Railroad Rumblings

Division Supt. C. M. Murphy is a newly appointed officer in the El Maida Temple Shrine of El Paso.

Trainmaster J. P. Nash, Mrs. Nash and daughter, Jacqueline, left for Tucuman Monday after spending about two weeks at Eagle Creek on a vacation.

Signal Foreman and Mrs. E. A. Price were Carrizozo visitors last Saturday, from their station at Luna.

C. W. Wiley, local signal foreman, spent the week-end in El Paso.

A force of S. P. carpenters are working on enlarging the stock yards east of town. This is an improvement that has long been needed, not only for the shipping out of stock, but of stock that will come in. The ranges are almost bare now, and new stock will be coming in with the early spring.

Trainman Bill Reynolds and family returned Tuesday from Tracy, Cal., where Bill has been braking for the past 2 months. He will enter service here, it is understood.

Dr. C. E. Freeman shipped 2 cars of lambs and 2 cars of ewes Oct. 31 to eastern points and will soon receive a like number of ewes to place on his ranch east of town.

Three railroad men were enjoying the show at the Crystal Theatre one night last week—suddenly there was a darkness. (The scene was of a prominent lady star.) "Well, I guess this is the time where she changes clothes" remarked one of the trainmen.

Mrs. Carl Jones and daughter, Dorothy of Springfield, Mo., are visiting at the home of trainman and Mrs. W. C. Pittman and will remain for about three weeks. Mrs. Jones is the wife of engineer Jones and a sister to Mrs. Pittman.

Trainman Hugh O'Rourke returned the first of the week from a trip to Kansas, where he visited relatives and friends at Pratt and while there, he attended the wedding of his niece, Mary Elizabeth Stevenson. He afterwards visited his sister, Mrs. F. Connelly, at Harrington and attended as a delegate to the Kansas B. of R. T. Convention at Parsons. He was absent about three weeks.

Trainman J. W. Vickery, who has been working on the Texas & Pacific since he returned from the east about one month ago, is confined in the hospital at Marshall, Texas, with a mashed hand and it will be two months before he will be able to resume service.

Mrs. J. E. Farley returned last Friday from Long Beach, Calif., where she was called several weeks ago on account of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. I. D. Baker and children. Mrs. Farley remained until they were out of danger.

Engineer D. G. Hines of Tucuman, was a guest of his brother, C. Hines last Friday.

Truth of Amendment No. 2

The special election on Constitutional Amendments will be held Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Amendment No. 2 Provides for a separate election for county officers in each odd-numbered year. Their term of office will be 2 years, and after serving 2 successive terms they cannot hold a county office for 2 years thereafter. It also provides that the term of State officers shall be 4 years, and that after serving one term they cannot hold a state office for four years thereafter.

This amendment, separating county from state elections, should be ratified in behalf of clarifying public issues and of cleaner politics. The state, district, county, precinct, city, town and village each has its own problems to solve and issues to be determined at elections. Years ago we elected all officers of the different units on the same day on the same ticket. We elected Constables at the same general election. It often happened that the vote in each precinct for delegate to Congress depended entirely upon the popularity of the candidate for Constable on the same ticket.

We have elections every year now of justices of the peace, constables, municipal officers and generally have special elections in the odd years on amendments or bond issues. The election for county officers will cost about $40,000. An average of about $1800 for a county, instead of $75,000 as some objectors have stated.

Another evil of the present system is that it is conducive to bargain and trade between state and county organizations and candidates. State organizations have, by the wrongful use of money, made corrupt bargains with disappointed candidates for nomination for county offices. They have done this to get additional support for their state and national ticket. They have financed independent tickets to weaken the opposite party. This scandalous and corrupt practice has several times caused the election in the state as to national and state policies and candidates, to go entirely contrary to the real wishes and convictions of a majority of the voters. The way to stop such practices is to ratify Amendment No. 2 and have a separate election for State and National offices.

Now it is found that the vote in a county for presidential electors, United States Senator, Congressman, Justice of the Supreme Court, Governor, etc. depends chiefly on the popularity of candidates for sheriff, probate judge and other officers.

Lovelace Ships

W. R. Lovelace shipped 18 cars of sheep last Friday to hard feeding points at Fort Collins, Colo. On the same date, 5,000 sheep were shipped to hard feeding points in Colorado and Kansas. The sheep will be fed with hard grain throughout the winter and returned here in the spring.

T. G. James sold 102 head of fine steer calves to R. C. Sowder of Picacho, yesterday and they were shipped to points in Texas. Mr. James topped-out 71 head of heifers from the Will Ed Harris herd to add to his stock on the O-O ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. French and daughter, Evelyn, left Wednesday for Albuquerque where they will visit with Miller at the "U," after which, Mr. French and Evelyn will go to Santa Fe, while Mrs. French will remain at the Duke City attending the Teachers' Convention.

Capitan News

The Corona "Bulldogs" played the Capitan "Tigers" Saturday on the Capitan court. The "Cats" won the game, the score being 20-4. The game scheduled with the Corona girls was called off as they were unable to come. The girls played the town team. After the games, refreshments were served to the teams by the Domestic Science girls. A dance was given in the evening and a large crowd attended and had a good time.

The Capitan High School teachers will attend the Teachers' meeting at Albuquerque on Nov. 8-4-5.

The Seniors entertained the High School and Faculty Monday night. All report a good time.

Mr. Larkman's house had a narrow escape Monday, when the garage caught fire. Quick action on the part of the citizens of Capitan saved the house, but could not save the garage.

Cattle and apple shipments continue from this locality. The apples come mainly from the Sunset ranch and the Fred Pfingsten ranch.

P. G. Peters was a business visitor at Carrizozo Thursday of this week.

A goodly number of our people attended the Masque Ball last Saturday night, given by Carrizozo Woman's Club at the Community Hall.

Here from State College

Walter LaFleur came up from State College and spent the week-end. Walter is well pleased with the College, and reports that the band is coming along nicely, there being three Carrizozo boys in that musical organization, namely Walter LaFleur, saxophone, Marshal Beck and Jim Kelsay, trombones, playing Holton "Revelations."

Passing of Mrs. Anna Beckman

Last Sunday afternoon at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Lester Greer at the ranch in the San Andres mountains, Mrs. Anna Bragg Beckman, aged 85, passed to her reward after a lingering illness of several years. Mrs. Beckman was one of the oldest of Lincoln county residents, living until a short time ago, at her home on the Bonito. She was well known and much loved on account of her kindly disposition and charitable manner. She had been a resident of this district for 50 years.

The funeral was held at Nogal with the Rev. J. H. Skinner conducting the services. The funeral was attended by her many friends from that locality and also from Carrizozo. With the passing of this estimable old resident, is added another of Lincoln county's pioneers, who laid the foundation of what this section is today. The surviving husband and other relatives have the sympathy of the many friends of the family over the county.

Mrs. M. M. Panix, son, Max Wm. of Corona and Miss Lois Panix of Ancho were here Monday.

Tom DeBels was a business visitor at Carrizozo Monday.

New Road Equipment

Two 5-ton Cletracs arrived here Tuesday, one for road foreman John Brady at Capitan, the other to be taken to the Mescalero Indian Agency for road foreman A. A. Sandoyal. These machines have been badly needed in Lincoln county and the Highway Department has conferred another favor on us by giving us this up-to-date machinery.

A car load of steel rails are on the way here furnished to Road Foreman Chas. Grey, which will be used to make the enlarged cattle guards spoken of in this paper two weeks ago. As soon as they arrive, Mr. Grey will begin the work of enlarging the cattle guards which will be of great benefit to the stockmen, especially.

Maybe "Carrizozo"

Miss Evelyn French came home Monday from Chicago, where she had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kudner for the past two months. While in the east, Miss Evelyn had many thrilling experiences in the big Kudner airplane, which will be here in about a week with Mr. Kudner and a hunting party.

During her stay, Miss Evelyn had an airplane trip to New York, besides many trips of a lesser distance. The New York trip was made in a little over 7 hours. The new airship which is a 7-passenger machine, has not yet been named, but we are led to believe that it will be christened "Carrizozo." New Hats of the Season

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

WHEN is a brim not a brim? Many a stylish felt shape gives clew to the answer by flaunting a graceful flare athwart its snug fitting crown, which a closeup view reveals as nothing more or less than the brim "that was." This game of hide-and-seek which fashionable hats are playing with their brims, presenting them in the guise of flares and flanges on the crown, accounts for a very flattering new silhouette which is at this moment prominent in the mode.

These new hats which transform brims into crown flares are proving a boon to women who cannot becomingly wear the simple unadorned now-modish skull types which hide ears and eyebrows and which so conscientiously follow the line of the hair at the top of the neck.

In the instance of the little black felt hat centered in this illustration the milliner deliberately snips off the narrow brim, elevating it to a position of prominence in the form of a flare bridging the crown from ear to ear. A flare which displays a change of location for the ripple brim, the designer having cut it away from the headpiece, positioning it across the top crown, gives super-chie to the model shown at the top to the right in this group. This clever hat is of honey-beige felt.

Sometimes these crown flares take on exaggerated lines, as is instanced in the attractive model shown first in this collection of advanced mil-inery modes. A wide flare cut from white felt is here posed on a snug-fitting black velvet toque, giving the impression of an imposing beret.

Contrasting the felt hat which glories in its brimlessness are many new ripple-brim collapsible (because of their suppleness) velvet hats. Many of these are tinged with gleaming metal, most often in the form of machine stitching.

The two models shown in this picture are typical of a popular mode. The ripple brim of the one to the right is stitched with gold thread, with tiny gilt beads edging its brim. Metal ribbon lies about its crown. The other velvet hat is just such as women are choosing for their "first" hat this autumn.

FAVORITE RECIPE FOR COOKING YOUNG CARROTS

New, young carrots should be quickly cooked in a small amount of water. The seasonings suggested in this recipe from the United States Department of Agriculture are not only appetizing, but they add to the food value of the dish:

8 or 10 medium-sized carrots
1 or 2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

Wash and scrape the carrots and cut them in slices or dice. Cook them in a small amount of boiling salted water until tender, or for about ten or fifteen minutes. Melt the butter, add the lemon juice and the parsley. Pour over the carrots and serve at once.

Sliced Ham Convenient to Serve

Broiled Sliced Ham is Appetizing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Sliced ham is one of the easiest and nicest meats to serve. There are several appetizing ways of preparing it. Select a lean slice of ham from the center of a large heavy leg. Flare it out about three-fourths of an inch thick. If it is too thin it will dry out and become hard when cooked. Trim off any rind, and score the edges so the slice will lie flat while cooking.

If experience has shown that the brand of ham you use is a little too salty for the family taste, freshen it either in sour milk or buttermilk, or by covering it with cold water and bringing it to the boiling point. Soaking it in sour milk makes it tender.

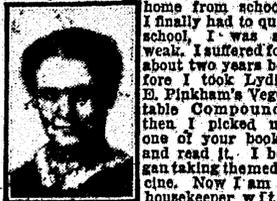

The ham may be fried, pan-broiled, broiled over a coal or wood fire, or baked in milk. Grease the pan lightly with ham fat if you are frying it, and cook until each side is delicately browned. Do not cook longer than necessary. A gravy made from the fat and juices in the pan is often served with fried or pan-broiled ham. Eggs, fried in the ham fat, may be served, too, if the man of the house is particularly fond of this combination.

The slice of ham may be baked slowly in milk. A layer of raw sliced potatoes is placed over the meat. From time to time a little more milk may be added so that the potatoes and ham remain covered until the ham is tender.

GIRLHOOD TO MOTHERHOOD

Iowa Woman Found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Always Helpful

Vinton, Iowa.—"When I was seventeen years old I had to stay at home from school. I finally had to quit school, I was so weak. I suffered for about two years before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, then I picked up one of your books and read it. I began taking the medicine. Now I am a housekeeper with six children, and I have taken it before each one was born. I cannot tell you all the good I have received from it. When I am not as well as can be I take it. I have been doing this for over thirteen years and it always helps me. I read all of your little books I can get and I tell everyone I know what the Vegetable Compound does for me."—Mrs. FRANK SERRAN, 810 7th Avenue, Vinton, Iowa.

Many girls in the fourth generation are learning through their own personal experiences the beneficial effects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mothers who took it when they were young are glad to recommend it to their daughters.

For over half a century, women have praised this reliable medicine.

Can't Collect Fortune

Possession of the largest face-value promissory note in the world is claimed by M. F. Rossi, antiquarian of San Jose, Calif. Mr. Rossi has a parchment document whose faded inch covers the date, 1450, and a promise to pay 200 gold florins. The note bears 6 per cent interest. According to Rossi's calculation, he could collect $41,172,200,000,000 on the note if the unfortunate Florentine who signed it was financially sound today. The florin is valued at $200 in American currency.

Friend of Man

One of the most efficient sweepers of the field is the vesper sparrow, which we may recognize by the white outer tail feathers, says Nature Magazine. Many dwellers of the grass, insect larvae, leaf hoppers, army worms, young grasshoppers, are devoured during the summer; and innumerable weed seeds make up their fall and winter diet.

The formulae used by the Egyptians to color bronzes are still used by French, British and American mint-makers, an electro-chemist asserts.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night? If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic or constipation; or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

When the Sandman Comes

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"Come on, Brownies," said Billie Browne, "we must have a bonfire."

"Come on," said his brother Bennie Browne, "we must surely have a bonfire."

"Come on, Gnomes," said Peter Gnome, "we must certainly have a bonfire."

"Come on, Old Mr. Giant," said Witty Witch, "we're going to have a bonfire."

"Come on Every Little Oaf," said Ollie Oaf, "we're going to have a bonfire."

"Come on Fairies," said the Queen of the Fairies, "we're going to have a bonfire."

"It's the fall of the year and the leaves are all ready to be burned in the biggest, hugest bonfire ever before seen," said Billie Browne.

So all the members of the Oaf family and of the Gnome family and of the Fairies and of the Brownies came along, and then Ello Ello called out:

"Come, Elves, come every one of you, there is going to be a mighty bonfire."

Fairy Twilight Bell came along and so did Fairy Wondrous Secrets. Fairy Xbab came and so did the Fairyland Orchestra who played while they all danced around the bonfire fire.

They Jumped into the Great Pile later in the evening when it was almost out.

But first they jumped into the great pile of leaves, they played games, they made leaf houses and leaf walks and leaf gardens. And then they plied the leaves back on the great, huge pile.

Old Witty Witch told stories as they sat around the bonfire. Old Mr. Giant told stories, too.

The Fairies sang a song called: "The Fall in Fairyland" and into the song they had put descriptions of the flaming trees in the fall, the winds, the warm, drowsy sunshine, the cold, quick, crisp air, the work of Jack Frost—oh, they had described everything.

But when the bonfire was at its height no one said a word.

Every brownie and every fairy and every gnome and every oaf and every elf and old Witty Witch and Old Mr. Giant all sat without saying a single word while the Bonfire Fairies chuckled, danced and laughed and scampered and crackled and snapped and flared in the great, great bonfire.

Never had there been a bonfire like it.

And surely, it stands to reason, that they just must have been right!

Good Things to Eat

By NELLIE MAXWELL

All you have really to do is to keep your back as straight as you can, and not think about what is on it above all, not to boast of what is on it. The real meaning of virtue is that straightness of the back.—Huskin

Sweet cider, besides being a delicious autumn drink, is a splendid flavoring agent. Try baking the next ham with cider poured over it, basting it often during the baking. For occasions when such iced dishes are appropriate the following will be enjoyed:

Cider Frappe.—Boil together one and one-half cups of sugar and a pint of water for five minutes, then add one quart of sweet cider, two cups of orange juice, one-half cup of lemon juice. Cool and freeze to a mush.

Cookies made at this season are good as long as they last, making a dainty tidbit to serve with a cup of tea.

Spice Cookies.—Cream one-half cup of butter and one-half cup of lard with one cup of sugar. Add one cup of molasses, one tablespoon each of ginger and cinnamon, one teaspoonful of ground cloves, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of soda dissolved in one-half cup of hot water. Mix and chill well after adding flour enough to roll. Leave in a cold place over night and bake in the morning.

Cornflake Macaroons.—Beat two egg whites until light, add one cupful of sugar and one cupful each of coconut and cornflakes, two tablespoonfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of vanilla, with a pinch of salt. Drop by teaspoonfuls on baking sheet and bake until lightly browned.

Vegetable Salad.—Take one-fourth cupful of French dressing, add one teaspoonful of finely minced parsley and chopped onion, mix and pour over one cupful of shredded cabbage, sliced celery and radish and carrot fine grated. Toss and mix well with two forks, then serve on lettuce.

Apple and Nut Sandwich.—Chop a small, cored, peeled apple and mix with finely minced nuts and a little salad dressing. Spread on well-buttered whole wheat bread.

Raspberry Lacto.—Take a pint of raspberry juice or the juice from a quart of good berries. Canned berries may be used; add enough sugar to sweeten and a quart of rich, fresh buttermilk. Freeze and serve in sherbet cups. This is an especially healthful dessert and not so cloying to the taste as many rich creams.

Roast Carrot or Beef.—Take one and one-half pounds of ground round steak, the greatest kind of a lemon, one-fourth teaspoonful of ground meat, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, the same of paprika and a sprinkling of cayenne. Mix thoroughly, make into a roll, cover with strips of bacon and arrange halved lengthwise. Sprinkle with lemon juice and bake a delicate brown. Serve with the bacon and bananas as a garnish.

Calves' Tongues Boiled.—Cover four fresh calves' tongues with boiling water, add five slices of carrot, two stalks of celery, one onion stuck with six cloves, fifteen peppercorns and one-half tablespoonful of salt. Cook until the tongues are tender. Remove the skin and roots and cut into halves lengthwise. Cook one-half cup of tomatoes with two cupfuls of provol stock reduced to half. Reheat the tongues in the sauce. Serve garnished with parsley and lemon slices and triangles of bread sautéed in butter.

Sweetbread Ramekins.—Cream and pothill the sweetbread and cut it into small cubes. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add three of flour and when well blended add one cupful of chicken stock. Reheat the sweetbread in the sauce; add one-fourth of a cupful of heavy cream, whipped, one-half teaspoonful of beef extract and salt and paprika to taste, with a bit of lemon juice. Fill ramekin dishes, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown.

Creamed Tuna.—Put six tablespoonfuls of butter into a saucepan and when melted add the same amount of flour, one teaspoonful of salt and pepper to taste. Stir into a double boiler with three cupfuls of milk, cook until thick, then add one can of flaked tuna fish and four hard cooked eggs cut into bits. Serve on hot crackers or toast.

Mexican Mash.—Take two cupfuls of any good stuffing, add an equal amount of bread crumbs and a few tablespoonfuls of leftover corn, season well with salt, pepper and butter and moisten with any leftover gravy. Put into a baking dish and bake until hot.

Cranberry and Cottage Cheese.—Stew cranberries and sweeten, then mold into small forms. Serve on a platter with a small mold of seasoned cottage cheese. Garnish with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

Selecting the Sports Costume

Clothing that looks attractive in a store or catalogue, when considered alone, often proves unsatisfactory when seen at home as part of a costume.

time. This is particularly true of separate blouses, sweaters, jackets and skirts. Unless these are definitely selected to be combined with garments one already has or new ones bought for a complete costume, and unless the colors in the two separate articles harmonize, the effect may be very unfortunate. It is usually safest to plan an entire costume as a whole, even when it consists of two or more pieces, as in the model illustrated.

Appropriateness, simplicity and color harmony produce charm in the "right" model, and lack of these qualities gives an undesirable effect to the "wrong" one. It seems almost incredible that anyone should wear such a combination, yet equally bad ones are frequently seen.

The "right" model wears a two-piece dress that is plain and loose enough to permit active movement of any kind. It is truly intended for sports. The neutral color of the dress is relieved by having bands of two tones of orange on both blouse and skirt. These not only harmonize in color with the background and with each other, but they run in the same direction and so make the lines of the costume pleasing. A bit of one shade of orange is used. Shoes are also appropriate to the purposes for which a sports costume is worn.

The "wrong" model has up and down lines in the striped skirt, and color-crowd, zigzag effects on the many colored jacket, the colors of which do not harmonize with the colors in the skirt. A V-shaped vest of unsuitable busy material and open-work on the shoes add to the jumble of lines, colors and spots of the whole outfit.

and inconspicuous. Incidentally the two ways of doing the hair may be compared to the advantage of the one wearing the simple costume.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS

Pink cheeks from drinking milk will not rub off.

A pinch of mustard gives a pleasant tang to any cheese dish.

The best kind of bed for the baby is a plain brass or white enameled one.

Hands need not get into dirty water when the floor mop is of the self-wringing kind.

Perpiration stains can be removed by rubbing with soap and laying garment in hot sun.

Mixed boiled ham may be moistened with meat jelly, chilled and coated with mustard.

Place tinfall under lower-rose dories. It will save the most highly polished table of dapsens.

Water in which carrots have been boiled contains nourishing qualities which are very good for small children.

House Made in Two Days

Two two story houses were made in two days at Leicester, England, recently. They were of concrete, and at the end of the second day were ready for doors, windows and roof. After the foundations were laid, standard molds of wood were erected, and into these the concrete was poured. The molds were then removed, revealing the house in its final shape.

New Hats of the

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

WHEN is a brim not a brim? Many a stylish felt shape gives clue to the answer by flaunting a graceful flara flare athwart its snug-fitting crown, which a close-up view reveals as nothing more or less than the brim "that was." This game of hide-and-seek which fashionable hats are playing with their brims, presenting them in the guise of flares and flanges on the crown, accounts for a very flattering new silhouette which is at this moment prominent in the mode.

These new hats which transform brims into crown flares are proving a boon to women who cannot becomingly wear the simple unadorned now-so-modish skull types which hide ears and eyebrows and which so conscientiously follow the line of the hair at the nap of the neck.

In the instance of the little black felt hat centered in this illustration the milliner deliberately snips off the narrow brim, elevating it to a position of prominence in the flara bridging the crown from ear. A flare which displays a of location for the ripple of designer having cut it away from the crown, positioning it across the crown, gives super-chie to the shown at the top to the right group. This clever hat is of beige felt.

All you have really to do is to keep your back as straight as you can, and not think about what is on it; above all, not to boast of what is on it. The real meaning of virtue is that straightness of the back—Huskin.

Sweet elder, besides being a delicious autumn drink, is a splendid flavoring agent. Try baking the next ham with elder poured over it, broiling it often during the baking. For occasions when such iced dishes are appropriate the following will be enjoyed:

Elder Frappe.—Boil together one and one-half cups of sugar and a pint of water for five minutes, then add one quart of sweet elder, two cups of orange juice, one-half cup of lemon juice. Cool and freeze to a mush.

Cookies made at this season are good as long as they last, making a dainty tidbit to serve with a cup of tea.

Spice Cookies.—Cream one-half cup of butter and one-half cup of lard with one cup of sugar. Add one cup of molasses, one tablespoon each of ginger and cinnamon, one teaspoonful of ground cloves, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of soda dissolved in one-half cup of hot water. Mix and chill well after adding flour enough to roll. Leave in a cold place over night and bake in the morning.

Cornflake Macaroons.—Beat two egg whites until light, add one cup of sugar and one cup of coconut and cornflakes, two tablespoonfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of vanilla, with a pinch of salt. Drop by teaspoonfuls on baking sheet and bake until lightly browned.

Vegetable Salad.—Take one-fourth cupful of French dressing, add one teaspoonful of finely minced parsley and chopped onion, mix and pour over one cupful of shredded cabbage, sliced celery and radish and carrot fine grated. Toss and mix well with two forks, then serve on lettuce.

Apple and Nut Sandwich.—Chop a small, cored, peeled apple and mix with finely minced nuts and a little salad dressing. Spread on well-buttered whole wheat bread.

Raspberry Lacto.—Take a plate of raspberry juice or the juice from a quart of good berries. Canned berries may be used; add enough sugar to sweeten and a quart of rich, fresh buttermilk. Freeze and serve in sherbet cups. This is an especially healthful dessert and not so cloying to the taste as many rich creams.

Roast Carrot of Beef.—Take one and one-half pounds of ground round steak, the grated rind of a lemon, one-fourth teaspoonful of ground mace, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, the same of paprika and a sprinkling of cayenne. Mix thoroughly, make into a roll, cover with strips of bacon and arrange halved lengthwise. Sprinkle lemon juice and bake a delicate serve with the bacon and put a garnish.

Calves' Tongues Boiled.—Cut fresh calves' tongues with water, add five slices of cut stalks of celery, one onion six cloves, fifteen peppered one-half tablespoonful of salt until the tongues are tender move the skin and roots and cut lengthwise. Cook one of tomatoes with two cups of stock reduced to half. Its tongues in the sauce. Serve with parsley and lemon slices and a slice of bread sautéed in butter.

Sweetbread Hamkins.—Cry parboil one sweetbread and a small cube. Melt two table of butter, add three of four well blended add one cup of stock. Reheat the sweetbread sauce; add one-fourth of a heavy cream, whipped, one spoonful of beef without paprika to taste, with a bit time. This is particularly true of separate blouses, sweaters, jackets and skirts. Unless these are definitely selected to be combined with garments one already has or new ones bought for a complete costume, and unless the colors in the two separate articles harmonize, the effect may be very unfortunate. It is usually safest to plan an entire costume as a whole, even when it consists of two or more pieces, as in the model illustrated.

Selecting the Sports Costume

Clothing that looks attractive in a store or catalogue, when considered alone, often proves unsatisfactory when seen at home as part of a costume.

Appropriateness, simplicity and color harmony produce charm in the "right" model, and lack of these qualities gives an undesirable effect to the "wrong" one. It seems almost incredible that anyone should wear such a combination, yet equally bad ones are frequently seen.

The "right" model wears a two-piece dress that is plain and loose enough to permit active movement of any kind. It is truly intended for sports. The neutral color of the dress is relieved by having bands of two tones of orange on both blouse and skirt. These not only harmonize in color with the background and with each other, but they run in the same direction and so make the lines of the costume pleasing. A tie of one shade of orange is used. Shoes are also appropriate to the purpose for which a sports costume is worn.

The "wrong" model has up and down lines in the striped skirt, and criss-cross, zigzag effects on the many colored jacket, the colors of which do not harmonize with the colors in the skirt. A Y-shaped vest of unsuitable long material and open-neck on the shoulders add to the jumble of lines, colors and spots of the whole costume.

and inconspicuous. Incidentally the two ways of doing the hair may be compared to the advantage of the one wearing the simple costume.

TIPS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS

Pink cheeks from drinking milk will not rub off.

A pinch of mustard gives a pleasant tang to any cheese dish.

The best kind of bed for the baby is a plain brass or white enameled one.

Hands need not get into dirty water when the floor mop is of the self-wringing kind.

Perpiration stains can be removed by rubbing with soap and laying garment in hot sun.

Mixed boiled ham may be moistened with meat jelly, chilled and coated with mustard.

Place tinful under flower-vase bottles. It will save the most highly polished table of damage.

Water in which carrots have been boiled contains nourishing quantities which are very good for small children.

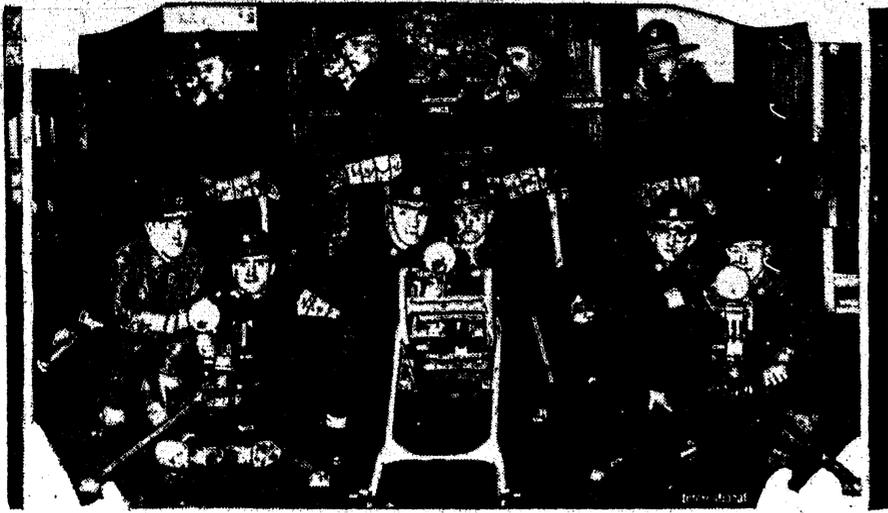

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night? If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first signs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

House Made in Two Days

Two two-story houses were made in two days at Leicester, England, recently. They were of concrete, and at the end of the second day were ready for doors, windows and roof. After the foundations were laid, standard molds of wood were erected, and into these the concrete was poured. The molds were then removed, revealing the house in its final shape.

Elements of Prosperity

The following from the American Bankers' Association Journal, showing the condition of the United States under Republican rule, should be read by every voter in this country. The article was not intended to be of political value to any party, neither was there any politics about it, but it is a straightforward statement of conditions as they actually exist. We quote in full:

Ten major elements in business which give assurance that the final 1927 record will be favorable as well as the beginning of 1928:

1. The agricultural situation with large crops being harvested except in fruit, cotton and corn. Total agricultural income is estimated in excess of $12,000,000 the average of the last 5 years.

2. Easy money with current rates ruling well below October a year ago due to heavy gold imports combined with substantial purchase of government securities by Federal Reserve banks giving a credit expansion of over $1,000,000,000 going principally into the stock market, but leaving plenty of credit available for commercial purposes.

3. Numerous major industries, somewhat slack this year, headed for improved condition in 1928, for example, steel, oil, automobiles, coal, textiles, tanning and shoes.

4. Building construction. Contracts awarded the first eight months of 1927 exceeding the total for the same period in 1926. Record levels are being maintained.

5. Firmer general commodity prices, especially in farm products now on a parity with other goods, the farmers' goal for several years.

6. The favorable condition of the stock market.

7. The healthy condition of the bond market.

8. Foreign trade with exports for the first seven months gaining 5.3 per cent over the same period in 1926 and imports for this period 7.5 per cent less than last year, despite fears of foreign competition and predictions to the contrary.

9. Government finances are in better shape than for more than a decade with debt retirement around the $1,000,000,000 annual rate averaged since 1919.

10. Probable legislation to be taken up by Congress. Tax reduction will be bullish to business and the election bogie need not necessarily hamper next year's business.

Hallowe'en Devilry Lessened

There is a noticeable change in Hallowe'en days of the present time from those of the past. No reports were sent in to the sheriff and town marshal about destruction of property, changing signs of the business houses, running automobiles on the house-tops and other things which at one time made citizens

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

President Is Informed of Good Business Conditions in Nation.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

ECONOMIC conditions in the United States are fairly good, business seems to be improving and the outlook for the future is encouraging. That is, in brief, a summary of the reports submitted to President Coolidge by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Labor Davis, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine and Secretary of Commerce Hoover. The President was highly pleased with these optimistic reports, and concluded the present situation is satisfactory.

In the reports on business conditions it was stated that the construction program of the country shows no material let up. While there has been a falling off in receipts of the railroads, the President is of the opinion that any diminution in volume of railroad business due to development of motor transportation and the general use of automobiles reflects prosperity rather than otherwise. The amount of coal transportation was not quite so great this year as last, but the President attributes this to the fact that last year stocks of coal were accumulated in anticipation of a strike.

A considerable increase in the production of automobiles is in prospect, the President was advised. The railroads are to be in the market for a good deal of new equipment. The textile industry is in better shape than it was, and the steel industry is showing progress.

Exports are keeping up as well as last year. It was stated. Imports have not been quite so large in value as last year, but Secretary Hoover gave as a reason that this was due mainly to the fact that American consumers are getting British rather than lower prices.

Secretary Davis, in commenting on the labor situation, said that of present there were only twenty-seven industrial strikes in progress as compared with fifty at this time last year.

Reports presented by Secretary Jardine caused the President to believe that agriculture is in a somewhat better condition than it has been, and that this will be reflected in a greater buying power. Crops with the exception of cotton were stated to be fully as good as last year.

Despite the encouraging business conditions, President Coolidge let it be known that in his opinion taxes cannot be reduced by as much as $350,000,000 or $400,000,000, as is urged by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He has not indicated that the reduction could amount to even $200,000,000, and in Washington it was believed Secretary Mellon would advise congress to make a cut of between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000.

IT WAS understood in Washington that Henry C. Hall would soon resign as member of the Interstate Commerce commission, and that Amos A. Betts of Phoenix, Ark., would be named to succeed him. Mr. Betts is a member of the Arizona corporation commission and is a Democrat.

CHICAGO'S night life is on the eve of being dried up completely as a result of the action of the Supreme court of the United States in declining to interfere with the issuance of injunctions closing several saloons in that city because some of their patrons drank liquor on the premises and were served with the accompanying ice and soft drinks. And there is no apparent reason why saloons and roadhouses everywhere else should not be in equal peril with those of the Chicago district. The prohibition enforcement agents were making preparations for great activity, and the proprietors of cafes and hotels were in a quandary, desisting they as did not trust their patrons by searching them before serving them with soft drinks.

SENATOR NYE of North Dakota, an spokesman for the radical Republicans, has called on Frank O. Lowden to make plain his stand on various issues which are of especial interest to the West, and intimated that if he fails to satisfy the radicals in these matters, they will give their support to Senator Norris of Nebraska for the Presidential nomination. "There are such problems as those involving freight rates, discriminations in freight rates, inland waterway improvements, permanent improvements growing out of any flood control program, the conduct of the federal reserve banking system, the administration of the federal farm land banks—all of these problems bearing directly upon the measure of prosperity which may accrue to the agricultural states," said Senator Nye. "Then, too, there are great national problems in which the West is vastly interested.

"Upon these problems the whole West knows well the position of one like Senator Norris, but it does not yet fully know the position of Governor Lowden, except that he is a believer in and an advocate of farm relief legislation such as is involved in the McNary-Haugen bill."

Senator Walsh of Montana, Democrat, prophesied a political "revolution" in the Middle West if the Republicans nominate a man whose views on farm relief are the same as those of President Coolidge.

Two other Democratic senators, Copeland of New York and Pomeroene of Ohio, have endorsed the candidacy of Gov. Al Smith. With the backing and support of the South, said Copeland, Smith's nomination and election are assured. He declared that southern opposition was "not so strong as it has been represented" and looked hopefully for assistance from Dixie. He believes the Republicans will nominate Charles E. Hughes.

Pomeroene's endorsement was in a magazine article in which he praised Smith's accomplishment in New York and defended his attitude toward prohibition. He declared, however, that there were so many able leaders that he did not want to seem ungratefully committed to Smith.

Mrs. Florence Atkins of Georgia, a leader among Democratic women, said the nomination of Smith would mean "party suicide" since the South would not support him if he were named.

TRIAL of Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair in Washington on charges of conspiracy to loot the navy's oil reserves got under way before a jury which included two young women, Owen J. Roberts and Alice Pomeroene are handling the case for the government, and the former made the opening statement for the prosecution. Edward C. Flaney, first assistant secretary of the Interior now and during Fall's regime, was the first important witness. He described the unusual secrecy which distinguished the Teapot Dome lease transaction from dozens of others in the department, and asserted that the transaction was taken entirely from the hands of himself and his associates and conducted personally by Fall. His testimony purported to show further that for days the lease itself lay locked in a drawer of Fall's desk while members of congress and other officials asked in vain for information as to whether such a lease had been executed or was in contemplation.

EIGHTY thousand soft coal miners of central Germany went out on strike last week, and many industries were threatened with disaster because of the lack of electrical power. The men had been earning an average of $3 a week and asked that this be increased to $3.65. The ministry of labor approved the demand but the mine owners would not grant it unless they were permitted to increase the price of coal accordingly. This the ministry of economics refused. The central German chemical industry, the sugar industry and the paper mills began shutting down, and the beet sugar refiners told the government the entire industry would be ruined unless the strike were stopped. Food prices in Berlin and elsewhere began soaring, and the cabinet spent many hours trying to devise some means of fighting the troubles.

Southern Colorado also had its coal strike, some 4,000 miners quitting work on the order of the Industrial Workers of the World. Members of the state industrial commission warned the strikers that picketing was against the law, and the sheriff at Walsenburg, center of the affair, told them every man caught picketing would be arrested. In spite of this the strikers, headed by L. W. W. leaders, began picketing the mines. These men were not permitted to carry arms but Paul Seldner, L. W. W. organizer, said: "We intend to conduct this strike peacefully, but if a striker is killed our men will be carrying cannon around with them."

Five more mining companies in Ohio have obtained from the Federal court in Columbus injunctions against the United Mine Workers to aid them in operating their mines on a nonunion basis.

EARL CARROLL, the theatrical man who of "bath-tub party" fame, came out of the Atlanta prison last week on parole, after paying his fine and signing a pledge to abstain from intoxicating drinks, avoid bad company and behave himself generally. He had served a little more than four months of his year and a day sentence. Carroll's thoughtfulness for his former friends among the prisoners caused him to order many of his personal possessions left for their use, including an expensive radio set and a suit of money he had on deposit at the prison. The latter he ordered used to help his friends as Warden Snook saw fit.

Other objects of the federal parole board's clemency during the week were Gaston Means, notorious in many ways, and Colonel Forbes, once head of the veterans' bureau.

OVER in China the struggle for Peking goes merrily on. After retreating some distance, the Shansi troops slipped back past Chang's forces and for a time seriously threatened the city again. But at last reports they were being pushed back, owing to their inability to reinforce their positions. The fighting was exceedingly fierce and bloody and the casualties heavy.

The Nationalist government succeeded in floating a domestic loan of $24,000,000 in Shanghai for the purpose of financing a new campaign against Marshal Chang, and announced plans for the drive northward in full co-operation with Gen. Feng Yu-shiang and the troops of Shansi province.

LITHUANIA has formally applied to the League of Nations for intervention in its quarrel with Poland, and the matter will be placed on the agenda for the December meeting of the council. The note from Kovno complains especially of the suppression of Lithuanian schools in Vilna by the Polish government, and it points out that a state of war exists between the two countries, the frontiers having been closed for years and all relations prohibited. France has been frankly supporting Poland, and England has been unfeeling to Lithuania because of its Russian connections; but it is believed Germany will warmly espouse Lithuania's cause in December.

COSTES and Le Bois, French aviators, successfully made the flight from Senegal to Port Natal, Brazil, being the first to fly across the southern Atlantic without a stop. They continued their journey down to Buenos Aires with several stops.

Mrs. Frances Grayson and her fellow aviators of the plane Dawn made one start from Old Orchard, Maine, on their projected flight to Denmark, but were forced back because the plane was improperly loaded and nose heavy. Then they waited day after day for favorable weather for another take-off.

LARGE numbers of Alabama klansmen have been indicted for the bombings that have disgraced that state, and the trials will begin in January. Attorney General McCall, who was elected on a Klan ticket, has resigned from "the society and ceremonies of it."

LINE CAPTAINS HAVE BIG EDGE

Predominate in Survey of 410 College Teams.

Not many years ago it was a common practice for football teams to select backfield men as captains. Recently, however, the custom has changed and the present football season finds that more line-men have been favored with the captaincy than backs. A survey of 410 college eleven shows that 234 of the leaders are ends, tackles, guards or centers, while only 176 are quarterbacks, halfbacks or fullbacks.

The quarterback position, at one time the most popular position upon which to bestow the captaincy, has undergone a decided slump this season for only 57 quarters have been called upon to lead their teams into action. As a matter of fact quarterback is much less popular than two of the line berths, for the tackles have 60 captaincies to their credit and the guards are close behind with 64. Fullbacks have taken more of a slide than the quarters, for only 36 of them have been chosen as leaders for the 1927 season.

The shoes of captains will be filled by more fullbacks than any other players, 83 of them being called upon to direct gridiron machines. The ends and centers are at the rear of the list, but, even so, plenty of direction will be given from those places, for 54 terminal men and 60 pivots will serve as captains.

Charles Pyle Is One of Big Dreamers of Sport

Charles C. Pyle is one of the dreamers of sport. Some of his dreams have come true; others will never be realized.

One of his dreams concerns itself with vast sports theaters. These coliseums will be so large that it will be possible to play football, soccer or baseball under roof.

No visions from eight to one dozen of these coliseums scattered over the country and professional football leagues, playing football from October 1 until April 1, a six-month season.

He believes that the present drawback to professional football is the weather, but if the game were played under roof and spectators were sure of seeing the games in comfort, and being assured of no postponements, it would pay.

This dream will probably never come true.

Jack Sharkey's Triumph Ruined Buckley's Alibi

Now that it is all over, the story has leaked out that John Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, wanted to ask for a postponement of the Jimmy Maloney bout.

Two days before the bout Sharkey was suffering from what Dr. W. G. Frahlisch diagnosed as neuritis of the spine. He could not lift himself out of bed that morning. Alarmed, Buckley insisted that he would demand a postponement. Sharkey vehemently protested.

On Friday morning, a few hours before he weighed in, Sharkey was in Doctor Frahlisch's office for an hour. He was treated with heat rays. When he entered the ring he wore a bandage over the affected region.

Sharkey's triumph ruined a small alibi. "Spinal neuritis" would have been brand new.

Bill Tilden Would Play for Americans in 1928

If the United States sends a team abroad next year in an attempt to regain the Davis cup from the French, "Big Bill" Tilden will be very glad to be a member.

Instead of turning professional, as he had contemplated if defense of the Davis cup had been successful, Tilden declared he would be entirely in the service of the United States Lawn Tennis association in 1928.

With such younger stars as George Lott and John Doeg, Tilden will be ready for the long trail of qualifying play which must be traversed next year before the United States can challenge the reigning Frenchmen for the cup.

Wilcox Is Star

Chester "Cotton" Wilcox, captain of American halfback, is doing some work for the Purdue team this fall.

AMOS' PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

LESSON TEXT—Amos 5:1-27. GOLDEN TEXT—Let judgment run down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Treating Every-body Right.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Kind of Man God Hears.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Squaring for God Against the Crowd.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Conditions of Divine Approval.

I. Israel's Desolation Predicted (vv. 1-3).

Amos lamented over the doom which was to overtake the nation. Israel is called a virgin because she had never been subdued by any foreign nation (see Isa. 23:12). Her failing to rise no more sets forth the utter desolation and helplessness to which the Assyrians subjected the nation. From this captivity Israel never returned. Those who came back from the Babylonian captivity were largely from Egypt.

II. The Call to Return to God. God through the prophet says, "seek ye me and ye shall live." The implication is that while the divine judgments are not executed, an opportunity is offered for them to turn to God. In their turning to God they were to renounce:

1. Idolatry (vv. 5, 6).

They were to turn away from the places of idolatry—Bethel, Gilgal and Beersheba. God's judgment was to strike these places.

If they would not come to Him for life He would be their destroyer. "Our God is a consuming fire." The only one who can give life to those who seek Him is the one who shall destroy.

2. Cause to pervert judgment (v. 7).

"Turn judgment to wormwood" implies the bitterness of the perversion of justice to the injured.

3. Cause to dethrone righteousness. "Leaving off righteousness" is thought to mean that unrighteousness was allowed to take its place. In this third exhortation the Lord's name is given with the following statement of some of His works:

1. "Maketh the seven stars and Orion;" 2. "Turneth the shadow of death into morning;" 3. "Maketh the day dark with night;" 4. "Calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the earth," both in rain and deluge; 5. "Strengthened the spoil against the strong."

III. The Sins Committed by the Wicked Nation (vv. 10-13).

1. They hated the Judge who condemned their wicked practices (v. 10).

2. They abhorred him that spoke uprightly (v. 10).

This most likely referred to the prophets themselves who told them of their sins and urged uprightiness of life.

3. They trampled upon the poor (v. 11).

The rich built magnificent houses out of the proceeds extorted from the poor.

4. They afflicted the just (v. 12).

This they did by taking a bribe.

5. They turned aside the poor in the gate (v. 12).

Because they had no money the poor were turned aside.

It was most difficult for the poor to get justice. The times were so evil that the prudent would best keep silence.

IV. The Conduct of the Righteous (vv. 14, 15).

No condition in the world, religious, social or political can become so difficult that the righteous are shut off from help. The righteous can:

1. Seek God (v. 14).

Those who seek good shall have with them the Lord God of Hosts.

2. Hate the evil (v. 15).

Evil must be hated. The sin question must be settled before God can bestow His blessings.

3. Establish judgment in the gate.

It was the custom in that day for the courts of justice to sit in the gate of the city. The prophet urges upon them the responsibility to place honorable men in charge of public affairs.

V. The Judgment to Fall (vv. 16-20).

There is coming a day of retribution. Justice and right shall be vindicated. This will be realized in the day of the Lord (II Thess. 1:7-10; James 5:7). All wrong shall be righted at that time. May we earnestly pray, "thy kingdom come."

VI. Worship Without Holiness of Life an Abomination to God (vv. 21-27).

Sacrifices, observance of feast days and singing, when the heart is out of fellowship with God, is most displeasing to Him.

Two Different Things

The love of God and the world are two different things. If the love of this world dwell in thee, the love of God forsakes thee; renounce that, and receive this: it is fit that the sober love should have the best place and acceptance.

LABOR SUPPLY IN COLORADO SUFFICIENT TO MEET DEMANDS

Washington.—A special survey, showing employment prospects for the remainder of 1927, made by the U. S. employment service, just released says that while employment will increase during the next sixty days, particularly in connection with fall harvest work, coal mining, railroad freight operating departments and in some lines of manufacturing the supply of labor in Colorado will be sufficient to meet all demands. Practically all seasonal outdoor work will be over by the 1st of December and a large number of laborers will be released. Approximately 25,000 workers will be employed during October, November and December in connection with the harvesting of the large sugar beet crop. The beet sugar factories are now operating and will afford employment to about 10,000 people for a period of from sixty to 120 days. Three hundred and fifty men will soon be employed in a large cement plant which is practically completed. The rail department of a steel plant at Pueblo will resume operations about the middle of October, giving employment to some 400 workers who will be available locally. Lumbering activities will gradually decline as the winter approaches. Employment in the meat packing plants will increase somewhat during the next three months. Flour milling plants are gradually increasing production and forces. Canning factories will probably end their seasonal runs during October. Metal mining is expected to continue on a steady basis for the next few months. There will be a seasonal increase in coal mining production and employment will decrease; work on the six-mile Mot fat railroad tunnel will be completed in about sixty days, when approximately 1,000 men will be released. Highway construction will continue until inclement weather interferes. As a result of the movement of large agricultural crops, coal, and other commodities, freight train service forces are gradually being increased. Railroad shop and maintenance of way employment will show a gradual reduction during the next sixty days.

Labor to Enroll Women

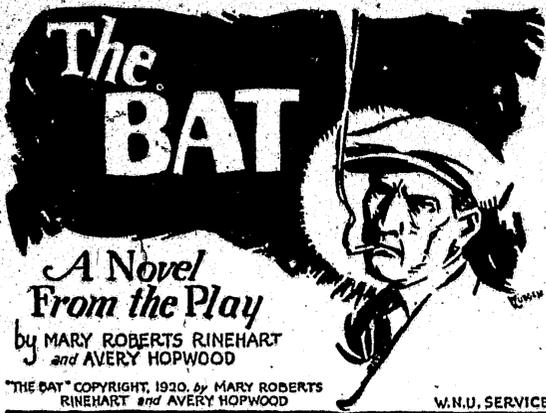

San Francisco.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, recently announced a campaign to enroll women workers throughout the nation was being planned. "The time has come when we must enlist the aid of the huge mass of unorganized woman labor," Green said. "Many women are doing work formerly done by men. They are underpaid in many instances. Woman must be paid the same wages as man wherever she does the same amount and as good work."

Coolidge Farm Worth $13,000

Indianapolis.—The farm deeded to President Coolidge by Luke Duffy, Indiana agricultural leader, is worth $13,000, it was estimated by the State Farm Bureau. But the bureau admitted the farm probably could not be sold for that amount. It carries a mortgage of $3,500. "Under average conditions, the farm should yield an income of $500 a year above expenses," L. L. Needer of the bureau said.

Mayers to Take Up Airport Problem

Chicago.—Invitations have been mailed to mayors of 4,200 cities throughout the United States to confer here Dec. 12 to 15 on municipal airport facilities. The invitations, sent by Mayor William Hale Thompson, point out that universal use of commercial planes will be impossible without adequate landing fields along the routes laid out. Thompson plans to organize the national airports association.

PERSONALS

Lee Prude, Mrs. Prude and son, Chandler, arrived here Tuesday from Mountainair, where they are engaged in the ranching business. Chandler talked encouragingly about his home town and said that the bean crop this year was wonderful. There will be about 500 car loads of beans shipped out of that locality before the winter ends and the price is good at present. There is an average of 400 bags to the car and each bag contains 100 pounds. Many farmers have harvested as much as 2500 bags of beans this year which will yield nice profits.

GENUINE NAVAJO INDIAN RUGS

AN UNUSUAL GIFT WHICH WILL LAST A LIFETIME

The Rugs of the Navajo Indians are unlike any other rugs ever produced as art of weaving has been brought to a perfection with this tribe of the Southwest. The designs are of their own figures and symbols and are seen nowhere else. These Rugs are of a texture and quality that will outlast Oriental Rugs. The wool used is sheared from live sheep which insures strength and firmness. They will wear a lifetime and becomes heir looms. The time is not far distant when genuine Navajo Rugs will no longer be wares, as the old Squaws who do this work are getting fewer and the present generation does not take up the work. For this reason the rugs now on the market are much sought after by lovers of Indian Relics.
