ESCAPES IN WAR; KILLED BY TRAIN

After going through the hardest fought battles of the world war, Walter A. Mankins, a former resident of this locality was killed by a train on the last lap of his trip through France when homeward bound.

Mr. Mankins is a brother of Mrs. M. S. Crockett of Carrizozo and lived for a number of years near here on the Mesa, after which with his mother who is now 70 years of age, he went to Globe, Ariz., from where he enlisted Sept. 18, 1917. He went to foreign service with some of the first assigned to overseas duty and survived some of the fiercest battles, only to fall in a sad and unexpected manner as indicated above.

After the war was over the 13th field artillery, of which he was a member, boarded a train at Trondes enroute for Neuf Chateau at which several of the boys including Mr. Mankins left the train to get some hot coffee from a Red Cross Station and were in some unaccountable manner left at that place. There was another train following which contained the 114th field artillery and the boys caught this train which later on had a rear end collision, in which young Mankins was killed.

The facts concerning his death were communicated to his mother by Andrew Crowell, 1st Sergeant of Battery D, of the field artillery, in a letter in which he, after relating the facts, highly praises the character of the dead soldier and expresses the deepest of sympathy for the sorrowing mother.

Hotel Activity

Considerable activity has been noticeable on the part of the hotel promoters this week; surveyors have been at work under the supervision of Mr. Harvey, the officials, taking careful observation of all that is going on. A meeting of the promoters was held this week and organization effected. The name of this new organization is the Southwest Hotel Company. The officers are T. R. Spencer, President; Ira O. Wetmore, Vice President; F. J. Sager, Secretary and Treasurer.

Board of Directors, Spencer, Wetmore, Sager and Paden. Other officials will be elected later on. The hotel will be erected on the right at the corner of Alamogordo avenue and Main streets and will be built in a triangular form so as to afford either entrance from Main street or Alamogordo avenue. This information we received through the kindness of Mr. Wetmore, who seemed to agree with us that the papers should be given the liberty of saying something for the new enterprise.

And They Danced

Those who came over from Fort Stanton to the dance at Louie Hall last Saturday night were: Miss Jennie Boone, Mrs. Mitchell, Messrs. Gentry, Kelley, McNeil, Williams, Workman, Shannon, Olson, Herbert and Anderson.

Mrs. Bamberger and Miss Lutz Entertain

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. O. W. Bamberger and sister, Miss Bell Lutz entertained elaborately at the Lutz home in honor of Mrs. Major McKeon of Fort Stanton. The commodious interior of the residence was decorated richly in colors green and white as a tribute to the patron saint; after the guests had all arrived the curtains of the home were drawn and the interior, brilliantly illuminated, giving the decorations which were of the Shamrock and Irish Myrtle, an effect that was decidedly beautiful.

Four tables were arranged for Bridge playing, the usual custom of friendly contest for prizes being dispensed with. At the close of the favorite game of Bridge the guest of honor was presented with an elegantly designed silver meat fork, after which each guest was presented with a green carnation as a souvenir of the well arranged society event. A delicious two course luncheon was served and at the close of the affair the guests departed after having been participants in one of the most novel, interesting and entertaining affairs in the history of Carrizozo.

With the genial hostesses Mrs. Bamberger and Miss Lutz at the head of the list, followed by the guest of honor, Mrs. McKeon, the names of the other lady guests were as follows: Mesdames Lewis, Lemon, French, Osborn, Crawford, Dingwall, Leon, Lutz, Ulrich, Gumm, White, Allen, Reilly, Bell, Wetmore, Spencer.

At the Wilson Home

Miss Gladys Wilson had not the slightest hint of the surprise in store for her when about eight o'clock Monday evening a knock sounded at the door, in answer to which the house was immediately filled with merry-makers. Miss Wilson soon recovered from the "shock," however, and assisted by her mother and sister graciously welcomed the bevy of friends that had gathered to spend another pleasant evening with her before her departure for Las Cruces where she will take the Commercial Course during the spring term at the State College.

Music and games filled the hours. Delicious "home made" candy was passed during the evening and at a late hour coffee and cakes were served, after which the guests departed with many good wishes and admonitions for Miss Gladys.

This was indeed a pleasant affair, as is always the case when such a jolly crowd of young people are together in a congenial home like Wilson's.

Entertained Her Class

Miss Olivia Kennedy entertained her Sunday school class, the "Loyal Workers" at her home last Saturday evening. The girls were first invited with the understanding that they in turn should invite the boys, which made the affair doubly pleasant.

CALL FOR ROAD BOOSTERS MEETING

At a meeting of citizens of Lincoln County, held at Capitan Saturday, March 15, the following named gentlemen were appointed to act as a temporary board of directors for the purpose of organizing a County Good Roads Association, for Lincoln County, viz: R. C. Souder of Picacho, G. A. Titsworth of Capitan, Dr. S. M. Johnson of Huidasa, Ira O. Wetmore of Carrizozo, Judge S. F. Crews of Oscura, E. L. Morison of Corona and Clement Hightower of Hondo.

Thereafter in agreement with the purpose of that body, a meeting of the citizens of Lincoln County is called to meet at the High School building at Capitan, N. M., at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, March 23, 1919.

It is important that every precinct, town and community be represented at the meeting as matters of great importance to the people of the county will be considered. The National Congress and the State Legislature have enacted road laws that will result in great benefit to this county if advantage is taken of these laws. It means enhanced values for your land and money in your pocket. Take a day off and attend this meeting.

R. C. Souder, Chairman.
Clement Hightower, Sec'y.

Masquerade at French Home

Last Saturday night the Misses Evelyn French and Maurine Haynes entertained at the French home with a joint birthday masquerade party. The costumes were varied and attractive; the characters represented carrying out their parts in a becoming manner; they were as follows:

The two hostesses were "Red and Blue Clowns;" Gene Reily, "The Old Lady;" Sara Osburn, "Columbia;" Hellen Rolland, "Ireland;" Mae Schnacker and Ella Rolland, "Spanish Dancers;" Clarite McQuillen, "Do Peep;" Leila Jones, "Clown;" Ellice Haley, "Red Riding Hood;" Fern Forrest, "Pink Rose;" Mary White, "Rose Bud;" Anita Scheele, "Albee;" Rue Shulda, "Flower Girl."

The costumes of the boys were as follows: Herbert Tennis and Harry Cole, "Soldiers;" Edwin McCarty, Devil;" Miller French, Indian;" Lloyd Crutcher, "Charlie Chaplin;" Rolla Place and Carl Kahler, "Sailors;" Olaus Manning, "The Country Girl." There were other guests present who were unmasked. Miss Anita Scheele as "Alsace," won the girls' prize and Olaus Manning as the "Country Girl," won the prize awarded to the boys.

Dancing and games were indulged in, during which time the guests were refreshed with a delightful two-course luncheon. The little hostesses performed their offices in a charming and creditable manner which insured the successful outcome of this well arranged affair.

In His Own Country

Ralph Barber has landed in New York; the home folks have just received this welcome piece of news and are rejoicing.

Mrs. Titsworth Entertains At Home in Capitan

Mrs. Geo. Titsworth entertained with a Bridge Luncheon last Saturday in honor of Mrs. Major McKeon of Ft. Stanton. The decorations were delicately arranged in yellow and white and the entire surroundings of the Titsworth home presented a cheerful and inviting appearance.

The guest prize, a beautiful rose silk handbag, was presented to the honor guest, Mrs. McKeon by the hostess, Mrs. Ira O. Wetmore was awarded first prize in the bridge game, it being a handsome mayonnaise set. The luncheon that followed was elaborate and bounteous, being six courses complete. The affair on the whole was one of a highly entertaining nature and one which will be ever pleasantly remembered by those participating in the event.

The Ladies Present Were:

From Ft. Stanton, Mesdames McKeon, Lewis, Riddon, Berry, Weber, Sr. and Weber Jr., Werley, Ashford; from Parsons, Miss Helen Rice; from Picacho, Mrs. R. C. Souder; from Carrizozo, Mesdames Ziegler, French, Leon, Wetmore, Ulrich and Sager; from Capitan, Mesdames Freening, Titsworth, Morgan, Province and Miss Mildred Peters.

Sufferings Ended

Little Clyde Aguayo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aguayo of Nogal, passed away last Wednesday night after having been a sufferer for about three months. The little fellow was first stricken with the influenza which caused a gathering in his right side. This ailment was aggravated by other complications which necessitated an operation but his constitution was too weak for the ordeal and following this he died.

The funeral services were held at the home of Mr. Ralph Treat, a brother-in-law of Mr. Aguayo, and were conducted by Rev. Lewelling. The singing was rendered by a quartette composed of the following ladies: Mrs. E. D. Boone, and the Misses Hilary Cooper, Edna Conway and Bernice Murrell. Interment was at the local cemetery. The Outlook extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

Red Cross Call

The attention of the public is called to the fact that a committee under the leadership of Mrs. G. T. McQuillen will, from March 21 to 21, accept clothing which will be sent to the sufferers in the stricken portions of France and Belgium. This notice is to inform you that the committee will accept no garments that are not clean. Therefore, please see that all garments donated are clean and in order. A suitable building will be secured Monday morning and an inquiry will direct you as to where you may send the clothing. Let us give the garments as good possible—and clean. The Committee.

BIG ROAD MEETING HELD AT CAPITAN

A mass meeting of tax payers of Lincoln County was held at Capitan Saturday afternoon, March 15, 1919, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a County Good Roads Association and for the purpose of petitioning the County Commissioners and State Highway Commission to take prompt action in securing Federal, State and County aid in the construction of roads in Lincoln county.

R. C. Souder of Picacho, called the meeting to order and Dr. S. M. Johnson of Huidasa, was requested to state the object of the meeting. Whereupon Mr. Souder was made temporary chairman and Clement Hightower of Hondo, was elected secretary. The object of the meeting as stated by Dr. Johnson, was to petition the County Commissioners of Lincoln County, the State Highway Commission, the Forest Service and the Public Health Service, through the proper authorities, to provide funds available to secure the aid of the Federal Government in the construction of roads in this county.

After consideration and debate, the following resolutions which we are publishing in substance were adopted: That the State Highway Commission be urged to take steps to start work on Federal aid projects; that the County Commissioners be urged to cooperate with said commission and do every available thing in their power to assist other means to further the good roads proposition for Lincoln County. To request the Forest Service to use funds out of that provided by the 65th Congress in consideration of the fact that this county has a minimum of taxable wealth and sparse population.

That the Surgeon General also has requested to cooperate with other officials concerning the establishing roads through and across Ft. Stanton Sanitarium Reservation; that the Highway Commission be asked to appoint Dr. S. M. Johnson of Huidasa, as its representative to Washington to supervise collection and shipment of road material and equipment; that a committee of three be appointed including the chairman to name a committee of seven who will act as Good Roads officials with power to organize a good roads association; that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Lincoln County newspapers for publication.

I noticed that all the time he was writing the word and giving us the stationery, the sentry was laughing and having a great time with his own little self, but I figured he was just acting German, and that nothing was important about it.

We were all tickled to death to get a chance to let our people know where we were, and each man thought a long time about what he would say, and who he would write to, before he ever started to write. Each man wanted to say all he could in the small space he had, and we wanted to let our friends know how badly they were treating us without saying it in so many words, because we knew the Huns would censor the letters, and it would go hard with anyone who complained much. So most of the men said they were having a great time and were treated very well, and spread it on so thick that their friends would figure they were lying because they had to.

One fellow had an idea that was better than that, though. He had been in jail in Portsmouth, England, for three months, for beating up a constable, and he had had a pretty rough time. So he wrote a pal of his that he had been captured by the Germans, but that everything was going along pretty well. In fact, he said, the only other trip he had ever been on, where he had a better time, was the three months' vacation he had spent in Portsmouth two years before, which he thought the friend would remember. He said that trip was better than this one, so the friend could figure out for himself how pleasant this one was. Everybody thought this was a great idea, but unfortunately not all of us had been in jail, so we could not all use it. Which was just as well, we thought, because the Germans would be suspicious if all of us compared this vacation with others.

A few of the men did not have anybody they could write to, and some did not know their friends' addresses, so they would write letters to friends of the other men, and sign it with the friend's nickname.

As soon as a man had finished his letter, he had to go out to the center of the camp, where they had built a raised platform. There the sentries took the letters, and the men formed around the square. There were officers on the platform reading the letters. We thought they read them there in the open, before us, so that we would know they were not tampering with the letters, and we thought the heaven would fall if they were getting so unskilled as that.

Finally, all the men had finished their letters and turned them over to the officers, who read them. And then we saw why the sentry laughed.

The officers tore up every one of the letters. They were anxious that we would see them do it, so none of us would have any hope that our friends would get word.

But we said to ourselves that, if it was information they wanted, they had as much as was good for them, which was none at all, because I do not think one letter in the bunch had a single word of truth in it. But we were all very angry and pretty low after that, because it showed the Huns still had plenty of kultur left, after all, and we knew there was rough sledding ahead of us. Also, some of the men were sore because they had wasted their time thinking up different ways of tipping their friends off to the real state of affairs, and all for nothing. Why they should worry about time, I could not see. Time was the only thing we had plenty of, and I for one, thought we were going to have still more of it.

Going back to the barracks we tried to sing "Pack Up Your Troubles," but there was not much pep in it. We were not downhearted, though; at least, we said we were not.

CHAPTER XX.

Kultur—the Real Stuff.

Neustrelitz was mainly for Russian prisoners, and there were neither British nor French soldiers interned there—only sailors of the merchant marine such as the men I was with. The Russians were given far worse treatment than any other prisoners. This was for two reasons, as near as I could make out. One was that the Russians would stand most anything, whereas the British and French could only be goaded to a certain point, and beyond that lay trouble. The other reason was that the Russians sent German prisoners to Siberia, or at least, so the Huns thought, and Fritz hated the cold. So, being the Russians, and realizing that they were used to being under-dogs, Fritz picked on them and bullied them in a way that the rest of us would not have stood. We would have rushed them and gone west with bayonets first.

The barracks were made of spruce, and were about ninety feet long and twenty-five feet wide, and you can take it from me that as carpenters, whoever made them were fine farmers. There were cracks in them that you could drive an automobile through. When we were there, each barracks had a stove in the center, a good stove and a big one, but at first it was of no use to us, because the Germans would not give us coal or wood for it. But after shivering for a while, we began ripping the boards out of the barracks, and taking the dividing boards from the benches that we used for beds.

Later, they gave each of us a mattress filled with wood shavings, and a blanket that was about as warm as a pane of glass. The mattresses were placed on the ground in the barracks, which were very damp, and after three or four days, the shavings would begin to rot and the mattresses to smell. In order to keep warm we slept as close together as we could, which caused our various diseases to spread rapidly.

When we were receiving our rations, the sentries would offer us an extra ration if we would take a lash from their belts. We were so hungry that many and many a man would go up and take a swat in any part of his body from the heavy leather belts with brass tongue and buckle, just to get a little more "shadow" soup or barley coffee or mud bread.

One morning the sentries picked out ten men from our barracks, of which I was one, and drilled us over a field near the kuche. There was a large tank in the field and we had to pump water into it. It was very cold, and we were weak and sick, so we would fall one after another, not caring whether we ever got up or not. Fritz would smash those who fell with his rifle butt. We asked for gloves, because our hands were freezing, but all we got was "Nichts."

After we had been there for about an hour and a half, one of our men became very sick, so that I thought he was going to die, and when he fell over, I reported it to a sentry. The sentry came over, saw him lying in the snow, yelled, "Schwein, nicht krank!" grabbed him by the shoulder, and pulled him all the way across the field to the office of the camp commander. Then he was placed in the guard house, where he remained for two days. The next thing we know, the Russians had been ordered to make a box, and were being marched to the guard house to put him in it and bury him.

Another thing at Neustrelitz, that was pretty hard to stand, was the pretty habit the Huns had of coming up to the barbed wire and teasing us as though we were wild animals in a cage. Sometimes there would be crowds of people lined along the wire throwing things at us, and spitting, and having a great time generally. It was harder than ever when a family party would arrive, with water and mutton, and maybe growwater and grommutter, and all the little Boche kinder, because, as you probably know, the Germans take food with them whenever they go on a party, no matter what kind, and they would stand there and stare at us like the boobs they were, eating all the time—and we so hungry that we could have eaten ourselves, almost. After they had stared a while, they would begin to feel more at home, and then would start the throwing and spitting and the "schweinbund" sangerfest, and they would have a great time generally. Probably, when they got home, they would strike off a medal for themselves in honor of the visit.

Then, too, there were always Hun soldiers on leave or off duty, who made it a point to pay us a visit, and though I do not think they were as bad as the civvies, especially the women, they were bad enough. We had one bucket in each barracks, and as these buckets were used for both washing and drinking, they were always dirty. We boiled the water when we washed the clothes, to get rid of the cooties, and that left a stinging in it that looked just like red lead. We had to get the water from a hydrant outside of the barracks, and for a while we drank it. But after several of the boys had gone west and we could not figure out why, a man told us he thought the water was poisoned, and a Russian doctor, who was a prisoner, stepped us west about it also. So, after that, very few of us drank water from the hydrant. I was scared stiff at first, because I had had some of the water, but after that I did not touch hydrant water.

It was a good thing for us that there was always plenty of snow in Germany, and even luckier that the Huns did not shoot us for eating it. It was about the only thing they did not deprive us of—it was not verboten.

I thought I knew what tough cooties were, in the trenches, but they were regular mollycoddles compared to the pets we had in the prison camps. After we boiled our clothes we would be free from them for not more than two hours, and then they would come back, with re-enforcements, thirsting for vengeance.

The camp at Neustrelitz was surrounded by big dogs, which were kept just outside the barbed wire. We had them going all the time. Every once in a while, some fellow would make an awful racket, and the next thing we knew, there was Fritz coming like a shot, with musket at his hip, just as they carry them in a charge, and blowing whistles at each other until they were blue in the face. Whenever they thought some one was escaping, they ran twice as fast as I ever saw them run, except when the Foreign Legion was on their heels at Dixmude.

When they got up to the dogs, they would first talk to them and then kick them, and after that, they would rest their rifles on the wire and yell "Zuruck!" at us. We all enjoyed this innocent pastime very much, and we were glad they had the dogs.

There were some things the Huns did that you just could not explain. For instance, one of the Russians walked out of the kuche, as we were passing, and we heard a bang! and the Russian keeled over and went west. Now, we had not done anything and the other Russians said he had behaved himself, worked hard and had never had any trouble. They just killed him, and that is all there was to it. But not one of us could figure out why.

After we had been at Neustrelitz for three weeks, they drilled us out of the camp to a railway station, and stood us in the snow for four hours waiting for the train. We were exhausted and began falling, one by one, and each time one of us fell, the sentries would yell, "Nicht krank!" and give us the rifle butt. We had our choice of standing up and dying or falling down and being killed, and it was a fine choice to have to make.

The cars finally pulled in, and as usual, the windows were smashed, the doors open, and the compartments just packed with snow. When we saw this, we knew we were going to get worse treatment, even, than we had been getting, and many of us wanted to die. It had not been unusual for some of the men to tell the Germans to shoot them too, and it seems as though it was always a man who wanted to live who did get it and went west.

However, all of us nearly got killed when we reached Wittesberg. When the train stopped there, we saw a big wagonload of sliced bread on the station platform and we all stared at it. We stood it as long as we could, and then we made a rush for it. But when we got nearer, we saw that there were four sentries guarding it and four women leaning it out to the German soldiers. They would not give us any, of course. So we stood around and watched the Huns eat it, while they and the women laughed at us, and pretended that they were starving and would groan and rub their stomachs and say, "Nichts zu essen," to each other, and then grab a big hunk of bread and eat it. What we did not say to them was very little indeed. We were certainly wild if any men ever were.

Then some of us said we were going to get some of that bread if we went west for it. So we started a fight, and while they were attending to some of us, the others grabbed and hid all the bread they could. They rounded us back into the cars and we were just starting to divide up the bread when they caught us with it and took it away. We were wilder than ever then, but we could not do anything.

It got colder after we left Wittesberg, and the snow blew into the cars through the windows and doors until we were afraid to sleep for fear of freezing. It was the worst night I have ever seen, and the coal bunkers on the Yarrowdale seemed like a palace compared to the compartments, because we could at least move around in the ship, while in the train we could not move at all, and were packed so close that we could not even stretch our legs and arms. Some of the men did die, but not in my compartment, though most of us were frost-bitten about the face.

We thought that night would never end, but day came finally, and though it seemed to get colder and colder, we did not mind it so much. At about eleven that morning, we arrived at a place called Minden and saw a prison camp there—just a stockade near the tracks with the boys out in the open. We waved to them, and they waved back and gave a cheer-oh or two. We felt sorry for them, because we knew we were not going to that camp, and from what little we saw, we knew we could not be going to a worse place than they were in. I shall never forget Minden, because it was here that I received the only cigarette I had while I was in Germany.

Minden is quite a railway center, I guess, and when we pulled into the depot, we saw many troops going to the front or coming back. As at all important German railway stations, there was a Red Cross booth on the platform, with German girls handing out barley coffee and other things to the German soldiers. I saw a large shanty on the platform, with a Red Cross painted over the door. I saw the girls giving barley coffee to the soldiers, and I thought I would have a try at it and at least be polite enough to give the girls a chance of refusing me. I was refused all right, but they were so nasty about it that I put down my head and let something slip. I do not remember just what it was, but it was not very complimentary, I guess. Anyhow, I did not think anyone near there understood English, but evidently some one heard me who did, for I got an awful boot that landed me ten or twelve feet away. I fell on my hands and knees, and about a yard away I saw a cigarette stub. I dived for it like a man falling on a football, and when I came up that stub was safely in my pocket. And it stayed there until I reached Dulmen and had a chance to light it behind the barracks. If any of the other men had smelled real tobacco, they would probably have murdered me, and I could not have blamed them for it.

That was the first and last cigarette I got in Germany, and you can believe me when I say that I enjoyed it. There was not much to it, but I smoked it until there was not enough left to hold in my mouth, and then I used what was left and mixed it with the bark that we made cigarettes out of. Incidentally, this bark was great stuff. I do not know what kind of tree it was from, but it served the purpose. Whenever a fellow wanted to smoke and lit one of these bark cigarettes, a few puffs were enough. He did not want to smoke again for some time afterward, and like as not, he did not want to eat either. They were therefore very valuable.

It is very hard to get matches in the camps, and when any prisoner does get hold of one, it is made to last a long time. Here is how we make a match last. Some one gives up the sleeve of his coat, and the match is carefully lit, and the coat sleeve burned to a crisp. Then we take a button from our coats—the buttons are brass with two holes in them—pass a shoestring through the holes, knot the ends, and with the button in the center of the string, buzz it around as you have seen boys do, with the string over both hands, moving the hands together and apart until the button revolves very fast.

We then put a piece of flint against the crisped cloth, and buzz the button against it until a spark makes the crisp glow, and from this we would light our bark cigarettes. I do not think any man in the world could inhale one of these bark cigarettes; some of us tried and went right to sleep.

U. S. CONGRESSMAN QUICKLY FINDS STOMACH RELIEF

Joseph Taggart, M. C., from Kansas, Declares EATONIC Best for Indigestion He Ever Used.

A congressman hears many arguments for and against different propositions. His mind is open to conviction, but before he casts his vote on any measure he insists upon evidence that, on its own weight, carries conviction. In the case of "EATONIC" Joseph Taggart, Congressman from the 2nd District, Kansas City, Kans., decided that a trial of the remedy, itself, would furnish the most convincing proof. Read his decision and do what he tells you. "One box of EATONIC will convince the most skeptical. It is the best remedy I have ever tried for indigestion."

JOSEPH TAGGART, M. C., 2d Kan. Dist., Kan. City, Kans. "Nearly all stomach trouble is caused by too much acid in the stomach. EATONIC neutralizes the excess acidity and enables you to eat what you like and digest what you eat in comfort. It keeps the stomach in a state of perfect health. Banks and Liberty Bonds

With approximately one subscriber in every five of the population of the United States to Liberty Loan Bonds, safeguarding the bonds owned by depositors is another and highly important service which the banks already render the people. If the Bonds are securely kept even in banks, the depository must be burglar as well as fire-proof. Numerous recent successful attacks on safety deposit boxes emphasize the necessity, to keep these Bonds where crackmen cannot penetrate. The same consideration should be given Liberty Bonds and War Saving Stamps as is accorded to cash. The public which has been educated to buy Bonds will seek some other form of investment unless the Bonds can be placed where they will not be a cause of constant anxiety and worry to the owners.

Nearly all banks are custodians of Bonds owned by their customers but the system of recording has not been made uniform. One of the best systems devised for the recording and safe-keeping of Bonds and War Saving Stamps is one used by the LINCOLN STATE BANK which is outlined in this week's issue.

Figuring out his income tax was apparently a hopeless task for M. S. Gibbons, an elderly resident of Coalinga, Cal. An attempt to have the recent action of the Missouri Legislature in ratifying the national prohibition amendment repudiated by a referendum vote, was begun by the St. Louis Retail Liquor Men's Association, representing 2,000 saloon proprietors. A referendum committee was appointed and the liquor dealers will co-operate with the twenty civic organizations that are working to have the action of the Legislature abrogated.

All smoking tobaccos use some flavoring. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed ... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves."

Tuxedo uses chocolate—the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings! Everybody likes chocolate—we all know that chocolate added to anything as a flavoring always makes that thing still more enjoyable. That is why a dash of chocolate, added to the most carefully selected and properly aged burley tobacco, makes Tuxedo more enjoyable—

YOUR FLAG AND MY FLAG

What of the Old Man?

The International Musician for March contains an article entitled "Too Old To Work" which takes up the cause of the old man and says in part:

"What has become of the old-fashioned old man who was too aged to work? What has happened to the popular 'Youth will be served,' and like happy phrases?

"Age is supposed, according to the best authorities, to take its slippered ease in the chimney corner, or in the warm spot south of the radiator, and view with alarm the radical propensities of the rising generation. Sons and grandsons should abound, respectful and respectable, with a kindly thought for the devoted ancient. Loving daughters should be glad to minister to the decrepit patriarch of the family.

"The picture still holds true, sometimes, but age is becoming daily more restless under the assumption of indulgence and the idea was well expressed by Henry Irving Dodge, of New York, in his famous speech. He said:

"Why speak of the old man? The really truly old man is dead as the dodo bird. The old man used to be the fashion. I never saw any advantages in Methuselah, unless it was that he was the champion of longevity. Suppose he'd retired at 45 and gone to live with his wife's relation. He'd have had nine centuries of that sort of thing."

The article then points out in detail such public men as Chauncey M. Depew, who is 82 years of age, and still attends to duties at his desk; John Burroughs, who has just completed his 82nd year and still remains in the useful class; Cardinal Gibbons is 81, with Lyman Abbott as even running mate; Georges Clemenceau, the French tiger, who, at the age of 80 was called on to take charge of the ship of state and steered it safely through perilous waters. No one is ready to admit that Clemenceau is down and out, and he is still 'on the job' even after suffering the attack of a would-be assassin recently.

FRANTIC WITH PAIN

Long Suffering From Kidney Trouble More Than Words Can Describe. Doan's Brought Health and Happiness.

Mrs. Anna Thompson, 290 South St., Stamford, Conn., says: "I had a more severe attack than a child, and after sweeping my back hurt me more and more. My headaches were so bad it seemed as though my skull were being torn into shreds and I would finally lose track of everything and lie in a stupor for hours. I felt I had to keep going or lose my mind and I kept up often when I trembled all over with weakness. My feet were swollen and gray bone in my body seemed to ache. My fingers got almost as rigid as pieces of wood and the knuckles swelled. The kidney secretions were dark colored, scanty and terribly burning. I suffered more than words can describe. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and I believe with all my heart that they kept me out of the grave. I am well and happy after going through enough pain to drive me frantic. Doan's saved my life. Sworn to before me this 15th day of Sept., 1915.

A Single Remedy Often Cures Many Diseases. BY VALENTINE MOIT, M. D.

It is almost impossible to give a list of the endless diseases that follow indigestion. Perhaps a whole column in this newspaper would be required to print them all. You eat to keep alive—to supply blood and flesh and bone and muscle and brain. It is easy to see that if your food is not digested and taken up by the delicate organs and distributed where it is needed, a disease of some sort is sure to come. Dyspepsia is a common symptom, and so are liver complaint, loss of flesh, nervousness, bad memory, dizziness, sleeplessness, no appetite. Many times, when neglected, indigestion results in coughs, throat diseases, catarrh, bronchitis and even more dangerous things. And all these disorders arise because the food is not properly digested to the stomach. It is plain even to a child that relief and cure are to be had only by setting up a healthy condition in the stomach. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., many years ago combined a number of vegetable growths into a temperance remedy for indigestion, and called it Golden Medical Discovery. It is probably the most efficacious discovery ever made in medicine, for the list of people all over the world who have had their countless ills overcome by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes an amazing total of thousands.

I know of no advice better than this: Begin a home treatment today with this good vegetable medicine. It will show you better than I can tell you what it will do. When taking Golden Medical Discovery, you can rest assured of one very important thing—it contains neither alcohol nor opium. There is nothing in it but standard roots and herbs that possess sensitive properties of a high order. A safe medicine is the only kind you can afford to take.

U. S. TO SEIZE HARBOR CRAFT

TO END TIE-UP IN NEW YORK HARBOR AND MAN BOATS.

DIFFICULTY IS SOLVED

TO OPERATE UNDER SCALE AGREED UPON BY RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

New York, March 14.—Commanding the government of a fleet of harbor craft sufficient to restore traffic in New York's strike-bound harbor to normal conditions, has been decided by officials of the army, navy and United States Shipping Board, according to apparently authentic reports.

When the boats are taken over by government agencies they will be manned by union crews operating under a basic eight-hour day on the wage scale recently agreed upon with the Railroad Administration.

Officials of the New York Boat Owners' Association, whose refusal to grant boat workers' demands after the workers had refused to abide by a National War Labor Board award, precipitated the strike, asserted that the B. McLain Transportation Company already had been informed by government officials that its boats would be commandeered unless they were immediately chartered to the government.

Thomas L. Delahanty, president of the Marine Workers' affiliation, after attending a meeting of the army, navy and Shipping Board officials, declared there was "no-doubt but what the government will commandeer the boats of the private owners if they refuse to charter them."

James L. Hughes, federal conciliator, who has been working for a settlement of the strike for several days, issued the following statement:

"The army, navy and Shipping Board have arranged to put the Railroad Administration wage scale and working conditions into effect, and negotiations are progressing favorably toward complete and satisfactory settlement which will restore normal conditions and serve the interest of the general public."

The difficulty in obtaining coal for army and navy ships was solved when representatives of both branches of the service chartered twelve boats from a private firm to carry coal to these vessels.

Union men agreed to operate the boats on condition that they were used solely for government work. Secretary of the Navy Daniels directed Rear Admiral Usher, commandant of the Third Naval District, not to allow the use of navy tugs to tow barges for private firms.

Rhode Island May Start Suit.

Washington.—If the Rhode Island Legislature passes the resolution introduced in that body by Representative Eaton, instructing the attorney general to begin action in the name of the state to test the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment to the constitution, the action will precipitate an unprecedented legal step. If the intent of the resolution is correctly estimated here it will result in a suit being brought by the state of Rhode Island against every state in the Union that has ratified the prohibition amendment, as well as against the government that is called upon to enforce it.

Will Take Over 723 Steamers.

Berlin.—The mercantile fleet in German harbors, disposition of which will be decided at an early date at the food and shipping conference at Brussels, consists, according to German figures, of 723 steamers of 1,080,700 gross tons, and 136 sailing vessels of 32,600 tons. The sailing craft and some of the small steamers will, however, be left by the entente to Germany for coastal traffic. The steamer figures include steamers finished during the war, but not the unfinished steamers, which the Germans continue to insist cannot be demanded under the armistice. The total tonnage that may be surrendered to the entente is approximately 2,500,000 gross tons.

$1,000,000,000 A Year.

Paris.—On President Wilson's arrival a series of conferences began which will last over the week-end. An important question awaiting President Wilson's attention is the length of time to be given Germany to pay her huge war debt to the allies. This is tentatively fixed at thirty years, with the payment of about $1,000,000,000 annually during that period.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

Catarrial Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrial Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrial Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Don't suffer! It's so needless. Get a small trial bottle from any drug store and gently rub the "aching nerves" and in just a moment you will be absolutely free from pain and suffering.

No difference whether your pain or neuralgia is in the face, head or any part of the body, you get instant relief with this old-time, honest pain destroyer—it can not injure.—Adv.

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

When you're fifty, your body begins to creak a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be" is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant symptoms show themselves. Painful and annoying complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy, and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles.

Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel, "brick dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil Capsules cleanse the kidneys and purify the blood. They frequently ward off attacks of the dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys. They have a beneficial effect, and often completely cure the diseases of the bodily organs, allied with the bladder and kidneys.

If you are troubled with soreness across the loins or with "simple" aches and pains in the back take warning, it may be the preliminary indications of some dreaded malady which can be warded off or cured if taken in time.

Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Hairless Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. GOLD MEDAL are the pure, original imported Hairless Oil Capsules. Accept No Substitutes.—Adv.

The Turn Has Come

Relative to the situation of western metal mines a prominent producer says: "It would seem as though the turn has come. There has been some little business doing, chiefly for March delivery, and sales Feb. 27th, for instance amounted to 5,000,000 pounds. Small, it is true, but encouraging.

Manufacturers must realize that at prevailing prices they are getting copper below the cost of production.

The price of lead also seems to have touched bottom and started up.

No one believes that an era of industrial depression which would be indicated by wholesale closing down of factories is about to set in.

Much of the present buying apathy is due to lack of confidence in the present price level - to a desire on the part of merchants and distributors to postpone purchases until values become cheaper, but so far as western metals are concerned the bottom seems to have been reached. Meantime the manufacturing curtailment that is now proceeding is the best assurance that the market will not become glutted with goods. The real readjustment to a peace basis seems to be working out slowly and surely and satisfactorily and to be reaching the point where greater activity might soon be reasonably expected.

Saxon Box Factory In Cox Canon Burned to Ground

(Otero County News)

The Saxon sawmill and box factory burned to the ground on Thursday, Feb. 27th. The factory was located adjacent to the H. A. Pruess farm from which timber was being cut to manufacture box lumber. W. W. Saxon, of Mountain Park and Lester Courtney, of the Logging Camp, were interested in the plant while Mr. Pruess was furnishing the timber to cut. There was no insurance on the plant and the loss was several thousand dollars.

Who Benefits By High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high.

Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

THE FLOWER SHOW.

"Ha, ha," said the vegetables in the vegetable garden, "we are being properly appreciated. There was a time, and not so long ago, that we were not invited to the flower show."

"We Love to Give Pleasure."

They were supposed to show how gardens could be made to look well and grow well, and the best gardens won prizes for their owners.

"Of course you've always been invited to the flower show," said the vegetable garden to the flower garden, "because it wouldn't be a flower show without flowers."

"That's so," smiled the flowers. "You're bright vegetables, we never thought of that before."

"But we were invited this year, because vegetables are appreciated more than they used to be."

Between the flowers and the vegetables were some little pine trees which were also being shown as sample trees, and which also kept the vegetable garden and the flower garden apart.

And on a table near by were samples of beautiful pansies and seeds which would grow the same kinds of pansies. And all these were in a little corner by themselves.

"We should think vegetables would always have been appreciated," said the flowers.

"Thanks, flowers," said the vegetables, "and we admire you for not becoming snobbish."

"Oh, dear," sighed the flowers, "we could never become that."

"Well, you might," said the vegetables. "Flowers have always been asked to the flower show of course, and flowers are always beautiful. Flowers are of lovely colors and sweet scents. They could easily be superior and snobbish, but they are not. No, flowers are never snobbish."

"Vegetables," said the flowers, "we hate snobbish things and people. We love to give pleasure, to bring happiness. Sometimes people try to make flowers snobbish by acting as though flowers which cost a lot were so much nicer than cheap ones which could be easily grown."

"But the flowers are never that way themselves. And oh, how they hate it when people say they only like flowers which cost a lot and which look like the flowers in a flower shop."

"We think you're beautiful and sweet, flowers," said the vegetables.

"It seems to us," answered the flowers, "that we would not be living up to the name of flowers if we were anything else but sweet and lovely. It would be dreadful for us to be horrid, perfectly dreadful. We'd disgrace the family name of flowers."

"Ah, we must appear conceited to you," said the vegetables, "for we are so happy to be here. We have always tried to be good so folks would enjoy us when they ate us, but we must admit that we are proud and happy now that everyone is thinking more of vegetables."

"Why, flowers, they're growing us everywhere. They are not letting any ground go to waste. They said we should be plentiful, which means that there should be plenty of us, and we think this all very fine."

"We like to hear of them hating to waste things, for we have always been that way ourselves, good practical, common-sense vegetables."

"No, we don't think you are conceited," said the flowers. "We think you show the right kind of pride, for you know what you can do and of how much good you can be, and you want to be given a good opportunity and chance to show what you are capable of."

"That's just the way we feel, flowers," said the vegetables.

Three men have surrendered to Sheriff John Snyder at Alamogordo. One man is suffering from a gunshot wound and is in a hospital at Alamogordo. According to the sheriff's story of the shooting, three men are alleged to have rode up to a camp of herders and to have lined up the herders and to have claimed to have stated that they were "going to kill the whole works." Shots were fired, the sheriff's story goes, and Sandoval and the unknown men were wounded.

IN ANOTHER KEY

A Question.

"You must be a woman hater."
"Why?"
"You've never married."
"Why should a man who has never married be a woman hater?"

Wholesome Lesson.

"That burglar says he has more respect for the law than he had."
"What caused it?"
"The fees he had to pay his lawyer and his bondsman."

Wanted to Know.

"Pa, what's kleptomaniac?"
"Why—er—it means taking something you don't want."
"Was it kleptomaniac when I took the measles?"

The Sad Part.

"You may win a beautiful girl with soft nothings."
"Well, well!"
"But you can't whisper that sort of stuff to the butcher."

DISCOURAGING.

Charles—What was the reason you quit the club?

Arthur—Reason enough! By the time I had worked three years to be elected treasurer and finally got it they had decided to put in a cash register.

Prejudiced.

A dog's a most engaging brute. He has a heart that's true and warm; But when the kind the games call "cute" We almost wish to do him harm.

Modus Operandi.

"I met your friend Spongely this morning."
"How did he strike you?"
"Said he'd left his change at home in his other trousers."

Her Preference.

He—Couldn't you find it agreeable to knit closer the ties of friendship between us?
She—Couldn't do it. I'm too busy knitting socks.

Too Small.

Tess—Why does Flossie look so mad?
Bess—A Johnny gave her a diamond garter and it's too small to go round her waist.—Purple Cow.

SHAKESPEARE.

De Actor—A horse—a horse! Me kingdom for a horse! Gallery God—Machine broke down again?

Very Comforting.

"If money is really vocal. Then, by George!" said Harold Hupp. "It's an optimistic talker. For it cheers a fellow up."

S. H. Nichols Buys
S. H. Nichols has purchased the ranch in the White Mountains formerly owned by Jesse Dawson.
The ranch is not as large as some, but a large portion of it is productive of the finest vegetables in these parts, leaving ample room for the owner's stock to graze.
Mr. Nichols is to be congratulated on the purchase, as it is situated just under the peaks of the "Old Whities" and a very desirable place in which to live.
Mr. Dawson, it is said, will depart in the near future for Florida, where he will engage in truck farming.

All Ready? Let's Go

Garrard & Corn's new mechanic, Mr. Clyde Johnson, has arrived and was at once located with the firm. He is an expert acetylene welder, being a machinist by trade coupled with years of experience in the auto and truck work makes him just the man the firm has been looking for.

Garrard & Corn solicit the patronage of the auto and truck owning public, for in so doing they are confident of getting the best of service and satisfaction.

Garrard & Corn wish to announce that they have some bargains in second hand machines,
one of which they sold to a Carrizozo party last week; but they also wish to say that their new Buick and Dodge cars are worthy of a careful investigation by those wishing to buy. The firm hereby issues an invitation to the public to visit their garage and inspect the merits of these new machines, and now that the new mechanic has arrived they ask you to call and inspect the repairing jobs which will be turned out.

Rode in the "Male" Cart
The familiar sight of the mail cart which performs its daily trips to and from the depot has become so common that it attracts but little attention these days, but one night about one week ago a patient arrived on
No. 1 from Corona who was suffering with a pair of badly burned feet; on his arrival he was met by a kindly hearted physician and a local hotel keeper, finding no conveyance for the patient, so they loaded him into the mail cart which stood near by and made the trip to the place designated as a stopping place for the unfortunate man. Thus did the cart perform a double service;
that of a mail and also a "male"
cart.
