HAMILTONS ENTERTAIN

Mr and Mrs H. B. Hamilton entertained about fifty of their gentlemen friends Monday evening at a smoker, given at their beautiful new home on Capitan avenue, complimentary to Judge E. L. Medler.

The evening was one long to be remembered, as it was one of those rare occasions when every one seemed to enjoy themselves to the full. A delicious lunch was served consisting of sandwiches and coffee, scalloped oysters, salad, olives, cake and ice cream.

Much stunts was made, many good stories told. Prof. McCurdy gave one of his inimitable dialect sketches and a good song, and under the influence of the genial hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton everyone had a fine time.

Mrs. Hamilton was assisted in serving by Mrs T. W. Watson and Mrs. H. S. Fairbanks.

RENDERING DECISION

Judge Abbott handed down a decision last week, in the District Court at Santa Fe, in the case of the Independent Steel & Wire Co., and the Pittsburg Trust Co., vs the New Mexico Central R. R. Co., requiring the payment of about $300,000 by the Central to the plaintiffs.

This removes the last legal obstacle to the construction of the extension of the New Mexico Central from Torrance to Roswell, which extension will pass through the northeastern part of Lincoln County and will be of material benefit to many owners of ranch and mining property in that section and will also add several thousand dollars to the tax rolls of the county.

The parties floating the bond issue for the extensions are said to have made satisfactory arrangements for their disposal in France, and it is promised that dirt will soon begin to fly on the Roswell extension, which it is proposed to build first.

SCHOOL NOTES

To those of our friends who have purchased tickets for the entertainment Saturday, to be given by the boys to purchase a tent for their sled and gun club, we wish to say that in granting the privilege of using the school auditorium, we by no means wish you to think, as you doubtless have done in purchasing a ticket, that this entertainment is given by the school. No one connected with the school has witnessed a rehearsal, nor can we vouch for the excellence of the show. We will say, however, that we are interested in the boys and their plan for an outing, but did not intend that the public should be canvassed with tickets for sale which leave the impression that it is a school entertainment. We hope that the performance will be a good one, but we cannot guarantee anything. The boys are not experienced actors and the performance, whatever it is, will be decidedly amateur. Mr. Haley has printed the tickets for the boys complimentary. They want to buy a tent to use in a summer outing, but the performance is not for the benefit of the school and you buy tickets to help the boys and not the school, as the form of the tickets has doubtless led some believe.

ANDREW McCURDY, Principal Carrizozo School.

H. K. Rountree has purchased the Lee and Corn well on the other side of the mal pias, and is installing a pupping plant. He purchased a large bunch of cattle and will run them in that vicinity.

G. O. P. AWAKENING

Santa Fe is assured a new Republican daily paper, enough money having been subscribed to put the new venture on its feet. The new paper will be made the official Republican State organ, and will be published by Frank Staplin, who is well and favorably known throughout the state. We predict its success from the start.

A HOT ONE

The election of school director Monday, coming as it did at a time when court and the board of county commissioners were both in session, made business pick up on our streets to a wonderful extent, automobiles bringing the fair sex in from all directions to exercise the right to suffrage. Some of the ladies have already developed into finished politicians, one at least being confined to her home by tender feet developed by the political activities of that day.

A GOOD LOOKING PROSPECT

We take the following interesting mining article from Sunday's El Paso Times of promising prospects in the San Andres range of our untamed west of the town of Ocuero which will be of much interest to the people of this section.

What is probably the biggest copper bearing lode in New Mexico and indeed in the entire southwest, has just been located by E. Howel Rodgers and associates of El Paso, at a point just south of Mocking Bird Pass, in a series of granite hills constituting the northwestern terminus of the San Andres range of mountains. The locations extend from south to north over a mile and a half along the strike of this mammoth fissure lode, cutting the granite and pre cambrian country rocks in its majestic course.

CONVENIENT TO TWO RAILROADS
It lies about 20 miles west of Ocuero a station on the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, and about the same distance east of Lava, a station on the A. T. & S. F. railroad, and is reached by good wagon roads from both railroads. I made the trip there with some of the owners Sunday last, in an automobile from El Paso, in exactly nine hours and 25 minutes, going along the tortuous road through Las Cruces, Cutter and Engle, and thence northeast over the Hornado del Muerta plains in a northeastern direction 35 to 40 miles.

PRIMEVAL WILDERNESS
The automobile easily ran up the canyon and up to the big lode, where it descends southward to a wide amphitheater-like park in the heart of the mountain where slopes are covered with small juniper, cedar and oak trees. The region, a primeval solitude is inhabited only by deer, quails and cotton-tail rabbits.

NUDE WELL DEFINED VEIN
The huge vein is very strong, persistent and continuous, between granite walls showing croppings running from 25 to 150 feet wide cutting little arroyos and ridges. In it mineral is found where the vein is not covered by debris, the whole distance of the claims located and probably a mile or so further at either end thereof. The principal character of the ore found in most places is chalcopyrites, carbonates and oxides. Copper glances found in numerous portions of vein. The vein matter or matrix is silica, quartz porphyry and calc spar with occasional bunches of fluorite, suggestive of the presence of tellurium and gold and silver.

CARRIES GOLD VALUES

Indeed in the few assays so far made, values in gold ran three and four dollars. Whether this is only in the disseminated copper sulphides or also in the quartz has not been determined as yet. Assays so far made, showed from one to 12 per cent copper per ton, mostly from croppings or from shallow openings made therein on slopes of the hills traversed by the vein, the samples being principally quartz showing disseminated copper pyrites speckled through the rock.

RESEMBLES FAMOUS ANACONDA MINE

In portions of the vein the quartz is speckled with copper glances and this indicates that deeper down extensive shoots of high-grade ore exist below the leached zone, as is the case in the famous Anaconda mine in Butte, Montana, in which the large bodies of copper glances are found at a depth of about 1000 feet which were scarcely indicated at the surface. And here it may be well to mention that in the opinion of J. R. Morris, an experienced copper miner and mining engineer, who accompanied us and who was for some time employed in the Butte district, the big lode of the San Andres is remarkably similar in geological characteristics to the Anaconda lode, but much richer in its croppings to the red metal. In one or two places where the vein matter is oxidized and decomposed into cherty concretion there is considerable black oxides, resembling black oxide of manganese, but this may prove to be black oxide of copper resulting from oxidation of the original chalcopyrites. This occurrence is particularly in a claim called the Crysocolla where the vein matter bears a remarkable resemblance to that of the Terpedo mine in the Organ Mountains far to the south.

TESTS NOW BEING MADE

The locators are having tests made on all varieties of vein matter with the view to beginning exploration work at places where the richest ore is found outcropping. The property is an ideal one for economical exploration, for the lode is cut by several transverse east and west canyons, affording excellent tunnel sites which will give backings foot for foot, till reaching depths under the summits of the hills of two to three hundred feet. On the west, a few hundred feet, the mountain range forms a steep escarpment, a wall nearly 1000 feet high above the level of the plains, from the base of which ultimately a tunnel can be driven eastward that will cut the big vein at a depth of from 900 to 1,000 feet below the apex, near the center of the locations. From this tunnel drifts could be run north and south and all ore be conveyed to the level of plains without hoisting.

"I believe," says Mr. Rodgers, "that we have a mighty promising property, worthy of development, and in a short time, if our hopes are confirmed, big developments will be inaugurated." The names of some of the claims located are the Anaconda, Skookum, Crysocolla, Horse Shoe, etc. Water is indicated in several seep springs up the mountain, and wells of good water are found in ranches in the plains below and in Mocking Bird Pass.

A couple of miles northeast of the Anaconda-Skookum copper group are several good zinc-lead prospects. One, called the Independence group, is owned by the Independence Mining Co., of Larned, Kan., of which J. B. Leasure is manager. One shaft is about 60 feet deep and on the dump are piles of good zinc and lead sulphide ore. We noted large outcrops of zinc carbonates still untouched. The mine is idle at present. Southeast of the Independence are the Black Jack and the Calamine claims, about two miles distance, in which are several openings and one shaft twenty feet deep showing bodies of zinc carbonate and some zinc blende.

FRIDAY IS CIRCUS DAY

It will be glad some news to the people of Carrizozo and surrounding country to learn that this city is soon to be visited by the Famous Gentry Shows, whose reputation for nearly thirty years has been of the highest calibre. This famous trained animal exhibition, with its wonderful collection of "animal actors" will exhibit in Carrizozo on Friday, April 17, and the youngsters of this section can hardly restrain themselves, so keen is their interest in the event.

With no other exhibition can be seen such a priceless collection of beautiful Shetland ponies, who are and ever will be, the soul's delight of every little boy and girl in the land. The wonderful dogs and comical monkey comedians and other features too numerous to mention make the Gentry Shows stand out entirely in a class by themselves.

Many years of persistent effort on the part of Gentry Bros. have enabled them to present an entertainment that not only pleases the vast public but gives it an insight into the superior training of animals almost unobtainable.

It is universally known that the Gentry Shows are of the highest grade both in merit and standing, and it can readily be taken for granted that a genuine treat is in store for those who attend either one or both of the performances to be given here next Friday.

It has been a Gentry custom to give every child attending the afternoon performance, which commences at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a free ride on their finest trained ponies immediately after the show is over. This custom has won the friendship of little friends everywhere, who look forward to the coming of Gentry Bros. with all the delight that the average child looks forward to the dawn of Christmas morning or the joys of Santa Claus.

The big street parade Friday morning is said to be something decidedly unusual, and everyone will do well to keep track of time and be on hand promptly at 11 o'clock to witness it.—Adv.

SCHOOL NEWS

A base ball game between the high school boys of Capitan and Carrizozo was played on the local grounds Saturday. The visitors won in a score of 9 to 8.

The Arbor Day exercises at the school Friday were very interesting. Besides the singing and recitations each room, and the Senior Class planted a tree. Many patrons and friends attended.

Prof. S. W. Kelsey has completed a seven months' term at Hondo. Six pupils will take the Eighth Grade Promotion Examination, the largest class outside of Carrizozo.

An Eight months' term at Blue Water has just closed. This is Mrs. S. R. Moss' second year in this district.

The graded school at Capitan has completed a seven months' term. The High School will continue the full nine months.

The officers of the County Teachers' Association are making arrangements to have a grand Educational Rally about the middle of April. State supt. White, Dr. F. H. H. Roberts, Miss Myers, Dr. Boyd, and Prof. T. W. Conway are expected to address the meeting. The citizens of Carrizozo will act as hosts.

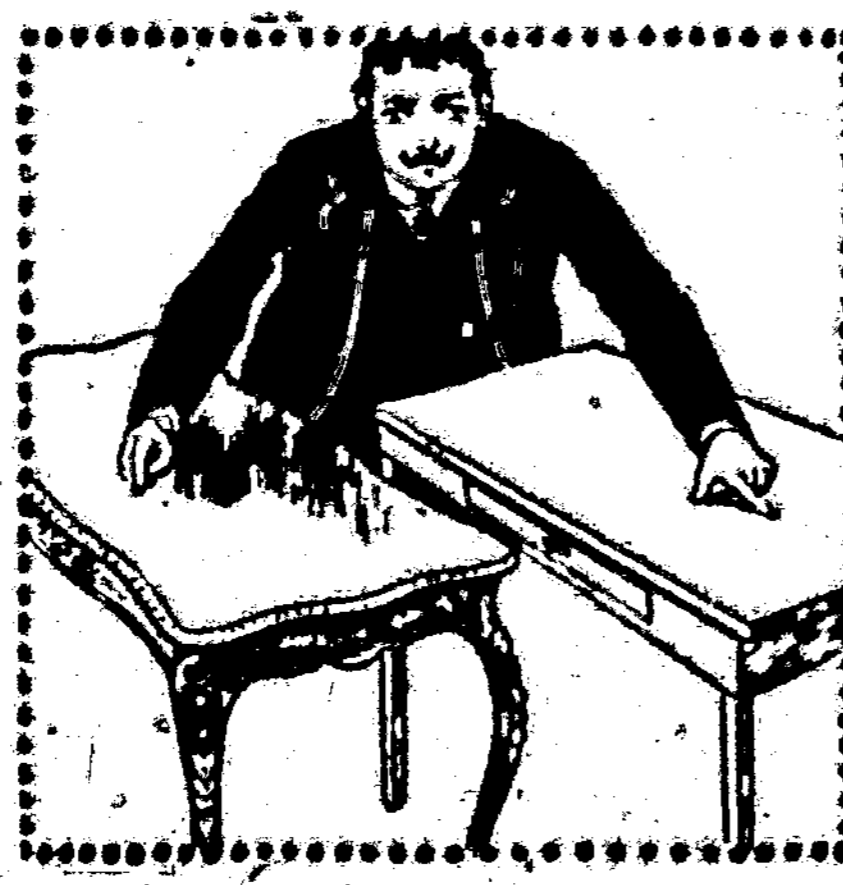

COUNTY INDUSTRIAL CLUB

To the schools of Lincoln county: The committee appointed at the last session of the Lincoln County Teachers' Association to organize the County Industrial Club attempted to complete this organization during last February, but the effort was unsuccessful. Circular letters were sent to different schools asking for their cooperation and only one, the one at Ancho responded.

The effort to complete this organization will be renewed at the next teachers association at Carrizozo, April 17th and 18th, and we hope you will come forward with your assistance in this important matter. The time is near at hand when these clubs will be doing their work and the sooner we come to the front and stimulate an interest along these lines among our boys and girls the more we shall have accomplished. The farmer has always had and always will have great problems to solve. In the early days his greatest problems were moving west, clearing his land, and getting means of transportation. These difficulties, in a comparatively great measure, have been overcome. The farmer's problems have changed their nature. In the early days the farmer would put his seed in the ground, sometime during the spring, and then leave it until the fall when he would return to find an abundant crop. Today he must use every precaution in the selection of his seed, putting it in the ground, and its care afterwards.

Conditions not only demand that we now make two ears of corn grow where one grew before but that we make corn grow where it has never grown before. Perhaps you say this cannot be done, but it is being done in many places and will sometime be done in Lincoln county. Bring your representatives to Carrizozo on the 17th and 18th of this month and let us get busy. Each local club is allowed one representative for ever five members.

Respectfully,
CHESLEY H. THOMASON

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs."

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Fortunate is the one who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate, care should be taken in the matter of diet.

When these common-sense aids fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when that happy moment comes all medicine can be dispensed with.

BIBLE STUDY ON

THE FAITHFUL ARE WATCHFUL.
Luke 12:35-48—March 8.
"Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when He cometh shall find watching."—7, 37.

TODAY'S lesson opens with a parable. If, in a great house, the master were about to bring home his bride, the servants would on that particular night be especially active, watchful, on the alert to hear his knock and open instantly. So Jesus' followers should be on the alert for His Second Coming.

The thought is that followers of Jesus should take their ideals of alertness from the extremest experience of earthly service. Jesus intimated that they might look for Him sooner than He would come, saying that if He shall come in the second or the third watch or whenever, blessed are those servants found ready to receive Him.

Our Lord's Parousia is described in today's lesson—His earliest manifestations of His Second Advent. The world will neither see Him nor know of His presence; and His Church will know of His presence only by His "knock"—the fulfillment of prophecy. It will then be for the watchful ones to recognize this fulfillment, and promptly to acknowledge the Master's presence.

For such as receive Him He will make a feast. Out of the Divine Word He will bring things new and old, for refreshment and comfort. The Bible will become to them a new Book. Many Bible students believe that we are living in this very time; and that each faithful follower of Jesus will be granted the privilege to participate in this feast, which many tell us they are now enjoying.

The Great Teacher then intimates that Satan is master of the present order of earthly things; and that at His Second Coming Jesus will bind this strong man, overturn present institutions and establish the long-promised Reign of Righteousness. This thorough transition will cause the great Time of Trouble mentioned throughout the Bible as closing this Gospel Age.—Daniel 12:1; Mark 13:8; Matthew 24:21.

Jesus speaks of His Second Coming as thief-like. The thought is that He will be present for a time, unobserved by the world, known only to the Bride class, whom He will remove—changing them from earthly nature to Heavenly. Verse 40 instructs all the Lord's faithful followers to be ready for His presence, to render up their accounts and experience their change.

"To Give Them Their Portion."

St. Peter was perplexed. Was this parable for the Apostles or for all? The Lord did not answer him directly, but merely assured him that at the appropriate time the Lord would appoint a steward over His Household, to give them food in due season. This is not very different from the Lord's usual method of dealing with His family.

For instance, St. Peter apparently was a leader amongst the Apostles, in opening the Pentecostal door, and later in opening the door to the Gentiles—preaching to Cornelius, the first Gentile convert. Later on, the Lord seems to have chosen St. Paul to be His particular messenger to the Gentiles (Acts 9:15). Similarly Enoch, Abraham, Moses, the Prophets, and others during this Gospel Age, seem to have been especially used of the Lord to draw His people's attention to His Word. The Apostles, of course, had a special inspiration which does not appertain to others of this Age since.

The servant at the end of the Age, if faithful, would be especially blessed, and given general charge respecting the spiritual food for the Lord's family—"meat in due season." But if he should prove unfaithful, fail to recognize the Master's presence and manifest an unkind spirit toward the Household, he would go into outer darkness with the world, in utter ignorance of the times and seasons, etc., of his Lord.

The Lord then explained a general principle of His dealings; namely, that any servant, knowing his Master's will and not doing in harmony therewith, would receive stripes, punishments, tribulations, proportionate to his knowledge and opportunity. But any servant who ignorantly did things worthy of stripes would receive proportionately fewer stripes.

Pettitt's Eye Salve

FOR ALL EYE PAINS

DIZZY, HEADACHY, SICK, "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

NEBRASKA ALFALFA ROTATION

Many Fields Are Allowed to Become So Hard That Water Runs Off and Never Soaks into Soil.

Reports have been received from 176 Nebraska farmers as to the effect of alfalfa on subsequent crops, the state being divided into two halves from north to south, at the point of 24-inch rainfall.

In the dry country not underlaid with water crops after alfalfa breaking the first year, especially if a dry one, may be lessened, but almost all farmers agree that subsequent returns more than make up for this, and that crops stand drought better, as might be expected, from the subsoiling by the roots. Even in regard to the first season only 30 farmers reported a decrease.

At Lincoln, Neb., August 27, 1912, the following percentages of water were found in the first six feet of soil:

Fallow and soil mulch.....	25.1
Corn	24.2
Wheat stubble	23.3
Alfalfa	18.9

These figures point to the advantage of early breaking. Corn grows rapidly on alfalfa land at the start and subsequent rainfall is apt to be inadequate, so a small corn will be advisable. Many farmers reported that they never plowed alfalfa up, and this is likely wise as long as the stand is sufficient.

I think there is another point worth considering. The old plants, though thin, may and likely are engaged in trying to penetrate some hard subsoil which may separate from a streak of moisture, and if they are allowed to do this at a depth beyond our reach they are doing valuable work which we are unable to duplicate.

Keep the weeds down on top and give them every encouragement. The hay crop may be coarse, but it is pretty sure. Even if there is no underlying water the soil is being deepened to receive water from above and take it in on a gradual manner.

Many alfalfa fields are allowed to become so hard that the moisture runs off and never soaks down more than a couple of feet in summer. Thin stands of alfalfa produce valuable crops of seed and in old fields there has been a natural selection of the most drought-resistant plants probably of those with the greatest root activity.

It takes quite a bit of corn to pay as much net as alfalfa, and though reseeded an old field is seldom practical, cultivation will cause the old plants to spread out and cover the ground fairly well unless they are very thin.

Eggs for Incubation.
 When eggs are being selected for incubation, oversized, dirty, washed or thin-shelled eggs should be rejected, as well as all corrugated or otherwise abnormal eggs. Remember that the larger the egg, if the size is normal, the larger will be the chick that issues from it, and large chicks come to broiler size sooner.

Fertilizer for Orchards.
 Barn yard manure is in general the best fertilizer for the orchard. It should be applied at the rate of a load to from three to five trees at least once in three years. This use of commercial fertilizers is hardly advisable, except where careful experiment has demonstrated its value.

Chickens Require Air.
 Your chickens require plenty of air, but not of the drafty kind. It is much better to have the whole side of your house open than to have the air streaming in through a knothole.

Don't Overlook Value of Lambs.
 In counting the profits from your flock do not fail to count the value of the fat lambs killed during the 12 months for the family use and the high value of all the manure.

Essential for Eggs.
 When the fowls cannot get bugs and worms they need kitchen scraps, beef scraps or other meat food and unless meat food is supplied the egg yield is likely to be short.

Blanket for Horses.
 Blanket your horse carefully when he stands, especially if he is at all hot. Repeated slight chills stiffen and age a horse before his time.

Corn in Orchard.
 Corn can be grown in the young orchard if the soil is sufficiently rich, but ordinarily it casts too much shade for very young trees.

Spray for Green Aphid.
 When the little green aphid attacks garden plants a spray of rather strong tobacco water or a thin emulsion of kerosene and soap will be effective. But the spraying must be repeated.

Lessen Profits.
 The loss of a few sheep or lambs will quickly knock off all profits.

USE FOR THE MIRROR

APART FROM USUAL PURPOSE, IT ADDS TO ROOM'S APPEARANCE.

Well Worth the Cost, Which Need Not Be Prohibitive, in Enabling Owner to See Himself as Others See Him.

How any woman creature is able to do without a full-sized mirror is more than I can tell. This sliding up and down of a small mirror to get a whole effect has ever been a mystery to me, writes Ethel Davis Seal in the New York Press. And yet I know they do it! I know one woman who sets her mirror on the floor to view the hem of her skirt; on a chair to arrange her girdle, and completes her head dressing through the aid of a nail on the wall. She really could afford two or three large mirrors, if she made up her mind to it, but she just doesn't take the trouble.

On the part of some, this hesitancy to acquire a large mirror is sometimes due to a dislike for the usual mirrored furniture to be seen in the shops—and the prices. Of course, all mirrors are expensive, every one knows that, and so, when laying out the money for one, it should be of a design which appeals to the owner.

Mirrors have two other very important uses. They make a small room look larger and they make a dark room lighter. Either one of these uses provides a sufficient reason for having one or more mirrors about, without considering their transcendent quality for the reflecting of feminine beauty. (It is a well-established fact that the men never use them. Clearly proved by the number of men we see gazing raptly into those terrible chewing-gum mirror arrangements to be found in every subway station.)

Now one of the easiest mirror "plans" is to have one installed in the closet door of the bedroom. It is not necessary for the glass to be beveled, though this is a matter of taste and price. A sufficiently large piece of glass would cost about $10 or $15.

The cheval glass shown in connection with the vase and footstool could easily form the keynote of a very charming room. This is to be found in the shops, and is priced at $50. It comes in mahogany, gray or white enamel. If it and the rest of the furniture were in gray enamel, the walls and woodwork might be in cream, the wall tone being a few shades darker than that used on the woodwork. The rug, of course, would be very important, and it would be worth while to hunt until one finds exactly the right thing, which should be a rug in which grays and buffs and creams blend, with touches of old blue and old rose; a rug which is so soft and delightful in coloring that one would be tempted to hang it on the wall. The floor should be painted gray, a few tones darker than the furniture. And in this way have we fitted the framework of our room to hold our furniture.

FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL GIRL

Modistes Have Paid Especial Attention to Designs Suitable to Some-what Trying Age.

Heretofore there has been a lack of properly fitting clothes for girls from eleven to fifteen years of age. Girls of such ages are too young for misses' clothes and too old for children's sizes. There are now sizes to suit these ages. The waists and hips of these dresses are not larger than for misses. The bodices are usually of a simple style, many having the low neck and three-quarter sleeve, or the sleeve that turns at the elbow.

Serviceable two-piece dresses have the modified middie blouse, with a skirt of contrasting material. The flounce skirt is also well liked. For school wear serges, gabardines and black and white checks are used, as are also the smaller Scotch plaids.

Coats for these misses are made with odd yoke effects, raglan sleeves, kimono collars and belts placed at the low waist line. Some coats have the flare, which is so fashionable in women's coats, produced by the use of two flounces edging the coat, or by cutting the coat in two sections, the lower of which has considerable fullness. The materials for these coats include serges, gabardines, novelty worsteds and silks, smart checks, fancy mixtures, poplins, worsteds in crepe effects and ratines.

Collars and cuffs are of lace, batiste embroidery or crepe embroidered in white or colors. Fancy silk collars are used on some of the cloth coats. Novelty buttons are a prominent trimming, being in matching or contrasting colors. In addition to navy blue the popular colors are tango, sage green, copenhagen, rust and mahogany.

ATTRACTIVE GOWN

Model of white supple satin with belt and sash of black satin trimmed with jade ornaments. Collar and wired tunic of black tulle.

IN ALL SHADES OF PETUNIA

Designers Have Worked Wonders With Materials of Velvet, Silk and Crepe de Chine.

Petunia shades in velvet, silk and crepe de chine are so alluring that it is small wonder that the petunia costume has become a fad. Because of the cost of the materials in which the peculiar purple and red tones are most perfect, these get-ups are usually seen at afternoon receptions and at evening dances. One of the most successful models is a three-piece costume, consisting of a petunia red-colored silk skirt, a blouse, also of the silk, cut away at the shoulders and elbows to show a round-necked gimpie in petunia rose malines, and a three-quarter coat in petunia purple velvet, lined with satin matching the rose of the malines. The purple velvet hat carries petunia red ostrich plumes and the gloves and shoes are in black suede. This choice of minor accessories is a wise one, for were they in white, gray or even in glace black, they would glare at the dull petunia tones.

Dull and inconspicuous accessories invariably accompany the petunia evening costumes. These are usually in two or more shades in malines and are chiefly worn as dancing frocks by young girls. Occasionally, however, a young matron is seen in a trained gown of petunia shaded malines or chiffon, brightened by a necklace or a dog collar in rubies, amethysts or emeralds set in dull Dutch silver.

DRESSY MODEL FOR CHILD

Moss Green Cheviot Probably the Best Material That Could Be Employed for This Costume.

On a child of ten or twelve this little suit would be pleasing made of moss green cheviot. It is cut in peasant style with two tucks laid on the shoulder and at the drop shoulder seams, to which the sleeve is joined. Just between these two groups is inserted a broad band of plaid silk running from shoulder to girdle which is of plain self-tone silk. A knot and two long, flat loops finish this at the back. The skirt is very narrow, two tucks corresponding in position and size to those on the blouse portion contributing the only fullness. Collar and tie are of the plain silk.
