Glenn Greer spent the week-end at his ranch.

D. R. R. Green was an El Paso visitor this week—How's Jaurez, Dr.?

Jess Atkinson seems to be doing business.—He has bought several hundred head of sheep from Lueras Brothers.

Mrs. Sidney Jones, who has been ill for over a week past, is rapidly recovering.

The Melvin Franks children are on the sick list, but are recovering rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. McClellan of Nevada are new residents of Corona; Mr. McClellan will be a clerk at the Trading Co. store.

The Senior Play last Saturday, "Two Days to Marry" was very successful—Miss Emily Jane Pink and Mr. Chase being the features of the play. The players expect to repeat the same in Carrizozo at an early date.

Mrs. Dora Jane Kersey has resigned her position in the Corona schools for a more advantageous one in Arizona. Mrs. Kersey has lived in and around Corona for 22 years. Mr. Kersey moved to Red Rock, Ariz., last January. Corona—not only loses one of its most efficient teachers, but a home-maker, good citizen and social worker as well. We hope Mr. and Mrs. Kersey and daughter, Virginia Louise will like their new home in Red Rock, Ariz., and will pay us a visit often. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hancock have rented the Kersey home.

Rainbow of Promise

Tomorrow will be a red-letter day for the Eastern Star and Masonic local orders, from the fact that an order of the Rainbow Assembly for Girls will be organized at the Masonic Temple, by Mrs. Laura Becker, Supreme Deputy for New Mexico.

The Order of Rainbow for Girls was organized by the Rev. W. Mark Saxson, 330, at McAlester, Oklahoma, April 6, 1922, with 171 girls as charter members, since which time, it has been blessed with a wonderful growth. The order includes in its membership, daughters of Masonic and Eastern Star families and their girl friends who have passed their thirteenth birthdays and who have not reached the age of eighteen.

Saturday afternoon will be devoted to instituting the Assembly and installing the officers and in the evening, the work will be exemplified by the Roswell Assembly and be followed with a banquet.

Trustee T. E. Kelley of the Town Board is the proud possessor of one of the latest models of the Victory Six Dodge Sedans and he sails like a bird and no perhaps about it. T. E. made a wise selection.

Several Lincoln families attended the Program and Dance at Picacho Saturday night.

Miss Julia Penfield, Picacho teacher, spent Sunday with her parents in Lincoln.

Capitan Capers

After looking over our Basketball records, we find that we hold a wonderful score.

The boys played 20 games and lost 6—while the girls played 15 games and lost 3.

Both the girls and the boys won at tournament—the boys at Carlsbad—the girls at Corona. We feel that we have a right to be proud of our teams, and hope that they do as well in the future.

The teachers are back from the Teachers' Meeting at Corona and report a good time, as well as a fine meeting.

Several families of Capitan are on the sick list—Pattersons, Leslies and Foster families. We are in hopes they recover 'muy pronto'.

The Capitan boys are now practising Baseball as well as track work—may they be successful in both.

The girls of this place are practising indoor baseball and are in hopes of meeting the Carrizozo girls soon.

The Seniors are busy to make their play, "Putting One Over," a big success; Miss Mary Shovlin being sponsor.

Raymond Bilbo has been ill for the last few days, but is some better now.

Another dance will be given at the Capitan Hall Saturday night, Apr. 14. The Paramount orchestra, assisted by Mickey McNeff of Fort Stanton will furnish the music.

State Will Buy More Nail Picker Trucks

Three more "nail-pickers" are being purchased, which will provide one for each highway district, the state highway department announced today.

The first truck equipped with electro-magnets for picking up metal was built at Roswell and has "picked" its way across into southwestern New Mexico, with the result that demands have come for others from all sections of the state.

The highway department estimates that the state car owners pay approximately $900,000 annually for puncture repairs.

The nail picker operates at a cost of 47 cents per mile, and it is planned to clean the roads of metal twice a year.

Highway Department Assisting Small Towns

It is the policy of the Highway Department to assist small towns with their road maintenance problems. To this end the Department has instructed all district engineers to include in their maintenance work, the care of state highways running through villages and small towns and to render a n y reasonable assistance to small communities in the care of their roads.

It is frequently difficult for the maintenance of their roads by reason of cost and lack of force and equipment. The new arrangement should result in a uniformly well-maintained state road-through small communities and it is believed, can be handled with small additional expense to the Department. The Highway Department's work will be limited to the main roads through towns.

The above information shows how our efficient Highway Department, under a Republican administration is seeking to benefit the PEOPLE of the state as a whole, instead of catering to a favored few.

Girl Scout Scoutin's

The Scouts met with Lois Stadman Tuesday evening, Apr. 3. The attendance was good; a program arranged by Gladys Dozier was given.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, April 17, at the home of Elizabeth and Johnnie Green.

Stockman and Mrs. T. E. Welch were down from the Patos Mountain Hereford ranch yesterday.

New Mexico Cities and Towns go Republican; A Wallop in Gallup

Santa Fe New Mexican:

There appears to be little contestation in the city and town elections from over the state for the Hannett cohorts. Here are a few items from the news of the day, after these contests, which may be regarded as significant.

Santa Fe rolls up the biggest majorities in history: Secor returns to the Republican fold defeating George Cook, Democrat, who had previously held the office of mayor; Hannett forces unsaddled in Gallup, where they had been in control for the last decade.

In Raton, the straight Democratic ticket was defeated. The town is normally Democratic.

At first glance, Las Vegas, the old town and seat of Lorenzo Delgado, Hannett lieutenant, might be thought to furnish at least some ray of hope, but on a closer scrutiny, it fades. Whereas, Mr. Delgado carried the "plaza vieja" by handsome majorities running up as high as 400 or more in the past, he escaped defeat only by a slender margin of 111 votes, and at that, there are allegations to the effect that the Las Vegas election was not all that the new Election Code intended an election should be. It may be said that it was a bi-partisan ticket that won in the Gate City, but facts indicate interclass strife in the Democratic ranks of that city.

At the city convention in Santa Fe, Charles Fahy, permanent chairman, in making a plea for the backbone of the Republican party to be broken, said the eyes of the state were on the Capital, admitting that the result would be a forecasting which way the political winds will blow in the fall.

Here is a little political history in 1904, 5 Democratic aldermen were elected in Santa Fe and the Republican candidate for mayor had a close call, his majority being less than 100 and in the fall of that year, A. T. Hannett was elected governor; in 1926, the entire Republican ticket carried in Santa Fe with what was at that time unprecedented majorities hovering around the 1000 mark and in the fall of that year Governor Dillon, together with most of the Republican state ticket was swept into office.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing—Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON
 President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage.

There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in these states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry. I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenue, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

Mixing Industry With Agriculture Means Prosperity for Rural Districts

Two Striking Examples
 I believe I can give you two striking examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere. Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man, in a little more than twelve years these have brought the population of that city up to seventeen thousand. Just a few miles away, at Elizabethton, they are building a great rayon plant, the first unit to cost $5,000,000. The population of that town is now two thousand, but it is estimated that this will be multiplied by five in less than two years. It is stated that the total investment in manufacturing industry in that community within a period of five years will probably reach $50,000,000. The balancing of industry and agriculture will solve most of our so-called agricultural problems and we will not need such political measures as will in my opinion, do harm if enacted to the very class they pretend to benefit.

Coronado blazed the trail. AS explorer and discoverer in the great Southwest, Coronado pioneered a trail which telephone lines now traverse. To project and construct these lines across plain and desert and over mountain range also was the work of pioneers. These men of the Bell System have blazed a trail through the frontiers not only of geography but of scientific knowledge. Their advance continues. This company still has its Coronados who are opening the way to better telephone service for the millions who now live where the Spanish explorer first led his steel-clad followers. Our continuing objective is expressed in the words of President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company: "With your sympathetic understanding we shall continue to go forward, providing a telephone service for the nation more and more free from imperfections, errors or delays, and always at a cost as low as is consistent with financial safety." Today the telephone makes the far west the near west. "Our Pioneering Work Has Just Begun"

TRANSFIGURATION AND SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:2-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit; for apart from me ye can do nothing.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Shows His Glory.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Shows His Glory.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—That Faith and Prayer Can Do.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Transfiguration.

When Christ announced His death which was to take place on the cross, the disciples were unable to see how victory could issue from death. Jesus took with Him Peter, James and John into the mountain.

Two men from the upper world were sent to converse with Jesus about His approaching death at Jerusalem—the very thing about which the disciples refused to talk. The transfiguration is therefore a foregleam of the coming kingdom.

I. Jesus Christ Glorified on the Mountain (vv. 2, 3).

He took the disciples "by themselves" and was "transfigured before them." This shows that the purpose of the transfiguration terminated upon the disciples and not on Christ. Christ's rebuke of Peter for his unwillingness to hear concerning His death apparently for a time estranged the disciples from Him. To heal this breach an unusual transaction was required. His shining raiment was typical of that glory which shall be manifest when Christ comes back to the earth. His appearance on the mountain typifies His visible appearance on the Mount of Olivets (Zech. 14:4, 5).

II. Peter, James and John Represent Israel in the Flesh in Connection With the Kingdom (v. 2).

Christ is peculiarly the King of Israel. According to Ezekiel 37:21-27, the Israelites are to be the central people in the kingdom. This people shall be gathered from among the nations and united as one in that kingdom, in their own country.

III. Moses and Elias Appeared in Glory With Jesus (vv. 4-13).

These men in the glorified state are typical of the state of the saints in glory. Moses, who was once denied an entrance into Palestine, appears now in glory representing the redeemed of the Lord who shall pass through death into the kingdom. Multitudes of the Lord's own who have fallen asleep shall be awakened at Christ's coming and pass into the kingdom. Elias represents the redeemed who shall pass into the kingdom through translation. Some shall be living upon the earth when the Lord shall come, and they, without dying, shall be changed, and thus pass into the kingdom (1 Cor. 15:50-53; 1 Thess. 4:14-18).

1. Peter's proposal (vv. 5, 6).

So definitely was the method of the kingdom unfolded before Peter that he proposed to erect tabernacles for Christ, Moses and Elijah. It is true that the unveiling of the majestic person of Christ and the panoramic display of the kingdom somewhat disconcerted Peter; yet he grasped its central meaning and proposed to celebrate the advent of the kingdom which had been prefigured in a tangible way.

2. The divine voice out of the cloud (vv. 7, 8).

God declared Jesus to be His beloved Son in whom He was well pleased. If one would know what is pleasing to God, let him study Jesus, who perfectly did His Father's will.

3. Jesus' charge (vv. 9-13).

He charged them that they should tell no man concerning the things which they had seen until He had risen from the dead.

IV. A Demonstration of the Purpose of the Establishment of the Kingdom (vv. 14-29).

When they descended from the mountain of transfiguration they witnessed a great multitude in a state of perplexity. The immediate cause of this state was the grievous condition of a young man possessed with a demon (v. 18). The father of the young man had appealed to the disciples to cast the demon out, but they were unable to do so. When they brought him unto Jesus, the foul spirit was rebuked and came forth. This young man's state is representative of the nations who are oppressed by the Devil. Just as this young man was grievously oppressed, causing him to cast himself into the fire and into the waters, so the nations today in their perplexity are doing the things which will result in their own destruction. The Devil will be peculiarly active in the oppression of men and nations in the last days.

Getting Salvation

If we are going to get salvation, we have got to get it upon God's terms and not upon our own; and that is why I fear that a good many people will not get it—simply because they can't have their own way about it.—D. L. Moody.

Sailing to Glory

We do not sail to glory in the salt sea of our tears but in the red sea of a Redeemer's blood.—Christian Meekles.

LIFE'S LITTLE JESTS

LIGHT HUMOR

Douglas Jerrold, the famous wit, once said to a dealer in candles: "The candles you sold me last week were very bad."

"Indeed, sir, I am sorry for that," replied the dealer.

"Yes, sir; they were very bad. Do you know they burnt to the middle, and then would burn no longer?"

"You surprise me! What air—did they go out?"

"No, sir, no; they burnt shorter!"

No Chance

"This night club game is all shot," said one waiter to another. "I've tried half a dozen times to grab off a little extra money by raising the checks, but I've been caught up at it every time."

"Serve you right," the other waiter replied. "You oughta know better. These men here tonight are in town attending a convention of auditors."

MUST BE GOING NOW

She—The man I marry must not smoke, drink, gamble, or stay out nights. He must be quiet and not easily let off.

He (depressing)—Yes! Well, you'll find plenty of that kind at the morgue.

Running and Walking

A candidate remarked, "It's fun in a campaign so swift to run, but true success demands the talk, and is a winner in a walk."

Welcome Alteration

Specialist—I assure you, madam, my course will make an entirely different woman out of you.
Client's Husband—That settles it. Take it, Margaret—never mind the cost.

He Was

"Here's my bill," said the surgeon. "Wish you would pay down $100 and then $25 a week."

"Sounds like buying an automobile," said the patient.

"I am," said the surgeon.

GOOD AND BAD

He—He's a pretty bad liar.
She—He's a pretty good one, I think.

Her Only One

Mary had a little joke.
She read it in the paper, and everywhere that Mary went her friends tried to escape her.

You Never Can Tell

He—Where did you get this steak?
She—I phoned the butcher for it this morning.

He—Perhaps you got the wrong number. Are you sure you weren't connected with the shoemaker?

Poppun!

Guest—Whew! You have a .45 caliber rifle! What do you use that for?
Big Game Hunter—Oh, it's not much good, but it comes in handy to kill horseflies.

Efficiency Expert

"I am an efficiency expert."
"What are your duties?"
"To report that everything is going on-o-k.-in-the-shop."

"But is that the case?"
"You are behind the times. Modern business requires imagination."

Mourned the Loss

"I knew your first husband, a fine man, he died too soon."
"That's what my present husband says."

CAPITAN NEW MEX.

Ed Comrey, the Pirate from Nogal, was a business visitor in Carrizozo this week. Ed says his fruit was practically all destroyed, in the cold snap recently, but seems very optimistic. We had letter from our former neighbor, Fred Burch, who is owner of a big ranch near Medina, Texas. Fred has a fine ranch and is prospecting in his new location.
