up and demanded of Garrett that he surrender the Kid, saying that they wished to hang him. Garrett seemingly quiesced and shouted to the engineer to run up to the sidetrack and shun the car which he and the Kid were occupying onto a sidetrack. The giving the prisoner one of his own guns, he told him to help him defend the car. When they arrived at the switch, he changed his orders to the engineer and ordered him to pull out for Santa Fe at full speed. A fusilade of bullets followed after the engine and car, but they were soonout of danger, and, after again disarming his prisoner, Garrett delivered him to the penitentiary official. Kid escaped and again commenced his depredations, and it was Garrett's duty to again capture him, but the sheriff had to kill him to do it. In his own words to Emerson Hough he told of the killing as follows:

'This is the place,' said he pointing at one corner of the grass-grown oblong, where the old building had stood. 'Pete Maxwell's bed was here in this corner of the room, and I was sitting in the dark and talking to Pete, who was in bed. The Kid passed John Poe and Tip McKinney my deputies, right over there was then the gallery, and came on through the door here. He could not tell who I was. 'Pete', he whispered, 'who is it?' He had his a double action .41, in his hand, and he motioned toward me with it as he spoke, still not recognizing me. 'That was about all there was to it. I supposed he would shoot me, and all leaned over to the left so that he would hit me in the right side and not kill me so dead but what I could kill him too. I was not a shade too quick for himm. His pistol went off as he fell, but I don't suppose he ever knew who killed him, or how he he was killed.'

It was always Garrett's boast that he would die with his boots on, and in support of that statement, it is said that he was quicker on the draw than any man who ever faced him, where drawing was in order. He used to tell it on himself that one time while driving from Carlsbad in a buckboard with a friend with of chickens on the rear, that one of the roosters made a sound like at least to the ears of these two men, accustomed to holdups and desperadoes, it sounded like it. They were driving through a scrub oak growth at the time and Mr. Garrett has said that he never got his firing arms into position ready for use quicker in his life than that time when the rooster made that sound.

Later advices inform us that Brazel has been placed under a bond of $10,000 to await the action of the grand jury. Garretts funeral was very largely attended by the people from the community in which he had resided and many prominent

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

A call has been issued for a precinct primary for the electing of a delegate to the Republican convention at Lincoln. The time for the primary is at 10 a. m. on the 10th of this month at the U. S. Recruiting office. All the Republican voters in the precinct should be on hand and assist in this primary.

MEETINGS CLOSE

Rev. Spillman, who was conducting the protracted meeting at the Baptist church with such success, was unexpectedly called home on business matters of great necessity. He expects to return at some time during the summer and hold a series of tent meetings. We are informed that there were 23 conversions during the week he was here.

FOR SALE

LOCAL MENTION

If you see it here it happened

Charles Spence returned yesterday from El Paso, where he spent a few days on business.

Lee H. Rudesille of White Oaks, was a business visitor in our town yesterday.

W. R. White and Ed Pflington, of Nogal, were pleasant visitors at this office this morning.

Hon. A. H. Hudspeth, of White Oaks, was in our town on business Monday afternoon.

Judge Edward A. Mann, passed through on the limited Saturday evening enroute to Santa Fe; where he sat as one of the judges in an adjourned session of Supreme court.

John Gallacher was in from the ranch a few days the first of this week watching the town grow.

M. P. Martinez and J. A. Will, of Durah, were in town Monday and purchased a printing outfit of the Carrizozo Publishing Company, with the intention of starting a paper of the new division town under the name of the Torrance County Times. These gentlemen are hustlers, and both are well acquainted with the field and the business into which they are about to embark. We predict for them a brilliant success.

Robert Hurt, of Capitan, was in town on Business Wednesday, and made a pleasant call at this office. He expressed much interest in the manufactuge of type as practiced in this office.

J. O. Nabours, of Three Rivers, was a pleasant caller at this office Wednesday.

E. D. Fred has erected a residence on his homestead near town and will soon be a regular farmer, as he anticipates moving the first of the week.

H. S. Campbell and wife and Ira O. Wetmore and wife left Tuesday for New Orleans and other points south and east on an extended pleasure trip.

Mrs. N. S. Rose and her sister, Miss Lillie Dow, left last Saturday for Estancia, where they will make an extended visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dow.

Among the improvements which have been made during the past week is the stand pipe for furnishing water for the town until such time as the piping of the town can be done. Citizens wishing water can now obtain it by flagging the black mules as they make their regular rounds of the town.

The services at the bank building last Sunday were largely attended, and all seemed to enjoy a pleasant evening with the choir. It was inspiring to hear the men of the congregation singing alone.

The Brown rooming house has recently changed hands, and will hereafter be known as the City Hotel. Mr. W. H. Hill is the new proprietor, and informs us that he is going to remodel the house, put in a dining-room and be prepared to furnish his patrons with first class accomodations.

The secretary's report of the M. E. Sunday-school last Sunday shows an attendance of 58 and a collection of $5.21. They expect to organize three new classes next Sunday, and the people of the town and vicinity [illegible] Sunday until the greater pa[illegible] not be sold and which can only be leased will be so leased and form a permanent and handsome source of revenue, the proceeds of which will go towards the maintaining of the educational institutions, charitable and penal institutions, for which these land donations were made by Congress. —New Mexican.

The business of New Mexico district courts is steadily increasing and hence the creation of a seventh judicial district is necessary for a more prompt administration of justice and the determination of civil cases. The bill introduced by Delegate W. H. Andrews in the house of Representatives creating the seventh judicial district to consist of the counties of Grant, Luna and Socorro will likely become law. —New Mexican.

AS IF

BY MAGIC

The town of Carrizozo has grown up from the Plain, where, a little over a year ago there was nothing but a depot and water tank.

There is a reason for this wonderful growth, and the same natural conditions which caused it will lead to a development within the next five years which has no equal in the history of the west.

A sample of Vegetables and Grain grown in the Carrizozo Valley without Irrigation, on sod ground plowed up last year for the first time.

A NATURAL RAILWAY CENTER

It will be the crossing point of two or more roads.

The center of a vast mining region it will be the site for mills and smelters, iron furnaces and marble works, supporting thousands.

Surrounded by one of the richest valleys in the southwest, it will be the trading point for farmers and fruit growers—a shipping point for poultry, stock and fruit—a city of thousands.

We are now offering inside lots at prices that will give the purchaser a fortune in the near future. We also hand e mining and ranch property, and locate settlers on government land.

LOCAL MENTION

If you see it here it happened

J. R. Brought, typewriter expert, came in from the south yesterday and took the train for Capitan and Lincoln.

W. H. Earhes was in town on business Wednesday.

Kohlberg, the cigar man from El Paso, was transacting business here Wednesday.

John McDonald, the former conductor has returned from West Ft. Williams, Ont. He got in the first of the week and expresses much surprise at the growth of our town during his absence.

Geo. B. Barber was in town Wednesday and yesterday.

Capt. D. W. Roberts and wife, of Oscuro, were in town the first of the the week on a shopping tour

J. W. McConnell returned home Sunday from a very successful trip of two weeks writing life insurance

H. B. Hamilton, of Lincoln, was in town Monday.

John Owen, of Lincoln was in our city on business matters last Monday.

J. O. Nabors, of Three Rivers, was here on business Monday.

Marriep Monday at the Catholic church, Miss. Aurilinna Hernandez and Abran Chavez, both of this city. Rev. Father Girma officiating.

John Craft returned Sunday from a short hunting trip into the mountains.

G. S. Lassater returned from his eastern trip the first of the week and is again at his usual place in the depot.

J. H. Canning returned Saturday last from New York, Chicago and other eastern cities where he has been buying goods for the enlarged store of the Carrizozo Trading Company.

William Kahler, Jr., and family moved to their ranch north of town Monday preparatory to beginning spring work

The attendance at the M. E. Sunday school reached the 100 mark on last Sunday. Three new classes were organized and about thirty new scholars were reported. There will be two more new classes organized as soon as the new seats arrive.

The fourth monthly meeting of the Bible class will be held in the Bank Building on Wednesday evening, March 11. The subject for discussion will be "The Constitution for the new state of New Mexico." All are invited to attend and take a part in the discussion.

There will be a three days mission at the Catholic church at Carrizozo, (known as the MacDonald school house) commencing March 20, with instructions at 7 p. m. On March 21 and 22 mass at 9 a. m. and instruction at 7 p. m. in English and Spanish, conducted by Rev. H. Brockman, of Roswell, and Rev J. H. Girma, of Lincoln.

There will be special music at thhe Methodist services in the Bank building next Sunday evening, by the Carrizozo Male Quartette. All should come out and hear the singing and the sermon it accompanies.

Deputy sheriff McAdams of Corona was a business visitor in our town yesterday.

In this issue appears the ad of Anderson and Demoville painters and paper hangers. These gentlemen intend to do all classes of painting and decorating, and persons wishing to renovate their houses for the spring will do well to see them.

The little daughter of W. T. Henley is quite ill, of pneumonia as we go to press.

J. Babcock has sold his cleaning works to Charles C. Reed, who will occupy the building recently erected just east of the Outlook office.

The work done by Mr. Reed is first class, and it is a matter of economy to have a suit which has become soiled cleaned up and get another good wear out of it instead discarding it and buying new.
