ALLIES MARSHAL FORCES TO GIVE FIGHT ON VESLE

Americans, French and British Troops Are Being Concentrated for Next Big Clash With Germans.

August 4.—From Rheims to Soissons, and far back toward the Marne, the Americans, French and British were being concentrated today for the battle for the Vesle. All the indications were that the great chase of the Germans which began on July 18 is nearing an end.

Beyond the Vesle the enemy has planted his artillery, and at different points has challenged the allies to pursue him. Along the southern bank General Foch's armies have slowed down to give an opportunity to those outdistanced to catch up.

There was almost no serious offensive until late in the day in front of Fismes and in other locations, and the character of the fire indicated the emplacement of a great number of guns. It is yet regarded probable that it is nothing more than a plan to offer a stiff resistance in order to gain more time for a withdrawal at the Aisne.

Near Fismes there are a few German machine gunners, but no serious resistance is expected. The American and French guns are in position and a great quantity of shells is being hurled onto the table land which the Germans are holding.

The cost and gain of the big drive are being estimated. There is no doubt that the Germans lost a large number of men, while the losses of the allies are considerably negligible, especially in the prisoners.

Our Boys "Over There"

Mrs. Lena Gallacher has received word from her brother Roy, who is now in France, Ralph Barber is there, also the two sons of W. C. Merchant. A. T. Gerlach, young Herron and John Hern are also "over there" and we have others now on their way to the scene of the conflict. L. B. Crawford, Morgan Reilly and Jeff Claunch have not been heard from for weeks, which is sufficient evidence that they are either on their way or have landed and the news has yet failed to arrive. Several of our boys have been in active service in the trenches, and have made excellent records, this is a foregone conclusion—look where they came from!

At Evening Service

At the Sunday evening service of the Methodist Church, the baby boys of Mr. and Mrs. Channell and Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Lacey were baptized by Rev. Lewelling.

Roy Baird and Wife Leave with our Regrets

Last Sunday Roy Baird and wife left for San Antonio, Tex., which is the home of Mrs. Baird and will visit for a time, after which they will go to Mason, Tex., which is the home of Mr. Baird for a visit with his family. All of this time the wheels are gradually turning which will sooner or later cause the indicator to rest above the name of Roy Baird in a call to the colors of his country.

We miss them; we miss the natural friendly disposition which always met us when we entered the popular drug store of Rolland Brothers and made one feel so much at home.

With an eye single to the interest of his employers, the clever treatment of the patrons of the store made for him friends whose best wishes will follow him wherever he goes, and when called to the colors, which will be soon, the Rolland Brothers will honor him with a Service Flag. His name will then appear in our growing "Service Flag Galley."

Mountain View Notes

We have had several good showers in this part of the country the last few weeks, but are needing more rain at present. The late feed and beans are looking good.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McFairland were up from their Macho ranch the last of the week visiting Mrs. M. C. Fairland's mother, Mrs. R. M. Hipp.

The birthday dinner at the Roscoe Coopers last Sunday was well attended and everyone reported a nice time.

Mrs. Lloyd Taylor and little daughter Ruby, spent Sunday with Mrs. J. P. Gunnels.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ferris spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thompson.

Mrs. Roscoe Cooper is expecting to leave soon for the training camp.

Accident With Car

One Escapes—One Dies

News reached here yesterday of the death of a man named Albert Linnell, who left here a few days in an auto owned by Engineer McClean. Linnell was in the neighborhood of Magdalena when the accident occurred, and his companion, a lady, escaped injury and the auto also was undamaged. The exact particulars have not as yet been obtained. Linnell was a painter by trade, and had been here about one year.

J. E. Farley, night foreman at the E. P. & S. W. Shops, has received word to the effect that his son Albert has arrived safely in France, and the relatives of Roy Hamilton, have received the same news concerning him. These young soldiers' names adorn our service flag galley.

"SURRENDER? HELL NO!"

Is Yanks' Answer to Boche's

With The American Armies In France.—The intrepid charging of the Americans is not only winning ground, but it is also instilling fear into the Germans.

Letters taken from prisoners and statements made by them clearly show this.

There are many instances of American heroism.

At one town the Germans counter attacked, obliging the Americans to retreat temporarily. Then the enemy sent out a messenger under the white flag. He asked if the Americans wanted to surrender.

"Hell, no!" yelled the commander. "We're ready to attack!" This they did, retaking the village and holding it permanently.

The more intelligent Germans fear they won't be able to hold out much longer against the increasing allied forces.

"The German army could not hold out two months longer at the present rate of losses," declared one German officer.

A Prussian prisoner was found to carry a letter written to his wife before the battle. He wrote: "The war is hopeless for us now that we are opposed to those ferocious Americans, who cannot be defeated. Their artillery has caused terrible losses. We must be annihilated by their infantry."

The American spirit and devotion is amazing even to those who have watched the war and have been on the battlefields for years. Time after time the Americans have charged into intense machine gun fire and through artillery barrages and driven back the Germans, whose infantry cannot stand up in hand-to-hand combats.

An American lieutenant ran into a rolling kitchen at the roadside behind the lines and asked for something to eat. He trembled continually and a private offered to help him to a hospital, but the officer refused.

"I'm going back to the front with my boys," he said. "I'm in a Stokes mortar outfit and got shell shocked yesterday so they sent me back when I couldn't protest, I tried to get released from the hospital, but the doctors refused so there was nothing for me to do but escape."

Sweatheart Service Flag

Miss Cora Cole is the proud possessor of a beautiful "Sweetheart Service Flag." The flag is quite a novelty; it has a border of old gold, has a scarlet field with a single star of blue standing out prominently from the field of red. This is the first flag of this kind to make its appearance in Carrizozo.

Call of the Red Cross 650 Refugee Garments

The sewing and knitting in Red Cross Circles has been prompt and energetic, but inasmuch as the allotment of our last pledge will consist of 650 refugee garments for shipment September 1st, the call is made for an extraordinary effort all along the line to the end that we may not fail in our efforts to preserve our good record of "making good," on every allotment heretofore we have done well—now for the finish. Let everybody exert themselves, for we must fulfill our pledge. We cannot fail.

The following list of articles has been turned in within the last two weeks:

Carrizozo, 80 pairs of socks, 33 sweaters; Alto, 17 pairs of socks; Capitán, 17 pairs of socks, 2 sweaters; Ancho, 3 sweaters, 2 shawls; Corona, 20 pairs socks, 7 sweaters; Ft. Stanton, 4 pairs socks, 1 sweater, 42 afghan blocks; Glencoe, 3 pairs socks, 3 sweaters; Lincoln, 8 pairs socks, 1 sweater; Nogal, 1 pair socks; Oscura 6 pairs socks; Parsons, 4 pairs socks; White Oaks, 12 pairs socks; San Patricio 2 shawls.

On August 7 a large case was shipped to headquarters containing 370 pairs of socks.

W. C. Merchant to the Colors

W. C. Merchant, of the law firm of Spence & Merchant, has enlisted in the Y. M. C. A. wing of the United States service and will leave shortly for training at San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. Merchant will after a course of training, be assigned to foreign service and another star will be added to the Merchant home service flag. What an example: two sons already in the service in foreign lands, and now the father enlists. This is surely 100 per cent patriotism.

Is Leading Choir

During the absence of Mrs. D. S. Donaldson, who is at her ranch near Tucumcari, Miss Ula Edmiston is directing the choir and as in other of her undertakings the efforts of Miss Ula are highly successful.

Mrs. Ed Harris is visiting friends in Corona this week.

Marvin Burton accompanied by his father, Dr. Burton, left last week for Stanton, Tennessee, where they will visit for a week, after which Mr. Burton will return to Carrizozo, to await the call to the navy in which he has recently enlisted.

G. Aguirre, who is employed at the E. P. & S. W. blacksmith shop at this place has just returned from a trip in Mexico and other points in California. After a month's vacation Mr. Aguirre is looking fine and has resumed his duties at the anvil.

Mrs. A. M. Vega and children have returned from a week's stay at White Oaks, where they have been visiting relatives.

NURSES AND SICK AND WOUNDED HIT BY HUN SHELL

Number of Dead in Hospital
Ship Warilda Disaster
Variously Estimated from 105 to 130 and Upward.

The torpedoing of the British ship Warilda was one of the most harrowing disasters in the history of submarine warfare. The number of dead is variously estimated from 105 to 130 and upward and includes several women nurses.

The ship carried 600 sick and wounded. Among them were seven Americans, two officers and five enlisted men, all of whom have been accounted for.

There were aboard 89 nurses and members of the Voluntary Aid department and the crew comprised about 200 men.

More than 650 survivors, brought here shortly after 6 o'clock were given first aid treatment, food and clothing. The patients were sent to hospitals.

The torpedo struck the after part of the engine room, killing the third engineer and two other members of the engine room force. The dynamo was destroyed, plunging the vessel into darkness.

Just over the dynamo was the ward room which contained more than 100 patients.

Most of these were killed outright by the explosion, and the others, many of whom had been freshly injured by the torpedo, found themselves trapped. It was impossible for outside aid to reach them, and all, except a few who jumped overboard and were picked up, perished. This part of the ship quickly settled and water flooded the ward room drowning the men caught there:

Change of Cases

In announcing the coming of A. C. Ladd to the office of the Carrizozo News, we take pleasure in announcing that Mr. John E. Harrison who has served the News for several years as foreman has accepted the position of foreman of the Outlook, which position was made vacant by the departure of Phil S. O'Connell for the army service.

Mr. Harrison is well known in Carrizozo and will visit our business men as often as possible in the interest of the Outlook, and all courtesies shown him will be duly appreciated by this office, as his experience in this particular line of work is a guarantee of the best of workmanship and reliable service.

Sheep Dipping Time

July, August and September are the months in which sheep dipping takes place. John Baird and Harvey Hughes have been appointed by the sheep sanitary board and are cooperating with Dr. Pine in pushing the work throughout the state.

Dr. Pine says that the condition of the sheep is greatly improved since the recent rainfall as the new growth of grass gives the natural nourishment that stock of all kinds have been so badly in need of.

Last week Ben Horton accompanied by Miss Ruth Edmiston, motored over to Albuquerque and from there to El Paso, Miss Ruth returning home from that city, Mr. Horton returning to Albuquerque, where he will visit for a month after which he will go to El Paso and enlist in the Navy, where he will be assigned to the wireless service.

Who knows but what some time in the future, from some distant shore, Ben Horton may send the O. S. S. that the Kaiser has surrendered and peace declared.

Oscara Oil News

We are drilling for oil here at home and we are quite confident that we will find both oil and gas. If we do, it will help every individual in this county. The work is being done by citizens of Lincoln County, and realize that our only hope lies in developing our natural resources. That there is an abundance, we have no doubt, but we must dig for it if we would win.

Several noted geologists have located the well and the work on their findings is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. One of these geologists testifies under oath that in his opinion 99 per cent of evidence is for to one against it. So a few dollars invested may make you independent for the balance of your life.

The manager of the drilling tells us they are down 600 feet, and the shale, sands and sand stone are strongly indicative of oil. The machinery consists of one thirty horse power engine and the string of tools weigh over 4,000 pounds.

Mr. Raffety, owner of the well, would be pleased to have all parties interested call and see the good prospects for oil.

Food for Children

Help your children to grow strong and big. You want the children to have a chance, and they should have it. Do you realize how fast your child grows? The new muscles and bones and other parts of the body are made from the food which the child eats.

Proprietary Food helps to produce Strong Bodies, Rosy Cheeks, Good Brains, Bright Eyes.

OSTINE

Nature's Food For Infants And all Growing Children, is so rich in the elements absolutely needed in the building processes of muscle and bone that it ministers fundamentally to the harmonious development of the child in every direction, or in other words, supplies nature with the right working material.

Read what your neighbor says about OSTINE.

Hondo, N. Mex., Dec. 5, 1917. The Ostine Company, Chicago, Ill.

I have used your wonderful Ostine No. 1 and No. 2 for my children, and I can say safely that they do all that is claimed for them.

During the first months of the year 1917, my youngest child was sick with a discharge from the ear; he was in such a state that I thought he would lose his power of hearing. I had read the instructive book of Dr. Melendy, and I sent for a bottle of Ostine No. 1, and he used that bottle, and he is now healthy, strong and vigorous.

In July, 1917, my oldest boy was weak, pale and nervous. His energies were very much exhausted. I sent for two bottles of Ostine No. 2, and gave him one bottle, and he is now a new boy; his ability to read is very much superior to his age.

Now, Gentlemen, I wish to congratulate you for the noble end which you are pursuing in bringing happiness to countless homes, giving to our dear ones health, strength and happiness.

Now, if this letter is of some good service in order to recommend Ostine No. 1 and No. 2, you can use it as you may deem proper.

Very respectfully,

HERLDO CHAVEZ,

Probate Judge,

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. MR. JONES HAD RIGHT IDEA

Some Statesmen and Many Soldiers Fully Agree With the Gentleman From Atlanta.

George Washington Jones, late of Atlanta, was making his first trip forward on a supply wagon—with not much farther to go—when, from the side of the road, a camouflaged American battery broke forth thunderously, sending a few 800-pound tokens over the line to Fritz. The ground trembled from the salvo, but not any more than George as he jumped from his high seat to the road.

The American artillery officer in charge of the battery crossed over to the road.

"Scared?" he demanded.

"Well," said George, "Ah was mighty agitated at first. Ah rattling was. But keep right on. Dat's the only way to win die war—shah dem guns."

TWO-FABRIC FROCK

Voile and Organdie Found Harmonious for Blending.

Old-Fashioned Calico is One of the Newcomers Among the Favored Materials.

Gray gaberdine and navy satin are combined in this simple little frock, sleeves and yoke being of navy georgette. The belt, sleeve band and narrow border of the satin bodice are of gaberdine braided in navy. This dress fastens in the center back, and the pleated skirt is drawn in harem fashion at the hem, so as to avoid a flare which is not fashionable this season. If desired the dress might be made up in two shades of linen with sleeves and yoke of sheer net or fine voile, or it may be entirely of satin either in one or two colors, with sleeves and yoke of net or georgette.

Two-fabric dresses have had an amazing vogue this season, and a woman who is economically inclined may utilize the unworn part of a last season frock with sufficient new material to piece it out.

Heavy and light-weight linen are combined in summer dresses; voile and organdie are found harmonious fabrics for blending, and a great deal of fine cotton net is used both with voile and organdie.

One of the newest comers in the field is old-fashioned calico, which is made up into charming simple little frocks, with collar and cuffs, belt, etc., of white linen or pique. Sometimes a surplus waist has long ends that continue to the back of the frock, where they are tied in a high, wide bow, and

SPORT SUIT, NORFOLK STYLE

No design for this summer's wear is more attractive or rich than this sport suit in Norfolk style, made of fiber silk in light blue and trimmed with novelty buttons in blue and white.

SMOCKS IN STYLE THIS YEAR

Garment Grace Various Social Functions—Crepes, Linens and Pongees Still Used.

Smocks which had great vogue last year for garden and sport wear have become more fashionable this year and now grace all kinds of social functions. The finer materials of last year, the crepes, linens and pongees are still used for the ordinary smocks, but those for dress wear are of the sheerest georgettes and some dainty ones make use of organdie and voile, especially in printed patterns.

Originally it given free play in the designing of these garments and some very beautiful ones have been inspired by Japanese mandarin coats, Russian native costumes and other oriental garments.

Printed voiles or printed georgette embroidered in some bright-colored yarns will give the desired effect. The sleeves are loose three-quarter length affairs with tiny balls weighting down the corners. The belt with its pouch pocket directly in the front is typically Indian. Instead of holding arrow heads or food as it did in the long ago days it holds Miss America's ball of yarn while she knits at her afternoon party.

DICTATES OF FASHION

Cape gloves show a new color called mahogany.

Madras gowns are still made of flesh-colored crepe.

The favored heels are low French and Cuban military.

The new currant reds are used to brighten dull gowns.

Pique collars, cuffs and belts appear on silk dresses.

Boleros in various forms appear on little girls' dresses.

Smart tailored suits have edges bound with silk braid.

Smart dresses for children are made of silk gingham.

occasionally these ends are finished all around with an inch wide ruffle of self fabric. Ruffles and tucks trim the skirts. These calico dresses, it is believed, will be strong rivals of the gingham dresses, introduced last season and revived for 1918.

USES FOR BLOTTING PAPER

Discarded Absorbent Will Serve Many Purposes About the Home in Emergencies.

Save every piece of blotting paper that comes into your home, even those that have advertising upon them, for besides being useful in the writing desk it is very practical for absorbing other things about the house besides ink.

A piece of blotting paper put under table mats wherever vases of flowers are to be set protects the polish of the table from dew drops from the flowers or any dampness that seeps from porous pottery.

To press out light grease spots a piece of clean blotting paper placed under the fabric to absorb the grease will cause the spots to disappear, usually, when a hot padron is pressed directly on the spot.

When the children apply for "paint rags" for water color painting a square of blotting paper is a fine substitute, for it absorbs the color and water from a wet paint brush immediately and is less "messy." In drying paint-brushes the same blotter can be used again.

In cooking greasy things, such as croquettes, doughnuts and potato chips, a large square of clean blotting paper on which to drain these foods as they come hot from the frying kettle helps make them more appetizing, healthful and daintier to look upon.

When water is spilled upon any delicate table cover an immediate application of fresh blotting paper will preserve it in good condition. When any liquid is spilled upon the tablecloth a small square blotter will absorb it quicker and more satisfactorily than wiping up with a cloth.

Velvet Hats.

If the cost of velvet continues to increase hats of this fabric for autumn will of necessity be small in size—that is if they are to be popular, for otherwise they would be too great a luxury for the average woman and this would be unfortunate, as velvet hats are so generally becoming.

Shades are frequently lined with a contrasting material.

The Fall "Roundup"

The Local Examining Board made a "roundup" last week and will make them hereafter at reg-this work, it may be said, is to reclass some men who have her-

The object of the board is to do none an injustice but to do justice toward all, as Uncle Sam is making provisions for men's families, allowing a certain athe wife's allotment. A man therefore, who has found it hard to get by with the high cost of

Twilight of the Hun

Whether the Czar and Von Hindenburg are dead or alive we know not, and care less. As far as the Czar is concerned, he may be dismissed from the public mind as a nonentity who deserves neither censure nor praise for his part in the government of Russia, nor for that country a part in the war. He was merely a king like the carved image on the elaborate ivory king of the chess board. His brain was small, his character weak and his morals undeveloped.

Not so with old Hindenburg, nothing so weak or undeveloped about him. His brain was large and carefully trained, his foundation of morals intentionally perverted and obliterated. His character was developed on the lines of Nietzsche's philosophy. He stood ready to obliterate christianity with one blow of his fiendish hand and relegate mankind to the level of the brute.

Hindenburg developed an army that to his perverted thought was invincible. He had no higher motive than did Alaric and Attila in their attempt to misuse Christianity. Churches were battered down, hospitals and their inmates shelled to destruction. In fact everything that went hand in hand to make men better was demolished. Libraries, art galleries, civilized institutions of all kind went down before this modern moloch. He had no respect for womanhood, girlhood, childhood or old age. No wonder his mind tottered and his body weakened; like Bismark, he had no pity in his brutal heart. His army was composed of the flower of German manhood, but his plans were too great to be carried out. According to the latest news from over the seas, Hindenburg is a physical and mental wreck, his army disabled, while the triumphant forces of the Allies press on in their grim determination to win forever the victory of right and justice over greed and heathenism. Thus can we discern the handwriting on the wall.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

A FAIRYLAND BALL.

"Come, come," called the queen of the fairies, "come to Fairyland."

Many of the fairies had been off on trips, doing lots of nice, kind things and having some small parties too. "We haven't had a big party in ever and ever so long," the queen of the fairies said, as all the little fairies came dancing and flying into Fairyland.

"That's so," said Fairy Xbab, "we haven't had a party in so long a time! Let's have a ball—with music. I'll lead the fairies orchestra as I always do, and we'll have the woodpecker family and play the drum. I do believe the bird fute players will come, too—that is if we have an afternoon ball, for the birds all go to sleep at night, of course. We could have others sing and play in the evening, though. Which shall it be, an afternoon ball or an evening ball?"

"Let's have an afternoon ball for a change," the fairies shouted. "Fine," agreed Xbab. And the fairy queen waved her magic wand, and said: "The ball will be this afternoon, so hurry and make ready!"

"We want all our usual friends, the elves, gnomes, brownies, goblins, the bogey family and of course old Witty Witch."

"Fine," said Mr. Giant, "I'll attend to the invitations at once." And off he went, walking almost a mile a minute! It was afternoon, and the fairies were all ready for their guests. Mr. Sun was peeping through the tall trees and telling secrets to the trees and the ferns and the mossy ground which made them sparkle and laugh.

The shadows had come, too, and they were already dancing with Mr. Sun's children, the rays. The fairy queen was dressed like a big red sun and the little fairies looked like tiny golden suns. They were the most dazzling and sparkling costumes that ever were seen in Fairyland.

Soon all the guests arrived. The gnomes wore beautiful moss green suits, with tall hats of moss, the brownies wore orange velvet suits with hats of bright orange velvet—very tall with a tassel at the top of each hat. The elves wore dresses made of wood violets and the leaves of wood violets. The Bogey family wore dresses made of wild roses, and old Witty Witch wore a new frock of bales, with a tall hat made out of buttercups.

Of course the fairy queen was delighted with all the costumes as well as she might be, and all the guests thought the fairies were quite too wonderful for words.

Soon the birds came to help the music, and though they were wearing their usual suits they had been smoothed and washed and brushed and they looked very handsome indeed.

"We didn't change our suits," Mr. Woodpecker said, "as we were practicing all the morning to play the drums on the trees around?"

"We didn't change our suits, as we were practicing our songs," said the orioles, who were so brilliantly dressed anyway that they really need not have said anything.

"Then, too," added the robins, "we couldn't have changed our suits if we wanted to."

And all the other birds burst into songs, singing:

The dear little robins so truthful and neat,
We're so very glad that you have come
You add with your voices, you add with your charm,
And we'll take good care that you never come to harm.

The robins were much pleased with the song, but they didn't want to have all the attention, so they sang this song:

When Fairy Queen gives a ball,
It's for all, yes for all,
Every one has the chance
To sing and to dance.

So a cheer went up for the fairy queen and then the music began, and everyone danced all that wonderful summer afternoon in the sunlight and among the afternoon shadows.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! Are the Packers Profiteers?

Plain Facts About the Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary.

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit—a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

The aggregate three-year profits of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales—or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.

Furthermore—and this is very important—only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the businesses. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve—and solve quickly—during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the allies.

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say—and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair-minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement.

Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

The five packers mentioned feel justified in co-operating with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fair-mindedness of the American people with the facts before them.

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

C. L. Tallmadge

OF SOCORRO, N. M.

For Fifteen Years, Mr. Tallmadge has given his every effort to the internal development of New Mexico. We believe he can best continue this great work in the Senate of the United States. And we believe that President Wilson and the Nation need now the active aid of such men as C. L. Tallmadge.

THE DEMOCRATS OF SOCORRO COUNTY.

Endorsed in Mass Meeting and By Committee

"Resolved, by the Democratic Central Committee of the County of Socorro, that the Democrats, of this County and State generally, request of Hon. C. L. Tallmadge that he become a candidate for the nomination and subsequent election as United States Senator for the State of New Mexico, at the coming fall election.

MELITON TORRES, Chairman.

This resolution was endorsed by a mass meeting of Socorro County citizens.

We believe:

That Mr. Tallmadge is the strongest candidate we can put before New Mexico's voters in the Fall election and we point out the great desirability of electing a Democrat.

That Mr. Tallmadge, if elected, will prove an able, whole-hearted supporter of our great President and of America's part in the war for world freedom.

That Mr. Tallmadge would prove in the United States Senate a powerful force in procuring for New Mexico the necessary federal aid for her great drainage and irrigation projects.

That Mr. Tallmadge would prove an effective advocate of changes in banking laws which New Mexico's Stock Raisers, Farmers and Bankers as well know are necessary for the proper development of our state and of the Great New West.

C. L. TALLMADGE AND WHAT HE HAS DONE FOR NEW MEXICO.

Mr. Tallmadge is a Westerner by birth, by upbringing, in education and in heart. He was born 45 years ago in Nebraska and graduated with high honors from the University of Nebraska. He practiced law for a time, but gave up a good practice, leaving his wife and baby, to answer McKinley's call for volunteers in the war for free Cuba.

Upon his discharge he turned his attention to the needs and possibilities of the Southwest which has resulted in the recent rapid development of the country. He is himself heavily interested in New Mexico.

His neighbors are his friends. When Mr. Tallmadge took up the Bosque del Apache Grant, a score of families whose people for generations had occupied and cultivated portions of it were informed by him that he would not question their rights to the land. He sent his engineers to stake out the territory which each claimed, and gave to each settler a deed to his property.

It was he who introduced the idea of low railroad rates to the Southwest; who educated the people of the north to come here; who convinced the railroads of the advantage of building up the Southwest.

Prosperity in New Mexico followed his efforts; bank deposits in old towns doubled, new towns sprang up; railroads which hitherto had not paid expenses began to share in the revival, and farmers, stockmen and workmen found readier markets for their produce and labor.

MR. TALLMADGE'S PLATFORM OF PRINCIPLES

I can contribute more to the common cause by serving in such capacity. Without doubt, such office would put me in position to strengthen and uphold the Federal Government, and to see that their conduct of the war, and that will be demanded of anyone placed in this high office, and anything less will not be tolerated by the citizens of New Mexico or its Senator.

Further, my thought and work for the past few years has been to assist in working out a plan to reclaim the lands of the Rio Grande valley, which have been so beautifully favored by nature in giving all factors necessary to make this one of the most productive sections of the world and at the same time has been one of the most neglected.

This is probably one of the oldest farmed sections of the United States. The early pioneer Southern American settled and fully developed irrigation without governmental or financial aid. He laid out and constructed his irrigation ditches without level or transit, but with a degree of intelligence that has not been equal in similar undertakings in like circumstances. He improved and farmed the lands which, together with stock raising, enabled him to sustain himself and family and built up one of the most productive communities in the country.

The Rio Grande, being an international and interstate stream, is directly in the control of the Federal Government. This took the distribution of its water out of the hands of the water users and through inequitable and improper diversion and storage.

many thousands of acres of the richest land in the world have become worthless so far as crop yield is concerned. Aside from the personal loss to these people it has put New Mexico out of its rightful place as one of the great sugar, wheat and other cereal producing states and just at a time when the world's supply of sugar, flour and other food products necessary to sustain the lives of the millions of laborers engaged in war producing activities is so urgently required.

The time has arrived for us to overcome this deplorable condition if we are to do our part in the present emergency. Let us not lament over our present condition, but correct it. The first thing to do is to increase sugar by growing sugar beets; increase flour by planting and growing wheat; increase meat production by growing more cattle, sheep and hogs. To do this means drainage, and drainage means money.

The present crisis has proven that there is just one banker with sufficient resources to finance every enterprise necessary to win the war, and that is our Uncle Sam. His performance from the day war was declared has proven that he is willing to do so, and on a fair business basis. Let us organize our drainage districts and vote our bonds and ask the federal government to loan us the money necessary to do the construction, to aid us in getting the necessary machinery delivered quickly.

We have the labor to do the work and grow the crops. The War Finance Corporation was created by Congress with authority to loan three billion dollars to enterprises necessary to the production of the war. Through this agency of the government or some other, New Mexico can get the funds necessary to contribute its share.

I have been told by a very high government official that five million acres of land with water available has not been farmed from the lack of funds. Millions additional pounds of meat products can be added if the stockman can secure the funds necessary for his business. His enterprise is certainly an essential one and should not be permitted to suffer for lack of funds. If our present banking laws are inadequate changes should be made so that longer this paper can be carried in order to aid the stockman and farmer.

The interest of every property holder, every business and professional man and every laborer is linked with this development. Let us concentrate our thought in the purpose of creating a good condition and not allow our minds to become water-logged. We will have to meet obstruction; red tape and bureaucracy is done away with in nearly every department of the government, and let this be done in the department which have to do with the developments of land and increased food production so that we can contribute our share in sustaining the men who have pledged their lives that our government may live.

cution of the war. Through this agency of the government or some other, New Mexico can get the funds necessary to contribute its share.

I have been told by a very high government official that five million acres of land with water available has not been farmed from the lack of funds. Millions additional pounds of meat products can be added if the stockman can secure the funds necessary for his business. His enterprise is certainly an essential one and should not be permitted to suffer for lack of funds. If our present banking laws are inadequate changes should be made so that longer this paper can be carried in order to aid the stockman and farmer.

The time is short before the state convention, but reports to the Committee show that Mr. Tallmadge's strength is growing in every precinct. Let us show the voters of New Mexico that the Democrats can unite on a candidate whose worth is known to all and who is in accord with the nation's leaders in their policies and with the best thought for the progress of our state.

Snow in the South

The following letter has been received from Chas. A. Snow who lately enlisted in the electrical engineer's corps in the Navy. It is feeling fine, and we are glad of it.

Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Mich.

Dear Mr. Burke:—

Arrived here all a k. Found everything better than I expected. I am greatly pleased with the sanitary conditions of the camp and believe this is the most beautiful place I have ever seen. We get up promptly at 5:15 every morning with hot bath. We get three splendid meals a day and no rent coming due at the end of the month, for Uncle Sam is our landlord, and I like him better, the more, I become acquainted with him.

We have a fine lot of fellows, mostly tradesmen. Ten of us besides our commander took a fine boat ride, and this kind of work keeps us in good trim. Please send the OUTLOOK to me here.

Hoping everybody is well and kind regards, I am yours very truly,
C. A. Snow,

SECURITY GUARDS CROP REPORTS

Press Representatives Awaiting Signal for Release of Crop Report.

ACCURACY IS AIM IN CROP REPORTS

Department of Agriculture Gathers Information on American Food Production.

STRICT SECRECY MAINTAINED

Forecasts Reflect Efforts of Farmers for Maximum Yields and Have Immediate and Marked Effect on Various Markets.

Dependence of a large part of the world upon American farm production has focused public attention upon the crop reports of the United States department of agriculture—reports which the United States government sponsors and protects from illegal use to the ultimate degree.

Just now the crop reports are reflecting the efforts of American farmers for maximum production. When small crops are reported the news serves to prepare the country and enable necessary adjustments.

Strict Secrecy Rules.

The crop reports, too, have an immediate and marked effect upon the markets. Their great importance in this field has made necessary thorough safeguards against premature publication and unauthorized use. Every avenue through which information might be filtered from the locked rooms where the reports are finally prepared is closed and remains closed until the second, when, as shown in the picture, the signal for release is given.

On "crop reporting day" at an hour set months in advance, newspaper and press association representatives gather in the main building of the department of agriculture. Each has near at hand a telephone already connected with his office and at the other end of the line is a man equipped with a blank crop reporting form. Shortly before the moment set copies of the completed crop reports are placed on a table, face down, and each newspaper man gets his hand on one. At the signal, given by a high official of the department, the newspaper men get to their telephones and in a very few minutes more the coveted information is being read in every large market in the United States and the next day, at the latest, it is available in every community of the United States and in the larger markets of foreign countries.

Big Organization Works.

The "release" of the crop reports follows work in which tens of thousands and sometimes hundreds of thousands of persons all over the country have participated.

Distributed over the country are 42 salaried field agents, one in each state or group of small states. The bureau also employs ten crop specialists, one each for cotton, rice and tobacco, who travel through the regions in which their special crops are grown. In addition there are approximately 175,000 voluntary crop reporters, including county and township reporters and producers, buyers and handlers of grain and live stock.

Tabulation of Crop Information.

The returns from each class of reporters are tabulated and averaged separately as a check against the others.

To prevent a total for any of the so-called speculative crops, such as corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye and cotton, from becoming known to any person prior to the time fixed in advance, even the tabulators and computers who make up the totals do not know the states to which they pertain. The final telegraphic reports and comments of the field agents relating to the speculative crops are kept locked in the office of the secretary of agriculture until crop reporting day, when they are turned over to the crop reporting board and the entire board is immediately locked in until the minute that the report is issued, guards being stationed at the doors and all telephones disconnected.

Each member of the crop reporting board prepares his own individual and independent estimate for each crop and state. These are compared, discrepancies are discussed and explained and a final figure is adopted by the board.

Data Complete.

The crop reporting board has before it more complete, detailed and accurate data than any other crop estimating agency in the world. Members of the board and all other department employees concerned with crop estimates are prohibited by law under severe penalties from speculating in any product "of the soil," from giving out advance information and from knowingly compiling or issuing false statistics.

ACCURACY OF CROP REPORTS.

Wherever it has been possible to secure an absolute check the crop reports of the department of agriculture have usually been found to be surprisingly accurate.

Wheat will be added to the few crops for which an additional check will be made available through the new requirements by which all threshermen must report to the bureau of markets of the department the quantity of wheat thrashed and the acreage from which it was produced.

No Open House for Rats.

Do not keep "open house" for rats by leaving basement doors ajar for ventilation without proper safeguards. The management of a large department store in an eastern city recently had a very expensive lesson in this regard. Rats had been doing damage to the extent of nearly $1,000 a month, but by persistent trapping were finally exterminated. The building was then made "rat-proof." But after a time rats were again at their work of destruction.

Puzzled to know how the pests had gained entrance, the management learned that in summer the night watchman was accustomed to leave a basement door open for ventilation. Naturally the rats entered and another campaign of extermination had to be waged. This expense could easily have been prevented, says the bureau of biological survey of the department of agriculture, if a piece of sheet iron three feet high had been placed across the doorway and the sides of the doorway sheathed with metal or otherwise made smooth so that rats could not gain a foothold. Rats cannot climb over such barriers, as they do over mesh or crossed wires.

A Great Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

KIDNEY TROUBLE NOT EASILY RECOGNIZED

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.
