Stamp Girls

We wish it were possible to make mention individually of the good work done by our Carrizozo girls during the recent War Savings Stamp Drive. Up to the present time the sale of stamps amounts to over $15,000. As an example of what our girls have done so far, we would mention Miss Herndon Reily who sold $227.55 worth of stamps in three hours. The balance of the girls did remarkably well, and we take pleasure in making mention of Miss Reily's record as a good example of how well the girls have done, and are doing for their country's cause.

Changes Name

and Location

The Oasis Confectionery has changed its location, having secured a portion of the building formerly occupied by the Carrizozo Trading Co. The name of this popular resort has also been changed and it will hereafter be known as the "Anderson Oasis." On Tuesday last, the Oasis received its friends at the opening in the new quarters, the feature of the event being the distribution of beautiful red roses to those who visited the resort in its new home. The management respectfully solicits a portion of the public patronage with a guarantee of satisfactory service.

L. A. McCall Hurries Home

L. A. McCall received word the early part of this week of the critical illness of his father, at his home in Claude, Texas. Mr. McCall left for his father's bedside as soon after the notice as he conveniently could.

Northlans and Langstons Picnic on the Bonito

The S. L. Northlans and Wm. Langston families picniced on the Bonito the 4th, enjoying the beauties of nature and partaking of their refreshments in the cool shade of the mountain trees.

Messrs Jesse Dawson and R. R. Phillips of Alto were Carrizozo visitors this week.

O. L. Nye and family are back from Iowa where they visited Mr. Nye's father.

Jourde Claunch, who enlisted the early part of last summer, is home on 30 day furlough. Mr. Claunch who has studied French machine guns in France, is now stationed in Garden City, N. Y., as an instructor.

Mother-Daughter

Congress a Success

Albuquerque, N. M., June 29. —With close to the 500 delegates present, and intense interest on the part of the New Mexico women present, and an immense amount of practical and useful instruction given daily by experts in canning, drying, child welfare work and other things, the Mother-Daughter Congress of the Food Administration, Council of State Defense, State College Extension Division and Women's Committee, has proved to be a most gratifying success. Every county in the state has been represented, eloquent speeches made by the prominent people of New Mexico and outside the state and all the deliberations of the first state wide convention of this kind ever held in New Mexico have been marked by an intense patriotism and earnestness. The presence of the 133rd Infantry band from Camp Cody put "pep" into the gathering from the start; this magnificent musical-military organization playing at every meeting and daily on the streets. The co-operation between the four leading war-work organizations of the state has been splendid. Vocal music in addition to the band selections has relieved the more serious activities of the delegates.

Boys' and Girls' Industrial Clubs

At Lincoln, Monday, the leaders of the Lincoln County Industrial Clubs met with Mrs. Elizabeth Koger, Assistant State Club Leader.

Mrs. Koger briefly told the aims and extent of industrial clubs: what has been accomplished and what the the million boy and girl members are doing this year: the how, when, and why the different members projects; and the plans for future work.

Next a round table of conference was held to discuss local problems and plan for an achievement day in the fall for all the club members.

The entire meeting was informal, enthusiastic, and very helpful.

The leaders present were Mesdames B. J. Bonnell of Glencoe, Clara Wootson of Hondo, Nellie Zamora of Farmerville, Carnar of Picacho, M. L. Blaney of Carrizozo, C. S. Rockwell and Geo. Froning of Capitan.

With such a band of earnest, enthusiastic leaders co-operating with the U. S. Department of Agriculture through the Extension Department of the A. & M. College, the children will soon answer with the work of their own hands, "What are the Industrial Clubs?"

Much credit is due County Agent Stuart Stirling for assistance in making the meeting such a decided success.

Mrs. Elizabeth Koger, County Leader of Clubs

Alto, and Her

Patriotic Citizens

The people of Alto responded to the call of Uncle Sam on the 23th of June. Mr. Carlston announced the amount of stamps sold to be approximately $1,100.

The box supper given Saturday night for the benefit of the Red Cross netted $76.75. The boxes were auctioned off by Judge Striclen of Roswell, an energetic Red Cross worker.

The prize box donated for the most popular young lady was won by Miss Rosilla Carlton.

The ladies of Alto are busy with the machines and knitting needles. A box went into the Carrizozo Chapter last month and will have another this month.

The good people of Alto are of the true blue American type that seek to avoid publicity concerning the work they are doing for the benefit of the country in general in the time when it is most needed. The Outlook has tried time and again to get a line on the work so as to publish the same, but the Alto folks have avoided the limelight and went ahead with their patriotic following, but in this issue we are publishing an outline of the labors performed by our patriotic neighbors, assuming a full responsibility in printing the same, and wish to add a word of praise to their efforts.

It is regrettable to say that after all such noble work as these people are doing, that they are not without some opposition. Some people are so very, very good that anything done in a community on the Sabbath day except it be of a strictly religious nature, leads them to condemn and criticize unjustly, when the facts are that the business of Uncle Sam must go on the same one day as another. If it is a dance to raise money for the Red Cross, there should be no question about what day the dance is to be given. If it is some affair to encourage the Liberty Loan, well and good; if it is a campaign for Thrift Stamps, and the work would be more conveniently done on Sunday, let us move forward, bear in mind at all times that our country's needs at the present time are of much more importance than all vain quibbling about creeds, traditions or anything else. Our boys go to the trenches on Sunday, the same as any other day; then why should any among us set up a howl because we here, who must see the boys through "over there" help them on the same day. If we are to lay off on Sunday, it would be just what the Kaiser is looking for.

I have good pasture for 10,000 head of sheep at Kibika, all under sheep tight fence. Can hold until fat. If interested, please or write Ira O. Waggoner, Carrizozo, N. M.

Meyer Barnett

Entertains

Tuesday night Meyer Barnett gave a social dance at Lutz Hall in honor of his brother, Mike, who is home on a furlough. A good crowd was in attendance and the event will be long remembered as one of a novel and extraordinary nature. After the dance, the crowd proceeded to the "Anderson Oasis" where refreshments were served placing a cooling and delightful finish on the pleasant affair.

Mike Barnett, in whose honor the dance was given, will leave shortly for his post of duty on the good ship U. S. S. Missouri at Fortress Monroe, Va. He will take with him the kindest and best wishes of the Carrizozo people in general and the Outlook wishes to be included, and wishes to assure Mike that there will be no doubt about the outcome of this war, as all of our boys are, like himself, true blue which will make the Kaiser's pets march to the tune of "Yankee Doodle" for we are their natural masters.

At Sherwood Corns

A delightful barbecue was given last Monday night at the home of Sherwood Corn. The guests besides enjoying themselves to their heart's content in dancing, were treated to an old fashioned barbecue, attended with everything that could be thought of in the line of good things to eat. The dancing continued until a late hour, after which the Carrizozo portion of the guests headed by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Garrard returned well pleased with the pleasant affair.

Clouds and Sunshine

Little Sara Osborn has been ill for the last few days which has caused Mrs. Osborn to postpone her visit to the east with Sara, but the clouds are now scattering, little Sara is improving and with her mama she will soon be on her way east to visit relatives and friends.

Fort Stanton

Has a Picnic

The Fort Stanton picnic was attended by people from all over the country and it was a decided success.

Many soft drink stands catered to the thirsty crowd with the usual ice cream and pop.

The climbing of a greased pole and a minstrel show were the amusements of the early afternoon, and later on Mr. Rolland raffled off the Sedan, the lucky number falling to Mr. Hagan of Ft. Stanton.

There was a movie at 7:15, after which a dance was given that was enjoyed by all.

The picnics returned home with their best wishes for Fort Stanton and hope to enjoy many like the one just given in the near future.

Hondo Hot-Stuff

A couple of prominent citizens of Hondo went to San Patricio recently and while passing a native's garden one of them politely raised his hat—"That a friend of yours?" queried his companion. I thought so, but I guess I'm mistaken—it's a scare-crow."

Its still nice and dry in the Hondo valley but rain in the mountains has put the water in the Bonito for irrigation purposes and crops look well.

The biggest flood in the Bonito Monday since July 1916, several carcasses of dead horses were carried along by the torrent also a few cattle and a couple of hogs were reported to have been seen floating in the water.

The wind storm of last Saturday night unroofed at least one homesteaders shack in the hills east of Hondo carrying the structure over 100 yards before it struck the earth, some damage to fruit trees is reported and much fruit was blown from others.

Sisto Sedillo and H. W. Warner swapped farms this week, the lands lie near San Patricio.

Wheat and barley fields are getting ripe in the valley and new grain will soon be on the market; while the individual patches are small, yet the total acreage is far in excess of the amount planted heretofore for many years, the crop condition is fair and the prospects of average yield good. Crop conditions are generally good, corn has made unusually fine growth in the past ten days, early beans though there are not many of these are blooming and free from bugs. The main bean crop will be planted on the wheat and barley stubble as soon as the grain is taken off. Second alfalfa crop is about ready to cut; the first crop being delayed by late pasturage has delayed the second cutting.

Herbert Hoover,
Put one over,
When he said, "Let's live on spuds."
And tickle our throats with corn
and oats,
And wear our last years duds.
—Farm like thunder,
Help work a wonder,
And save every grain of wheat
Eat butter and beans,
And by all means,
Send the boys in France the meat.
Nor has he forgotten,
That we need cotton,
For explosives, and the Khaki
coat,
We'll obey and behave,
And make the effort to save,
Until we can get the Kaiser's
goat,
—And you lovers, cute,
Must substitute,
Dear, or something else for hun,
Cut out the sweets,
And lovers feats
Until we get the Germans on the run,
I would make this longer,
And a whole lot stronger,
And take the time to emphasize,
But just like you,
I am an American true,
—And must stop and Hooverize.

CITY MEN AS FARM HELPERS

The Service That Some City Men Rendered Last Year in Saving the Potato Crop Can Be Duplicated Now in Grain Fields, on Truck Farms, and Elsewhere.

PEOPLE IN TOWN TO HELP FARMER

Farm Labor Shortage Such That Heroic Measures Are Necessary to Save Crops.

CLUB CO-OPERATION IS NEEDED

Opportunity for City Men to Repay to Nation a Part of Debt They Owe the Farm—What Clarence Ousley Has to Say.

Suppose you close your store next Tuesday—lock it up and go away all day—how much will you lose? Something, certainly. But suppose, tomorrow morning, you display placards over every counter telling your customers that the store will not be open Tuesday, that the entire sales force is going to put in the day fighting for the freedom of America, and ask them to buy on Monday what they need for Tuesday. How much would you lose then, even if your competitor on the next corner should keep open all day and hustle for business? A little, possibly. But don't you think it would be bread upon the water, that would return to you, and after not so many days, at that? Don't you believe that, for every customer of yours who went to trade with your competitor during the day you were closed, three of his would come to trade with you within the week?

Must Fight in Furrows.

Urban people have got to do some fighting for freedom in the furrows this spring, summer and fall. They have got to help the country win the war by helping the farmer produce food—which means that they will be helping themselves most of all.

With the exception of a few mining and manufacturing centers, the villages, towns and cities of 100,000 or less are mainly dependent for their success on the prosperity of the farming communities around them. They have good times or hard times in proportion as the farming operations in their trade territory succeed or fail. In normal times, even, sensible self-interest prompts the business man to encourage and aid the farmer. Now, in the stress of war, the prompting to help the farmer comes hardly less from good business judgment than from patriotic impulse.

Here is the situation: The farmers will need additional labor to help cultivate and harvest the crops they have planted. This situation cannot be met by legislation. The task imposed upon the Israelites by Pharaoh, to make bricks without straw, was an easy job compared with the task of making labor by law. In large measure, the needed labor must come from the people in towns whose business does not have to be kept humming every minute.

Men Who Were Farm Boys.

You know, a very large proportion of business men have been farm boys. Just make a mental canvass of the men in your block or your building. You remember when they came in green from the country, sunburned and hard as hickory. The fact that they are now among the best business men in town does not prove that they couldn't still do good farmwork. Why, not so long ago, when Bill Brown rushed in to get a few balls of binder twine, and to put a little extra money in the bank and chaffed you about the ease of your job and how soft you were, you probably boasted that you could still shock wheat or walk between the plow handles with the best of them. Of course you could—and of course you can. Maybe you can't hold it as long as some of them, but you can do it as well. All right. The time has come for you to do it. You never made a boast that you couldn't back up, did you?

If your town falls down on this matter, the country will suffer—a little. It will not suffer a great deal, because most of the towns are not going to fall down on it. But if your town falls down on this matter, your town will suffer more than a little. You know what happens to trade when the farmers all around are short on crops and have barely enough money to scrimp by with.

Commercial Clubs Should Act.
Take the matter up at the next meeting of the commercial club or board of trade. Or, better still, call a special meeting. You have influence enough to do it or have it done. Here is what Clarence Ousley, assistant secretary of agriculture of the United States, says about it:

"To render this assistance to the farmer and to the nation, the local commercial club or business men's association should appoint a labor representative or a small and active committee on farm labor. This labor representative or committee should make a canvass of the business men, clerks and others in the town who have had farm experience and who are willing to close or leave their places of business on certain days or afternoons, or for long periods, and go out on the neighboring farms to help. This labor representative or committee should either get in touch with the farmers themselves or with an agent representing the farmers, such as the master of the Grange, the president of the union, the manager of the co-operative creamery or store, or the county agricultural agent, and ascertain just how many men each farmer can use to advantage during good weather and particularly during certain rush periods in planting, cultivating, or harvesting. With this information on the farm labor needs and the number of workers available, the committee can assign the men who have volunteered to help in this emergency to the various farms in the neighborhood."

Farm Labor Problem.

The farm labor problem is one that affects not the farmer alone.

It is a problem that affects the city man and in the solution of which the city man must help.

Study the problem as it applies to the farming communities on which you and your business depend for the largest measure of success.

Write to the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., for a copy of "The Farm-Labor Problem—Manpower Sufficient if Properly Mobilized by Co-operation and Community Action."

FADS "OVER THERE"

Reviving Skirt With Ankle Slit—The Sugar Chatelaine.

Tiny Case Is Used to Carry the Very Scarce Sweet—Tin Helmets With Brims of Straw.

The wool shortage works out differently in London and New York apparently, for word comes recently that English women are reviving the skirt with an ankle slit. Skirts must of necessity be of scanty dimensions, and one simply cannot wear a skirt that is only a yard and a half wide and hope to walk with ease. Hence the slit, states a fashion correspondent. Five years ago the slit skirt was undoubtedly merely a freak of fashion. We didn't have to wear such narrow skirts. But now, apparently, it has come back in London as a matter of necessity, if not of actual patriotism. Here, of course, we manage, as we think, more cleverly. We combine wool with silk and other fabrics in a way that makes it possible to have the minimum of wool in our frocks, without a skirt so narrow as to make the slit inevitable.

During the sugar shortage last winter there were some hostesses who added a line bearing the words "Please bring your own sugar" to their cards sent out to invite friends to afternoon tea. At least one woman, who was particularly frank, resorted to this device when her own sugar supply had been reduced to zero. But that is so long ago, and so remote now is any actual famine in sugar, that we have forgotten all about it. It seems now as if wheat was the only thing that we had ever had to conserve. However, in France, and to a certain extent in England, sugar is still a scarce article. In parts of France there simply isn't any. It isn't a question of conservation there, for

SPRING DOWN; LATTICE HAT

This spring costume, in blue and white, is exceedingly attractive. Bands, frills and embroidery are cleverly combined.

GINGHAM PLAIDS ARE USED

Needlework Also Calls for This Popular Material for Numerous Purposes About the Home.

Everything is taking to gingham plaids, even needlework. And this is not to be wondered at when you consider how neat and symmetrical for practical purposes the gingham check and plaid can be. Here it is applied to the end of a useful scarf or runner in 18-inch width. The gingham part of it is simply a matter of outlining those squares with neat stitches in one color, most likely blue, or any color to match the general scheme of your room.

This scarf may be stamped on linen, if you can afford that luxury—or dolly cloth, cotton rep, lawn, ballet, crash toweling or lincas. It will not be hard to do this stamping yourself; merely repeat the design on each end of the scarf. In this way you can make it as long as you like, and should you not want an 18-inch width you can reduce it to 15 very easily by removing the last row of squares on each edge. The how can you conserve that of which you have positively none?

SMART GARRISON CAP MODEL

This officer's garrison cap, made in black Milan, banded with embroidered satin ribbon and crowned with a wreath of pink roses, shows what beauty can be worked into a military fashion.

When there is any sugar it is prized as were costly spices from the Indies prized in the days when to seek a short route to such prizes was sufficient incentive to make Christopher Columbus brave the unknown seas. French people never knew how much they liked sweets until now. And among the most recently produced "vanity" accessories for the fashionable woman's chatelaine is a tiny sugar case. It is carried to tea parties. Presumably, the woman fortunate enough to have a supply of sugar profits thereby and drops it into her own tea, while those about her go without. Or perhaps she takes the sugar box with her so that she may share her good fortune with those with whom she drinks tea.

Just why the women of England should feel constrained to wear tin hats it is hard to see. Surely there is no demand for straw in war work? So in using tin they are not effecting any sort of conservation. These helmets are made in all sorts of colors, and, strange to say, are extremely light—really lighter than the average crown made of straw. The tin helmet is combined with a brim of straw or fabric, to make hats of various shapes and sizes.

IN FASHION LAND

A new two color coat is very chic. Country frocks are made of linen. New parasols are edged with fringe. Belts and sashes are made of ribbon. Shawl collars appear on the new coats.

Black lace over white is greatly worn.

Sweaters are being knit from baby ribbon.

Satin is very fashionable for spring frocks.

Blue serge is frequently embroidered in red.

There seems to be a revived interest in color.

Cinnamon brown is a fashionable color for hats.

Sleeveless Coat in Vogue.

The combination of the sleeveless coat with long semimilitary cape in suits, which is one of the late spring style developments, is meeting with general approval throughout the country, according to reports from several New York manufacturers. That the cape on these garments is detachable is thought to be one of their most desirable features. This combination is also being made up for wear with separate skirts, and seems to be very popular with women in many sections.

design remains exactly the same, but not quite so wide.

Now as to treatment, you will find colors the best choice instead of all white. Let the squares be outlined with the color you want to emphasize. Note that the intersections of these lines are interrupted by a cluster of four small single stitches of another color and a knot of a third color.

Old Comforters.

Sometimes from two badly worn comforters it is possible to make one that is satisfactory. The cotton can be carefully looked over, and that that is badly worn or soiled thrown away and the one remaining comforter made thicker or longer than either of the two original ones. The covers may be cut over so that from one comforter the top cover may be taken and from the other, the lining. Sometimes from a single old comforter a child's comforter can be made, or a comforter for a baby's crib. But if you have a thimble and a needlebook and some spools of heavy thread, a set of ten fingers and wits of an average sort never throw away old comforters.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

Gilded Chicken Feet.
It may be because of war economies and it may be "something else again," as Abe said to Mawrus, but it is a fact nevertheless that new and unusual fields are being invaded to furnish millady's headgear. At the same time splendid opportunities are offered to earnest nature students. One of the most novel skypee ornaments seen here is gilded chicken feet. One woman appeared on Broadway the other day in a bonnet trimmed with English walnuts cracked open to show the kernels, while another woman wore a merry widow of single alligator skin garnished with a single gray squirrel. New York women seem to have lots of new millinery thoughts these days.

The New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell university recently furnished directions for a barrel garden for city dwellers whose yards are paved or unillable. Cucumbers, radishes, peas, and beans can be raised in this way.

Motto of This Paper

Pledged to the Undying Support of Its Country's Cause.

Power Behind The Nation

In an address before the editorial convention held in the east it was shown that sixty per cent of the American people are served by the country papers and smaller dailies.

The smaller newspapers constitute the real driving force and police power of sixty million of the American people—more than half the people in the United States read the smaller newspapers.

The farmers, the men and women who feed the nation, and a great part of the rest of the world—the thinking, influential Americans who do not live in big cities read the country weekly and smaller dailies.

While the city dwellers live in flats and apartments spend their money on canned goods and picture shows, the readers of the country newspapers are the great buying class from farm tractors to jewelry.

The advertising value and the political power of the smaller newspapers is not yet fully understood by the great business interests and statesmanship of the nation, and still less appreciated.—Exchange.

There was a young fellow named Hyde
Who once at a funeral was spied
When asked who was dead;
He just nodded and said,
"I don't know, I just came for a ride."

The man who drives a rivet these days is worth more to his country than the fellow who wallops a baseball all over the lot.

An exchange says that the Americans are fighting for peace for the whole civilized world—and Germany.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

To all Residents of the State of New Mexico:—

Local and District Boards of this State have practically completed the classification of registrants under the Selective Service Law, who registered prior to June 5, 1918.

The members of these Boards have labored faithfully and conscientiously to complete this gigantic task and have, in each instance, made the proper classification on the evidence presented by the questionnaire.

There are, no doubt, cases where the questionnaires failed to present the true state of facts and in these cases the Boards have, of necessity, been unable to do justice.

It now becomes the patriotic duty of every resident of this state having knowledge of any unjust or improper classification to report to Capt. R. C. Reid, U. S. R., at Santa Fe, the facts in the case, giving the name and postoffice address of such registrant, that the case may be thoroughly investigated. Such report will be treated in the strictest confidence. The Selective Service Law will only be successful in the same degree as classifications are properly made and it is with a view of correcting any erroneous classifications that this appeal is made.

By order of
W. E. LINDSEY, Governor.
R. C. REID, Captain U. S. R.

New Mexico's Warriors

The announcement by the state board of historical research that there are more than twelve thousand young men from this state now serving in the army or navy, will strike a note of pride in every citizen of New Mexico. The proportion is above the average ratio of enlistment from other states, and leaves no room for the charge that New Mexico has been backward in doing its part in the war.

In a state which so large a percentage of the population is of Spanish and Mexican origin, many of whom do not write English, there was a possibility that response to the country's call for its young men to go and fight might have met with little enthusiasm.

The report of the state historical board proves the contrary to have been the case. The number of voluntary enlistments in the navy is an additional indication of the readiness with which the New Mexican youth took up the fight for the nation.—Albuquerque Morning Journal.

Several darkeys were discussing the best branch of the service to enlist in, and one darkey suggested the aviation branch. This conversation ensued: First darkey: How come you don't jine dis here flying squad? Ain't much chance to git kilt after you learn to 'ride one. You go so high dat de guns cain't reach you. Second darkey: Hold on there brudder! You ain't takin' to me. I knows zactly how dat things gwine to be. You go up 'bout three miles, and the doggone contrapshun—hit stops. An' de white man what you is ridin' wit', he says: "Hey, nigger! Git out and crank up!" No, suh, I don't need no flying in mine.—Ex.

THE NEW MEXICO RURALIST

EDITED BY H. B. HENING

*A Livestock Paper—A Ranch Paper—A Farm Paper
An "At-Home" Paper—A Newspaper*

UAST week 10,000 ranchmen, cattle men, sheep men, wool men and farmers sat down in their "easy chair" and read and re-read their New Mexico Ruralist. Perhaps the most interesting article they read was about you: something you had done on your ranch that was done differently and better than they had been doing it. If it were not about you it pertained to your everyday business. Every line in last week's paper was of interest to them for each line was devoted to rural New Mexico.

And Then There Is a Whole Page for Mother and the Girls

The latest styles, illustrated, but best of all, articles of what other women are doing in different parts of New Mexico. You women will like this page. It is edited by Anna Wilds Strumquist, of Albuquerque. Perhaps you know her, and we are certain she knows you. And Mrs. Strumquist told us to ask you if you would not help edit this page. If you have an exceptionally good recipe send it to Mrs. Strumquist. If you are getting more eggs than any one else in your neighborhood, if you are having better success with your chickens, write and tell us how you do it. Feel free to use this page, for you are writing to friends and for friends to read.

The Firing Squad

By Captain George Steunenberg, U. S. A., in the Army and Navy Journal.

I wonder how long we'll continue to be a health resort for spies

And other industrious gentlemen that the papers criticize!

The place for an agent of Kaiser Bill is six feet under sod—

I want to hear some corporal yell, "Fall in the firing squad!"

Do we get cold feet at the thought of blood?

Have we lost our old time grit

If we haven't the guns to kill a man we'd better lie down and quit.

Do you think you can tame those animals by the method of "spare the rod?"

Forget it! Come on with the corporal in command of a firing squad!

If we riddled a few incendiaries the industry would decline;

If we plugged a couple of profiteers the rest would stand in line;

And a lot of these devilish anarchists would get in and carry the hod

If a few of leaders went over the range to the tune of the firing squad.

"Arrested," "interned," or "out on bail"—its ever the same old song.

And we lay the paper aside and remark.

"How long, Oh God, how long?"

We've seen enough devilment this past year to arouse the wrath of God!

Then what, is it we are waiting for?

Come on with the firing squad!

Every man should do his plain duty, but some men are such aesthetic as to dislike anything that is plain.—Sante Fe New Mexican.

War is a great leaver. Many a fellow who has been forced to take a back seat all his life is now at the front.

Professional Opportunity

An opportunity is offered today to the physicians of the Pacific Coast to enroll in the Naval Reserve of the United States Naval Reserve Forces.

This announcement was authorized by Dr. Morton W. Baker, Medical Aide to the Commandant of the Twelfth Naval District, from Headquarters at San Francisco. Members of the medical profession are urged to respond to this call for patriotic service that they owe their country and thus place themselves on record as offering their professional services in this cause for humanity. Thoughtful and frank consideration should be given by every physician and surgeon to the question, "Why do I not put my services and ability at the disposal of my country?"

A Live New Mexican School

We have just received the latest catalog issued by the State Agricultural School, which is complete in every detail. The catalog should be read by every young man and woman in the state, as the demand for those well trained along these lines is now greater than ever before.

The college this year becomes a fully recognized military school. A boy can get full military instruction, at the lowest possible cost, and at the same time carry on studies preparing him for a liberal arts degree and for some profession which will insure remunerative employment on the completion of his course. Board and room may be had for $20 to $24 a month.

Why did you name your boy Reginald Clarence?"

THE PARROT ACTOR.

"I am an actor," said the parrot whose name was Greenie. "I am on the real stage and men and women and boys and girls pay money, real money, to come and see me! That's an honor for you, a great and glorious honor."

"Oh, well," said Greenie's companion, whose name, as you may imagine, was Mrs. Greenie, "you are very glad to be an actor, but would you like to act all the time? No. You would become tired of it."

"My dear Mrs. Greenie, you are simply trying to comfort yourself because you're not an actress. You are saying that if one acted all the time one would become tired of it."

"And wouldn't you?" asked Mrs. Greenie.

"To be sure," said Greenie.

"Then I was right."

"Yes, you were right."

"Hurrah," said Mrs. Greenie.

"Ah, but—but," said Greenie, "you are right, and yet you do not understand."

"Pray explain," said Mrs. Greenie.

"How can I be right and still not understand?"

"Quite easily. Listen to me."

"I'm listening," said Mrs. Greenie.

"I'm all attention. My every scrap of hearing is directed toward you, so as to heed what you have to say." For Mrs. Greenie tried to be very polite to Greenie. She admired him tremendously because he was an actor. And she thought it was a great honor for her to be his companion and wife. She couldn't act; there couldn't be two famous actors in the family, but You're a Nice, Bright Mrs. Parrot.

It was mighty fine that there was one to she tried to talk her very best talk to Greenie, though once in awhile she felt a little jealous.

"You are right, Mrs. Greenie," he commenced, "when you say that I would be tired of acting if I acted all the time. But that is true of more than acting. We would be tired of eating if we ate all the time. Suppose we had to eat seed every minute of every hour of every day! It would be simply awful! We couldn't stand it. And yet we like to eat—in moderation—which means not too much, but just the right amount."

"I'm not so sure that I like to eat in moderation," said Mrs. Greenie.

"Ah, perhaps that word doesn't mean all it should. It should mean, as I use it, that you enjoy eating all you can without having it make you ill."

"Ah, that's very different," said Mrs. Greenie. "I think moderation is a nice word."

"Glad you do, my dear," said Greenie.

"Yes, I see, of course, you would get tired of acting all the time," continued Mrs. Greenie.

"I am a bird above money," Greenie said after a moment.

"Is that another word for a low perch?" asked Mrs. Greenie.

"Ah, no," said Greenie; "money is something they pay actors. It gives them the power to buy food and clothes and houses and automobiles—that is, if they get enough for such things. But anyway they can buy all sorts of things in the shops with money, from crackers to seed—and many useless things as well, such as stockings and shoes."

"But I am above money. I scorn it! I neither ask for it, nor do I get it! I receive a salary and it's the lowest one paid to any actor, and yet I am applauded and clapped, and they all like me—and I'm one of the company. I talk cleverly and I whistle through one whole act of the play—the last and most important act. I receive crackers, water, seed, and a little cake for you and for me as my salary. Nothing hard and cold and silly like money. I'm above it!"

"Oh, I see," said Mrs. Greenie. "But still money has its uses, for people have to pay money in order to see you. You wouldn't be applauded and clapped and considered so smart if it weren't for that, eh?"

"You're a nice, bright Mrs. Parrot, and a good wife for a clever actor," said Mr. Greenie admiringly.

Certain-teed Roofing

Better than metal

Certain-teed is fast taking the place of metal roofs, not only because of the scarcity and high cost of metal, but because Certain-teed is superior in every important roofing quality. Metal easily rusts and disintegrates from atmospheric gases. Certain-teed cannot rust and its asphalt base makes it practically immune to any form of corrosion.

Metal absorbs heat and transmits it to the interior of a building. Certain-teed insulates against heat and cold, and makes the building cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

Metal must be painted frequently. Certain-teed gives years of weatherproof service practically without any upkeep expense. Metal is noisy in wind or storm. Certain-teed completely deadens sound from such sources.

Metal is not and cannot be safely guaranteed. Certain-teed is absolutely guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness, and actually gives longer service than its guarantee.

Metal is a direct drain on military materials. Certain-teed is made principally of waste rags and asphalt—materials which have no military use whatever.

Certain-teed has proved its efficiency and economy for every kind of roofing service—for factories, warehouses, hotels, stores, farm buildings, out-buildings, etc. Certain-teed is more economical and more efficient in service than metal or any other type of roof. Certain-teed is the best quality of roof roofing—It costs no more to lay than ordinary roll roofing and lasts much longer. For sale by good dealers everywhere.

Scenes of Prosperity Are Common in Western Canada

The thousands of U. S. farmers who have accepted Canada's generous offer to settle on homesteads or buy farm land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops of wheat and other grains.

Where you can buy good farm land at $15 to $30 per acre—get $2 a bushel for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre you are bound to make money—that's what you can do in Western Canada.

In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta you can get a

Kramer Says: "Eatonic" Rids Weak Stomachs of Acids, Gas, Heartburn, Food Repeating and Stomach Miseries

What miserable feelings are caused by an upset stomach! That dull, heavy, "blotted" sensation that follows a full meal, robs good living of half its pleasures. Is there any way out for you sufferers with stomach weakness?

Yes; H. L. Kramer, the man who originated Cascarets, has found a sure, quick, relief for indigestion, dyspepsia, "sour stomach," heart-burn, formation of painful gases, "blotting," etc., etc. He calls his stomach relief EATONIC, and it certainly is making a wonderful record. Countless thousands of people who formerly approached their meals with dread, now eat their fill of their favorite foods without fear of the after-effects.

Mr. Kramer says: "My EATONIC tablets are the solution of the age-old problem of indigestion and all forms of stomach misery."

"EATONIC neutralizes the acids, that form the painful gases, 'sweetens' the stomach, and gives the gastric juice a chance to do its work as it should."

"To promote appetite and aid digestion, take EATONIC tablets—one or two after each meal. They are perfectly harmless. Eat them just like candy."

"For distress after eating; sour, 'gassy,' acid stomach, vertigo, nausea and belching, and that wretched, puffed-up, 'lumpy' feeling, after over-eating; there is nothing to compare with EATONIC Tablets."

All druggists sell EATONIC—50c for a large box. Watch out for imitations. The genuine bears the name EATONIC on each tablet—guaranteed to do all that is claimed; or if your druggists don't carry EATONIC—send to Eatonic Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill.

Value of Her Time

Efficiency is the watch word of the industrial world. Every effort is made to make every minute count. This same spirit of efficiency is reaching into the home. The housewife is advocating and practising time saving methods. Her time is as valuable and often more valuable to herself, her family and her community — outside of the kitchen than in it. The up-to-date housewife employs up-to-date methods. She does a given task in the best possible manner in the shortest possible time. She eliminates the necessity of doing the same thing twice—to gain the desired results. Where this kitchen efficiency rule—you usually find Calumet Baking Powder, because Calumet is efficient. It is positive in results. It never fails. There are no rebakings. No "double duty" for the housewife. Its dependable action cuts baking time down to a minimum. Still there is another way in which Calumet relieves the housewife from bake day duties. It enables her to use one batch of dough for two bakings. She can work up a pan of the dough, use part of it for a baking for the evening meal and set aside the balance in the ice box for breakfast biscuits. In the morning she saves the time the other baking powders require—as the dough they are used in must be baked immediately. Whereas Calumet retains its leavening strength until exposed to oven heat.

Soldier and

Sailor Insurance

So far more than 3,000,000,000 government checks have been sent out by the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance, most of which were for allotments and allowances to the families and dependents of the enlisted men in the army and navy. The total disbursements of the bureau up to June 10 were more than $98,000,000, of which $97,000,000 was for allotments and allowances.

More than 850,000 checks a month are sent out, approximately 35,000 being mailed out every day. The first checks for the June allotments will be sent out on July 1, just as the first May payments began on June 1. Relatives and dependents of the insured men should remember that the payments for any month can not be mailed out sooner than the first day of the succeeding month.

A discarded crankshaft can be bedecked with varf-colored ribbons, and will serve as an excellent necktie rack when hung on the wall in friend husband's dressing room. Do not support it with ribbons and a tack. A railroad spike and wire cable is best for this purpose.—Ex.

Travelling in a rural district, a man stopped at a cottage and asked for a drink of water. An old woman brought it to him and after drinking he had quite a talk with her, telling her about some of the wonders he had seen in the outside world. When he finally stopped to take breath the old woman said: "Stranger, if I knowed as much as you do I'd go somewhere and start a little grocery."

BAKER VINDICATED

Secretary of War Baker may have his faults, just like the rest of mankind, but he can not be accused of misleading the people in regard to the number of troops America would have in France by the end of 1919. Last winter when he predicted that at least one million khaki-clad troops would be on French soil before or by the end of 1918 congressional wisacres immediately got out their pencils and began figuring.

They proved—to their own satisfaction, at least—that Secretary Baker's prediction was visionary and entirely beyond possibility. These statisticians figure that such a feat would be impossible, even if cargo ships were withdrawn from food trade and diverted to hauling troops.

"Secretary Baker's prediction will be more than fulfilled. If the present rate of transporting men is maintained there will be a million men in France in July. And this will have been accomplished without interfering with the cargo ships in the least. The flow of troops has gradually increased right from the start and the allies have been kept well supplied with food as well as the raw materials they have needed.

These results have been achieved by resorting to a number of of resources which neither the critics in congress nor the Germans had thought of. Dutch, Swedish and Japanese ships have become available. The shipbuilding program which appeared to be a failure last winter has been speeded up. In short, the United States has done what seemed impossible to enemies abroad and critics at home. The United States is going on accomplishing what one time seemed impossible until the German emperor is brought to his knees.

A famous artist was standing one day bareheaded in a hat shop while his hat was being ironed. An irate customer tackled him with "Here's a hat you made for me. It doesn't fit me in the least." The great man regarded him calmly. "Your quite right," he answered. "It doesn't. But for that neither does your coat; your trousers need pressing, and your vest is a crime."—Ex.

A good many of our worthy citizens journeyed to Ft Stanton yesterday to enjoy the picnic—and also see who won the car.

A Bertin report declares that a 320-pound German is starving in that city. This shows how unreliable Berlin reports are. If there is any German in Berlin who weighs 320 in this year of our Lord, he is a profiteer, and in no danger of wanting for anything—much less plenty of good nourishing food which he has been hoarding for the past five or six years. The average German in the fatherland today weighs about 80 pounds, and they find that a heavy load to carry with only straw bread for nourishment.—El Paso Morning Times.

Prevent Food Losses

Perishables Can Be Saved by Careful Handling

(By the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Important amounts of perishable foods are made dangerous or inedible in households because they are exposed unnecessarily to heat, moisture, germs, dust, dirt, or to flies and other insects.

Much milk spoils quickly because it is kept uncovered in warm kitchens. Close observance of the doctrine, "Keep perishable food, especially milk, cool, clean and covered continuously," may make a striking difference in the food bills of many families.

Fresh vegetables not needed immediately for other purposes should not be thrown out or allowed to spoil, but should be used in making soups, salads, or combination dishes. Fruits are sometimes allowed to go to waste which might be stewed and kept a day or two until needed.

Vegetables and fruits should not be stored in quantities in hot, damp, and poorly ventilated bins. Such conditions hasten wilting, fermentation and decay.

Surplus fruits, beans, tomatoes and other vegetables produced in home gardens should not be allowed to spoil on the vines or rot on the ground. A morning's work would can and preserve such surplusage for use when fruits and vegetables are scarce and high in price.

Much food, ruined by being stored where flies or other insects, or rats and mice can get at it, can be saved if it is given proper care. Much cereal food is ruined because it is not kept in cans or other suitable containers and protected against weevils or other insects. Prevent such losses by careful handling.

Slabman Jack Coombs, After Amassing Big Money, Declares He Will Retire This Season

Jack Coombs, who left Colby college in 1905 to become a major league pitcher with the Mackmen, and made good right off the reel, is still rated as an effective slabman.

When his arm is right he is one of the hardest pitchers in the National league to beat, and he has long been a hoodoo to the Giants, who have more trouble beating him than any other pitcher on the Robins' staff.

This is Coombs' eleventh year as a major league pitcher, and he says it will be his last. He announced his plan to retire from the game during the training season at Hot Springs, and as he has earned big money and is well "heeled," he will probably make good his plan to retire.

Mother's Cook Book

Trouble has a trick of coming Butt and first; Viewed approaching—then you've seen it At its worst. Once surmounted, straight it waxes Ever small; And it tapers till there's nothing Left at all.

Summer Salads.

Cucumbers are such refreshing vegetables and may be used in combination with so many other foods we need never tire of them. A different way of serving them is to peel them, slice in quarter-inch slices, then peel round each slice making ribbons. Heap these on lettuce, sprinkle with chopped onion and serve with French dressing.

Sweet salads of various combinations of fruits make most delectable desserts. Lemon jelly accompanied by figs steamed and stuffed with cheese, served either as a salad or as a dessert is delicious. Lemon jelly with various chopped vegetables molded in it is another good combination.

An Attractive Salad.

A pretty salad and one which will suggest various other combinations is this: Arrange two, three or four tender leaves of head lettuce on the salad plate and on each put a spoonful of a different kind of vegetable. Asparagus tips on one leaf, sections of tomatoes on another with celery and cut apple on a third, all well marinated with French dressing and serve with mayonnaise.

Pineapple with pecan meats is another good combination with which to stuff little ripe red tomatoes. Garnish the top with cubes of the tomato which was removed. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Cooked stalks of asparagus, three or four that have been marinated in well seasoned dressing; then thrust through a ring of red or green pepper, or a ring of orange or lemon, all laid on lettuce and served with a spoonful of mayonnaise make a pretty salad.

White grapes, grape fruit, a few nuts and mayonnaise served on head lettuce is a salad combination of which one never tires.

Berkshire Salad.

Mix two cupfuls of cold rice potatoes with a cupful of pecan meats, broken in bits; marinate with French dressing, arrange on a mound of water cress and serve, garnished with halves of pecan meats.

Potato, almonds, a few cucumber cubes, a bit of onion and a good boiled dressing make a most dainty salad.

HIS MOTHER

If I might only think—he bears A shining armor of my prayers To ward the shadow of a shell From his beloved breast, And like the wings of angels keep Away the nameless things that creep Pleasure-masked videttes of hell, To prey on his rare hours of rest!

His parting look into his mother's eyes Shall find so calm and absolute a trust In the high cause that claims the sacrifice

That when the moment comes—as come it must— When he asks himself: "Is it worth while This dream I fight for?" then he can recall

His mother's faith, who gave that dream her all And gave it with a smile.

With the Inventors.

A French system of rapid telegraphy by which 40,000 words an hour can be transmitted has worked successfully for distances up to 900 miles in that country.

Cantilever supports under a new motorcycle saddle eliminate all movements other than those in a perpendicular direction and thus absorb the more serious shocks.

Experiments are under way in England with a new fuel for automobiles that is made from sugar refinery refuse and is said to have greater power than gasoline.

Brown Sugar, Among Other Old Time Necessities, Now Found Best For Many Uses

"We must get out our old cook books and revive some of the things our grandmothers used to make," says Prof. Mary Rausch of the department of home economics, University of Washington, in commenting in that university's newsletter on the necessity that faces housekeepers of learning how to do without granulated sugar for cooking.

When the cook books that were printed in our grandmothers' day speak of sugar they do not mean the granulated sugar to which we are accustomed, but the heavier, dark, moist sugar that has a flavor resembling molasses or rum. For many purposes this is really better than the granulated white sugar. One of the largest bakers in Seattle uses nothing else, and he says the flavor of all sweetened breads is much improved by it.

Brown sugar or sirup should be used in all biscuits, muffins, cakes, puddings and pies. For years the best ginger-breads and spice cakes have been made with nothing else. And there are many candies for which it is better than white. A delicious cake icing is made by boiling brown sugar to a sirup and pouring it over the stiffly beaten whites of eggs.

House Many Centuries Old. What is believed to be the oldest inhabited residence in the world is a mansion in Germany that was built in 700.

A MISQUE.

Sir F. E. Smith told a queer story at a Washington luncheon.

"There are so many queues in England now," he said, "that one is apt to get mixed up."

"A young American soldier passed four hours in a very long queue the other day. His spirits were superb. He amused everybody with his quips and sallies. But he uttered a low cry of dismay when his turn at last came, and a girl thrust a small greasy packet in his hand, saying:

"No tea today, but here's a nice half-ounce of margarine."

"Well, I'll be jiggered!" said the American. "Is this or ain't it the gallery entrance to the Frivolity theater?"

Not Quite.

"It was the sure way the caveman took to secure his lady love by pursuing her and knocking her down."

"Oh, I don't know. Even then it was a case of hit and miss."

His Sort.

"Molly's husband is a fine, manly young fellow, isn't he?"

"Well, from what I have seen of him when with her, I should say he is something of a Molly coddler."

The State of the Case.

"While making these allegations the witness shed crocodile tears."

"How could that be when he was an allegator?"

Opposing Attacks.

"So Smith's friends squarely attacked him for his stand on that measure."

"Yes, and roundly denounced him."

VERY SARCASTIC.

Sunny Mike—I don't blame dat dog of yours for tryin' to bite me.

Lady—Why not? "Because it shows his intelligence. De last time I came dis way I handed him a piece of pie you gave me."

Works Both Ways.

"The more we get," you've heard before, "The more we want"—and yet it often works this way: "The more we want the less we get."

Infinitesimal Capacity.

"What do you think? Jiggers is boasting of how well he can drive a car." "Drive a car! Why, that dub can't even drive a nail."

Fortunate Man.

Weary—Soy, mister, would youse mind stakin' a pore man wot ain't got no home 't a few pennies?

Mr. Jar—Got no home? Soy, old fellow, you are playing in great luck. Why, you can stay out all night any old time you want to.

Makes a Difference.

"The young man before marriage is light and gay. She's all the world to him."

"Why does he look so careworn after marriage?" "He has the world on his shoulders then."

The Real Match.

"She's quit trying to land a rich man for a husband."

"Yes. She says she'd pass up a millionaire any time now to marry an officer in the army or the navy."

WESTERN CANADA'S CROPS

Got an Excellent Start. Big Yields Now Assured.

Never in the history of Western Canada did the seed enter the ground under more favorable conditions. The weather during the month of April was perfect for seeding operations, and from early morning until late at night the seeders were at work, and every acre that could be profitably sown was placed under requisition. Farmers entered heart and soul into the campaign of greater production. There was the time and the opportunity for careful preparation, and as a consequence with favorable weather from now on there will be a vastly increased yield. They realized it was a duty they owed to humanity to produce all that they could on the land, not only this year but next as well. In addition to the patriotic aspect, they are aware that the more they produce the greater will be their own return in dollars and cents.

In many districts wheat seeding was completed by the 1st of May, after which date oats and barley on larger acreages than usual were planted.

As has been said, favorable weather conditions made possible excellent seed-bed preparation, and the seed has gone into the ground in unusually good shape. The available moisture in the soil has been added to by rains, which have not been so heavy, however, as to interfere long with the work in the fields. The grain is germinating readily, and on many fields the young green blades of the cereal are already showing.

An optimistic feeling prevails among farmers that Western Canada will reap a record harvest. If the season from now on is as favorable as it has begun, these hopes should be realized. Mr. J. D. McGregor of the Federal Food Board, who is also an old and successful farmer in Western Canada, asserted a few days ago at Calgary that crop conditions throughout the Prairie Provinces were excellent. "Speaking generally," he said, "the crops have never gone into the ground in better shape than this year, and with an even break of luck as far as the weather is concerned, there should be an enormous crop." His present duties in connection with the Food Control Board, taking him in all parts of the West, Mr. McGregor has exceptional opportunities of observing conditions all over the country.—Advertisement.
