Dustless Highways Increase. The rapidity with which the American people are turning to the dustless highway is shown in figures recently compiled from reports to the United States bureau of mines.

Prudent Mentality. "You appear rather proud of the fact that you are unable to understand the relativity theory."

Makes Hose Wear

Proper Care, Expert Says, Will Save High Expenses.

One-Half Size Larger Than Regular Size Is Advised; Wear Only Once Before Washing.

How two pairs of silk hose may be made to last an incredibly long time if the wearer will take the care of them that the average motorist gives his automobile tires, is explained, as follows by the silk stocking expert: When the motorist buys a tire he must necessarily pick out the right size, or it would not fit his rim. He knows, too, that if he gets a size slightly larger, called an "oversize tire," his car will not only ride easier, but the tire will last longer. The same rule is the first one to follow when silk hose are purchased. If hosiery is bought one-half size larger than one wears in cotton or flax, the wearing quality is greatly increased.

A little sewing is the next precaution to take. Each individual wears out his stockings in a particular place. Some invariably get a hole in the right large toe, while others suffer with holes in the heel or on the bottom of the sock first. Because of a little 25-cent hole or "run," $5 worth of silk stockings is laid aside. The idea is, then, to remedy, or prevent, this 25-cent hole before it appears. With ordinary sewing silk weave or darn around and over the area where the hole usually appears. This will reinforce the silk in this place so that the hole cannot get a start. "Runs," or "Jacob's ladders," can also be prevented in the stocking so that one gets his money's worth out

LIKE "THREE-DECKED" CAPE

Reviving the long riding cloak of Revolutionary days as an early autumn wrap comes this model from Paris. The fine black serge is thrice banded with broad strips of fur, one of them edging a small overcape and the other two simulating similar capes.

STYLES IN WHITE HATS ARE MANY

Trim Sailor With Ribbon Trimming Vies With Blossom Decorated Chapeau That Is Larger.

With the great vogue for all white it is natural this should be popular for felt hats, and they are with us from the trim sailor with ribbon trimming to the blossom-trimmed hat of larger proportions. The dullness and drabness of a plain white felt is more apt to be relieved, however, by a large wax flower, a pond lily, or gardenia, by silk fringe arranged in some novel cascade or cascade. The flower trimming is strong on all felts, and seasonal flower trimming at that, hydrangeas, dandelions, nasturtiums, wild oats, lacquered foliage and so on. Some felt hats have felt flowers; one, a very soft black felt, has an odd combination of little green velvet apples, pink silk apple blossoms, and green leaves painted upon the felt itself.

But if one hat in ten is white, eight of the others are gray. The gray vogue that is dying so hard has had a startling convalescence in the gray felt hat. It is to be found in those soft little rolled hats, close fitting and demure, that frame the faces of our bobbed-hair sisters, little hats with a saucy bunch of waxed blossoms laid on one side, three saucier lacquered quills thrust through a fold of the felt, or insinuating bunches of coque feathers brushing the wearer's cheek on one or both sides.

Black, brown or dark green, and possibly bright green will be the colors for felt for later wear. The cloche is again a favorite, very broad of brim of the pair. At the top of the stocking, below the hem, run a sewing machine stitch completely around, and fasten the garters above this stitch. Another precaution against the dreaded run is unusual care in putting on the stocking. It should be rolled down to and including the heel. The toe of the stocking then should be put over the foot, and the rest then worked easily over the heel. This method of putting on the stocking prevents the nail of the toe from accidentally catching a thread.

BLACK VELVET FALL BONNET

The big hats with stiff brims are rather awkward in a crowd, so the flapping brim has come to take its place. This hat is of black velvet trimmed with two calla lilies. The checkered blouse goes very well with the hat.

The expert further contends that the silk stockings should be worn only once before being washed.

The drying of silk stockings is one of the most important steps affecting their longevity. If the stockings are colored they should be placed between two bath towels and allowed to dry slowly.

Stockings should never be hung in the sun or in a bright light at the window to dry.—Illustrated World.

FALL FASHION BRIEFS

Platted flounces are used on sleeves, as side panels and as tunics.

Bands of gingham may trim a smart sport costume of wool jersey.

Perfume balls are worn around the neck on ribbon and bead chains.

Some of the more elaborate types of new linen frocks indulge in many necklines.

Frocks of crepe de chine are worn with long circular capes of the same material.

Japanese sleeves with linings of bright-georgette are a feature of advance fall models.

Leghorns are being shown again in a variety of broad and medium brimmed effects as well as poke shapes.

A frock of pale pink organdie, with a yoke back and front formed by loose smocking, is a smart addition to the wardrobe of the tiny miss.

Gray and brown, which you used to believe you could not combine, are being combined now in some of the smartest of dresses for fall street wear.

Long, rather straight lines are to be adhered to, according to present indications, with suit coats—many of them, at least—long enough to almost conceal the skirt, and elaborately fur trimmed.

TAKING TOO "LOUD" PATTERNS

Pittsburgh Interior Decorator Says Women Will Soon Resemble Antiquated Parlor Chairs.

Have you seen what appears to be a corner of a boudoir walking down the street? Well, you soon will. They are already appearing in tennis courts hereabouts. Girls in chintzes and cretonnes, with large splashy patterns all over them, exactly like the velvet parlor chairs in their summer wrappings, they are. Bright carmine drapery linens with blue stripes and yellow dots, scenic chintzes of huge patterns and vivid hues in futuristic designs showing languorous figures in eccentric poses are among the favorites not only for sport skirts, but for entire costumes, hats and bags. "I never thought of going into the dressmaking business," said an interior decorator, "but women seem to be buying more large figured drapery fabrics for clothes than for houses this season. There are some designs I will not let them have, though, for such purposes." He showed a chintz enormously patterned with red and yellow farm scenes. "That, for instance," he added, "one of them was determined to dress herself in, but I said positively that she couldn't."—Pittsburgh Leader.

The Coming Contest

"I see your town is going to vote on the question of issuing bonds for a water works system," said a guest. "What do you anticipate will be the outcome?"

"Hard to tell," replied the landlord of the tavern at Tumbleville, Ark. "The young people are mostly for it, and the folks that have traveled and like to show off, and the newcomers from the North, and so on. But the old-timers are unanimously agin' it. They say they've never gone swimmin' in a house yet and it's too late now to learn old dogs new tricks, and, anyhow, they're opposed to paying for the privilege of going into Godalmighty's free water. So it looks like a stand-off."—Kansas City Star.

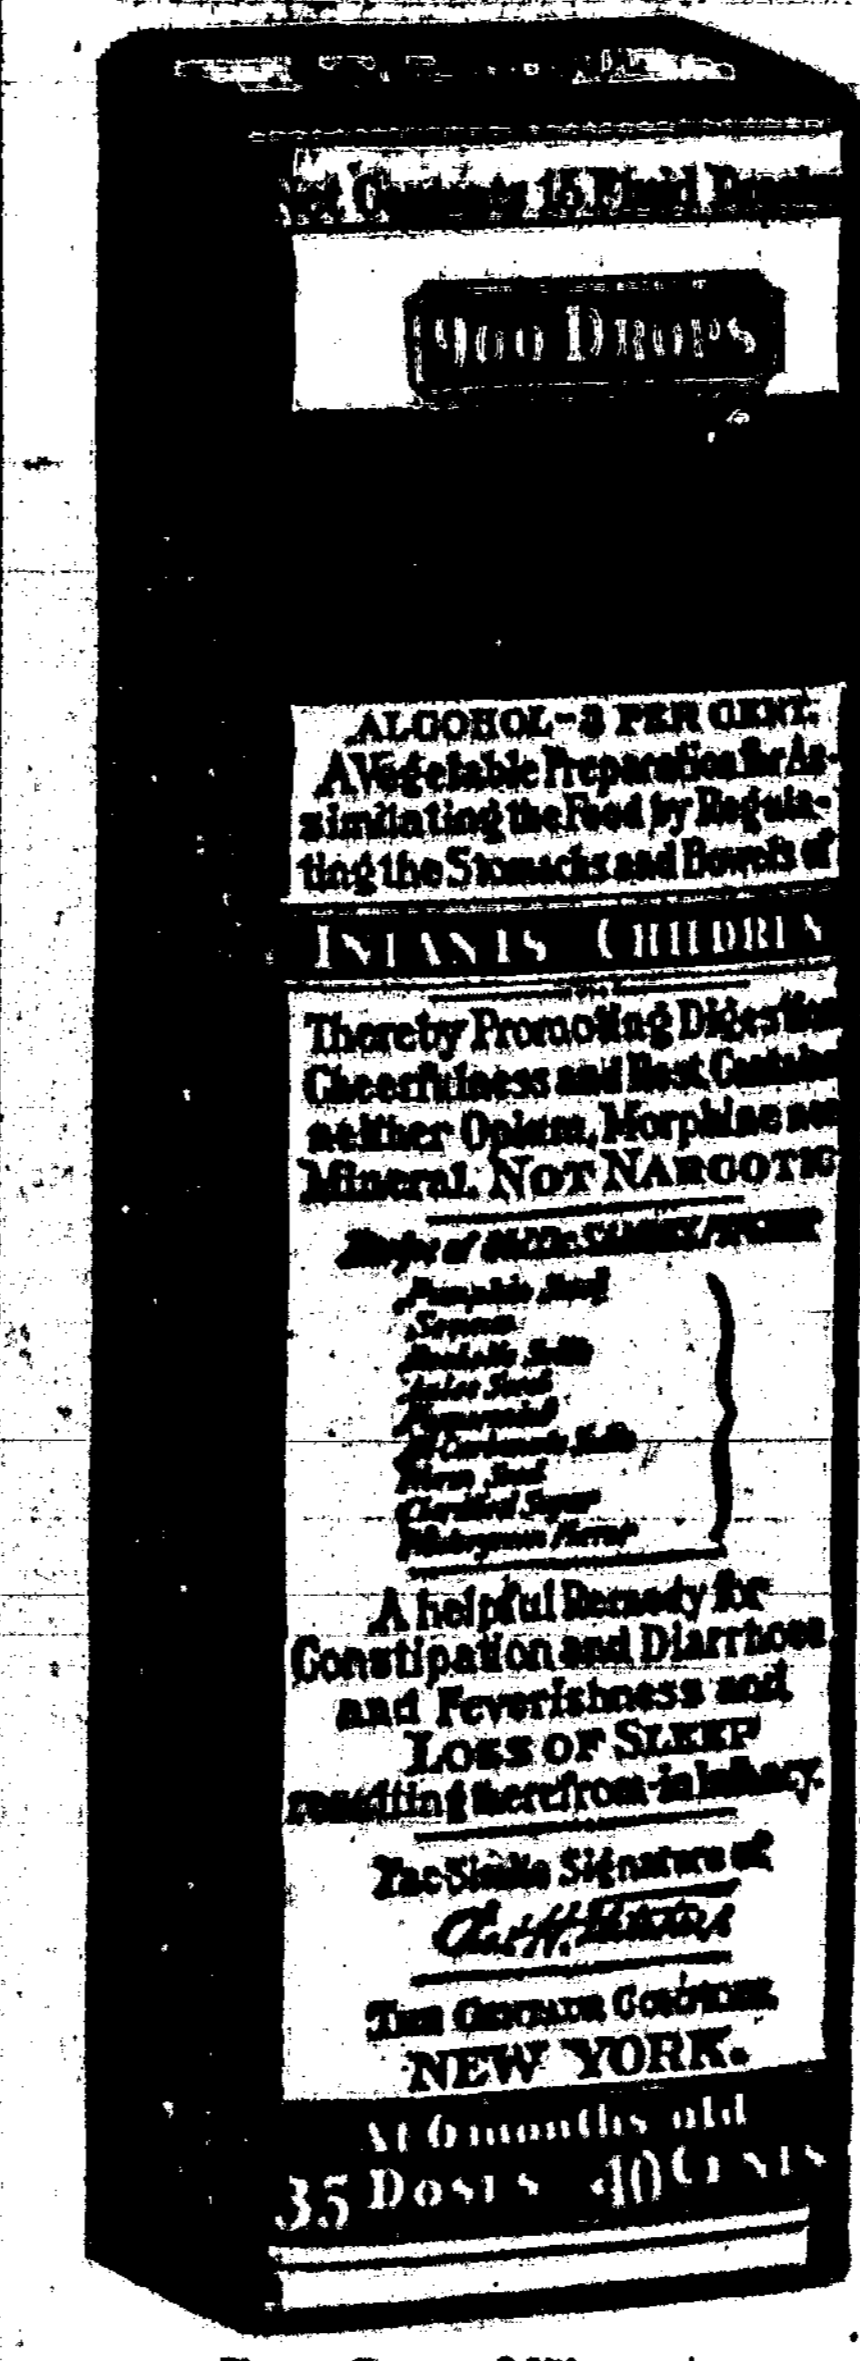

Vanity of the Sex

Wife—Why, they all settle on the mirrors.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your crying child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

So Considerate.
Two golfers sliced their drives into the rough and went in search of the balls. They searched for a long time without success, a dear old lady watching them with kindly and sympathetic eyes.
At last, after the search had proceeded for half an hour, she spoke to them.
"I hope I'm not interrupting you, gentlemen," she said sweetly, "but would it be cheating if I told you where they are?"

LUNCHEON OR SANDWICH ROLLS

4 cups flour 1 teaspoon salt 6 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder	1 tablespoon shortening 1 1/2 cups milk
---	--

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder; rub in shortening; add milk, and mix with spoon to smooth dough easy to handle on floured board. Turn out dough; knead quickly a few times to impart smoothness; divide into small pieces; form each by hand into short, rather thick tapering rolls; place on greased pans and allow to stand in warm place 15 to 20 minutes; brush with milk. Bake in very hot oven. When almost baked brush again with melted butter. Bake 10 minutes longer and serve hot. If a glazed finish is desired, before taking from oven brush over with yolk of egg which has been mixed with a little cold water.

These rolls make excellent sandwiches, using for fillings either lettuce and mayonnaise, sliced or chopped ham; chopped seasoned cucumbers, egg and mayonnaise with a very little chopped onion and parsley, or other filling desired.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder is guaranteed to contain no alum. It is the most wholesome low-priced baking powder you can buy!

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XLVI. NEW MEXICO

A. I. U. S.

At a time immemorial, New Mexico's history is closely allied with Old Mexico. It was the Spanish who were its first explorers, De Yaca visiting this region in 1535 and Coronado four years later. The natives were the Pueblo Indians, although they are sometimes erroneously reputed to have been Aztecs as they were well advanced in the arts and had a comparatively high civilization. These Indians were conquered in 1598 by Juan de Onate and became subject to Spanish rule, being forced to work the mines and pay tribute. Missions were established and Santa Fe was founded about 1606.

Except for a period of ten years when the Indians revolted and maintained their independence, New Mexico remained under Spanish control until in 1821 Mexico gained its independence from Spain and New Mexico became a province of Mexico. Thus it remained until the outbreak of the Mexican war, when in 1848 Colonel Kearny marched from Fort Leavenworth with his troops, occupied Santa Fe and declared this region a part of the United States. By the Treaty with Mexico in 1848, the upper part of the state was formally ceded to the United States and the Territory of Mexico was organized in 1851, which reached from Texas to California.

Arizona was set off from New Mexico in 1863 and a few years later a portion was contributed to Colorado. Application for admission as a state started in 1850, but it was not until 1910 that New Mexico became the forty-seventh state.

New Mexico ranks fourth in size among the states with an area of 122,634 square miles, but is sparsely populated and accordingly has only three electoral votes for President.

Old Superstitions.

In one of his novels, Walter Scott says it was a truth, "that they who are born on Christmas or Good Friday have the power of seeing spirits, and even of commanding them." He also says that "the Spaniards imputed the haggard and downcast looks of their Philip II to the disagreeable visions to which this privilege subjected him." The well-known lines of Shakespeare, indicate that in his day the crowing of the cock at dawn was believed to be efficacious in driving away spirits.

Suicide Among Musicians Rare.

It has been found that suicide is very uncommon among musicians. Schumann attempted it, and it is also recorded of Tschalkovsky, but cases of musicians who have killed themselves are very rare. It is said that these facts are so, because of the mental composure and balance fostered by music.

Parrot is Park Policeman

Chicago.—"Yokel," a parrot, whose former owner conducted a saloon in the Maxwell street district, and was turned adrift when the saloon went out of business, has found a new job. Policeman Peter Schaeffer found the bird asleep in a tree near Wilmette. The policeman decided to take the bird to the police station. On the way to the station the policeman was treated to sundry original observations, such as:

"It is 1 o'clock, boys. Close the saloon."
"It's morning now. Gotta get up."
"Such shocking conduct."
After a consultation at the police station, it was decided to turn the bird's talent to good use. So "Yokel" was given a job as park censor at Wilmette.

Burns Children for Revenge

Medford, Wis.—Charged with setting fire to the barn at her farmhouse near Dublin, in which her child and two stepchildren were burned to death, Mrs. John Kosciely entered a plea of guilty when arraigned here at a preliminary hearing. When questioned by District Attorney Anderson as to her motive in burning the children, Mrs. Kosciely replied that she wanted to get revenge on her husband for alleged brutal treatment.

The Folly of Cheating Nature

Many people get the idea that they can keep their nerves on edge and their digestion upset year after year, and "get away with it." Order Postum from your Grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for 10 days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel. Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Postum for Health "There's a Reason"

ADVISES THAT FIGHT AGAINST TYPHUS CLOSE
Santa Fe, Sept. 1.—Dr. C. E. Waller, public health bureau director, today wired the recommendation to the public health service, Washington, D. C., that the anti-typhus campaign on the Shiprock agency, Navajo reservation, has been stopped.

He believed the outbreak had been completely suppressed, he said. More than two months had passed since any new case had been reported.

Five thousand Indians, practically the entire population of the Shiprock agency, had been deloused and those in the infected area had been given two ecocline baths.

Baptist Church Notes
The play, "The Deacon's Second Wife" which the B. Y. P. U., put on at the Lutz Hall last Tuesday evening was well received. Hearty thanks to such member of the orchestra for the excellent music. Sunday School well attended last Sunday; we hope to see a large increase in attendance and interest after the vacation period is passed.
The Revival is progressing nicely; Rev. L. O. Vermillion preached a great sermon Sunday evening to the largest audience which has ever attended a service since the present pastor has been in the field. E. F. Woodruff is leading the singing with the emphasis on LEADING and SINGING. Everyone is pleased with his leadership.
Man needs GOD; why not come to HIM NOW, during this series of meetings which are being held to win men and women to God.—A hearty welcome to one and all.—Come.
