FOR THE CONSTITUTION

Both Democrats and Republicans Lining up in Favor Of The Constitution

PUBLIC LANDS ARE PROTECTED

The constitution is receiving consideration through out the county as it should and the people as a whole will accept it it is beleived although there will be a few voters in both parties who will vote against it, mostly for personal reasons.

The Republicans as a party are not alone in supporting the organ, many democrats throughout the territory have placed themselves on record as favoring its adoption. This week the Pecos Valley Democrats protested against holding a Democratic central committee meeting to accept or reject it, their statements is to the effect that they will accept it any way. Isaac Barth Chairman of the Bernalillo County Democratic Central Committee has placed himself on record favoring the constitution and adds that it is not a political question at all, and many other prominent democrats are of like opinion.

WILL PROTECT PUBLIC FUNDS

"In view of the serious abuses which have prevailed under the territorial form of government," said a well known business man this week, "the people are to be congratulated that the new constitution specifically provides that the public moneys shall be deposited in national banks or state incorporated banks or trust companies. Not only does misuse of the people's funds automatically remove a public official and render him liable to trial for felony, but the organic act tells in so many words disposition must be made of public funds. There is nothing optional about it. Public moneys shall be language of section ten in the article on taxation and revenue. 'Shall, use in the third person plural is imperative, I believe any way you can construe it. To my mind this is one of the most important provisions in the document and one good strong reason why the constitution should receive the support of the people. In providing that the public funds must be placed in approved financial institutions, and providing for the use of the interest therefrom, it has gone as far as is possible to go and assures the people it will not be possible in the new state for private individuals or firms to have the benefit of the use of money belonging to the state. It has been a notorious fact that such has been the case in the territory. Money that ought to have been drawing interest for the people has been feathering the nests of politicians and their favored friends. Under this constitution this practice is doomed."

This gentleman has expressed the general opinion regarding this clause of the fundamental law and it will be one strong card in drawing the popular vote for the act.

OSCURO PRIMARY MEETING

The Democratic primary for Precinct 15, Oscuro, will be held at Edwards' store in Oscuro Wednesday, December 7th at 2 P. M., to elect delegates to the county central Committee meeting to be held December 10th.—Adv.

Require $10,000 Bond From Lincoln

Judge Edward R. Wright Overrules Carrizozo's Demurrer But Requires Lincoln to Put Up $10,000 Bond to Carrizozo or Present Injunction Will Be Dissolved December 10th. and Work Can then Continue on the County Buildings.

Quo Warranto Not Yet Heard-Full Text of Judge Wright's Decision

Territory of New Mexico, by its Attorney General Frank W. Clancy, on the relation of Jacob J. Aragon, vs. The Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County, New Mexico. No. 1976.

OPINION upon Defendant's Demurrer:

This is a proceeding in the nature of quo warranto brought in the name of the Territory of New Mexico upon the relation of one J. J. Aragon against the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln.

It appears from the records in the case that this action was brought with the knowledge and consent, and upon the authority of the Attorney General. The complaint alleges that the relator, J. J. Aragon, is a citizen, resident and taxpayer of the County of Lincoln; that the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln has usurped certain franchises, namely—the right to call an election to vote on the proposition of changing the seat of Lincoln County from Lincoln to Carrizozo, and the right to erect public buildings at Carrizozo and pay out the public moneys therefor; and the right to keep and maintain the county seat of said county and the offices of the officers at Carrizozo and hold the sessions of the Board of County Commissioners, probate courts and other courts at said Carrizozo. The remaining allegations of the information setting up the alleged grounds of illegality and irregularity in the exercise of such franchises by the defendant are not material for the purposes of this opinion.

In the prayer of the information, defendant is called upon to show by what right or authority such franchises, rights and privileges are exercised.

The defendant demurred to the information upon the following grounds:

"1. That said information and complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action in that it seeks to hold the County of Lincoln liable for the alleged unlawful acts of its officers; that the sole purpose of this action is to test the legality of certain alleged acts of the defendant where no question of the right to an office or franchise is involved; to prohibit and restrain defendant from doing certain acts and things, the right and power of doing which is claimed by virtue of defendant's powers and duties, and seeks relief for alleged official misconduct and to that end asks to have declared void an act of the legislative assembly of New Mexico under which such alleged illegal acts and official misconduct were performed.

2 That the plaintiff and all parties aggrieved by the alleged acts of defendant have full and adequate relief and remedy in the usual course of proceedings and by the ordinary forms of civil actions.

3. That the said complaint and information does not show or charge that defendant has usurped any office or franchise."

This demurrer raises two points for consideration. 1st—Are proceedings by quo warranto proper to test such right or franchise? 2nd—Are the proceedings in this case addressed to the proper parties or party defendant? Considering the first proposition:—It appears from the records of the Supreme Court of the Territory of New Mexico and of this court that heretofore an injunction was brought by certain taxpayers of the County of Lincoln against the Board of County Commissioners, wherein it was sought to enjoin the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln from doing and performing the same acts which are complained of in the case at bar. This case was appealed to the supreme court and by a divided court the ruling of the lower court was sustained and the Town of Carrizozo declared to be the legal county seat of the County of Lincoln. Subsequent to handing down such an opinion a motion for rehearing was filed and this motion is still pending. At the same term of the supreme court and prior to the decision of the injunction case above referred to, the supreme court in the case of "Torres versus Board of County Commissioners of the County of Torrance" handed down a decision wherein it was held that injunction was not the proper remedy to determine the location of a county seat, but that the proper remedy was by quo warranto. No motion for rehearing was filed in this case and so long as such case stands unreversed it is undoubtedly the law applicable to similar controversies in New Mexico and is controlling upon this court.

This disposes of the second and third grounds of the demurrer. In the case of "Torres versus Board of County Commissioners" above referred to, the court held that injunction by a taxpayer is to enjoin the Board of County Commissioners from paying out moneys of the county for the erecting of county buildings in the town of Estancia would necessarily involve the constitutionality of the act creating Estancia the county seat of Torrance County and would be in the nature of a collateral attack upon the validity of this act. The court in its argument indicated very clearly its reason for so holding, citing the case of Dean versus Kimmick et al, (N. D.) 122 N. M. 245; also Ashley versus the Board of County Commissioners, 60 Fed. 55.

The argument adopted by the supreme court appears to be that one main reason why an injunction would not lie is that the right which the petitioner seeks to secure is one which effects him in no way differently from all other tax payers in the county, all of whom are interested in the location of the county seat. That in such a case the public has a right to be heard, and if it is intended in such action to determine the constitutionality of an act (and it might also well be said the regularity of an election) that the public has a right to be heard, and that it would be folly to attempt to determine the constitutionality of an act (or the regularity of an election) at the instigation of a private citizen.

The argument of the court above referred to would seem to indicate that the same reasoning would apply to an action in the nature of quo warranto brought upon the relation of a private individual. But in the case at bar the defendant by its demurrer does not raise this question, therefore, the court will not pass upon it, further than to suggest that it is a serious question whether proceedings by quo warranto to test the legality of the location of a county seat can be brought upon the relation of a private individual, and whether it is not absolutely necessary that same be brought only by the direct action of the attorney general acting ex officio in behalf of the public; and in this connection the court cites the following cases:

State of Minnesota Ex Rel. Wah-Yea-Cuming versus Olson, (Minn.) 21 L. R. A. New Series 685 and cases therein cited, together with case note; State ex rel. Childs versus Crow Wing County Commissioners, (Miss.) 35 L. R. A. 745 and cases cited. Forsyth et al versus City of Hammond, (Ind.) 30 L. R. A. 576. 32 Cyc. 1443. (Ill. 1875) City of Chicago versus People, 80 Ill. 496. (Kan 1873) Miller versus Town of Palermo, 12 Kan 14. (Minn. 1892) State versus Tracy, 48 Minn. 497, 51 N. W. 613. (N. J. 1889) State versus Vickers, 51 N. J. Law (22 Vroom) 180; 17 Atl. 153, 14 Am. St. Rep. 675.

II. The remaining question raised by the demurrer has to do with the question of whether or not the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln is the proper party defendant. In this connection, the court is of the opinion the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln is the proper defendant, for the reason that under statutes of the Territory of New Mexico the County of Lincoln can only sue and be sued under the name of the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln and it is the County which is exercising the authority to change the county seat, through its officers, and it would appear to the court that the same argument which would be applicable to a municipal corporation where the incorporation of the municipality is admitted would be applicable to the case at bar, there being no question but that the County of Lincoln was duly and properly organized. The question here being not whether the County of Lincoln was properly organized but whether the County of Lincoln through its officer has usurped any franchise, right or privilege.

State versus Atlantic Islands, 50 N. J. L. 458; State versus Village of Bradford, 32 Vt. 50.

In case No. 1980, the injunction case brought in aid of the quo warranto proceeding, and upon which hearing was had upon the return of the show cause, the Court is of the opinion that this injunction should not be continued in force any longer except upon the giving of a good and sufficient bond, which bond shall be conditioned for the payment of any and all damages which may or shall accrue to the defendant, or to any contractor engaged in the erection of any county buildings, on account of the delay and loss of material caused by said injunction if the same should be dissolved.

The demurrer in cause No. 1976 will therefore be overruled, and in cause No. 1980 above referred to, the injunction will be dissolved unless on or before the 10th day of December, 1910 the plaintiff or some one in his behalf shall enter into a good and sufficient bond to the defendant in the sum $10,000.00, conditioned as hereinbefore set out, and order will, on that day, be entered accordingly without further notice to any of the parties hereto.

(Signed) E. R. Wright, Judge.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET

Lincoln County Teacher's Association held Successful Meeting last Saturday

ELECTED OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The annual fall meeting of the Lincoln County Teacher's Association was held at Carrizozo last Saturday, November 26th. Forenoon, afternoon and evening sessions were held.

The forenoon session, which was held in the school house, was chiefly devoted to routine matters. Mrs. Wallace Gumm was reelected president of the association and Miss Lella Laws, secretary and treasurer. An important matter taken up at this session was the question of organizing a South Central New Mexico Teacher's Association and a committee was appointed, Supt. Haley as chairman to correspond with those interested in adjoining counties. An interesting feature of the session was a class exercise in dramatization work by Miss Lella Laws and pupils of the second language class.

The afternoon session was held in the Baptist Church. Interesting talks were given by C. L. Kennedy and Supt. John Haley. Hon. John H. Canning, member of the Constitutional Convention, addressed the association on the subject of the "Constitution of New Mexico." Mr. Canning talked very interestingly of the convention and explained its work and especially the public educational laws which were adopted.

The feature of the evening session was the address by Rev. B. W. Allen, who discussed matters of educational interest such as 'the relation of the school to the home,' and 'the value of a well balanced training for the real duties of life,' in a very able and entertaining manner. Music for the sessions was furnished by Miss Pearl Taylor and pupils of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades of the local schools.

Among the teachers present were: John A. Haley, Chas. L. Schreck, Mrs. Wallace Gumm, Miss Pearl Taylor, Miss Lella Laws and Mrs. Nora Massie, all of Carrizozo; Mrs. M. R. Patterson and Miss Edith Wells of White Oaks; Miss Cora Kelley, Carrizozo; Miss Mae Gillmore and Miss Eula Gillmore of Alto; Miss Callie Thompson and Miss Donnie Franks of Corona; Miss Doppie Cooper of Glenzo; C. L. Kennedy of Jicarilla; Mr. Dye of Ancho and G. E. Cardwell of Gallinas.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Miss Mayo Boykin, Mrs. F. Elliott and Mrs. E. B. Walker were the guests entertained with the members of the Carrizozo Whist Club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Rolland.

The usual hours were spent about the card tables after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Miss Mayo Boykin made the highest score winning first prize, the consolation prize going to Mrs. F. J. Sager.

Wednesday saw the last of whist for this little coterie until after the holidays, the days in the interim being devoted to the needlework which becomes so important a feature of ante-Christmas days.

Miss Lorena Sager entertained a few of the younger set at a musicale Monday evening.

—A movement is on foot among the prominent citizens of Carrizozo to employ Chas. Spiess and Judge A. B. Falls as additional counsel in the county seat case.

—Dr. G. Ranniger and Geo. Shule of Oscuro made a business trip to the city Thursday.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1910

THE COUNTY SEAT CASE has assumed confusing proportions and one not versed in the mysteries of the law is naturally confused by the intricate proceedings before us. Judge Wright's decision printed elsewhere in this issue has been "explained" as not relating to the Quo Warranto proceeding proper, no hearing has ever been given this quo warranto as yet, but refers to the demurrer filed by Hewitt and Hudspeth. A letter to this paper from Hewitt and Hudspeth explains the proceedings and results, we quote in part.

"The overruling of the demurrer does not affect the case on its merits and only the pleadings. We shall now answer and go ahead with the testimony."

"It is extremely doubtful if Lincoln will or can make such a bond as the court will require and if this is not approved and filed on or before December 10th the injunction will be dissolved and the work can go on. The dissolution of the injunction now would not dispose of the case but only the restraining order, the case proper would go to a hearing on its merits."

THE REMARKABLE HARMONY of opinion among the democrats as to the constitution is strikingly manifested regarding the amendment provision. "Impossible to amend," is the conviction expressed by a number of the radicals whose brethren of the democratic press elsewhere in the territory on the other hand declare they will vote for it because it is "so easy to amend."

You may take your choice. But if any democrat admits the constitution is easy to amend, you can bank on it for the fact.—Ex.

NOBODY SEEMS to be able to keep the title of "Meanest Man" for very long. The man who sat in the last seat of the last car in order to save interest on his money until the conductor got around to him was displaced by the man who induced a brood of chicks to get under a feather duster and set the old hen on another nestful of eggs. Now a surrogate on Long Island has ruled that a 16-year-old girl who wanted $17,000 a year from her father's estate for her education can have but $8,000, which he declares is enough for any girl of her age. Just think of it!

THE EL PASO HERALD sizes it up correctly when it says: "When a man proves big enough to be of service to the state or nation, some corporation generally comes along and hires him away. Vernon L. Sullivan, territorial engineer of New Mexico, has just been given twice the salary the territory paid him, to go with a railroad and look after its irrigation work. The answer is that the states and the nation must pay more to their good men."

THE CUERVO CLIPPER gives the following timely advice: "Young man, if you wish to profit by Horace Greeley's advice—'Go west young man'—you had better get a move on, as New Mexico is probably the last west, and it won't last long."

A PITTSBURG WOMAN wants a divorce because her husband has not taken a bath for six months. In a smoky, sooty town like Pittsburg a woman has a right to insist that her husband shall bathe every month or so.

CHAMP CLARK driving a team of mules up the avenue would look to the casual observer more like a man who had lost an election bet rather than like a winner.

—Jim Woodland has been up from the 7X ranch this week, Jim is a staunch Democrat but in discussing the constitution states, that while he has not scrutinized the constitution carefully he believes that after waiting the 34 years, he has been in territory, for statehood, the constitution really should be adopted.

LINCOLN LOCALS

Miles B. May of Nogal was in town Monday of this week attending to business.

The San Juan Lodge No. 49 gave a grand ball Friday November 25, in celebration of the first anniversary of its organization in Lincoln A large crowd was in attendance and every one seemed to have a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaborn Gray, Jr of Pecos, N. M. who were recently married at that place, are visiting friends in Lincoln where Mrs. Gray taught last year. Her many friends remembered her as Miss Harrison. Seaborn Gray Jr. is the son of Seaborn T. Gray and Mrs. Sara C. Gray of Capitan. The many friends of the happy young couple wish them success and much happiness as they journey together through life.

The local apple buyer, G. H. Copeland, and his most estimable wife who have been making head quarters at Lincoln Hotel since they have been in the county, departed on Sunday for El Paso, Texas, where they will spend a few weeks, before going to Florida for the winter.

Quite a number of parties have been making final proof on their homesteads during the last ten days.

A nice shower of rain fell in Lincoln on last Saturday afternoon, since which time it has been reminding the people that winter is coming.

HORTICULTURE

JOINING LIMBS OF A TREE

Select Two Small Branches Growing Opposite and Twine Them Together Horizontally.

When a tree is small, but with sufficient growth, select two, small branches growing opposite and as near the crotch as possible, as shown at A in the sketch, and twine them together horizontally, one overlapping the other as a rope is twisted, leaving the ends free as in B. It will take about a year for nature to join them, writes D. English in Popular Mechanics. Then prune the ends off smooth and in time as the bark expands through the growth of the tree the connection will become as one solid piece, C, thereby binding the limbs together. This method may be used several times in one tree. Trees treated in this manner will not split through rapid growth or by the wind. This method can be applied to all fruit trees except the peach tree.

The Pig and the Orchard.
The two go together well. The pig stirs up the soil about the trees, letting in the sunshine and moisture to the roots and fertilizing them, while devouring many grubs that would otherwise prey upon the fruit. But many orchards cannot be fenced and many owners of fenced orchards, even, would like to have the pig confine his efforts around the trunk of each tree. To secure this have four fence panels made and yard the pig for a short time in succession about each tree.

Many Dangers Menace Trees.
The apple tree has a hard time of it, surely. The Maine station enumerates as many as 33 insects that injure apple trees. Some of these are more serious than others; for instance, San Jose scale and the codling moth do more damage than the plant lice. When the various fungous diseases are counted in, this is a pretty strenuous existence for the apple tree.

Barrels for Apples.
In the city markets the barrel remains the most popular and generally acceptable package for apples. But the trouble with the barrel is, it gives the dishonest packer a chance to get rid of a lot of poor fruit hidden in the middle and bottom. The box demands more honest grading.

Growing Lemons.
Nine years ago J. E. Kranz, of Muscatine, Iowa, planted some lemon seeds in his greenhouse and last fall picked 11 lemons, some of which weighed a pound and three-quarters and measured 16 inches in circumference.

Danger From Plant Root Lice.
Asters suffer from root lice, which invariably kill them in a short time, if undisturbed. These lice also attack chrysanthemums, clematis and like plants. Where those pests are at work there will be ants also.

Spraying for Moth.
The best time to spray for the codling moth on the apple or pear is when the petals fall. Spraying the first time should be prompt, as the calyx lobes which receive the spray are open for only a few days.

Prepare for Hotbed.
If you wish to have a hotbed next spring, or even a box of young tomatoes in the window during March, this is the time to put the soil down cellar in a box. It will be hard to get out of doors when the time comes.

Growing Berries.
You must not forget that all berries are forest fruits, and generally grow in the shade and are great lovers of moisture.

son and seriously impairs both the eating and keeping qualities.

For its control the destruction of all nursery fruits and attention to branch cankers are necessary in addition to the application of sprays. Since we know the life history of the fungus better it has been possible to control bitter-rot successfully under orchard conditions as the annual sources of infection by nursery fruit and cankers have been mastered.

Fly-Speck Fungus.—This disease in ordinary seasons appears chiefly upon apples grown in low, moist situations. During wet seasons some varieties are liable to be spotted by this parasite whatever may be the location of the trees.

Aside from selecting high, sunny situations for the apple orchard, spraying with Bordeaux mixture will prevent this disease.

Storage Rots.—These rots of the apple are extremely various since apples infected before storage are liable to develop during storage the forms of rot due to that infection. Even bitter-rot may not be overlooked in this way and much more commonly still, black-rot and the rots which develop from the gradual invasion of molds. It is found, furthermore, that bruises upon the apple or any tendency to sun scald phenomena give dead tissues in which various organisms that normally hasten decay will do their work with rapidity. It is understood, of course, that the temperatures of storage will regulate or control more or less perfectly the rate of this development.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

Now is a good time to apply manure to raspberries, currants, gooseberries, etc.

As long as the soil remains unfrozen, continue to hoe and cultivate the strawberry bed.

All weeds and dead branches should be cleaned out of the small fruit gardens and burned.

Where ground freezing is to be expected straw mulch will protect the roots of the orchard trees.

Young trees will grow later in the fall than older ones, and the sap-run should be checked as early as possible.

A covey of quail in an orchard will prove a good friend to the grower, because they eat a tremendous number of insects.

Attractive flower beds add much to the charm of the flower garden. Coleus, salvia and phlox are well adapted for bedding purposes.

In the extreme north fruit growers find that it is much better practice to cultivate the orchards from the beginning to the end of the season.

In filling apple barrels, fill until the last layer stands an inch above the chine of the barrel. This ensures solidity when the head is pressed down carefully.

There is scarcely a farm apple orchard in existence that cannot be renovated to a profitable purpose.

Brush and rubbish left in the orchard is a hiding place for insects, let alone being unsightly and untidy.

When the ground freezes hard enough to hold up a wagon, is the time to mulch the strawberry bed with straw or marsh hay. Don't be in too big a hurry.

Good luck likes to visit people who are not expecting it.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. UNSIGHTLY COMPLEXIONS

The constant use of Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for toilet, bath and nursery purposes not only preserves, purifies, and beautifies the skin, scalp, hair and hands, and prevents inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the complexion and skin. All who delight in a clear skin, soft, white hands, a clean, wholesome scalp and live, glossy hair, will find Cuticura Soap most successful in realizing every expectation. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are admirably adapted to preserve the health of the skin and scalp of infants and children, and to prevent minor blemishes or inherited skin humors becoming chronic, and may be used from the hour of birth. Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the civilized world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, for their free Cuticura book, 32 pages of invaluable advice on care and treatment of the skin, scalp and hair.

AN EFFECTIVE HOME MADE KIDNEY AND BACKACHE CURE

Easily Prepared Medicine Which is Said to Regulate the Kidneys and End Backache.

To make up enough of the "Dandelion Mixture" which is claimed to be a prompt cure for Backache and Kidney and Bladder trouble, get from any good Prescription Pharmacist one-half ounce fluid extract Dandelion; one ounce Kargon Compound and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Those who have tried it say it acts gently but thoroughly on the Kidneys and entire urinary system, relieving the most severe Backache at once.

A well-known medical authority recommends the prescription to be taken the moment you suspect any Kidney, Bladder or Urinary disorder or feel a constant dull Backache, or if the urine is thick, cloudy, offensive or full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a scalding sensation; or for too frequent urination during the night.

This is a real harmless vegetable mixture which could not cause injury to anyone and the relief which is said to immediately follow its use is a revelation to men and women who suffer from Backache, Kidney trouble or any form of Urinary disorder.

This is surely worth trying, as it is easily mixed at home or any druggist will do it for you, and doesn't cost much.

Least He Go Hungry.
Sometimes men do things out of selfishness rather than out of kindness. Recently a club woman told this story:

"An old couple came in from the country with a big basket of lunch to see the circus.

"The lunch was heavy. The old wife was carrying it. As they crossed a crowded street the husband held out his hand and said:

"Gimme that basket, Hannah."

"The poor old woman surrendered the basket with a grateful look.

"That's real kind o' ye, Joshua," she quavered.

"Kind," grunted the old man. "Gosh, I wuz feared ye'd git lost."—Exchange.

AVIATOR LOST WHILE IN AIR

J. ARMSTRONG DREXEL LOSES
BEARINGS AFTER MAKING
RECORD FLIGHT

GOES 9,970 FEET HIGH

GENERAL ALLEN, CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, TAKES TRIP WITH AVIATOR

Philadelphia.—Followers of aviation in Philadelphia were kept busy Thursday watching the fortunes of J. Armstrong Drexel, who established a new world's altitude record, and of Claude Grahame-White, an English aviator, who brought to a close a series of successful exhibitions at the Point Breeze race track.

Drexel again proved to be the star attraction. He attempted to fly back from Oreland to Philadelphia in the same Bleriot monoplane in which he reached a height of 9,970 feet. He became lost and was forced to land at Trenton Junction, four miles from Trenton, N. J. Oreland is about thirteen miles from Philadelphia, but Drexel in his flight of one hour and ten minutes traveled twenty miles.

Mr. Drexel landed because of a shortage of gasoline. He mistook the Delaware river for the Schuylkill and traveled north instead of south.

Claude Grahame-White and several thousand persons were awaiting Mr. Drexel in Point Breeze, and when word, which proved to be untrue, was received that the former was coming down the river, Mr. White arose in one of his machines and sailed up the river to meet him. This gave hundreds of persons whose homes are south and west of Philadelphia a thrill. After his descent word of Mr. Drexel's landing was received.

Mr. White gave several exhibition flights and on one of his trips took aloft General James Allen, chief signal officer of the army.

General Allen was taken around the field several times at a height of several hundred feet. He was so much at ease that he was taken for a trip over the Philadelphia navy yard, which is about a mile from Point Breeze. General Allen was in the air about ten minutes.

Alaska's Disastrous Floods.

Cordova, Alaska.—A disastrous flood caused by the loosening of the waters of an internal lake in Bering glacier, swept the Bering river valley devastating a large section of the country southwest of the great ice field. Many miners' cabins were swept away and grave fears are entertained for the lives of the occupants. Icebergs of gigantic size were torn loose from the glacier and dumped into the river. Swept before the huge rush of water, which caused the Bering river to rise ten feet in four hours, the great masses of ice carried everything before them. Cabins near the river were carried out by the water and then ground to pieces by the ice.

Ranchmen and Indians Fight.

Sheridan, Wyo.—Ranchmen living between Sheridan and the Montana line are alarmed over the threatened uprising of Crow Indians as a result of the shooting scrape near Pryor between ranchmen and Indians, during which Alva Otto Bull was killed and two other Indians seriously wounded. The trouble arose over the Indians attempting to drive off a herd of cattle and horses owned by Mike Roth, a Sage creek stockman, who lives near the boundary of the Crow reservation.

Lunch Room for Schools.

New York.—The experiment under control of the board of education, of maintaining a lunch room for the benefit of school children, is to be given a trial in this city. Authority to equip a room for this purpose in one of the schools of the middle west side has been voted by the board. Cost will be $100.00.

Boy Builds Monoplane.

Pueblo, Colo.—A gliding monoplane, which had its first successful demonstration has been built by Dewey Spoor, aged 14, son of Mrs. Mollie Spoor of this city. Spoor made his first trial flight by dropping off the top of a barn with it. He is now at work on a biplane.

LITTLE NEW MEXICO ITEMS.

Minor Occurrences of More Than Ordinary Interest.

The constitution is written. Thus far, this month, the game warden's office has contributed almost $3,000 to the territorial treasury.

The plans for the new exhibit building in the Santa Fe park at Raton are being held up, pending a readjustment asked by the railroad officials.

Over two thousand dollars in fines has been realized in Socorro county for violation of the game laws this season, chiefly by Laguna Indians.

Vernon L. Sullivan, the capable, popular territorial engineer of the Territory has handed Governor Mills his resignation to take effect on New Year. The resignation was accepted.

Col. W. F. Cody, known to all the world as "Buffalo Bill," bade his "farewell from the saddle" to a Deming audience, representing fully two thirds of the residents of Luna county.

The New Mexico Light, Heat & Power Company are installing in Silver City their new street lightning system, the contract for which was entered into some time ago by the city council.

It was after five o'clock Wednesday morning when the convention adjourned and after Republicans and Democrats had fraternized. Seven of the twenty-nine Democrats refused to sign the constitution.

The directors of the Chicago Land and Irrigation Exposition have set aside one whole day of the big show for New Mexico alone and have planned for special exercises to make the day a memorable one.

An Alamogordo man gets a flow of a thousand gallons per minute out of four wells, some of them nearly 200 feet deep. With this sort of water supply, they figure that their land will be worth $500 per acre.

Governor W. J. Mills removed from office District Attorney George S. Klock of the sixth district attorney district, with headquarters in Albuquerque, and appointed in his place Edward A. Mann of Albuquerque, former associate justice of the New Mexico Supreme Court.

Bert Weir of Monument, N. M., won the world's championship in the annual roping contest at Juarez, Mexico, his time for roping and tying five steers was 3:23 4-5. The prize was $400 in gold and a $150 medal. Al Vivian of Pecos, Texas, made the lowest single tie, his time being .23 3-5.

The engineer on a southbound passenger train on the New Mexico Eastern discovered a tie placed across the rails near Acme, twenty miles northeast of Roswell, in time to stop the train just before the engine reached the obstruction. The track of a bicycle at the spot was the only clew found.

Tucumcari had a good old-fashioned holdup recently, when a masked man, armed with a brace of big six-shooters, entered the Lobby saloon and took all the money in the cash register, amounting to $110, and made good his escape. Diamond Dick methods were followed in the approved style.

Certificates of construction and license to appropriate for four irrigation projects were issued by Territorial Engineer Sullivan to Ventura Gallegos of Trinchera, Colo., James A. Gregory of Corruumpa, Charles H. Baird and W. R. Martin of Airolo and Oscar W. McCulston of Valley, the projects all in Union county.

Declaring that the near approach of statehood has had a perceptible influence upon industry and general business conditions, Governor William J. Mills, in what probably is the last annual report of the territorial governor to the secretary of the interior before that territory becomes a state, says the residents of the territory are looking forward to a period of great industrial prosperity following the completion of the state government.

The Sperry & Lukins well rig, working on the Sperry & Lukins land four miles southeast of Artesia, brought in a fine gusher recently, at a depth of 860 feet. The well flows an immense amount of water and when the line is finally set it will read between sixteen and twenty inch over an 8-inch casing, which will irrigate a lot of land.

All school census returns have been received by the office of the territorial superintendent of public instruction. The number of persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years is 99,308, as against 98,604 last year, a gain of 704 since last year. The apportionment to be made this month will be at the rate of forty cents a head.

Governor Mills issued a Thanksgivng pardon for John Barnum, a Raton policeman, who was convicted and sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary. Barnum has a wife and five small children depending upon him for support and since his conviction his wife has been living on a homestead and has been trying to support his family

Fire in Mines Is Out.

Silver City.—G. A. Easton, superintendent of the operations on the Pinos Altos mines, reports that the fire in the Hearst shaft had finally been smothered out. As soon as the fire was discovered some two weeks ago, the lower levels were bulk-headed thus effectually smothering it out. Mr. Easton says the shaft and levels are still full of gas and fans are being installed to drive this out, after which work will be resumed.

Apples for Raton.

Raton.—M. M. Chase and son, Mason G. Chase, came up recently from their large apple ranch near Cimarron, accompanying a five-car load lot of apples, which were stored in the cold storage apartment of the Raton Crystal Ice Company's storage plant for safe keeping until next spring, when the market price for the fruit improves. The consignment numbered 3,000 boxes. This celebrated apple orchard of sixty-eight acres stands as a splendid illustration of what Colfax county soil can do under the nurturing coercion of irrigation. The apples produced this year fell slightly short of 20,000 boxes.

To Vote on Bond Issue.

Deming.—The qualified voters of Deming will have an opportunity on January 10, 1911, to vote on a thirty-eight thousand dollar bond issue, the funds so obtained to be used in putting in a sanitary sewerage system. The rapid growth of Deming in the past year has almost necessitated that some action be taken along this line, and at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the village of Deming, recently, a resolution was passed calling for an election of the qualified voters of Deming to vote upon the proposition of issuing bonds to the aggregate amount of $38,000, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of a sanitary sewer system on January 10, 1911.

To Hold Election January 21st.

Santa Fe.—The constitutional convention adopted a resolution to hold the election for the approval of the constitution on January 21st and to refer the constitution, if adopted, to Congress and President Taft early in February.

It adopted a memorial to President Taft, asking for the immediate survey of the 103d meridian and the boundaries between New Mexico and Texas, which are in dispute.

With the defeat of the proposition providing for state-wide prohibition of all the propositions before it, and the time intervening until adjournment will be spent in revising the sections already adopted. The report of a special committee on liquor traffic, which commended that the prohibition issue has no place in a constitution and should be left to future legislative action, was adopted by a vote of 59 to 24 after an hour's debate. Few delegates favored prohibition and the debate was principally confined to a discussion of a proposed local option substitute for state-wide prohibition.

Constitutional Convention Closes.

After five o'clock Tuesday morning, the legislative day of Monday, November 21st, the date of adjournment of the constitutional convention, ended. The hands of the official clock were turned back five hours early in the evening.

The hours after midnight were spent in reading the constitution, as finally revised. It was a tedious job, but A. H. Hudspeth had saved much time, by a motion that the roll call on each section and article be dispensed with and that the ayes and nays be recorded only upon the whole document.

There was an air of festivity all evening, which opened with the presentation of tokens of esteem to the presiding officer, Charles A. Spless. The convention had been in session over fifty days.

STOMACH MISERY VANISHES

Indigestion, Gas, Sourness and Dyspepsia Go and Your Stomach Feels Fine in Five Minutes.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn or a sick, sour, upset or gassy stomach, that is a sign of indigestion. Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store here in town.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Gastritis or any other stomach disturbance.

THERE'S a treat in store for you if you have not met Big Ben. You may have read his Ads in the big magazines, but these are not half strong enough. I don't think they begin to do him justice.

In fact, no Ad can, so I won't attempt to write one about him. This announcement is simply an invitation for you to walk by my store and meet him.

A GOOD POSITION

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Memphis, Tenn., or Columbia, South Carolina.

DOCTORS FAILED

Suffered Several Years With Kidney Trouble, "Peruna Cured Me."

Mr. John N. Watkins, 3133 Shenan o a h Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Among all the greatly advertised medicines for kidney and bladder trouble there is nothing which equals Peruna. I suffered for several years with this trouble, spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicine and all to no purpose until I took Peruna. One bottle did me more good than all Mr. John N. Watkins. The others put together, as they only poisoned my system. Peruna cured me. I used it for four months before a complete cure was accomplished, but am truly grateful to you. The least I can do in return is to acknowledge the merits of Peruna, which I take pleasure in now doing."

Bladder Trouble.
Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delaware street, Albany, N. Y., writes: "Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided, and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."

WESTERN.

Thomas Kelley, organizer and principal owner of the National Livestock Commission Company, with houses in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Fort Worth, Texas, is dead.

After having been marooned six days in Alaska, the stranded passengers and crew of the wrecked steamship Portland were taken aboard the steamship Alameda and brought to Seward.

The Lawson mine, at Black Diamond, Wash., in which fifteen men were killed by a dust explosion recently, is apparently hopelessly wrecked and it is not likely that the bodies of the dead will be recovered.

At a typewriting contest held in connection with the national horticultural contest in Council Bluffs, H. O. Blasdel of New York broke the world's record for one minute by writing 135 words from printed matter without an error.

Mrs. M. P. Wilkes is dead, Miss Pearl Sykes is believed to be dying and the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Sykes was painfully burned as the result of a simultaneous explosion of a natural gas stove and a coal oil lamp at the Wilkes home in Wichita Falls, Texas.

The steel casing extending from the fourth to the seventh levels of the El Paso main shaft of Cripple Creek, was split and the flood waters contained in the lower levels for the past four years and eight months were released. The flow from the tunnel portal is estimated at from 2,500 to 3,000 gallons per minute.

To hasten the progress of the Arizona constitutional convention so that the draft may be completed on the day set for final adjournment, President Hunt informed the delegates that all remaining committee reports must be submitted immediately. Most of the propositions introduced have been disposed of, but several committees still retain some proposition submitted to them.

WASHINGTON.

The Supreme Court of the United States has adjourned for its Thanksgiving recess. It will reconvene November 28th.

A limited parcels post for rural free delivery routes will be recommended by Postmaster General Hitchcock in his forthcoming annual report.

Jacob M. Dickinson, secretary of war, has received word of the death of his son, Overton Dickinson, at Belle Meade stock farm, near Nashville, Tenn.

F. D. Warren of Girard, Kans., editor of "Appeal to Reason," must serve six months in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kans., and pay a fine of $1,000.

Whether the present disquietude in Mexico amounts to a revolution or merely to an insurrection soon to be quelled, it will receive cold comfort in Washington.

While it is admitted at the Indian bureau in Washington, that small pox is epidemic among the Arapahoe Indians in the Shoshone reservation, Montana, it is denied that a heavy death list has resulted.

The police department has issued a new regulation prohibiting all forms of boxing exhibitions within the District of Columbia. This will prevent Jack Johnson from boxing in a theater during his coming engagement there.

POLITICAL.

The recall proposition as recommended by the majority report of the committee, was adopted by the Arizona constitutional convention, 37 to 11.

The question of the leadership in the Senate and minority leadership in the House in the sixty-second Congress is going to occupy much consideration when the Republican leaders congregate in Washington for the beginning of the coming short session of Congress.

FOREIGN.

That the revolutionists of Mexico are doomed to defeat is the opinion of Henry Lane Wilson, the American Ambassador in the Mexican capitol.

SPORT.

Young Gotch won a wrestling match from Bob Somerville of Boston, taking the last two of three falls, at Willimantic, Conn.

The prize of $5,000 recently offered in Havana for a flight between that city and Key West will probably be increased to a total of $20,000 or more, according to advices.

George Hackenschmidt, the Russian, took on Emile Pons of France, in New York, instead of Pilakoff, the Finnish wrestler, he was scheduled to meet. They wrestled catch-as-catch-can and Hackenschmidt won the fall in eleven minutes and forty seconds.

Saul Halve, an Indian attending school at the Teller institute in Grand Junction, Colo., has accepted a challenge made by Ira Goodman of Monte Vista, for a 20-mile foot race at Leadville two miles above sea level. The race will be run the latter part of December.

Followers of aviation in Philadelphia were kept busy Thanksgiving watching the fortunes of J. Armstrong Drexel, who established a new world's altitude record of 9,970 feet and of Claude Grahame-White, an English aeroplane pilot, who brought to a close a series of successful exhibitions at the Point Breeze race track.

GENERAL.

Harry Lee, 17 years old, was killed in Winsted, Conn., on Thanksgiving in a football game.

At least six persons are missing, and two others are dying in Boston, as the result of a fire.

Lieut. Colonel Edmund G. Fechet, U. S. A., retired, died of heart failure. He was a famous Indian fighter.

An aeroplane flight from Havana, Cuba, to Key West, Florida, is the next aviation triumph which John B. Moissant, is planning.

Rev. Armstrong, aged 80, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Trenton, N. J., and his wife were murdered in their home by burglars.

Four men were killed by the premature explosion of a five-inch gun at the Indian Head proving grounds of the navy at Washington.

Mrs. Anna Hubbell of Aurora, Ohio, not far from Cleveland, was buried as dead and resurrected, according to a daughter of Mrs. Hubbell who lives in Cleveland.

The experiment under control of the board of education, of maintaining a lunch room for the benefit of school children, is to be given a trial in New York.

Reports from all over the country are to the effect that the extreme high cost of living has reached the zenith to the market and now prices are headed downward.

The mining town of Clifton has won over Duncan in the fight for county seat honors of the new county of Greenlee, Arizona, which borders on Grant county, New Mexico.

Robert Woodruff, a ranchman, living near Conrad, Mont., took arsenic by mistake for sulphur to relieve a sore throat. He died shortly afterward.

A single vote in a district where more than 41,000 ballots were cast November 8, elected Charles Bennett Smith, Democrat, of Buffalo a member of Congress.

Bad fires in two widely separated sections of New York drove hundreds of persons panic stricken, into the streets, and caused property damage approximated at $150,000.

Insanely jealous, William Hassing, an electrical worker of Portland, Ore., formerly living in Denver, fired two bullets into his wife's brain and, turning the weapon upon himself, sent two more into his own.

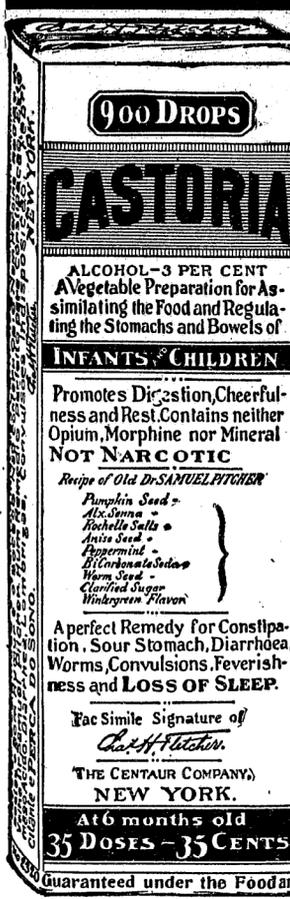

A large consignment of smudge pots has been shipped to fruit growers near Phoenix, Ariz., where they will be used early in December for the purpose of protecting ripening citrus fruits from severe frosts.

Senator Charles J. Hughes, Jr., has received from Alfred Beirley of Chicago a petition asking the senator to lend his aid to a movement to secure in Congress the adoption of a new design for the American flag.

The population of the state of Kansas is 1,690,940. This is an increase of 220,454, or 15 per cent over 1,479,495 in 1900. The increase during the previous decade from 1890 to 1900 was 41,373, or 2.9 per cent.

So intent is the Arizona constitutional convention in its purpose of completing the constitution for the new state as soon as possible, the delegates did not observe Thanksgiving day as a holiday but continued to work.

Patrons of every postoffice in the United States will appreciate the order, issued by Postmaster General Hitchcock, removing restrictions concerning the delivery of registered letters and parcels. Mr. Hitchcock's order permits the delivery of registered letters and packages to any responsible person, to whom the ordinary mail of the addressee is usually delivered.

PERFECTION OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and can always be easily unscrewed for rewicking.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not need to be screwed down, but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. ARCHIBALD'S AGATHA

By EDITH HUNTINGTON MASON
AUTHOR OF "THE REAL AGATHA"

COPYRIGHT, 1916 BY W. G. CHAPMAN. COPYRIGHT IN GREAT BRITAIN

SYNOPSIS.

Archibald Terhune, a popular and in-dolent young bachelor of London, receives news that he has been made heir to the estate of his Aunt Georgiana, with an income of $20,000 a year, on condition that he become engaged to be married within ten days. Failing to do so, the legacy will go to a third cousin in America. The story opens at Castle Wyckoff, where Lord Vincent and his wife, friends of Terhune, are discussing plans to find him a wife within the prescribed time. It seems that Lady Vincent is one of seven persons named Agatha, all close girlhood chums. She decides to invite two of them to the castle and have Archie there as one of the guests. Agatha Sixth strikes Archie as a hand-painted beauty. Agatha First is a breezy American girl. Lady Vincent tells her husband that Agatha Sixth already cares for Archie. He gains from Agatha Sixth the admission that she cares for him, but will require a month's time fully to make up her mind. Agatha First, neglected by Terhune, receives attentions from Leslie Freer. Four days of the precious time have passed when Terhune is called to London on business. Agatha First, on the plea of sickness, excuses herself from a motor trip planned by the Vincents. Later they see Agatha First picking flowers with a strange man. The Vincents discuss Agatha's seeming duplicity. The following day the party visits the ruins of an old convent. Terhune continues his attentions to Agatha Sixth. Then suddenly he transfers his attentions to Agatha First. Vincent scores him for his apparent fickleness. The last evening of the time allotted in which to become engaged arrives. The following day Solicitor Burns will arrive from London, and the Vincents are anxious to consummate the engagement. Vincent discovers Agatha First and a man with his arm around her waist. Vincent decides that the man must be Terhune. The next morning Terhune and Agatha First are very friendly at the breakfast table while Agatha Sixth seems somewhat displeased. Solicitor Burns arrives. The Vincents are anxious. In an interview of Vincent and his wife the latter cries in desperation over the puzzling condition of affairs.

"Then don't you understand?" she said. "Don't you see?"

"Well, really, Dearest, I don't," I had to acknowledge. "I don't see what all that has to do with—"

But her quickly bent head and low choked cry of "Wilfred!" interrupted me and then the oddest thing of all happened. There was my own wife crying and there was I, her own husband, unable to comfort her because she pushed me away every time I came near her.

It was too much. And hang it all! The cause of all the friendships in the world wasn't worth that moment's pain. I was disgusted with the whole business, and in my agitation I went down to the stables and flung myself on a horse to try and ride the rancour of my first taste of Dearest's displeasure out of my veins. But I didn't make very good work of it and I am afraid anatomized Agatha First and Agatha Sixth and even old Terhune himself all the way out and all the way back.

When I returned it was twelve o'clock and the footman told me at the door that Solicitor Barnes had arrived and was in the library. As I have said, in accordance with Terhune's aunt's wishes, Dearest had invited Mrs. James' solicitor, Mr. Barnes, of Barnes, Willoughby & Sons, up from London to take luncheon with us, that he might be present at the time when the stipulated ten days expired and be witness to the fact that the time was not overstepped by so much as a minute. They had sent the station wagon to meet him as per Dearest's arrangements, and he had reached the castle not ten minutes before my own arrival. I was glad of that, for I remembered, with a new and troubled sense that I was no longer in her good graces, that my wife had instructed me to meet him myself.

Impelled by this thought, I hurried into the library without changing my riding things and found Solicitor Barnes pacing restlessly up and down the apartment and glancing at his watch from time to time.

"Ah! Lord Vincent?" he asked—we had not yet met—and as I assented I shook his thin impassive hand as cordially as I could. He was like most barristers I have met, a fishy looking beast, though one couldn't help admiring the look of omniscience about him, as if never so much at home.

"And how is Lady Vincent?" he inquired politely, when I had finished apologizing for my attire and for my neglect to meet him at the station.

Conversation was certainly flagging. I had no heart for it, with all I had on my mind, and had begun to feel pretty well talked out, when a footman appeared in the doorway and wanted to know if he was to show the gentleman upstairs.

I didn't answer his question. It seemed too much trouble to have to explain to William that the barrister was not a guest overnight, and instead I inquired where Lady Vincent was. I thought it rather odd that she did not come down and welcome Mr. Barnes, and was almost annoyed when the man informed me that "Her Ladyship" was in her room and by her express orders was not to be interrupted.

"But does she know that Mr. Barnes is here?" I asked, rather impatient of all this mystery. Mr. Barnes himself answered me before William could speak.

"My dear Lord Vincent," he said. "Don't, I pray, trouble about it! I have been welcomed by your lordship and shall await Lady Vincent's pleasure in regard to meeting her, which will be soon, no doubt, for we lunch at one, do we not?" He took out his big open-faced watch.

"What time is it?" I asked anxiously, as a sudden remembrance of the importance of that same luncheon rushed over me. Would Terhune sit down to it an affianced—or a free man?

CHAPTER XI.

"The noon hour exactly," said he. "Great Scotland!" I exclaimed aloud. Then the deed, I thought, must be done; I had been two hours riding. Terhune must have decided his fate one way or the other during that time. It was quite exciting. I rang for a footman and when William had appeared again I asked him where Mr. Terhune was, realizing at the same time that it was just as much Archie's duty to entertain old Barnes, since the solicitor had come upon his business after all.

"Don't know, your lordship. Will try to find him," said William, leaving the room just in time to escape col-hair, careless of the disorder it left in its wake.

"Poor old chap!" I said pityingly. I felt thunderingly sorry for him, for it was uncommonly hard lines, but somehow I couldn't think of a thing to say that made matters any better.

"Where was it?" I asked him with a natural curiosity to learn the scene of the disaster.

"In the west garden," he replied. "I'd been sticking in the house all morning waiting for her to come down stairs. You know she went up right after breakfast, but hadn't succeeded in seeing her. So I thought I'd take a turn in the garden to brace me up, and there she was herself!"

"Fine!" I ejaculated, as interested in his recital of the catastrophe as if I were at a play or watching the races. We had both of us forgotten Solicitor Barnes, who had retired discreetly to the hearthrug and was pacing it with mathematical precision.

"Not so fine!" went on Terhune, "because she made as if to escape me directly, which of course wasn't very encouraging!"

"Decidedly not!" I exclaimed. "But you asked her?"

"I did. I blocked her way as she started up the path, put my cane right across in front of her, and asked her why she wanted to run away from me when all I wanted in the world was to stay by her all the rest of my life!"

"Bravo!" I cried. "Played, indeed! And then?"

"And then," he said, polishing his eyeglasses furiously as he spoke, "and then if she didn't go and pretend to misunderstand me! But I didn't let that hinder me! I simply said it again as plain as man can put it, 'Will you marry me?' He stopped and I could see that pain and anger, resentment and humiliation for the moment had mastered his power of speech. 'And then?' I prompted him again.

"Why then she refused me!" he said. "She told me if I were the last man on earth she wouldn't marry me! It was very cruel and I can't imagine why she look at the clock!" I looked. It was half after twelve.

"Time's up at one, isn't it, Barnes?" he asked, taking notice of that worthy barrister for the first time.

"I believe it is, Mr. Terhune," replied Mr. Barnes, as indifferently as if it were only a question of boiling breakfast eggs.

"You see," said Arch, looking at me despairingly, "there's no use talking of urging her again. I could do nothing at all with her in that short time, even if I were inclined to. It's a pity, of course. I rather fancied that property of my aunt's. An income of $20,000 a year is a good deal to lose at one blow. Especially when the blow is unexpected! By Jove, you know, she did half way promise to marry me, after all! Can't think why she changed her mind!" But of course I could think, and I didn't quite see how Terhune could call the blow unexpected.

"You know I warned you that you were paying far too much attention to Agatha First," I said, "but you would indulge your fondness for flirtation and you see the result—an upset kettle of fish!" It was all the reference to the scene in the drawing room of the night before that I intended to make. After all, as in the case of my discovery of the red automobile in the wood, we had seen what we were meant to have seen. And until Arch came to me and spoke of that event himself and asked my advice, my hurt friendship made me resolve not to demand his confidence or thrust advice upon him. Let him keep his secret if that was his wish. I would not intrude upon it, though his reticence pained me ever so much.

"I couldn't very well help it," he replied. "Upon my word I couldn't. The girl's very fetching, you know, and she seemed to take such an extraordinary fancy to me that I couldn't help responding. Agatha Sixth, on the other hand, had hardly a word to say to me!"

"Of course not!" I said hotly. "The more attention you paid to Agatha First, the less Miss Lawrence paid to you. That was quite natural. You'd asked the girl to marry you, you know, and she couldn't understand why you should want to have anything to do with anyone else!"

"Yes, I did ask the girl to marry me, and she chose to keep me waiting for an answer," replied Arch impatiently, "which kept everything at a standstill. I couldn't go ahead till she said the word, and as time hung heavy on my hands—"

"You made love to some one else. Deuced clever!" I interposed sarcastically.

"Well, I couldn't make love to her very well, could I, when she wouldn't say positively whether she wanted me to or not? She kept me at arm's length all the time!"

Shines of Pioneer Days.

"A file of bootblacks now does duty in front of the California exchange and the man with dirty boots who passes them and is no customer must run the gantlet. Capital enters the field with the armchairs and cushions, and to the armchairs and cushions newspapers are added. Close to the customer's eyes is this placard: 'Boots blacked (not wet or greased), 25 cents. Boots blacked (when wet or greased), 50 cents. Boot' blacked (all over, legs, etc.), 50 cents.'—Whittlesticks Wide West. A paper published in San Francisco fifty years ago.

Lights on Baby Carriage.

"I was puzzled the other night by two lights which kept approaching me on the sidewalk," said a wayfarer. "I finally made out that they were on a baby carriage. It struck me as a pretty good idea, for the lights didn't seem to bother the baby at all and they certainly kept people from running into the carriage in the dark. The lanterns were made like small carriage lamps and were fastened in sockets."

An Insect in the Ear.

If in riding through the country roads a winged insect flies into the ear, do not try to dislodge by poking, for that will send it further in, and the buzzing against the drum of the ear become almost unbearable. Hold the head over to one side and fill the ear with water, which usually drowns the insect and floats it out. If a house is nearby where you can get sweet oil, that is better yet.

Ingenious Washing Machine.

An ingenious Australian machine for washing clothes by means of suction caused by steam and a vacuum attracted much attention at recent exhibitions in Melbourne. The machine not only leaves the articles washed snow white, but saves rough handling and the resulting damage to delicate fabrics.

Heart and Brain.

Don't let us be afraid of enthusiasm. There is oftener a lack of heart than brain. The world is not starving for need of education half as much as for warm, earnest interest of soul to soul. We agree with the Indian who, when talked to about having too much zeal said: "I think it is better for the pot to boil over than to boil at all."

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

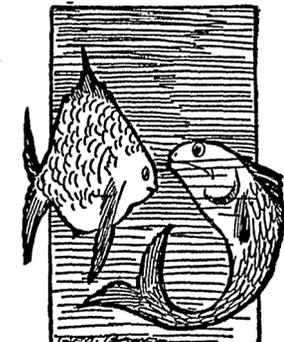

Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled with falling and inflammation, and the doctors said I could not get well unless I had an operation. I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am today a well woman."—Mrs. WILLIAM ARENS, 988 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Mixing His Dates.

There is a story of a man who was so transported with joy as he stood up at the altar rail to be married, that his thoughts reverted to a day when he stood up at the prisoner's bar in a court of justice to plead "guilty" or "not guilty" to a criminal charge. So powerfully did that, the most painful event of his life, obtrude itself upon his mind, that when the clergyman put the question, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" and so on, the poor distracted bridegroom answered with startling distinctness, "Not guilty, so help me God!"—From Tuckerman's "Personal Recollections."

50 Per Cent Better

"I have used less than one bottle of Cardui," writes Mrs. Gertrude Ward, of Rushville, Neb., "and am feeling fifty per cent better than when I began taking it."

"Before taking Cardui, I had suffered with female trouble, for eight years. My greatest trouble was irregularity. I also suffered with severe pains, every month, but now I am greatly improved and will recommend Cardui to all my suffering friends."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

The rare medicinal herbs of Cardui are imported by the manufacturers direct from Europe and are not to be found in any other medicine.

These ingredients are what give Cardui its superiority, as a female medicine and tonic, over any other medicine. For over 50 years Cardui has been the favorite woman's medicine. The ladies like it, because it is so easy to take, so gentle, so safe, so reliable in its results, and they have faith in its curative tonic powers, because of the thousands of other ladies it has helped. Try it today.
