City Fire Chief Apprehended as Society 'Raffles'

Weymouth, Mass., Dec. 3rd.—For four months the police department has been baffled by a series of daring burglaries by a cunning thief who seemed too clever to leave any trail. Thirty-eight robberies in a row without the apprehension of the robber, or even a clue to his identity, had brought about a crisis in the department.

City officials were about to demand the retirement of Inspector Ambrose Boyle and a reorganization of the force, when there came a development that has rocked this little city to its very foundation.

Inspector Ambrose Boyle has for weeks past secreted himself in this and that store, in an effort to capture the burglar, in the belief that sooner or later he would be present when the mysterious Raffles appeared.

After keeping an all-night vigil in the hardware store of M. E. Loud for eight consecutive nights he was rewarded in the early morning by the entrance of a masked man, who, after breaking the rear door, deliberately pillaged the store.

Waiting until the thief had finished the job, Inspector Boyle covered him with his automatic and then flashed his light on him.

"Throw up your hands!" the inspector ordered.

Taken absolutely unawares, the burglar had no other course to pursue. When he had disarmed the burglar and removed his mask the inspector was dumfounded to see standing before him James A. Cowley, chief of the fire department, who is a lifetime friend and confidante.

"I'm guilty, Brose," he sobbed. "I hope they send me away for twenty or thirty years."

The case is most unusual, probably without parallel. Chief Carley, now past 60, has long been a member of the fire department and has an enviable record for efficiency, having won distinction in combatting several serious fires. Aside from being one of the most prominent and most generally liked men in the city, Chief Carley is well off financially, being worth well over $50,000.

Kellam Duo, Friday Night

With regard to the Kellam Duo, third entertainment of the White-Myers Lyceum Course.

These folks have appeared in Roswell, the press notice of which stated, "Decidedly the best ever given in Roswell."

Mr. Tom Kellam is known as a Lyceum and Chaataqua entertainer of wide experience who knows how to please the most critical audiences. Miss Lela Lowrey's soprano voice is of beautiful quality and she is an excellent performer on the piano-acordeon, one of the largest and most expensive instruments of its kind ever made. Mr. Kellam's costume readings and their instrumental solos go to make this one of the best numbers that will be given.

Do not fail to come. Friday evening, Dec. 14th, at the Crystal Theatre. Because of financial conditions the price of tickets have been reduced to 25c and 50c.

Educational News

(By Louise H. Coe)

Approximately 550 teachers were registered members of the 33rd Annual Convention of the N. M. E. A., held at Las Vegas Thanksgiving week, and about 200 more teachers visited the sessions of the Association.

The program of speakers included many prominent educators, among whom were Dr. William J. Long, a noted author, historian and naturalist of Stamford, Conn., Dr. Francis G. Blair, Illinois, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Professor Dean A. Worcester, of the Kansas State Teachers' College. A notable feature of the Convention was the concert of Mme. Mary Mellich, the soprano soloist of the Metropolitan Opera Company. This concert was free to the teachers and was an artistic triumph in every respect.

Every teacher should subscribe for the "School Review." The subscription price is only $1.50 per year. The next issue of this magazine will give a synopsis of all important addresses delivered at the convention. The "School Review" is the official organ of the N. M. E. A., edited by J. H. Vaughan, State College, New Mexico.

December 8th-16th has been designated as "Harding Memorial Week." The purpose of the Harding Memorial Association is to establish at Marion, Ohio, a shrine that will perpetuate the memory and service of Warren G. Harding. Any school, grade or unit that secures a contribution of 100% of the students therein, will receive a handsome engraved certificate which bears the portrait of former President Harding. Send all contributions to the County Superintendent, who will forward them to headquarters.

The banner for the best attendance in the schools of the county for the month of November has been awarded to Miss Belle Norton, Richardson School. Miss Norton had a 100% attendance for the month.

The County Board of Education met in the Superintendent's office this week, all members being present. School bills were approved and other important business transacted.

Five days of the Christmas vacation must be made up. The schools will close at 4 p. m. Friday, Dec. 21st, for the holidays, and will resume their duties the morning of Jan. 2nd. Christmas programs are being planned in many of the schools of the county.

This office wishes for every school and community a happy Yuletide.

Dividend To Be Declared

Receiver C. H. Patterson, of the First State Bank of Capitan, and wife, were here on Tuesday. Mr. Patterson wished the Outlook to advise all persons receiving claim blanks to fill out the same and return them to the bank as quickly as possible, as we are authorized to say that the bank will be ready to pay a 20% dividend by the first of the coming week.

News from Santa Fe

(Special Correspondence)

Senator Burson was in town during the early part of the week having returned from Taos where he attended a get-together meeting of the Republicans of that county. Mora county recently held such a meeting at which time the Independents returned to the fold, and as Mora county was the first to form an independent faction other counties are now taking steps to follow her lead. This would indicate a united Republican party in New Mexico for the 1924 campaign.

The week of December 9th to 16th will be officially set aside as Harding Memorial Week, which is designated to pay tribute to the President, who has been termed "100 per cent human being."

So far as known the activities of the Game Wardenette to prevent the violation of the law by champion Dempsey were confined mostly to the newspapers, where there was properly pictured the New Mexican Game Wardenette knocking out the champion, on paper, at least.

Friends of Representative Puryear are concerned why at this late date, when he is mentioned for a state office, official objection is made because of the constitutional provision prohibiting the appointment of a member of the legislature during the term for which he is elected, why did this question not enter into the appointments made of State Senator Morrison, Speaker Beal, Representative Jordi and others now holding good jobs. It appears to be a case of juggling with Tweedle-dum and the other Tweedle-dee but they don't know which is which.

The Governor on Friday issued a proclamation urging the reading of the great Monroe Doctrine in public, which is good Americanism and good democracy, but it must be carried in mind that the Governor, as a present-day democrat, is for the league of nations, which would destroy the doctrine.

Whispers from White Oaks

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ward have moved to the Willow Springs coal mine. Barney Ward and wife, Rollie Ward and his mother are already at the mine.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McFaden have moved into the Hudspeth house.

A. N. Price was a Carrizozo visitor Monday.

Allen Lane and Henry McFaden got a buck during the hunting season.

Work on the Little Mack gold mine has been started under the supervision of John Keith.

Miss Jewel Townsend was home from Capitan for the Thanksgiving holidays.

D. L. Jackson was a Carrizozo visitor Sunday.

Nonie Littel spent a part of the Thanksgiving holidays at the home of Wm. Wingfield of Three Rivers. The boys hunted faithfully but failed to bring in either turkey or deer.

Bogle Notes

School reopened Monday with a full attendance after Thanksgiving holidays. The teacher and pupils are now very busy indeed, carrying on the regular work of the school and making plans for a Christmas program.

The writer attended the N. M. E. A., which convened at Las Vegas this year. The program, which was both instructive and interesting, was one of the best ever attended in New Mexico. Lincoln County was ably represented in excellent addresses delivered in sectional meetings by Mrs. M. L. Blaney and Mrs. Louise H. Coe, our County Superintendent. In spite of the hardships and inconveniences of the snow storm, the program was well worth the effort.

Our efficient postmaster has installed a number of lock boxes which adds greatly to the appearance of the office and to the convenience of the people.

All the children who were vaccinated by Dr. Shaver about two weeks ago had a good 'take' and the arms are just about healed now.

Andrew Gravelle had a very painful accident a few days ago. While holding on to a moving wagon he became entangled in the wheel and sustained a serious cut on the leg. Nine stitches were taken, which have since been removed. The wound is healing nicely, and Andrew expects to be able to return to school in a few days.

Harry Fambrough, who spent the holidays at his home near Ancho, has returned to school.

Thirteen?

Pursuant to a call from the Lincoln County Board of County Commissioners, the bondsmen on the Exchange Bank depository bonds, whose names have previously been published, met with the commissioners at the court house on Monday, Dec. 3. After conferring together, the commissioners made arrangements for a pro-rata amount of $26,000, which was the sum the bank owed Lincoln County.

Notes were drawn up to extend over a period of three years, drawing three per cent, providing such notes will not be subjected to use as collateral to obtain funds, in which case, or cases, the interest will be ten per cent. The latter action will only be taken where certain of the bondsmen fail to make payments.

There were thirteen bondsmen present.

Geo. L. Ulrich, Ed Pfingsten, Carl E. Freeman, D. R. Stewart, John Harkey, F. A. English, Harry Humphrey, F. A. Miller, B. L. Stimmel, A. D. Brownfield, T. A. Spencer and Hal Young are the bondsmen, Mr. English appearing on two bonds, in a double capacity.

Forest Supervisor O. Fred Arthur, of Alamogordo, and E. B. Ewing, Forest Ranger, of the White Mountain district, were here on Wednesday. These gentlemen had just finished a tour of inspection of the grazing interests of the region surrounding Carrizozo and found the same in good condition.

Nogal Nuggets

(Contributed by L. M. Stone.)

Ed Pfingsten and wife took Thanksgiving dinner in Carrizozo with their daughter Emma, and brought home a load of merchandise for O. C. Davis on their return home Thursday.

Homer McDaniel and Marvin Peacock each upheld his reputation as a deer hunter by bringing in a big buck Wednesday, weighing 157 and 144 pounds respectively. Dempsey holds the honors as champion pugilist, but as a deer hunter we question if he can strike the solar plexus of our native sons.

The first, third and fourth grade pupils gave a Thanksgiving entertainment Wednesday afternoon. Several visitors were present and seemed to enjoy the program furnished by the little ones.

The following attended the "big doings" at Carrizozo last Thursday night: Mr. and Mrs. Homer McDaniel, Frank and Dessie McDaniel, A. B. Zumwalt, Jesse, Marvin and Dorothea Peacock, Eliza McBrayer, and Marion Hust and wife.

Mrs. O. C. Davis is suffering severely from a chronic illness, and it is feared that her condition is critical, although as yet the physician has not been in attendance.

A marshmallow party was pulled off at the home of F. W. Peacock Wednesday night, and a surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Peacock at their home Saturday night. All participating in these two events concurred in saying they passed enjoyable evenings, but look out for the candy pulling at Marvin's on Saturday night next; there'll be "something doing" every minute.

Rev. W. R. McPherson, presiding elder of the Methodist church, with headquarters at Carrizozo, preached an instructive and practical sermon here at 3 P. M. Sunday. He took as his text, St. John 8:32: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." The speaker pointed out that through all history war and legislation had failed to enshackle the fetters of bondage, and referring to the Goddess of Liberty facing Europe with outstretched arms, he suggested a "Right About Face!"

Beginning December 1st, Dessie McDaniel checked herself out as acting postmistress, and her brother, Earl C. McDaniel, became postmaster with Dessie as assistant.

Joe Cochran came in from his annual hunt Friday, and although displaying some modesty as to what happened in his rambles, it is conceded that he bagged his quota of game, for Joe long ago established his reputation as a crack shot, and has much big game, now extinct, to his credit.

Judge F. W. Peacock, after spending Thanksgiving here with his folks, returned to the Carrizozo-Socorro road works Saturday.

Two students of Nogal school, Arthur Helms and Dorothea Peacock, have been incapacitated for duty the past few days, suffering with tonsillitis. Other on the Parsons mail car to sickness has interfered with our Angus.

Overhauling Needed, Says State Record.

From the New Mexico State Record.

Our governmental activities should be thoroughly overhauled, and must be overhauled unless something is expected to break. The whole nation is profiteering, and the profiteering begins with the government-tax profiteering.

And the big trouble is that the taxpayers get next to nothing for the money they pay, and this statement includes nation, states, and minor political divisions. That the general government is a mass of useless waste, and was the worst ever under Wilson, admits of no argument, and so we will confine our illustrations to taxes at home.

The interests of the state are all taxed to the limit, yet there is little or nothing to show for the money expended.

The live stock growers pay taxes as ordinary citizens, and yet must impose special taxes upon themselves for any protection at all. That not being sufficient it has become necessary that they join an association and pay privately for the running down of live stock thieves and for the protection of property.

The average merchant cannot depend upon public protection, but is forced to employ special watchmen for the protection of business property.

If the poor are to be cared for properly, if the sick are to be looked after, or the children of nation protected, it requires additional private assessments, to local charities, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, or something.

After all the complicated legal machinery has been paid for, if the delinquent taxes are to be collected, any special prosecutions to be made, or any law to be specially enforced, there must be more money from somewhere.

If roads not on some special program are to be—(Well, we have been shown a list of three-hundred-dollar desks, red sport automobiles, etc., as proof that the people do get something for their money, and we quit.)

Women's Club Notes

The Mutual Improvement Club has planned the following program Saturday evening, December 8th, 7:30 p. m., at the high school building: Piano Solo, Mrs. Louise H. Coe. Talk.

"The Parent and the School" Miss Nannie Lee Meux.

Reading. Mrs. J. B. Dinwiddie. Talk.

"How Mothers Hinder Their Children." Mrs. Maude L. Blaney.

Vocal Duet, Misses Cooper and Connell.

Talk, "The School and Community" Rev. W. R. McPherson.

Talk, "The School Situation" R. M. Treat.

Singing, Community Chorus, Refreshments, Dr. E. E. Cole, Toastmaster school work here recently.

Lady Connell, teacher of the Angus school, came in Monday and spent Thanksgiving with relatives and friends. She went on the Parsons mail car to

The Spirit of Christmas

By Robert Sood

Widow Stately Recognizes the Voice of Freddie Freedman, Mischief Maker

THE WIDOW Stately's home lay in a nook in the foothills where the sun in mornings came up from the east. At noon he poured down gently among the evergreens that clothed the hill-sides of her little farm, and in the evenings, before time for sunset on the plains below, he faded out in yellow splendor over stark white peaks that guarded the widow's valley from the west.

The Widow Stately had been a widow even when she came into that little nook in the foothills with her son Frank, a winsome lad of fourteen or thereabouts. Here they had "dug in" with their little herd of heifers, and Frank had plowed the valley field for oats and potatoes, and with the help of a carpenter, they had built the house of spruce logs where a mountain stream gurgled lullabies in the still nights.

At the end of the six years they were on their feet. The fields had extended; the herd had grown; the cream cans went down to town three times a week; there was new furniture in the log house and a lit of song again in the widow's heart. But one new pang was hers; mother love could not quite stifle the pang when her handsome Frank rode out with the yellow-haired Allison girl from south of the ridge.

At the end of that same six years came the war. And now the Widow Stately is doubly a widow, and the Allison girl is old before her time.

Down the valley a mile or more live the Freedmans. And Freddie Freedman, at fourteen, unhappily runs to mischief, as the sparks fly upward. Was it not Freddie who left the Stately gates open at Halloween? Was it not Freddie who unbolted the reach in the widow's wagon? Who but Freddie transposed the front and rear wheels of her buckboard? Who but Freddie shot the wild ducks which she was taming, and drank cream in her dairy when she had gone to town?

And tonight, as a blanket of Christmas snow carpets the foothills and the valley, the widow returns from town with her melancholy parcels for Christmas cheer. Tonight the fire will burn on her hearth, and strange visions will wax and wane in the glow of embers; visions of the First Frank and the Second Frank, and a nightmare of horror

Freddie had planned to make a little and to come in the night and to work a good deal. And the more she thought and complained the less she liked. The office had become his retreat.

Morover, there was the Party of the Third Part. Friend Wife had never seen the Party of the Third Part, but she could not doubt her existence. For a year back her husband had forgotten to kiss her when he went to the office, and when he came home. And on those rare nights when he stayed at home he read the newspaper, and yawned, and found the time heavy on his hands. "So you see there must be a Party of the Third Part."

This fear gripped the little woman so deeply that one night she determined she would know the worst. Her husband had not come home to dinner; he had telephoned that he was very busy in the office. He would just slip out and have a bite. And he would likely be late—don't sit up. She would know the truth!

So she put on a long cloak, and a veil affair that she could draw over her face, and she went straight to his office in time to intercept him before he left for his appointment. A light shone through the frosted doors, but all inside was silent as the tomb.

"He has gone already!" she exclaimed to herself. Then she gently tried the door. It opened to her hand. Her eyes swept a vista of deserted desks. How forlorn and forsaken she looked! But everyone was gone. No! There at the end sat an oldish man. It was her husband! It had never struck her before that her husband was beginning to be an oldish man. He had not heard her. He was intent over a statement with long columns of figures, and he was making calculations on a pad of paper before him.

From where she stood she could see the gray tinge about his temples, and the thinning hair on the top of his head. His brow was set in deep furrows. And suddenly Friend Wife found herself swallowing desperately at something in her throat. Suddenly she knew that there was no Party of the Third Part, and never had been a Party of the Third Part, and that she was a foolish, wicked woman.

She drew the door gently shut. In the basement of the building was a restaurant, where also was a waiter who, for a consideration, would carry a meal to her husband's office. Quickly she gave the order, for two; it was to be a modest meal, not too expensive, but healthful, and garnished with love.

The waiter carried it in and set it down on the little correspondence table beside Friend Husband's desk. And a beautiful woman sat down beside it, and held out her hands to the troubled man with the long column of figures, and smiled.

"Who are you? Who are you?" he demanded.

"I am the Spirit of Christmas," she said.

"You are more than that!" he cried.

"You are my wife . . . my . . . my love!"

THE HOUSE OF CHRISTMAS

To an open house in the evening

Home shall men come.

To an older place than Eden

And a taller town than Rome.

To the end of the way of the wandering star,

To the things that cannot be and that are.

To the place where God was homeless

And all men are at home.

—G. K. Chesterton.

A TRUE PROVERB

It was nearly twelve o'clock on Christmas Eve and the magic hour that would usher in the Christmas genius was about to strike, but with Mrs. Fogarty it was never too late to mend, and a long stocking, with a needle sticking in the last stitch of the last hole, lay in her lap as she slept in her chair. No sound of bells awakened her, and when she opened her eyes upon the gifts that had replaced the emptiness of the stocking and the darning ball at its heel she could only account for the kindness of her unknown friend by ejaculating "Well, well, Santa Claus himself must have been here, but who does he think I am, I wonder?"—C. G. Hazard.

WINTER TRIP

"I'm going on a little winter trip today," said Billie Brownie to Peter Gnome.

He had just met Peter Gnome right on the outskirts of Brownland.

"What are you about to do, Peter?" Billie asked. "I don't mean to be rude, but I'm always interested in your adventures."

"I have a meeting today of the Every-Day-Is-Nice-Day club," said Peter. "Sorry you cannot come to the meeting. But, of course, you don't need to come! You think every day is nice, anyway."

"Sorry, too, I can't come," said Billie Brownie. "You see, I am taking so many trips these days—getting to know so many of the children of dear old Mother Nature."

"Today she suggested that I should take a winter trip and meet some of the winter birds, I believe. Couldn't you come, too?"

"I don't believe I possibly could," said Peter Gnome. "But when you come back from your trip, won't you come and give us a talk about winter birds?"

"Gladly, gladly," said Billie Brownie. And then they shook hands, hugged each other and went in different directions, each shouting after the other:

"Then I'll see you soon again!"

"Hello, Billie Brownie!" said a voice, and, looking about, Billie Brownie saw his friend, Judge Just Praise.

Judge Just Praise is a great believer in praising and encouraging.

He doesn't think there is enough praising of creatures. He says it makes people do much better in their work and in their studies and in their conduct—in everything—to be praised and encouraged once in a while.

"Hello, Judge!" said Billie Brownie. "I just saw a lovely collie dog being given a collar with a silver plate attached, upon which was the collie's name and some nice words about the dog," said the judge.

"That collie," Judge Just Praise continued, "saved a great many people in a bad fire. Oh, that dog was a splendid hero, and it delighted my heart to see the reward being given."

"And then I also saw a big St. Bernard dog—they're so splendid!—save a cat from burning."

"The dog had awakened the different members of the family, after discovering smoke, which soon became flames."

"Then he had noticed that the cat was missing. Back into the burning house he had gone to come forth a little later carrying his cat friend in his mouth. The cat was frightened, but not hurt."

"And that dog is going to be rewarded for saving the lives of all the family—the cat, too! I heard some one say that he would be given a medal. If he had not awakened the family when he did the flames would have kept them from being able to escape out of the house."

"But now I must be on my way. Hope to see you soon, Billie."

Then Billie Brownie met groups of the winter birds.

"We're the American Crossbills," the American Crossbills chirped. "We sing and we twitter and we fly off and then fly back again without any special reason—just for fun."

"We don't believe in doing everything for a special reason. But we are fond of pine cones and our crossed bills or overlapping bills make it easy for us to pull the pine cones apart so we can reach the seeds."

"We're somewhat alike," said the White-Winged Crossbills, "only you don't see so many of us. Some winters we don't appear at all."

"I wear a lovely rose-colored costume," said Mr. White-Winged Crossbill, "and the Mrs. White-Winged Crossbills wear yellow. It is something the same with the American Crossbills, though the Mr. American Crossbills wear more of a brownish-red costume, and my favorite color is rose."

Then Billie Brownie met the Chickadees, the Song Sparrows and the Cedar Waxwings, and they all told her they liked to be about in the winter, but they did love to have some delicacies left about for them.

U. S. Wars on Rodents

Approximately 62,800 acres in New Mexico were treated during August for the control of destructive rodents. The work was done by the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture and co-operating state forces. As a typical result of this poisoning campaign in one three-acre tract which was treated in the Black Lake district, 252 dead prairie dogs of the white-tailed species were found. This species of prairie dog is very difficult to poison.

At Last the Solution. Eminent scientists who have been trying to find out what causes earthquakes have at last come to the conclusion that it is some kind of a disturbance of the earth's crust.

Good Looks Throughout Life If You Keep Clean Internally.

Health and good looks go hand in hand. If you do not keep clean internally, your looks and health are undermined together. A clogged intestine breeds poisons that reach every part of the body. These poisons ruin the complexion and undermine health. Constipation brings on such ailments as headaches, bilious attacks, and insomnia—each of which saps your health and vitality. Soon much more serious conditions follow.

In constipation, say intestinal specialists, lies the primary cause of more than three-quarters of all illness including the gravest diseases of life.

Laxatives Aggravate Constipation

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Medical science, through knowledge of the intestinal tract gained by X-ray observation, has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation.

Physicians Favor Lubrication

The lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Not a Medicine

Nujol is not a laxative and cannot gripe. Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world.

Don't give disease a start. Adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. Nujol is not a medicine. Like pure water, it is harmless. Take Nujol as regularly as you brush your teeth or wash your face. For sale by all druggists.

Regular at Doctors.

Hiram Johnson's Challenge

SENATOR Hiram Johnson's challenge to President Coolidge to enter every primary with him and make it a "free-for-all" has caused the administration board of strategy to make a complete revision of its plans. It had been the intention to let the President's campaign drift along and win delegates in the old-fashioned way--through the party's machinery, through the influence of the national army of office-holders, by making dickers with uninstructed delegates, cultivating "favorite sons," and obtaining second-choice instructions wherever outright instructions were not to be had or seemed impolitic.

Now it has been decided to make fights in virtually all the States where there are presidential primaries, including Johnson's own State of California. There, in fact, the President's campaign has already begun.

Exception will be made by the President to the States of Indiana, where the candidacy of Senator James Watson is regarded as friendly, and New York, where Senator Wadsworth's candidacy is looked upon in the same light. It had been intended to fight for an uninstructed delegation in Pennsylvania, but if both Governor Pinchot and Senator Johnson enter the lists there, then delegates will be sought for the President.

It promises to be a hot fight all over the United States. Whether or not Senator Johnson wins the nomination, it begins to look as if the people themselves, rather than the bosses, are going to say who shall be the Republican nominee in 1924. --Exchange.

From The Kiddies

Carrizozo, N. M.

Dear Santa Claus:-- I want a mamma doll and a kitchen cabinet, wash machine and some field glasses. My name is Mary Frances Maxwell.

Carrizozo, N. M., Dec. 5, 1923.

Dear Santa Claus:-- I want a bicycle if you don't mind, and a doll that goes to sleep, or anything else you care to bring me. I am seven years of age. I love you!

School Notes

(Supt. E. E. Cole)

The Christmas vacation will begin Saturday, Dec. 22. School work will be resumed Jan. 2, the day following New Year's.

Mrs. Blaney, Mrs. Craddock and Mr. Cole were the teachers who attended the State Convention at Las Vegas last week. It was a wonderful affair, nearly a thousand teachers being present, and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The President, Roy White, presided at all times with a natural dignity fine to see. Everyone knows, and says, that John Vaughan did wonderful work as secretary, that it was done so pleasantly and agreeably, and that the convention would like to have him keep the secretaryship for the next fifty years.

One of the leading speakers was Francis G. Blair, Illinois State Superintendent of Public Instruction for the past twenty-five years. Of fine appearance, pleasing personality, with a splendid voice, with something to say and knowing how to say it, he made a great impression on his audiences.

The other leading speaker, William J. Long, author of our high school books on American and English Literature, easily captured the attention and the hearts of his hearers by his wonderful knowledge and his delightful way of expressing it.

Mary Mellish, a member of the Metropolitan Grand Opera of New York City, of charming personality, beautifully gowned, with a wonderfully clear and sweet voice, held the rapt attention of the crowded Illinois Auditorium, crowded to the doors.

It would take several columns to tell what we saw and heard. We are glad we went.

A long and happy married life to Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cazier! May they live long and prosper! May we all live long enough to help them celebrate their golden wedding! Of all stocks, bonds or certificates, the best certificate to invest in is a marriage certificate.

The Greeks and Romans punished unmarried men as criminal and cowardly. The Greeks refused to permit an unmarried man to witness the Olympian games. Caesar Augustus assessed a heavy fine against them and would not allow them to hold even the smallest public office. The Greek poet Simonides declared the unmarried man to be a coward, too cowardly to assume the responsibilities of a family. Yes, the married man is supremely brave. At the slightest chance he flies to arms and is never so happy as when at the head of the infantry!

Mrs. Maude L. Blaney, of the Carrizozo schools, read a very interesting paper in the history section of the State Convention. Her subject was "Improvement in Teaching Eighth Grade History and Civics." Dr. William J. Long was in the section and gave Mrs. Blaney a very high compliment on the excellence of her paper.

Since coming home we have looked over the article and find it so full of good things that we cannot select one paragraph as more desirable than another for publication. It would take two columns of this paper to publish the entire article; we regret that we cannot do so.

Chili Supper

The chili supper given by Mrs. A. W. Adams' "Winners Class" of the Baptist Sunday School last Friday evening at Mrs. Adams' Millinery Store was well patronized. The affair netted $16.50, for which the class wished to extend thanks to the patrons. The chili, coffee and pies were made by members of the class and were pronounced very fine.

NOTICE OF SALE

In the District Court,
State of New Mexico,
County of Lincoln.

W. W. Brasel, Plaintiff, vs.
Nelle Connor, M. C. Connor and all unknown Heirs of E. C. Connor, Deceased, Lizzie Littlefield and all unknown Heirs of Lizzie Littlefield, Deceased and Bessie C. Barton, Defendants.

You, and each of you, above named defendants, are hereby notified that an action has been commenced and is now pending against you, and each of you, in the above entitled court and cause, and between the parties therein named, the objects of which are to determine the interest of each defendant as joint owners of Lots One and Two, in Section Eighteen, in Township Nine, South of Range Eleven, East of the New Mexico Meridian, New Mexico, containing one hundred five acres and forty-eight hundredths of an acre.

That the Plaintiff is desirous of a partition of said real estate.

That Plaintiff claims an inheritance in said real estate of an undivided one-third in the fee thereof.

That each of the defendants have, or claim to have, an interest in the same.

That Plaintiff asks that the title to said lands be quieted in the Plaintiff and Defendants, and partitioned between them as their said interests may appear, and for a sale of said real estate and division of the proceeds derived from the sale thereof, if said real estate cannot be divided without great prejudice to the parties to this action, and that the proceeds be brought into court and divided among the parties according to their respective rights and interests.

You, and each of you, are further notified that unless you enter your appearance in said cause on or before the 28th day of December, 1923, judgment will be entered therein by default against you, and Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for, and the real estate partitioned or sold and proceeds divided as prayed for in Plaintiff's complaint.

Geo. Spence, Postoffice address, Carrizozo, New Mexico, is the Attorney for Plaintiff.

Witness my hand and seal of said Court, this 5th day of November, 1923. (SEAL) R. M. TREAT, Nov. 9-Dec. 7-5t Clerk of said Court all who call on this trip free consultation, except the expense of treatment when desired.

According to his method of treatment he does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of the stomach, tonsils or adenoids.

He has to his credit wonderful results in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, nerves, heart, kidney,
bladder, bed wetting, catarrh, weak lungs, rheumatism, sciatica, leg ulcers and rectal ailments.

If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better, do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease, are very often the cause of your long standing trouble.

Remember above dates, that consultation on this trip will be free and that his treatment is different.

The Japanese freighter, Shinkoku, went ashore near Montague Island, Prince William sound, Alaska, and was expected to be a total loss, according to a dispatch received in Seattle from Cordova, Alaska. The dispatch said nothing of the fate of more than thirty men who were aboard the Shinkoku.

The body of William G. Metz, an ex-service man and a former patient at Fitzsimons hospital, Denver, was found in a closed motor car parked before a newspaper office on one of the busiest streets of Tucson, Ariz. While police admit that Metz may have committed suicide, they declare that numerous circumstances support their theory that the man was murdered.

Wyoming is the first state to organize completely for the campaign to raise funds to erect a suitable memorial to Warren G. Harding. The Harding Memorial Association expects to raise $3,000,000 with which to erect a suitable mausoleum, take over the Harding home in Marion, and endow the Harding chair of diplomacy and functions of government, which was one of his most cherished plans.

WASHINGTON

Charges of barbarous cruelty, practiced upon helpless Koreans by order of Japanese officials during the recent earthquake disaster in Japan have been filed with the State Department by Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, president of the Friends of Korea in America. Americans were among the eyewitnesses when 250 Koreans, bound hand and foot, were covered with oil and burned alive, according to the report filed with Secretary Hughes.

Retailers who represent themselves as selling army-navy surplus supplies from the United States government, when in fact they are not so doing, will encounter opposition from the Federal Trade Commission. An order in the matter was issued by the commission, against H. Mullender, an operator of stores in Indiana, West Virginia and Ohio, under the names of Army-Navy stores and Army Goods store, requiring him to desist.

President Coolidge has ordered Attorney General Daugherty to make a thorough investigation of the legal aspects of the sentencing of Comptroller Charles Craig of New York to serve sixty days in a New Jersey jail for contempt of Judge Julius Mayer, it was announced officially at the White House a few days ago.

Information that the administration decision to abandon consolidation of the railroads into a few great systems is final and conclusive, the United States Chamber of Commerce served notice that Congress would be asked to nullify such parts of the federal anti-trust laws which now make large amalgamations of capital illegal and schedule to dissolution.

Needless continuation of bread-saving habits formed in wartime, Department of Agriculture officials declared in a statement issued in Washington, is limiting American wheat consumption to the disadvantage of both producer and consumer. A return to pre-war food habits in the use of wheat by the public and the feeding of low-grade wheat to livestock, department experts assert, would help greatly toward solving the wheat problem.

A counter claim seeking recovery of nearly $2,000,000 in the government's answer to Swift and Co.'s allegation that the government owes it about $1,500,000 on a wartime contract for army bacon. A brief prepared by the Department of Justice says the existence of such a contract has not been proved and accuses the company of fraud, violation of its food administration license by taking greater profits than permitted and other offenses.

With regard to reports of the impending conclusion of an Anglo-American loan to Germany, the Boersner-Courier says that negotiations are in progress between a well-known Berlin bank and a group of American, British and Dutch financiers for a credit to Germany of 1,400,000,000 gold marks.

The time limit fixed by the Belgian government in which Germany must pay 1,250,000 francs as indemnity for the assassination of Lieutenant Graff in the neighborhood of Dusseldorf, expired and nothing was heard from Berlin beyond an offer to submit the question to The Hague tribunal for arbitration. This proposal already has been declined by Belgium.

At the Vatican there is complete silence concerning the names of the new cardinals Pope Pius may appoint at the secret consistory to be held in Rome Dec. 20. Even the nationality of those who may receive the red hat has not been made known. If any new American cardinals are to be appointed, Archbishop Hayes of New York and Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago are mentioned as the prelates most likely to be accorded the honor.

Increases in wages affecting approximately 5,500 railroad telegraphers and station agents and aggregating approximately $304,462, were awarded in a decision announced in Chicago by the United States railroad labor board.

A new trans-atlantic speed record was set by the American liner Lovathan, which arrived a few days ago from Southampton and Cherbourg. The Lovathan made the 3,078 miles from Cherbourg in five days, seven hours and twenty minutes, beating the Mauretania's record by thirteen minutes.

The rum schooner Tomako, captured by coast guards after an exciting chase six miles off Seabright, N. J., while flying the British flag, was seized with the knowledge that her registry papers were futility and that she positively had been identified with the landing of liquor on American shores, government agents announced in New York.

Following a period of twelve years of inactivity, owners of large cattle ranges in the northern part of Chihuahua are returning to their properties and indications point to a revival of the cattle industry in Mexico. It is pointed out that range conditions are exceptionally good, and conditions are peaceful. More than 100,000 head of cattle are on different ranches in the Juncores consular district.

An alert Yale eleven, taking advantage of Harvard's mistakes on a muddy field, defeated the Crimson in Harvard stadium at Cambridge, 13 to 0, capturing the Blue its first Big Three championship since 1910, and incidentally scoring Yale's first touchdown on Harvard's home gridiron in sixteen years.

Two miners are dead and eight others badly burned in a West Frankfort, Ill., hospital, but all others who were endangered by an explosion in the northwestern part of the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal Company's mine, No. 1, near West Frankfort, one of the largest, if not the largest mine in the world were rescued.

Hampshire sheep raised by Mrs. Minnie Miller of Thousand Springs farm, Wendell, Idaho, captured first second and third places in virtually all sheep classes of that breed, judged at the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City, Mo. In the ram-lamb class, Mrs. Miller won the first four prizes. Under the rules however, she could take only three prizes and the fourth went to an entry from the Kansas State Agricultural College.

After deliberating five hours, a jury at Dauphin, Mass., returned a verdict of not guilty against Peter Sawicki, 12 years old, and another verdict of guilty of manslaughter, with a strong recommendation for mercy, against his mother, Mrs. Paul Sawicki. What is said to be a record for pumpkin raising in southwestern New Mexico was made this year by Chris Pena, a farmer, living near Deming. Pena reports raising 1,500 pumpkins on one and one-half acres of ground. Many of the pumpkins were choice specimens, it is said, several weighing more than forty pounds. The weight of the entire crop was 18,000 pounds, Pena said.

At the regular meeting of the New Mexico State Teachers' College held at Silver City recently it was decided to do away with the degrees of Bachelor of Pedagogy and Master of Pedagogy, which have been given since the founding of the school for the completion of two and three-year courses. After this year the school will grant only the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts, which require four years of work.

Sale of two and one-quarter million feet of saw timber by the United States forestry service to the Southwest Lumber Company was announced by the district office. The timber is located on the Lincoln national forest southwest of Cloudcroft. Provisions of the contract include the payment by the lumber company of the price, $2.15 per 1,000 feet, for all species except white fir, which sold for $1.25 per 1,000 feet board measure.

The decision of the Federal District Court in Santa Fe, which ordered the Albuquerque school board to return to the American National Bank, Oklahoma City, the $8,500 deposit made by the bank during the school bond transactions in 1921, has been reversed by the Federal Court of Appeals of the Eighth Federal Circuit, St. Louis, according to word received in Albuquerque by A. B. McMillen, counsel for the school board in this litigation.

In response to a statement made at Santa Fe by Clinton J. Crandall, superintendent of the northern pueblos, that he would pay a reward of $100 for proof of the statement of George Timmerman, tourist, that an Indian had drawn a knife on him and forced him to pay $10 for carrying his wife up La Bajada hill in Albuquerque after she had been seriously hurt in a fall of 100 feet from her motorcycle, Timmerman reaffirmed his statement.

The fact that a race of pigmy people once inhabited the mountain fastnesses of the Guadalupe near Carlsbad has come to the attention of the Smithsonian Institution, and according to communications from J. Walter Fewkes, chief of the bureau of American Ethnology, the Smithsonian is desirous of obtaining a skull of one of these people for examination by Dr. Alex Hrdlicka, physical anthropologist at the U. S. National Museum. This race no doubt lived thousands of years ago, and Carl Livingston, Carlsbad attorney, who has been instrumental in bringing the matter to the attention of the officials, says that following examination of the specimen, it is the desire of the Smithsonian people to send an expedition into the Guadalupe mountains to ferret out the ancient homes of these people.

Silver City Lodge No. 413, B. P. O. Elks, now occupies its magnificent new home and club house, erected and furnished at a cost in excess of $100,000. Because of exceptional service to the state Francisco Parra was given a commutation to nineteen years by Governor Hinkle on recommendation of the state penitentiary board. Parra was sent up from Grant county in 1915 to serve from eighty to 100 years for murder, and Gov. M. C. Mechem commuted his sentence to twenty-five years in 1922.

F. Martinez, arraigned at Mora in the Justice of the Peace Court of Juan Navara, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury under a $500 bond. Martinez was charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon Abram Lopez. Lopez alleged that the defendant struck him on the head with a heavy iron bar. Assistant District Attorney T. V. Truder represented the state.

Willard evidently is expecting a healthy growth in the number of its school children. In a report on that school district given by State School Auditor J. E. Owen says there are 440 children in the auditorium of the new four-room building completed this year. Of these, 240 opera chairs, bought at $3.25 each, are stacked in the rear of the room; 100 table-arm chairs, bought at $1.25 for the first hundred and $3.50 for the second hundred, are in place in the auditorium, and the remaining forty, also table-arm chairs, are stored away in a dressing room.

CONVICTED ON SEVEN COUNTS

YOUNG BROKER CONVICTED OF HALF MILLION DOLLAR THEFT FROM BANK

MANDELL FOUND GUILTY

JURY RETURNS VERDICT AFTER FOUR HOURS' DELIBERATION ON CASE

Denver.—Maurice Mandell, 20-year-old Denver stock broker, was held guilty of the theft of almost half a million dollars in the largest bank looting conspiracy in the history of the Colorado courts by a West Side Court jury. Under the verdict, the broker is held a co-conspirator in the looting of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company, and makes Mandell liable to penitentiary sentences of one to twenty years.

According to members of the jury which tried Mandell, the first two general ballots taken in the jury room stood 11 to 1 for conviction on all seven counts. Then, as each information against the young stockbroker was taken separately and voted upon, the vote stood unanimously for conviction on each count, only one ballot being necessary on each information.

Six of the informations against Mandell were informations filed under the state banking laws, and they charged abstraction, misappropriation and embezzlement of funds from a state bank. The seventh information charged conspiracy to embezzle funds from a state bank.

The first six charges on which Mandell was convicted are punishable by sentences of one to twenty years in the penitentiary and fines of not to exceed $2,000. The seventh is punishable by imprisonment for one to ten years.

Mandell sat quietly at his table in the courtroom while the verdict was being read, and displayed no sign of emotion. Leaning back in his chair beside Attorney Clarence Ireland, one of his defense counsel, and George Morris and H. E. Green, special accountants, hired by Mandell for the trial, he scarcely seemed to listen to the reading of the verdict.

After Clerk McLachlan had finished, Mandell leaned across the table and laughingly whispered to his associates. Seven separate verdicts, all guilty, were returned against Maurice Mandell, Denver stock broker, when he was held responsible for thefts of $404,453.03 from the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company by a West Side court jury last night.

The seven informations on which the broker was convicted follow: Conspiracy to embezzle the funds of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company to the extent of more than $20 during the past three years.

Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication of the funds and securities of a bank in connection with the theft of $5,000 in cash by means of a worthless draft on June 14.

Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication of $10,000 in Liberty bonds on March 27.

Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication of $3,500 in Boulder paving bonds on July 10.

Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication of $6,000 in cash by means of a worthless check on January 2.

Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication of $3,000 in Logan City, Utah, paving bonds on June 12.

Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication of $22,000 in Liberty bonds on July 24.

Mandell must remain in the jail until he is sentenced to the penitentiary unless his announced attempt appeal to the Supreme Court is successful or unless he is permitted freedom on bond, fixed by the higher court, pending the hearing of his appeal. This latter possibility holds but slight hope for Mandell in view of the seriousness of the charges on which he was convicted.

Child Crop From the Farms. The nation's child crop, no less than the food crops, comes mainly from American farms, says Dr. C. J. Galpin, in charge of farm population studies for the United States Department of Agriculture. Of the 30,000,000 farm population as compared with the same number of urban population the number of children under ten years of age on farms is approximately 2,000,000 more than in the cities. There are approximately 7,700,000 children under ten years of age on farms with 5,700,000 in cities having equivalent total population, Doctor Galpin points out.

Quake Makes Prince Popular

People of Japan Applaud Orders to "Feed Hungry Before Rebuilding Palace."

Tokyo.—The earthquake was pretty rough to Hirohito, crown prince regent and future emperor of Japan. But it made him, if possible, even more popular with the people than ever before—and he had already been held in more affection by his subjects than any of his predecessors ever were—not even excepting Meiji the Great, whose reign saw the beginning and much of the making of modern Japan. The J-shin, which is one way of describing an earthquake without using profanity, busted up the crown prince's wedding and his pet palace, where he had planned to live with his bride, the Princess Nagako Kuni, and it caused some of the imperial counselors to propose that the imperial family remove to Kyoto, the ancient capital, in South Japan. "Nothing doing," said Hirohito. Of course he didn't say it in those words, but his veto was flat. It was straight, direct and to the point.

"We're going to rebuild Tokyo, as I get the big idea," said he—or approximately that, freely translated. "We're planning a bigger, more beautiful Tokyo. And several million people are going to live here. They're not going to run away from Tokyo. And I'm not—not by a jugful!"

Stopped Moving Talk.
So that was that. And when the story leaked out—and you could hardly expect such a story to stay bottled up very long—it squelched pretty effectively the talk of removing the Japanese capital from Tokyo to Kyoto, or anywhere else.

"Well, then," said somebody, "perhaps it will be just as well to go ahead with the imperial wedding—the prince regent and the Princess Nagako were to have been married in November. It wouldn't be right to allow an earthquake to—ah—to—ah—shall we say, interfere with the happiness of so auspicious an occasion."

"This J-shin has jlimmed the happiness of an awful lot of people," observed the regent, "and to me it doesn't seem fair that my happiness should be sought when so many are sad—or that the state should spend so much money on a wedding when all the money we can raise is needed for relief and reconstruction. There will be no wedding this fall!"

So, again, that was that. "Oh, very well," came back the counselors. "At least—surely at the very least—we may be allowed to order immediate commencement of the work of rebuilding the Kasumigasaki palace?"

Food Comes First.
"No," said Hirohito. "We won't immediately commence the work of rebuilding the Kasumigasaki palace. As a matter of fact, we won't commence it any time soon. Indeed, as I think it over, I have a hunch that it is going to be a long, long time before we rebuild that palace—because, first, we're going to feed the people and build temporary homes for them, and then rebuild the city permanently. And after that is done, if there is any spare change left, you might drop around some afternoon and let me have the lowest quotations on palaces."

To repeat, the words are a liberally Americanized version of the rough and ready version of the story that the people of Japan are applauding. But the spirit, the idea behind the actual official orders, is faithfully presented. "Earthquake sufferers first; then I can get married and talk about a new palace"—was the word-of-the-regent.

Yes, the earthquake has done a good many impossible things. And among its impossibilities was to make crown prince regent more popular than he was before among his people.

Soar Over Ice Peaks in Plane

Explorers Cross Lofly Crags in Flying Boat—Wonderful Pictures of Scenery.

Spitzbergen.—Flying over jagged ice-clad Arctic mountain crags in a seaplane with "knocking" motor provides the thrill of thrills—it is no sport for one with a weak heart. Such a trip was made by W. Mittelholzer, a Swiss aviator who has charge of the aviation expedition sent to Spitzbergen to co-operate with Amundsen in his attempt to fly from Point Barrow to Spitzbergen. He took with him an all-metal Junker seaplane to relieve Amundsen should the latter be compelled to land in the course of his long flight. Though Amundsen's failure was known before Mittelholzer reached Spitzbergen, he made use of his opportunity to make interesting aerial reconnaissances, which he describes in the Neue Zürcher Zeitung in an article translated in the Living Age as follows:

Engine Starts to Knock.
I determined to cross over the Chrydenius range, which culminates in crystalline pinnacle of Newtontop at a height of nearly 6,000 feet, and thence across the 50 or 60 miles of mountainous country to Hinlopen strait.

My pilot Neumann, was a veteran seaplane operator. The great ice field lay before us. On both sides vast glaciers, framed in rugged cliffs, descended into the deep blue water. To the northward rose a sea of peaks and pinnacles, whose violet hues stood out with knife-like sharpness against the golden-yellow horizon. To the southward one snowy dome followed another under an azure blue Italian heaven, beyond which our gaze seemed to lose itself in infinity.

But what ailed our motor? When- ever Neumann gave it more gas it would knock distressingly. I left it to Neumann to decide whether we should turn back, but he motioned vigorously ahead, throttled down his motor as much as possible and trusted to his "fyer's luck" not to leave us in the lurch.

Take Pictures of Scenery.
We were only 5,000 feet above the sea and Newtontop still towered above us. When Neumann gave the motor more gas to rise higher, it began to knock again, so our only recourse was to find a way through the mountain passes, where we were violently tossed hither and thither by powerful wind currents. We would glide above deep abysses, skirt, glittering bluish-green ice precipices, and turn sharply this way and that in order to record on our films as much as possible of the glorious awe-inspiring scenery on either hand. Neumann performed his task with coolness and courage.

For nearly half an hour we threaded our way with many a twist and turn amid the highest peaks of Spitzbergen—in a seaplane! Leaving our lofty mountain companions we were soon speeding over a mighty glacier, where we could easily have made a landing almost anywhere.

Disadvantages of the old "sailor" type of headgear, such as the difficulty of keeping it on when the wind is blowing and the ease with which it wrinkles, long have been apparent, but search for a substitute has been fruitless thus far.

PLAN BIRD PRESERVE AT ROOSEVELT'S TOMB

Cousin Buys Tract and Presents it to Audubon Societies.

New York.—Eliens and a half acres of wild land which surround the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay has been purchased by his cousin, W. Emlyn Roosevelt, New York capitalist, and presented to the National Association of Audubon societies for a wild bird sanctuary and shrine for bird lovers.

The gift has been accepted and plans made for the expenditure of thousands of dollars in carrying out the donor's ideas. This announcement was made in connection with the association's convention at the American Museum of Natural History.

Mr. Roosevelt, whose estate adjoins the late president's home at Sagamore Hill, has turned over to the Audubon societies "a veritable jungle, an ideal home for wild fowl, and a fitting memorial to Mr. Roosevelt's love for wild things," said Mr. Pearson.

The tract surrounds the Roosevelt tomb in Young's cemetery. A ten-room building nearby has been leased for ten years and will be converted into a bird museum and library for students and pilgrims to Roosevelt's grave.

Trees, shrubs and vines which bear fruits birds like best to feed on will be planted on the grounds, although the existing "jungle" will be preserved so far as possible. Bird feeding grounds, fountains, baths and abetters will be installed in natural settings.

A catproof fence was built around the property before it was deeded to the Audubon societies.

Nearly half the world's total supply of silk today comes from Japan.

ANOTHER NURSE PRAISES TANLAC

Mrs. Leona Outpepper, 17 Lucile Avenue, who was a trained nurse for fifteen years, is another highly esteemed Atlanta woman whose gratitude and desire to help others prompts her to tell of the wonderful results she derived from the Tanlac treatment.

"I had suffered from nervous indigestion and loss of appetite for four or five years," said Mrs. Outpepper, "and was nearly always nauseated. I had heartburn so bad I could hardly stand it, and became so weak and nervous I could hardly do my household work."

"Reading what Tanlac had done for others, I decided to try it, and by the time I finished the first bottle I was feeling so much better that I bought two more. When I had finished the third bottle I was feeling fine and had actually gained sixteen pounds. Tanlac is all that is claimed for it."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute.—Advertisement."

Her Finish.
"Your daughter recites very well," the pastor's wife remarked to Mrs. Muddleby at the church social.

"Yes," said Mrs. Muddleby. "I'm going to give her a course in electrocution," she smiled and added, "To sorter finish her off, you know."—Boston Transcript.

$4,725,000 FUND FOR COLORADO HIGHWAYS PROGRAM IN 1924

Denver.—Tentative proposals for the expenditure of $4,725,000, which sum is available under the state highway budget for 1924, have been announced by the state highway advisory board here.

A serious problem has confronted the advisory board in its apportionment of available funds for state highways because of repeal by the Twenty-fourth General Assembly of the half-mill state road tax, combined with the fact that revenue derived from the sale of all automobile license tags must be used for the payment of interest and retirement of the $6,000,000 highway bond issue authorized last November.

The highway department must therefore, reduce appropriations for state projects to one-third of the 1923 appropriation, it is declared.

Adequate maintenance will be the primary consideration, the use of funds for new construction being necessarily curtailed, according to the statement issued by the highway advisory board.

The $4,725,000 available for apportionment under the 1924 budget will be distributed as follows, subject, of course, to Governor Sweet's approval:

For maintenance	$ 811,000
For construction purposes, federal aid projects	8,000,000
For state projects	500,000
For property, equipment, administration and surplus	204,000
For contingencies	150,000
For other purposes	150,000
Balance 1923 highway fund.	$ 800,000
One-half mill levy	750,000
One-half of 2c gasoline tax	675,000
Internal improvement	50,000
Sales to counties and miscellaneous	50,000
1924 bond sale to meet federal aid	1,500,000
Federal aid projects	1,500,000
Total	$4,725,000

Two Held for Death Threats
Chicago.—Charged with making threats to kill, Everett P. Leonard, president of the Servetto Company of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Willard, his 18-year-old son, are in jail here, accused by Roger Naylor, president of the Santez Products Company of Chicago, of having kidnaped him in Chicago on Oct. 13 and holding him prisoner in Chattanooga for twenty-six days. Everett P. Leonard told the officers he and his son had come to collect $8,000 due them from Naylor, who admitted, police said, that he owes the debt.

Wife Murderer Must Pay Penalty
Salt Lake City.—Omer R. Woods, convicted wife murderer, must pay the supreme penalty. This was the decision of the Utah State Supreme Court when his appeal for a rehearing of his appeal for a new trial was denied.

Fake Cotton Brokers Investigated
New York.—Millions of dollars have been lost by small traders in the South through cotton transactions with unscrupulous persons posing as cotton brokers, Thomas Hale, secretary of the New York Cotton Exchange, declared in a statement made public here. The exchange is doing everything in its power to protect such traders, Mr. Hale said, and is now working with cotton exchanges in the South in an effort to weed out members of those exchanges who, the statement said, "we have reason to believe are not doing business in accordance with the rules."

Attorney's Residence Bombed
Macomb, Ill.—A bomb was exploded in the home of State Attorney Andrew L. Hainline here a few days ago. All members of the family escaped injury. All windows in the house as well as those in surrounding buildings were shattered. The damage has been estimated at $2,000. No clue as to who caused the explosion has been found. Mr. Hainline would make no statement as to the bombing.

Brakeman Held for Arizona Killing
Phoenix, Ariz.—Andrew Edwards, a brakeman, was lodged in the county jail here on a charge of murder by authorities who brought him from Sausalito, Ariz., where he is alleged to have shot and killed Harold Mowrey of Chiles, Tex. The shooting, according to advices received here from Sausalito, followed an altercation between Edwards and Mowrey, who, officers said, was found riding on a freight train. Authorities said Mowrey related the efforts of railroad employees to remove him from the train.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL MENTION

F. T. Schipp, daughters Ellie, Ethel and Mrs. Frank Ashe, of El Paso, spent last Saturday and Sunday with Carrizozo friends.

Mrs. Charles Terrell left Sunday for Tucumcari to join her husband, who has been transferred from this point by the E. P. & S. W. and is now employed on the Dawson division. The Terrells will make Tucumcari their home for the winter, at least.

Judge W. A. Hawkins, of El Paso spent Saturday in Carrizozo, returning home on Sunday.

The Misses Johnie Myers, Eleanor and Lady Connell, were guests of Mrs. Louise H. Coe, County Superintendent of Schools, at her ranch home near San Patricio last Sunday.

Ed Williams, foreman of the pumping station at Luna, his wife and sons, Curtis and Max, left Sunday for a month's visit with relatives in Lubbock, Dallas and Terrell, Texas. They will return the early part of January.

Mr. L. M. Stone, of the Nogal school, was among Carrizozo visitors last Saturday.

Dr. R. E. Blaney, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Ohge, of Boone, Iowa, returned from their hunting trip last Saturday with two nice bucks to their credit. They were hunting in the Dattl Mountains, north of Silver City.

Jeff Cornelius, Chandler and Lee Frude returned from the region north of Mountainair on Monday, after a successful hunting trip.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bullard and daughter, Mildred, were Carrizozo visitors from Bogle on Tuesday.

T. E. Armstrong, of Coyote, was a visitor here on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. H. Farris spent Monday with friends in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McClane are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on Wednesday, Dec. 5.

William Norman returned on Wednesday from Los Angeles, where he had been for the past two months seeking a location. He is undecided as to his return.

A Fine Bill at the Crystal Next Week.

Tuesday night, Tom Moore in "Beating the Game" will carry you through a maze of delightful situations, more surprises and action than any other Moore picture. For his honesty and earnest effort as "Honest John Smith" he was elected mayor. He devised a "Trade at Home" scheme that built up the town and put it on the map (this town might follow suit). He was the most honored and loved man in town—yet just one year before he was an expert safe blow and a fugitive from justice!

All patrons interested in the regular Friday night installment of "Tarzan," "Nick Carter" and "Fighting Blood" should bear in mind that this program will be advanced to Thursday night to allow for the third "Lyceum Concert" on Friday.

On this night the Kellum Duo will furnish a musical entertainment of highest merit. No music lover should miss this treat.

On Saturday dainty little Mae Marsh, the Sarah Bernhardt of the screen, will be shown in "Till We Meet Again," the greatest impersonation of her career, which has known only the highest achievements. She holds your heart in the palm of her hand! She makes you laugh and cry, tingle with delight, pulse with anger, chill with fear and throb with joy—all in this one thrilling production!

B. Y. P. U.
