TEACHERS' MEETING AT OSCURO

Ladies who Made Elaborate Preparations for Entertainment of Teachers, Greatly Disappointed

BOOK OF ETIQUETTE QUOTED FOR TEACHERS

Postmaster John H. Boyd continues in an improved condition. Joseph Ashford was a Sunday visitor to Three Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Grey were Saturday visitors to Carrizozo.

The Socialist local held their regular meeting Sunday afternoon at the school house.

The New Years eve dance was quite successful and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

Mr and Mrs. J. C. Wesley have arrived in their Maxwell and contemplate locating here.

Robert E. Blaney is spending the week here owing to the ill health of his wife.

Captain D. W. Roberts of Alamogordo is here attending to some development work on copper claims in the Oscura mountains opposite here.

Chas. H. Thornton this week shipped in twenty head of cows and calves for winter pasture upon his range near here.

Among those who autoed down from Carrizozo Sunday were O. T. Nye, Wm. Reilly and Sabe Perry.

Miss Mary Monroe one of the teachers here has returned from spending the holidays with her parents at Portales.

Seth F. Crews journeyed to Carrizozo Monday to purchase additional materials for his house being built on his claim near town.

The United States geological survey is camped here again and the government thru this department is making a careful topographical survey of this vicinity.

Elaborate preparations were made for the entertainment of the County Teachers Association here scheduled to have been held last Saturday. The ladies of the community among other things had arranged a splendid luncheon to which all contributed and which was served at the school house. The only teacher in the county present was Prof. Davis of Ancho. County Superintendent Mrs. Wallace L. Gumm was also present from Carrizozo. The following item has been handed your correspondent for publication as being the sentiment of those who so willingly assisted and would have done more to entertain the teachers who did not come.

Mrs. Maud E. Blaney made every arrangement for the teachers' entertainment and comfort also and arose from a sick bed to do so. The item is as follows: "Good manners demand when an invitation cannot be accepted that regrets be sent so the hostess will know what preparations to make"—Book of Etiquette.

The teachers of Lincoln county were invited to attend a teachers association meeting at Oscura January 2nd. In order that all should have an enjoyable time the ladies of the settlement prepared an elaborate luncheon to be served at the school house. Our county superintendent and one teacher from Ancho put in an appearance. Our teachers received no regrets and the ladies of the community have none.

WHITE OAKS

School opened Monday after a two week's vacation.

Miss Jessie Treat left Monday for Albuquerque where she is attending school.

J. E. Collard and J. M. Smith returned the last of the week from a week's trip to El Paso.

Frank and Roy Reddy returned Sunday after spending Christmas with relatives on the Bonito.

L. W. Harmon and H. S. Hanner were business visitors in Carrizozo Monday.

A. J. Lahann spent Sunday in town the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spence.

Joe Clements left Monday for his ranch at Picacho after a two week's visit here with friends.

The Misses Mildred and Robbie Taylor left Monday morning for Carrizozo where they are attending school.

S. M. Keith returned Sunday from a two weeks' visit with the family of J. E. Tompkins at Tucumcari.

Hon. J. Y. Hewitt left Tuesday for Santa Fe to be present at the opening of the state legislature to which body he was elected at the last election.

Work was resumed at both mines Monday after a shut down of two weeks during which time most of the men were employed on the new power line to Carrizozo.

E. E. Slaughter purchased Monday, in El Paso a new Overland touring car and expects to arrive there Wednesday driving overland from that place.

We buy hides, pelts and furs and guarantee highest prices—Carrizozo Trading Co.

Robert Leslie Sr. of the White Oaks country was in town Tuesday on land office business.

Emil Fritz, the well known stockman, was a Carrizozo visitor Tuesday.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of E. C. Monroe for Constable of Precinct No 14 at the election to be held Monday, January 11, 1915.

John Hale of the Ruidosa country was in town Tuesday and Wednesday with a big load of "cats" which he disposed of, to sundry of our citizens.

H. B. Doveton of Trinidad, Colo. is a new employe of Ziegler Bros. He has charge of the drygoods and clothing departments of that popular store, and has a wide experience in those lines, having been connected with one of the largest stores in Trinidad for some years. He is a hustler, and will no doubt, make things hum in this department.

Word has been received here as we go to press that Sheriff John Cole who went to El Paso some time ago, for medical treatment, is in a very serious condition and no hope entertained for his recovery.

FATHER OF JUDGE MEDLER DIES

Telegram From Los Angeles Announces Death of Prominent Albuquerque Pioneer

WAS A VERY PROMINENT MASON

Edward Medler, father of Judge Edward L. Medler, of the district court, died suddenly yesterday at his home in Los Angeles, according to a long distance telephone message received by C. O. Cushman from Judge Medler, then at Las Cruces. Judge Medler had just received a telegram informing him of the death.

Mr. Medler lived in Albuquerque for several years. He was one of the early settlers of the town, having come here in the early "eighties". He was a carpenter and building contractor. Many of the older business houses and dwellings here were built by Mr. Medler and his partner, A. W. Witcomb, who is dead. He was an extensive property owner here.

PROMINENT MASON

As a Mason of high standing, Mr. Medler took an active part in all Masonic affairs here. He held local offices, also received official honors from the territorial grand lodge. L. H. Chamberlin, Masonic secretary said yesterday that the orders here had wired to Los Angeles lodges directing them to accord all honors to Mr. Medler at the obsequies due a lodgeman of his rank.

Mr. Medler, accompanied by Mrs. Medler, left here fifteen years ago, going to Los Angeles. Mrs. Medler died several years ago. She was 72 years old.

Two sons survive, Judge Medler now of Las Cruces, who formerly lived here, and C. E. Medler, now a resident of Los Angeles. He was city clerk of Albuquerque for three terms.

WAS TO HAVE OPENED COURT

Judge Medler was to have opened the court term at Estancia Torrance county January 4th, but he told Mr. Cushman over the telephone that he would leave on the first train for Los Angeles. Owing to the fact that the veniremen were summoned to report at the Estancia court house the 4th, he probably designated another Judge to take his place.

The funeral will be held in Los Angeles undoubtedly under the auspices of the Masonic order—Albuquerque Journal.

Welch & Tittsworth at Capitan are selling Granulated Sugar at $5.75 per sack.

Humphrey Bros. handle flour, feed, potatoes and stock salt. Ask them to quote you prices, when in the market for same.

FOR SALE—Dresser, washstand, bedstead and mattress, refrigerator and dining table. Inquire Harry B. Dawson.

FOR SALE—Fifty horse power seven passenger touring car. $600 cash, a bargain. Inquire at Shield's Garage.

FOR SALE—Good black Gramma hay, Call on J. G. Textor Carrizozo.

Dr. A. S. Orne and wife will conduct a mass meeting at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening, the local pastor Rev. E. D. Lewis presiding. Dr. and Mrs. Orne are touring the country in behalf of the "child rescue" movement, and will speak here on "The Cause and Cure of Crime" and "Juvenile Delinquency." Everybody cordially invited.

ANCHO

Mrs. J. O. Carter left for El Paso on No 1 Monday morning.

Mr and Mrs. R. C. Pitts from the Jack's Peak country spent one day in Carrizozo last week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Langarak and son Dudoock spent Saturday and Sunday in El Paso.

Mrs. Graves, Deel and Burnett took a pleasure trip to Carrizozo Saturday in Mrs. Deel's auto.

A. C. Christian and J. N. Eve made a business trip to Nogales Sunday.

Quite a number of folk from this vicinity attended the dance in Jicarilla New Year's eve. They all report a good time.

Joe Vennen left Monday morning for Three Rivers to do his annual assessment work on some mining claims he has there.

J. O. Carter returned from El Paso Tuesday morning. His daughter is improving slowly but we hope surely.

E. A. Heisel spent Sunday in Corona. He reports quite a lot of snow still on the ground there and the roads in bad shape.

Mr. G. T. Graves Manager of the Ancho Store Co. has just received an appointment as Notary Public for this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Franklin of Jicarilla are spending the holidays in Chicago. Mr. Franklin is operating the mine for the Jicarilla Gold Mining Company and has recently taken out some samples of fine ore.

Next Monday January 11th there will be an election held in Ancho to elect a Justice of the Peace and Constable for this precinct. Everybody come out and vote for it is a good thing for the town.

Straley's have moved out to their ranch about one half mile from town and expect to start a Dairy out there in the near future. This is a move in the right direction, for a few bunches of good milk cows will mean a demand for a Creamery or Cream Station.

Thelco canned goods, Richelein products are sold in Carrizozo at the Trading Co.

Legislator elect John Y. Hewitt was in town several days this week on his way to Santa Fe to attend the meeting of the Legislature.

In another column will be found the announcement of Ed C. Monroe for Constable. Mr. Monroe has arranged with a number of the business men to act as night watchman and is seeking the office of Constable so he may handle the two together. He states that he will be found on the job at all times Monday night.

Attorney Roy E. Bryan of Denver is in Carrizozo looking for a location, he may effect a partnership with Attorney George Spence of this place.

Word has been received here of the appointment of Harry Dixon as Chief Dispatcher of the Southwestern at Douglas. This is a well deserved promotion for Mr. Dixon, the result of several years of faithful and efficient service with the Company.

NEWS OF LOCAL AND PERSONAL INTEREST

M. E. Church Play Ground Opened to the Public New Year's Day. A Large Crowd in Attendance

MRS. E. D. LEWIS GIVES DINNER FOR HER CLASS

H. S. Hanner of White Oaks, was a Carrizozo visitor the forepart of the week.

Prices are cut below wholesale during the big sale now in progress at the Carrizozo Trading Co.

Railroad Accountants McCorkle and Kennedy are here this week checking up the local station.

Walkover shoes are sold exclusively by the Carrizozo Trading Co. Price $3.50 to $5.00. Don't pay more.

Buy a pair of Walkover shoes, now prices unusually low Carrizozo Trading Co.

Dr. R. T. Lucas has purchased the Thompkins property just west of Ziegler Bros store and will remodel the house, and use as an office, hospital and residence.

Cream of wheat flour—made in the Southwest, every sack guaranteed. Sold only at the Carrizozo Trading Co.

E. C. Wade, Jr. of Santa Fe, Assistant United States Attorney for New Mexico was in town the first of the week on legal business.

R. B. Thomas of Albuquerque, owner of some valuable iron property in this vicinity was here several days last week looking after his mining interests.

On New Year's day the play ground at the Methodist church was opened to the public. A large crowd was in attendance and considerable interest manifested.

A party of four men from Roswell consisting of H. W. Vauchet, G. A. Davison, H. A. Poobough and W. L. Day spent several days in this vicinity on business the first of the week.

The Philathea class of the Methodist church entertained the Reliable at the home of Miss Florence Spence last Saturday night. There was a good representation of both classes present and all enjoyed the few pleasant hours spent there.

Mrs. E. D. Lewis treated her class of young men, the Reliable, to a New Year's dinner. After the feast it was generally agreed that they had a very appropriate name. Especially could they be relied upon to make way with turkey and cranberry sauce.

Mrs. G. C. Adams of Farmville, Va., arrived Sunday to take charge of the body of her husband, who passed away at Fort Stanton last week a victim of tuberculosis. She left for Virginia with the remains Monday night.

John Green, the well known Southwestern conductor is handing out the smokes in honor of the safe arrival of a twelve-pound boy, at his home on Tuesday morning. All doing well.

Wm. Barnett of the Yellow Jacket came in Wednesday on a business trip, he reports that the ore-handling at that point is now under a new management and that prospects are good for a greatly increased output.

C. O. Merchant spent the most of last week gathering corn.

L. York went to Carrizozo last Monday attending to some legal business before the Probate Court and County Commissioners.

Prof. Thomason returned from the Pecos Valley where he has been spending the holidays visiting friends.

Robert Boone returned last Sunday from Roswell where he will take up his work in the Military Institute.

Mr. Schreck's father visited him several days during the holidays returning to his home in Kansas last Friday.

Simon Paulson who recently arrived from Nebraska has accepted a position with the Fisher Lumber Co.

The past week has been very quiet in Capitan owing to the absence by the High School students after the turning out school for the Christmas holidays.

The Hammett hotel changed hands last week when Frank Phillips purchased it and he and another party will continue to run it and the barber shop in connection.

Mrs. G. W. Smithson who is teaching the San Patricio School has been in Capitan spending the holidays. She returned last Sunday to take charge of her school.

William Peters, and Miss Mildred Peters have been in Capitan spending the Christmas holidays. Mrs. P. G. Peters was also over several days, returning last Friday to Carrizozo.

NOGAL

Uncle Tom Henley is getting ready to go to Kansas City for treatment at a Sanitarium for the trouble in his mouth.

The cold wave seemed to have passed in the White mountains but clouds are gathering for another storm which we will be sure to have very soon.

Nogal is always on the extreme Friday night we had prayer meeting in one house and a dance in another and as the houses are scarce no doubt one was disturbed by the other.

The long term of school in Dist. No. 11 closed Friday last. We learn that the directors have employed the Prof. to teach the next term. It is well when we have a good teacher to keep him by all means. Your correspondent was at the closing exercises and noted nearly all the desks have had the tops planed off and nicely painted we used to find many broken ones at the close of school. The house is clean and the blackboards are as good as they were eight months ago, in short, Prof. Cardwell has taught an excellent term.

Silence and Speech

For centuries the Sphinx has been the world's Symbol of Silence.]

Through passing generations, in silent eloquence, this mute monument of the desert has guarded its secret.

A silent, solemn sentinel in the trackless sands, this stately record of a dead race has become a symbol to all nations.

Just as the ancient Sphinx is the world's Symbol of Silence, the modern telephone is the world's Symbol of Speech.

In every civilized land the telephone is in constant use by millions of people.

Last year nearly nine million people in the United States used it every day.

Over a million messages were sent over your telephones right here in the seven mountain states

Such a vast and complete system, useful to all the people alike, is only possible through the combination of the capital, skill and labor of a big corporation.

The Bell System has become one of the biggest and most useful corporations in the United States because it serves all the people.

TOLD TO KILL SELF

German Soldier Takes Own Life at Officer's Order.

DISCIPLINE IS MAINTAINED

Correspondent Finds Main Army Kept From Atrocities—Outposts in the Country Are Accused of Committing Abuses.

Chicago.—I have just returned from Montdidier, 15 kilometers (nine miles) east of Roye, writes Gabriel Delagarde to the Chicago Daily News. I gleaned there information which tends to show that, while discipline is severely maintained by the German military authorities in the larger communities, the uhlans and scattered outposts in the country districts have committed outrages. I shall give one story illustrating each phase of this situation.

When the Germans reached Compiègne they found the city almost empty of able-bodied men, there being only women, children and aged persons. There were some cases of pillage, but, generally speaking, the invaders conducted themselves well.

Two Hours to Kill Himself. One Saxon, however, billeted on a house where there was a defenseless young woman, began to court her assiduously. When she resisted his advances he attacked her. She succeeded in escaping and went at once to complain to the commanding officer. The latter accompanied her to the house, where he saw the furniture overturned and every evidence of a violent struggle. The officer turned sternly to the soldier and said:

"I give you just two hours in which to kill yourself. If you are not dead in two hours you will be shot."

A barricade had been erected in the street. The soldier went behind the barricade, fired a revolver bullet into his own head and was buried without ceremony that evening.

While in Montdidier I went, accompanied by a soldier, to interview a young woman whose parents own a large farm close to a village near Roye. She is twenty-five years old and has a sister twenty-four. Her father is old and bent and her mother is about fifty. She has no brothers and all the man employees are in the army.

Thus when about a dozen uhlans came and lodged at the farm there was no able-bodied man to protect the women. The uhlans ate and drank heartily, then began to make remarks which frightened the mother, who ran to hide in the cellar, where she had already concealed her two daughters. Presently the uhlans began to search the house. One came down the first steps to the cellar and shouted in French:

"See here, madame, were there no woman domestics on this farm? Where are they?"

Terrified, the daughters crouched behind a large barrel. Seeing only the mother the uhlans disappeared and all went away.

Nothing is more remarkable than

FRENCH BOY SCOUT

The French boy scouts are playing a prominent part in the war. They are filling the gaps at home left by their elders. The picture shows one of the scouts guarding the railroad tracks.

the simplicity with which the country people relate their terrible experiences. They utter no exclamations of horror or dread, and one feels that they are incapable of inventing the details. They merely tell what they have seen or heard in the same quiet tone with which you might remark that you had a mutton chop for luncheon.

AIRMAN FOJLS DOUBLE DEATH

Chops Away Caught Bomb From Airplane Despite Storm of Lead.

Northern France.—A remarkable feat has earned distinction for the commander of a dirigible who was sent out to destroy with bombs a railway junction occupied by the Germans. Descending low after evading the enemy's searchlights, the dirigible dropped three bombs in rapid succession, but the fourth, after its mechanism had been set going, failed to slide from its tube. The dirigible was in danger of being blown to pieces by its own bomb.

However, the commander boldly climbed out on the framework with an ax in his hand. Under the full glare of the searchlights and pelted with bullets he hacked away the tube and its projectile, only just in time. The bomb exploded 200 feet below.

The dirigible was tossed in all directions, but got away safely, and its purpose was fully accomplished.

GERMANS CHEER THE CZAR

"Hoch der Czar, Dreimal Hoch!" Cry Wounded When Visited by Nicholas.

Petrograd.—During a fortnight's sojourn with his armies at the front Czar Nicholas had the unique experience of hearing lusty German cheers for himself. His majesty visited and spoke to thousands of wounded in the field hospitals. His tour included an inspection of the wards occupied by Germans and Austrians. In one ward, entirely occupied by wounded Germans, the men, who were unable to rise and salute, simultaneously greeted their visitor with "Hoch der Czar, dreimal hoch."

Few Men Left at Home. Bordeaux.—In many small cities and towns of southern France response to the call to colors has been so great that there are, in some cases, twenty women to every man remaining.

STRUGGLE FOR FLAG

French Dragoon Tells of Battle With Germans.

Pomeranian Regiment Makes Desperate Fight to Retain Standard—Sergeant Holds Banner Alone After Comrades Die.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS, (United Press Correspondent.)

Paris.—Although regimental standards are no longer carried in the forefront of the battle, modern methods of warfare have not altogether eliminated those picturesque "fights for the flag" dear to the heart of the novelist and painter. Most of the French and German regiments carry their colors with them, and there have been several desperate fights for these silken trophies, the fiercest recorded being that for the standard of the Sixth Pomeranian regiment, which now hangs in the chapel of the Invalides for the inspection of French sightseers. The story of its capture is told by a French dragoon whose regiment brought back the trophy.

"Under a heavy shell fire," he said, "our guns supporting the dragoons had to move to another position, and the enemy, thinking that we were in retreat, hurried their advance, the Sixth Pomeranians coming up at the double. Suddenly three large shrapnel shells from their own guns burst over the regiment, doing terrible execution and throwing the whole column into confusion.

"It was the right moment for us, and the dragoons charged home with lances. The Germans rallied and formed into a square, but the volleys they fired were not sufficient to break the charge, and we rode over them. Trampled on by the horses, sabered and transfixed by the lances, the Germans fled in wild confusion."

"One little group, however, was rallied by its officers near a small copse.

We did not realize the motive of their resistance until we caught sight of a gold and purple flag fluttering in the breeze. They had rallied to save their flag. We rode up to them and shouted a demand for surrender, but the only reply was a volley which sent 20 horses cantering riderless back to our lines. Our officers ordered a charge in scattering formation, and the gallant little group was ridden down.

"The flag fell from the hands of a German captain who had received a terrible saber gash across the head. It disappeared for a moment in a turmoil of horses and struggling men, and then we saw it again waved defiantly by a German sergeant, who with three other men fought themselves free. They retreated shoulder to shoulder a few yards, and then, with his back to a tree, the old sergeant was left alone with the flag. But he sank to the ground a moment later, his chest transfixed by a lance. He was a brave man."

"When we brought the flag back we saw in golden letters across its torn and blood-stained folds the words, 'Champigny 1871.'"

FOR SEVERE WEATHER

COSSACK COAT HAS CAUGHT FANCY OF FASHION.

Has a Great Deal to Recommend It, Both for Beauty and Real Comfort That It Affords the Wearer.

It is rather remarkable when you think of it that remote Russia has had so much influence on the fashions of the world. The Russian blouse and dolman have so often been played upon and made very popular that they have come to be considered standards. Since this very noticeable influence made itself felt in times of peace, it is no wonder, then, that in present troublous times, with that great nation under the limelight, it is felt increasingly, as evidenced in the great, full-skirted and fur-bordered Cossack coats, that have recently made an appearance.

One such is depicted here, and very modish it is, too, in tan, castor-colored woolen velour, with collar, cuffs and foot banding of otter fur.

In fact, it is double-breasted, with a straight line of closing from neck to hem, buttoned as far as the hip with a close line of rather large cloth-covered buttons. A belt strap from under-arm seam to under-arm seam buttons across the back, holding in a bit of fullness at a slightly empire waist line. Straight wide sleeves are set under kimono shoulder extensions. The skirt

EVENING COAT

This evening coat is a New York design. It is of white velour and black fox. Very narrow long waist line at the back. The bottom is very full and made in square scallop effect; wide fox band at bottom. The fur on the sleeves when brought together gives the effect of a muff. High fur collar scalloped.

SENSIBLE HANDS AND FEET

Women of Today Refuse to Cramp Their Extremities into Coverings That Are Too Small.

An old cartoon of the 80s shows us a group of girls of the period with wasp-like waists, huge bustles and tiny French heels vowing the statue of the Venus de Milo with horror and disgust and commenting upon the size of her waist and feet. In those days there are plenty of women—young as well as middle-aged—who are as perfectly proportioned as that Venus herself or her great rival, the Samothrace of the glorious draperies. Their hands and feet are larger than those of the women of yesterday, as every hootmaker and glovemaker knows, but the hands are far more graceful, expressive, characteristic, the feet much better shaped.

Moreover, no well-bred woman nowadays dreams of attempting to cram her hands or feet into shoes or gloves a size too small. It is "not done," that is all. The modern woman refutes the old French proverb which translated means: "It is necessary to suffer in order to be beautiful."

MAKING AN EVEN SKIRT HEM

Not Hard Thing to Do if Instructions Given Here Are Carefully Followed.

Here is a helpful tip for girls who do their own dressmaking. It is an easy matter to turn up the hem of a dress on one's self if the following directions are followed:

Put on the skirt; rest one end of a yardstick on the floor, and, holding it straight up and down, mark where the other end comes on the skirt with a piece of chalk, going all around the skirt in this way. This will make a mark all around the hips one yard from the floor.

Remove the skirt and, using the yardstick as a measure, turn up the skirt one yard from the mark. This will be absolutely even. If you wish to make the skirt shorter—say two or four inches from the floor—turn it up two or four inches less than a yard from the mark. This plan has proved invaluable in actual experience.

Black Filets Smart.

Black filet veillings are perhaps the foremost of the many types now in favor. Plain black filets are a strong feature. Black filets, with huge velvet squares arranged in border design or else sparsely scattered over the mesh, are smart.

Hexagon and hairline novelities occupy a good position. There is a slightly increased demand for jets de negre brown, taupe and myrtle novelities. New sand colored veillings are shown for wear with sand colored hats. White veillings are in moderate demand for use with smart white hats.

Jet on All Fabrics.

Jet cloths are very much in vogue; they are employed for tunics often, and jet glitters on lace and on thin fabrics set frequently on the side opening of bodices gathered into the shoulder pieces and then reappearing on the tunic.

Huge "Cossack" Coats Show the Russian Influence.

portion measures almost four yards around the lower edge.

What more can be asked so far as style, warmth and comfort are concerned in the way of a winter wrap?—Washington Star.

FOR WORKER IN EMBROIDERY

Old Fashion Is Being Revived With Modern Ideas That Are an Improvement.

The old fashioned embroidery is being revived and improved upon. The lusterless warm wools are relieved with a touch of silk that gives them life. Leaves are done in solid stitch and edged with silk of a lighter shade. The leaves are also veined with the silk. Flowers are edged and sometimes intersected in much the same way with silk. The wool embroidery consequently takes on a new life and beauty foreign to the old wool work of our grandmothers. This work of wool and silk can be done on any materials but those of cotton and linen, unless, of course, the linen or cotton materials be very dark. Silk materials and wool fabrics are excellent for the purpose. Velvet, while sometimes used, is really too heavy for the purpose and is not a good contrast for the lusterless wool. Table runners and cushions are effective when done in wool embroidery, as are also portieres, provided the portieres are lined to conceal the back of the embroidery.

Convenience for the Muff.

Sew inside your muff a small bone ring about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, such as are used for fancy work, attached to a short piece of ribbon. A handkerchief may be drawn through this ring. Gloves may be buttoned into it, and it will securely hold one's veil or even a small parcel.

Square Train.

The square train is shown on some of the new importations. It is especially good when it is used on a frock with a square-cut neck, back and front, just as the long, pointed train was good with a frock in which the V-shaped neck was used.

Silence and Speech

For centuries the Sphinx has been the world's Symbol of Silence.]

Through passing generations, in silent eloquence, this mute monument of the desert has guarded its secret.

A silent, solemn sentinel in the trackless sands, this stately record of a dead race has become a symbol to all nations.

Just as the ancient Sphinx is the world's Symbol of Silence, the modern telephone is the world's Symbol of Speech.

In every civilized land the telephone is in constant use by millions of people.

Last year nearly nine million people in the United States used it every day.

Over a million messages were sent over your telephones right here in the seven mountain states

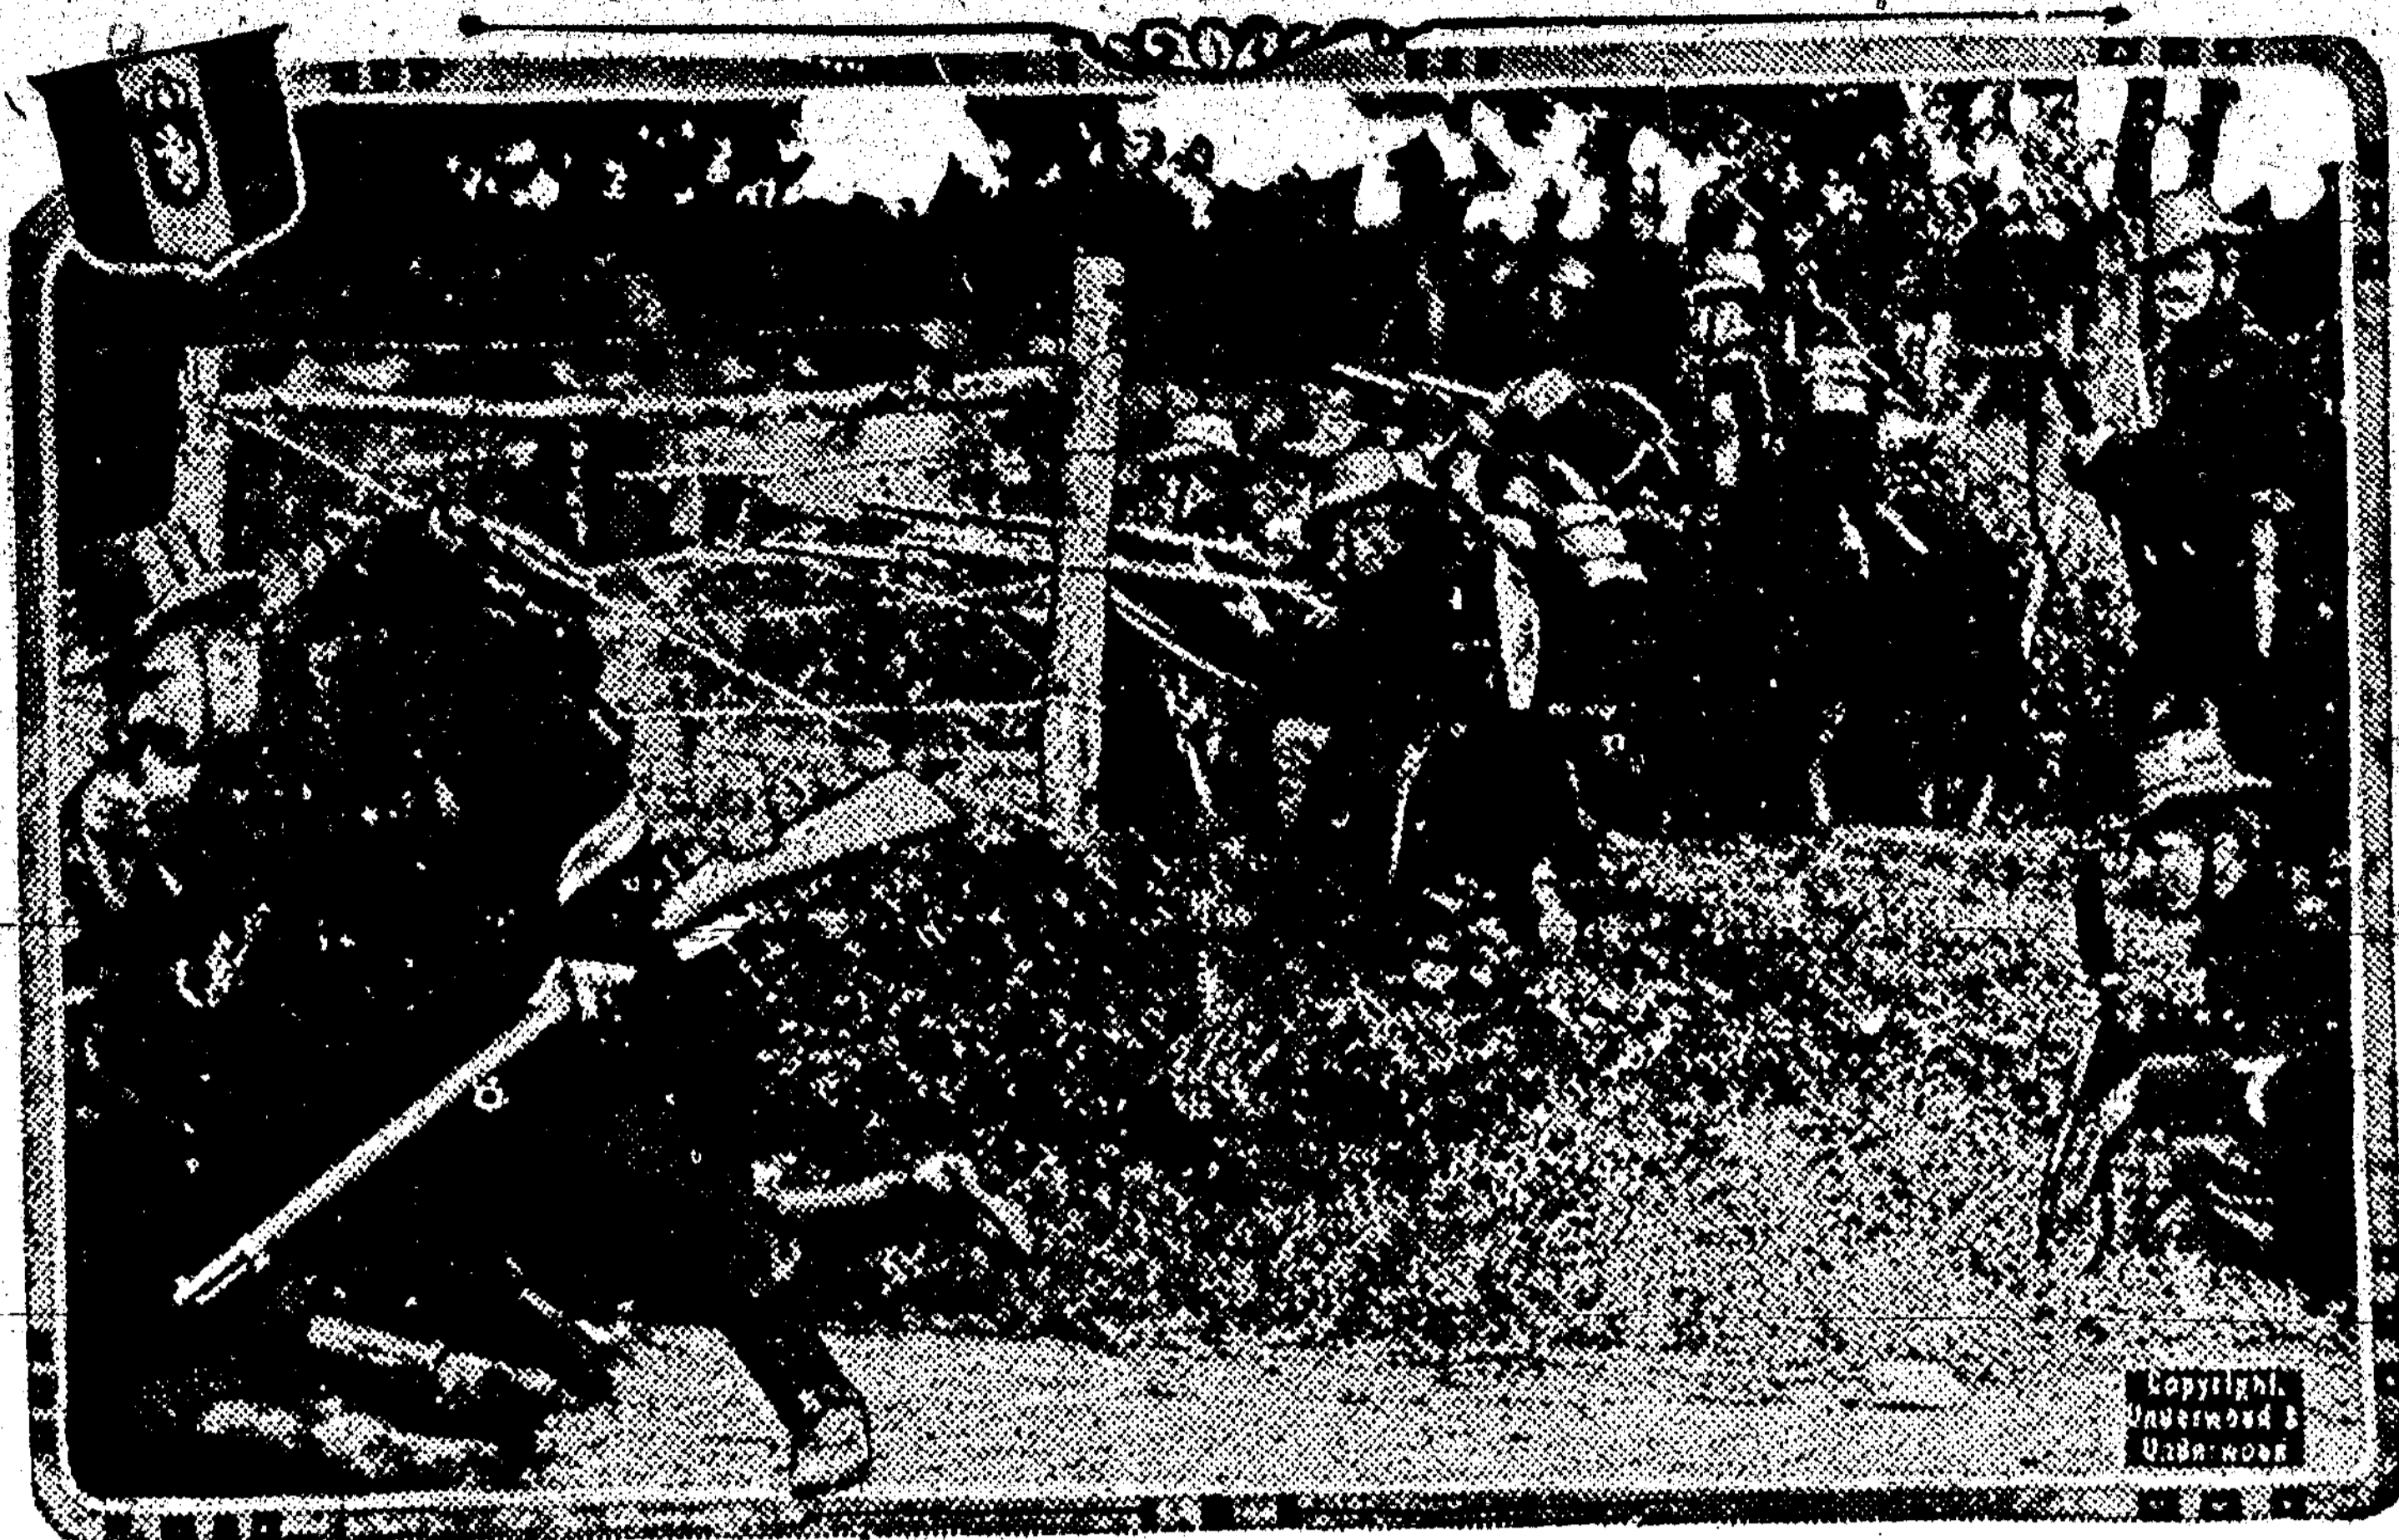

Such a vast and complete system, useful to all the people alike, is only possible through the combination of the capital, skill and labor of a big corporation.

The Bell System has become one of the biggest and most useful corporations in the United States because it serves all the people.

Correspondent Finds Main Army Kept From Atrocities—Outposts in the Country Are Accused of Committing Abuses.

Chicago.—I have just returned from Montdidier, 15 kilometers (nine miles) east of Roye, writes Gabriel Delagarde to the Chicago Daily News. I gleaned there information which tends to show that, while discipline is severely maintained by the German military authorities in the larger communities, the uhlans and scattered outposts in the country districts have committed outrages. I shall give one story illustrating each phase of this situation.

When the Germans reached Compiègne they found the city almost empty of able-bodied men; there being only women, children and aged persons. There were some cases of pillage, but, generally speaking, the invaders conducted themselves well.

Two Hours to Kill Himself.

One Saxon, however, billeted on a house where there was a defenseless young woman, began to court her assiduously. When she resisted his advances he attacked her. She succeeded in escaping and went at once to complain to the commanding officer. The latter accompanied her to the house, where he saw the furniture overturned and every evidence of a violent struggle. The officer turned sternly to the soldier and said:

"I give you just two hours in which to kill yourself. If you are not dead in two hours you will be shot."

A barricade had been erected in the street. The soldier went behind the barricade, fired a revolver bullet into his own head and was buried without ceremony that evening.

While in Montdidier I went, accompanied by a soldier, to interview a young woman whose parents own a large farm close to a village near Roye. She is twenty-five years old and has a sister twenty-four. Her father is old and bent and her mother is about fifty. She has no brothers and all the man employees are in the army.

Thus when about a dozen uhlans came and lodged at the farm there was no able-bodied man to protect the women. The uhlans ate and drank heartily, then began to make remarks which frightened the mother, who ran to hide in the cellar, where she had already concealed her two daughters. Presently the uhlans began to search the house. One came down the first steps to the cellar and shouted in French:

"See here, madame, were there no woman domestics on this farm? Where are they?"

Terrified, the daughters crouched behind a large barrel. Seeing only the mother the uhlans disappeared and all went away.

the simplicity with which the country people relate their terrible experiences. They utter no exclamations of horror or dread, and one feels that they are incapable of inventing the details. They merely tell what they have seen or heard in the same quiet tone with which you might remark that you had a mutton chop for luncheon.

Chops Away Caught Bomb From Aeroplane Despite Storm of Lead.

Northern France.—A remarkable feat has earned distinction for the commander of a dirigible who was sent out to destroy with bombs a railway junction occupied by the Germans. Descending low after evading the enemy's searchlights, the dirigible dropped three bombs in rapid succession, but the fourth, after its mechanism had been set going, failed to slide from its tube. The dirigible was in danger of being blown to pieces by its own bomb.

However, the commander boldly climbed out on the framework with an ax in his hand. Under the full glare of the searchlights and pelted with bullets he hacked away the tube and its projectile, only just in time. The bomb exploded 300 feet below.

The dirigible was tossed in all directions, but got away safely, and its purpose was fully accomplished.

Petrograd.—During a fortnight's sojourn with his armies at the front Czar Nicholas had the unique experience of hearing lusty German cheers for himself. His majesty visited and spoke to thousands of wounded in the field hospitals. His tour included an inspection of the wards occupied by Germans and Austrians. In one ward, entirely occupied by wounded Germans, the men, who were unable to rise and salute, simultaneously greeted their visitor with "Hoch der Czar, dreimal hoch."

French Dragoon Tells of Battle With Germans.

Pomeranian Regiment Makes Desperate Fight to Retain Standard—Sergeant Holds Banner Alone After Comrades Die.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS, (United Press Correspondent.)

Paris.—Although regimental standards are no longer carried in the forefront of the battle, modern methods of warfare have not altogether eliminated those picturesque "fights for the flag" dear to the heart of the novelist and painter. Most of the French and German regiments carry their colors with them, and there have been several desperate fights for these silken trophies, the fiercest recorded being that for the standard of the Sixth Pomeranian regiment, which now hangs in the chapel of the Invalides for the inspection of French sight-seers. The story of its capture is told by a French dragoon whose regiment brought back the trophy.

"Under a heavy shell fire," he said, "our guns supporting the dragoons had to move to another position, and the enemy, thinking that we were in retreat, hurried their advance, the Sixth Pomeranians coming up at the double. Suddenly three large shrapnel shells from their own guns burst over the regiment, doing terrible execution and throwing the whole column into confusion.

"It was the right moment for us, and the dragoons charged home with lances. The Germans rallied and formed into a square, but the volleys they fired were not sufficient to break the charge, and we rode over them. Trampled on by the horses, sabered and transfixed by the lances, the Germans fled in wild confusion.

"One little group, however, was rallied by its officers near a small copse.

We did not realize the motive of their resistance until we caught sight of a gold and purple flag fluttering in the breeze. They had rallied to save their flag. We rode up to them and shouted a demand for surrender, but the only reply was a volley which sent 20 horses cantering riderless back to our lines. Our officers ordered a charge, in scattering formation, and the gallant little group was ridden down.

"The flag fell from the hands of a German captain who had received a terrible saber gash across the head. It disappeared for a moment in a turmoil of horses and struggling men, and then we saw it again waved defiantly by a German sergeant, who with three other men fought themselves free. They retreated shoulder to shoulder a few yards, and then, with his back to a tree, the old sergeant was left alone with the flag. But he sank to the ground a moment later, his chest transfixed by a lance. He was a brave man.

"When we brought the flag back we saw in golden letters across its torn and blood-stained folds the words, 'Champigny 1871.'

FOR SEVERE WEATHER

COSSACK COAT HAS CAUGHT FANCY OF FASHION.

Has a Great Deal to Recommend It, Both for Beauty and Real Comfort That It Affords the Wearer.

It is rather remarkable when you think of it that remote Russia has had so much influence on the fashions of the world. The Russian blouse and dolman have so often been played upon and made very popular that they have come to be considered standards. Since this very noticeable influence made itself felt in times of peace, it is no wonder, then, that in present troublous times, with that great nation under the limelight, it is felt increasingly, as evidenced in the great, full-skirted and fur-bordered Cossack coats that have recently made an appearance.

One such is depicted here, and very modish it is, too, in tan, castor-colored woolen velour, with collar, cuffs and foot banding of otter fur.

In fact, it is double-breasted, with a straight line of closing from neck to hem, buttoned as far as the hip with a close line of rather large cloth-covered buttons. A belt strap from under-arm seam to under-arm seam buttons across the back, holding in a bit of fullness at a slightly empire waist line. Straight wide sleeves are set under kimono shoulder extensions. The skirt portion measures almost four yards around the lower edge.

SENSIBLE HANDS AND FEET

Women of Today Refuse to Cramp Their Extremities into Coverings That Are Too Small.

An old cartoon of the 80s shows us a group of girls of the period with wasp-like waists, huge bustles and tiny French heels vowing the statue of the Venus de Milo with horror and disgust and commenting upon the size of her waist and feet. In these days there are plenty of women— young as well as middle-aged—who are as perfectly proportioned as that Venus herself or her great rival, the Samothrace of the glorious draperies. Their hands and feet are larger than those of the women of yesterday, as every hutmaker and glovemaker knows, but the hands are far more graceful, expressive, characteristic, the feet much better shaped.

Moreover, no well-bred woman nowadays dreams of attempting to cram her hands or feet into shoes or gloves a size too small. It is "not done," that is all. The modern woman refutes the old French proverb which translated means: "It is necessary to suffer in order to be beautiful."

MAKING AN EVEN SKIRT HEM

Not Hard Thing to Do if Instructions Given Here Are Carefully Followed.

Here is a helpful tip for girls who do their own dressmaking. It is an easy matter to turn up the hem of a dress on one's self if the following directions are followed:

Put on the skirt; rest one end of a yardstick on the floor, and holding it straight up and down, mark where the other end comes on the skirt with a piece of chalk, going all around the skirt in this way. This will make a mark all around the hips one yard from the floor.

Remove the skirt and, using the yardstick as a measure, turn up the skirt one yard from the mark. This will be absolutely even. If you wish to make the skirt shorter—say two or four inches from the floor—turn it up two or four inches less than a yard from the mark. This plan has proved invaluable in actual experience.

Black Filets Smart.

Black filet veillings are perhaps the foremost of the many types now in favor. Plain black filets are a strong feature. Black filets, with huge velvet squares arranged in border design or else sparsely scattered over the mesh, are smart.

Hexagon and hairline novelties occupy a good position. There is a slightly increased demand for tete de negre brown, taupe and myrtle novelties. New sand colored veillings are shown for wear with sand colored hats. White veillings are in moderate demand for use with smart white hats.

Jet on All Fabrics.

Jet cloths are very much in vogue; they are employed for tunics often, and jet glitters on lace and on thin fabrics set frequently on the side opening of bodices gathered into the shoulder pieces and then reappearing on the tunic.

FOR WORKER IN EMBROIDERY

Old Fashion Is Being Revived With Modern Ideas That Are an Improvement.

The old fashioned embroidery is being revived and improved upon. The lusterless warm wools are relieved with a touch of silk that gives them life. Leaves are done in solid stitch and edged with silk of a lighter shade. The leaves are also veined with the silk. Flowers are edged and sometimes intersected in much the same way with silk. The wool embroidery consequently takes, on a new life and beauty foreign to the old wool work of our grandmothers. This work of wool and silk can be done on any materials but those of cotton and linen, unless, of course, the linen or cotton materials be very dark. Silk materials and wool fabrics are excellent for the purpose. Velvet, while sometimes used, is really too heavy for the purpose and is not a good contrast for the lusterless wool. Table runners and cushions are effective when done in wool embroidery, as are also portieres, provided the portieres are lined to conceal the back of the embroidery.

Convenience for the Muff.

Sew inside your muff a small bone ring about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, such as are used for fancy work, attached to a short piece of ribbon. A handkerchief may be drawn through this ring. Gloves may be buttoned into it, and it will securely hold one's veil or even a small parcel.

Square Train.

The square train is shown on some of the new importations. It is especially good when it is used on a frock with a square-cut neck, back and front, just as the long, pointed train was good with a frock in which the V-shaped neck was used.
