REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

The Republicans of Lincoln County met in Convention at the Court House Monday Oct. 4th, being called to order by Chairman Gonzales. The call was read, after which W. E. Blanchard was selected as temporary Chairman and Paul Mayer temporary Secretary. These gentlemen were afterward made permanent officers of the Convention on recommendation of the Committee on organization. Adjournment was taken until 2 p. m. when the following nominations were made: Assessor, Alfredo Gonzales; Sheriff, Romaldo Duran; Clerk, A. L. Hulbert; Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Maude L. Blaney; Treasurer, A. J. Roland; County Commissioner, 1st District, Wm. Sevier; 2nd District, E. L. Moulton; 3rd District, H. P. Clarke; County Representative, W. E. Blanchard; Precinct Committeeman 1st Precinct, Fred Pfingster; 2nd Precinct, Juan Olgin; 3rd Precinct, E. Chavez; 5th Precinct, A. Romero; 6th Precinct, S. Farmer; 7th Precinct, J. W. Ortiz; 8th Precinct, P. W. Mayer; 9th Precinct, Robert Hurt; 10th Precinct, J. Montoya; 11th Precinct, Clark Hust; 12th Precinct, S. G. Harvov; 14th Precinct, H. B. Hamilton; 15th Precinct, Seth F. Crews; 16th Precinct, Juan Lujan; 17th Precinct, F. Blanchard. Chairman County Central Committee, Robert Brady; Secretary, Frank English.

H. P. Clarke, Live Wire

Harold P. Clarke is one of three candidates for County Commissioner which the Republican convention has shown the wisdom to nominate. Mr. Clarke is one of the type of men who is continually adding to his list of friends, instead of losing. He is thoroughly competent to occupy a position on the board, and if elected, (which he undoubtedly will be) not only of the third district which he will be elected to represent will have his attention, but the interests of the entire county will profit by reason of the fact that a "live wire" is on the job. The people will make no mistake in the election of Mr. Clarke.

Peaches 5 Cents a Bite

Eb K. Jones who is now in Scotland, writes a letter to the home folks in which he quotes some fancy prices on fruit in the land of "Annie Laurie." Here they are: Peaches 35 cents a piece; pears, $6.00 per dozen; grapes, 175 cents per pound; Eb says, "Bert Hoyt and I, bought two peaches and they were so dear that we counted the bites, and found that each bite cost us five cents."

Visiting the Normans

Miss Alice Reynolds of Tucuman is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Norman this week.

When You Fight--Fight

FIGHT as these American soldiers fought in the streets of Fismes. "They covered themselves with glory," the papers say. Of course they did—they are Americans.

They met the finest of the enemy's troops in a terrific hand-to-hand struggle. They used their guns—their bayonets—their bare fists. Every American soldier went over his man desperately, fearlessly, persistently, with one great driving purpose—to whip that Prussian Guard, to silence its machine guns—to win!

It's a pretty good way to fight—this American way. It wins battles over there, it will win a splendid victory over here—if we fight when we fight—if we buy Liberty Bonds to our utmost.

When you fight—fight! When you buy—buy!

Lead the way they fight—Buy Bonds to your utmost!

Wm. Sevier

Wm. Sevier is the regular nominee on the Republican county ticket for commissioner from the first district. Mr. Sevier is so well known in our locality that he needs no word of introduction. Being well acquainted with the needs of the county through being one of our old settlers, and possessed with the necessary qualifications to fit him to fill this important position on the board and with Messrs. Clarke and Moulton as his co-workers, will give Lincoln County the good service it so richly deserves.

New Secretary of Steel Co.

Miss Gladys Wilson is the successor to Mrs. J. C. Padgett as secretary of New Mexico Iron & Steel Corporation. She took charge of the affairs of the company, Wednesday morning, on the departure of Mrs. Padgett.

In Assisting Local Board

J. C. Holland of Roswell is here assisting the Local Draft Board.

Lieut. Fitzpatrick

Lieut. Thos. Fitzpatrick arrived in Carrizozo the first of this week from El Paso, where he was promoted to 2nd Lieutenant, after attending the Officers' Training Camp at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He has been ordered to Camp Logan, Houston, Tex. with the 18th division.

This division, it is understood, will shortly leave Ft. Logan, but in keeping with the wisdom of our military service their movements of the 18th, will not be publicly known. The Outlook takes pleasure in congratulating Lieut. Fitzpatrick on his deserving promotion.

The Flu in Carrizozo

Carrizozo has not been overlooked by the plague of influenza. Reports coming in from town and vicinity indicate that the visitation is light compared to that of neighboring localities. We are not discouraged over this, but thankful.

E. L. Moulton

Everybody knows E. L. Moulton of Corona; the live, wide awake merchant of that place who is always mentioned as being at the head of every enterprising movement, or else strongly identified with it. Mr. Moulton is a candidate for county commissioner from the second district and the Republican convention could not have done better than endorse him when the Corona delegation placed his name before that body. He will make a strong co-worker with Messrs. Clarke and Sevier as a board of commissioners which Lincoln County can be proud of.

Ben Horton for Promotion

Word has been received from Ben Horton who is stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind. Ben is at the officers' training camp and his chances for promotion are exceedingly good.

JACK FALL VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Jack Fall, aged 33, only son of United States Senator and Mrs. Albert Fall, died here last Saturday following an attack of grippe which developed into double pneumonia.

Mr. Fall had been to Santa Fe as a delegate to the Republican convention which nominated his father to succeed himself in the senate. He complained of not feeling well before leaving Santa Fe, but started to his home at Three Rivers in an automobile. During the trip he was stricken with chills and fever and on his arrival here was removed to a hospital.

As soon as arrangements could be made, the body was removed to Alamogordo where interment took place the following day, attended by relatives and the many friends of the deceased.

Your Next District Judge

Edwin Mechem, the regular nominee for District Judge on the Republican ticket was so extremely popular with his party in convention assembled, that he was unanimously chosen as their candidate for judge in this district. Mr. Mechem if elected, (which he certainly will be), will make one of, if not the best judges who has ever presided in our district. The party has made a wise choice and the people will set the seal of approval on it.

Lend an Ear

If the latest peace offensive were allowed to affect the volume of subscriptions to the Liberty Loan it might be regarded as a German victory. Staggering and blind with blood the German Monster is commencing to whine. Surely now is the time to stand solidly behind our Government, ready for any eventuality. With victory assured I know of no greater incentive to the purchase of Liberty Bonds than the fact that the money invested will be used so directly and effectively for that object to the attainment of which we have given our own flesh and blood. I consider that the Central Powers have provided us with a valuable contribution towards the success of the Liberty Loan.

R. L. Van Zandt, Chairman Liberty Loan Central Executive Committee, Eleventh Federal Reserve District.

Primaries

In answer to a call from precinct Chairman Geo. Spence, the primaries to select delegates to the Republican county convention met Oct. 7th.

Mr. Harry Comrey was elected as Chairman and Frank English as Secretary. The selection of 16 delegates to serve at the county convention Oct. 5, was named by a committee, resolutions of respect drafted and ordered sent to Senator Fall and family, a collection taken up for the janitor and the meeting adjourned.

The Confessions of a German Deserter

Written by a Prussian Officer Who Participated in the Ravaging and Pillaging of Belgium

TERRIFIC SLAUGHTER MARKS OPENING OF THE HISTORIC BATTLE OF THE MARNE

Synopsis.—The author of these confessions, an officer in the pioneers' corps of the German army, a branch of the service corresponding to the engineers' corps of the United States army, is sent into Belgium with the first German forces invading that country. Ignorant of their destination or of the reasons for their actions, the German soldiers cross the border and attack the Belgian soldiers defending their frontier. Civilians—men, women and children—are driven from their burning homes as the Zeppelins and giant guns of the Germans raze the strongest fortifications. The Germans sweep on across Belgium, slaying and burning under orders of their officers to show no mercy. Some German soldiers who tried to aid helpless refugees were rebuked by their officers, one of whom declared that such a thing as pity was insanity. The German pioneers throw pontoon bridges across the Meuse in the face of a murderous fire from the French. French troops are slaughtered when, surrounded, they throw down their arms and surrender. Dear civilians strew streets of the French towns as the invaders continue their rush toward Paris.

CHAPTER VI.

At 12 o'clock, midnight, we were alarmed and half an hour later were on the march. The cool night air felt good, and despite our weariness, we made rapid progress. Toward four o'clock in the morning we arrived at Chappy. It had been completely plundered. We halted here for a brief rest and watched preparations being made for the execution of two traitors. They were two little farmers who had supposedly concealed a French machine gun with its crew from the Germans. The sentence was executed in such a way that the people were shown who their real rulers now were.

The little town of Pogny, located midway between Chalons-sur-Marne and Vitry-le-Francois, fared no better than Chappy, a fact which we discovered when we entered there at nine o'clock.

We were now considerably nearer the spot where the guns were roaring, and retiring of wounded and the munition columns showed us that west of Vitry-le-Francois, a terrible battle raged. At four o'clock in the afternoon, we arrived at Vitry-le-Francois after a forced march. The city was filled with wounded, but the town itself was not damaged. The battle must have been going badly for the Germans because we were ordered into action without being given any rest. We were within three kilometers of the battle line, when we came within reach of hostile fire, a terrific hail of shells tore up every foot of ground. Thousands of corpses of German soldiers indicated at what enormous cost the Germans had brought up all available reserves. The French did everything they could to prevent the Germans from getting the reserves into action and increased the artillery fire to unheard-of violence. It seemed impossible for us to be able to break through this barrage. We saw hundreds of shells exploding every minute. We were ordered to run the gauntlet of this hell in single file.

Lying prone upon the ground, we saw how the first of our men attempted to pass. They ran, unmindful of the shells bursting around them, like madmen; others were buried under ground thrown up by the high-power explosives, or torn by shrapnel or grenades. Two men had scarcely reached the line when a well-directed shot from a gun of a large caliber burst directly at their feet. When the smoke cleared, there was no trace of the men.

You can imagine the feelings of those who lay on the ground not 100 feet away witnessing this spectacle, and waiting their turn.

An officer cried: "Next!" It was my turn. As if aroused from a nightmare, I sprang up, my gun in my right hand, sidarm in my left, and ran ahead. I dodged two shells just as they burst and ran close to several others, bursting the same instant. A number of times I sprang back, then ahead again, running to and fro like a madman, seeking a loophole. But everywhere there was iron and fire. I ran like a hunted animal seeking a way to pass to save myself, with a hell in front of me, and an officer's revolver always ready behind.

Throwing caution to the winds, prepared to meet death and the devil himself, I at last ran blindly ahead; ran, ran, ran, until someone seized my coat tail and shouted in my ear:

"Here we are. Are you wounded? You had better look. Perhaps you are wounded and don't know it."

I was among those of my comrades who had gotten through. Trembling all over, I stopped and looked around. "Sit down and you will feel better," said one of the men. "We also have wounded."

Presently some wounded were brought up. There were about 48 men and a sergeant took command. Nothing more was seen of our officers.

We continued to advance and passed several German batteries. Many had suffered heavily in dead and wounded, which lay around their guns destroyed by enemy fire. Other batteries still manned were useless because no more ammunition could be gotten through.

We paused to rest. Several artillerymen approached us, and a noncommissioned officer asked them why they did not fire.

"Because we have used up all our ammunition," was the answer of one of the battery men.

"Is it impossible to bring ammunition through this barrage?"

"No," replied the artilleryman, "but there is no more ammunition. That is why we cannot get any. At Neufchateau we started like wild men after the enemy. Man and beast died from the heat, railroads and other mediums of transportation were left in their damaged condition in the wild excitement of victory, as we dashed into the heart of France. We raced on, blindly and thoughtlessly, thereby interrupting communication with our bases, ran directly into the trap set for us by the French. Before the first ammunition and other relief supplies reach us we will all be killed."

Up to this time we had trusted blindly in the invincible strategy of our great general staff. Now it was brought home to us on all sides that the French were fighting at home, close to their greatest source of supply, and had excellent railroad connections at their disposal. Further than that the French maintained a terrible artillery fire from guns of far greater caliber than we believed they owned. This led us to the conclusion that they were occupying positions which had been prepared for a long time. Yet we believed that the picture painted by the artilleryman had been too black. We were soon to know better.

As we approached the enemy's trenches, we were met with a heavy machine gun fire, and in double-quick step hurried to the temporary protection of hastily thrown up dugouts. A hard rain had set in. The field around us was covered with dead and wounded. Even our trench was filled with wounded, which made its occupation by the defenders difficult. Many of the wounded men were paralyzed from lying on the slimy ground. All were without bandages. They begged for bread and water, but we had none for ourselves. They pleaded piteously, just for a scrap of bread. Many of them had lain in this inferno for two days, without having eaten anything whatever.

We were scarcely established when the French attacked en masse. The occupants of these trenches, whom we had re-enforced had already repulsed several of these attacks. They urged us to shoot and fired wildly themselves into the ranks of the advancing masses. We responded to the exhortations of the infantry officers: "Fire, fire harder, harder!"

We fired until the barrels of our guns became red-hot. The enemy turned. The victims of our fire already lying in heaps in No Man's Land between our lines and the enemy's were increased by hundreds. The attack was repulsed.

It is dark, and it rains and rains. All about us in the darkness are heard the wounded weeping, moaning, imploring. Their cries are augmented by other wounded closer by. All called for bandages, but we had none left. We tore strips from our muddy shirts and with them covered the gaping wounds. Men are dying constantly. There are no doctors, no bandages, nothing. The wounded must be assisted, but first the French must be repulsed.

The rain falls harder constantly and we are all wet to the skin. We shoot blindly into the night. The fluctuating fire of musketry becomes strong, then weaker, then strong again.

We pioneers are scattered among the infantry. My neighbor touches me. "Say," he calls.

"What do you want?" I ask. "Who are you?"

"Come here," he hissed. It is eerie, alone in this devil's night. "Why are you here? Will you murder me like these over there. Soon they will return from over there and the fun will be on again. Do you hear the others weep?"

And he laughed. Suddenly he started again: "I always shoot at them until they stop weeping. That is fun."

And again he laughed, maniacally, and louder than before.

I realized finally that this man had lost his reason. A man passed bringing ammunition and I asked him to fetch the commander at once. The officer arrived, accompanied by an infantry lieutenant. I met them and reported

CAPITAL WELL WORTH VISIT

Merida, Chief City of Yucatan, is by No Means Lacking in Attractions for Tourist.

A capital which most tourists never visit and of whose very existence many people are ignorant is Merida, the chief city of Yucatan. Yucatan is one of the richest Mexican provinces and, to go further into the intricacies of geography, forms the right arm of the Gulf of Mexico. Merida, its show city, officially began to exist in 1542 when the Spaniards laid the corner stone with much ceremony and proclaimed grandly that the very loyal and noble city of Merida, chartered by his most Catholic majesty, Philip II, was now on the map.

Since then Merida has grown considerably, acquired a plaza, cathedral, university, hotels and a goodly number of millionaires, and considers itself a city of some importance.

One governor of Yucatan, with a well-developed sense of civic and national pride, tried to separate the wealthy citizens of the capital from some of their surplus change for improvement of the city. The millionaire element could not see how it would gain anything by installing the beautifully paved boulevards described so graphically by their promoter and refused to contribute. But the governor placed a tax on the henequen, the chief source of Merida's wealth; and with the proceeds, which ran into millions of dollars, he laid pavements which made walking and driving in the city a joyous affair, instead of the unpleasant necessity which it had been.

Had Had Experience.

Charley was to have a birthday and his grandmother asked him what he needed. "Oh, don't give me what I need," he pleaded. "I'll get that from mother anyway."

A watermeter used by a Swiss watch company accurately measures to the hundredth part of a millimeter.

ed that my neighbor had been firing on the wounded, talking nonsense, and undoubtedly was insane. The lieutenant stepped between us.

"Can you see anything?" he asked. "See! No. But I hear them moaning and weeping. As soon as I hit one he is quiet for he sleeps!"

The lieutenant nodded to me. He tried to take the gun from the man, but the latter seized it quickly and sprang back to cover. From there he fired while standing among the wounded, until a moment later, he himself fell, riddled by many bullets.

The drama had only a few spectators. It was hardly over before it was forgotten. Anything but sentiment. The blind firing continued. The cries of the wounded became constantly louder.

Why? These wounded lying between the two fighting lines are exposed to the firing of both parties. No one can help them for it would be insanity to venture into No Man's Land.

Ever louder and with more heart-rending pleadings, the wounded called for the stretchers, for help, for water. At the most a curse or an oath is the only response.

Our trench was filled with several inches of water and underneath that, mud. In this morass lay dead and wounded, thrown together. It became necessary to make room and so the dead were thrown over the ramparts. At one o'clock in the night men came with stretchers and took away some of the wounded, but for those wretches lying in No Man's Land there was no help.

CHAPTER VII.

To complete our misery, we received orders during the night to attack the French at 4:15 in the morning. We made our preparations under a pouring rain. Promptly at 4:15 we went over the top, jumping over corpses and wounded men. We were forced to retire before a hail of machine gun fire, and sustaining a large number of unnecessary casualties.

Hardly had we regained our trenches when the French attacked us. They came within three meters of our trench, and here their attack broke down under our fire. They too had to retire with fearful losses.

Three times in two hours the French attacked, always with heavy losses and no results. We were at our wit's end. Unless help came soon it would be impossible for us to hold the position. We were tortured by hunger and thirst as well as being wet to the skin and were so exhausted that we could hardly stand.

The French troops, held in contempt by the Germans before the war, halt the Prussian military machine on the second and third days of the battle of the Marne and the German line breaks under the terrific assaults of the French. A fierce struggle for the possession of a German battery is described in the next installment.

COLD IN NORTHERN SIBERIA

Ninety Degrees Below Zero is Record for the Whole World—Eighty, Above in Summer Time.

Turn up your collar, thrust your hands to the bottom of your pockets, and read about the "cold pole" of northern Siberia, where the natives speak patronizingly about Greenland's icy mountains and other such relatively balmy resorts. At the town of Verkhoyansk, which would probably never have had any inhabitants if the late czar's government had not sent occasional batches of exile thither, says Popular Science Monthly, the temperature has been known to drop to 90 degrees below zero, which is a "record" for the whole world.

While the regions about the north and south poles of the earth are cold all the time, the Siberian cold pole gives its inhabitants a comfortable set-up in summer, when the thermometer frequently climbs up into the 80's above zero. During the brief summer season the life-giving rays of the sun, which remains about the horizon day and night for some time during the height of the season, exert an intensely stimulating influence upon the vegetation, and the ground is covered with flowers.

Here's German Efficiency.

German industrial efficiency is so nearly a fetish in the popular mind that it is a distinct shock to hear it challenged by competent authority.

"In my young days," said a contractor at a recent trade gathering, "we awarded a contract to bridge one of the swift western streams to a firm of German engineers. Guess what they did! Blamed if they didn't build the cutwater of the piers downstream."

The Boy From Next Door

YOU used to see him swing gaily down the street, radiant with the vigor of his sturdy young manhood. One day he came home in khaki; then his father told you, with mingled pride and foreboding; that he had "gone across" with his regiment.

Yesterday his name was on the casualty list—"slightly wounded"—and your face grew grave as you thought of the sorrow and suspense of his father and mother.

From every city street, every village, every community, the boy next door has gone to war.

Think of these thousands of splendid young Americans, reared in comfort, peace, and security, now suddenly plunged into that roaring inferno of battle with the hardened hordes of a desperately determined foe.

What are you doing to help them?

What are you doing to arm and protect them, and bring them home in safety? Have you bought Liberty Bonds? Have you bought all you possibly can?

Has it occurred to you that one more Bond, bought with a little additional effort, may save the life of the boy from the next door?

ABOUT THE WAR

In Belgium the Belgians and British have driven forward and taken Dixmude.

The probable number of allied troops engaged on active fronts is over a million and a half.

General Allenby in Palestine has surrounded Damascus and French cavalry is reported to be working its way up the Mediterranean sea coast toward Beirut.

British casualties reported for the week ending Sept. 23 follows: Officers killed or died of wounds, 432; men, 8,936; officers wounded or missing, 804; men, 19,757.

Gouraud's French forces captured Fort Malmouin, key to Laon, and important position of Chavignon. Fall of Laon probably would mean retreat of Hyuns to German border.

Between the Vesle and Aisne rivers the French continue to push back the Germans north of the Aisne, while in Champagne the French, operating in conjunction with the Americans, are steadily advancing northward.

In Flanders the Belgians and British in the region of Dixmude to Armentieres have further driven in their sharp wedge eastward, capturing important towns and cutting lines of communication necessary to the continued holding by the Germans of their submarine bases on the North sea.

From Cambrai to St. Quentin, notwithstanding most violent reactions from the Germans, the British, Americans and French again have won heavily fortified positions of the enemy all along the front midway between St. Quentin and Cambrai. The remaining portions of the old Hindenburg line are slowly being demolished.

French, British and American and Belgian troops in three days captured 40,000 prisoners and 300 guns. It is estimated at Paris. Since July 18 the allies have captured 200,000 prisoners, 3,000 guns, 20,000 machine guns and enormous quantities of material. This does not take into account the operations in Macedonia and Palestine.

The town of St. Quentin, upon which the Germans had so firmly builded their hopes of proving an insuperable barrier to the allies, at last has been entered by the French, and seemingly the gateway is open to Marshal Foch for a swift advance eastward in his task of reclaiming northern France. Meanwhile the Germans and their allies on all the battle fronts have continued to play a losing game, and it is reported that the Turks, realizing the critical situation through successive defeats and the withdrawal of Bulgaria from the war, are sending out "peace feelers."

Bulgaria has unconditionally surrendered. Allied nations are placed in control of her railroads and other means of transport and are free to use them for the development of future military operations. All strategic points are turned over to the allies for occupation and the Bulgar troops will be withdrawn from Greece and Serbia and disarmed.

NO COMPROMISE ON PEACE TERMS

IMPARTIAL JUSTICE IS PRICE OF PEACE, DECLARES PRESIDENT IN NEW YORK.

GUNS TO SILENCE DRIVE

VITAL ISSUES OF WAR STATED BY EXECUTIVE IN FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN SPEECH.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

PEACE TERMS IN BRIEF. First, the impartial justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be a justice that plays no favorites and knows no standards but the equal rights of the several peoples concerned. Second, no special or separate interest of any single nation, or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement which is not consistent with the common interests of all. Third, there can be no leagues or alliances or special covenants and understandings with the general and common family of the league of nations. Fourth, and more specifically, there can be no special, selfish economic combinations within the league and no employment of any form of economic boycott or exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control. Fifth, all international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known in their entirety to the rest of the world.

New York.—The price of peace will be impartial justice to all nations; the instrumentally indispensable to secure it is a league of nations formed not before or after, but at the peace conference; and Germany as a member "will have to redeem her character not by what happens at the peace table, but by what follows." This was President Wilson's answer, given Friday night before an audience of Fourth Liberty Loan workers here to the recent peace talk from the central powers, although he did not refer specifically to the utterances of enemy leaders.

Shortly before the President started speaking, news of the further successes of American, British and French offensives on the western front reached the meeting at the Metropolitan opera house, and this gave dramatic point to Mr. Wilson's peroration—that "peace drives can be effectively neutralized and silenced only by showing that every victory of the nations associated against Germany brings the nations nearer the sort of peace which will bring security and reassurance to all peoples and make the recurrence of another such struggle of pitiless forces and bloodshed forever impossible, and that nothing else can."

"We are all agreed," he said, "that there can be no peace obtained by any kind of bargain or compromise with the governments of the central empires, because we have dealt with them already and have seen them deal with other governments that were parties to this struggle, at Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest. They have convinced us that they are without honor and do not intend justice. They observe no covenants, accept no principle but force and their own interest."

Five thousand persons who filled the Metropolitan opera house to capacity heard the President. Five minutes before his arrival a guard of soldiers, sailors and marines seated at the rear of the platform were suddenly ordered to attention. They arose with a smart click of rifles, the national colors were advanced, and the great audience became silent until the President, without other warning of his coming, walked on the stage, escorted by Benjamin Strong, governor of the federal reserve bank of New York. Then a tremendous burst of cheering broke loose, which ceased the President, after taking his seat, to rise three times in acknowledgment.

Mr. Strong read to the audience a summary of late reports showing American troops' advances during the day in France.

"Our boys in France do not learn readily when to stop fighting," he added. "That is the spirit in which we must raise the Liberty Loan."

Cheers greeted the news of the American success, particularly when Mr. Strong said the Yankee troops in their drive had reclaimed 100 square miles of territory in France.

Was Told He Couldn't Live Six Months

But Doan's Brought Mr. Clayton Health and Strength.

G. T. Clayton, 78 N. Broad St., Woodbury, N. J., says: "I had about the worst case of kidney complaint a man could have. My kidneys were in terrible shape. I had sharp, knife-like pains in the small of my back, and my back often gave out entirely. I couldn't stoop to lace my shoes. For two years I was in this helpless condition and didn't do a tap of work and no one thought I would ever be able to work again. In fact, I was told I couldn't live six months. But fortunately I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel better from the first and after taking several boxes, I had better strength and health than ever before. I think Doan's are worth their weight in gold, and I recommend them whenever I hear anyone complaining of their kidneys."

"Carry On"

THE fighting slogan in France, gathering inspiration and significance as the conflict grows more violent and more desperate, is "Carry On." On land, on sea, in the air, it rings sharp and clear.

Into the front line trenches comes the signal to charge. The company commander swings "over the top." At his heels, pushing and stumbling through the hell of "No Man's Land," come the boys. They gain a yard, five, ten, and the machine guns speak. The commander falls, but over his shoulder, above the din of battle, he shouts, "Carry On, Lieutenant!" So on and on, till every officer falls, and the grizzled old Sergeant sets his teeth and takes what's left of them on to victory.

"Carry On" must be our slogan here at home. We must "Carry On" to the utmost limit our ability, to the last dollar of our resources, till Victory is won. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder—buy all the Liberty Bonds we can. Let us keep our Bonds and save to buy more.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE BOYS "OVER THERE"

You have given them richly of your love, your prayers, your constant thought. You have sent letters and packages by every mail.

You somehow feel that these will protect your boys "Somewhere in France," that somehow or other these constant expressions of yearning human affection will act as talismans, protective charms.

But these are not enough. Love cannot quench the gunfire; your prayers cannot halt the fumes of poison gas; your letters over their hearts cannot stop the bayonet thrusts.

When the hell of battle bursts they must have more—guns must answer guns, gas masks must answer poison gas, bayonets must answer bayonets. And guns and gas masks and bayonets cost money.

These are the things you must send over to save the lives of your own sons.

They need your love and your prayers.

But Liberty Bonds are an even mightier protection than family ties.

WHAT DO YOU THINK I OUGHT TO DO?

Thousands of times this question has been asked by people really anxious to find out how much money they ought to invest in Liberty Bonds.

Ask the question of a dozen friends and you will receive a dozen varying answers.

Here is an honest attempt to give a clear-cut answer to the question.

General Pershing's soldiers are allowed enough to wear, enough to eat, and a few dollars weekly to spend on tobacco and little necessities—the balance of their earning power is devoted as a gift to the Government.

In the matter of saving for the Liberty Loan your standard has been set. These men who are making it need be the supreme sacrifice for you, for our country and for humanity, have established a clean-cut standard. They have a right to believe that you will allow yourself enough money to purchase the bare necessities of life, and conduct business essential to the war, devoting the balance of your earning power to your Country in the form of subscriptions to Liberty Loans.

A man who gives up salary or income in order to fight for you and yours has the right to expect that you will at least

Lend As He Has Given

The man who endures without complaint the heartache of parting from those he loves, has the right to expect that you will at least sacrifice and save, even to the point of discomfort, in order to supply him with fighting necessities.

It calls for some courage. It means working at some productive essential industry harder than ever before, and the giving up of every luxury. But will you not do these things and do them cheerfully, in order to place at the disposal of our fighting men the very substantial sum you will save by adopting such a course? You will gain mentally, morally, financially.

What MUST I Do?

The yearly income of all the people in this country is estimated at fifty billion dollars.

It has been made clear that twenty-four billion dollars must be raised for war purposes during the next twelve months.

It follows that nearly half of our national income must be set aside for the payment of taxes, and subscriptions to Government loans.

Nothing short of the heroic measures of economy and saving called for by the Government will avail—measures such as our soldiers have adopted in their complete surrender of self to the cause of winning the war.

The man of moderate income will have to give or lend to the Government in the form of taxes or subscriptions to Government Loans, about one-third of his income during the next twelve months. Of course, the larger the income, the greater the percentage that must be lent or given. One-third of their income is the share of the average family. Many will be called upon to do far more.

In mathematical calculations then is to be found the answer to the question "What MUST I Do?", but in the example of our fighting men is to be found our standard, our inspiration and our guide, and the answer to the question "What Do You Think I Ought To Do?"

Let us store in our hearts the words of our President:

"The shadows that now lie dark upon our path will soon be dispelled, and we shall walk with the light all about us if we but but true to ourselves."

Your standard has been set. Be true to that standard. Keep faith with your country, your soldiers, and with yourself.

BUY LIBERTY BONDS TO YOUR UTMOST.

LEND AS THEY HAVE GIVEN

By T. Q. MARTIN, Chairman Dallas County Registration Committee

It is unfortunate that the heart can be stirred in times like these by only the direct calamity.

If appeals to reason could reach the deepest emotions, our Government would have "all the" money it needs.

The torpedoing of one of our troop ships would bring it, in a grim determined hurry, but at the same time it would be perilous for our future. The wrath of our country would be aroused to the fury of hell, and we might commit some overt act that would count against us at the peace table. To avoid such a possible tragedy, and consequent result, it is the duty of every citizen to furnish our Government with all the funds it needs without the asking, so as to eliminate the enormous expense of these Bond drives and release for other war activities the splendid services of the hosts of men thus engaged.

I want to say a word to the hundred-dollar-a-month man without dependents, in an endeavor to bring him to a realization of his responsibility in this great war, which we will win; and, what I say to him can be applied, in the same ratio, to every man earning one hundred and twenty-five dollars, and upwards, per month. It costs our Government close around eighty dollars per month to maintain each brave man that is fighting for the liberty of the world. Based upon the cost of the most menial labor the soldier is, at least, a hundred dollar man. He, therefore, is not only giving up his home ties; is not only offering his life, but he is actually giving our government, with no expectancy of return or hope of reward, twenty dollars every month, in order that you may have an opportunity of earning your one hundred dollars per in perfect safety.

Are you giving twenty dollars per month to our Government to help win the war? Not Well, will you not lend our Government twenty dollars every month for the duration of the war at 4% per cent interest? Is it not the least you can do, and, honestly, is it not your duty to do the most you can?

After this war is won, probably before, there is going to be another Draft. A Draft before the Board of Public Opinion, and all men are going to be classified. There will be a class for the miser and a class for the spender, and—may God pity them, for their fellow-man will not.

The Republican Ticket
 (New Mexico State Record)

The ticket placed in nomination by the republican convention this week is unquestionably the strongest that has been nominated since New Mexico has been a state.

One of the elements of strength is its splendid distribution over the state. No county has more than one candidate, except Rio Arriba, which has Mr.
 Hernandez and Mr. Sargent, but the former of these is considered more of a candidate at large, not having been sought by either
 Mr. Hernandez or his county.

Las Vegas and Albuquerque got the governor and chief justice, the two most important state offices and southern New Mexico got U. S. Senator to balance northern New Mexico's congressional nomination.

The republican platform on which the candidates stand is another element of strength—it is a direct statement of definite aims and purposes and proposes measures and means that are constructive and protective of the rights of all.

The greatest strength, however, is the splendid personnel.
 Every candidate is able to discharge the duties of the office to which he has been nominated, personally, and nearly every one has special training and experience in line with the duties of the particular office for which he is running.

The Republicans therefor enter upon the campaign with full confidence that their principles and ticket will be ratified by the voters on the fifth day of November.

Fair targets, every one of these men, for the

It stirs every American heart

Who was not thrilled to read of the American soldier who supported a wounded comrade, and fought his way with the little detachment back through the Boches to the American lines?

That is only one deed of heroism among the many happening every day and looked on as a matter of course by the boys fighting for us over there. It shows the stuff that's in them. They are our own sons and brothers. Is the same stuff in us over here?

We have the opportunity at home to show our patriotism by other deeds of valor. We can fight and we MUST fight. And we must WIN, no matter how heavy our burdens may be.

Our former habits are the Huns we've got to battle with. We can't go on living as we used to. We can't go on spending our money for things we like. We must set up new standards—war standards—and stick to them—loyally.

From now on there can be only one standard for those of us who fight behind the lines—by saving and lending

A PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America.

Every day the great principles for which we are fighting take fresh hold upon our thought and purpose and make it clearer what the end must be and what we must do to achieve it. We now know more certainly than we ever knew before why free men brought the great nation and government we love into existence, because it grows clearer and clearer what supreme service it is to be America's privilege to render to the world. The anniversary of the discovery of America must therefore have for us in this fateful year a peculiar and thrilling significance. We should make it a day of ardent rededication to the ideals upon which our government is founded and by which our present heroic tasks are inspired.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do appoint Saturday, the 12th day of October, 1918, as Liberty day. On that day I request the citizens of every community of the United States, city, town and countryside, to celebrate the discovery of our country in order to stimulate a generous response to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Commemorative addresses, pageants, harvest home festivals, or other demonstrations should be arranged for in every neighborhood under the general direction of the secretary of the treasury and the immediate direction of the Liberty Loan committee, in co-operation with the United States bureau of education and the public school authorities. Let the people's response to the Fourth Liberty Loan express the measure of their devotion to the ideals which have guided the country from its discovery until now, and of their determined purpose to defend them and guarantee their triumph.

For the purpose of participating in Liberty day celebrations all employees of the federal government throughout the country whose services can be spared may be excused on Saturday, the 12th day of October, for the entire day.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia this 19th day of September in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eighteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Forty-third.

WOODROW WILSON.

By the President:

ROBERT LANSING,
Secretary of State.

GERMANS' VAIN EFFORT TO BELITTLE AMERICAN POWER.

Poster Widely Circulated in Kaiser's Empire, and. Reproduced in This Country, Shows Morale of Huns is Being Shattered.

A poster recently issued by the imperial German government in an effort to belittle the participation of America in the war and thus strengthen the morale of her people form the text of one of the most striking pieces of literature that the bureau of publicity of the war loan organization has prepared for use in the forthcoming Fourth Liberty loan.

The title of the poster is "Can America's Entry Make a Decision of the War?" Integral sections of it attempt to convince the reader that America's army cannot take the place of Russia's withdrawn forces; that the United States cannot build enough ships to have any effect on the result of the war, and that the U-boats will destroy virtually all the ships that America can build when those ships attempt to cross the ocean. A French poster also is reproduced in the German poster and the meaning so twisted as to make it appear that France is very badly in need of food.

Two millions of the booklets have been printed and will be distributed in various parts of the country, particularly in theaters where Liberty Loan speakers take the book as their text.

The enormous figure of a Russian soldier is the first object on the poster to strike the eye. He stands with hands in his overcoat pockets, indicative of the fact that he is through fighting. Beside him stands Uncle Sam holding a small figure, designed to represent the United States army, in his right hand. In his left hand Uncle Sam carries a banner which bears the inscription, "America threatens to send transport of one-half million men. But it cannot ship them!" Below Uncle Sam are these words: "It is impossible for America to train and fit out in time for the European war a suitable and sufficiently large army and provide it with the necessary reinforcements." The caption of this section of the poster is "Russia's army of millions could not down Germany," and on the skirt of the Russian soldier's overcoat are printed these words: "Russia used an inferior army. Millions men in vain!"

On the opposite side of the poster is this catchline: "England's sea power and England's merchant marine have not decided the war!" Below this line appears a huge figure intended to represent the English shipping facilities at the outbreak of the war, which bears these words: "England went into the war with twenty million gross registered tons of freight space."

Alongside this figure of a ship is a drawing designed to show Uncle Sam carrying the United States tonnage under his left arm. The caption above Uncle Sam reads: "Can America replace England on sea?" On the ship which Uncle Sam carries is printed this inscription: "Three million gross registry tons," and below that is another inscription which says: "At the beginning of the war America had only a tonnage of three million gross registered tons." Commenting on these statements, the poster further declares "America cannot increase her gross registered tons for 1918 by more than two to two and a half million tons. Our U-boats sink twice as quickly as England and America can build!"

The answer of the publicity bureau to the two sections of the poster referring to the transportation of men and the building of ships follows: "At the moment, the bulletin boards of Germany scoffed the possibility of America sending a force to France, there were already more than a million fighting men overseas, and transports, walled about by the American navy defying the cowardly submarines, were bearing every month hundreds of thousands more. The gauge is set and the summer of 1919 will see 4,000,000 fighting American men in France. Nor will there be a lack of ships to transport and sustain them. The Liberty Bond buyer is fast giving to America a merchant marine that will be the peer of any in the world. America launched in July alone 635,011 tons. Losses to allied and neutral shipping combined, from every cause, for the last six months, amounted to 2,039,393 tons.

"The distance from New York to England, the Boche points out," comments the bureau of publicity publication, "is two hundred times greater than that from England to France, from which he spells 'Opportunity for the German U-boats.' Pitiful is this boast in face of the facts. Instead of the U-boat being an unconquerable engine of war, as the Hun confidently expected, it has become the slinking foe of fishing smacks and other isolated craft. The vast army of Liberty Bond buyers, thirty millions strong, has built an unbroken bridge over the Atlantic ocean into the heart of the enemy's strongholds. Across this bridge there are streaming our millions of fighting men, as good as the world has ever known, munitions and equipment that have been wrought by those back home, whose determination is that the American fighting man shall lack nothing that he needs."

As a back-handed slap at the French, the German propagandists have reproduced a French poster which pleads with French people to eat less in order that the United States may send over more man power. The French poster pointed out that if every person in France would save a hundred grams of food a day that the American reinforcements could be increased a division a month. The French catchline on this poster was "Does France want wheat or men?" and the German poster remarks "Also the allies are now beginning to have their doubts!"

In a further effort to convince the German people that it will be impossible for the United States to transport troops to France, the German section of the poster says that ten tons of freight space are required for every soldier in crossing the water. The truth is that a soldier requires less than one-half this amount of space.

Summing up all the falsehoods which the German poster contains, the booklet says: "The War Lord of Germany may have the futile hope that his people will devour in the place of food, such statements as the foregoing. Falsehoods, however, are poor substitutes and are likely to aggravate rather than appease when the deluded people of Germany learn that every requirement of the American soldier will be met by his patriotic and unqualified support back home. If a single soldier required ten tons of freight space, it would be given him. But the truth is he requires less than one-half of that.

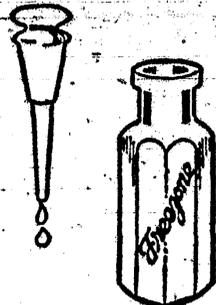

"As for Germany's statement that even if the United States built from two and a half million gross registered tons in 1918, it would not mean deliverance for the allies, no further comment is needed than that by July of this year the 2,000,000-ton mark has been passed. If further reiteration of the Hun boast of his U-boat prowess were needed, it might be stated that less than 500 American soldiers have lost their lives in the present war as a result of U-boat attacks."

Closing the booklet is this striking quotation from Secretary McAdoo: "The Fourth Liberty Loan is the sure way which will provide the victorious thrust of our army."

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they lend their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential circumstance. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first withered now dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.
Rome, Oct. 4.—American, British and Italian warships have destroyed the Austrian naval base at Durazzo and the warships anchored there, according to an announcement made by Premier Orlando.
The attack on Durazzo occurred at noon on Wednesday, when Italian and British cruisers, protected by Italian and allied torpedo boats and American submarines, succeeded in making their way through mine fields and avoiding attacks by submarines, got into Durazzo harbor. British and Italian airplanes cooperated in the work.
(Durazzo is a seaport in Albania fifty-three miles south of Scutari. It is situated on a peninsula in the Adriatic sea. For some time past it has been a base for Austrian operations in Albania.)
Lens, the heart of the great coal region in northern France, and Armentieres, almost equally important as a manufacturing center, have been evacuated by the Germans; the German fortified positions between Cambrai and St. Quentin have been definitely smashed and the Austro-Hungarians in Albania, forsaken by the Bulgarians, their former allies, are in full retreat, northward from the Adriatic sea to Lake Ochrida.
Of the reconquering of invaded Belgium and the progress of the French and Franco-American forces respectively, north of Rheims and eastward in Champagne to the vicinity of Verdun, the tale remains the same—the Germans slowly but surely are being forced everywhere to give ground and their vital defenses daily continue to be eaten into, notwithstanding the strong resistance against the efforts of the allies to close in on all sides of the great battle arc from the North sea to the Swiss border and compel the German high command to reconstruct its fighting line.
In Belgian Flanders the Belgian, French and British troops are keeping up their eastward progress in their endeavor to compel the Germans to give up Ostend and Zeebrugge, their naval bases on the North sea.
Across the border in France the capture of Armentieres brings Lille, capital of the department of the Nord, within striking distance, and the evacuation of Lens places Douai, the fortress northeast of Arras, and all the territory between Arras and Menin virtually in the hands of the British.
To the south, from Cambrai to St. Quentin, the German resistance is still strong, but the British, Americans and French on all the sectors which are essential to the carrying forward of the allied program have attacked valiantly and withstood counter attacks, smashed the old Hindenburg positions and materially advanced their line.
In their retreat from Albania the Austro-Hungarians everywhere are in flight before the Italians, burning towns and depots behind them. Large numbers of prisoners and quantities of war material have been captured.

Train Kills Twenty-five Workmen.
Bedford, Ohio.—Twenty-five men are known to have been killed and several injured when a Pennsylvania flyer from Columbus for Cleveland ran through a crowd of workmen at the Interstate Engineering plant here as they were boarding a workmen's special train to go to their homes after working all night. Twenty-three of the men were killed outright and three died at hospitals shortly after they were injured without regaining consciousness. Two or three others injured may recover.
U. S. Ship Sunk; 118 Drowned.
Washington.—The U. S. S. ship Tampa, a former coast guard cutter in naval service, was lost off the English coast Sept. 26, with all on board, while on convoy duty. Ten officers and 102 enlisted men of the crew, one British officer and five civilian employees lost their lives. A Navy Department statement Thursday announcing the disaster says the ship was sunk at night in the Bristol channel and that reports indicate that she was struck by a torpedo while escorting a convoy.

It's Acid-Stomach That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer
Life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman with an acid-stomach. Acid-stomach kills Hope, Ambition, Energy, Courage. It saps the strength of the strongest body—impoverishes the blood—causes untold suffering—makes millions weak, sad and brings on premature old age.
Millions of people are weak and sad, suffering all the time, in one way or another, from superacidity or acid-stomach. They don't seem dangerously sick. Just ailing. Going through life weak, listless, dragging one foot after another. They're nervous and irritable; lack power and punch, frequently have severe attacks of biliousness, splitting headaches; subject to fits of melancholia and mental depression. And nearly always their stomachs are out of order, even though many experience no actual stomach pain—distention, poor nerve setting anywhere near the full strength from their food.
So, you see, it's just this acid-stomach—that is holding so many people back—sapping up the strength they should get from their food—taking away their vigor and vitality—leaving them weak and inefficient.
Get rid of the excess acid. That's the secret of good health and is the only way to obtain good digestion and nutrition. It is the right way to be well and keep strong. Ordinary medicine won't do any lasting good. The best they can do is to sap up your appetite for awhile.
A modern remedy makes it possible to remove excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called NATONIO, in the form of pleasant tasting tablets. Their action in the stomach is a good deal like a piece of blotting paper taking up a drop of ink—they literally absorb the surplus excess acid and carry it away through the intestines.
Begin using NATONIO right now—today—and get on the road to bounding, vigorous, vibrant health. Thousands upon thousands of people who have used NATONIO are enthusiastic in its praise. They say they have dreamed that anything could bring them such quick relief.
NATONIO is fully guaranteed. Your druggist will give you a big box for only 50 cents with the distinct understanding that if you are not pleased in any way you get your 50 cents back. If you can't get NATONIO where you live—send us your name and address, we will send you a fifty cent box and you can send us the 50¢ when you get it. Address Natonic Remedy Co., Cuthbert Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

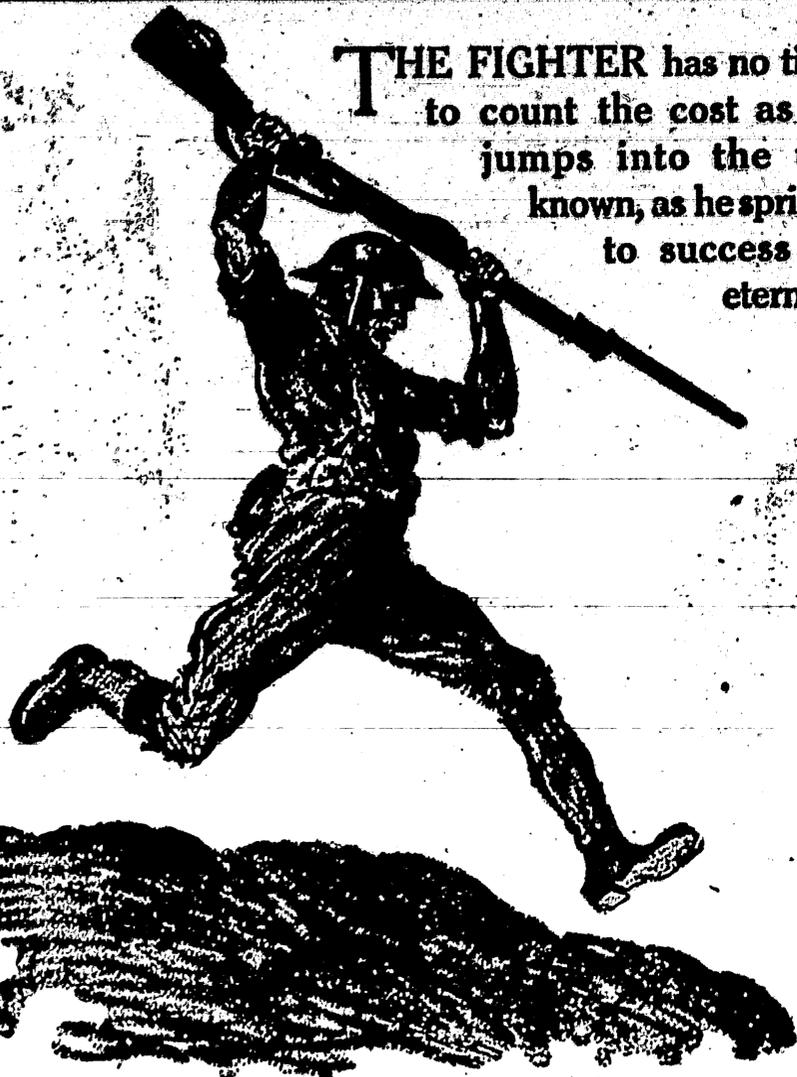

Next Day.
It chanced, in the days before the war, that an Englishman in Berlin became acquainted with a young German officer. One day they were lingering over a tete-a-tete luncheon.
The officer got up and said, "I will give you a toast." Raising his well-filled glass, he added: "I drink to 'The Day!'" and there was a smile on his lips which hinted at some hidden jest in the words.
His companion, the Englishman, looked at him quietly.
"Indeed, Herr Lieutenant!" he said: "Let me follow your toast with one of my own: 'Here's to 'The Day After!'"
The Reason.
"That girl rings true."
"No wonder, when she is such a belle."

Kamarad—Hell!

H. W. Hoops Executive manager of the Liberty Loan Campaign smiled when he heard of the German Peace offensive and said, "So the Central Powers are calling Kamarad." I was reading the other day of an incident in which the Germans played this favorite trick and then killed a number of Americans with concealed hand grenades. I spoke of the matter to a recently returned officer who said, "Such incidents are quite common, so common in fact that our reply to this sort of thing now is, Kamarad—Hell!" The German Government is trying this old trick on the people of this District and would like to see the people refrain from buying Bonds.
