Assembling of Mystic Shrine

Washington, D. C. May 17.— (Capital News Service)

Members of the Shrine, their wives and children are already pouring into the Capital of the Nation to attend the annual Imperial Council Session which is to be held in June. Few who are coming have any conception of the magnitude of the gathering and less yet, sense the great importance of this convention to the country at large. No other convention; no other event of any kind will have ever drawn to the Nation's Capital so large a crowd of people or from so many different sections of the country. At an inauguration of a President, thousands come for a day, but at this event of importance, hundreds of thousands will be here for a week or more.

The country is not well enough acquainted with its Washington, or its Government. Here will be four hundred thousand visitors from every state and every city in the union, spending a week or more visiting and learning of the Government machinery which they provide to govern themselves. The effects cannot help but be far-reaching and lasting; infinitely more important socially, and governmentally, than the deliberation of the Order which draws the throng together, be their magnitude what it may. The more we Americans know of our country, the better we love it; the more we know of our Government, the more interest we take in it and the better we make it.

The educational feature of a trip or a visit to Washington has always been considered well worth while, of and for the individual; the educational effect of so massed a gathering of individuals of so absolutely representative type, can only be guessed, but it must work out to the greatest advantage of us all in spreading through the country a better conception of what the Capital City and its national governmental mechanism really is.

For a Better and Cheaper Road System

Highway Commissioner R. C. Sowder and wife were over from the Picacho ranch on Monday. Mr. Sowder says that the entire state highway commission will leave for Washington, D. C., on May 27 to meet with the national bureau of roads commission where our board will be instructed on how to build public highways by a better and cheaper plan than has heretofore been known in New Mexico.

All Urged to Wear a Poppy

All Americans are urged to wear the French poppy on Memorial day "in honor of the men who fell in France," by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in a recent bulletin to member bodies in all parts of the country.

Replying to a request for assistance from the American Legion, Elliot H. Goodwin, resident vice president of the chamber, said: "With this request we very gladly and sympathetically comply. It is our hope that organizations of business men will promote the wearing of the poppy on May 30."

Sad Happening

One of the saddest happenings in the history of this place was revealed last Sunday morning when the community was shocked by the news of the death of Ira O. Wetmore, founder of Carrizozo and one of its foremost citizens. Mr. Wetmore had been at Farmington, N. M., for about two months in the interest of leased land holdings of a company with which he had been prominently connected and arrived home last Friday morning.

After his arrival friends noticed that he acted strangely and his condition grew worse until Saturday night when all efforts of his faithful wife to induce him to sleep, failed and about 4:30 Sunday morning after Mrs. Wetmore hastened in search of assistance, took his own life by shooting himself through the head with a 30-30 carbine rifle. Mrs. Wetmore was on the floor above when two shots were heard and H. J. Garrard being the first one to arrive to the floor below, found the doors locked and securing a short piece of a telephone pole, broke in the back door. Sheriff Harris and others arriving shortly afterwards, Jake Cole was sent to Nogal for Justice of the Peace, Peacock, as Justice Hulbert was absent from the city. A Coroner's Jury was formed after Judge Peacock's arrival consisting of Bryan Cazier, B. L. Stimmel, Louis Adams, A. W. Adams, S. A. Ramsdale and A. L. Burke which jury after making a thorough investigation, rendered a verdict according to facts stated above.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Wetmore apartments and the gathering was the largest ever seen in this community. Business houses closed during the afternoon hours in honor of the founder of the town. Rev. T. M. Blacklock conducted the funeral services and a ladies' quartet composed of Mesdames R. E. Lemon, E. D. Boone, L. H. Hoffman and J. B. Dinwiddie sang several beautiful, sacred selections, after which the body was interred in the local cemetery.

Of Mr. Wetmore's previous history, volumes could be written of his perseverance in behalf of his home community. In recognition of this, he was chosen and served with much credit to himself and Lincoln county as a member of the 1917 legislature. In public matters of every nature, Lincoln county's good and welfare was always his first consideration. He was united in marriage to Miss Maggie Bennet at Weed, N. M., in the year of 1898, and to whose faithfulness, love and never-ending devotion he testified in his last sad note which the coroner's jury turned over to her after the inquest. With a saddened community, the Outlook draws the curtain on the unfortunate affair; to his beloved wife and other relatives, whose hearts are bowed down with human heart-aches, the sympathy extended is more than mortal tongues can express.

Card of Thanks

I desire to express my heartfelt appreciation to all friends who extended to me their kindly sympathy in the death of my husband and to thank them for the beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. Maggie Wetmore.

Fell in a Well 90 Ft. Deep

Last Wednesday while preparing to descend into a well at the O. C. Davis residence in Nogal, A. B. Helm fell the entire distance sustaining but a few bruises on his arms.

The windlass was erected and a bucket attached to the end of the rope in which Mr. Helm was to descend to make some repairs in the well. As he stepped into the bucket, the weight of his body was too great for the rope which having been exposed to the winter weather had become weakened. It snapped, leaving Helm to the mercy of the long fall. Presence of mind was all that saved him. He threw his hands above his head which gave him a balance, and in this position fell the ninety feet into the water and avoiding death, his arms are badly bruised from striking the rock wall as he went down, but aside from that he suffered no injury.

Nesbit-Pettit

On May 14 in the city of El Paso, with the Rev. William B. Hogg of the Trinity Methodist church performing the ceremony, Dr. Orval I. Nesbit and Miss Zena M. Pettit, both of Fort Stanton, N. M., were united in marriage. Doctor and Mrs. Nesbit are now enjoying the attraction of the big jubilee celebration and will remain in El Paso until about May 20, after which they will return to the Fort to make that place their home. To Dr. and Mrs. Nesbit, the Outlook extends its heartiest congratulations with the hope that glad sunshine like this we enjoy in New Mexico may be theirs throughout the journey of life.

Condition Worse

Secretary Wm. J. Langston of the local lodge of Odd Fellows received word from the secretary of lodge No. 11 of Artesia on Wednesday to the effect that James Roselle's condition had changed for the worse and that there was no hope for him. He improved for a time after being taken there, but lately, said secretary Stone, the infection became internal and there remains no hope for him.

"Double Header"

We all know that railroad men are accustomed to "double headers," which means two engines instead of one to a train, making the propelling power twice the usual amount. With the same idea in mind, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen are going to give the public a "double header" in the amusement line and on June 2 they will give a moving picture show at the Crystal Theatre, Harold Lloyd in "Grandma's Boy." Now for the combination which makes up the "double header." After the show, a big dance will be held at Lutz Hall with George Ferguson furnishing the music and we know what that will mean. The B. of R. T. leaves no stone unturned to see that its guests are more than ordinarily entertained; even if a single bill, it carries twice the amount of entertaining power. Remember the date. The good time is assured in advance.

Seeking Medical Assistance

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kelley left for El Paso on Monday with their son Thompson, who is suffering with a second attack of pneumonia. They have employed the best medical skill in the endeavor to save the little fellow's life. Late reports are not encouraging.

Legion Not Backing Dempsey-Gibbons Fight

Indianapolis, Ind., May 17.— Alvin Owsley, commander of the American Legion, in a statement today declared he desired to "remove the impression that the Legion is connected in any respect" with the Dempsey-Tom Gibbons heavyweight championship match at Shelbyville, Mont., July 4.

"The holding of a prize fight for the world's championship between two professional pugilists whose sole object in staging an exhibition of prolonged mauling of bodies is the accumulation of money can hardly be said to be in accord with the high ideals and purposes of an organization composed of men who fought a real fight for a worthy cause," commander Owsley said.

"If the Legion were interested in professional boxing, it would be hard to believe that it would sponsor a contest in which Jack Dempsey is one of the participants. With no enmity toward him, the Legion cannot forget that the heavyweight champion of the world remained safe in shipyards in America, when the finest and best men of our nation were advancing in the face of almost certain death on the battlefields of Europe. The Legion will not be influenced by any promise that a hospital for disabled men will be built from a part of the proceeds of this fight."

Faculty Dinner to Seniors

A very delightful affair occurred last Wednesday evening, at the Carrizozo Eating House. The faculty of the Carrizozo High School entertained the graduating class at a five course dinner. The favors were in fern green and pink. The faculty consists of Mrs. R. M. Treat, Miss Mildred Shrader, Mrs. H. P. Clarke, Messrs. Bryan Cazier and Dr. E. E. Cole. Mrs. Treat was accompanied by Mr. Treat and Dr. Cole was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. R. M. Hamilton of Battle Creek, Michigan. The seniors are Audrey Miller, Juell Miller, Grace Taylor, Ella Rowland, Beulah Burr, Jeanette Johnson and Lois Jones.

A pleasant social hour followed in the hotel parlors, the feature of which was the reading of a parody-prophecy concerning the senior class, by Dr. Cole.

Will Remember the Departed

At the Methodist church on Sunday morning, June 10, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Brotherhood of Conductors will hold joint memorial services with Rev. L. E. Carleton conducting the same. The members of both organizations will gather at the church at 10:30 and after a sermon by the pastor and a sacred musical program, members of the order and friends will repair to the cemetery where the grave of Cecil G. Gokey will be visited and decorated with flowers. The B. of R. T. will hold special services appropriate to the occasion. There should be plenty of cars at the church to convey all who attend to the cemetery, but in order to avoid a shortage, parties having cars and wishing to assist will please be at the church by 10:30.

Onward March of Prosperity

Railroad freight shipments have been larger every week this year than the corresponding weeks of any one of the past four years. This is on top of the fact that railroads have more equipment and are therefore capable of hauling more freight than any time in the past four years.

Department stores reporting to the Department of Commerce say that their sales in March were 22 per cent in excess of their sales in March a year ago.

The April sales of the two largest mail order houses in Chicago broke all sales records of that organization for April. The organization reports that the sales for the first four months of this year are in excess of the first four months of any year in the history of the corporation.

Business failures in the United States during April were the smallest of any month since July, 1921. For the first four months of this year the total number of business failures was 29 per cent less than during the first four months of 1922 and the liabilities are 36 per cent less.

Copper mines of Michigan are producing two-thirds again as much copper as a year ago.

The increase of general prosperity is reflected in the detailed statistics of the federal tax collections for the month of March. Proof of more liberal spending over the country is shown in the increase of manufacturers' excise tax on automobiles and accessories. The payments of these taxes in March this year were over $5,000,000 greater than March a year ago. The textile industry of the United States as a whole (both woolen and cotton) is running 120 per cent of normal. All mills are working to capacity and are unable to catch up with orders. More cotton is being consumed by the cotton textile industry than ever before in the history of the United States.

More automobiles were manufactured in the month of March than any previous month in the history of the automobile industry.

On May 1, 20,000 maintenance of way and railroad shop employees of the Santa Fe system were granted an increase. During the month of April the Kirby Lumber Co., the second largest lumber producing company in the United States, increased wages from 10 to 15 per cent; the Singer Manufacturing Company of Elizabeth, N. J., increased wages of all employees 10 per cent, affecting 7,000 workers; the Procter and Gamble Co. and Peet Brothers' Manufacturing Company have increased the wages of their employees 10 per cent; paper manufacturers increased wages of 20,000 employees 10 per cent effective May 1. New wage scales in various building and construction trades are announced daily and so rapidly that it is almost impossible to keep up with them.

El Paso, Texas, May 17.—A parade that would have been a credit to Chicago, was staged here today on the second day of the big Golden Jubilee. At every point along the line of march, people stood packed in like the proverbial sardines. It was the biggest and best natured crowd ever seen in the southwest. The Jubilee will close on Saturday.

Army Mask Has New Features

Makes It Possible for Officers to Give Orders in Battle Without Removal.

Washington.—The chemical warfare service of the army has developed a new gas mask so constructed as to enable the wearer to carry on conversation while using it, and thus making it possible for officers to give orders in battle without removing it. Such a mask will be of vital importance in troop operations, and the invention of the speaking device in this new type of mask is regarded by army experts as the greatest improvement in gas masks since the close of the World war. They regard it as the most nearly perfect device of its kind in the world.

Wearer Can Talk

The new mask has a sort of diaphragm attachment somewhat similar in appearance to that used on phonographs. By means of it the wearer of the mask can carry on conversation with about 80 per cent of the efficiency of the average speaking voice. American experts had been trying to achieve the same result through a telephone attachment, but with the development of the diaphragm idea the attempt to arrange the mask so as to provide for telephone conversation has been abandoned. The diaphragm attachment is less cumbersome, not complex, and experiments conducted by the army have demonstrated that the human voice is reproduced efficiently through use of the new attachment.

The perfection of the new mask has reached the point where orders have been given for its production on a considerable scale at the Edgewood arsenal. The new mask embodies a number of other recent developments. It contains a new canister which, through the addition of new chemicals, not only protects the wearer against the ordinary gases used in chemical warfare but also against ammonia fumes and the deadly carbon monoxide. It is expected that this improvement will make the new mask invaluable to firemen in great cities, as well as to mine workers and those who are employed in the fumigation of vessels.

Other New Features

There are also features embraced in the construction of the new "all-purpose" canister that lessen air resistance and reduce the distress of breathing to practically a negligible quantity. This improvement includes elimination of the nose and mouth pieces and has resulted in considerable reduction in the amount of charcoal used in the mask. The new mask likewise contains a device for passing dry air from the chemicals over the eyeglasses of the mask. This prevents collection of moisture and considerably improves the vision. A special arrangement also enables the chemical containing case to be carried under the arm instead of on the chest, as in other types of masks.

and thus provides greater freedom in body movement of the wearer.

Experiments are also being conducted with chemicals that render cloth impervious to burning gases, but which will at the same time permit moisture from the human body to escape.

Find Spectacles More Than 125 Years Old

Piqua, O.—Three pairs of spectacles, over 125 years old, have been discovered in the home of Mrs. O. R. Mullendore. They were the property of her great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Jane Brown Patterson, who came with her husband, Robert Patterson, from Ireland to Piqua in 1818, where the two settled on a farm.

Two pairs of the eyeglasses are of German silver, while the third is of brass. Unlike most modern glasses, they serve only to magnify the object upon which they are focussed. Mrs. Mullendore still is occupying the farm upon which the Pattersons settled in 1818. It was purchased from the government.

Fox Fur High in Leipzig

Leipzig.—The fur auction here, which has closed after three weeks, was attended by many American buyers. These paid high prices for raw fox furs, which were even higher than the usual figure for this class of pelts.

INSIDE PAGE OF JOURNALISM

Same Thing Has Been Known to Exist in Other Cities Besides the French Capital.

Some years ago there were in Paris two papers, the Razor and the Scorpion, which were always attacking each other. Every week people bought the Razor to read how it cut at the Scorpion and then purchased the Scorpion to learn how it stung the Razor.

A certain philanthropist, feeling pained to see such animosity displayed, invited the two editors to dine in the hope that over a good fare he could make peace between them. At the appointed time one lean, melancholy man presented himself and was ushered in. After an interval, as no other guest appeared, the host demanded:

"May I ask, are you the editor of the Razor or the Scorpion?"

"Both," said the sad-eyed man—Sheffield (Eng.) Telegraph.

Must Be So.

The late William Rockefeller said in an interview given not long before his death:

"Rich men have pretty well regained the public's respect, but do you remember how, 20 years ago, every rich man was universally conceded to be a villain?"

"No proof was produced; only Lawson said so, the muckrakers by the thousand said so, and accordingly the public accepted this say-so for the truth."

"It reminds me of the schoolboy who was asked by his teacher to give three proofs that the earth was round. He replied promptly:

"You say so, father says so, and mother says so."

Rare Presence of Mind

During a drought in Ohio a clergyman had just begun his prayer for rain. "Oh, Lord," he prayed, "send down from heaven we beseech Thee—"

Just then an airplane came crashing through the roof of the church.

"No further evidences for the present of Thy great bounty," concluded the minister.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Platform Wit

At a political gathering a man named Ray was called upon to move a resolution. The gentleman was decidedly person non grata to many in the audience, and they drowned his voice with their tumult.

The chairman vainly tried to restore order; at last, getting exasperated, he shouted at the top of his voice: "Will you hear Mr. Ray?"

"No," yelled the disturbers.

"Then all I've got to say is that this is the first instance on record of jackasses refusing hay."

And every woman is proud of her husband—for a time.

How easy it is to be liberal with other people's money.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100 WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

EARTH'S SURFACE ADRIFT, BELIEF OF SCIENTISTS

Theories of German Savant Arouse New Controversy.

London.—An interesting controversy has been excited in British scientific circles by the remarkable theories of Prof. Alfred Wegener, a German, who declares that the earth's continents are drifting westward. His thesis is that the earth's continents are of lighter material, and float like icebergs on a heavier plastic material, which reaches its highest level at the bottom of the oceans.

This startling theory has been strongly criticized by P. Lake of the Royal Geographical society. By means of maps he showed the way in which Wegener has reconstructed the land surface of the globe. According to this reconstruction North America was once in physical contact with Europe, India fitted in between Africa and Australia and South America was brought into contact with Africa. Since then the continents have drifted away from one another into their present position.

Among a number of carefully reasoned criticisms, Mr. Lake pointed out that in order to meet his theory Wegener had flattened the Himalayas in order to lengthen the peninsula of India, but he had not furnished others of the world's mountains in a similar way. He also declared that the argument based on alleged correspondence in geological formation in the various continents would not hold good, because Wegener's geological facts were not accurate.

As an offset to Mr. Lake's views, a number of other British observers seem inclined to support Wegener's revolutionary theory.

Prof. J. Joly of Trinity college, Dublin, writing in the current issue of Nature, thinks that Wegener is in error in

Again the Careless Smoker

It is too bad that there is not some way to train the urbanite in the rules of the outdoors and the campfire, just as he must learn, for the safety of life and property, the traffic and sanitation laws of the city. He should know that it is wrong to throw down a lighted match or cigarette in the forest quite as well as he knows that he must not throw tin cans and old clothing into the street at home. He should learn the etiquette of the forest as he does that of the drawing-room. In both cases, certain things are not done by those who know. The smoker would not throw his match or cigarette stub, or empty his pipe ashes, on his host's rug or table cover. That would be a gross violation of social custom and, besides it might damage the furnishings. That same smoker, though, will toss a burning match or knock the ashes from his pipe on the floor of his host, the forest, where it endangers not only property worth millions but human lives as well, without thought of the consequences.

Educational News

(Louise H. Coe)

The State Board of Education has decided on the following dates for the teacher's examinations: June 29 and 30, and July 23 and 24.

At the recent meeting of the County Board of Education, teachers that had been selected for the coming year by the local boards of the following schools were approved by the county board: Capitan, Picacho, Richardson, Encinosa, Glencoe, Ruidoso, White Oaks, Ancho, Rabenton, San Patricio and Arabela.

Most all county schools close on May 18th. A list of the eighth grade graduates will be published soon.

A visit to all the schools around the Capitan Mountains last week found teachers and pupils preparing for the term examinations and for program for the last day of school. The Mountain View and the Bethel schools were not allowed to be budgeted for the coming year owing to the low average daily attendance, however, transportation was allowed in these districts.

Postmaster General New To Give "Shriners' Postal Service All Their Own

Washington, May 17.—Postmaster General New has authorized Washington's postmaster to establish a "Shriner postoffice" for accommodation of the annual convocation of the Shriners to be held in Washington the first week in June. It is anticipated there will be between 300,000 visiting Shriners, and the postoffice will see that all mail addressed to them, provided it is marked with the word "Shriner" on the envelope, reaches its destination promptly. The Shriner postoffice will have delivery wagons and will make daily deliveries to Pullman cars parked in railroad yards used by the Shriners for living quarters.

Occasionally the break gets by,
as it did in the following instance: At the opera in London somebody said to Lord North,
"Who is that plain-looking lady in the box opposite?"
"That," replied North, "is my wife."
"I did not mean her," said the other hastily. "I meant the lady next to her."

THE CLEARING HOUSE OF
NATIONAL THOUGHT

Do you know that Uncle Sam conducts the largest printing-plant in the world? It requires five thousand people and a plant worth five million dollars to produce the printing utilized in operating the government.
Then there is the seven million dollar building--one of the most beautiful in the world--housing the Library of Congress.

The story of the small beginnings of these two great institutions, their steady growth, and their present importance in the work of the nation, is told in an attractively illustrated folder of the series, on Our Government now being issued by this Institution.

There has been a great demand for these stories and it is evident that they have been doing a valuable work in informing the people of this community about our government.

The general strike called by the Industrial Workers of the World April 25 is about at an end in the Pacific Coast States, according to reports received. The loggers and longshoremen in Washington voted to return to work. At San Pedro, Calif., 1,200 longshoremen went to work on fifty steamers.

The bill was introduced at the request of publishers, election officials and others interested in securing prompt and accurate election returns. The bill permits supervisors to install machines, but does not require them to do so.

Bonners Ferry, Idaho, in quiet and no further trouble is expected by officials, following the deportation into Montana of twenty-eight alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Patrols of business men will continue to meet every incoming freight train and automobile stage, but it is not expected that the state troops will be requested.

Beginning with departure May 26 of the President Jefferson, the shipping board passenger vessels operated between Puget Sound and the Far East by the Admiral-Oriental line will provide university jazz orchestras for their passengers throughout the summer. It was announced in Seattle recently. The Jefferson is to carry a jazz orchestra made up of players from the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College.

Joseph Becker, real estate salesman of Salt Lake City, shot and killed Miss Jane B. Kelso in Los Angeles because she had broken her engagement to marry him, according to a confession the police said he made. The slaying took place on a high and secluded cliff in Elksland park, where the couple went for a walk after dinner. After the shooting Becker walked for a quarter of a mile through the park to a telephone and calmly called the police and asked them to send an ambulance.

WASHINGTON

One of the largest suits ever brought against the government has been filed in the Court of Claims by the Sioux tribe of Indians of North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Montana. The Indians are making demands in forty separate items for a total of $219,633,149.62. In many instances interest is demanded, bringing the total of the suit to more than $700,000,000. The action is brought under the provisions of Indian treaties dating as far back as 1823.

The American flag is too long in proportion to its width to be artistic and a reduction of 12 1/2 per cent in the length of the present standard size has been decided by the Fine Arts Commission to be the most artistic proportion.

A winter wheat crop of 578,287,000 bushels or 1.4 per cent less than the 1922 crop, has been forecast by the Department of Agriculture. The forecast was based on the condition of winter wheat May 1, which was 80.1 per cent of a normal, and on the area remaining May 1 to be harvested, which was 23,750,000 acres or 0.62,000 acres (1.4 per cent) less than planted last autumn.

Director Scooby of the mint recently announced that only 10,000,000 ounces of silver remained to be purchased under the terms of the Pittman Act. He also made public supplemental regulations governing the remaining purchases, which, he said, were intended to make certain that American miners receive the benefits of the act up to the latest possible date. The regulations, highly technical in character, make few changes in those already in force.

The United States will wait "a reasonable time" for the tottering Peking government to effect the release of the Americans carried off by Chinese brigands, but if they are not speedily rescued, then sterner measures will be resorted to. It was learned in Washington. Sterner measures may mean the employment of American troops now stationed in China—the doughboys of the Fifteenth United States Infantry, the Marines of the legation guard or bluejackets from the Atlantic fleet.

The Belgian Council of Ministers announced officially the German reparations proposals and unanimously decided they were unacceptable.

The Free State government continues to proceed as if Edmond De Valera, the Republican chief, had never made his proposal of peace.

France was declared the winner of the international students' athletic meet, held at the new Porto Doreo stadium, in which athletes representing colleges and universities of thirteen other countries competed. The French students rolled up a total of 107 points, as against 80 points for Italy, and 70 for Czechoslovakia.

Chinese students and merchants recently celebrated "humiliation day." It is estimated that 250,000 demonstrators marched through the streets of Tientsin, China in protest against Japan's twenty-one demands on China. All places of amusement, shops, hotels and officers were closed. The day passed off without disturbances. The Japanese concession was guarded with police reinforcements.

The Chinese government has ordered the governor of Shantung to accede to the demand of the bandits and obtain the immediate release of all foreigners who were kidnaped. The governor is ordered to pay the ransom if necessary. This action followed an ultimatum sent by the foreign legations to the Chinese government demanding the immediate release of all prisoners held by the Shantung bandits.

In a curt note Great Britain informed the soviet government that unless a series of demands were fulfilled it will assume that Russia does not desire to maintain present relations. The note gives Russia ten days to carry out Britain's demands unconditionally. Dispatches from London to the United States recently indicated Britain was particularly incensed at the seizure of a trawler by Russia and the execution and imprisonment of priests.

Two hundred representative business men of Memphis at a dinner pledged themselves to support the Memphis Chamber of Commerce in aiding Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., in selling direct to the public, stock in the company, factions of which several weeks ago created a sensation in the New York stock exchange and caught in a jam short sellers of thousands of shares of the stock.

An advance in wages amounting to $2,500,000 a year for 22,000 employees of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, granted by the board of directors of the company, and the theory that the existing economic situation warranted it, were announced in Chicago by the oil company officials. An increase of 3 cents an hour, effective May 10, will apply to a great majority of the employees working in refineries of the company.

MANY KILLED IN OIL BLAZE

SPARK FROM TOOL IGNITING GAS CAUSE OF DISASTER

OIL GUSHER EXPLODES

SIXTEEN ARE KILLED INSTANTLY,
MANY OTHERS INJURED
BY BLAST

Coriscana, Texas.—Instantaneous death was meted out to at least sixteen men working on the G. K. Hughes Developing Company's McKee No. 1 well, ten miles southeast of here, with a possibility of the number of dead reaching twenty-five, when the monster well exploded.

A spark from a hammer of a rock as the control valve was being changed at the well ignited the oil and gas from the gusher.

A crew of twenty men who came from Mexia had not been accounted for. The crew was working in the near vicinity of the well when it caught fire. The bodies of five men have been recovered and are so badly charred that identification is impossible.

Two other charred bodies located near the well could not be reached, so intense is the heat from the blazing inferno. The death list reads:

W. A. Hicks, Wortham, Texas; James Phillips, Kerens, Texas; L. O. Cook, Kerens, Texas; Dan Phillips, Kerens, Texas; L. C. Sheek, Dallas, Texas; Fred Craig, Roane, Texas; Edwin C. Cooper, Corsicana; Jack Cooper, Corsicana; S. P. Allen, Corsicana; M. O. Turner, Mississippi, city unknown; Max Melaner, Corsicana; Travis Owen, Corsicana. Four unidentified bodies.

Fatally burned, Emmet Bird, Corsicana.

One man, a Mr. Simmons, who was on the derrick floor with the crew, escaped by running. His clothing, not being oil soaked, did not ignite. A 15-year-old boy escaped with him. The officials of the developing company are making a check of the men working.

One man said that the bodies of the dead men were where they fell when the blast occurred and with the well still burning it would be impossible for some time to remove them.

A number of automobiles near the well were reported to have been destroyed by the fire.

Word of the tragedy was telephoned to Corsicana with urgent call that all available doctors, medical supplies and ambulances be rushed to the scene. The dead and injured were brought to Corsicana. The injured were placed in the Physicians and Surgeons' Hospital.

According to an eye witness the crew was on the derrick floor changing the control head when suddenly there was a flash of fire, followed by two other flashes, the fire shooting over 100 feet in the air. All the trees and shrubbery around the well were saturated with oil and the ground was quickly burned clear.

Sugar Speculation Suit Lost

New York.—Judge Mayer announced here that the government's application for an injunction to restrain the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and the New York Coffee and Sugar Association from dealing in sugar futures had been denied.

Washington.—The refusal of Federal Judge Mayer in New York to enjoin the New York Sugar exchange from dealing in sugar futures may result in a direct appeal which will bring the case without delay before the Supreme Court.

Aviators Seek Approval of Records

San Diego, Calif.—Aviators, reserve aviators and aviation enthusiasts here recently started a movement to send appeals to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in the hope that the flight by Lieutenants Kelly and MacReady from New York to San Diego may be officially registered as a new world record for distance. It is planned to send many telegrams to the headquarters at Washington of the National Aeronautical Association, American representatives of the F. A. I., as the international body is known.

Cars Collide in Snow Storm

Detroit, Mich.—Eight persons were hurt, several critically, when an interurban car crashed into a street car. The interurban motorman could not see the street car on account of clouds of snow. The street car had just backed onto a "Y" and before the motorman could close the switch the interurban ran into the open switch. Vestibles of both cars were wrecked. Walter Hope, motorman of the street car, is believed to have had both legs fractured.

With the idea of furnishing information as to the condition of roads in all parts of the state to tourists entering New Mexico and intra-state auto travelers, going from point to point in the state, State Highway Engineer James A. On his return from a trip through the counties of Guadalupe and Torrance, President Wagner of the Normal School at Las Vegas, reported that the outlook for a large attendance at the summer school is excellent. Not only do many teachers expect to attend, but the recent stiffening of certification requirement for high school graduates is bringing a large number of that class who expect to teach next fall.

Robert C. Stockdale, agricultural agent in Dona Ana county, reports the outlook is good for cotton, cabbage and cantaloupes in the Mesilla valley. Farmers in Dona Ana county have around 100 acres in early cabbage, estimated to yield from 600 to 1,000 tons. The crop should be off the latter part of May or early in June. Mexican June corn will be planted on most of the cropped acreage. It is expected there will be from 14,000 to 15,000 acres of cotton in the district this year.

P. C. Ollvas, former county treasurer of Sandoval county, waived a preliminary hearing in the District Court at Albuquerque on a charge of embezzlement in connection with a deposit of $8,500 of the county's funds in the Reserve State Bank while he was in office and was held to await action of the grand jury of Sandoval county. Ollvas' bond was fixed at $3,000.

The Piencho community ditch, designed to serve 5,800 acres of irrigable land west of Las Cruces, has been formally transferred to the U. This transfer settles a long-drawn-out and vexatious controversy.

PLAN INCREASED EGG PRODUCTION

Interesting Experiment Being Made to Show Value of Breeding and Selection.

TO DETERMINE GOOD LAYERS

Not Necessary for Flock Owner to Use Trapnet to Detect Best Fowl—Hard Worker Can Be Told by Lateness of Moulting.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

With no other equipment than good eyes, a sense of judgment, and a determination to apply a little knowledge, the average farm poultry raiser can increase the egg production of his flock in a single season, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. An interesting experiment is being made on the department's experimental farm to show the value of breeding and selecting daughters from good producing hens for layers, and the possibility of determining these good layers by only seeing and handling them. One year's results are now available and clearly prove the advantages of selecting the good layers in the flock by their appearance and retaining only their daughters for egg production.

Detect Heavy Layers.

It is natural to assume that the daughters of hens that are long-time layers will in turn be long-time performers, and it is not necessary for the farm-flock owner to use a trapnet to detect these heavy layers. Improvement can best be made in the fall in selecting these good layers but much progress can also be made in the spring by breeding only from the best hens in the flock. In the fall the hard worker can be determined by the lateness of her moulting. Her weathered and rugged appearance late in the fall, provided it is not from ill health, means that she is still in her summer working clothes and bent on keeping up the good work of the summer as long as her energy lasts. The late moulting is the one to select at that time and from which to save the eggs in the spring for hatching.

For the work on the experimental farm, 35 late moulting hens were selected from 100 pullets that had laid all summer. The daughters from these 35 selected layers produced in one year a return above feed cost of $1.93 more per bird than the hens in the original flock. Other flocks have been started on the experimental farm to further demonstrate that the high-producing hens can be selected without the aid of a trapnet and that their daughters retained in the flock will increase the average of the egg production.

Mark Heavy Layers.

During the winter it often is possible to note the hens that are laying. Remembering that a hen in order to be a large producer should be a winter layer, it is advisable to mark these winter layers and in the breeding season separate them from the rest of the flock and save their eggs for the spring hatch. The main thing to strive for in a farm flock to make it pay well is large egg production. Large egg production goes hand in hand with vigor and stamina. Select the hens that are alert and that are early off the roost. Medium sized hens are often the best layers. Large, fat hens often lack vigor.

This test by the department serves to show that great improvement in the average egg yield is obtained by knowing the good layers and by hatching the future layers from them. While a trapnet is the sure method of selection, it is seldom practical on the average farm. Hence, a little time devoted to selection from observation may be well spent.

FEEDING POTATOES TO PIGS

Peculiarly Valuable as Supplement in Fattening—Boil Them in Feed Cooker.

Since it will be to the advantage of potato growers to get rid of all undersized and injured potatoes at home, the best method of feeding this product to the pigs will be of interest to many. Potatoes are peculiarly valuable as a supplement in fattening pigs. The best practice is to cook the potatoes, drain off the water and then mix the potatoes with grain at the rate of about three parts of potatoes to one part of the grain. Boil the potatoes in a feed cooker and then do the mixing in a barrel with a piece of board of suitable length. Thus prepared, liberal quantities may be fed to fattening hogs and also to brood sows and small pigs.

MENACE TO POTATO GROWING

Tip Burn Is Serious in Many Sections—Bordeaux Mixture Effective in Controlling.

Tip burn has come to be known as probably the most serious menace to the potato growing industry in this country. It became so serious in many sections that growers during the last few years gave it up. Scientists at the Iowa State college have been testing the value of bordeaux mixture for spray on potato plants, and find it the most effective agency in controlling tip burn. The average yield in field during the seven years was 25 per cent.

BARNYARD MANURE TO MAINTAIN FERTILITY

Concrete Pit Is Sure Way to Prevent Big Waste.

Many Farmers Permit Valuable Material to Lose Greater Portion of Its Elements by Failing to Give Proper Care.

A concrete manure pit is a certain means of saving a part of the millions of dollars that are wasted annually in this country from careless handling of barnyard manure. Soil fertility built up and maintained by regular application of barnyard manure will result in bountiful crops, yet the majority of farms will allow this material to lose the greater portion of its valuable fertilizing elements by improper care or lack of care.

According to the Pennsylvania experiment station the value of manure produced in one year by a horse is $31.67; that by a dairy cow $33.76. One-half of the value of manure is in the liquid, consequently every precaution should be taken to save this part. The simplest manure pit is simply a water-tight concrete box, which prevents the valuable elements of the manure from leaking away. This can be enlarged to suit requirements. For the average farm a manure pit 20 feet wide and 24 feet long with an average depth of 4 feet will take care of the storage of manure from 20 animals. It should be made with a floor sloping toward one corner, in which a cistern is located, into which the liquid manure can drain and from which it can be pumped out. One end should be open so that a spreader can be backed into the pit to facilitate the removal of the manure.

The fertility of the farms in eastern Pennsylvania, which has been preserved through long years of cropping, has been maintained through the careful utilization of all manures. The accompanying photograph shows a rather elaborate manure storage arrangement built near Narberth, Pa. It is provided with a sloping floor upon which the manure spreader can be driven to dump the manure into the pit. The opposite end is open below so that the spreader can be loaded easily. This pit is provided with a roof, which is considered good practice, as it gives the manure further protection.

BROODY FOWL POOR BREEDER

Applying Leg Bands When Putting Lazy Ones in Coop Shows Them Up at End of Season.

A method used by poultrymen to make sure that hens that go broody a number of times during a season are not used for breeders is to put a celluloid leg band on the birds each time they go broody, says the New York state agricultural college at Ithaca. It will be found that some hens go broody several times during the season while others of the same breed and strain do not stop laying at all. Those hens that have four or five bands on their legs at the end of the laying season should not be used as breeders. Most of them are not even worth saving another season as layers, the college says.

Figures collected by poultry specialists show that it costs 18 to 20 cents a month to feed a hen. A hen that averages 19 eggs a month more than pays her way, even when eggs are cheap. Those that go broody often are not profitable.

The college recommends visiting the hen house each night and putting all hens found on nests in the broody coop, leg-banding them at the same time. Here they are confined for 72 hours and fed laying mash, green feed, and plenty of water. If the broody coop is roomy and in a cool place they will soon "come out of it," the college predicts.

PLAN NOT TO DESTROY BEES

Yearly Complaint Made That Honey Gatherers Are Killed by Spraying Fruit Trees.

Every year a good many complaints are made by beekeepers all over the country that their bees are being killed by the spray applied to fruit trees.

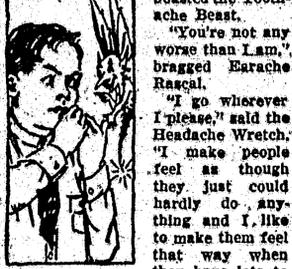

There is no need for this, if the spray is applied at the proper time. As a matter of fact, it is better for the spray to be applied at a time when it will not kill the bees from the standpoint of the fruit crop itself. The spray is best applied after a majority of the petals have fallen, say 95 per cent, and should come before the calyx lobes close. The spray is equally effective in controlling the codling moth if applied after most of the petals fall and it will not harm the bees.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE THREE WRETCHES

"I'm as mean as mean can be," said the Headache Wretch.

"You're not as mean as I am," boasted the Toothache Beast. "You're not any worse than I am," bragged Earache Rascal.

"I go wherever I please," said the Headache Wretch. "I make people feel as though they just could hardly do anything and I, like to make them feel that way when they have lots to do and when they just must keep up."

"Then I pound away. Oh, I'm a mean one, all right," said the Headache Wretch.

"That's true," said the Toothache Beast. "If you were not mean you wouldn't be a friend of mine. But still I am meaner than you are."

"Of course it is true that you're around more than I am. I take more holidays than you do. I go away a great deal more and in that way you're meaner as you are about so much."

"But when I'm around I just do things properly. I make people feel as though their heads were going to come off."

"They know their heads are not going to come off and it makes them most miserable to know that their heads are going to stay right along there with all the pain I'm giving them."

"They'd not want to lose their heads but they don't love their heads when I'm around."

"For I not only make their teeth ache. I make their faces and heads feel wretched all over."

"I jump about, too, and that makes people suffer so. Oh, many the child there has been who has cried that I've made them suffer so and many a person, too."

"But I don't care. That is my mean disposition. I jump about and play my games and sometimes I pretend that I've gone away for a little bit and then back I come and say in my tooth-aching fashion, 'Booh! I scared you! See I'm back again!'"

"Yes, that is what I say to them. 'I hate dentists. Dentists drive me away. They do away with all my games. Yes, I cannot bear dentists.'"

"But oh, it's hard to have to go to dentists—the grown-ups and the children—all dread going and that rejoices my mean tooth-aching nature."

"For they dread going, so that they put it off and put it off and then I get more chances to come around the next time I'm not busy and ready for a good time."

"Because it isn't pleasant for them to have their teeth poked at and they hate it even if it's going to drive me away for keeps or for much longer than I'd stay away otherwise."

"But some will go to dentists regularly and I don't like them. They're enemies of my ways."

"Well," said Earache Rascal, "I do my mean little stunts. I'm a friend of yours, too. I'm very apt to come around when you do."

"We all play such nice mean games together."

"Yes, we all have the same mean ways," said the Headache Wretch.

"I like to go about at night," continued Earache Rascal.

"I like to keep grown-ups and children awake. That shows how mean I am. When they're tired and want to sleep I try to keep them awake."

"That's one of my tricks, too," said the Toothache Beast.

"My favorite of all," said the Headache Wretch, "is to visit those who have to go on-doing things whether I'm there or not and it makes it so dreadfully hard for them. That's what I like."

"Oh, I'm a regular wretch without a doubt."

"And we're all such friendly wretches in our mean, mean ways," said the Toothache Beast.

"But, of course, I don't know whether you can call us really and truly friendly for any one of us wanted sympathy or kindness or help from one of the others."

"We're only friendly because we're mean together. We wouldn't do a kind thing for anyone. Not even for each other."

And then the Headache Wretch and the Toothache Beast and the Earache Rascal buzzed this horrid, grating, pounding song:

We're mean, we three, As mean as can be, And we like it that we Are as mean as can be. We like that we three, And that shows you that we Are as mean as can be!

History of Baldwin Apple.

The Department of Agriculture says that soon after 1740 the Baldwin came up as a chance seedling on the farm of John Ball Wilmington, near Lowell, Mass., and for about forty years afterward its cultivation was confined to that immediate neighborhood. Eventually the farm came into the possession of a Mr. Butters, who gave the apple the name Woodpecker or Pecker, and it was also called Butters. Deacon Samuel Thompson, a surveyor of Wolburn, brought it to the attention of Colonel Baldwin of the same town, by whom it was propagated and more widely introduced in eastern Massachusetts as early as 1784. From Colonel Baldwin's interest in the variety it came to be called the Baldwin. In 1817 the original tree was still alive, but it perished between 1817 and 1833. A monument to the Baldwin apple now marks the location.

On the Night Shift.

Nighthawks and whippoorwills work chiefly at night, when most of the other birds are off duty, and at day-break their good work is taken up by the swallows and swallows, says Nature magazine of Washington. These birds are provided with big scapnet mouths, and as they swing through the air over wide areas of country, they scoop up almost unbelievable numbers of insects. Six hundred were taken from the stomach of a single Arkansas nighthawk.

What Is Grape-Nuts?

Grape-Nuts is a highly nutritious food in the form of crisp, golden granules. It contains the full nutriment of wheat and barley, including vitamins-B and mineral elements required for building sturdy health. These elements are often lacking in the ordinary diet, chiefly through "over-refinement" in the preparation of food.

Every housewife in the Land should take advantage of this extraordinary opportunity to earn the tidy sum of $50.00 by a little pleasant and educational effort in her own home. Also the fair and equal chance to secure one of the liberal awards to be made by Good Housekeeping Institute.

No other food is so thoroughly baked as Grape-Nuts. More than 20 hours are consumed in the baking process which makes Grape-Nuts easy to digest, and also develops a natural sweetness from the grains themselves.

Moreover, there's the greater knowledge of the value of Grape-Nuts, not only as a delicious breakfast cereal, but in the preparation of a variety of appetizing dishes that add to the health and pleasure of the whole family.

ORIGIN TO SANSKRIT

Term "India" Believed to Have Been Derived Through the Greek and Early Persians.

Best authorities agree that "India" is the abstract form of a word derived through the Greek from the Persianized form of the Sanskrit "sindhu," a "river," pre-eminently the Indus. The word has become familiar since the British acquired India, and is now officially recognized in the imperial title of the sovereign. "The natives of India can scarcely be said to have a word of their own by which to express their common country," says the Encyclopedia Britannica. "In Sanskrit, it would be called 'Bharata varsha,' from Bharata, a legendary monarch of the Lunar line; but Sanskrit is no more, the vernacular of India than Latin is of Europe. "The name 'Hindustan,' which was at one time adopted by European geographers, is of Persian origin, meaning 'the land of the Indus,' or 'Afghanistan' means 'the land of the Afghans.' According to native usage, however, 'Hindustan' is limited either to that portion of the peninsula lying north of the Vindhya mountains, or yet more strictly to the upper basin of the Ganges where Hindi is the spoken language. "The 'East Indies,' as opposed to the 'West Indies,' is an old-fashioned and inaccurate phrase, dating from the dawn of maritime discovery."

WHEAT BREAD LONG IN USE

According to Tradition, the Chinese Knew of it Some Two Thousand Years Before Christ.

Henry Buckle, the great English historian, was one of the first to point out the importance of food as a vital factor in the progress of a nation. Bread has done more than all other foods combined in changing man from a savage to a civilized being. The peoples of the earth may be roughly divided into two major classes in respect to the food they eat—the rice eaters and the bread eaters. Such nations as Japan, formerly rice eaters, are becoming more and more like the western nations in the consumption of bread. Of course it is not known when bread was first used, but according to one tradition Ching-Soung taught the Chinese how to make bread from wheat more than 2,000 years B. C. Even in the time of the patriarchs both leaven and unleavened bread were staple foods among the Hebrews. Fermented bread was known at an early date among the Egyptians. The secret became known to the Greeks, who communicated it to the Romans, with the conquering legions of Rome the invention spread throughout northern Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Andrews of Capitan were visitors here on Tuesday.
