

Wool Growers Faced With Grave Conditions

In a recent letter to their consigners, Hallowell, Jones & Donald of New York, point out in a truthful and striking manner, the grave situation confronting the wool growing industry of this country. The letter in substance, follows:

"About 90 percent of this year's domestic clip is now owned by the growers, either in their possession or held by their commission agents.

"Due to the war there is a surplus of about two billion pounds of foreign wool in the world's market today.

"Shearing has started in the southern hemisphere which means that over another billion pounds of wool is shortly to be marketed.

"France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, Russia and Austria, formerly large buyers of wool, are unable to finance their purchases this year except in a very limited way.

"Owing to the difference in exchange between England and this country, wool can be imported at 30 per cent less than the price would be if exchange were normal. This means that wool can be purchased at 35c per cent in Australia which with exchange at normal would cost 50 cents.

"Owing to the exchange and the relative cheaper labor in Europe, tops, yarns and cloth can be dumped into this country from abroad at prices below those at which they can be produced by our manufacturers.

Congress meets early in December and if any legislation is to be put through to save the situation, action should be taken at once.

This firm believes that wool has dropped to a point where it would be a great injustice to the producer to allow it to go lower. We feel that it is for the best interests of the entire country that an unrestricted amount of foreign wool and woolen goods is not dumped into this country when the present market value of wool averages approximately pre-war prices.

"We urge you to consider these facts carefully and to take such action with your senators and congressmen as will protect your interests.

District Court Convenes

Judge Edwin Mechem, J. Benson Newell, and Interpreter Pedregon were on the ground Monday, the Judge opening Court in his usual business-like manner. The Grand Jury worked three days; 51 true bills were found; and five no bills. Three indictments for murder in the first degree were returned against E. G. Starkey, E. E. Starkey and P. Lutterel.

26 indictments were returned for violation of the gambling act and three for permitting minors to loiter around pool rooms. The petit jury was empanelled, and released until the re-convening of court, on Monday.

Miraculous Escape

An accident that in nine cases out of ten would have resulted in the death of two men, happened between here and Nogal last Friday. Messrs. F. W. Moller, state supervisor for the American Tobacco company and H. Scheele, district salesman, were driving for Carrizozo at an ordinary rate of speed, when the radius rods became detached from the axle of the car. In a twinkling of time, the machine had left the main road and began to somersault. Mr. Scheele, who was driving, possessed presence of mind enough to shut off the gas, otherwise, two deaths would have been recorded instead of an accident in which neither of these gentlemen were seriously injured.

But we are ahead of our story; the car made one complete somersault, righted itself and attempted to make another but failed. It turned over on its top, leaving the wheels high in the air and in this position Mr. Scheele managed to crawl out of the mass of ruins and assisted Mr. Moller from his uncomfortable position.

Both men were badly shaken up and unable to do anything but wait for a friendly car to arrive which it did, a short time after the accident. Workmen from the City Garage being the parties, they brought the injured gentlemen to Carrizozo where after an examination, no bones were found to be broken, but the shock had been so severe that both gentlemen were confined to their rooms for several days at the Carrizozo. Eating House where the kind-hearted Mrs. Gurney with her natural sympathy and courtesy to unfortunate guests, added greatly to their comfort during their convalescence. On Monday, Mr. Moller was able to go on to El Paso, but Mr. Scheele, who seems to have suffered the worst from the shock, will be here for the greater part of the week before resuming work on his route. Mr. Moller, whose home is in Albuquerque, wired his wife the day following the accident and as this was her birthday, he sent her a loving message of congratulation, forgetting his own suffering for fear of causing her to sorrow and worry. In view of the fact that the result of the accident was far from being as serious as one might suspect, the gentlemen are to be congratulated on their miraculous escape.

Commissioners Meet

The Board of County Commissioners met in special session Monday and after a canvass of the recent election, found several discrepancies which made changes favorable to some, while others suffered from the official count. The particulars of the canvass as given out by the commissioners, will be found in the official proceedings which will be published in the next issue of this paper.

Girl Scout Founder Flies Over New York

To advertise the opening of the campaign to raise $1,033,400 for the Girl Scouts, Mrs. Juliette Low, aged 70, founder of the Girl Scout movement in America, yesterday flew over New York City in a Farman biplane. The airplane started from Roosevelt Field, Mineola, L. I., and was piloted by Louis Gaubert. In the airplane with Mrs. Low was Lawrence Driggs, president of the American Flying Club. As the airplane flew over the city literature of the campaign was dropped to the streets below by Mrs. Low.

Mrs. Low said after the trip that the flight was not her first but that it had been the most enjoyable.

G. O. P. Plurality in Next House to be 176; Record Breaker

Washington, Nov. 10.—The republican plurality in the next house of congress, according to the unofficial list compiled by William Tyler Page, chief clerk, will be 176, breaking all previous records. The count shows 305 republicans, 129 democrats and one socialist. Mr. Page's list, in which the party designation is selected by each elected member, shows no independents or prohibitionists seated.

The previous record party majority in the house, Mr. Page said, was in the Sixty-third congress, elected in 1912, when the progressive party was in the field and the democrats had a plurality of 163.

Wild Life Refuge Given to Louisiana

New York, Nov. 10.—The Rockefeller foundation Saturday announced a gift to the state of Louisiana at the 85,000-acre Grand Chenir wild life refuge, purchased from individual holders in 1914 and since under supervision of the Louisiana department of conservation.

The tract, in Cameron and Vermillion parishes, Louisiana was bought as a contribution to the country's wild life preservation. In presenting it to the state the foundation divested itself of any interest in it but stipulated certain conditions to guarantee its effective maintenance as a perpetual wild life preserve. Louisiana accepted.

Attention, Master Masons!

There will be a special communication of Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., at Masonic Hall, Monday evening, November 15, for the purpose of WORK in the THIRD. All Master Masons are invited to attend.

Ellsworth-Taylor

Last Saturday evening, at 7:30, at the Baptist parsonage, occurred the marriage of Charles B. Ellsworth and Miss Robbie Taylor. The couple cleverly planned a surprise on their associates and attended the dance at Lutz hall the same evening, and throughout the entire time kept their secret from their closest friends. The fact became known the next day (Sunday) when, after receiving the congratulations of their friends, many would say: "Why didn't you say something?"

The bride is a daughter of County Commissioner R. E. Taylor, and was reared in this locality. She was born in White Oaks where she attended school until the family moved to Carrizozo. She finished her course in the Carrizozo schools and her nearest friends are her school-mates of former days. The groom has been a resident of this place for the past two years, being a mechanic in the machine shop of the Western Garage. The Ellsworths will make Carrizozo their future home and are receiving the congratulations of their friends here and at White Oaks.

The people have recovered from the effects of the recent election and have settled down to business in the same old way. We may differ in politics and lines are sometimes drawn closely, but after it is all over, WE, THE PEOPLE, are again united and ready to dare any other country to tread on the tail of our coat.

Oscar Atwood, of Atwood's Garage at Lincoln, was a Carrizozo visitor this week.

Don't Be Afraid to Cross the Culverts

The new culverts at principal street crossings are nearing completion. Contractor Nilsson has the trenches concreted and is now engaged in laying the crossings, which attracts a good amount of interest to the curious. These crossings are made first with a strong wooden frame work through which passes twisted steel bars 7-8 of an inch in thickness. When the rods are made fast at both ends, the work of concreting is done which settles around the steel bars making one of the strongest crossings that can be built. The crossing is then placed and firmly embedded in the concrete at either side and will last under all tests for the next hundred years. They are to be more expensive than most crossings, but will not have to be repaired at every change of the moon. The City Dads realize that the best and strongest, is always the cheapest in the long run. We congratulate the council on its showing of wisdom.

Memorial Service

In connection with the Prayer Day service on Sunday evening at the Methodist church, the Woman's Missionary Society has prepared a special memorial service to the late Mrs. R. T. Cribb, a beloved member, who passed away in September.

Miss DeLura Snow left last week for Lubbock, Texas, where, after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Jordan, she will return to her old home in Stephenville, Texas. Miss Snow was accompanied as far as Rowell by her two brothers, Chas. A. and Oscar Snow.

Woman's Club Musical at Ziegler Home

On Tuesday evening, the Woman's Club gave a delightful musical at the home of Mrs. Albert Ziegler. This important society is exciting a great amount of interest among our representative people along different lines, principal among which is music. This department, headed by Mrs. Ziegler, arranged a program which was highly entertaining and successful. The next regular meeting of the Club will be held at Lutz hall Friday, November 19th, at three o'clock p. m. This meeting will be of much importance from the fact that members are asked to suggest mottoes, flowers and club colors for the organization. A good attendance is urged which will be rapidly responded to, as interest increases as the Club rapidly gains in membership. The following is the program carried out Tuesday evening:

The House of Whispers

By William Johnston Illustrations by Irwin Myers

THE GASTON PEARLS.

Synopsis.—Circumstances having prevented Spalding Nelson, clerk from joining the American forces going to France, he is in a despondent mood when he receives an invitation to dinner from his great-uncle, Rufus Gaston. On the way to the house he meets, under peculiar circumstances, a young girl, apparently in trouble, to whom he has an opportunity to be of slight service. She lives in the same apartment building as Rufus Gaston, and he accompanies her to the house. Gaston and his wife are going to leave Maine for a trip and want to leave Nelson in charge of the apartment. He accepts. Gaston and his wife tell their great-nephew of mysterious noises—"whispers"—which they have heard in the house. On his way to the Gaston apartment next Sunday Nelson again meets his accidental acquaintance of a few days before, Barbara Bradford. She urges him not to allow the fact of their being acquainted to be known. The hero takes an instinctive dislike to the superintendent, Wick, of the building.

"Quite a proper precaution," I admitted.

"The elevator boy reported your arrival," he continued, "but he wasn't quite sure it was you. The fact that you were chatting with the young lady bothered him, and me, too. Mr. Gaston told me you were a stranger in the city, and I didn't expect to find you knowing one of the Bradfords."

It was on the tip of my tongue to say, "Well, you see I do know her," when I recalled her request that I would not recognize her until we had been introduced in some fashion. I contented myself with saying merely: "Well, I hope you are satisfied now."

"Of course, Mr. Nelson, of course," he answered, though his looks belied his words. Manifestly he was still puzzled over my acquaintance with Miss Bradford.

"I hope you will find it comfortable here," he said, plainly trying to continue the conversation. "If there's ever anything the matter, just call me on the house phone; Mr. Wick, the name is."

"I will," I said, and he unwillingly withdrew.

"If there's ever anything the matter—" Was there something sinister in the superintendent's parting remark? Once more the warnings of my relatives flashed into my mind. What was wrong in the house? Why did he anticipate that I might be calling him up? Why did he exhibit such an interest in me and in my acquaintance with the girl across the hall? Somehow the man's whole aspect had impressed me unfavorably.

I carried my bag back to my bedroom and unpacked it. The various attachments in the bath looked so inviting that I stripped and amused myself for half an hour testing the variety of showers and sprays provided. Donning my bathrobe I leisurely smoked an excellent cigar from a box old Rufus had thoughtfully—or perhaps thoughtlessly—left open on his desk, and then returned to the inspection of my new quarters.

As it was Sunday, I had a whole day of leisure before me, and I felt that if I was to clear up the mystery that had driven the old couple out, it was incumbent on me to make a minute study of my surroundings. Only in the little rear sitting room was there any atmosphere of hominess. All the rest of the place was done in the best department store style, even to the richly bound sets of standard authors which lined the walls of the living room, most of which I found had their pages uncut.

My search of the place—and it was thorough, extending even to the empty canisters in the pantry and kitchen—revealed nothing whatever that gave any hint as to the cause or explanation of old Rufus' fears. The place seemed the least likely of all places in the world to hide any mystery, just a great, modern, luxurious apartment, equipped with every possible device for the comfort and convenience of its occupants. It would have to be an up-to-date ghost to find itself at home here.

But wait! Perhaps the safe held some clue to the problem they wanted me to solve. But where was the safe? I had not noticed it anywhere in my repeated journeys through the rooms. I made another tour looking for it. More than likely it had been located in some inconspicuous place purposely. But where? At last I located it, behind a faded crayon portrait of Mrs. Gaston, in the little sitting room.

I lifted the picture to the floor and stood hesitant before the safe. Should I, or should I not, open it? The fact that they had given me the combination seemed to imply that I had a perfect right to inspect its contents.

As I turned the knob I repeated the combination to myself. There was a little click, and the steel door came open. Reaching in I drew forth two old-fashioned jewel cases of leather, both securely locked. I took from my pocket the keys my great-uncle had given me and toyed with them thoughtfully. Among them were two tiny keys that undoubtedly belonged to the jewel cases. Had I the right to use them? I decided that I had.

The first case I opened contained, so far as my limited knowledge of precious stones enabled me to judge, nothing but a bunch of cheap junk, bits of jewelry from another century, coral earrings that Mrs. Gaston may have worn when she was a little girl, combs of jet, amber beads, quaint hoop earrings and a ring or two, merely the trinkets of a vain old woman, treasured from the time when the money to buy them was scarce. There was nothing in the lot that any self-respecting thief would take, precious as they may have been to their owner. I locked up that case and returned it to the safe and opened the other.

As I raised the lid an involuntary exclamation of amazement and admiration escaped me. There, nestling in the center of a velvet-lined tray, lay gleaming the most wonderful mass of iridescent pearls I ever had laid eyes on, surely worth a vast fortune. Turning them over and over admiringly in the light, at last I laid them back in the tray and began to investigate the other treasures the casket contained. In other trays in the box I found diamonds galore, a great solitaire that must have been all of seven carats, dinner rings, bar pins, crescents, stars, earrings, and in a compartment all by itself, a tiara of rubies and diamonds. There was also a variety of other gems, pins and rings wrought in curious designs with rubies, diamonds, sapphires, and pearls, some uncut diamonds and loose fragments of pieces that had evidently been torn apart to add to other settings, the collection of a woman with unlimited money to spend.

With trembling hands I restored the jewels to their hiding place, twice testing the knob to make sure that the combination had set. The unexpected sight of such a vast fortune in gems had filled me with strange emotions, with thoughts so evil I hardly dared admit them to myself. There must have been nearly half a million dollars' worth of precious stones in that one casket. The Gaston pearls in themselves were a fortune.

If only they were mine! To every honest man at times come temptations as great as come to any criminal. No man knows whether or not he is honest until he has been put to the test. I knew! I was tempted, strongly tempted, to take my great aunt's jewels. What was to hinder? The old couple were to be absent for months. They had left me in charge and had given me their keys and the safe combination. There would be abundant time for disposing of the jewels before their theft was discovered. With the money they would bring I could satisfy my craving for adventure. I could travel the world over.

Yet, as I look back at it, all the time I was thinking these thoughts, I knew I would not take the jewels. A normal man cannot steal. Even when his desires lead him to theft, his mind points out the folly and his conscience the wrong.

Resolutely I put the thought of the jewels out of my head—or tried to—and stretching myself out on a couch gave myself up to pleasant reveries about my delightful new acquaintances, the girl who lived just across the hall. I pictured myself finding some way of winning her confidence and of helping her out of her mysterious trouble. And what if eventually old Rufus should make me his heir? Surely I would need a mate with whom to share the joys of having a fortune. With visions of Barbara Bradford bedecked with my great-aunt's choicest jewels, I fell asleep.

It was almost dark when I was awakened by the arrival of the expressman with my trunks. After I had received for them and had unpacked, I suddenly realized that I was hungry, for I had eaten nothing since breakfast. Hastily I donned my clothes, stopping only to count my money. With a week's salary in my pocket and no room rent to pay for several months, surely I could afford a good dinner to celebrate the change in my fortunes.

As I went out I stopped in the lower hall to chat with the telephone girl, ostensibly to ask her to take any messages for me, though I was expecting none.

"You're Mr. Nelson, ain't you?" she asked, eyeing me with curious interest.

"Yes," I replied, "Mr. Spalding Nelson. I am occupying the Gaston apartment while they are away."

A flicker of amusement crossed her face, with just the suggestion of a sneer.

"I hope you'll enjoy living here."

"Why not?" I replied carelessly. "If any one calls, say that I will be home by ten, Miss—"

"Nellie Kelly," she added.

As I chatted with her the elevator had descended again, and three persons emerged, one of them being she for a sight of whom I had been intentionally loitering. One of the two persons with her was plainly the mother and the other I took to be an older sister. She resembled Barbara strongly, but there was a world-weary look in her face, and her beauty seemed to me to be marred by a weak, sensitive, passionate mouth. But I had no eyes for her, so absorbed was I in the appearance of the girl I had met in the park. If I had thought her beautiful then, she was ravishing now. Her raven hair was piled high and caught back with a great Spanish comb. An ermine-trimmed evening coat of brocade swathed her figure, opening at the front just enough to give me a glimpse of her bared white neck. Involuntarily my hand went to my hat, but into her eyes came a naughty look and one hand went to her lips for just a second, as if she were warning me again not to recognize her. I stood there abashed as she swept by me to the waiting motor. The telephone girl's voice jarred me back to my senses.

"I thought you was a friend of the Bradfords," she said sarcastically.

"Sure he is," said the voice of Mr. Wick behind me. "Didn't you hear the boys telling me he came in twice with Miss Bradford?"

"Well, what of it?" I answered lamely and fled from the house, indignant at this open prying of the employees into my affairs, yet entirely at a loss to know how to stop it. How could I tell them I knew Barbara Bradford, when she had just cut me dead?

Feeling vaguely dissatisfied with my first day in my new home, I boarded a bus and rode downtown to a little French cafe, where my comrades and I had been accustomed to go when we were in funds. All about me were merry Sunday evening dinner parties, and I was alone. Birge and Roller had gone, and Miss Bradford had refused to recognize me. I hurried through my dinner, paid my check, and was leaving the restaurant when at a corner table I spied the scar-faced man whom I had seen in the park a few evenings before.

He looked up and caught my glance. Into his face came a strange expression, a look of malignant hate, not unmingled with fear. Boldly I returned his gaze. I was tempted to walk right up to him and ask him what he had been doing in the park, and why he had warned his mate away when he saw me there. Yet I had no right to interfere. Miss Bradford had not taken me into her confidence. I had only suspicions to go on that the two men had been there to attempt some wrong on the girl.

Slowly I left the restaurant, puzzled more than ever by the malevolent glance he had given me, and perplexed as to how I was going to serve Miss Bradford, when she would not even recognize me.

CHAPTER III.

My great-aunt's pearls were gone—stolen—vanished from the wall safe!

Still discrediting the evidence of my own eyes, I lighted a match and peered into the steel-lined recess. It was empty. On the table beside me was one of the two jewel boxes it had contained, the one filled with worthless trinkets. The other, which had contained the priceless Gaston pearls and the other rich treasure, had vanished.

Today was Saturday. Six days before I had arrived in the apartment. There had been two jewel cases then. With my own hands I had put these both back safe in their hiding place. I recalled having tested the knob to make sure that the combination had set. Yet since that time someone had opened the safe. Someone had removed the jewels. Who could it have been?

To the best of my knowledge there had been but two persons in the rooms, old Mrs. Burke, my aunt's trusted laundress, and myself. Certainly I had not taken the jewels, and it seemed absurd to suspect Mrs. Burke, who had been in Mrs. Gaston's employ for years and had long been entrusted with a key to the servants' entrance. Yet who else was there to suspect?

Recovering a little from my bewilderment I hastened to the telephone. I must notify the superintendent and also the police that the apartment had been robbed. I decided, too, that I should wire my great-uncle Rufus of the robbery, and then it dawned on me for the first time that I did not know the old couple's address. They merely had said that they were going to Maine. Never mind, there was nothing that they could do in their absence. Probably I could get their address from the superintendent, or from Mr. Gaston's bankers. The first thing to do was to notify the superintendent.

But wait! With my hand on the telephone, I stopped short. It dawned on me that in all likelihood I would be the one most under suspicion.

If detectives were called in, I could see that their first move would be to lay the theft to my door. They would investigate everything about me, and I remembered with distress that I, Spalding Nelson, just now was out of a job—and far worse, stood discredited at the only place of employment I had had in New York.

My discharge had come that very morning like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. The reason for my peremptory dismissal I had not been able to fathom. In some mysterious fashion my employer's wrath had been roused toward me. Why, I could not imagine. Certainly my life, especially since my two comrades had gone away, had been circumspect enough. Even though I was living in a seven-thousand-dollar apartment I was unemployed, all but penniless, just recently dismissed for some unexplained reason, and now more than likely to be accused or at least suspected of theft.

Yet only this very morning I had been taking an optimistic view of life. Delighted at having cut my living expenses in two, I had decided to take twenty dollars of the thirty-five I drew that day and add it to the one hundred and eighty dollars I had in the savings bank. I would mail a registered letter to my mother and reduce my indebtedness to her. On my way to business I stopped at the bank and drew out every penny I had there. It was my intention to go to the post office at lunch time to register the letter. Just before twelve, Mr. Wood, the head of the firm, had sent for me. "Mr. Nelson," he had said wrathfully, the minute I entered his office, "here is your week's salary. You will leave our employ at once."

Stunned both by his manner and his words, I gasped out something about not understanding what he meant. I know of no reason that would warrant my discharge.

"I can't put it in any plainer English, can I?" he roared at me. "Get out!"

I held my ground. "Surely I am entitled to some explanation," I protested. "If there's been anything wrong with my work—" "Your work's all right," he belittled. "It's this," he cried, waving at me a letter that had been lying on his desk. "This letter is enough. It exposes you for what you are."

Dumfounded at his amazing statement, I demanded to see the accusing document. Angrily he refused.

"You know as well as I what's in it."

In vain I protested. Every word I uttered only seemed to add to his wrath. In the end he almost hustled me out of his office. Blindly I found my way to the street, still clutching in my hand the week's pay he had rudely thrust on me.

That letter to which he referred—who could have written it? What could have been in it that had so inflamed my employer against me? I racked my brains in vain, puzzling to account for it. I had not been aware that I had an enemy in the world, yet who but an enemy could have written a letter that would have such dire effect?

The mystery of my dismissal was too great for me to solve. The one thing I felt thankful for was that it had come before I had sent off my money. At least I had two hundred and fifteen dollars in my pocket. Under my present mode of life that would last me quite a while, surely until I found another position. Well, there was nothing to do but make the best of it.

193.5 Miles an Hour Is New Airplane Record

In the city of Paris recently, Capt. de Romanet, the French aviator, in a Spad-Hispano airplane today flew one kilometer at a speed of 309 kilometers an hour (about 195.5 miles). This feat eclipsed the world's record made two weeks ago by Sadi Leconte, the winner of the recent Gordon Bennett cup race.

Massachusetts Votes For 2.75 Beer and Wine

Boston, Nov. 7.—In the referendum on 2.75 beer and wines the wets of Massachusetts won by about 19,000. With sixteen towns failing to report their vote the results as indicated would be: Yes, 436,572. No, 417,276. The vote actually tabulated, representing 1,178 of the 1,206 precincts, was; Yes, 428,341. No, 407,843.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP NATION IN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

RETURNS FROM VARIOUS STATES INDICATE GREATEST LANDSLIDE IN HISTORY FROM ALL OVER
UNITED STATES.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE ELECTED

CLAIM MADE ON 358 ELECTORAL VOTES AS RETURNS SHOW SWEEPING VOTE.

Louis Waldman and August Claessens, Socialists, who were twice expelled from the New York legislature, were re-elected. Waldman, from the Eighth Manhattan assembly district and Claessens from the Seventeenth. Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr, who also were expelled by the legislature last winter and then re-elected this fall after they had been re-elected in a special election, and who subsequently resigned, were again elected from the Third and Fourth Bronx assembly districts, respectively.

United States Senator J. W. Wadsworth, Jr., Republican, was leading was indicative of a sweeping defeat throughout the state for the Democratic-Nonpartisan League legislative ticket, and James M. Collins, Democrat and Nonpartisan League indorsee, for governor.

Republican leaders believed the outcome in Denver was indicative of the result throughout the state, and they had the early returns, giving strong Republican majorities, to support their contention.

Gov. Oliver H. Shoup was running ahead of the presidential electors in the first precincts heard from outside of Denver's 211, and Republican state

New York, Nov. 3.—New York state rolled up the staggering plurality of approximately 1,100,000 for Harding and Coolidge. The city of New York, for years a Democratic hotbed, was even more surprising. The city went for Taft in 1908 by less than 10,000; it seems to have given Harding about 440,000 plurality. Harding carried every borough in the city and just about every locality in the entire state. The sweep of the Republicans was undreamed of.

With actual returns far from complete Harding was certain of 275 votes in the electoral college from the following states: Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The states from which the returns were too meager to justify actually placing them in either the Harding or Cox column were: Arizona, 3; California, 13; Colorado, 6; Indiana, 15; Kentucky, 13; Maryland, 8; Minnesota, 12; Missouri, 13; Montana, 4; Nevada, 3; New Mexico, 3; North Dakota, 5; South Dakota, 3; Utah, 4; and West Virginia, 3. Total, 150 votes.

The states which are certain for Cox are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Total, 150 votes in the electoral college.

Chicago.—Harding and Coolidge were swept into office in the presidential election by the greatest landslide in political annals.

With 25,000,000 or more Americans participating in the "great and solemn" referendum on the League of Nations issue, decreed by President Wilson, the Democratic candidates, Cox and Roosevelt, champions of the Wilson league, were buried beneath an avalanche of unprecedented pluralities from coast to coast.

The "silent vote," on which the Democratic managers relied for the election of Cox, was cast overwhelmingly for Harding.

Governor Cox's newspaper, The Dayton (Ohio) News, conceded the election of Harding. Democratic National Chairman White has conceded the defeat of Cox and the election of a Republican Senate and House.

Incomplete returns at the hour of going to press indicated that Harding had won not less than 338 of the 531 votes in the electoral college, on which basis he would have a majority of 183 over Cox. This breaks the record of the Republican landslide of 1904, which gave Theodore Roosevelt an electoral college majority of 159 over Parker.

Illinois smashed all records in these parts by sending Harding over the line with something like 700,000 or 800,000 more votes than Cox. The Harding plurality in Chicago alone, where the Democrats are stronger than in the state, is in excess of 300,000. On the basis of one-fourth of the returns, it looked as if Cook county would give Harding a lead of 300,000 or more.

Pennsylvania delivered a Republican plurality conservatively estimated at 750,000. Returns from Massachusetts indicated that the Bay state had indorsed Harding to the tune of at least 300,000 plurality, while Governor Coolidge estimated that it would not be less than 400,000 when the figures were complete.

Massachusetts furnished the most impressive spectacle of Democratic defection in the country. The Democratic party in that state, which is 90 per cent Irish, was practically wiped out, the Irish element lining up with Harding because of bitter opposition to the League of Nations.

"Ohio, the mother of presidents," making a choice between her two favorite sons, handed the palm to Harding, with the compliments of some 200,000 of his fellow citizens in excess of those who voted for Cox.

New York.—With the possible exception of the contest for the governorship, which still is in doubt, Republicans apparently have made a clean sweep in New York state.

Returns from 6,155 out of 7,308 districts in New York state give: Cox, 667,437; Harding, 1,616,918, a plurality of 949,481 for Harding.

Returns from 5,503 districts out of 7,308 give Harding 1,406,904; Cox, 648,443. If this ratio is maintained in the missing districts, Senator Harding will carry the state by the unprecedented plurality of 1,126,000 over Governor Cox.

his Democratic opponent, Lieut. Gov. Harry C. Walker, by 147,185 votes in the complete returns from 1,418 of the 4,578 districts upstate. No New York city returns for United States senator had been tabulated at 10 o'clock.

San Francisco.—An apparently safe majority for Senator Harding the outcome of the United States senatorial contest still doubtful and the anti-alien land amendment seemingly adopted were indicated in California returns compiled.

For president, 1,637 precincts out of 3,154 in the state gave Senator Harding a lead of 123,071 votes over Governor Cox. The vote was: Cox, 63,062; Harding, 103,733.

Returns from only 929 precincts had been tabulated in the senatorial contest. These gave Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican, 53,225. Senator James J. Phelan, Democrat incumbent, 47,207.

Supporters of Senator Phelan asserted that his chances for re-election were still excellent, as only seventeen of San Francisco's 771 precincts were included in the total. San Francisco was regarded as a Phelan stronghold.

The California anti-alien land amendment, which has been the subject of diplomatic exchanges between the United States and Japan, had a lead of slightly more than two and one-half to one.

The vote from 533 precincts was: For adoption, 19,225; against, 7,114.

Shoup Re-Elected.

On the face of returns early this morning, Colorado has returned a Republican majority in virtually every one of the sixty-three counties of the state, which indicates that out of a probable vote of 308,000 the party will register a victory for the entire ticket by more than 30,000.

Complete returns, including seventy-eight in Denver, gave: Harding, 59,700; Cox, 31,658; Nicholson, for United States senator, 53,308; Scott, 35,323; Thomas, 5,211; governor, Shoup, 59,700; Collins, 50,122. It appeared probable that Governor Shoup would run ahead of the national ticket in the final returns for the whole state.

Republican leaders were confident that the 2-to-1 victory for the Republican legislative ticket in Denver headquarters believed he would carry the state by a majority of 85,000 to 50,000.

Arizona Close.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Senator Harding was leading Governor Cox for the presidency by a narrow margin in early returns from the election in Arizona. Governor Campbell, Republican, was leading Mitt Sims, Democrat, for the governorship, but Senator Marcus A. Smith, Democrat, had a slight lead over his Republican opponent, Ralph Cameron, for United States senator.

New Mexico in Doubt.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Eighteen precincts in New Mexico out of 678 give: Harding, 2,048; Cox, 2,834. For Congress: Montag (R), 2,048; Lucero (D), 2,837. For governor: Mecham (R), 2,042; Hanna (D), 2,800.

Wyoming Republican.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Ninety-three precincts of 625 in Wyoming give: Harding, 3,506; Cox, 1,488. For United States representative sixty-three precincts show: Mondell (R), 2,241; Fowler (D), 1,029.

Concede Harding Election.

New York.—George L. White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has conceded the election of Senator Harding.

Mr. White also conceded the election of a Republican Congress.

The following statement was issued by Mr. White:

"The abandonment by some of the most prominent Republican leaders of the very League of Nations which they helped to construct has been successful. The people have succumbed to the confusion wrought by these distinguished men and to the misrepresentation of those who would not and did not understand the League of Nations.

"I hope it may yet be rescued from the political morass and be saved to mankind.

"No one has any occasion for bitterness or of recrimination. What the whole people decide, the whole people must accept."

FAINTING AND DIZZY SPELLS

The Cause of such Symptoms and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite and had fainting spells. I suffered for two or three years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little books. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy. I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it. I am glad to help others all I can."—Mrs. R. E. DEMING, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extractives of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Don't Neglect Your Skin

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than all the beauty treatments in creation. An imperfect complexion is caused by a sluggish liver.

Don't Go From Bad to Worse!

Are you always weak, miserable and half-sick? Then it's time you found out what is wrong. Kidney weakness causes much suffering from backache, lameness, stiffness and rheumatic pains, and if neglected, brings danger of serious troubles—dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Don't delay. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

A Colorado Case
Mrs. Fred Anderson, 115 W. Marengo Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I suffered from kidney disorder and could barely straighten my back after washing because it was painful and lame. I thought the top of my head was coming off with headaches. A neighbor told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and nothing else helped me. I bought a box and they cured me."

Another Royal Suggestion
PIES and PASTRIES
From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

THERE is no further reason for worrying about table variety. The New Royal Cook Book gives new suggestions for every meal every day. The book is so full of surprises there should never be another dull meal in the home.

Custard Pie
1 cup pastry flour
1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
cold water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add one-half shortening and rub in lightly with fingers; add water slowly until of right consistency to roll out. Roll out very thin; put on in small pieces remaining shortening; fold upper and lower edges in to center; fold sides in to center; fold sides in to center again; roll out thin and put on pie plate.

Custard
3 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cups scalded milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Beat eggs, add sugar, salt, flavoring and milk very slowly. Line pie plate with paste made as above, and bake in very hot oven about 10 minutes. Pour custard into the baked crust and bake in moderate oven about 25 minutes. The pie is done when a knife put in center of custard comes out dry.

Cocunut Pie is made the same way, adding 1 cup of shredded cocunut, and using only 2 eggs.

RAILWAYS COST U.S. $656,000,000

PRIVATE OPERATION OF RAILROADS FIRST SIX MONTHS RUN AT HEAVY LOSS.

DEFICIT $206,000,000

U. S. PAYS RAILROADS $450,000,000, PROVIDED IN TRANSPORTATION GUARANTEE.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Private operation of the railroads for the first six months after the end of federal control will cost the federal government a total of $656,000,000, according to figures made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The railroads sustained a net deficit of $206,000,000 during the six months' period and besides this sum the treasury must pay them $450,000,000, the amount of the guarantee provided in the transportation act.

Part of the deficit is charged to increased pay granted to the railroad workers by the railroad labor board.

Operating revenues of the roads for August, according to the commission's figures, increased by only about $83,000,000 as compared with August of 1919, while operating expenses advanced more than $300,000,000.

The net revenue from operations for August, 1919, was $112,000,000, compared with a deficit of nearly $124,000,000 for the month this year.

To this deficit is added tax accruals of $25,000,000, and debts to equipment and joint facility rents of more than $5,000,000, leaving a net loss for the month of more than $155,000,000. The net operating income for the same month last year was $92,000,000.

The August expenses, however, included increased wage accruals of $70,000,000, and war taxes amounting to more than $3,000,000.

For the eight months ended with August, operating revenues amounted to $3,822,000,000, compared with $3,233,000,000 in 1919 while operating expenses amounted to $3,763,000,000 for the first eight months last year.

The Western district showed the highest net operating income for the eight months with $13,000,000 compared with $163,000,000 for the first eight months last year and the Southern district was next with a net operating income for the period of $2,000,000 as against $30,000,000 for the corresponding period the year before.

The Eastern district operated at a loss of $176,000,000 for the first eight months of the year compared with a net income of $113,000,000 for the same months last year, while the Pocatello district showed a net income of $3,000,000 against $10,000,000 for the first eight months of 1919.

Haywood Asks Rehearing.

Chicago.—A rehearing in the cases of William Haywood and other I. W. W. was asked in a petition filed in the Circuit Court of Appeals. In an opinion given by the same court some time ago, the original sentence imposed by Federal Judge Landis was upheld. The petition alleges errors were made in the first hearing.

To Investigate "Slush Fund."

Little Rock, Ark.—United States District Judge Jacob Trieber instructed the federal grand jury to bring indictments against all corporations in the district found to have contributed to political campaign funds. Such contributions, he declared, constituted violation of federal statutes.

Will Spend $12,000,000 on D. & R. G.

New York.—Formal announcement of plans of the Western Pacific Railroad corporation to take over the Denver & Rio Grande railway was contained in a letter to stockholders sent out by Alvin U. Kreck, president of the Western Pacific. The plans contemplate expenditures of $12,000,000 on the Denver & Rio Grande, subject to the scaling down of the railway's indebtedness. A meeting of the stockholders will be held in Wilmington, Del., Nov. 18, to vote on a proposed increase in the company's capital stock from 273,000 shares of preferred stock to 400,000 shares, and from 475,000 shares of common stock to 600,000.

Killed Over Ballot Box.

San Antonio, Texas.—Louis S. Campbell is dead and A. J. Saunders is under bond on a charge of murder as the result of a quarrel as to who should serve as presiding judge of an election precinct in the southern part of Bexar county, Texas. Both are well-known Texans and pioneer settlers. Campbell was shot through the heart when he is said to have sought to gain possession of the ballot box.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

A porous plaster is often a great drawback to an enterprising man.

USE "DIAMOND DYES"

Dye right! Don't risk your material in a poor dye. Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can diamond-dye a new, rich, fadeless color into old garments, draperies, coverings, everything, whether wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Buy "Diamond Dyes" — no other kind—then perfect results are guaranteed. Druggist has "Diamond Dyes Color Card"—16 rich colors Adv

If a man is unusually polite a woman is apt to be suspicious of him.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, back-aches, headaches and dizzy spells.

Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-round tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for general weakness and when run-down and suffering with nervousness, and can truthfully say it has done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken, and I find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets very good to regulate the system. They aid very much in keeping a person in a good healthy state."—Mrs. AMELIA THORN, 4204 John Avenue

MADE THE BREAK COMPLETE HARD TO LIVE UP TO THESE

No Possible Question of a Future Reconciliation Between Mabel and Her Former Fiance.

"I am glad I broke my engagement with Tom," Mabel observed indignantly. "He's no real gentleman."

"Why, I have always thought him one," Tess commented in surprise. "What has he done?"

"Well, I sent him back his presents—that is, all except the diamond ring and a few other things that I thought I was really entitled to, considering how many times he had taken dinner at our house and all, and asked him to return mine."

"Well, did he refuse?"

"He did not. He not only sent back a box of cigars, unopened, and a pen wiper and a knit necktie, but he sent also five boxes of face powder, saying that he estimated that to be about the quantity he had taken away on his coat during the time we were engaged."

Speakers Would Do Well Indeed if They Matched the Work Credited to the Painters.

John Brookbank, commander-in-chief of the 330 Richmond business men who are soliciting money for the $500,000 endowment of Earlham college, was speaking to the men at the daily noon luncheon held in the basement of the Graco M. F. church. He was congratulating them on their good work and exhorting them to greater efforts in the future. He said:

"To gain success in this enterprise, as in any, we must make it real and lifelike. . . something that people can see in worth while and vital and living. Why, we must do as good as the painter who drew a picture of a cat so lifelike that ten minutes after he hung it on the wall there were fleas on it."

President Edwards arose and said: "Or we must do as well as the other painter who drew a picture of a hen. This painter threw the drawing of the hen in the waste basket, but it was so life-like that it just lay there."—Indianapolis News.

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which everyone is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young. A Call to Duty

Washington, Nov. 10.—"The Republicans of the country will be guilty of self-delusion from which they will later suffer if they look upon the result of the recent election as a party victory," declares the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued today through the president of that organization, Hon. Jonathar Bourne, Jr. "It is a party victory only in the sense that Republicans will be restored to control of both the legislative and the executive branches of the government, but an analysis of public sentiment as manifested in political discussion leads to the conviction that the course pursued by the voters in marking their ballots was determined by their dissatisfaction with the Democratic party and its administration of the affairs of the government, rather than by implicit confidence in the Republican organization. More than ever before in its history the Republican party is now on trial before the country.

"The situation which confronts the United States is a critical one. By many it is believed to be one of the most critical in our history. However that may be, none will gain say the assertion that the problems which confront the nation are not only most difficult but most pressing.

"For eight years we have had an administration of watchful waiting, of surrender to foreign rivals, of internationalism rather than Americanism, of personal government rather than government by law, of extravagance and inefficiency rather than economy and high standards of public service.

"We are assured by the successful Republican nominees that they propose a return to the government of the constitution, a representative government with each of the three co-ordinate branches exercising its own functions in co-operation with but not subjection to the others. We are assured that there will be conference by the head of the administrative branch of the government not only with members of Congress but with citizens everywhere who are in a position to render valuable advice and assistance. The problems of the day are not, therefore, for solution by the President and by Congress alone, but all citizens are invited to perform their duty as such by making such suggestions as they can to aid in that reconstruction process through which the government will encourage individual initiative, build up a permanent industrial prosperity on a solid

The Turning of The Trade Scale

Had it not been for our trade with Europe during the eight months ended August 31, 1920, the trade balance against us for that period would have been $603,000,000. Excluding our trade with the European Division, we exported to the rest of the world during that eight months period $2,493,000,000 worth of our goods, and imported from the rest of the world $3,096,000,000 worth of goods; thus the balance of our trade outside Europe is running against us at the rate of over $75,000,000 a month under the present tariff law.

Europe is still buying from us an enormous amount of raw materials and machinery, etc., with which she is entering into the struggle for commercial supremacy in other fields, while already her sales to us are 63 per cent greater than they were during the eight months period ended August 31, 1913, under the Republican protective policy. Imports for the eight months ended August last, from Europe, totaled nearly $900,000,000 in value, compared with $553,000,000 for the 1913 period. On the other hand, our exports to Europe, compared with the eight months ended Aug. 1919, show a falling off of $511,000,000. Germany, which was late in getting in as purchaser of American raw materials, increased her purchases from us over the 1919 period by $143,000,000. Had it not been for our increased sales to her, the exports to Europe would have decreased $654,000,000. Among the European nations which are still buying heavily from us, but whose purchases are smaller than for the 1919 period, are Belgium, $205,000,000, a decrease of $50,000,000; France, $452,000,000, a decrease of $187,000,000; Italy, $248,000,000, a decrease of $53,000,000; and the United Kingdom $1,258,000,000, a decrease of $220,000,000.

Our trade with the Asiatic Division runs heavily against us in point of balance, exports to Asia totaling $591,000,000, and imports from Asia, $931,000,000, a difference in favor of the Orientals of $390,000,000. China, Japan, and the East Indies score heavily in the balancing of accounts. While the question of admitting Orientals is agitating the west, their products are pouring in as never before.

President - Elect Harding recently made some observations on our dwindling trade with South America, which will be his policy to encourage and foster. The Administration attempted to discredit his statement, but the official figures issued by the Department of Commerce, contained in the monthly summary for August, uphold him. Exports to South America during the first eight months of the current year totaled $377,000,000, imports from, $575,000,000, a balance of $198,000,000 in favor of the South Americans, divided mainly between Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and Peru. In May we exported $58,000,000 worth of goods to this division, decreasing to $46,000,000 in August.

Now for Hard Work

To the New York Herald: Harding is elected, thanks to the sanity of America, always dependable in a crisis. Let us, however, realize that the great majority given to Harding and Coolidge represents the desires on the part of millions for immediate action—after March 4, 1921—in all things tending to place this country on a sound basis, financially and socially. Let us make no mistake in this hour of exaltation by supposing that there is not great need for hard work and serious thinking by the great minds of this country as regards all those vital subjects affecting the welfare of all. Let us hope that the Cabinet to be appointed by Mr. Harding will be representative of the very best character and brains, men of wisdom, men interested in the welfare of those striving to make an honest living as well as to receive the reasonable comforts of life. The work of the Republican party during the next four years will make or mar. It is my hope that the Republican banner to be unfurled on March 4, 1921, will have as its inscriptions "Onward forever with the things that are right;" "Justice to all, rich or poor;" "An abiding faith in human nature."

Carrizozo School Notes

(By Supt. E. E. Cole)

We have been advertising a demonstration of our physics apparatus for Friday night of this week, but shall have to postpone it till Friday night of next week. This is on account of the entertainment by the Montague Light Opera Singers, next Friday night, at the Crystal Theatre. The entertainments furnished by the Lyceum cannot, of course, be put off. However, on Friday, the 19th of November, we shall have our high school entertainment, and nothing shall prevent it. So remember the date.

The present enrollment of the Carrizozo schools is 352. The rooms are nearly full and we are having trouble finding seats for the pupils. We made a liberal estimate, at the beginning of the school year, and thought we had seats for all the pupils who would be in school during the year. Already we have had to add three whole rows of seats in three of the middle grades. The Senior High School is 50% larger than at the same time last year.

We urge parents and friends of the pupils to visit the schools at any time. You will find the rooms in good order, teachers earnest and attending to business, pupils quiet, orderly and working. When Assistant State Superintendent of Schools, Mr. John V. Conway, visited our schools last week he pronounced everything in first class condition. Visit the schools and you will know what you are talking about if you wish to praise or to criticize them. We believe they are in good order, with both pupils and teachers working hard.

Armistice Day was observed by the upper grades in the high school room. At fifteen minutes of eleven, Mr. Brickley, local commander of the American Legion, at the invitation of Superintendent Cole, addressed the students, and at eleven o'clock all stood at attention, facing the west for one minute. We were all glad to thus honor those who gave up their lives, health and strength in the late war. Mr. Brickley made a fine address to the students and we wish to further express our appreciation in this public way.

The following is the program for Friday, November 12, in the high school:

Call to Order	President.
Reading of Minutes	Secretary.
Critic's Report of the Last Meeting	Lois Jones.
Business Meeting	School.
Song, "O, Fair New Mexico,"	School.
Parliamentary Talk,	Will Johnson.
Current Events,	William Kahler.

Reading,	Kastler Taylor.
Debate, Jeannette Johnson, Vene McDonald, Herndon Reily, Clair Adams.
Vocal Solo,	Leora Taylor.

STATE SCHOOL OFFICIALS VISIT LINCOLN COUNTY

Our visit on through the county was as follows: Lincoln, Tinnie, Hondo, Picacho and San Patricio.

The school at Lincoln four years ago consisted of a one teacher school. Now under consolidation we find a five teacher school, consisting of the various grade and the first year high school with a college graduate in charge and full credit will be given for this work. The corps of teachers is all that could be desired. A new building is in progress, which will be a splendid addition. Two transportation routes are busy transporting children from former districts 18 and 27. Messrs. A. C. Hulbert and Fred Pfingston, truck owners, have charge of the transportation.

The school at Hondo was found to be in splendid condition. The children awake to the necessity of an education and competent teachers ready and willing to assist in obtaining same.

The school building at Tinnie was found to be neat and sanitary. Each child seems to have a special aim in his work.

The school at Picacho is making its mark in school statistics. The Attendance Banner for September was won by Mr. Wilfret's room with an average attendance of 98%. Mrs. Ruth Wilfret's room is winner for October. Picacho has a transportation route from the Sunset Ranch community. Mr. Perfecto, owner of hack, transports children.

At San Patricio we found the school overflowing. The bonds voted last spring were not sold as no bids were received, but better things are coming. The transportation of 55 children from former School District No. 10 is carried on by Clifford Curry, owner of the truck. Consolidation is a move in the right direction and we hope next year to have better school building and adequate transportation facilities.

Friday was spent visiting the three buildings in Carrizozo. The various rooms were sanitary and attractive and every teacher was taking his job as a tonic and not as an anaesthetic. Supt. Cole is very efficient and has been very fortunate in the selection of his co-workers. The school board desires to make Carrizozo schools second to none.

Owing to business, Mr. Conway was not able to finish the survey at this time, but will return at some future date.

An epidemic of diphtheria has made its appearance in Ancho. It was found necessary to close the school for a time. Everything possible is being done to allay the disease and prevent its spreading to other communities. A strict quarantine is being maintained and any one breaking same will be properly punished.

The State Teachers' Association meets at Albuquerque, Nov. 20 to 24th inclusive. An excellent program has been prepared by the executive committee and every teacher is urged to attend and reap the benefit of this splendid program. Special services in churches Sunday. Rates of one and one third fare for round trip have been secured. Hotel accommodations may be secured by writing Mr. John Milne, Secretary of the Association or the Chamber of Commerce, Albuquerque, N. M.

Corona Notes

One of the biggest jokes that has ever been pulled off in these parts happened on Halloween. A certain couple that have been engaged for some time here made a mysterious trip to Carrizozo Sunday. On their return, they hinted that they were married. As news of that kind spreads it was not long till it was all over town. A party of our leading citizens decided the proper thing to do was to "shivaree" them. The crowd gathered them together, and after riding them all over town on the running gears of a wagon, they took it good-naturdley as "married people" should. They are still figuring on who the joke is on. We don't know, but think that the town people are the ones who were "sold."

Quite a number of the town people were called to Carrizozo on the juries and other cases.

J. H. Shelton came in Tuesday from Mosquero, where he has been for the past three weeks in the employ of the E. P. & S. W. He will be with us about three or four days before he starts out again.

Wm. Latta returned from Oklahoma, where he has been employed the past year.

We had one of the best dances here last week; had Ferguson's Jazz Band (from Carrizozo, of course), and the people did "stop

J. W. Patterson, 73, native of Miller county, Arkansas, reputed to be the tallest man in the United States, died at his home in Bloomburg. He was 7 feet 5 inches in height.

Six are known to have been killed and fifteen injured in the wreck of the Pacific Overland No. 102 near Yermo, Calif., according to a message received from Las Vegas, Nev.

Allen Charlton, prominent Dallas attorney, was acquitted of the charge of murder by a jury in connection with the shooting to death last June 23 of Charles Eubank, Dallas business man.

Reports were received at Southern Pacific Railway offices at San Francisco that a Pullman porter was killed and two passengers injured in a collision of two sections of a Southern Pacific train at Coram, northern California. The train was en route from San Francisco to Portland, Ore.

A stockmen's co-operative selling agency has been launched at Fort Worth, Texas, with the appointment of Ralph Harris of San Angelo, chairman of the organization committee, by President Turney of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association. The agency will buy and sell all cattle raised by members of the association. The action was taken, President Turney said, because of "increased prices asked by commission firms."

A submarine chaser rescued Navy Lieut. T. Garnette, four seamen and five muscians on the open sea off Oceanside, forty miles north of San Diego, after the party had spent a night adrift in a crippled seaplane, while submarine chasers searched up and down the coast for them. The plane left San Pedro to bring the muscians to a dance at the North Island naval air station. Engine trouble forced the machine to alight at sea.

Clyde W. Ryder, 20 years of age, a former lieutenant in the British air service, credited with having brought down twenty-one enemy planes, is dead as a result of injuries received near Wells, Nev., in a railroad accident. Ryder was a Southern Pacific fireman. As the train climbed the Pequot grade, the slide rods of the engine became disconnected. In the confusion following the accident, Ryder leaped from the cab, striking upon a pile of rocks.

WASHINGTON

Fewer persons were killed on railroads during 1919 than in any year since 1898 and fewer were injured than in any year since 1910, said a statement issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Recruits for the regular army continue to flock in at record-breaking rates, Adjutant General Harris' offices announced, and 17,625 enlistments accepted during October broke all peacetime records for the month. A notable matter in connection with the record, it was said, was the fact that 68 per cent of the month's enlistments were for the full three-year period. The total strength of the army is now 208,781 officers and men, of which 153,486 are in the United States.

For the first time in more than five years, the international bridges between El Paso, Texas, and Juarez, Mexico, are unguarded by United States troops. The removal of the troops, it was explained at military headquarters, is due to the restoration of peaceful conditions in Mexico which make their presence no longer necessary.

Further increases in freight charges will be opposed by the packers and other shippers. This was made known when the Institute of American Meat Packers and other shippers' organizations filed protests with the Interstate Commerce Commission against new demurrage rates which the carriers have filed and which would become effective Dec. 1.

E. L. Rice, a patent attorney of Washington, filed a damage suit against Secretary of War Baker and a number of officials of the War Department, seeking damages of more than $102,000,000. Rice, in his declaration, alleges a conspiracy on the part of the War Department officials in connection with the use of certain patents in the manufacture of airplanes.

Bombs dropped by Polish aviators over the town of Vilkomir, forty-five miles northeast of Kovno, Lithuania, have killed or wounded a large number of persons, says a dispatch from Kovno.

The bull fighters throughout Spain are considering concerted action with the object of obtaining higher pay. They also desire new rules regarding the manner in which bulls are admitted to the ring.

Fifty thousand refugees fleeing before the advance of the Russian Bolsheviks in northern Crimea are attempting to find ships to take them to Constantinople. Allies' representatives here, however, have advised Sebastopol that there is no room in Constantinople for them.

Alfred Cocchi, charged with murder of Ruth Cruger, whose body was found buried in the cellar under his shop in Brooklyn several months after he fled to Italy, was convicted of murder. He was sentenced to twenty-seven years, four months and three days by the court in Bologna, Italy.

Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik minister of war, who is directing the regrouping of the Red troops in the south, has visited points along the Dnieper front. It was he who ordered the concentrated effort which resulted in the evacuation of Alexandrovsk by the forces of General Wrangel.

Canadian highways aggregate $5,000 miles, according to figures presented by a government report, and the land appropriated for their construction and improvement is valued at $750,000,000. For every mile the public travels on railways, it is estimated, it travels two miles on highways. Canada has expended $20,000,000 on highways in the last five years.

The Mexican government has succeeded in effecting a settlement with the British government of the claims for the murder of William S. Benton, a British subject, who was murdered Feb. 17, 1914, by Francisco Villa or his agents, near Juarez. The settlement consists of the payment of $10,000 cash to Benton's widow, a Mexican woman, and a daily stipend of $250 as long as she remains a widow.

A serious mutiny occurred in Moscow a few days ago, according to travelers who have arrived in Riga, Latvia, says the Politiken. The trouble commenced, the travelers report, among Bolshevik soldiers in the suburb of Khodynka, who refused to proceed to the front unless supplied with new equipment. Civilians sided with the troops and there was considerable disorder in the barracks and adjoining streets.

Within two years after the armistice, France has practically remade the vast area of her agricultural soil which was plowed and scarred beyond usefulness by the ravages of war. Figures received by the French commission in New York show that out of 7,000,000 acres which were rendered unfit for cultivation by the effects of battle from 1914 to 1918, only 250,000 acres will not be in condition to permit of sowing next spring.

Cocoa and chocolate wholesale prices dropped 4 to 7 cents a pound recently, following the downward trend of coffee and tea, local manufacturers announced at Montreal.

Isaac E. Ferguson, Chicago lawyer, and Charles E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland, were convicted of criminal anarchy by a jury in Supreme Court of New York. Justice Weeks immediately sentenced them to state's prison for terms of from five to ten years each.

The accident in the engine room of the French line steamer France, resulting in the death of ten of her crew soon after the vessel left Havre, Oct. 26, was caused by the bursting of an eight-inch high pressure steam pipe, officers of the ship said on her arrival at New York.

Convicted in Federal Court on charges of profiteering in sugar and dealing in it without a license, Luther Ellison of Jonesboro, Ark., was sentenced to two years at Fort Leavenworth and fined $5,000.

The World Film Corporation must pay Kitty Gordon $1,531 for injuries received in making a war film, according to a decision by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of New York. Miss Gordon was the heroine in the defendant's pictures which showed a battle in "No Man's Land." Her leg and arm were burned by bombs exploded to make the scene realistic during her rescue of a fallen man.

An unusual case was disclosed at La Crosse, Wis., by Deputy State Fire Marshal L. M. Shearer, who announced Mrs. Helen Blesen of Brinkmanridge had told him she had kept John G. Beier, a farmhand, concealed for four months in a closet at her home. His presence was discovered by her husband, Nicholas Blesen, who was found dead, the top of his head blown off by a shotgun, Aug. 26. She said Beier had told her he killed her husband, according to Shearer.

Two blocks in east Clovis, N. Mex., will be purchased and fenced for an athletic field for the city, if the present plans of the board of education are carried out. The site is about ten blocks from the main street and is 300 by 600 feet, comprising space enough for football, baseball and possibly a small track.

On the eighth of May, prohibition officers raided the residence of Elias May at Tucumcari, N. Mex., and seized nine cases of whisky. Mr. May claimed it was unlawful and took it to federal court. He was recently granted a permit by the court to move the whisky from the postoffice back to his residence for his own use.

Governor Campbell of Arizona granted a requisition for extradition to California of Nathan Robinson, who also was said to have used the name of John Myers to stand trial in San Francisco on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Nelson S. Dunning. Robinson was arrested at Nogales, Arizona.

Farris Kelly, Phoenix, pleaded guilty before a United States commissioner at Phoenix to a charge of wearing the uniform of the United States army without authority to do so and without being a member of the army. He was held to answer to the United States District Court and was committed to the county jail on failure to furnish bond of $250.

According to Enrique Alvarado, business man of Hermosillo, Sonora, and at one time state treasurer of Sonora, who is in Bisbee, Ariz., the people of that state are preparing a petition to be presented to Governor Borquez, asking the chief executive to convene the state congress in special session to consider the matter of statewide prohibition in Sonora.

A cavalry unit for the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. Mex., is now assured, according to a report of Col. J. W. Wilson, who has been in touch with the War Department regarding the organization for some time. Indications are that the government will send the horses about the first of the year and that men from the regular army will be sent to the school to train the cadets.

Seven bond issues for city improvements, totaling $1,040,000, were authorized by the city commission of Phoenix by adoption of an ordinance and will be voted on by the taxpayers of Phoenix at a special election to be held Nov. 27. The date was first erroneously reported as October 27. The bond issues varying in amounts from $40,000 for a state armory to $450,000 for extensions and improvements in the city water system and include $150,000 for an addition to the city hall.

REPUBLICANS INSURE ECONOMICAL CONDUCT

Washington.—Not one man in ten thousand realized the enormous expenses run up by the present Government. The disbursements are roughly $15,000,000 a day, more than a year after the war.

The same party that has swollen them returned to power will never reduce them, because it claims the government is being economically administered.

WM. J. BRYAN SAYS FILIPINO WON THE HONORS

(In a closed, copyrighted article written from the Democratic convention hall at San Francisco for the International News Service, William J. Bryan said the following remarkable things in June 1920.)

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN. The greatest personal victory yet won in this Democratic convention was scored by a young Filipino by the name of Jose P. Misonovic.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES

The University of Santo Tomas is 20 years older than Harvard.

The Filipino people number 30,350,000, of which 9,000,000 are Christians, and only 2 per cent non-Christians.

They have been Christians for 300 years and have a culture and refinement that will compare very favorably with that of other nations.

There are only 6,634 Japanese in the Philippines. There are about 100,000 Japanese in California alone, or 15 times as many as in the entire Philippine archipelago.

English is taught exclusively in the Philippine public schools. Two million natives now speak English fluently, and there are 700,000 English speaking children in the public schools.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over ten years of age, according to a census just completed, are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain and higher than that of any of the new republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.

The Filipino people are unanimous in their desire for independence. Whenever they are called upon to deposit their ballots they have always ratified this aspiration.

A special delegation of Filipinos, officially representing the Filipino people, at National conventions, seeking an endorsement of the Filipino desire for independence in the two platforms.

First.—That the American Declaration of Independence declares that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

When one of the committee asked him some questions he returned to the platform and answered them with as much logic and precision as if he had taken weeks to prepare his answer.

Proclamation By The Governor

[In Substance] Executive Office, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

As the year approaches to the end, and as we look back to the days that have gone by and compare our condition as a nation with that of other countries, our thoughts in grateful reverence naturally turn to that gracious Providence that has so signally singled us out among all other peoples.

Following, therefore, the pious and Christian example set by our elders, I, O. A. Larrazolo, Governor of the State of New Mexico, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 23rd day of the present month of November, A. D. 1920, as THANKSGIVING DAY. I hereby respectfully call upon the ministers of the Gospel of all religious denominations to have special services on that day, and invite the people of our state to meet in their respective places of worship, and in the privacy of their homes, and there, in grateful remembrance of all the blessings that we have received, thank the Great Ruler of the Universe for all the benefits that we have received from His hand during the present year, and pray to Him that He may graciously continue to dispense His choicest blessings upon our country in the future.

Done at the Executive Office, in the City of Santa Fe, State of New Mexico, this 19th day of November, A. D. 1920. Witness my hand and the great seal of the State of New Mexico.

O. A. LARRAZOLO, Governor.

MANUEL MARTINEZ, Secretary of State.

MATRO LEJAN, Asst. Secretary of State.
