NEW YEAR DAWNS ON MIRTH AND JOY IN C'ZOZO HOMES

Stroke of Twelve Finds Gay Throngs of Enthusiastic Citizens Around Festive Boards and Tripping the Light Fantastic Toe as Atmosphere of Peace Sur- rounds Merrymakers.

New Year's Eve was the scene of much amusement in and around Carrizozo; from eight o'clock until the stroke of twelve, the merriment continued, and the effect of the declaration of peace being plainly evident in the unconfined pleasure.

Entertainment Elaborate

The crowning event of New Year's Eve was staged at the Wetmore Apartments, in which the following named ladies were hostesses: Mesdames Wetmore, French, McDonald, Spence, Dingwall, Ziegler, Lemon, Reilly, Fahrbank, Groom, Allen, Bell.

During the early hours of the evening tables were arranged for Auction Bridge, and lovers of this interesting game amused themselves, the winners being the following named ladies and gentlemen: First prize, Miss Ivy Lindsay, and Mr. R. E. Hoffman; Booby prize, Mrs. Geo. Dingwall and Mr. S. M. Groom.

The number of guests was so great as to make individual mention the next thing to an impossibility. Refreshments in abundance were served, and piano music in the large hall, furnished enjoyment for those who choiced this form of entertainment. Every means it seemed, was employed to give the guests just the kind of an entertainment they could remember for years, as a fitting departure from the old year, and a glad entrance to the NEW.

The scene at the stroke of twelve beggars description; guests arrayed in gorgeous costumes made merry, chief among which were the big hearted, good natured Finley brothers, whose modest winning ways and captivating smiles furnished amusement sufficient for a regiment of soldiers. The guests departed about 1 o'clock casting a unanimous vote in favor of the circle of hostesses as royal entertainers.

At Sherwood Corn's

A gay band of happy young folks assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Corn, and spent the evening in games of various kinds. Refreshments were served and the evening given over to joy unrestrained, until the finger of time pointed to the dividing line, and the New Year took the place of the old. The young folks departed thanking the hosts for the hospitable

Showers on Bride "To Be"

When Mr. Elton Boone and Miss Bessie White were invited over to spend a quiet evening with the Lewelling family Thursday, they little thought of what a surprise was in store for them, for on their arrival, they were the recipients of a "shower" from their many friends from which it took some little time to recover.

The presents were various and rendered with much wisdom and thoughtfulness. After the astonished couple recovered from the effects of their surprise, a program which had been carefully planned by those having the affair in hands was rendered, and was followed by refreshments and general social enjoyment. As the dawn in the east is a herald of the coming day, so is this event the forerunner of more important happenings in the near future, which will appear next week.

Last Christmas Morn

Early on Christmas morning, Mrs. Julia Gurney of the Carrizozo Eating House entertained a goodly number of children as is the usual custom of this "Lady Bountiful" of Carrizozo. Mrs. Gurney had provided over 50 pounds of choice candy, and other dainties in amounts to correspond, and as the little fellows filed through the dining room, she provided each one with a bag of Christmas cheer that sent them on their way rejoicing.

This, as we have said, is customary with Mrs. Gurney, and if others of means would adopt similar customs, many a little heart would be made all the more happy by the extended hand.

manner in which they were entertained.

Epworth League Watch Meeting

The Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Spence was the scene of music, singing, refreshments, etc. There was a good sized throng in attendance. Games of different kinds were indulged in until the old year gave up the ghost, and a new one was born. A good representation of teachers and pupils from High School was present, the pupils being principally young ladies, and the teachers were identified as leaders in the various games that furnished the evening's entertainment.

Dance at Lutz Hall

A New Year's dance was given at the Lutz Hall and the attendance was good up to twelve o'clock, when the crowd was increased in size by those who wished to attend after the entertainments at other places were over.

Mrs. Shulda furnished excellent piano music for the occasion, and "On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined!" was the order of the evening.

The Ed Finleys Entertain.

Last Saturday evening, the Edwin Finleys entertained at the I-X ranch, in royal fashion, with a six o'clock dinner after which the guests spent the remainder of the evening in dancing and other means of social enjoyment. A large Grafonola furnished the music for the dancers and to say that everybody enjoyed themselves, would be putting it lightly.

Beginning with Host and Hostess, those present were: the Misses Carrie Roberts, Lorena Haley, Jack Reilly, Sallie Johnson, Ivy Lindsay, Francis Parker; Mesdames Garrard, Hamilton; Messrs. Lewis Adams, Joe Spence, H. B. Hamilton, John Gallacher, Ernest Dingwall, Wayne and Mayo Hamilton.

Highway Boosters' Meeting

The first annual convention of the Funston-Fort Bliss Military Highway Association, which is promoting a highway from Camp Funston, Kansas, to Fort Bliss at El Paso, Texas, will be held at Hutchinson, Kansas, on January 20th. This should be one of the most effective highway meetings that have been held in the southwest and it is believed that a large attendance of interested parties will be noted.

Highway construction activity has fallen far behind during the period of the war, and not altogether because of the war conditions. The federal road aid funds promised to the various states have not been forthcoming as had been expected, and the great cost of preparation for a federal aid highway, chiefly in the detailed surveys required, has tended to delay the availability of these funds in many states.

We now have it upon the high authority of the Secretary of Agriculture, to whose department the expenditure of the federal aid funds is entrusted, that a national and very active program of highway building is imperative during the coming year, both because the country needs the roads and because we need that kind of activity to supply employment. He indicated, in a recent conference with editors of agricultural journals, in Washington, that approximately ($75,000,000 will be available for the coming year in unexpended balances in the federal road aid fund. This should make it possible for practically every western state to proceed actively with highway construction, provided some of the red tape and unnecessary detail of preparation can be removed from the use of federal funds so that they may become available for practical purposes.

These matters and many others of equal importance will be taken up at the meeting at Hutchinson and a systematic and active method of securing federal aid for the Funston-Fort Bliss Highway will be undertaken. Be certain to at-

Letter of Thanks

I wish to publicly express my thanks to the people of Carrizozo and vicinity, for the kind manner in which my family and myself have been treated during our stay with you. When strangers within your gates, you received us with Christian kindness; our efforts for good in your community, have met with your approval, and your support has been loyal. May the New Year be one most prosperous for you, and may success attend every laudable undertaking. May grace abound, and the word of God be glorified in our midst.

Yours very truly,
R. H. Lewelling.

Masons Install

On the night of Dec. 27th, the newly elected officers of Carrizozo Lodge No. 41 A. F. & A. M. were duly installed at the lodge room over the Exchange Bank, after the now W. M. Marvin Burton, had announced his appointments. The following were installed:

Marvin Burton, W. M.
M. C. Porter, S. W.
Geo. Ferguson, J. W.
S. F. Miller, Sec.
F. A. English, Treas.
John Ulrey, S. D.
John Baird, J. D.
Henry West, S. S.
E. J. Shulda, J. S.
H. E. Pine, Tyler.

After the installation, a bounteous spread of refreshments awaited the Masons, it being doubly tempting from the fact that it was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. It was extraordinary fine, and the Masons are living in the hope that this will not be the last time they will be served so bountifully by the Stars.

Card of Thanks

We wish to return our thanks to the many kind friends who performed acts of loving kindness and offered words of comfort to us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our darling daughter Ethel, and to those who as a last token of love and esteem brought beautiful flowers and to all who in word or deed contributed to our comfort, we acknowledge our sincere gratitude.

J. J. Hoffman,
Ella Hoffman.

Miss Murrel Returns

Miss Bernice Murrel has returned from a pleasant visit with her sister at Roy, N. M.

tend the meeting on January 20th at Hutchinson.

Messrs. Wetmore and Gurney, being so well recognized at the Tucumcari meeting, they no doubt will wield a good influence in the coming meeting at Hutchinson. This is a very important undertaking, and of a certainty we have two representatives who will be on the lookout for the interest of Carrizozo. We will await with interest the outcome of the coming conference.

DOINGS ABOUT TOWN TO BEGIN THE NEW YEAR

Events of Various Kinds Mark Beginning of Year in Which our People Meet and Make Merry — Kin- dred Spirits Unite in Well Wishing to One Another for Future's Welfare.

Miss Zeuch Entertains

As a fitting finish to the Yule Tide season, Miss Minnie Zeuch, principal of the Carrizozo High school entertained a company of her friends at a 6 o'clock New Year's dinner given at the Carrizozo Eating House.

The table was handsomely decorated in colors red and green intermingled with beautiful Cyclamen, which blending with other decorations, gave the affair a well arranged and decidedly holiday appearance. Beginning with the genial hostess the following guests were in attendance, The Misses Bernice Murrel, Florence and Catherine Spence, Bessie White, Ivy Lindsay, Marion Price, Lorena Sager, Gladys Wilson and Mrs. Chas. Spence.

Entertainments Galore

On New Years Day Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Garrard entertained a goodly number of their friends at a New Years dinner, and the same afternoon the guests were entertained at a New Years dance at Lutz Hall, with Mesdames Hamilton and Finley as chaperons. Miss Ivy Lindsay furnished the music, and the gay lovers of this amusement danced until late in the afternoon.

Before dispersing, however, the guests were invited to attend the Crystal Theatre as guests of Messrs. Louis Adams, Wayne Hamilton and Ernest Dingwall, the evening being spent pleasantly at that popular resort. With such a continual round of pleasure, the guests felt that they were certainly in the hands of entertainers who could entertain.

Eastern Stars Install

At the regular meeting of the O. E. S. last Wednesday evening, the newly elected officers for the coming year were duly installed, the names of which appeared in our issue of Dec. 6th.

At the business portion of the meeting, Mrs. Millie Burke was received by demit from Violet Chapter of Galesburg, Ill. After installation bounteous refreshments were served. The new lodge card of the Chapter for the coming year appears on another page of this paper.

Mrs. Adams in Blazes

Mrs. J. R. Adams and daughter Clara left last Friday to pay a visit to Mrs. Joe Biles in Bisbee, Arizona.

While The Going Was Good

A darky was ushered into the employment bureau of the Du Pont Powder Works and plied with the usual questions put to all new hands taken on at the works.

The old darky stood the examination pretty well, but was beginning to feel just a little bit
 "oneasy" when one of the men
 suddenly asked:

"And who would you like to be notified in case of a serious accident?"

The darky paused and scratched his head at this unexpected blow at his moral, but after a little while he thought of two persons who he might like to know of his misfortune. Their names were written down.

"And now," said one of the examiners, "where would you like your remains shipped?"

"Where would I like my remains shipped?" repeated the darky in a groggy sort of voice.

From Mars to Moses

CENTURIES ago the peoples of this earth celebrated a period accredited with being the opening of a new life for the material world. Then the Christ was born to human consciousness and Christmas with its message of Peace, which marked the beginning of enlightenment, became the altar of joy for all humanity.

Glorious and wonderful are the responsibilities of the present anniversary. This Christmas is the opportunity for profitable reflection and the occasion for boundless joy.

Recent circumstances have led us out of ourselves, taught us the nearness of the future and awakened in us the hope which ends in trust. Mars has led us to Moses over the great highway of adversity and God's immortal covenant has come to pass.

Building Material

As decided by the War Industries Board, Nov. 16th, it is no longer necessary to obtain a permit from any government official to make farm improvements not to exceed $10,000. This also applies to work in towns and cities.
 So farmers, ranchmen and others can now make improvements up to this amount unhampered. Having a large stock of building material we can give you good service.

STORY OF THE WEEK

SHOWING THE PROGRESS OF EVENTS IN OUR OWN AND FOREIGN LANDS.

ABOUT THE WAR

Gen. John J. Pershing made his first visit to the Rhineland Dec. 21. The British army of occupation is entering Dusseldorf, on the Rhine, it is officially announced.

Italy's war damages amount to more than 100,000,000,000 lire (about $13,000,000,000) according to Finanza Italia of Rome.

The French threw a pontoon bridge across the Rhine at Nierstein. This bridge, over 1,000 feet in length, was built in five hours.

The German government has accepted Field Marshal von Hindenburg's plan to form a people's guard, or national army.

The total casualties of the American air service in action are given as 442, including 109 killed, 103 wounded, 260 missing, twenty-seven prisoners and three interned.

Two groups of manifestants, one shouting against Spain and the other crying for Spain, collided at Balboa. One of the persons in the loyalist crowd was killed by a pistol shot.

The German armistice has been extended until 5 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 17 and the Allies have notified Germany that they reserve the right to occupy the neutral zone east of the Rhine from the Cologne bridgehead to the Dutch frontier.

With a total of 188,562 men discharged from the army during the week ended Dec. 14, General March announced Saturday the War Department has about reached the average of 20,000 discharges daily for which the demobilization plan calls.

The United States has a fleet on the Rhine. Nine river steamers which have been taken over by the American army of occupation will be armed and used as a patrol on a stretch of the Rhine along the Coblenz bridgehead. The Stars and Stripes were hoisted over these ships Dec. 21.

A Bolshevik army is advancing toward Germany in the region of Mitau, according to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, as quoted in a Copenhagen dispatch to the London Times. The Bolsheviks are said to be planning to encourage the German radicals with a view to unloosing a great social revolution throughout central Europe.

WESTERN

One thousand homes were placed under quarantine in Omaha Dec. 24.

Gen. Antonio I. Villarreal came out openly at El Paso, Tex., in a statement to the United Press for the reported anti-Carranza coalition rebellion.

Villa's main command, which passed through Cuahuilpan, Chihuahua, destroyed property of the Cuzco Mining Company, an American corporation, to the value of $20,000.

American airman in France brought down a total of 834 German aeroplanes and eighty-two German balloons, against an American loss of 272 planes and forty-five balloons, according to a report cabled to Maj. Gen. Harbord on Dec. 15 and made public by the War Department.

Charles M. Schwab for president of the United States was the choice voiced by 700 representatives of the machinery construction and metal interests of the United States at a dinner given by the Machinery Club of Chicago.

WASHINGTON

Assistant Secretary William Phillips was designated to represent the State Department at the funeral at Aberdeen, N. C., of Walter Hines Page, former ambassador to Great Britain, who died there Dec. 21.

Without a record vote, the Senate passed the war revenue bill, reduced to raise about $6,000,000,000 in 1919 and $1,000,000,000 in 1920, as compared with the levy of $5,200,000,000 for next year proposed in the bill passed by the House three months ago.

All restrictions on German enemy aliens except those applying for departure from United States, and those affecting the power of internment have been ordered removed by Attorney General Gregory and were effective Christmas day, on cable instructions from President Wilson, and of about 200,000 German men and women.

FOREIGN

German troops have been sent against Bolshevik forces who are advancing on Mitau. A people's league has been organized in Berlin, says a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen.

King George will give a banquet at Buckingham palace in London Dec. 27 in honor of President Wilson. German residents of Danzig held a mass meeting to protest against annexation of the city by the Poles.

More than 3,000 graves of American soldiers were decorated on Christmas day by the American committee for devastated France.

There are between 60,000 and 70,000 unemployed workmen in Berlin, according to the Taglich Rundschau. Of this number 7,000 are metal workers.

French soldiers to the number of 1,400,000 were killed during the war, according to a statement by the Socialist deputy Lucien Volain, in the Chamber of Deputies.

The German fortress of Ehrenbreitstein, sometimes called the Gibraltar of the Rhine, on the opposite bank of the river from Coblenz, has been occupied by American troops.

Butter is $2 and sugar $1 per pound in Wiseman, the largest camp in the Kuskokwim valley in southwestern Alaska, according to C. Nelson, who arrived at Jerome from the westward.

Statistics obtained by Canadian officials from 230,000 members of the Canadian forces overseas show that more than 105,000 soldiers, or 43.9 per cent, desire to go on the land after their return to Canada.

Casualties in the great war may pass the staggering total of 31,501,768, of which 7,909,768 were deaths in battle, from wounds or from disease, according to a rough estimate compiled from authentic (mostly official) sources.

A Rhenish official advances the suggestion for a future Germany composed of seven republics constructed along the lines of the United States. Field Marshal von Hindenburg, according to reports received at Zurich, from Germany, has concentrated a large force of soldiers in Posen.

The Matin Dec. 23 was authorized to print an article which was censored Sunday. The article, the first headline of which read: "Yesterday's Utopia Tomorrow's Reality," sets forth the manner of procedure of the "promoters of a league of nations acting in agreement with the allied governments."

President Wilson Dec. 23 visited the Red Cross hospital at Neuilly, France, where he shook hands individually and talked with 1,200 wounded Americans, for the most part survivors of the Chateau Thierry action. He spent more than four hours in the hospital, visiting every ward and stopping at every bedside.

SPORT

The British government has sanctioned the revival of racing and the sport will be resumed on a large scale in 1919.

It was officially decided by the management of the Indianapolis motor speedway to hold the next international 500-mile sweepstakes race on Saturday, May 21, instead of on Decoration day, as was the custom in the past.

The 1919 major league season will open on Wednesday, April 23, President Stan Johnson of the American league announced in Chicago on his return from New York. The opening date was agreed upon at a conference with John A. Heydler, president of the National league. The majors have definitely decided to play schedules of 140 games instead of 154, he said.

GENERAL

The transports Martha Washington and Mercury came into port at Newport News, Va., bringing home from France 3,720 officers and men, including 600 women.

Prof. T. G. Masaryk, president of the Czechoslovak republic, took the oath of office as president in the diet building.

Bandits blew open the vault in the bank of Granby, at Granby, Mo., twenty miles southeast of Joplin, and escaped with $15,000 worth of unregistered Liberty bonds.

The Frankfort Zeitung says the former German empress will hardly live to see the new year. Her ailment, heart disease, has grown considerably worse during the past exciting weeks.

Secretary Lansing officially denied that the American delegation had decided to advocate sinking the surrendered German warships. The proposition, he said, has not ever been discussed.

A big acreage in sugar beets in the Rocky Mountain region next year is predicted by General Agriculturist Mark Austin of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company of Salt Lake City, who was in Denver after visiting several Colorado sugar districts. He says that this favorable outlook, so far as Utah and Idaho are concerned, is based upon an expectation of no higher price for beets than was paid this year. He looks for a drop in the price of sugar.

WILSON GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME

LONDON DEMONSTRATION EXCEEDS NEARLY ALL RECORDS OF ANCIENT CITY.

MASSES JOIN GREETING

PRESIDENT AND WIFE ESCORTED BY KING AND QUEEN TO ROYAL PALACE.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

London, Dec. 27.—President and Mrs. Wilson were in Buckingham palace Thursday afternoon after a journey from Calais to London during which they were accorded all the honors ever given royalty. Never has a royal progress, except those of great national ceremonials, excited such interest here as the first state visit of an American President.

The drive of the short procession from the station to the palace was made through streets lined with the guards regiments in khaki. Fresh flags hung overhead and covered the buildings, while windows, balconies, sidewalks and open spaces were filled with people, many of whom wore the American colors.

It was a brief spectacle. First came the sovereign's escort of troops from the household cavalry, with helmets and steel cuirasses. Then came the carriages with King George and President Wilson and Queen Mary, Mrs. Wilson and Princess Mary. These were followed by three others, which passed almost unnoticed, as all eyes were on Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and the royal family.

Although the trip was a short one, it lay through a most interesting section of London. From Charing Cross the route ran along the north side of Trafalgar square, with the Nelson monument towering on the left and the national gallery on the right, its gray walls almost covered by huge American and British flags.

It continued along Pall Mall, turning northward at St. James place and up St. James street to Piccadilly—the chief landmarks along this stage being the solid, weather-worn buildings of the old London clubs now decked with bunting they keep for special occasions.

The procession drove westward along the north side of Piccadilly, passing a tract of clubs and big hotels and palatial residences, notably the home of the Duke of Devonshire, with the Red Cross flag over it, and the residence of the Duke of Wellington, at the entrance of Hyde park, where the procession turned.

Between Piccadilly and Buckingham palace there stretches Green park, which was dark with people. The party drove past Wellington arch and along the southern side of the park, flanked on the right by the wall of the palace ground, and then into the broad plaza before the palace and through the iron gates into the palace forecourt.

Probably the most interesting part of the spectacle for the President was the people who were crowded everywhere to greet him. The day being a holiday, workmen and women had a chance to turn out with their small children. They made the most of their opportunity and to no stratum of British humanity could the President have made a stronger appeal.

Enthusiastic scenes marked the arrival at the Charing Cross station. As the President, accompanied by King George, emerged from the station the crowds jamming the streets broke into prolonged cheers. At the same time guns began to thunder out a salute.

DANIELS REVIEWS FLEET.

Cannon Roar as Home-Coming Battleships Steam into New York Harbor.

New York.—America's victory fleet was given a tumultuous welcome upon its triumphant return Thursday. Emerging from the gray mist that spread of the city's gates where the ten great dreadnaughts arrived Wednesday, the fleet steamed into the harbor amid the greatest popular ovation in the history of New York. The pulse of the mighty welcoming throng beat with pride as the great Leviathans whose mighty batteries, with those of the British grand fleet, forced the surrender of the German fleet, glided majestically through the narrows into the bay, past the Statue of Liberty to saug berth in the Hudson.

The roar of applause which greeted the floating fortresses was only stifled for two brief periods, when the guns of the dreadnaughts burst forth in salute to the Secretary of the Navy Daniels and when the welcoming hostess of battleships and destroyers roared a mighty salute to the returning ships as they came to anchor.

Many of our American women were able to take up the duties of nursing at the front, but they should know how to take care of their own at home, and for this purpose no better book was ever printed than the Medical Adviser—a book containing 1,008 pages, and bound in cloth, with chapters on First Aid, Bandaging and care of Fractures, Taking care of the Sick, Physiology, Hygiene, Sex Problems, Mother and Babe, which can be had at most drug stores, or send 50 cents to the publishers, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. WILSON GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME

LONDON DEMONSTRATION EXCEEDS NEARLY ALL RECORDS OF ANCIENT CITY.

MASSES JOIN GREETING

PRESIDENT AND WIFE ESCORTED BY KING AND QUEEN TO ROYAL PALACE.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

London, Dec. 27.—President and Mrs. Wilson were in Buckingham palace Thursday afternoon after a journey from Calais to London during which they were accorded all the honors ever given royalty.

The drive of the short procession from the station to the palace was made through streets lined with the guards regiments in khaki.

It was a brief spectacle. First came the sovereign's escort of troops from the household cavalry, with helmets and steel cuirasses.

Although the trip was a short one, it lay through a most interesting section of London. From Charing Cross the route ran along the north side of Trafalgar square, with the Nelson monument towering on the left...

The procession drove westward along the north side of Piccadilly, passing a tract of clubs and big hotels and palatial residences.

Between Piccadilly and Buckingham palace there stretches Green park, which was dark with people.

Probably the most interesting part of the spectacle for the President was the people who were crowded everywhere to greet him.

Enthusiastic scenes marked the arrival at the Charing Cross station. As the President, accompanied by King George, emerged from the station...

Now York.—America's victory fleet was given a tumultuous welcome upon its triumphant return Thursday.

Emerging from the gray mist that spread of the city's gates where the ten great dreadnaughts arrived Wednesday, the fleet steamed into the harbor amid the greatest popular ovation in the history of New York.

The roar of applause which greeted the floating fortresses was only stifled for two brief periods, when the guns of the dreadnaughts burst forth in salute to Secretary of the Navy Daniels and when the welcoming home fleet of battleships and destroyers roared a mighty salute to the returning ships as they came to anchor.

Half a Century Ago

Half a Century Ago, every community could be supplied to some extent with locally dressed meat, drawing on live stock raised nearby.

Now two-thirds of the consuming centers, with millions of people, are one to two thousand miles away from the principal live-stock producing sections, which are sparsely settled.

The American meat packing industry of today is the development of the best way to perform a national service.

The function of providing meat had to develop accordingly. Those men who first grasped the elements of the changing problem created the best facilities to meet it—large packing plants and branch houses at strategic points, refrigerating equipment (including cars), car routes, trained organization, profitable outlets for former waste — which became the natural, inevitable channels for the vast flow of meat across the country.

If there were a better way to perform this necessary service, American ingenuity and enterprise would have discovered it, and others would now be using it.

Acid-Stomach Makes Millions Suffer

Indigestion—dyspepsia—sour stomach—bloated gassy stomachs—belchy, miserable-feeling stomachs—these are Acid-Stomachs.

What a lot of misery they cause! How Acid-Stomach, with its day-after-day sufferings, does take the joy out of life! Not only that—Acid-Stomach is always undermining one's health. Think of what acid does to the teeth—how the acid eats through the enamel, causing them to decay. Is it any wonder, then, that Acid-Stomach saps the strength of the strongest bodies and wrecks the health of so many people?

You see ACID-STOMACH victims everywhere always ailing. They can't tell exactly what is the matter; all they say is, "I don't feel well"—"I'm all in, tired, sickly." If they only knew it, nine times out of ten it is Acid-Stomach that is ailing them. It surely makes good digestion difficult, causes food to sour and ferment in the bowels, weakens the blood and fills the system with poisons. It prevents one from getting the full strength out of their food.

Take EATONIC and get rid of your Acid-Stomach. This wonderful modern remedy actually takes the excess acid out of the stomach. It quickly and positively relieves bloating, heartburn, belching, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach, and the pains of indigestion. Makes the stomach cool and comfortable—keeps it sweet and strong. Banishes all stomach troubles so completely that you forget you have a stomach. You can eat what you like and digest your food in comfort, without fear of distressing after-effects. EATONIC helps you get full strength out of every mouthful you eat—and that is what you must have to be well and strong—full strength from your food.

Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist TODAY. We authorize him to guarantee EATONIC to please you. If it fails in any way, take it back; he will refund your money. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC, write to us and we will send you a big 50c box. You can send us the 50c after you receive it. Address H. L. KIDNEY TROUBLE NOT
EASILY RECOGNIZED

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

For Suffering Armenia

President Wilson has issued a proclamation appealing to the generosity of the American people in behalf of the millions of war sufferers in the Near East.

Armenians, Syrians and Greeks who have been driven from their homes by Hun invasions, and who are literally starving to death by thousands. A campaign for relief funds will be conducted January 12-19th.

Following is the President's proclamation:

"For more than three years American philanthropy has been a large factor in keeping alive Armenian, Syrian, Greek and other exiles and refugees of Western Asia.

"On two former occasions I have appealed to the American people in behalf of these homeless sufferers, whom the vicissitudes of war and massacre had brought to the extremest need.

"The response has been very generous, but now the period of rehabilitation is at hand. Vastly larger sums will be required to restore these once prosperous, but now impoverished, refugees to their former homes than were required merely to sustain life in their desert exile.

It is estimated that about 4,000,000 Armenian, Syrian, Greek and other war sufferers in the Near East will require outside help to sustain them through the winter. Many of them are now hundreds of miles from their homeland. The vast majority of them are helpless women and children, including 400,000 orphans.

"The American Committee for relief in the Near East is appealing for a minimum of $30,000,000 to be subscribed January 12-19, 1919, with which to meet the most urgent needs of these people.

"I, therefore, again call the people of the United States to make even more generous contributions than they have made heretofore to sustain through the winter months, those who by no fault of their own, have been left in a starving, shelterless condition, and to help re-establish these ancient and sorely oppressed people in their former homes on a self-supporting basis."

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON.

Had I the tears of all the years
Since tears began to flow
I could not shed them fast enough
To rightly speak her woe!

O little harried garden land

DO A GREAT WORK IN OSTEND DISTRICT

Engineers Speedily Reconstruct Roads and Bridges Wrecked by Shell.

SOLDIERS WORK IN THE RAIN

Correspondent Describes Trip to Ostend—Finds Roads Once Badly Torn by Shells Almost as Good as New.

American Press Headquarters, British Front.—We had an impressive illustration today of the accomplishments of the engineers in this war when we drove into Ostend.

The chief of the American mission at Belgian headquarters had warned us dramatically against an attempt to make the trip. At least three days would be required, he said. The roads were torn up by shells and mines and congested with troops. Yesterday a light car had taken twelve hours to make twenty miles. But we started out and had as smooth a road as any boulevard in the middle West for the entire distance. There were several places where we had to make detours through villages, and as the dozens of bridges across the canal near Ostend were all blown up we had to drive on about five miles to a temporary bridge. We averaged about thirty miles an hour.

Soldiers Work in Rain.

Most of the road was kept up by British labor battalions, excepting the section near Christel, through the awful Flanders swamps, where Belgian soldiers worked incessantly in a driving rain. We heard they had worked all night without rest, and so automatic had their operations with pick and shovel become that they did not stop to look up when our speeding car threw slugs of mud all over them. For a camp they used the long lines of German pill-box forts. At one place we saw about twenty of these squat chambers, with walls three feet thick and made of concrete, reinforced with steel wires. Direct shell hits apparently bounced harmlessly off these forts. The twenty pill boxes in sight were in a straight row, and behind them were a half-dozen larger ones to protect the rear.

When we had passed the desolate waste of water, mud and swamp reeds and got into other lowlands that had been drained and tilled we saw more pill boxes in a reserve line. A Belgian peasant was using one as a chicken house, and the low apertures for machine guns lent themselves readily as entrances and exits for the fowls. Descendants of these chickens should be in the old family home for a thousand years hence, or, say, a million years.

The scores of drainage sluices across the roads had all been covered with temporary bridges by the Belgian engineers following up the German destroyers.

Through the suburbs of Ostend we passed cheering Belgians dressed for church. The people were so prayerfully grateful to the British that they did not seem to mind the mud we splattered all over them. Many of them ran off the road behind trees, and from their mud screen shouted greetings to the English. As the extraordinary Flanders mud would even squirt up to first floors of houses many of the people, learning from experience, had taken to second stories, from which they clapped their hands and waved flags. The only damage we saw in Ostend was the wreckage of the marine and railway stations and the shattered glass in buildings on the sea front, due to the air concussion from British monitors pounding the retreating enemy.

The piers leading out into the sea from the harbor basin showed effects of British shells and bombs, and near the end of the pier was the gallant old Vindictive, after its magnificent part in the Zeebrugge bottling-up exploit, where she served as a boarding ship and carried the great superstructure to permit British marines to climb on the Zeebrugge mole, had been filled with concrete and sent in to block Ostend as a U-boat and destroyer base. The Vindictive made it impossible for sizable ships to get into Ostend, and the Germans, just before the retreat, tried to complete the work by sinking a small ship alongside the Vindictive.

However, there is still room at high tide for small relief ships and barges. In fact, we saw a converted trawler of the American Red Cross already in the harbor, as well as many similar British ships.

FOCH HAS ALWAYS BEEN VICTORIOUS

Paris.—What title in all this world calls up such heroic memories as that of marshal of France? It is a wonderful title and most of those who have held the baton were more than wonderful men. In every other army a field marshal is a grade, but the French army has no field marshal; it has simply the title of marshal of France. The regulations of the French army prescribe that the title of "marshal of France" is not a grade, but an honor. This expresses all military excellence in a general, who does not outrank his colleagues, but who by some deed or deeds has brought particular distinction on himself or his armies.

The first battle of the Marne was the reason why General Joffre became a "marshal of France." Today there are only three "marshals" in all France—Joffre, Foch and Pétain. The marvelous strategy of Foch stands out more clearly every day. Napoleon had many "marshals," all of them prodigies of valor and some of genius—Massena, Lannes, Soult, Mörat, Ney and others. The emperor made them either dukes or princes or both, and sometimes kings. But with all their glory I doubt if any one of them has rendered such signal service to their country—certainly not to humanity—as have Joffre and Foch.

Gallieni's Great Feat.

General Gallieni, the former governor of Paris, would have been made a "marshal" had he only lived long enough to receive the honor due him. It would be a beautiful idea if the government of the French republic created him a marshal even now, and inscribed on his tomb: "Gallieni died in the service of his country. General de Division—Marshal of France." It might not do the general any good, but it would please the army and the entire country, while it would render justice to an immortal name and would be a fitting tribute to a great and good soldier, though whether they call him general or marshal or drum major makes little difference. Gallieni's name rests secure in his 30-word proclamation and in safekeeping of 40,000,000 free Frenchmen, for whom he did more than any other one man to retain their liberty at a critical time.

Joffre Won at the Marne.

Marshals Joffre and Foch, as the world knows, are also great soldiers. For three long years Joffre withstood the fearful onslaught. He never murmured, though he had terrible difficulties to endure. He husbanded his small armies while we prepared ours. When his task was done and the battle of the Marne gained, Joffre retired from activity with the great honor he had hardily won.

Foch has always been victorious. He has served his country with love, with ardor and felicity. To his fine character he adds great ability. He has been preceded by a list of names which have illuminated the history of France and mankind during the centuries.

WHERE CROWN PRINCE SAW HIS MEN WHIPPED

When the American troops captured the hill and village of Montfaucon they discovered an observation post in the upper part of the house that is seen in the photograph, from which the crown prince is supposed to have watched the slaughter of his troops during their futile attack on Verdun in 1918.

LIBERTY FUEL GIVEN O. K.

Used in Extensive Tests and Proves Success.

Used in Everything From Trucks and Tractors to Airplanes, Say Inventors.

Washington.—"Liberty fuel," the substitute for gasoline developed by Maj. Oliver B. Zimmerman and Capt. E. C. Weisgarber of the gas and oil production division of the war department, has proved its practicability in extensive tests in automobiles, motorcycles, motortrucks, tractors, stationary engines and airplanes.

"The test results," said Major Zimmerman, "showed that although checked against every commercial grade of gasoline in the highest types of gasoline engines, refined to the limit of engineering knowledge and with no change in the carburetor, it nevertheless develops a greater thermal efficiency than the best gasoline."

The new fuel can be produced in varying grades to meet the requirements of the several types of gasoline motors. Unlike gasoline, which is largely all of one grade, the new fuel can be manufactured specially for motorcycles, trucks, tractors, airplane engines or any other type of gas engine.

"It will be possible in the future for a person to drive up to a filling station and secure exactly the grade of fuel required for his particular machine. This will result in more satisfactory service from every gasoline machine in the market and give the motor owner a maximum of efficiency for a minimum of outlay."

Other government experts who have witnessed tests of the new fuel are highly enthusiastic regarding its future possibilities.

Dog Flesh Is Valued at $125 Per Pound

Seattle, Wash.—Dog flesh, valued at $125 a pound is the subject of a suit in the superior court here.

"Champion Impy," a Maltese with a gross weight of eight pounds, is valued at $1,000, according to allegation in a complaint on file. He is declared also to be the only English champion of his breed in America.

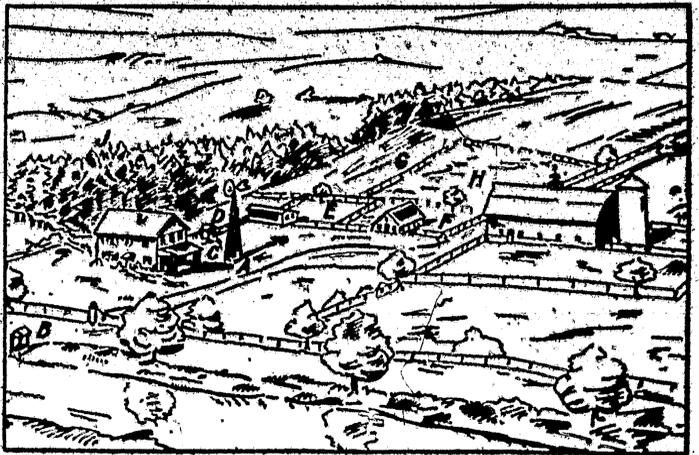

The complainants declare they left the dog with the defendants for treatment in June, 1918, and now, although the animal is cured, the champion is withheld from his rightful owners.

All importations of coffee into this country are now under the direction of the United States sugar equalization board.

FARM HOMES NEED GOOD WATER SYSTEMS.

Illustrating Common but Unsafe Location of the Farm Well and Spring. Possible Source of Pure Water Also is Indicated. A, Unsafe Well; B, Unsafe Spring; C, Privy; D, Garden; E, Chicken Yard; F, Hog Yard; G, Cultivated Field; H, Pasture; J, Woodlot Fenced Off and Kept Clean; K, Harvested Beyond the Probable Channels of Impure Drainage, May Be Pure Water.

FOUR UTILITIES NEEDED ON FARM

Good Water Is One of Prime Essentials for Safe and Comfortable Living.

LIGHTING ALSO NECESSARY

Surface and Underground Drainage Should Be Considered in Locating Wells to Avoid Contamination.—Wood Lot Desirable.

A good water supply, a complete sewage-disposal plant, and effective heating and lighting systems constitute the four prime utilities of the farm home, the foundations of safe, comfortable living. To secure these ends in greatest measure, thought and planning are necessary. If the procedure is haphazard, if the parts are not correlated, there is neither economy in the construction nor satisfaction in the operation of the plant.

When locating the well, the direction of surface and underground drainage should be considered, to the end that the water supply may not be contaminated by the sink drain, cesspool, or other sources of filth. The unused water from a spring or flowing well may be made valuable if brought to a watering trough, cooling tank, fish pond, or swimming pool, or harvested as ice. A saving may be effected by laying two lines of pipe in one trench. The engine which drives the pump may operate other useful appliances, such as a dynamo, saw, washing machine, cream separator, or churn.

A notable example of home-planned utilities is found upon a farm in northern Utah. By personal planning and hard work, the owner of this farm gradually has equipped his house with a pressure water system, a laundry containing a power washing machine, wringer, mangle, and drying machine, a heating plant, electric lights, electric range, electric heaters for emergency use in chambers, and a vacuum cleaning system.

Sanitary Farm Water Supply.

Observation indicates that on the average three out of four farm wells are located within 75 feet of the back door of the house and in the direction of the barn. That convenience and first cost—not safety—have been the deciding factors in thousands of such locations is a fact made evident by the proximity of barnyards, pig pens, pastures, fertilized fields, sink drains, privies, cesspools and house yards rendered insanitary by chickens, slops, garbage, and other filth. Too frequently the leach from these or other sources of filth, after joining the ground water, moves with greater or less directness to wells and springs, seriously impairing the water supply by organic impurity or grossly poisoning it with human sewage.

Among other ways by which surface waters and open or poorly covered wells and springs are contaminated or receive noxious substances are: Surface wash from roads, ranges, or the other sources of filth above mentioned; bodily entry of stock and poultry or their droppings; filth from the shoes of careless farm hands and children; droppings from the dipper or bucket handled by carriers of disease; dust and leaves from the air; and entry of worms, bees, snakes, toads, frogs, mice, snakes, cats, or other animal life, which through death and decomposition may impart to the water disagreeable odor and taste and perhaps more serious characteristics.

Deterioration of water may be due to still other causes that make it unwholesome but not, so far as known, destructive of health. Among such are unusual dissolving of mineral salts from the earth, washings from clay that produce a milky appearance, discoloration from mineral or vegetable matter, admixture of mineral or vegetable oils, absorption of offensive gases, low forms of animal life, minute plant growths often productive of bright-colored, fibrous masses and scums, and especially when water is of peaty or swampy origin, impregnation with iron. In short, investigations indicate that only a small minority of farm water supplies can be claimed as unqualifiedly safe and desirable.

Diseases From Poor Water.

Among the ailments caused or influenced by contaminated water are typhoid fever, tuberculosis, hookworm disease, cholera, dysentery and diarrhea, and certain obscure maladies that may be traced eventually to the poisonous effects of drainage from human wastes. Figure 2 shows in a striking manner how increased use of pure water in Massachusetts has been followed by decline in the typhoid-fever death rate. Frequently a home or village supplied with water from a mountain spring or canyon is a center of goiter, although the possible relationship of such water to this disease has not been proved conclusively.

Among ailments of live stock, hog cholera, anthrax, and foot-and-mouth disease are spread by moving water. Hence sick animals should not have access to streams, and dead animals should not be left exposed in fields or buried where drainage may carry infection to streams and water supplies. One's duty to himself and neighbors should obligate him to confine all sick animals and burn the carcasses of dead ones or bury them deeply in spots remote from streams, wells and springs, and urge his neighbor to do the same.

The vital things to remember are that ground water is not stagnant but moves usually, though not always, with the "lay" or slope of the land; that its character determines largely the character of wells and springs; that it is not an inexhaustible reservoir, but that a given well yields only as it receives; and that continued pumping will not improve the water in a well if the sources from which it is fed are permanently at fault. In short, ground water is natural drainage variously modified in its movement and character by subterranean conditions.

Safe Location of Wells.

Wells cannot be located in all cases so that there may not be some pollution, but the great safeguards are clean ground and as wide separation as possible from the probable channels of any impure drainage. It is not enough that a well or spring is 50, 100, or 150 feet from a source of filth or that it is merely upon higher ground, although even moderate remoteness and elevation of the source of supply are of service. Given porous or gravelly ground, sandy ledge, or long-continued pollution of one plot of land, the source of contamination is likely to extend long distances, particularly in downhill directions and at such times as water supplies are lowered by drought or heavy pumping.

Upon any farm a wood lot, grove or windbreak is highly desirable, not only to supply fuel and small timber, but for its beauty and the protection it affords.

Returned From Globe
The Stevens sisters, Pearl and Iona, have returned from Globe, Arizona, where they spent a pleasant Christmas with their parents. The young ladies tell of seeing green trees and flowers in that locality, which is much of a contrast to our snow, cold and bottomless pits of mud and slush.

Grandmother of Mr. Pitts Dies
Mr. R. C. Pitts has received word of the death of his grandmother, Mrs. S. J. Head, at her home in El Reno, Okla. Mrs. V. K. Fair, mother of Mr. Pitts, has been at her bedside since her condition became serious, and after the funeral will return to her home in Jicarilla.

Mother of Mrs. Pitts Here
Mrs. Zoe Day, the mother of Mrs. R. C. Pitts, came in last Tuesday and it is the intention of the Pitts family to have Mrs. Day spend the greater portion of the winter season with them.

Ben Horton Returns.
Ben Horton has returned from Camp Ben Harrison, Ind., where he has been stationed in the service. Ben surely looks fine.

Returned to Silver City
Ben Scott, who has been attending school at Silver City, spent the holidays with his mother, Mrs. L. M. Scott, returned Thursday to resume his school work. Kenneth, who was employed by the Phelps-Dodge people at Tyrone for some time past, has also returned, and will enter the Navy, it is understood.

Al Waite Returns
Al Waite returned from the Tennessee Munition Plant last week and tells some very interesting things about that enormous enterprise. He looks well.

The O. W. Bambergers Return
Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bamberger arrived last Sunday from the coast and are comfortably located at home again. We rejoice in the return of our boys, for this is one of the essentials, and the principle one, in our prospects for a happy and successful New Year.

Returned From Luna
Miss Ella Brickley, together with her little niece, Ruth, the daughter of E. M. Brickley, returned Wednesday from Luna, where they have been a greater portion of the time since Mr. Brickley entered the service. They came over to meet Mr. B, who is expected home in a few days.

Mrs. J. M. Cravens left Tuesday for Tularosa, where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Brown.

From Tularosa
Mrs. Harvey Hughes and baby returned last Monday from Tularosa, where they have been visiting relatives for the past ten days.

Mrs. Conway's Mother Here
Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, the mother of Mrs. T. W. Conway, is here to spend a portion of the winter with the Conway family.

Much "Snow" in This City
Chas. A. Snow, who has been stationed at Gulfport, Miss, returned home on No. 4 last Monday. Mrs. Snow, who has been visiting her husband's relatives in Texas, arrived Tuesday. Verily, there is much "Snow" in the old town now, and it does us good to see it, for the quality is the very best.

After a Pleasant Visit
Miss Beula Burr, a niece of Dr. and Mrs. Shaver, left for her home in Vaughn last Monday, after a pleasant Christmas visit with the Shaver family.

Judge Crews and Wife Return
Judge Seth F. Crews and wife of Oscura returned this week from a visit of several months through the eastern states. They visited Washington, St. Louis, and many other points of interest during their absence. They returned with the ending of the Yule Tide.

Baptist Church Christmas Tree

The Christmas tree at the Baptist church the night before Christmas was thoroughly enjoyed by old as well as young. Santa Claus was there with his reindeer and distributed gifts among the little ones according to their behavior for the past year. On being questioned, one little fellow admitted that he had not been as good as he might have been, and on this humble confession which Santa Claus considered "good for the soul," he was supplied among the first.

Circus at the Crystal
A real old-fashioned one-ring circus, one of the kind that were popular in the days of our grandfathers, when the clown and ring master were supreme, is the big feature of "The Biggest Show on Earth," the new photoplay by Florence Vincent, in which Enid Bennett, the beautiful Thomas H. Ince-Paramount star, is the leading figure.

Miss Bennett has the role of Roxie Kemp, a showgirl whose great act is to face several lions in their cage. She quits the circus when she is seventeen and enters a girls' academy where she has many interesting adventures, including one in which she saves a girl chum from the fangs of a vicious dog which she masters by the sheer force of her glance. In addition to this, a special comedy of two reels entitled "Her Screen Doll" will be shown at the Crystal Saturday night. Admission 15c and 25c plus tax.

O. Z. Finley the Lucky One
O. Z. Finley has purchased the H. S. Campbell residence on White Oaks avenue, and also the Campbell Ranch. Mr. Finley is to be congratulated on the purchase, as Mayor Campbell had the residence built for his own use and comfort consequently the arrangement of the building is complete in every detail. The Mayor will erect a new home in the near future, the location of which is not definitely known at this time.

Wonder-land Highway

(By Wm. Boone Douglas, Secretary National Park Association.)

The National Park Association of New Mexico has organized a movement that is receiving the most enthusiastic support all over the state for the construction of a great national highway. Santa Fe it connects with the proposed Ocean-to-Ocean national highway. Then passing the Indian pueblos of Tesuque, Nambé, San Ildefonso, Santa Clara, and near San Juan, borders the proposed National Park of the Cliff Cities, passes up the beautiful Chama Valley, by the ancient Santa Rosa Mission ruin, to the Chama-Gallina breaks with its beribboned cliffs, the pedestal of wierd wind sculpturings.

Passing through the Gallina canon, it then follows the camino de las Lleguas up to the continental divide, over which it passes to Aztec, Farmington and Fruitland. Entering the Navajo Indian reservation, it joins, near Shiprock, the National highway now being constructed from the Rocky Mountain and Mesa Verde National Parks, Colorado, through the Navajo National Monument, and near the Natural Bridges of Utah, to the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Binding together four states of the Southwest, the highway opens to the people a wonderland the like of which is not to be found throughout the world.

The results of a recent archeological survey, as detailed in the April number of El Palacio, published by the Archaeological Institute of America and the Museum of New Mexico, under the title of "The Land of the Small House People," shows the route to have been used as a principal highway in prehistoric times. It was also used by the early Spanish explorers and along it was found a bone tablet inscribed "S. H. 1740."

Two Great Naval Fleets

By next summer the navy will be equally divided into two great fleets, to be known formally as the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. Secretary Daniels described the program today to the house naval committee, explaining that approval of it by Admiral Benson, chief of operation, was received last night from Europe.

"It is the prime aim, of course, to keep the navy fit," declared Mr. Daniels, "and the only way to keep it on its toes is to have competition between fleets. We will, in effect, have a war between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets, which will so stimulate the keenness that it will make men feel they are in actual

Promises Best Efforts To Build State

"Public education must not only be encouraged but compelled, if we would have this magnificent government of ours to survive, and spare the nation the horrible and bloody scenes that have converted Russia into a land of crime and barbarism. To that end, our institutions of learning, penal institutions and other establishments kept and maintained by the state, must be made to serve and answer the purposes of their creation, and not used as a political asset."

This was one of the important declarations of Octaviano A. Larrazolo, in his inaugural address when he took the reins of government in New Mexico, the first elected republican governor since statehood.

George Washington Sold Indians Liquor Say Federal Police

The name of George Washington again appears in the official records of the United States government. It is recorded in connection with transactions with Indians. Not the signing of peace treaties with the Red Men - but, federal authorities claim that George Washington sold liquor to Indians. The George Washington in question is a negro and resides in Albuquerque. He is charged with selling liquor to Indians the night the state went dry. He declares he is wholly innocent of the charges, and has entered a plea of not guilty. The case will be tried Thursday before Judge Colin Neblett in the federal court.

Gun That Shelled Paris Dismantled

Coblentz, — Dismembered and with its war worn parts beginning to rust, the big Bertha which started the world by its long range fire upon Paris last spring, has been left to its fate in an old German artillery yard in West Prussia.

According to information reaching the Third army, the famous big gun is lying in the open air, protected from the eyes of the curious only by a board fence. Other guns of large calibre are also within the yard, a few German soldiers acting as a guard.

Circus at the Crystal

A real old-fashioned one-ring circus, one of the kind that were popular in the days of our grandfathers, when the clown and ring master were supreme, is the big feature of "The Biggest Show on Earth," the new photoplay by Florence Vincent, in which Enid Bennett, the beautiful Thomas H. Ince-Paramount star, is the leading figure. Miss Bennett has the role of Rosie Kemp, a showgirl whose great act is to face several lions in their cage. She quits the circus when she is seventeen and enters a girls' academy where she has many interesting adventures, including one in which she saves a girl chum from the fangs of a vicious dog which she masters by the sheer force of her glance. In addition to this, a special comedy of two reels entitled "Her Screen Doll" will be shown at the Crystal Saturday night. Admission 15c and 25c plus tax.

O. Z. Finley the Lucky One

O. Z. Finley has purchased the H. S. Campbell residence on White Oaks avenue, and also the Campbell Ranch. Mr. Finley is to be congratulated on the purchase, as Mayor Campbell had the residence built for his own use and comfort, consequently the arrangement of the building is complete in every detail. The Mayor will erect a new home in the near future, the location of which is not definitely known at this time.

METHODIST CHURCH
(Rev. Lewelling, Pastor)

Miss Lindsay and her little tots will have a special number at the Sunday morning service. Miss Hillary Cooper will give a reading at the other service. Sunday School, 10 a. m. Short Gospel sermons at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Come hear the new orchestra. A cornet and trombone first band featured at the opening.

National Wonder-land Highway

(By Wm. Boone Douglas, Secretary National Park Association.)

The National Park Association of New Mexico has organized a movement that is receiving the most enthusiastic support all over the state for the construction of a great national highway. At Santa Fe it connects with the proposed Ocean-to-Ocean National highway. Then passing the Indian pueblos of Tesuque, Namble, San Ildefonso, Santa Clara, and near San Juan, borders the proposed National Park of the Cliff Cities, passes up the beautiful Chama Valley, by the ancient Santa Rosa Mission ruin, to the Chama-Gallina breaks with its beribboned cliffs, the pedestal of wierd wind sculpturings.

Passing through the Gallina canon, it then follows the canonito de las Lleguas up to the continental divide, over which it passes to Aztec, Farmington and Fruitland. Entering the Navajo Indian reservation, it joins, near Shiprock, the National highway now being constructed from the Rocky Mountain and Mesa Verde National Parks, Colorado, through the Navajo National Monument, and near the Natural Bridges of Utah, to the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Binding together four states of the Southwest, the highway opens to the people a wonderland the like of which is not to be found throughout the world.

The results of a recent archaeological survey, as detailed in the April number of El Palacio, published by the Archaeological Insitute of America and the Museum of New Mexico, under the title of "The Land of the Small House People," shows the route to have been used as a principal highway in prehistoric times. It was also used by the early Spanish explorers and along it was found a bone tablet inscribed "S. H. 1740."

Two Great Naval Fleets

By next summer the navy will be equally divided into two great fleets, to be known formally as the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. Secretary Daniels described the program today to the house naval committee, explaining that approval of it by admiral Benson, chief of operation, was received last night from Europe.

"It is the prime aim, of course, to keep the navy fit," declared Mr. Daniels, "and the only way to keep it on its toes is to have competition between fleets. We will, in effect, have a war between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets, which will so stimulate the keenness that it will make the men feel they are in actual war."

Promises-Best Efforts To Build State

"Public education must not only be encouraged but compelled, if we would have this magnificent government of ours to survive, and spare the nation the horrible and bloody scenes that have converted Russia into a land of crime and barbarism. To that end, our institutions of learning, penal institutions and other establishments kept and maintained by the state, must be made to serve and answer the purposes of their creation, and not used as a political asset."

This was one of the important declarations of Octaviano A. Larrazolo, in his inaugural address when he took the reins of government in New Mexico, the first elected republican governor since statehood.

George Washington Sold Indians Liquor Say Federal Police

The name of George Washington again appears in the official records of the United States government. It is recorded in connection with transactions with Indians. Not the signing of peace treaties with the Red Men - but, federal authorities claim that George Washington sold liquor to Indians. The George Washington in question is a negro and resides in Albuquerque. He is charged with selling liquor to Indians the night the state went dry. He declares he is wholly innocent of the charges, and has entered a plea of not guilty. The case will be tried Thursday before Judge Colin Neblett in the federal court.

Gun That Shelled Paris Dismantled

Coblenz, -Dismembered and with its war worn parts beginning to rust, the big Bertha which startled the world by its long range fire upon Paris last spring, has been left to its fate in an old German artillery yard in West Prussia.

According to information reaching the Third army, the famous big gun is lying in the open air, protected from the eyes of the curious only by a board fence. Other guns of large calibre are also within the yard, a few German soldiers acting as a guard.

DANGER OF FREE TRADE BY TREATY

Senator New Calls Nation's Attention to Article 3 of Peace Terms.

I think the time not wholly inopportune to invite the attention of the Senate and the public to one of the 14 terms laid down by the President on the 8th of January last, and since repeated in some form on various occasions. I refer to the third article, which reads as follows:

The removal, as far as possible, of all economic barriers, and the establishment of a neutrality of trade conditions among all the nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

Mr. President, as I read it, if this article means anything it means the announcement on the part of the President of a purpose to write free trade into the peace treaty. It is, of course, possible that I may misconstrue the President's meaning, but I find myself unable to place any other construction on it. Nor have I been able to find one among the many with whom I have talked concerning it who takes any other view of its import.—Extract from remarks of Senator Harry B. Now, of Indiana, in the United States Senate, October 14th, 1918.

Not only is Mr. Now's interpretation of President Wilson's third article of peace terms held to be correct by those Americans who have studied it, but evidently Germany believes this third article means putting the United States on a free trade basis by means of a treaty which cannot be changed instead of by legislation which can be changed. Chancellor Von Hertling on January 24, 1919, in addressing the German Reichstag upon President Wilson's 14 terms of peace, said regarding Article No. 3:

"We, too, are in thorough accord with the removal of economic barriers which interfere with trade."

Whether the American people wish this country flooded with cheap German-made goods after the war, under an agreement made by a peace treaty, is one of the greatest problems of reconstruction. The Democratic party is committed to this policy. To prevent such a condition it is necessary that a Republican senate be elected in November.

PRESIDENT WILSON PROPOSES

Article 3—The removal as far as possible of all economic barriers, and the establishment of a neutrality of trade conditions among all the nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.—From President Wilson's fourteen terms of peace, announced in address to Congress, January 8, 1918.

VON HERTLING ACCEPTS

Article 3—We, too, are in thorough accord with the removal of economic barriers which interfere with trade in a superfluous manner.—From Chancellor von Hertling's address before the German Reichstag, January 24, 1919, commenting upon President Wilson's 14 peace proposals.

The removal of "economic barriers" (tariffs) and the establishment of a neutrality of trade conditions mean but one thing—putting the nation on a free trade basis and inviting all foreign-made goods to invade our markets.

FRANCE HAS AS MUCH FAITH IN REPUBLICAN SENATORS AS IN AMERICAN GENERALS

The opinion the French entertain of the Republican leaders in Congress who have been standing by the war and now are firmly standing against any "dickering" for peace with the Teutonic powers is best evidenced by a cable from Paris, October 9, which appeared in the New York Times (Democratic) of October 10. The cable was as follows:

Yet the Democratic National Committee is sending out literature charging that the success of these Republicans at the polls in the coming election would bring "joy to the Kaiser and his cohorts."

Whom will the American voters believe—the glorious unbested French, who are desirous of winning the war and keeping it won; or the Democratic National Committee, which is desirous of winning the elections, keeping their hands on the appropriations for Southern distribution and protecting cotton, the favorite child of Democracy?

Refusal of Democrats to Fix Price on Cotton Boosts High Cost of Living.

According to a compilation made public October 9, 1918, by the Department of Labor, fuel and light have advanced 23 per cent. in costs, housing 18 per cent. and food of all kinds an average of 83 per cent. The highest advance in living costs has been in clothing. Men's clothing has increased 105 per cent., women's clothing 119 per cent.!

The report of the Railroad Wage Commission shows that common calico, which formerly sold for 6 cents a yard, now sells for 30 cents, an increase of 400 per cent! Workingmen's overalls have increased 150 per cent., work shirts 200 per cent., boys' blouses 150 per cent., socks and stockings 125 per cent., gingham 125 per cent., muslin 120 per cent. and household textiles 130 per cent.!

No clothing is being made of wool. The government has fixed a price on wool and commandeered the entire supply, both domestic and imported. No textiles are being made from wool. Textiles and clothing are being made from cotton. The increase the workman and farmer of the north is paying on clothing and household textiles is the direct result of the profiteering of the southern cotton powers which dominate Congress, sit in the cabinet and have prevented any fixing of a price on cotton. Every household is paying a heavy tax to the cotton profiteers, a tribute to the southern domination of Congress.

Will Southern Interests Be Permitted to Control Reconstruction?

The increasing prospect of peace brings to the foreground the problems of the farmer in the after-war period. It is an economic axiom that the prosperity of the American farmer depends largely upon the wages and therefore the food purchasing capacity of American labor. Anything which would cause a general industrial unrest and idleness would strike heavily at the market of the American farmer.

When war orders are stopped and armies are demobilized, unless we prepare in advance for the transition to the peace period, there is sure to be a vast amount of unemployment, and it will inevitably reduce not only the number of domestic purchasers of food products, but will tremendously reduce the general level of prices of food products.

As one illustration. A high official in one of the munition making plants in the United States is authority for the statement the moment peace is declared he will have to discharge 50,000 employees pending the reorganization of the company's plant to a peace production basis. It is conservatively estimated that the declaration of peace will certainly throw 5,000,000 laborers out of work unless provision is made in advance by farseeing statesmen to take up this slack. The importance of having this preparation for peace well in hand before peace arrives is very apparent.

The Republicans in Congress first saw the necessity of preparing for peace, and Senator Weeks, Republican, of Massachusetts introduced a bill providing for a bipartisan commission to begin work immediately upon the after-war problems. One section of this bill is devoted wholly to the problems the farmer will meet after the war.

The Northern farmer has received little or no consideration from this Democratic Congress. Everything has been legislated with a view of taking care of the Southern planter and Southern agricultural interests. If the next Congress is controlled by the Southern cotton interests the same favoritism will undoubtedly be shown in handling reconstruction problems. The hope of the Northern farmer having his interests looked after depends upon the election of a Republican Congress free from Southern domination.
