COURT ASKED TO SETTLE ANOTHER BLUNDER

A Statute Which the Democratic Congress Labored for Six Months to Enact Into a Law is Inoperative

THE PARTY IS RUNNING TRUE TO FORM

There is war between the executive and legislative branches of the Democratic administration

The Department of Justice has asked the United States Supreme Court to declare null and void a statute upon which the Democratic Congress labored for more than six months to enact into law.

This amazing spectacle has its origin in the clause of the tariff act proposing to give a five per cent discount on all duties imposed on merchandise imported in vessels admitted to American registry

Its history is well known. The Court of Customs Appeals recently upheld the law in a divided opinion. From this decision the government has appealed.

In its brief asking the Supreme Court to review the case, the Department of Justice severely criticized Congress for blundering.

"The Congressional purpose of favoring American bottoms is obstructed by treaty provisions to the contrary," declares the argument for a review, "and Congress was fully advised of the purport and existence of these treaties. If no precise or intelligible meaning can be given to the law in question, consistent with the manifest intention of Congress, it must be held to be void and of no effect."

"If the initial clause and the proviso of the section are irreconcilable" and the government so contends, "the statute is void. Better that the words used should be declared inadequate for the purpose intended than that interpretation should usurp the function of legislation."

The Department still further emphasizes its belief that the act of Congress was absurd by quoting with approval the Senate committee report which rejected the offending section.

"Your Committee struck out the provision," says the report as quoted by the government brief. "It was in contravention of some nineteen or twenty treaties of the United States. In our opinion it could have led no good result, as every other country could have retaliated and all the countries in the end would have been just about where they started. We were not only inviting an endless retaliation, but a retaliation where our opponents would have had in nearly every case the better of it, and in many cases indefinitely the better."

Furthermore, the Department of Justice contends that Congress enacted a law either "impossible of performance or that must be postponed until treaty relations can be modified so as to permit it," and urges the court to declare the statute inoperative.

The development of this division between the executive and legislative branches of the Democratic administration merely repeats history. The party is running true to form, and reminds one of the division in the Democratic party during the administration of Grover Cleveland, when he refused to sign the tariff bill which the Democratic Congress had enacted after months of labor

NEWS IN SCOTLAND

Word has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Agnes Cree, which occurred some few weeks ago at her home in Edinburgh, Scotland, at which place she had been a resident for the past several years. Mrs. Cree was at one time a resident of Lincoln County and owned the V V ranch property at the foot of the White Mountains and was a large cattle owner. She was past eighty years old at the time of her death and had many friends in this county among the old settlers

CAMPING AT BENT

Judge and Mrs. Medler of Las Cruces have been joined in a camping trip by Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Watson of this city and have gone into camp at Bent, near Tularosa. The camp was pitched in the interest of Mr. and Mrs. Medler's little child, who has been suffering from the hot weather, the selection of this place having been made over California, where the Judge and family had intended to spend the summer months.

KILLED AT OSURO

Otto Postler, a young man who had been working with some government surveyors at Osuro for some time, as a teamster, was hurt in a runaway last week and died a few days later as the result of his injuries. Mr. Postler was a young man of German descent, and had only been in the United States for a short time. He was a well liked young fellow and it is said he had made many friends during his short residence in Osuro.

A GOOD FRUIT CROP

Lincoln county's fruit is now giving promise to eclipse anything in the history of the county. The orchards are loaded with apples, peaches and pears, and the quality is said to be exceptionally good.

WINNERS ENTERTAINED

The small basket ball players of the town were entertained at the home of Mrs. E. D. Lewis Tuesday evening. The girls and boys had engaged in a game on July 5th, at the Bar W ranch and it was agreed to before the game that the losing side would entertain the winners, so the boys, being the winners, were royally entertained at the expense of their girl friends.

LEAVES FOR EXPOSITIONS

Miss Amanda Bamberger who has been visiting her brother Oscar here for the past two months from Evansville, Ind., left the first of the week for the California exposition where she will spend the remainder of the summer. Mr. Bamberger accompanied his sister as far as El Paso.

TWO FEATURES OF THE GERMAN NOTE

Not One of The Great American Newspapers Approved The German Note in Principle or in Subject Matter

ISSUES INVOLVED IN CONTROVERSY VERY CLEAR

Two features of the manner in which the German note was received stand out in significant contrast. As was to have been expected, the American press was unanimously of the opinion that the reply to the American note did not meet the situation in a manner satisfactory to the American government or the American people. In the second place, the German press, both in this country and abroad, expressed itself as highly pleased with the note; and in this "pleasure" William Jennings Bryan, Esq., is quoted as cordially sharing.

Not one of the great American newspapers approved the German note in principle or in subject matter. Not one of them sounded a dissenting or discordant note in the universal chorus of disapproval which greeted the oily platitude and the ex-parte harangues with which the proprosperous of the note were so liberally interlarded. If any portion of the German people, either here or in the Fatherland, imagine for a moment that the American people are not squarely behind the president in this controversy, or if they believe for a moment that Mr. Bryan represents any considerable section of the said American people, they are singularly misinformed or fly in the face of facts that are in evidence and in abundance. The proposal that America provide four vessels for its citizens who may see fit to travel across the ocean, which vessels will be "concealed" the protection to which international law at this time, and all the time, entitles them, is hardly more astounding than the reiteration—in the face of the formal and official statement of the American government to the contrary—that the Lusitania was armed.

The issues involved in the controversy itself are exceedingly clear. International law lays down certain well defined and hitherto universally recognized rules for the conduct of civilized warfare—"civilized", so-called. Those rules must be obeyed by every nation making the slightest pretense to civilization. It is no offense against international law to carry contraband of war on any ship that sails the seven seas. But vessels carrying contraband of war are bound by certain fixed and universally recognized laws. They may be captured. Under certain conditions they may be destroyed. Neither is it an offense against international law for non-combatants to travel on vessels carrying contraband of war. International law throws about both belligerents and neutrals, combatants and non-combatants, certain prescribed protection. That protection cannot be abrogated or ignored without the inexcusable violation of the fundamental principles of international law. Until this issue is formulated, even more vigorously than heretofore, the "strict accountability" to which the American government declared it would be compelled to hold the imperial German government, is a mere empty phrase of diplomatic jargon. No American wants to humiliate or coerce Germany any more than he wants to see the Atlantic ocean divided into lanes through which American citizens may pass safely by the sufferance of any power on earth.

APPRAISERS APPOINTED

J. M. Penfield, Peter Burleson and Francisco Gomez have been appointed appraisers to appraise the old court house and jail property at Lincoln and report to the county commissioners, after which the property will be sold at public auction, after giving notice of such sale.

SHEARING ABOUT OVER

Sheep shearing has about been completed in this section, and while there have been no sale of the clips in this immediate community, the Pecos valley has marketed over a million pounds, some of it bringing 24 cents. The Blanchard brothers, one of the big sheep outfits of the county, had the misfortune to lose some-thing like $800 on their wool. It had been loaded and started to Roswell to the market. The driver of the load got caught in a ford almost completely submerging the clip. It is claimed the damage would aggregate about $800.

PARSONS ELECTRIC LINE

The Power line under construction between White Oaks and Parsons is rapidly nearing completion. The line will pass through and open up the mines at Nogal, which includes the American gold mine, and continue on to the Parsons holdings. The completion of this line guarantees prompt and active operations in these districts.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mae Schaffier entertained a number of her little friends Monday afternoon in honor of her ninth birthday. A number of games were played after which delicious refreshments were served. All the little folks present report having had a delightful time. Those present were as follows: John Boyd, Harry Cole, Frank Norris, Gordon Pine, Harrie Kimbell, Nora Norris, Mary Whit, Evelyn French, Irene Haley, Clarice McQuillen, and Kathryn Pine.

INFANT DIES AT NOGAL

Lowell, the 17 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Cardwell died at the family residence in Nogal Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock after a week's illness. On Tuesday evening the little fellow was thought to be getting along nicely but on Wednesday morning a change came for the worse and he passed away at the hour above stated. Funeral services were held at the residence by Rev. Fourth and interment was made in the Nogal cemetery.

TIME TO ADVANCE FOR FALL FESTIVAL

The Annual Fall Festival Days Should be Advertised Far Enough in Advance to Insure Large Crowd

BUSINESS MEN SHOULD PERFECT PLANS AT ONCE

It is a fact that cannot be gainsaid that an exhibition of any kind needs some attention; and when a community advertises to the people that they will be entertained right royally on certain dates if they will come to the place of amusement, the people naturally expect that the entertainment will be as nearly as advertised as it is possible to make it. Arrangements for any meet requires time, where good results are to be expected.

And so The Outlook believes it is high time to get together here in Carrizozo and plan what shall be the features of our 1915 field days. The date should be decided on and the program tentatively drafted. To have a program of merit, considerable time can be spent in finding the best in each particular field of sport and then getting the participants signed up for the big race. For the pony races, sufficient notice should be given to interest owners of horses and give them time to arrange their affairs so they will be here with a bunch of winners. It is so in all the different departments, or classes, or whatever you call them. Baseball teams should be signed up, foot ball and basket ball players should be apprised of what they are liable to win in prizes, besides being royally treated, and the popcorn and lemonade man should have time to order his stock.

It will not be long until the time for our annual fall sport will be with us, and the date should not find us with our hands in our pockets and nothing done. Now is the time to get busy—while it is warm and everybody is ready and willing to do his or her part toward making the field days this year the best we have had in the history of the community.

There are always so many preliminary arrangements and duties to be gotten out of the way before the real work of such a festival can be gotten into, because the real thing depends on these preliminary skirmishes. Therefore, The Outlook believes that a meeting of the business men's club should be called without delay and the plans perfected. Every one is expecting, in a sort of a sleepy way, that there is going to be the usual days of sport in September or October, but as yet no move has been made which would indicate that the big machine was going to start and and plump in the center of two or three rousing days of real sport.

Let us make the start right now for the 1915 field days.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Donaldson and son, Homer, left Thursday evening for a visit to their ranch near Nara Nisa. They will return here about the latter part of August.

"LOST" MEN IN JAIL

Queer Cases That Are a Matter of Record.

Felons Forgotten and Sequestered in Probably the Safest Hiding Places in Which They Could Possibly Find Refuge.

There are many places where a man may be lost, whether he loses himself or is purposely placed in a maze from which he cannot find his way out. But the case of Rocco Ruggiero, who was recently dug out of the Queens county jail by accident and placed on trial for murder in the first degree, is very much out of the ordinary, says the New York Sun.

Six months previously Ruggiero was indicted for murder and placed in the jail. The papers in his case disappeared. The district attorney wanted to check up his cases and asked the jail warden for a list of his prisoners. Ruggiero's name was on the list. Nobody seemed to know anything about the case. Search of the records disclosed the indictment. Strange as this case is, a Chicago incident of like character two or three years ago was even more remarkable. A prisoner named Philip Dubois was arrested and placed in jail on a charge of felonious assault. Political friends were able to secure a series of postponements of the case and have the papers altered so that the charge was changed to simple assault. To help the deception along Dubois was declared to be dying and was sent to the hospital pending the disposition of his case.

One day at the hospital the screen that had separated his cot from that of the next patient was unexpectedly taken away, and happening to look across Dubois saw that the very man he had assaulted was his hospital neighbor. On recovering from the wounds inflicted by Dubois the man had contracted pneumonia and had been transferred to the pulmonary ward. He was on the verge of asking to have his bed changed when Dubois begged him not to do so, promising to pay him well if he would keep his secret. This he agreed to do for a certain sum.

It was when part of this sum was being passed to him by Dubois' friends that an attendant's suspicions were aroused. Investigation was made and the deception discovered. Dubois was convicted and sentenced. When the time came to arraign him new papers had to be made out, for he was officially lost on the books as a man charged with a felony.

Which recalls the case of William Haverhill, a forger of Philadelphia, who was being brought from San Francisco to the Quaker City some years ago by a special deputy sheriff named McCarty. McCarty had had an attack of brain fever just before being sent across the continent with the requisition for Haverhill.

They were nearing Denver at noon on their return journey and were seated in the Pullman, McCarty having handcuffed his left wrist to Haverhill's right. Haverhill surmised the reason at once. He lost no time. He managed to jerk McCarty forward a trifle in his seat, so that his body reclined more toward the back of the chair, and then filled the officer's head back so he seemed asleep. He waited his chance, and when most of the passengers got out to stretch their legs he took the handcuff key from McCarty's pocket and unlocked himself.

He was searching for McCarty's money when the "All aboard" sounded, so he had barely time to slip off the trails. Without a cent in his pocket he could not ride a mile or purchase a meal. But he was a man of quick thinking. He walked right up to a policeman and spat on his shoes. He was rebuked; he "assaulted" the officer, thereupon he was arrested, receiving a sentence of three months as a vagrant. He had served two months when an intercepted letter sent from the jail by him gave the necessary clue to the mystery that had been puzzling the San Francisco and Philadelphia police ever since the unconscious McCarty, stricken anew with fever, was carried from the train to a hospital.

WITNESS HAD NO STANDING

Defendant's Unqualified Condemnation of Man Prepared to Testify Against Him.

A correspondent of the New York Sun recalls the case of the "Rev. James Johnson" of New Jersey, who was indicted years ago as the chief of a band of chicken thieves that had plundered the farmers near New Brunswick. The testimony was something like this:

"Now, Mr. Johnson, these chickens, as evidence shows, were found in your possession. Did you steal them?"

"No, sah. I got 'em from one of mah fren's."

"Did you know where he got the chickens?"

"I didn't ask him, sah."

"Did you believe them to be lawfully his to give?"

"I didn't ask no questions, sah; I just tuck 'em."

"What did you do with them?"

"I sold 'em to the market man."

"What did you do with the money?"

"I kept some and divided the rest with mah fren's."

"Now, Mr. Johnson, be truthful. Did you, or did you not, believe these chickens to be honestly yours?"

"Sure I knowed they wasn't mine. I jes' tuck 'em."

"And you used them to benefit yourself, by passing them on to other people?"

"Yes, sah. They was very good chickens."

"Now, Mr. Johnson, here is a witness who says these chickens belong to him, and proves that they were stolen from his farm, at night, by men in your employ. What have you to say to that?"

"Witness (pointing)—Is that the man over there?"

"Yes."

"Dunno him at all. He don't belong to our conference! He's an onregenerate sinner, an' he ought to go to hell!"

MANY MEN ACT LIKE THIS

Old Bill Shiftless Has His Counterpart in Many Localities Throughout the Country.

"Old Bill Shiftless dropped into town last Saturday," the Osborne Farmer reports. "Bill went into one of the stores and asked for some crepe tissue paper. His wife had asked him to get some so she could make a few little ornaments to improve the looks of the front room. She wanted two colors and Bill found that he would have to take two rolls, as the merchant would not cut it. They cost 10 cents a roll. Bill refused to take it, saying it was too darn much money to pay for such useless stuff. He then bought a dollar's worth of chewing tobacco and a half-dollar's worth of cigars and went out to see what the chances were for 'chipping in' on a consignment of Kansas City jug house booze. Bill wants to go to the San Francisco exposition. His trip to St. Louis did him so much good that he thinks he owes it to his health to take this trip. Mrs. Shiftless would like to go, but Bill says he can't see how she can get away, as there would be no one at home to look after the stock."—Kansas City Star.

Tail Wild, at Least.

A timid little girl stood looking out of the nursery window and called to her mother: "Mother, mother! Here is a wild dog."

Her mother went to the window.

"Oh, no, that dog is not wild; he belongs to the man who works across the street, and is a nice dog," she said.

After a moment's thought the child, unaccustomed to dogs, replied: "Well, his head may not be wild, but his tail is awfully wild."—Woman's Home Companion.

Disillusioned.

"Eoo-hoo! You used to call me an angel before we were married."

"Well, I believed it myself then."

WHIM WHAMS

Just now a man without a straw hat is as conspicuous as was the man with one in April.

An El Paso man cleaned his shotgun recently and his funeral was attended by a large crowd.

The days are getting shorter. "Safety First" is an excellent motto, but we don't all observe them.

Three charivari's were pulled off in Dawson one night last week. There must be something doing in that village.

One night last week a young Chavez County girl saw her steady taking another skirt to the movies and she swallowed a dose of poison.

Many a man has looked upon a woman as his guardian angel. It is only after he has married her that he finds she is all guardian.

Two Phoenix, Arizona youths have been sentenced to ten days in jail for calling a woman a chicken. What would have happened to them if they had called her a hen?

A widow was seen busy with a watering can over a new grave near Roswell recently. "What are you watering so busily?" asked a passer by. "Well I promised my first husband that I wouldn't marry until his grave was green," said the widow, "and have just had a very good offer, so I am trying to hurry things up a little."

One of El Paso's good looking, well-to-do bachelors, who was being teased by the members of a certain club of girls for not marrying, gallantly offered to make the girl whom the club should elect, his wife, just to show them he was not averse to matrimony. Each girl went to a corner and wrote her choice on a piece of paper, disguising her handwriting. There were nine members of the club present, and the result showed that each had received one vote. The young man is still a bachelor, and the club has disbanded with the young ladies all mad at each other.

BALL PLAYER'S PRAYER

Lord help me to play the game. It matters not to you whether I am talented or poor in natural gifts; wealthy or starving; a leader among men or a simple follower; so that I play the game as you would have it played. Help me to keep my eye on the ball, that the curves of temptation may not deceive me. Keep my feet in the path of righteousness, that I may round the bases. Help me to beat out my bunts, and hold me that I stray not too far from base when the catcher is ready to peg me. Count not my foul balls against me, O Lord, for the batting eye sometimes goes wrong, though the intention is right. Help me in the pinches, Lord, because a good single might bring my brother home. Let not the music from the fans keep my eye from the ball, nor the enticements from the slabman draw me away from the need of a clean single with a man on second. Help me, O Lord, to bat over 300, because my eyes are on the big league for eternity even while I sojourn here among the brushers.

PUBLIC OBJECTS TO ADS IN CIRCULARS

Wide Feeling Against Handbills Which Litter Up Streets and Porches.

There is no wanting evidence that there is a growing public feeling against the abuse of advertising by circulars, whether these are sent by mail or are delivered by hand, locally. Recently a correspondent of the New York Herald wrote that paper:

"For years I have been steadfast in refusing to deal with anybody who puts advertising in my letter box. If every tradesman pursued this absurd method advertising my trousers would always be baggy, my carpets would remain forever uncleaned and I would do my marketing in New Jersey."

Doubtless there are many other men who feel as this correspondent does for advertising of this sort is an unmitigated nuisance. When the advertising circular is sent by mail, with the proper postage prepaid, it is bad enough, and in so far as it helps to swell the postal revenue and so helps to bear the burden of carrying the regular and important mails is not altogether to be condemned. But there is no excuse for the tradesmen who employ agents to fill private letter boxes intended for the reception of the regular mail, with their useless literature.

And on one other ground we believe that the private citizen has a right to protest against the advertising circular. One of the chief trades that often offends in this regard is the patent medicine vender. His circulars are thrust into letter boxes, scattered over lawns that, in any case, are hard enough to keep clean and neat, and even jammed under the front door. Many of these circulars are atrocious in their frank discussion of the numerous ills "to which flesh is heir," and to add to the horror of the letterpress they are often eked out with gaudy colored pictures of various parts of the human anatomy. It is more than a little task to keep this grewsome and unwholesome literature out of the hands of children, for when the advertiser gets busy such circulars are on every hand.

So much of this sort of circular advertising is to be seen cluttering up the streets and alleys, filling the garbage cans and littering the front porches that it should seem that advertisers must realize what a wasteful and useless form of advertising this is. Probably there is no form of printed literature in so low repute as the circular. It has nothing back of it; it is an unwelcome visitor; usually its objectionable features are recognized at a glance as it goes into the waste paper basket unopened.

The public that purchases looks to the reputable newspaper for the advertisements of the goods it wants, for behind such advertising there is character. Against the characterless advertising circular, that is a public and a private nuisance, there should be an ordinance enacted that would check the industry and which would certainly go a long way toward helping keep the city clean.

CARD OF THANKS

To the good people of White Oaks who rendered such kindly assistance and sympathy during the recent illness and death of my aged and saintly mother we wish to thank you, not only through her recent illness but through the many months of her lingering near the borderland. You have shown her marked kindness and consideration and by your Christian sympathy and love, you have made brighter and more cheerful the somewhat dreary evening days of her life.

We would like to make special mention of those whose untiring efforts to stay the hand of the "Grim Reaper" did not cease till the last breath was drawn but the list would be so lengthy that space forbids.

We must especially thank Mr. McQuillen and the K. P. Lodge of Carrizozo through him for the beautiful floral K. P. Emblem so kindly furnished.

And to any and all others, either here or elsewhere, who by deed, word or thought paid this last tribute of respect to a noble woman whose long life of service is known to most of you, we thank you.

From the depths of our hearts we thank you, and may the blessing of a kind Providence ever be with you and reward you — J. M. Simms and the absent members of the family.

NEW MEXICO STATE FAIR

New Mexico is to have a real state fair this year, a larger and bigger fair than has ever before been dreamed of in this state. While it is impossible to secure as large exhibits as some of the state fairs in the thickly populated sections of the country, the New Mexico fair this year will be as excellent in all lines as the largest of the state expositions.

What absolutely insures such a fair is the fact that R. E. Putney of Albuquerque has been secured to take the presidency of the state fair commission. Mr. Putney is the man who led the Y. M. C. A. movement in Albuquerque last fall when under his "never give up" leadership $75,000 was raised in one week, Mr. Putney giving $12,000 to the campaign. He is known as a man who never goes after success without securing it. Once interested in a project, he gives it his entire attention and enthusiasm, just as he is giving them to the 1915 state fair.

SUBSCRIBERS NOTICE

Since taking charge of the Outlook we have mailed out several hundred dollars worth of statements to those who were indebted $1.50 or more, and those whose subscription had expired we mailed statements to them for the advance subscription now due. Some have remitted, but the majority have remained as silent as the seven spirits. We kindly ask every one indebted to us to send in their remittance at once. It seems a little unfair for us to pay interest to keep our business going when we have due us in amounts from $1.50 up, enough to pay all we owe. In fact we cannot understand why a subscription to a newspaper should be the last obligation considered, when most of those indebted are able to pay promptly. A payment now will be appreciated.

BIBLE STUDY ON THE FRIEND OF SINNERS.

Luke 18:9-14; 19:1-10—June 14.
"I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."—Mark 2:17.

THE parable of today's lesson reveals the heart attitude of some of the Pharisees and of the despised publicans. Two men went up to the Temple to pray. From God's standpoint both were sinners, and needed forgiveness of sins. But the Pharisee trusted in his own imperfect works, and asked no forgiveness; the publican, however, realized his blemishes and prayed for mercy.

We must not get the impression that God is more pleased with those who live in sin than with those who strive to the best of their ability to live in harmony with His Law. On the contrary, we must all realize that we come short of perfection and need Divine mercy. The sinner who recognizes this fact is more pleasing to God than is the more moral person who fails to see his blemishes.

The Pharisee and the Publican

Jesus referred to this same error of the Pharisee at another time, saying, "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance." He thus sought to call attention to the fact, that although the Pharisee claimed to be righteous, yet they were not so. Until they should learn that they and all other members of the Adamic race were sinners and needed the remedy which only the Redeemer can give, they were not in condition to come to Him for forgiveness.

Not realizing their need, the Pharisees did not become Jesus' disciples, and thereby missed a great blessing. On the contrary, the majority of His followers were publicans and sinners, people who had not been by the proper lives, but who earnestly acknowledged their faults, turned from sin, accepted healing from the Good Physician and became His followers.

A Little Man—A Big Heart.

The latter part of our lesson relates to Jesus' journey from Jericho to Jerusalem, just prior to His crucifixion. Multitudes were journeying in the same direction, going up to the Pass over. Zacchaeus, a rich man of that vicinity, was curious to see Jesus. He was not a Pharisee, he did not profess holiness of life. He was a sinner, a doctor for the Roman government of a publican. On this account he was despised, and declared to be detestable to Judah.

Small of stature, Zacchaeus was able to see Jesus because of this. Therefore he ran ahead and climbed the tree, to have a good view. He gazed on Jesus. When Jesus came called to Zacchaeus to come down at once, for He was to be his guest. The summons was gladly received by Zacchaeus. But the whole circumstance greatly disgusted the Pharisees, who remarked that Jesus would become the guest of one not orthodox.

Fortwith Zacchaeus addressed the Master as though urging that the charges against him should not hinder the Master from becoming his guest; and as intimating his desire to do right. Jesus replied to Zacchaeus, "This day is salvation come to this house; forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham." From the Lord's standpoint all Abraham's sons were eligible to discipleship. The one thing required was an honest confession of imperfection, an honest turning from sin, a hearty acceptance of Christ and an endeavor to walk in His steps.

Unquestionably this principle still applies, regardless of what men may think or say to the contrary. The Lord is willing to receive the repentant. The middle wall of partition between Jew and Gentile has been broken down, as St. Paul explains. All who have Abraham's faith may be counted to as Abraham's children by becoming related to the Divine Plan as Jesus' disciples. (Galatians 3:10, 29)

"That Which Was Lost."

Our lesson closes with Jesus' words, "For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Some who deny that Adam was created perfect, who deny his fall from Divine favor and who deny that redemption was necessary, have sought to sustain their position by saying that Jesus never referred to man's fall, although the Genesis account tells of it, and St. Paul and other Apostles particularly mention it. But in this text we have Jesus' own statement as to why He came into the world.

Adam and Zacchaeus

came to be man's Redeemer—to find and to recover, restore, that which was lost.

Everlasting life was lost. Eden was not human perfection was lost, the image of the Divine character was lost. These could not be recovered in humanity, all of whom were under the sentence—the curse. But God's omniscience arranged a Plan, whereby man came into the world and gave himself a Ransom for all—to be tested in due time. The very fact that the Master speaks of His work as a ransoming one (Matthew 20:28) corroborates the declaration that man needed to be ransomed from death.

II—Railroads

In discussing the commercial achievements of this great age, we shall approach the subject as the historian chronicling events. This series will endeavor to record in writing the supremacy of American men and industries in the world's affairs and perpetuate an appreciation of our marvelous industrial achievements by presenting simple facts, figures and comparisons that are overpowering in their convictions.

America holds her proud place among the nations of the earth today on account of her supremacy in transportation facilities. The mighty minds of the age are engaged in the problems of transportation, and the greatest men in the history of the world's commerce are at the head of the transportation systems of the United States.

In the discussion of transportation, let us consider separately our Railways, Telegraph and Telephones, Expresses, Public Highways, Steamships, Street Railways, Interurban and other forms of transportation, and this article will deal with railways.

The United States has the largest mileage, the best service, the cheapest rates, pays labor the highest wages, and we have the most efficiently managed of the railways of the world. They stand as a monument to the native genius of our marvelous builders, and most of the railroads in foreign countries have been built under American orders.

The railroads represent a larger investment of capital than any other branch of human activity in the United States.

the accepted distance from the earth to the moon. We had in 1911, the last year in which figures for all countries are available, on the earth's surface, 639,981 miles of railway divided as follows: United States 241,199, Europe 207,432 and other countries 191,350. The United States has 38 per cent of the world's mileage, seven per cent of the estimated population and about five per cent of the area. The total capital invested in the railways of the world is $50,000,000,000, divided as follows: United States $13,000,000,000 Europe $25,650,000,000 and other countries $11,350,000,000. Reduced to a mileage basis the capitalization is as follows: The world $78,000, United States $54,000, Europe $124,000, and other countries $59,000.

A comparison of rates is equally as interesting and the United States takes the lead in economy and service. The average rate per ton per hundred mile haul is as follows: United States 76c, Great Britain $2.53, France $1.44, Germany $1.44, Russia 92c, Austria-Hungary $1.30, Italy $2.30 and Switzerland $2.82.

The average yearly pay of all railroad employes in the principal countries is as follows: United States $757, Germany $392, Italy $345, Austria $322, Great Britain $279, France $260 and Russia $204.

About 30 per cent, or 188,000 miles, of the railways of the world are government owned. About half the railway mileage of Europe is government owned.

A comparison of the economy, in time and money and the convenience of travel, will be made in a later article.

Daddy's Grouch Faded Away. Little Bobby's Question Gave Him a Chance to Recover His Good Humor.

Papa had a grouch, and an atmosphere of deep gloom settled over the family dinner table. Even little Bobby felt that something was wrong, but he had to talk or burst, and he preferred to talk.

"Daddy," he asked, "why did they throw the tea overboard in Boston harbor?" Daddy twirled the spoon in his cup while he thought up this mean thing to say: "If it was anything like this stuff they certainly had a mighty good excuse for throwing it overboard."

What interested him. Uncle Ben Barnstraw's city nephew took him into a fire station one night just in time to see the fire ladders shining like squirrels down a pole from their quarters overhead.

His Probable Defeat. "A man that buys his neckties to match the color of his eyes," said Uncle Eben, "may have good taste, but he ain't liable to have good judgment."

SHE QUIT. But It Was a Hard Pull. It is hard to believe that coffee will put a person in such a condition as it did an Ohio woman. She tells her own story:

"I did not believe coffee caused my trouble, and frequently said I liked it so well I would not, and could not, quit drinking it, but I was a miserable sufferer from heart trouble and nervous prostration for four years. I was scarcely able to be around, had no energy and did not care for anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until I thought I could not endure it. Frequently I had nervous chills and the least excitement would drive sleep away, and any little noise would upset me terribly. I was gradually getting worse until finally I asked myself what's the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I could indulge myself in coffee? So I got some Postum to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions and I want to tell you that coffee was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to quit coffee because I saw how Postum better than the coffee. One by one the old troubles left until now I am in splendid health, nerves steady, heart all right and the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any medicine, can do all my house work and have done a great deal besides. Name given by Postum Co., South Creek, Mich. Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkg. Postum comes in two forms: Postum cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 1 1/2 and 2 1/2 packages. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 1 1/2 and 2 1/2 pkgs. Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. 'There's a Reason' for Postum. Sold by Grocers.

GARRANZA'S AID ASKED BY VILLA

NOTE TO RIVAL SUGGESTS CONFERENCE TO FORM NEW RULE FOR MEXICO.

BIDS FOR RECOGNITION.

GEN. VILLA'S REPLY TO PRESIDENT WILSON DENIES U. S. RIGHT TO INTERFERE.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

El Paso, Tex., June 15.—Without admitting the right of the American government to intervene in Mexican affairs, Gen. Francisco Villa Saturday addressed an invitation to Venustiano Carranza for constitutionalist leaders to unite and reorganize the government of Mexico. An early reply is requested that preliminaries for such a conference may be arranged.

The invitation states that the proposal is being submitted to Emiliano Zapata, southern leader, and to Roque Gonzales Garza in Mexico City.

Villa has replied to President Wilson's recent note calling upon leaders of factions in Mexico to take steps to establish a stable government. The Villa note, the first to be made public, was dated Aguas Calientes, June 10, and was forwarded to Enrique C. Llorente, Villa representative at Washington, for presentation to the State Department.

President Wilson's "high spirit of justice" and the "consideration and respect" in which he is held in the United States and Mexico, Gen. Villa said, impels him to send his reply, which interprets Wilson's note as a recognition that the American government has no right to take part in the settlement of the internal affairs of Mexico.

The Villa note reviews the overthrow of the Victoriano Huerta regime and attributes the subsequent division among constitutional leaders to "false ideas, for mercenary purposes, diffused by those who sought to retain power indefinitely without laws."

Villa's break with Carranza is attributed to Venustiano Carranza, and the resulting strife is characterized as "civil war such as might occur in any nation."

Carranza Bids for Recognition. Washington.—General Carranza has issued a proclamation at Vera Cruz, making a bid for recognition by the United States. John R. Silliman, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, telegraphed its text to the State Department from Vera Cruz.

Until a new secretary of state is appointed to succeed Mr. Bryan it is not thought there will be any development of the recently announced policy of President Wilson to insist on a settlement by the Mexicans or some other means would be employed.

Austrian Fleet Bombarded by Italy. London, June 15.—The arsenal at the Austro-Hungarian naval station at Pola, on the Adriatic, was almost entirely destroyed by bombs, dropped from an Italian airship, according to the Messagero at Rome. There were at the time in the arsenal ten warships, including one battleship, two cruisers and several submarines. Three of these vessels are supposed to have been damaged. With Montecorone and Gradisca in their hands the Italians have begun an attack on Gorizia (Görz) further up the Isonzo river, and one of the Austrians' most strongly fortified frontier positions.

German Sink 56 Vessels in Week. London, June 14.—Saturday's report of German submarine activity shows that one steamer and three trawlers were sunk. Last week German submarines sank fifty-four vessels, of which seven were neutral. The others comprised two French, two Belgian, three Russian and forty British. In addition, two fishing smacks were sunk by a Zeppelin. A dispatch from Copenhagen says Norway has lost twenty-nine vessels since the outbreak of the war, with a total valuation of $7,500,000.

Loftus Wins Opening Handicap. Denver.—A brilliant burst of speed that clinched a victory and saw track record in its final stride, sent $500 horse fans into a frenzy of cheers and excitement at Overland park Saturday in the opening handicap of the racing season. It was probably the greatest race in the history of the historic park, with a bare margin of four inches at the finish between Loftus, a "dark horse," and Belmont. Famous racer of horses and vaudeville. The handicap was the principal event of the eight races comprising the opening program.

VALUE OF THE "SCRAP HEAP"

"Secondary Metals" Have Added Much to the Wealth of the United States.

In 1914 the value of the "secondary metals," exclusive of gold, silver, platinum, iron and steel, recovered in the United States was $57,932,706, according to J. E. Dunlop of the United States Geological Survey. This is a decrease from 1913 of $15,746,321, the secondary metals recovered in that year being valued at $72,736,027.

The term "secondary" does not imply that these metals, which are recovered from scrap metal, sweepings, skimmings, drosses, etc., are of inferior quality, but it is used to distinguish them from "primary metals," which are derived from ore. While the survey figures relative to lead, zinc, copper, aluminum, tin and antimony given in this statement cover a large field and form an essential addition to the reports on primary metals, the scope of the inquiry probably reveals less than one-half the extent of the waste-metal trade. The value of the old iron and steel reused amounts to millions of dollars.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, Ohio.

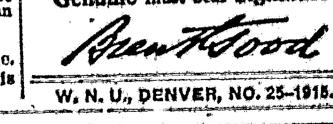

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—Mrs. ADA WILK, 308 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS

A number of the school districts of this county are arranging for the erection of new buildings or additions to the present school houses during the present summer and fall. Among these districts which have already announced an intention to do so, or are actually having the work done at this time are Hondo, Encinosa, which has just completed one school building and will immediately commence the erection of another; Nogal and Mesa, while Carrizozo has for some time known of the necessity of additional school room and will endeavor to take care of this necessity before the opening of the local schools this fall.

Bluewater school will commence a seven months' term August 2 with Mrs. Lurlyne Lane in charge; E. F. Funk will open an eight months' term at Nogal Mesa, August 9, while Mrs. S. H. Nickels will open a seven months' term at Parsons, July 19.

THANKS, BROTHER BIGGER

Below we quote a complimentary notice from the Capitan Mountaineer given us in speaking of the acquaintances the editor of that paper formed at the Nogal celebration on July 3d. Following is the article:

"There we met for the first time Thos. O. Luster, editor and proprietor of the Carrizozo Outlook. Mr. Luster is a young man, seemingly brim full of energy and thoroughly alive to the interests of his profession. He is a practical printer, a good writer, and is making his paper one of the best weeklies in the state. He makes a splendid impression on first acquaintance, and we feel that our relations will be of the most pleasant character."

K. OF P. INSTALLATION

One of the most pleasant meetings from a social point of view ever held by the local lodge, Knights of Pythias, took place at their semi annual public installation of officers Monday evening. After the installation ceremonies the "Lesson of Friendship" was produced, it being the stereopticon scenes of the first rank. After the stereopticon scenes the members and their families and a few invited guests, repaired to the banquet room where refreshments were served in abundance. A large number were present and a very pleasant evening was spent.

WEATHER NOT RESPONSIBLE

While walking in the streets one is often greeted with the cheerful remarks, "It's a nice day!" Good days and bad days exist only in the mind. The weather has nothing to do with it. Each day is what we make it.

Suppose you get the word that your salary has been doubled or that a forgotten Uncle has left you $1,000,000. What do you care about the weather then? Or suppose the person you love is dying. Unexpectedly a turn for the better comes. The doctor says your dear one will live. What if it is hotter than Topeth? It is a good day, a great day, a happy day. It is what we think and feel about it that makes each day what it is.

Put down in the notebook of your soul the poet Runeberg's thought, "Each day is a life." When you get up in the morning throw back your shoulders, take a deep breath and meet the new day like a man. Say to yourself: "Another day, another life." For all we know it may be the only day we shall ever have. Let us make it the best day we can. Let us strive to make it a day worth while to move a step forward in our work, do all the good we can, get all the happiness we can today.

Right now is the only time you can control. Yesterday is a record. Today is yours and mine.

Wm. Ferguson, and brother, Fred are in town today from the Nogal Mesa.
