LAS VEGAS MAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Woman Victim Born and Partly Raised in Alamogordo, Grand-daughter of Former Texasman, John R. DeMier. Domestic Trouble Indicated as the Bottom of the Tragedy.

Late last Thursday afternoon on a lonely road near Las Vegas a murder and suicide took place, the victim of the murder being Mrs. Dan Bruck, a former Alamogordo girl, who was born here about seventeen years ago as Dorothy Banner. The Banners lived here for a few years and then the family moved to Las Cruces where the father conducted a theatre. Dorothy Banner was a grand-daughter of John R. DeMier, for many years a resident of this place. The following is the account published in the Albuquerque Morning Journal last Friday:

Husband Leaves Note.
A note to a fellow employe introduced as evidence at the inquest this afternoon, established the fact that Dan Bruck, 27 years old, killed his wife, Dorothy, 17 years old and then shot himself. The two, seated side by side in an automobile, were found on a lonely road on the mesa a mile east of Las Vegas early this morning. Each had a bullet through the head and a .45-caliber revolver was found at their feet. Mrs. Bruck died instantly but Bruck lived until this afternoon.

Bruck's note did not reach its destination until this afternoon. It contained a bill of sale of his car and other effects to R. C. Storrie, for whom he worked, and added: "Please show this note to Old Man Storrie. Then bury me." He referred to the time as his "last minutes in this world."

A baby daughter, three weeks old, is at the home of the woman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chandler. The couple left the Chandler home together yesterday afternoon to look for housekeeping rooms. Bruck is said to have told some of his friends of domestic troubles. The jury in Justice C. H. Stewart's inquest found the Bruck's had come to their death from revolver shots fired by Bruck.

Husband Author of Tragedy.
Daniel Bruck, 27 years old, is dying in a hospital with a bullet through his brain and his 17-year-old wife, Dorothy, is dead, with a bullet through her brain, as a result of what the police say was a murder and attempted suicide. The police declare Bruck shot his wife and then turned the revolver upon himself. Justice C. H. Stewart viewed the bodies as soon as he could be taken to the scene. He said from the appearance of the bodies and prior circumstances it was his opinion that Bruck had killed his wife and then shot himself. They had been living apart since a baby was born to them three weeks ago. Bruck was a foreman on the Storries irrigation project.

ASKS UNITED STATES HELP IN VILLISTA TRIAL

Santa Fe, Feb. 28.—Senator W. D. Murray of Grant county today wired United States Senator Fall, asking him to use his influence in an effort to get an appropriation from congress for the trial of the 16 Villistas pardoned by Governor Larrazolo and afterward arrested by Luna county. Senator Murray said the $5,000 appropriation carried in the bill passed by the senate Saturday would not be sufficient, but in view of the financial situation faced by the state, he did not feel like asking for a greater sum.

Senator Robinson introduced a bill to create a state department of public welfare with a board of five members, one a physician and three to be women with a health division and child welfare division, the general commission to get $4,000 a year and the director of child welfare $2,000.

NEW MEXICO WOOL GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

Albuquerque, N. M., March 1.—That the program of the annual convention of the New Mexico Wool Growers' Association which is to be held in Albuquerque, March 25 and 26 is an interesting as well as a profitable one is borne out by the fact that such subjects as "Federal Income Tax Returns by Sheeplemen" by J. D. Hannah, Acting Internal Revenue Collector; "The Packers" by E. N. Westworth of Armour & Co.; "Better Cooperation between the live-stock and banking interests" by J. B. Herndon, President of the State National Bank of Albuquerque, as well as many other questions of vital interest to the sheeplemen will be before the convention.

Mr. Pragus Miller, president of the association will be able to tell the sheeplemen of things done by the association.

The New Mexico Wool Growers' Association is making a strong plea for organization which is so necessary for the interests of the sheeplemen. Wm. R. Morley of Magdalena, will talk on "Organization."

Every sheepleman should make an effort to attend this convention and hear what this organization has accomplished the past year.

NEW MEXICO REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE DECLINES TO MIX IN SENATORSHIP FIGHT

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 28.—The New Mexico Republican state central committee got clear out of any possible squabble over Republican senatorial jobs from United States senator down today when it decided, on motion of Judge Reed Holloman, to return all applications for patronage endorsement to the applicants with instructions to send them to the "appointing authorities"—United States Senator Fall and Governor Mechem.

The committee will make no recommendation of any kind, and it took no action whatever on the matter of the appointment of a senator to fill Mr. Fall's place when he enters the cabinet. The committee adjourned this afternoon.

Fall Opposed to Bursum.

It was declared by Republican leaders at the committee meeting today that Mr. Fall favors Attorney Mark Thompson of Las Cruces as his successor. Among the bits of gossip circulating among the committeemen was the story that Senator Fall is opposed to the appointment of National Committeeman H. O. Bursum because Mr. Bursum supported Leonard Wood for the presidential nomination instead of Mr. Harding.

The situation, in any event, has clearly developed the fact that Mr. Fall is opposed to the appointment of Mr. Bursum, who has been considered Governor Mechem's most likely appointee.

The matter of Mr. Fall's successor has started a rumor crop of unprecedented dimensions. The most fantastic circulated today was that Governor Mechem intended going to El Paso and allowing Acting Governor Duckworth to appoint him to the senatorship, thus automatically at the same time making Mr. Duckworth governor.

EATING HOUSE CHANGES HANDS

On the first of March, the Carrizozo Eating House changed proprietorship. Mrs. Julia Gurney, who has so successfully managed this popular resort for the last 14 years retiring and E. H. Sweet of Socorro her successor. During these years, many who were children when she took charge of the Eating House, have grown to manhood and womanhood, and have always known her to be the same kind-hearted, obliging, motherly lady, whose smile of welcome has been never-changing.

WOMAN'S CLUB

THE CARRIZOZO WOMAN'S CLUB met in regular club session on the afternoon of February 28 with an increased attendance. Mrs. O. Z. Finley presiding. Fourteen new members were added to the club membership, namely: Mesdames W. C. McDonald, S. O. Spores, C. H. Haines, A. W. Adams, F. A. Miller, Geo. Benson, Nora Massie, Fred Hailey, Chas. McDaniel, Beulah Gokley, W. P. Loughrey, J. B. Dinwiddie, E. F. Climer, Geo. Froning.

After the regular business was transacted, Mrs. J. B. French kindly explained the nature of the Shepard-Towner bill after which a committee was appointed to take favorable action on the Child Welfare bill. A patriotic program followed the meeting with Mrs. F. E. Richard as Conductor and was heartily enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Truman Spencer gave an excellent address on patriotism; Mrs. R. E. Lemon gave a reading, "Makers of the Flag," both of which were greatly appreciated.

The pupils from the High School gave several patriotic numbers. The seventh and eighth grade chorus gave "America The Beautiful" followed by a medley of songs by the High School Glee Club, with Mrs. Saunders at the piano, all of which were patriotic in nature, made the audience feel a deeper sense of love for "Home and Native Land," than ever before. The Flag Drill, directed by Mrs. T. E. Kelley and the patriotic drill by Miss Mamie Humphrey were pleasing features of the program. Carrizozo may well be proud of her schools, superintendant, teachers and others who contributed to the success of this patriotic entertainment.

There will be no meeting on Friday afternoon, March 4th, on account of the Indian program to be carried out at the Crystal Theatre by the Musical and Literary Departments of the Club. This entertainment, the program of which was printed in this paper last week, will be a very entertaining and well worth going miles to witness. Let the Crystal be crowded on this occasion.

CARRIZOZO HONORED BY STATE EASTERN STAR

The nineteenth annual session of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star closed last week at Albuquerque with installation of officers, this being the last of the many Masonic gatherings held in that city during the week.

Among the officers chosen for the ensuing year, Mrs. D. S. Donaldson, worthy Matron of Comet Chapter No. 29 of this city, was awarded the office of Electra, which is one point of the Star. The reports showed a rapid growth of the order with no word of anything except prosperity coming from any quarter in the state. Comet Lodge has enjoyed a steady growth since its organization; its officers are perfect in their work and zealous in the interest of the order which they reverence next to the home.

Her acts of charity, especially at Christmas time and of which she has always avoided giving to the public, will live in the hearts of worthy recipients for all time to come. Her kindness to the soldier boys during the war, her gentle courtesy to her guests at the Hotel, and the esteem in which she is held by all who have known her, all blend together, making her life one in which self-gratification has been no factor.

Mr. Sweet, is a brother of General Manager A. E. Sweet, of the E. P. & S. W. His experience in this line of business will make him a competent successor to Mrs. Gurney. We wish him success.

FINE PROGRAM FOR CATTLEMEN ALBUQUERQUE, MARCH 29, 30, 31

Albuquerque, N. M., March 2.—The Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce is arranging an exceptionally attractive program of entertainment for the 7th annual convention of the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' Association, which will convene here for the last three days of the present month. The business of the association will occupy all of the day-light hours, and as business comes first with this organization, the main portion of the entertainment program is being planned for the evenings of March 29, 30 and 31. In addition to the usual "Smoker" for men, and an elaborate musical entertainment for visiting women, some distinctly unusual entertainment features have been planned. Secretary H. B. Watkins, of the Chamber of Commerce, an adept in entertainment of conventions, says that the cattle growers of New Mexico have had their full share of gloom for some months past, and that they are entitled to three evenings of entertainment that will make them forget their troubles. This he proposes to provide. Early reservations indicate a record breaking attendance at this convention, which will have before it some of the most careful students of the more pressing problems of the cattle industry.

FARMERS APPEAL TO BIOLOGICAL SURVEY TO DESTROY RODENTS

Albuquerque Journal:
In response to a number of farming districts of the state which have appealed to them for assistance in ridding lands of gophers, rats and prairie dogs, the biological survey with headquarters here, is sending out demonstrators to infected districts and furnishing poison at cost.

An appeal for aid has come from Portales, where a large amount of grain is stored in the open and from Las Cruces where rats are doing great damage. Rats are killed by grain soaked in strychnine or barium carbonate or by trapping, a slow, effective method. Prepared grain will be shipped at cost to farmers from the laboratory at Albuquerque, or to organized communities and where quantity demanded warrants it a demonstrator will be sent to direct a campaign. Demonstrations and lectures on rodent extermination are being held about the state at present before farm bureaus and other farm organizations by Robert Luckenbill, assistant state rodent leader and C. A. Doty, state rodent inspector, who are out in the field this month.

Repairing Cuts Farm Machinery Costs.

Until the price of machinery falls materially, it will be especially profitable to repair old machinery. A few dollars spent on repairs will often lengthen the life of an expensive machine, for several years. This might be very profitable in ordinary times, but it should be doubly so now, because it may postpone the need of buying a new machine until the price has been materially reduced.

In accordance to the suggestion of the American Farm Bureau Federation the week March 28-April 12, has been set aside in New Mexico as Farm Repair Week. A special effort should be made during this week to put all machinery in proper repair if this has not been done already. Demonstration on methods of repairing farm machinery will be given at State College during the first five days of the week, and all who can, should arrange to attend some of these demonstrations.

STARR, FAMOUS BANDIT, DIES IN ARKANSAS JAIL

Succumbs to Wounds Received While Attempting to Rob the Peoples' Bank at Harrison Friday.

Harrison, Ark., Feb. 22.—Henry Starr, Oklahoma bandit, wounded while attempting to rob the Peoples' bank last Friday died this afternoon. Starr had been conscious since 11 o'clock.

Sheriff Johnson said shortly after noon that Starr had given him a statement, but refused to divulge the contents.

Starr Was Known as a Fearless Outlaw.

Henry Starr was known for a quarter of a century as one of the most fearless outlaws of the wild days that preceded statehood in Oklahoma.

He was born fifty years ago. His first robbery was committed in 1892, when he held up an express office in Nowata, Okla. He was arrested, jumped his bond and killed Floyd Wilson, a deputy United States marshal, who attempted to arrest him.

In 1893 he robbed the Canney, Kans., Valley National Bank of $4,000. Scores of outlaws then flocked to his standard and he became leader of the band. Following a series of crimes he was arrested at Colorado Springs, Colo. He was taken to Fort Smith Ark., and sentenced to thirteen years in federal prison.

In 1902 he was pardoned by President Roosevelt, and went to Tulsa. He robbed a bank at Amity, Colo., in 1903. He was sentenced to twenty-three years in the Colorado penitentiary but soon gained a pardon by good conduct. He went to Wyoming and later returned to Oklahoma.

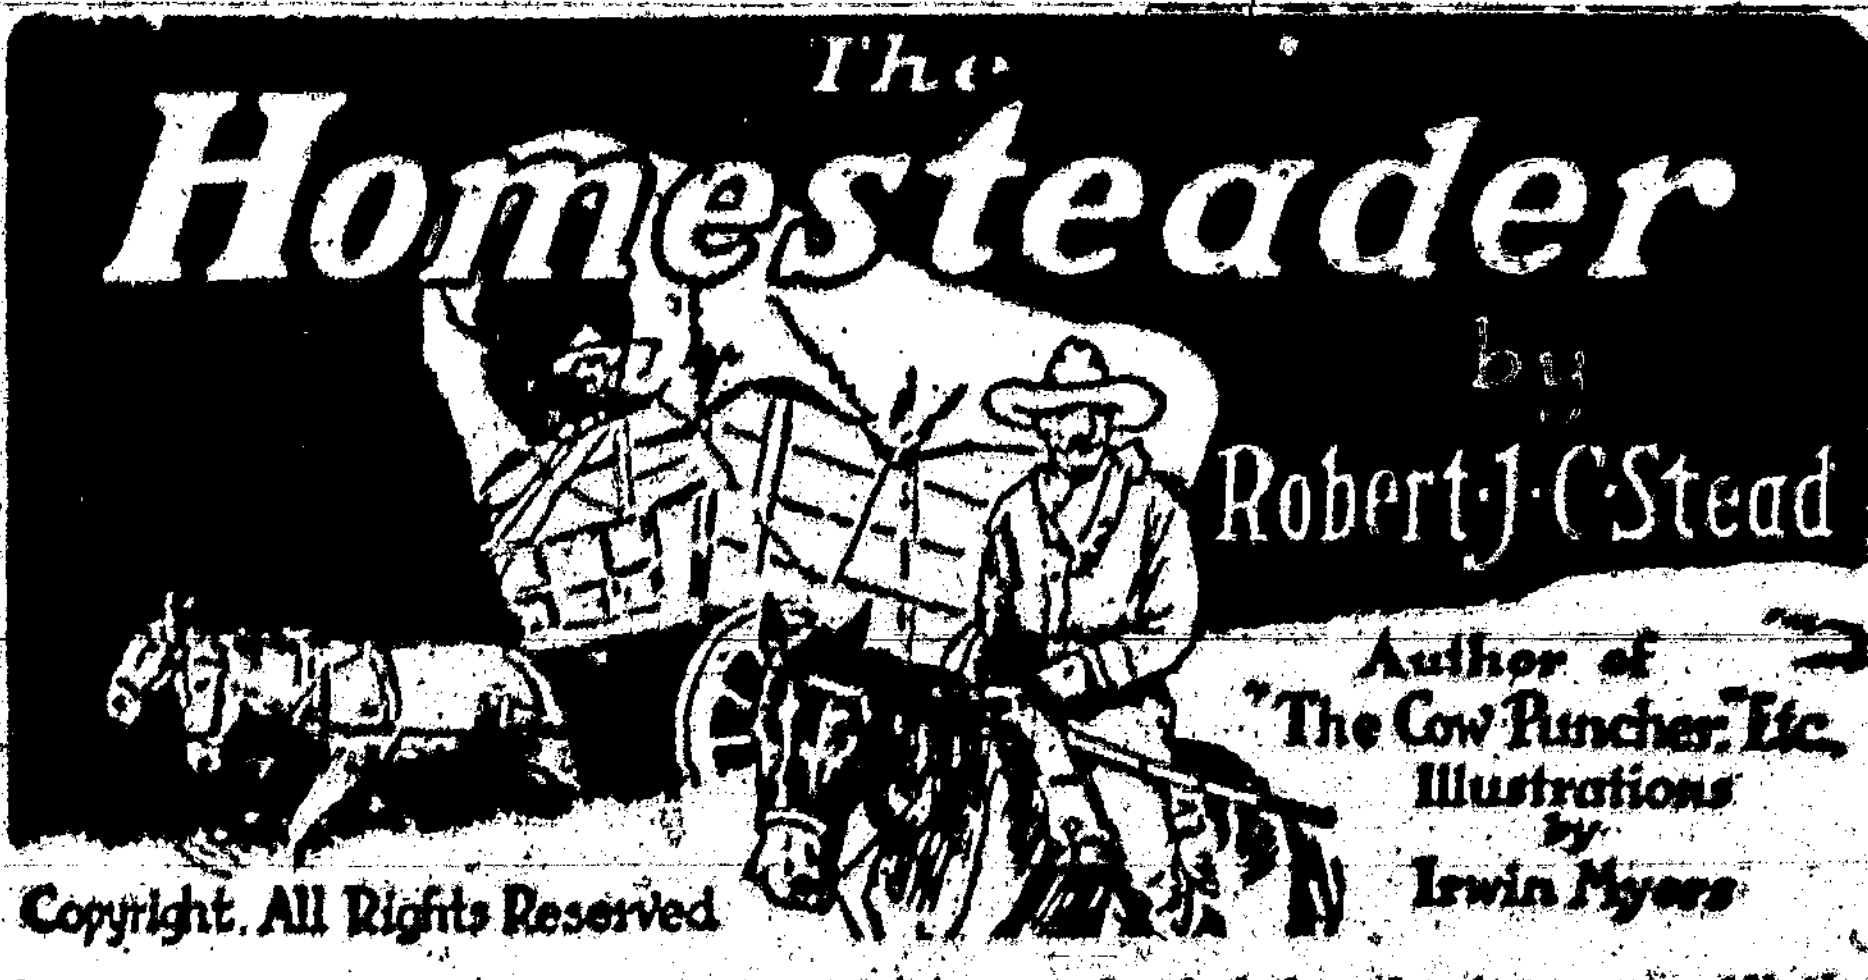

In 1915 he held up a bank at Stroud, Okla., was captured and sentenced to in 1919 he was paroled. Since then he had ostensibly engaged in motion picture work.

Forest Conservation and Regulation in Colonial Days.

In 1625 an ordinance was passed in Plymouth Colony, reciting inconveniences likely to arise in any community from a lack of timber and declaring that no man shall soil or transport any timber whatsoever out of the colony without approval of the governor and council. This was probably the first Conservation Statute passed in America. An order of the Providence Plantations in 1638 required that two men should view the timber on the Common and determine what was best suited for use of each person. Various statutes were early enacted in Rhode Island and other colonies regulating the export of lumber. In 1640, the inhabitants of Exeter, N. H., adopted a general order for regulation of the cutting of oak timber. In 1681, William Penn stipulated in his ordinances regarding disposal of land, that for every five acres cleared of forest growth, one acre should be left to forest. A resolution was adopted at Elizabethtown, N. J., in 1683 reciting that much timber trespass and waste was being committed and authorizing the governor to issue a proclamation and enforce the law against timber trespass. Strict laws against forest fires were passed by many of the colonies soon after they were established—by several of the New England colonies previous to 1650.

In 1795, the Society for the Production of Agriculture, Arts and Manufactures published a report on the best method of preserving and increasing the growth of timbers, recommending that lands least valuable for agriculture be devoted to forests. In 1818, a Massachusetts act authorized the agricultural societies of the state to offer premiums to encourage growth of oaks and other trees necessary to the maintenance of a supply of ship-building material. CAMP NO. 1

Synopsis.—Dissatisfied because of the seemingly barren outlook of his position as a school teacher in a Canadian town, John Harris determines to leave it, take up land in Manitoba and become a "homesteader." Mary, the girl whom he loves, declares she will accompany him. They are married and set out for the unknown country.

Harris left his wife with a company of other women in the government immigration building while he set out to find, if possible, lodgings where she might live until he was ready to take her to the homestead country. He must first make a trip of exploration himself, and as this might require several weeks his present consideration was to place her in proper surroundings before he left. He inquired at many doors for lodgings for himself and wife, or for his wife alone. The response ranged from curt announcements that the inmates "ain't takin' boarders" to sympathetic assurances that if it were possible to find room for another it would be done, but the house was already crowded to suffocation. In two hours Harris, notwithstanding his stout frame and his young enthusiasm, dragged himself somewhat disconsolately back to the immigration building with the information that his search had been fruitless.

At the door he met Tom Morrison and another, whom he recognized as the teller of Indian stories which had captivated the children of his car. "And what luck have ye had?" asked Morrison, seizing the young man by the arm. "Little, I'll be thinkin', by the smile ye're forcin' up. But what am I thinkin' of? Mr. McCrae is from 'way out in the Wapoka county, and an old timer on the prairie."

"Aleck McCrae," said the big man. "We leave our 'mistress' east of the Great Lakes. An' Ah'm not from Wapoka, unless you give that name to all the country from Pembina crossing to Turtle mountain. Ah'm doing business all through there, an' no more partial to one place than another."

"What is your line of business, Mr. McCrae?" asked Harris. "Aleck," said the other, laughing. "What is your business, Aleck?" "My business is assisting settlers to get located on suitable land, an' eking out my own living by the process. Tom here tells me you're hunting a house for the wife. Ah know Emerson too well to suppose you have found me."

"I haven't, for a fact," said Harris, reminding of the urgency of his mission.

"It's out of the question," said McCrae. "Besides, it's not so necessary as you think. What with the bad time our train made, an' the good time the stock train made, an' the fact that they started ahead of us, they're in the yards now. That's a piece of luck, to start with."

"But I can't put my wife in a stock car!" protested Harris. "There's worse places," McCrae answered, calmly worrying a considerable section from a plug of black chewing tobacco. "Worse places, Ah should say. Ah've seen times when a good warm stock car would have passed for heaven. But that ain't what Ah have in mind. We'll all turn in an' get the stock unloaded, hitch up the horses, pack a load, an' get away. Ah've been making a canvass, an' Ah find we have six or seven families who can be ready to pull out this afternoon. My team will go along with a good tent an' some cooking outfit. Everyone has bedding, so we're all right for that. Now, if we all hustle we can be started by 4 o'clock, an' out ten or 12 miles before we pitch camp. How does it suit you?"

"What do you say, Mr. Morrison?" "I think Aleck's plan is best. I've my wife and the two girls, and there's no roof for their heads here. It suits me."

"If it's all settled," continued McCrae, who had the leader's knack of suppressing indecision at the psychological moment, "we'll all turn in with the unloading of the stock."

Harris ran to tell his wife that they were to join a party for "the front" that very afternoon. She received the news joyously. In a few minutes all hands, both men and women, were busy at the cars. Many hands made the work light, and by mid-afternoon six sleighs were loaded for the journey. All the women and children were to go with the party; Morrison and one or two hired men would remain in Emerson, complete the unloading, and take charge of the effects until the teams should return from their long journey. McCrae, on account of his knowledge of the town and of the needs of the journey, was chosen to secure the supplies.

Each settler's sleigh carried that which seemed most indispensable. First came the settler's family, which, large or small, was crowded into the deep box. McCrae made them pack hay in the bottom of the sleigh boxes, and over this were laid robes and blankets, on which the immigrants sat, as thickly as they could be placed. More robes and blankets were laid on top, and sacks stuffed very full of hay served the double purpose of cushioning their backs and conveying fodder for the animals.

Morrison came up to Harris' sleigh, and gave it an approving inspection. "You will all be fine," he said, "and a great deal better than wearin' about here. Besides, you're just as well to be away," he added, in a somewhat lower voice. "McCrae tells me if this sun keeps up the roads will be gone before we know it, and that means a delay of two or three weeks."

At this moment McCrae himself joined the group. "There's only two in your party, Harris," he said, "an' while Ah don't want to interrupt your honeymoon, there's another passenger to be taken care of. Dr. Blain is going with us, and Ah'm going to put him in your charge. He's a bit peculiar, but Ah don't think he'll give you any trouble. It's just a case of being too much of a good fellow. One thing Ah know—he's a doctor. Ah'm going up town for him now; you can shift your stuff a little an' make room."

The whole party were ready for the road and waiting before McCrae appeared again. When he came a companion staggered somewhat unceremoniously by his side.

"I'm aw'right, McCrae," he was saying. "I'm aw'right. Shay, whash thish? Shildren 'v' Ishurt?" "Come now, Doctor, straighten up. Ah want to introduce you."

Half leading and half pulling, McCrae brought the doctor to Harris' sleigh. "This is Mr. Harris, who you will travel with—Jack Harris. An' Mrs. Harris."

The doctor had glanced only casually at Harris, but at the mention of the woman's name he straightened up and stood alone.

"Glad to meet you, madam," he said. "And it's only proper that the pleasure should be all mine." There was a little bitterness in his voice that did not escape her ear.

"But indeed I am glad to meet you," she answered. "Mr. McCrae has been telling us something of your work among the settlers. We are very fortunate to have you with us."

He shot a keen look into her face. She returned his gaze frankly, and he found sarcasm neither in her eyes nor her voice.

"Help me in, McCrae," he said. "I'm a bit unsteady . . . There now, my bag. Don't move, Mrs. Harris . . . I think we are quite ready now, are we not?" "Most remarkable man," whispered McCrae to Harris. "Wonderful how he can pull himself together."

McCrae hurried to his own sleigh, called a cheery "All ready!" and the party at once proceeded to get under way.

Harris' thoughts were on his team, on the two cows trudging behind, and on the multiplicity of arrangements which his new life would present for decision and settlement. But his wife gazed silently out over the ocean of snow. The rays of the sun fell gratefully on her cheeks, pale and somewhat wan with her long journey. But the sun went down, and the western sky, cloudless and measureless, faded from gold to copper, and from copper to silver, and from silver to lead. It was her first sight of the prairie, and a strange mixture of emotions, of awe, and loneliness, and a certain indifference to personal consequences, welled up within her. Once or twice she thought of home—a home so far away that it might have been in another planet. But she would not let her mind dwell on it for long. She was going to be brave. For the sake of the brave man who sat at her side, guiding his team in the deepening darkness; for the sake of the new home that they two should build somewhere over the horizon; for the sake of the civilization that was to be planted of the nation that must arise, of the manhood and womanhood of tomorrow—she would be brave.

A bright star shone down from the west; one by one they appeared in the heavens. . . . It grew colder. The snow no longer caked on the horses' feet; the sleigh runners creaked and whined unceasingly.

The team came to a sudden stop. The sleigh in front was obstructing the road, and the party closed up in solid formation.

"Camp No. 1," called Aleck McCrae, from the head sleigh. "Run these sleighs up in two rows," and he indicated where he wanted them placed. "It's hard on the horses an' cattle, after the warm cars, but they'll stand it tonight if they're well blanketed. Tomorrow night we'll be among the Mennonites, with a chance of getting a stable room."

Under Aleck's direction the sleighs were run up in two rows, about 20 feet apart, facing the north. Two sleighs were then run across the opening at the north end, so that altogether they formed a three-sided court. Men with shovels quickly cleared the snow from the northerly portions of the court, and there the tent was pitched. The ground was covered with blankets, robes and bedding. Pots and pans were produced; women eager to be of service, swarmed about the stove, and children, free at last of their muffling wraps, romped in high-laughtered glee among the robes or danced back and forward with the swinging shadows.

Savory smells soon were coming from hot frying pans, as sliced ham with bread and gravy, was served up in tin plates and passed about the tent. Everybody—married men and women, maidens and young men, girls, boys, and little children—was ravenously hungry, and for a few minutes little could be heard but the plying of the viands. But as the first edge of hunger became dulled the edge of wit sharpened, and laughter and banter rolled back and forward through the tent. The doctor, now quite sober, took a census, and found the total population to be 28. These he classified as 12 married, eight eligible, seven children, and himself, for whom he found no classification.

When the meal was over and the dishes washed and packed, Aleck made another round of the camp before settling down for the night. Meantime mothers gathered their families about them as best they could; the little ones sleepily mumbled their prayers, and all hands, young and old, nestled down like a brood of tired chickens

Ventilation. Through persistent education the why and wherefore of this great health necessity has been explained; still to the many, air is air, and that is all there is to it.

Ventilation does not simply mean "open wide the windows," but it should be done scientifically, especially in a sick room. To properly ventilate, the air must be kept in motion. The entrance opening for fresh air should be larger than the one for exit. If these openings are directly opposite, the motion will take place without doing the room any good. If there are two windows in the room, one should be opened from the top and the other from the bottom. For the general daytime room the temperature should be 63 degrees and at night 65. A bathroom should be kept at 70. For the sick room of pneumonia patients and several other diseases, of course, the temperature should be kept as low as possible without having the patient in a draught.

One Good Innovation. Ted Taskins says one of the best helps to production is the change in political customs that prevents a man to neglect work in order to go around and get bids for his vote.

under the white wings of the protecting tent. Outside the ground-drift sifted gently about the sleighs, the cows sighed in contentment, and the wolves yapped to each other in the distance.

CHAPTER II.

Prairie Land.

The afternoon that has just been described was typical of the days that were to follow as the immigrant party labored its slow pilgrimage into the farther west. True, they entered on this very next day a district having some pretense of settlement, where it was sometimes possible to secure shelter for the women and children under hospitable Mennonite roofs. They soon emerged from the Red River valley, left the vast, level, treeless plain behind them, and plunged into the rolling and lightly wooded Pembina region.

After numerous consultations with McCrae, Harris had arranged that his immediate destination should be in a district where the scrub country melted into open prairie on the western side of the Pembina. The Arthurses, who were also of the party, had homesteaded there, and Fred Arthurs had built a little house on the land the year before. Arthurs was now bringing his young wife to share with him the privations and the privileges of their new home. A friendship had already sprung up between Mrs. Arthurs and Mrs. Harris, and nothing seemed more appropriate than that the two women should occupy the house together while Harris sought out new homestead land and Arthurs proceeded with the development of his farm.

After the crossing of the Pembina the party began to scatter—some to homesteads already located; others to friends who would billet them until their arrangements were completed. At length came the trail, almost lost in the disappearing snow, that led to Arthurs' homestead. A quick handshake with McCrae, Ned Bacon, and the doctor, and a few others who had grown upon them in the journey, and the two young couples turned out to break their way over the little-used route that now lay before them.

Picking out a homestead.

NEXT JOB IS WHAT COUNTS

Good Thing to Forget What One Has Done, and Look Forward to Something Else.

James J. Hill, who possessed a phenomenal memory, said it is easy to remember things you are interested in.

What to do, therefore, is to discern what things are useful, what things one ought to be interested in, and then forget the others.

That sounds easy, but it isn't easy, as we all know. However, if we try, we may accomplish something. If we don't, we won't.

Let's see, therefore, what are some of the things we ought to forget.

First, and most important of all, forget that brilliant record you made at school or that wonderful sale you made which caused all the boys to talk, or that remarkable piece of work you did which won your raise of pay and promotion.

Forget the big things you did yesterday or last year.

Forget all about the time you topped the list and were made a fust over.

Forget that you are (in your own eyes) a wonder, a world beater.

Water that has gone over the mill-wheel can grind no more corn.

Forget what you have already done and address all your mind and strength and talent to the next job.—Forbes Magazine (New York).

Franklin's Court Harmonica.

One of the first musical instruments made by an American was a mouth harmonica, made by Benjamin Franklin at the time when he was minister at the court of Louis in France, where he played it with considerable skill before Marie Antoinette and her court ladies.

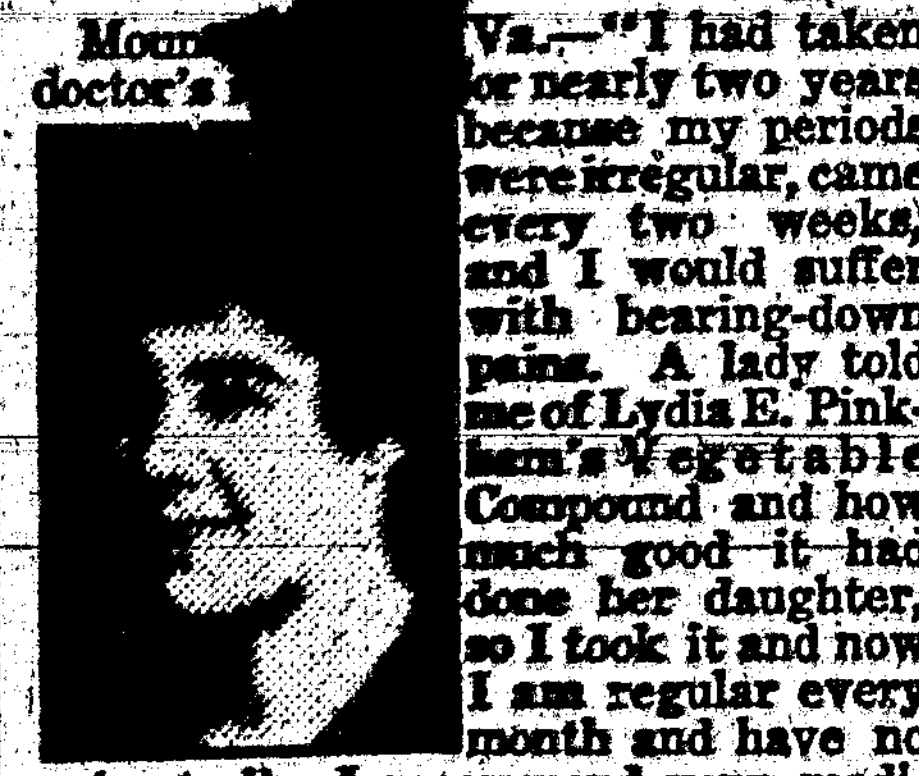

The queen was so delighted and interested that Franklin presented the little instrument to her. After Marie Antoinette was beheaded in the great French revolution, this mouth harmonica had many sensational experiences till finally it came into the possession of a wealthy musical amateur and collector in this country, who has it, I believe, to this day.—Musical America.

Troublesome Spiders.

A spider in Buenos Aires spun its web near a telephone cable. The wind caught the web and wrapped it around the wires. The web soon became damp and caused several short circuits. Other spiders in the neighborhood followed the adventurous one's example, and now it has become necessary for the telephone company to send a man out every few days to clear the wires of webs.—Popular Science Monthly.

Points the Way to Comfort and Health. Other Women Have Read

Months ago, I had taken doctor's advice for nearly two years because my periods were irregular, came every two weeks, and I would suffer with bearing-down pains. A lady told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how much good it had done her daughter, so I took it and now I am regular every month and have no pain at all. I recommend your medicine to everyone and you may publish my testimonial, hoping that the Vegetable Compound does some other girl the good it has done me.—Mrs. GEORGE TEGARDEN, 915 Third Street, Moundsville, W. Va.

How many young girls suffer as Mrs. Tegarden did and do not know where to turn for advice or help. They often are obliged to earn their living by toiling day in and day out no matter how hard the pain they have to bear. Every girl who suffers in this way should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if she does not get prompt relief write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, about her health. Such letters are held in strict confidence.

Knew All About It. There was a small passageway between the dining room and kitchen in Frederick's house that was recently fitted out for use as a breakfast room. One day at school Frederick's teacher had occasion to ask if anyone knew what a "nook" was.

Frederick, with the new breakfast room in mind, answered: "It's a place where you eat breakfast to keep the dining room clean."

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Ad.

A Familiar Warning.

A man was walking down a street in Dorchester the other day and an acquaintance some distance behind was calling out after him: "Hey, Luke-Hey, Luke!"

As the man ahead did not show any sign of hearing, a wag on the street corner shouted: "Stop, Luke, and listen!"—Boston Transcript.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer.

In Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Appropriate. "Why do you call flying machines 'hobos of the air'?" "Because they have no visible means of support."

A bluff by any other name would be just as unsatisfactory.

Mamma—Now, Willie, if you'll be a good boy I'll give you a nice birthday present. Willie—Dat's like buying a cat in a bag. Wat's de present?

Disliked Being in Society. "I've got to attend a dinner tonight," the oyster said; "It's the sweetest kind of a dinner but I'd sooner be in my bed."

Strict Obedience. "When that henpecked man's wife told him to beat it, he never moved a foot from where he was." "So he defied her?" "No; he kept on beating the carpet."

Free Advice. Humor—Well, I didn't have to pay the doctor.

Us—Why not? Humor—He treated me.—Chaparral.

Enslaver. The Doctor—You sleep too much. You must get up three hours earlier in the morning.

The Patient—Well, if it's all the same to you, Doc, I think I prefer to go to bed three hours later.

Skin Sufferers Do Not Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and other local remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritations cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and routs out the germs which cause the trouble.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

SKIPPER REGRETTED HIS FIB

Persistent Questioner, in the Classic Language of the Street, "Got Back at Him."

The deep-sea fisherman often has a sharp tongue and is not likely to get the worst of a verbal duel. But George, the skipper of a Yarmouth trawler, who figures in "North Sea Fishers and Fighters," by Mr. Walter Wood, certainly met with his match once whether he knew it or not.

"There's land people who come and bother you with foolish questions," he complained in recounting the hardships of a skipper's life. "I try to put 'em off, but can't allus do it. There was an old lady who worried me past endurance with her questions, askin' if the herrin's were caught in barrels, as she'd sometimes seen 'em that way in shops. I told her no, and then she aggravated me to that extent that I told the only fib I ever spoke in my life.

"How do you kill 'em when you've caught 'em?" she asked.

"We bite off their heads," I answered.

"She looked at the catch of herrin's we had. 'My! My!' she murmured, walkin' away. 'How tired your poor jaws must be!'"

EMPLOYED "NOM DE PHONE"

Few People Will Blame Mr. Kraemerlicht for Pressing John Henry Smith Into Use.

"Is Mr. Smith in?" inquired the visitor at the office of a Newark business man.

"Mr. Smith? Mr. Smith? I don't think we have any person by that name," replied the office boy.

"John Henry Smith was the name," said the caller. "He gave it to me over the telephone."

"Were you looking for John Henry Smith?" inquired a member of the firm who was passing by. "You want to see our Mr. Kraemerlicht. This is a new office boy, and he is not aware that John Henry Smith is the telephone name of Mr. Kraemerlicht. Mr. Kraemerlicht found that it was impossible to make any one understand his name over the telephone, so he simplified it to John Henry Smith. A nom de phone."

"I see," said the visitor. "You might also call it a phony name."—Newark Sunday Call.

Canada's Fuel Resources.

The fuel resources of Canada are situated in the extreme east and west and the western part of Alberta; the lignite coals are situated in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, but lying between the limits of these deposits is a great stretch of territory devoid of coal measured by economic value. The 12,000 square miles of peat bogs are situated in this area.

Ireland spends less per capita on drink than any other part of the United Kingdom.

The Hecla Divide Mining Company, which has been operating the Pinos Altos mines, near Silver City, has ordered suspension of all work until the title of the property can be cleared.

Miss C. Louise Boehringer of Yuma was elected first president of the Arizona State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, organized in Phoenix. Mrs. Rosemary Campbell of Prescott was elected auditor.

Governor Campbell signed the House Bill No. 13, appropriating $5,000 to the secretary of state to be applied in meeting expenses of the motor vehicle department until the end of the fiscal year. The bill carried the emergency clause.

The gravest problems that have ever confronted the livestock industry in New Mexico are coming up for consideration at the seventh annual convention of the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' Association, which meets in Albuquerque March 29, 30 and 31.

At a recent meeting of the Gallup, N. M., school board the plans for the new high school building which were submitted by T. C. Ganatra of Santa Fe were accepted as those by which the new building will be constructed. The new building will cost over $100,000, the money having been voted in bonds over a year ago.

The cotton season for the Carlisbad, N. M., project is now over and estimates show that in spite of the low price during the year the crop will be worth a million dollars. The grand total for the valley is 6,772 bales, which if the season had been a normal one in price would have brought the farmers over one and a half million dollars.

At a short session in the Douglas Chamber of Commerce and mines directors, the directors decided to postpone indefinitely the proposed meeting of representatives from the sixteen important towns along the Bankhead highway from El Paso to San Diego in Douglas, Feb. 26, called to formulate plans to promote all-year tourist travel via this route.

The adoption of the Arizona method for the valuation of the metal mines is provided for in a bill by Speaker Clancy and Representative Otero, Santa Fe county, New Mexico, introduced in the House. The bill, briefly speaking, provides for the capitalization of the net proceeds and fixes the multipliers for the process. These range from 15 per cent for copper mines to 30 per cent for metal mines whose output is irregular.

Over sixty delegates were present at the seventh annual convention of the New Mexico Electrical Association in Albuquerque.

William Owens is in a critical condition in the hospital at Carlisbad as the result of a stabbing affray at a road camp. The real cause of the fight is not known, but during an argument with his uncle, Ray Rawls, Owens was stabbed several times and was brought to the Eddy hospital where it is doubtful if he will recover. Rawls was placed under arrest.

Governor Thomas E. Campbell of Arizona has signed the bill repealing the law which prohibited members of the Legislature from holding state offices during the two-year period of their service as law-makers. The bill was introduced by Representative J. F. McGrath, Greenlee. The governor also signed House Bill No. 15, Representative J. O. Phillips, Maricopa, providing for distribution of community property to the surviving husband or wife and their children. The law heretofore has given other relatives outside the immediate family a claim to a share in such community property.

RUB RHEUMATIC PAIN FROM ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Ointment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Ointment" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Ointment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Adv.

Polar Bear Can Swim.

The Polar bear is as fine a swimmer as a seal, and behaves in the ice-cold seas of the North, with as much unconcern as though it had been born in that element, writes Dr. R. W. Shufeldt in the American Zoology Magazine. It has been known to drift for miles upon a floating iceberg, and this evidently for pleasure and convenience, rather than from necessity, as a number of Arctic explorers have reported having seen Polar bears, huddle and hearty, swimming in the open ocean all the way from 40 to 80 miles from land.

It's just fine. Don't stay snuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Adv.

Short and Pungent.

Mr. H. J. Jennings, once editor of the Birmingham Mail, claims to have written the shortest dramatic criticism ever penned: "Last night a play called 'Pure as Snow' was produced at the Blank theater. It is not as pure as snow." His assertion has been disputed, and a correspondent attributes the following very brief notice to an American critic: "A play by Ulysses S. was played last night. Heaven will judge him." Equally pointed was a criticism which once appeared in a Manchester journal: "Last night Mr. W.—'s play was produced. Quite a number of people stayed to the end."

Carrizozo School Notes
(By Surr. E. E. Cole)

The patriotic exercises, given by the Woman's Club, at Lutz Hall, under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Richard, were very interesting. The "Jolly Student" and a "Patriotic Medley," were well rendered by the High School. "America, the Beautiful" was sung with spirit by the eighth grade. A drill by pupils from the grades, prepared under the management of Mrs. T. E. Kelley, was perfectly and charmingly given. Miss Mamie Humphrey had so well drilled a group of boys and girls of the third grade for Washington's birthday that she was asked to repeat it for the Woman's Club. The Colonial costumes were beautiful and appropriate and the little gentlemen and ladies conducted themselves very much as grown-ups of Revolutionary times would have done.

Personality

THOSE elements of individuality, attractive or otherwise, which characterize every man and woman and make our association with them pleasant or unpleasant, are summed up in the word Personality. A pleasant, helpful personality is broadly beneficial, while a narrow, self-centered one is a source of much unhappiness.

A business institution is the concrete expression of the hopes and ideals of its founders and directors. The nature of their combined personalities is magnified into the character of the institution. Where discord and dissatisfaction mark your dealings with a firm or business house, you have an indication of the spirit which governs that institution. Choose your business connections as you choose your friends.

The friendly helpfulness and courtesy which characterize the service of this bank mirror the sincere purposes which actuate its management, and reassure you that your interests are thoughtfully considered and safeguarded.

Methodist Church Notes

The Epworth League last Sunday evening was lead by a volunteer leader and was one of the best we have had this Conference year. Quite a number took part; expressing their ideas and not reading the command of another. We are glad that the interest is not on the wane with the close of the contest.
 Next Sunday the pastor will preach in the morning on "Discouragement; its Cause and Cure." In the evening, "What Shall We Do While We Wait?" If you are discouraged, it will help you to attend the 11 o'clock service. If you want to be ready when your summons come, come at 7:30 in the evening.
 Communities are like people; some go to Church; some do not. Let us make Carrizozo a Church-going city. We can do it if we will. We can do it, and we will. A good start has already been made in that direction. The best people want to live in a live town which is religiously awake.

Baptist Church Notes

Dunbar Bell Ringers

The Dunbar Bell Ringers gave the Carrizozo public a clever exhibition of their art at the Crystal Theatre last Friday night. The theatre was crowded to its capacity. They traversed a wide-toned range in "Sunday Morning in London," and "Nearer My God to Thee" was given as a closing number. Other and more muscular exhibitions were given, but none more artistic and inspiring than those above named. The bell ringing, however, was but a small portion of the program; J. M. Wood, cellist and manager of the company, assisted by Murrell Poor, bass, on the ukelele, demonstrated his ability for better things than he chose to give us; for, after gaining the confidence of his audience with a promise of one of Beethoven's Sonatas, he dampened our ardor by "stringing off" the "Arkansaw Traveler." In this, the audience formed the thought that his estimate of its ability to appreciate the best that he could give was rather limited. Mr. Poor's offering of the poem, "It Takes a Heap of Living to Make a Home" was well rendered, and others who performed were equally deserving of mention, had we the space. The next number on the Redpath Lyceum Course will be Sidney Landon, impersonator, who will be well received on the evening of March 2.

Tariff on Sugar

Senator Smoot of Utah and Ransdell of Louisiana, the former a Republican and the latter a Democrat, have much the better of the argument when they advocated the imposition of a tariff on Sugar. Neither the beet sugar producers nor cane sugar producers of the United States can successfully compete with the producers of Cuba and other foreign countries where both wages and the standard of living are very low, says the Desert News. Cuban sugar, with freight added, dropped 4 cents in New York the last of January, which will entail loss to the American producers, who will be compelled to meet the price cut. This is a most serious matter when we take into consideration the fact that the ruling prices of the past are below the cost of production. We have no sympathy for speculators in sugar who have lost heavily during the last year. But the sugar industry of this country must be preserved and the tariff is the only means by which it can be accomplished. There may be some question as to the benefits of a protective tariff on some agricultural products, but so far as sugar is concerned it is difficult to discover any valid arguments on the negative side.

Sound Banking Saves Day

If ever the banking system of the Nation stood a test it was during the past six months.

To its lasting credit there have been no bank failures of importance and all necessary business has been accommodated.

The exception to this record has been North Dakota, where the Non-Partisan league been in control; where it established a state bank and where its private banks loaned money to league members on a political rather than a business basis.

The result of the political banking in North Dakota has been some 30 bank failures with resulting losses to farmers and depositors.

The league has accused private banks of refusing to finance the farmers.

This is not true. City and county banks have carried the farmers on a business basis but they have refused to make loans to carry crops for speculative purposes for they well knew that prices must come down and that both the farmers and the banks could lose by trying to stave off the laws of supply and demand. The banks adopted the same course of procedure with regard to manufacturing and other lines of business.

In this policy rather than wildcat banking of the Non-Partisan league which has steadied our country during the readjustment period, prevented financial disaster and prepared us to go ahead on a sound basis.

Government Has Spent Little for Education's Cause

(Capital News Service)
Washington, March 2, 1921.—With a seemingly certain return to better conditions, economically, throughout the country, based on a return to normalcy to a most gratifying degree, studies are being made of proportionate expenditure of federal monies for various purposes, and interest is being centered as a result on that which goes to the cause of education. In an analysis by Dr. Edward B. Rosa of the United States bureau of standards, of federal appropriations for 1920, it is shown that but 1% of the great total of $5,686,005,706 was devoted to education and science. By contrast, the sum of $3,855,482,586, or 68%, went to the payment of obligations incurred through the past wars. This, however, it is suggested, is water gone over the mill, as, in fact, is all the monies appropriated for other purposes, but with the demands and the needs for educational facilities the greatest in the country's history, a lesson would seem to be pointed as to future appropriations.

It is generally agreed by authorities that the hope of the nation lies in the public schools. It is there that the masses are afforded opportunity for acquiring an education along with salutary lessons in Americanism, and the encouragement of these schools constitute a vital problem.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any cure it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. The Carrizozo "Live Wire" Business Directory

As a forerunner of Spring as well as a forerunner of restoration to normal business conditions, we are beginning a "Live Wire" business directory of the enterprises of Carrizozo. Our merchants are extremely hopeful for good business, beginning with the early spring. They are even optimistic, and they should be. Away with this moping and grumbling about dull business! The word "dull" is a false term; it is counterfeit. "Thrift" is the real condition and the firms in Carrizozo propose to show their faith in the fact that business conditions are to be of the very best; there is nothing to prevent it. The "Live Wire" directory will run for the entire month of March as an evidence of the fact that Carrizozo business men are taking a decided stand for big business. Let everybody read the "live wire" directory - Buy at Home - Patronize those who are interested in Carrizozo, and the welfare of the town in general. Away with "mopes;" let "onward and upward" be our watchwords!

Here's a tube that closes punctures and prolongs casing life

The Compression Inner Tube has solved the puncture problem! Three times as thick as ordinary tubes, and moulded with deep side and tread corrugations which straighten but when tube is inflated. The air pressure COMPRESSES this tube, instead of stretching it, and nail holes close up automatically. You simply pull out the nail - and keep moving - no air is lost!

By maintaining the same air pressure constantly, keeping the tire firm, pinching and rim-cuts are practically eliminated. Tires last 20 to 50 per cent longer. And your car rides easier. Real economy as well as freedom from punctures is what you get in the Compression Tube. Let us demonstrate this remarkable tube to you immediately.

MRS. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Declares she has gained twelve pounds and her health is now better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tanlac, I don't believe there is anyone who feels any more grateful to it than I do," was the statement made recently by Mrs. J. M. Craig of 674 1/2 East Fortieth street, Los Angeles. "Like so many other families during the influenza epidemic last year we all had it, and my own illness, together with the worry over the rest of our family, brought on a case of genuine nervous prostration. "I was so weak I couldn't even sweep the floor, and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk but found out half a block was all I could stand before I gave out. Nervous spells came on me often. "Every medicine I tried failed to reach my case until finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac, and I am indeed thankful that he did, for it proved to be just what I needed. "The first two bottles didn't seem to help me. I guess that was because I was so extremely bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hopes than ever of getting well. "My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles of Tanlac I was better and stronger than I had been in years. I was sleeping soundly at night and had gained twelve pounds in weight. "That was several months ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as I ever was in my life and have been doing all the housework by myself. "It is simply remarkable how Tanlac has built me up and I have told everyone of my friends and relatives what a wonderful medicine it is." Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

He'll be left inside for the next month."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

SIMPLE ROAD TO HAPPINESS NOT A TERM OF OPPROBRIUM

As Benevolent Old Gentleman Pointed Out, Desired Result Might Easily Be Attained.

The beautiful young woman, dressed in fashion's most pronounced style, entered the street car and sat beside a rather benevolent-looking old man. As the car started she happened to glance out the window at a bunch of little girls playing on the sidewalk. "Don't they look happy," she gushed. "But no wonder. Why, I remember my happiest days were when I used to wear short, little gingham dresses." Now, the man had seen her enter the car, and he was well informed about the length of the dress she was wearing, so there was no mistaking his hint. "You might try gingham instead of the silk you're now wearing," he suggested.

Difficulty Ended. "Why my dear," said Mr. DeStyle. "I'm glad to see you so composed. When I left this morning you were weeping and wailing and tearing your hair because Fido was sick." "Well, you see," explained Mrs. DeStyle, "after you left Mrs. Tiptop came in and told me that dogs of Fido's breed were going out of fashion. So I dried my tears and kicked him out."

Dreaming of the Long Night

MARY GRAHAM BONNER THE LONG NIGHT.

The thing that happened when there was such jealousy for leadership when the boy and girl adventurers met other adventurers was this.

"Far Down the Road." And night had come on. "I'm lost," the girl cried.

"Why did I ever want adventures? Now, we've lost each other in the darkness because I was foolish and wouldn't follow the way I should go."

And the boy was saying, "If I move, I may slip and be dashed to pieces."

"Oh, dear, oh dear, well, I don't care if he does beat me, if only he will bring back my companion to me. I never will be cured again."

And the girl, who had wandered about a little more, feeling every footstep of the way through the black night, was shivering with the cold of the night and the fear.

"I was so stubborn," she said. "Oh, what a little wretch I was, and after the boy brought me on this trip—to be so mean and careless! It's not every girl who is given a chance like this to go adventuring. It's mighty few—if any at all."

"I hear a strange sound," she went on. "Boy, Boy," she called out. "Is it you?"

But only a rumbling sound answered her. "They promised us there were no such things as bogies and ghosts, and that there were no wild animals anywhere around, but it is awful being lost from the boy."

At last daylight came. The girl ran along a distance to the warm sunshine and looked about her. She couldn't see any one around, except far down the road she saw a cloud of dust and then another cloud of dust, and then she noticed a man on horseback.

"Perhaps this man can tell me about the boy. He may have seen him."

"He looks as if he were hurrying with good news, or maybe," and the girl's face became suddenly quite white, "maybe he is coming to bring me bad news."

But as the man on the horse came nearer, the girl gave a great cry of joy. There he was, behind the man, sat the boy.

"Oh," she shouted, "you're safe!" "I knew you were safe," the boy said. "The man with me whose name is Cooper Cooperation, told me that you were."

CROSSES U. S. IN 33 HOURS

MAIL PLANES CARRY BAGS FROM FRISCO TO NEW YORK—ONE KILLED.

ESTABLISH NEW RECORD NIGHT AND DAY SERVICE MAY BE EFFECTIVE AFTER MAY 1.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.) Hazelhurst, N. Y., Feb. 24.—Eight bags of mail, dispatched from San Francisco by airplane at 4:30 a. m., arrived at Hazelhurst field at 4:50 p. m., thirty-three hours later, establishing a new cross-country mail record, with allowance for time zone changes, in the coast-to-coast flight.

The mail was transferred from plane to plane in a relay flight ordered by the Postoffice Department to establish a new cross-continent mail record.

The plane, which arrived at Hazelhurst, was piloted by E. M. Allison, member of one of the four teams which took part in the race, two planes leaving Hazelhurst field and two starting from San Francisco at the same time.

One of the westward bound planes came to grief when Pilot E. M. Leonard was forced to descend at Dubois, Pa., on account of bad weather.

The second westbound plane reached Chicago and was unable to get away. The other eastward-bound plane crashed to earth at Elkton, Nev., killing the pilot, Capt. W. F. Lewis.

Captain Allison piloted one westward-bound plane as far as Cleveland, where it was taken over by another pilot on the second lap of the relay which ended at Chicago.

He then took the winning plane in charge at Cleveland and returned to Hazelhurst field, bettering the time set for the flight by the Postoffice Department by two hours and forty minutes.

"It is expected that on May 1, if plans are carried out," said a statement, "night flying will be regularly established along the New York-San Francisco route and mail between San Francisco and New York will be delivered in approximately thirty-six hours, covering the whole distance across the continent."

Otto Praeger, assistant postmaster general, described the night flight between Cheyenne and Chicago as "the most momentous step in civil aviation."

He added that it would mean "the speedy revolutionizing of the letter transportation methods and practices throughout the world."

Pilot Yeager made the flight between Cheyenne and North Platte, Neb., leaving Cheyenne at 4:50 p. m. and reaching North Platte at 7:46 p. m.

A delay of nearly three hours ensued because of repairs to the plane and then at 10:44 o'clock Pilot Knight hopped off and arrived in Chicago at 8:40 o'clock.

Dead Soldier Returns Alive. Lafayette, Ga.—Fred Williams, who went to the war in 1917, will return home in a few days to find his "body" buried here, his war insurance paid and his bride the wife of another. Williams' wife, whom he married but a few months before he left, mourned his death for a while and then married a former sweetheart, Joseph Robertson.

Germany Not Too Poor. London.—Premier Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons that he stood by his pledge that Germany must pay to the limit of her capacity. MARKETS

Furnished by U. S. BUREAU OF MARKETS Washington, D. C.

Hay. As a result of earlier weather and light receipt, market slightly improved over conditions earlier in the week, but prices still lower than last week. In most markets, demand still light, only few orders for shipments being received in western markets. Kansas City congested with poor hay. Further declines likely. Quoted Feb. 18: No. 1 Timothy, New York, $31.50; Chicago, $24; Cincinnati, $23; Memphis, $23; Kansas City, $19.50; St. Louis, $19; Minneapolis, $19.

Grain. Prices advanced about 10c the early part of week as result of reports of green bugs in southwest. An over-bought condition was then disclosed and prices reacted at 4 per cent. Larger movement, smaller demand and entire lack of export business caused a further decline despite more serious reports regarding green bugs. On the 13th, cold weather and snow were reported in bug territory. This inflated market lower, but prices later rallied on reports of export business and hessian fly talk from winter wheat states. On the 19th, prices advanced about 2 1/2c. Country offerings not large, milking demand rather slow. For week, Chicago March wheat advanced 4 1/2c, closing at $1.70 1/2; May corn, 2 1/2c at 70 1/2c; Minneapolis March wheat up 3 1/2c at $1.60 1/2; Kansas City March, 4c at $1.85; Chicago May wheat, $1.60 1/2. In Chicago cash market No. 2 red winter wheat, 2 1/2c over Chicago March; No. 3 hard, 2 to 4c over; No. 3 mixed corn, 4 1/2c under May; yellow, 4 to 4 1/2c under Chicago. Demand for hard winter wheat, 8c over Kansas City March.

Live Stock and Meats. Compared with a week ago, hog prices at Chicago declined 5c to 40c per 100 lbs, light hogs losing most. Beef steers and best cows and heifers advanced 50 cents. Feeder steers, 25c to $1. Fat lambs and yearling, 25c; fat ewes, 25c to 50c; feeding lambs down 25c. Feb. 19th, Chicago prices: Hogs, bulk of sales, $8.85@9.50; medium weight veal calves, $9.50@12.25; butcher cows and heifers, $4.00@9.25; feeder steers, $7.00@8.75; light and medium weight veal calves, $9.50@12.25; fat lambs, $6.75@9.75; feeding lambs, $6.25@9.50; yearlings, $5.50@7.25; fat ewes, $2.00@3.25.

Butter. During the past week butter prices have advanced 3c at Chicago and Philadelphia, 3c at Boston and New York. Market now very firm, stocks of fresh well cleaned. Quality holding up unusually well, production slightly heavier than year ago. Present storage of 22,000 tons, compared with 18,000,000 pounds last year. Cargo of more than 700,000 pounds Danish has arrived New York and will be available next week. Prices 92 score, Domestic, $18.00@20.00; Philadelphia, 49 1/2c; Boston, 48c; Chicago, 47 1/2c.

Cotton. The average price of Middling spot cotton last 39 points during the week, closing at 12 7/8c per pound. This is a new low record for the season. The New York March futures down 66 points at 12 5/8c.

Denver Live Stock. Cattle. For the first time in several weeks a large supply of desirable beef steers was included in the offering on the local cattle market. Speculators and outside buyers entered the field for this class of stock and the available offering met with a ready outlet at prices much changed since the close of the week when the highest price paid in more than a month were reached.

Two carloads of choice heavy steers, averaging 1,115 pounds, sold at the top price of $7.75, freight not paid to the river. Other sales on good to choice steers were made at $7.45, $7.25, $7.15 and $7. Good grades of steers sold from $6.50 to $7, with more common kinds at $5.25 and down. Packers and buyers continued to be indifferent toward most classes of steers.

A slow, uneven trade was reported on fat cows and heifers. Supplies of this kind of stock were liberal but under a limited demand, trading lacked life.

One carload of choice cows brought the top price of $6.15. Good grades of cows were quoted largely from $5.50 to $6, with more common kinds ranging from $5.25 down, dependent on weight and quality.

Although demand for feeders and stockers was strong, supplies were light, and trading was limited. Prices were unchanged.

Hogs. Trading on the better grades of hogs in this division was fairly active, heavier stock, however, met with a somewhat slower sale.

Top hogs sold at $9.15, two carloads of choice light weight hogs going to butchers at this figure. Packers were out at $9.10 after having taken two loads at the latter price. Bulk of the offering was cleared from $8 to $9, with a few extra large and cut-outs bringing quotations at $7.75 and down.

Despite the fact that the offerings on pigs was light, quotations were below the prevailing level last week.

Sheep. Although receipts were extremely large on this division, more than half the offering was billed through, leaving less than 3,000 head of stock on hand for sale. Demand was exceptionally strong and bidmen had no difficulty in clearing their offerings at advantageous prices.

One string of good fat lambs, averaging about 93 pounds, sold at the top price of $8, freight paid. Traders were out for sale. Demand for choice quality lambs, averaging around 80 pounds, would bring from $8.25 to $8.50, or possibly more. Fair grades of lambs were quoted from $7 to $7.75.

Gains on Capital Assets Taxable. Washington.—Numerous inquiries have reached the Bureau of Internal Revenue relative to the decision of United States District Court of Connecticut in the Brewster case, in which it was held that gains and profits realized from the sale of capital assets are not taxable income. The United States attorney for Connecticut has been authorized to perfect an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States for a review of the decision. Since Congress, under the provisions of the income tax acts of 1913, 1916 and 1918, has directed the taxation as income of such gains and profits, the bureau will continue to collect the tax thereon, unless and until the Supreme Court shall hold that provision of law to be unconstitutional. The same question is involved in the Eidorado and Ryerson cases which were argued in the Supreme Court some weeks ago. A decision in these cases undoubtedly will settle the general question. In view of the severe penalties provided by law for false and fraudulent income tax return, taxpayers are warned not to omit from their returns for the year 1920 such gains and profits.

Co-Operators Meet

A most successful meeting of the Carrizozo Branch of the P. C. L., was held Tuesday, March 1, in the Masonic Hall.

Miss Rita Freeman, of the Chicago University Settlement, addressed an audience that was by far the largest and most enthusiastic gathering the Co-Operators that has yet been held in this city.

In her speech, Miss Freeman disregarded entirely the appeal to personal gain and spoke of the deeper meaning and larger purpose of the co-operative movement. She looked upon this movement as the one bright spot in the struggling and otherwise unorganized mass of workers. She regarded the labor unions as splendid institutions in themselves but she confessed she was not quite clear about the beneficial results of the general strike, the only weapon that the unions had as a remedy for unemployment.

The applause that interrupted her speech several times was not encouraged by pauses and other tricks so often used by public speakers, but was the result of the clear and convincing manner in which she portrayed the manner that would be the inevitable result of solidarity among consumers.

The speech is still being discussed around town as something out of the ordinary and worthy of intelligent consideration.

James Hightower

On Tuesday evening at the Baptist Church with the Rev. Wm. Hoffman officiating, occurred the marriage of Ralph M. Jones and Miss Alma Hightower. The wedding was arranged in a quiet manner, there being only members of the family circle and a few of the nearest friends of the contracting parties present. After the ceremony was performed, the happy couple left on the next train, No. 1 for El Paso and other points to spend their honeymoon. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. P. Warden. She was reared in Lincoln County, receiving her education in the Carrizozo schools. Her friends are many and wish her all that happiness can bring.

The groom is a fireman on the E. P. & S. W. and is held in high esteem by his fellow workmen as well as his Carrizozo friends, outside of the sailing which he follows. During the war, Ralph was in the navy, where he experienced some service and was in many close encounters with submarines. After the war he returned being re-instituted to his former position which his record entitled him to. The newly married couple will make a permanent residence either of Carrizozo or El Paso. The many friends of both parties are offering congratulations.

Mrs. A. B. Fall left this week for Washington, D. C., to join Senator Fall, who arrived at the Capital lately in company with President-elect Harding from his southern trip. After the inauguration, the Falls will settle down to home life in Washington.

The Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal Church held a well patronized Social Wednesday afternoon at the office rooms of Wm. Reilly. The ladies realized about $25.00 out of the event which will be added to the church building fund. Socials will be given once a month; regular meetings of the Guild are held each week.
