Ed. Punches Gillie's Face

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 22.—Ed. M. Otero of Los Lunas met former governor Miguel A. Otero in the Capital City Bank last Saturday noon and struck him one blow in the face, knocking him against a window and as he straightened up slapped him across the mouth with his open hand.

The encounter followed the demand of Ed. M. Otero on the ex-governor to say whether or not he had made certain attacks on the character of Mrs. Otero-Warren who is a sister of Ed. M. Otero, during the recent campaign when she was a candidate for Congress from New Mexico. The ex-governor did not offer to deny or explain the alleged attacks, but is said to have given a sarcastic answer, and Ed. M. Otero's punch was the rejoinder.

Ed. M. Otero appeared before the police magistrate and paid a fine of $5.00.

Miguel A. Otero was taken to a doctor's office where his injuries, which were not serious, were given attention. He is said to have stated that he would file a damage suit against his assailant.

Later Saturday evening Ed. M. Otero made the following statement:

"Naturally, I regret that this affair occurred. I would have avoided it if there had seemed any other way to deal with the offense of which Gillie Otero has been guilty. I knew that Otero was opposing my sister during the campaign but did not know of the serious character of his attacks until a couple of days ago when I returned from my ranch where I have been since the election. I was then told of a speech delivered by Gillie Otero at Bernalillo in which, I was informed by reliable persons who heard it, he made an attack upon Mrs. Otero-Warren of a character which could not be tolerated. I immediately came to Santa Fe to see Gillie Otero about it. He avoided me this morning, but this afternoon I saw him entering the Capital City Bank, stopped him at the door and asked him as to the statements in his Bernalillo speech that had been attributed to him. He said, in effect that he had not said anything he would not say again.

"The charge that I assaulted Gillie Otero is not true. I did not assault him. I gave him a licking which he had coming to him, and which, I felt, the circumstances not only warranted me in administering but which the nature of his statements made necessary. I struck him once, I believe, in the neighborhood of the eye and he fell against a window. He got up, but showed no disposition to fight and I then struck him across the mouth with my open hand. He then pleaded against further punishment and I turned away and walked out.

"I am accustomed to unjust and libellous attacks upon myself in the course of political campaigns and have often been their victim. I have endured them and can continue to do so, although they constitute a kind of campaigning which does harm to all and good to none. But when alleged political campaigning takes the form of slander against women of my family, who it is my duty to protect, I propose to protect them. I repeat that I took the only course which the nature of Gillie Otero's contemptible offense seemed to leave open to me. I whipped him."

School Notes (Supt. E. E. Cole.)

The State Convention of New Mexico Teachers meets next week at Albuquerque. A good program is prepared and some very inspiring educational speakers will be present. Attendance on this meeting is a privilege and over one thousand teachers will avail themselves of the opportunity, if attendance is as good as in previous years.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday of next week, the custom of former years. The various rooms are preparing Thanksgiving programs to be given at 8:30 on Wednesday. Everybody very cordially invited to attend.

The sixth grade, Mrs. Vaughn's room, is reading the Hoosier Schoolmaster, one of the finest books for young people ever published. The example of Ralph Hartsook is most inspiring; inspiring to teachers and to pupils. "While you're gittin', git a plenty" may well apply to a pupil trying to get an education. Another good maxim is, "When 'Bull' takes hold, heaven and earth can't make him let go." Mrs. Vaughn lets the best readers of the room read from this book to the rest of the pupils.

The sixth grade has an especially good program in preparation.

Listen to this! In the fifth grade, last week, not a single pupil misspelled a word, but spelled every word of the spelling lessons of the week. One hundred per cent in spelling for every pupil during the whole week. The same grade sold a lot of lead pencils and with the proceeds have ordered a football to be used by that grade only.

Elizabeth Such presented the room a "Clamp Pencil Sharpener" which is doing splendid work. "Thanks, Elizabeth," says the room.

The fifth grade is now in the midst of a "Better English Contest" in which much improvement has been made in correcting poor English.

The seventh grade, Mrs. Mim's room, will present a Thanksgiving program on Wednesday afternoon which will be in the nature of a history lesson. Every phase of life among the settlers of Plymouth will be discussed and many interesting historical events will be brought out. After this a program of Thanksgiving songs and recitations will be given. The students in this room have it prettily decorated with their handwork consisting of a turkey and wheat-sheaf border for the blackboard.

Week after next is "Education Week." This year the United States Bureau of Education is co-operating with the American Legion and the National Education Association in inviting every American organization, club, school, church, newspaper, magazine, theatre and individual to participate in making the week a real nation-wide revival of educational enthusiasm. We hope to have several talks on educational subjects, given in the Carrizozo schools by local people.

"The good education of youth has been esteemed by wise men in all ages as the surest foundation of the happiness both of private families and of commonwealths."—Benjamin Franklin.

Brain Machine for the Artillery

This electric brain machine invented by Hannibal C. Ford of New York (standing) automatically computes and records the range for the big coast defense guns and predicts the advance location of the moving enemy, making allowances for atmospheric pressure, temperature of powder and all details heretofore computed by hand. Captain H. B. Ely is shown operating the system now in Washington. It will later be installed at Panama.

Lincoln County High School News

(W. J. Klopp, Supt.)

One of the fastest and cleanest ball games played in Howard Hall was played between the first team of the Indians of Mesquero and the high school team. Both teams were well matched and had excellent team work. The fast signal work of the local team was however too much for the Indians and the game ended with the score 66 to 18 in favor of the local team.

The second team of the Indians played the high school second team and gave them a thrilling contest, defeating them 12 to 9.

The high school girls' team played the town team and the contest was heated but the fast forward of the high school team won the victory, 34 to 22.

Friday night, Nov. 24, the entire school will be represented in a program under the supervision of Mesdames Besse and Hancock. Eleven numbers will be rendered and a pleasant entertainment is guaranteed to all. The proceeds will be used to make the January payment on the hall. Following the program, a delicious pie supper will be held. Everybody is urged to this third School function for the reason that Saturday, Nov. 25, will occur the basket ball game between Alamogordo and Capitán. This promises to be a fast contest for everyone knows the speedy Alamo boys always play a real game.

The Home Economics Department held its Fall Sewing Exhibit in the high school Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Under the new Smith Hughes Syllabus just issued; the work is divided so as to give each class fall and spring sewing together with the work of home nursing, sanitation, child care, advanced sewing, dietetics and cooking. The exhibit consisted of eighteen wool and silk dresses, twelve cotton and linen dresses, twenty hats, caps and scarfs, luncheon sets, pillows and numerous other articles. The inclement weather did not seem a barrier to the many interested parents and friends who came to see the actual work of their children. Miss Stella Wyatt, the instructor in this department is a graduate of one of the seven best Smith-Hughes colleges in the United States and is well qualified to carry on this work according to the provisions of the Smith-Hughes Syllabus. The balance of the semester will be devoted to home nursing, sanitation and child care, and very extensive home project will be carried out.

Educational News

(Mrs. M. L. Blaney)

Friday, November 24th, closes the third month of the school term. The school rooms that have been unable to secure the attendance can begin their record for the month of December next Monday, November 26. I visited the White Oaks school and found pupils doing good work under the direction of A. T. Pfingsten and Kathryn Spence. The White Oaks community makes life as pleasant as possible for teachers in their midst.

Teachers attending the New Mexico Educational Association which convenes in Albuquerque November 27th, will be allowed the time without any reduction in salary. Teachers remaining at home will teach every day but Thanksgiving day. A large attendance of teachers at this meeting is desired because of important measures regarding teachers' certificates, salary of rural teachers, etc., will be discussed at the Council meeting Monday night and presented to the General Assembly in the form of Resolutions, for the adoption or rejection. It is your duty to be there or abide by the decision without complaining. Excellent programs have been arranged for all sections. The Parsons school was visited Monday of the present week. This is a small school but is composed of healthy girls and boys who have promised to make the Parsons school the best in the county.

The Christmas vacations must be made up. I would advise that schools be closed not more than from December 22nd to January 2nd. Please notify me of your plans, as I intend visiting all schools before January and would not like to make a trip and find schools closed. An excellent program has been arranged for November 24th at the Capitán school, everybody cordially invited.

School directors are asked to send all legal accounts against school districts to this office by December 20th in order that bills may be paid and report of conditions made by December 31st. According to a decision of the court, budgets must be followed as passed upon by the State Tax Commission, a copy of which was mailed to district clerks as soon as received by me.

Start holiday season by enjoying yourselves at the big dance at Lutz Hall Thanksgiving night. The B. of R. T. will entertain you.—"Head in!"

District Court

Following last week's disposition of a few cases of a minor nature, the court called the case of the State vs. Dr. R. R. Davis, charged with the killing of Dr. J. T. Stone about one year ago in Corona. The empanelling of a jury consumed until Wednesday morning when after one had been selected, witnesses began their testimonies for the prosecution and, at the present time, some are still on the stand.

After this line of testimony is given which conforms closely to that given at the preliminary hearing one year ago when defendant was admitted to bail, the witnesses for the defense will testify, pleadings made and the case given to the jury about Saturday.

The killing was done at the butcher shop of Jones & Son at Corona following the settlement in court of a trial between the two doctors who were engaged in practise at the above named town. After the trial which was settled by the court imposing a fine on Dr. Stone, he went to Corona and a few hours after reaching that place and in the act of purchasing meat for the evening meal, Dr. Davis entered the place and without a word, according to eye witnesses, shot Dr. Stone several times, from which injuries he died two hours after. The case has excited much interest in this county and the outcome is awaited with anxiety and speculation.

White Oaks News

(By Mrs. Allen Lane)

We have had about four inches of snow so far and weather conditions at present promise more in the near future.

The hunting season opened with a near tragedy, as usual. Carl Anderson was nearly killed by an unexpected bullet whizzing by in close proximity to his person. Hunters should be more sure of the identity of their object before pulling the trigger.

Dr. Paden and Miss Scharf were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Starkey and enjoying the first day of hunting on Monday.

On Sunday, Nov. 19, Mrs. Ward entertained many of her friends and relatives with a big chicken dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McFadin, who resided in White Oaks last year, have moved back from the ranch and will occupy the Hogle house for a period. We are very glad to have them back with us.

Several good democrats of White Oaks helped celebrate the democratic victory by attending the celebration dance given at Lutz hall in Carrizozo last Saturday night.

Mr. Elrod of Roswell and Mr. McFadin, came in from the ranch last Sunday, camping in Water Canyon in order to be on hand for opening of the hunting season.

Mrs. Smith was a guest of Mrs. Ward last Sunday.

Charles Littel is attending to court matters in Carrizozo this week.

There will be a dance at the Town Hall next Saturday night and a large attendance is expected.

Grand Entertainment and Dance at Fort Stanton tomorrow night given by the Auxiliary Club. You are invited.—Come.

Newberry Resigns

Washington, Nov. 20.—Vice President Coolidge read into the senate record Monday, after congress, the resignation of Truman H. Newberry as United States senator from Michigan. Forwarded to Governor Groesbeck of that state under date of November 18, Mr. Newberry's letter of resignation, requesting that it become effective immediately, was made public here Sunday night after a copy had been transmitted to Vice President Coolidge with the request that it be read into the senate record as soon as possible.

Although declaring in a review of the long and bitter controversy over his right to a place in the senate since his election over Henry Ford, his democratic opponent, four years ago, that this right had been "fully confirmed" Mr. Newberry in his letter said he had been impelled to retire because of the defeat of his republican colleague, Senator Townsend, in the November 7 election. At the same time, in discussing the controversy in its relation to the campaign just closed, during which it was an issue in many states, Mr. Newberry expressed the conviction that a "fair analysis of the vote in Michigan and other states where friends and political enemies alike have suffered defeat, will demonstrate that a general feeling of unrest was mainly responsible."

Entertained at Corona

The Carrizozo Entertainers entertained a good sized audience at the Gymnasium in Corona on the night of Nov. 18. In addition to the regular program, Eb Jones and H. C. Franklin sang solos and Otto Prehm rendered a piano solo. The Entertainers greatly appreciate the courtesy of the Corona people, especially the school faculty, Mrs. W. J. McAdams and others. Following are the Entertainers who took part in the program:

Hilary Cooper, Ruth E. Brickley, Florence Spence, Kathryn Spence, Audrey Miller, Grace Moss, Lois Jones, Leora Taylor, Raymond Lackland, Otto Prehm, Chandler Prude, Edwin McCarty, Geo. Ferguson, R. C. Pitts, E. M. Brickley, Eb K. Jones, Lawrence Rowland.

Other visitors from Carrizozo who accompanied the Entertainers or came later to attend the dance which followed the program, were: Jeanette and Sallie Johnson, Myrtle and Ella Rowland, Ella M. Brickley, Winnie Taylor, Mrs. Lee Prude, A. T. Pfingsten, Max Taylor, Robert Adams, Lesnet Anderson, J. C. Brickley, H. B. Jones.

A total of $48.75 was taken in at the above entertainment.

New Club House for Seamen's Social Club

Messrs. Holmes, Bellon, Polaski and Murphy of Ft. Stanton passed through here yesterday on their way to El Paso to attend to some important business matters for the Seamen's Social Club. The officers of the Club placed an order this week with the Titworth Co., Inc., of Capitán for material for the new Club House which will be 30x40 and this structure, added to the old building will give all accommodations necessary for commodious Club quarters. Permission was granted to erect this valuable improvement by Commanding Officer Major Warren, who is deeply interested in the good and welfare of all things at the Fort.

Eleven noncommissioned officers in the Philippine constabulary will be hanged unless Governor General Wood pardons them, since the Supreme Court of the United States declined to review their case. Sixty-six privates will serve life sentences. The Philippine Supreme Court will await the official mandate of the United States court before fixing the date for carrying out the sentences.

Pennsylvania, with seven, will top all the states in big House committee heads in the new Congress, unless the seniority rule is abrogated. All told, there are sixty standing committees, but some of them have little to do with important legislation. The seven important chairmanships, Pennsylvania is expected to have. Banking, claims, foreign affairs, judiciary, naval, post-office and printing, a gain of two.

Investigation of the Philippine National bank of Manila by a committee of six members of the Legislature is proposed in a resolution introduced jointly in the Philippine Senate and House. The resolution instructs such a committee "particularly to ascertain the truth of the reports of fabulous, exorbitant salaries paid bank officials and employees."

A bank for farmers, sponsored by the federal government, as one of the projects now being considered by the Chamber of Deputies of Mexico City, following the presentation of a bill to that effect by the Co-operativista party, the dominant party in the lower House. The bank is designed to aid small farmers and will be modeled after similar institutions in the United States.

Terrific havoc was wrought by fire which broke out in the Italian fleet in the harbor at Naples, said a Central News dispatch from Rome, received in London. The light warcraft Mirafiori, Russo and Aquila were sunk. Two gunboats were entirely destroyed. Four torpedo boats were also burned. The fire spread from the ships to the shore, destroying waterfront buildings, wharves and barges.

Since the resumption by Eamon de Valera of his title of president of the Irish republic and the reconstitution of the republican council of state, backed by the republican army, the war in Ireland has entered a new phase. Captured correspondence has revealed proposed war measures which have been submitted to Valera for approval, and it is assumed that whatever is now done is with his sanction.

The Spanish government, it was announced recently, denounced on Nov. 5, the commercial agreement made with the United States, Aug. 3, 1903. Under this agreement, Spain accorded the United States most favored nation treatment, with the exception of special advantages conceded to Portugal, while the United States agreed to special rates of duty upon certain Spanish products, notably crude tartar, brandies and wines.

GENERAL

Three persons were injured, one probably fatally, and a dozen women and children were saved in thrilling rescues in a fire believed to have been incendiary, which caused $15,000 damage to a West side apartment building in Chicago.

The soldier bonus, providing $50 a month for ex-service men, passed, according to figures given out from the State Election Bureau at Oklahoma City. The vote was 18,889 majority for the measure. The farmer vote was in favor of the measure.

The three-masted schooner Samuel Hart of New York was sunk in a collision with the sea-going tug Wyoming at the entrance of Casco bay, near Portland, Maine. Captain Johnson of the schooner vessel and three members of his crew were brought to this port by the Wyoming. A haze is said to have been responsible for the collision. The Wyoming was not seriously damaged.

C. V. Toner, oil field worker, was the hero of Humble, eighteen miles north of Houston, Texas. During the boiling over of the second of two carbon tanks on the Gulf farm, near Humble, Toner climbed upon a third tank belonging to the Texas Company, and extinguished sparks which in a few minutes would have added 250,000 more barrels to the loss which was estimated to total $30,000 barrels.

She had been ill, but the news of the death of her husband and son has caused a relapse and doctors fear she will not live.

At Tucson the experiment station has just published a "Timely Hint on Early Bunt Wheat." This will be sent to all wheat growers in Arizona who are interested. This circular gives a short history of the introduction and distribution of Early Bunt wheat in Arizona by the experiment station and of its displacing the common Sonora wheat. Early Bunt wheat is the most valuable grain crop grown in Arizona now.

Contrary to the opinion that most of the cattle in the southern part of New Mexico have been shipped out, it is said that there are still many for sale, most of them being in prime condition. Many announcements of cattle shipments from the southern counties have been made but the fact is that only a little over 11,000 head have been shipped to other pastures, and this is only a small part of the total which are on the ranges.

Word has been received in Wagon Mound, N. M., to the effect that the Santa Fe railroad will erect large stockyards at Levy during the coming year for the benefit of the local cattle and sheep men. The matter has been approved by the Corporation Commission and an appropriation will be made by the Santa Fe for this purpose during the winter. It is thought that the yards will be ready for the spring shipping.

Judge R. S. Stanford of the Superior Court at Phoenix has set Dec. 11 as the date for the trial of C. N. Stanford, president, and E. Stanford, vice president, of the old Central Bank of Phoenix, indicted by a Maricopa county grand jury recently on charges growing out of the failure of the institution. Judge Stanford set Dec. 8 as the date for the trial of Phil Lewis, former president of the same bank, also indicted in connection with the same series of transactions.

The auto dealers and merchants of Las Vegas are planning for the big auto and style show the last of March, 1922, the dates having been set for the 29th, 30th and 31st. The big show will be held at the army and all the latest models in automobiles will be shown at this time. Good music will be provided for the three days and a big dance will be given each night. According to the reports of the Cotton Growers' Association, most of the cotton grown in the Pecos valley in New Mexico this year will run over $100 to the acre. A large part of the crop has been picked and stacked in the fields and the price has been gradually going up for some time until now the growers are getting the top notch figure for the product. The big gin which was partly destroyed by fire some time ago is running again and there is every indication that the season will be a busy one. The gin at Hagerman is running full time and is turning out about twenty bales per day.

Three of the big mining companies in Arizona have refused to pay the taxes levied against them on the ground that the taxes were based on valuations in excess of the full cash value. These companies are the United Verde Extension and the United Verde, both of Jerome, and the United Eastern of Mohave county. This failure to pay the taxes was not on account of inability of the companies to pay, but the claim was made that the mining properties had been secured for a greater sum than their full cash value.

BRITISH VOTERS BACK BONAR LAW

ELECTORS IN ENGLAND RETURN CONSERVATIVE PARTY TO POWER.

DEFEAT LLOYD GEORGE

LADY ASTOR ONLY WOMAN TO WIN SEAT IN PARLIAMENT.

London.—The Conservative party has returned more members to Parliament than all the other parties combined. The Laborites come next and the Labor party is considered due for congratulations, as it already has a gain of twenty-eight seats.

These are all in the congested industrial areas, notably in Glasgow, where predictions that labor would triumph, have been fulfilled, and the results of the last election overturned by a flood of Laborite votes, the Conservatives and George Liberal being ousted in several divisions. Of all the women candidates, Lady Astor is the only one returned.

There has been no great surprise. The Conservatives are leading all the other parties combined. The Labor members elected thus far are less than half the number of Conservatives, but more than both sections of the Liberal party.

The returns are regarded by students of politics as a fair gauge of Labor's strength as compared with the other parties. Great gains by Labor in the country districts are not expected. Viscountess Astor was elected for the Sutton division of Plymouth.

The vote was: Lady Astor, Conservative, 18,024; Capt. G. W. Brennan, Labor, 16,831; Dr. H. W. Bayly, Independent Conservative, 4,043.

Herbert H. Asquith was re-elected in Finsley, but his majority was greatly reduced.

Mr. Bonar Law polled 15,437; Rosslyn Mitchell, Laborite, 2,023, and Sir George Paish, Asquithian Liberal 2,518. In the last election, Mr. Bonar Law's majority over the Laborites was 12,915. The spectacle of children casting ballots at an election was witnessed in several cases in England. This was possible under the law which provides that if a name is placed on the register of voters, even mistakenly, it must stand unless challenged before election day.

One surprise on the bulletin boards was the election on a liberal for Oxford, where in both town and university the Liberals have been in the wilderness for many years.

Banker Drowned in Gulf Storm.

Nogales, Ariz.—William H. Brophy, Los Angeles and Arizona millionaire banker, copper magnate and dollar-a-year man during the world war, was swept from a small boat and drowned during a heavy storm in the Gulf of California, where he was cruising with a party of friends recently. Intense darkness and the ferocity of the storm made rescue work or the recovery of his body impossible.

More Earthquake Shocks.

Santiago.—The authorities at Coquimbo reported that a strong earthquake and tidal wave had been experienced there again. No further damage was caused. The population was on the alert and no casualties were reported. Scarcely a house remains standing in the Valparaiso valley in northern Chile as the result of the recent earthquakes and marine disturbances.

Emporia Editor Blocks Governor.

Emporia, Kan.—William Allen White blocked the effort of Governor Allen to have White's trial on a charge of violating the Kansas Industrial Court law delayed until the governor had retired from office. White was arrested for putting a placard expressing 50 per cent sympathy for the striking shopmen in the window of the office of the Emporia Gazette, of which he is editor. Judge W. G. Harris, in District Court, refused the request of Governor Allen that the trial be continued after Nov. 22, as it now appears on the docket.

Receives One Day Sentence.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—For conviction on a charge of stealing two bath tubs from a plumber here, C. H. Kessal will receive a one-day trip to the state penitentiary at McAlester, with all expenses paid and will come away from the prison with $5 and a new suit, the state's gift to liberated convicts. A jury in District Court, which found Kessal guilty, assessed a penalty of one day in the penitentiary.

Bankrupt Merchant Kills Self.

Memphis, Tenn.—During a recess in a bankruptcy hearing, at which Louis Schaeffer, a merchant, was under examination on a charge of having concealed his assets, Schaeffer ended his life with poison. A few moments before Schaeffer's body was taken to his home department of justice agents found 10,000 pairs of shoes valued at $60,000, alleged to have been part of the bankrupt stock of the merchant, concealed in false walls at Schaeffer's home.

A circus was coming and Billy particularly wanted 25 cents.
A neighbor asked him to hoo his potatoes, saying: "I'll make it all right with you."
Billy hooed energetically, and when the job was finished, went over for his pay.
When he returned, I asked, "Did he make it all right with you?"
Displaying one lone dime, the little fellow said, "Maybe it's all right for him, but it's all wrong for me."—Exchange.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

He could borrow money from an Edgeworth smoker

"I left the house in a hurry. Had bought my railroad ticket the day before, so I didn't realize I had left my money at home until I was aboard the train. I was going to a strange town to do business with a man I don't know, so it would have been quite embarrassing."

"I went into the smoking car. I looked over the men and decided to tell my story to one of them. But which one? That was the question. It was answered quickly. A man pulled out a pipe. 'He's the man for me,' I thought. But when he took a can of Edgeworth from his pocket, then I knew."

"He lent me the trifling sum I asked for, and in thanking him I mentioned that I was an Edgeworth smoker and that was what influenced me to speak to him, a perfect stranger."

"Perfect stranger!" he laughed. "Not on your life. No pipe smoker is a perfect stranger to another—especially if they both smoke Edgeworth."

There does seem to be a friendship among Edgeworth smokers. We don't claim that the tobacco is responsible for this so much as the kind of men who smoke Edgeworth.

Perhaps you've had a similar experience. If you have, we'd like to hear of it.

And we'll send free samples—generous helpings of Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed or Plug Slice—to any man, whether he has some favorite brand or not. We know we couldn't change him from a tobacco that exactly suited him, but if Edgeworth should convince him—well, that would make us both happy.

After all, the happiest man in this world is the one who smokes a tobacco he likes.

—from the very first piped in, the morning to the last piped at night. For all you know, that tobacco might be Edgeworth.

Send a postcard for free samples with your name and address to Larus & Brother Company, 44 South 21st St., Richmond, Va. If you would also add the name and address of the dealer from whom you usually buy your tobacco, we would appreciate your courtesy.

Edgeworth is sold in various sizes to suit the needs and means of all purchasers. Both Edgeworth Plug Slice and Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed are packed in small, pocket size packages, in handsome tin holders, and in various handy in-between quantities.

You can also get Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed in glass jars that you'll find mighty useful.

To Retail Tobacco Merchants: If your jobber cannot supply you with Edgeworth, Larus & Brother Company will gladly send you prepaid by parcel post a one- or two-ounce carton of any size of Edgeworth Plug Slice or Ready-Rubbed for the same price you would pay the jobber.

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago, Illinois.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you. Keep well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

PROTECTION FOR FARM MACHINERY

Many Valuable Implements Are Left in Shelter of Broad Skies All Year Around.

LIKE THROWING AWAY MONEY

Few Farmers Following This Practice Realize Great Loss They Sustain—Covering of Common Axle Grease Is Good.

How many farmers would leave $25, $50 and even $100 in bills out in the open during an entire winter? Sounds absurd, but scores of such bills, in their equivalent of farm implements are left in the shelter of the broad skies all the year. Few farmers who follow this practice do so with a realization of the great loss they are sustaining on the money invested.

A $100 machine left out of shelter over winter, means a loss of from $5 to $15. At this rate it is quite evident that a machine shed would be paid for in two or three years, even at present building costs.

Store Implements Properly.
A suitable shelter having been provided, it is now essential to store the implements properly. If the shed has a dirt floor, keep the machinery from resting directly on the ground. Place a board at least under all supporting parts. In order to prevent rust, thoroughly cover every polished surface, such as plowshares, mold boards, cultivator shovels, power knives and the like with common axle grease. All adjusting screws and nuts should be thoroughly oiled with ordinary machine oil. Every wheel hub and bearing, after a careful cleaning, should be packed with hard grease and replaced. Drills in which lime or fertilizer are

DAIRY-COW IS LARGE FACTOR IN OKLAHOMA

Cream Stations, Creameries and Plants Tell Story.

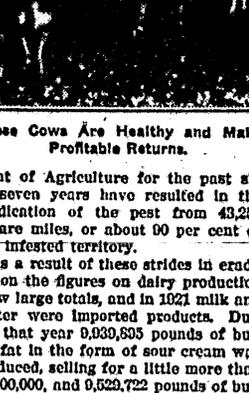

On Account of Cattle Tick Such Development Was Formerly Impossible—Past Graduated From 43,255 Square Miles.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A recent map of Oklahoma indicating by marks of various shapes the location of cream stations, ice cream factories, creameries, pasteurizing plants, and combination plants, shows the dairy cow now as a big factor in the prosperity of the state. Formerly, on account of the cattle tick, such a development of dairying was impossible, but the antitick activities of the state and the United States Department of Agriculture for the past six or seven years have resulted in the eradication of the pest from 43,255 square miles, or about 90 per cent of the infested territory.

As a result of these strides in eradication the figures on dairy production show large totals, and in 1921 milk and butter were imported products. During that year 9,930,695 pounds of butter fat in the form of sour cream was produced, selling for a little more than $4,000,000, and 9,525,722 pounds of butter, valued at $3,240,000. More than 10,000,000 pounds of sweet milk was bought for making ice cream. Pasteurizing plants reported handling 62,201,633 pounds of milk. The figures are from reports received from 20 creameries, 44 ice cream plants, and 30 combination plants operating in Oklahoma or just outside its borders and buying from Oklahoma farmers.

FARMERS MUST AVOID WASTE

Increasing Price of Land, Feed and Labor Make It Advisable to Use All By-Products.

With the increasing price of land feed, and the higher cost of labor, it is becoming necessary that the farmer eliminate, as far as possible, any waste. He must make use of all the by-products of his business much the same as the manufacturer does. Corn is produced in practically every section of the country, primarily for the grain and frequently the stover is disregarded.

Properly cured stover is relished by live stock, but that which is left in the open during disagreeable weather is far from being palatable or nourishing. Stover protected from the time it is cut in the field is a valuable feed for young stock, idle horses, and cattle that are being carried over the winter on a cheap ration.

The best way to handle corn stover is by means of the shredder. This method makes it possible to get it in the barn before the feeding qualities have been injured by the weather. Enough room should always be reserved in the barn to accommodate a good supply of stover. Hay may be safely stacked out, but it is unsafe to try to stack shredded stover. Care must be taken to give the corn ample time to cure before it is shredded, for it may heat in the mow and become worthless through subsequent molding.

FEEDING PULLETS FOR EGGS

Overfat Fowl Is Not Satisfactory Layer and Will Eventually Become a Drone.

In feeding a lot of pullets heavily for egg production, should any individual become overfat and threaten to break down, it is a good plan to take her out of the general pen and feed her more lightly. In fact, it may be a good warning that you are feeding all of them too heavily, and should slow up a little. Remember that an overfat pullet makes no better a layer than an overfat hen. She will become a drone in her class.

TO REDUCE FERTILIZER BILL

Much Money Can Be Saved on Farms Where Live Stock Is Kept by Caring for Manure.

On farms where there are live stock—and most farms should have live stock—it is possible to eliminate much of the fertilizer bill. For the manure from the animals, if taken care of, is rich in those elements which make plants grow and produce food for man and beast.

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MORE ZOO BIRDS

"The birds in the zoo," said Daddy, "found that it was a very good plan for them to each tell a little about themselves so they would be better acquainted."

"Then, too, the keeper told the visitors their stories so that more and more the people who came to see the wonderful birds knew about them and their ways."

"The birds had a lovely big place in the zoo, some of them were all together and some had their own special homes, and they were very good-sized and very nice, and the birds were cheery and gay and happy."

"The Parrot was the one who started the meeting again, and the end of the meeting was supposed to come when the last speaker waved a wing as though to say:

"Enough, enough!"

"Well, the Black Manucode started the talk this time."

"I am from New Guinea," he said. "And my colors are black and blue. I simply wear these handsome colors, just like my neighbor, the Mexican Rice Grackle. I do not mean that I have been bruised and have become black and blue through a fall or a bump, or anything like that."

"They are simply the colors in my feathers. I am more black than I am blue, and so—my name, you see."

"I belong to the Bird of Paradise family, but I do not wear such bright colors as my cousins do. In fact, I dress more quietly than do any members of the family."

"I look something like a crow, I've been told."

"Now as I speak and show myself off, you will notice that I draw my body up very straight, and that the sound I make as I blow out my breath is a thin piping kind of noise."

"I am the Black Bulbul bird," said the next bird neighbor.

"I have a blackish head and neck. I wear a gray brown suit and a white waistcoat. My tail is tipped with white, which I consider very handsome."

"In India from where I come, I and my family are cage birds or pet birds such as canaries are here."

"You will see that I am not very big, nor am I very tiny. I hope you will admire by created head, for I am quite fond of my personal appearance."

"We always like to look our best and as stylish as possible."

"I am the Northern Blue Tanager," said the next bird. "When I am free I travel from Mexico to Panama. I live in the hot low countries."

"That is to say, my family do, and these are the family ways of which I am speaking."

"There, we feed on fruit. You will notice that I am not any larger than a sparrow, and that isn't so large. No, I don't care about being so big."

"If I were enormous, I fancy I'd get weary taking myself around and always having to move so much!"

"The beautiful admire me because of the beautiful silver gray colors that I wear and the blue wings that we, as a family, always have."

"I look rather soft and lovely, I've been told. I'm not conceited, I'm only telling you the facts, and I do not consider it to my credit but to the credit of the first Northern Blue Tanager of all."

"I am the Venezuelan Motmot," said the next bird. "We strip off part of the web of our main tail feathers, so that we have one funny-looking tail hanging down."

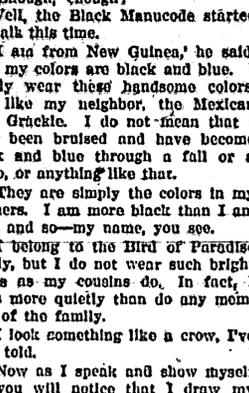

"Our heads are bluish green, and we have tawny brownish breasts. We have touches of green and black on our wings. Some of us have blue, green tail feathers, and we have black feathers."

"We can sit for hours on the bars of our cage and never make a sound, and I'm telling you how we look so soft, I know you, and we can keep quiet for many more hours now."

"We like to sit on dry leaves, in caves or dark places. We are naturally very quiet," he ended."

Dad Got Special Haircuts.
Little John was sent to the barber shop for a haircut. The barber in his joking way asked him what kind of a haircut he wanted.
"Do you want one like this man is getting?" he asked, pointing to the man in the chair.
"No, sir," replied John, after looking the man over thoughtfully. "If you have to cut it like somebody else's, just cut it like my dad's, with a hole in the middle."

WESTERN CANADA

Wheat Growing, Cattle Raising and a Happy Home of Your Own

Prosperous Farms and Happy Homes await those who are desirous of enlarging their present resources and securing for themselves homes in a country that, while yet in its infancy, has made itself famous by the quality of the grain it produces and by the excellence of its live stock.

There are Millions of Acres of the highest class of soil available for the man whose object in life is to become his own landlord, and who wishes to share in the opportunity which has given wealth to the thousands of Americans who, having started on Western Canada farms with but small means, are now writing home to their friends, telling of what they have done. These are cheap and beautiful lands, close to lines of railway are free to consumers. Upon these lands can be grown the best of wheat, oats, barley, flax, rye, hay, fodder, corn and sunflowers.

Cattle winter in most places without shelter, dairying is highly successful. Taxes only upon land (not on improvements). Perfect climate, attractive social conditions, good neighbors, churches, schools, telephones, excellent markets and shipping facilities.

Getting Ready for The Grand Rush

The Democrats are making hurried preparations to take over the reins of State government and while not wishing to give advice, we would simply beg permission to second the motion made by the Tucumcari American that the first act of the new legislature when it convenes will be to go into joint session and draft a memorial on the league of nations, for as the American says, "there is where the Democrats left off two years ago."

Then our attention will be called, as a matter of course, to the tax reductions promised by the new order of things. There has been little or nothing said since the election about public sandhaggling, tax burdens, treasury looting, etc., but every taxpayer in the state is looking forward to the blessed time when the new administration brings about promised reforms and the Democrats will be adjudged as guilty of misleading the people if they fail.

The state land office was attacked on the claim that more money should have been exacted from rentals on leased lands, when the records show that about a million and a quarter dollars had been turned into the state treasury during the past year from leased land sources and at the small expense of less than four percent. If the Democrats can make such a commendable showing in their first year's report from the land office, they will then only have accomplished what they have been condemning the Republicans for. The people have voted to give the Democrats a chance to make their charges of fraud prove up; but it must be done quickly and without excuses or whimpering.

Educational Leagues Demand Early Action

(Special Correspondence)

Washington, Nov. 21. Capital News Service—With the election a thing of the past and an extraordinary session of Congress promised to take care of special matters, educational associations and organizations all over the country are preparing for a strong representation to the next Congress, looking to the immediate passage of the Towne-Sterling Bill, providing for a Department of Education, with a Secretary in the President's cabinet.

H. J. Ryan, National Director in the American Legion, sums up in a pungent paragraph. He says:

"The school itself is the foundation of the Nation. If the American school fails, America will fall. Education is the mother of civilization. The old world failed because it lacked a proper system of education and America will fail if it does not direct its attention to its schools and determine that a policy of stint in education is false economy."

Zane Grey

A descendant of the famous Zane family of frontier origin, he was born in Zanesville, O., and received his early education in that place. Later he graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, but outdoor sports attracted him more than school or routine, and he played amateur college and professional baseball.

Pioneer instincts and love of the open drew him to the West. Much of the material for his stories has been obtained in western travel, especially in out-of-the-way places. He delights in picturing the deserts, particularly the arid expanses of Arizona and Sonora. No writer excels him in his specialty. Truly remarkable in his ability to impart the fascination and mysterious qualities of the great wastes.

Zane Grey has written many successful novels, of which none is more charming than "Desert Gold," for which we have secured the serial rights and are pleased to announce early printing in this paper.

"You're willing to take care of all the rest of the gang, chief?"

"Sure," assented the officer.

"All right. Boys, turn over the whole crowd to the chief, and I'll trust you to see that they're properly booked and jailed. Turn over all the evidence likewise, except that mail sack. That brought up here, to this room, and see that the corridor outside is kept guarded. Get me?"

The two saluted. "Yes, sir."

"Good. Send to the federal building, and out where there's an agent of the Department of Justice, and get him here. Have him here inside of fifteen minutes."

"My dear Gramont, your devotion to duty is known in spirit," said Jachin Fell, lightly. "I really regret that circumstances so conspire to defeat you! Why can't you be satisfied with bagging so many other victims? You can't bag me."

"Can't I?" said Gramont, taking a cigar and biting at it. He was cooler now. "By heavens, Fell, there's one thing in this country that you and no other man can reach with any influence, political bribery or crooked connections—and that's the government of the United States! You can reach judges and senators and governors, but you can't reach the unknown and humble men who carry the badge of the Department of Justice!"

Fell made a slight gesture.

"Human nature, my dear Gramont. It is quite true that I have not established this gang of criminals, as you call them, without taking proper precautions. Memphis Izzy, for instance, has influence that reaches far and wide. So have I. So have others in the party. I give you my assurance that your Department of Justice man will not arrest me."

Gramont paled.

Jachin Fell glanced at his watch. "Lucie will be here at any minute now," he observed. "I suppose your sense of duty will force you to disclose everything to her?"

Gramont merely nodded, tight-lipped. A knock at the door, and one of his men entered with the sack of mail they had taken as evidence.

"A lady is coming here at any moment," said Gramont. "Allow her to enter."

The other saluted and departed.

"A sense of duty is a terrible thing," and Jachin Fell argued. "What about the oil company? Are you going to let Miss Ledanols' fortunes go to wreck and ruin?"

"Better that," said Gramont, "than to have her profit come through criminal money and means. She'd be the first to say so, herself. But I'll tell you this: I'm convinced that there is oil under that land of hers! If she'll agree, I'll put up what money I have against her land; we'll be able to have the well drilled at least, on the chance!"

"If it's dry," said Fell, "you'll be broke."

"I can always get work," and Gramont laughed harshly.

Fell regarded him in silence a moment. Then: "I think Lucie loves you, Gramont."

A trembling seized Gramont; a furious impulse to shoot the man down as he sat. Did he have the baseness to try and save himself through Lucie? Something of his stilled anger must have shown in his eyes, for Jachin Fell laid down his cigar and continued quickly:

"Don't misunderstand. I say that I think she cares for you; it is merely surmise on my part. Lucie is one person for whom I'd do anything. I stand and have stood in the place of a parent to her. She is very dear to me. I have a special reason for telling you your personal affairs in this manner, and some right to ask you in regard to your intentions."

"I don't recognize any right whatever on your part," said Gramont, steadily.

Fell smiled. "Ah! Then you are in love. Well, youth must be served!"

"I'd like to know one thing," struck in Gramont. "That is, why you were so cursed anxious to get something on my man Hammond? And why you held the Midnight Masquerade affair over me as a threat. Did you suspect my business?"

Fell threw back his head and laughed in a hearty amusement that was quite unrestrained.

"That," he responded, "is really his motive! Do you know, I honestly thought you a fortune-hunter from Europe? There, I confess, I made a grave error."

Without a knock the door opened and Lucie Ledanols entered.

"Good evening, stockholders!" she exclaimed. "Do you know there's a crowd down in the street—policemen and automobiles and a lot of excitement?"

"Allow me," said Gramont, taking her coat and placing a chair for her. "Will you sit down, please? You remember that I warned you regarding a check that would come; and now I must confess," Gramont gravely looked for his commission from the governor, and touched his coat. "When I say that I have some bees, not to attend a meeting of one of our company, but to arrest Mr. Fell, you will understand, I am very sorry, Lucie, to have to tell you all this, for I know your attachment to him."

"Arrest—you, Uncle Jachin?" The girl glanced from the paper to Fell, who nodded. "Why—this isn't a joke of some kind?"

"None whatever, my dear," said Fell, quietly. "Mr. Gramont is to be congratulated. He has discovered that I was the head of a large organization of criminals. Here, if I mistake not, are your Department of Justice friends, Gramont."

A knock at the door, and it opened to admit one of Gramont's men.

"Here they are, sir—the chief agent and a deputy. Shall I let them in?" Gramont nodded. Two men entered the room, and Gramont dismissed his own man with a gesture. He saw that the agents both nodded to Fell.

"Do you gentlemen know this man?" he demanded, rising.

"Yes," said one of them, regarding him keenly. "Who sent for us?"

"I did," Gramont gave his name, and handed them his commission. "I have been investigating a lottery which has been conducted in this state for a long time by an organization of very clever criminals. Jachin Fell is the man at the head of this organization. The lesser members of the gang are in custody. The police department will not arrest this man Fell; his influence and that of his gang is extensive in political fields and elsewhere. I have called on the governor, and have been told not to arrest him. I have disregarded these facts, and I now call upon you to hold him in custody on a federal prisoner. Now go to it."

The chief agent laid Gramont's commission on the table and looked at Jachin Fell. For an instant there was a dead silence. Then, when the federal man spoke, Gramont was paralyzed.

"I'm very sorry, Mr. Gramont, to have to refuse."

"What!" cried Gramont, "incredulously. Do you dare stand there and—"

"One moment, please," said Fell, his quiet voice breaking in. "It is quite true that I have organized all the criminals possible, Mr. Gramont, and

CHAPTER XVI

MI-CAREME.

A nameless gentleman from the estate North was enjoying for the first time the privileges of a guest card at the Chess and Checkers. In a somewhat perplexed manner he approached the secretary's desk and obtained a cigar. Then he paused, listening to the sounds of revelry which filled the club, and which came roaring in from the city streets outside.

"Say!" he addressed the secretary.

"What's this Mi-Careme I've been reading about in the papers, anyhow? I thought everything was tight as a clam down here after Mardi Gras? It's still the Leeper season, isn't it? Mardi Gras doesn't come more than once a year? Then what's all the celebration about?"

The secretary smiled.

"Certainly, sir, it's still Lent. But the French people have what they call Mi-Careme, or Mid-Lent, and they certainly give it a big celebration! You see, it's a night halfway through Lent, when they can enjoy themselves to the limit—let off steam, as it were. We're having several dinner parties here in the club tonight, for the occasion."

A slightly built little man, who had much the air of a shy clerk—had it not been for his evening attire—approached the desk. He signed a check for a handful of cigars, which he stowed away.

"Please provide a fresh box later," he said to the secretary. "Most of my party is here, I believe."

"I'll send them up, Mr. Fell," answered the secretary, quickly. "Yes, I think the dining room is all ready for you, sir. By the way, Mr. Gramont was looking for you a moment ago—ah! Here he comes now!"

Jachin Fell turned. Gramont was peering in his hand, excitement in his eyes.

"Look here, Jachin! This wire just came in from Hammond—you know, I left him in charge of things down at Bayou Terrebonne! Read it, man—read it! They've struck oil-sands at five hundred feet—and sands at five hundred, with these indications. It means a gusher at a thousand! Where's Lucie? Have you brought her?"

"She's upstairs. Well, well!" Jachin Fell glanced at the telegram, and returned it. "So all is actually found! This is certainly going to be one big night. Come along. Let's find Lucie and tell her about it!"

The two men turned away together.

(THE END.)

Typographical Error Cost Life.

A typographical error once cost a woman her life. Shortly after the invention of printing, a German printer working on an edition of the Bible entrusted to his wife the setting up of the type for a portion of the Book of Genesis. There is a sentence in Genesis, describing Eve's duty to Adam, which runs "He shall be thy Lord," The German word for Lord is "Herr" and that for foot is "Narr." The printer's wife changed the "e" to "a" and, in the crude type of that period, the capital "H" looked exactly like an "N." The sentence consequently read "He shall be thy foot!"

Many copies of the book got into circulation before the error was discovered. The ecclesiastical authorities were so enraged at what they considered the woman's impiety that they condemned her to the stake.

People who hear that they never give up sometimes see shown up.

He was still looking into the eyes of Lucie Ledanols.

have put the underground lottery into a systematized form. I have done this by the authority of the United States. In order to apprehend Memphis Izzy Gumberts and other men at one crack, these gentlemen will tell you that I am a special agent of the Department of Justice, employed in that capacity through the efforts of Judge Forester and Senator Hixman. I regret that this had to be held so secret that not even the governor himself was aware of it until this evening. The conflict was quite unavoidable. Not a member of that gang must become aware of my real identity."

Gramont sank into his chair, the automatic dropping from his hand. He was suddenly dazed, thunderstruck. Yet he had to believe. He was dimly aware that Lucie had gone to Jachin Fell, her arms about his neck. He stared from unseeing eyes.

Realization smote him like a blow, numbing his brain. He saw now why the governor had conferred with Judge Forester and the senator, why he had been ordered off the trail. He saw now why Fell had preserved secrecy so great that even to the chief of police his impregnable position was supposedly due to influence higher up.

He saw how Fell must have been working month after month, secretly and terribly, to form one compact organization of the most talented criminals within reach—headed by Memphis Izzy, the man who had laughed at the government for years! And he saw himself, furious, raging like a madman!

Gramont dropped his head into his hands. The pain of his realization, wounded now, stabbed him like a knife. He jerked his head sharply up, and

Tanlac Put Him Back on Job, Says Davis

"It's never been much of a hand at preparing medicines, but I can certainly say something good for Tanlac," said Geo. Davis, 110 Naglee St., San Francisco, Calif.

"I had a bad case of ptomaine poisoning and it came pretty near laying me out altogether. For three months I was in an awful condition and suffering constantly from diarrhea. I became weak all over and was going from bad to worse. I tried everything I knew of, but it was beginning to look like nothing would ever reach my case. Then, a friend of mine recommended Tanlac to me. And it's a fact, four bottles have made a clean sweep of my troubles and built me up to where I feel like a new man. I am working every day now and when it comes to recommending Tanlac I can't put it too strong."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

The Clock.

Boss No. 1 told Smith never to watch the clock. So Smith came in half an hour late and was fired.

Boss No. 2 told Smith that he must watch the clock, so Smith quit promptly at quitting time and lost an increase in pay.

Boss No. 3 left it to Smith, who watched the clock carefully in the morning and ignored it at night, so he became a "slave."

Finally Smith chuckled the clock out in the alley and was elected president of the company.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

SALLIE'S ADVICE WAS GOOD

Pekinese Dog Was Due for Rude Awakening if He Went Too Far With That Cat.

As a present to their first baby Max, Henry Vaughn and Mrs. Vaughn, who moved to New York from Spartanburg, S. C., were given a fancy-bred Pekinese dog. They moved out to the country for the summer, and sent for Sallie, the old negro cook, to come up and look after the baby and Ming Toy, the dog.

Ming Toy had never seen a cat before. So, when a big tomcat came to the back porch Ming Toy, in the strongest bark he knew, promptly bayed the cat, showing great bravery for such a toothless-looking dog. Sallie looked out the back door.

"Ming Toy," she advised, "I'm sorry to tell you your projerkin' wid dat tomcat. Fust thing you know, 'at cat's gwine to git mad and 'at ain't gwine to be no place for no dog laik you. Ef'n 'at ole cat gits started he's gwine turn you ever' way—but loose!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Particular Protection Necessary for Books Intended for Circulation in the Gilbert Islands.

Not only must Bibles be attractively bound and well printed, but some of them must be perfumed, peppered and poisoned as well. Bibles going to the Gilbert Islands contain in the binding glue and the paste which fastens the cover a mixture of oil of cloves, cayenne pepper and corrosive sublimate.

This is to ward off a certain worm, peculiar to these islands, which destroys the bindings of books. Twelve hundred such Bibles have been sent recently by the United States Bible society on their 15,000-mile journey to Ocean Island by way of Sydney, Australia. Rev. D. Hiram Bingham, the famous missionary translator, gave his life to the preparation of the Bible in the Gilbertese language.

Somewhat Naval Request.

Joe, aged three, accompanied by his mother, recently spent a night with one of his aunts. At bedtime, auntie and uncle came in to hear how Joe was progressing with his prayers. Mother was proud of his pious efforts and glad to exhibit him, but much to her embarrassment, instead of asking for "our daily bread," he said, "Give us this day our daily papers."

"JUST JOFFRE"—THAT'S ALL POISONED GLUE FOR BIBLES

Evidently Great French Soldier is Also Gifted With a Certain Sense of Humor.

Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, arriving in Paris, found the passenger elevator at the Quai d'Orsay station out of order and cheerfully adopted the suggestion of the station master that he might use the freight elevator. Just as the elevator boy was slamming the gates shut, there came rushing toward the lift a thick-set, elderly man, breathing heavily. He made as if to enter the elevator, but the attendants waved him off.

"I am just as heavy and as old as your lone passenger," the man declared, "why should you refuse to take me up?"

"Because this is Lord Curzon," responded the railroad man impressively.

"Oh, well, that's all right," replied the stranger, making for the stairs. "I'm only Joffre."

He was given a lift.

No Time for a Standstill.

"Do you believe in the theory of evolution?"

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "And when I see the way some of us humans is actin' up all I hope is that we continue to improve."

Twill Sweep Once More.

"The long skirt seems to be coming into favor again."

"Yes; and soon it will be sweeping the yellow country."—London Answers.

Particular Protection Necessary for Books Intended for Circulation in the Gilbert Islands.

Not only must Bibles be attractively bound and well printed, but some of them must be perfumed, peppered and poisoned as well. Bibles going to the Gilbert Islands contain in the binding glue and the paste which fastens the cover a mixture of oil of cloves, cayenne pepper and corrosive sublimate.

This is to ward off a certain worm, peculiar to these islands, which destroys the bindings of books. Twelve hundred such Bibles have been sent recently by the United States Bible society on their 15,000-mile journey to Ocean Island by way of Sydney, Australia. Rev. D. Hiram Bingham, the famous missionary translator, gave his life to the preparation of the Bible in the Gilbertese language.

Somewhat Naval Request.

Joe, aged three, accompanied by his mother, recently spent a night with one of his aunts. At bedtime, auntie and uncle came in to hear how Joe was progressing with his prayers. Mother was proud of his pious efforts and glad to exhibit him, but much to her embarrassment, instead of asking for "our daily bread," he said, "Give us this day our daily papers."

Invents Furnace Control.

A French inventor's governor to regulate the temperature of electric furnaces depends on the expansion of mercury by heat for its action.

Do you hear the clock strike the night hours?

HOW often you have heard people say, "I can't drink coffee; it keeps me awake nights!" They've learned from experience; have you?

If you are a coffee drinker and fail to get sound restful sleep, it means that your nerves are over-stimulated and that health needs protection from coffee's drug, caffeine.

There's no sacrifice in making health safe, as so many thousands have found who have turned from coffee to Postum. It has a delightful coffee-like flavor, and is free from any element that can harm you. As many cups as you like, and no regrets.

Your grocer has Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

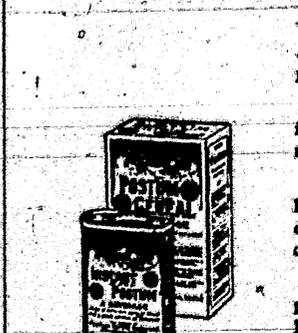

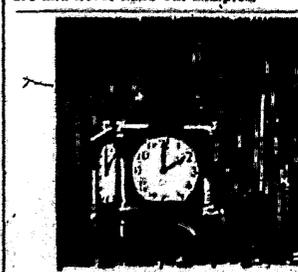

Postum FOR HEALTH

"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

He Was Still Looking Into the Eyes of Lucie Ledanols.

The two forms of Postum are equally delicious; and the best is only about 10c per cup.

Story of the Gifted Italian Work in Development of Air Communication.

While experiments along the line of radio really started as far back as 1827 and hundreds of scientists were interested in solving the problems involved for many years, it was not until 1896 when Senatore Guglielmo Marconi took out his first patent that the mastery of air communication got its first great impetus. His life history is to all practical intents the history of radio communication.

Senatore Guglielmo Marconi, G. C. V. O. L. L. D., D.Sc. M. I. E. E., was born in Bologna, Italy, April 25, 1874. His mother was Irish, while his father was of a family whose mechanical ability was marked. After an education at Leshorn and Bologna, the young man interested himself in the problem of wireless telegraphy, starting his research in 1895. He went to England and in 1896 took out the first patent ever granted for a practical system of wireless telegraphy, by the use of electric waves. His early experiments in England were made at Westbourne Park. Shortly afterward Marconi saw W. H. Preece and at his request made some experiments for officials of the postoffice. Some further experiments were made in May, 1897, in the Bristol channel, wireless communication being established between Lavernock and Brea Down, a distance of nine miles.

On the invitation of the Italian government Marconi afterward went to Spezia where a land station was erected, which was kept in constant communication with two Italian battleships working from a distance of 12 miles. For this success the Italian government conferred upon Marconi the honor of knighthood. After a return to England further experiments were conducted and on July 20, 1897, the first radio company was formed and two permanent stations erected. In 1898 wireless reports of yacht races in Kingston were made and proved the usefulness and adaptability to which the system lends it.

A Garden Cinderella

A two-act play given Dec. 6, at the Crystal Theatre, by 20 children representing Flowers and the Garden Folk. The pretty costumes will add a very pleasing feature to the play, also a short play in negro dialect will be given by "Two New Coons in Town."

Ancho School Notes

(By Mrs. P. H. Kelsey)
The sixth grade English on Tuesday of this week wrote the most interesting compositions they have written this year.

Each wrote on the seven wonders of the world, naming, describing and locating them, namely: 1.—The Pyramids of Egypt; 2.—The Temple of Diana at Ephesus; 3.—The hanging gardens of Babylon; 4.—The Colossus of Rhodes; 5.—The Mausoleum at Halicarnassus; 6.—The statue of Leus by Phidias at Olympia; 7.—The Pharaohs of Alexandria in Egypt.

This week we have had only 30 minutes noon recess to make up the time taken for the Thanksgiving program.

Mrs. Kersey uses on her desk the new "Work Organizer." It has ten sections in which to place papers or references of any kind. It is very convenient for the discussion of the different grades' written work and daily grade books.

The basket ball games scheduled for Wednesday with Gallinas and Corona were postponed on account of disagreeable weather.

The fifth grade English on Wednesday wrote compositions about Oxford, Harvard and Yale Universities, which were of much interest to the class.

Fruits, flowers, grain and many other products suggesting harvest time are now decorating the blackboards.

The second and third grades are taking an unusual amount of interest in gathering all the information possible about Thanksgiving Day. They enjoyed their introduction to the Puritan Boys and Girls; their homes, dress and costumes.

The sand table of the primary room offers such a real mode of expressing their ideas; it is now adorned to tell the story of the "The First Thanksgiving Day." A pilgrim village, thick forest, then a tiny church where 'thanks' was offered — men and women are placed in a line going to church across the field. The table is a likeness similar to the familiar painting by George H. Boughton.

We announce our first showing of smart styles in suits and coats for autumn and winter wear.

The lovely models in suits give smart lines to the figure and they are the last word in style. They are made of the season's favorite materials and colors.

The coats are made on generous lines and completely envelope the figure, assuring absolute comfort from winter's cold winds for the wearers.

Come in today and do your cold weather shopping.
