INEXCUSABLE CARELESSNESS

SAFETY AT SEA IS THE ACT INVOLVED

The charge of "inexcusable carelessness in the enactment of an important statute has again been sustained against the Democratic administration.

The error occurs in a statute directly affecting the safety of human lives. The "safety at sea" act, passed to "promote the welfare of American seaman" and to prevent if possible a repetition of the "Titanic" steamship disaster with its appalling loss of life a little over three years ago, failed to clearly fix the date it should become effective. Two different days were named for enforcement, one four months later than the other.

Section 25 of the act revises the regulations regarding lifeboats, life rafts, life belts and similar equipment for preventing loss of life in case of accident, and declares that the regulations must be enforced and obeyed "on and after July 1, 1915 on steamers navigating the ocean or any lake, bay or sound of the United States."

Section 18 of the same act contains a squarely contradictory provision declaring that "this act shall take effect, as to all vessels of the United States, eight months after its passage," etc.

Two conflicting opinions have been rendered by legal officers of the administration on this statute. The Solicitor of the Department of Commerce first found July 1, 1915 as the date Congress intended the law to operate as to American vessels. The Attorney General reversed this opinion and ruled that Congress intended November 4, 1915, as the time for enforcement.

When the "Titanic" sank and carried so many hundreds to an ocean grave, the world was shocked to discover the inadequacy of laws the enforcement of which would have greatly reduced the number of fatalities. There was a universal demand for the immediate enactment of better laws to safeguard ocean travel.

It is shocking now to find that in the statute enacted in response to this demand there is an error that leaves in doubt the time of its operation, and has made it necessary for an individual rather than Congress to determine when the law shall be enforced.

A blunder of this type is monumental. In all parliamentary procedure it is elementary that a definite date for the enforcement of a law is practically as important as the signature of the President. Combined, the two constitute the electric current which permits the machinery of the law to be set in motion.

Many members of Congress and others familiar with the history of this "safety at sea" act believed that it would go into effect July 1, and are surprised and disappointed that under the opinion of the Attorney General it will not begin to operate until November, after the season for water travel is over.

In most instances a failure to fix definitely the date a statute shall be enforced involves only financial considerations. But in a law designed for the protection of humanity, lives are at stake and the necessity for the highest degree of care becomes imperative.

IT LOOKED GOOD TO HIM

James W. Young, an old time Lincoln County man, but who for the past few years has resided in Tucuman, was here the first of the week. Mr. Young was on his way to Clouderoft to spend a few weeks and was accompanied by his wife and two small children. He was greatly surprised at the progress the town has made in the last few years and declared that Carrizozo looked good to him.

SEVERELY BURNED

News comes from Alamogordo that Mrs. Geo. Weigle, Sr., was very severely burned last Saturday while washing. The story is that she had put gasoline in the wash water as usual, and the gasoline floating on top of the water caught fire. Her arms are said to have been burned badly and her hair singed. Besides burns on her face, Mrs. Weigle has several friends and acquaintances in Carrizozo and has visited here a number of times.

INCOME TAX LAW IN SUPREME COURT

The Outlook has recently published several articles dealing with the crudities of the present administration and among these were a few articles about the short comings of the Income Tax Law passed by the Democratic Congress and made a part of the tariff bill. We have repeatedly said that the courts would have to correct many of the blunders of the present administration and it seems that our predictions are coming true from the following despatch from Wash., D. C.

Washington, June 26.—Papers were filed here today in the first attack in the supreme court on the constitutionality of the federal income tax law which promises to be the most important case before the court next term. Counsel for John F. and Horace E. Dodge of Detroit, Mich., filed a brief argument attacking the surtax on income of individuals.

Three main reasons were assigned for claiming the surtax provision of the law is invalid. Stockholders in corporations, it is asserted, when computing their surtaxes, are subjected to liability for the gains and profits of the corporations which have not been divided or distributed.

It is charged also that the provision vests in the secretary of the treasury, and arbitrary power of determining, without a hearing, whether any corporation has accumulated a greater undivided surplus than is reasonable for the needs of the business.

A third reason is that the provision permits corporations to accumulate and withhold from surtax taxation such part of their profits as may be reasonably necessary for the needs and purposes of the business and does not accord such business principles to individuals and partnerships. It is urged that corporations are thus favored by a "most invidious discrimination."

TERRORS OF THE NOISY FOURTH

Many or Killed and Wounded in the U. S. Incident to Fourth of July Celebrations

IT OUGHT NOT TO BE A DAY OF GENERAL APPREHENSION

During the past nine years in the United States there have been killed, incident to fourth of July celebrations, one thousand seven hundred and nineteen human beings. Thirty-seven thousand one hundred and sixty-six have been more or less seriously injured by the ill-advised and largely unrestrained use of explosives and firearms—deadly implements in the hands of young boys and girls ignorant of the dangerous fires with which they were playing. All this disaster has been brought on by the so called celebration of the declaration of national peace and independence.

This roll of victims represents several times the losses in killed, and a considerable number of times the losses in wounded, incident to the Spanish American war, and more than the total number of lives lost in both the Spanish American War (in Cuba and the Philippines) and the subsequent Philippine Insurrection. It exceeds by more than thirty four thousand the number of wounded in both these wars. And yet, while we hear a great outcry about the inhumanity of war and the accompanying loss of life, we permit from year to year a form of celebration which in the past nine years has exceeded in killed and wounded the losses of the wars in which we have been engaged during the past forty years.

If we had each year small military campaigns which resulted in two or three hundred men being killed on a single day and four or five thousand men being wounded on the same occasion, it would not only cause the most widespread excitement but would give rise to the earnest efforts to abate a situation which resulted in such a loss of life. In the matter of Fourth of July celebrations, however, while we do seem to be making progress, the people have not yet awakened to the fact that a more safe and rational method of celebrating the day should be adopted.

It ought not to be a day of general apprehension on the part of parents throughout the country, or a day the night of which is marked by hospitals filled with wounded children, hundreds of homes in mourning, and thousands filled with anxiety as to the outcome of a method of our Government, which is, to say the least ill-advised and little tended to promote a proper appreciation of the day.

The fourth of July celebration should be of such a character as to impress upon our people patriotism and love of country. So far as adults are concerned, the celebration is of a much more rational character than is the case with children. These unfortunates, only too often, are turned loose for a day of reckless enjoyment, and are left free to make all sorts of experiments with dangerous explosives, firearms and various devices well tended to destroy eyes, nip off fingers, and produce countless forms of unsightly permanent disability. If today anyone should propose the inauguration of a celebration in any way resembling our present Fourth of July we are inclined to think he would be met with the strongest disapproval on the part of the press and people generally.

We want to build up among our children a proper and truthful appreciation of the history of this country. We wish to implant in them and develop to the greatest extent possible a love of country, pride in its institutions, and a determination always to play well their part in its affairs. Consequently the celebration of the Fourth of July, so far as the children are concerned, should be of such character as will aid us in carrying out this general purpose.

Let there be noise and fireworks, if necessary, so conducted as to minimize the loss of life and injuries, but let us strive to replace this feature of the celebration by others equally agreeable and far more instructive.

Is it not high time for all of us to unite in an effort to make the Fourth of July a great day for implanting in our youth true ideas of patriotism and responsibility? To do it in such a way as to strip the Fourth of unnecessary danger and surround it by conditions which will impress upon the receptive minds of children what it means to be a citizen of this country, something of what their responsibilities are and the necessity for preparing to meet them?

Let us impress upon our children the desirability of peace, but let us also, by all means, impress upon them the necessity for reasonable preparedness to meet the situation by which we may be confronted and the necessity for them, individually, preparing to play his or her part. There is no more appropriate day for a special effort in this direction than the Fourth of July.

TAKES UP NEW WORK

Rev. R. L. Day, who recently resigned as pastor of the local Baptist church to accept the position as state evangelist for New Mexico, stopped over here the latter part of last week on his way from El Paso to Corona where the new work will begin. Rev. Day will hold meetings throughout the state for the first four months of service, and will be assisted by the Rev. Oliver and two splendid singers. It is the intention of the new evangelist to make most of the important towns in the state by the latter part of October.

SOME HOT

For the past week Carrizozo has had some extremely hot weather, accompanied by scorching winds that are withering the plants and grass. The thermometer has registered as high as 101-2. If the rainy season delays its coming much longer it is feared by many that the grass crop will be very light.

TAKE OPTION ON WILDCAT PROPERTIES

Capitalists Take Option on Wildcat and Other Valuable Mining Properties at White Oaks

WILL LIKELY PURCHASE AT AN EARLY DATE

It is reported that Messrs McDonald and Stanton, with possibly other parties, have taken an option on the Wildcat mining properties at White Oaks, in addition to the Old Abe and Wilson and Stevens properties, on which options were taken several days ago. It is presumed these options will very soon be developed into contracts for sales and that as soon as the business arrangements are gotten out of the way work will begin in dead earnest. It is said that in these deals over a quarter of a million dollars will be added to the purchase prices in addition of new machinery and other improvements to the various properties.

With the capital behind these gentlemen which we understand is ready to invest, it may be safely prophesied that White Oaks will in a short time be a vastly better and more active mining camp than it has ever been in the history of the historic old town. With the improvements to the properties planned by the optionees, many additional people will be given work, and when active mining operations begin, it is not at all improbable that the present population of a few hundred will rapidly grow in numbers until the camp of Hearst's Desire will be a bustling community of over 2000 people.

The Outlook hopes to be able to lay before its readers all the facts in connection with this deal, in its next issue, as it is one of the biggest deals pulled off in this section in many years and means much to the development of Lincoln county, as well as Carrizozo.

VOCABULARY TO BE PAID FOR

Youth Came Up to Qualifications Required, and Boss Had to Be Correspondingly Liberal.

The employer who was willing to pay three dollars a week for an office boy advertised for a boy. About 100 replied. To the most likely looking lad he said:

"You look all right, but I must test your vocabulary. You know what 'vocabulary' means?"

"Yes, sir."

"Very well, I want a boy with a vocabulary. My customers are well-bred, educated people, and I must have a boy who can answer them with something more intelligent than 'Uh-huh,' 'Yop' and 'I guess so.'"

He put several questions to the boy, and received satisfactory replies.

"You will do," he said. "You may go to work now."

"I beg your pardon," said the amazing boy, "but there is one example of my vocabulary that you have not heard."

"Well, what is it?"

"I am sorry, sir, but I could not think of using this kind of language for three dollars a week. It is worth five dollars."

The employer concluded that it was, and paid it.

A litigant by default, whose wife had obtained a divorce, was somewhat in his cups when he called at the office of William M. McKay, court stenographer, and asked to be shown a transcript of his wife's testimony.

"I haven't time to read it to you now," said McKay. "I'm very busy."

"Well, I wanna have that divorce an' (hic) null'd," he said. "Lemme see the book; I can (hic) read it."

So McKay passed him the tablet containing his shorthand notes, and pointed out the case to him. The litigant by default focused his attention on the pothooks, dips, spurs and angles, and carried the book to the window to get a better light, scowling in an unwonted mental effort. Finally he brought the book back to McKay.

"Ish that how it (hic) is?" he asked. "That's exactly how it is," said McKay.

And then the litigant by default left the room, evidently greatly impressed, if not enlightened.—St. Joseph News Press.

"Well, I have reconsidered the matter," explained the mother. "I still have a bitter grudge against him, and for that reason I am anxious to become his mother-in-law. See?"

WHIM WHAMS

In earth, we dodge him while we can. But for him we all fall. The undertaker is the man who overtakes us all.

The only thing unlucky about having thirteen at the table is having just enough for twelve to eat.

Some people are so green when they go to the country that they have to be told when there is a shunk around.

It is said that the Santa Fe city is being forced to give up the fat go because it is becoming with a reach of the middle classes. We pay the sorrow of the rich.

The news that the press of physicians are going on sight to inspire some scientist to invent a heap and nutritious dinner tablet to be taken with water three times a day.

Feathered military is a bar between woman and heaven, according to an El Paso preacher. She should sigh for the wings of a dove should not desire them on her Sunday hat.

A Quay county exchange says: "W. W. Wilbourn has another nose with the blind stagers." Is it a fact that horses are coming down to the level of man? We thought the human race was the only ones whited to drink.

It is funny what a difference a few years make. The girl who used to chew your "wax" in school while you took a whiff at her "al day sucker" now has a daughter who carries her individual dressing cup so she won't get germs in her mouth.

An Albuquerque man remembered recently that the day was the tenth anniversary of his wedding and he took home so he flowers and candy to his wife and gave her a kiss. And it took four doctors five days to restore the poor woman from the effect of the shock.

An editor friend of ours told us last week that one of his subscribers said he just took the paper in order to help the editor out. Probably the same benefactor buys meat at the meat market to help the butcher out; postage stamps at the postoffice to help the postmaster out, buys a bottle of painkiller to help the druggist out, and will probably die some day just in order to help the undertaker and the whole community out.

An Illinois exchange contains the following: "One third of the fools in the country think they can beat a lawyer expounding the laws. One-half think they can beat the doctor in healing the sick. Two-thirds of them think they can put the minister in the hole expounding the gospel, and all of them think they can beat the editor running a paper."

POLITICAL AGITATORS

There never was a time in the history of this nation when we needed statesmen more or agitators less than at the present moment. The opportunities now afforded us on land and sea demand the best there is in statecraft and the possibilities that are confronting us call for national issues that unite the people, build industry and expand trade. The agricultural and industrial development of this nation has suffered severely at the hands of agitators who have sent torpedoes crashing into the port side of business and whose neglect of the interests of the farmer makes them little less than political criminals. We want no more of these evil spirits to predominate in government. Too long their hysterical cry has sent a shiver down the spinal column of industry. Too long have the political agitators capitalized strife, pillaged progress and murdered opportunity. An industrial corpse is not a desirable thing, a crippled business an achievement or neglect an accomplishment about which any representative of the government has a right to boast.

Issues that Breed Agitators Should be Eliminated.

The political agitator must be eliminated from public life before thoughtful consideration can be given to a constructive program in government. The liquor question is the most prolific breeding ground for agitators and whether pro or anti, the hatch is equally as undesirable. This article is in no sense a discussion of the liquor question but deals solely and by way of illustration with the political products of that issue. Other subjects will be dealt with in the order of their importance.

In the history of our government the liquor issue has never produced a constructive statesman worth mentioning and it never will. It has sent more freaks to Congress, Lilliputians to the Senate and incompetents to office than any other political issue under the sun.

The recent experience of the English Parliament which lashed itself into a fury over the liquor question has a lesson that it is well for the farmers of this nation to observe; for the subject in some form or other is constantly before the public for solution and oftentimes to the exclusion of more important problems to the American plowmen.

Too Many Political Drunkards.

Lloyd-George, the Prohibition leader of Europe who led the prohibition agit in England, has declared that he will never again take a drink politically and there are many American politicians—pro and anti—who would render their country a service by climbing on the water wagon or signing a pledge of political temperance. Too often our legislative halls are turned into political bar rooms and many of the members become intoxicated on liquor discussions. We have too many political drunkards—pro and anti—in our public affairs. No one who is a slave to the political liquor habit is quite so capable of dealing with the business affairs of government as the sober and industrious. We have few public men in this day who are strong enough to resist the temptation of strong drink politically and when the demon Rum once becomes firmly entrenched in the mind of a politician, he is less capable of meeting the demands for constructive statesmanship now confronting this nation.

We have in this country too many red-nosed politicians—both pro and anti. A candidate with political delirium tremens, a preacher with political snakes in his boots and an agitator drunk on the liquor question are the saddest sights in civilization and they should all be forced to take the political Keeley Cure.

It is far more important in government to make it easier for those who toll to eat than to make it more difficult for a few toppers to drink. There is not one person in one hundred of our rural population that ever touches liquor but we all eat three times a day.

OPERATION OF A ROAD DRAG

Here are some simple lessons worth considering, which I have learned by years of experience with the road drag, writes John K. Goodman in Progressive Farmer.

1. Make your drag reversible (i. e., to move dirt right or left) by altering the hitch. Have the hind section about five-sixths the length of the front one; and face both front and rear sections entire length with iron or steel.

2. For best results under varying conditions of road surface as to dry, damp, hard or soft, I find it pays to have a man along at the end of a rope attached to the rear end of drag to properly steer the machine, and counteract its tendency to slide around hard bumps which need trimming off and smoothing. It is not so easy a matter as talking about it, for "one man (the driver) to rightly direct the course and work of the drag by stepping from point to point, as common directions go; in fact, oftentimes impossible. Then the driver's weight is not always needed on the drag, but can be there in an instant when required.

IT SURPRISED HIM.

It seems a little unfair for us to pay interest to keep our business going when we have due us in amounts from $1.50 up, enough to pay all we owe. MESSIAH'S KINGDOM TO BE IN-VISIBLE.

Luka 17:20-37—June 7.
"The Kingdom of God is in your midst."—
Verse 21.

THE Pharisees heard of the claim that Jesus was the long-promised King, and they derided Him. They considered Jesus a deceiver and His followers dupes. Our lesson tells how they attempted to expose what they supposed was a deception. They publicly asked Him, When will God's Kingdom Come? Jesus answered that God's Kingdom would not come with observation. That is to say, when it comes people will not see it; for it will be God's Power exerted everywhere.

Had the translators noticed carefully, they would have guarded against saying that God's Kingdom was within those whom Jesus had designated hypocrites, whited sepulchres, etc. A closer examination shows that the text would better be translated, "The Kingdom of God is in your midst."

Pharisees Questioning Jesus

A kingdom in always represented by its king. Jesus, the King, was present, but they did not recognize Him. Similarly, throughout the Gospel Age, His Church has been undiscerned by the world. "The world knoweth us not, even as it knew Him not." Christ and the Church in the flesh have been only the Kingdom class preparing for investiture of authority in God's due time.

"Days of the Son of Man."

Turning to His disciples Jesus said, "The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and ye shall not see it. And when they shall say unto you, See here; or, see there; go not after them, nor follow them. For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so also shall the Son of Man be in His Day."

This is better understood when we translate the Greek word antrape as shining, instead of lightning. Evidently our Lord referred to the sun. The Day of Christ in the Millennium; and His statement was one of His "dark sayings," respecting which He promised that in due time the Holy Spirit would grant enlightenment. This portion is now becoming clear.

Then, to indicate that these things belonged to a distant time, Jesus explained that first He must suffer many things and be rejected of that nation. Coming back to the signs of His presence, He declared, "As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of Man."

Here we have something definite. At the time for the establishment of the Kingdom, everything will go along quietly and orderly. Just as before the Deluge and the destruction of Sodom. Then mankind ate, drank, married, built, planted, as usual. These things are mentioned merely to indicate that the world will have no outward sign of Christ's Second Presence.

The Deluge and Sodom's Destruction.
Everywhere the Bible foretells that Messiah's Kingdom is to be established upon the wreck of our present institutions. It is this wreck that Jesus illustrated by the Deluge and Sodom's destruction. His own presence is to be unknown to the world until the trouble is precipitated.

The Time of Trouble is frequently described as a burning of the world, and all the records of Christendom express the thought that the earth is to be burned. They overlook the fact that the "heavens" are to be burned in the symbolical language of the Bible, the earth represents the social order; the sea, the restless, discontented masses; and the heavens, the ecclesiastical powers. St. Peter declares that these will pass away with great confusion, and that instead will come new heavens and a new earth. (2 Peter 3:10-13). The new heavens will be the Church in glory; the new earth, the social order under Messiah's Kingdom.

Saints on the House-top.

The Lord seems to assure us that all His faithful ones will be before the

Lot's Flight

The house is the House of God, and those on the housetop are God's most saintly people, and these men shall witness the necessity for flight, and are warned not to seek to save any of the stuff—social privileges, honor of men, small offices—deacon, elder, etc.

In the flight from Sodom, Lot and his family were warned to hasten, and not even to look back. So the Lord's people now are to "see out of Babylon." Lot's wife, disobeying, failed to escape. The Lord applies this illustration to His people and urges that their flight be with a full renunciation of the things of the present.

Whoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it. Whoever will lose his life will thereby preserve it—gaining the life everlasting.

BANKERS URGED TO CO-OPERATE WITH FARMERS

SOUL MATERIAL HAS ENTERED THE BANK VAULTS OF THE NATION.

The Bank a Financial Power House to the Community.

By Peter Radford.

One of the greatest opportunities for the business life of the nation lies in practical co-operation of the country banks with the farmer in building agriculture and the adventure is laden with greater possibilities than any forward movement now before the American public.

A few bankers have loaned money to farmers at a low rate of interest, and oftentimes without compensation, to buy blooded livestock, build silos, fertilize the land, secure better seed, hold their products for a better market price, etc. The banker in contributing toward improving the grade of livestock; the quality of the seed and the fertility of the soil, plants in the agricultural life of the community a fountain of profit, that, like Tennyson's brook, runs on and on forever. Community Progress a Bank Account.

The time was when money loaned on such a basis would severely test the sanity of the banker; such transactions would pain the directors, like a blow in the face. A cashier who would dare to cast bread upon waters that did not return buttered side up in time for annual dividends would have to give way to a more capable man. This does not necessarily mean that the bankers are getting any better or that the milk of human kindness is being imbibed more freely by our financiers. It indicates that the bankers are getting wiser, becoming more able financiers and the banking industry more competent. The vision of the builder is crowding out the spirit of the pawnbroker. A light has been turned on a new world of investment and no usurer ever received as large return on the investment as these progressive bankers, who made loans to uplift industry. The bankers have always been liberal city builders, but they are now building agriculture.

A Col'ar With a Soul.

It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial life to find so many dollars with souls. When a dollar is approached to perform a task that does not directly yield the highest rate of interest, we usually hear the rustle of the dollar's wings as it soars upward, when a dollar is requested to return at the option of the borrower, it usually appeals to the Goddess of Liberty for its contractual rights; when a dollar is asked to expand in volume to suit the requirements of industry, it usually talks solemnly of its redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new back of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming.

God Almighty's Noblemen.

These bankers are God Almighty's noblemen. Heaven lent earth the spirit of these men and the angels will help them roll in place the cornerstones of empires. They are not philanthropists; they are wise bankers. The spirit of the builder has given them a new vision, and wisdom has visited upon them business foresight.

The cackle of the hen, the low of kine and the rustle of growing crops echo in every bank vault in the nation and the shrewd banker knows that he can more effectively increase his deposits by putting blue blood in the veins of livestock; quality in the yield of the soil and value into agricultural products, than by business handshakes, overdrafts and gaudy calendars.

PROBLEM OF AGRICULTURE

TAKING the community into partnership with the bank, opening up a ledger account with progress, making thrift and enterprise, stockholders and the prosperity of the country an asset to the bank, put behind it stability far more desirable than a letterhead bearing the names of all the distinguished citizens of the community. The bank is the financial power house of the community and blessed is the locality that has an up-to-date banker.

POLITICAL PRAYER MEETINGS

It is a sad day for Christianity when the church bells call the communicants together for a political prayer meeting. Such gatherings mark the high tide of religious political fanaticism, put bitterness into the lives of men; fan the flames of class hatred and destroy Christian influence in the community. The spirit actuating such meetings is anarchistic, un-Christlike and dangerous to both church and state.

The success of the nation is in the hands of the farmer.

Work for the best and the best will rise up and reward you.

Tenant farming is just one thing and it is without a day day.

It is an admitted economic fact that there can be no permanent prosperity without a permanent agriculture.

Agriculture is recognized as the greatest of all industries and a prosperous, progressive and enlightened agricultural population is the surest safeguard of civilization.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself." — Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

HILLEN'S MARCH TO GALLOWS.

Born in Cheyenne, Wyoming, July 13, 1889. Ran away from his home in San Francisco when 14 years old. Forged checks, using his father's name. Later forged uncle's name to checks.

Found guilty for first time and sentenced to serve one year in Utah penitentiary. Robbed a number of homes on a trip to the East. Robbed stores in many cities including Chicago, Philadelphia, Kansas City and San Francisco. Joined the U. S. army. Deserted from the army. Came to Colorado as a "hobo" in October, 1915.

Desperate for money, he and a mysterious friend known as "Curley" planned crimes and procured revolvers. Performed Denver, with "Curley" during the week of Oct. 20, 1915; holding up a score of men, taking money only and returning jewelry.

Murdered Thomas Chase, a Denver real estate man in cold blood, because Chase "smiled at him" and "didn't move fast enough to suit him."

Shot Pullman Conductor Clark. Robbed A. D. Hensley's grocery at 617 Twentieth street, Oct. 20, 1915. Arrested Oct. 26. Confessed to the murder of Chase and numerous other sensational crimes. Oct. 27, 1915. Convicted of murder in the first degree, Dec. 18, 1915. Sentenced by District Court to be hanged some time in the week of April 20, 1916.

Appeal denied by Colorado Supreme Court, March 1, 1916. Again sentenced to be hanged, some time in the week beginning June 20, 1916.

Appeal made by committee of representative women, to Board of Pardons, to commute sentence to life imprisonment, June 16, 1916. Board refused, same afternoon. Appeals made to Governor Carlson by condemned man's uncle, R. H. Hillen, for commutation.

Hillen's last hope of executive clemency died, as governor refused even to see his beautiful sister, Irene Hillen, June 23, 1916. Hillen looks for the last time on his sister's face, when she visits him in the death cell in Cañon City penitentiary, afternoon of June 24, 1916. Hillen hangs, night of June 24, 1916.

Cañon City, Colo., June 25.—Harry Hillen, Denver "boy bandit," slayer of Thomas Chase in October, 1913, last night took the step on the gallows drop that ended his life. A career of lawlessness, marked by half a hundred crimes, was closed when he walked upon the little square platform in the state penitentiary death chamber; a moment later he was dangling from the end of a rope. He was pronounced dead at 10:30 o'clock.

Blamed Deed on Companions. Until the final minute of his life Hillen maintained his innocence of the murder of Chase in Denver a year and a half ago. He blamed that deed upon two companions, youths who had helped him in other crimes to which he confessed to the Denver police.

The last hour of Hillen's life began with the assembling of witnesses and officials in the penitentiary. The slayer had made his spiritual peace earlier in the day, with ministrations by Prison Chaplain Blake and the Rev. C. P. Hiley, a Baptist pastor. His sister, Miss Irene Hillen, had spent most of the day with him, bringing confirmation of the news that the governor had refused to interfere in the case.

His spiritual adviser, Chaplain Blake and the Rev. Mr. Hiley, stepped forward, and in tones audible only to the man between them, commended his soul to his Maker. Their rites performed, they retired.

Then the black cap—and from the group came shudders. Heads were averted and remained so until the end. In a twinkling the guards had hobbled the prisoner, leaving him just enough foot freedom to step backward once more. His arms and wrists were fastened to his sides and the guards adjusted the knot carefully and then they stepped back. A low word of command was given from some one in uniform and, obedient though he knew it was fatal, Hillen took the step. He felt the little platform sink slowly and he braced himself rigidly.

The platform's sinking released an 800-pound weight in a side room. The weight fell, carrying with it the other end of the rope which was stretched over a series of pulleys.

The prison physician, Dr. Hart Goodloe, stepped forward and examined the pulse. Shortly he pronounced Harry Hillen dead.

CELEBRATED HIS PRIVATE FOURTH

How Grandfather Watts Recognized Day of Signing of Independence Declaration.

Grandfather Watts used to tell us boys That a Fourth wa'n't a Fourth without any noise. He would say, with a thump of his hickory stick, That it made an American right down sick.

To see his sons, on the Nation's Day, Sit 'round in a listless sort of way, With no oration and no train band, No firework show and no rook-beer stand,

While his grandsons, before they were out of bids, Were ashamed—great Scott! to fire off squibs.

And so each Independence morn, Grandfather Watts took his powder horn, And the flintlock-gun his father had When he fought under Schuyler, a country lad,

And Grandfather Watts would start and tramp Ten miles to the woods at Beaver Camp; For Grandfather Watts used to say—and scowl— That a decent chipmunk, or woodchuck, or owl

Was better company, friendly or shy, Than folks who didn't keep Fourth of July.

And so he would pull his hat down on his brow, And march for the woods, sou' east-by sou'!

But once—ah! long, long years ago, For grandfather's gone where good men go— One hot, hot Fourth, by ways of our own,

Such short cuts as boys have always known, We hurried, and followed the dear old man Beyond where the wilderness began,

To the deep, black woods at the foot of the Hump, And there was a clearing and a stump, And there on the stump our grandfather stood,

Talking and shouting out there in the sun, And firing that funny old flintlock-gun Once in a minute, his head all bare, Having his Fourth of July out there— The Fourth of July he used to know Back in eighteen and twenty or so.

First, with his face to the heaven's blue, He read the "Declaration" through; And then, with gestures to left and right,

He made an oration erudite, Full of words six syllables long; And then our grandfather broke into song,

And, scaring the squirrels in the trees, Gave "Hail Columbia" to the breeze.

And I tell you the old man never heard When we joined in the chorus, word for word!

But he sang out strong to the bright blue sky; And if voices joined in his Fourth of July He heard them as echoes of days gone by.

And when he had done, we all slipped back, As still as we came, on our twisting track,

While words more clear than the flintlock shots Rang in our ears. And Grandfather Watts? He shouldered the gun his father bore And marched off home, nor west-by-nor!

"Well, did Mrs. Van Astorcord's cordially stagger you?" I asked him the next day.

"Oh, no, not at all," he answered. "You see, before I took up writing, I worked in an icemaking plant."

An Old-Fashioned Idea. "I tell you," said Joshua Oldstock, "this here new feminist movement ain't goin' to pan out. The only feminist movement that ever was any good was the one we had when I was a young man."

"Why," his grandniece replied, "there was no such thing as a feminist movement when you were a young man!"

"There wa'n't, eh? That's all you know about it. The greatest feminist movement in the world is a good, sensible woman darlin' a sock and rockin' a cradle with her foot."—Judge.

LIFE IN HIGHEST ALTITUDES

Hard for Newcomer to Adapt-Himself to Conditions Prevailing on "Roof of the Continent."

Prof. Alsworth Ross of the University of Wisconsin, in an article in the Century Magazine entitled, "Peru, the Roof of the Continent," tells of the difficulty of merely sustaining life in the higher altitudes among the Andes. He says:

Life at Cerro de Pasco, nearly a league up, is as trying as life under a diving bell at the bottom of the ocean. The newcomer gasps for air like a stranded fish, and wakes up at night gulping mouthfuls out of the thin atmosphere. Three quick steps put you out of breath, and after climbing a flight of stairs you must sit down for a rest. "I know," panted a "tenderfoot," "how I'll feel when I'm eighty."

No employee is sent up by the company unless he has passed a physical examination, but occasionally one gets blue in the face and has to be sent down forthwith. Thus the Inca Chronicle often has such items as "Jake L., who returned here last April, has been sent home with his heart machinery in bad shape."

The young fellows play tennis and ball, and even indulge in track athletics; but the pace must be very slow. Singing is not popular, for you cannot get the breath to hold a note. Pneumonia is sure death here within 48 hours, so that the sufferer must be rushed down to the sea level in a special train that costs the company $500. The typhoid patient, too, must flee, and the northern women must descend to Lima to bear their babies.

The mining company's Americans are usually big, athletic, deep-chested men, strong of jaw, sinewy of grip, and masterful of manner. They are well paid and looked after, but too many of them squander money and vitality in fighting off the demon of loneliness.

N. M. SCALE CASE CITED BY HIGHEST COURT

New Mexico lawyers are interested in a recently published decision of the United States Supreme Court in an appeal by the Great Northern railway from a decision of the Minnesota state railroad and warehouse commission in which the highest court sustains the railroad and overrules the order of the state commission and the lower courts requiring the Great Northern to establish stock scales at points along its lines designated by the state commission. In its opinion, the supreme court cites the New Mexico scale case and quotes from the finding of the state supreme court in which the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway was sustained in its refusal to establish scales at points designated by the state corporation commission. The New Mexico case was brought by the New Mexico Wool Growers' association and was decided in favor of the wool growers by the state commission, the railroad winning the case when it was carried to the state supreme court.

In citing the New Mexico case the opinion of the supreme court delivered by Mr. Justice McReynolds, says in part:

The business of a railroad is transportation and to supply the public with conveniences not connected therewith is no part of its ordinary duty. The obvious purpose of the challenged order was to enforce installation at Bertha of a scale like those at Eagle Bend and Hewitt and dedicated to same use. Under admitted facts, unless justified by alleged unlawful discrimination, we think this was an arbitrary and unreasonable exercise of power. It is no answer to say, as counsel do, that the commission has "general authority to require railroad companies to supply the necessary demands of the public along transportation lines; that it has a right to require the company to build and maintain such facilities as are necessary for the public needs." The demands upon a carrier which lawfully may be made are limited by its duty, and the present record conclusively shows the required structure had no direct relation thereto.—Albuquerque Herald.

RECEIPTS FOR LAND RENTALS

Land Commissioner Robert P. Ervian today turned into the state treasurer $1,374, 46, the total amount collected in rentals from state lands during June. This is one of the smallest monthly remittances ever made by the land commissioner, and is due in part to the fact that no sales were closed in June. The revenue from rentals and sales during several of the remaining months of the year promises to be heavy and Mr. Ervian estimates that the total receipts during the present fiscal year will reach $500,000, or much more than ever before collected in any one year by the state land office. The land sources of the June income were as follows:

Common School, $967.57; University, $68.80; School of Mines, $24; Military Institute, $8.16; Insane Asylum, $19.20; Deaf and Dumb School, $12.86; State Maintenance Fund, $272.72.—New Mexican.

THE LAYMAN'S DUTY

There never was a time when preachers and politicians formed an unholy alliance that civilization did not shudder at and Christianity cry aloud. Since the beginning of government, politicians have sought to decoy the ministry into the meshes of politics and make them carry banners in political processions. They have taken the ministry to the mountaintop of power and offered to make them monarch of all they surveyed, and while most of them have said, "Get thee behind me Satan," a few have fallen with a crash that has shaken every pulpit in Christendom.
