Marylanders With Move To Un-ratify Amendment As Michigan Mobilizes 100 Men To Arrest Prohibition Agents—Fie For Shame.

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 25.—Warning that he was prepared to arrest every United States prohibition agent in the county, was issued today by State's Attorney M. S. McDonough in the Iron county prohibition dispute. He said he had arranged for one hundred picked men to carry out his orders.

McDonough called on Dalrymple to tell him that if any attempt was made to arrest any one in Iron county or to raid any private home he would arrest the federal agents.

His statement about the 100 picked men was made to newspaper men. He said a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Major A. V. Dalrymple, federal prohibition director for the central states, who arrived last night to press the prohibition raids.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 25.—Discontent with the apparent handling of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, to explain the provisions of the Volstead prohibition act before the temperance committee of the house of delegates, resolutions were introduced in both branches of the legislature rescinding Maryland's ratification of the federal prohibition amendment and authorizing the governor to institute proceedings for its annulment.

3 Killed; 3 May Die In Bandit Fight in Omaha

Herald Roberts, alleged bandit; Pedro Jimenez, Union Pacific section foreman; Steve Killbarði, Union Pacific section hand.

Those who may die: Clifford Berritt, alleged bandit. Two unidentified foreigners.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 25.

The executive committee of the American Legion of New Mexico, in session in Helen, went on record as protesting against the action of the national committee in asking congress for a cash bonus for ex-service men, declaring this action contrary to the resolutions adopted at both state and national conventions.

Mrs. Palmer Kotner, Mrs. Jack Cotton and Mrs. Edward Everett were chosen as a committee of three to organize the women's auxiliary of the American Legion, temporary state headquarters for the auxiliary to be at Gallup. The auxiliary is to be composed of wives, sisters, mothers and widows of ex-service men of the late war.

Mr. Ziegler Returns

Albert Ziegler returned Wednesday from his eastern business trip, where he journeyed three weeks ago to make purchases for his spring and summer trade. Mr. Ziegler appeared on the markets early, therefore, he bought at prices that will enable him to sell at prices that will be very reasonable taking into consideration the high prices prevailing over the country. In connection we wish to say that an investigation will prove that our business houses are underselling most of the business houses of the east and this is accomplished by getting in on the buying game early. Mr. Ziegler joined Mrs. Ziegler at Chicago, where he stopped over on his return from New York. She had been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gutnecht, but is much improved and will be home in about one week.

Serum Prepared For Horses Saves Girl's Life

Washington, Feb. 25.—It was serum prepared by veterinary scientists of the bureau of animal industry for experimental purposes in treating forage poisoning of horses that saved the life of Lena Delbane, after the six other members of her family had died from eating poisonous olives in New York, recently, according to the department of agriculture. The serum was made from the blood of a sheep that had been immunized against bacillus botulinus poisoning.

Signal Mars By Using Smoke Screen

Bryn Mawr, Pa., Feb. 25.—Use of government's surplus of smoke making material left over from the war in signaling Mars, was suggested today by James J. Crenshaw, associate professor of chemistry at Bryn Mawr college, who served in the chemical warfare section of the American expeditionary forces. Smoke screen hundreds of miles in width, he believes, would be more likely to be discerned by possible Martians than the geometrical designs which Sir Oliver Lodge suggested be laid out on the Sahara desert.

Half of Tax Roll Collected in January

Santa Fe, Feb. 25.—Practically 47 per cent of the total tax roll for 1919 was collected in the month of January, amounting to $244,798.91, the total for the year being approximately $750,000.

Last year 45 per cent of the total tax roll had been paid by this time, the amount being more than $100,000 less than for this year. In January $243,288.91 had been collected.

Booze Tunnel From Mexico to U. S. Found

Los Angeles, Feb. 25.—Manuel Soldano and his wife were held for hearing today following their arrest at Brawley on a charge of having smuggled liquor from Mexico by tunneling under the international line.

Soldano's home near Brawley yielded a considerable quantity of liquor which was secreted in a new cellar under a hidden trap door.

Ask Wilson's Veto

Washington, Feb. 25.—Railroad labor decided tonight to ask President Wilson to veto the railroad reorganization bill.

In a memorial to be submitted probably late tomorrow, the representatives of the 2,000,000 union workers will request the president to withhold his signature from the measure until they can present a brief of their reasons why it should not have executive approval.

WILSON HAS SIGNED THE OIL LAND LEASING BILL

Will Stage Special Review

Roswell, N. M., February 25.—The New Mexico Military Institute cadets will stage a special review for the visitors to the New Mexico Wool Growers' convention which will be held here March 8 and 9. The cadets are always of interest to visitors from coast to coast because of their appearance and the fact that they are so good in drill. In addition to a banquet at the Gilder Hotel on the evening of March 8 and a dance at the Masonic temple there will be other entertainment features sandwiched in between the sessions of this convention.

The convention itself will offer one of the best programs the association has ever had. The field of interest for the wool growers will be covered by speakers who are specialists in their lines and who will bring to the wool growers messages of real importance. There will be plenty of accommodations for all visitors as the Chamber of Commerce has this end of the job well in hand.

Bull Moose Salvo

Washington, Feb. 25.—In naming Bainbridge Colby for secretary of state to succeed Robert Lansing, President Wilson gave Washington an even greater surprise than when he named John Barton Payne of Illinois to succeed Franklin K. Lane as secretary of the interior. Mr. Colby's name had not even been mentioned among the probabilities.

Republican leaders in congress see some cause for political concern in Mr. Colby's selection. Their interpretation of the appointment is that President Wilson is endeavoring to alienate some of the "Bull Moose" strength from the Republican party.

Gay Zanola McLaren

Last Friday evening, Gay Zanola McLaren, Dramatic Reader of modern plays, entertained a good sized audience at the Methodist Church, in "Bought and Paid For." The artist displayed rare talent in her impersonations of the different characters of the play which were well received. The next number will be the "Woodland Singers" who will give their performance at the Crystal Theatre on the evening of Monday, March 8. Don't fail to hear these artists as they are pronounced as leading in their line of work.

Stecher Wins Again

Youngstown, O., Feb. 25.—Joe Stecher, world's catch-as-catch-can wrestling champion, threw Ivan Lnow, the Russian, in two straight falls here Wednesday night. One hour and twenty minutes were required for the two falls.

Mad Rush Made in Many States to Obtain Valuable Acreage. Millions of Acres Thrown Open—California And Wyoming Lead.

Washington, Feb. 25.—President Wilson today signed the oil land leasing bill which opens up for development millions of acres of land in the west.

The total area of oil lands, thrown open for lease under the bill is estimated by the geological survey at more than 6,700,000 acres, while proven coal lands under government withdrawal total approximately 30,000,000 acres, with 29,000,000 acres still to be classified. Phosphate lands are estimated at 2,700,000 acres, with sodium and other mineral deposits equally as extensive. There was a rush in many states to obtain leases on the land thrown open.

California with 1,189,200 acres of withdrawn oil and gas lands and Wyoming with 1,151,029 acres, lead the other states in the extent and richness of their oil deposits. Of the six additional states containing government oil lands made available to lease under the bill, Louisiana, with 487,000 acres and Arizona with 230,400 acres are considered to have the most valuable deposits.

Valger Defeats Kilbane

Newark, N. J., Feb.—Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight boxing champion, was outpointed by Benny Valger of New York, in an eight round "no-decision" bout here Wednesday night. Valger had the better of every round except the first which was even.

New Haven Trainmen See Polar Shimmy Dance

Marshfield, Mass., Feb. 25.—Two huge polar bears were sighted frolicking on the ice floes on North River to-day, by Frank Parker, old time engineer and his fireman. Frank called the fireman's attention to the sight and they stopped the train in order to make certain that the spectacle was real.

They did a graceful "shimmy" on the floe, forepaws in the air, and then performing an Annette Kellerman, disappearing from view.

Parker and his fireman are well known on the South Shore line of the New Haven, and stoutly assert that they had not been treated to any portion of Cape hard cider, nor even a warming draught of Jamaica ginger.

Jury in Sight at Tombstone Trial

Tombstone, Ariz., Feb. 25.—Prospects of obtaining a jury this week to try the first case growing out of the Babe's deportations of 1917, brightened today. When court adjourned for the noon recess, two additional talesmen had been passed by the state, subject to examination and challenge by the defence.

CHAPTER XIII.—Continued.

"I guess I'm all right," he managed to answer, "but I got a job on—an important job on. I must get it done. There is not time—"

But her woman's intuition had gone far below his idle words. "There is something wrong, Dave," she said. "You never looked like this before. Tell me what it is. Tell me, Dave. Perhaps I can help."

Dave was silent for a moment, watching her. Suddenly it occurred to him that Edith Duncan was beautiful.

If she had not quite the fine features of Irene she had a certain softness of expression, a certain mellowness, even tenderness, of lip and eye; a certain womanly delicacy—

"Edith," he said, "you're white. Why is it that the woman a man loves will fall him, and the woman he only likes—stays true?"

"Oh!" she cried, and he could not guess the depths from which her cry was wrung. "I should not have asked you, Dave," she said. "I'm sorry."

They stood a moment, neither wishing to move away. "You said you had something that must be done at once," she reminded him at length.

"Yes," he answered, "I have to kill a man. Then I'm going to join up with the army."

Her hands were again upon him. "But you mustn't, Dave," she pleaded. "You can't fight for your country then. You will only increase its troubles in these troubled times. Don't think I'm pleading for him, Dave, but for you, for the sake of us—for the sake of those who care."

He took her hands in his and raised them to his shoulders and drew her face close to his. Then, speaking very slowly, and with each word by itself, "Do you really care?" he said.

"Then come to my room and talk to me. Talk to me! Talk to me! For God's sake talk to me! I must talk to someone."

She followed him. Inside the room he had himself under control again. He told her the story, all he knew.

When he had finished she arose and walked to one of the windows and stood looking with unseeing eyes upon the street. For the second time in his life Dave Eiden had laid his heart bare to her, and again after all these years he still talked as friend to friend. That was it. She was under no delusion. Dave's eyes were as blind to her love as they had been that night when he had first told her of Irene Hardy. And she could not tell him. Most of all she could not tell him now. . . . She had waited all these years, and still she must wait.

Dave's eyes were upon her form, silhouetted against the window. It occurred to him that in form Edith was very much like Irene. He recalled that in those dead past days when they used to ride together Edith had reminded him of Irene.

"Yes," he answered, "I have to kill a man."

When she stood silent so long he spoke again.

"I'm afraid I haven't played a very heroic part," he said, somewhat shamefacedly. "I should have buried my name in my blood; buried it even from you; perhaps most of all from you. But—you can advise me, Edith. I will value whatever you say."

She trembled until she thought he must see her, and she feared to trust her voice, but she could delay a reply no longer.

"I have," she said at length, "why should you take Conward's word as such a matter as this?"

"I don't take Conward's word,

That's why I didn't kill him at once. It wasn't his word, it was the insect that cut. But she tried to save him. She threw herself upon me. She would have taken the bullet herself rather than let it find him. That was what—that was what—"

"I know, Dave," she had to hold herself in check lest the tenderness that welled within her, and would shape words of endearing sympathy in her mind, should find utterance in speech. "I know, Dave," she said. "The next thing, then, is to make sure in your own mind whether you ever really loved Irene Hardy. Because if you loved Irene a week ago you love her tonight."

"Edith," he said, "there is no way of explaining this. You can't understand. I know you have given yourself up to a life of service, and I honor you very much, and all that, but there are some things you won't be able to understand. You can't understand just how much I loved Irene. Have you never known of love being turned to hate?"

"No. Other impulses may be, but not love. Love can no more turn to hate than sunlight can turn to darkness. Believe me, Dave, if you hate Irene now you never loved her. Listen: Love beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things!"

"Not all things, Edith; not all things."

"It says all things," Dave was silent for some time. When he spoke again she caught a different sound in his voice—a tone as though his soul in those few moments had gone through a lifetime of experience.

"Edith," he said, "when you repeated those words I knew you had something that I have not. I knew it, not by words but by the way you said them. You made me know that in your own life, if you loved, you would be ready to endure all things. Tell me, Edith, how may this thing be done?"

She trembled with delight at the new tone in his voice, for she knew that for him life would never again be the empty, flippant, selfish, irresponsible thing which in the past he had called life.

"In your case," she said, "the course is simple. It is just a case of forgiving."

He gazed for a time into the street, while thoughts of bitterness and revenge fought for domination of his mind. "Edith," he said, at length, "must I—forgive?"

"I do not say you must," she answered. "I merely say if you are wise you will. Nothing, it seems to me, is so much misunderstood as forgiveness. The one who is forgiven may merely escape punishment, but the one who forgives experiences a positive spiritual expansion."

"Is that Christianity?" he ventured. "It is one side of Christianity. The other side is service. If you are willing to forgive and ready to serve I don't think you need worry much over the details of your creed. Creed, after all, are not expressed in words but in lives. When you know how a man lives you know what he believes—always."

"Suppose I forgive—what then?" "Service. You are needed right now, Dave—forgive my frankness—your country needs you right now. You must dismiss this grievance from your mind, at least dismiss your resentment over it, and then place yourself at the disposal of your country."

"That is what I had been thinking of," he said. "At least that part about serving my country, although I don't think my motives were as high as you would make them. But the war can't last. It is unbelievable."

"I'm not so sure," she answered gravely. "Of course I know nothing about Germany. But I do know something about our own people. I know how selfish and individualistic and selfish and money-grabbing we have been; how selfish and incompetent and self-satisfied we have been; and I fear it will take a long war and sacrifices and tragedies altogether beyond our present imagination to make us unselfish and public-spirited and clean and generous. I am not worrying about the defeat of Germany. If our civilization is better than that of Germany we shall win, ultimately, and our civilization is worse than that of Germany we shall be defeated ultimately—and we shall deserve to be defeated."

"But I rather think that neither of the alternatives will be the result. I rather think that the rest of war will show that there are elements in German civilization which are better than ours, and elements in our civilization which are better than theirs, and that the good elements will survive and form the basis of a new civilization better than either."

"If that is so," Dave replied, "is this war is but the working of immutable law which proposes to put all the elements of civilization to the supreme test and retain only those which are justifiable by that test, why should I—of anyone else—fight? And," he added, as an afterthought, "what about that principle of forgiveness?"

"We must fight," she answered, "because it is the law that we must fight; because it is only by fighting that we can justify the principles for which we fight. If we hold our principles as being not worth fighting for the new civilization will throw those principles in the discard. And that, too, covers the question of forgiveness. Forgiveness, in fact, does not enter into the consideration at all."

"We must fight, not because we hate Germany but because we love certain principles which Germany is endeavoring to overthrow. The impulse must be love, not hate."

She had turned and faced him while she spoke, and he felt himself strangely carried away by the earnestness of her argument. What a wonderful woman she was! And as he looked at her he again thought of Irene, and suddenly he felt himself engulfed in a great tenderness, and he knew that even yet—

"What am I to do?" he said. "What am I to do?"

In the darkness of her own shadow she set her teeth for that answer. It was to be the crowning act of self-renunciation and it strained every fiber of her resolution.

"You had better go overseas and enlist in England," she told him calmly, although her nails were biting her palms. "You will get quicker action that way. And when you come back you must see Irene, and you must learn from your own heart whether you really loved her or not. And if you had you did not, then—then you will be free to—to—to think of some other woman."

"I am afraid I shall never care to think of any other woman," he answered, "except you. But some way you're different. I don't think of you as a woman, you know; not really, in a way. I can't explain it, Edith, but you're something more—something better than all that."

He had sprung to his feet. "Edith,

TO AROUSE HEAVY SLEEPER

Writer Recommends That It Be Done With an Odor, Preferably Not Too Powerful.

"What is the best method of waking a soundly sleeping person?" is a question quite a few millions of persons would like to have answered, there being few who have not or do not continue to exhaust every scheme and method known to them to rouse some heavy-headed members of their families in time to eat breakfast and get to the office or school on time.

"With an odor, undoubtedly," a well-known physician replied to the question. "The sense of smell is the most easily aroused of any of the five. We have trained ourselves to disregard noise—or else we would get no sleep at all in a city. In the country the same sounds which we utterly disregard in town would awaken us instantly," says the Kansas City Star. "To shake a person is more or less successful, as a rule, but often it serves to only half rouse the sleeper, and he turns over and goes to sleep again, or, if he does wake, he is apt to be in a bad humor. Any really successful noise

I can never thank you enough for what you have said to me tonight. You have put some spirit back into my body. I am going to follow your advice. There's a train east in two hours and I'm going on it. Fortunately my property, or most of it, had dissolved the way it came."

She moved toward him with extended hand. "Goodby, Dave," she said.

He held her hand fast in his. "Goodby, Edith. I can never forget—I can never repay—all you have been. It may sound foolish to you after all I have said, but I sometimes wonder if—if I had not met Irene—if—? He paused and went hot with embarrassment. What would she think of him? An hour ago he had been ready to kill or be killed in grief over his frustrated love, and already he was practically making love to her. Had he brought her to his room for this? What a hypocrite he was!

"Forgive me, Edith," he said, as he released her. "I am not quite myself. . . . I hold you in very high respect as one of God's good women. Goodby!"

CHAPTER XIV.

When Irene Hardy pursued Dave from the house the roar of his motor-car was already drowned in the hum of the city streets. Hatless, she ran the length of a full block; then, realizing the futility of such a chase, returned with almost equal haste to her home.

"What is the meaning of this?" she demanded of Conward. "Why did he threaten to shoot and why did he leave as he did? You know. Tell me."

"I am sure I wish I could tell you," said Conward with all his accustomed suavity. In truth Conward, having somewhat recovered from his fright, was in rather good spirits. Things had gone better than he had dared to hope. Eiden was eliminated, for the present, at any rate, and now was the time to win Irene.

She stood before him, flushed and vibrating and with flashing eyes. "You're lying, Conward!" she said deliberately. "First you lied to him, and now you lie to me. There can be no other explanation. Where is that gun? He said I would know what to do with it."

"I have it," said Conward, partly carried off his feet by her violence. "I will keep it until you are a little more reasonable, and perhaps a little more respectful."

FIRST POST SERVICE CRUDE.

That Between New York and Boston, However, Was the Beginning of Great System.

The first regular postal service between two American cities was established December 10, 1872, when the government of New York inaugurated a regular monthly post to Boston.

Some thirty-three years before that a post office had been opened in Boston at the house of Richard Fairbanks. "For letters which are brought from beyond the sea, or are to be sent thither."

In 1637 the Virginia assembly provided for the "rapid transmission" of official communications from plantation to plantation on penalty of one hoghead of tobacco for each default. Four years after the establishment of the New York-Boston monthly mail, the colonial court of Massachusetts founded an official postoffice in Boston, with John Hayward as postmaster.

The first parliamentary act for the establishment of a postal system in the English-American colonies was passed in 1662, and a royal patent was granted Thomas Neale, who was authorized to transport "letters at such rates" as the planters should agree to give. Neale began operations in Virginia, and the other colonies soon joined in the movement, although the system was very imperfect.

is effective, but one can't think of a new noise-making method every morning.

"When an odor is used, however, the sleeper wakes at once—is wide awake. Almost any odor will answer, if not too faint. Perfume of any kind is especially good. Ammonia, camphor—in fact anything with a decided odor, will do, but it should not be too powerful, or the awakening will be violent."

Birds Enjoy Moon Sunlight.

The Arctic tern enjoys more hours of sunlight than any other creature on the globe. The sun never sets during its stay at the northern nesting grounds, and during the stay in the south it has two months of continuous sunlight, and practical daylight for between six and eight months of the year.

DO ALL MY HOUSEWORK

Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could hardly stand, says Mrs. Kwarcinaki.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered with displacement and irregularities and I did not know what to do. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and use the Sanative Wash so I took her advice and used these remedies and cured myself. I feel fine and do all my housework which I could not do before, as I could hardly stand up and I have three healthy children. You can use this letter if you wish, for your remedy is certainly wonderful for sick, run down women."—Mrs. A. KWARCINAKI, 3627 W. Oakdale Ave., Chicago, Ill.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been making women strong and well, relieving back-ache, nervousness, ulceration, and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularities and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

She Had Spoiled Daddy. Her father gave Helen several things for Christmas which she wanted very much, and she kept kissing him to show her gratitude. A day or two after Christmas he brought home a belated gift which didn't particularly interest her, and she offered no gratitude. "Come here and kiss me," said he, pretending to pout in disappointment. "Oh, dear," sighed Helen, "I've got you so spoiled that you think kisses always go with givings."

An Economical Session

The special session of the legislature covered just six days and cost the state $6,546.92. The items in this total are as follows: Salaries of members $2,160; travelling expenses of members $3,459.20; printing bills, etc., $377.72; translating laws, $100; publishing laws $450.

By adopting the Governor's suggestion and making use of regular state employees as clerks, interpreters, stenographers, sergeants at arms, messengers and pages, there was saved the amount of $900.

As to appropriations, there was provided from the funds of the present year, not otherwise appropriated $3,985.25 to reimburse the Water Reservoirs Income for money drawn by the Soldier Settlement Board contrary to the prohibitions of the Federal Government; $2,441.43 to pay claims on account of Soldier Settlement Board incurred since the issue of the temporary injunction of the United States District Court; $2,666.66 for additional salaries and contingent expenses for the office of the Adjutant-General; $5,000 for the expenses of a commission provided for at the special session and to be appointed by the Governor whose duty it shall be to make investigations and recommendations as to our entire system of revenues.

An appropriation of $8,000 was made for the building of sheds for horses to be used by cavalry troops, but no part of this amount is to be expended until after the Federal Government has issued orders providing horses, equipment, etc. An appropriation of $20,000 was made for a Protection Fund, this money being at the disposal of the Governor in case of emergencies which it is hoped will never arise. As to Soldier Settlement legislation, an appropriation of $80,000 was made. The law, however, is entirely ineffective without Federal Cooperation.

A transcript levy of not to exceed two mills affecting Hidalgo county only, road levies of not to exceed two mills in Grant and Sierra counties and a road levy of not to exceed three mills in Socorro county are provided for in three bills. These levies are not mandatory as to amounts and county commissioners may act upon their own discretion as to these levies. Similarly the health levy of not to exceed one-half mill is not mandatory and depends upon the decision of tax levying bodies in counties and incorporated cities, towns and villages. These levies are furthermore subject to review by the State Tax Commission.

On the whole, the session was not an expensive one. The legislature showed itself responsive to the general feeling throughout the state that our tax rates are excessive and even oppressive. It is possible that this indicates a greater degree of attention to the business aspects of government on the part both of taxpayers and legislators.

FINALLY SEVERED RED TAPE

But Messenger Had to Declare Himself Emphatically Before He Got That Ice Book.

The quartermaster's department had conferred upon me authority to buy for the sum of $5 an ice book good for 2,000 pounds of ice and had sent me to this building, headed up "Commissary" for the goods. The first clerk I saw did not question my good intentions or my legal and military right to buy that ice book somewhere in the building, but was doubtful of his authority to sell it to me. He lacked self-confidence.

He said: "Go to the other end of the building."

And he said: "Go to the other side of the building."

And he said: "D— it, I've been to three ends and five sides of this building, and I go no further. If you've got an ice book—and I have reasons for believing you have—I ask you as man to man to give it up."

He said: "Sir, it is yours."—Bookman.

WOOD VERY LIKE MAHOGANY

Carlinia Can Be Used to Advantage in the Absence of the More Valuable Lumber.

It is interesting to note that more than twenty mahoganylike woods are now offered as true mahogany, not to mention a considerable number of woods cunningly stained to imitate mahogany. In the present circumstances, therefore, when the demand for mahogany is greater than the supply, unusual interest attaches to such woods as Carlinia or Colombian mahogany, which is acknowledged not to be mahogany, but which is so similar to it in color, grain effects and working qualities as to serve for the rare wood.

This statement is made that while carlinia differs widely in its botanical and anatomical characters from true mahogany, its close superficial resemblance to mahogany and its physical properties at once distinguish it as a high-class cabinet wood. When properly seasoned it does not warp, check or shrink, while much of the lumber is beautifully figured. It works well, takes a filler readily, and can be highly polished.

Natural Persuasion.

"Who egged the man on to this conduct?" "I guess it was the old man he married."

"OURS IS THE TRADE THAT SERVICE MADE"

AFTER 7 YEARS—STILL WELL

Now Enjoys Best of Health and Does Her Housework Unaided

"I didn't enjoy one day of good health for more than two years," says Mrs. C. E. Wilson, 748 E. Georgia St., Memphis, Tenn.

"At first I had nothing more than backache. Afterwards terrible attacks of pain left me weak and limp. My arms and limbs ached. My feet felt weighted with tons of lead. I couldn't walk without a cane and had to be carried to bed every night. I couldn't do a bit of work and kept my people busy rubbing my aching limbs. Sometimes my whole body became rigid. My feet were swollen twice their normal size."

"It almost killed me to pass the kidney secretions. I lost 42 pounds and each day felt I had aged a year. I was so nervous the rattle of a paper made me nervous."

"Finally I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and seven boxes made me a well woman. I have enjoyed the best of health for seven years, and have done all my housework without any trouble." Sworn to before me.

Sisters Dwelling on Mysterious Mount in Burma Undoubtedly Able to Charm Reptiles.

In the fastnesses of Mount Popa, a mysterious sacred mount in Burma, live two sisters who have achieved a wide reputation for their uncanny powers in charming deadly snakes. Ma Hpw and her sister are the only living exponents of an art which has been handed down from generation to generation within the circle of their family. Their secret is most rigidly preserved, and at their death will be passed on to their next-of-kin, as it was handed on to them by their parents.

In a great number of cases so-called snake-charmers swindle the public by extracting the poison fangs of their pets, thereby rendering themselves safe from accident. There is tragic proof, however, to the genuine nature of the performance of Ma Hpw and her family, in the death of a sister who disregarded the strict traditions of the art. King cobras are the snakes these remarkable women use. During the performance of charming the snakes an ordinary Burmese band is used, while the charmers squat on their haunches in front of the snake. They then begin to sway in rhythm to the music, giving sharp leaps each time the reptile strikes.

Spices Used in Flavoring Not Generally Given Credit for Their Good Qualities.

Some of the spices that are often employed in flavoring preserves, both of fruits and meats, have a value that is more important than the mere tickling of the palate. An investigation recently made in France shows that vinegar is not only an excellent preservative but a powerful means of killing bacteria.

Ginger, black, white and red pepper have little bactericidal effect, but the action of mustard is most marked. However, the best of all are cloves and cinnamon, which act through their essential oils (called eugenol and cinnamic aldehyde).

In Nature's remarks that these researches are highly important, for they show that, even in the small quantities in which they are used, these spices may be employed in preserving far better than chemical antiseptics, such as boric and salicylic acids, which are often added, though the French law prohibits their use.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. B. L. Stimmel Tuesday of this week. There was a good attendance. After the business session and program, the hostess served light refreshments. The afternoon was a very enjoyable one. A report made by the treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Lemon, showed that the sum of $75.05 was taken in at the Colonial Tea Saturday night. Thanks are due the Misses Hilary Cooper and Clarite McQuillen who were appropriately attired in colonial costumes and met the guests at the door, "courtesying" as they entered, also to Mr. Ferguson, who entertained the guests with several piano selections which added much to the pleasure of the evening. The ladies wish to thank all those who attended and helped to make it a social as well as a financial success.

The ladies of the Baptist Church entertained the gentlemen of the church last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George Benson. The evening was pleasantly spent and the social features which included songs, readings and recitations were heartily enjoyed. The well arranged affair closed after refreshments were served. This event which was attended with such good results will be repeated in the near future and the gentlemen will look forward to coming events of a like nature with much interest.

THAT within two hours drive from Carrizozo, N. M., at an altitude of 8,000 feet, is to be found one of Nature's Great Beauty Spots, located on a little mountain stream of pure, ice cold water, where the speckled trout abound, where one is awakened from his slumbers by the echo of the call of the cunning old gobbler in the distance?

Where one may sit in the shade of the giant spruce, and watch the playful squirrel as he runs, and leaps from limb to limb?

DO YOU KNOW?

That the Southwestern Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association, has acquired a time lease from the U. S. National Forest on this Nature's beauty spot, and has spent over $3,000.00 and is going to spend much more time and money in the developing of a place of rest and a playground for its members?

And that they are going to give you, and every lover of fresh air and sunshine, a chance to become one of its members?

At a recent meeting of the board of Directors, it was agreed to accept applications for membership, for a short time only, at the old rate of $20.00 which will (if accepted during this short period,) include dues till June 1st, 1921.

DO YOU KNOW?

That hardly less essential than sleep is sunshine and the open air?

There are some men and women who do not manage in six months to be out in the open sunshine for as much as an hour.

These same individuals have been taught that the energy conveyed to man and to all animal and plant life by the sun is what makes for vitality, health and vigor, yet they ignore this fact, living on merely as they and their fathers have been accustomed to do, namely, indoors, in shadows and half-lights.

Sunshine helps to remove and burn up bacteria, corruption, decay and disease, and to restore latent force, energy and power to animal and plant tissue. Therefore, to remain young in spirit as well as smooth of brow, fare you forth as much as you can in the sunshine of the fresh out doors.

Don't miss this wonderful opportunity, write or see our secretary, Mr. S. L. Squire at once.

INCOME TAX IS DUE MARCH 15

Penalties for Delay and Failure to Make Returns—Early Compliance Urged.

All income tax returns covering the year 1919 must be filed by Monday, March 15. Each taxable return must be accompanied by check or money order for the full amount or at least one-quarter of the amount of tax due.

Cash payments are accepted only at the collector's main office; if sent by mail, they are at the sender's risk.

Residents of New Mexico should file their returns with, and make payments of Income Tax to, Carl A. Hatch, Collector of Internal Revenue, Albuquerque, N. M.

Those who must file returns but have not done so are warned that the revenue law imposes heavy penalties for failure to get returns in on time or to make payments on time.

Early filing and early payments are urged, in order to relieve the internal revenue offices as much as possible of an overload on the final day, March 15.

Sale of Farms and Land.

The value of agricultural lands has been jumping during the past few years, and during 1919 many owners sold out part or all of their lands at big profits. All such gains constitute income and must be taken into the net income for the year.

Any person who sold part of a farm or ranch, or part of a parcel of land, must also show any gains realized by the sale.

The method of figuring gains and losses on such transactions is prescribed in the Income Tax regulations, copies of which may be secured from Internal Revenue Collectors.

Out of Chaos—

The Telephone Company's greatest asset is the co-operation of the public; it is a big enterprise, in the successful operation of which both the company and the people are vitally concerned. As a unit in the great Bell System it is universal in the scope of its service. It has the biggest, hardest work imaginable, for it has as many persons to please as has the President of the United States.

The past few years have been full of perplexing and disappointing problems and conditions. No business organization can be any more perfect than the combined intelligence, sincerity and industry of its human management. A corporation is subject to all the trials and tribulations of the individual, but in an increasing ratio to its magnitude and responsibilities.

There is no avenue of human activity that has not been paved with sacrifice during the past four years; there isn't an individual who has not contributed in some way to the winning of the world's greatest war at discomfort to himself and by voluntary self-denial, and every business organization has contributed its tithe of service. Out of the chaos of the world a new day dawns pregnant with promise of a happier condition of affairs. As you look forward to a more prosperous, brighter era, the Telephone Company looks forward to increased efficiency, better service, and, above all, to pleased and satisfied patrons.

WILD ANIMALS HUNTED DOWN

Government Hunters Kill Many Beasts That Destroy Live Stock

WORK OF VALUE TO FARMERS

Mountain Lion That Had Killed $1,000 Worth of Stock in Month Is Slain—Wolves Lay Heavy Toll on Flocks.

Washington.—You would hardly think of the United States department of agriculture as an agency for hunting down desperados, but it is. That the desperados happen to be not men but wild animals does not detract either from the adventure or the value of the work. Now and then a wild animal becomes notorious for its exploits in killing live stock. The inspectors of the bureau of biological survey make special efforts to hunt down and kill such animals. A mountain lion that was known to have destroyed $1,000 worth of live stock in one month was killed near Dubois, Wyo., a few months ago. That the animal had eluded many private hunters was shown by the number of scars on the body. Another mountain lion taken in April had killed seven colts during the spring. In the same state a pair of wolves that had destroyed $2,500 worth of live stock was killed, the female by a government hunter and the male by a private hunter.

Ranch Owner Loses 300 Sheep. A ranch owner near Meriden, Tex., reported that within three months he had lost 300 sheep, valued at $3,200, as the result of the depredations of six coyotes. Government hunters, in July, captured all six of the beasts. But not all of the bad beasts have been disposed of. About 80 very cunning wolves still roam the ranges of New Mexico, causing annual losses to live stock amounting to about $2,000 each. When the department's campaign for destruction of predatory animals began, however, there were between 800 and 400 wolves in the state. The small number remaining, though made up of the most cunning and destructive individuals of the packs, is being steadily reduced, in spite of the fact that the stock of wolves in that state is constantly recruited by stragglers from the mountains of northern Chihuahua, Mexico.

SEEK TO SAVE STARVING ELK

Two Principal Herds in Country in Danger of Serious Depletion.

SPECIAL FUND TO BUY HAY

Officials of Department of Agriculture Making Every Effort to Procure the Needed Feed—Scarcity of Forage.

Washington.—The two principal herds of elk in the United States—one of which is under the protection of the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture—are in danger of such serious depletion, due to early severe weather and feed shortage, that special funds have been set aside for the purchase of hay for these animals whose home is in and near Yellowstone national park. Department officials are making every possible effort to procure the needed feed despite the serious scarcity of

MISSING LINKS ARE FOUND

Expedition to Malay Archipelago to Find Out if They Are Alive.

Avonhurst, Saskatchewan.—Marshall McIvor of Avonhurst, a widely known explorer, and Carvel Wells, who has been in the exploration service of the British government for six years, will leave Canada shortly for an extensive journey through the jungles of the Malay archipelago. Their trip will involve a journey around the world.

According to McIvor, naturalists have discovered in the jungles of Malaya the skeletons of creatures which are considered the "missing links" between monkey and man. It is to determine whether such creatures are alive that Wells and McIvor will lead an expedition into the jungles of Borneo and other islands.

They will also study the various monkeys of Malaya and if possible collect data concerning a tribe of dwarfs, reports of which have reached governmental offices.

hay and forage in the region. Approximately 40,000 elk roam this section of the country. They are divided into two groups, known as the northern and southern herd, respectively. The latter, which winters in the vicinity of Jackson Hole, to the south of Yellowstone park, is the one for which the department of agriculture is seeking to make provision.

Ranchmen Slow to Part With Hay.

Reports have recently been received from government representatives in the region of Yellowstone national park stating that many elk are destined to starve if the present severe weather continues and if no additional supplies of feed are provided. On the winter elk refuge in Jackson Hole the department has in store approximately 1,800 tons of hay which normally would be sufficient to carry the southern herd through the winter. But cold weather and heavy snows came so early that there is grave danger that the animals will be without feed before many weeks have passed. Ranchmen in the region are confronted with a serious condition and are reluctant to part with any of their hay.

Largest Herds in Country.

The northern elk herd is under the supervision of the national park service of the department of the interior, which is also making every effort possible to prevent loss of these animals.

These two herds are the largest elk herds remaining in this country, though at one time elk were to be found in large numbers as far east as the Blue Ridge mountains. These animals, like the buffalo and antelope, have now been reduced to a mere fraction of their former numbers. The few herds that remain besides those in the vicinity of the Yellowstone park are relatively small. Loss of many of the animals in the larger herds might be irreparable, say government officials.

He is one of four brothers in his family who were in the army during the world war. Rear Admiral Rodman of the United States navy is a cousin of the youth.

Alabaster City In Spain

A Street in Cadiz.

CADIZ has made up its mind to be equal to the opportunities with which the after-the-war world abounds. We shall hear of Cadiz in many ways, says The Christian Science Monitor. It has taken note of the new determination of the northern ports such as Vigo, Bilbao, and some others, and of Oporto of the Portuguese, to make a big forward movement, and, Spain generally being in an advantageous position in the matter of maritime commerce, it conceives a more brilliant future opening out for it in the new world conditions than ever it had dreamed of. With the complicity of the Americans, it is understood, is about to make a strong bid for the carrying trade with North America, and as the main part of entry into Europe from the upper half of the American continent.

But Cadiz has had an advantage in the past with regard to the South, and hopes not only to maintain it, but to strengthen it. She has been, in effect, a great receiving and distributing center, dealing with the South American states, and spreading the goods she received over Portugal and all Spain. She has flourished, and she has done well by herself in every way. But with Cadiz as with practically every other place in Spain, there has in modern times been a decline and a recovery. It is believed now that the recovery will be great.

The New Movement. Cadiz starts the new period with a fine new equipment in the matter of her harbor. The new Reina Victoria quay will astonish the commercial men and travelers who go there after a long absence. The San Felipe breakwater has been extended, and there have been dredging and widening operations, so that capacity and accommodation are now much greater than they used to be. Big liners may now berth themselves well, and as soon as they are hitched up they will find the newest electric traveling cranes and all the most up-to-date port appliances in operation.

So Cadiz bids the traders come, and with Vigo, Seville, Bilbao and Barcelona it helps Spain to make a new challenge to the world in maritime matters, and this she most certainly does. No country has such a fine seahoard and one so advantageously situated. The Spaniards have thought of the maritime possibilities of their country before now, but they are thinking of it intensely in the new condition of the world economy. Already far more ships are calling at Cadiz than before the peace—though these were called do not amount to much. In the old prewar days the Hamburg-American line established a regular monthly service from there to Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro and Santos; one or two French passenger lines were making regular use of the port, and the English boats did so regularly. The war interfered naturally with most of these services, but now they are being resumed.

Should Be Appreciated From Sea.

While in these present days and hours economic are everything, and other things seem secondary, it is always hard to talk and write of Cadiz in the purely materialistic way. She has splendid harbor facilities, perfect opportunities for trade. About her streets and places there is a building, businesslike look. Like all commercial ports she has a smart up-to-date appearance. There is something about Cadiz which reminds one of Genoa. She is different from all other Spanish cities, even the ports, for she is warmer than Malaga, and not so tinged with American and French as is the marvelous Bilbao. But there is something more about Cadiz—there is her really lovely appearance when she is approached from the sea.

Just as one should always, if possible, be in a particular mood for the complete enjoyment of certain experiences, so one should always approach particular cities in a certain way and the poorest way of all to approach almost any city is by train. Never go to Cadiz by rail. Better far, if you are in mid-Spain and must use the roads or the tedious ferrocarril, go to Seville or over to Tangier in Africa and make one of those little voyages that are regularly available, in order to come upon Cadiz by way of the sea. It is generally acknowledged that there is no other sea approach in the world that is so beautiful as this.

Cadiz at such times and in such circumstances is a glorious picture in white and blue. She rises up from the sea on a small platform of limestone rock which only a very narrow isthmus holds to the mainland. In a majestic silver beauty the houses with their azoteas, or flat roofs, seem to rise like a fairy city above the deep blue of the sea, their miradores or view towers surrounding them. All are heavily coated with whitewash frequently renewed.

Always White and Clean.

Thus the city is always white, quite smokeless, and is kept spotlessly clean. It glitters in the sun against the blue Andalusian sky, with waters lapping it nearly all around. The poets and the descriptive writers have almost exhausted themselves in their use of fine adjectives to describe its beauty and yet they feel they have failed. Spaniards call it their "taxifa de plata" or silver dish; some of them say it is more like a "palacio de plata" beautifully chased, and from another aspect they liken it to a great alabaster ship floating out upon the waters. No terms are too strong in which to speak of Cadiz thus seen from the sea, for she is indeed very beautiful, veritably "a white pearl set in a crown of sapphires and emeralds."

The interior of no city could completely match such an outside view, but yet Cadiz, within, is good and pleasant also, and is always extremely clean. But it is a very practical place, and though it has its cathedral with a spire rising over all, it has little in the way of art—one of the oldest cities of Spain though it be—to attract the visitors who need it for their lingering at any place. It is a place to wonder at, to tarry at for but a little while, and then to leave, knowing it full well to be unforgettable. But in the new days of traveling that are beginning, no person who wanders toward the south of Spain should, through neglect, miss seeing Cadiz from the water. It will live in his memory when he has forgotten many pictures. It will hold its place in his esteem even when he comes face to face with the incomparable Bay of Naples.

VIOLATE FOOD RULES

Black Trade Is Spreading in Germany.

Smuggling and Heavy Increases—Courts Crowded With Those Who Break Laws.

Coblenz.—Black trade in food, with its attendant evils of smuggling and heavy, is on the increase throughout Germany, according to newspaper accounts.

The rationing system has never been abandoned even in the occupied areas of the Rhineland, and some of the newspapers contend that the average individual cannot subsist on the amount of food issued. The authorities are making every effort to check the illegal traffic in food of all kinds, and the courts are crowded day after day. Smuggling of potatoes is being en-ried on (the subject) all parts of Germany on a scale greater than in war time. Germany produced an excellent potato crop this year, and the authorities are trying to save it from falling into the hands of the speculators.

Well-to-do people have been going to Bavaria from Frankfurt, Wuerzburg and Thuringia to buy potatoes, eggs and milk, for which the farmers charged exorbitant prices. This worked a hardship on the poorer people, who could not compete with them.

Living appears to be cheaper in Bavaria than elsewhere in Germany. Butter has been selling there at 5 marks a pound, compared with 20 marks in Berlin. Eggs are quoted at 35 pennings each, while in Berlin they cost 1.75 marks apiece. Eggs in the occupied area have been bringing from 2 to 2.50 marks each this winter, but are very scarce at any price.

Meat is also reported as fairly plentiful in Bavaria, although in all other states this form of food is virtually unobtainable by householders through regular channels excepting once or twice each month, when the authorities permit a few ounces to be distributed by the card system to the individuals.

Most of the hotels throughout Germany continue to serve meat three or four days each week, however. The proprietors say they obtain this from Holland and that this does not violate the food regulations.

Stop Whipping Bowels Into Activity, but take "Cascarets"

Put aside the Saltz, Pills, Castor Oil, or Purgative Waters that irritate and lead the bowels into action but which do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and feed gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels which are keeping you half sick, headachy, and miserable.

Cascarets tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience. Cascarets cost no little too.—Adv.

The University of Arizona basketball team defeated the University of New Mexico quintet, 40 to 21, at Albuquerque.

The Venetian Oil Company of Winfield, Kansas, will soon start drilling on its 10,000 acre tract of land five miles north of Hope in Hildy county, New Mexico. All the machinery is now on the ground and it is thought that actual operations will be started shortly.

The contractors have started work on a residence in Clayton, N. M., which, when completed, will be one of the finest homes ever built in the state. The new residence will be the future home of M. C. Johnson and family and when completed will cost over $40,000.

Advices from Phoenix are that the Arizona Corporation Commission has granted to the Jordan Stage line, a Prescott organization owned by Wilson & Eckert, the franchise to operate auto stages over the Jerome-Prescott short line highway as soon as the road is open.

All existing records for flight between El Paso, Texas, and Douglas, Arizona, 220 miles, were broken when Capt. Cecil Sellers, commanding officer of the twelfth aero squadron, with Lieut. George Usher as observer, made the trip in one hour and twenty-three minutes.

Fire which for a time threatened to destroy a large part of the business district broke out in a Main street rooming house at Jerome, Arizona. Before the flames were brought under control, two rooming houses and four mercantile establishments on the ground floors of the buildings had been burned.

Frank La Rue of Phoenix has been appointed drill and rifle practice inspector of the Arizona National Guard with rank of captain. Seven years ago he was a newboy. Through the marines and the war he rose to a captaincy in the regular army and was only recently discharged. At one time during the war he was a lieutenant in the 158th Infantry, formerly the Arizona National Guard.

The recent public sale of lands on the Yuma Mesa, Arizona, which are described as particularly adapted to the growing of citrus and other semi-tropical fruits, was a decided success. The total of the sales amounted approximately to $1,250,000, and buyers were present from all parts of the country. One tract of sixty acres was purchased and will be developed by army officers from Washington, D. C.

Trial of the $1,000,000 suit of Samuel Pandolfo, head of the Pan Motor Company of Indianapolis, against the banks of Arizona, charging libel, has been set for March 9 in the Phoenix session of the United States District Court. The Pandolfo libel suit, based on publication of the secretary's report of the Arizona Bankers' Association, including a resolution with reference to Pandolfo, had been continued two years by stipulation of counsel.

The Dona Ana county Farm Bureau of New Mexico has placed orders for over 25,000 pounds of cotton seed which will be sold to the farmers of the valley at actual cost. Figuring twenty pounds of seed to the acre this will mean 1,250 acres to be planted from this shipment. There will be about 4,000 acres of cotton land in that valley this season, but it is doubtful if it will all be planted as it is almost impossible to obtain seed at the present time.

The whippet tank is putting horses and mules out of business in the great pine forests of northern Arizona. One big lumber concern at Flagstaff, Arizona, has just put two tanks to work, having bought them from the War Department. Each tank has displaced thirty horses and fourteen men, according to company officials.

Some idea of the diversity of Arizona's climate may be had when it is stated that while the mountains of Northern and Central Arizona are covered with snow, ripe watermelons were cut fresh from the vines on Yuma mesa on the 24th of January. Almost any climate desired can be had in a few hours' ride in Arizona. It is merely a matter of altitude.

Concrete pipe for conduits and other highway purposes will be manufactured by prison labor at the Florence, Arizona, penitentiary immediately, according to State Engineer Thomas Madlock, the engineer. The prison labor is available at this time, the work is ideal for convicts, the state has pipe-making equipment on hand, and a convenient supply of sand and gravel is available. Only the cement must be bought.

TRAINING THE INCOME TAX DIVISION OFFICIALS

The treasury department is taking no chances on sending out green men to advise the public on income tax matters. All employees of the income tax division are trained in an intensive course of six weeks on every phase of the income tax schedule. This insures uniformity and accuracy. Here is one of the classes.

NEW FRONTIERS VERY REAL

Nothing of an "Imaginary Line" About the Borders of the New European States.

Frontiers used to be "imaginary lines" or marks on a map. The miles and miles of new frontiers in Europe are not "imaginary" and not confined to maps. You can walk right up and touch them.

Out there in central and eastern Europe, frontiers are fine-tooth combs, that delay trains for hours at every crossing point. Some of the new frontiers are "dying walls" of soldiers with fixed bayonets. Others are guarded fences.

Travelers without exceptional credentials go through searching examinations, often bodily "friskings."

Soldiers armed to the teeth guard the trains and passengers during examinations and customs inspections, to see that nobody gets out or in without the official papers.

Roads at frontier points are also guarded by soldiers who preside over striped gates that go up and down like the crossing gates of American railroads.

Passports and visas in the new countries are made as difficult as possible. Business men are held up weeks, as a rule. The official idea seems to be to keep everybody that's in the country in, and to bar everybody else out.

Double Acting.

"You advertise this as the best hotel in town," said the man who had stayed overnight.

"It certainly is," replied the clerk.

"Well, that may be a good boost for the hotel, but it's a terrible knock for the town."—Boston Transcript.

Treasure Hidden in Mexico.

Vast treasures of silver and gold, stolen by bandits over a period of many years, are cached in the mountains of Chihuahua, Mexico, and in the remote and wild sections of the Mexican states of Durango, San Luis Potosi and Zacatecas, according to American mining men who have been investigating operation of foreign-owned mines in bandit-ridden sections of the southern republic.

Among the peons rumors run of buried treasure, stored in Chihuahua and Durango mountains by the bandit Francisco Villa, rivaling the riches Cortes found among the people when the Spaniards conquered Mexico.—Detroit News.

Government Jobs.

Judge Gary, arguing at a dinner party against government ownership, said:

"People don't work for the government the same as they work for an individual employer.

"I know a man who has to call daily at a certain government office. He says the hours are from ten to four, and the way the employees loaf is scandalous.

"He says that one employee, every afternoon when the clock strikes three, puts down his newspaper, gets up out of his armchair, yawns and remarks:

"Fifty-nine minutes to four—only a question of minutes—I may as well light out."

"And out he lights."

Clean up the little tasks of today and be ready for the big tasks of tomorrow.

MILLIONS Suffer from Acid-Stomach

Millions of people suffer year after year from ailments affecting practically every part of the body, never dreaming that their health can be traced directly to acid-stomach. Here is the reason: poor digestion means poor assimilation of the different organs and tissues of the body. The blood is impoverished—poorly nourished. This situation allows of many kinds of ailments from such conditions: Rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago, sciatica, general weakness, loss of nerve and energy, headache, insomnia, nervousness, mental depression—often more serious ailments such as catarrh and cancer of the stomach, intestinal ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble—all of these can often be traced directly to acid-stomach.

On Monday morning, Rev. G. E. Mickey, Evangelist of the Church of Christ, visited the high school, conducted the devotional exercises and made a very interesting talk to the students. His remarks were based upon Philippians 4:8, a group of verses which may well be called "A Rule of Life."

"Think the truth; you will speak the truth. Think justice, you will do justice. If your thoughts are pure, your deeds will be pure. Deeds are thoughts worked out. Words are thoughts exploded. Thoughts are harmless unless exploded. If you would reach the heights you must climb them."

The advanced class in typewriting has taken the Underwood Credential Test, which entitles them to the Underwood Initial Certificates. The requirement of the test is forty words per minute after ten words have been deducted for each mistake. The class average in this test was 48.3 words per minute after deductions for mistakes.

Supreme Court to Decide President's Ability

Congressman E. D. Fass of Ohio has introduced a resolution suspending an amendment to the Constitution giving the Supreme Court authority to determine what constitutes an impeachable offense, what constitutes inability of the President to discharge the duties of his office. At present the Constitution is silent on the subject, merely stipulating that the power and duties of the President shall devolve upon the Vice President in case of the "inability" of the President to discharge them. Mr. Fass considers that the Constitution is defective in not providing a method for determining the "inability" of the President intended to fill the position.

MY HEAD!

When the head feels thick or sore, when one feels all sorts of aches—perhaps a coated tongue—it is the signal that poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleaned out at once.

Sleepiness after meals, biliousness, dizziness, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, and other ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning.

Take castor oil, or procure at the drug store, a pleasant vegetable laxative, called Dr. Flossie's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap.

Kansas City, Kan.—"Dr. Flossie's Pleasant Pellets have been my favorite family medicine for many years. I raised quite a large family and from the time my children were small I always gave them the 'Pleasant Pellets.' They were easy to take and pleasant in every way, never causing distress. For sluggish liver, sick headaches, constipation or biliousness there is no medicine that can equal the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I found them a great help to me in bringing up my family in as much as they have many times warded off sick spells my children would otherwise have had."—MRS. MARY E. BRADLEY, 932 Homer Ave.

What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed, mucous membrane, give you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.—Adv.

BACK GIVEN OUT?

There's surely some reason for that lame, aching back. Likely it's your kidneys. A cold or strain strains the kidneys and slows them up. That may be the reason for that nagging backache, those sharp pains, that tired, worn-out feeling. You may have headache and dizzy spells, too, with annoying bladder irregularity. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands. Ask your neighbor!

Sharp pains darted through me, couldn't rest and when I stooped over I could hardly get up. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me the relief I kept talking Doan's until my back was free from pain. I have had it trouble for a year and give Doan's the credit for curing me."

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and soggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, also you have backache, sick headaches, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.
To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Borax Compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

Mad Rush For The Sacrifice Block

From now until the coming November, politicians both great and small will be bobbing up in their mad desire to serve the public as it has never been served before. Between this and the date of the fall election, countless patriotic speeches will be delivered (from manuscript) by individuals from the great political parties, who are anxious to offer themselves on the block of sacrifice to serve the people in public office.

Candidates for office on all tickets will do well to see that all coats are carefully guarded before they spend much time and money in their efforts to "save the dear people" from the tyrannical methods of the fellows on the other ticket. Candidates whose records cannot withstand a thorough X Ray examination, had better remain in private life.

The old fashioned method of "You're a liar!" and "You're another!" is a thing of the past. We have passed through the war cloud that has tried men's souls, not only on the battle field, but in the field of business as well, and the men, who showed themselves to be patriots both at home in their dealings with fellow men, as well as those, who fought our battles in the death trenches abroad, will be called on to offer proofs of their stewardships.

While we are not in sympathy with a military candidate for the presidency, we do not wish to be understood as being in the least measure ungrateful or unpatriotic in taking this stand; we believe that now, more than at any other time in the history of this country, we need a business man at the head of this government. Our financial interests at home and our dealings with foreign nations which call for the utmost surveillance, demands it.

With the soldier from the ranks, it is entirely different; the community that is unmindful of the fact that he should have a voice and a big one too, in the affairs of government both state and municipal, is not worthy of being called a portion of this country. It should be bottled up and sent across the sea. The political pot has begun to boil and has plenty of time to boil thoroughly. The more candidates there are in the field, the more caution will be necessary in order to separate the wheat from the chaff—Let the work be done in good order.

The joint committee of both Houses which has been visiting the Virgin Islands has returned to Washington and is engaged in the consideration of legislation designed to provide a permanent form of government for our newest possessions.

Notice to All People With Taxable Property

The laws of New Mexico are very rigid as regards the rendition of taxes in this state and this office has had more than its share of grief this last year regarding the penalty added to those not making their rendition before the last day of February 1919 and we do not want to add any this year if it can be avoided.

Starting January the 15th we will be at the office from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. (and later if convenient to the public) and we ask that all people having property please make it their special duty to see that their property is properly listed not later than the 15th of March, 1920.

If you do not want to come to the office let me know and I will mail the schedule to you, but please try to avoid the penalty.

FRANK R. MILLER,
Assessor Lincoln County.

Think, Talk and Act

A larger acreage has been taken up by the New State Oil & Gas Company during the past week than ever before in the same length of time. The company has no complaint to make yet there is much work of importance still to be done, before they are ready to take up the proposition of a deep test well for this vicinity. Any land owner can assist in making these final arrangements by adding his land in lease to the company which he can do with the utmost safety and confidence.

Those who are now interested in the game can do much by talking and boosting the proposition not only as a safe and sound project, but as the only manner in which we can bring the proper results to Carrizozo and community. The larger the acreage, the quicker and more rapidly will oil development come to us. Now is the time to think, act and talk—The company is more than anxious to answer all questions pertaining to the plan which is easily explained and reliably guaranteed. People in general who have land not as yet leased to the company, should be prepared to lend a listening ear to the representatives of the company when they pay them a visit. The Outlook is in receipt of a letter from a certain land owner in the east, who has land in this vicinity asking for information as to how much oil has been found in this county. We would answer this subscriber in this manner: It is up to him and all other landowners to turn in their leases to the New State Oil & Gas Co. and hurry the movement which is the only means of development we have and the only one that will bring the desired results.

Canadian Farmers Turn Winter Months to Good Account.

Large crops and good prices for the wheat, oats, barley and flax from Canadian farms have made the winter resorts in California at times resemble a meeting of a Canadian farmers' institute

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post.

Mrs. O. P. Humphrey Passes On

Last Monday afternoon, Mrs. O. P. Humphrey, died at the home of Mrs. Henry Emerson after a well spent life of Christian usefulness. The Humphrey family came to this section 32 years ago locating on the Little Creek, between the Bonito and Eagle Creek. In the year of 1908, the family moved to Carrizozo, Mr. Humphrey building the residence which is now known as the Sherwood Corn place.

Three years ago, they moved to Tularosa where they resided until a short time ago, when Mrs. Humphrey's health began to fail and she was brought here for treatment, but her ailment coupled with advanced years failed to respond to medical aid and she passed away. Mrs. Humphrey was 76 years of age. Those, who were her nearest neighbors during the many years of her residence here, are the ones who have the highest words of praise for her christian character and loving traits of human kindness. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning. The Rev. Cox of the Nogal Nazarene Church of which she was a member, preached the sermon. Following the sermon, Rev. J. H. Skinner of Carrizozo, who had lived a close neighbor to the family for many years, paid a loving tribute to the christian character of the deceased after which the remains were interred in the local cemetery.
