HEAVY RAINS IN COUNTY

Correspondence From White Oaks and Capitan Report Daily Showers

CAPITAN CORRESPONDENCE

The regular "old time" rainy season, such as the old timers used to see, seems to have set in; for the past week gentle showers or torrential pour downs have been of daily occurrence in this neighborhood and last Friday the highest water for many years came down the Oso Canon which runs on the north side of town, overflowing the banks and breaking the levees built several years ago and flooding the entire town to a depth of from one to two feet. The three warehouses of Welch and Titworth were flooded and damage to the extent of about $100 was done to goods stored in them; the wagon bridge on the main street was partly destroyed but Road Supervisor Ferguson was on the ground in a few hours and had repairs under way so that by Saturday noon traffic was resumed. The heaviest part of the rain fell in the vicinity of the Watson lake, J. W. Swan lost his entire crop and garden, the flood sweeping it all away. The railroad bridge between Coolora and Capitan was partially destroyed also but luckily the bridge gang was at work near by and the bridge was repaired so the train was able to cross Monday morning. Section Foreman S. W. Hale has moved back to the Capitan section from Walnut, where he was stationed for about two months. Capt. J. L. VanZant of Fort Stanton, returned on Monday from a six weeks visit to his old home in New York. James Lafferty and family were in town this week from the Block ranch. Dr. Titworth, of Sedalia, Mo. a brother of G. A. and will Titworth is visiting his brothers this week. Dr. Titworth states that New Mexico is the greenest and most prosperous looking country he has seen this season, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma are in sore straits and threatened with total failure of the corn crop if rain holds off much longer. George Hagee and his mother, Mr. T. A. Hagee, of Angus were in town this week. Probate Judge Lucero came in on Monday's train enroute from the county seat to his home at Las Palos. Several car loads of wool were shipped from this place on Monday to the eastern market. A number of fruit peddlers have visited this section during the past week from the vicinity of Hondo selling early peaches, apples and cherries.

WHITE OAKS WHIFFS

BY SAN DE

There is some recompense after all for the long delay in getting statehood. While Congress has swathing and bucking and wind jamming over the question of admission, the arid belt has been moving rapidly east, and a foreraste of it has even struck Washington City. If New Mexico can manage to keep up her lick in this line at the present rate she will soon come to her own. Was it Fall, Curry or Spiess that worked the weather man over to do a little rooting for us.

At no time during the past two weeks has twenty-four hours slipped by without a shower of more or less soaking tendencies. The whole region hereabouts is certainly laying in an abundant supply of wat goods.

The rain held off just long enough last Sunday afternoon for the White Oaks baseball team to do the Carrizozo Athletes' up brown. Your Carrizozo fellows should swap their suits for blue ones in order to more fittingly represent their feelings of late after the game is over.

The Cannings were all up Sunday to witness the game and to chat with old time friends here.

Attorney John Y. Hewitt and Commissioner Robert Taylor returned the latter part of the week from Alamogordo where they had been watching the uncertain and devious ways of county seat litigation.

Since Charlie Spence turned down an opportunity to get on the baseball team here he is putting on brawn and muscle with the hammer and saw erecting a buggy shed to a piano accompaniment.

John A. Brown is putting on a veranda to the front of his residence which no doubt will add much to the appearance and comfort of the place when completed.

Repairing roofs is the principal occupation of the people of this town and those who have depended on a slicker or wagon sheet for the past few years are hunting 'kiver'

WHITE OAKS WINS

The Carrizozo Browns journeyed up to White Oaks last Sunday and played an interesting game of baseball in which they were whalloped in great shape by the White Oaks aggregation. The final score being 8 runs for W. O. to 2 for Carrizozo. Grumbles and Loughrey held down the box for Carrizozo while Willie Gallacher handled the sphere for the mountain boys. Captain Dingwall could not get all of his regular team together to go but put a team in the field nevertheless. A return game with the White Oaks team is scheduled for Carrizozo at an early date.

THE LINE UP

White Oaks	Carrizozo
Paul Mayer	S. S. Loughrey
C. Van Sooyek	C. Dingwall
Jim Lee	C. F. Groves
J. Gallacher	1st B. Ma Lean
J. Taylor	3rd B. De Londe
W. Gallacher	P. R. Grumbles
R. Treat	L. F. W. Grumbles
B. Lee	R. F. Jones
H. Kelt	2nd B. Blair

The party of young people from Carrizozo who have been camping on the Ruidoso returned this week on horse back. The Johnson and Kelsey families remained in camp. Those returning were; Miss Sallie Hilderbrandt, Miss Frieda Eckman, George Sharps and Brent Paden

HOLD A SHORT SESSION

County Commissioners Met Monday and adjourned after a brief session

CLERK RIGGLE NOT PRESENT

The county commissioners met in regular session Monday morning, at Carrizozo. Chairman White, Robt. Taylor, member; Wm. Barnett, Dep. Sheriff and Wm. Doering, Deputy clerk, were present. The board went ahead with its regular business and transacted business coming before them but were hampered in their work by the absence of county clerk Riggie, and the records. There was some indecision as to where the meeting would be held but Messrs White and Taylor after consulting legal authority decided that the place for the commissioners meeting was at the county seat, Carrizozo, where the District and Probate courts also meet. Rinaldo Duran and Clerk Riggie both of Lincoln failed to attend the meeting here. A number of bills were allowed; warrants issued, and the board setting as an equalization board passed on several tax matters, adjourned with the following resolution, to meet here again next Monday.

RESOLUTION

"Because of the refusal of clerk Riggie of this Board to attend the meeting, thereof, at the county seat as required by Sections 662 and 678, Compiled Laws of 1907, the Board finds it impossible to make the necessary tax levies until in possession of the papers in the hands of said clerk and which he has failed and refused to have present at this meeting of this Board." "Therefore, this Board is hereby adjourned to meet on the 17th day of July 1911, at 9 A. M. at Carrizozo, Lincoln County, New Mexico; to give said clerk an opportunity to be present in person or by legal deputy and to produce before the Board all papers pertaining to the tax levies for the present year, and pertaining to such other matters as may come before the Board at the session of July 1911."

W. H. White, Chairman.

By Wm. J. Doering, Dep. Clerk.

ROAD OBSTRUCTIONS

In the matter of the petition of G. J. Wiehor, Ed. F. Haskins, et al of precinct No. 7, praying this Board to have removed from a public road in said precinct, a wire fence that obstructs travel on said public road; the board having been fully advised in the premises grants said petition and hereby instructs the road supervisor to remove said obstruction, or any other obstruction on any public road in said supervisors district that have been placed across said road or roads.

Be it further ordered; that each and every road supervisor in the county of Lincoln enforce the above order and remove all obstructions across public roads in their respective districts, and to see that no individual obstructs the public roads of this county. In the event any individual has in any manner obstructed any public road in Lincoln county, the road supervisors are ordered to regard such action as a violation of the law, and to at once carry out the instructions herewith given."

REMOVE TAX WAIVE

The board took up the tax rates in the matter of the New Mexico Fuel Company and passed on the matter as follows: Now coming on to be heard the objection and complaint of the New Mexico Fuel Company to the raising and changing of its rendition of its property for taxation during and for the year, 1911, after full and further consideration the same following order was unanimously made and adopted.

Whereas at the June 1911, meeting of this Board it raised the value of 1000 acres of land returned by the New Mexico Fuel Company as grazing land at $1.50 per acre from said sum of $1.50 per acre to the sum of $23.50 per acre and classified said lands as coal lands, and thereby raised the rendition made by said Company to that extent and.

Whereas, said New Mexico Fuel Company has complained of and objected to this Board's said action and presented evidence in support thereof and, Whereas, it is made to appear to this Board that during the last preceding years under identically similar circumstances like action part of this Board has been reversed by the Territorial Board of Equalization and rendition, similar to the one made by said New Mexico Fuel Company has been sustained and upheld by it, and that the fair and reasonable value and classification of said lands (as the law is construed by said Territorial Board of Equalization) is as returned by said New Mexico Fuel Company.

It is by the board ordered that the complaint and objection of said New Mexico Fuel Company be upheld and allowed and that the action of the Board at its June 1911, meeting, changing the classification of said land and raising the value thereof and of the rendition of the said New Mexico Fuel Company, be vacated and that the return of the said New Mexico Fuel Company, of its property for taxation made for and during the year 1911 be and the same is hereby approved as made by it, and it is ordered that said property be assessed and carried on Tax Rolls and Lists as returned by said New Mexico Fuel Company.

REPORT BILL TO THE SENATE

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Declaring that he is friendly to the territories of New Mexico and Arizona; that he is anxious to see them admitted as states and that any delay on his part has been for the purpose of smoothing the path, Chairman William Alden Smith of the senate committee on territories today reported the Flood resolution favorably out of the committee, as voted by the committee nearly three weeks ago.

Mr. Smith insists that the Flood resolution will be vetoed by the president, if it is passed as it stands now, and he gave notice that he would soon press an amendment eliminating the judiciary recall from the Arizona constitution before its admission as a state. He then said he would seek an immediate vote on the matter in the senate.

Senator Nelson, stating that he represented a minority of the committee, said he was perfectly satisfied to admit New Mexico with her constitution as adopted, but that he objected to the admission of Arizona under her present fundamental law for two reasons; first because of the recall of the judiciary and second because fifteen per cent of voters could initiate a referendum.

Miss Frieda Eckman of Alamogordo is visiting Miss Sallie Hilderbrandt.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCourt Tuesday, twin girls. One of the twins died the same day.

C. B. Lane, of Alto will speak on "Christianity as Applied to Socialism," in Carrizozo Saturday night. The place where the lecture will be held has not been announced as yet. The meeting is under the auspices of local socialists.

Baseball Saturday afternoon.

GIVE TO US STATEHOOD

The entire Southwest will feel the stimulus of the resultant development

STOP PUERILE PETTIFOGGING

The El Paso Times, which has previously been an opponent to both the New Mexico and Arizona constitutions printed the following editorial recently. Reversals of opinion are becoming quite the proper thing nowadays, it seems.

The question of admitting Arizona and New Mexico into the union as states is the engrossing and burning issue of the moment so far as the people of the two territories are concerned, and just why there should be any further delay upon the part of the United States senate, is a matter that cannot be fathomed by those who are not on the inside politically.

While the Times has strongly opposed the machine made constitutions of the two territories, and is still of the opinion that the best interests of the people concerned would be best observed by their utter and complete wiping out, it also believes that the greatest objections to the two instruments have been overcome in the manner suggested by the democratic congress, and it is a matter of grave injustice to further delay with a proposition that is keeping the people of both Arizona and New Mexico out of their inalienable rights to become real and bona fide citizens of these United States.

There is a pathetic side to the picture that presents itself to general view that should not be without its effect upon those who are responsible for the continued delay. Here are thousands of pioneer citizens of the United States, who for many long years have endured all the hardships and dangers incident to the frontier, and who have spent the best years of their lives in bringing these two territories to the point of development where they are entitled to admission to the union. These good people have complied with every demand that has been made upon their citizenship, and have through their achievements, fully demonstrated their fitness for citizenship. So eager are they for the coveted blessing that thousands of them have said they were willing to submit to the oppressive and objectionable features of their machine made constitutions, if it would only give them the blessings of statehood and place them upon a par with the other citizens of the United States.

Certainly, a people who are so imbued with the spirit of progress and whose hearts are so filled with the desire to become citizens and exercise their God-given rights, should be no longer denied, and the politicians at Washington, who are responsible for the continued delay, should lay aside their puerile pettifoggery and give to these people their natural and inalienable rights. Nothing is to be gained from further procrastination in the matter, as these people have declared their willingness to submit to the further conditions imposed upon them, and they are, as a matter of right and justice, entitled to statehood without any further delay.

Give Arizona and New Mexico statehood, and the entire southwest will at once feel the stimulus of the resultant development that will follow such action.

The Carrizozo Browns are scheduled to play a picked team, which Jim Woodland has gotten together, Saturday afternoon.

GATHERED SMILES

NO OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE.

"Simpkins is a lucky man."
"Why, he is as poor as a church mouse."
"I know it."
"Besides, he has a great deal of sickness in his family and his oldest boy is on the road to perdition."
"Simpkins is acquainted with trouble, all right, but still he is a lucky man."
"I don't see how you make that out."
"His wife has only one relative, a cousin who lives in Australia and hasn't been back to the states in 20 years."

Up and Doing.
Not all cityfolks are as ignorant of the farmers' surroundings as the farmers themselves suppose. This was evidenced by an incident in the stay of a young New Yorker on a New England farm.
"Well, young man," said the farmer to his city boarder, who was up early and looking round, "been out to hear the haycock crow, I suppose." And the city old chap winked at his tired man.
The city man smiled. "No," said he, suavely, "I've been out tying a knot in a cord of wood."—Judge.

Poverty and Pride.
Mr. Minks—Have you called on the new neighbors next door?
Mrs. Minks—Indeed I haven't, nor I won't, neither. They're the trashiest kind of people—poor as church mice. I'll warrant, they sends their washin' out.
"What of that?"
"I s'pose they is ashamed to show the rags in their own yard."

Friendly Candor.
"Is he a friend of yours?"
"Well, he seems to think he is. He never meets me without feeling that it is his duty to tell me something that will leave me unhappy for the rest of the day."

HE COULD TRUTHFULLY.

The Pastor—I was not acquainted with the deceased, but I heard that she was divorced twice prior to her marriage to you. Now, I hardly know what to say of her in way of eulogy.
The Widower—Er, couldn't you say that she was faithful to the last?

The Reason.
Visitor—The convicts you showed us as rough characters seem to be very smooth.
Warden—That is because they have just been ironed.

Literal.
"Pop, tell me some conundrums."
"Conundrums? Why, I don't know any conundrums, my son."
"Oh, yes you do! I heard mother tell Aunt Mary the other day that you keep her guessing most of the time."
Puck.

Joy.
His Wife (3 a. m.)—John, John, there is gas escaping downstairs!
John (sleepily)—Great! Won't the gas company be sore when they find it got away from them!—Puck.

Going Slow.
"Some new potatoes today?" inquired the grocer.
"I don't know," replied the young wife. "The old kind have been very satisfactory. How do these new potatoes differ from the old standard brands?"

A Guess.
"The young man's name is Lamb."
"The young man's name is Lamb?"

INTENSIFIED GARDENING.

A little patch for onions, A little patch for peas, A patch for early lettuce And hardy radishes. A place for corn—a place for beets, Not over two feet wide, My gardening this year you see, Must be intensified.
A place for carrots, too, I need, For cabbages a plot; A foot or two for butter beans, For cauliflower a spot. Tomato plants will need some space, But where, I can't decide, The garden I am planning now Will be intensified.

The problem of the back yard.
I state it for a fact, To make it out to shame, for work, A forty acre tract, I'm crowding vegetables in, I've jammed 'em side by side, My garden, you can bet your life, Will be intensified.

GOT THE MONEY, THOUGH.

Beggar—My son today is beneath the cold, cold waves, Kind Old Gent (handing him 25 cents)—When was he drowned?
Beggar—He ain't drowned; he's the cook on a submarine torpedo boat.

No Wonder.
His heart is in his work— 'Tis very plain to see, He has a lady clerk As pretty as can be.

Pithy Sayings of Famous Men.
Achilles: "I'm a pretty tough citizen; that's a fact."
William Penn: "Honest Injun, that's all I can afford to pay!"
Rip Van Winkle: "Cheer! 'Tis a good time I must haff had last night!"
Moses: "Plague take the Egyptians!"
Tom Moore: "Everything I wrote went for a song."
Sir Francis Drake: "I'll have to duck; there's a squall coming."

Drawing the Line.
"I don't find anything to eat," said the man of the house, "my wife's away from home. But here's a barem skirt that belongs to her. Maybe you can raise enough on that to get a square meal."
A nush wanted the grimy cheek of Tuffold Knutt.
"Mister," he said, stiffly turning away, "I ain't wot you'd call a prosperous citizen, but I've got some pride left!"

Foolish Fletcherizer.
The teacher was giving a lesson in natural history.
"And now, children," she said, "what animal do you think shows the least amount of intelligence? Johnnie Jones, you may answer."
"Please, ma'am, the cow."
"And why the cow?"
"Because, ma'am, it eats first and Fletcherizes afterward."—Judge.

Agreeable and Accommodating.
"Now, one final point, Mr. Sellers," Stiggins said. "I like your car, but suppose it blows up on me—will you take it off my hands?"
"We will if it comes down on your hands, sir, with pleasure," the amiable agent returned.—Harper's Weekly.

Unscientific.
"Out in our suburb we have an appendicitis club."
"Club? Great Scott! Can't you afford to hire a surgeon with the regular instruments?"

Mixed, but Emphatic.
"Since you got married you are late every morning," complained the boss.
"Well," explained the breathless clerk, "I have to button up the ashes, and shake down the shirt waist and carry out the furnace every morning."

When Politicians Grow Politic.

BOSSSES ON SMALL PAY.

GIVE ORDERS TO MEN WHO GET MUCH LARGER SALARIES.

Trainmasters and Many Other Officials Receive Considerably Less Than Some Engineers and Others Whom They Employ.

Giving orders to men who are earning twice as much as you might seem a bit strange to any one but a railroad man, a trainmaster on one of the many western railways remarked.

"But that's just what one has to do," he continued. "I take almost any railway in the country and you will find that the men who are giving orders are getting pay checks that look mighty small beside the checks of those who are 'bossed.'"

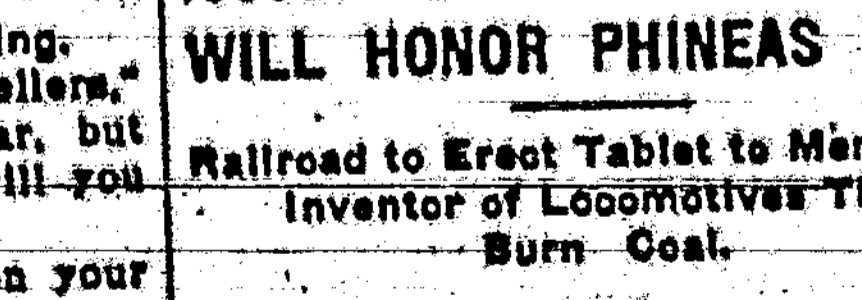

"Take the trainmaster, for instance. He gets a title and $150 a month or so. He plunks down in his office and tells the conductors how to run their trains and the engineers how to take the sidings and 'calls them down' when they make mistakes. And the chances are that the engineer who is getting the orders makes $200 a month. He is being bossed by a man who gets $50 less for every 30 days that he works. The conductor's check may be as large or even larger than the engine-driver's."

"Think of leaning back in an easy chair and telling a man that you'll give him $50 more than you get if he works for you. Then, if he doesn't suit you after he's been on the road for a time, you call him in, take his job away from him, and give some one else the $200 a month, while you struggle along on the measly $150."

According to the trainmaster, half the railroad "officials" whose names appear in big print on the time cards are receiving less wages than those whom they employ. The average chief dispatcher, who does the major part of the real work in operating a railroad, earns $600 and gets $175 a month.

The division passenger agent, who gives orders to the passenger conductors, arranges for special trains, acts as a buffer between the traveling public and the complaint department, and who has other troubles, varied and numerous, finds his pay check amounting to $125, $150 or $175.

There are exceptions, of course, to the general rule of low-paid officials.

The superintendent, who has charge of a few hundred miles, may receive anything from $2,000 to $5,000 annually, for running the division. But under him are half a score men who aid in managing the road and who receive much less than those they employ.

Goes for Nose Painting.
Many a man's purse is shy of the long green because it takes so much to color his nose.

WILL HONOR PHINEAS DAVIS

Railroad to Erect Tablet to Memory of Inventor of Locomotives That Burn Coal.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad intends to erect a tablet to the memory of Phineas Davis, inventor of the first coal-burning locomotive in America, whose body occupied an unmarked grave in the cemetery of the old Friends meeting-house at York, Pa. The career of Davis is among the most romantic of American inventors. Beginning as an apprentice to a noted watch and clock maker, he created a sensation in 1825 by producing a perfect timepiece not larger than a nickel five-cent piece. Later, while he was connected with a firm of machinists, he had a share in the building of the first iron steamboat in America, which was launched on the Susquehanna river. In 1832 the Baltimore & Ohio offered a prize of $1000 for a coal-burning locomotive that would exceed in speed a competitive one, and

FINEST ENGINES IN WORLD

Contrast Between American Locomotives and Those Used in Europe Is Rather Startling.

The steel trust and the railroads may be roundly abused for the commission of every sin, reasonable and unreasonable, under the Sherman law, but there is one thing they must be credited with, and that is putting forth and operating the finest rolling stock in the world. American visitors abroad are quick to comment on the insignificant size and "queer" type of locomotives used by English and continental trains. One explanation is that the railroads of Europe have not had the profigate liberty that those in America have enjoyed, that they have been hindered and circumscribed, even to the air space around the tracks. Often in England, roads, on encountering a common, instead of blithely building a track right through it, have been compelled to use a tunnel or a bridge, and consequently the engines have to be kept as small and compact as possible.

In contrast to the locomotives of Europe is Santa Fe engine No. 3000, which has just rolled out of the shops at Topeka, Kas. It is of the Mallet type and is the largest locomotive in the world. It made its first trip a few days ago between Topeka and Emporia, but soon will be put to work more befitting its strength. No. 3000 is one of fifty of the same type ordered by the Santa Fe. They will cost about $50,000 each. By the use of the Mallet articulated locomotives an ordinary train may be hauled from Chicago to the Pacific coast, or vice versa, without a change of engines. They can haul ordinary trains up steep mountain grades, where under other circumstances the train would have to be shortened or more locomotives summoned. The Mallet locomotive is really a double engine, with two boilers, each with its own set of driving wheels. The result is that the engine is transferred into an articulated locomotive of double power without an increase in cost. No. 3000 is nearly 122 feet long and weighs 375 tons with its tender.

Railroad-Crossing Safety Gates.
Plans of an interesting and ingenious device to prevent loss of life at level railroad crossings, have been forwarded to us by the inventor and patentee, Mr. T. H. Cassidy, Cranbrook, B. C. The device consists of bar gates of the ordinary variety operated by means of compressed air, supplied from a compression chamber, the piston of which is set in motion by a trip trigger on the railway track. A great deal of thought and ingenuity has been shown in perfecting the contrivance, which is extremely praiseworthy. The inventor is willing to permit any railway company to make use of his device in the interests of humanity. Possibly some notifying signal before the bars fall would be an additional advantage to travelers on the highways. Some bell with characteristic sound, electrically operated from the rails by the approaching trains, would seem to be greatly needed at all level crossings.

To Build New Line in Cuba.
The Cuban Railroad company is soon to begin work on a new road from Manicaragua to Fomento, in Santa Clara province, which will open up transportation facilities to the cane growers in that country. The franchise for building the road has recently been granted by the government and the terms stipulate that the work must begin within two years.

To Exhibit Old Locomotive.
The Philadelphia and Reading Railway company will place on permanent exhibit its old locomotive, the Rocket, under the track elevation at Columbia avenue in a few weeks. This engine was built in London in 1825, and was used by the Reading until about 1880. It is being restored to its original appearance.—Philadelphia Record.

He was then taken into the service of the company and three years later, as a result of many experiments, he brought out another engine which was claimed to be superior to anything produced in America or England prior to that time. On the trial trip, over rails laid on wooden stringers, Davis lost his life through the breaking of one of these rails. He was only forty years old at the time of his death, and, as the development of motive power advanced, he was forgotten through achievements that overshadowed what he had done.

Long in Railroad Service.
The Baxon state railroads reward workmen who have been in their service twenty-five years and more with small sums of money, and at the same time distinguish them with marks of honor. Recently on this small system 30 men had served for 25 years, 22 for 20, 17 for 25 and seven for 40 years.

FARM AND BEES

SWARM CATCHER IS SIMPLE

One Exhibited at Recent Maryland Bee Keepers' Association Meeting—Made Any Size.

At the recent meeting of the Maryland State Bee Keepers' association in Baltimore, Dr. B. N. Gates of the United States department of agriculture exhibited and described an apparatus for securing swarms. As will be seen from the illustration, it consists of a wooden box with holes in five of the sides, the sixth side being open, says the Orange Judd Farmer. Any convenient size will answer.

The box shown by Dr. Gates was about 18 inches long, 12 high and 8 wide. The holes were about an inch in diameter. At the top were two slits in which small pieces of comb filled with unsealed brood could be let down into the box and fastened so that they would not jar out. They are placed parallel with the long side of the box, so as to leave no obstruction when the bees are to be jarred out.

In the center of the bottom and the top of the box larger holes are bored for a pole to pass through. Several poles of varying lengths are provided, so as to reach high or low clusters of bees. When the pole has been put in place through the box a hook is fastened to the top, so this may be hung over a limb if necessary.

In operation all that is necessary is to catch half a pint or more of bees in the box and let the box hang near where the bees have started to form a cluster. They will quickly assemble in the box by coming through the holes, and all that will be necessary will be to carry the box and dump the bees either into or in front of the new hive. The bees will take possession in the ordinary way.

Forage Crops.

The Missouri Experiment station has just given out the results of an experiment lasting three years, which shows large profits from feeding hogs on forage crops. The average income per acre from clover forage was $34.11, from rape and oats $23.62, from corn and cowpeas $29.08, and from blue grass $17.71. The estimates are all made on the basis of 60 cents a bushel for the corn fed and 6 cents a pound for the pork produced. The results are important as indicating what may be accomplished when the hogs themselves do all the harvesting. This bulletin, which is numbered 95, was written by Dean F. B. Mumford and C. A. Wilson, and can be had on request by writing to the Director of the Experiment Station, Columbia, Missouri.

Farm Labor Wages.

The wages of labor has become so high in proportion to the price of farm products that there is little profit in hiring other men's labor, and the shrewdest farmers hire as little help as possible without having to let their crops go to waste. There is a great complaint of the scarcity of farm laborers, but farmers in fair health, on small farms, can by their own labor and with assistance of machinery, maintain their families, pay their taxes, and lay up a small sum every year for supporting sickness and old age without hiring much.

Use of Weeds.

Weeds in many cases have been blessings in disguise. They have taught us how to cultivate the soil, and they never allow us to forget the lesson: Solomon went by the field of the slothful and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding, and, lo, all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof.

HANDY ROTARY TURF EDGER

Revolving Wheel Makes Neat Edges to Lawn and Along Walk—Tyro Can Work It.

The mere mowing of the grass is only a small part of the labor required to keep a lawn in attractive shape. The trimming of the turf along the edges of walks and flower beds is an important feature, and is work that requires a certain amount of skill and experience, if done with old-fashioned tools. A New Hampshire man, however, has devised an implement that he calls the "rotary lawn edger," which enables the veriest tyro of a gardener to keep the edges of his grass neatly trimmed. The edger consists of a long handle and a sharp wheel mounted at the lower end. The wheel can be held stationary by means of a cotter pin, but under normal conditions it revolves. A step near the bottom of the handle enables the gardener to press the wheel into the turf with the foot and by running the tool along the edge of a walk the grass there can be trimmed in rapid time.

WIRE TWISTER FOR FENCING

Spiral Shank Has Effect of Working Automatically and Swiftly—Especially Useful on Farm.

A novel form of wire twister that has the effect of being automatic in its operation has been patented by a Texas man. A spiral shank revolves as the device is drawn toward the user and does the work swiftly. This implement is especially useful in making wire fencing, where it is necessary to have a few twists at close intervals. The head of the tool slips down into the hollow handle and is normally in a retracted position. To use the implement two or more wires are seized in the jaws and the operator draws the tool toward him. The resistance offered causes the head to wind its way out of the handle with the circular motion imparted by its spiral shank, and as this happens the wire is twisted automatically.

FARM NOTES

Every farmer should give attention to the science of disking in the conservation of moisture.

Young babies and young plants must have the right kind of food and plenty of it to make them grow.

If your plants grow tall and spindly thin them out. Do not be afraid to cut—go at them courageously.

If you keep a lot of cats, you won't have birds about the place. Birds destroy a great many insect pests.

Tomato seeds are easily preserved and if you have extra good ones pick out the best and save the seeds.

Good seed, good cultivation, good common sense are a pretty good combination, if good crops are desired.

It is a great thing to know just when a plant needs water. It is a matter that requires close observation.

Incident That Struck Householder as Being Along Slightly Humorous Lines.

"Many funny things happen in a flat, during the course of a few months," said a Milwaukee flat dweller, "but one of the best things I ever saw happened yesterday.

"I was suddenly roused from my slumber by three loud knocks on the door. Jumping to my feet and into a bathrobe, I hastened to see what was wanted. I opened the door in time to see a young fellow half way up the flight to the next floor.

"Hello, there!" I yelled at him. "He turned around, hastened back and handed out a small envelope, pointing to the inscription. I glanced at it. It was an appeal for aid because the applicant was deaf and dumb.

"Say, I was mad enough to kick him down stairs. Then the joke struck me and I slammed the door in his face and went back to bed laughing."

The Kaiser Likes the Bible. The kaiser is a great reader, and while he tries to keep himself abreast of current events, his favorite book is the Bible, says the London Chronicle. A well thumbed and marked copy is always by his bedside. When Mr. Roosevelt visited Berlin last year, the kaiser made him a present of a number of books. About half of them referred to theology and the others to military subjects. These two classes indicate the kaiser's own preferences.

Some Day Ask Your Physician

To tell you the curious story of how the mind affects the digestion of food.

I refer to the condition the mind is in, just before, at the time, or just following the taking of food.

If he has been properly educated (the majority have) he will help you understand the curious machinery of digestion.

To start you thinking on this interesting subject, I will try to lay out the plan in a general way and you can then follow into more minute details.

Pawlow (pronounce Pavloff) a famous Russian Physician and Chemist, experimenting on some dogs, cut into the tube leading from the throat to the stomach.

They were first put under chloroform or some other anæsthetic and the operation was painless. They were kept for months in very good condition.

When quite hungry some unappetizing food was placed before them and, although hunger forced them to eat, it was shown by analysis of the contents of the stomach that little if any of the digestive juices were found.

Then, in contrast, some raw meat was put where they couldn't reach it at once, and a little time allowed for the minds of the dogs to "anticipate" and create an appetite. When the food was finally given them, they devoured it ravenously and with every evidence of satisfaction. The food was passed out into a dish through the opening before it reached the stomach. It was found to be mixed with "Ptyalin" the alkaline juice of the mouth, which is important for the first step in digestion. Then an analysis was made of the contents of

SOLVING NEGRO PROBLEM

Under Conditions, the Matter Seemed Comparatively Easy of Arrangement.

The central police station was overcrowded one day last week. Officers were wondering what they would do should another arrest be made, when the door opened and a sleepy-looking, blue-eyed foreigner drifted in with a most dejected "Goot-efning, mens."

The officers nodded their greetings to the stranger, who then asked: "Can I did some sleepings here? I just came from Chicago and am start to work tomorrow."

"Well, the only space we have left is a bunk, which is already occupied by a colored man. You can share that if you want to," replied the officer.

The man thought for a few minutes, scratched his head and said: "Well, I guess I no can see him in dark, and besides I am tired and want sleep."—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Mr. Culmer was born May 22, 1825, in Kent, England, during the reign of George Frederick (George IV.), for whom he was named. At the time of his birth John Quincy Adams was president of the United States. Dr. Culmer has been a minister for many years in the Methodist Episcopal church until his advanced age made it necessary for him to retire. He is a scholar and poet. Many of his poems have been published in magazines and newspapers.—Washington Correspondence Indianapolis News.

SUCH A QUESTION.

State's Attorney (examining talesman for jury)—If you considered this man guilty would you send him to the gallows?
Talesman (a politician)—What's his politics?

Couldn't See the Resemblance. They have been joking Assistant Treasurer James A. Mathews of the Guardian bank, on his resemblance to President Taft, and Mr. Mathews has steadily refused to be annoyed thereby. So the jokers subverted and the joke died a natural death. Until the other night, when Mr. and Mrs. Mathews dined together with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harmon and their little daughter, when the Taft resemblance was revived. Turning to young Miss Harmon, Mr. Mathews asked whether she, too, thought he looked like the president. Dorothy studied long and earnestly. Then she answered: "Not in the face, Uncle Jim."—Cleveland Leader.

the stomach, into which no food had entered. It was shown that the digestive fluids of stomach were flowing freely, exactly as if the desirable food had entered.

This proved that it was not the presence of food which caused the digestive juices to flow, but the flow was caused entirely and alone as a result of the action of the mind, from "anticipation."

One dog continued to eat the food he liked for over an hour believing he was getting it into his stomach, whereas, not an ounce went there; every particle went out through the opening and yet all this time the digestive juices flowed to the stomach, prepared to quickly digest food, in response to the curious orders of the mind.

Do you pick up the lesson? Unappetizing food, that which fails to create mental anticipation, does not cause the necessary digestive juices to flow, whereas, food that is pleasing to the sight, and hence to the mind, will cause the complicated machinery of the body to prepare in a wonderful way for its digestion.

How natural, then, to reason that one should sit down to a meal in a peaceful, happy state of mind and start off the breakfast, say with some ripe, delicious fruit, then follow with a bowl of crisp, lightly browned, thin bits of corn like Post Toasties, add a sprinkle of sugar and some good yellow cream and the attractive, appetizing picture cannot escape your eyes and will produce the condition of mind which causes the digestive juices nature has hidden in mouth and stomach, to come forth and do their work.

These digestive juices can be driven back by a mind oppressed with worry, hate, anger or dislike of the disagreeable appearance of food picked before one.

Solid facts that are worthy the attention of anyone who esteems prime health and human happiness as a valuable asset in the game of life.

CARRIZOZO, in the hearing at Alamogordo last Friday learned that the laws of New Mexico when in conflict with one another are not always interpreted as a person would at first expect. The county seat case however grinds slowly along and the tax-payers foot the bill. We have heard a faint murmur from the tax payers of the county, who are not directly concerned but who must pay their share of the expense of the litigation now in progress and it will not be surprising to have this faint murmur gradually grow into an uproar of protest, and justly so. The ballot is put into a voter's hand for him to voice his opinion, after an election the majority rules in a democratic country, but not so in this county. Carrizozo has been declared the county seat of Lincoln county by the courts, by election and by acclamation but still the county officers remain at Lincoln, the old county seat, while the Courts and commissions meet at Carrizozo. There is no such thing as coherence of thought when one happens on to the county seat muddle, and the end is not yet.

THE results from the recent Post Card Day and the hearty response of the people to Governor Mill's "Call of New Mexico" are already beginning to come in throughout New Mexico. Approximately a million post cards were sent out on June 22nd, advertising our resources. The Eastern papers took the novel scheme up and gave New Mexico many columns of free advertising which if valued at space rates would amount to several thousand dollars. This fall it is the consensus of opinion that there will be an unusually large influx of home-seekers to this country, and New Mexico awaits them with open arms, for we can deliver the goods.

RAINS, copious, soaking, down pouring, wet, watery rains, have become so common in this vicinity recently that it's not safe to venture out without rubber boots. All this moisture can result in but one thing, a splendid crop this fall and better times ahead. Speaking of crops, don't let it slip from your memory that Carrizozo is to have a festival and showing of products this fall, now is the time to prepare for this big stunt.

COMMUNICATED

Capitan, N. M., July 10, 11
Editor Carrizozo Outlook:—Will you have the kindness to publish the following communication expressing the sentiments of myself, and of others who witnessed the ball game at the picnic on the Rio Bonito on July fourth, between the invincible (?) Carrizozo Browns and the Capitan "Myrtles"?

The publication of this communication is requested for the purpose of refuting an erroneous statement published in the Outlook of July 7th dealing with the ball game above referred to. The article in question was so unfair and such a rank injustice to the Capitan team as to arouse the indignation of all persons who desire to see impartiality and fairness in sports.

The account given of the game in the Outlook ignores the Capitan team wholly and represents that the "Browns" were opposed and defeated by the BONITO team, well knowing that no such team exists; the statement is also made that the "Browns" were scheduled to play a game "against a picked team of Lincoln County" which idea evidently originated in the fertile brain of the Carrizozo fans, as no such proposition was made by any one connected with the Capitan team. It was at one time proposed to have two or three of the Fort Stanton team play with the Capitan team and this was known to the manager and captain of the "Browns" from the start, but nothing was ever said about "a picked team of Lincoln County", and right here if the digression is permitted, we can safely say that Capitan does not have to seek players from other parts of the County or Duran, when the regular players of the team are available, to play Carrizozo's "Browns", notwithstanding the statement of manager Haley; "that the Capitan team could not play baseball well enough "to make it interesting". And by the way Bro. Haley must have a very serious case of the "ring" judging from the conspicuous absence of any mention of the game in the last late and "biler plated," issue of the News.

My preamble and digressions, like the Moral Essays of former contributor of this News from Carrizozo, has absorbed all the space originally intended for the refutation of misstatements hereinbefore set forth (please pardon the forensic terms) hence I will make it brief.

First: The Capitan team opposed and defeated the "Browns", with two of our regular players absent and their places filled by a kid in the "Browns" uniform during the first three innings and a Fort Stanton man during the last two innings, and N. Peck, a Carrizozo boy not a member of any team but a better player than some who wear the brown of his home town—playing the entire seven innings, neither of these outside players had an opportunity in the field to show what they could do, as the "Browns" when at the bat failed to get a ball into their territory, therefore these seven regular members of the Capitan team did real work of shutting them out.

Second: There is no such team as the "Bonito" team, and no member of any other organized team of Lincoln or any other County, aside from the Stanton man, who played two innings, played on the Capitan team.

Third: that the Carrizozo newspapers are "punk" and lack the spirit of fairness that characterizes the true sport.

Very respectfully,
CLEMENT HIGHTOWER.

(Editors Note—Following our usual liberal policy we are giving the above digressional remarks space, although it seems that Hightower is writing simply to kill time. Hightower has three sons, who all can play excellent ball and they are deserving of much credit for their ability; no one ever disputed this. As for the name of the aggregation "the above mentioned game, Ca Routor, tucked in the name "Bo to" as the handle under which the bunch played, and it so appears on the official score. Carrizozo, was challenged to play a picked team from Lincoln county at Bonito on

July Fourth, this being the consensus of opinion among the baseball fans here. Hightower accepted no challenge we know of. Capitan was not mentioned until the pick up team was victorious, then Capitan may have wanted to claim the victory. So much "water" in Capitan must have unbalanced someone. ### EDITOR

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 178 West Jackson boulevard, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

It used to be that the only architecture there was that of large and costly mansions, public buildings, etc. The small or medium sized house—the kind of a house that most people want to build—was never given very much thought architecturally. Today, however, all this is changed. A number of prominent architectural establishments have made something of a specialty of the planning and design of small cottages, medium sized houses, etc., and a great many useful things have been found out concerning what is best for this purpose.

A well-known architect, speaking of these matters, has said that it almost of even the plainest and most simple little cottage.

As to the design of the building itself, the greatest freedom is permissible. The style, size and shape of dormer windows for cottage homes are unlimited and often take an important part in the attractiveness of the home. Bay windows, circle windows, Dutch windows, casement windows, etc., are at the command of the designer without number.

Divided glass for the windows is not only appropriate, but almost essential in the design of a cottage home, especially if the style is somewhat English, domestic or colonial in its details. Many materials which could not be used in a large home are very appropriate for cottages. Of these may be mentioned the wide boards with horizontal battens, such as are used in the accompanying illustration for the foundation courses. These boards are unfinished and are stained a dark brown. They have a very home-like, inviting appearance and if made of tendency when not properly guided by one of experience often results in a freakish, ungainly building which may be ever so carefully studied in its details, but whose various parts are so crudely assembled that it makes the entire building look out of proportion. The practical arrangement of the floor plans should always be the first consideration. It seldom happens that a well-arranged plan will not work up into an attractive exterior in the hands of a skilled workman.

One of the commonest mistakes in the planning of a home is the improper location of the hall and stairway. When the width of the lot will permit it is best to plan a home that the reception hall will be in the center, as in the accompanying plan. In this it will be seen that the central reception and stair hall opens either side through broad-cased openings, to the right into the large living room, and to the left into the dining room. Directly back of the dining room are the kitchen and connecting pantry. The downstairs bedroom occupies the space in the other corner of the first floor plan, directly back of the living room. The bath is conveniently located at the end of the hall, between the kitchen and bedroom.

On the second floor are two good large sized bedrooms and a third smaller bedroom. A generous supply of clothes closet space is provided. The stairway going up in the center of the house in this way does not cut up the upstairs, but makes it all available for use. The main objection to placing the reception hall and stairway in a front corner, as in some plans, is that it spoils the front bedroom upstairs besides using up space on the first floor that is too valuable for this purpose, and could be used for one of the living rooms.

This little cottage is estimated to cost $2,200. It is 25 feet 8 inches wide by 26 feet 6 inches deep, not including the porches. It has been worked out as a model for a small home-like cottage that will appeal to many home builders this season.

Do Not Dwell in Harmony.
At Sutton, in Norfolk, a mavis and a black-bird have started housekeeping on the co-operative principle, laying their eggs in the same nest. The same pair of hens tried a similar experiment last year, with dire results to the young mavis, the young black-birds having gently cooed them out of the nest into the cold world. But the enterprising parents apparently insist on giving the scheme a fair trial.

She Wanted to Know.
At one of the public schools in the city of Hamburg a little girl eleven years old asked her teacher who named Adam and Eve. It's what we'd all like to know, but as the teacher couldn't answer the question she complained of the child and had her punished, and lost her place as teacher in consequence. The school board said it was all right for anyone to find out if he could. Can you tell?

New Use for Cottonwood Tree.
The cottonwood tree is rich with gas and experiments are being conducted with the view of extracting it and burning it from a holder.

London's Long Roads.
One street, at least, in Greater London can compare in length with Argyll street, Glasgow, and, in so doing, outdistance Old Kent road, Old Ford road, Mile End road and Cromwell

Sweet Drinks in Burma.
There are no soda fountains in Rangoon. A large amount of aerated water is sold throughout Burma. The English population consumes an immense quantity of soda for the national drink of whisky and soda, and also some ginger beer and bottled lemonade. The natives, however, prefer the highly sweetened and colored drinks, such as rose water, pineapple, cream soda, etc.

How to Treat Them.
You must treat the public as you treat women—you must tell them nothing but what you know they would like to hear.—Goethe.

GATHERED SMILES

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

A dressmaker had sent her servant to post a letter and was anxiously waiting her return.
"Did you post my letter all right, Mary?" she asked, as the maid of all work entered.
"Oh, yes, ma'am," replied Mary, holding a penny out to her mistress.
"What is this for?" again asked the fair employer. "I gave it to you for the stamp."
"I didn't have to use it, ma'am. I put the letter in the box when nobody was looking," explained the innocent Mary.

His Part.

"Do you have to buy many dresses for your wife?"
"Haven't bought a dress for her since we have been married."
"Great Scott! Tell me how you do it!"
"She insists on buying 'em herself. I've paid for a carload, though."

TWO REASONS.

"Why is an ordinary man like a ball player?"
"Hates to be put out."
"Well, yes. And he likes to reach home without being touched."

Reformed.
He used to live on breakfast food. But that was long ago. He wonders now how far he could mistreat his stomach so.

Then They Should Move On.
Client—Before we should decide on the house, my husband asked me to inquire if the district is at all unhealthy?
House Agent—Er—what is your husband's profession, madam?
Client—He is a physician.
House Agent—Hum—er—well, I'm afraid truth compels me to admit that the district is not too healthy.—London Opinion.

Effect of the War.
A woman at a chandler's shop buy a half-penny candle was told the price was raised to three farthings.
"What's that for?" she asked.
"On account of the war, good woman," was the reply.
"Confound them!" she exclaimed. "Do they fight by candle light?"—Punch.

A Gallant Cabman.
An old lady getting into a cab in Grafton street, in Dublin, was heard to say to the driver: "Help me to get in, my good man, for 'm very old."
"Bekorra, ma'am," said he.
"matter what age you are, you don't look it."—Glasgow Herald.

Glad It Was Final.
"For the last time I tell you I will never marry you."
"I'm glad it's the last time, I'm getting tired of hearing it, anyhow."

But She Doesn't.
"Of all inappropriate names I ever heard, our landlady takes the bun," said the first boarder.
"You mean her first name?" asked the thin boarder.
"Sure! It's Phyllis!"—Yonkers Statesman.

A Pending Divorce.
"Who gets the custody of the automobile?"
"I told my wife she might have it. I can't keep up a machine and pay alimony, too."

Their Condition.
"There was a lot of firing of pistols in the noisy crowd which collected before the policeman came."
"Was anybody hurt?"
"No, although I understand quite a number were half shot."

The Right Kind of Ring.
Father—I rather like the young man who has been calling here; he has the right kind of a ring about him.
Daughter—Oh, father, did you see it? Was it a solitaire?—Smart Set.

A BRIGHTENING PROSPECT.

Of woodland ways the poets sing,
When Fancy tunes the lyre in spring.
The burbling bud, the balmy breeze,
The birds that warble in the trees!
The song of brooks, the flashing sun,
The spider's web, but newly spun,
The mossy bank that furrows to dreams
And all the rustle life that teems
With vernal stir, delight the soul,
However many years may roll
Across the hollow wastes of life,
With fell mischance and sorrows rife,
When spring revivifies the world,
Her blazing standards fast unfurled,
The saddest heart yields to the spell
And Hope affirms: "All will be well."

Unexpected Meeting.
Charles Dickens, taking one of his accustomed strolls in shadow land, suddenly met Mr. Podsnap face to face.
"My dear Podsnap," he said, with a beaming smile, "this is indeed—"
But Mr. Podsnap impatiently waved him aside and passed on.
"Well," reflected Dickens, momentarily chagrined, "that hurts a little—but he's living up to the reputation I gave him, anyhow."

Mixed Metaphor.
Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts thinks that as a "mixed metaphor" from the pulpit the following can hardly be surpassed:
"One of the country's clergy" who was rebuking his flock for their apathy declared that but a spark of grace remained to show that they were at all alive. Then, in parenthesis, he added, "Lord, water that spark!"—Human Life.

A Distinct Help.
"Do you believe in a college education?"
"Believe in it? What do you mean?"
"Do you think it is likely to help a man?"
"Certainly. If my son Bill had never gone to college it isn't likely that he would ever have been noticed by any of the managers of the big league clubs."

ALWAYS MUTTON.

Mrs. Haskley—My little girl knows "Mary Had a Little Lamb."
"Skinner Bones—Not here; perhaps at some other boarding-house."
Sarcasm.
"I'm waiting for some chump to ask me if I think 'tis hot; and then I'll snuff with all my might and say, 'Of course 'tis not!'"

Knew Their Friends.
"Johnny, do you know the Greek gods?"
"No; where is their fruit store?"

Between Salesladies.
"That man is getting to be a regular customer here."
"Yes; and he must be a multimillionaire."
"Why so, Mayme?"
"He ain't afraid to ask to see something cheaper, if he feels so inclined."

Cheaper.
"He likes to make friends with dogs and children."
"Yes; he says dogs don't want anything and children don't want much."

Rather Important.
Patience—Does it make any difference which finger Will puts the engagement ring on?
Patrice—Well, I should rather say it does! Suppose he put it on some other girl's finger?—Yonkers Statesman.

Modern Method.
"My books are in a very bad shape," said the high financier.
"Shall I send for an expert accountant?"
"No. Send for an alchemist."

never occurs to the builder of a small house that he can have as much individuality in the design and plan of his cottage as the man who builds a stately mansion; yet, in reality, there is a greater chance for individuality in a small house than in a large one.

To look well, a large home must necessarily be designed in some one of the several well-established styles of domestic architecture. The plan may vary, the size may vary, the cost may vary, but in style it must be either English, classical—which includes the colonial style—or mission. In the design of a cottage, the situation is entirely different. With the possible exception of the mission style, the limited cost of a cottage makes it impractical to attempt the more expensive styles in keeping with large construction. For this reason a cottage home can be built in a style of its own and need fill only one requirement and that is that it be pleasing to the eye.

Many expedients can be used that give it a touch of individuality. When the location is rural or suburban and the lot is of sufficient width, some simple landscape gardening effects can be introduced, shrubs and flowers planted, possibly a pergola set up afterward to be covered with growing vines—all of which will add wonderfully to the home-like attractiveness.

cypress will last for a very long time. In designing a little cottage home of this kind, one should not attempt to make it a monument of architecture. It should be picturesque, but not grotesque. While originality is desirable, this

GADDIS OF THE HIMALAYAS

Tribes of Nomad Shepherds Whose Very Origin is Matter of Conjecture.

Far away in the central Himalayas lives a tribe of nomad shepherds whose very origin is a matter of conjecture. They are known as Gaddis, and are as distinctly separate from the other tribes of these mountains as are the Ainu from the Japanese. They were once dwellers in the plains, but at some remote period were driven to the hills, and they are now confined to the western Himalayas, where there are extensive grazing grounds. Here they are partly tillers of the soil, as well as shepherds, for their women-folk who do not accompany the flocks, work in the fields, and some of the men also remain in the villages to assist them.

They are fine hardy men, these Gaddis, and their women are sometimes beautiful. They scorn the use of tents or shelters of any kind, and provided only with a blanket of goat's hair, which they make themselves, and which is practically waterproof, one and all of them remain for months together, at altitudes varying from 13,000 to 17,000 feet, exposed to snow, wind and rain, without any ill effect to their health. It must be remembered, however, that they are trained to it, for the boys, at a very early age, are made to accompany their fathers in their wanderings.—Wide World.

COUNTY NEWS-NOTES

JICARILLA HAPPENINGS.

The Fourth of July passed off with a very successful celebration for the Jicarilla district. A very heavy rain in the morning made the ground too wet for the race tournament but we had some very good races late in the evening. The local school house was too small for the large crowd wishing to dance and some of the visitors went short of dancing but the committee promises to do better in August, the date not having been settled as yet.

There has been a very rich strike on the Gold Stain Claim, the past week and quite a vein of ore shown up which makes things look up here somewhat and pleases the company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reasoner are at home at the Ross house at present. They will build a house here at an early date.

Mr. Handy, a brother of the late O. G. Handy has arrived in camp to look after the interests of his brother who died recently in El Paso.

The Littell Bros. Co. are thinking of putting on three shifts of men in a few days.

Everything is looking fine out this way; gardens, cornfields and cane. Grass is just jumping up and the cattle are taking on fat everyday.

T. W. Stonerod is up at Corona hauling wood for Lovelace Bros. of that place, he has just completed hauling for Mrs. Chavez of Raven-ton.

B. and M. Brookin of this place went to White Oaks Sunday to see the White Oaks boys beat the Carri-zozo Browns at baseball.

POLLY-PALAVERING

Our locality has been greatly favored with rain during the past months, but last Monday the weather clerk out did himself. About noon, a fine rain fell, followed by a mountain flood which surpassed all previous records as known to the oldest inhabitants, every bridge near here was taxed to its limits and at the siding the water rushed over the tracks for some distance, doing considerable damage to the grade. Railroad traffic was stalled for a time. The lavish amount of water practically assures a fine hay crop on the over flowed land.

Mrs. Christopher and children visited the county seat Saturday.

Fred C. Funk took in the city of White Oaks Sunday

PARSONS PICKUPS

Will Craig has just arrived from Texas, with his wife, and will remain here for her health.

The saw mill at Parsons the past week has been kept busy sawing bridge timber.

B. B. Robinson left last week for Picacho where he is busy surveying.

A. B. Graham, of the Eagle Company, arrived here last Saturday from the East where he has spent the past two months.

Heavy rains have fallen here the past week.

NOGAL NOTES.

The mesa farms were visited last Friday with a very destructive rain and hail storm, the corn crop on the mesa is reported as partially destroyed.

Lum Byfield is using one of Lin. Branums' hounds in an effort to catch lions which have destroyed many colts in this region recently.

C. W. Mooreman left last Sunday for his home in Versailles, Ky.

Mrs. Emma Morris of Wellington, Kansas is expected this week on a visit to her sister, Mrs. A. E. Moore.

ALTO ITEMS

Notwithstanding the heavy rains previous, the morning of the Fourth was bright and pretty and a nice little crowd gathered at the new school house for the Sunday School picnic and basket dinner. The house was beautifully decorated with the colors of the day and the following program was rendered:

Welcome address Prof. Jones
 Response, Rev. C. B. Walker
 Song, "Little Sunbeams," Class
 Recitation Carol Jones
 Recitation Mary Layne
 Song, "Flag of the Free," Class
 Recitation Lolo Phillips
 Recitation Henry Peebles
 Concert-Recitation, Mary Lane, Nollie Phillips

Flag Drill Class
 Recitation Mons Lane

A splendid dinner was served and everybody went home happy. Rev. Walker of Alamogordo preached a splendid sermon the evening of the Fourth.

Mrs. Jim Adkinson and family who have been visiting the family of J. W. Stewart the past three weeks returned to their home in El Paso Thursday.

There was a very interesting meeting of the White Mountain Literary Society last Saturday evening.

The farmers around Alto are quite busy "fighting weeds" between showers.

WHEN you hear a man sneering at the local paper because it is not clean cheap and newsworthy as the city papers you can safely bet that he does not squander any of his wealth assisting to make it better and that generally the paper has done more for him than he has for it. The man who can not see the benefit arising from a local paper is of about as much value to a town as a delinquent tax list.

NOTICE TO CATTLEMEN

Albuquerque, N. M., June 24, 1911
To the Cattlemen of Union, Roosevelt, Curry, Quay, Chaves, Eddy, Guadalupe, Torrance, Lincoln and Otero Counties

During the range inspection work recently conducted by the Cattle Sanitary Board in conjunction with the United States Bureau of Animal Industry it has been found necessary in consequence of the finding of scabby or mange to quarantine the area covered by Union, Roosevelt, Curry, Quay, Chaves, Eddy, Guadalupe and those parts of Torrance, Lincoln and Otero counties lying east of the El Paso & Southwestern R. R. and issue dipping orders to cattle men in these areas that have been found infected with or exposed thereto.

All cattle that have been found infected in these quarantined districts cannot be shipped or moved from their present range without first being dipped or sprayed under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture. Exposed cattle must be sprayed or dipped once while infected and must be treated twice. Upon application on the part of cattle men affected an U. S. Veterinarian will be furnished.

It is earnestly urged that all cattle men immediately get together and make and hasten all arrangements towards complying with the regulations this day issued.

Active work will begin at once and any infected or exposed cattle remaining undipped at the expiration of forty days after the issuance of this order the law requires shall be taken in charge by this Board and dipped or treated in accordance with Section 3 Chapter 31 of the Laws of 1905, the animals so taken being held as security for the expense incurred in compliance with the order for dipping.

ORDER FOR DIPPING

Under authority conferred upon the Cattle Sanitary Board of New Mexico, by the provision of Chapter 31, of the Laws of New Mexico, the following area is hereby declared to be an infected district: Union, Roosevelt, Curry, Quay, Chaves, Eddy, Guadalupe, and those parts of Torrance, Lincoln and Otero counties lying east of the El Paso & Southwestern R. R. and it is here ordered that all cattle within said district, which has been or may be classed by inspectors, as infected with or exposed to scabbies infection, must be dipped or sprayed by the owner or his agent at such times and places and in such manner as the inspectors of this Board may prescribe.

Infected or exposed cattle which are not dipped in compliance with the provisions of this order, will be taken in charge by this Board and dipped or treated in accordance with the provisions of Section 3, Chapter 31, Live Stock Laws of New Mexico.

Provided further, that any cattle in the Territory of New Mexico which are infected with scabbies or have been exposed thereto, must be dipped in accordance with the above.

DIPPING REGULATIONS

All dipping must be done under the supervision of an inspector of this Board or a Government Inspector and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Only these dips recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture may be used: Lime and Sulphur, Tobacco and Sulphur, and Beaumont Crude Petroleum. The dip must be maintained at a temperature ranging from 100° to 105° F., with the exception of crude oil which may be used cold.

Each cattle owner affected by this order, should, at once, get in touch with the inspector in his section and arrange dates for dipping.

The following named employes will have charge of the Bureau Work:

- Dr. R. M. Oibeter, Clayton, N. M. Union County.
- Dr. W. A. Savage, Dalhart, Texas, Quay and Guadalupe Counties.
- Dr. Geo. A. Lipp, Roswell, N. M. Roosevelt, Curry, and Chaves Counties.
- Dr. C. C. Heacock, Carlsbad, N. M. Eddy County.
- Dr. H. E. Pine, Carrizozo, N. M. Lincoln, Otero and Torrance Counties.
- W. J. LINWOOD, Secretary.

TRIUMPH OF A NEW IDEA.

About the quantity of reading matter furnished in the average Sunday newspaper there is no reason to complain—unless it be on the score of too-muchness—but the quality often leaves much to be desired. The only shining and unqualified exception to this rule is found in the unique Sunday Magazine of THE CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD. There is nothing else like it in the whole range of American journalism. It is a real magazine that is regularly issued as a part of the Sunday paper. It is filled with first-class fiction, able articles, choice pictures and a wide range of good miscellany, all by popular or really famous authors and artists. When writers such as Conan Doyle, Anthony Hope, Rudyard Kipling, Jack London, Sewall Ford, Cyrus Townsend Brady and Roy Norton are counted among the contributors to a Sunday paper its triumph can no longer be doubted. The Sunday Magazine of the Record-Herald is far and away the best literary treat offered to newspaper readers in the United States to-day. The largest monthlies and independent weeklies cannot surpass it in quality or sustained interest. You will always find one of the finest serials of the year in its pages, often captured from the big monthlies at record prices. Its short stories, including those of the delectable Shorty McCabe, can't be surpassed.

Saving Money

Gives Some People Many Happy Hours

By F. EVAN JONES, Chicago

SOME days ago I read a letter from a teacher or a professor in a town or small city who asked if it is worth while to save money. He had, during eight or ten years, saved and invested so that he had now about $5,000. His object in saving was to build a home for himself and his family. During these years of self-denial the lot on which he intended to build had gone up in value from $600 to $1,000 and the house that he and his wife had planned to build for $5,000 would now cost $8,000. Because of this the teacher or professor asked if it is worth while to economize and save money.

Certainly it is. The teacher's or professor's own statements are a convincing proof of it. The amount he now has as a result of his saving is so much money, whatever its buying capacity may be, or whether property or building materials have gone up or down. And when a person has $5,000 he can, with his experience in saving and investing, very easily in a few years get another $5,000.

One of our great financiers said not very long ago that it was hardest to save the first $1,000.

It seems that the good teacher or professor was discouraged because he could not for $5,000 build the house which he and his wife had planned for so many years. But, according to his own statement, the planning of that house was the mainspring of the saving of that large amount he now has. And, besides, it has given them many happy hours. But any one can build a very fine and comfortable house, with every modern convenience, for $5,000. An unaccountable number of us—and myself for one—would be more than glad if we had that amount with which to build a home.

Both in Chicago and elsewhere have I seen houses, and good looking and comfortable they have been, that have not cost more than the amount the teacher says he has.

But if one has that sum to start with he can easily borrow some more, even $3,000, if he believes he ought to have a home costing so much. Having his own home and the habit of saving, it ought to be comparatively easy to pay a loan on the house.

Certainly it is worth while to save money. The teacher's or professor's own letter is a conclusive and convincing proof of it.

Why Doctors' Doors Should Not be Opened

By CHARLES E. GOSTENHOFER, New York

Prof. Margaret Sherwood's argument for opening the doors of vivisection to a "disinterested and intelligent committee" gives distinctly the attitude of many disinterested and intelligent men and women. Disagreeing absolutely with her and them, I recognize that we differ not merely in regard to vivisection but in our conception of law and order and of the government which will make them. We differ so fundamentally that I fear I can only answer statement with statement.

First, the charges against the vivisectionists are many, but they are not too grave to be disregarded. The medical profession, regarding them as unsubstantiated or discredited, is obviously confident that its good name has not been jeopardized.

Second, the medical profession is the only proper arbiter in questions involving primarily pain and the prevention of pain, the means and end of professional study.

So far I merely contradict Miss Sherwood, and I am sorry, for I would much rather convince her. To do so, however, it would be necessary for me to prove that the profession is composed of men and women extraordinary only in being as a class humane, disinterested and intelligent; that they are the most dependable guardians of its honor and morality.

I should have to show that before we subject its foremost schools to lay investigation and supervision we should bring men, not engineers, to pass upon the design and construction of every bridge to which the security of human lives is committed.

And these things I cannot prove; I find them obvious.

Good Thing to Keep Up Little Diary

By W. F. ALEXANDER, Clarksburg, W. Va.

For many years past I have been in the habit of keeping a diary and have found it of the greatest use in my business.

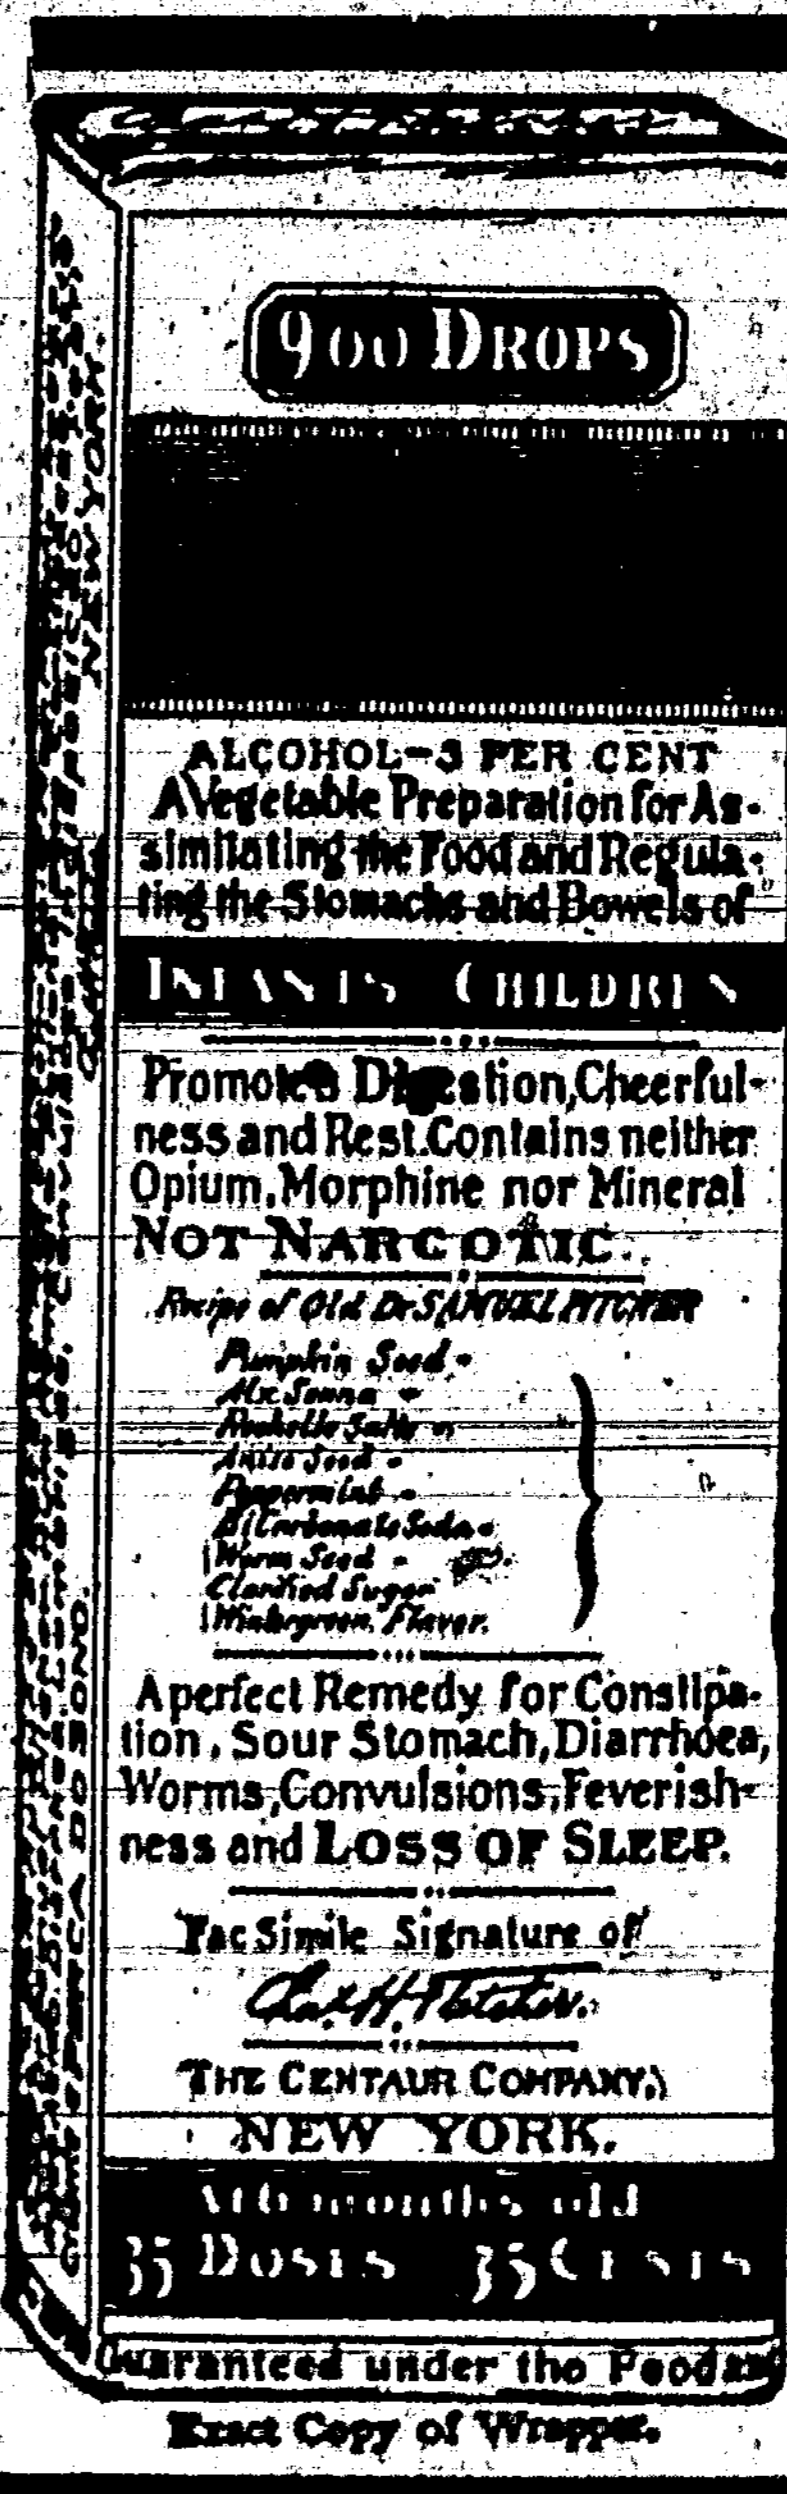

By quick reference to this record I can tell where I was and what I was doing on any particular day during the last ten years. Time and again my diary has saved me money.

Not long ago I was about to bring suit against a man who owed me $500, but who refused payment because he did not believe in the existence of a contract. He was honest in it, but mistaken, as the contract had been negotiated by his business manager.

This manager, for reasons of his own, repudiated the agreement. Before starting on the litigation I called on the principal and asked him to inspect my diary, which contained a complete account of the transaction in dispute.

I showed him that it contained accurate briefs of that and similar agreements for many past years. He looked over many pages of the leaflets, both those anterior and subsequent to the statement in which he was especially interested, and saw that my evidence was too authentic to be overturned.

Then he drew me a check to extinguish the debt, remarking that there was no doubt of the justice of my claim.

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar ailments, incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1600 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing copy or, in check blanked for $1 stamps.

FREED FROM SKIN DISEASE

Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct. 13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until his entire face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin. Other parts of his body were affected, but not to such an extent. We tried about every advertised remedy without avail, indeed some of them only added to his suffering and one in particular, the Remedy, almost put the infant into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to bathe the baby in buttermilk. This did not do any good, so we took him to a hospital. He was treated as an out-patient twice a week and he got worse, if anything. We then called in another doctor and inside of a week the boy was, to all appearances, cured and the doctor said his work was done. But the very next day it broke out as bad as ever. We decided that it could not be cured and must run its course and so we just kept his arms bandaged to his side to prevent his tearing his flesh. We left Toronto and shortly after our arrival in Duluth, the Cuticura Remedies were recommended. We started using them in May, 1909, and soon the cure was complete. You would not think he was the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the skin disease. There has been no return, this time. We still use only Cuticura Soap for baby's bath. Robert Mann, Proctor, Minn., May 3, 1910.

A magazine poet refers to a baby in the house as a wellspring of pleasure. According to his theory triplets would be a deluge.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for today.

HAMUS ON DRY FARM

Native of Syria, and Delights in Hot, Dry Weather.

It is Not Affected by Hot Winds, as Corn and Other Grains, and Matures in Six to Eight Weeks From Planting.

In the summer of 1900 I filed a claim on which I am living today, and since then I have been studying the climate and the soil of this country. writes E. Rizk of Stanley county, South Dakota, in the Orange Judd Farmer. The more I studied the better I felt, because it put me in mind of the place where I was born and raised, on the farm of Jim Janeen El-Bakka, about 35 miles from Damascus, Syria. In that section many good crops are raised without a drop of summer rain. So not long after settling here I sent to the old country and got about three pounds of hamus. This is a pea that we always depended upon for summer crops, and a table vegetable.

By the way, I must tell what hamus is like, and for what and how it is used. This plant is a member of the pea family and used practically the same way for cooking, and it may also be roasted and salted or sugared as peanuts. In addition it is fine feed for horses and hogs, and in fact, for all kinds of live stock. Last spring about planting time I showed the pea to my neighbor and gave him a small package of the seed and asked him to try it on his place. The balance of the seed I planted myself.

The first lot I seeded May 17, 1910. I planted two rows on a well-worked seed bed, placing the seed 18 inches apart in row with the same distance between. The other portion of the seed I planted on new breaking; however, this was also well prepared. This seed was planted the first week of June. Both seedings came up about the same time, as it was cold the latter part of May, and the seed did not germinate until the weather became warm. After spring really opened it did not take long for the plants to come up, probably from five to eight days.

After hamus was planted we had no rain worth mentioning; in fact, we had only a light shower about June 20, which was not even enough to settle the dust, and that was the first and last I received after planting the crop until after harvest. The plants did splendidly and grew as fast as Russian thistles. The stalks grow much like the thistle, about 12 to 15 inches high and about the same in diameter. It blossoms and produces pods which contain one of the peas, ordinarily only one. The seeds are a trifle larger than the common garden pea, and have a cream-colored hull.

It seems strange that natural salt accumulates on the plant while green, and yet it is a fact, and when this is washed out by rain it delays growth. The drier the season and the hotter the weather the better the plant seems to thrive. It is not affected by hot winds, as corn and other grains, and matures from six to eight weeks from planting, depending largely upon the season. I harvested mine white green last Summer for table use on July 5. On August 7 we had a good rain here, and after that the plants came up and made more growth the same as before, but produced little seed.

Regarding the yield per acre of this crop, I might add that I found from 50 to 160 pods on a plant, and every pod contained one and sometimes two seeds. In my estimation hamus will yield as much as 40 bushels per acre.

Horses in Wisconsin. Within the last four years the number of horses in Wisconsin has increased by 73,068 head.

Dairying on High Priced Land. Dairying is one of the most profitable occupations on high priced land for the reason that the land will improve in productivity from year to year and there is a uniform revenue which will meet current expenses and leave a surplus, which is sure to come if the business is conducted with ordinary intelligence.

Small Horse Costs More. Many farmers believe the upkeep of a small horse doing the work of a draft horse is less than that of the heavier one. Experiments have shown that a smaller horse will, in a year, consume as much feed as the heavier one. At the same time the work will tell more heavily upon him.

Watch for Lice. When a spell of bad weather comes, look out for lice. They multiply fast when hens and chicks have to be confined to their coops much of the time. These pests will soon reduce the vitality of the livestock which are hatched so that it will be in good condition to take gases or some other ailment.

PEST OF VOLUNTEER GRAIN

Evil May Be Greatly Minimized by Using Rotation Given Herewith—Corn is Best Crop.

The extent to which volunteer grain grows in dry areas is perplexing to the farmer who has in mind the rotation of crops upon his farm. In western areas where winter wheat only is grown the problem is easy. By the system followed the farmer summer-fallowed one year and the next year grows wheat. While he is summer-fallowing his land he has the chance to destroy much grain that would otherwise give him trouble. But in many areas even in the dry country, some rotation is wanted. How, then, can the farmer keep down the pest of volunteer grain that if present will destroy the purity of his grain and cause it to mix, in some instances to a vexatious extent.

This evil will be greatly minimized by the following rotation: Summer-fallow one year, grain; some cultivated crop, grain. This rotation would only call for the real summer-fallow one year in four. Two years would be devoted to cleaning the land, that is the year that it was fallow and the year that the cultivated crop was grown. Thus there would be three crops taken from the ground in four years. By this system the land ought to be kept free from volunteer grain and also from weeds. The summer-fallow should take away everything that is offensive the year that it was being done, and the cultivated crop would do the same; while it was being grown, that is to say, if the farmer did his duty toward it.

The cultivated crop will include corn, potatoes, beans and field roots and possibly peas. Peas, however, may not pay for such cultivation. That has yet to be proved. Of these crops corn will be away beyond all comparison the most important, as it will be grown over wide areas. It is the easiest of these crops to grow and is also the surest except in the case of potatoes. It is also the most needed, as its fodder is wanted on every farm in the dry area.

If alfalfa can be introduced into the rotation in a somewhat regular way it will still further aid in safeguarding the cleaning of the land. If alfalfa occupied the ground for a term of years, say three or four, the volunteer grain would perish. How long such grain would live in the ground would depend chiefly on the amount of moisture in the soil, but it is about certain that ordinary grain would not retain vitality longer in areas where the moisture is enough to grow annual crops of grain.

Some gain will probably result from disking the ground right away after harvest. Of course should the weather continue dry up to harvest but little of the grain would sprout. But should any considerable amount of rain fall before growth would cease much of the volunteer grain would sprout and it would then be buried with the plow.

Value of Cow Peas. It has been shown that cowpeas mature in about eighty days. This proves that the seed can be sown after an early crop has been removed and a heavy growth will result by the time the farmer is ready to fall plow.

Time to Thin Peaches. The best time to thin peaches is just when the pit is hardening. In the country, this is done June 10 to 15. Further south, of course, the work should begin earlier.

DAIRY NOTES.

Salt regularly twice a week is better than once. Cool the cream as soon as possible after separating. Prepared dips kill lice. A lousy cow is a hard keeper. The best thing for any dairying locality is the organization of cow test associations.

A good milk cow never becomes rolling fat. One of the best indications of a good milk cow is the large and tortuous milk veins.

The animal that pays the best is bound to be in evidence as dairymen become better informed. It is a mistake to suppose that a good cow of inferior breeding is qualified to drop a good calf.

There is no line of general agriculture in which well directed effort will pay so large a profit as in dairy farming. Feed the cattle all you can afford to during the time they are at pasture, as that helps to keep the pastures in good condition.

Successful dairy expansion involves the intelligent systematic grading or building up of a herd, both by selection and breeding. There are few cows which will not stand more quietly during the milking process if they have nothing else to attract their attention. A poor cow may be made to pay her way at least by liberal feeding. It is equally true that a good cow may be made to lose by stingy treatment.

SUFFERED FOURTEEN YEARS.

A Terrible Case of Dropsy and How It Was Cured.

Mrs. W. R. Cody, 603 Tenth St., Lewiston, Idaho, says: "Fourteen years I suffered from kidney trouble. I was so lame and sore I could hardly move. Headaches were frequent and my whole body bloated. I had chills and hot flashes and my ankles were so swollen I could scarcely wear my shoes. The kidney secretions bothered me and my nerves were unstrung. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and soon the swelling diminished. The backache and other troubles quickly disappeared and I was completely cured."

A Heartless Father.

"I need some help with my household duties," announced a woman when her husband came home the other night. "What's the matter with our daughter?" the husband wanted to know. "Our daughter? The idea! Why Jim, you know she's awfully delicate, and she would die if she had to do any household work. She has her school, and—"

And what? Her teacher's report shows that she isn't doing a bit of school work. "But she is the star member of her basketball team, and you know she is eager to take the prize at the gymnasium contest. But that's just like a man—wanting a delicate girl to engage in rough, hard labor. Be ashamed of yourself, Jim Jenkins! You have no feeling!"

WANTED TO SLEEP Curious That a Tired Preacher Should Have Such Desire.

A minister speaks of the curious effect of Grape-Nuts food on him and how it has relieved him. "You will doubtless understand how the suffering from indigestion with which I used to be troubled made my work an almost unendurable burden; and why it was that after my Sabbath duties had been performed, sleep was a stranger to my pillow till nearly daylight."

"I had to be very careful as to what I ate, and even with all my care I experienced poignant physical distress after meals, and my food never satisfied me. "Since I began the use of Grape-Nuts the benefits I have derived from it are very definite, I no longer suffer from indigestion, and I began to improve from the time Grape-Nuts appeared on our table."

"I find that by eating a dish of this food after my Sabbath work is done, (and I always do so now) my nerves are quieted and rest and refreshing sleep are ensured me. "I feel that I could not possibly do without Grape-Nuts food, now that I know its value. It is invariably on our table—we feel that we need it to make the meal complete and our children will eat Grape-Nuts when they cannot be persuaded to touch anything else."

CATCH PHRASE CONTEST

For use in advertising and on its stationery and literature the Bureau of Immigration wants a new "catch phrase" which, in the most striking manner, will impress on the reader at a glance the resources and opportunities of New Mexico. The old catch phrases such as "Ho! to the Land of Sunshine", "Heart of the Well Country", "The Land of Opportunity", etc., are examples of what is wanted. These were first originated and used by New Mexico but are now being extensively copied by other states and communities in their advertising matter. The New Mexico Bureau wants a catch phrase as good and as striking as these old ones but also original and new.

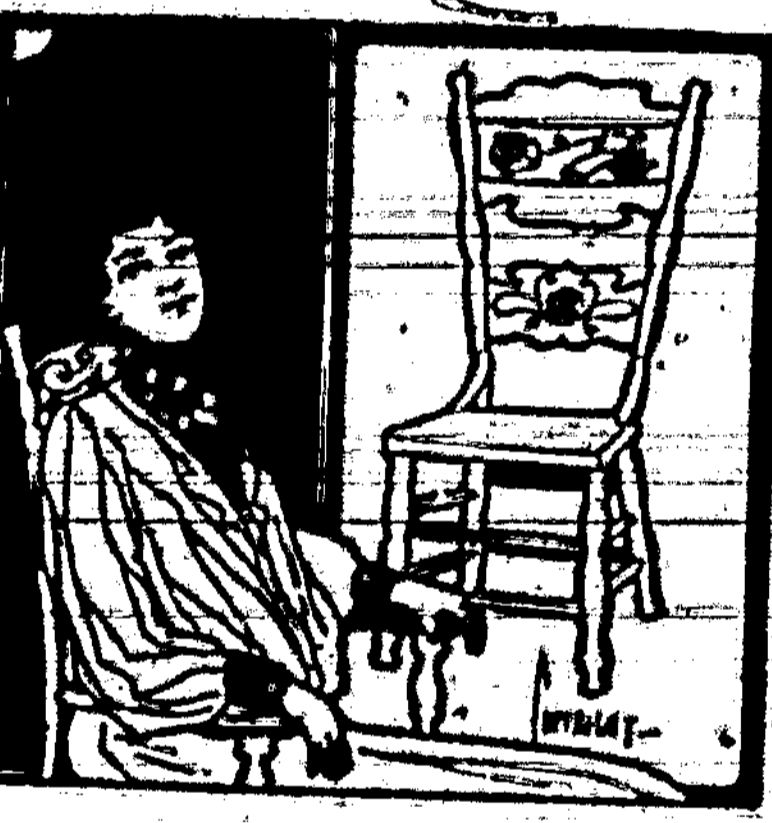

The Bureau therefore has offered a prize of $5 for the best "catch phrase" submitted and a second prize of $2.50 for the second best phrase.

The conditions of the contest are:
First—The contestants must be residents of New Mexico.

Second—No phrase will be considered which contains more than eight words. The shorter the better.

The contest will close August 1st, 1911. All entries must be addressed: Catch Phrase Contest, Bureau of Immigration, Albuquerque, N. M.

The contest will be decided by a committee composed of the President of the Bureau of Immigration and two disinterested New Mexico newspaper men who will not be permitted to compete. Every phrase should have the author's name and post office address written plainly on the same sheet with the phrase.
