ARRANGE FOR PRISONERS

Last Monday night the Citizens of Carrizozo, came out in a large number to Wetmore Hall, in responce to a call for making proper and suitable place for the safe guarding of the prisoners during court in November.

The building belonging to Humphrey Bros. and used as a skating rink, offered as quarters it is located on a lot having no other building nearby, so it can be easily guarded.

A committee of two, Mr. Canning and Mr. Ulrick, were delegated to go to Alamogordo and inform Judge Cooley that we can positively take care of the prisoners.

Lincoln Locals

—John Adams the Carrizozo Constable came over Sunday after noon with a prisoner from Carrizozo.

Deputy Sheriff Leo Oswald reached Lincoln Monday night with a prisoner from Carrizozo who is accused of assault with a deadly weapon.

—Sheriff Stevens left Tuesday morning with the wife of Porciliana Sanches who upon examination has been found insane. She is being taken before Judge Cooley in Alamogordo to be committed to the Territorial Asylum for the insane at Las Vegas.

—Mr. Kelly of the Laws Sanatarium died Monday night after a protracted illness.

—Judge Fredrick of Capitan is spending a few days in the lower end of the county in charge of several traveling men.

Nogal Notes.

—The much talked of wagon road survey has practically reached Nogal. The survey will make the road over the ridges rather than in the Canyons which is an excellent idea.

—We expect a visitor every night in Nogal to wit: Jack Frost, the nights are very cold.

—All is quiet in Nogal, no 'birds' for the Jail at the expense of the county, and we are proud of it.

—Mr. J. Ernest Burrell and Miss Ethel M. Craig of Capitan were married in Nogal Sunday noon by J. E. Koonce J. P. The couple enjoyed a splended dinner and then returned to Capitan their future home with Pierce Parry and Susan Ader who accompanied them.

A Word With You

Having assumed the management of this paper a few words about our future intentions perhaps would not be amiss.

INDEPENDENT.

First let us say that this paper will be independent of all cliques, party groups or other orgainizations in or out of the county. We shall endeavor to give our readers the Truth and Nothing But the Truth.

POLITICS.

This publication is Republican in politics and will advocate all that is right in the Republican party. Locally we shall aim to discuss all issues in our columns impartially, and from the various possible points of view.

NEWS.

We shall publish all the local news covering the field completely and we intend to appoint Correspondents in the various towns of the county and will publish the news of each of these communities from week to week; as well as all the news of Carrizozo and vicinity.

SUGGESTIONS.

Suggestsons, criticisms, news notes, etc., will always be welcome at this office and we will be pleased to publish at any time articles our readers may prepare and submit to us.

Fundementally our policy will be to Boom for a Greater Carrizozo and Lincoln County.

We Greet You.

We do not know whether we will be able to accomplish all that we expect to, nor do we know whether we will be able to please all the people or not, but we do know that we will do our utmost to issue a live, up-to-date newspaper with the interests of the people at heart. It will take time to accomplish many of the anticipated improvements but we are young and what is better we realize the fact and know that we will make many mistakes. We are not new to this country, however, having lived in the county several years,—your general interests are our interests, your needs are our needs and by cooperation there is no reason why we should not be able to unitedly boom our young country and assist generally the in upbuilding of the great Southwest.

The North Pole Question.

By Commander Peary's whole course of action with reference to Mr. Cook, he has personally merited the contempt of the whole civilized world. No matter what his scientific attainments may be, he can never hope to wipe out the personal prejudice stain against his general reputation.

It matters not materially who discovered the North Pole. Of course it was, we all agree, very wonderful and brave—a deed of mighty courage—sublime—and everything else that is praiseworthy. But—When we pause to consider that it has merely shown the map maker where to rule a few more lines on his globes, of what great value is it to the world? What in the name of common sense are we to do with it now that we have it? It will not add to the wealth of nations nor will it simplify manufacture. It has no market value. Virtually it is but an end to another search of ages; another secret of the universe disclosed. A new leaf added to the Laural of Achievement.

We would suggest to our Sheriff that he might bring his vegetables over to Carrizozo, as they will cook just the same here as at Lincoln.

Now that arrangements have been made for the care of prisoners and the holding of District Court in Carrizozo, our citizens feel as if they had accomplished something in their long fight.

IMPORTANT MEETING

The Chamber of Commere will have their next important meeting Wednesday night, October 6th, at 8 P. M. in the Bank Building. All members and citizens are requested to attend this meeting as matters of importants pertaining to the future welfare of Carrizozo will come up

Lets get busy for a Public Building so that we may have musicals, dramas, and other forms of amusements. Let us clean up the streets. Get in line for a general tree planting at the proper time. Join and help boost the Chamber of Commerce for with organization of this kind we can accomplish a vast amount of good work to the interest of All.

Work for Carrizozo and by so work for yourself.—CARRIZOZO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Anouncement

The Services Sunday will have special reference to the welfare of the community, and interest of the church. Therefore we want every body to come. At 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M., in school building.

CLAMP BRACKET TO BUILDING

Fastened to Structure Is Found More Convenient Than Hooks as Can Be Raised or Lowered.

Two clamps six inches long may be used to fasten a bracket to the joist of a building and will be found more convenient than hooks since it can be lowered or raised to suit the workmen by simply loosening the clamps and moving the bracket as desired.

The clamps used in the accompanying illustration are similar to those which fasten a cutter to the beam of a plow and are fastened in the same manner.

Brackets can be made out of two planks three or four feet in length, nailed together at right angles and braced by a third board as shown.

The bracket is then fastened to the building by boring holes for the clamps and fastening the clamps around the joist.

STRONG SLING FOR BARRELS

Illustration Showing How to Fasten Rope to Bucket for Dipping Water from Well.

The sketch shows a very handy way for fastening a rope to a barrel for dipping water from a well, or for swinging a paint bucket from the roof of a building. If necessary to set the bucket or barrel down, wind the rope with wire or string to prevent slacking and loosening. As long, however, as the bucket hangs the rope will remain tight and firm. The idea of fastening the rope is clearly brought out in the sketch.

DISK HARROW IS VERY USEFUL

Rapidly Coming Into Vogue as Most Important Tillage Implement In Grain Farming.

The disk harrow is coming into vogue as the most important tillage implement for grain farming. Nothing will conserve more moisture by using it on stubble after harvest and before plowing time than the disk. It may be used as a cultivator for sum-

GOOD ROADS AID FARMERS

Many Millions of Produce Hauled Over Country Roads of United States at Big Cost.

There is no difference among well informed people as to the cost of bad roads; nor is there any longer a question as to where the burden of the cost is most severely felt. There are hauled over the country roads of the United States every year 265,000,000 tons of produce, equal to 30 per cent of the railway tonnage of the country. The average haul from farm to railway is 9.4 miles and the average cost per ton per mile is between 23 and 25 cents. In Germany over better roads the cost is ten cents per ton per mile at the maximum and seven cents per ton per mile at the minimum. The loss suffered by the American farmer and consumer, figured on the basis of the German wagon road toll, is immense. If it were saved from year to year it would soon constitute a fund sufficient to improve all of the common highways of the country.

L. W. Page, who has collected a great deal of valuable information on this subject, and who talks about road improvement intelligently and reasonably, is not among those who clamor for the federalization of the highways. On the contrary, he deplores the all too prevalent idea that nothing can be done in this country until the federal government puts its hand to the wheel, or its hand into its pocket. The states, in his opinion, should take the initiative, or, at least, prove their sincerity by setting an example for national government.

STAIR STEP FROM SHOE BOX

Illustration Given Herewith Showing Manner in Which the Arrangement May Be Effected.

A handy shoe box can be placed under a stair step in the manner shown in the accompanying illustration. The step A forms the lid of the box which is hinged to the board connecting the two steps. The dotted lines at C show the boards forming one end of the box and D is a small block nailed to the floor to which the end boards are fastened.

In case the stairs are set against the wall and a banister forms the outer end, about six inches of the step may be left on either side of the lid to obviate this difficulty.

CHEAPLY-MADE BEAN CUTTER

Home-Made Harvester, Very Handy on Any Farm—Can Be Made from Plows of a Cultivator.

A home-made harvester is shown in the sketch. Take off one gang of plows from a double cultivator and remove the shovels. In place of one shovel put on a knife 12 inches with a bent end to bolt to the plow stock as shown in sketch. Hitch one horse to this and holding the knife on the ground you can cut off the beans rapidly.

Breaking Up Yard.

In breaking up my Rhode Island Reds I use a breaking-up yard, with an open-front house. The top of yard, as well as sides, is covered with improved poultry fencing, as broody hens are much harder to yard. I feed all the grain they can eat, beside green feed, oyster shells and beef scraps, a regular egg ration, and in a few days they are back home, singing and laying.

Value of Good Roads.

The way to figure on the good roads question is as to whether the bad roads do not cost you enough extra feed, vehicles and horses to more than pay for the good roads. Your answer will almost surely be in the affirmative, and you will have the increased pleasure besides.

Kansas Forestry Stations.

Kansas has two forestry stations, each of which has a considerable number of young trees at the disposal of those who want them. The only cost is the expressage and a guaranty that the receiver will care for them for a certain number of years.

The $400,000 worth of bonds voted by Kansas City, Kans., to improve the water plant in that city, were sold to Trowbridge & Niver, a Chicago bond firm, at a premium of $15,500. The bonds will run thirty years and carry a premium of four and one-half per cent.

The T. H. Bunch company, a large grain concern, at Little Rock, Ark., has filed a petition in bankruptcy. It is reported that local banking institutions are involved to the extent of $300,000. The annual business of the concern, it is said, has ranged between $4,000,000 and $7,000,000.

Kenton, 'way out in Cimarron county, Okla., is so remote that a bald eagle sometimes gets lost in trying to find it. Yet Kenton has a newspaper, the News, owned by L. A. Wikoff. Moreover, when Wikoff was in Oklahoma City, last week, he bought a big motor car and rode home in it.

The richest woman in Nebraska, possibly, is Mary Bronson, who owns 20,000 acres of land of an average value of $50 an acre, more than 1,000 head of cattle and 250 head of fine horses. Mrs. Bronson is the mother of four sons, who are almost her only companions on the ranch on the Black Hills line of the Northwestern road.

With over 600 delegates already on the ground and hundreds of more on the way there is every indication that the twelfth annual session of the American mining congress, which is being held in Goldfield, Nev., will be one of the best gatherings the organization has ever known. It is expected that 2,000 delegates will be in attendance.

Plans and specifications practically have been finished and the contracts will be let in a few days for a new office building for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company at Topeka. The new building will be erected immediately south of the present office building. It will cost about $250,000. The structure will be six stories high and 75x152 feet in dimensions. It is to be fireproof, constructed of steel and concrete. It will accommodate 600 clerks. The Root & Siemens firm of Kansas City designed the building.

With fast horses and good purses and the finest exhibits ever shown at Belle Fourches, S. D., the Butte county annual fair proved the most successful one ever held in Belle Fourche. The agricultural exhibits from the new land under the Belle Fourche project and others from the "dry farming" districts, attracted wide attention. Poultry and live stock exhibits were also far above the average. Horses that ook money at the state fair at Huron the week before were brought there by owners Hiatt, Glover and others and repeated their performance.

The Spanish bark, San Antonio, with 15,000 bags of salt aboard, has sunk in Havana harbor. No one can truthfully say that this salt is lost; it has emerged its individuality with that of the capacious deep. All the owners of this salt need do to recover their property is to await the slow but sure evaporation which scientists tell us is drying up and disintegrating the earth quite after the manner of the shredded codfish of commerce.

One of the reforms which have been placed to the credit of the Young Turkish party in the Ottoman empire is the abolition of the "red ticket regulation." Until this took place a red card was issued to a Jew on arrival in Palestine, the possession of which entitled the holder to a three month's residence. If the red ticket man wished to remain longer the credential had to be renewed, and this naturally led to abuses in the nature of graft. The abolition of this restrictive measure was urged upon the authorities by Israel Zangwill.

Scurvy, so common and deadly among early polar explorers, is totally unknown among Eskimos who eat raw meat. This iodized raw food also explains the absence of enlarged tonsils, glands and goiter. Their perfect, splendid teeth and strong lower jaws mark them completely carnivorous. The exclusion of vegetable food has shortened their intestine and indigestion is unknown. One would suppose their pure flesh diet would cause biliousness, etc., but the large percentage of oil in their food acts as a gentle laxative and protects against all harms. The Eskimo eats with relish old rotten blubber that would stagger a buzzard.—New York Press.

Chinese cooks get $75 a month in New York, as against $30 to $45 paid to Japanese cooks. Chinese laundrymen make $18 a week here. A Chinaman will do as much in one day in a house as the average servant girl does in six. The wages which the Chinamen's untiring industry, honesty, intelligence and loyalty command are the measure of the yellow peril we feel when he is here stealing our job. By offering this work and big wages to coolies the officials of the Canadian Grand Trunk are discouraging that American labor which is inclined to turn over on the park bench for another snooze until it is time for the bread line to form.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Chairman Knapp will go directly to Seattle where he will join the other commissioners.

Naturalization was refused to 2,067 aliens during the last fiscal year, a material increase over the rejection of would-be United States citizens during the preceding year.

"Where should the children of the soldiers of the United States army be sent to school?" is being discussed by Indiana public school authorities and the scholars at Fort Benjamin Harrison near Indianapolis. About twenty children of the officers and privates have been sent to the town school, near the army post. The school is overcrowded, and the state superintendent of public instruction thinks the township taxes should not be extended to cover the expense of educating the children of the alien soldiers. The state attorney general, however, has given an opinion that the army post children properly should be sent to the school in the township in which the post is situated. It is possible a test case in court will be instituted by barring the soldiers' children from the school.

On June 30 1914—the Aldrich-Vreeland financial act will expire by limitation, and unless before that date it is replaced by a wisely-framed measure of broad scope, the country will again be in a perilous situation that is commonly believed to have resulted in the panic of 1907-08. There is a general realization of the necessity of legislation on this subject, but a wide difference of opinion as to form. Speaker Cannon believes that a mere extension of the present laws, with perhaps a few amendments in details will suffice. President Taft looks with favor upon the proposition to create a great central bank and there are all sorts of intermediate schemes. Probably that which commands the greatest support will be based upon the recommendations of the monetary commission which has been quietly but effectively at work for more than a year gathering the material for the construction of the actual legislation.

A FEW PRESERVES

FIVE RECIPES FOR MOST APPETIZING DAINTIES.

Apple Ginger Something That Will Be Appreciated — East Indian Sweet-Meat—Spiced Grapes and Chili Sauce.

Apple Ginger.—One quart of water, two pounds of granulated sugar. Boil until quite clear, add ten large, sour apples, chopped fine, and one-half pound preserved ginger, sliced. Cook until the consistency of marmelade, then pour in a tumbler and seal.

Tomato Preserve.—Four pounds of ripe tomatoes, four pounds of sugar, one-half pound of preserved ginger and eight lemons. Peel the tomatoes, add the sugar, and let them stand over night. The next morning pour off the sirup and boil until it is quite clear. Skim, add the tomatoes, then the ginger cut fine, and the lemons, seeded and sliced. Cook slowly, and until the tomatoes ar clear and transparent. Pour in tumblers and seal.

East India Sweet-Meat. — Seven pounds of hard winter pears, five pounds of sugar, one-half pound of Canton ginger, the rind and juice of three lemons. Slice the pears very thin and boil until tender in clear water, just covering the pears with water; then add the sugar, lemons and ginger. Cook until the sirup thickens add the sweet-meat has a rich, golden color.

Spiced Grapes.—Use one peck of purple grapes. Boil the pulp and rub through a sieve; heat one and one-half pints of vinegar, add five pounds of sugar, then the pulp and skins of the grapes and two tablespoonfuls each of clove and cinnamon. Boil for one hour.

Chili Sauce.—Thirty large red tomatoes, ten red peppers, seven onions, five tablespoonfuls of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of salt, six cupfuls of vinegar, one tablespoonful each of allspice, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Skin the tomatoes, add the chopped onion and peppers and other ingredients and cook for three hours.

Gallina a la Mexicana.

Wash and unjoint nice spring chicken and cover with salted water, add one small whole onion so it can be removed after it has seasoned the chicken; let cook one and a quarter hours; take out chicken and put where it will keep warm; boil two eggs in shell until hard; separate whites from yolks, and while yolks are hot mash and mix thoroughly with one tablespoonful of cornmeal, and thicken with liquor chicken has been boiled in; then add one cup prepared chile; let boil five minutes, then add chicken and whites of eggs chopped.

How to Prepare Chile.—Take some dry red peppers, break off tops and remove seeds; cover pods with warm water and let stand five minutes, then work with hands until all soft parts have been removed from the skins; strain.

Spiced Beans.

Materials: One quart of green beans, one-half cup of vinegar, three-fourths of a cup of brown sugar, one teaspoon of salt, one three-inch stick of cinnamon, 12 cloves, one blade of mace and a small piece of fresh horseradish.

Way of preparing: Remove the strings from the beans, but leave them whole. Boil until tender in salted water, then drain. Place the other ingredients in a saucepan and boil up once; then stand aside, covered, for half an hour. Add the prepared beans and boil for three minutes. Stand aside in a warm place for half an hour, if they are to be served hot as a side dish, or put them into a glass fruit jar if they are to be served cold, as a relish or as a salad.—National Food Magazine.

Creole Dish.

Two cups of well-cooked rice, two cups canned tomatoes, one-half pound of ham, minced and browned in butter. Mix all together, add a little salt, one teaspoonful of sugar and a dash of cayenne pepper, turn into a well-buttered pan and bake.

Cheese Toast.—Butter slices of bread, shave cheese thin and put enough pieces on each slice to cover the bread. Dust with salt and pepper. Toast on upper grate of oven. These are great.

Much the Same.

Her Husband—Garfield once said: "If you cannot find a way, make one."

His Wife—Yes, and I've noticed that you do the same with regard to excuses.

Unfortunate.

"Gee! This weather is hot enough to cook an egg!"

"Oh, you're always kicking."

"I've got a kick coming."

"What's your kick?"

"I haven't an egg."

CARRIZOZO - - NEW MEXICO

As a killer the scorching automobile is too miscellaneous.

What effect will the discovery of the north pole have on the price of earmuffs?

Cabbages 20 cents apiece. Not so uncomplimentary to call a man a cabbage head.

There cannot be too much light in the streets. The more light the less opportunity for crime.

The first dollar that most men earned was given to them for a birthday present or something like that.

A man in New Jersey is going to train a lion to guard his chickens. He might do better with a trained mosquito squad.

While the amateur aeronaut is quite likely to come to some untimely fate, he is less a menace to the public than the amateur chauffeur.

London has been having a naval procession of 150 warships. This demonstration ought to scare off that phantom German invasion.

There is only one more pole to discover. Nations which may feel piqued at American success in one direction are at liberty to get busy in the other.

When Prince Miguel renounced the throne of Portugal, which he had no chance of ever getting, it must have been almost as grave a step as swearing off smoking.

A San Francisco man is to marry the richest of the young east Indian princesses. It is time we were getting back some matrimonial millions into this country.

A professional walker is confident he can walk from San Francisco to New York in a hundred days. But why should anyone waste so much time when trains are handier?

The baby emperor of China has been formally proclaimed commander of the army and navy. It is to be hoped that those two important branches of the public service are not infant industries.

The French have discovered that whiskered kisses leave on the lady's lips bacilli of tuberculosis, diphtheria and pneumonia, besides unclassified microbes. And yet it's doubtful if the whiskered kiss will go.

A young man in New York committed suicide because two girls had rejected him within 40 minutes, one for the fiftieth time. He ought to have been immune after such an experience from the deadly love germ.

The homeward rush of sightseers has set in from Europe. We wonder how many of them have ever gone through Yellowstone Park, have gazed upon the wonders of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, or camped in the redwoods of California?

Even the accursed mosquito has its uses. In New Jersey they get rid of tramps by hand-cuffing and exposing them to the mosquitoes. In a few minutes the tramps are ready and eager to leave town. This is almost as barbarous as capital punishment.

Another prince is reported to be paying attention to an American heiress. Now that even royalty is anxious for the pretty American girl and her millions, the chances of the young American man ought to have been considered in the tariff at high protective rates on princes.

Aviation is the craze of the hour. Luckily, it is not a craze which can become as general as some others have been, and while some foolhardy ones will pay the usual price for reckless temerity, the experiments in the main will be confined to those who look upon the question of air travel as something more than a passing fad.

Lieut. Shackleton of the British forces, who came within an ace of discovering the south pole, will lecture in this country to make up the amount of his expenses in this important expedition. Of course, England will take the glory of his discoveries, but, up to date, he is left to pay the cost, which shows how much superior present gratitude is to posthumous glory and posthumous monuments.

It is somewhat surprising that in a country of such thrifty persons as France lotteries should flourish to the extent they do. The man who saves money on small earnings seldom takes the gambler's chance on which all lotteries depend, but it is a fact that France abounds in these institutions. So pronounced is the evil that the government has taken up the matter having just submitted to the Chamber of Deputies a proposition looking to the abolishment of lotteries.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF RICE

Numerous Ways in Which It May Be Prepared and All Are Good.

While you are wondering, just as every housewife does these days, what in the world you are going to cook next that will be both appetizing and inexpensive, do you ever think of rice—plain rice?

There are so many ways one can use cold boiled rice. A favorite dish with the Italian housewife, and one that is well worth trying, for it is both economically and easily prepared, is called risotto. Cover the bottom of a well-buttered bake dish with finely chopped onion and put over it a thick layer of the cooked rice, then a layer of pimento, or sweet Spanish pepper, cut small. Then another layer of rice and a sprinkling of chopped onion. Cover with milk and bake slowly for an hour. Take out of the oven and sprinkle over the top half pound of grated cheese; bake for 15 minutes more, or until brown. Then serve.

Cold rice beaten with olive oil, lemon juice and cayenne pepper to taste, garnished with chopped parsley and served on crisp lettuce leaves, is an appetizing salad.

Grandmother would take a half teacupful uncooked rice, one egg, a dash of nutmeg, a cupful of sugar and beat them together in an earthen bake dish until the mixture fairly foamed. Then she would add three pints of fresh milk, put in moderate oven and bake slowly for two hours, stirring frequently. Serve cold.

The Home.

A cloth dipped into methylated spirits will be found useful in cleaning brown shoes.

When boiling halibut, cover the fish with minced green pepper. The seasoning will be found to be very delicious.

Green grape and elderberry make a delicious combination for a jelly. The proportion is twice as much as the elderberry as the grape.

It is difficult to keep bacon in the summer, but it will remain sweet if sprinkled with common soda and kept in a coool place. The soda keeps germs away.

To clean embossed brass make a solution of one ounce of oxalic acid and one pint of soft water. Apply with a soft brush and polish with chamois.

Don't rinse laces in blued water, under a mistaken notion that it will improve the color. It won't. Rinse in skimmed milk, which will give a soft creamy tint.

Fancy baskets in colors can be cleaned with water the same as any basket, but the colors are less liable to run if cold water and naphtha soap are used. Lined baskets can be cleaned in this manner.

Do not place a bed against the wall. Draw it out into the room, even if it is placed against the wall during the day. If one faces the wall he inhales his own breath over and over, which is very unhealthy.

How to Cook Lima Beans.

Navy beans are just as good as lima beans in this: Cook fresh-shelled lima beans in boiling water until tender, press through a sieve, add salt and pepper and a tablespoonful of butter to each pint of pulp. Stir in two well beaten eggs and bread crumbs enough to make a mixture thick enough to roll. Wrap in greased paper and at serving time bake in quick oven for 20 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

Wine Jelly.—Soak one-half package of gelatin in one-quarter cup cold water until soft, add one cup wine, one cup sugar, juice of one lemon, one pint boiling water. Strain and put on ice until hard.

Vermont Rusks.

One and one-half cups sweet milk, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup butter, two eggs, two-thirds yeast cake. Make a thin batter and let rise until light; add flour to mold and let rise again. Mold and make into biscuit and let rise two hours.

Paint and Varnish.

Paint or varnish can easily be removed from one's hands by first rubbing any kind of grease or lard well into hands; then wash them with warm soap and water.

Took His Word for It.

"That farmer is a funny old rooster, isn't he, papa?"

"How dare you call that old gentleman a rooster?"

"Well, he told me he went to bed with the chickens."

The Makin's.

"Does cabbage seem to be getting any cheaper, dear?"

"If it is I haven't noticed it, why?"

"Then I guess there is no truth in the report that they are now making slaw out of cabbage."

Curry County Assessment Roll.

Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford has at last received the assessment roll of Curry county. It shows a gross assessment for the county of $1,949,306, exemptions amounting to $239,593, leaving a taxable assessment of $1,709,713. There are in the county 99,463 acres of agricultural lands with improvements valued at $546,020; 6,354 town lots with improvements valued at $652,782; 2 water plants valued at $4,610; 146½ miles of telegraph and telephone lines, $10,145; 6.7 miles of railroad, $27,315; 3,575 horses, $130,215; 1,358 mules, $52,502; 5,033 cattle, $64,649; 9,601 sheep, $16,798; 3,025 swine, $7,502; 122 burros, $357; 2,320 wagons, $29,932; 1,024 sewing machines, $6,677; saddles and harness, $7,396; merchandise, $137,891; capital in manufacturing, $2,114; farming implements, $22,577; saloon fixtures, $14,467; money $26,771; bonds and warrants, $11,645; watches and clocks, $2,879; books, $1,752; gold and silver plate, $268; musical instruments, $11,336; household furniture, $46,363; stock and bonds, $75,641; corn, $3,799; hay, $391; tools, $1,269; other property, $33,227. From appearances the assessment of Curry county is the most complete of any county in that it lists practically all of the property in the county and at a higher percentage of valuation than the same property is listed elsewhere.

Two Chinamen were arrested just as they crossed the international boundary line into New Mexico, not far from El Paso.

M. A. Rogers of Wichita, Kans., purchased 7,500 head of feeding sheep from Isaac Barth and 2,500 from Elias Garcia at Albuquerque.

An effort is being made to build a more satisfactory road from Taos to Embudo and to avoid the long sand hill near Cienegulla.

El Triunfo of Antonito, Colorado, has consolidated with La Revista de Taos and the proprietor, Jose Alfaro, of the former, has moved to Taos with his printing plant.

Albuquerque police arrested a negro by the name of Cas Gray, who had robbed a house at Silver City. When searched, a $1,000 diamond was found between the man's toes.

Three well known characters were arrested at Clayton, Union county, by the efficient sheriff, Snyder, for violating the anti-gambling law and vagrancy. They were given a jury trial and the first jury was hung 5 to 1 for conviction. The second jury brought in a verdict of guilty and the men were fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace Howell Marmont.

Allen West, a negro coal miner, paroled from the penitentiary last Saturday, after serving fifteen months for killing a fellow miner at Berrilleo in 1907, has been re-arrested at Albuquerque and his sanity is being inquired into.

The New Mexico National Life Insurance company filed incorporation papers in the office of Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa, with capitalization of $500,000 divided into 40,000 shares. The headquarters are at Roswell.

Manual of Study.

The clerical force in the office of Territorial Superintendent J. E. Clark is busy today packing and distributing the Manual of the Common School Course of Study. Each county school superintendent is sent enough copies to enable him to give one to every active teacher.

Incorporation.

Incorporation papers were filed in the office of the territorial secretary, Nathan Jaffa, by the Libertad Copper Company of Santa Fe, capitalized at $1,000,000, divided into a million shares. The incorporators and directors are: W. O. Duntley, 1,600 shares, and L. Beardsley, 300 shares, of Chicago, Ill., and R. H. Hanna, 100 shares, Santa Fe.

Like Greater Santa Fe.

I think the most famous illustration of being asleep at the switch was the case of Noah when he was captain of the Ark. There were but two flies in the Ark, and Noah had forty days and nights in which to swat them, but he overlooked it and now we are paying the penalty.—Des Moines Swatika.

Bids for New Buildings.

In the New Mexican is found an advertisement for bids for the new building at the New Mexico Military Institute to replace Lea Hall, recently destroyed by fire.

Judge W. H. Pope, in District Court at Portales, sentenced Arthur Adams, charged with killing Guy H. Porter, near Melrose, last winter, to two years in the penitentiary. The trial of Ed Harwell for the murder of C. A. Peck at La Lande last March was continued until the next term. S. L. Boone was sentenced to $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail for practicing medicine without a license.

That New Mexico is going to be a great agricultural state is proven by the way the exhibits are coming in in the resources department for the twenty-ninth fair. The displays of grains and grasses, fruits and vegetables, cattle and sheep, of dry farming and irrigated farming at the Resources Exposition will set a new mark in the Southwest and will make the October carnival this year more than ever a real fair.

Reece Dobbyns, the former Santa Fe employe charged with putting sand into the running gear of locomotives and whose escapades in Mexico and in this territory, which found their climax in his recent escape from the Territorial Insane Asylum where he was taken from the Territorial Penitentiary, is again in jail at Raton, having been brought back from Newark, O., where he had obtained the important position of roundhouse foreman on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Since in jail at Raton he again simulates insanity.

That Albuquerque is fortunate to get the soldiers from Fort Wingate this year for the twenty-ninth fair and as guard of honor for President Taft was stated by General Franklin Bell, chief officer of the U. S. Army in Albuquerque recently. General Bell has, as chief of staff, sat down hard on sending the federal troops to state fairs hereafter, and this will probably be the last time the people of the Southwest will have an opportunity to witness the daily maneuvers of the cavalry during the carnival. The troops are practicing daily at Fort Wingate with the enormous "push ball" in preparation for the exciting contests at the fair.

No Bank Failures in New Mexico.

Santa Fe, N. M.—That the territory of New Mexico now has forty-one national and thirty-four territorial banks with aggregate total resources of twenty-four and a half millions and total capital of nearly three and a half millions, was pointed out with pride by Governor Curry in his address before the second annual session of the New Mexico Bankers' Association which convened recently. The governor, who spoke at the afternoon meeting, reviewed briefly the financial condition of New Mexico, which he believed unusually good. In addition to the banks the governor mentioned the fact that there are also building and loan associations with resources of nearly a million and a half. He urged the association to appointed a committe to draft a modern banking law to correspond with uniform banking laws to correspond with uniform banking laws being adopted elsewhere.

The governor pointed with pride to the fact that there has been only one bank failure in New Mexico for a number of years past and that a small private bank.

The bonded debt of the territory said the governor, is only $1,002,000, and to this must be added certificates of indebtedness amounting to $92,500, but from which must be deducted $93,000 worth of bonds redeemed on September 1 of this year, leaving a net debt of $1,001,500 or about 25 cents per capita of population. Few commonwealths can make so favorable a showing. Against this small bonded debt, must also be credited $527,000 in cash now in the territorial treasury.

The bonded indebtedness of the counties amounts to $2,874,000, of which more than one-third, however, is owed by one county alone and two-thirds by three counties, the other twenty-three counties owing only a little over $1,000,000. To offset this there are in county treasuries $1,302,000 of cash.

To Raise Big Potatoes.

Albuquerque.—A campaign is being started to organize Rio Grande valley farmers for a big potato growing experiment next year. Irish potatoes have been found to average 100 bushels per acre, but have never been grown extensively, whereas local wholesalers ship in 10,000,000 pounds of potatoes every year for the local markets, and shipment to nearby points.

It is contended by the backers of the potato movement that this crop will yield a profit of $60 per acre. The market is always sure, both early and late potatoes bringing good prices.

The cantaloupe growers this year raised melons under the association plan for the first time, and the experiment has been a success, the product being equal in quality to the best and giving a heavy yield per acre.

Get Large Slice of Estate.

Albuquerque.—Mrs. C. S. McCandless, Mrs. R. H. Sims and C. C. Wright, prominent here, have received word that they will come in for a big slice of the estate of the late Anne E. Fitzhugh of Bay City, Mich.

It consists of New York and Michigan property and is valued at $500,000. The principal part, which belonged to the late William D. Fitzhugh was originally a tract 40 miles long and 10 miles wide in the Genesee river valley of New York.

The millionaire Wadsworth family has bought portions of the estate. Mrs. Fitzhugh, deceased, was the niece of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Courthouse for Luna.

The contract for the new court house of Luna county at Deming, N. M., has been let to J. C. Huff of El Paso for a trifle over $16,000, and work will commence on the building Oct. 1. This will be probably the finest county court house in New Mexico.

New Santa Fe Postmaster.

A spirited contest for the postmastership of Santa Fe has been ended by the appointment of Samuel B. Grimshaw, now territorial coal oil inspector.

There were eleven other candidates in the field. Grimshaw succeeds Frank W. Sheros, who resigned to accept the position of district clerk of the first judicial district. He held the office only six months.

Grimshaw is the third postmaster this year for the city, his predecessor having succeeded Paul A. F. Walter in February, who resigned after seven years' service to take editorial charge of the Daily New Mexican.

Found Guilty of Robbery.

Santa Fe, N. M.—James Williams was found guilty in the federal court of robbing the postoffice at La Plata, San Juan county. His accomplice, James Henderson, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay $1,000 and serve one year in the county jail. Williams [illegible]

Snake Story.

"Before he went fishing," said the town story-teller, he swallowed 'bout a pint an' half of snakebite remedy, an' of course you know what that is? Well, after the snake bit him, the reptile cut all sorts o' capers, kaze the remedy went straight to its head. Last thing it tried to do wuz to swaller its tail, an' it got itself in the form of a hoop, an' I'm a liar ef the children didn't roll it around all day!"—Atlanta Constitution.

"About fifteen or eighteen years ago eczema developed on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and to my legs and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was eczema. His medicine checked the advance of the disease, but no further. I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely cured from the disease, and I have not been troubled since. C. ### Changed Farm Life.

The dull silence that hung over that New England dinner table has been lifted of late. It is gone like the dew in the sunlight of the new social influences. The isolation of the farm was the chilling cause that drove men into the cities. Now, by telephone and free mail delivery, all the warm world currents are being carried to the country and are vitalizing the rural community into a life that is rich and abundant in the variety of its interests. A real heart hunger has been answered. Over hill and down dale flashes the impulse that electrifies existence with the thrill of human life touching other human life.—Delineator.

They Didn't Have to Change.

During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Scotch Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Scotch Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.

The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Scotch Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter, both with and without chips. 4

ORANGE BASIS OF THIS CAKE

Delicacy for Afternoon Tea Greatly Improved by the Addition of Royal Icing.

Four ounces of caster sugar, seven ounces of flour, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, two ounces of butter, two eggs, one gill of milk, the grated rinds of three oranges.

Cream the butter with half the sugar, beat in one egg, then the rest of the sugar and the other egg, then sift in gradually the flour, orange rind, cream of tartar and the soda, adding the milk as required. Butter a tin, line with paper, pour in the cake and bake for about half an hour. Cover with royal icing.

Royal icing is useful for a variety of cakes, and can be flavored and colored to taste. Put the white of an egg into a basin with a squeeze of lemon juice, and stir into it six ounces of icing sugar; work well with a wooden spoon till perfectly smooth. Spread this on your cake or biscuits, dipping your knife into boiling water frequently, so that the surface is smooth.

FOR JELLIED FRUIT SALAD

Delightful Confection on Warm Day—Many Varieties of Fruit May Be Used.

Two pounds mixed fresh fruits, the greater the variety the better, brown sugar, one wineglassful of sherry, one pint of lemon jelly.

Put the fruit into a basin, having previously peeled it where necessary, and cut all fruit like bananas, pears, peaches, oranges, etc., in slices. Sprinkle it with brown sugar, pour over the sherry and leave in a cool place. Take a pint of lemon jelly—there are many good kinds sold which only need to be dissolved for use. Let it stand till cold, but not set, then whisk it till it looks like snow. Put part of the fruit in a large bowl (stood on ice if posible), add a layer of jelly in rough heaps, then more fruit, and so on till all is used, leaving the whipped jelly on the top. This should be stood on ice till required.

Chicken Baked in Milk.

Prepare a chicken as though for roasting. Mix a dressing using crumbed bread, butter, salt and pepper, a cup of seeded raisins and sufficient sugar to make it moderately sweet. Stuff the chicken with this mixture, and if a little of it should be left, reserve it, to be added to the gravy when that is made. Place the chicken in a drippling pan. In the bottom of the pan put two or even three quarts of rich milk; cover the pan and bake the chicken slowly until it is very tender, being careful to turn and baste it as often as may be necessary. Thicken the gravy in the pan, seasoning it with salt and, if required, sugar to taste.

For a Plain Cake.

Cream together two cupfuls of powdered sugar with one large tablespoonful of butter; then add the yolks of three eggs well beaten, then the whites of three eggs well beaten, one cupful of milk, two heaping cupfuls of flour into which has been sifted two teaspoonfuls of baking powder; mix well and add one teaspoonful of lemon flavoring. Bake in a round tin in a slow oven for one hour.

Frosting—Mix one cupful of powdered sugar with enough cream or milk to stiffen, and add a little lemon flavoring.

Ginger Cookies.

One cup of sugar, one cup of molasses, one cup butter, two eggs, one tablespoonful of ginger, one tablespoonful of soda dissolved in a quarter of a cup of boiling water, and a saltspoonful of salt. Mix and knead into a dough as stiff as is required to roll them out, then put away over night. In the morning roll out, and use a little flour if necessary, then bake in a good hot oven.

Salad Dressing That Will Keep.

Beat four tablespoonfuls of butter until hot, stir into one of flour until smooth, add one cup of cream (either sweet or sour), and let boil, then set the saucepan into hot water. Beat together the yolks of three eggs, one tablespoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful each of salt and dry mustard, add one-half cup of vinegar, then stir into the other mixture until it thickens. Bottle and it can be kept for weeks ready for use. If too thick add a little cream or vinegar to thin.

Cinnamon Crisps.

Cream one-half cup butter with one of sugar, one teaspoon of cinnamon, then add one-half cup (or more) of sweet milk and two cups of flour, in which has been sifted one teaspoon of soda, two of cream of tartar. Roll the dough very thin, using more flour if required. Cut in fancy shapes and bake until crisp and brown.

"When are a singer's notes liquid notes?"

"I suppose it is when they become dew."

PAINT FAULTS.

It is a common occurrence nowadays to hear a man remark with disgust: "It is impossible to have good painting done these days; either the paint is not good or there are no good painters." This, however, is not true. There is good paint, and there are good painters. But the question is, bringing them together.

One cannot expect a satisfactory painting job without pure white lead. There is a way to make sure you are getting pure white lead without testing it. See that the keg bears National Lead Company's famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark, which is a positive guarantee of purity. However, anyone can test white lead. National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York City, will send you a lead tester and painter's outfit, consisting of book of color schemes, specifications, etc., upon request.

Mars the Next Field.

There are many who will part from the north pole with regret. All their lives it has seemed the one unconquerable salient of nature's fortress, the very synonym of the impossible goal of human endeavor. With the pole itself succumbing, the world is no longer the same, and everything seems within the realm of mortal achievement. We must now think of talking with Mars with more respect. The professor's mirrors may prove any day a reality.

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."—EMMA DRAPER.

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

CLOTHED IN PURPLE

Story of Jonathan's Call to Leadership

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER.

(Copyright, 1909, by the Author, W. S. Elson.)

Based on the Apocryphal Book of I Maccabees Chapters 9 and 10.

SERMONETTE.

There is little question but that the devout sons of Matta-thias known as the Maccabees, found refreshment and encouragement in the Psalms of David. From the beginning of Jonathan's leadership, enemies from within and from without plotted his ruin and death. May we not believe that among his favorite Psalms must have been the 140th.

"Deliver me, O Lord, from the evil man; preserve me from the violent man.

"Which imagine mischiefs in their heart; continually are they gathered together for war.

"They have sharpened their tongues like serpent; adders' poison is under their lips.

"Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent man; who have purposed to overthrow my goings.

"The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the wayside; they have set gins for me.

"I said to the Lord, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O Lord.

"O God the Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.

"Grant not, O Lord, the desires of the wicked: further not his wicked devices; lest they exalt themselves.

"As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

"Let burning coals fall upon them: let them be cast into the fire; into deep pits, that they rise not up again.

"Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

"I know that the Lord will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.

"Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name; the upright shall dwell in thy presence."

Analysis of Maccabaean War.—The view of the Maccabaean war which regards it only as a civil and not as a religious conflict, is exceptionally one-sided. If there were no other evidence than the Book of Daniel, that alone would show how deeply the noblest hopes of the theocracy were centered in the success of the movement. When the feeling of the nation was thus again turned with fresh power to its ancient faith, we might expect that there would be a new creative epoch in the national literature; or, if the form of Hebrew composition was already fixed by sacred types, a prophet or psalmist would express the thoughts of the new age after the models of old time. Yet in part at least the leaders of the Maccabaean times felt that they were separated by a real chasm from the times of the kingdom or of the exile. If they looked for a prophet in the future, they acknowledged that the spirit of prophecy was not among them. The volume of the prophetic writings was complete, and, as far as appears, no one ventured to imitate its contents. But the Hagiographa, though they were already long fixed as a definite collection, were not equally far removed from imitation. The apocalyptic visions of Daniel served as a pattern for the visions incorporated in the Book of Enoch; and it has been commonly supposed that the Psalter contains compositions of the Maccabaean date. This supposition, however, is quite at variance with the best evidence which can be obtained on the history of the Canon.

THE STORY.

"WE have chosen thee this day to be our prince and captain that thou mayest fight our battles."

Jonathan would never forget those words spoken by his brethren sometime after the death of Judas. Other honors were to come to him in his brave and noble career, but none ever warmed his heart more or stirred it more deeply than those words of confident trust from his own brethren. In that hour a great and undying ambition was born in his breast to prove worthy and faithful as the leader of his people. And his devotion was to be tested to the utmost, as subsequent events proved.

It was not long after his call to leadership before Bacchides, the powerful captain under King Demetrius laid a plot to kill him, and certain it is that it would have been successful had not one unto whom Jonathan had shown a kindness years before secretly brought word to him. Then Jonathan, and Simeon his brother, and all that were with him fled into the wilderness of Thecoe, and pitched their tents by the water of the pool Asphar.

Upon this, Bacchides followed, but Jonathan escaped across the Jordan after he had killed about a thousand of the men of Bacchides' army.

Then did Bacchides return to Jerusalem and repaired the strong cities of Judea, and took the sons of the chief men of the country as hostages and shut them up in the tower in Jerusalem and caused much distress in the land, but it came to pass that finally he returned to his own land and Judea had rest. But not for long, for all the ungodly men of the land who hated Jonathan took council together, and said:

"Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore let us go to Bacchides and urge him to return thither, for except we have his help Jonathan and his men will destroy us."

So it came to pass that Bacchides returned with a strong army, but Jonathan discomfited him so that he was glad to make peace with him, but before departing from the land he slew in revenge many of the ungodly men who had urged him to come thither.

Thus the sword ceased from Israel for that time, and Jonathan dwelt at Michmas, and began to govern the people. But he sought not the title of king neither did he think to wear the purple of rulers.

Now it came to pass that when Jonathan had established himself at Jerusalem, that Demetrius sought to make alliance with him thinking to find opportunity to kill him. It was at this time also that King Alexander, against whom Demetrius had sent a great army, also dispatched a deputation to Jonathan saying:

"We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend. Wherefore now this day we ordain thee to be the high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's friend, that thou mayst take our part and keep friendship with us."

Now Jonathan and the people were well pleased when they heard these words, because Alexander was the first that had entreated true peace with them, and they made a pact with him and were confederated with him always.

No matters stood at the time when King Alexander having slain Demetrius in battle and scattered his army had gone to Ptolemais to meet the king of Egypt.

That was a great event for it was there that Alexander was to marry Cleopatra, the daughter of Ptolemee, and the rulers and great men from all the nations around had been invited to be present at the royal celebration.

In the land of Judea it was quickly noised abroad that an invitation had come to Jonathan to attend the nuptials, and his followers rejoiced that King Alexander had so remembered and honored their leader.

But certain wicked fellows who were enemies of Jonathan and sought for occasion to discredit him and weaken his power, entered into a plot, saying:

"Let us go also to Ptolemais. We will take gifts to King Alexander, and because he will be in festive mood it will be easy to gain his ear, when we shall be able to bring things to his notice which will turn his heart against Jonathan, so that he will no longer be his friend."

In accordance with this plan they departed secretly for Ptolemais prepared to poison the mind of Alexander against Jonathan. Now Jonathan had not yet come to the city, a fact which seemed to favor the plans of these evil men, for having presented their gifts they succeeded in gaining the promise of Alexander that he would hear certain petition which they brought on the morrow.

Full of elation they departed, saying among themselves:

"If Jonathan but delays his coming but another day we shall win our cause and instead of a welcome there will be disgrace before the king."

Expectantly therefore they came to Alexander the next day, and the spokesman stepped forth to declare their matter, saying:

"Be it known unto the king that there are certain matters in our nation which should come to the attention of the king, for he whom the king thinks is his ally and friend is dealing in deceit and would do him hurt."

"Of whom speakest thou?" demanded the king. "Before I hear further let me know whom it is against whom thou art bringing charges."

"Jonathan," replied the man, with evident reluctance.

"Jonathan will be here," exclaimed the king.

"Nay, he hath not come and will not, for he is plotting against thee."

"Not another word," thundered Alexander, rising angrily from his seat, and would have spoken further, but at that moment a shout rose from the outer court and Jonathan and his followers were ushered into the presence of the king.

"Here is the man whom the king would honor," he exclaimed, impetuously. "Come hither."

Jonathan wonderingly ascended the throne steps, for he had not known that his enemies had come to accuse him.

"The purple robe be thy portion, for thou art surely a prince worthy to wear it," exclaimed the king, throwing a garment over the shoulders of Jonathan. Then turning to the princes standing about the throne, he said:

"Go with this man into the midst of the city and proclaim to all that no man shall complain against him, but he shall be a duke, and ruler in authority in his realm." So Jonathan returned to Jerusalem in peace and safety.

Dwelling with God.

He that could recall the past without remorse would be something more than a man or much less than a saint. It was Paul the saint, not Paul the Pharisee, that could not speak of his past life without calling himself the chief of sinners; and it was Paul the saint, too, who greeted his approaching death with the shout of triumph: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith!" The man who has entered into God's rest, in whose heart dwells the eternal Christ, finds no furies rising from the depths of the past. He may shed tears over the graves of buried hopes and joys, but death has lost its sting and sorrow its bitterness. As to the future, he meets it not only without fear, but with joy; for life—eternal life—dwells in him who has learned to dwell with God.

The labor of the body relieves us from the fatigues of the mind; and this it is which forms the happiness of the poor.—Rochefoucauld.

A Sublime Truth.

In the mythology of no country is this wonderful thought found: "No man hath seen God at any time, the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him." So that here, in the primary truth, supposed to be the simplest and most manifest of all, we find ourselves in the presence of the most sublime and glorious of Divine relations. We, in common with the most needy and sinful of men, have a heavenly Father, and the service which he requires of us is that we love him with all our heart and soul and strength and mind, and that we love our neighbor as ourselves. To take out the last element, and to treat it as though it were the whole of religion, is to mistake altogether the teaching of Scripture: "He who loves not his brother whom he has seen how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" But on the other hand, that pure, sympathetic, active, unselfish love of man which is seen in its highest and noblest form in the common Father of us all. For it is Jesus who has revealed the Father to us, and those who deny the Son thereby deny the Father also. The world has had no such friend as the Saviour, who freely gave himself for us all; and that which robs us of him leaves us without the one purifying and gracious force which can weld us into one brotherhood of love.

The Vision of God Within.

He who hears the word of grace aright, hears with his soul and carries it out in his life. Job after his suffering contrasted his new vision of God with his former hearsay knowledge. What he once knew compared to what he knew later makes his former knowledge of historical facts, but we have only gone a little way when we have come to understand and believe in the historical character of these facts. Job's great strengthened his hold on the unseen world by making it mean that world to be most real of all. The inner vision [illegible] is that it leads to self-humiliation. We never know ourselves till we are ourselves in the light of God.

The effect of his personal experience

Giving Prayer Help to Others.

We are more likely to count prayer for others a privilege than a duty; a favor extended by us than an obligation resting upon us. Because of this mistaken idea we commonly fall in a large part of our duty toward others. For our failure thus to pray is not merely a missed privilege; it is a sin of omission. Samuel recognized this when he said to his fellowmen: "As for me, far be it from me that I should sin against Jehovah in ceasing to pray for you." God can do more for those with whom we are brought into close touch than we can do. We ought to do all we can for them; but we ought to realize that we are not doing all that we can unless we ask God to do all that He can.

Employ your time in improving yourself by other men's [illegible]

IDEA FROM SAN FRANCISCO

Beef Olives with Vegetables—Good Way to Make Use of Round Steak.

Get a round steak cut very thin, cut into strips four inches and about two inches wide, put bread crumbs in a bowl, add pepper, salt and melted butter. Spread each strip of the steak with the stuffing, roll them up and tie. Put about half a cup of suet in stew pan, when melted throw in the olives, shake over fire until nicely brown, add two tablespoonfuls of flour to the pan and mix well. Dissolve one teaspoonful of beef extract with a pint of boiling water and stir with meat till boiling. Add bay leaf, onion and season. Cover pan, simmer slowly for over an hour. When done remove the strings, put olives in center of meat dish, and arrange vegetables around, strain the sauce over meat, serve with potato croquettes, send to the table at once.

Vegetables.—Cut two or three carrots and white turnips into cubes and boil gently three-quarters of an hour, also a pint of green peas and string beans if liked. If there is not enough of sauce use a little more extract, flour and hot water before taking meat from pan.—San Francisco Chronicle.

WHEN THE CAKE IS BURNED

Harm Done Is Not Irreparable—How It May Easily Be Remedied.

When cakes do the most trying thing to the baker—burn on the sides and bottom—instead of moaning over your loss seek to repair it.

Unless the burn is deep it will not alter the taste of the cake, though perhaps it will be a little drier in consequence. It is so unsightly that it must be covered up at any cost.

Instead of cutting off the edges of the cake with a knife as is usual, try removing the black with a fine grater. This removes all the darker portions and leaves a smooth surface for icing.

Clean, fine sandpaper can be used in the same way. The cake must be handled delicately and not until cold or it will fall and turn soggy.

Ice on the brown side and if burnt on the edges as well as bottom, particularly in small cakes, cover the sides as well as top with icing.

Ribbons of Potatoes.

There is the fashion now of serving potatoes in long ribbons. These are left separate or crossed to form lattice work. They look much daintier for luncheon than the whole vegetable.

Pare, wash and peel half a dozen large potatoes and let them lie in cold water for a few minutes. Cut them up into ribbons, round and round like an apple, and keep the strips of one width.

Don't make them too thin or they will break. Fry them in plenty of hot fat until they are lightly browned. Drain them in a wire sieve and sprinkle a little pepper and salt over them.

They should be fried for about eight minutes and served on a very hot dish.

Lemon Cake.

Two ounces of butter, four ounces caster sugar, a quarter of a pound of corn flour, two eggs, the grated rind of half a lemon, half a teaspoonful of baking powder.

Beat the butter and sugar together, then add the eggs one at a time. Lastly the dry ingredients. Beat all together, pour into a greased tin and bake in a slow oven.

For Croup.

Lobelia is a sovereign remedy for croup. Get a small bottle of it and when a child awakes in the night with a dry, hoarse cough, which mothers who have croupy children soon learn to recognize, begin giving the lobelia in small doses until the child vomits. The druggist will tell you how to give it. Vomiting removes the mucous from the throat.

To Wash Clotheslines.

A good way to wash clotheslines is to wind them on a long board and scrub them with a scrubbing brush. You will find that in this way you keep them from getting tangled. It is no hard to wind them when you wash them in the tub.

French Dressing.

Mix one-half level teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika with three tablespoons of olive oil, one-half tablespoon each of vinegar and lemon juice.

Duty.

I slept and dreamed that life was Beauty;
I woke and found that life was Duty:
Was then thy dream a shadowy lie?
Toil on, sad heart, courageously,
And thou shalt find thy dream to be
A noonday light and truth to thee.
—Ellen Sturgis Hooper.

Conventional.

"She's awfully conventional."

"No?"

"Yes, she wouldn't think of letting [illegible]

Followed Directions.

Two street urchins were having a controversy over a spotted pup.

"Gimme my dorg," said the tall one angrily, doubling up his fist.

"Give yer de dog?" retorted the other one sarcastically. "Why yer can whistle for it."

"Can, eh? Well, that's just what I'm going to do. Come on, purp." And the next moment the tall boy and the dog were vanishing around the corner.

Too Suggestive.

"My poor man," said the kind housewife, as she handed out a cut of prune pie, "how did you come to fall if you owned a condensed milk factory?"

"Ah, ma'am," responded the tall tramp, "it was de fault of me partner. He called de milk de 'Globe' brand and we went up."

"And the name ruined it?"

"Yes, ma'am; you see de globe is two-thirds water."

Possible Explanation.

Hixon—"My tailor has sent me two bills for one suit of clothes."

Dixon—"How do you account for it?"

Hixon—"He evidently uses the double-entry system of bookkeeping."

The Perils of Propinquity.

"How did that freight boat of yours pay this season?"

"Not very well. Still, her record in one way was highly satisfactory."

"What way was that?"

"Out of the total number of guests carried in her cabins during the summer, twenty-six became engaged, and there have been seven marriages."

"An aviator cannot boast of his family."

"Why not?"

"Because in his profession there is no cause for boasting of descent."—Baltimore American.

The October Century.

The most timely feature of the October Century is the Clermont chapter of "Fulton's Invention of the Steamboat," written by the inventor's great-granddaughter, Mrs. Alice Crary Sutcliffe. This second of two valuable historical articles is devoted to the Clermont's making, launching and history; and the narrative includes many of Fulton's own letters and manuscripts, now published for the first time, in addition to autographic plans for the Clermont, recently discovered. Other timely articles of the number include Mr. A. Barton Hepburn's discussion of the question: "Is a Central Bank Desirable?" contrasting the rigidity of the United States currency with the flexibility of the currency of other nations; also two articles on the growing use of the "finger-print" system of identification in governmental and business circles. Charles B. Brewer tells of their use in the United States navy and elsewhere; and Jay Hambidge has much of interest to say on the remarkably successful use by the New York police of this new method of identifying criminals.

WHAT WOMAN IS.

A young and precocious poet of the south, on being asked to contribute to a lady's album, has, according to a Paris contemporary, given the following as an answer to the question, "What is a woman?": To a painter, a model; to a doctor, a subject; to a farmer, a housewife; to an invalid, a plaything; to a Parisian, a dowry; to a naturalist, a female; to a Huron, a beast of burden; to a Roman, a woman of the world; to a college don, an angel; to a poet, a flower, and to a Christian, a companion.

HAS DOWRY OF $2,000,000.

The fortune which Miss Anita Stewart will bring to Dom Miguel of Braganza, son of the Portuguese pretender, on her marriage will amount to $2,000,000. Of this sum $1,000,000 was given to Miss Stewart by James Henry Smith during his lifetime—in fact, at the time of his marriage to her mother, Mrs. Rhinelander Stewart, as she then was. The other $1,000,000 will be given to the young woman as a dowry by her mother.

HALF A MILE OF ROSES.

Half a mile of roses! There is such a sight at the Payne Whitney estate, Manhasset, L. I. It is composed mostly of single wild roses like the Carolina and prairie rose, and is therefore attractive in winter as well as summer by reason of the red stems and hips.—Garden Magazine.

SUDDEN STOPS.

Sparker—In spite of the airships autos are still all the go.

Foggwood—That's just the trouble. Some of them won't go at all.
