

ALARM SOUNDED IN NORTHERN PART OF N. M. MEXICO

Fears of Indian Raids Cause Inhabitants to go About With Arms—Women Bake Biscuits With Loaded Re- volvers on Kitchen Table.

Traders are going about armed in northwestern New Mexico in fear of Indian raids, according to Col. D. K. B. Sellers, who returned a few days ago from the San Juan basin, and there is a state of uneasiness among the scattered white families brought to an acute pitch by information imparted by friendly Indians that two of their number had been marked for killing, says the Albuquerque Morning Journal.

The feeling of alarm is deeper seated than these reports, however, because of the shooting of two white men and one girl in the past year, Colonel Sellers said. Ned Burnham, trader at the Pueblo Bonito, was fired upon when he opened his door one night and wounded in three places. His small daughter was shot in one arm. Burnham recovered, and the girl also, of her wound but that of the other man, Walter Sargent, trading under one killed at Tishoe, western Santa Fe county.

Col. Sellers went to the San Juan basin, accompanying A. C. Ridgley, general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande, who is investigating the practicability of the planned Moriarty-Farrington railway. They visited four traders, said the colonel, and at every place they found the men carrying six-shooters at their belts. It was a surprise to the colonel, who was at one time a trader in that country.

At one place the trader's wife was rolling biscuit dough on a kitchen table. There was a revolver within easy reach.

At another place heavy shades were drawn over the windows at night and the lamp was placed against the wall between the windows so that no one would pass between it and the windows, casting a shadow on the shades.

Bulls Train Stop

E. C. Monroe, returned last week from Chicago where he, with Messrs. Bull and Campbell made a demonstration of the merits of the Bulls Automatic Train Stop. Mr. Monroe says that in the contest the device covered all the twelve requirements exacted by the government and that the experts were open in expression of satisfaction with the demonstration. The committee is now in Seattle, but expect to return to Carrizozo shortly at which time they will be hoped to see the device of the Bulls Automatic Train Stop.

Stockmen Rejoice

The recent bountiful rains in this locality have caused hopes to be revived among stockmen. The long drought of last grazing season when stockmen gladly resorted to grinding the much abused soap weed in order to save their stock and forced some to even give away young calves in order to save the cows, had not only disheartened our stockmen but drove some almost to the verge of desperation.

But now the scenes have shifted. Rain has come in abundance; great stretches of prairie land which a short while ago lay dry and dusty, are now springing up with tender blades of grass sufficient even now for good clipping. Cattle are beginning to show the good effects of nature's demonstration and are fattening up. Activity in stock deals is apparent, while the Carrizozo Live Stock Commission Co., have no deals of importance to report, they admit that a great many are gradually developing, the interested parties sparring with each other for the best opening.

Stockmen are rejoicing as they view with gladness the rainbow of promise in the blessed rain. Stockmen who during the long drought could be seen with hats pulled down over their eyes and hands deep in their pockets can now be seen with wide-brimmed hats pushed far back on their heads and with a good natured swinging gait walking briskly down the street whistling the "Golden West." Yes, stockmen are rejoicing, and they have every reason to be thankful.

Sold the Black Mule

The black mule team that has served so faithfully on the water wagon will be seen no more. They were sold this week to E. O. Finley and will be used in the future to work on the I-X Ranch. Daddy Kahler sold the pair to Mr. Finley for a consideration of $400.00.

Old Clothes Shipment

The Red Cross committee headed by Mrs. G. T. McQuillen collected close to 1000 pounds of old clothing which will be shipped to the sufferers in the destitute districts of Belgium and France. The neighboring towns sent in good donations all of which with but a few exceptions were neat and clean.

The committee is more than worthy of praise for the good work done, as they worked hard and patiently in classifying the different donations as they came in besides boxing and marking for shipment the boxes and barrels containing the donated clothing. The shipment goes out Saturday.

Shoots Youthful Pat On East Bound Trip

As an aftermath of the article in last week's Outlook concerning the two boys taken in custody here by Detective Ben West and sent to their homes in Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the officers of the E. P. & S. W. who went east on the same train tells the following story:

On the night after leaving this point the lad who had been assigned to a Pullman berth on the train, having retired lay awake until rather late closely engaged in conversation concerning their recent experiences in the "Woolly West," when one of them began to relate what he would have done, had he encountered Indians, or as the youthful runaways called them, "Long Horned Cow Boys," he opened his grip, took a revolver from it and placing it to the breast of his chum pulled the trigger, the ball entering the left side inflicting an ugly but not a dangerous wound.

To account for the gun being in possession of the boys it will be explained in this manner: on being taken from the train here, they each had a grip which as they explained to the Detective, contained simply a change of clothing, and this story seeming plausible enough, the grips were not searched. After the shooting which was of course accidental, a search was made of their effects and two guns were found in the grips. Officer West is in possession of a letter from the mother of young Hoehn, in which she says that the promoter of the western trip, (the older boy of the three,) had stolen the money he used in paying their fares from his father's safe, also the Liberty Bond one of the kids had in his possession. A close watch will be kept on the boys in the future.

Chicago Votes Booze And Thompsonism

Mayor Thompson of Chicago has been re-elected in one of the most exciting political struggles that the city has ever witnessed. His plurality will reach 15,000, his nearest opponent being Robert Sweitzer whom the mayor defeated four years ago by 147,000. A vote of 700,000 was cast out of registration of 800,000.

The city voted "wet" by a sweeping majority, the first time the question had been voted on in Chicago. The liquor adherents made a campaign base on the slogan, "Let congress hear your protest." The vote was 3 to 1 or better in favor of saloons. The Dry Chicago Federation made no concerted campaign relying on national legislation. The "wet and dry" question was on the ballot by order of the state supreme court, which found that the "dry" petition had been kept off the ballot illegally at the preceding city election.

Of Decided Importance

Monday is the day set apart for the public school election, and now, more than ever before, the public should use the utmost care in selecting directors. These gentlemen, or ladies as the case may be, will have the appointing of new teachers from time to time, and we must have a board that will be extremely vigilant in this important direction.

While the war is over, there yet remains a dangerous element distributed throughout the land teaching and promulgating things detrimental to American interests and of personal advantage to our former enemy. The new board must see that this wriggling serpent does not strike at the Lincoln County home. They must see that nothing short of American ideals of the most lofty nature are taught in our schools. We do not know who the parties are to run for these important positions, but we wish to sound the warning to the household of the faithful. Let your material be genuine, all wool and a yard wide.

You Know Not the Hour

Of the sad happenings we have experienced since the first visitation of the influenza occurred last Wednesday morning at Ancho, when Mrs. Josephine Croft, who was the telegraph operator at that place died of the above named disease.

Mrs. Croft came to Ancho about 18 months ago from Nebraska, accepting a position as operator, bringing with her two sons whose ages are 12 and 14 respectively. Her intention in bringing the boys west was to file on a claim for them which she did, locating nicely near the mouth of Gallina canyon.

Everything went well with the Crofts until about two weeks ago when the mother was stricken with influenza and this ailment coupled with a local heart trouble soon terminated in her demise. The boys were also stricken, but with careful treatment recovered. Mrs. Croft's mother, Mrs. Richardson of DeWitt, Neb., and brother, E. W. Richardson of the same place, made the trip west as quickly as possible, the mother arriving one day previous to the death of her daughter.

OLD FEEDERS REJECTED BY BEN PANKEY; NO BUENO

Acting Governor Says Old Barnacles Must Give Way to Boys Who Fought for Country—No Pardons to be Issued.

Santa Fe, N. M., April 3.—Acting Gov. Benjamin F. Pankey, on taking charge of the executive offices Wednesday during the three weeks' absence of Gov. O. A. Larrazolo, announced no pardons will be issued during his ad interim term and that he will give preference to returning soldiers in all such appointments as he may be forced to make in order not to interfere with the carrying on of the public's business.

"Four old barnacles who have been holding appointive offices in this state until they thought they were pensioned, came in here as soon as Gov. Larrazolo was out of the building," said acting Gov. Pankey, "and asked for jobs and I told them they didn't have a chance. It's time for the old pensioners to get out of the way and let a little of the public work go to the boys who fought for us."

be made the remains were shipped to DeWitt, Neb., where they were interred, and the boys will be sent east as soon as their condition will justify the move. The circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Croft were sad. She was ambitious in her duties and had great hopes for the future of her boys in the great west. But alas! Fond hopes, "We Know Not the Hour."

Mrs. Dingwall Returns
Mrs. Geo. Dingwall returned from Douglas, Arizona, Thursday where she, with Mrs. J. E. Farley were guests of Mrs. J. F. Kimbell, formerly of Carrizozo. The ladies speak in glowing terms of the royal manner in which they were entertained by their genial hostess.

A. Gingsas, a hide and wool buyer of Carrizozo will leave Monday on a trip stopping at Duran, Santa Rosa and other points along the line between here and Albuquerque. He expects to return in two weeks.

CHAPTER XXII—Continued.

The day we were transferred to the regular prison barracks four hundred Russians and Belgians were buried. Most of them had died from cholera, typhoid and inoculations. We heard from the prisoners there before us that the Germans had come through the camp with word that there was an epidemic of black typhus and cholera and that the only thing for the men to do was to take the serum treatment to avoid catching these diseases. Most of the four hundred men had died from the inoculations. They had taken the Germans' word, had been inoculated and had died within nine hours. Which shows how foolish it is to believe a German. None of us had any doubt but what the serum was poisonous.

The second day that we were in the regular camp the Germans struck barbed wire all around our barracks. They told us we had a case of black typhus among us. This was nothing more nor less than a bluff, for not one of us had typhus, but they got up the wire, nevertheless, and we were not allowed to go out.

One day when I was looking around our barracks door and not having anything particularly important to do, I picked a nice hard snowball and landed it neatly behind the ear of a little sentry not far away. When he looked around he did not blow his whistle but began hunting for the thrower. This was strange in a German sentry and I thought he must be pretty good stuff. When he looked around, however, all he saw was a man staggering around as if he were drunk. The man was the one who had done the throwing, all right, but the sentry could not be sure of it, for surely no man would stay out in the open and invite accidents like that. But still, who had done it?

So I just kept staggering around, and the sentry came up to me and looked me over pretty hard. Then I thought for the first time that things might go hard on me, but I figured that if I quit the play acting it would be all over. So I staggered right up to the sentry and looked at him drunkenly, expecting every moment to get one from the bayonet.

But he was so surprised that all he could do was stare. So I started back, pretending that I saw two of him, and otherwise acting foolish. Then I guess he realized for the first time that the chances of anybody being drunk in that camp were small—at least for the prisoners. He was rubbing his ear all the time, but faintly the thought crept through the ivory and he began to laugh. I laughed, too, and the first thing you know he had me doing it again—that is, the imitation. One snowball was enough, I figured.

I used to talk to him quite often after that. We had no particular love for each other, but he was gamier than the other sentries, and he did not call me swastika every time he saw me, so we got on very well together. His name must have been Schwartz, I guess, but it sounded like "Swattis" to me, so Swattis he was, and I was "Chink" to him, as everybody else called me that.

One day he asked me if I could speak French, and I said yes, Italian yes, Russian; yes. He matter what language he might have mentioned I would have said yes, because I could speak something in the wind, and I was curious. Then he told me that if I went to the hospital and worked there, I might get better meals and would not have to go so far for them, and that my knowing all the languages I said I did would help me a great way toward getting the job.

Obviously he had been told to get a man for the place, because he appointed me to it then and there. He put me to work right away. We went over to one of the barracks, where a case of sickness had been reported, and found that the invalid was a big Barbadoes negro named Jim, a fireman from the Yellville. At one time Jim must have weighed 200 pounds, but by this time he was about two pounds heavier than a snow hat, but still black and full of pep. Light as he was, I was an "white hope," and it was all I could do to carry him to the hospital. Swattis kept right along behind me, and every time I would stop to rest, he would poke me with a broom—the only broom I saw in the camp—and laugh and point to his ear. Then I thought it was a conspiracy and that he was getting even with me, but I was in for it then, and the best I could do was to go through with it. But I was all in when we reached the hospital. The first thing I saw when we got in the door was another negro, also from Barbadoes, and as tall and thin as Jim had once been short and fat. This black boy and I made a great team, but I never knew what his name was. I always called him Kate, because night and day he was whistling the old song, "Kate, Kate, Meet Me at the Garden Gate," or words to that effect. I have waked up many a night and heard that whistle just about at the same place as when I had fallen asleep. It would not have been so bad if he had known all of it.

I took Swattis' broom and cleaned up, and then asked where the coal or wood was. This got a great laugh. It was quite humorous to the men who had shivered there for weeks, maybe, but to me it was about as funny as a cry for help. I got wood though, before I had been there long.

There was a great big cupboard that looked more like a small house, built against the wall of the hospital barracks in one corner of the room, and not far from the stove. Kate was the only patient able to be on his feet, so I thought he would have to be my chief cook and bottle washer for a while; and, besides, there was something about him that made him look pretty valuable. I had not recognized his whistling yet, so Jim looked to be the right man for him.

"Jim, what's that big cupboard for?"

"How'd I know? Nuthin' in it."

"Jim, that would make a fine box for coal or wood, wouldn't it?"

"Um. What do you want it for?"

"I'm going out and take observations, Jim. Take the wheel while I'm gone, and keep your eye peeled for U-boats." So I sneaked out the door and began looking around.

If you look at the sketch I have made, it will not take you long to see that next to us was a regular Russian barracks. And it did not take me much longer to see it, too. Back to the hospital and Jim.

"Jim, what barracks are next to us?"

"Russian barracks, only dey ain't dere now. Been sick."

"And you mean to tell me you don't know where to get wood?"

"Sick mes been in deen barracks."

"Sick mes here, don't dere? Let's go."

That did the trick. The black boy would watch from the hospital windows until he saw the coast was clear, then we would slip into the barracks next door, and he would watch again. When there was no sentry near enough to hear us, crack! and out would come a dividing board from the bunks. When we had an awful splice, and had broken them up to the right lengths, all we needed was a little more watching, and then back to the hospital and the big cupboard.

Later on, our men told me they used to watch the smoke that poured from the hospital chimney all the time and wonder where on earth we got the wood.

We got the same kind of food in the hospital that was served in the other barracks, and I would not have had any more than I used to, except that sometimes some of the twenty-six patients could not eat their share, and then, of course, it was mine. One day, though, we all had extra rations.

Two Russian doctors came to visit us each day, and once they were foolish enough, or kind enough, to ask if we had received our rations—we had received them earlier than usual and they were finished at the time. Of course, I said no, so they ordered the Russian in the kitchen to deliver twenty-eight rations to us, which was not quite three loaves of bread. We were that much ahead that day, but it would not work when I tried the trick again.

One day a German doctor came to the hospital barracks. He would not touch anything while he was there—not even open the door. All of the patients had little cards attached to their beds—charts of their condition. When the German wanted to see these charts the Russian doctors had to hold them for him.

I was having a great time at the hospital, working the barracks next door each day for wood, along with Kate, and getting a little more food sometimes, and was always nice and warm. I thought myself quite a pot. Compared to what I had been up against, it seemed like real comfort. But the more food I got, the more I wanted. And it was food that brought me down, after all.

Across from us was a barracks in which there were English officers, and somehow it seemed to me that they must have had a drug. Every once in a while I saw what looked like vegetable and bags of something that was a dead weight for brown hair. So I told Jim, or Kate, or I was calling him by then, and with him on guard, I snatched one.

After two or three like snatches I got over our bunk and into the other barracks, and in through a window.

There I saw several! And perhaps four!

I took all I could carry, to divide up with Kate, and then started eating, so as not to waste anything. It was certainly some feast—the only thing besides mud bread and barley coffee and "shadow" soup that I had to eat in Germany. Then I started back to the hospital. I got over their barbed wire all right, and Kate gave me the go-ahead for our entanglements, but just as I was going over them a sentry nabbed me. At first I thought Kate had turned traitor, because we had had a little argument a short time before.

But later on I figured that he would not have done a trick like that, and besides, he knew I was bringing him something to eat. So the sentry must have sneaked up without Kate seeing him. Who got the carrots and greens? I was carrying I do not know. The sentry hooted me all the way back to my old barracks.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Depew and Frederick.

While I was working at the hospital conditions at my old barracks had been getting worse and worse. Very few of the men were absolutely right in the head, I guess, and almost all had given up hope of ever getting out alive. Though they put up a good front to the Huns, they really did not care a great deal what happened to them. The only thing to think about was the minute they were lying in.

The day I came back two Englishmen, who had suddenly gone mad, commenced to fight each other. It was the most terrible fight I have ever seen. It was some time before the rest of us could make them quit, because at first we did not know they were crazy. When we had them down, however, they were scratched and bitten and poked from head to foot. Both of them bled from the nose all that night, and toward morning one of them became sane for a few minutes and then died. The other was taken away by the Germans, still crazy.

Another time an Australian came into our barracks and very seriously told us that he had a drug with the German officers and that he had been to dinner with them, and had had turkey, potatoes, coffee, butter, eggs, sugar in his coffee, and all the luxuries you could think of. We just sat and stared at him. It seemed impossible that any of our own men would have the gall to torture us like that, and yet we could not possibly believe that it had really happened. Finally, one fellow could not stand it any longer. He was nothing but skin and bones, but he grabbed a dividing board and there were just two wallop: the board hit the Australian's head and the head hit the floor. Then half a dozen more pounced onto him and gave him a real licking. When he came to he had forgotten all about the wonderful dinner he had not had.

Not long after this the Russian doctors proved to the Germans that there was no black typhus in our barracks and we were allowed the freedom of the camp except that we could not visit the Russian barracks. That was no hardship to me nor to the rest of us, except one chap from the Cambrian Range, who had a special pal among the Russians that he wanted to see. And, of course, when it was verboten, he wanted to see him all the more.

A day or two after the order I was standing outside the barracks door when I saw this fellow come out with a dividing board in his hand. I thought he was going to smash somebody with it, so I stood by. But he stooped over and jammed one end of the board against the threshold of the door, scratched the ground with the farther end of the board and measured again. He kept this up, length by length, in the direction of the Russian barracks. The sentry in the yard stopped and stared at him, but the fellow kept right on, paying no attention to anybody. Pretty soon he was right by the sentry's feet and I thought any minute the sentry would give him the belt, but he just stared a while and let him pass. That lad measured the whole distance to the Russian barracks, went inside, stayed a while and calmly stroked back with the board under his arm. When he reached our barracks again he told us he had found a vine mine. What he had found was something not so unusual—a home-headed German.

There was a lot of bamboo near the Russian barracks and the Russians made baskets out of it and turned them in to the Germans. For this they got all the good jobs in the kitchen and had a fine chance to get more to eat. But they were treated like dogs—that is, all except the few Czechs that were in the bunch. The Huns knew that a Czech never forgets and will get revenge for the slightest mistreatment, even if it means his death. I have seen sentries turn aside from the best they were walking and get out of the way when they saw a Czech coming. They were very few Czechs there, however. I do not think they let themselves get captured very often.

We had roll call every morning of course, and were always summoned in front of our barracks, the middle of the line being right at the barracks door. Sometimes when the roll got too much for them, the man nearest the door would duck into the barracks. As they left the ranks the other men would close up and this kept the Huns eyes with the center still opposite the barracks door. Finally almost all of the men would be in the barracks and by the time the roll was over not one remained outside. This seemed to please the German officers a great deal, but they did not punish us for it until we had been doing it for some time.

For several days I had noticed that someone else answered for two men who had disappeared; at least I had not seen them for some time. I did not think much about it, or ask any questions, and I did not hear anyone else talk about it, but I was pretty sure the two men, a Russian and a Britisher, had escaped. But they were marked present at roll call and all accounted for. Everything went along very well until one day when the name "Fontaine" got by without being answered. Fontaine was a French fireman from the Cambrian Range and that was the first time he had not been present. We saw what was coming and we began to get pretty sore at Fontaine for not telling us, so we could answer for him and keep the escape covered.

The minute they found our count one short they blew the whistle and a squad of sentries came up as an extra guard. They counted us again, but by speaking back of the line and closing up again we made the count all right, except for one man—Fontaine. We would have tried to cover up for him, except that they had already discovered his absence. Now we thought they will nab Fontaine but will not discover the escape of the others.

But evidently they suspected something, for soon they brought over a petty officer from H. M. S. Nomad, who had not been with us before, and forced him to call the roll from the measuring papers, while they watched the men as they answered. Then they discovered that two more besides Fontaine were missing and began to search for them.

The other two spoke German and had been missing for at least three days and, I think, had escaped by this time. They were not returned while I was at Brandenburg.

This was about 7 a. m. They drilled us down to the little lake, where the cold was much greater, and kept us there until 5 p. m., without food or drink. At about eight that morning they found Fontaine in a French barracks and kicked him all the way to the lake where we were.

All day long we stood there, falling one by one and getting kicked or beaten each time until we dragged ourselves up again. Two or three died—I do not know the exact number. But we had enough strength, when ordered back to the barracks, to kick Fontaine ahead of us all the way. We did not get anything to eat until seven the next morning—twenty-four hours without food and water, ten of which were spent in the snow without any protection from the cold and wind. No wonder we kicked Fontaine for bringing this punishment on us and endangering the two who had escaped—he had simply strolled over to the French barracks and forgot to return.

Now, the food received was just about enough to keep us alive. I suppose, with true kultur, the Huns had figured out just how much it would take to keep a man on this side of the starvation line and gave us that much and no more. So we were always famished—always hungrier than you probably ever have been. But sometimes when we were extremely hungry and could not hold out any longer we would trade rations.

One man would trade his whole ration for the next day for a half ration today. That is, if you were so hungry that you thought you could not last out the day on your regular share, you would tell someone else that if he gave you half his share today you would give him all of yours tomorrow. If he was a gambler he would take you up. That is, he would gamble on his being alive tomorrow, not on your keeping your word. He knew you would come across with your ration the next day, and like as not, if you tried to keep it from him, he would kill you, and nobody would blame him.

Force of Compressed Air.

The effects of air resistance are well known in the "twelve and one-half mile" Stinson tunnel, where an exceptionally high amount of energy is required for running the electric train. The tunnel, which is fifteen feet wide and eighteen feet high, with a sectional area of two hundred and fifty square feet, has a ventilating current of 2,500 cubic feet of air per second, maintained by two large blast fans at the Big end and two smaller fans at Little. Trains going with this current encounter less resistance than in open air up to fifteen and a half miles an hour, but at higher speeds or in the opposite direction the resistance is much greater than outside. Causing by gravity down the seven per cent. downward gradient, a train, even going with the current, cannot exceed thirty-five miles per hour on account of the braking by the air.

The name of plaintiff's attorney is W. E. Kober, whose Post Office address is Los Cruces, New Mexico.

And said defendants and each of them are further notified that unless they enter their appearance in said cause on or before the 14th day of May, A. D. 1919, judgment of default will be rendered in said cause against them or such of them as fail to appear.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Third Judicial District Court of the State of New Mexico this 26th day of March, A. D. 1919.

(Seal) E. C. Clements, Clerk of said Court.
By G. M. Osborn, Deputy.

War Work Campaign

Below we give a list of the counties, showing the percentage of the pledges as they have paid. In some instances, the county has collected more than 100 per cent. This is occasioned by the fact that during the campaign the "A's" were very bad and the campaign was late. The day was set up and we made our final report to the National Committee before all counties had made their final report. In some instances, counties secured pledges four weeks after the closing of the campaign. The citizens of such counties are entitled to a great deal of praise for the work they did. Not only did they do a great work in obtaining pledges, but they hurried up to their reports by collecting all of the pledges.

In the following list it will be found that the highest percentage is 138 with the lowest of 58. It will be also noted that Lincoln County is 3rd on the list with a great many outstanding pledges and to emphasize the notice given a short while ago in these columns, these pledges must be paid at once at the Lincoln State Bank.

Some counties have collected 100 per cent of their pledges, with the record to our credit we stand second if not an even running mate to the highest. Let all pledges be paid promptly so as to enable the chairman Mr. Pitts to turn in a clean report; the standing of which was reported March 15th follows:

- Rio Arriba 148; Union 130; Lincoln 128; Terrance 107; Grant 107; San Miguel 100; Santa Fe 100; San Juan 100; Sierra 100; Taos 100; Mora 100; Eddy 100; Don Ana 100; Colfax 100; Chavez 100; Socorro 99; Valencia 91; McKinley 91; Guadalupe 88; Otero 88; Bernalillo 81; Roosevelt 80; Lea 68; Luna 67; De Baca 66; Sandoval 62; Quay 59; Curry 58.

The above named defendants and each of them are hereby notified that a complaint has been filed by the above named plaintiff against them in the Third Judicial District Court of the State of New Mexico, within and for the County of Lincoln, that being the court in which said cause is pending; that the general object of said action and the relief prayed for by the plaintiff is that plaintiff's estate and title in and to the lands and premises hereinafter described may, by decree and judgment of said Court, be established against the adverse claims of said defendants and each of them; and that said defendants and each of them may be forever debarred, stopped and enjoined from having or claiming any right or title to the lands and premises hereinafter described, or any part thereof adverse to the plaintiff; and that plaintiff's title to said land and premises, and every part thereof, may be forever quieted and set at rest, and that plaintiff may have general relief; that said land is situate in the County of Lincoln and is described as follows, to-wit:

The East half of the Northeast Quarter (E 1/2 NE 1/4) of Section Five (5), The Southwest Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (SW 1/4 NW 1/4) and the Northwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (NW 1/4 SW 1/4) of Section Four (4) in Township No. (1) South of Range No. Eleven (11) East of the New Mexico Principal Meridian.

The plaintiff alleges that he is the owner in fee simple of the above described lands and premises; that plaintiff is credibly informed and believes that said above named defendants

In the spring when you're "all in"—fagged out—blood thin, if you will turn to Nature's remedy, a tonic made from wild roots and barks, which has stood fifty years as the best spring tonic—you will find strength regained.

"Keweenaw, Kans."—"About the only medicine I have ever given my little boy is Golden Medical Discovery. He never was very strong and would become run-down very quickly, would suffer loss of appetite. I would give him the Golden Medical Discovery and it always built him up in good health. I have also given this medicine as a spring tonic; for such Golden Medical Discovery has no equal."

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

Why use ordinary cough remedies when Boschee's Syrup has been used so successfully for fifty-one years in all parts of the United States for coughs, bronchitis, colds settled in the throat, especially lung troubles? It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning, gives nature a chance to soothe the inflamed parts, throw off the disease, helping the patient to regain his health.

But for adversity some men would never know how little they can tolerate.

Free speech is no excuse for talking too much.

COULD NOT SLEEP

Mr. Schlessner in Misery From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Gave Complete Relief.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schlessner, 2124 Hubbard Ave., Weston, Mo. "Last morning when aching a heavy I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. If I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the excruciating pain. I tried every remedy that I could think of, but nothing did me any good. I was nearly blind, and I was nearly deaf. My back ached as though it were alive. The pain brought sleep and a feeling of relief to my head; the tortures of it ceased to be described. If I got into my bed I couldn't walk but sit down and all in a better and everything would turn black. My head ached as it seemed as though my eyes were being dragged out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon all of the trouble."

Subscribed and sworn to before me.

WESTERN

The twelve L. W. W.'s in the Shawnee county jail at Topeka, on trial last week in Wichita, and which was postponed until September, are on a hunger strike.

A string of American motion picture theaters under American management will be established in Europe and the British Isles by the "big four" combination of film stars forming the United Artists Corporation of Los Angeles, starring Miss Mary Pickford.

The trial of Frederic T. Woodman, mayor of Los Angeles, indicted on a charge of making, agreeing to receive and receiving a bribe, is set for April 17. The early date was fixed at the request of the mayor's attorney, who said he wanted the case settled before the May municipal primaries.

William Bathman, an Ida county farmer, in an affidavit introduced at the Iowa House judiciary committee's investigation of the pardon of his son, Ernest, after conviction of criminal assault, declared he gave George Clark, his attorney, $5,000 for the expressed purpose of delivering it to Governor W. L. Harding, for the pardon.

The Aviation Club of Chicago may make the first transatlantic air flight. Capt. B. B. Lipener, president of the club, announced that an airplane capable of making the flight has been offered the club by a Dayton, Ohio, manufacturer, and that its present plans worked out a trial at a transatlantic flight will be made shortly.

A bullet intended for a target or for one of the small animals that make their homes in the Presidio hillsides at San Francisco took the life of 12-year-old Nellie Swift as she sat in her bedroom, in the opinion of the child's father, Maj. Eugene L. Swift, medical corps, and former chief surgeon of the Vancouver Barracks, Wash., base hospital.

Two men who burned their way into the vault of the First National Bank of Artesia, twelve miles southeast of Los Angeles, escaped with $3,000 in War Savings Stamps and $25,000 in Liberty Bonds. They used an acetylene torch and opened twenty-five safe deposit boxes. Fifty thousand dollars in cash in an inner safe was not taken.

WASHINGTON

Fraud or misrepresentation by private income tax advisers in many cities has been reported by revenue officers, and investigations are to be made by United States attorneys. Prosecutions are probable in a number of cases.

Between 500 and 600 Germans, no longer considered dangerous, will be released on parole from internment camps at Fort Oglethorpe and Fort Douglas within the next two weeks, it was announced at the Department of Justice.

All restrictions on sale or purchase of Italian lire exchange by "dealers" as described in the President's executive order of Jan. 28, 1915, covering foreign exchange restrictions, have been ordered removed by the Federal Reserve Board until further notice.

Cheaper food in the near future has been predicted by Chairman Peck of the Department of Commerce Industrial Board, as a result of a conference with Food Administration officials in New York.

An additional credit of $75,000,000 has been given Italy by the Treasury Department, bringing the Italian loans up to $1,498,000,000 and the total of credits to allied nations to $9,922,410,000.

Readjustment of shipbuilding costs to peace-time production is expected by experts of the Shipping Board to establish a basic price in the neighborhood of $185 a ton for future contracts let to American yards.

Differences between the management of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company and Postmaster General Burleson, since the government assumed control of the telegraph and telephone systems, culminated in an order by the postmaster general summarily removing the chief officers, directors and owners of the Postal Company from all duties in connection with government operation of their system.

Alexandre Millerand, former minister of war, is reported to have been appointed governor of Alsace-Lorraine.

Premier Paderewski of Poland has sent to Herbert Hoover, director general of allied relief, a message of thanks for the food sent Poland.

Communication by wireless telephone has been established between Newcastle, New Brunswick, and Lyons, France, and also Belmont, N. J., by the Marconi Company.

The Chamber of Deputies of the duchy of Luxembourg has voted unanimously to maintain the independence and autonomy of that country, according to advices received in Paris.

The Dutch guard about the Kaiser's residence was reinforced as the result of the receipt of letters threatening his life. Wilhelm was also said to have received a warning telegram from a friend.

Karl Radak, the leading Russian Bolshevik agent in Germany, who was arrested on Feb. 18 in connection with the Spartacist uprising, has been released by the German government, according to a Berlin dispatch.

During February more than 118,000 persons, or about 11 per cent of the entire population, died in Petrograd, according to Russian police statistics. American relief workers who left Moscow Feb. 12 say that deaths in that city early in February averaged 4,000 daily.

After successful trials of new British dirigibles of the rigid type of construction, the government has ordered the building of two enormous airships. Each will be 300 feet in length and will have a capacity of 3,000,000 cubic feet. They will be driven by six engines which will generate a total of 1,800-horse power and, it is said, will have a lifting power of eighty tons compared with twenty-nine tons, the largest load carried by any known to be in existence.

SPORT

Ralph Brady of Syracuse, N. Y., and "K. O." Mars of Cincinnati fought a twelve-round draw at Boston.

H. Ralston and F. Smith of Detroit bowled into fifth place in the standings in the two-men events of the American Bowling Congress tournament at Toledo. Their score was 1,344.

Mike Gibbons, St. Paul middleweight, was given the newspaper decision over Leo Houck of Lancaster, Pa., in an eight-round bout at St. Louis. Local sport writers who viewed the exhibition from the ring-side said Gibbons out fought his opponent in every round.

Edward J. Hanlon of St. Louis, owner of the St. Joseph Western League baseball club, has made arrangements for the transfer of the team. Hanlon made the final announcement that the club would be taken away from St. Joseph, but declined to say where it would go. The players have been ordered to report April 1 for practice. It is understood that the team will be transferred to Lincoln.

GENERAL

Two men held up the Iowa State Bank in the heart of the business district at Des Moines, and escaped with more than $20,000 in cash.

The distillers of the United States are waiting only for the signing of a peace treaty in Paris to start a bitter war against the dry law of Nov. 21, last.

The American Socialist Society was fined $3,000 in the Federal Court of New York by Judge Julius M. Mayer, on a conviction found Feb. 19 for violating the espionage act. The conviction was based chiefly upon the publication by the society of "The Great Madness," a radical pamphlet.

According to information from London to local aviation fields at Dayton, Ohio, the altitude record of 28,900 feet made by Maj. W. K. Schroeder, McCook field, Sept. 18, 1915, stands unchallenged. A record of Capt. Lang's English flight turns the honor of Maj. Schroeder, it was said by aviation officials.

A definite clue indicating that a pretty young woman may prove to be an important factor in the solution of the murder of Mrs. Julia Wilkins, whose husband, Dr. Walter K. Wilkins, is indicted, charged with murder in the first degree, has been found, according to detectives working on the case in Minneapolis, L. I.

Mrs. Margaret Reeves, wife of Melville Reeves, known as the "Myra-Myra" couple, was awarded $25,000 damages against Nicholas Frost, former chief of detectives, and Detective Sergeant Charles Swanson, on her charge of false arrest. Mrs. Reeves charged the officers with detaining her husband, breaking into her home apartment while she was in her bath and compelling her to dress in their presence. She sued for $75,000.

GOOD-BYE BACKACHE, KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

For centuries all over the world GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil has afforded relief in thousands upon thousands of cases of lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, galled legs, gravel and all other affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs. It acts quickly. It does the work. It cleanses your kidneys and purifies the blood. It makes a new man, a new woman, of you. It frequently wards off attacks of the dread and fatal diseases of the kidneys. It often completely cures the distressing diseases of the organs of the body allied with the bladder and kidneys. Bloody or cloudy urine, sediment or "brickdust" indicate an unhealthy condition.

Box of Imported GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil-Capsules. They are pleasant and easy to take. Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill. Take a small swallow of water if you want to. They dissolve in the stomach, and the kidneys soak up the oil like a sponge does water. They thoroughly cleanse and wash out the bladder and kidneys and throw off the inflammation which is the cause of the trouble. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, galled legs, gravel, "brickdust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs. Your druggist will cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied after a few days' use. Accept only the pure, original GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil Capsules. None other genuine.—Adv.

Seeks Playground Experts

Albuquerque, N. M., Mar. 31—A more intensive development of the National forest playgrounds is foreshadowed in the recent announcement of a civil service examination for the position of junior recreational engineer. During the war, the forest service practically abandoned its program of recreational development, but with the close of the war fresh plans are being laid to meet the expected rush of applications for summer home sites, community camps, boys' clubs,
 Y. M. C. A. camps and camps for similar outing organizations.

A vital factor in opening up these areas, according to forest officials, is the recent federal appropriation of $9,000,000 for the construction of roads and trails within or partly within the national forests. The national forests of the southwest contain innumerable camping sites that only need be made accessible in order to be enjoyed by thousands of residents of the hot valleys.

The duties of the position will consist of directing the layout of roads, trails, camp sites, ranger stations, resorts and other structures in order to secure the most pleasing scenic effects consistent with their primary utilitarian purposes.

Applicants must have graduated from a technical school of recognized standing with a degree carrying a designation as landscape gardener, landscape architect, or landscape engineer, and have had at least two years' field experience in landscape gardening, city planning camp or city management, or technical direction of camp sanitation.

OUR FLAG AND MY FLAG

The Victory Loan

The very word itself spells success; this means that it will be not only successful, but it will be oversubscribed. There are several reasons why it should and will be successful. First: We all know that nothing but the vast and costly preparations we made during the war caused Germany to lay down her arms which saved many lives of our boys, who, had it not been for these costly preparations would still be fighting and dying in the trenches.

Again: The Government by this intense financial strain has been forced to borrow money from the banks to carry on this work and must have the funds to repay them, and We "the People" must loan this money to the Government to enable it to fulfill its obligations. The Victory Loan movement will be launched April 21st and from now on each patriotic American possessing the means should ask himself the question: How much has it been worth to me to know that we have crushed the autocratic viper that threatened the safety of our freedom!

How much is it worth to know that our boys are either home or enroute and while many have made the last sacrifice for God and native land, a great army will be saved instead of sacrificed. Our sound financial backing is responsible for the successful outcome of the war and safety of the remaining boys. Be it known further, that our government in the coming movement asks the people the LOAN of this money (which is a paying investment for the purchaser) in order to avoid imposing a burdensome war tax on the people such as has been the curse of foreign countries for centuries, the common people being of course, the sufferers.

These are the things in which the greatest government on earth seeks to be of benefit to its people instead of a curse and our liberal support of the Victory Loan is the only way in which we can enable our nation to thus protect us and our interests in general—SUPPORT THE VICTORY LOAN!

Sensible Economy

There are many warped notions regarding the meaning of economy. Some think that economy means skimping and stinginess—deprivation—the buying of cheap goods.

When applied to the buying and using of foodstuffs there never was a more grievous error, a graver mistake. It is the worst kind of folly to deprive oneself or family of pure, wholesome foods for the sake of money—misericord. Such a method is certain to result in impaired health. Food and purity should be the first consideration—then economy.

This happy combination of purity and economy are splendidly defined in Calumet Baking Powder. Calumet is absolutely pure in the can and in the bakings—it contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the U. S. Food Authorities.

In addition to this, Calumet affords another opportunity for saving. It possesses twice the leavening strength of most powders—only half the usual amount is required.

Only by purchasing and using such products can the housewife employ economy of a truly beneficial nature.

DID SMILE ON OCCASIONS SPEECH APPEALED TO HIM

Indian Could Relax, but Only When He Felt He Had Earned the Right, as it Were.

More is a story told at a dinner party by a Red Cross official who has just returned from France.

The grandson of Sitting Bull, the famous Indian chief, was an interesting conversationalist in Base Hospital No. 44. He had enlisted in the early days of the war, had gone over the top and worked havoc among the Germans before he was wounded.

Nurses and doctors caring for him tried in vain to get more than a grunt out of him in response to questions, while the other men in the ward called him "Gummy Gus," because he never cracked a smile.

The Red Cross representative in the hospital becoming interested, tried his hand at "cheering up" the Indian. Gifts of cigarettes and chocolate were received, but without a change of expression.

"Don't you ever smile?" he demanded of the Indian one day, and for the first time Sitting Bull's grandson grinned.

"Sure," he replied. "When I kill a Boche!"

Just Like a Woman.

A young American soldier, who was married just before sailing, was so fired with patriotism that he was certain he would have an opportunity to do something heroic before the war came to an end. He mentioned this in a letter to his wife, and told her he hoped to bring her the Croix de Guerre from France. But the youthful patriot received this reply from his better half: "It's so sweet of you, dear, to offer to bring me the Croix de Guerre you mentioned, but if it's just the same to you, I'd rather have a hat from Paris!"

No, Hazel, not all gushing letters are written with a fountain pen.

Man may be made of dust—but he always wants a little bit more.

More or Less Good Reason Why Listener Considered It Great Oratorical Effort.

They are telling a good joke on Wm. Upshaw. He was up the other day, and was the interesting center of several groups of members who had heard of the "Prohibition Cyclone" of Georgia.

While talking in the lobby to one of these groups of forthcoming associates, Congressman Garrett of Houston, Tex., passed, after misstatements.

"Did you ever hear Garrett speak?" asked Upshaw of the members of his group.

"Yes," they all chimed in.

"The most beautiful address the most beautiful, soul-stirring address I ever heard in all my life of association with great orators, fell from the lips of that great Texas and statesman one night at Dallas," said Upshaw.

"On what subject was Garrett speaking?" queried one of the party, rather interested.

"He was introducing me," replied Upshaw solemnly.—Atlanta Constitution.

War Increases Mental Diseases.

Figures compiled by the New York state hospital commission show that 5,000 more patients have been admitted to the state hospitals during the forty-four months since war was declared than for the similar period of time prior to the beginning of hostilities. The admissions prior to the war being 29,316, as against 34,311 afterward. The state hospitals are actually housing 6,500 more patients than they were built to accommodate.

Billy's Stogan.

It was a week before Billy was five years old. One day he pinned a sign on his door, reading: "Birth day is coming. Give till it hurts."

Isn't it queer how many idle friends an industrious man has?

RED CHIEF

IS ADVISER

LENINE WARNS HUNGARIANS AGAINST IMITATION OF RUSSIAN TACTICS.

PERIL IS GROWING

ANARCHISTS FORM NEW ARMY AND MENACE EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Bastie, March 28.—The new Hungarian government has begun reorganization of a revolutionary army to be recruited from the organized proletariat and the soldiers and workmen now mobilized. The chief of the Red army, reports from Budapest say, is the adviser of the revolutionary government, but control of the conduct and organization of the army will be in the hands of the people's commissar for military affairs.

The soldiers will get 450 crowns monthly and will be equipped, armed and fed at the expense of the state. Two or more soldiers belonging to the same family will get an extra allowance of 50 crowns a month, and those who have dependents will get extra pay of 500 crowns every six months.

Copenhagen.—Premier Lenine of the Russian soviet government has sent a wireless dispatch to Bela Kun, the Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, asking for guarantees that the new Hungarian government is really communitarian and not merely socialist. Lenine warns Kun against imitating "our Russian tactics in detail."

Berlin.—Alleged secret orders of General von Luttwitz to his regimental commanders informing them that the Spartans are planning a new revelation, to introduce the soviet system, not only among the troops, but among the civil population. A rumor broadcast in Berlin that a renewal of the Spartan uprising is due about Whit Sunday (June 8) coincides with information in the alleged orders.

NOW IN COMMITTEE HANDS.

Gap Equality and Monroe Doctrine Not Included.

Paris.—Containing neither any reference to the Monroe doctrine nor to the Japanese proposal for recognition of the racial equality of nations, the draft of the covenant of the league of nations is in the hands of the special drafting committee. The two amendments around which has centered the greatest interest and much divergence of opinion, however, may be offered either in the council of ten or to the plebiscite conference, to which the covenant must go for final action.

Discontinue Casualty Lists.

Washington.—The War Department has discontinued the method of issuing casualty lists which has hitherto made them available for simultaneous publication in all newspapers throughout the country. This has been decided upon because practically all the casualties occurred in fighting have been announced and few remain except deaths from injury or disease since the signing of the armistice. The action was taken on the ground that the casualties are not "fighting" casualties, and that they are in the same class with deaths in the navy or in the army camps in this country, which are not formally announced.

Food Ships Reach Germany.

Berlin.—The arrival at German ports of the first American food ships was just in the nick of time to meet the crisis in the food situation. The potato ration in greater Berlin was reduced to three pounds and no fresh meat is available for issue to residents of cities. These residents are receiving canned meat from the remnants of the army's stores. Restaurant proprietors are able to get little food at any price simply because the supply no longer exists. Private persons with ample incomes also report the same trouble in obtaining food from less cultivated surreptitious sources.

Held Up Frisco Train.

Marion, Ark.—St. Louis and San Francisco train No. 80, en route from St. Louis to Memphis, was held up between Marion and Bridge Junction by three masked men, who escaped with about $5,000 in cash, it is reported. A fourth member of the gang is said to have proceeded to Grand Junction to flag another train to prevent a collision.

Cute is the Word.

Ever watch a young thing trying to be dignified while wearing a new spring skirt? Awfully cute the way she has to swing one little tootsie around and get it directly in front of the other one in order to advance eight inches.—Florida Times-Union.

Practical Estimate.

"Did you say Higgins is a good loser?" "Yes." "Why, even when his truck is worst his never loses more than two or three dollars." "That's what I call a good loser."

It is wrong to sorrow without ceasing.

Try to be satisfied with the best you can get.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

Any farmer who raises grapes would realize how much it is to be raised properly. They don't contain any more sugar, but they are far more food, not any better one than the grape. They are far more food, not any better one than the grape. They are far more food, not any better one than the grape. They are far more food, not any better one than the grape.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to take from our midst one of the foremost stockmen of the state, and one of our most respected and beloved members, Governor William C. McDonald, whose loss is keenly felt by the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' Association and each of its members, as well as every stockman in New Mexico, and the commonwealth and the livestock industry of New Mexico have suffered an irreparable loss, now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' Association in convention assembled at Albuquerque, New Mexico, March 25, 26 and 27, 1919, that we tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family of Governor McDonald, and that copies of this resolution be sent to members of his family and to the press throughout the state.

HELLO, BOYS!

Like every other American you are glad to see the young fellow who is just back from France. You are just as glad to see the disappointed youngster who got no farther than the training camp. Both represent our fighting force to you. That one failed to reach France doesn't lessen the warmth of your handclasp one whit. Nor the sincerity of your welcome. That was the fortune of war. It's the willingness to fight that counts.

And you are just as proud of what the army did over there. You like to think of Chateau Thierry, Verdun, Belleau wood, the Argonne forest and all other places where the Yanks clashed with the Hun as samples of American pluck.

Nor has it all lessened your conviction that America is the greatest land under the sun. Breeds the gamut fighters; the most loyal citizens; the truest lovers and real appreciators of liberty.

Live up to your boast. Lend like a man to the Victory Liberty Loan.

DON'T TIE HIS HANDS

If any foreigner was to step up to you and declare that Uncle Sam wasn't sincere, didn't live up to his obligations, failed to make good his promises, you would probably try to knock his block off.

Uncle Sam is sincere, is honorable, tries always to make good, backs up to the letter his ideals and endeavors to attain his ambitions.

And when he falls anywhere along the line it's the folks at home who do not toe the line of duty. Who tie his hands.

Right now Uncle Sam is asking you to help him meet the greatest obligation he has ever faced.

The task of finishing this war job rightly.

He asks it in his name, in the name of every khaki clad soldier in the line.

In the name of every one of those 70,000 boys who never came back!

And the size of your bond measures the depth of your gratitude for all they have saved to you.

BUY YOUR SHARE

The Victory Liberty Loan

will yield the funds that are needed to complete the war task of the nation.

The honor of the Government is at stake. The gratitude of the nation to its heroic defenders must be proved. We must show the whole world that we are loyal to the pledged word of the American nation.

The Victory Liberty Loan will be the best investment ever offered by any government. It will have less risk, pay better interest, and have more advantages than any security obtainable. Buy your share!

THE KAISER CRUSHED

And Uncle Sam in making it possible assumed a debt that is great beyond the average comprehension. A debt that runs into many thousands of millions of dollars. A debt that was unavoidable, yet the taking over of which put a quick end to the war.

Uncle Sam prepared beyond all precedent for this year's fighting. A tank for every seventy-five feet of the firing line. Gas shells at the rate of ten thousand for every one Germany had produced. Airplanes in droves. Guns, by thousands. Munitions of all kinds upon a scale heretofore unheard of.

He had obligated himself in advance of the collection of the money to pay for all this.

AND ONCE THE GERMANS KNEW WHAT HE HAD IN STORE THEY QUIT COLD. IT'S TO PAY THESE DEBTS THAT THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN IS TO BE OFFERED.

TO PAY THE PRICE OF THE UNSHED BLOOD OF 600,000 AMERICAN BOYS.

But Have They Been Paid For?

Patriotism must pay the price. And patriotism is not something that can be laid away on a shelf and brought out and unfurled for some special ceremony; it doesn't mean cheering while the band plays the "Star Spangled Banner", and slipping out the back door while the collection is being taken. To be a sure-enough-honest-to-goodness patriot you have to stay until the program is finished. Keep on war-saving.

Now Is The Time To Show Your Patriotism

The Government has undertaken a big job and means to see it through. The American soldier is backing the undertaking to his utmost. You keep on "war-saving."

Go to the Bank, Post Office, Store, or wherever you buy W. S. S. and buy some more today. Come on, Patriots. Finish the job.

The way to wealth is as short as the way to your bank or Postoffice or wherever War Savings Stamps are sold. The 1919 issue is blue in color and bears the likeness of Benjamin Franklin, who had wealth in his old age because he learned to save early in life. War Savings Stamps will show you how easy and sensible it is to get the Thrift Habit. Buy one every chance, and watch your savings grow. W. S. S. pay 4% interest, compounded quarterly.

The same old Thrift Stamps and Thrift Cards used last year, remain in use during 1919 and Allied Thrift Cards, that is, Thrift Cards on which sixteen Thrift Stamps have been affixed, may be exchanged for 1919 War Savings Stamps upon the payment of the few additional cents which represent the difference between the price of a War Savings Stamp and $4, the value of the sixteen Thrift Stamps. This difference is 12 cents in January, 23 cents in February, 14 cents in March, and so on.

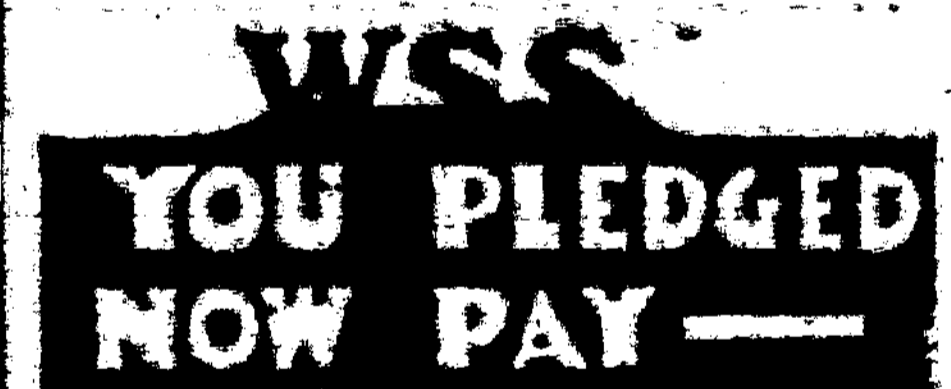

Purchasers of 1919 War Savings Stamps should bear in mind that 1918 War Savings Stamps are to be affixed only to 1919 War Savings Certificates. Although one may have a 1918 War Savings Certificate (a War Savings Certificate is the parchment on which War Savings Stamps are affixed) which has some blank or unaffixed space on it, such 1918 Certificate should not have 1919 War Savings Stamps pasted on it; nor should 1918 War Savings Stamps be placed on the new 1919 War Savings Certificate. Keep the two years separate.

Frank M. Smith, Federal District Director of War Loans and Savings, has issued earnest requests to the public to note carefully the few simple directions outlined. He also pointed out recently that should a person be in doubt about any of the details of War Savings methods, a word to the local secretary of the War Savings Society or any postmaster will insure the matter being made clear.

All War Savings pledges made in 1918 are personal binding obligations made to the Treasury Department, and the Government expects the completion of all 1918 pledges by the purchase of 1919 War Savings Stamps.

The American people have learned to make their savings count for them. The War has taught them the lesson of Thrift; the real joy of saving is theirs forever if they keep in mind the knowledge of economy gained through the investment in United States Government securities.

Buy War Savings Stamps and the joy of saving is yours.

The dry goods store of W. M. Jaffris was robbed at Vaughn by an unknown group of looters for whom the authorities have been prosecuting an unsuccessful search. Shoes and other stock valued at about $300 were taken.

Harry Stoshill, who lost a big Hudson six car by theft, has his gas-wagon back again. It had been left in the custody of a garage at Clovis and was not missed until the middle of the past week. It was located at Chillicothe, Texas.

Education week in New Mexico was given a boost in the House of Representatives when that body passed the educational budget bill by a vote of 21 to 8. The bill requires a levy of 6 mills to be made in each county for school purposes.

Clayton will be in the field again this season with a ball team better than ever. The business men are backing this club and Johnny Corich, the twirler who has performed for Trinidad and many other cities of Colorado, will manage the team.

Dr. H. E. Farley, superintendent of the anti-saloon league, was host at a dinner at Santa Fe at the De Vargas hotel, attended by some fifty young Republicans, who organized a State Young Men's Republican Club, as a conclusion to the entertainment.

Six hours after the Roswell Oil Development Company announced that a total of $25,000 worth of stock would be sold at par value of $1 a share, half of the stock was sold. The company was formed at the suggestion of Dorsey Hagar, noted geologist, and is incorporated at $500,000. Large leases in Chaves county have been secured by the company.

The Deming oil belt, or as it is now becoming widely heralded, the "Deming Oil Field," possesses certain characteristics that give it economic advantages rarely encountered. Summed up tersely they are: Shallow depth, due to advanced erosion; oil-bearing shales and sands at several horizons above the cap rock and the cap rock itself within the reach of the man of limited means.

The development of the National forest road systems in New Mexico and Arizona, as well as throughout the national forests of the country, is given great impetus by the terms of the post-office appropriations act. Besides increasing by $200,000,000 the total fund available under the federal aid roads act, the new law makes available for expenditure by the secretary of agriculture $3,000,000 for roads and trails within or partly within the forests.

Hostin Bidegabaga, a Navajo Indian, is in jail at Farmington as the result of a brutal murder near Shiprock, when he crushed in the skull of his wife with a rock and then attempted to kill himself with an axe. He entered a plea of guilty and was bound over to the federal grand jury. The wife was buried at Shiprock.

Alvin Alford and Guy Good have been arrested on a charge of stealing a barrel of whisky stored in a local coal yard at Clayton by an unknown owner; Henry Fowler is accused of having stolen a barrel of the same wet stuff from John Corich; Alford and Glen Blake are accused of selling liquor, and all four are held in confinement to await the action of the grand jury.

Superintendent R. V. Moorehead of the Alamo Huaco, Janos and Ojitos ranches, reached Chacita to obtain the $5,000 ransom demanded for the release of ranch employees and their families captured by Martin Lopez and his band of rebels. The captives, including "Buck" Spencer, an American born negro, and ten Mexicans, are employees of the Janos and Ojitos ranches in Mexico.

WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off— Doesn't hurt a bit

A few coats buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple! Why wait? No humbug!

The budding mustache of youth frequently gets twisted.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite desirable, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Never forget the high cost of worrying.

Cuticura for Pimply Faces. To remove pimples and blackheads smear them with Cuticura Ointment. Wash off in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Once clear keep your skin clear by using them for daily toilet purposes. Don't fail to include Cuticura Talcum.—Adv.

DON'T DRUG KIDNEYS RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant relief! Rub pain, soreness and stiffness from your back with "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Kidneys cause backache? Not! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment." Rub it right on the ache or tender spot, and instantly the pain, soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Liniment" from your druggist and finish up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache, sciatica or lumbago pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

It's the only application to rub on a weak, lame or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain.—Adv.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE DOUBLE RAINBOW.

"Hello, Sun." "Why hello, old pal," said the sun. "Isn't it a nice, warm day?" asked the first speaker, and the first speaker, I might as well tell you, was old KING of the Clouds.

"It is good of you to call it a nice, warm day, for I have been trying to make it warm," said the sun, "and it is a pleasure to hear that I have succeeded."

"And it is very good of you to call me old pal," said the King of the Clouds, "for we don't see much of each other and I always drive you away."

"Oh well," said the sun, "I wouldn't get angry at such a thing, I hope. It's the nature of the rain to drive away the sun and it's the nature of the sun to drive away the rain."

"We both do just the same thing to each other, and yet we're friends and not enemies. We know we must both do our work and we know we must do it at different times."

"You have to give drinks to creatures and flowers and trees. Yes," continued Mr. Sun, "you are very useful. Without you things wouldn't grow."

"And the same is true of you," said the King of the Clouds. "You make things grow, you are the fine, strong sun. You make people well. I admire you so much, Mr. Sun."

"And it is a great pleasure when we do have a little chat like this, the sun and the rain together," ended the King of the Clouds.

"Yes, we can't do it all the time, old pal, but once in awhile we do have some fun, and a nice friendly talk."

"Do I hear you two having a talk?" asked a beautiful voice.

"Ah, ah," said Mr. Sun, beaming and smiling.

"Oh, oh, joy, joy," said the King of the Clouds, sparkling and shining through Mr. Sun's rays.

And there appeared what seemed at first to be a rainbow.

"I thought you two chaps would like to have a talk and a laugh and a joke together. Was I right?"

"Oh, Rainbow, you are always right," said the King of the Clouds, and the Army of Raindrops pattering down to the earth chuckled as they fell and said:

"Oh, beautiful rainbow, you make us all look our best. You don't just care to be beautiful yourself. You want to make the whole world beautiful."

"Of course I do," said the rainbow. "I love the world. It's so bright and cheerful and everyone seems to be always smiling."

"We can't help but smile when you come to see us," said Mr. Sun.

"Thank you," said the rainbow, and then they noticed that old rainbow met the other rainbow so that it made a double rainbow of all the most gorgeous colors you can think of.

"A double rainbow, a double rainbow," said the King of the Clouds.

"Never have I seen one so beautiful," said Mr. Sun.

"Colors, colors, wondrous colors," said the Army of Raindrops.

"I'm so happy that I make you all happy," said the rainbow, "and it is so wonderful to be loved. Somehow I think the reason I always seem beautiful to you is because I am loved and I always try to do my best and look my best and act my best."

"If I were hated I would scowl I am sure. But I am loved so I come with all my colors and all my glory to see the earth and the sun and the rain, to watch the people who come out and look at me and who shout with such joy:

"Oh, there is a rainbow!"

NOW RAISES 600 CHICKENS

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I saw the Compound advertised in our paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. D. M. Altman, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill.

Only women who have suffered the tortures of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Altman.

Women everywhere in Mrs. Altman's condition should profit by her recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

THAT "LAST STRAW" AGAIN

This Time It Meant Real Tragedy in the Lives of Two Young and Loving Martals.

"It's the last straw!" she exclaimed bitterly. She tapped on the floor with her right toe, always, with her, a sign of repressed passion.

"The last straw!" she repeated. He shuffled his feet in embarrassment.

"I'm going!" she cried. "I would not stay here another second, even for a moment."

And she swept out, and there was nothing left for him to do but follow. "I didn't know it was the last straw, or I wouldn't have taken it," he apologized miserably.

And she, who had never sipped a lemonade without a straw in her life, and never intended to, sniffed scornfully, without replying, and refrained from inviting him in when they reached her house.

His 785 Suits. Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard said in Boston the other day: "The Kaiser was always unbalanced. Look at the way he was continually rigging himself out in different uniforms and costumes. Why, the man actually had 784 suits."

Professor Hart smiled. "Exclusive," he added, "of his going-away suit."
