"HUNGRY—HUNGRY." Synopsis—Disappointed because of the seemingly barren outlook of his position as a school teacher in a Canadian town, John Harris determines to leave it, take up land in Manitoba and become a "homesteader." Mary, the girl whom he loves, declares she will accompany him. They are married and set out for the unknown country. They select a homestead, build a home and begin their life work of making the prairie fertile farm land.

"Jim," she said after a while, when the noise of the milking was drowned in the creamy froth. "I'm getting near the end of this kind of thing. Father's getting more and more set on money all the time. He thinks I should have along to put up with him. He's not going to do it much longer. I'm not afraid of work or hardship either. I'd live in a shack if I had to. I'd—"

"What notion's this father's got about Riles, do you suppose, mother?" asked Beulah, as the two women bustled themselves with the morning work in the kitchen. "Dear knows," said her mother, wearily. "I hope he doesn't take it in his head to go out there, too."

CHAPTER V.

When Beulah Harris late heard the homestead was early after the following morning. At five o'clock Jim

"Your father is hungry," said the mother. "Hungry—hungry, and he thinks that more land, more money, more success, will fill him. And in the meantime he's forgetting the things that would satisfy—the love that was born, the little days—Oh, child, what am I saying? What an unfaithful creature I am? You must forget, Beulah, you must forget these words—words of shame they are!"

"The shame is his," declared the girl, defiantly, "and I won't stand this nonsense about homesteading again—I just won't stand it. If he says anything more about it I'll—I'll fly off—that's what I'll do. And I've a few remarks for him about Riles that won't keep much longer. The old badger—he's at the bottom of all this."

"You mustn't quarrel with your father, dearie, you mustn't do that." "I'm not going to quarrel with him, but I'm going to say some things that need saying. And if it comes to a showdown, and he must go—well, he must, but you and I will stay with the old farm, won't we, mother?"

"There, there now," the mother said, gently stroking her daughter's hair. "Let us forget this, and remember how much we have to be thankful for. We have our health, and our home, and the bright sunshine, and—I declare," she interrupted, catching a glimpse of something through the window, "if the cows haven't broken from the lower pasture and are all through the outfield! You'll have to take Collie and get them back, somehow, or bring them up to the corral."

Pulling a sun-bonnet upon her head Beulah called the dog, which came leaping upon her with boisterous affection, and hurried down the path to the field where the cows stood almost lost in a jungle of green oats. She soon located the breach in the fence and, with the help of the dog, quickly turned the cows toward it. But black just as victory seemed assured a rabbit was frightened from its hiding place in the green oats and sailed forth in graceful bounds across the pasture. The dog, of course, concluded that the capture of the rabbit was of much more vital importance to the Harris homestead than driving any number of stupid cattle, and darted across the field in pursuit, wasting his breath in sharp, eager yelps as he went.

Whereupon the cows turned outward again, not boisterously nor insolently, but with a calm persistence that steadily wore out the girl's strength and patience. She was in no joyous mood at best, and the perverseness of things aggravated her beyond endurance. Her callings to the cattle became more and more tearful, and presently ended in a sob.

"There, now, Beulah, don't worry; we will have them in a minute," said a quiet voice, and looking about she found Jim almost at her elbow, his omnipresent smile playing gently about his white teeth. "I was down at the creek filling the tank, when I saw you had a little rebellion on your hands, and I thought re-enforcements might be in order."

"You might've hollered farther back," she said, half reproachfully, but there was a light of appreciation in her eye when she dared raise it toward him. "I'm afraid I was beginning to be very foolish."

She tripped again on the treacherous buckwheat, but he held her arm in a strong grasp against which the weight of her slim figure seemed but as a feather blown against a wall. Then they set about their task, but the sober-eyed cows had no thought of being easily deprived of their feast, and it was some time before they were all turned back into the pasture and the fence temporarily repaired behind them.

"I can't thank you enough, Beulah was saying. "You just keep piling one kindness on top of another. Say, Jim, honest, what makes you do it?"

But at that moment the keen blast of an engine whistle came cutting through the air—a long clear note, followed by a series of toots in rapid succession.

"I guess they're running short of water," said Jim. "I must hustle." So saying he ran to the ford of the creek where the tank-wagon was still standing, and in a minute his strong frame was swaying back and forth to the rhythmic clanking of the pump.

Meanwhile other things were transpiring. Harris had returned from town the night before with the fixed intention of paying an early visit to the Farther West. He and Riles had spent more time than they should breathing the village air, while the latter drew a picture of rising color of the possibilities which the new lands afforded. Harris was not a man who abused himself with liquor, and Riles, too, rarely forgot that indulgence was expensive, and had to be paid for in cash. Moreover, Allan occasioned his father some uneasiness. He was young, and had not yet learned the self-control to be expected in later life. More than once of late Allan had crossed the boundary of moderation, and John Harris was by no means indifferent to the welfare of his only son. Indeed, the bond between the two was so real and so intense that Harris had never been able to bring himself to contemplate their separation, and the boy had not even so much as thought of establishing a home of his own. The idea of homesteading together assured further years of close relationship between father and son, and the younger man fell in wholeheartedly with it.

But Jim smiled and said: "No accident at all. I have merely decided to go homesteading."

RAT IS SERIOUS ENEMY OF WORLD

No Other Animal or Insect Is So Dangerous and Persistent in Doing Harm.

INFLECTS IMMENSE DAMAGE

Value of Food and Property Destroyed Annually by Each Individual Rat Is Estimated at $2—Is Efficient Germ Carrier.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The necessity of a campaign of unvarying efficiency against the common brown rat, is an outstanding one. No other animal or insect is so dangerous and persistent an enemy, and no other enemy succeeds in inflicting the damage that the rat annually imposes upon humanity. The rat population of the United States is at least equal to the human population, and the same ratio holds true for practically every country under the sun. The bureau of biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, places the value of the food and property destroyed annually by each individual rat at $2. Keeping well within the boundaries of conservatism this means that each year, in this country alone, we produce $200,000,000 worth of food to no other purpose than to feed our rats. In another way, 200,000 men in the United States are devoting all their labor to the maintenance of 100,000,000 rats.

Is Efficient Germ Carrier.

But the rodent's enmity is far from being satisfied by this huge economic injury. A frequenter of all the places that are vile and loathsome, the rat is a most efficient germ carrier. The germs of the dreaded "black death" have killed more human beings than all the wars of the world's history, and these germs are introduced into the human system by the bite of a rat flea. In India, no longer ago than 1830, the bubonic plague killed 9,000,000 persons. In Europe, during the Fourteenth century, it is believed to have brought death to 25,000,000 human beings. Other diseases, almost as dreadful, are traced to the common rat. Thus, from the standpoint of public health, as well as from the necessity of controlling the drain upon the public purse, it is essential that the rat be exterminated. Once the extermination is complete, or as nearly so as modern methods will permit, every precaution must be taken to prevent the rat from multiplying and regaining lost ground.

Exterminating Plans.

Trapping should be done continuously and systematically at all rat-infested places. Rat poisons, especially barium carbonate preparations as recently developed by the biological survey, should be employed. In furthering the destruction of the rat, community or civic organization is of the greatest importance. It does no good to drive the rats from one collar into the next if they are allowed to breed unmolested in their new quarters. When the campaign is made general the pest is allowed no rest and no opportunity to trench in a new position. If one pair of rats is left they reproduce the original number in a little while, as rats breed five or six times a year with an average of ten to the litter.

Every Rat Costs the Nation $2, a Total of $200,000,000 Annually.

In connection with the extermination campaigns, preventive measures should be employed against the rodent. First among these is the protection of all food supplies. This is of prime importance. The removal and destruction of refuse, is the next step in prevention, as abandoned dumps and piles of waste material furnish excellent shelter and food for the rats that have been driven from the houses and cellars.

Buildings Should Be Rat Proof.

All buildings should be rat-proofed by the liberal use of cement and tin. Rat-proofing should be a prominent specification in all new construction and it should be applied to older buildings in the form of repairs. All drain outlets should be sealed with wire cages, or similar protective devices.

With the food supply locked away from him, and his shelter gone, starvation and exposure will add to the effectiveness of work with traps and poisons and the success of the rat will seem to be a real hazard against American lives and property.

HENS WITHOUT WHEAT GIVE GOOD RESULTS

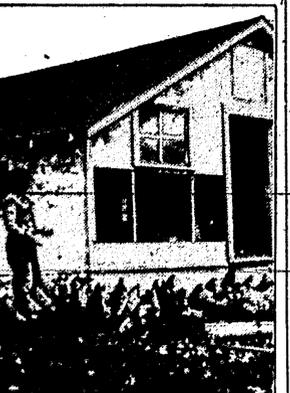

More Eggs Obtained From Pen of Rhode Island Reds.

Mash Containing Only 15 Per Cent Meat Scrap Gave Very Satisfactory Results—Experimenting With Green Feeds.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Poultry-feeding experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, last fiscal year, show that practically as good results can be obtained without wheat as with it in a ration. The Rhode Island Reds, in the wheatless pen, averaged 140 eggs, while those in the pen receiving wheat averaged 134 eggs. Good results were obtained with the use of garbage until the warm weather began, when there was considerable mortality, due apparently to the garbage-spilling. This work is being repeated this year with much more satisfactory results, the garbage being fed in a trough on a large wooden feeding board, which prevents it from getting on the ground and decaying.

In the use of vegetable proteins the relative order of production is the same as it was last year. No success has followed an attempt to substitute completely vegetable protein for animal protein. The ration used last year, a mash containing only 15 per cent meat scrap as compared with 20 to 25 per cent in the ordinary mashes, gave very satisfactory results with the heavier breeds, especially the Plymouth Rocks, in keeping the birds in good physical condition and fertility, though the egg yield was not quite so good as when the higher per cent of meat scrap was used.

IMPORTANT GRAIN SORGHUMS

Dwarf and Early Varieties Are Best for Higher and Drier Districts—Essential Hints.

The more important grain sorghums are included in two groups of varieties, the kafir group and the milodura group. Dwarf and early varieties in both groups are best for the higher and drier districts. The use of good seed of adapted varieties, a well-prepared seedbed, clean cultivation, and the right method of handling after harvest will increase the yield and quality of the grain.

EXCELLENT FOR LAND'S SAKE

Where Sweet Clover Does Not Thrive Well an Application of Lime-stone Is Favored.

Sweet clover is an excellent plant to grow for the land's sake under many conditions, and where it does not grow well now it can be made to grow well by applying ground limestone to the soil. It will add humus and nitrogen to the soil rapidly when plowed under, thereby increasing the fertility of the soil in these essential elements.

FINE CROPS SUBE

Farmers in Western Canada Jubilant at Prospect.

Splendid Winter Weather Has Put the Naturally Fertile Land in Splendid Condition, and Bountiful Yields Are Assured.

"What a delightful winter we have had," is an expression that could be heard almost anywhere when the topic of the weather became the subject of conversation. "Not only in the Middle West and 'down east' could it be heard, but also in the Far West, up in the Canadian West. There the same remarkable features that brought forth a wonderful winter existed. Reports from all parts of the country, from famed Medicine Hat in Alberta to Winnipeg in Manitoba, indicate that all through the winter season very little cold weather was experienced. In December, we read that golf playing had put into the discard all ice sports, that farmers were caught 'red-handed' plowing their fields. In January, the Alberta yeoman got out his tractor and in his shirt sleeves was seen preparing ground for the 1921 crop. During February, in Saskatchewan, one farmer harrowed fifty acres and planted the seed. "Why, yes, of course, in March," said an Iowa farmer, who had just heard from his son, who was looking after the Western Canadian farm, "my boy writes me they had some snow, and a few cold dips, but what did that matter? The cattle and the horses came through the winter in better condition than they looked three or four months ago. Grass was plentiful on the prairies, the stubble was rich and valuable as food, and the straw stacks and groves proved ample for shelter."

Spring is now fully upon the Western Canada farmer, his machinery is all in shape for a spring's work, and he is looking forward to an excellent crop year. Last fall there was a splendid lot of moisture that permeated the ground sufficiently to leave a perfect seed bed. Indications are now that the crop will go in in the condition required for successful germination. Then, with the lengthened days of May and June, the many hours of sunshine that they bring, accompanied by showers of rain, and with a soil of which there is none richer nor more generous, there will be seen preparing for a ripening harvest the hundreds of thousands of acres of wheat, oats, barley, rye, alfalfa and corn that will make the hearts of the Western Canada farmers swell with pride as they reasonably look forward to an abundant harvest.

There is a great deal that can be said in favor of the climate of Western Canada. The most important is that those who live there, and have lived in other countries, prefer it to any they have experienced elsewhere. It is true the winters as a rule are colder than are those in countries lying much farther south, but it is also true that they are tempered by a dryness of the atmosphere that makes a lower temperature preferable to that several degrees higher where greater humidity prevails. Evaporation and listlessness are unknown; the air is bracing, but the cold is not penetrating. Then the summers and the autumns—they could not be more enjoyable.—Advertisement.

NEW EXAMINATION.

Paris.—Doctors examining the new conception class of 1921, which is to be called to the colors this month, have a new question to put to each youth as he stands before the examiners clad in his "altogether."

It is: "Are you a mediocrity or a braggart?"

Constricts who thought the doctors were calling them names were gently told that the terms are the result of a new discovery by Dr. Thoria that by examining the bones of a man by x-rays it is possible to tell with practical certainty whether he is capable of sustaining long marches and hard labor, or whether he is better at brain work and ought to be put in the cavalry or the QMC.

Incidentally, it was discovered Apollon wasn't by any means an ideal physical type. He would never have got by the medical board, because he was too evenly proportioned. The best male structure, says Thoria, is that of the mediocrity, who has short legs but a long and powerful trunk. As an example he cited Georges Carpentier.

They are alike as peas and after winning their way through tryouts to the annual championship fought it out clad in simple gymnasium suits. Somebody won, but it looked like a man wrestling with himself, and the referee would not take a chance on identification. He merely announced that the championship had been "won by Mr. Gotton" and the audience roared approval.

Bandit Not Posted.

Chicago.—A girl novice in the school of banditry failed in an attempt to put her lessons in practice on Harry Baumstein. Accompanied by a man, she met Baumstein. "Put up your hands," she said, pointing a small pistol at him. Baumstein put them up. "Now what do I do?" she asked her companion. Baumstein did it for her. He ran.

Bomb Suspects Discharged.

New Orleans, La.—The five seamen brought here from Rio de Janeiro recently, charged with mutiny on the shipping board vessel City of Alton, and suspected of possible connection with the Wall Street bomb explosion, were discharged from custody by United States Commissioner Browne. The men were examined by Department of Justice officials, but no evidence was found which would warrant their being held, it was said.

Cobbler Close to Coolidge

Town Shoe Repairer, "Friend, Philosopher and Guide" of Vice President.

HELPS TO SHAPE HIS CAREER

Friendship Begun in College Days Continues Through Early Struggles and Subsequent Prominence in Politics.

Northampton, Mass.—James Lucey, member of shoes, is pegging away in his shop here with one eye on the newspapers for word of how the national capital treats Calvin Coolidge, his one-time associate in local politics, and now vice president.

When Vice President Coolidge, just before departing for Washington recently, grasped the cobbler's hand as the photographers snapped their cameras, he gave him a distinction that he was asked to explain. "Put Mr. Lucey down as my guide, philosopher and friend," he said. And so the cobbler is now nationally known.

What the vice president meant was more or less well known to Northampton folk. The story goes back to the days when Calvin Coolidge was a sophomore at Amherst college. With shoes to be repaired he sought Lucey's shop on Gothic street in this city, and then remained to listen to the cobbler's homely comments on the topics of the day.

Helped to Shape Career.

The student found the shoemaker's philosophy an engaging one during the remainder of his college course he went frequently to see him. As a lawyer later young Coolidge opened offices here, and while he waited for clients, continued his acquaintance with the cobbler. Throughout his career in the politics of the city and state, Mr. Coolidge dropped in at the shoe shop from time to time to exchange ideas with his friend and have the benefit of the latter's pointed political observations.

The youthful Coolidge took away lessons from the cobbler; Coolidge, the candidate, received the benefit of his influence, which was considerable in city politics, and when he rose to a position of state and national prominence he still received the loyal support of the shoe man.

Mr. Lucey, modestly explaining that Mr. Coolidge long since passed out of his range of influence, admits that he may have been of some help when the vice president was on the first rungs of the political ladder.

Cement Closer Friendship.

The cobbler says that the only time he ever crossed Calvin Coolidge seemed to make firmer the friendship between them. Mr. Coolidge had sought the election of a friend as mayor, and asked Mr. Lucey as a delegate to the party caucus to stand in his behalf.

but the cobbler, already bound to the opposing candidate, refused. This evidence of loyalty to a prior allegiance served to heighten their mutual respect.

The shoemaker, a native of Ireland, came to Northampton forty years ago at the age of twelve. A family of eight children, seven of whom are now living, has made demands on his earning ability. Five are girls, one is a stenographer, two are teachers, a fourth, who was formerly a teacher, is now married and one is a clerk. Of the two boys one is a graduate of Holy Cross college, and the other is a student in the Northampton Commercial college.

Philadelphia Surgeon Who Removed Own Appendix Back at Work in Two Weeks.

Dr. Kane will not discuss his exploit other than to say "the experiment will be worth while," but his surgical assistant, Dr. D. E. Vogan, said of it: "Dr. Kane's operation establishes these things:

- "First—Ease with which local operations can be performed.
- "Second—Can be done without severe pain.
- "Third—Pain more due to traction and rough handling of parts than to incision.
- "Fourth—Any surgeon with a fair degree of skill can perform such an operation on himself."

Now Tap Air to Get Music

Radio Amateurs Enjoy "Concord of Sweet Music Sounds" From 60 Miles Away.

CONCERTS A NIGHTLY AFFAIR

Development of Radio Equipment Has Brought Price of Apparatus Down—Wire and Broom Handle Enough for Aerial.

New York.—Rapid development of the radio telephone has made possible for thousands of persons in New York and other parts of the country fulfillment of Longfellow's prophecy that "the night shall be filled with music." Enterprising amateur wireless operators, as well as many commercial stations, now put out through the air each night concerts created by attaching to sending sets phonographs and player pianos. Others, more enterprising, sing or play the violin, and other instruments for the benefit of all who will "listen in."

Receiving Apparatus Cheap.

Approximately one-half the amateurs in the New York district are licensed, permitting them to send. The others are content with receiving sets. Development of the radio equipment has been such that a practical receiving apparatus can be purchased for a very few dollars—the prices range upward in accordance with the equipment.

Great stretches of aerials are no longer necessary. A few feet of wire, looped over the end of a broom and hung out over the fire escape, and a ground wire attached to a radiator or water pipe answer. Some do not even call on the family broom, but attach a wire to the spring of a bed or a couch and excellent results follow.

On a recent evening one amateur residing in New York city heard seven concerts at one time coming from distances varying from two to 160 miles. By means of "tuners" these concerts were easily separated so that each one stood out clear and distinct from the others as desired.

Music From Sixty Miles.

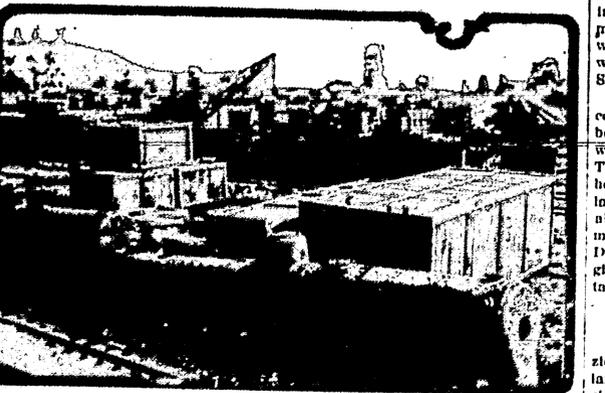

The Press club of Jackson Heights, a suburban residential district of New York, recently featured a radiophone demonstration at a meeting of the members. By the aid of a "loud speaker" the members were enabled to dance from 9 p. m. until midnight to music which came in from varying distances. In a medley dance the members of the club started with a waltz, played at Woodside, Long Island, five miles away; swung into a fox-trot, played at Brighton Beach, 15 miles distant; to a one-step, which came from Paterson, N. J., 35 miles away, then back to a fox-trot, emanating from a phonograph about sixty miles up state. At 10 o'clock all watches were set by the time signals which were sent out from the United States navy station at Arlington, Va.

So numerous have their amateurs become and so united their interests by being able to talk with each other at will that they formed an association. They held a convention at a New York hotel. They exhibited not only their latest possessions in modern sets, but also brought with them the homemade apparatus of their pioneer days. During the convention lectures were given and nightly concerts from distant stations featured.

Big Coon Played Bear.

Falmouth, O.—Frank Elder and Frazier Tatton had a coon almost as large as a bear, and one day they decided to have a "bear" hunt. They turned the coon loose at the south border of town and after giving him a half-hour's start, they turned their pack of charging bear dogs on the trail. The dogs put the "bear" up a tree about two miles up the river. The boys shook him out of the tree and the dogs did the rest.

Russian Mystery in Seattle Yards

Here is more Russian mystery. Since Kerensky's fall valuable railway machinery consigned by American manufacturers to the Russian government, has been lying in Seattle railway yards. No one appears to know its ownership. It was originally intended for export to Siberia. A congressional investigation now in progress may solve the mystery. If Kerensky should get on top again, as now seems quite possible, doubtless the mystery will be quickly solved. The goods are valuable, though they have suffered from exposure.

Diamond Mine Found

Only One on Western Hemisphere is Located in Arkansas.

Gems Are Found in the Crater of an Extinct Volcano in Pike County—First Found in 1906.

Murphresboro, Ark.—The only diamond mine thus far discovered on the western hemisphere is located in Pike county, Arkansas, in which this hamlet is situated. The mine is two and a half miles south of here.

The diamonds are found in a "pipe," the crater of an extinct volcano which ages ago boiled up through the surface, had its terrific heat chilled by the water of an inland sea, and left bits of carbon scattered throughout the peridotite which now fills the crater. To be pressed into diamonds by the contraction of the rock. The peridotite forms the original matrix of the diamond, and thus far the only diamonds found in the western hemisphere in their matrices are those of Pike county.

Diamonds have been found in some twenty-five states, in Canada and South America, but always in river beds where, geologists surmise, they have been washed by the waters, or in places where it is presumed they have been deposited by glacial action.

The first Arkansas diamond was found in 1903 by John Huddleston, then owner of the farm on which the sixty-acre "pipe" is located, by accident. Huddleston observed outcroppings of the gray-green rock, since classed as peridotite, and came to the conclusion that his hillside contained valuable mineral, perhaps copper. After pecking around without finding anything which looked to him like mineral, he picked up a crystal, and then one day, showed it to some friends in Murphresboro. A little Rock jeweler pronounced it a diamond, and made sure by verifications by jewel experts in New York.

The mining operations in Arkansas for several years, at least, will be far different from those of the South African fields, although the formations are the same.

In Africa deep shafts are sunk, the peridotite is brought to the surface and spread on drying floors for periods ranging from six to eighteen months. The rock has the peculiar quality of disintegrating when exposed to the air.

In Arkansas, however, except for a few places, the peridotite already has disintegrated to a depth of about twenty feet, and mixed with vegetable matter, formed a sticky clay, called "gumbo" locally. This overburden of "gumbo" will be worked before blasting operations are started.

Vienna.—With former officers of the army and navy as pupils, a shoemaking school has been opened here. Among the students is a former vice admiral, sixty-eight years old, who is enrolled as a cobbler's apprentice.

Harvest 20 to 45 Bushel to Acre Wheat in WESTERN CANADA

Think what that means to you in good hard dollars with the great demand for wheat at high prices. Many farmers in Western Canada have paid for their land from a single crop. The same success may still be yours, for you can buy on easy terms.

Farm Land at $15 to $30 an Acre located near thriving towns, good markets, railways—land of a kind which grows 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre, good grazing lands at low prices convenient to your grain farm, able you to reap the profits from stock raising and dairying.

NOT A GOOD BUSINESS MAN GET VALUE OF EACH MINUTE

Young Corn Husk Evidently Was Never Intended for High Place in Modern Life.

J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., said in a Y. M. C. A. address: "The successful business man today is one who knows how to change his managers. A successful modern business is too vast for any one man to handle. No managers are essential, and if these managers are badly chosen, failure follows.

"The unsuccessful business man is apt to depute authority to such creatures as young Corn Husk.

"Young Corn Husk's dady sent him to the mill one day to try to sell the season's wheat crop.

"Corn got hold of a miller and submitted a handful of wheat to him. The miller examined the wheat carefully. Then he said: "How much more has your father got like this?" "He ain't got no more like it," young Corn answered. "It took him all morning to pick that out."

No Man Has a Right to Waste His Own Time or Steal That of Another's.

Life is composed only of two things, time and effort. One is useless without the other. Both should be as nearly 100 per cent productive as we are able to make them.

Try as best we may, the end of life will find us with many things undone.

No man ever wholly completed it a task allotted to him. There is a reasonable excuse if into our use of time no waste creeps.

For the man who wastes his own time or steals another's there is neither excuse or valid reason.

Put a value on every minute. Be as anxious and as certain to get that value as you are to gain the worth of your dime and your dollars.

Remember that once a minute has passed by it is gone forever.—F. A. Walker in Chicago Daily News.

Honest poverty ranks as high with some people as dishonest wealth does with some others.

Nearly 5000 Forest Fires in Ten Years

Albuquerque, N. M., April 12, 1921. In the past ten years 4800 fires which burned over 297,176 acres were reported on the National Forests of Arizona and New Mexico, according to District Forester Frank C. W. Pooler of Albuquerque, New Mexico. Of this number, 45 per cent were man-caused and the remainder resulted from lightning. It cost the Forest Service and co-operators nearly $100,000 to extinguish these fires, while the actual loss in timber and forage runs well into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"The big fire," says the District Forester "when presented in ten years totals, show what an enormous tribute the people of the Southwest pay to man-caused forest fires since the fires started by lightning burned less than one-tenth of the total area and caused but a small fraction of the damage done by the fire started by human carelessness.

"In the elimination or reduction to the absolute minimum of this latter type of fire the Forest Service will end its every energy. The cause of every forest fire will be run down by forest rangers immediately after the fire is controlled and where there is likelihood of an offender escaping, special officers will be detailed to collect evidence and stay with the case to the end. Besides these more strenuous efforts on the legal side," concludes Mr. Pooler "we shall endeavor to educate and advise all people using the Forests as to the forest fire danger. Prevention after all, is what the Forest Service wants—not prosecution."

Big Tree Planting Day in Southwest

Albuquerque, N. M., April 12, 1921.—On April 5 and 6 there were distributed to people in a dozen or more Southwestern towns over 30,000 evergreen seedling trees by various Chambers of Commerce co-operating with the U. S. Forest Service. The abandonment of a forest nursery in northern New Mexico resulted in this plan to obtain an economical distribution and wide use of the trees in localities where the elevation was sufficient to insure a fair chance of success after planting. With the small evergreens went planting and cultural directions which if followed should result in general success in bringing the trees through. It is quite unlikely that there has ever been in an equal length of time in these two states, as many people planting trees and in thinking of planting trees as during this tree dispersal. Even if but a fraction of the evergreens survive, the surroundings of many town and country home sites will be beautified by these trees. Arbor Day in New Mexico came on April 1 and in Arizona on April 8, so the big tree planting came at an appropriate time.

Notice to Tax Payers

Section 416 of Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 100, passed by the last Legislature provides for a penalty of 5 per cent to be added 15 days after any taxes shall become delinquent. Provides however, that on delinquent taxes on the 1920 call shall not be penalized until August 1st, 1921.

There seems to be a general misunderstanding about the above law, under the impression that this refers to the regular penalty on delinquent taxes. The above has nothing to do with the one percent per month penalty which has to be paid on delinquent taxes.

Respectfully,
H. G. Norman,
Treasurer & Ex-Officio Collector,
April 15, 21.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative properties that they offer One Hundred Dollars

First Methodist Church

Our Sunday School superintendent, Mr. O. Z. Finley, was obliged to be absent last Sunday on account of the illness of Mrs. Finley. We understand that the condition of the latter is much improved. We trust that she will rapidly recover and that Mr. Finley will soon be able to resume his work with us. In the meantime the vacancy is being filled and the Sunday School going right along. The attention which is being given the general theme of a "Revival" is magnifying our conception of these great religious movements. The pastor's subjects for next Sunday are: 11:00 a. m., "The Character of the Coming Revival"; Text—When thou hearest the sound of a going in the tops of the mulberry trees then thou shalt bestir thyself."
 —II Sam'l 5:24. 7:30 p. m., "The Flow of a Revival"; Text—"They that were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the word."—Acts 8:4.
 All not duty-bound elsewhere are cordially invited to be present for these discussions.

Revival Meeting

The above is a likeness of Prof. Robert E. Huston of Gainsville, Texas, who is to be soloist and chorus director in a revival meeting to be held in our city, beginning April 25. The Lutz Hall has been secured for the services and the preaching will be done by Rev.
 C. C. Higbee, one of our local pastors.
 While Rev. Higbee is pastor of our First Methodist Church, this is not designed to be a Methodist meeting, but rather for the benefit of the entire community. It is earnestly desired that all who stand for the moral and spiritual uplift of our community will lend their hearty co-operation in this effort.
 It is not expected that the meeting will last long; let us begin at the beginning and give religious matters the right of way. It is hoped that Christ-an people will be drawn closer together and closer to God and that many who are dissatisfied in sin will find peace in God.

White Oaks Items

Last Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Social Club of White Oaks was entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Grumbles, with Mrs. Wm. Owens as hostessa. The object of the affair being held at the above named home was that the location afforded more convenience to the Club membership.

A large attendance was present. Cards and music, interspersed with refreshments of cake and coffee caused the time to pass pleasantly. The next event of this nature will be had at the home of Mrs. Jet Rustin on the afternoon of April 14.

RECORD OF IMPORTANT EVENTS CONDENSED FOR BUSY PEOPLE.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.)

WESTERN
Edwin Anderson of Chicago, arrested at San Bernardino, Calif., on a charge of having embezzled $29,000 in Liberty bonds and currency from Earl L. Hart, for whom he acted as sales manager, was sent back to Chicago with his wife, without any guard, it was announced by E. D. Weiss, chief of police.

Death losses from the sinking of the steamship Governor off Point Wilson, near Seattle were reduced to nine when an error in the list of survivors was cleared up by the discovery that the name Alfred Kusean, Los Angeles, reported missing, should have been Alward Kusean of Spokane, Wash., who was saved.

The Lafayette, the tallest tree in the Catalina grove of big trees, eighty-five miles east of Stockton, Cal., has been blown down. The tree was 300 feet tall and had a diameter of thirty feet at the base. A forest ranger, who reported the tree had fallen, said that in February the hotel at the grove was shaken as if by an earthquake, and that soon as the snow receded he found the tree prostrate.

City council and federal officials have worked without success in attempts to find two men, believed to be Mexicans who according to Postmaster L. B. Baker, forced him, at the point of guns to open the safe in the Hibber, Ariz. postoffice and turn over to them a package containing about $40,000 in currency and several thousand dollars in postoffice funds. Baker is confined to his home, suffering from minor injuries caused by having been bound and gagged.

A rebek of votes cast in the municipal election showed Pomona, Calif., won "blue" by fifty three votes. The vote on the ordinance providing all places of amusement where admission is charged should be closed on Sunday was 1,079 for and 2,020 against. Motion picture interests announced they will test the validity of the ordinance and if it is held valid they will keep the theaters closed every day. The contest was the closest and most bitter ever held here. Municipal forces favored the measure.

WASHINGTON
The Army's army of occupation in Germany will not be reduced in size before July 1, 1921 the War Department has announced.

The United States has addressed a new note to Japan on the Yap controversy and the subject of mandates in general which is understood to be much sharper in tone than any of its predecessors.

Farmers and small merchants making sales of less than $1,000 would not be subject to the provisions of proposed sales or consumption taxes by the terms of Senator Smith's tax revision bill now before Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for approval. Secretary Mellon said that he is giving much study to this particular change of the Smith bill, though he was not ready to say whether he would approve it as it is now or in some modified form.

The United States has informed Germany that this government still stands with the allies with regard to the payment of reparations, the State Department has announced.

The condition of cereal crops in the northern hemisphere was described as "generally favorable" by the Department of Agriculture's bureau of crops in a summary of foreign crop prospects. The mild winter in almost all the reporting countries was held to have been an important factor in the crop situation. The bureau said that although several reports had been received as to Russian crops, nothing reliable had come through.

ASK RIGHTS IN MANDATE AWARD

POWERS MUST RECONSIDER STEP IN GIVING ISLE OF YAP TO JAPAN.

HUGHES ANSWERS JAPS

SECRETARY OF STATE, IN NOTE TO ALLIES, DEMANDS MAN-DATE RIGHTS.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.)

Washington, April 7.—The American government, although not a party of the treaty of Versailles, has surrendered none of its rights in the overseas possessions of Germany secured to the principal allied and associated powers by that treaty. Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy are informed by Secretary Hughes in similar notes dispatched by the State Department.

Specifically, the communications deal with the award to Japan by the supreme council at Paris May 7, 1919, of a mandate over the island of Yap, important cable center in the Pacific ocean, and Mr. Hughes says the American government "trusts this action, which it must assume, was taken under a misapprehension, will be reconsidered."

The notes are the first important diplomatic communications penned by the new secretary and they make it plain that the change of administration has resulted in no modification of the position of the United States that as a principal contributor to the victory over Germany it must insist on the exercise of its full rights in the disposition of the former German possessions.

The note to Japan is in reply to one on Yap received from that country March 2. This communication and the other three were supplemental to previous notes. The series was begun by Secretary Colby Nov. 9.

Asserting "there could be no valid or effective disposition of the overseas possessions of Germany without the consent of the United States," Secretary Hughes points out that the peace treaty does not "purport to secure to Japan or to any other nation any right in the overseas possessions of Germany save as an equal right therein should be secured to the United States."

"On the contrary," he says, "Article 119 of the treaty provides: 'Germany renounces in favor of the principal allied and associated powers all her rights and titles over her overseas possessions.' It will not be questioned that one of the principal allied and associated powers in whose favor Germany renounces her rights and titles is the United States. Thus not only the position of Japan derives no strength from the treaty or from any discussions preliminary thereto, but the terms of that treaty confirm the position of the United States."

This camp was also attacked from the West Virginia side of the river.

Tries to Eat Check.

PITTSBURG MAN MAKES WONDERFUL STATEMENT

Declares Tanlac Enabled Him to Eat Better, Sleep Better and Work Better.—Has Gained Thirty Pounds.

HARRY M. ALLEN Of Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I consider Tanlac the grandest medicine in the world, for I have actually gained 30 pounds in weight since I began taking it. It has just simply filled me with new life and energy and for the first time in years I can sit down to the table and enjoy three square meals a day like other people. In fact, Tanlac has made me eat better, feel better, sleep better and work better, and I guess that's all a man can expect of a medicine."

"Before I took Tanlac, I was off 25 pounds in weight and was so badly run down I was hardly able to do my work. Nothing seemed to agree with me and my food invariably soured on my stomach. I would always have an uncomfortable bloated up feeling in my stomach, and although I tried many kinds of medicines, I never got relief until I took Tanlac."

"I also suffered considerably at times from Rheumatism, but this has all disappeared. In fact, this wonderful medicine has made a new man out of me in every way. I feel younger and can do as much work as in any day of my life."

"Of course, I am only too glad to give you my testimony because I want other people who are suffering as I did to take this medicine and get relief."

The above remarkable statement was made by Harry M. Allen, residing at 1009 1/2 Saint Martin Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., a well known employe of the Oliver Iron & Steel Company of that city. Mr. Allen is a well known member of the United Presbyterian Church and is highly respected by all who know him. Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE BROWN CREEPERS.

"We're not fashionable like some of the birds," said Mr. Brown Creeper. "The fashionable ones have summer homes and winter homes."

"You see, it is hard on many birds to stay where it is cold, for they only have their little feathers to keep them warm, and while feathers are nice and warm, it is not always enough to have only feathers."

"All the birds are singing songs of the springtime. We can't join in the great chorus because our voices are so low. They have always been low. No one ever hears a brown creeper's voice unless very near to us."

"We like people, too, and are very tame. We do not mind any one and are not easily frightened. Of course, we like to wear brown suits, as one would guess from our names, and I think the white waistcoat we wear is a stylish touch."

"How we jump from the top of one tree to the next tree below. Oh, how we love trees!" "And our nests are so like the woods," Mrs. Brown Creeper said, "with the moss and twigs and bits of bark which we use for our wall paper and rugs and furniture."

"We like to nest on old stumps. We don't care about living in a rich, smart neighborhood. We never found that made any one any happier. And soon the little white eggs will come out into little birdlings, the dear little white eggs with the reddish brown spots on them!"

"That is nice, little Brown Creepers; that is nice to make those soft, little sounds. When people hear you they will be so excited and pleased because they will know they are quite near you and are actually becoming friends. For you will become friends with them. Because you are so trusting, surely no one will ever hurt you!"

"Yes, the pine trees whispered that to me only the other day. And they told me that always brown creepers have loved the woods and have had their voices low and quiet and peaceful like the woods. 'You don't have to shout to be big,' ended Mrs. Brown Creeper, 'for the woods are great and mighty and they aren't always shouting about it.' 'Right,' said Mr. Brown Creeper. 'You are perfectly right.'"

Out of Order. "The next one in this room that speaks above a whisper will be put out," exclaimed the angry judge. "Hip, hip, hooray!" shouted the prisoner as he ran for the door. Boys' Life.

IN TALOR - MADES

Youthful Note Manifest in American Clothes.

Navy Blue is First Choice. With Brown and Gator in Turn for Plain Colors.

Spring tailor-mades of American origin are decidedly youthful in every detail of development. This is a fashion note of especial interest to almost every woman.

Navy blue, according to one fashion authority, is unquestionably the first-choice in color, with brown and gator in turn for plain colors, but there is a most pleasing and complete assortment of small check materials in such color combinations as brown and tan, green and tan, green and blue, navy and gray, green and gray.

On long straight lines is the loose-fitting coat of the suit of poret twill, trimmed with wide herules braid, the trimming giving a sort of double coat or cape effect that is new and interesting.

Black and White Shepherd's Plaid. This type of coat makes for a youthful appearance, for it quite successfully conceals the natural figure lines and produces a straight-line silhouette, which is the dominant stylistic feature of spring tailor-mades.

CLOTHES FOR STOUT WOMEN. Black, Navy Blue and All Extremely Dark Shades Will Attract Less Attention.

While the slender women may occasionally indulge in bargain corsets, a purchase of this kind with its hazardous fit is to be avoided by the woman inclining toward stoutness, for it is by means of a properly constructed and properly adjusted corset that the figure foundation is made.

Economical Dress. One of the most economical of dresses for the woman who must make smart appearance on a small sum, is a one-piece slip of black satin charmeuse. Over this can be worn two or three different arrangements suitable for morning, afternoon or evening.

Practical Sash. A new sash that is extremely pretty and practical, too, is of wide black moire ribbon heavily embroidered with colored wools. Investigation of the large, round flowers on one such sash shows that two strands of soft wool are used to make close lazy-daisy stitches, while a single long stitch of darker wool in the same color is worked between the looped stitches.

This, together with repeated calls from patients at home, shortened the Doctor's stay. Mrs. Lucas will remain for a short period of time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sowder, of Picocho, were in town on Monday, transacting some important business, leaving in the afternoon for home. Mr. Sowder says that the Picocho oil well is going down at a good rate of speed and encountering nothing above minor difficulties. The showings are better as the depth increases.

W. H. Ellis, of Ancho, was in town on Monday, awaiting the arrival of J. W. May, who had been detained at Corona on account of the illness of Mrs. May, who was taken to that place last week for treatment. Messrs. Ellis and May have some valuable mining claims in Littleton Canyon in the White Mountains and are about ready to do more prospecting.

Col. and Mrs. J. C. Bender arrived home last week from an extended trip through the east, where they visited many old landmarks of by-gone days. New York City, Philadelphia, Gettysburg and Westover, Maryland were the principal places visited. At one point where Col. Bender spent a portion of his boyhood days, he found but one of his old companions alive out of a long list of his old schoolmates. The Colonel and Mrs. Bender each gained as much as twenty-five pounds during their absence.

A carnival contingent made its way slowly, but surely into town last Sunday and on Monday erected tents and prepared for business. At this writing, the show is in full blast. Here, one may see such curiosities as the unlicked man, the lady, who gives her exact age, the politician, who has never wanted a job, the honest oil speculator, and many other attractions too numerous to mention. The music on the big merry-go-round "whoozes" its way to the ears of the coyotes in the Malpais, who in turn, take up the refrain.

Testing of Dairy And Town Cows

In a letter received from Mr. W. J. Linwood, Secretary of the Cattle Sanitary Board, he requests that it be impressed upon the minds of all concerned that no one is authorized to test cattle except a qualified Veterinarian holding a commission from the Cattle Sanitary Board. He further states:

"If the owners of the dairy and town cows will take the matter up with Dr. Kemple, of Alamogordo, who is an authorized Veterinarian and commissioned by this Board to do such work, he will probably arrange to come to Carrizozo and do the testing. Or, if they will let this Board know their desires in the matter we will take it up with Dr. Kemple so that he can arrange with the interested parties as to the time and other details."

Becomes Practipedist

This city now has a Graduate Practipedist to look after the comfort of its feet. Mr. Earnest O. Prehm, of Ziegler Store, has just graduated and received his diploma from the American School of Practipedics, of Chicago.

Practipedics is the new science of giving foot comfort in the shoe store through scientific shoe fitting and the intelligent use and trained fitting of the foot comfort devices invented by Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the noted foot specialist. Suffering from corns, bunions, callouses, weak arches, etc., will not be indulged in from now on by those who trade at the Ziegler Store.

No extra charge is made for this foot comfort feature, it being a part of the regular service which this store will give to its patrons in the future.
