There's no place like Home

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Home is a garden of beautiful flowers.
Home is a playground with love keeping score.
Home is a haven of rest and contentment.
Home is a harbor on joy's golden shore.

Language could never portray its endearment;
Only the heart knows what Home truly means.
Memory treasures the pleasures of childhood,
Taking us back to its radiant scenes.

Home is the secret of manhood's achievement.
Home is our comfort when shadows draw near.
Home is a temple of endless devotion,
Growing more sacred with each passing year.

COMMUNITY HALL MATTERS

Applications for the Bonds on the Community Hall to be issued at a later date will now be received. The applications filed first will receive the preference when they are ready for delivery. No money need be paid until the legality of the issue has been passed upon by competent attorneys.

Applications for $50 bonds will receive the preference; $100 bonds next - this in order to get these securities into the hands of as many of our people as possible. The entire issue can be sold to four or five people, but that is contrary to the spirit of the proposition. The Community Hall has been a great success and will remain so as long as the community keeps the controlling interest. In addition, we plan to give those who have but small financial resources a chance to get one of these securities which we feel will be quite safe and profitable, and will have a tendency to cause at least a few to save some money, and at the same time get a good rate of interest.

After reviewing the events and conditions of past years, those who have studied the problem in Lincoln county, are unanimous in the thought that the most essential thing after all is more workers and better savers.

File your applications now - applications from boys and girls will be received, then save for the time when you will be called on to pay.

MAY INSTITUTE CONTEST FOR DOW'S OFFICE

A contest for the office of attorney general is said to appear probable, Robert C. Dow, Democrat, having been found elected by a plurality of 13 votes by the state canvassing board and given the certificate of election.

R. P. Barnes, Republican candidate for the office, was in the city Sunday conferring with party leaders and, according to a report today, it was virtually decided to bring a contest. The chief question to be disposed of is said to be that of financing the proceeding, a contest having been found to be expensive.

At the official canvass at Gov. Hannett's office last Saturday, Republicans made a stand to have the pollbooks canvassed and that the showing of these returns plus the absentee votes be declared the official count. It was said Barnes would have had a majority of seven had their plan been adopted. Nevertheless, the canvassing board voted it down.

Before a decision is definitely reached to bring a contest, it is believed the matter will be taken up with the Republican state central and executive committees when they meet here Dec. 5.

Republican leaders appear anxious to have an attorney general of their party and there is no talk of contests for the other state offices they lost. The office is important to the administration, they say the attorney general being the advisor of the governor and other state officials on legal questions.

Owing to the stand they took during the campaign against the employment of special attorneys for state litigation, the Republicans feel that they are barred from the plan once followed, giving the governor a special legal advisor, or employing any outside legal talent for any purpose. - Santa Fe New Mexican.

Community Small Boys Show Unusual Enterprise

At this season of the year the laborial proclivities of the small boy are somewhat dormant. Therefore the recent sudden enterprise of so many of our future presidents has caused no little comment. Mother has not had to call Willie the second time to run errands for some days past, and Dad has been agreeably surprised to find the kindling split and neatly piled in the wood box upon his return home in the evening.

The reason for this metamorphosis? Far be it from us to betray the secrets of any of our young friends but our idea is just this: Just a few days ago a genial gentleman, by name P. C. Franklin, invaded our fair city with a brigade of bill poster men, who have decorated every available inch of wall space with the announcement of the advent of William J. Harvall's mammoth "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company. The company will exhibit at the Crystal Theatre Monday, Dec. 6. There will be a matinee Monday at 4 p. m. Admission, matinee, 20-35c. Night Show, 8 p. m., 25-50c.

Buried With Honors of War

THE career of Capt. John Halsey is unique in that he not only died in bed - not "with his boots on," as so many pirates did, but that he was given honors of war when buried.

Halsey began as a privateer off the Newfoundland banks under a commission from the governor of Massachusetts, but no sooner was he out of sight of land than he turned pirate. After capturing a few fishing vessels he sailed for the Canary Islands, where pirating promised to be more lucrative. After capturing a Spanish vessel near the Canaries he sailed around the Cape of Good Hope for a visit with the pirates in Madagascar.

In the Red Sea he overhauled a fine Dutch ship armed with 60 guns, then by some strange quirk of conscience decided that thereafter he would leave the shipping of Christian nations alone and prey upon Moorish shipping only. His crew became angry at his announcement to this effect, mutinied, and threw him into irons. Then they attacked the Hollander, but were being roundly thrashed when they released Halsey, who got the ship away safely.

For several weeks thereafter Halsey scoured the seas in search of Moslem vessels, but luck was against him. So he gave up his resolve and attacked the British ships, the Essex and the Rising Eagle. From the Essex the pirates took more than 50,000 pounds in English gold, and from the other, more than 10,000. Upon discovering that the captain of the Essex was an old friend of his quartermaster, Halsey returned all of the captain's personal belongings, but kept the 50,000 pounds!

Halsey was something of a business man as well as a pirate. After the capture of these two vessels he made out invoices and sold the two ships back to their owners for cash! Then he returned to Madagascar where he was visited by the captain of the Scotch ship, Neptune, which had come to trade in rum with the pirates. This visit was providential for the pirate leader. A hurricane destroyed his ship, and he immediately seized the Scotch vessel. Then he attacked and seized another ship filled with merchandise which the pirates had just sold to his captain and for which they had received their pay.

Captain Halsey died of a tropical fever in 1710. From a contemporary the following account of his funeral is taken: "With great solemnity, the prayers of the Church of England being read over him, and his sword and pistols laid on his coffin, which was covered with a ship's Jack. As many minute guns were fired as he was old, viz: 46, and three English volleys and one French volley of small arms. His grave was made in a garden of watermelons and fenced in to prevent his being rooted up by wild pigs." Great honor, indeed, for a ruthless sea rover! And what a touching thought that last sentence!

POULTRY FACTS

USING LIGHTS IN WINTER HOUSES

It is wise to be thinking about the lighting of the poultry house for the winter. There is no longer any question that for the short days, many of which are cloudy, the egg production can be very definitely increased by supplying artificial light to the laying flock.

The idea is perfectly simple. The hen eats only when it is light, if the days are short she eats only a short time. She eats all her crop will hold, but when she stays on the roost from early afternoon, all night and until late in the morning in the winter, she has not been able to eat enough food to last her the whole time.

The method of using the lights is to turn them on for 20 minutes to half an hour in the evening, perhaps about nine o'clock, or near bedtime. The hens soon learn what it means when the lights go on, and they hop off the roost immediately and begin to eat scratch feed.

In the case of acetylene lights, which have often been used, some arrangement of a pilot light is necessary which turns on the bright lights when wanted. In the case of electric lights these can be turned on by hand from the house or from the door of the poultry house or in some cases they are operated by clockwork, being turned on at a certain time and automatically turned off after a certain time.

Fattening Ration Urged for All Market Fowls

The common practice of hastily catching up a lot of cockerels, cull hens or turkeys, ducks or geese, without first making some assurance that they are in proper market condition, is sure to bring dissatisfaction to the producer, dealer and consumer alike.

Cockerels confined closely and fed a wet mash of the consistency of pancake batter for from ten days to two weeks should gain from 20 to 35 per cent in weight and at the same time they are a better market product, plumper bodied, with softer and more tender flesh, and they make a more pleasing appearance, hence command a higher price.

Equal quantities (measure) of wheat, oats and corn, or wheat, oats and barley ground fine and wet with either buttermilk or sour milk make a good fattening ration. Use two pounds of milk to one pound of ground feed. If the milk is not available, add 15 or 20 per cent of meat scraps or tankage to the ground feed and wet with water, using one and one-half pounds of water to one pound of ground feed.

Feed three times daily, but only what will be consumed in ten to fifteen minutes.—O. A. Barton, North Dakota Agricultural College.

Poultry Facts

The big fat yellow-legged hens seem to be doing anything but laying eggs.

There is no cure for tuberculosis in fowls and it is known that the disease will spread to swine.

If each bird has four square feet of floor space all the litter should be removed once a month.

Houses should protect the fowls from severe cold but they should not be too warm even in winter.

Some breeders will find it practical to install trap nests in the poultry house and know which hens are laying during the winter.

There is one absolute rule in poultry sanitation and disease control—prevention first, last and always the aim.

Exercise generates heat and promotes health. Make the poultry flock work for the grain by feeding it in a deep, clean litter of straw.

The laying quarters should always be as comfortable as it is possible to make them, but making a house warm at the expense of dryness is never a wise thing to do.

Disease control and sanitation are of greater importance in poultry raising than trying to cure the disease if the flock becomes affected.

Spray the poultry houses with kerosene. Get it into every crack and crevice, for a few miles left today will be a million next week.

Mash feeding throughout the year not only increases egg production but gives a higher average weight when the hens are culled and marketed and a scattering death losses reduced.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for December 5

RUTH AND NAOMI

LESSON TEXT—Ruth 1:14-23. GOLDEN TEXT—Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of Ruth. JUNIOR TOPIC—Ruth a loyal daughter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Ruth the loyal. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Message of the Book of Ruth.

In order to grasp the matter contained in the lesson subject, there must be swept into view the whole book of Ruth. The lesson text which is to be printed has been confined to the first chapter, verses 14-23.

I. Ruth's Connection With Naomi (1:1-15).

On account of famine in Bethlehem of Judah, Naomi with her husband and two sons sojourned in the land of Moab. After the death of her husband her two sons married Moabitish women. After a time her sons died also. After the death of her sons Naomi resolved to return to her homeland, having heard that the Lord had visited his people in giving them bread.

II. Ruth's Noble Choice (1:16-18). Much as Naomi loved her daughters-in-law, she would not have them go into this matter blindly. She wished them to know the seriousness of their undertaking. She told them the worst that could come upon them.

1. No chance to marry again. Naomi told her that she had no more sons for whom she could wait. In that day to be unmarried was the greatest disgrace. Society differed then from now. No avenue was left open by which a woman could earn her living and be independent. Furthermore, it was against God's law for the Jews to marry outside of their own people.

2. She must renounce her gods. Her idolatrous worship could not be carried on in the land where God's people dwelt. This was delicately touched upon when Orpah went back (v. 15). Orpah went back when it was plain there was no chance to get a husband. Now Naomi puts an additional test upon Ruth, that of giving up her religion. Ruth was equal to the occasion. Her mind was fully made up. She was willing to accept as her God the one who was able to produce in His subjects the nobility of character she had observed in Naomi. Naomi's very frankness in dealing with her caused Ruth to be more determined to cast her lot with her. Ruth's position was very delicate and unflinching that the very expressions have come down to us in words which "no poetry has outriveted, and no pathos has exceeded, and which have gone through centuries with the music that will not let them be forgotten." She was determined to share Naomi's journey, her home, her God, her lot in life, and her grave.

III. Blessings Which Attended Ruth's Faithfulness.

Ruth was never sorry for her choice, because:

1. She found the true God (1:16). Instead of her heathen god who was unable to help her, she now had the living God, the God of Israel.

2. She found human friends (ch. 2). As she went to glean in the field she was led to the field of Boaz, a man of wealth and grace. The servants of Boaz treated her with consideration.

3. A good husband and a happy home (chs. 3, 4). She not only secured a husband, but a man of God who had an abundance of this world's goods.

4. An honored place in the Israelitish nation (4:13-17). Though she had to forsake her own people she became one of a nobler people.

5. She became a link in the chain of Christ's ancestry (4:18-22; cf. Matt. 1:5).

The one who fully decides for Christ and gives up all for Him shall gain a hundredfold in this life, and in the world to come eternal life.

Depend on God

Remember that nothing can ever harm you when you have given your life into the keeping of God. Man is powerless against Him who is fortified of the Almighty. You are a child of God—immune, secure.—R. J. Campbell.

HOW HE CURED HER

"I never see Brown's wife in knickers any more, and my wife says she never meets her in the barber shop these days, either. What's happened?" "She's reverted to the feminine type. Brown is pretty bull-headed and he told her if she was going to be a man she was going to change the tires, earn the money for the gas and look after the furnace in winter."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Obeying Orders

"Just think, Bill, if your absent wife knew you spent the evening playing poker!" "That's all right. Her very last words before going were, 'Don't forget to feed the kitty!'"

OTHERS AHEAD

Bride (sobbing): Look how it's raining on my wedding day! Bridesmaid: Don't cry, dear next time it will probably be bright and clear.

Gets It Quicker

Fore-Armed

Jack: So Ruth is going to marry him, eh? You know he's a tough guy. Jenn: Don't worry. She knows how to use an egg beater.

Motion Carried

Senator's Wife: What is your pleasure in regard to the dinner, my dear? Senator (just returned from session): I move that it be laid on the table.

AN OSTRICH'S APPETITE

Monk: Let's go have a little lunch. Ostrich: I'm not hungry, I just ate a couple of kegs of nails.

Of Course

"Money talks," said some old chap (This joke is just a bare go.) I guess then that it says "Uddap!" When money makes the mare go.

Bawled Him Out

"I was down to the butcher's today." "What did he have to say?" "He gave me an awful roast."

The Wrong Spot

Asker:—What happened to that valet of yours? Teller:—I fired him for removing a spot from one of my suits. Asker:—But isn't he supposed to do that? Teller:—Yes, but this was a 10-spot. —Pathfinder.

Wife Is Back

"The house looks suspiciously neat." "Yes, my dear. I did all my poker playing at the office."

A Business Head

"Is your son growing up with a good business head?" "A good business head? My, dot boy could buy every stitch of clothes a customer hat got an' den sell him a suitcase."

At the Resort

He:—Didn't I meet you here two summers ago? She:—Why—er—I think so. Your face feels familiar.—Boston Transcript.

EXPERIENCE OF WESTERN GIRL

Found Cannery Work Too Tiring

The fertile valleys of Oregon help to supply the tables of America. This is possible through the magic of the humble tin can.

In one of the canning establishments, Julia Schmidt, was employed. It was complicated work because she did sealing and other parts of the work. It was strenuous work and she was not a strong girl.

Often she forced herself to work when she was hardly able to sit at her machine. At times she would have to stay at home for she was so weak she could hardly walk. For five years she was in this weakened condition.

She tried various medicines. At last, a friend of hers spoke of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she gave it a trial.

"Everyone says I am a healthier and stronger girl," she writes. "I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends who tell me how they suffer and I am willing to answer letters from women asking about it." Julia Schmidt's address is 653 North Front St., Salem, Oregon.

Girls who work in factories know just how Miss Schmidt felt. Perhaps they, too, will find better health by taking the Vegetable Compound.

Some Questions Answered
(By N. H. S.)

Since writing the article that was published in last week's issue of the Outlook, with reference to possibilities of better things etc., around Carrizozo, I have heard a few persons remark that "irrigation here would not be practical."

I would like to ask these persons if they have any real, actual knowledge of conditions upon which to base a statement of that kind.

You need not tell me how long you have lived in Carrizozo, but you might tell me how much of that time you have lived in the mountains where our water supply will come from and you might also tell me if you have ever thought of irrigation from that source before, and if you have ever studied these mountains with that object in view.

I have studied them for years with that very thought in mind all the time.

How many of you can tell me how many canyons there are, tributary to the Bonito, from the stand-pipe at the mouth of Kraut Gulch, to its head? About nine-tenths of the citizens of this community don't know anything about a stand-pipe or Kraut Gulch either, not to mention the number of canyons and their tributaries that empty into the Bonito from there on to its head, or the amount of flood water they carry.

If you know nothing whatsoever about the above, please tell me if possible how you are in a position to make a statement of any kind about irrigation from that source.

Then there is, as mentioned before, Eagle Creek, Tortolita, Indian, Nogal canyons, etc., that we also have to draw from.

Yes, this irrigation is absolutely practical, and you can bet your bottom dollar on it. Las Vegas is coming to the front with their big irrigation project, so why can't we?

We have a natural and an economical dam site which Vegas did not have. Vegas depends entirely upon rainfall for its water, while we have creeks of running water to depend on besides having the drainage from a much larger area for our water supply.

In addition to having a much better source of water supply and a lot more economical way of handling and storing it, I firmly believe our soil is much more fertile, and I do know, that our climatic conditions are better.

Let us take up this matter seriously; think it over carefully, write and give us your ideas on it. We are either going forward or backward; we are never standing still so let us get going.

In a letter to Herbert B. Holt, Grand Master A. F. & A. M., of New Mexico and also President of the National Tuberculosis Sanatoria Association, Gen. Pershing said: "The plan initiated by the Masons of New Mexico, in behalf of their tuberculous brethren seeking the climatic conditions of the southwest, is one that should appeal to all Freemasons. I heartily endorse this national movement."

SEE What You're Getting

"Shop Early" and "Buy at Home" are two slogans for Carrizozo people to adopt now for the holiday season.

By buying at home, you can see what you are getting—at the same price or often less than you can obtain by mail order.

Added to this, there are so many errors that occur in buying by mail order, such as not giving the size, width, color, and many other things—such as shipping to the wrong address, etc.

Carrizozo merchants are making a special effort this year to supply your wants. Anything from a small toy for the children to a luxurious sedan for the family, can be purchased from Carrizozo dealers—and you SEE what you're getting.

A trip around town will convince you that you can do your Christmas shopping without going to another town or without the necessity of mail ordering.

Taxpayers Escape Penalty

County Treasurer E. W. Hulbert has already notified all taxpayers that the first half of 1926 taxes must be paid by Dec. 1, to escape penalty of 1% which must be levied after that date. In accordance with this notice, many have called at the treasurer's office this week and paid their first installment. The office of Special Collector J. B. French has also been visited by many, who are paying delinquent taxes. Let the good work go on!

1926
 Again Chevrolet's
 Greatest Year

In 1925 Chevrolet astonished the automotive world by attaining an annual production never before reached by any manufacturer of gearshift automobiles.

Yet, so spectacular has been the increase in demand for Chevrolet cars, that a new and even more brilliant record is the climax for 1926.

Thus, for two years in succession, Chevrolet has broken all its previous records and has set a new mark in automotive history.

This splendid achievement results from a steadfast adherence to the fundamental Chevrolet policy of building a car of the finest possible quality to sell at a low price.

That the vast majority of buyers now demand a car of this type—and that Chevrolet is building such a car—possessing the highest degree of smooth performance, smart appearance, and economical operation—is proved by Chevrolet's success. Come in and see this record-breaking Car.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE SQUIRREL'S RESCUE

It was half snowing and half raining, and the fairies were hoping it would get just a little colder.

One of the Fairies.

Then it would freeze, and the snowy rain would stick to the trees and make most beautiful crystals and icicles, and they could play the castle game. Whenever there were icicles, or pretty ice shapes the Queen and the Fairies would call the other fairies and say: "Let's play the castle game."

Then the fairies would come from all around and get in their places for the castle game.

The Queen of the Fairies would pretend that she was to have the castle taken for her.

They made believe that the icicles were turrets and towers, back of which was a huge wandering castle in which were prisoners held captive.

The Queen of the Fairies would pretend that she was the now queen of a land whose subjects had been badly treated.

And she would begin her reign with no prisoners.

So all the fairies who were her followers helped her to destroy all the turrets and towers of icicles.

Then the castle could come down and the prisoners get away without being seen.

Well, they got plenty of snowballs ready first and hit at the icicles with the snowballs.

The biggest and strongest icicles which wouldn't come down with just the snowballs they would pull down.

And, oh, such fun and laughing as they always do have over this game!

The day I'm telling you about it did freeze, and they did commence their game of pulling down the castle.

The playground they chose was in a quarry where there were plenty of icicles attached to the rocks.

But behind an icicle what do you suppose they found?

A little gray squirrel had jumped to a rock cliff where he had seen some nuts stowed away.

After eating some of the nuts he had evidently felt so tired and sleepy that he had fallen asleep; for he was a very young squirrel.

And as he slept it had grown suddenly very much colder, and the icicle by the rock on which he was laid grew so thick that he couldn't pass it.

So when the icicle was hit by a snowball and still did not fall down one of the fairies went up and pulled it down.

You know that fairies have a great deal of strength, even though they are so dainty and light.

You can imagine the joy of the fairies when they found their imaginary game had really become true and that they had rescued a little squirrel.

The squirrel was very cold, but he had kept somewhat warm sleeping, and he soon revived by jumping around.

He was so grateful to the fairies for saving his life that he invited them to the squirrels' next nut party.

Rescued Little Squirrel.

In addition to his war on the Yaquis, which is going none too well for him, President Calles may have to meet a revolutionary movement in Chihuahua and along the northern border. Though Mexican officials scoff at this, the rumors persist that it is under way and is serious. Gen. Nicholas Fernandez, former member of the staff of Gen. Pancho Villa, is reported to have led a small band of rebels across the border east of El Paso for the purpose of recruiting a force of revolutionists. It was said the party was well mounted and armed and had plenty of money. A former follower of Adolfo de la Huerta was in El Paso recently recruiting men for a revolt.

General Moncada, rebel leader, was called on board the U. S. S. Rochester at Bluefields and given a dispatch from Washington, asking him to lay down his arms with the understanding that there would be a general amnesty. Otherwise, he was told, the United States would be obliged to take action to prevent further fighting.

The Calles regime in Mexico, which is called Bolshevist by its opponents, has been extending its influence over Central America, at least in Guatemala, and is reaching out for Nicaragua. It would not be pleasant for the United States to have such a "bloc" of nations controlled by the Calles group between it and the Panama canal.

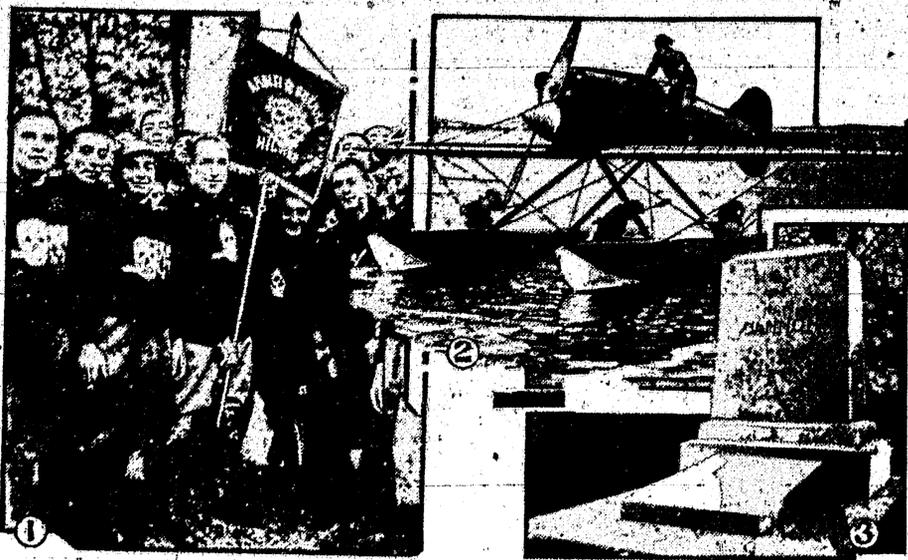

In announcing the return of the indictments, District Attorney Olson said: "Dishonest police officials working hand in glove with the political representatives of the criminal underworld, aided and abetted by many who hold high positions of public trust and at times even the scales of justice in their hands—that's Chicago's crime ring and crime cause; and if that criminal alliance can keep its present stranglehold by the exercise of intimidation and personal violence toward those who know the facts, then justice is dead and the courts may as well close their doors."

Mayor Dever and other city officials retorted that Olson's language was "unwarranted and unfair" and the mayor said in effect that the federal grand jury's action was a cheap rebash of a clean-up made six months ago by the city administration itself.

COL. ORESTES FERRARA, a prominent politician and well-known duelist, has been appointed minister to Washington from Cuba, to succeed Dr. Rafael Sanchez Aball, who resigned. Cuba had a brief quarrel with Uruguay during the week and its minister in Montevideo obtained his passports and left the capital. However, the trouble was soon adjusted and diplomatic relations were resumed.

After being in power for a year, the Chilean cabinet headed by Maximiliano Ibanez has resigned. At this writing President Figueroa Larraín has not appointed a new premier.

RUMOR mongers in Europe continue to prophesy another war in the near future, but they are not agreed as to whether it will be between Italy and Turkey or Italy and France. Most of them are in accord as to Italy being one of the belligerent

Nicaragua Asks Uncle Sam to Check Mexico's Aid to Rebels There.

MORE trouble with Mexico confronts the government of the United States, due to the admitted fact that the "Liberal" revolutionists of Nicaragua are receiving aid, in the way of men and war munitions, from Mexico, Adolfo Diaz, favored by Washington for the presidency of Nicaragua, was elected by the congress immediately after the peace conference presided over by Charge d'Affaires Lawrence Dennis which resulted in an agreement to return to constitutional government. Diaz was formally recognized by our government Wednesday, and at once he appealed to Washington for aid in stopping the gun-running expeditions from Mexico.

In announcing the recognition of Diaz, Secretary of State Kellogg took occasion to refer in veiled but unmistakable terms to the Mexican government's fomentation of armed conflict in the Central American republic. "The department," said Secretary Kellogg, "has been informed that President Diaz intends to make overtures of peace and general amnesty to his political opponents, and that he will offer the Liberal party participation in the new government, including certain cabinet posts. I sincerely hope that this offer, if made, will be accepted by the Liberals, since only by co-operation between all factions can peace and tranquillity be restored to that country, now so unhappily torn by revolution, a condition which has invited interference from outside sources; a state of affairs which must cause concern to every friend of stability in Central America."

PERSONALS

Wayne Zumwalt, teacher of the Nogal School who graduated with second honors from the Carrizozo High School in the Class of 1925, has accepted a position with the First National Bank. He began to work the first of the month. Louis Adams, who had been assisting at the Bank since the tragic death of Miss Maurine Collier, has gone back to his old job of fireman for the Southern Pacific. Ted Manker has returned to his duties with the First State Bank of Estancia. Mr. Manker is a graduate of the 1926 Class of the Estancia High School.

A. D. Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ed Harris, returned home Tuesday morning from the east, where Messrs. Brownfield and Harris were witnesses at the celebrated Fall trial in Washington. After serving at the trial, the party made a trip to Niagara Falls, New York City, and other principal points of interest in the east before their return. Mr. Brownfield was accompanied by his little daughter, Martha Dec.

F. L. Blanchard, enterprising garage owner of Corona, was here Monday, transacting some business and leaving for home on the evening train. Mr. Blanchard has erected a new garage and enjoys a good trade in selling cars, repairing, and handling a full line of auto accessories. His garage is the first one entering Corona from this direction, and Carrizozo people may rest assured that his work is guaranteed. Mr. Blanchard is a brother of Phil and Will Blanchard of Lincoln county.

This office is in receipt of a nice letter from one of our former Lincoln county residents, E. H. Goodall, who was, at one time, U. S. Land Commissioner at Capitan. Mr. Goodall is now located in Centerville, Kentucky, and says that he enjoys reading his Outlook, which contains mention of many of his old friends in Capitan, Fort Stanton and Nogal. Winter weather is now on in Centerville, which causes Mr. Goodall to long for the climate of the Sunshine State, and he plans to be with us next fall.

Billy Norman, in some manner, was omitted from the list of successful deer hunters. Perhaps the only reason for this omission is that Billy always gets his, no matter what he's after.

High School Notes

By Jeanne Reilly:

Several of the high school teachers attended the State Teachers' Convention in El Paso last week. We are having reports each day about their trip to Juarez, etc.

Everyone is back after a short vacation and all seemed to be inclined to work harder than before.

We are organizing a literary society details of which will be made known in next week's issue.

Mr. Burkett was very well pleased to have with him during his vacation Miss Griffith of Abilene, Tex.; in fact so delighted that he can't ever blush again yet.

Our boys play Corona Saturday night at the Corona Gym.

The fifth and sixth grades have had the honor for the highest percentage of attendance for three months, and are hoping to keep it for the rest of the school year.

The grades have greatly enjoyed the books that have been given them, and especially the Books of Knowledge—they would greatly appreciate any further addition to their library.

School Notes

Mary Fritz, Co. School Supt.

A splendid professional spirit among Lincoln county teachers was shown by their attendance at the State Teachers' meeting at Santa Fe the 5th, 6th and 7th of Nov. There were thirty-eight in attendance. Several also attended the Texas State Meeting in El Paso last week.

The County Superintendent visited the following schools in November: Lincoln, Hondo, San Patricio, Glencoe, Ruidoso, Tinnie, Picacho, Oscura, Coyote, Richardson, Bethel, Encinoso, Alto and Angus. The average attendance in some of these schools is very low, but we hope it will be increased after the Christmas holidays. The cotton pickers will return about that time.

Schools needing chalk, erasers and pencil sharpeners will please order same from this office.

In making out teachers' reports I, again call your attention to having them signed by at least two directors. All bills other than truck drivers' and janitors' must be signed before a notary public, justice of the peace or county clerk. This is in order from the State Comptroller's office and must be adhered to.

Wayne Zumwalt, teacher at Nogal resigned this week to accept a position with the First National Bank of Carrizozo.

The Fort Stanton School under the direction of Miss M. J. Harris gave an excellent Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon of last week.

The next regular meeting of the County Board of Education will be held Jan. 3, 1927. This board is the governing authority of all county schools and all school matters should be brought before them.

Schools wishing to do so may discontinue work Dec. 23 for the Christmas holidays and resume work January 3. December 24 will be made up February 22nd.

Sabino Vidaurri, groceryman of the east side, who returned last week from a six-months' visit to California, has a good word to say of the Golden State, but prefers the sunshine of New Mexico to that of the coast. Ben Sanchez, who managed the store during Sabino's absence, has several offers, but is undecided just now as to which he will accept. Ben knows the grocery business from A to Z, and it is no wonder that his services are in demand.

The SOLOIST'S CHOICE
(The Product of painstaking Hand Work.)

For years the Holton Slide Trombone has furnished one of the principal voices of military and concert bands, as well as the great symphony orchestra. The Slide Trombone was the first instrument to find its way into the ballroom orchestra; in fact, "jazz" was invented on the Trombone. For home, church, lodge and school, it fills every requirement.

The range of expression possible with a Slide Trombone is not equalled in any other single instrument. It has the blaring note of the trumpet, the mellow voice of the saxophone, or the Ponderous Tone of the Euphonium, the moaning of the violoncello, as the player so desires. Martial Airs or Plaintive Love Songs can be played with equal effectiveness on this unique instrument.

This office is in receipt of a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thornton, whose home is in Oscura. They are now in El Paso, where they will remain for the winter. Remembering the talk now afloat around town, started by 'N. H. S.' concerning irrigation, etc., a visit to the Thornton home in Oscura is enough to convince the most skeptical that this section could be made to blossom like the rose, if pains and work are taken. His garden and orchard brings forth bountifully every year, and they are irrigated from by windmill, too. This well gives a never-ending supply of pure water, and keeps up a constant flow, so that irrigation never ceases.

A meeting of the Eastern New Mexico Area Council Boy Scouts of America will be held in Roswell December 7. This meeting will include not only members of the Council but Scoutmasters and friends of Scouting generally. It is expected that there will be a hundred men at the meeting from all over the area.

The whole affair will be different. It will be termed "A One Night Stand" and will be full of interest from beginning to end. The session will start at four in the afternoon, will run through the dinner hour and until 8:30 at night. It will be worked on an accurate schedule and not only will the business of the area be taken care of, but when the whole event is over every man will have a better picture of Scouting in New Mexico.
