BASKET-BALL GAME

Saturday, Jan. 20, the Corona cage teams went through two hard, fast games victorious.

The girls' game, probably one of the fastest ever staged in the Carrizozo Community Hall, was a very interesting affair.

The first quarter ended 8 to 9 in favor of Capitan; the half 16 all; the 3rd quarter 20 all; the 4th quarter was the fatal quar-

U.S. Coast Guard Examination

An exceptional opportunity is offered young men of the right calibre to complete their education at government expense.

Congressman John Morrow has sent this paper a letter setting forth the fact that those who undergo the examinations for service at sea or ashore, must be young men from the ages of 18 to 21 years.

Cadets are trained and educated at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., and each year will be taken on extended practice cruises.

The examinations consist of mathematics, geometry, English and history.

A High School graduate should be able to pass the examination. For full particulars, write to the Commandant, Coast Guard, Washington, D. C.

Mas Buen Tiempo at Corona

A big delegation was here from Corona last Saturday to attend the basketball games and in leaving for home, expressed their appreciation for courtesies extended by the people of Carrizozo, during their brief stay.

Be sure and come; "muy buen tiempo" will be on hand. Ay, Carambola!

ter for Capitan. The Corona girls seemed to realize the game was almost over; just opened up, leaving the Capitan team for a hiking.

The substitutions—Corona—Atkinson for Green.

The boys' game was a snappy affair, with the stalwart forward Clements and Center Atkinson feeding the other 3 mid-gets the ball and they rolled the count right on up over the lanky Capitan quintet.

Corona Captain Evans Jolly (RF) Parker Clements (LF) Traylor Atkinson (C) Bilbo Perkins (RG) Traylor Jones (LG) Traylor Referee—Boucher. Subs., Corona, DuBois for Atkinson; Capitan, Ferguson for Bilbo, Bilbo for Evans. Crushed to Death Under Automobile

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, Jesse Leslie and John Lacey were driving from Capitan to Carrizozo, when on descending Smith Hill, Leslie, who was driving, lost control of the car and it swerved to the left and turned over against a bank. Lacey being on the opposite side, managed to jump, but Leslie could not escape. Lacey got out on the other side, but was pinned down as the car rolled over on its side. Lacey did everything in his power to try and raise the car and was soon assisted by a traveler who happened along. They finally raised it, so that if the victim had still been alive, he could have escaped, but by this time, he was dead.

At the morgue, the coroner's jury was empanelled and rendered a verdict of accidental death, according to the facts mentioned above.

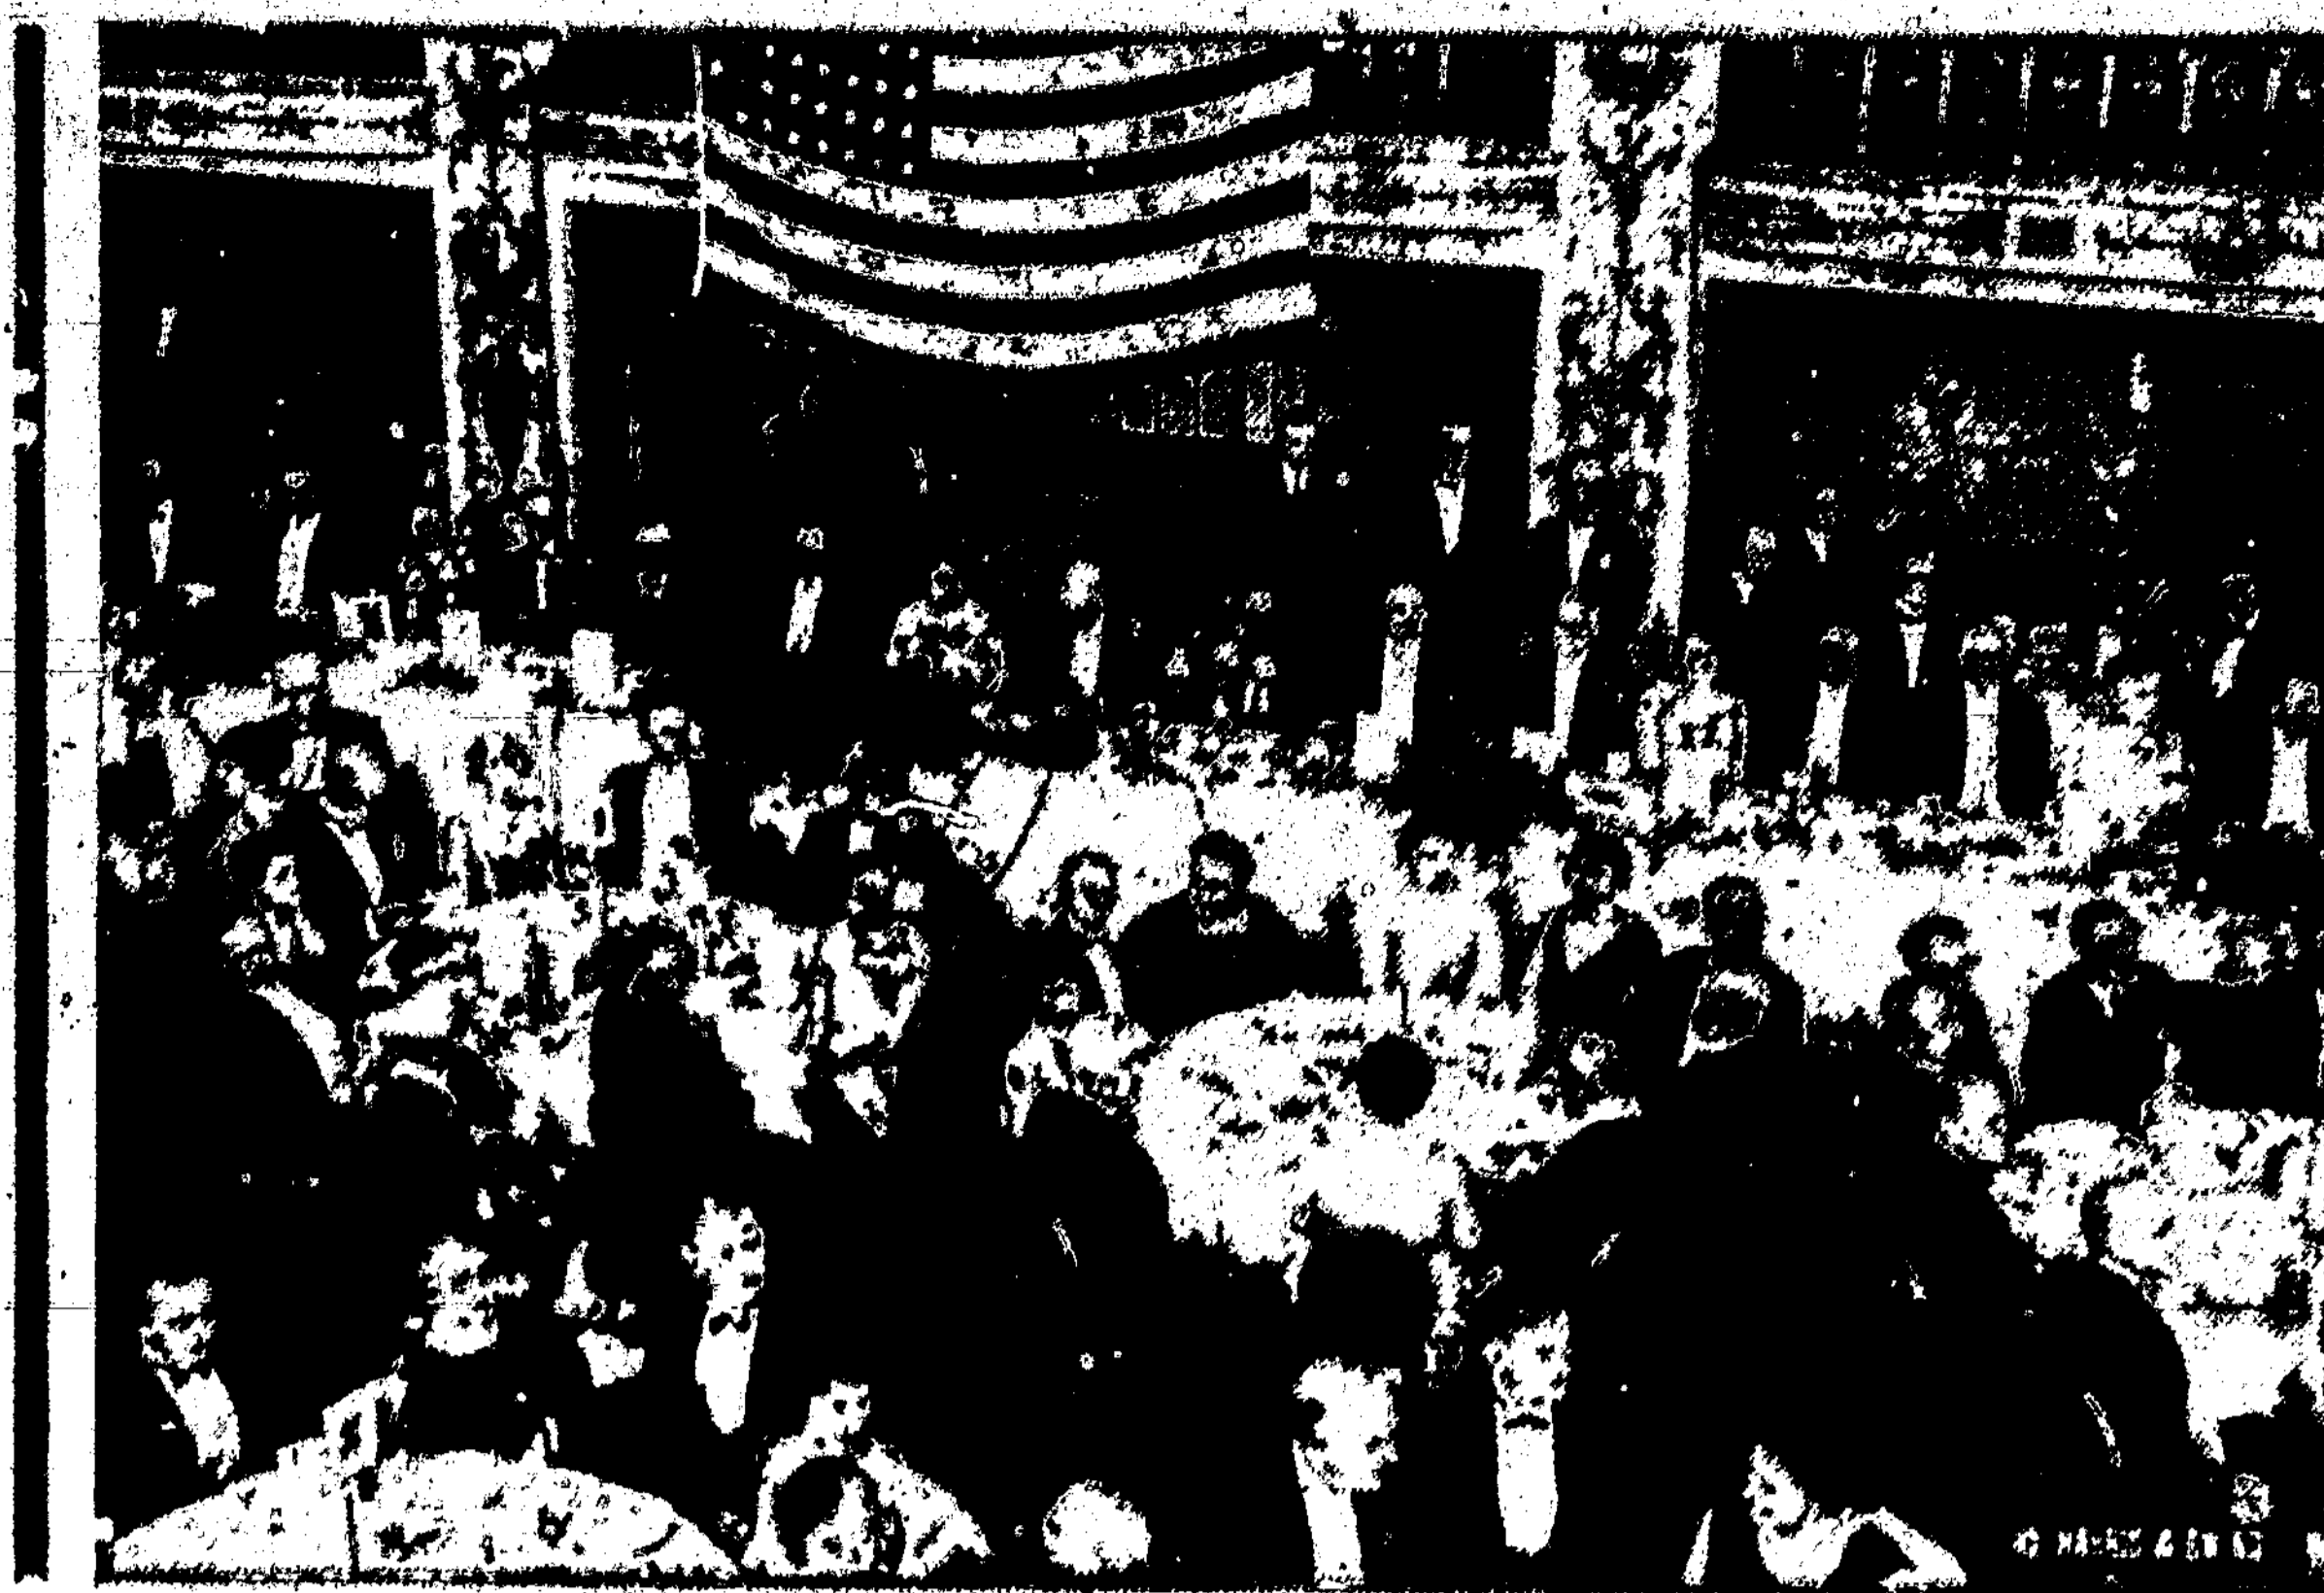

The funeral arrangements have not been made at this writing, and will await the arrival of relatives who were wired for last night.

SOUTH-WEST NEWS NOTES

The enrollment of the New Mexico State Teachers College at Silver City, has been increased to 150, with fourteen states represented in the student body.

The far-famed Snake dancers have decided to celebrate in Phoenix Washington's birthday; if the Phoenix Junior Chamber of Commerce agrees to furnish the snakes.

The fourth annual convention of the Southern New Mexico Association will be held at Silver City, Aug. 28 and 29. It was decided by members and officers in conference in Santa Fe.

Edward L. Safford, recently elected chairman of the New Mexico Republican state central committee, has resigned as deputy clerk of Santa Fe county and will devote practically all of his time to preparation for the state campaign this year.

Retrial for the case of James Parker, former special police officer, charged with the murder of Urey Ford, Tucson merchant patrolman, who was shot to death on a downtown street by Parker on the night of April 21, last, probably will be set Jan. 31.

Edgar Francis, who police say posed as a "big boot and shoe man from the east," while circulating spurious bank drafts among Phoenix business houses, was returned to Winslow to face a charge of forgery. Sheriff L. D. Devilbiss of Winslow arrived here and took Francis in custody.

District Judge Reed Holloman restored the license of Dr. Joseph Gaines to practice medicine in New Mexico, on the ground that the State Board of Medical Examiners exceeded its power in cancelling his license on a charge that he carried unethical advertising in newspapers.

Chief Justice Frank W. Parker of the New Mexico Supreme Court, honored by bench and bar in Santa Fe on Jan. 11 on completion of his thirtieth year on the Supreme bench of territory and state, is active and keen at the age of 48 years and generally recognized as one of the ablest judges in New Mexico's history.

With at least four railroads reported to be making plans to build from Texas into southeastern New Mexico, the Chamber of Commerce railroad committee is offering a right-of-way through Lea county, N. M., terminal grounds and depot site at Lovington, and $50,000 in cash as an inducement to the first railroad to build.

According to the report issued by Quinlan Record, director of the U. S. employment service of the Mountain district, the usual seasonal influx of migratory labor into Arizona occurred during December, resulting in a slight surplus of all classes of help. Lettuce harvesting, cotton picking, and soil cultivation provided employment for a great many workers. Cotton picking will be completed early in January. Industrial plants are operating steadily, particularly those manufacturing construction equipment; cotton gins continue capacity operations. Producing metal mines were running steadily at the close of the month and an increase in the volume of metal mine construction and development work is expected in the near future. Plenty of metal mine labor available. Lumbering activities in the Flagstaff and McNary districts have been seasonally curtailed and employment in sawmills has been reduced to a minimum. Although there is considerable building, construction work, and municipal improvements under way throughout the state, a small surplus of construction labor is apparent in some localities. Employment on highway construction is increasing; however, the supply of this class of labor is quite adequate. Forces employed in the freight-train service departments of the railroads increased slightly during the past thirty days. The report states that outdoor employment in New Mexico, in connection with farming, building, highway construction and lumbering activities, showed the usual curtailment during December, largely due to winter weather conditions. The labor surplus was increased by a large influx of migratory workers from adjoining states. However, this is a condition usually apparent at this period of the year. Industrial employment not affected by adverse weather conditions, remained fairly steady during the month. Cotton harvesting was completed, releasing some labor. Metal mining continued fairly active and considerable saw mine development work is expected to be under way in the next few weeks. A small increase in the forces employed in the coal mines was reported. Some oil prospecting work is under way, affording employment to a number of men. Railroad maintenance of way forces were slightly curtailed.

The first state convention of the Arizona Music Teachers' Association will be held in Phoenix Feb. 3 and 4. It was announced in Phoenix by Charles Fletcher Rogers. Death as a result of cancer unknown, was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury who listened to testimony from witnesses in an inquest held over the body of Mrs. Dorothy Clement Curry, found dead near the bank of the Salt River, southeast of Phoenix. An autopsy performed on the body of the woman, showed no traces of poison.

STILL WORSE

While out hunting Banty Johnson, son of Gap, and his dog, "Sounder," encountered a raccoon, which Banty shook out of a tree. The coon ran and Sounder staged a royal fight with him on the near-by railroad track. Sounder happened to be between the rails when the train came along. In telling about the fight Banty stated that that wasn't the worst of it. "What in torment can be worse than losing Sounder?" demanded Gap. "Why, that he still thinks the durn coon killed him."

Washington.—The public service of newspapers and press associations can be tripled by radio, the American Newspaper Publishers' committee on cable and radio communications informed the radio commission. The committee representative, Joseph Pierson of Chicago, urged that newspapers be given priority over all except the army and navy in allocation of short radio wave length facilities. "The newspapers and press associations will charge no more for their service by radio than by wire. In fact, much less owing to the economies of organization, but radio will increase their public service at least three times," he said. "It seems to be hinted here that radio facilities should be denied the American press because adequate facilities already exist to transmit our news. We have shown this is error. One of the best answers to that argument was made here recently, when one of the largest wire and cable companies in the world asked for many radio channels to supplement its so-called adequate wire facilities."

Income Tax Blanks Mailed. Denver.—The government has started mailing income tax blanks for 1927. These blanks must be filled out and filed with the Denver internal revenue office on or before March 15, under penalty of a fine and the loss of installment payment privileges. As the Denver office mails out more than 50,000 blanks to taxpayers throughout the state, it probably will be several days before they are received by the addressee, according to F. W. Howarth, collector of internal revenue. Mailing of these blanks was ordered by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair, after the treasury won its victory to delay congressional action on a new revenue bill which is now before Congress. Should a new bill be passed which would contain a retroactive clause granting a tax cut on the 1927 income, the Treasury Department will arrange to make the reductions at a later date.

Boardman's office of vice president of the valuation and commerce control department was declared abolished and Seelye will not have title of vice president. It was decided. No other changes were made.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

In Defense of State's Rights

In Senator Cutting's stand for the seating of Frank L. Smith of Illinois, he took a firm stand for state's rights and awakened some of the seven-sleepers to the fact that they were tampering with the rights which the state of Illinois has under the constitution.

In this country, there are certain rights which are held sacred by the states, one of which is that the people have the right of electing whomsoever they will to any office at any election designated by any certain date.

Herein lurks an evil far greater than the spending of a certain amount of money during election times, for to allow such practices as this to continue, it will not be long before the party holding the balance of power in the U. S. Senate will be unseating duly elected Presidents and all other officials by throwing out the votes of states and weakening the opposition so as to seat the favorites of that honorable body.

Will Rogers and The Victory Six

The famous comedian, Will Rogers, who acted as master of ceremonies during the "Victory Hour" the $67,000 national radio hook up which announced the Dodge Bros. Victory Six on Jan. 4, was one of the first to drive the much-talked-of automobile.

On the night of the "Victory Hour" he, who has stood in front of thousands of audiences had the "mike" right. Seated at the microphone in the study of his home, cold perspiration stood out on his brow.

In order that Rogers could tell that his "rags" were going over right, he had an audience of 3, composed of Graham McNamee, Don E. Gilham and A. P. Hill. He looked over the microphone at them and watched them as he would an audience in a theatre.

STATE OF NEW MEXICO Department of Education

Lois Randolph, Supt. Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 24, '26 To all County and City School Superintendents:

The Educational Committee of the New Mexico Bankers' Association has a plan by which they will be able to assist in giving school pupils and organizations some very practicable information with regard to banks and the banking system of the United States.

I urge the County and City School Supts. of New Mexico to co-operate with this educational plan by letting their schools know of it. For further information on this, write E. M. Brickley, Chairman of the Educational Committee of the New Mexico Bankers' Association, Carrizozo, N. M.

Very truly yours, Lois Randolph, Supt. of Public Instruction.

Educational Notes (Mary Fritz, Co. School Supt.)

The office of State Supervisors of Vocational Home Economics and Agricultural, respectively will be located at State College after February 1.

The educational committee of the New Mexico Bankers' Association has a plan by which they will be able to assist in giving the schools some very practical information with regard to banks and banking system of the United States. They will be prepared to discuss or furnish the schools with a paper on any subject in connection with banking.

The county school superintendent urges the teachers of Lincoln county to co-operate with this plan and write E. M. Brickley, Carrizozo, for further information. He will be glad to visit your school or send you a paper relative to the banking system.

It is time to begin thinking of the Lincoln County Teachers' Association meeting. The executive committee will meet in the office of the County Supt. at 10 o'clock, Feb. 11, for the purpose of deciding upon a place and time of meeting.

Miss Lois Randolph, State Supt. of Schools announces that only one examination for teachers' certificates will be given this year. The date has not yet been set.

All schools of the county have been visited by the county superintendent, and the work being done by both teachers and pupils has been satisfactory.

Notes from any of the county schools will be greatly appreciated.

... even as the pulse and water was blessed to the children Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.—Ivanhoe.

Friar Tuck here refers to one of the earliest recorded bits of dietetic research. More than twenty-six centuries ago, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, directed that the most promising children among the captives that he had brought home with him from Jerusalem should be given a three-year course in the learning of the Chaldeans.

Interesting as this experiment was, it by no means settled the question as to what constitutes a correct diet.

Some decades ago, Voit, working on the subject of metabolism, proved that for every gram of protein eaten there must result a production of 4.1 calories of heat; for every gram of fat, a production of 9.5 calories of heat; and so on. At once the enthusiasts thought the diet question settled for all time.

In view of our present voluminous writings on the subject of diet, it is interesting to turn back to the times of Socrates and find out what that philosopher thought a proper diet for a genuine and healthy people.

HOWE ABOUT—

By ED HOWE

(Copyright by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

One of the beautiful things is devotion of parents to children. Parents may scold, and whip, and fuss around, but are really devoted to their children; really make great sacrifices for them; really desire that they be educated, well-behaved, and succeed in life.

Nine-tenths of conversation, writing, is criticism, and most of it unreasonable; only indulged in for the pleasure of being abusive. In most cases criticism is reassurance the critic should be ashamed of. A man better than the average is more charitable than the man below it.

What we call civilization is only rules men have tried many centuries, and generally adopt because they work best. Any fool may say civilization has faults, and point them out, but generally it is the best we can do.

Few of us are willing to steal openly, but we are all willing to be openly unfair and untruthful.

Riches usually sober men, and cause them to realize their responsibility; but riches spoil women.

Man in the gutter of animals. A rabbit, on sight of a dog, always runs; but many men, on sight of the devil, rush into his arms.

"All truths," writes a mighty man in literature, "begin as blasphemies." It is as silly and infamous a thing as was ever printed.

NOVELTY FEATURES MIDWINTER COATS

BY JULIA BOTTOMLEY

group are proving of irresistible appeal.

An outstanding attraction in coats of the character of the models in this illustration, is their lightness of weight. Heretofore a fur coat was looked upon as reasonable for only a few months of the year. However, the furrier has managed to overcome this disadvantage, by giving to the fur coat the suppleness, the lightness of weight which has heretofore been ascribed to the cloth coat. Especially are the novelty fur coats so fashioned as to be a sure protection against severe cold, at the same time possessing a lightness of weight and distinctness of color.

It is just such furs as stayed lamb, spotted calf, caracul and fine astrakhan, which are finding their way into the mode not only for northern wear about town during the mid-season and early spring days, but their type is being worn over thin frocks by women on unexpected cool days which may be encountered at southern and coastline winter resorts.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Scissors are as useful in the kitchen as in the sewing room; but have a pair for each place.

Here's a new one to try for breakfast: Peel bananas and brush them with powdered sugar and fry them with bacon.

Down-at-the-heel shoes are likely to give that "down-at-the-heel" feeling; they throw the feet into an unnatural leg and back muscles.

To bake apples so they are tender all the way through but are not too brown on top, cover them during the first half of the period of baking.

Turn rugs face down on the lawn to beat them. Hanging them over the clothes line is likely to break threads and loosen the bindings around the edges.

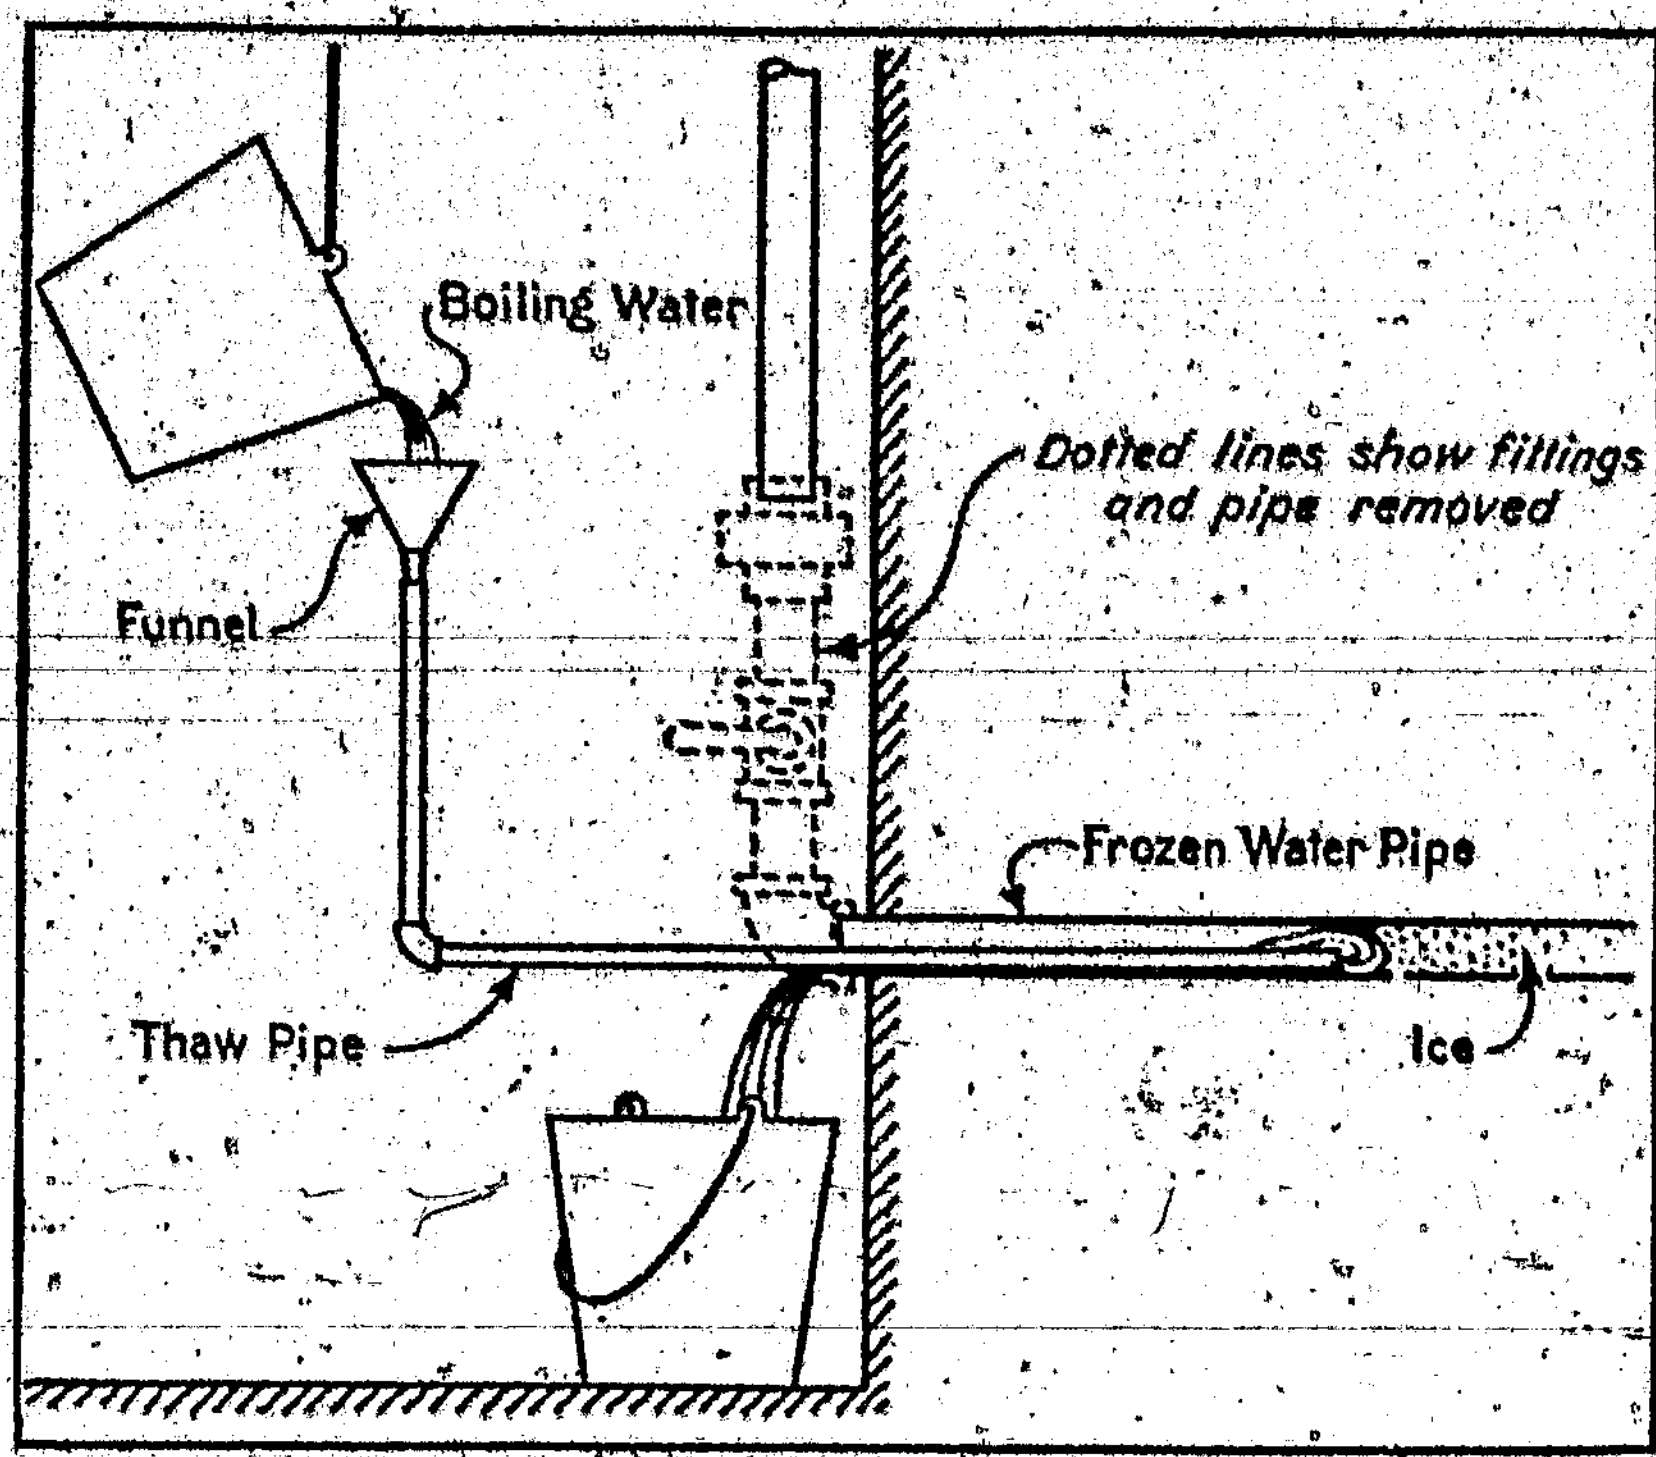

The fur coat situation is largely expressed in one word—novelty. Leopard spots, tiger stripes, spotted calf, shaved lamb, from jungle to barnyard, comes the spectacular and the bizarre in furs which fashionable women are wearing this winter.

When the animal kingdom fails to supply more and more of novelty, man's ingenuity steps in, working a magic of transformation with stencil, with dye and through other, as artful ways.

To capture the fancy of the woman of today, a coat must be individual not only as to the fur of which it is made, but in manner of its styling as well. Three contrasting coats which define "what's what" among leading fur styles are presented in this illustration. The striped effect to the left, displays the cleverness of the dyer's art. The beige broadtail coat trimmed with fox centered in the group, together with others of its type, is scoring a tremendous success this season. To the younger generation spotted calkskin coats such as pictured in this

Thawing Frozen Pipes

Thawing Frozen Pipes by Working From Supply End.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The middle of a frozen pipe should never be thawed first, says the United States Department of Agriculture, because expansion of the water confined by ice on both sides may burst the pipe. When thawing a water pipe, work towards the supply, opening a faucet to allow when flow starts. When thawing a waste or sewer pipe, work upward from the lower end to permit the water to drain away.

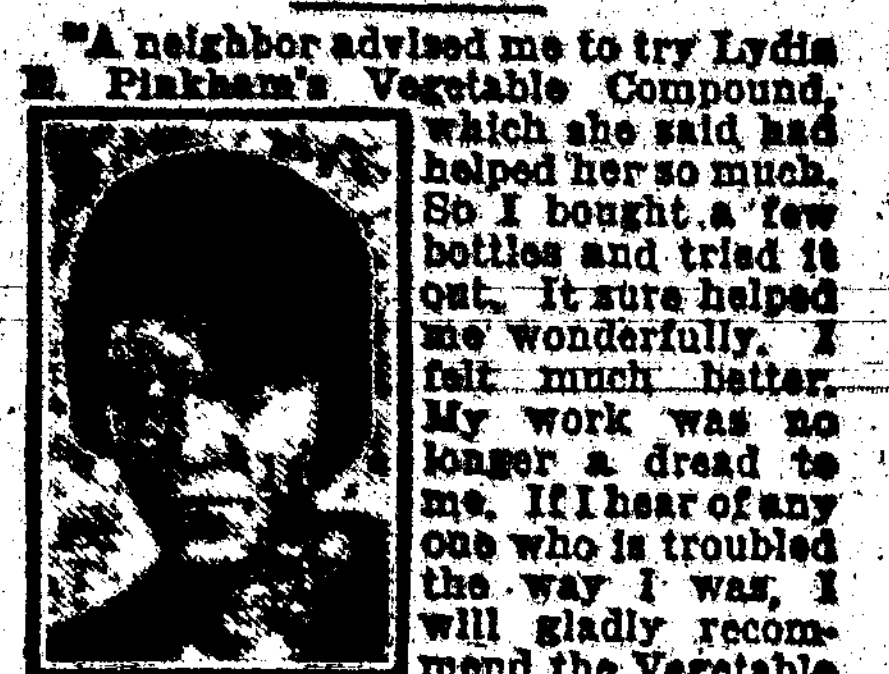

Applying boiling water or hot cloths to a frozen pipe is simple and effective. When there is no danger of fire a torch or burning newspaper run back and forth along the frozen pipe gives quick results. Underground or otherwise inaccessible pipes may be thawed as follows: Open the frozen water pipe on the house end. Insert one end of a small pipe or tube. With the aid of a funnel at the other end of the small pipe pour boiling water into it and push it forward as the ice melts. A piece of rubber tubing may be used to connect the funnel to the thaw pipe. Hold the funnel higher than the frozen pipe, so that the hot water has head and forces the cooled water back to the opening, where it may be caught in a pail. The head may be increased and the funnel may be more conveniently used if an elbow and a piece of vertical pipe are added to the outer end of the thaw pipe. Add more thaw pipe at the outer end until a passage is made through the ice. Withdraw the thaw pipe quickly after the flow starts. Do not stop the flow until the thaw pipe is fully removed and the frozen pipe is cleared of ice. A small force pump is often used instead of a funnel and is much to be preferred for opening a long piece of pipe. If available, a jet of steam may be used instead of hot water; being hotter, it is more rapid.

Frozen traps and waste pipes are sometimes thawed by pouring in caustic soda or lye, obtainable at grocery stores for about 25 cents a pound. Chemicals of this character should be labeled "poison" and should be kept where children cannot get them. To prevent freezing, the water in the traps of a vacant house should be removed during cold weather and the traps should be filled with kerosene, crude glycerin, or a very strong brine made of common salt and water.

SICK WOMAN SOON RECOVERS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"A neighbor advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which she said had helped her so much. So I bought a few bottles and tried it out. It sure helped me wonderfully. I felt much better. My work was no longer a dread to me. If I hear of any one who is troubled the way I was, I will gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to them and I will answer any letters in regard to the same."

—Mrs. BEATRICE MACLEAN, 113 1/2 N. Penn. Ave., Lansing, Mich.

"I had been sick ever since I was fifteen years old. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I got so I could do all my housework and I am in good health."

—Mrs. MAIZE K. WILLIAMS, Ketchikan, Alaska.

From Michigan to Alaska, from Maine to Oregon and from Connecticut to California letters are continually being written by grateful women recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CORNS

Ends pain at once!
In one minute pain from corns is ended. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads do this safely by removing the cause—pressing and rubbing of shoes. They are thin, medicated, antiseptic, healing. At all drug and shoe stores. Cost but a trifle.

Put one on—the pain is gone!

Fleas in Coats

Mexican dressed fleas are among the interesting exhibits in a downtown shop window which has the Lindbergh flight as the inspiration for a display of Mexican curios. The fleas are so small that they can be seen only with the aid of a strong glass, but they have been skillfully arrayed in wedding clothes by native workmen. An English walnut shell has been painted to resemble the interior of a church and a dressed flea minister stands ready to marry the couple.—Detroit News.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

By NELLIE MAXWELL

This is the time of the year when we enjoy the richer puddings and other desserts. Here is a good old-fashioned Plum Pudding.

Plum Pudding.—Take one cupful each of molasses, sour milk and finely minced suet; two cupfuls of flour, one cupful of stale bread crumbs, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of soda, the same of salt, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful each of cloves, mace and allspice; one cupful of raisins chopped, one-half cupful of walnut meats cut fine, one cupful of chopped figs or dates and one egg. Dredge chopped fruit and nuts, with a small amount of flour. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, adding the bread crumbs last. Scald the spices with two tablespoonfuls of water and add to the molasses, combine the egg and sour milk, molasses and suet. Combine the liquid with the dry ingredients. Stir in the dredged fruit. Fill well-greased molds two-thirds full and cover tightly. Steam three hours. Serve hot with an egg sauce. This pudding will keep for several weeks if in a cold place.

Egg Sauce.—Beat two eggs until light, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla, stir until well dissolved, then add a cupful of boiling hot milk or thin cream.

Cranberry Jelly.—So many prefer the jelly for a dainty serving that the following way of preparing the berries will be liked: Cook a quart of cranberries in one cupful of water, covering tightly, until the skins have burst. Pour into a jelly bag and drip until well drained. Return to the saucepan, add two cupfuls of sugar and bring to the boiling point. Pour into small molds or large, or a shallow pan; when thick the jelly may be cut into desired shapes.

Oyster Fritters.—Mince fine one dozen oysters and stir into the following batter: One and one-half cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of cayenne, two teaspoonfuls of minced parsley, three-fourths of a cupful of oyster liquor, and milk mixed and one beaten egg. Mix well and drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Brown and drain and serve hot.

Pecan and Prune Salad.—Cut a pound of choice prunes into narrow strips, add one cupful of sliced pecan meats, a dash of pepper and salt to season. Heat one cupful of cream until stiff, add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Mix with the prunes and nuts and serve on a curled lettuce leaf with a spoonful of dressing for a garnish.

Chestnut Salad.—Shell and blanch French chestnuts. Boil fifteen minutes, then drain and cut into slices, add an equal measure of finely cut tender celery, mix with French dressing and serve on lettuce.

Peach Cup.—Take eight canned peaches, two eggs, one-half cupful of milk, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one tablespoonful of butter and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Mash two of the peaches and add the well-beaten yolks of two eggs. Add the milk and the dry ingredients well sifted together and the melted butter. Put the mixture into buttered custard cups, add half a peach, cover with batter, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven twenty minutes. Serve with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Old-Fashioned Candies

Everybody likes peanut brittle and it is the easiest candy in the world to make. Take two cupfuls of sugar, put into a smooth iron pan and place over the heat, stir and melt; when a good brown add two cupfuls or less of crushed peanuts. Pour into a buttered pan and allow to cool. Break up into pieces when cold.

Melasses Candy.—Make a slup of two cupfuls of molasses, one cupful of sugar, three teaspoonfuls of vinegar and one tablespoonful of butter. Boil until it hardens in cold water, add one-fourth teaspoonful of soda and pour out on a greased platter. When cool enough pull and cut with shears into small pieces.

French Fondant.—Take two cupfuls of granulated sugar, two tablespoonfuls of glucose or a pinch of cream of tartar, add one-half cupful of water and boil to the soft ball stage—that is, when a few drops of the hot slup is dropped into cold water—it makes a ball which may be picked up in the

Evening Story for Children

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

She was all shivered. She was really beautiful.

She stood outside in the snowy garden just as happy as she could be. If it hadn't been for the children she could never have been a snow lady. She would have been just part of the snowbanks or of the deep snow in the streets or the yards.

Or she might have been some of the snow on the roofs of houses which made people very displeased for it meant they had to have it all shoveled off—for the snow might melt and cause leaks.

Oh, the snow lady knew she could have been much shakier and most unpopular.

As it was she was really liked—in fact they loved her. They thought she was beautiful and she knew she was beautiful. She didn't feel that this was wrong of her to think she was beautiful.

They had been made by the children. They deserved all the credit.

They Thought She Was Beautiful.

So she stayed in the garden after the children had made her and gave in to their lessons, but just before they went to bed they peeped out of the windows and she smiled at them. She hoped they could see her smile, and she felt perhaps they could as the moon had helped to show how she smiled.

The moon looked down at her and said: "Snow lady, you are very charming." And she had looked up and said: "Thank you, Moon."

What a fine, high and lofty compliment that was.

No wonder the snow lady lasted for days and days and days.

She was very happy in the snowy garden, very, very happy indeed. (© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Care of Food in Cold Weather

Much Depends on a Good Storage and Containers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Successful care of food in the home at any season depends very largely on whether there is a good storeroom, suitable containers and refrigerator or other means of keeping foods cool. The United States Department of Agriculture points out. Merely keeping perishable foods cool, however, does not eliminate the need for frequent inspection and picking over, discarding wilted leaves on vegetables and said materials, selecting for first use those fruits most likely to become over-ripe, and otherwise exercising good care.

If the cellar must be used as the chief storage place for food in cold weather, a dumb-water or raised moon pays for itself in time and strength saved. If there is a furnace in the main part of the cellar, it is generally too warm for the winter storage of fruits and vegetables, but a storeroom can often be partitioned off and so ventilated that the temperature is kept constantly cool.

PERSONALS

M. U. Finley made a sale last Monday of 1500 head of yearling and two year old steers to Buyer Delatour of Omaha, Neb. The steers were in the best of condition, and the price most satisfactory. Delivery of the same will be made on May 1.

The big cattle sale made by R. E. P. Warden, mentioned in this paper some time ago, will be consummated when the cattle will be either pastured somewhere in the county, or failing to get the required amount of pasturage, the cattle will be shipped to eastern points the latter part of the week. The buyers are anxious to have them remain here until next fall, but at last reports, they were unable to get the land where the cattle could be pastured.

In a letter from one of our former residents, Jesse Kennedy, who is now in Phoenix, Arizona, he says that he has purchased a nice chicken farm and is doing nicely in that line of business. Jesse was for a long time engaged in the mining game at different places in Arizona, but the above line suits him much better. His father, Wm. Kennedy, left here about three or four months ago and is now enjoying the Arizona winter climate, where he expects to remain.

Baptist Church Notes

The delegation from our church to the Fifth Sunday meeting at Tularosa expressed themselves as enjoying the services very much. Besides the sermons from various ministers, were the splendid orchestral numbers given by the Alamogordo orchestra. Also the special vocal selections by Mrs. Herbert Haywood and others. Sunday night was Carrizozo night, and closed with an invitation to the body to come here next time. This invitation was accepted and our home folks are privileged to a real treat on the Fifth Sunday next April.

By the time this goes to press the revival services will be in progress morning and evening at our church home. New song books have been procured and the building put in readiness for this great occasion. Special music will be arranged for each service by Prof. Frazier; also a fine Booster Choir trained. Come and enjoy these services.

The Sunday school of our church home was much benefited by the recent visit of Mr. S. S. Russell. The school was reorganized and some new teachers installed, and the graded system put into use. The weekly meetings for teachers will be held each Wednesday from 7 to 7:30 p. m. and every teacher is urged to be present. The training for teachers will be carried on indefinitely by the pastor, meeting each evening from 5:30 to 6:30 in the parsonage. There are several who have finished sufficient work to be entitled to receive the Normal Teachers' Diploma and other awards which will be awarded publicly in service at an early date. You are welcomed to enroll in this school. Tuition free.

Mrs. R. T. Lucas came in Sunday morning from Kansas City and will remain for about two weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burke and brother, Lewis, of the Outlook office.

Don't forget, a big musical treat and clean-cut comedy on Valentine night at the Crystal Theatre.

Little Ida Greer, age 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Greer, is afflicted with the mumps this week.

The A. J. Rolland family has moved to the Maxwell residence, formerly occupied by Attorney and Mrs. H. B. Hamilton.

Lee Burch of Capitan was operated on for appendicitis at a local hospital this week.

Doctor Eleanor M. James, Chiropractor, will be in Capitan to treat patients on Wednesdays, all day. Office in the Larsen Rooms, opposite Cottage Hotel.

GENUINE NAVAJO INDIAN RUGS

AN UNUSUAL GIFT WHICH WILL LAST A LIFETIME

The Rugs of the Navajo Indians are unlike any other rugs ever produced as art of weaving has been brought to a perfection with this tribe of the Southwest. The designs are of their own figures and symbols and are seen nowhere else. These Rugs are of a texture and quality that will outlast Oriental Rugs. The wool used is sheared from live sheep which insures strength and firmness. They will wear a lifetime and become heir looms. The time is not far distant when genuine Navajo Rugs will no longer be woven, as the old Squaws who do this work are getting fewer and the present generation does not take up the work. For this reason the rugs now on the market are much sought after by lovers of Indian Rugs.

Carrizozo-Mescalero Game

On Saturday, Jan. 28, the Mescalero Indians came to Carrizozo and met the H. S. boys on our court, resulting in a good fast game. Because the Indians were not used to an indoor court, they could not keep up with our boys, but they did their best and never lost hope. At the second quarter Coach Riddle ran in the second team and all the while our score was growing larger. The fourth quarter ended with the redskins still fighting, even though it was a losing game. The final score was 36-18. This was a good, clean game and our boys being anxious to meet the Indians on their court, will go to Mescalero tomorrow, Feb. 4.

Fred Fisher is employed at Ziegler Bros. in the grocery department, where he will be pleased to meet his old friends.
