

BULLETS RID- DLE ALLEGED AS- SAILANT OF WHITES

Lincolnton, Ga., Oct. 8.—Jack Gordon and Will Brown, negroes were lynched by a mob here early today and their bodies burned. The victims of the mob were charged with having shot deputy sheriff Roy Freeman and Boyce Fortson near here late Saturday. Freeman is not expected to live.

Mose Martin, another negro, was killed by a posse late yesterday during the hunt for Gordon and several other blacks were whipped for refusing to give information as to Gordon's whereabouts.

The lynching took place about 4 o'clock this morning after Gordon had been taken from the custody of sheriff Kelley, of Wilkes county, by a mob said to number approximately 1000 persons. The other negro, Brown, was being held by the mob awaiting the arrival of Gordon. The two were strung up on the outskirts of the town and after their bodies were riddled with bullets, they were cut down and placed on a pile of burning pine wood.

Lyceum Course Begins

The first number of the Lyceum course was staged at the Methodist Church Wednesday evening with the Paramount Entertainers as the beginning feature. The audience was good sized despite the fact that rain fell steadily from 6 o'clock until 9. The entertainment was equal to the expectations of the patrons. Miss Sass, the elocutionist and pianist, Miss Anderson on the violin and Mr. Fredrick the soloist were all artists of exceptional ability. The remaining numbers one of which will appear each month for the next five months will be equally as good as the one which furnished such a pleasant evening of enjoyment on Wednesday. Messrs. Cribb and Danaldson, who are managing the Lyceum are to be congratulated on securing this course which will add greatly to the entertainment for the winter season.

Brought Back Trujillo

Fred Lalone returned from Santa Fe the early part of this week bringing with him Juan Trujillo, who was recently accused of the murder of Bernaldo Sanchez. The sudden appearance of Sanchez in Arizona which caused Sheriff Duran to make a trip to bring him back to this place, the particulars of which were removed the stain of guilt from Trujillo, and he was given his liberty here. What will be done with the parties that made the confession is not known, but they will be held for investigation on other matters of vital importance, it is said.

Jack Cleghorn Traps Cinnamon Bear

Jack Cleghorn of White Oaks is a bear hunter; he not only hunts bear, he gets them; and this is the time of the year when Jack oils his traps, making ready for the "Bruin" to fall into the snare. After picking what he thought was the best spot in the Carizo mountains for a "catch" he set his traps and last Sunday morning accompanied by Gordon Wells, he approached the traps and found a fine cinnamon bear securely fastened to one of the steel grippers.

After putting Mr. Bear out of commission they loaded him on a horse and conveyed him over the trail to the residence of Mrs. M. F. Wells where they delivered the carcass into safe keeping until Jack returned with his car after which the bear was brought to White Oaks. After being viewed by many people the bear was skinned and the meat given away to Jack's White Oaks neighbors, he, reserving the hide for himself which is one of the exceptional fine variety. The bear after being skinned weighed over five hundred pounds and those who were fortunate in the distribution of the meat, pronounced it fine. Jack is some bear hunter and we may expect to hear more from his work in the near future.

Rev. Lewelling Goes To Tucumcari

At the recent Conference of the Methodist Church, (South) Rev. Lewelling, who has served the Carrizozo Church for the past two years, was transferred to the Church at Tucumcari, the Rev. A. C. Douglas being assigned to the Carrizozo Church. Rev. Lewelling leaves this city with the kindest and best wishes of the populace regardless of church creed; he is a man earnest in the endeavor to serve instead of being served; fearless and unflinching in his determination to speak the truth; kind and sympathetic with the sick and sorrowing. His policy is, duty first, last and always, leaving results and rewards to be measured out according to the works. The Tucumcari Church is fortunate in securing Rev. Lewelling. He will be greatly missed by church going people of Carrizozo and Tucumcari has gained by calling him to the charge.

Mrs. Barber, Secretary

Mrs. G. B. Barber of Carrizozo was selected as the Secretary of the Albuquerque district which was a showing of wisdom on the part of the Conference. Mrs. Barber has been an earnest worker in Church circles and when the time arrived for making the selection of the Secretaries for the different districts she was the favorite of the Albuquerque district without opposition—merit will win.

Willow Springs Coal

The Willow Springs Coal Company is opening up the famous Willow Springs coal mines south of here and will be ready to begin operations the first of the coming week. The company has three valuable veins now available and two more slopes which will contain three more veins fully as valuable as the ones first mentioned.

Mr. Levi S. Davis is president and General Manager of the company and Wm. Brown General Superintendent of the mines. It is the aim of the company to make the Willow Springs enterprise the leading industry of Lincoln County. Many men will be employed and this means that all that can possibly be employed of Carrizozo labor will be used and this in turn means more business for our merchants as the money will be spent at home. The coal will be sold to consumers direct which will eliminate the middle man's profit which the consumer must pay. The coal stands the highest test in analysis, being equal to the best quality mined; lowest in ash and highest in heat units. Mr. Brown the superintendent moved his family here this week and will start operations at once. The company will establish a local office in Carrizozo where orders will be filled. The company has an ad in this issue of the Outlook that will interest the public.

Big Hearted Subscriber

The following letter received at this office this week from one of our subscribers shows that there still remains in this world, people who firmly believe that newspaper men have a right to live. The letter, brimful of the milk of human kindness follows: Gentlemen:

"Enclosed find $2.00 for which please credit me with one year's subscription to the Outlook, I wish to thank you for the patience you exercise with subscribers, who are in arrears during these times of the H. C. of L. I hope all your subscribers are not so slow in paying as I am and if they are, you boys would do the public a favor if you would tell us how you manage to live. I surely get more than my money's worth in reading your papers."

This warm hearted subscriber fails to do himself justice in his letter, for he is not in arrears but uses his good judgement to see that he renews his subscription before it expires. Moral: Go thou and do likewise.

To School by Air

Mincola, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Seymour E. J. Cox and her son, Seymour, Jr. age 11, and Aviator Bloek arrived here from Birmingham, N. Y., by airplane today, completing an aerial trip from Houston, Texas. The boy is to attend school at Highland-on-the-Hudson.

Train Load of Buicks

A train load of Buick autos passed through here Thursday enroute to San Francisco. There were 270 of the cars which represents in money $54,000. They were being conveyed to the coast on new flat cars all of which were from the Frisco line.

Foul Play Seen In Airmen's Death

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 9.—Lieut. Frederick B. Watterhouse and Cecil H. Connolly, American aviators lost in Mexico, were apparently murdered after landing near Las Animas, Mexico, according to members of the San Francisco geological survey party which arrived here from Las Animas bay Saturday with the corroboration of the statement of Joseph Allen Richards, who claimed to have located the bodies of the American aviators, J. Vandergraft and H. R. Crane of the geological survey party, brought teeth taken from skulls of the two bodies found by their party near Las Animas Bay. These were delivered to army dental surgeons for identification. They said that one of the skulls was badly crushed and the body showed evidences of stab wounds on the arms.

The relaxed position of one of the bodies indicated that death had come while asleep, while the other indicated by tense muscles a fight had followed the attack on the two Americans, the geologists stated here.

The airplane flown by the Americans was found 20 miles inland. It is believed the aviators were forced to land, abandoned their plane and then walked to the seacoast in the hope of flagging a passing steamer, when they were killed.

Donations to Legion Library

The local Post of the American Legion announces the following contributions to its Library:

LEVER, Knight of the Guinn, Davenport Dunn, Jack Hinton, Harry Lorrequer, Tom Burke of Ours, Charles O'Malley, Waverly Novels, (Scott) Waverly, Guy Mannering, Antiquary, Old Mortality. GIBBONS: Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.

Red Sox Win Pennant

The world's championship pennant will fly from Redland field, Cincinnati, next season, the deciding game being played Thursday in favor of the Red Sox.

The attendance for the series was 236,928 and the receipts exclusive of war tax, $722,414. Of this the players receive $260,849.75 of the money taken in during the first five games.

The winners' share is $117,157.68, which will give $5,207.01 to the participating athletes. This is more than the salaries of most of them, it is said. The Sox players will distribute 24 shares of $3,254.36 each.

WRECK KILLS 60 ON RAILWAY IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 8.—Sixty persons were killed Saturday in the wreck of the Laredo-Mexico City passenger train, which was derailed between Venegas and Saltillo. Belief is expressed that a complete survey of the wreckage will show that at least 15 more were killed in the accident.

The train left Laredo Saturday and was very heavily loaded, especially with second class passengers, among whom all deaths occurred. The casualties among the first class passengers were limited to more or less serious injuries.

The wreck occurred on the National lines and information regarding it was given out here Saturday night at the Mexican Central Railway offices.

One-Day Trip Around The World

Boston, Oct. 9.—A one-day airplane trip around the world will soon be possible, if the plans made by Bleriot and other French aviators develop successfully, declared Lieut. Commander A. C. Reed, of the famous trans-Atlantic seaplane NC-4 in a speech here.

Reed said that Bleriot told him that with the aid of French inventions now being worked out a speed of 1,000 miles an hour and an altitude of 60,000 feet could be maintained.

An Even Dozen Trips Across the "Pond"

Chas. Stimmel, who returned from the Naval service last week, has had a remarkable experience. He was in the Naval Transport service, conveying soldiers to the scene of the conflict. His vessel made twelve trips during which many narrow escapes were experienced. Fights, in order to preserve the lives of Uncle Sam's fighting men were numerous, but the enemy was in every engagement easily routed. Mr. Stimmel will remain at home for an indefinite period.

Pleasant Birthday Party

Tuesday Oct. 7th was the 9th birthday for little Vera Richard and in view of this fact, Mrs. Richard entertained the friends of her daughter in honor of the event. Thirty-four little guests were present and Mrs. Richard assisted by Mrs. W. W. McLean and Miss Lucille Lindsay, who is Miss Vera's school teacher, arranged a pleasant program consisting of games, singing, which was interspersed with dainty refreshments. The scene of merriment lasted throughout the afternoon, the little hostess being the recipient of many thoughtful and handsome presents.

Dr. Cole Indisposed

The absence of the school notes from this issue is due to the fact that Dr. E. E. Cole has been ill for the major portion of the week. He is better, however, and his interesting notes will appear next week.

Plan to Reclaim Disabled Yanks

Federal Board Estimates That 50,000 Will Have to Be Fitted for Vocations

7,356 ALREADY IN TRAINING

Government Works on Four Year Program, but Funds Are Needed to Complete Plans—Board Reviews 1,000 Cases a Day.

Washington.—Working to overcome the handicaps of men injured in the war the federal government is striving to place the vocationally disabled soldier back in the economic ranks of the country, able to compete with other "whole" men and to earn an independent income for himself. According to information just made public by the federal board for vocational education it is likely that as many as 50,000 men who served in the war will have to be re-educated, either vocationally or occupationally.

Under this plan the federal board is now working on what is practically a four-year program, although appropriations so far have been made only up to July, 1920. In another month, it is estimated, 17,000 men will be approved to go into immediate training with the opening for the fall terms of the professional and technical schools of the country. The 40,000 or 50,000 men disabled in the service of the country will all be placed in training for various lines of activity and nearly all of them will have completed rehabilitation by the summer of 1923. By far the majority of the men to be rehabilitated will have finished their retraining, it is expected, within a year or two years, some of them in less than six months, and will be back on their feet in that time in professional and industrial ranks.

May Extend Work.

So far no provision has been made by Congress for rehabilitating men whose disabilities do not amount to a vocational or occupational handicap. It is said by those best informed on reconstruction legislation that congress may yet be asked to provide some means of compensatory training, as well as the compensation already paid through the war risk bureau to men who have simply suffered physical disabilities, without economic loss to them, in their country's service. To carry out such a program, it is estimated that the federal government would have to expend upwards of half a billion dollars.

Up to the present time the vocational education board has got in touch with some 163,000 men and has actually surveyed and interviewed 110,135 soldiers, sailors and marines injured in service during the war. The majority of these will not be able to obtain retraining under the act of congress as it now stands, even with recent amendments.

All of the men more than 10 per cent disabled will receive money compensation to the extent to which they are disabled, but only those whose disabilities mean a handicap to them in the occupation or vocation they followed or in ordinary lines of work can be retrained and fitted for a new trade or profession. Of those already interviewed 14,870 have been approved for training, and 7,356 of these have actually been placed in training. Several thousand additional men will have been approved by October.

According to recent figures reported to the bureau of war risk insurance by the army, 146,433 men have been discharged from service with a disability.

"Only cases showing 10 per cent disability have been reported," the report states. "At this rate it seems probable that the total number of cases of disability resulting from the war and entitled to (monetary) compensation will be close to 200,000."

A central case board has been established in Washington to finally approve all cases sent in by the distant boards. This system, it is explained, is necessary because the board is operating under a budget system of expense from congress. This board reviews an average of 1,000 cases a day.

Should a more liberal law be passed opening up possibilities for training for such a group of men it is now estimated it would take at least $350,000,000 to pay the support, tuition, and textbook cost alone. Further provision would have to be made for traveling expenses of the men, medical attention, and mechanical appliances and for equipment and administration of the broader law. At present the board is paying the tuition, traveling expenses, textbook cost, and other special expenses for the men it approves, in addition to paying $100 to men with dependents and $30 a month to men without dependents, and family allowances to the former class.

See Ship Which Routed Foe Subs

Thousands Pay to Get View of Great Britain's Mystery Craft.

DEVELOPS 23-KNOT SPEED

First of the "Hush" Craft the British Public Has Been Permitted to See at Close Range—Doughboys Inspect Ship.

London.—Thousands of persons waited for hours to get a close-up peep at the P-31, a British antisubmarine "mystery" ship, which was moored off Queen Victoria embankment for a two days' public inspection at the close of the official peace celebrations. The P-31 was the first of the "hush" craft the public was permitted to see at close range.

It was only ten yards from the embankment to the quaint looking "about fighter," but the intervening distance had to be made in small boats. These each carried eight passengers, and the fare was one shilling, so the water-men's pockets soon were bulging, but there was no complaint about "profiteering."

Doughboys Inspect Ship.

Among the curious who swarmed over the vessel were a number of American soldiers. Some of them took a peculiar interest in the guided explanations and comment on the boat's "trick" fittings—her geared turbines, gadgets, depth-charge throwers and paravanes.

It recalled to them a night of Perth through which they passed from Southampton or Winchester across the submarine and mine-infested English channel, en route to Havre or some other French port—and the war. That night of fearful expectancy passed safely, they had marvelled at the efficiency of the convoy craft which they knew had been off in the darkness somewhere, plowing through rolling breakers, eager for an encounter—with its frequent aftermath of "oil and bubbles" from a vanquished undersea boat.

But as these doughboy spectators heard a member of the crew of the "Hush" ship say: "She does everything but top-tilt-tilt," and saw others demonstrate parts of the ship's fighting equipment hitherto kept secret, they understood why they had been so secure.

Twenty-three-Knot Speed.

The "P-31" is 244 feet long, with narrow beam, seven-foot draft and equipped with independent engines, fore and aft—that can speed her through heavy seas at 23 knots an hour. Built high forward and low at the stern, the vessel has somewhat the appearance of a submarine—an effect that her designers intended.

"Fritz sometimes would think she was a 'sub' and would open fire on her—but when she slewed around in her own length and got into action Helms was sorry he had spoken," said a sailor who had been through eight engagements on the fighter.

There had been other brushes with enemy craft, he explained, adding, "but unless you can bring home a bit of the corpse, the admiralty say, 'not proven.' It's no use to tell them about the 'oil and bubbles,' they're no proof, because Fritz used to release oil and bubbles to make us waste ammunition."

MADE REAL SPORT

Bulls Not Always Easy Victims in Arena.

One Animal So Noted for Its Fighting Qualities as to Be Deemed Invincible—Imported Texan Furnished Excitement.

The foreador has not always been the hero of the bull ring. There was once a bull that earned the plaudits of a Spanish arena on more than one occasion by clearing it of his antagonists. Strangely enough the bull neither killed nor injured any man, but he did put to flight every torreador, matador, picador, chuto or banderillero who dared to enter the ring with him; and, although the crowds came to see him slain, his conduct proved so valiant that the people demanded that his life be spared.

This bull was named Lechuzo. His first appearance in the arena was made at San Lucar. He so suddenly cleared the ring of his enemies that the people rose in admiration and demanded his reprieve, for despite his bravery, he would have been treacherously approached and put to death in accordance with the usual practice had not the people intervened.

Again at Cordoba upon the healing of the wounds inflicted upon him by the picadors at San Lucar, Lechuzo drove all his enemies before him and again his life was spared at the demand of the spectators.

So in time, Lechuzo began to be regarded as invincible, and finally he ended his days in peace at the age of ten years.

Some years ago a herd of Texas bulls were imported from their native land to Seville to give special attraction to a bullfight of more than ordinary importance. These American bulls furnished the Spaniards with some interesting sport.

The first of the intended victims when confronted in the ring by horse and picador wholly neglected the horse, but paid instant and undivided attention to the man. The bull bellowed as if from sheer delight at the anticipated encounter and attacked the picador furiously. He pressed the fighter so hard that, defense being useless, the man sought safety in inglorious flight by scaling the barrier erected between the audience and the ring as a provision of safety.

The picador was ardently and efficiently assisted over the barrier by the horns of the animal and was followed so closely that he narrowly escaped with his life by reaching a convenient gallery. The bull did his best to get at him, but, finding this impossible, looked about for other game.

The stone seats in the enclosure at Seville were ten feet above the ground, and this height has always been an insurmountable barrier for a bull, but at this time things were different, for as soon as the Texan bull saw the throng above his head he stepped back, and the next instant he was among them.

Before the people could escape he had tossed half a dozen of them into the ring, but they were all rescued by the ring attendants. The stone seats cleared, the steer returned to the ring, and seeing no one else to whom he might throw the gaze of battle, he took the exact center of the ring and bellowed his defiance to the world. Meantime the management had got busy, and a soldier with a Mauser was summoned from a nearby barracks and the bull's life was ingloriously ended.

Her Other Boarder.

Tilts Clinger says that in asking for accommodations at a strange place yesterday she inquired if there were any other boarders. "No," replied the landlady, "unless it's my husband, and he can quit any time he wants to."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Largest and Smallest Engines.

A young jeweler of Hillsboro, N. D., has made a tiny engine, run by compressed air, which is only three-quarters of an inch long and weighs only 2 1/2 grains. The diameter of the cylinder bore is 28-1000 of an inch, the diameter of the flywheel is 3-64 of an inch and its stroke is 88-1000 of an inch. Constructed with this is a valve high, weighs 88 tons, and has a water-opening 9 feet across, so that an ant-eater's tail of man can stand in it.

Almost Conquered From Ground.

For some time experiments have been carried out in various countries with the object of controlling aircraft from the ground, and a French machine succeeded recently—on a prescribed course with certain specified delays—in covering a distance of 120 kilometers (about 120 miles), and in landing, when required, in a certain altitude. A similar machine has been developed in the United States which, according to a recent statement, can travel without a pilot some 100 miles and land close to a designated post.

WATERSPOUT WRECKS HOUSE

Debris Strwn Along Connecticut Coast for Distance of Two Miles.

New York.—Reports came from Norwalk, Conn., of damage done by a cyclone and waterspout which passed along Long Island sound.

After severe thunder storms from the east and west met, a waterspout was seen to form about a half mile off shore at Koton Point. It was at least 100 feet high.

The spout traveled a mile and a half, then at Betts Island, Norwalk, it struck the forty-five foot launch Anna and lifted the cabin off, leaving the rest of the launch undamaged.

Eight men who had come from New York in the launch were in a house near the shore. The house was moved several feet off its foundation by the waterspout and the house and attic were carried away and smashed to pieces. The debris was strewn along the coast for two miles.

Ten Million Are Coming

Europe Expects Greatest Exodus in History.

United States Warned to Take Steps to Guard Against Being Swamped.

London.—The greatest exodus in history is looked for as soon as Europe finds the necessary transportation facilities. Information gathered by the British government indicates 10,000,000 persons are eager to leave the continent. The situation is regarded as full of peril.

Britain, fully aware of all that this exodus will mean, will continue its immigration restrictions. A government official said:

"Britain cannot sustain any more than it can, and the emigrants will likely seek homes in the United States."

Officials here are inclined to warn the United States to take steps guarding against being swamped.

British officials hope some 2,000,000 Jews of eastern Europe will go to Palestine, but no one has any idea of how to sustain the rest of the would-be emigrants except by such aid as to make it possible for them to stay in their respective native countries.

Storage of food, lack of production, and unsettled political and social conditions are expected to last for a long time all over Europe. Passenger ships are booked months ahead, but there are not enough remain for carrying over the most important and immediate traffic.

Many provinces in which 70 per cent of the communes are without telephone service are authorized to lease bonds jointly with the communes to extend the wire facilities.

Registration of Births and Deaths

The regulations recently passed by the State Board of Health for the registration of births and deaths, and the disposal of the dead are now in effect. Blank forms and instructions have been placed in the hands of local health officers, from whom they may be obtained by the public.

The salient points of the regulations are as follows:

DEATHS—From now on, no dead body shall be buried or otherwise disposed of unless a permit therefor has been issued by the local health officer or his representative.

To obtain this permit, a death certificate must first be filed with the local health officer by the undertaker or person in charge of the body, which certificate must be made upon the form supplied by the State Commissioner of Health through the local health officers, and must give all the facts as to the death, the cause of the death being stated by the attending physician, if there was one, and if not, by the health officer, justice of the peace or other proper official acting as coroner.

BIRTHS—Births must be registered with the local health officer or his representative within ten days by the physician, or midwife, and if there be neither, then by the parent, upon the form supplied by the State Commissioner of Health through the local health officer.

STILLBIRTHS must be registered, both as births and as deaths, and burial permits must be obtained.

The local health officer must make and retain a copy of each birth and death certificate, and on the tenth of each month, and forward all original birth and death certificates to the State Commissioner of Health, who will permanently bind, index and preserve these records.

The permanent local record will be filed with the city or county clerk.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one "cured" case that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

"That Stupid Boy"

By ALLEN CHAPPELL.

Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.

"Drat that stupid boy!" John Drew, proprietor of an extensive factory, uttered the words with vim and threw down his pen, which he had poked into the inkwell to find it full of red instead of black fluid.

"Don't scold him, Mr. Drew," coaxed Lettie Duncan, cashier of the establishment and a general favorite with everybody about it.

"But I can't have this kind of work going on," remonstrated her employer. "Yesterday Jerry mailed all the letters with a one-cent stamp and they came back for extra postage. He seems to be wool-gathering half of the time."

"I happen-to-know-the-reason-why," spoke Miss Duncan, "and I had better reveal it to you. I guess Jerry Lawton is a thoroughly good boy, but he came here with a great object in view and it has so obsessed him that all he thinks of is wedding trousseau."

Mr. Drew regarded his informant with a wondering and incredulous stare. "You are jesting," he observed. "Surely you don't mean to intimate that Jerry is contemplating matrimony?"

"Surely not, but his sister is. Jerry is something of a hero, Mr. Drew. It seems that his sister is to marry a quite worthy young man next month. Her people are poor and Jerry has been working and scraping and saving to surprise her by handing her the price of a complete bridal outfit."

"Well, well!" commented Mr. Drew indulgently. "We must keep track of this romance, encourage it and help the happy couple along." He repressed a slight sigh, and his eyes sought those of Miss Duncan. She smiled back at him, flushing slightly, for she fancied she surmised what was in his thoughts. As to himself, there was a moment of madness as he thought of a wife he had loved and lost.

The hum of industry caused the incident of the moment to pass into forgetfulness for the time being. Jerry came in swinging the satchel containing the mail. He placed it on a desk as Miss Duncan called to him.

"Is the auto out, Mr. Jerry?" she inquired.

"Yes, ma'am," he responded.

"I must get to the branch plant with the pay roll," she said. "You can drive me over, if you like."

"Crackey! that will be fine," chirped Jerry. "Yes, ma'am, I'll take charge of it," as Miss Duncan went to the safe and filled a satchel with packages of bank notes and rouleaux of coin. He dropped the satchel to a chair to open for Miss Duncan a wardrobe where her wraps were. She had come orders to leave with the stenographers and her other assistants. Then: "All ready, Jerry," and he hurried out, satchel in hand, and tossed it on the rear seat of the machine. Miss Duncan got in. Jerry proudly seated himself at the wheel and directed the machine down the plant alley, turned into the street, almost came bump up against another auto waiting there, and his jaw dropped as one of the men sprang to the front seat, the other to the rear. Jerry's eyes were like miniature moons—Miss Duncan screamed.

"Quit that, or you'll have trouble!" sounded gruff, menacing tones and a revolver gleamed. Its possessor shot out his free hand, seized the satchel and with his companion backed towards the other automobile in waiting.

"Don't you make an outcry or a move to follow," was ordered threateningly to Jerry, "or there will be a rain of lead." Then the driver and his colleagues spun away and Miss Duncan, white to the lips, murmured faintly:

"Give the alarm, Jerry."

"Thunder! a real hold-up," gasped Jerry, and ran to the nearest factory entrance and shouted out that the branch pay roll had vanished.

All was excitement and turmoil as once more in the office of the works Lettie and Jerry were surrounded by an eager interested crowd.

"Hold on!"

It was Jerry who uttered the words in a ringing shout and with a forward pounce. Of a sudden his glance had fallen to what he at first supposed to be the mail satchel. Now he knew better. He seized the object, lifted it, gave it a swing and yelled hysterically:

"Hurrah! They got the wrong one." "What's that?" demanded Mr. Drew. "I made a mistake. Oh, say! Miss Duncan, we've fooled those hold-up men grandly. It's the paper mail satchel they've got, and the money—"

DO STOCK YARDS HAVE A STRANGLE HOLD ON OUR MEAT SUPPLY?

Buying and selling cattle in Union Stock Yards, Chicago. The men in the pens are the ones who must judge each steer and determine what he is worth.

Are the great stock yards of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and elsewhere hotbeds of monopolistic control which succeeds in mulcting the farmer on the one hand, and the consumer who buys meat, on the other hand? This will be one of the questions threshing over in the discussion of the Kenyon bill now before a committee of the Senate.

If these big markets, where millions upon millions of dollars change hands, have any sort of a strangle-hold on our food resources, few there would be who would not say, root them. Yet equally few, perhaps, could give you any sort of a vivid word-picture of what takes place in these markets through which flows much of our farm wealth.

Separate From Packing Plants. The "stock yards" are synonymous in the minds of many people with all packingdom. This is error number one. They are operated as corporations wholly distinct from the packing plant companies that cluster around them.

The stock yards perform two functions: they are unloading, feeding and routing stations for live stock; and markets for buying and selling. As buying and selling places, they are among the most interesting spots in the world—places where one may see a nation at its bartering. Hugo auction stations where a fraction of a point counts, and counts big.

The Chicago stock yards, as the most notable example, will receive in a day anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000 cattle, not to mention hogs and sheep. These would represent shipments by many farmers. Each farmer puts his cattle into the hands of a commission firm who acts as his agent. The "stock in trade" of the commission firm is a satisfied clientele among the farmers—the better bargainers they are for a long price, the more the farmer is disposed to patronize them.

A Game for Experts. It is a titanic game, and one for experts. On the one side are arrayed the commission men, and on the other the buyers representing packing concerns, brokers and others. Both sides know their business, which is to say that they know full well what the receipts of the day are and their relation to the requirements, and they know cattle.

The big auction begins. Not from a block, but an auction for all that. Buyers, mounted on ponies, scurry hither and thither, making a bid on one lot here and on another lot there. The commission man will hold the bid in abeyance, dicker for a few points higher price and awaiting the arrival of another man on a pony who may make him a better offer. Every commission man is a competitor of all the other commission men; and every buyer is a competitor of all the other buyers.

We say that all of these men know cattle. A steer is not a standardized commodity. Nature makes him what he is. The contour of his haunches, the build of his body and his make-up in general have everything to do with what he is worth as a beef animal. No one can determine his value but the men in the pens—the commission men and the buyers.

Buyers Represent Many Firms. Many think that these cattle are all purchased by the big packers, which is far from being the case. Besides the buyers for the big packers there are always in the Chicago yards from a hundred to a hundred and fifty other buyers on the scene, many of them representing firms that are not located near the stock yards or even in the same city. All told, the large packers do only 44 per cent of the meat animal slaughtering of the entire country.

The penalty which awaits the buyer who will not bid up to true values is that the other buyers take the cattle away from him and his firm will be without its requirements. On the other hand the commission men cannot stick it out for an exorbitant price; for the buyers would cut down on the amounts of their purchases. There are some people who will buy meat at any price, but the majority of people reduce their meat purchases precisely as the prices mount upward. The buyers in the stock yards reflect this attitude of the general public almost as accurately as a thermometer indicates the temperature.

The Arms of Supply and Demand. In other words, the stock yards are the meeting places of two tremendous powers of the economic world—Supply and Demand. Any one who visits one of these places, even as the most casual observer, and watches what occurs there, will give up any illusion he may have about monopoly or control. Too many buyers and sellers are involved, and judging the value of an individual steer or a pen full of steers is altogether too complicated a matter to cover by any sort of agreement in advance.

The Kenyon bill would make it illegal for any packers to have financial holdings in stock yards corporations. Common sense rightly asks, "Why?" How such holdings, which, where they exist, are nothing more than financial backing of a worthy enterprise, can control the men in the pens who are hired to use their judgment, is too deep to be seen at a glance. The advocates of the bill should be forced to explain. And how a lack of such holdings would prevent control or monopoly, if such things were possible, is another thing which the proponents of the bill should be able to elucidate.

SMALL PACKERS OPPOSE LICENSE

Cincinnati meat packers in drawing resolutions against the licensing of all packers doing interstate business, brought attention to the fact that the proposed legislation embodied in the Kenyon and Kendrick bills, if enacted, would have a tendency to drive hundreds of small packing firms out of the field of interstate operations. This would be the preference forced upon them as against operating under a licensing system which would be a continued menace of interference.

And he and Lettie were quite delighted in helping along a romance, and somehow this nurtured the sentimentality in their own lives, and there was the prospect of another wedding.

"That blessed boy!" commented Mr. Drew, forgetting the past stupidity of the lad who had brought about all this happiness.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil.)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

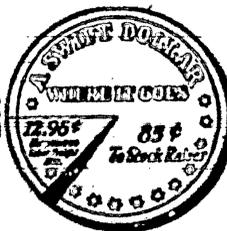

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

Let us send you a "Swift Dollar." It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

To Stockholders In The Baker Steam Motor Co.

That owners of shares in the Baker Steam Car & Mfg. Co. and the public generally might be informed as to the exact status of the plans and plant of the company and as to the character of the organization behind the Baker Steam Car and the Car itself, A. G. Bracy, New Mexico representative of the company, asked a number of Albuquerque men of wide experience in motor vehicle manufacture, repair and sale, to accompany him to the company's plant at Pueblo, for an investigation of the property and the company.

The men who made this trip and who conducted a thorough and exhaustive investigation into every department of the plant and into all of the company's affairs, are F. N. McCloskey, of the McCloskey Auto company, 408 W. Copper avenue; and E. C. Butler, owner of the Butler Garage at 5th street and Copper avenue.

The following letter is the result of their investigation and states their conclusion:

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 4, 1919.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Having heard a great deal about the Baker Steam Car, it was our pleasure, on September 22nd, to go to Pueblo, Colo., to investigate this western industry. We found the company to have a modern factory, well located, and well equipped with machinery. Four cars are completed and two trucks are now being constructed, after which the company will start production on a large scale. At the automobile display at the Colorado state fair, then being held in Pueblo, the seven passenger touring car won the admiration of all. Our investigations were entirely satisfactory and we will be pleased to answer the questions of any one who may be interested in the future of this western industry. This company is worthy of careful investigation.

F. N. McCLOSKEY,
E. C. BUTLER.
(W. W. Stadman is the local agent for the Baker Steam Motor Co. and his report is in harmony with the above.)

The strength of the army, as reported for Sept. 23, showed 33,005 officers and men in Europe, 2,400 in Siberia, 7,000 on sea en route home, and 304,000 in the United States. After Oct. 31 an average strength of 232,250 will be maintained.

The eight former German liners allocated to the United States after the armistice, including the former Hamburg-American steamer Imperator, the second largest ship afloat, are to be turned over to the shipping board by the War Department as soon as necessary surveys can be made. The British ministry of shipping had expected that the Imperator would be turned over to its agents at Hoboken, and the vessel already had been promised to the Canard line for service between New York and England.

Approximately 10,000 emergency officers of the army who desire to remain in the service must be discharged by Nov. 1, the War Department announced, in order to bring the commissioned strength down to 12,000 officers, as directed by Congress in a bill signed by President Wilson.

The United States army has been demobilized 80 per cent since the armistice, the War Department announced. The decrease in numbers totals 2,302,000. The present strength of the army was announced by the department as 378,500 officers and men. Of these, 23,000 are in Europe, 2,477 in Siberia; the remainder, in the United States, are scattered.

Establishment of direct trade radio communication between Denmark and the United States is planned by the Danish government. A dispatch from Copenhagen to the Danish legation said the Danish ministry for public works had announced in the upper house that his department was working out plans for "a great transatlantic wireless station near Copenhagen which will put Denmark in direct wireless communication with the United States."

As the train with Louis and several hundred other prisoners was passing a German prison camp under guard of French soldiers, Louis, or some other German prisoner, threw food to the camp prisoners. One of the French guards opened fire.

The Niue Courant reassures its readers by saying that the definite decision attributed to the internationalized council to demand the delivery of the ex-kaiser need not alarm the Netherlands; that the viewpoint of the Netherlands government is already known on the other side. Governor Thomas E. Campbell has accepted an invitation to ride with the winner of the Los Angeles to Phoenix airplane race, which will be one of the outstanding attractions of the Arizona State Fair to be held in Phoenix Nov. 3-8, inclusive.

The much advertised elk hunt in the Siguerey national forest in Arizona which was to have been conducted from Oct. 17 to 31, has been called off until next season by State Game Warden Prochaska on account of inability to get the hunting district posted.

Ore bearing rich samples of cuprite and azurite and which will run between 30 and 40 per cent, was struck on the 50-foot level in the Night Hawk mine, near Don Luis, Cochise county, Arizona, according to word reaching Lowell from Don Luis recently.

The New Mexico highway department has received notice that the secretary of agriculture has approved the statement for federal aid project No. 34 in Rio Arriba county. This will now be surveyed and plans and specifications prepared. This road is twenty miles from Chama to Tierra Amarilla.

Arizona public school teachers last year received the highest average wage, with one exception, of any state in the Union. The average salary, according to reports on file with the superintendent of public instruction, C. O. Case, for men was $131.07 per month and for women $97.15. This year salaries have been increased to such an extent that a 10 per cent increase will be shown.

The road up Santa Fe Cañon is being further improved. The New Mexico highway commission has loaned trucks and supplied the culverts to repair the section of this road from the Santa Fe city limits to the boundary of the national forest. A dozen convicts are employed in the work. The repair work is under the direction of N. H. Thorpe, county road superintendent. The forest and the county have co-operated in improving the section in the national forest.

In the Holbrook, Ariz., field it is stated that four rigs are actually drilling and two more wells will be under way at an early date. The Wind River company has taken up the drilling operations on the Hop Wind river well and is down about 2,500 feet. The Holbrook Oil Company is drilling and is in what is called the Coconino sandstone. The Adamson Oil and Land Company is down about 1,500 feet. The Black Cañon syndicate is said to be making good progress with an O'Kell core drill.

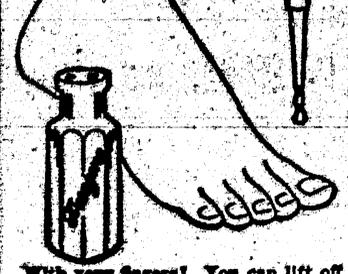

The State Fair commission announced another superb attraction for the coming season to be held in Phoenix, Nov. 3 to 8, inclusive, in the arrangements which have been entered into with El Paso and Phoenix auto dealers for the staging of a $10,000 road race between the metropolises of the Southwest.

The Yuma, Ariz., Indian school won $46 in prizes at the California State Fair. The Yuma school won the $30 first prize for having the finest school exhibit at the fair, the first prize of $30 for the best display of farm products, and Tom Osborn, a day pupil at the Yuma school, won the first prize of $5 for the best written exercise displayed in the school department.

The mill of the Grant County Copper Company in the Santa Rita district, New Mexico, whose mining operations are in charge of E. T. Link, is nearing completion. There is a large quantity of ore on the dump, ready for milling, while vast quantities have been blocked out for mining. An immense concrete tank for water to supply the mill recently was completed on the property.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freecorn costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freecorn" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

QUICK! YOUR HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE"

Check ugly dandruff! Stop hair coming out and double its beauty.

A little "Danderine" cools, cleanses and makes the feverish, itchy scalp soft and pliable; then this stimulating tonic penetrates to the famished hair roots, revitalizing and invigorating every hair in the head, thus stopping the hair falling out, or getting thin, dry or falling.

After a few applications of "Danderine" you seldom find a fallen hair or a particle of dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.--Adv.

REJECTED 36 AMENDMENTS

SENATE SWEEPS ASIDE MANY AMENDMENTS TO THE TREATY.

SPEECHES ARE LIMITED

BOTH SIDES ELATED, CLAIMING VICTORY FOR SHOWING MADE.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington, Oct. 3.—At last reaching the stage of action in its consideration of the peace treaty, the Senate swept aside in quick succession thirty-six of the forty-five amendments which had been written into the document by the foreign relations committee.

Of the nine amendments yet to be acted on, six relate to the Shantung section, two propose to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, and one would limit American representation on the reparations commission.

In the absence of a definite agreement for disposition of these proposals, Senate leaders thought that the debate might run on for several days before another roll call is taken.

Seventeen Republicans, on the other hand, lined up against the first committee proposal to be considered, and most of them stood with the Democrats on all succeeding roll calls.

At adjournment the treaty advocates declared themselves elated at the day's work and the opposition leaders also were claiming a victory on the showing made for their amendments.

They mustered a minimum strength of thirty-one, which, with absences, would be sufficient, they declare, to insure the treaty's defeat unless unsatisfactory qualifications are accepted.

Under a special agreement, speeches on the amendments were limited to five minutes and nearly half the Senate membership got into the running debate which occupied most of the day.

The Third Red Cross Campaign

The present Red Cross Campaign is a combined drive for funds and for membership in the Red Cross. The war is over but there is a vast amount of finishing up work to do, destitute families must be looked up, reported and cared for, soldiers are looking to the Red Cross to assist them to get their pensions and their insurance converted. So much after war work has been shifted to the Red Cross that it has been found necessary to hire a paid Secretary for the County. All Counties of the State have at least one.

In addition to the work already outlined the local Chapters are allowed to take up any home work that seems to need special attention. Having in mind the terrible epidemic of Flu and other diseases of last winter, the Executive Committee has decided to secure the services of a graduated Red Cross Nurse for the Schools of the County for the seven months that will yet remain of the school term after Nov. 1, 1919. The plan of having a Red Cross nurse for the schools has been tried and is growing in favor in other places. The plan is to have the nurse visit all the schools of the County, possibly in company with the County Superintendent of Schools, give instructions in sanitation and prevention of diseases and hold herself in readiness to go to any community where her services are most urgently needed.

The Executive Committee has figured closely and find that in order to pay our assessment to the National Organization, pay the Red Cross nurse and her expenses while traveling, pay our Secretary and traveling expenses it will be necessary that Lincoln County raise at least $3,000.

This amount is less than has been raised in other campaigns, but those who were in the last Liberty Bond Campaign know that it is hard to get people to realize that it is just as necessary to give now as at any other time and every one is urged to put in to the campaign their best efforts. In the present instance five-sixths of the money collected will be used in Lincoln county.

It has been decided upon to have the women and men work together in this campaign as heretofore, but each local organization is advised to include on its committee one or more women. The Chairman of the Drive will appoint a local Chairman for each precinct of the county, this Chairman will in turn select his committee. The appointees for the various precincts of the county are yet to be announced.

The $3,000 to be raised by Lincoln county will be apportioned among the various precincts of the county according to the taxable value of the property as shown on the assessment rolls.

In the campaign no subscriptions will be solicited until the 2nd. of Nov. Up to that time the campaign will be entirely educational and an effort to reach every man and woman in the county will be made. The 81 school teachers of the county will be drafted into service, the American Legion will do its bit and every man or woman, boy or girl in the county is asked to volunteer their services and hold themselves in readiness to respond to a call from the County Chairman or their local organization. Four minute speakers will be used and a speaker will be sent to us by the State Organization.

One of the organizations that has been placed at the disposal of the Chairman of the Drive is the Boy Scouts. A "Flying Squad" for special duty has already reported. They are at the services of the local organization here and if they are needed in other precincts their services can be had by applying to the county chairman. In some cases they may be sent out a half day in advance of the speakers to distribute circulars, assist to prepare the hall for the meetings or do anything that the local organization may have for them to do. The Squad consists of the following boys from the local schools:

Roy Stimmel, Dayton Herron, Daniel Elliot, Herbert Tennis, Cpl., Sydney Hust, William Johnson, Charles Scott, John Boyd. In charge, Linza Branum.

Miss Ula L. Edmiston has been appointed Secretary and Treasurer for the Drive.

Further announcements through the county papers may be looked for from time to time.

They Are Your Neighbors

These folks are your neighbors. They work for the telephone company. They are regular people, just like you, your friends and family.

They eat food, wear clothes, live in houses, talk, laugh, sing, cry, get peevish (and get over it), enjoy the movies and home-made pies, just like you.

These folks are trying hard to give you the best telephone service in the world. They take pride in their work and in their company; but, sometimes, when they hear you complaining about paying a few dollars a year for telephone service they become worried and wonder how they are going to make ends meet—for they know their wages depend on what you pay for your telephone.

Sometimes some of you forget that the telephone company is made up of folks who are just like you.

The more loyal support you give the telephone the better service it can give you.

National Forest Receipts

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 9.—The total receipts of the National Forests of Arizona for the fiscal year that ended on June 30 last were $511,880.70, and the receipts of the New Mexico forests were $354,735.69. The Arizona forests ranked second of all the state receipts, being outranked only by California. New Mexico stood sixth from the top.

Of these receipts the state of Arizona and its counties will receive $358,835.69 for roads and schools, and $45,231.18 in addition will be spent by the Forest Service in building roads within the forests. This latter fund is known as the ten per cent fund

SWEET POTATOES NEED GOOD CARE

Secrets of Success in Obtaining High Prices Are to Grade, Clean and Pack.

BIG DEMAND DURING WINTER

Clean, Neat and Attractive Packages Should Be Used for Shipping and Covered With Paper During Severe Weather.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An explanation of why farmers have not received better prices for their sweet potatoes is that they have not used proper methods of handling and marketing. In many cases the potatoes are badly bruised and cut in digging, then are put in hags or rough barrels without grading, and rushed on the market when there is an oversupply. The secrets of success in getting high prices are to grade, clean and pack the product carefully and put it upon the market when there is a keen demand. The greatest demand for sweet potatoes is, as a rule, from the middle of December to the middle of March.

Best Type for Market.

The market demands a medium-sized, uniform type of sweet potato, free from bruises or decayed spots. In grading, all undersized and the large, overgrown, crooked, broken, or bruised potatoes should be kept at home for feeding or for canning. The best potatoes will bring more money than will both the culls and the primes marketed together. Two market grades are sometimes made, the "extra selects" or "primes" and the "seconds," but the Southern farmer will do well to make just one market grade and keep the others for home use or for feeding to his live stock.

Attractive Packages.

After carefully grading, sweet potatoes should be put in clean, neat, attractive packages. Bags should never be used, as the potatoes in them become badly bruised when handled. The standard venter potato barrel with a burlap cover is often used in summer or autumn, but for winter shipment the double-headed stave barrel or light box is often used. The small type of package, such as the bushel hamper, bushel box, or basket, is gaining in popularity. A neat and attractive package of well-graded potatoes will bring a good price at almost any time, even when the market is overstocked with inferior goods. Sweet potatoes, when shipped during the winter, should be protected from the cold. When a potato becomes chilled its quality is impaired and decay soon follows. In cold weather the package should be covered with paper and the ends heated. In order to prevent chilling the potatoes. Some shippers report that it pays to line their baskets and barrels with paper.

GOOD TREATMENT FOR COLDS

Small Amount of Potassium Permanganate in Drinking Water is Quite Satisfactory.

If any birds in the flock develop colds, put as much potassium permanganate as will remain on the surface of a dime into a gallon of water and keep this mixture in their drinking water for several days, or until the symptoms of the colds have disappeared. Remove any sick birds from the flock as soon as they are noted and treat them in coops by themselves, or kill and bury them if they are not worth treating.

DROPPINGS SHOULD BE SAVED

Can Be Used to Increase Fertility of Soil and Ought to Be Carefully Stored Away.

No matter how small the flock of poultry the droppings should be carefully saved, stored and either used as fertilizer for plants or disposed of to persons who can use them to increase the fertility of the soil.

CONSTRUCTION PLAN OF A STORAGE ROOM

Natural Earth Makes Better Floor Than Concrete or Brick.

Care Exercised in Making Frame Square and Plumb Will Enable Builder to Get Structure Tight With Little Labor.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The size of the storage room should be determined by the space available and the amount of material to be stored. Natural earth makes a better floor than concrete or brick, as a certain amount of moisture is desirable. The walls of the storage room should be parallel to the walls of the cellar. Lay 2 by 4-inch scantling flat on the floor and secure them with pegs driven into the floor or by nailing them to the top of short posts set in the ground. Set 2 by 4-inch studding from this sill to the ceiling, spacing them 16 inches apart from center to center. Locate the door of the storage room at the most convenient point, making it large enough to admit barrels, boxes, etc., a good size being 2 1/2 feet wide by 3 1/2 feet high. Set the studs on either side of the door 32 inches apart, which will allow for the door and the frame. Put a header over the door, allowing one inch for the frame and seven-eighths of an inch for the sill at the bottom. Set the studs against the walls where the cellar walls and storage room walls meet. Care exercised in making the frame square and plumb will enable the builder to get the structure tight with a minimum of labor. A good room is made by covering the studding on the outside with tongue-and-groove material, but a better way is to sheath the outside with plain lumber, tack building paper on this, and side with tongue-and-groove material. This construction in connection with lath and plaster or wall board on the inside makes an excellent room.

Floor plan of a storage room in a corner of a basement. The arrangement of the shelving and bins may be changed to suit conditions. While the construction of the wall may be varied, it must be tight.

HOG GOOD LABOR EQUALIZER

Animal Can Harvest Various Crops in More Efficient Manner Than Transient Farm Hand.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Practically every farmer can plant and cultivate a larger acreage than he can harvest.

When the harvest season comes he is overworked.

Also, he has to depend on transient labor which often is unreliable.

And, after all, a considerable portion of the crop may have to go to waste because it cannot be gathered in time.

The hog, helped out by cattle and sheep, when practicable, is an excellent labor equalizer.

He harvests the corn crop more efficiently than the transient farm hand can be expected to do it—and does not have to be superintended by the owner of the farm.

He is equally efficient in harvesting rye, or clover, or alfalfa, or soy beans, or cow peas.

When the farmer makes use of the co-operative quality of the hog he has more time for essential tasks, more time to look out for his own health and happiness and that of his family, makes more money on the year's operations, and has better ground for the next year's crops.

The farm that depends on transient laborers as harvesters is likely to grow poorer year by year. The farm that uses hogs as harvesters is certain to grow more fertile with every crop.

STRAW AS WINTER ROUGHAGE

Also Advisable to Use it Liberally for Bedding as it Absorbs Liquid Manure.

Straw is too valuable to be allowed to remain unused. Fresh cut straw, as well as wheat straw, can be used as a roughage in wintering stock. It is also advisable to use it liberally as bedding for farm animals as it adds to their comfort and absorbs the liquid part of the manure, which is the most valuable portion.

MANDARIN AND WOOD DUCKS.

"Well, sir," said the Mandarin Duck, "it's nice to meet you in the zoo pond. I'd rather meet you here than in the lion house."

"Ha, ha," said the Wood Duck, "quack, quack, you're a funny fellow."

The Mandarin Duck looked much pleased to be called a funny little fellow. He was making every effort to be thought so, even if he were not as funny as he might be!

"I must tell you something quite interesting," said the Wood Duck.

"Do," said the Mandarin Duck, "I'd like to hear what you have to say."

"Not long ago," said the Wood Duck, "there was a paper which published many pictures of interesting animals from the zoo."

"Yes," he continued, "and there was a picture of our pond with many of us swimming about."

"What a great honor," said the Mandarin Duck.

"Yes, wasn't it?" said the Wood Duck.

"I do hope," he added after a few moments, "that you will not think I am conceited when I say that I heard that below the picture was written these words—or words something like these."

"Try to get the right words," said the Mandarin Duck.

"Ah, yes, I'll get the right ones. I may not get them in quite their right order. But I will certainly give them to you so you can understand them, and I will not give any wrong meaning to them. It was a great compliment paid me and I do not need to make it up! It was there, right in the paper."

"Do tell it to me, I am getting very much excited," said the Mandarin Duck.

"They said, that people should look at the picture which they said was a lovely one, but that they should principally notice the Wood Duck, the loveliest creature in the picture."

"Wasn't that nice?"

"Very nice," said the Mandarin Duck. "Well I've always said you were a handsome fellow."

"And so are you," said the Wood Duck. "I like to have such a handsome fellow for my companion."

"I am honored to think that I'm the duck chum of a duck whose picture was noticed especially in the paper."

"I don't know that it was noticed especially, only the paper said that people should notice it," the Wood Duck said.

It's Nice to Meet You.

"Enough," said the Mandarin Duck. "That's a great, great honor."

"I am beautiful because I look like you," said the Wood Duck. "I'm very, very much like you, only you're a Chinese duck and I am a home grown duck."

"I have another name, as perhaps you know—I am also called the Summer Duck."

"Yes, I knew that," said the Mandarin Duck. "I do believe it is true that they say of all the ducks in the world we're as handsome as any. Our plumage is so beautiful with so many magnificent colors. We're rather rare too, choice, you know."

"The Mr. Mandarin Ducks and the Mr. Wood Ducks are far more handsome than the Mrs. Ducks of either family," said Mr. Wood Duck.

"True, true," said Mr. Mandarin Duck, "we're a handsome lot, we Mr. Ducks, but the Mrs. Ducks have to be busy thinking of other things and doing other things too. Besides it has always been the way with our families and there has been no hard feeling about it—none at all."

"That's so," said Mr. Wood Duck. "Well, I must add that our family has a good second name for this time of the year—the Summer Duck family. Even when we're called the Wood Duck it sounds nice and cool, doesn't it?"

"You're nothing to grumble about," said Mr. Mandarin Duck, "and for that matter neither says I. My family for years have been handsome and I'm no disgrace to them," he ended proudly.

Both Possible.

"Why nerve?"
"Because is it a misfit establishment."

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look-out! Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back, wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are convenient to take, and will either give prompt relief or your money will be refunded. Ask for them at any drug store, but be sure to get the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Accept no substitutes. In sealed packages. Three also.

REALLY NOT WAITER'S FAULT

Mr. Green's Perfect Mastery of the French Language Evidently Was Too Much for Him.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Green were taking their long-talked-of holiday in France. For three months Mr. Green had been learning French—by correspondence—and thought he had mastered the language.

One afternoon the pair went into a cafe to have tea, and Green, who always insisted on doing all the talking, gave the order to the waiter. When, however, the tea things were brought, he noticed that something was missing, and spoke angrily to the waiter about it.

"My dear fellow," objected Brown, "what on earth are you saying?"

"Will you kindly refrain from making your absurd criticisms of my use of the French language?" retorted Green.

"Oh, certainly!" answered Brown. "Only it seems rather a waste of time to ask the waiter to bring you a teaspoon when what you want is a teaspoon!"—London Tit-Bits.

OLD SAYING SLIGHTLY MIXED

Familiar "Before You Could Say Jack Robinson" Does Not Convey the Right Idea.

Opinion differs as to the proper duration of a social call. "Anywhere from ten minutes to a half hour," says the woman who has a social secretary and whose daily job is "calling" to the tune of tea and wafers. "All afternoon," says the bourgeoisie, who takes along her knitting and sits down to coffee and cake. "And then," say some, "it depends upon the call. On some occasions and with different people we stay longer than others."

But Jack Robinson's calls never varied. He never stayed long enough to wear out his welcome. In fact hardly had he been announced, hardly had the servant who admitted him spoken aloud his name than he was gone.

So, as you see, "before you can say Jack Robinson" has no reference to the time it takes to say it. "As long as you can see Jack Robinson" would be more in order with its origin and significance.

White Oaks Post Office

The rumor that the post office at White Oaks was about to be discontinued caused the Outlook to investigate the matter. In conversation with some of the leading residents of the "Oaks" they claim there was no foundation in the least for the rumor. In a talk with one of the leading business men he said: "When people think White Oaks in such bad shape as to cause its post office to be taken away, they are sadly mistaken. We are about to enter an era of prosperity equal to, if not to exceed anything we have ever experienced heretofore. We have an abundance of valuable coal which we are about to begin to mine, drilling for oil is a thing of the near future, then what is to prevent White Oaks from being a better and more prosperous place than ever before. With everything in our favor, why should we discontinue our post office?"

Now It's White Oaks Coal

White Oaks seems to be the center of attraction here of late; parties have been busily engaged in leasing and negotiating with White Oaks land owners which shows that something is about to happen of vast importance in our neighboring town. Messrs. Ranniger of Oscura and Schoeller of Tularosa have made several trips to White Oaks this week and have secured leases on land and formed a company which shows they are to begin the work of mining coal in the White Oaks region. Surveyor Bennett is busily engaged in surveying from Robsart, a small station between here and Coyote, for the purpose, it is said, of ultimately laying a narrow gauge railroad track from White Oaks to Robsart which will connect with the E. P. & S. W. It is well known fact that plenty of good coal is obtainable in that section and time will tell as to who will be the first to bring it to the public use.

The Creec Leave For Scotland

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Creec, who have been sojourning here for the past six months left for their home in "Bonnie Scotland" Thursday. They expect to reach their destination at North Berwick about the 24th of the present month where they will be at home to their friends in Scotland on their estate the "Tusculum" which derived its name from an ancient villa near the city of Rome, where Mr. Creec's father becoming infatuated with the surroundings of the villa named his estate in Scotland the "Tusculum" which is a close rival of the one of his admiration near ancient Rome.

Commissioners Meet

The Honorable Board of County Commissioners met in regular session Monday and continued in session until Thursday. The budget was heavy at this quarterly meeting and the Commissioners worked hard and long to clear up all unfinished business for the quarter. By reason of the fact that the Board adjourned Thursday, the proceedings could not be run in this week's issue of the Outlook, but will appear in full next week.

Roy Hodges of Springfield, Mo., was here for several days this week visiting with the Langston family.

Fairwell Party For Mrs. Shulda

Mrs. Robert Hoffman entertained last Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. E. J. Shulda, who left for El Paso the following day to her new home in the Border City. The Hoffman home was filled to overflowing with friends of the Shulda family. Dancing and games were indulged in, and bountiful refreshments served. The guests departed for their homes at the usual retiring hour with best wishes for the future welfare of the honor guest and family in their Texas home.

U. B. M. W. E. R. S. L.

The above is the name of the organization among railway men which was represented by T. W. Kelly of Ancho, who attended a convention of that body at Detroit, Mich., two weeks ago. But we must first explain; deciphered the abbreviations are: United Brotherhood Maintenance of Way Employees Shop Laborers. Mr. Kelley, after attending the convention, visited other cities in the east, being accompanied by Mrs. Kelley and daughter Thelma.

The Whittinghams Depart

W. F. Whittingham and family left the latter part of the week for El Paso, where they will reside for the future. Mr. Whittingham will, it is said, be transferred to the Western Division, with El Paso as the point of his long rest. Their many Carrizozo friends wish them the best of everything in their new home.

Glencoe Visitors

Will T. Coe and wife, Roy Coe, H. P. Clarke and Senator J. V. Tully were visitors from Glencoe this week. While here, they took advantage of accommodations at the Crystal Theatre and saw "Bill" Hart in the "Breed of Men."

Distinguished Visitor

Miss Grace E. Ensy, Director of Junior Membership, American Red Cross will be in Carrizozo Monday evening, Oct. 13. Miss Ensy will address the public in the interest of Red Cross Work.

Mrs. Gurney Improves

Mrs. Julia Gurney, the warm-hearted proprietress of the Carrizozo Eating House, was quite ill the early part of this week but we are glad to say her condition is improving.

To Spend the Winter

Mr. J. D. Roselle, father of "Jimmy" Roselle, arrived here last Saturday from Broken Arrow, Okla., and will spend the winter with his son. They will reside at "Jimmy's" ranch for the winter season.

Mr. Nash in Carrizozo

Mr. James Nash, who according to rumor is to succeed Mr. Fairbank, paid a visit to Carrizozo Wednesday and consulted with the local officials. The result of the conference could not be learned.

To Visit Alamo

Miss Myrtle Rowland left Wednesday for Alamogordo where she will spend several weeks with friends at the "City of the Trees."
