Squire J. E. Koonce, of Nogal, was in Carrizozo for a day or two during the present week on business and while here performed a marriage ceremony. The "Jedge" is a fine fellow, and we would be pleased to have him with us more often.

The Outlook has received news of the death at the Hotel Dieu, El Paso, last week of Cleto Pedrosa, the former proprietor of the "Port of Cuba" restaurant. Mr. Pedrosa had been in poor health for several months and was removed to the El Paso institution but a few weeks ago by Father Girma, of Lincoln.

The Carrizozo Trading Co., by Mr. George Johnson, sold to Mr. Torres a fine 9-horse power gasoline engine on Friday of last week and the machine was unloaded at the local depot on Monday. The engine was of the well-known "Stover" make, and will be used by Mr. Torres in running his well drill at the head of the malpais.

County Surveyor Frank Theurer returned on Wednesday from a trip into the southeastern part of the county, where he had been on a trip making estimates on the cost of some extensive road work. He submitted a report to the Commissioners covering three plans and the county solons have the matter under consideration.

On Wednesday at 2 o'clock Squire J. E. Koonce, of Nogal, joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Mr. Luis Cavellas and Miss Leonor Meaz, at the home of Mr. Miguel Meaz, on the south side of the track. The young couple had their home furnished and ready to move into and have already gone to housekeeping. The Outlook wishes for them a happy and prosperous life.

And now its Squire S. W. Perry in fact. The County Commissioners at their special session on Monday of this week, in accord with a request by petition, appointed Mr Perry as Justice of the Peace, for Precinct No. 14 for the time intervening between now and when his regular term of office would have begun. Mr. Perry has qualified and is now in position to perform the duties of his office, and we feel confident he will prove an efficient and capable officer.

THE LAST LOAF

The second performance of "The Case of Sophronia" and "The Last Loaf" was given before a crowded house at Wetmore's Hall on last Friday night, and, as was the case before, gave perfect satisfaction.

Prof. Collins and his company of amatuer actors are entitled to a great deal of praise for their able rendition of these pieces and have demonstrated to our people that they can put on a piece with considerable of credit to themselves.

Not only was the performance a success from the point of entertainment but through it, the school fund has been substantially benefited from a financial point of view.

Prof. Collins has promised us more such entertainments in the near future and we wish for them the same brilliant success as has accompanied those already presented.

WHITE OAKS HUSTLERS

The following item was clipped from the El Paso Herald of January 14, and shows what one set of Lincoln county hustlers have been doing:

Jackson, Lane & Queen, who form the Wild Cat Leasing company, started about three years ago without a dollar in capital. They first leased the South Homestake mine and, being unable to buy coal or wood to produce power, they would climb 600 feet of ladders every day and pack powder, water and whatever they needed for the day on their backs to produce their first eight or ten mill runs

They made money from the start. After awhile they took a lease and bond on the North Homestake mine for one year and in less than that time they made enough clear money to pay for the mine, which was $15,000 or $20,000. They have developed some fine ore bodies and have a mine that is worth $75,000 or $100,000 of anybody's money The mill and mine are running full time right along.

These men deserve all the credit for making the camp what it is proving to be now, for they are certainly stayers and are bringing the camp to the front in gold producing. They have only ten stamps to crush their ore and of course can put nothing that won't run from $10 up. They have immense bodies of low grade ore that will run from $3 to $6 per ton, and have made a test run of 100 tons that averaged $5 per ton.

MASONIC INSTITUTION

The new masonic lodge was duly instituted and set to work by order of the Most Worshipful Grand Master, Chester D. Stevens, of Raton, New Mexico, on Thursday night the 21st. inst. and a large number of enthusiastic Masons from Carrizozo and surrounding cities had assembled to witness the ceremony. Prof. R. E. Hare of Agricultural College, New Mexico, the District Deputy Grand Master, performed the ceremony and instituted all the new officers of the new lodge. Several enthusiastic speeches were made and everybody present felt that they had spent a very pleasant evening together. The officers instituted are as follows:

Worshipful Master, William F. A. Gerke; Senior Warden pro-tem, Walter C. Miller; Junior Warden pro tem, Thomas B. Meek; Secretary, George W. Spence; Treasurer, Thomas B. Meek; Senior Deacon, A. G. Emerson; Junior Deacon, David W. Glenn; Senior Stewart, Jones Taliaferro; Junior Stewart, Elbert T. Collier; Tyler, Isaac I. Cavender.

After the institution, regular business was taken up, several committees appointed for the proper conduction of the lodge in the future. The next regular communication will be held on Saturday night the 30th. day of January 1909.

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF LINCOLN COUNTY
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY ERNEST D. FRED

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

One Year (in advance) $1.00
If not paid within six months $1.50

We gladly acknowledge the receipt of Volume 1, No. 1, of "The Homesteader," a new paper just launched at East Las Vegas, N. M. In its salutatory it gives promise of being another "booster" in the cause of the Sunshine Territory and we wish it great success.

Dispatches from Washington, D. C., under date of January 18, say that the Supreme Court of the United States have upheld the Texas courts and that a fine of $1,162,000 on the Water-Pierce Oil Co. is to stand and the company is to be denied the privelege of operating in the Lone Star State.

Representative Willett, of New York, is the last one of a string of notoriety-seekers who have adopted the plan of publicly condemning President Roosevelt and his acts. Mr. Willett's words in the House of Representatives on last Monday were positively repulsive and such conduct on the part of any man is to be deplored.

Well, Bro. Haley, we received yours of a week ago and please allow us to congratulate you upon your able efforts. You dodge the issue beautifully, and evidence an excellent memory of the past—immaterial although it may be. Future events may change matters slightly. If not we hope to keep "off the bum" for quite a period anyway, and trust you feel better with your system free from your last "disagreeable duty."

The supreme court last week affirmed the decision of the lower court by which Jap Clark is sentenced to seven years in the territorial penitentary for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Case at Torrance in 1906. The hearing before the supreme court was made of particular interest because of the argument entered by A. B. Renehan, attorney for Clark, in which he set forth that the conviction of Clark was an error because the trial was at Estancia, which, he held, was not the legally constituted county site of Torrance county.

There isn't a man or woman in Lincoln county that would not like to see our country advance, and yet not the least bit of effort is being made to secure advancement. Other communities are going ahead settling up and there are sections remote from railroads—real or prospective—where every acre of land is homesteaded, and where the land is far inferior to that around us. All this comes from action—live action—concerted action, and while we will ultimately get new people anyway, we will have them in half the time if we will but boost our section as others do theirs.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 18.—The thirty-eighth assembly of New Mexico organized at noon after territorial secretary Nathan Jaffa had sworn in the members. The council, consisting of nine Republicans and three Democrats, organized by electing Chas. A. Spiess president, Wm. N. Brogan, chief clerk and A. A. Senn enrolling and engrossing clerk, Thos. P. Gable sergeant at arms, Rev. G. Rendod, chaplain, Jos. E. Gallegos, messenger, P. O'Quin, watchman. The house organized by electing E. A. Miera, of Cuba, speaker. The other officers will include Charles V. Safford for chief clerk.

As an evidence of what our valley is missing we can but compare our position with that of numerous other sections. For instance, one gentleman who spent last Sunday night in Torrance, told us there were fully thirty-five families at the depot there that night who were bound for various points in the Estancia Valley. A dispatch from Kansas City says homeseekers bound for the southwest have virtually congested the Kansas City depot. Papers from many sections tell of a dozen families at a time invading their community—and this would apply to us if we would let the outside world know of our advantages.

It is interesting to get with a group of farmers here and broach the subject of crops, to elicit the varied ideas as to the best thing to raise on the mesa. Many will tell you that potatoes are the thing, others wheat, corn and this that and the other. Now, for the sake of those who are grouping in the dark and we are more or less, we desire to suggest that you examine into the Bean as a crop suitable for the mesa. The bean and pea has proven a mortgage lifter and home builder for the farmer in Colorado and the Panhandle of Texas both of which are very simular to this country in soil and climatic conditions. The greatest corn producing state in the union is Iowa and the average yield of the golden ears does not come much in excess of 30 bushels per acre. At 50 cents per bushel—it often sells for below this figure—it would make the farmer $15.00. The cost of raising gathering etc, is not less than $6 50 allowing a net profit of $9. 50 per acre. The average wheat is not over 15 bushels and this grain seldom commands $1.00 per bushel; the cost of producing is greater than corn thus the farmer realizes very little net returns from his land. Now, beans yeild on an average of 16 bushels per acre—and the price has averaged $1.50. This would leave a snug little profit of about $17.00 per acre for the producer. $7.00 will easily cover all cost of production. The value of the bean straw as food is high, better than oats or wheat. It is claimed it has no equal as a food to keep stock in good healthy condition. Besides the above advantages in raising the bean, it has the additional one of adding nitrogen to the soil, thus building up the land instead of tearing it down. Any soil that grows wheat will make beans and it is said that rich sandy loam are ideal being rich in lime and phosphate. Suppose our farmers devote a small patch to this crop. You can find which variety is best adopted to your use by writing to most any seed house.—Spanish-American.

CURRY'S RECOMMENDATIONS

Governor George Curry, in his message to the Legislative Assembly early in the week, made some excellent recommendations and gave conclusive proof of the fact that he was alert to the best interest of the advancement of the Territory.

The following extracts from his message are but a few of the many highly commendable utterances.

BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

The benefits to be derived from thorough advertising and exploitation in newspapers and magazines of large circulation and by the distribution of properly prepared literature, are now generally recognized by all of the western states, most of which have immigration departments whose duty it is to secure such advertising and to induce immigration and encourage development.

There is no section of the West so greatly in need of intelligent advertising as is New Mexico. We have the land, we have the resources and it is our duty to give them the fullest publicity. It is especially important that we should do this just now when the tide of immigration is setting toward the West and Southwest more strongly than ever before. New Mexico should leave nothing undone to secure its full share of this immigration. Moreover, as we are on the eve of statehood, proper advertising and publicity are vitally necessary.

The Bureau of Immigration has been well conducted in the past and has been of distinct benefit to the territory. I have no fault to find with the conduct of the work by the present Bureau. But the Bureau system is cumbersome and is not as effective as this department should be. The members of the Bureau are widely scattered over the territory and the expense it has been necessary to incur in bringing them together for meetings has been considerable. This expense, applied upon the salary of the secretary would enable the territory to secure the services of a competent man who could give his entire time to the work. The salary paid the secretary heretofore has not been sufficient to warrant a man competent to conduct the work in giving it all of his time.

I would therefore recommend that the Bureau of Immigration be abolished and that there be created in its place the office of Commissioner of Immigration, with sufficient salary to enable the territory to employ a competent man who can give his entire time to the work; and that the office be supplied with an appropriation large enough to enable the commissioner to visit and acquaint himself with all parts of the territory and their especial needs in advertising; and to secure the publication of articles in newspapers and magazines of large circulation, likely to encourage interest in the territory and to promote immigration development; and at the same time to prepare and circulate descriptive and statistical literature. Such a department, energetically conducted by a competent commissioner would be of greatest benefit during the next few years when the importance of proper and widespread publicity cannot be overestimated.

FOR GOOD ROADS

One of the essential features in the development of a new country is a means of easy access to every part thereof. While the development of the territory has been phenomenal during the past few years, it has been largely due to its natural resources. The needs and benefits to be derived from good roads are so well known that I will not mention them here. The existing needs of the territory are not so much for legislation providing for short crossroads if our present laws are carried out, as for more good roads to connect up the various cities and villages.

We are fortunate in having conditions most favorable to cheap construction of roads. We have good material for road building and our climatic conditions are most favorable to cheap after maintenance.

The cost of construction of good roads depends largely on location and the systematizing of the construction work to meet natural conditions, thereby necessitating the services of a competent engineer in the locating and construction of such work.

In looking over the statutes of the several states we are unable to find laws suited to our conditions and needs; therefore, I am going to suggest rather a new departure in good roads legislation and recommend the enactment of laws to carry out the following ideas:

Few of the counties are in such financial condition as to enable them to prosecute the work of constructing necessary good roads and bridges without assistance of some kind from the territory and I therefore recommend that your body consider the enactment of a law providing for a commission to be composed, for economy, of the Governor, the land commissioner and the territorial engineer, who shall serve without additional salary.

The creation of a good roads fund by an appropriation of sufficient amount to carry on such work.

That it shall be the duty of said commission to investigate the need for various roads either at their own initiative, or at the request of the board of county commissioners of any county; to determine what roads should be constructed and to co-operate with the various boards of county commissioners in their construction.

ON THE LIQUOR QUESTION

The liquor question will undoubtedly be placed before you by representatives of our best citizens for your careful consideration and effective legislation. A large number of people favor absolute prohibition, while others are opposed to any further legislation on the subject at present.

I recommend, however, that you pass a local option law, which will allow each community in the territory to decide for itself whether or not liquor shall be sold within its precincts. I consider this plan in harmony with the fundamental principle of American government.

I further recommend, in event of the passage of a local option law, that liquor licenses be substantially raised, and I suggest the creation of a territorial board whose duty it shall be to issue these licenses, and have complete jurisdiction over the liquor traffic of the territory. This board should be non-partisan in character. Its expense would amount to a sum much less than is now paid to the various county officers for collection of liquor licenses, and I believe that in thus centralizing the authority a better enforcement of the laws may be attained.

TO ABOLISH THE DEATH PENALTY

I recommend that capital punishment be abolished from the laws of this territory. It has been my personal observation that the poor unfortunate wretch, who has neither friends nor influence, is about the only one called upon to meet the grim demand of this law. The deliberate murderer has no fear of death; indeed his execution is often made the occasion of bravado on his part. The legal extinction of a human life does not restore the life of the victim of murder, and the demand of a life for a life in my opinion involves an element of revenge repugnant to civilization; else why does a community when a legal execution takes place within its precincts hang its head in shame and confusion and make every effort to suppress news of the event from publication? Neither has it been shown in the experience of any commonwealth that the enforcement of the death penalty has tended to reduce crime. I feel convinced, gentlemen, that effective legislation can be enacted whereby society may be protected from the dangerous criminal by means other than taking his life, and I trust you will give this recommendation your careful attention.

THE BOY DON'T SCARE

On last Sunday night while setting near his camp fire a young Mexican who herds goats for Mr. Chas. Henley near Sheeleyville was more than surprised when he heard nearby firing from a Winchester and seen his fire scatter from the bullets. But while he was surprised the young man was not frightened, and having a good idea of the whefore of such an act, he drew his revolver and continued to shoot into the surrounding darkness until his amunition was exhausted.

Then, leaving his herd, he walked over to Mr. Henley's house and told what had happened and asked his employer for more shells. Mr. Henley gave him a supply of cartridges and asked him if he was afraid to go back and stay alone. The young fellow was right on the job with his nerve and replied that he would stay all right if the boss would just keep him supplied with ammunition.

Mr. Henley informs us that he has a very good idea as to who the intruders were, and we opine from the appearance of a new Winchester and heavy supply of shells he took out with him on Monday that if they are anticipating a return they will find themselves "well met."
