Mrs. Chas. Read has been quite ill for the past week but is reported as being some better now.

The railroad business has been on a lull for a short time past and the boys have not been having it so heavy.

Misses Allie Johnson, Brass and French accompanied by Messrs. Brent Patten, George Johnson and Chas. McMasters formed an automobile party that attended a dance at White Oaks on last Friday night.

Walter Winfield has just completed a neat and comfortable little home on his place north and east of town. He is now digging a well and doing his fencing. The country surrounding our little city is surely advancing.

To stock several thousand acres in the Pennsylvania mountains with New Mexico Angora goats, thus furnishing a continuous outlet for the territorial stock into the eastern markets, is the project of E. D. Hershey, of Pennsylvania, who is in Albuquerque.

Several homesteads whose claimants are ignoring their duty toward them are in great danger of being contested. Like anyone else we dislike to see anyone loose their land, but if no attempt is made to conform to the law there is no reason why one should not be contested.

Jack Marin, who has a ten months sentence for an attempt on the life of W. G. McArthur at Monument, N. M. has twice attempted suicide while being held at Carlsbad. The first attempt was made by swallowing a dose of chloroform, but an emetic foiled him. The second attempt was by swallowing ground glass. He has been safely landed in the penitentiary.

At a special meeting of the city council Thursday afternoon in the office of the mayor, an ordinance was passed under suspension of the rules authorizing an issue of $290,000 sanitary sewer bonds of the city of Albuquerque in accordance with the result of the recent special election. The bonds are to be placed on sale March 1st next until o'clock p. m.

The Carlsbad Current in a recent issue, exposes a fake veterinary surgeon named Shive. If he is found and any one thinks he might be a veterinary, just ask that he write an intelligent prescription or take him to any druggist and have him examined as to his ability to read and write one. It is claimed he killed eight horses in Carlsbad before he was found out.

The Albuquerque and Bernalillo county schools celebrated the anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. This date hereafter will be known as "New Mexico day" and is calculated to instill patriotism in the hearts of the chidren. It was by this treaty in 1848 that New Mexico became a part of the United States.

Attorney George Spence and associates are having three wells drilled north of the head of the malpais in an endeavor to secure a sufficient amount of water for their large flocks of sheep. They are already the possessors of quite a bunch of wool producers and are buying more all the time.

Mr. Edgar D. Park, representing the New Mexico Realty Company, of Santa Fe, N. M., has been in Carrizozo for the past few days looking over the ground and sizing up the greatest need of our little city with a view to making our people a proposition toward helping the community advance. Mr. Park is a gentlemanly young fellow, represents a good concern and will doubtless have something of interest for our people in the near future.

The official proceedings of the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress, just from the press at Albuquerque, form one of the most attractive volumes of the kind ever issued, and the volume is far and away the most interesting of any of the annual printed records of the congress. The book was edited by Ralph E. Twitchell, secretary of the board of control and vice president of the congress.

There was a slight wreck about nine miles west of here, near Polly station, last Sunday Frieght train No. 91, westbound, was going along at a fair rate of speed when the arch bar on the engine broke and jumbled things up quite a bit. The track was torn up quite a little distance and delayed passenger train No. 1 had to be held here for about three hours waiting for the track to be cleared. Fortunately no one was injured.

NEW GROCERY STORE

Mr. Walter Winfield, well and favorably known to most of our citizens has rented the store room formerly occupied by Ziegler Bros. on Alamogordo Avenue and will put in a fine line of staple and fancy groceries. Mr. Winfield is an old and experienced grocery man and is well qualified to know and cater to the wants of the public in his line. He has been in our town for about two years, has been employed in the various stores of the community and has cultivated a large and pleasant acquaintanceship. We wish and predict success for him in undertaking and are confident he is deserving. He informs us that he hopes to have his place open for business by the 15th of the present month.

BARNARDO SALAZAR DIES

Barnardo Salazar, one of the oldest and best known citizens of the county died at his home at Lincoln on last Saturday Mr. Salazar was at one time Probate Judge of Lincoln county and was well and favorably known to most of our old timers. He was 68 years of age and died of Pheumonia.

Hamilton in the house introduced a resolution setting February tenth for the statehood bill to be read. After two hours' general debate a vote will be taken and final passage without an intervening motion or appeal will result.

A duck lays just as many eggs in a season as does a hen, lays them in a bunch too; but the duck slips off into the water and don't advertise the fact when a hen gets riglit up and advertises her goods to the very best of her ability. That's why the hen eggs are in demand and the duck egg goes begging. Advertise your business and grow rich.—Alamogordo News.

The Santa Fe New Mexican is everlastingly making great claims of ideal weather for the Capitol City and just last week one of Alamogordo's papers was lamenting the fact that Alamo had no government weather reporting station—feeling confident that that town was blessed with as perfect weather as is any, but the fact of the matter is that New Mexico weather in general, and no spot in the Territory in particular, is just about ideal. With the big dailies telling us of great storms, blizzards and cold waves all over the central and eastern parts of the country, of railroad tie-ups and telegraph wires rendered useless, of death and destitution, cold and suffering and general discomfort, we are more than ever inclined to pat ourselves on the back and bless the day we lit in the Sunshine Territory.

Old Abe Neversweat sat on his haunches in the sun yesterday and predicted a great panic for this country, he bummed another chew of Navy and started out for fresh predictions of hard times when an old grey headed fellow stopped up and asked for volunteers to cut the brush off the highways past Abe's experimental homestead out here in the valley, so as to meet the road requirements for a rural mail route past Abe's farm and out by a hundred other families who are located out there. But Abe couldn't see it that way. He don't low to be donating no work for he has to work for what he gets. The old man argued a moment and went on. He is a slight little old fellow and lots older than Abe but he has helped to clear nearly five miles of brush road himself and never a complaint. He will be here in a few years when the valley is a veritable garden spot and Abe will have gone to the Navajo reservation or some new country where living is easy.—Alamogordo News.

During the past few years, through the discovery of the system of dry farming and a utilization of the wonderfully fertile soil of the territory, New Mexico, has rapidly come to the front as an agricultural region and is now the goal of countless thousands of homeseekers. Once considered hopelessly desert, then as semi-arid, fit only for cattle and sheep, the vast plains of New Mexico are now being turned into productive farms and are producing crops rivaling in quantity and surpassing in quality those of the eastern states. The fator that has caused this wonderful change was intelligent treatment of the soil a better comprehension of the methods of conserving moisture. It has throughly been demonstrated that the rainfall is sufficient to produce crops. Excessive evaporation and not insufficient rainfall was the cause of the territory's previous failure to become a farming region other than in the irrigated districts. Deep plowing and frequent light cultivation cheats the excessive evaporationfrom the soil, and owing to New Mexico's high percentage of sunshine, crops grow more rapidly and to a higher degree of perfection than elsewhere.—Ex.

The feeding value of cowpeas has long been recognized as it has been used extensively for all kinds of stock in the southern states. With a fair number of ripe peas in the hay it has been found to be satisfactory when fed alone to stock at work, and can be used very successfully as a maintenance ration for horses, mules, cattle, sheep, and even hogs. The farmers in the sugar cane district of Louisiana make a very extensive use of cowpea hay for their work stock, it being practically the only roughage used. It is generally claimed that horses and mules at work stand hot weather better when fed cowpea hay than when fed a grass hay and corn. The difference in the appearance of the animals is also very much in favor of the cowpeas. In a three months test at the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station the rations fed two high-grade Percheron mares used as a team and receiving the same care and shelter, differed only in the use of 10 pounds of cowpea hay in one and the same quantity of wheat bran in the other. The horse fed bran just held its own in weight while the one fed cowpea hay gained a little. The cowpea ration was five cents cheaper in daily cost.

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE OF THE COMMUNITY

One more candidate for county site honors in the proposed county of Curry made its appearance in Santa Fe Monday morning when Dr. L. P. Strayhorn of La Lande arrived in the capitol to lay before the legislature the claims of that promising town. He is not at all enthusiastic about the Curry county plan as proposed by the Clovis people and says that unless the county is divided along the lines proposed by the La Lande people that the latter will cast their lot with Portales against the division.

J. T. Blaney, four miles west of Estancia, had watermelons of his own growing for dinner the 15th of January. The melons were grown that season and were stored away in a cellar. He says he intended to having one for Christmas dinner, but had so many other good things that he forgot the melon, so ate one the day following Christmas, and another on New Year's day. The one eaten on the fifteenth is the last of last years crop, but retained its sweetness to perfection.

Siegfried Gounsfeld, former assessor of Bernalillo county, has filed suit in the district court at Albuquerque asking to recover the sum of $12,070.02 four per cent on collections, under assessments made by him in Bernalillo county during the years 1907 and 1908. The action was an appeal from the board of county commissioners who recently turned down his formal demand upon them for the four per cent holding that under the law of 1907 only two per cent is the remuneration allowed the assessor. The sum demanded by Mr. Grunsfeld, who was elected on a platform pledged to lower county salaries, is four per cent on $324,256.02, total collections made during the two terms that the assessor held office.

Out of the confusion and contention surrounding the advocates and opponents of county division in Roosevelt county, it begins to appear that Curry county will emerge, very closely along the lines orginally proposed by the people of Clovis, who were first to agitate the division. The new county, as proposed, will have its southern on an east and west line across Roosevelt county, about seven miles north of Portales. The northern boundary will be along the natural barrier formed by the sand hills of southern Quay county. The western boundary, it is expected, will be the present western boundary of Roosevelt county.

A petition will be circulated this week by Colonel D. K. B. Sellers and others asking the legislature to take action looking toward a law requiring the county commissioners of the various counties to have all county land platted for purposes of taxation. It is likely to be made urgent, as the rural districts have long been a subject of complaint.

Wandering three days without food and shelter in a terrible storm on the bleak and inhospitable shores of Hotham Sound, British Columbia, V. V. Clark, former foreman for the Navajo Mining company at Bland, N. M., was finally rescued from death by freezing, only after his feet had been severely frostbitten and he had suffered untold privations.

The "Pushing Onward" club of Denver, is now collecting data in New Mexico and Arizona for a strong article to be published broadcast in the near future, setting forth the claims of the two territories to the right of statehood. It is the intention to make this the strongest and most convincing and overwhelming presentation of the rights of the territories ever put forth, and its appearance will be awaited with interest.

In the gold camp at the Mormon mine in the Organ mountains, the new cyanide plant is ready for business and during the next week will work on some high grade ore. The assays from the mine average $40 per ton in gold, and there is a large dump which will run about $20 which will be worked over with the new process to advantage. The gold camp has better indications than Cripple Creek ever had, and no doubt with proper development will produce its millions in gold.

Mr. Hooper of Rocky Ford, Colorado, and Mr. Rnatz of the same place brought a car load of bees and bee supplies and household goods to Carlsbad last week, and took possession of their new place in Otis, consisting of four acres of the John Milford farm, for which they paid $350. The gentlemen are engaged in the bee business in Colorado. New Mexico and Texas and are satisfied that the lower Pecos valley is superior to any for their business.

Following Gov. Kibbey Gov Curry of New Mexico has declared Lincoln's birthday a holiday.
