COMMERCIAL CLUB MET

Enthusiastic Meeting Tuesday Evening of Local Commercial Body

CONSIDER MANY MATTERS

The Carrizozo Commercial Club held a special meeting on Tuesday night to consider several important matters confronting the town of Carrizozo. There were seventy one representative citizens present who considered matters of general interest to all.

The matter of the high school in Carrizozo was perhaps the most important question considered. The result of the discussion showed that Carrizozo had been maintaining a high school for the past several years and before the new High School Law of 1912 was passed. In consequence it was found that all that was necessary to do was for the Board of Directors of the District to levy the tax allowed for High School purposes. The Club went on record as urging the local directors to levy such a tax at once.

The Committee on Village Incorporation was not ready to report and were allowed more time to complete their work.

The committee on the local street lights and fire engine reported that matters have been adjusted for the best interests of the town.

The Experimental Farm Committee thru Chas. A. Stevens, one of the members, reported that the Farm well was down to a depth of 150 feet; that water had been encountered at 89 feet but not of sufficient quantity for irrigation purposes. The Committee after discussion was authorized to drill to a depth of 250 feet for water and further instructed to incorporate the project at once.

F. W. Jones was appointed by the Chair to take the vacant place on the Farm Committee which is now composed of Messrs. Gurney, Stevens and Jones.

The matter of securing water for the new Court house from the railroad for plumbing purposes was taken up and the Chair appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Paden, Haley and Campbell to confer with the Board of County Commissioners on the matter and urge the installation of the water system.

A committee of three was appointed by the Chair to confer with Judge Medler as to the quarters for the March term of Court. The committee is A. T. Roberts, L. B. Chase and Harry Humphrey.

A committee composed of W. W. Stadtman, S. L. Northlage and A. F. Roselle was appointed to devise ways and means whereby the local band might secure funds to hire an instructor and stimulate the progress in the band work.

The matter of the road between Carrizozo and the Otero County line was taken up, and an outlet for the Borderland route was urged. The Chair appointed Messrs. Stevens and Allen Johnson to confer with the County Road Commission on the matter.

POLLY PARAGRAPHS

Lester Bates and family are now living on their claim, in the new house recently built.

Many of the Polly people were visitors at the county seat Saturday.

The little flurry of snow Sunday night soon vanished under the warm rays of the sun next day.

Our enthusiastic trappers of fur animals have been having good success this winter, catching coyotes, wild cats, (and dogs) foxes, badgers and other small animals.

We have greatly appreciated the weather king's leniency the past few weeks. Were it a little later we might think gentle spring had really arrived.

H. V. Plant, of Carthage, Mo., has been making his relatives and friends here and in Carrizozo a very welcome visit the past week or two, while at the same time looking after the interests of his ranch here.

It is hoped that Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Rawdon of Joplin, Missouri, who have been visiting with friends and looking over the country, will be so favorably impressed (after being shown) as to make this their home.

TO INVESTIGATE RATE

The state corporation commission last Thursday filed with the interstate commerce commission at Washington a complaint against 50,000 railroad rates in effect on interstate business in New Mexico. The complaint, which is directed against the Santa Fe and some seventy other railroads, attacks practically every class and commodity rate in effect in this state. In effect the complaint, which is a voluminous document, demands for New Mexico points a rate from western common points not greater than the present rate to El Paso and east bound rate from California not greater than that now charged to Colorado common points. It is requested that a hearing be held before the whole interstate commerce commission at Washington.

NOGAL NOTES

Mrs. Robinson and party were recent visitors and may decide to locate here.

A beautiful snow fell here Sunday. Uncle Henry Emerson is improving slowly from his recent injuries. School in district 11 will begin April for a short term.

Jack Greer is making some needed improvements to the school here. Work at the Vera Cruz mine is progressing nicely.

Col. J. C. Bender was confined to his bed for a week with rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Keller of Willard were in Carrizozo Monday and Tuesday.

The amateur play is to be called "After All" and will be given early in March.

Theo. Espe, special agent of the Department of Interior, was in the city yesterday.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

Judge Abbott Formally Dissolves County Seat Injunction at Santa Fe

MANDATES FILED; RECORDED

The actual proceedings of the courts in the litigation over the County seat matter is now a matter of history and a thing of the past. The State supreme Court this week received the Mandates from the United States Supreme Court containing the decision in the case and issued Judgment re-affirming their former judgment. Judge John Y. Howitt for the Board of County Commissioners was present to file the papers necessary and then proceeded to the District Court and Judge Abbott issued an order formally dissolving the Injunction which had been in force for some time. This was the last piece of red tape in the process of clearing up the situation for the completion of buildings.

Now as soon as the appraisers have finished their work ascertaining the damages done to the County buildings, and the county has adjusted their contract with the contractor, owing to the delay, the buildings will proceed.

The County Board meets on March 3rd to consider the matters named and the work on the buildings will undoubtedly be resumed early in March.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

Contracts are being made for teachers in the Richardson district.

Mumps and grippe have kept many of the Corona pupils at home.

The vacancy in the primary room at White Oaks is being filled by Miss Bulah Brazil.

Justice of Peace, Ed. Massie, is collecting the poll tax in the Carrizozo District.

Miss Grace L. Nicholas of White Oaks accepted a position at the Idaho State Blind Asylum to teach music. Lincoln County schools lost an excellent teacher on her departure.

County School Superintendent Mrs. Gumm returned from a trip to Ancho and Corona, reporting good work in all districts. This week she leaves to visit the schools in the Bonito Valley.

The New Hope neighborhood hope to have a summer term next time. This term, the first in three years, is much appreciated by the patrons as the teacher, Miss Tickner.

The directors at Tinnis are already planning to repair the school building before another term.

The pupils at Holloway School in the Gallinas Mts. are very enthusiastic; some of them walking four miles in the snow to attend school. Miss Phillips says the present five month's term will soon close, much to the regret to herself and the pupils.

John Kahler and other relatives of Mrs. Wm. Kahler arrived this week. Mrs. Kahler has been dangerously ill the past week.

WHITE OAKS WHIFFS

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Taylor were Sun day visitors from Carrizozo.

Dr. Lucas of Carrizozo made a business trip to White Oaks Saturday.

John Lee a machine man at the North Homestake seriously injured his hand this week.

The force of miners at this place was augmented this week by the addition of several miners.

The timber gang has been busily engaged this week replacing damaged timber in the North Homestake.

A meeting of the miners was held Saturday night to consider the feasibility of employing a Contract Doctor. Action was deferred until a later date.

A farewell party was given at the home of Mrs. J. H. Leighnor last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Leah Nicholas who left the following day for Gooding, Idaho, where she has accepted a position as an instructor in the State School for the blind of that place.

JICARILLA NOTES

Joe Ross recently returned to the Jicarillas and is now working on his properties.

Wm. A. Franklin has started work on his "Sally Dear" group of Claims and is a very happy man as the ore coming up from the shaft is mostly high grade and the ore bodies are increasing in size as greater depths are reached.

ENTERTAIN AT WHIST

Mrs. John Eric Bell and Mrs. Wm. Rely entertained with a delightful Bridge Whist party at the home of Mrs. Bell complimentary to Mrs. Ira O. Wetmore of Deming, N. M., on Wednesday afternoon of this week. No prizes were awarded, but the following rule was laid before proceeding the game.

The customs always heretofore Giving a prize to the highest score. We do not care to criticize, But we're opposed to any prize. 'Tis not the amount the prizes cost. Nor do we fear our souls be lost, If we should offer some small token To the one who has the record broken.

In lieu of this old custom, we suggest, the winner who ere it is be

Shall have the right to command, Each one of this jolly band; To do a "stunt" as they see fit. Excuses of course accepted. "nit" Unless it be the lowest score.

And she shall do hers o'er and o'er. Much amusement was caused thereby. Mrs. H. B. Hamilton held the highest score, Mrs. John Haley the lowest. CARRIZO NEW MEXICO

Reports from the millenium indicate that it has been delayed again.

Hydrocyanic acid is sure death to rats, mice, insects—and children.

The English language is employed by 150,000,000 people. A few do not murder it.

Burglar breaks into a house and steals only a cornet. He deserves a Carnegie medal.

Now the question is, what will a fourteen-inch gun do if it doesn't explode before it does it?

A Pennsylvania judge fined his wife $60 and costs because she sold inferior catsup. Probably he had to eat it himself.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen is coming over to this country to ask a loan of $200,000,000. Have you that much to spare just now?

A newspaper announces that New York chefs receive more than governors; but not half as much as head waiters and holdup men.

A New York stenographer gave up typewriting to marry a baron. After the honeymoon wanes, she'll probably resume it to support him.

One of Robert Burns' razors was sold in London the other day for $100. This, however, will make no difference if the buyer's wife happens to need it to rip a dress.

The dentist who says that he can tell from their teeth when fashionable women are in the habit of smoking cigarettes will probably not get a second peck at those teeth.

A titled English woman has opened a school to teach wives how to spend money. In spite of the suffragettes, England is still apparently in a deplorably backward state.

In Springfield, O., they locked a bevy of society girls in a padded cell during an initiation into a secret society, and released them in a hysterical condition. Cheerful tactics.

A Harvard professor says that angle worms can think. If they can, they must think that all men are liars, basing their deductions on the fishermen they associate with.

A Chicago man was arrested because he took a mule into two cafes and tried to buy it a drink. Had he done the same in Newport, he'd have been made a society leader.

King Alfonso is studying aviation under an English instructor. Probably for the peace of mind of his cabinet, his advisors will insist that he make it a purely theoretical course.

A Macon judge rules that a man has a right to take a few snifters before getting married. He realizes that it takes courage, of course, but is a brace of that sort absolutely necessary?

The authorities of a western university say that farm boys are the physical inferiors of city boys. Here is another dear delusion shattered and a setback to the cry of "Back to the farm!"

A gay old Lothario of eighty addressed his dear one as "my lawn." Now he's paying $5,614.80 for breach of promise. Probably, too, he sings the old song beginning, "I never loved a dear gazelle."

Baltimore has tried the experiment of employing blind telephone girls, and finds that it is very effective. So long as they are not deaf, none need complain.

Says a critic, men do not think enough. Of course, he refers to married men. The bachelor has to do an awful lot of quick thinking to remain single.

A Red Wing man walked six miles in his sleep and finished his nap in the woods with the mercury below zero. Lucky some of the Minnesota hunters didn't take him for a deer.

The boxers saved a referee from rough handling at the hands of frenzied fans at Birmingham, England. The English fight fan must be first cousin to the American baseball rooter.

A Chicago woman footpad held up a man, cleaned him, and then returned a quarter for car fare. Just about the amount a woman gives her husband when she's through with him. Could she have been married?

LISTENING TO "HIS MASTER'S VOICE"

Among the numerous adjuncts of civilization introduced to the Philippines by the Americans is the talking machine, which the natives look upon as a supernatural affair that is beyond their understanding. "Where does the voice come from?" is their unvarying question, and some of them declare its owner must be buried in the ground beneath the box. Our photograph pictures a sub-chief of one of the most savage tribes listening to a comic song.

GIRL AS A CONSCRIPT

Barrack Training Is Advocated in Germany.

Adoption of Female Conscription School Urged as Remedy for Decay of the Empire—Will Meet a Social Need in Empire.

Berlin, Germany.—Conscription for women—or rather for girls—is the latest of the great reforms which Germany promises the world.

A heated debate has been raging on the subject. Scores of distinguished Germans like Field-Marshal Von der Golts, ex-Minister of Education Von Moeller, Prof. O. Witzel, the woman novelist, Dr. Martha Gauthe, all favor the project, while it is opposed by a great many others, including the whole social democratic party.

The problem is well within the range of practical politics, and were it not for the unceasing financial need of Germany it would probably be carried out within a few years.

What form—exactly conscription for women will take is still under dispute. A few zealous—mostly suffragettes—seriously propose that women be trained to fight in war. A much larger class—among them Von der Golts—want women organized into companies and battalions, and drilled and disciplined on military principles, but confined, as far as duties go, to army tailoring, army cooking and sick nursing.

The women's army would be an adjunct to the men army, and all the males of the nation would be free to fight their country's battles.

Neither of these schemes is likely to win. The proposal most seriously backed is that women shall be drilled and disciplined on military lines for the sake of physique and character formation, but that they shall learn nothing except purely domestic duties.

Just as men are trained to serve in time of war, women would be trained to serve in time of peace, trained to make better wives, better mothers, better housekeepers, citizens and social workers. They would be taken at the age of eighteen or twenty, drafted into barracks, and for a year or perhaps two taught by the state on scientific lines all the functions of womanhood.

Women's conscription would thus meet a social need. The need is proven by the decline in the birth rate, which has fallen in thirty-five years from 42 per 1,000 to only 20.

"That," says Von der Golts, "is proof of the decay of Germany."

The female conscription school argue that in Germany the state always thinks its function is to fight national evils; therefore, the state must not shrink from attacking the evil of "the demoralizing of womanhood."

If the natural woman is dying out, the state must replace her with the state made woman. The woman conscript is the ideal of modern Germany.

So far the most detailed scheme of female conscription has been worked out by Dr. Kurt Lomann, an ex-official and privy councillor. Lomann is a competent authority on organization. He stands strongly for the barracks system.

Every girl of eighteen, if not an actual invalid, is to enter the barracks for a year. Good character should be the only qualification, because the idea should be circulated that training by the state is an honor, not a punishment.

The barracks would cost $22,000,000. This would house the $50,000 girls who would reach conscript age every year. Probably 250 barracks, each housing 1,000, would be the best distribution. Conscription barracks would be under the charge of matrons; no men would be employed. Also there would be no servants. All work, including gardening and the disposal of rubbish, as well as the secretarial and accountancy work, would be performed by the girls themselves.

SECRET OF HEALTH

Hale Scotchman Tells How to Pass Century Mark.

Leslie Fraser Duncan, Age Ninety-two, a Resident of London, Declares People Eat Too Much—He Lives on Two Meals a Day.

London.—The secret of health and long life is two meals a day. That has always been my rule, and—as if to clinch the matter—"I'm the tallest Scotchman in London—six feet six inches in my socks!"

"Leslie Fraser Duncan, ninety-two, with flowing white beard and a face glowing with health, thus gave the secret of his vigor.

"I began it as a boy," he said. "From when I was five years old, at my birthplace near Elgin, I used to walk six miles to school and six miles back, every day for twelve years—just 490,000 miles in all—and that was on two meals a day. At eight in the morning I breakfasted on porridge, milk and barley scones. Then I had nothing till about eight in the evening, when I had more porridge or brose. On that fare I grew to be six feet tall at sixteen, strong and hearty, and now I am six feet six inches.

"In 1845 I came to London, and all through a busy career of fifty years I worked twelve and fifteen hours a day. Now I get up at noon, and my invariable diet, on which I hope to pass the century, for I am well and happy, is:

"One o'clock—Breakfast, three boiled eggs, tea, and three slices of thin bread and butter.

"Two o'clock—Glass of milk.

"Four o'clock—Glass of milk.

"Five o'clock—Tea, one boiled egg, tea and thin bread and butter.

"Eight o'clock—Dinner, one boiled egg and thin bread and butter.

"I have not touched meat for seven years, and I did not eat it until I was twenty. I never smoked, except for a year when I was a young man in Edinburgh, and I have rarely touched alcohol. For years my drinking has been confined to four glasses of champagne a year—one on my birthday, one on my wife's birthday, one on Christmas day, and one on New Year's day.

"It is true that my business career was confined to the days before modern rush, and I have never used a telephone; but it is over-eating, not rush, that ages men. They tell me that they feel old at fifty—and then I find they eat five meals a day!"

PALACES ON PERU PLATEAU

Explorer Tells of Buried Inca City Uncovered in Jungle—Had Tribes with Officials.

New York.—Professor Hiram Bingham, head of the Yale Peruvian expedition, which has been conducting archaeological exploration work in the interior of Peru, reached New York with other members of the party from Cuzco.

Professor Bingham said the exploration was conducted chiefly at Machu Picchu, the buried Inca city, discovered on the previous expedition, which stands on a plateau surrounded by precipitous two thousand feet in height. The jungle was cleared away and more than one hundred burial caves were discovered. Ruins of bathhouses and palaces also were laid bare, and practically the entire city uncovered. Professor Bingham added that the jungle will soon cover these again, unless steps are taken by the Peruvian government to keep them open.

"On this trip," said Professor Bingham,

"we had a good deal of trouble with the Peruvian government. On the two expeditions I had previously made into Peru I had no trouble at all, but the ministry had changed and those in power at present were not at all friendly to American exploration."

JOLT SETS A BROKEN NECK

Vertebrae Dislocated From Man Is Jarr'd Back Into Place by Amputation.

San Francisco, Cal.—An accident had man on the steamer Sinaloa, scaling his neck by hanging himself and then the jolting of an ambulance put them back in place again. The man leaped from a yard-arm with a rope around his neck. He was cut down and a surgeon discovered the dislocation. When he reached the hospital the bones were in place.

Dr. Alfred Roussier said the case was one of the most remarkable in medical annals. There was no doubt, he said, that the jolting ambulance had set the bones again.

PATRICK MEETS HIS CHILD

Greats Daughter, Now 16, from Whom He Was Paroled by Prison Sentence.

St. Louis.—For the first time since she was a child 4 years old, Miss Lillian Patrick and her father, Albert T. Patrick, recently pardoned by Gov. Dix of New York, met here.

The young woman, now 16 years old, arrived from Denver, Colo., with Patrick's mother, Mrs. Edward T. Patrick. They are at the home of John T. Milliken, Patrick's brother-in-law.

Patrick's plans for the near future are still unformed, he said. It is probable that within a week he will either return to New York or be joined here by his wife, he believes.

Millionaire's Son Is a Laborer. St. Louis.—In an effort to learn the business "from the ground up," Alden B. Swift, son of the millionaire Chicago meat packer, donned overalls and is working as a laborer in a packing plant.

DREADED TO EAT.

A Quaker Couple's Experience.

How many persons dread to eat their meals, although actually hungry nearly all the time!

Nature never intended this should be so, for we are given a thing called appetite that should guide us as to what the system needs at any time and can digest.

But we get in a hurry, swallow our food very much as we shovel coal into the furnace, and our sense of appetite becomes unnatural and perverted. Then we eat the wrong kind of food or eat too much, and there you are—indigestion and its accompanying miseries.

A Philadelphia lady said:

"My husband and I have been sick and nervous for 15 or 20 years from drinking coffee—feverish, indigestion, totally unfit, a good part of the time, for work or pleasure. We actually dreaded to eat our meals. (Tea is just as injurious, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

"We tried doctors and patent medicines that counted up into hundreds of dollars, with little if any benefit.

"Accidentally, a small package of Postum came into my hands. I made some according to directions, with surprising results. We both liked it and have not used any coffee since.

"The dull feeling after meals has left us and we feel better every way. We are so well satisfied with Postum that we recommend it to our friends who have been made sick and nervous and miserable by coffee." Name given upon request. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkg.

Postum now comes in concentrated, powder form, called Instant Postum. It is prepared by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, adding sugar to taste, and enough cream to bring the color to golden brown.

Instant Postum is convenient; there's no waste; and the flavor is always uniform. Sold by grocers—66-cup tin 50 cts., 106-cup tin 84 cts.

LAW and ORDER in the PHILIPPINES

PHILIPPINE CONSTABULARY

PHILIPPINE SCHOOL BOYS' BASEBALL TEAM

After years' residence in the Philippines in the civil service and as an officer in the Philippine constabulary, excellently qualified Capt. William E. Moore of that service to speak with authority as to administrative conditions on those islands.

Captain Moore is the son of Levi W. Moore of Milford, Mass., manager of the Grafton & Upton railroad. He graduated from Milford schools and learned practical railroad work under his father's instruction. His attention was drawn to the Philippines, and he entered service in Manila in the department having to do with transportation problems. He arrived in that city in October, 1903, but such was his efficiency that he was induced to accept appointment in the Philippine constabulary, beginning January 1, 1905.

His varied duties and service may be inferred from his work having been in the island of Mindaro in 1905, in Cebu in 1906-7, in Samar in 1908, in the mountain province of Ifugao in 1909, at headquarters in Manila until August, 1910, then at San Fernando, La Union, Northern Luzon until July, 1911, and then again to headquarters in Manila last summer, when he was given a six months' furlough. Much of what he says as to the routine of the officers and the constabulary is a synopsis of his own experience.

He will return to duty this month. Less than thirty years old, his position well illustrates the avenues of advancement for young men of energy disposed to steadiness and industry and ambition. In his judgment the operation of the Panama canal will lend much impetus to the interest felt in the Atlantic coast commercial centers in our far Eastern possessions.

"I have no doubt," said Captain Moore, "that newspaper readers are fully familiar with general conditions, political and military, in the islands, their location and physical characteristics."

"For instance, it may be remembered that the imports of these islands in the past fiscal year were $54,500,000 and the exports were $50,300,000; that these represented more than 12 per cent. increase in each over the preceding year; that 40 per cent. of the imports are from the United States, while four years before the percentage was but 20 per cent. The increase in copra, hemp, sugar and tobacco exports is remarkable and is increasing."

"There is an increasing proportion of the native residents becoming self-supporting and thrifty, more rice and cane lands are under cultivation, more attention paid by the natives to better home comforts and less to petty quarrels and idleness."

"Remarkable application is made in acquiring knowledge of the speech, manners and customs of the Americans. Gradually the sensitive suspicions of the various tribes are allayed by the strict justice meted to all, and the readiness of the American civil or military official to aid and trust the native in many spheres of activity."

"At present the Filipino is not ready for self-government, not having the long experience in self-discipline in obedience to legal authority obtaining in this and other highly civilized countries."

"Without expressing any individual opinion as to the probable effect in the island of the great political change of the recent United States election, an editorial from the Manila Times of recent date may help to allay unnecessary apprehension of radical trouble.

"It says: 'In all ordinary circumstances the prospect of a change of administration at Washington would be expected to influence, if it did not adversely affect, business conditions. But nothing of the kind has happened. Manila buys and builds and rents and sells in full confidence that no result of the American election can adversely affect its future. . . . No result at Washington can break the era of stability and order in the Philippines.'

"But it is of the constabulary and its work that I am most desirous to talk, for it is a subject with which I am most familiar. It is an organization of which but little is known outside of the islands, for a tacit rule of the command is 'silence and circumspection.' The chief or director is Brig. Gen. Harry H. Bandholtz of the United States army and four of the ten assistant directors are regular army colonels.

"The constabulary is in no way a part of the regular army. The executive head is the governor general of the Philippines and the immediate chief is the secretary of the insular department of commerce and police to whom the director reports.

"The constabulary is a semi-military body for police service. Last July it included 333 commissioned officers from brigadier general to second lieutenant, and 4,489 enlisted men, divided among Manila headquarters, five district headquarters, an information department, medical division, a constabulary band and officers' school.

"There are 46 companies, each having three officers and 45 men. Except 50 Filipinos, now commissioned, all the officers are Americans. Several of the latter came to Manila with the volunteers in the 1893 campaign, some are of the regular army and still others come from civil life, transferred from the classified civil service. Some of the officers have had service or training at West Point, or Annapolis. Of late appointments have been confined to pupils of leading military schools of the States.

"The enlisted men are entirely Filipino. Seven companies are from the Moros (Mahometans of Mindanao), three are of Bontoc (Igorrotes), two are of Ifugao, or wild men of Northern Luzon, and the rest are of Christian origin."

BRAZIL IS LAND OF COFFEE

More Than Half of All That is Consumed in the World is Grown There.

The custom of coffee drinking is relatively of rather recent development among peoples of Europe and their descendants in America, says H. W. Van Dyke, in "Through South America." For some reason, for a long time after it made its way west from Arabia and Turkey, it was under the ban of the church. Maybe this was because of its Mohammedan origin.

It was not until 1662 that the first house that made a specialty of serving coffee was opened in London, and about the same time it was introduced in France. From then on it has spread until the amount now consumed the world over is simply enormous, especially in the United States, Man Filipinos from different parts of the islands.

"The constabulary do all sorts of public service, from entertaining men from the States to establishing quarantines, fighting disease, relieving the poor, settling village disputes, giving official countenance to village functions, creating penal and medical stations, etc.

"The constabulary is well trained. Besides his drill in soldierly duties he is taught outlines of the penal code of the islands, the municipal code, patrol and secret service work, different ways of getting information from natives, clear observation and equally clear reports thereon, the settlement of village disputes.

"The annual duty of a member of the constabulary staff forces him to learn many things not in any book of tactics. He may be one week a deep-sea navigator and then jump to mountain service. When on duty in coast towns in the lowlands he is used to travel on all sorts of native craft or modern motor boats; must know something of tides and shore currents; must know all small coves or harbors of refuge; must know how to avoid upset in surf by backing to shore in his rowboat and prevent a smashed craft.

"The officers receive extra compensation for qualifying in a native dialect and this is a very important factor in his efficiency, for to be able to greet some old native in his native tongue adds much to the respect in which he is held by the natives.

"In such cases the native knows the officer better, trusts him quicker and sooner gives that confidence that is so greatly an element of peaceful control of the islands. The officer thus learns things and men he never could through an interpreter, and the native as quickly learns the former is his friend and protector so long as he is law-abiding and honest. He learns also to fear him if an evildoer.

"Hospitality is sacred among the Filipinos. An officer of the constabulary or an American who has occasion to travel anywhere may safely seek shelter and food at any Filipino home, whether at the home of the wealthy or humbler native, at the home of the country tao or an Ifugao chief. He will be given a place to sleep and as good food as your host has. In the home of the wealthy you literally command the owner and his servants if his guest.

"The poor man will literally kill his last chicken unless you stop him first for your meal, and when an Ifugao chief sees you coming down a trail to his hut he will run to meet you with a bottle of 'hubud,' a native drink. What matter if it is covered with years of dust or half a dozen flies be floating on the top? It is the best he has, if you hesitate he will hurriedly drink first to assure you it is not poisoned.

"The Philippines are by no means a wild frontier hung across the Oriental edge of the Pacific ocean.

"There is, to be sure, a mixture of high and crude civilization, of varied variety fully as much as do the islands in topography, yet the firm, just rule of the American is accepted with an alacrity and confidence by the natives and resident foreigners alike that promises much for the splendid future of the islands and their people."

where we take somewhere near half of all that is grown.

At first it came only from northern Africa, Arabia and Turkey; then the Dutch began experimenting and succeeded in cultivating it in Java, and the French in the West Indies. For a while these were the principal sources of supply.

The story goes that in 1760 a Portuguese, Joao Alberto Castello Branco, planted a tree in Rio, and from that small start, thanks to its peculiarly favorable soil and climate, Brazil soon outstripped the others and took the lead.

On the uplands of Sao Paulo more than half of all the coffee consumed in the world is grown. There are between 15,000 and 20,000 fazendas, or plantations, employing hundreds of thousands of laborers. Some of the plantations are so vast that they grow millions of trees. Here it is that most of the immigrants flock.

BROOM CORN

Growers Shipping Broom Corn

As the growers of broom corn are greatly dissatisfied with the price offered at home for their broom corn, many of them are now shipping direct to Coyne Brothers, Chicago, who are large handlers of broom corn on commission. This firm reports their receipts so far this season about 33 cars, most of which have been sold and returned for. Their financial responsibility exceeds ($100,000) one hundred thousand dollars. They are a safe and reliable firm. They offer as reference Farmers State Bank, Texhoma, Okla. and Central Exchange Bank, Woodward, Okla. Other reference furnished on application. Coyne Bros., 160 W. Suffer From Plague of Rats.

A "bleed pipe of Hamelin" is needed at Santa Paula, Cal. Thousands of rats, and all big wood rats, have invaded the place, and the situation is such that women are afraid to go to church. The rats seem to have a preference for churches and on several occasions have forced the feminine attendance at services to take to the high benches. The city authorities are seeking means to abate the pest. The rats are believed to have been driven out of the woods by recent fires in the forests.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.

These Two Women Prove Our Claim.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine." —Mrs. HAYWARD SORENS, Cary, Me.

Charlotte, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. If I even lifted a chair it would cause a hemorrhage. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health and am the mother of a nice baby girl. You can use this letter to help other suffering women." —Mrs. ROSA SMITH, 16 Wyona St., Charlotte, N. C.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MURPHY-ABLE NUPTIALS

The wedding bells rang out with all their cheerfulness at Fort Stanton last Monday evening when Miss Nora Beatrice Murphy became the wife of Mr. John Able in the pretty Chapel of the Sacred Heart, Chaplain Father Frund officiating, assisted by Rev. Father Migeon of Tularosa and Father Girma of Lincoln. Long before the hour set for the arrival of the bridal party the chapel which had been most tastefully decorated for the occasion was packed to the doors with relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Promptly at 7:30 p. m., the wedding march being played by Mrs. Lovett, the bridal party entered the chapel.

The bride's gown was of a handsome white satin, trimmed in pearl passementerie. A long white tulle veil caught becomingly over face with a wreath of orange blossoms, fell in graceful folds to bottom of train. Miss Ella Peterson of El Paso was bridesmaid, her gown being a lavender charmerise, veiled in white lace and chiffon. The groom and best man, Mr. Benjamin Coe of Alto, wore buttoniers of orange blossoms presented by the bride. Arriving at the beautiful throne in the left of the sanctuary they remained standing while "Oh Promise Me" was splendidly sung by Mr. Keough of No. 4. Mr. Keough possesses a sweet voice which added much to the rendition. Following the solo a trio "O Lord I am not Worthy" was rendered by Mrs. F. C. Smith, Miss Margaret La Breche and Mr. Keough. Following this the marriage ceremony took place, Father Frund reading the solemn ritual of the Catholic Church assisted by Father Migeon. Both bride and groom answered the Chaplain in a clear and distinct tone which was heard in every part of the chapel.

Following the marriage ceremony, Father Frund extended greeting to both the bridal party and the large assembly present, explaining at the same time the serious obligation assumed on the wedding day, and the necessity of the sacrament of matrimony. Father Frund closed his choice remarks by giving the final blessing of the church to the new man and wife.

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament followed with Father Migeon as celebrant, assisted by Father Frund and Father Girma.

"Holy God we Praise Thy Name" was sung by the entire congregation and was most devotional.

Immediately after the wedding march from the sanctuary out of the chapel, a reception took place in Library Hall, same being given by Dr. and Mrs. Smith, assisted by all the members of the square, notably Mr. and Mrs. Krumer, Mr. and Mrs. Southard, Mr. and Mrs. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Mattingly, Messrs. Erwin, Dr. Pierce, Dr. Brown, Dr. McDaniels, Dr. Lanza, Gentry, Duffy, Babbs, Mullins, O'Bannon, Frelander, Cater, Bennett, Rudolph. The "Hightower Orchestra" furnished its usual select music for the reception and dance. At 10:30 refreshments consisting of choice sandwiches, coffee, cake, and ice cream were served. Dancing continued until twelve sharp when all gave their farewell greetings to the bridal party and retired after spending the best evening ever had in Fort Stanton. Mr. and Mrs. Able left early Tuesday morning for El Paso and later to the home of the groom's parents in southern Texas. The following are those who were in attendance, and should there be any names omitted the correspondent begs to say that same is owing to the rush:

Commanding Officer Dr. Smith, wife, daughter Miss Dorothy and Mrs. Baggs, Miss Rice of Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Southard, Mr. and Mrs. Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Mattingly, Mr. Erwin and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman of Angus, Dr. Pierce, Dr. Lanza, Dr. Brown, Dr. McDaniels of Number 4, also Messrs. McElhone, Babbs, Gentry, Duffy O'Bannon, Scott, Mullins, Rudolph, Keough, Bennett, Frelander and Cater of No. 4, Mr. and Mrs. Brockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Renfrow of Capitan, Mrs. Avert, Alto; Miss Gilmore, Miss Walls, Mr. Clark, Mr. Perry of Glencoe, Miss Moore of Capitan, Miss La Breche, Miss Peterson, Ben Coe of Alto, Mr. Oliver, Fred Brockway, Mr. Hall, Perry and Grover Hightower, William Brockway, Mr. Luttrell, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Howard of Angus, Miss Olie Alberi of Capitan, A. McWilliams, C. and H. Peebles, Arthur Burrell of Alto, George Chamberlain, Wm. Lindsey, Chas. Nelson, Mr. McDonald, Ed Carr, N. A. Broadway, J. J. Brown, Thomas Brunstad, Capt. John Adams, Mr. Lorenz, and many others whose names we failed to reach in time. The wedding reception and ball is acknowledged as to have been the most beautiful and pleasant ever held in this part of the state—Chaplain Frund and Fathers Migeon and Girma.

CORONA CLIPPINGS

One new pupil enrolled in school this week.

Traveling auditor O. A. Lawrence of the El Paso & South Western was in town this week on official business for the road.

Melvin Franks our County Commissioner was in town Monday shaking hands with the boys and hand shake seems even more cordial than it was before the election.

Owing to illness Brother Hayward was not able to fill his appointment here last Sunday but will be here on the third Sunday if his health will permit.

Our kind and highly appreciated agent J. A. Krannawitter has returned from a few days vacation and relieved Mr. L. O. Spencer who has been filling his place. Mr. Spencer will return to Tucumcari.

Our jolly merchant M. C. Porter will no longer trudge around in the mud as he recently took unto himself an automobile; maybe he will ask ye scribe to ride some pleasant day.

We have made up our minds that Corona needs a high school about as much as any place so the only thing to do is to all get together and pull for a good high school.

Mrs. Wallace L. Gumm our pleasant County Superintendent of Schools was in town the past week inspecting the school of Corona, Colbaugh and Gallinas. We would be glad to have her come oftener as she has many friends in this town.

Our Sunday school seems to be growing right along and we hope to have a large attendance as soon as the cold weather is over let everybody come and help to make this the leading S. S. in the county.

On Friday night the young folks took their music and gave serenade going from house to house and played some good music which was enjoyed very much and on Saturday night they gave Dr. and Mrs. Richards a surprise party. There is one thing that can be truthfully said about our young folks they know how to help others to enjoy themselves.

PARSONS PICKINGS

Mrs. Charles Wingfield is visiting her daughter Mrs. James Robinson.

Mr. Thomas Bragg made a trip to Carrizozo the first of the week.

W. L. Weber who has been here all winter left Thursday for Dawson, N. M.

Don't forget the Valentine party to be given at the School house on the afternoon of February the 15th. Luncheon served for twenty five cents.

Mrs. L. N. Wingfield and small daughter are visiting Mrs. Wingfield parents Mr. and Mrs. Ben Robinson this week.

There was another fall of snow Sunday night following a blustery day. Cold weather still continued through the week.

Miss Helen Rice went down to Fort Stanton to attend the wedding of Miss Nora Coleman and to assist in the reception given the bride and groom by Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Smith.

School opened Monday morning with Miss Fannie Winn as teacher. There were an even dozen scholars, some of whom walked between three and four miles to school.

CAPITAN-CARRIZO

(Correspondence)

What is heralded as the beginning of friendly inter-school relations between Carrizozo and Capitan took place at Capitan Saturday afternoon when the visitors went down to defeat to the tune of 17 to 9. The battle was hard fought from the start to finish and the first five minutes of the game made things look like a walk-away for the visitors. The mountain girls soon got into the harness and their strength and the altitude in time had such telling effect that the girls from the flats weakened and the end of the first half found the score 7 to 11 in favor of Capitan. The last half, punctuated by various fouls on the part of either team, was a repetition of the first with the interest on the side lines at fever heat. Time was called, but the official score, 17 to 9, does not give evidence of the keen interest displayed throughout the game. Few of the spectators had ever seen a game of basket ball, but the interest displayed speaks well for the future of the popular game as well as for contests along other lines. The Carrizozo girls, as has always been their reputation, conducted themselves in a lady-like manner and their visit is one long to be remembered with pleasure by Capitan, and it was the expression of all who participated that the teams should meet again to battle for honors.

NOTED GIRL MODEL

Face Made Famous by Greuze,
Whose Name She Disgraced.

Famous Artist's Immortalization of His Wife's Features Can Be Seen at the Great Galleries in
U. S. and Europe.

London.—Another ideal has been shattered. The babylike face that is known the world over as the fabulously expensive and miraculous creation of the famous artist Greuze, was that of a common little girl who, after marrying the artist, stole his money and disgraced his name. Greuze's immortalization of this face can be seen in almost any of the great galleries in Europe or America.

John Rivers has shocked London by robbing this wonderful Greuze face, which adorns the royal palaces, the National and other picture galleries, of all its historic virtue. In a book just published Mr. Rivers thus describes one of the most fascinating types of feminine humanity, for which American and European collectors today bid against each other with reckless enthusiasm:

"All the world knows her, and no one who has ever seen her can ever forget the sweet sting of her beauty. Her eyes are like the fish pools of Heshbon, and many a man has died happy for the kiss of a month such as hers. The noonday sunlight seems to have got entangled in her hair, and young men dream of nights of her warm and palpitating throat. And, if with innocent effrontery, she delights in showing to the best advantage her dimpled arms, her firm and delicate hands, and all the fresh graces of her rounded form, it is because she has just awakened to the life emotional; it is because her child's heart—the wide and troubled eyes confess it—has suddenly been thrilled and a little frightened by the eternal, delightful and foolish craving for something to love; and so, she lavishes the treasures of her heart on the pet lamb she holds in her arms, or the doves she fondly presses to her breast.

"She was admirably proportioned. Neither too short nor too tall, which is rare among women, who, for the most part seem either to have just failed to reach, or to have inadvertently exceeded, the exact stature that nature meant them to attain. Saucy, impetuous, with the free-and-easy manners of a hoyden, her beauty was dainty rather than distinguished; a fresh color, a provocative nose, with slightly dilated nostrils; strange humid, alluring eyes; beautiful teeth; a full red mouth, which seemed to give a subtle and wonderful meaning to the lightest word she uttered; and glorious auburn hair, gleaming like burnished gold as it caught and held the sunlight. The smooth, arched brow, the kindling dilated nostrils, the moist lips curved like Cupid's brow—her every feature, in short—announced a hasty, passionate and rather voluptuous nature."

HEIR PRESUMPTIVE OF AUSTRIA, AND FAMILY

This is a new photograph of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir presumptive to the throne of Austria-Hungary, and his family. The archduke is the son of the emperor's eldest brother, Charles Louis, who died in 1896. He is forty-nine years old, and was married organically to the Countess Sophia Chotek in 1900. The archduke renounced the claim of their issue to the throne.

The biographer of Greuze then ruthlessly explains that this fascinating type was "Mlle. Anne Gabrielle Habull, the daughter of a bookseller in the Quai des Augustins, who was more interested in her father's customers than in her father's books. She was attracted by the shabby young artist Greuze and, because he was too poor or too shy, herself proposed marriage. After a few years of happy Bohemianism she became a spendthrift and eventually a wanton, who neglected her children, stole her husband's money and then dragged his name in the mire.

Sad as the story may be, her husband's conception of what she might have been will live long after her own lack of character is forgotten. As Hippocrates wrote, many centuries before Greuze, met his bewitching model in her father's Paris book store, "Ars longa, vita brevis" (Art is long, life is short).

WAGES FOR BLOWING BREATH

Eight Women in New York Laboratories Draw Dollar a Day for Thus Aiding Experiments.

New York.—A dollar a day for blowing one's breath is being paid at the laboratories of the College of Physicians and Surgeons to eight women who started upon their unique occupation recently. When a representative of the laboratory went to the municipal lodging house to get recruits for the work he barely escaped being locked up as fit for the psychopathic ward. He explained, however, that women were wanted in connection with experiments in sickroom ventilation. They were to breathe into sixteen ounce bottles imbedded in refrigerators, the food particles being removed from the breath during its passage through a rubber tube. The condensed vapor is to be chemically analyzed, and the doctors hope through their experiments to better conditions of the atmosphere in sickrooms.

The Kitchen Cabinet

TODAY we may feel that life's sorrows outweigh all the joys that we crave; but tomorrow will teach us the lesson that life is worth while to be brave.

WHAT maintains one vice would bring up two children. "Why what thou hast no need of, and ere long thou shalt sell thy necessities." —Poor Richard.

REASONABLE DISHES.

Here is one way of preparing hamburger steak: Take a pound of round steak finely chopped, not ground, add two tablespoonfuls of suet, a finely chopped onion, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a quarter of a cup of bread crumbs and salt and pepper to taste. Shape in balls, roll in crumbs and broil before a clear fire or pan broil until brown. Serve with the sauce from the pan and garnish with parsley.

Curled Mutton.—Cut up a pound of mutton and fry in butter until brown; add the onions, stir and cook until they are colored yellow; add a dessert spoonful of curry powder, salt and pepper to taste, two cupfuls of stock and simmer for an hour. Serve with a border of boiled rice.

A delicious small cake which is relished by young or old is a simple cup cake mixture baked in gem pans and frosted with a white boiled frosting. When cold, a circular piece is cut from the top and a portion of the inside of the cake is removed and the cavity filled with preserved fruit of any kind desired.

Deviled Sardines.—Bone and skin a dozen sardines, dust with paprika and mustard, and dip in beaten egg and fine bread crumbs and brown in a hot oiled pan. Drain and serve on strips of buttered toast. Garnish with lemon slices and water cress.

Vanillas.—Beat three eggs, add a tablespoonful of sugar, one of cold water and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Stir in flour to make a rather stiff dough. Knead well and roll out after dividing the dough into four portions. Roll a portion until very thin, the thinner the better, then tear a piece half the size of the hand (the more irregular the prettier they are), and drop in deep fat. When brown lift powdered sugar over them. They will be filled with bubbles and are very dainty little cakes.

USEFUL HINTS:

A nice dish cloth that will wear a good while and keep white if carefully used, is made of two salt bags sewed together.

There is no cleaning cloth equal to old underwear, and, outting flannel, after it has passed its usefulness in the garment, makes excellent dusting cloths for the floor.

Take out mildew with buttermilk. Soak for an hour in the milk, sprinkle with salt and lay in the sun. Repeat until the spot is removed.

White silk gloves, if washed with naphtha soap, rinsed in bluing water and hung in the air to dry, will look like new.

White chambray gloves when soiled may be nicely cleaned by using flour to which a tablespoonful or so of benzine has been added. Put the gloves on and wash and rub as if you were washing the hands. Rinse in dry flour. Air and shake for a short time before wearing.

Beaten Biscuit.—If one has never eaten any beaten biscuit, it is certainly a dish worthy of trial. Into a pint of flour stir a teaspoonful of salt and a cup of cold water. Work to a stiff dough, transfer to a floured bread board, and with a rolling pin beat the dough for fifteen minutes, turning and folding so that the dough may receive the treatment in all parts. Cut into biscuits, prick with a fork and bake to a light brown.

Molasses Candy.—Boil together until it makes a hard ball, three cups of sugar, two cups of molasses, one cup of butter or butterine and a dessert-spoon of vanilla. Add the vanilla just as it is taken from the fire. Pour into greased pans and cool and push. Cut in pieces with a pair of scissors and wrap in oiled paper. Follow this process in cooking: Melt the butter, put in the molasses and boil a few minutes, then add the sugar a cup at a time until it is dissolved. This is not like the ordinary molasses candy.

TOMORROW the sun will be brighter; Tomorrow the skies will be fair; Tomorrow our hearts will be lighter; We'll cast aside sorrow and care. Remember, when heartsick and weary, The sunshine comes after the rain; Tomorrow is time to be cheery; Tomorrow we take hope again.

I NEVER saw an oft-removed tree, Nor yet an oft-removed family That thrived so well as them that settled.

A FEW RUSSIAN DISHES.

If these recipes are tried they will prove altogether acceptable:

Russian Hash.—Chop two pounds of uncooked beef from which the fat is removed, with a fourth of a pound of suet, one large onion, and a half a cup of bread crumbs. Season with salt, pepper and parsley; add a pint of good soup stock or beef tea; mix well, season with salt and lemon juice and sprinkle well with bread crumbs. Bake until well browned, turn out on a platter and garnish with mashed potatoes.

Russian Soup.—Put two tablespoonfuls of butter or suet in a soup kettle, and when hot add two large onions chopped fine, and a pint of tender cabbage chopped fine. Fry brown and add two tablespoonfuls of flour. Season with salt and pepper and minced parsley; add a quart of stock and simmer for an hour. Fry a few small balls of sausage until brown; add the sausage to the soup with a cup of tarragon vinegar, and serve.

Coulibiac.—Have ready a rich pastry dough and roll it very thin. Spread this with a savory meat of mushrooms cooked and chopped, hard cooked eggs, and cold veal; moisten with butter and broth, and roll it like a roly-poly. Place in a baking dish, sprinkle with crumbs and bake one hour. Slice and serve with a sauce, seasoned with vinegar.

Rocks.—Cream a cup of butter, add one and a half cups of sugar, two eggs, two and a half cups of flour, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a tablespoonful of warm water; add spices, dates and walnuts, a cup of up by spoonfuls on buttered baking sheets.

TESTED RECIPES.

The following pudding is called Poor Man's Pudding: Work to a cream a half cupful of beef drippings and two tablespoonfuls of butter, add a cup of brown sugar, a cup of molasses, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, half a grated nutmeg, a quarter of a teaspoonful of allspice, a tablespoonful of cocoa, one cupful of sour cream, a teaspoonful of soda, three-fourths of a cup of raisins, a half cup of currants, a fourth of a cup of nuts and flour to make a stiff mixture. Steam two hours.

Rhubarb Pie.—Take a cup of chopped rhubarb, a cup of sugar and a tablespoonful of cracker crumbs, a handful of raisins and an egg. Fill the crust and cover with a top crust.

Mock Mince Meat.—Take a cup and a half of sugar, two-thirds of a cup of butter, a cup of molasses, a cup of raisins, a cup of elder or half a cup of vinegar, half a cup of water, five crackers rolled fine, a teaspoonful each of cinnamon, allspice and cloves and two eggs well beaten added the last thing. Makes two large pies.

Maple Pudding.—Add two tablespoonfuls of maple sugar and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch to a pint of hot milk; stir in two well beaten yolks of eggs; pour into a baking dish and cover with the white of an egg whipped. Bake until the custard is set.

Pineapple Dessert.—Put a layer of chopped pineapple in a dish, then a layer of cake crumbs rather fine, another layer of pineapple, and top all with sweetened and flavored whipped cream. Serve either hot or cold.

Berlin.—Kubelik's famous Guarnerius violin has been seized by the authorities on an order from court to satisfy a judgment in favor of a London concert director. LOON DIPS A LAD INTO POND

Bird Grasps Trousers With Its Bill and Gives Youth Drowning—Boy Captures Him.

Elmer, N. J.—A big loon, which was caught after an exciting battle in the water, is the captive of George Cassidy, thirteen years old, of this place.

Young Cassidy was attending to his snail traps when he spied the bird in a pond. The loon did not attempt to fly, but made fruitless efforts to dive in the shallow water.

The excited boy sprang into the pond after the big bird, and caught hold of its wing. Then the captive loon turned upon the lad and attacked him with its sharp bill. It plunged him into the pond by seizing him by the trousers. Cassidy pluckily held on, subdued his prize catch, and carried it into town to show a crowd of admiring schoolmates.

KILLS DEER WITH A KNIFE

Preacher Halts on Way to Marry a Couple Long Enough to Bag Some Game.

Fort Smith, Ark.—While on his way to Glenwood to marry a couple, Rev. H. H. Thomas, a Baptist minister of Mount Ida, killed a buck deer with his pocket knife. The animal had become entangled in a wire fence. It tore loose from the fence and charged at the minister. In the battle that followed both the minister and the deer rolled into a mountain creek. Finally Mr. Thomas cut the deer's throat. The animal sprang to the ground.

The subject of the morning service will be, "The Personality of Paul," and at night (7:30) "Paul and His Convictions." The pastor hopes to occupy the pulpit again on Sunday, after nearly a three weeks' siege of sore throat and grip.

Junior B. B. P. U. meets at 3 p. m., and the Seniors at 5:30.

At the night service Mrs. Haywood will render a special selection and good singing at all the services will be enjoyed. The members especially are requested to be at both services on Sunday. All others are cordially invited, and strangers are welcome.

The Woman's Missionary Union meets for a social hour with Mrs. Dr. Pies this week, and next Friday, Feb. 14th, at 2:30 with Mrs. H. S. Campbell, when the second study in the Life of Christ will be the program.
