MASONS MEET; MUCH IMPORTANT WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Important Business Meeting Followed by Confering Degrees on Four Candidates Saturday.

Last Saturday was a busy day for Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M. With a large budget of business on hand to be dispensed with, and four candidates to be raised to the sublimity of Master Masonry, the craft gathered at 3 o'clock p. m. to begin the work.

After working through the afternoon, labor was dispensed with at six o'clock, the Masons dining in a body at the Carrizozo Eating House, where Mrs. Gurney, the genial proprietor made all necessary arrangements for their comfort, convenience and bountifully provided all that was needed to satisfy the inner man.

On returning to the hall, the work was again taken up which ended about the stroke of twelve, at which time tired Masons with the new additions to the world's multitude of the craft, sat down to refreshments. This article was not written for the purpose of advertising Masonry; it is for the benefit of the membership both here and abroad; for those of No. 41 who were unable to attend; for those abroad who are always anxious to hear of the good work being accomplished by the craft the world over. Therefore, watchers on the walls of Masonry use this means of communicating with each other and the same is in no wise intended as an advertisement to the outside world, for the good and silent work performed by this noble order that has survived the ravages of centuries wherein neither war, violence nor pestilence has ever shaken it, furnishes attraction for those who are the best fitted to enter its sanctuary.

Moore-Taylor

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock occurred the wedding of Mr. Wm. Moore and Miss Mildred Taylor. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the Methodist Church, with Rev. Lewelling officiating.

The bride is a daughter of County Commissioner Robert Taylor, and by reason of the fact that she was raised in this locality, has many friends both here and in surrounding towns. The groom is a contracting painter who has given a good measure of satisfaction in his particular line of work. The newly married couple will for the present reside in Carrizozo.

Rufus Braum came home on Thursday from the Roswell Military School, for vacation.

Children's Program

The following is the program rendered at the Baptist Church Sunday night, June 8, at 8 o'clock. It would afford us much pleasure to dwell at length on each number on the program, and even then cold type could not render justice to the little ones who performed the parts which made up the interesting entertainment. It could only be seen and heard in order to be appreciated:

Distinguished Guest

Mrs. Aleshire, President of the State Lodge of Rebeccas stopped over Tuesday evening on her way to Alamogordo. Mrs. Aleshire is on a tour of the state, taking note of the things of interest concerning the order. She was received here by Mrs. W. P. Loughrey, whose guest she was during her stay.

In consideration of this important visit, a meeting was held Tuesday evening in honor of the distinguished guest at which many of the Rebeccas attended. The short time allotted to her stay was well spent, as many helpful thoughts were imparted to the members by the welcome visitor, who left for Alamo on No. 1 Wednesday morning. The membership as a whole express the hope that Mrs. Aleshire may be able to make her next visit more extended.

E. M. Brickley, Elton D. Boone, Eb Kenneth Jones.

The movement for the Boy Scouts that is spreading over the country just now, has caused "The Big Brothers" of the Scouts to start the ball rolling here in Carrizozo. Two meetings have been held and committees appointed to further the movement of putting the organization on a firm footing. All that can be said at this writing is that the different committees appointed by Chairman Haley are hard at work and it goes without saying, that everything in the way of what is for the good of the Boy Scouts, will go "over the top."

Boy Scout's promise:
On my honor I will do my best.

1.—To do my duty to God and country, and to obey the Scouts law:

2.—To help other people at all times;

3.—To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

And this is the Scout law:

1.—A Scout is trustworthy.

2.—A Scout is loyal.

3.—A Scout is helpful.

4.—A Scout is friendly.

5.—A Scout is courteous.

6.—A Scout is kind.

7.—A Scout is obedient.

8.—A Scout is cheerful.

9.—A Scout is thrifty.

10.—A Scout is brave.

11.—A Scout is clean.

12.—A Scout is reverent.

At the O. Z. Finley Home

Last Saturday night the O. Z. Finley home was the scene of a gaiety which lasted until a late hour. The young folks, realizing the importance of the home-coming of Pete Johnson, gathered at the residence of the Finleys, where dancing and making merry in which Pete took part with a full sense of appreciation of the honor his friends had conferred upon him. After the dance several auto loads of the amusement lovers, not having had sufficient amusement, made numerous trips about town, ringing bells and making the mountain air ring with shouts and songs, winding up a well spent evening of entertainment.

Pete Johnson Arrives

Pete Johnson arrived home from the service last Saturday, looking fine and dandy. In this, he is no exception to the rule, as all of our returning boys have looked the same. Pete leaves the service of Uncle Sam with a fine record to his credit, in which he is not alone. The Lincoln County boys have shown themselves to be made of the right kind of material which had no origination from a "special pull," but came as a reward of merit for bravery and trustworthiness. That is the reason our returning boys can meet us with such smiles of confidence.

The following decision has been rendered by the Secretary of the Interior in the case of Finley vs. Mickelthwaite, land contest:

"The testimony in the case has been carefully considered. It is found that the Commissioner in his decision properly set forth the substance thereof and it is, therefore, unnecessary to repeat the same. The testimony fails to show said entry was made for the benefit of any other person than entryman. In fact under the circumstances disclosed, the Department is convinced that the charge made against this entry is without foundation. After due consideration of the entire record, the Department sustains the action appealed from and the same is hereby affirmed." (Signed) Alexander T. VOGEL-SANG, First Assistant Secretary.

The rumors that suggested that sugar-sweetened waters which they supported. There was no question about the complete success of Nettles' discovery, as the fragrance of the fresh cups of tea which she served added to the inviting repast. Another favorite at the tea hour—these little cakes which she served at breakfast and luncheon—is the N. B. C. Graham Cracker.

Every woman in the metropolis has in her pantry a generous supply of the National Biscuit Company's always useful and deliciously accepted products.

Nettle, a comely young woman, young man of the Navy still in uniform, found a company at tea at her uptown home the other afternoon including several young officers and a battleship in port.

She had five or six of these little cakes which she served with a generous supply of tea.

On a table in the parlor were some and Lotus biscuits. Some bread leaves lay at the bottom of the basket, and the petals emitted a delicate fragrance, adding charms to the deliciously flavored.

A good roads program to cost $40,000,000 is outlined in bonds for this sum to be submitted to the people of California in the next state election. Charles F. Wade, chairman of the city commission of Albuquerque, dropped dead at a local hotel. Wade was widely known in the lumber and cement industries throughout the country. The Co-operative Mining Company made a rich strike of native silver on its property fifteen miles north of Lordsburg while blasting out a shaft to straighten it. It is estimated that there are about 700 of these soldiers in the state, recently returned from overseas, who have been invited to hold their first post-war get-together at Las Vegas, and it is believed that nearly all of them will accept the invitation. The big parade will be on the Fourth of July and indications are that one of the largest crowds in the history of the reunions will be in attendance.

The state highway engineer, Leslie Gillette, has awarded a contract for grading and surfacing on federal aid project No. 12 from Roswell to Comanche Springs, east, a distance of seventeen miles. The contract was awarded to Olsen and Burnham, of Lawrence, Oklahoma, and means an expenditure of $100,000. The road is to have a gravel surface and is to be a fine highway, the kind greatly needed in this state.

N. V. Golegors, deputy sheriff of Las Vegas, placed Samuel Miller under arrest at Campana. Miller is a section foreman on the El Paso & Southwestern and is charged with involuntary manslaughter. The arrest was made in connection with the death of Joanna Flores who was killed in an accident on the railroad near Campana. Miller was foreman in charge of a motor car of locomotives which was struck by train No. 104 on the Southwestern road. Flores was removed to the hospital at Tucuman, where he died. Complaint has been made that Miller was negligent in his duties and failed to flag the train at the proper time.

FELT SOLDIER SPOKE TRUTH

King's Stuart Portrait. It is interesting to hear of the king buying an old portrait of James II, for it suggests that the romantic interest in the house of Stuart which Queen Victoria felt very strongly is hereditary. The made collections of Stuart souvenirs, hated Queen Elizabeth, shared Scot affection for Mary Stuart, and reproached Macaulay with having been hard on the memory of her ancestor James II. "Not your majesty's ancestor," said Macaulay, "your majesty's predecessor."—and was very proud of his reply.—London Mail.

Forest Service Plants
Ripen on Mountain Tops

Albuquerque, N. M., June 13—A contingent of tree planters is working under the direction of the Forest Service planting Douglas fir and Engelmann spruce upon the barren slopes of Santa Fe Baldy, in the San de Cristo range on the Santa Fe National Forest. A large number of trees were planted last year, and 40,000 more are now being planted.

These seedling trees were grown from the seed of native forest trees at the Gallinas forest nursery, where experiments have been conducted for several years by the Forest Service in the art of growing trees from seeds. The problem is a very difficult one, according to forest officials, owing to the many technical questions in the semi-domestication of wild tree species. These problems have now been solved, and the forest plantation and Santa Fe Baldy, as well as several other plantations in this region, have been successful, and conclusively prove that forest trees can be artificially grown in the southwest in spite of adverse climatic conditions.

After getting a three years' growth in the Gallinas nursery, forty thousand of the seedlings were transported on pack-horses, with great difficulty, nearly to the summit of old Baldy early this spring, where they were buried in the snow until weather conditions became favorable for planting. With the unusually wet, fall season, forest officers are very hopeful that a large percentage of the seedlings will survive and grow into a heavy stand of valuable timber in the course of the next two centuries.

The work of growing the seedlings and starting the plantation has been carried out by Forest Examiner Herman Krauch.

FAIR TREATMENT FOR THE WEST

From San Diego to Puget Sound, from Los Angeles to San Francisco and Astoria, across the domain for fair treatment for the shipping interests of the west.

If there is to be a great merchant marine to hold our own for American off-shore commerce with England and Japan, the operation of ships must be encouraged from Pacific ports. The great middle west from St. Paul to New Orleans is being aroused to the dangers of a shipping monopoly on the Atlantic coast and the necessity for a square deal for the west.

The Shipping Board is a national body and charged with the duty of treating every part of our country with fair and equal justice in distribution of shipping and handling commerce.

Millions of tons of ships are necessary to handle the freight going out to the world from Pacific and Gulf ports, where it can reach the markets of the world most economically.

Railrates must be made fairly equal to give the farmers an opportunity to export his products from the ports that can handle them the most economically.

This cannot be done by stripping the Pacific and Gulf ports of tonnage and congesting freights as they are now congested in immense quantities in a few Atlantic ports.

For this reason the whole west is vitally interested in a national policy encouraging to the development of our ocean commerce. Political control of the shipping industry will always handicap us as it has in matters of public land, oil and water development. The east has the votes and plays politics for the west's resources.

Flag Day

THE first American flag, formally adopted by congress on June 14, 1777, is said to have been made out of a soldier's white shirt, an old blue army overcoat and a red flannel petticoat. It was first hoisted by the Revolutionary army during Burgoyne's campaign and was first flung to the ocean breeze by Paul Jones.

We have not advanced so far from those humble but glorious beginnings as to have lost the savor. The combination that went into the making of the first flag answered all requirements. History has neglected the owner of the white shirt and the old overcoat. It has likewise courteously refrained from mentioning the original possessor of the petticoat. It is enough that all were Americans.

But the vicissitudes of history have not dimmed the luster of those first Stars and Stripes. Rather have they grown more glorious in the eyes of the people over whom they float.

The observances of 1919, while commemorating the glories of the past, must necessarily take account of the new epoch upon which we have entered. But there is no change in the significance of the national emblem. As before, it stands for justice, freedom and humanity. There will be no new teachings, but a fresh consecration of the old.

The Patriot

By ETHEL M. COLSON.

The little old lady
Trudged down the long street,
A frail little figure
From bonnet to foot.

Where the flag flew aloft
She saluted with pride,
With men of a soldier
And blush of a bride.

All Safe While the Flag Waves.
So long as that flag shall bear aloft its glittering stars, bearing them amidst the din of battle and waving them triumphantly above the storms of the ocean, so long shall the rights of American citizens be preserved safe and unimpaired.—Samuel Houston.

The Nation's Pride

On History's crimson pages, high upon the roll of Fame,
The story of Old Glory burns in deathless words of flame.

'Twas cradled in war's blinding smoke, amid the roar of guns,
Its lullabies were battle-cries—the shouts of freedom's sons;
It is the old Red, White and Blue, proud emblem of the free,
It is the flag that floats about our land of liberty;
Then greet it when you meet it, boys, the flag that waves on high,
And hats off all along the line when Freedom's flag goes by!

Uncover when the flag goes by, boys,
'Tis freedom's starry banner that you greet,
Flag famed in song and story,
Long may it wave, Old Glory,
The flag that has never known defeat!

All honor to the Star and Stripes, our glory and our pride,
All honor to the flag for which our fathers fought and died;
On many a blood-stained battle field, on many a gory sea,
Its stars have triumphed—evermore triumphant may they be;
And if again 'mid shot and shell its folds must be unfurled,
God grant that we may keep it still unstained before the world;
All hail the flag we love! May it victorious ever fly,
And hats off all along the line—then Freedom's flag goes by!

Uncover when the flag goes by, boys,
'Tis freedom's starry banner that you greet,
Flag famed in song and story,
Long may it wave, Old Glory,
The flag that has never known defeat!
—Charles L. Benjamin.

Only Loyalty and Union.

Old Glory paints the breeze today as no other, probably, of all the days that have passed since that one 142 years ago when the Continental congress resolved, "That the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." This year's Flag day will have no perfunctory observance.

This nation is now as sound and vigorous as ever. The sisterhood of states represented by the constellation with thirty-five added members is firmly bound in the spirit of the fathers still symbolized by the original thirteen stripes. What internal disorders there have been were symptoms fortunately manifest in time to check the effect of the disturbing forces whose existence they predicted. Over the land today sweeps revitalized loyalty and union.

Means Liberty.

Henry Ward Beecher once said in a public address: "Our flag carries American ideas, American history and American feelings. Beginning with the colonies and coming down to our time, in its sacred heraldry, in its glorious insignia, it has gathered and stood chiefly for this supreme idea: Divine right of liberty in man. Every color means liberty; every form of star and beam or stripe of light means liberty; not lawlessness, not license, but institutional liberty. It is not a painted rag. It is a whole national history."

Unfurl a New Flag.

It is almost as hard to fly a flag that is frayed and faded as it is to fly none at all! Much of the beauty of the stars and stripes lies in its bright, fresh colors.

Western Canada's "Horn of Plenty" Offers You Health & Wealth

Western Canada for years has helped to feed the world—the same responsibility of production still rests upon her. While high prices for Grain, Cattle and Horses are sure to remain, price of land is much below its value. Land capable of yielding 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre can be had on easy terms at from $15 to $30 per acre—good grazing land at much less. Many farms paid for from a single year's crop. Raising cattle, sheep and hogs brings equal success. The Government encourages farming and stock raising. Railway and Land Companies offer unusual inducements to Home Seekers. Farms may be stocked by loans at moderate interest. Western Canada offers low taxation, good markets and shipping free schools, churches and healthful climate. Brief History of the Flag

Glorious Record From January 12, 1776, to its Proud Position in the World in 1919.

The Stars and Stripes was raised on the heights near Boston on January 12, 1776, and the British troops believed it to be evidence of submission to the king. The Betsy Ross flag, the official flag, came later.

After the declaration of independence, July 4, 1776, the first salute to it was given by the Dutch island of St. Eustatious in the West Indies by Johannes de Graaf, commander of the port.

When Kentucky and Vermont came into the Union in 1792 two additional stars were placed on the field, but they were discarded after much debate in congress and the original thirteen were restored in 1813.

The first flag that floated over a foreign and captured fort was at Nassau, January 23, 1778. The first carried to London was on a vessel February 2, 1783. It floated in China in 1784.

It was carried around the world from 1787 to 1790. The first blood shed under it was in Ireland in 1790 during a mob riot over a bridge built by American engineers. The first salute to it given by an English vessel was in May, 1791.

One of Napoleon's generals remarked to the illustrious man that sentiment had no place in the thought of a country. Napoleon replied: "Sentiment concerns what most enriches life."

Letter From Mr. Hyde

Ranger, Tex.

June 9, 1919.

Mr. A. L. Burke, Carrizozo, N. M., Dear Sir:—

Before leaving there for Ranger I promised a great many friends and acquaintances to write them of Ranger and the Oil news in general, and I take this method of so doing. Ranger is a busy town of about 2500 busy people. Wages for skilled labor of any kind is in big demand at unheard of prices. This is the Distributing Point for all supplies such as are required in any oil producing country. Hundreds and hundreds of heavy teams going and coming, hauling out material. All one hears is oil and oil; to see large wells producing thousands of barrels of oil daily naturally making men wealthy while they sleep enthusiastically everyone. I have never had the experience in seeing anything compared with Ranger as to progress and prosperity. Some of the largest companies in the United States have millions invested here in Ranger and the field. While hundreds of other men that I have met since here were poor men but now are in the Million dollar class all through Oil Investments, I have carefully investigated the various companies and to the best of my judgment the best investment there is in this field is in the American Petroleum Company.

Their holdings consist of 161 acres of land in the Famous Duke Field; divided in nine tracts, scattered in such a manner as to place the majority of them in positively proven fields. This Company is capitalized at $300,000.00 par value; per share $10.00 each; every stockholder to share in any or all oils from the entire 161 acres. The officers of the Company are all men of responsibility and it is such a good Square Company in every way that I have sufficient confidence in the Company to say frankly, I have invested what I could in stock and am working for them selling stock and I recommend it to all as a good sound investment. The production in this field is so great it has startled the world and I can't see how wells can produce thousands of barrels of Oil all around the holdings of the American Petroleum, and fail to get a gusher on their land. I am enclosing a map showing you just where the wells are all around their property.

If any want to invest in stock don't send me money, but send check made payable to American Petroleum Co. and addressed to me here at Ranger, Tex., Box 402 and write on check what amount of shares the check is for which will be your receipt for money until my receipt reaches you. This stock is selling fast—Don't delay.

Yours very truly,

C. W. Hyde,

Box 402, Ranger, Texas.

78 KILLED IN TUNNEL BLAST

A CAR OF BLACK POWDER IS EXPLORER BY LIVE WIRE

SCORES ARE BURNED

MANY BROUGHT TO SURFACE WITH CLOTHES STILL BURNING

Western Newspaper Union News Service

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 6.—Seventy-eight men were killed and forty others were injured, some severely, when a car of black powder was exploded in the Baltimore No. 2 tunnel of the Delaware & Hudson Company mine at East End, this city.

The accident happened shortly before 7 o'clock, while the men were being taken to their places of employment. A train of empty cars was provided to convey them down by an electric motor.

Into these cars the workmen were crowded and with the train was a car of black powder. When 200 feet in the tunnel the electric trolley wire fell. Sparks from it ignited the powder and the explosion that followed blew the men in all directions.

More men died from the effects of flames and suffocation than from the explosion itself.

The force of the explosion was terrific. It was felt in all parts of the city and was heard for miles around.

When rescuers got into the tunnel, dead men were found everywhere. Some had been, slightly burned and sought to get to safety but were suffocated. Others were burned almost to a crisp. Here and there were others moaning and crying.

Within an hour and a half afterwards, most of the injured had been removed. The dead were taken to the surface and placed in tiers along the green. Calls went out for ambulances, doctors and nurses and because of the early hour it was difficult to get a big force at once. The hospitals began to crowd. Morgues were filled.

Identification of the dead is almost impossible. Many of the bodies taken to the morgues are so badly charred that the scores of relatives who wended their way among the rows of bodies were unable to identify fathers, husbands, brothers and sons.

Many of the injured died after being taken from the tunnel and the death list is being increased hourly. As the injured were being taken from the tunnel to ambulances they were placed near the pile of bodies.

Fire following the explosion lasted only a short time. But the men were caught in the full force of fire and explosion. Arms were blown from the bodies of men. Heads of men were blown off. Legs of others were found among the wreckage of human life and property. The fire was intense while it lasted. Sulphur fumes and the flames added to the misery and men dropped like flies along the tunnel.

There were terrible scenes in the various morgues. Hundreds of women, men and children gathered about the tunnel. Shrieking and crying, they lifted the blankets from the men. Women fainted; men lost their nerve and children ran away in fright.

War Hero to Wed. Knoxville, Tenn.—Sergeant Alvin C. York, credited with being the war's greatest hero, is going to marry the girl he left behind when he went to France, at his home in Pall Mall. The girl is 27-year-old Grace Williams. She said "yes" when York returned to Pall Mall after receiving ovations in New York, Washington and other eastern cities. The tall mountaineer said he had declined a big offer from a vaudeville firm to appear in a song and dance act with thirty-five girls.

To Make Investigations. Washington.—Five separate investigations of War Department expenditures are to be made by House Committees, each composed of two Republicans and one Democrat, according to plans disclosed before the House Rules Committee today by Republican leaders. The inquiries would center about aviation, ordnance, camps and cantonments, quartermaster's corps and expenditures in foreign countries.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Donner

PINKY'S POLITENESS.

Pinky was feeling quite warm in the sunshine, as it was really the first warm day of the season. And the first warm day of the season always seems very, very warm as we all know. Pinky and Clover were two nice rabbits.

Now Clover had a special place to lie in when the sun was hot and that special place was at the side of her little home where there was some shade.

She used to lie there stretched out. Her eyes would gradually close and many a nap would she take there.

Pinky had gotten up to look at something which he thought he could see if he jumped to the top of his home, and then Clover had followed him, for she wanted to see whatever he could see.

Clover decided that the top of the house would be a nice place for her to rest, though she first tried the top of another smaller house which they had, too, and which their little master had built for them.

So Clover stayed on top, but it was too warm here for Pinky. He jumped down and went in the corner where Clover always stayed.

He had a fine little nap there and soon after he had jumped down he was dreaming of castles made of carrots and turnips and towers made of lettuce and of great courtyards with clover growing everywhere.

The dreams he had were really extremely nice, extremely. But after awhile Clover was too warm on top of the house and she decided to come down. So she jumped down and was about to lie down next to Pinky when Pinky jumped up from his place, quite wide awake.

"Oh," said Clover, "I am sorry to have disturbed your sleep."

"It's all right," said Pinky. And to show that he meant it was all right he licked Clover's white fur and put one of his little white paws, which was brown underneath, on Clover's paws as though to say:

"We're always such friends, such real mates, you and I."

"I don't want to take your place," said Clover. "I will lie down near you, where you usually lie. You were in my place first. Pray keep it."

"No, indeed," said Pinky, as he wigged his nose. "I must not keep your place. In fact, I would not enjoy keeping it. It is your place and you must have it. I would feel very selfish indeed if I should keep it."

"But you were there when I chose to be on top of the house," said Clover. "It makes no difference," said Pinky. "It's your place and you must have it."

And that dear, unselfish little rabbit made Clover take her usual place by the house while he took his old place beside her.

"Pinky," said Clover, "I wonder why it is I am so curious? I simply must find out what every sound is which I hear. I want to see what is going on. I like to know about everything. If I had been a person I would have written pieces for the newspapers, for I would so much have liked to have gone after the news."

"CALLUS CORNS" LIFT RIGHT OFF

Apply a few drops of "Freezone"—No pain!

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, they lift them off.

When Freezone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.

No Cause. "I see a man get a rum deal in the store over yonder and he never complained."

"Why not?" "It was Jamaica spirits."
