MUTTS LOSE BALL GAME

Sunday's Game Results in a Victory for Railroad Boys By Score of 11 to 12

GRUMBLES RESCUES HIS TEAM

Last Sunday the first baseball game of the season for Carrizozo was pulled off at the local baseball park and for the initial contest was a good display for strictly home talent. A bunch of the railroad boys had challenged any team that could be picked up from town and designated such a team as Mutts. Wm Reilly got a team together and went after them but although the town team had all the best of it until the sixth inning they lost the contest by one point. Young Grumbles went into the box and saved the day for the railroad boys, held the town down to no runs after the sixth inning and the railroad boys succeeding in running up six scores and won the game in the ninth inning by a run made after there were two outs. The final score was Mutts 11, Joffs 12. The line up was as follows:

Carrizozo	Railroad
Balad	c.	Peterson
Loughrey	p	Dingwall
Dingwall	1b	McLean
Crawford	2b	Webb
VanSchoyok	3b	Grumbles
Quay	ss	Young
Reilly	rf	Johnson
Tackett	cf	Tracy
Lujan	lf	Alcobrook

CAPITAN FRIDAY JUNE 9TH

A committee of Capitan citizens have arranged for a fiesta consisting of baseball games, horse racing, a dance or two and supper to which all are most cordially invited. The receipts from the dances will go to benefit of the Capitan baseball team. If Capitan's hospitality is to be judged by the past a good time is certainly assured to all participating.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

During Wednesday's thunder storm the residence of contractor Tennis was struck by lightning. Mr. Tennis was at home alone at the time and was rendered unconscious by the bolt. When he regained consciousness he discovered that the house was on fire. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done to the property.

BAPTIST ANOUCEMENT

Rev. Downing traveling evangelist of the Baptist association of New Mexico will hold services at the Baptist church Sunday and will continue with several other meetings later the dates which will be announced from the pulpit.

Mr. Amos Musselman of Grand Rapids Michigan, brother of Mrs. Bender of Nogal was a visitor Saturday after having spent a couple of days with the Bender's at their home. Mr. Musselman was a candidate for governor of Michigan on the Republican ticket in the recent campaign. While here he investigated Col. Benders mining property and was more than surprised at the large amount of work done and the splendid showing of ore value.

WHITE OAKS WHIFFS

BY SAN DE

Judge John Y Hawitt returned from the provisional plutocratic and pent-up East Monday evening looking quite unruined after rubbing up against the high-joints of that section of our common country. While away he appears to have taken in about all the places of interest, from the Potomac flats to the labyrinthine mix up of the hub and even had time to go fishing among the Wolverine lakes and visit for a while with his old chum Judge McDougal of the Clay banks on the muddy Missouri. In Washington he interviewed that August aggregation of Mother Hubbards, the Supreme Court of the United States, and was given the privilege of taking back whenever he had a case before that tribunal and will go back later to tell them that he knows about county seat matters.

Ed Lee has moved from the Ziegler house on the north side to the North Homestead place below town in order to have more room to spread.

The Congregational Sunday School picniced up in water canyon and filled themselves clear full of good things, mountain scenery and fun.

Mrs Leighner closed this Kindergarten last Friday for summer. The little people gave their parents and friends a very fine entertainment in the evening.

Decoration Day was observed here as usual on the 30th of May. Twenty-five soldiers' graves were remembered with floral offerings by the G. A. R. post here—what is left of them—and patriotic exercises were held by the younger generation at the church in the evening.

This place has been swiped by the tail end of somebody's shower for the past two evenings.

Ralph Treat and the Aguayos are moving into the Larry Dow house this week in order to be close in and handy to business.

Mrs. Mudge and Dingwall made a pleasant visit to White Oaks Wednesday and brought their most pleasant smiles along for distribution.

The Wild Cats have about completed their repairs on mill and reservoir and are now running full force.

In spite of a severe storm Wednesday evening the Ladies Home Mission May Sale at the White House restaurant building was a decided success. While the net receipts were but thirty dollars the ladies felt that this was remarkable considering the inclement weather.

The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. Tennis.

A. H. Harvey, Thos. Johnson, Gus. Runkles, Clay van Schoyok and the Editor left for Roswell Monday morning by auto, intending to return the next day. A very heavy storm was encountered across the mountains and the car was delayed at every point; the party spent the night in wading mountains streams and repairing the machine. Cow punchers pulled the machine out of the Honda Tuesday morning at day break and the hungry bunch arrived in Roswell about twenty-four hours late after many mishaps. The party did not tackle the almost impassible road on the return but came back over the auto line to Torrance and down the railroad. The two day trip was prolonged into a four day trip of many trials and tribulations and the Editor wishes to explain the delay in publication due to this cause.

POST CARD DAY JUNE 22

Governor Mill has issued a proclamation for Post Card Day to be observed on June 22. The observance of such a day can be made of great value in New Mexico. It was Florida that inaugurated the movement and only last week Colorado had a post card day that has advertised the state far and wide. Carrizozo, especially, should join in the movement with enthusiasm. Of no place in the Southwest are so many striking views to be had on post cards and a thousand of these, at least, should be mailed on June 22, to friends and relatives in other sections.

The following letter from Secretary H. B. Hening of the Bureau of Immigration explains the object to be attained clearly.

"The purpose of this proclamation explains itself very clearly. If every city and town and every district will back the governor and the Bureau of Immigration in making this 'call' it will give New Mexico one of the biggest advertisements we have ever had and at practically no cost. To make this day a success we need above everything else, the enthusiastic co-operation of the newspapers. The New Mexico newspapers, invariably, have given their complete and hearty support to every project of this kind. We want to ask you to make a special effort to make this day a winner. Print the proclamation in full with a good strong editorial, setting forth the advantages of the advertising to be gained by concerted action throughout the territory; give it an editorial urging the people of your community to send out post card, pamphlets and newspapers to their friends, describing your section; urge your Commercial Club to have printed a special post card for the use of the people of your community. If you do not care to get out a special edition on this day arrange at least to print one prominently displayed article, setting forth the advantages and resources of New Mexico in general and of your district in particular and advertising it to your people so that they will know these papers are available. It may seem that this is making considerable demand on your space, but it is worth the effort. New Mexico needs publicity of the direct, personal kind. If the people will co-operate on this day, and there is every reason to believe they will, it will form one of the biggest single advertisements New Mexico has ever had, at a cost that is merely nominal, and it will get results. We will appreciate the co-operation we feel sure you will give us in this undertaking."

District Attorney Issues Service Letter to County Officers to Move Here

ACTION JUNE 19 ON REFUSAL

They were given, as we understand it, until June 19th to move to Carrizozo or resign—as at which time Mandamus proceedings will be started against those who refuse.

ZIEGLER BROTHERS

1911 INVASION OF INSECT ARMIES

(BY JOHN ELFRETH WATKINS)

THE most widespread "locust" invasion that this country has experienced in a savanteen years is due this spring.

The bug prophets of the United States bureau of entomology have just framed a forecast that will indicate to citizens, far and wide, the counties in which the invaders will appear.

Prophecy, we are told, is not yet an exact science, but the process of predicting this insect invasion is an exception to the rule.

I never religiously believed that it could be done until I beheld for myself in the spring of 1907. Four full years in advance of that date the official prophets had given me a map of the predicted theater of war. I fled it away, and when the scheduled week rolled around I visited a spot marked as within the prognosticated field of battle. Here I saw the enemy advance and viewed the succeeding tumult. It was a sight for sore eyes, a spectacle to be remembered throughout a lifetime.

But the high dolings of 1907 were as nothing compared with those which Mother Nature will pull off this spring in 389 counties of twenty-one American states. For the first time since 1894 two of the "major broods" of periodical "locusts" will simultaneously appear.

It will be the last time within our natural lives that such an onslaught will be witnessed, nor will our children's children see the like, for, strangely enough, two of these "major broods" will not again appear at the same time until a century and a half shall have passed.

The two armies are of distinct races, the one peculiar to the north and the other to the south. The southerners have been entrenched under ground for precisely thirteen years and the northern warriors have been similarly hiding beneath their cooler soil for exactly seventeen twelve months. Those which now are to appear in the south last saw the scenes of their birth in the year of the Spanish war—1898—while those that are to invade the north have not ~~EMERGED~~ upon their native heath since 1894. In these years countless millions of the respective races went into hiding beneath the soil and since that time not an individual among them has chosen to lift his eyes above ground.

The two broods will overlap in Indiana, while the whole of New Jersey and the District of Columbia are marked for invasion by the northerners. The latter constitute one of the best-recorded of the 17-year broods—one which has been regularly reported in Connecticut every seventeen years since 1724, and at equal intervals in New Jersey since 1776. And the southerners compose one of the two largest 13-year broods known to entomologists.

Although others have appeared among us at more or less frequent intervals, these two exact broods have not appeared together in America since 1630, nor will they again visit us at the same time until the year 1137.

The periodical cicada—found only in America—lives to be older than any other insect known to science. The two broods which are to appear this year have respective spans of life which a dog and cat could with but difficulty attain.

Why the northern species lives underground for exactly seventeen years, while the southerners maintain their subterranean existence for just thirteen years—never more nor less in either case—is one of the riddles of science, but is supposed to be due to differences in climate—to the same phenomena which cause higher species to mature earlier in the south than in the north.

The eggs which bore the countless billions of the two broods to appear this spring were laid in the summers of 1894 and 1898, respectively. A few weeks later the baby cicadas—about the size of minute ants—escaped from their shells, fell lightly to the ground and quickly burrowed out of sight, each forming for himself a little subterranean chamber or cell adjoining the sappy root of the family tree, in whose twigs the productive eggs had been deposited for nourishment. In this underground cell, at first the size of a small grain or bird shot, but gradually growing with its occupant, each cicada has remained within two feet of the surface through winter and summer buried from sunlight and air. It has lived thus in solitary confinement for thirteen or seventeen years, as the case might be, knowing only its moist southern chamber, separated from its brothers and sisters, rarely changing its position, save as some accident to the nourishing rootlet has caused it to burrow further, in search of another.

THE INSECT SECURES A FIRM HOLD ON THE BARK OF A TREE HUNGS ITS SHOULDER AND SPITS THE SKIN BETWEEN THEM.

SCOURMS ITS BODY OUT OF THE OLD SKIN. THE BODY IS HELD OUT HORIZONTALLY BACK DOWN. LATER THE LEGS COME UNDER CONTROL.

THE WINGS GROW WITH GREAT RAPIDITY UNTIL THEY ARE FULL SIZE.

THE CLAWED FEET SEIZE THE OLD SKIN AND THE ABDOMEN IS DRAWN UP.

WHEN THEY BECOME DRY AND FOLD UP.

THE INSECT IN ITS NEW ARMOR READY FOR A BRIEF AERIAL LIFE.

be literally alive with and hidden by the running insects. By nine o'clock the bulk of the army will have come out of the ground, each fastening himself to some selected object, preferably a leaf or twig. Then within about an hour after settling, each will be seen by your lantern light neatly to split his parchment-like shell down the back from collar to waistband.

Watch closely and you will behold, emerging from the slit of each shell, what appears at first to be a creamy white worm with pink eyes and heavy black brows.

Like the moonflower petals bursting upon the lattice, they will shoot out until the tree covered by the myriad insects will appear to be in bloom.

"In the moonlight such a tree looks for all the world as though it were full of beautiful white blossoms in various stages of transformation," is the way the phenomenon was once described by Prof. C. V. Riley, late chief entomologist of the government.

Rise early next morning and you will find the trees filled with the empty shells and nearby you will see the fully developed cicadas, now adorned by the colors that will characterize them during the winged stage of their existence. Over night their bodies will have turned black, while their eyes, their legs and the marginal veins of their isinglass-like wings will have become tinged orange-red.

Their life, extending for seventeen or thirteen years underground, is endured for preparation for but five or six weeks of gladsome life upon the wing. By the middle of July all these patriarchs of the insect family will have fallen to the ground. But meantime they will have attended industriously to the perpetuation of their species, the female plowing the young branches of trees with furrows into which to plant the tiny eggs, from which, during the coming summer, countless billions of ant-like cicadas of the new generation will emerge only to burrow directly into the ground and there await the trumpet call of the next resurrection day, which for the southern brood will occur in 1924 and for the northern brood in 1928.

Schedules for the appearance of all of our cicada broods have been prepared for generations to come by Charles Lester Marlatt, assistant chief of the United States bureau of entomology, to whom I am indebted for the preceding information concerning these remarkable insects.

"When the cicada appears in great numbers it naturally causes considerable alarm and arouses fears for the safety of shade trees and orchards," said Mr. Marlatt. "The actual damage, however, is usually slight. Except in the case of newly planted orchards, and even here, by vigorous pruning back after the cicada has disappeared, much of the injury caused by the egg punctures can be obviated. Recent experience indicates that trees thoroughly sprayed with Bordeaux mixture of lime wash are apt to be avoided by the cicada."

And many a meek and lowly man is known only as his wife's husband.

BASEBALL.

"Out at first," so the umpire decided, this decision the runner derided. And these words at him were cast, "Not at first, but at last!" Then the runner and umpire collided!

Like-Home-Touch.

Tired and dusty, a party were returning by rail from a holiday trip. Simkins, a little bald man, seated himself to read, but dropped off to sleep. On the rack was a ferocious crab in a bucket, and when Simkins went to sleep the crab woke up, and finding things dull in the bucket, started exploring. By careful investigation Mr. Crab reached the edge of the rack. Down it fell, alighting on Simkin's shoulder, where it grabbed the man's ear to study itself. The passengers held their breath and waited for developments, but Simkins only shook his head and said: "Leggo, Sarah! I tell you I've been at the office all the evening!"

Subject to Restrictions.

"I was cleanin' for a new lady las' week an' de dirt in her kitchen was a sight, po' thing," said Rose, Mrs. Frazer's dark-skinned charwoman. "But why did she let it get like that?" asked the lady. "I dunno, ma'am. Guess she never seen it. Some cooks, you know, is mighty par'llar 'bout 'lowin' de madam in de kitchen. Dey jes' take dere orders from her upstairs an' she don't have no call to go into de kitchen at all."

A WIDOW'S LUCK.

Quit the Thing That Was Slowly Injuring Her.

A woman tells how coffee kept her from insuring her life: "I suffered for many years chiefly from trouble with my heart, with severe nervous headaches and neuralgia; but although incapacitated at times for my housework, I did not realize the gravity of my condition till I was rejected for life insurance, because, the examining physician said, my heart was so bad he could not pass me."

"This distressed me very much, as I was a widow and had a child dependent upon me. It was to protect her future that I wanted to insure my life. "Fortunately for me, I happened to read an advertisement containing a testimonial from a man who had been affected in the same way that I was with heart trouble, and who was benefited by leaving off coffee and using Postum. I grasped at the hope this held out, and made the change at once."

"My health began to improve immediately. The headaches and neuralgia disappeared, I gained in flesh, and my appetite came back to me. Greatest of all, my heart was strengthened from the beginning, and soon all the distressing symptoms passed away. No more waking up in the night with my heart trying to fly out of my mouth!" "Then I again made application for life insurance, and had no trouble in passing the medical examination. "It was seven years ago that I began to use Postum and I am using it still, and shall continue to do so, as I find it a guarantee of good health." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason." Read the big little book, "The Road to Wellville," in 9 pgs.

Have read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are interesting, funny, and full of business interest.

It Was Muffing.

"Bugs' Raymond, the handsome and brilliant pitcher of the New York Giants, is a great wit on the field," said a sporting editor at the Pen and Pencil club in Philadelphia. "Raymond was disgusted one day at his team's wretched outfielding. Batter after batter sent up high flies, and these easy balls were muffed, alternately by left and center. "Dugs at the sixth muffed throw down his glove and stamped on it. "There's an epidemic in the outfield," he said, "but, by Jingo! it isn't catching!"

For your own sake, don't wait until it happens. It may be a headache, toothache, earache, or some painful accident. Hamline Wizard Oil will cure it. Get a bottle now.

THE FIRST and most important function of a newspaper is to print the news. If, in addition, it can analyze important events and show their relation to each other or their bearing upon public movements, and can justly criticize public men and measures, it is still further fulfilling its legitimate mission. No newspaper has yet won permanent success by maintaining an intemperate or a vitriolic editorial policy. Making enemies needlessly is not good business, says the Editor and Publisher. Every man who is unjustly lampooned or attacked has friends who resent such treatment and will do what they can to help him "get even" with the offending publication. They become centers of hostility whose influence spreads rapidly in all directions.

It is the duty of a newspaper to expose evil, sham and graft; to arraign at the bar of public opinion, and eventually bring to justice officials of the city, state or national government who have betrayed their trust, but it is not its privilege or duty to print untrue or libelous stories about anyone or to infer editorially or otherwise that their conduct is not proper or their motives are not above suspicion.

Newspaper editors are not infallible, and occasionally make mistakes which, in most instances, they are glad to acknowledge in the due form. One of the most hopeful things about modern journalism is that it is advancing to a higher plane. The days of vituperation, of indecent attack and of misrepresentation have largely gone by.

The best paying newspapers everywhere are those that respect personal rights; that honestly try to build up rather than tear down; that are not afraid to fight for principle, and that keep their news and advertising columns clean.

There is, in fact, no room today for any other kind of newspaper, because decent people will not buy or advertise in any others. The disreputable paper may flourish for a day, but its demise is certain.—Roswell Register.

NOT ANNOYED, OF COURSE

Capt. Butt Was Merely Giving to His Friend a Few Philosophical Reflections.

Capt. Archibald W. Butt, the president's military aide, was called out of bed at nine o'clock one morning to answer a telephone call.

"Archie," said his friend on the other end of the wire, "I called you up to tell you that I shall not be able to keep the appointment I made with you for eleven o'clock today."

"I'm sorry," said Butt, his tone a trifle chilly.

"Yes; it's too bad," agreed the other.

There ensued an ominous pause. "You know," remarked Butt sententiously, "telephoning seems to be a habit, a bad habit, in Washington. People are beginning to issue their invitations by telephone. They phone on the slightest provocation. They don't seem to know when not to telephone. They even get you out of bed to talk to you on the telephone."

"I'm afraid I annoyed you, and you're bawling me out," said the friend.

"Oh, no!" contradicted Butt in a louder tone. "My remarks are merely a few philosophical reflections induced by the early hour of the morning."—The Sunday Magazine.

SCRATCHED TILL BLOOD RAN

"When my boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so, that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and run down that he took fainting spells as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. There has been no return of the trouble. I shall be glad to have you publish this true statement of his cure." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Maitland, Jasper, Ontario, May 27, 1910.

Somebody Was Interested.
Maybe she meant it as a compliment, maybe she didn't. He likes to believe that she did. At dinner he said:
"I saw Dr. Parkhurst on Madison avenue today."
"Well" and "Huh" being the only comments on that remark, he went on:
"Now, I wonder if Dr. Parkhurst is telling anybody at this time that he saw me on Madison avenue today?"
Then said the woman sweetly:
"If he is, I am sure he is telling them something more interesting than what you are telling us."—New York Times.

Happy Family.
Mrs. Scragginton (in the midst of her reading)—Here is an account of a woman turning on the gas while her husband was asleep and asphyxiating him!
Mr. Scragginton—Very considerate of her, I'm sure! Some wives wake their husbands up, and then talk them to death.—Puck.

ARE YOU FREE FROM

Headaches, Colds, Indigestion, Pains, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Dizziness? If you are not, the most effective, prompt and pleasant method of getting rid of them is to take, now and then, a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing and truly beneficial laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known throughout the world as the best of family laxative remedies, because it acts so gently and strengthens naturally without irritating the system in any way.

To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., bearing the name of the Company, plainly printed on the front of every package.

too long, or they will not be stiff enough to drag out the dirt. This will be found handy in cleaning stairs, corners and other places which cannot be reached by a common broom.

KEEP TRACK OF CHURN DAYS

Collie Dogs Used on Treadmill Disappear on Monday and Thursday—Animals Got Wise.

Clark Rogers, a farmer, for more than a year has used his two big collie dogs in his treadmill to run the dairy churn. Churning days were Monday and Thursday. The dogs became tired of the job and made it a point to disappear from the farm on those days. Rogers was obliged to change the date of his churning three different times, as it only took about three weeks for the dogs to learn the dates when they were expected to perform, when they would disappear. He finally went back to Mondays and Thursdays and now takes the precaution to chain up the dogs on Sunday and Wednesday afternoons, in order to insure their presence on churning days.

Produce Good Stock.

As to whether to produce pure-bred cows or grade cows you must decide for yourself. There is more profit in pure-bred cows, but you can begin the production of grades with less capital and for the inexperienced there is perhaps less opportunity for loss. But a pure-bred bull and a good one you must have. The only way to economize in buying a bull is to get the very best one you can possibly afford. From the breeder's viewpoint the bull is half the herd; $150 is little enough to pay for a bull calf and $400 invested in a bull will bring you greater returns if you have only ten cows than will the same amount invested in a team of horses to work on your farm or to drive to your milk wagon.

Farmers' Boys.

Be kind and considerate, furnish games and different forms of amusement at home, let the boy claim a horse or cow, pig, sheep or something that he will take pride in looking after. Give him a little money and teach him how to save. Let him care for a pig or two, then sell and give him the money. Induce him to buy a part of his clothes with his money, and you will find he will take better care of them.

Don't Work Off Fear Butter.

It is a mistake to try to "work off" a churning of poor butter on anybody. Better let it go into soap grease than to deceive one who has been a good customer and perhaps lose his trade and a lot of your own peace of mind.

Individuality and Environment.

In determining the profitability of a breed, one should not overlook the influence of individuality and environment.

No Best Grass.

No one grade of dairy products is best suited for all conditions.

PRACTICE SOILING FOR COWS

Tried at New Jersey Experiment Station, Where Three Animals Kept on Feed From One Acre.

The Jersey experiment station practices soiling altogether for their cows. They sow rye, which comes on first in the spring. With the rye hairy vetch is seeded and the two make a splendid feed, besides the vetch enriches the land. The next crop is wheat, which also has vetch seeded with it. Following the wheat are oats and Canada field peas, and again the peas not only help to balance up the oats, but at the same time improve the land, being a legume. Following the cutting of the rye, cowpeas and soy beans, fodder corn, etc., are planted. These can be harvested in time to sow the ground down to the same crops for next year, and later on the silo is opened. Professor Minkler stated that he had been able to keep three cows during the summer on the feed grown on one acre of ground. Could this method not be practicable on many farms? Suppose an acre or two is fenced off in the cow pasture and seeded to oats and Canada field peas in March, this crop cut off and fed in June, the first of July the ground sown to cowpeas and these harvested in September, and the ground seeded to rye and hairy vetch. In this way the land would not become exhausted very rapidly. The roots and stubble would almost or quite furnish the humus content, the legumes the nitrogen, and by adding a little potash and phosphorus one should grow crops for years on the same ground.

OPERATING CHURN BY FOOT

Hundreds of churns of all kinds have been invented in past years, but the idea shown in the illustration is somewhat unique—because patterned after the foot-worked grindstones. A wooden wheel takes the place of the grindstone, and to this is attached the plunger connection. The churn is attached to the under part of the frame by a belt.

Foot-Operated Churn.

Dairy Tests.

George H. McFadden of Bryn Mawr, Pa., won the second prize of $50 in the home dairy test of Ayrshires. For the year ending March 31, 1910, his five cows gave 47,136 pounds of milk, 2168.10 pounds of fat and were credited with 35,175 points. In the same test five cows belonging to the Friends' asylum, Frankfort, Pa., fifth prize of $20 was given, the record being 46,136 pounds of milk, 1617.16 pounds of fat and 74,485 points. In the test which ended September 30, Ashley farm, Media, Pa., won third prize of $40 for five cows giving 46,957 pounds of milk, 1885.23 pounds of fat and 79,948 points. The Friends' asylum won fourth prize of $30 for 44,260 pounds of milk, 1980.92 pounds of fat and 78,326 points.

Remedy for Constipation.

If the cow is constipated give one pound of epsom salts, one handful of fine table salt and half an ounce of ground ginger, mixed in two quarts of water, well sweetened with molasses. After it is dissolved, give in one dose; it may be mixed with the wheat bran. If mixed in the bran it should be well sweetened or the cow will not eat it.

DAIRY NOTES

See that the drinking places are clean and safe.

Jersey cows are noted the world over for their rich milk.

Give the regular ration in the stable until the pastures are full.

Cheese curd may sometimes be improved by washing in order to remove defects.

Probably the most common form of contamination of milk is by means of bacteria.

If a small number of calves are fed and it is possible to grind cob meal, there is no finer feed.

Tests show that a cement floor is colder than a board floor where other conditions are the same.

The one thing paramount in the mind of the dairymen is the question of economical production.

Milk as it leaves the udder of a healthy cow is practically pure, free from germs and foreign matter.

The entertainment given last Saturday evening by the young ladies of the Baptist congregation of Carrizozo, assisted by Mr. Frank Gauchat and Masters Morgan Riely and Vaughn Wilson, was a most enjoyable one, and from the size of the audience, must have been quite satisfactory to the promoters, the music, both vocal and instrumental, was very good and highly appreciated.

Master Vaughn in the "water-mill" act, was a decided hit. After the entertainment dancing was indulged in until 12 o'clock or thereabouts. Come again Carrizozo. Capitan will always extend the glad hand.

A number of our young men gave a dance Friday night which was well attended and voted a success, the music was furnished by Willis and Grover Hightower who received many compliments on their ability as musicians.
