

FORT STANTON NEWS

Dr. Paul Gallagher, Attending Specialist in Surgery, came up from El Paso last Saturday to perform the second stage of thoracoplasty operation. Mr. Glad, on whom the operation was performed, is doing fine.

Mr. Major and the boys were out the past week getting the baseball diamond in shape for practice. We can depend on Mr. Major doing a good job. Carrizozo boys, get busy!

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd entertained Dr. and Mrs. Reid and Dr. Hooper at dinner Saturday evening.

Born—To Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Faget Tuesday, March 26, a fine baby boy, Edmond G. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

The following visited Roswell last Saturday: The Misses Converse, Kane, Harris and Joe H. Gentry.

Dr. and Mrs. Westhafer plan to leave for their home in Indiana next Saturday, the doctor's mother being ill.

James Boudi left the hospital last week and went to Chicago.

The residents of Fort Stanton were given quite a musical treat last Sunday afternoon, the New Mexico A. & M. Band giving a concert on the parade. Benches were arranged around the band for the patients and the personnel and families, and the afternoon was warm and clear. All of the boys seemed anxious to make a good impression and to say the least, they certainly did. Director Aiden has the boys trained so that they respond to his baton perfectly, and several well known numbers were given delightfully. The Student Director Marshall Beck from Carrizozo, directed one number, while also performing with his trombone, which was well received. All of us at the Fort unite in thanking the boys for their courtesy in coming over, and they may be assured that their efforts were appreciated and we hope to have them with us again next year. We are indebted to the Trowel Club of Fort Stanton for bringing such a musical treat to our patients.

The Arizona "Nite Hawks"
Crack Jazz Orchestra, will give a dance at Community Hall tomorrow night, April 6, 1929. Be there and have a good time.

Carrizozo Lodge No. 41
A. F. & A. M., held a big special communication Tuesday night, at which, work in Entered Apprentice degree was performed. Visiting brethren were: Ben M. Stanley of Midland, Texas, and C. A. Hoyes of Three Rivers.

John Lewis
is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Hanna, at Blackwell, Tex.

Shower for Miss Fritz
on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. W. Young; the Misses Melas, McGinley and Vaughn entertained at a shower for Miss Mary Fritz in honor of a coming event of which this forebadowed and will leave this problem for the curious people to figure out. There were 24 guests present, and the honor guest was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Panther at Corona Kills Mule

On Saturday, March 30, Mrs. J. M. Shelton, who is teaching here and her little daughter made their usual trip to Corona to spend the week — and with Mr. Shelton, who is an operator at the Corona station of the S. P.

The Sheltons reside on a ranch about 3 miles from Corona, and among their stock was a large mule, which they noticed Saturday evening when they went to feed the stock, in general. On Sunday morning the mule failed to appear with the other feeders, and was supposed to have strayed away to another part of the ranch, but later in the day, blood spots were discovered and following the same, they came across the dead body of the mule where it had been killed by some wild animal.

Mr. Shelton, desirous of knowing just what had killed his mule, had the tracks in the soft soil examined by an expert, who said that they were undoubtedly those of a huge panther. This happening so close to Corona, has aroused nearby residents and they are combining on a sharp lookout for the beast, to prevent future killing of valuable livestock.

Head-End Collision Above Carrizozo

A head-end collision occurred about six miles north of here Wednesday morning at about 8:30, between freight trains No. 282, east bound and Extra No. 4886, going west. The collision badly damaged the two engines and demolished one car. While there were 5000 sheep in the shipment, eastbound, the same being young lambs for the market, there were but about 70 head killed. Fortunately, there were no serious injuries as a result of the wreck. The board of investigation has not as yet arrived at the cause of the wreck.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Brown and baby Martha spent last Friday at Socorro. Mr. Brown attending to some business matters for the State Highway Department. The Browns will leave for Roswell tomorrow and will spend Sunday with relatives and friends.

One Ticket to Washington, Please

An Explanation

In view of the fact that there seems to be a misunderstanding by some dealers in gasoline, regarding the meaning of Section 2 (Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 307), which provides for an exemption of the state excise tax on gasoline sold to the United States Government for Federal use, we wish to advise all dealers that this provision applies to gasoline used in government owned cars only and, then, when employed or operated upon government business exclusively.

Employees of the federal government, who merely receive a fixed salary paid by the government and, whose duties necessitate the services of a car or any other type of motor vehicle, which is privately owned and operated cannot claim for themselves the privileges of the provisions of the above mentioned section of this law.

We trust this explanation will clear this matter up for those who are acting on a misinterpretation of the law.

The Woman's Club Meeting

has been postponed from April 12 to April 20; the meeting will be held at Mrs. Geo. Tiftworth's home in Capitan.

This Week's Most Unusual Story

San Francisco, April 3 — Cinderella's slipper, renowned footwear of fable, found a rival in a discarded brogan belonging to A. J. Zadig of this city Tuesday, when a search for it transformed the assorting room at the Salvation home into the scene of a treasure hunt. The unassuming object of the frantic search was one of a bundle of old shoes collected at the Zadig home by the Salvation Army. It lay among thousands of pairs of cast-off shoes, awaiting distribution to the poor at army headquarters.

Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Zadig excitedly burst into Col. Andrew W. Crawford's office and appealed to him for aid in finding the shoe. For, Mrs. Zadig lamented, the family jewels, worth $3,200 were hidden away in its toe. After hundreds of shoes had been examined and cast aside, the searchers located the right one with the jewels concealed in the toe. The relieved couple went their way after announcing their intention of renting a safe deposit box.

Harvey Foster

of the Wrye & Foster Dairy has returned from a 10-day business trip to San Angelo, Tex.

Mrs. I. D. Baker

and children are in Carrizozo from the interior of Mexico, where Mr. Baker has been Master Mechanic for one of the Mexican railroads, but the revolution has made the family refugees in this country. They will remain here for about two weeks, after which they will go to California, where Mr. Baker has a position, and where they will make their future home.

The State College Band

came in last Saturday afternoon and played a much appreciated concert at the High School Auditorium, finishing with a dance at the Community Hall, all in the same evening. All functions were well attended, and the band, which is always a welcome in Carrizozo, was given a most cordial reception.

The next day, Sunday, the band went to Fort Stanton, where an appropriate program was given for the benefit of the patients and personnel, for the particulars of which we refer our readers to the Fort Stanton notes.

LINCOLN FOREST NEWS

Road Engineer T. F. Myers of Albuquerque, who will be in charge of the construction of the High Rolls-Warnock Mine road arrived at Alamogordo April 1. Two large wheel scrapers, to be used on this project arrived by freight last Wednesday.

Ranger Wm. H. Woods, Jr., was in the Forest Supervisor's office last week, making final arrangements for the start of road and trail construction on the Cloudercroft District. Maintenance work is being done on the Fresno-La Lux Canyon road and will be extended to the Cloudercroft-Mescalero road as weather permits.

The entire Forest personnel is making plans for the observance of American Forest Week which has been set for April 22 to 27. Talks will be made at various schools on and adjacent to the Forest; special exercises will be arranged for schools and publicity material will be distributed.

Material is arriving almost daily for use in the maintenance of telephone lines on the Forest, which will all be put in first class condition prior to the opening of the fire season. Supplies are also being received to be used for fire fighting purposes.

John F. Cook of Hatch arrived in Alamogordo April 1 and assumed the duties of cook on one of the road projects on the Forest.

Two hundred sixteen spools of barbed wire and 3 kegs of staples have been ordered to be used in the construction of boundary fences on the Forest, which will be built in co-operation with certain stockmen.

On Wednesday last, Ranger J. A. Work phoned from the Fairchild's Ranger Station that 10 inches of snow had fallen and it was still snowing.

Forest Supervisor O. Fred Arthur left Wednesday for the Weed Ranger District where he will confer with Ranger R. L. Boone.

Assistant Supervisor S. Strickland and Grazing Examiner R. B. Ewing left Monday for the Fairchild's Ranger Station to confer with Ranger Work and the Southwest Lumber Company on timber sale matters. Final details for the construction of 9½ miles of new telephone line down Penasco River will be worked out, which will be built in co-operation with the Southwest Lumber Company.

Ranger Jackson W. Space and R. B. Ewing made a trip to the Mesa Ranger Station last Friday, returning Sunday.

The recent storm on the mountains has delayed the fire season.

Miss Georgia Nichols, stenographer in the local office, was on the sick leave last week.

Mrs. George B. Barber

who left here a short time ago for Tucson, Arizona, to be with her grandchildren, Ben West, Jr. and sister Josephine, writes that they are all enjoying the best of health, doing nicely and wish to be remembered to their friends.

Norman Peyton

of Cloudercroft spent the weekend as guest of the T. J. Pittman family.

SHELL BROS. SHOWS

Unlike any show ever presented in Schell Bros. Four-Ring Trained Wild Animal Show. It will be an event long to be remembered, when on Thursday, April 18, the Schell Bros. Big Trained Wild Animal Shows arrive in Carrizozo.

There will be two performances, afternoon and night, rain or shine.

The Schell Bros. famous show stands without a rival. Everybody knows them, for they never advertise what they do not give, hence the big top is always jammed with a happy, eager crowd.

Originality and progressiveness have been the watchword of these kings of the arena. They have invested hundreds of thousands of dollars, have given years of systematic preparation to perfect their wonderful organization, and a glorious reward is the culmination of their efforts.

In order to obtain the latest and best in the amusement world, to satisfy the ever-changing public, to retain the patronage and popularity so necessary for the continuance of a traveling institution of such magnitude, the Schell Bros. Shows have balked at no effort no matter how herculean, or at any pecuniary outlay no matter how extravagant.

Mother of J. C. Burkett Dies at Abilene

It will be remembered by reading last week's Outlook, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burkett left for Abilene, Texas, after receiving word to the effect that Mr. Burkett's mother was very ill. The one consoling feature of the son, was that on their arrival, the mother recognized her son, but only for a short time was he to cherish that blessing, for not long afterwards, she lapsed into unconsciousness, from which state she failed to rally.

With his school work on his hands, more essential especially just at this time of the year, they hastened back to Carrizozo and expected to so arrange matters so that they could return, but arriving here Sunday, they hardly had time to make the proper arrangements, before a message was received that Mrs. Burkett had passed on at 11 o'clock Wednesday night. The funeral will be held from the family residence at Abilene either on Friday or Saturday and falling on the dates of the teachers' convention with which Mr. Burkett is prominently connected, coupled with the long trip which they would be compelled to make, will, in all probability, prevent them from attending the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Burkett have the sympathy of their many friends in Carrizozo and over the county.

New Trainmaster

The Southern Pacific Company has accepted the resignation of former trainmaster Ben H. Horton and the new trainmaster T. W. Cardwell from the Salt Lake Division, has succeeded Mr. Horton, who, it is claimed, will go to Arizona, where he will be assigned to the position of train dispatcher. Mr. Cardwell arrived here yesterday and took charge of the office and Robert Pege win continue as trainmaster's clerk under the new order of things.

Children's Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"Why is there so much excitement?" asked Mr. and Mrs. Peacock as they walked by.

"Don't you know?" asked Miss Ham.

Mr. and Mrs. Peacock didn't pay much attention as they were too proud to care to see much of the pig-family and they wished some one else in the barnyard had answered their question.

But still they repeated their question.

"What is going on, and why is there so much excitement?"

"We are going to have a parade," said Mr. Rooster.

"Thank you," said Mr. Peacock, "we would be glad to join the parade."

"But you must give us plenty of room," said Mrs. Peacock. "We have to spread our handsome tails and they take up quite a bit of space."

"They are so big and handsome. But we'd love to join the parade for we like to march and strut."

All the other animals agreed to give the peacocks plenty of room, and the parade started.

The farmer couldn't imagine what it all meant. The animals were marching around, all making as much noise as they could.

And that is a good deal of noise, I can assure you!

Mr. Rooster led the parade and he looked very grand with his fine red top and hat.

He crowed and crowed. He felt he was not only leader of the parade but leader of the band.

You see they all said that they did not need any outside band for the parade.

They felt that the noise they would make would be quite enough. And of course it was.

The only difference was that their noise was not like music! But the animals didn't know good music from bad music and their idea of a band was a great deal of noise.

They marched around the barnyard and Mr. Rooster kept crowing the directions.

"Cock-a-doodle-do, this way, this way," he would call.

And all the animals followed along.

Some of them did not walk in a very straight line, but that didn't make much difference.

The crows cawed from above and even the sparrows joined in the noise all they could.

"This suits us," they said to themselves. "These creatures don't mind our voices at all."

Mr. Rooster Led.

"They just like noise. So we can join in a very large chorus like this."

"Other birds are so fond of their own special songs. And they have such a funny way of caring about tunes."

As a matter of fact, the sparrows were hardly noticed because of the noise the other creatures were making.

Pretty soon the farmer came out to look at them again.

"This must be some one's birthday," he said.

"Anyway, I think I will give them a birthday party. I won't bother about a cake and candles, for they wouldn't care so much for such things, but I will give them some good seed, and perhaps a few cake crumbs."

So the farmer gathered together some special goodies and the animals immediately rushed from the parade line and grabbed what they could.

"Dear me," said Mr. Rooster as this happened, "the parade is all over."

"Well," said Miss Ham, "I should think anything would come to an end when there was extra food to be had."

All the animals laughed in their queer ways, but every one had to agree that they certainly had ended the parade in a great hurry when the farmer had given them an extra meal.

But that day in the barnyard was one of the happiest ever had by all the animals, and certainly Mr. Rooster deserved the credit, for he had thought of the idea of the parade—and it was because of that, and so because of him, that they had all had the special, extra treat.

Art of Cooking and Serving

Cooking Club Girls Learn to Set Dinner Table.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One of the outward and visible signs of progress in the field of home making, as 4-H club girls learn its various phases, is the ability to plan a good menu, from the health standpoint, cook it palatably, and serve it gracefully. Part of this last aspect of meal preparation is learning to set a table in the accepted way. These club girls in Albemarle county, Va., are all at the age when they help their mothers constantly with the different household tasks. They usually have ideas on what is attractive or up-to-date in the appearance of their homes, and are especially interested in the details that are concerned with hospitality of entertaining the friends of the family. The home demonstration agent is showing this group how a dinner table ought to be set for six persons. She has demonstrated the use of a low flower centerpiece on a round embroidered dolly of white linen, and has begun to place the "covers" or individual sets of flat silver in the proper positions—forks to the left, knives and spoons to the right, napkin neatly folded at the left. Next, at the tip of the knives, the water glasses will be placed, and salt and pepper if used. Bread and butter plates with spreaders will go above the napkin, on the left. She shows how placemats and other containers should be set squarely in front of the person who is to serve, not diagonally or in hit or miss fashion as such dishes sometimes appear on the table. No doubt a count will be made of the number of serving spoons that are needed and the position of the carving knife and fork indicated.

Instruction about unobtrusive crumbing and clearing away is part of the general subject of table usage. As in many homes, no rug is used on this dining-room floor, for experience has shown that this is the hardest floor covering in the house to keep clean. One of the charms of this dining room is its freedom from articles that do not belong in it or add in any way to its appearance. Farm girls who live far from neighbors have fewer opportunities than city girls to go into other people's homes and observe how surroundings may be made attractive. The co-operative extension work takes this into consideration in planning what to include in its club projects.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

By NELLIE MAXWELL

The little writer of Ecclesiastes who said, "There is no new thing under the sun" would be forced to change his views if he lived in our day when the science books of yesterday are so out of date that we feel we are behind the times if we miss the newspaper. There have been such remarkable things found out about the foods we eat and about treatment of disease in the last few years that one hesitates in making any statement. Life is full of so many things today, such interesting things, that those who would keep the procession in sight must take "vitalic breathing" and use long strides, for who knows what is just around the corner?

We were carefully told many times that candy was "perilous stuff," and only as a rare treat was candy allowed. Today we know that the active child who uses up so much energy in play, needs a much larger proportion of good pure candy than adults. Teeth, like all other parts of the body, need exercise and the chewing of hard candies, taffies and other hard foods, exercise the gums and make healthy teeth.

The wise mother must use her judgment in giving candy—never before a meal, as it so satisfies the appetite, that the important foods of the meal are neglected. A little candy at the end of a meal as dessert, or between meals, is considered by the best authority to be good for the child. Candy which dissolves and leaves no residue on or between the teeth, is considered much more wholesome than cake, which lodges and causes decay.

The science of dietetics has made vast strides in the last ten years. Fried potatoes, griddle cakes with sirup, sausage and doughnuts were the children's food for breakfast not so long ago. We thought them good, and even indulge occasionally now, but no mother who reads would feed her child on such food today.

Orange Dessert.—Peel two oranges, removing all the white membrane. Remove the pulp in sections. Seed these oranges are best. Arrange the sections in glass dessert dishes, three or four sections to a dish. Pour over orange junket mixed with a pint of lukewarm milk, add sugar to taste and allow to stand in a warm place until set. Chill before serving.

Golden Glow.—Take a package of Tenon Junket and a pint of milk; pour into five glasses. Rub a cupful of dried and stewed apricots through a sieve, sweeten to taste. When the junket is firm set away to chill. At time of serving top with apricot whipped with egg white and sugar, with two tablespoonfuls of apricot pulp.

Here is a dish you will wish to list with those worth keeping:

Spanish Sauce.—Flake one can of salmon after removing all skin and bones. Add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of paprika, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice.

Cook one-half cupful of soft bread crumbs in one-half cupful of milk five minutes, then add the salmon and the yolks of three eggs beaten thick, fold in the stiffly beaten whites and turn into a buttered dish; set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve with:

Spanish Sauce.—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and when well blended add one cupful of milk and one-half cupful of cream. Bring to the boiling point and add one-half cupful of pimento puree, one teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper. To make the puree drain a can of pimientos and put through a coarse sieve.

CONFECTIONS THAT HELP MENU

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Try these two unusual confections the next time you need something to mark a festive occasion. Both can be made at home from materials readily obtainable. The bureau of home the outer rind or white pith; use the entire peel. Parboil the peel three times. Add 2 quarts of cold water each time, bring to the boil, cook for half an hour, and discard the water after each cooking. The strips should then be tender and must be handled gently to prevent breaking. Place the water, salt and sugar in a saucepan about 8 inches in diameter and stir until the sugar is dissolved; then add the strip of peel arranging them carefully, skin side up, so that they lie parallel to each other to prevent their being broken when turned. Cook rapidly for about 40 minutes, then reduce the heat and continue to boil gently for about 30 to 40 minutes longer, or until all the sirup is absorbed. Great care must be taken at this point that the sirup does not scorch, and the strips of peel must be lifted or turned frequently with a fork so that all are equally penetrated by the sirup. Place the strips skin side down on waxed paper and when cool cut in pieces from 1 1/2 to 2 inches long.

Put the dipping chocolate into the upper part of a double boiler over boiling water, remove from the fire, and allow the chocolate to melt slowly. When soft drop in the fruit. Use a fork to lift the grapefruit from the chocolate scraping off the drippings and pat the candy on waxed paper to dry overnight.

Chocolate Coated Apple Confection.

This is dipped in the same way as the grapefruit peel, after it has been standing for an hour or two to dry off. In packing either of these confections in boxes, put paraffin paper between each layer. To make the apple filling for this second confection you will need:

2 firm tart apples Rind of 1 lemon
1 cup sugar Chocolate for dipping

Wash, pare and cut the apples into three-quarter-inch cubes. Prepare a sirup of the sugar, water, salt and lemon rind, and cook for about 5 minutes. Put the apples into the sirup, cover and cook slowly until they become clear, and the sirup thick. Drain from the sirup, spread out in a single layer, and let stand for an hour or two to dry off.

Making Canded Grapefruit Peel Before Dipping in Chocolate.

essentials gives the directions for making them. Be sure to get the kind of chocolate especially intended for dipping, and take care that it does not become hot when melting it in the double boiler, as that will cause the candy to be streaked when cold.

Jelled Grapefruit Peel Dipped in Chocolate.

Prepare the grapefruit peel several hours before you dip it so that it will dry off somewhat.

1/2 cup grape-fruit peel 1/2 cup water
1 cup (1/2 ounce) sugar enough for sirup, or
1/2 cup salt enough to cover
Chocolate for dipping

Thick, soft, unblemished peel from smooth grapefruit should be selected. Strip the peel from the fruit in quarter-sections, including all the white part possible, and cut into strips one-half inch wide. Do not trim off either

Something Reminded Her of Her Duty

"Today I am reminded of a duty that I have neglected, and that is to let you know how wonderful have been the results I obtained from the use of Milks Emulsion. Nothing could have been more beneficial to me than your Emulsion."

"In the winter of 1917 and 1918 I had a severe case of pneumonia, and in the spring of 1919 I took a cough. I was doing some summer work to prepare myself for a college, but by the time school opened I was too ill to attend. I finally went to bed for the rest cure. I gained a little in strength and got up by Christmas, but my cough never left me, and I caught cold very easily and it would take a month to get over it."

"Finally, in September, 1920, I got a bottle of Milks Emulsion and wrote you for instructions, to which you replied promptly and for which I thank you. I followed the instructions carefully and soon my cough began to disappear. I was able to sleep better than ever before and my appetite was fierce. I could not eat enough. I gained in weight slowly but surely, but continued the use of Milks Emulsion, until I am a well girl today."

"I went through the entire season without a cold or a cough, and I came back into the society circle and played all the big affairs without any ill effects. About a month ago I neglected myself and took a dreadful summer cold and, being at a house party, I could not cure for myself properly. But as soon as I reached home I flew in on my old standby, Milks Emulsion, and within a week I was well."

"I have recommended it to many and if at any time I can be of any help to your company by telling what it did for me, let me know. Sincerely, MISS KATY WALLER, 401 Argyle Ave., San Antonio, Tex."

A Burglar's Double

Eleven years ago an Atlantic City man was arrested mistakenly for Howard H. France, a notorious burglar. Police apologized and explained to the man he was an exact double of France. Since then the same man has been arrested nine more times for the same burglar. After the third arrest the victim of this mistake identity demanded a letter from police which they issued, stating: "This man is not Howard H. France." He now carries this letter wherever he goes.—Capper's Weekly.

Chic Colors for Ensembles

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

ful and desirable than the silks, woolsens, cottons, linens and rayons glorified in this season's showings.

Woolens, amazingly light of weight such as enter into the development of so many of the smartest spring ensembles, especially emphasize an enrichment of color and design. Weavers and fabricants are offering unique solutions to the ensemble problem in that they are producing materials which, though individually they are entirely different in weaves, collectively they produce a symphonic coloring which assist the designer in uniting a costume. The attractive spring ensemble in the picture illustrates the point in that the coat is made of a salmon-colored basket-weave woven fabric while the frock is a lovely worsted in a salmon and white tweed-like effect. The felt hat is the same shade as the ensemble.

Color more than anything else identifies an ensemble as an ensemble this season. There may be as many as three or four materials in a costume, according to latest style edict, yet the ensemble becomes a unit because of color relationship. Wherefore stylists are doing amazing things with fabrics, combining them in cunning ways.

This working the costume as a unit has brought about an interesting condition in that every frock now calls for a coat especially designed to accompany it. In creating so many parts to a single costume designers are bringing into play most clever workmanship. This is apparent in the ensemble illustrated, the bloom of which is decorated with appliques of the cloth of the coat in horizontal effect.

Another noteworthy point about this handsome outfit is its attractive salmon coloring. The new winter ensembles adopt such intriguing shades as chartreuse, wood violet and other fascinating light tones.

That's almost the last mongrel herd that will ever wear your brand. They'll run better every year until we have all big flat-backed, bee' stock—a straight white-face run."

She Whirled Papoose and Heeded Back for the Ranch.

After covering two-thirds of the distance along the foot of the hills to the V L she saw a rider dip over a ridge two miles away. She unslung Harris' glasses and dismounted to watch for his reappearance. When he came again into her field of view another man was with him and they were driving a few head of cows before them.

sharp thunderstorm and the canvas walls of her teepee were almost continuously illuminated by successive flashes. The picketed horses trotted and stamped.

The sounds ceased as the men who had just been relieved turned to for their sleep. A horse neighed shrilly within a few yards of her teepee. Another took it up and an answer sounded from the flats. There was a crash of pistol shots, a rattle of hoofs and the instant command of Harris.

During an Atlantic voyage Chauncey Depew was entertaining a group of friends one evening in the smoking room with some of his inimitable stories. Naturally, the listeners showed their sense of amusement, with one solitary exception. This man maintained an aspect of indifference, and, indeed, almost of gloom.

The red splashes of answering shots showed on all sides of him. She tugged on her chaps and boots, slipped Papoose's picket rope and vaulted to his back.

The scene was once more illuminated as she rode from the wagon. A riderless horse circled in the dust, a dark shape sprawled near him, and she wondered which one of her men had gone down. A knot of horsemen were turning up an opening gulch on the far side of the valley.

From the sounds below she knew they were well up on the flanks of the run and nearing the peak. The stampede seemed slowing. A long, wavering flash revealed Harris a dozen jumps ahead. Papoose followed the paint-horse as Harris put Calico down the slippery alchill and lifted him round the point of the herd.

The lightning-play broke forth once more. She saw two riders swinging round the opposite point. The two slickers were working in the center. Harris' gun flashed six times. The jerked her own and rolled it. The two riders who had just rounded the far point joined it. Cows in the front ranks held back from this fearsome commotion out in front.

The stor ceased suddenly as it had begun and for two miles she rode in lanky darkness. The run had spent its force. The herd stopped and the cows gazed stupidly about, standing with drooping heads and heaving sides. Three Bar men showed on both flanks are in the rear. They had held the drove intact and prevented its splitting up in detachments and scattering through the night.

Harris' a' took his head. "Billie and I were the first to make the front he said.

"Not any," Moore stated positively. "I saw 'em five minutes before you two swung round the point. I was on guard on halfway up the far side. Spilt ear took a header with me and delayed me some."

He pointed to the mud crusted on his clothes. Billie knew that he was the lone rider she had seen on the flanks of the herd as she rode away from the wagon. The fall accounted for their rounding the point ahead of him. Moore was looking off across the country.

"Do you mean to tell me you didn't see those two slickers flapping out in front?" he demanded.

"I confess I didn't observe any," Harris said. "Your're getting spunky, Moore. A couple of white cows, likely, out ahead of the rest."

Moore regarded him curiously. "Maybe that's so," he said. "Waving their tails in the air, sort of." He grinned and turned his horse to head back a bunch that had drifted out of the herd.

"The boys make a nice ride," Harris said to Moore. "You float round from one to the next and tell 'em we'll soon have a feed. I'll ride back and send the wagon up."

Billie rode with him as he skirted the herd and started on the return trip. Her mind was occupied with the two riders who had slowed the run and disappeared. There had been something familiar about them. As she had viewed them in the lightning flash they had closely resembled Bentley and Carp. But she decided that this resemblance had been but a fancied one, suggested by the fact that the two men had been much on her mind of late.

Lesson for April 7 THE MINISTRY OF ISAIAH

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 61-13; 60:1-5. GOLDEN TEXT—Then said I, here am I, send me. PRIMARY TOPIC—Being God's Helper. JUNIOR TOPIC—Being God's Helper.

1. Isaiah's Call (Isa. 61-13).

(1) He saw the Lord on His throne (v. 1). The supreme need of a servant of God is to have a vision of Him. (2) He saw the seraphim above (vv. 2, 3). Their position indicated that they were in readiness to do His bidding. The six wings showed their ability to execute the divine will. One pair veiled the head from the divine glory, one veiled the feet which had been soiled in contact with the world, while the third was held in readiness to depart on the divine errand. Their continued cry was, "Holy, holy, holy."

2. Isaiah's conviction of sin (v. 6). When he saw the vision of the Holy God, he was smitten with a sense of sin. The reason men think well of themselves is that they have never seen God. Face to face with the Lord, Isaiah saw himself as wholly vile.

3. Isaiah's dedication (v. 8). As soon as he was cleansed he responded to the call for service. He did not inquire as to the issue, but freely gave himself to that service.

4. Isaiah's commission (vv. 9-13). Because of the unpromising outlook, Isaiah shrank from his responsibility. The Lord assured him that the people's blindness and sin would not endure forever. They would continue in sin, be taken into captivity, and the land left desolate. Their life, however, would be as the oak which sheds its leaves and is for a time apparently lifeless, but still retains its substance.

5. Isaiah's Prophecy Concerning Assyria and Egypt (Isa. 20:1-6). The increasing power of Assyria alarmed the Jews who were inclined to turn to Egypt and Ethiopia for help. Isaiah severely rebuked them for turning away from God to Egypt (31:1-6).

6. The prophet's action (vv. 1, 2). He removed his outer garments and walked about Jerusalem as a beggar in order to make a deep impression upon the people.

7. The significance of the sign (vv. 3-5). For three years he went about in the dress of a beggar. As he had wandered about naked and barefoot, so would Egypt be led away in shame by the Assyrians.

8. The warning (v. 6). The people are made to say, "Such is our expectation, whether we see for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: how shall we escape?"

9. Isaiah's Message to Hezekiah (Isa. 38:1-8). Hezekiah had inclined somewhat toward seeking help from Egypt.

10. Hezekiah's prayer (vv. 2, 3). He pleaded with God for consideration on the basis of his faithfulness.

11. Hezekiah's second message (vv. 4-7). God sent Isaiah to tell Hezekiah that his prayer had been heard, his life would be prolonged by fifteen years, and that Jerusalem would be delivered out of the hand of the king of Assyria.

12. The sign given (vv. 7, 8). The sign was the going back of the shadow of the sundial ten degrees.

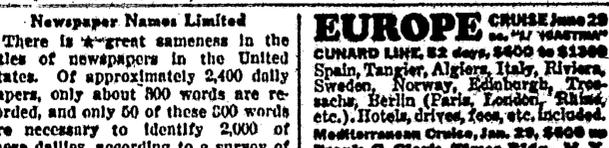

Overcoming Injury. It is more beautiful to overcome injury by kindness than to oppose to it the obstinacy of hatred.—Valerius Maximus.

To Make Us Comforters. God does not comfort us to make us comfortable, but to make us comforters.—J. H. Jowett.

SCIATICA

YOU have undoubtedly used Bayer Aspirin for headaches and know how promptly and completely these tablets relieve the pain. They are even more wonderful in the relief of such serious suffering as sciatica; lumbago; rheumatism and those aches and pains that are bone deep. They don't affect the heart, and they do dispel the pain. There is nothing quite like genuine Bayer Aspirin, but see that you get the genuine. It has Bayer on the box and inside are proven directions for many important uses it is well to know.

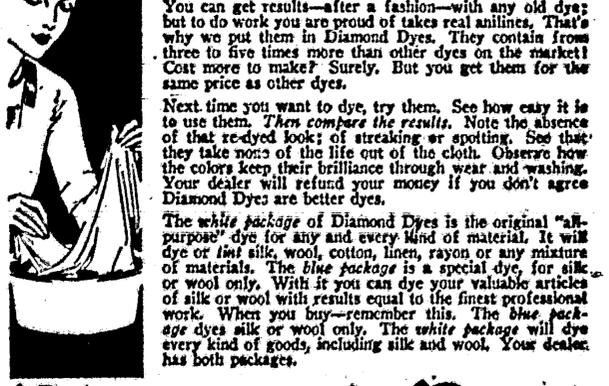

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacopolis, Germany. Newspaper Names Limited. There is a great sameness in the titles of newspapers in the United States. Of approximately 2,400 daily papers, only about 800 words are recorded, and only 60 of these 800 words are necessary to identify 2,000 of these dailies, according to a survey of "How Newspapers Get Their Names," made by the Inland Printer.

Super Economy. A Scotchman was leaving on a business trip and he called back as he was leaving: "Good-by, all, and don't forget to take little Donald's glasses off when he isn't looking at anything."

Great Carrying On. Mrs. Newbridge—My dear, I'm so worried. Our cook is carrying on something awful. Mrs. Oldbridge—Mine did the same thing. Carried away enough to start a small grocery store.

YOU CAN'T DYE with Good Intentions

You can get results—after a fashion—with any old dye; but to do work you are proud of takes real aniline. That's why we put them in Diamond Dyes. They contain from three to five times more than other dyes on the market! Cost more to make? Surely. But you get them for the same price as other dyes.

Next time you want to dye, try them. See how easy it is to use them. Then compare the results. Note the absence of that re-dyed look; of streaking or spotting. See that they take more of the life out of the cloth. Observe how the colors keep their brilliance through wear and washing. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Ludendorff is Off His Base

Eric Ludendorff, quarter-master general in the German army during the World War, has, according to his announcement, launched a new campaign against the oppression of Germany by reparations burdens.

In an exclusive statement to the United Press, he declared that events threatening the emancipation of Germany, necessitate his issuing a publication called the Ludendorff Weekly Review, in which he claims, or will claim the Roman Papal organization, the Reds, or in other words, the anarchistic element, the Jews and the Masons, are attempting a consolidation to overthrow all that has been done for Germany of late, in the way of reform.

In his publication, he will stand for the elimination of war and will say that the factions, as he so terms them, will be in favor of war, and everything that will go with it.

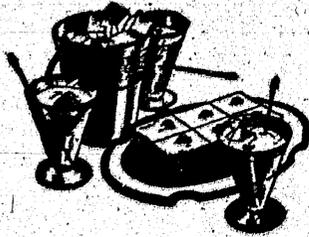

He says that his efforts will be brought against what he terms "supernatural imperialistic forces" such as he speaks of, and these forces are seeking to dominate the world.

In the first place, the Roman hierarchy, as we all know, has been and perhaps always will be, bitterly opposed to anarchism, communism and even the mildest form of socialism. In the second place, the Jews always have been and will forever be, opposed to force and strongly in favor of peace. The race, you might say, as a whole, rank among our most patriotic and law-abiding in this and every other country. This being true, it leaves the Jews entirely out of the argument.

Last, but by no means least, his claims that the Masons are seeking an alliance with the other powers spoken of in his charges, are so far away from being of a mind to align themselves with an organization of this nature, that it is actually silly to speak of it, from the fact that Masonry seeks no alliances with any organization whatever.

Masonry applauds and assists every good motive, and its mission in the world is one of peace, prosperity, upbuilding of governments, firm foundations of good-will, education and enlightenment.

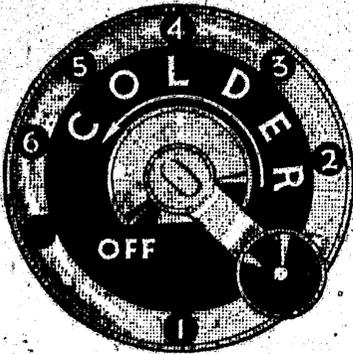

Masonry claims that through enlightenment and education nations can liberate themselves from evils born of ignorance and adherence to ancient customs of superstition, which have caused endless amount of woe on the face of the earth. Masonry while avoiding all alliances with other organizations, is constantly seeking to help, aid and assist, all movements for good in all nations, able among which is legislation which advances the cause of education. Following in the wake of proper education comes enlightenment and following this comes the best of governments, therefore, Eric Ludendorff is wrong in more ways than one. Masonry has no desire to

HOWE ABOUT—

(Copyright by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
I was talking lately with a young woman who has an ambition to become a concert singer. She said that in her dreamy practicing she was encouraged by the hope of finally giving the people pleasure. . . . What an old time-honored that giving the people pleasure is! Her real ambition is, of course, to charge the people three dollars for tickets.

When a man acts foolish, what an excellent excuse if his relation can say he was shut-shocked during the war!

If you cannot interest people, at least do not bore them; you can accomplish that. Probably people generally suffer most from being more bored.

You come to a conclusion you know a good many others will not accept. . . . How much are you willing to concede to avoid a disagreeable, useless row and argument? . . . You are entitled to your opinion, but you are not entitled to demand that others give up their opinion, and accept yours.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Franco Pays Sorrowful Homage at Bier of Its Great Marshal.

MOST of the world shares with France its great sorrow in the loss of its distinguished soldier, Marshal Ferdinand Foch, generalissimo of all the allied armies during the World War, who died Wednesday in Paris. Marshal Foch was seventy-eight years of age and had been ill for nearly three months. He suffered an attack of influenza, which developed into a pulmonary trouble and was followed by complications of the kidneys. A resultant heart weakness claimed him.

Not since Napoleon's body was brought back from St. Helena in 1840 has France witnessed a funeral of such surpassing pomp as that arranged under direction of the French chamber of deputies to honor the dead marshal. For twenty-four hours previous to the funeral, which was held on the 26th, the body lay in state under the Arc de Triomphe, near the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The high and low, the rich and poor, in continuous procession passed by the bier to pay homage to France's greatest hero of modern times.

Gen. John J. Pershing, who was one of the marshal's most intimate associates and supporters during the war and who is recovering in Paris from influenza, expected to go to the Illicea for recuperation, but canceled his departure to attend the funeral and act as one of the honorary pallbearers.

Honors seldom paid to any one but the most distinguished American soldiers was the tribute of the United States army to the memory of Marshal Foch. General Pershing was designated to represent the army at the funeral in Paris. On the day of the funeral, by orders of the War department, the flag at every military post and station was displayed at half mast and salute of twenty-one guns was fired at regular intervals during the day.

President Hoover, immediately on learning of the great marshal's death, dispatched a message to the French government expressing the sorrow of the American people for the people of France over the loss of a great national hero. Warm tribute to the military genius and fine human qualities of Marshal Foch were paid by other high officials of the government.

When Marshal Foch, with sure grasp, remarkable strategy, and rare power of co-ordination, was directing the allied effort which finally broke the German hosts, he was in command of more men than anyone had led in the history of the world. Marshal Foch first attracted world attention at the first battle of the Marne, when he sent the telegraphic message to his chief, Marshal Joffre, "My left and right wings are shattered. I shall attack with my center." He did and broke up the German offensive and forced a retreat.

It was this success, with its manifestations of bulldog determination to win even in defeat, that singled him out as the man for supreme leadership when unified command of all the allied armies was decided upon in the spring of 1918.

So it comes that almost on the eleventh anniversary of the greatest moment of his career, when to him passed command of a military machine more vast than any the world has ever dreamed of, Foch, hero of the First Marne, has breathed his last.

In 1921 Marshal Foch came to this country as a guest of the American Legion. He covered 30,000 miles and his journey led him through the Eastern states, the wheat fields of the Middle West, the vast plains of Texas, and the plantations in the South. His trip was climaxed in the national convention of the Legion at Kansas City. Hundreds of thousands of Legionnaires and citizens turned out in all principal cities to see and hear Marshal Foch. His personal aide was Francis Drake, an officer of the A. E. F. and a Legionnaire. A host of couriers met the French liner Paris, and as she steamed in the Narrows on October 28. The marshal was greeted by a 19 gun salute. New York gave him one of its typically famous receptions.

THE Mexican revolution is rapidly petering out. The expected great battle at Torreón failed to materialize when the rebels evacuated the place and started their retreat northward. At last accounts they were still going.

Gen. Jesus M. Aguirre, rebel leader in Vera Cruz, was captured at Agua Caliente, following a battle in which many were killed on both sides. He was promptly court-martialed and executed. President Portes Gil ordered photographs taken of General Aguirre before and after execution. These will be used to prove to the public that Aguirre has really been executed. The government continues to meet its pay rolls despite the mounting costs of war expenses.

Future revolutions in Mexico must count with the radio and the broadcasting stations, officials say. The desertions, the discontent, and the quarrels of the rival rebel leaders were made known to the Mexican people almost as soon as they were known in the rebel camps, and this has had a powerful effect on the popular mind.

BIDS for the construction of ten of the fifteen cruisers authorized by the naval building bill passed by the last congress are to be asked by Secretary of the Navy Adams. Designs of the new cruisers have been completed and all that now remains is for the Navy department to set forth the terms under which the bids will be asked. The new vessels are to be the fastest and most powerful cruisers of their class ever constructed in the United States. Three of the vessels will be built in government yards and the balance in private establishments. Five ships are to be started this year and five the latter part of 1933.

PRESIDENT HOOVER has already found two places convenient to Washington where he can indulge in his favorite sport of fishing whenever opportunity affords. Two places within short distances of the capital have been placed at his disposal. One of these is the historic Catoctin Manor estate at Catoctin, Md. The second fishing place selected is in Shenandoah National park, Virginia. A new game lodge to be erected near the head waters of the Rapidan river in the Blue Ridge mountains will be occupied by the President during his fishing trips in that section.

SENATOR BORAH has announced his determination to oppose American entrance into the World court when the revised protocol is sent to the senate in December.

In a statement issued in Washington, Senator Borah attacked the World court as representing merely the legal department of the League of Nations and denounced its authority to issue advisory opinions in international disputes of the league. He predicted that the World court would never function as a really great international tribunal unless it discards the practice of issuing advisory opinions. The new Root formula, the senator contended, does not afford the United States protection against advisory opinions.

OFFICIAL inquiry has failed to fix the blame for the accident in which 14 passengers were killed when a giant tri-motored Ford passenger plane crashed at Newark, N. J. The accident, the worst in heavier-than-air aviation in this country, occurred when the plane, loaded with night-sleeping passengers, fighting a gale with disabled engines, crashed into an iron freight car and was cut in two.

GOV. HENRY S. JOHNSTON has been removed from the office of governor of Oklahoma by the state senate, on a charge of incompetency, and that body found him guilty of a charge of general incompetency, preferred by the house of representatives. He was exonerated on nine other charges brought by the house. The senate vote came as a dramatic climax to more than two years of political turbulence, which reached the impeachment pitch in 1932. At that time, however, Johnston succeeded in defeating hostile legislation by court action after they had sought to remove him on their own call.

LEGISLATION necessary to transfer responsibility for prohibition enforcement from the Treasury department to the Department of Justice, as recommended by President Hoover in his inaugural address, is in course of preparation, according to Attorney General Mitchell. However, it is unlikely, in view of the difficulty of the problem and as well as the President's desire to confine the forthcoming special session of congress to farm relief and tariff revision, that the dry reorganization will be submitted to congress until the next regular session convenes in December.

STRENGTHENING of the enforcement of all laws, with special emphasis on none, is the announced policy of the Hoover administration. No special law, such as the Volstead act, is to be singled out for special attention. The President's expressed hope is to obtain better law enforcement and a lessening of crime through judicial reforms, reorganization of enforcement machinery where necessary, and the building up of public respect for all laws.

The President's purpose in arranging for the appointment of a law enforcement investigating commission is to determine the facts and then work out an enforcement system which will result in a substantial permanent advance toward the enforcement of all laws.

FLOODS again are taking their heavy spring toll in lives and property in various sections of the country. The Mississippi at Quincy, Ill., has reached the highest mark in 23 years. Leaves along a 50-mile front were battered by the angry waters and patrols were kept on duty night and day strengthening the danger points with sand bags. Several towns and smaller communities in Illinois lay under water and thousands are homeless. The property loss cannot yet be estimated.

Two breaks in the levee near Quincy flooded 20,000 acres of farming land. In Alabama and Georgia incalculable damage has been done to property by swollen rivers and there has been considerable loss of life. Many towns and rich farming sections have been inundated and highways have been made impassable. Sections of Florida have also suffered heavily. Food and other supplies are being delivered by aviators on a regular schedule.

In sections where the waters have abated the work of rehabilitation has already commenced. Residents of the flooded towns were returning to their homes inoculated against disease, prepared to restore their ruined buildings.

DRASTIC reductions in penalties for violations of the Ontario liquor control act were announced at Toronto when the government introduced surprise amendments to its liquor legislation. Fines and terms of imprisonment mandatory upon conviction are cut in half. To United States visitors the most important change is prohibition of taking liquor purchased in Ontario outside the province. Visitors who legally purchase liquor there must consume it before they leave Ontario if they wish to remain within the law of the province. A man caught on a train bound for the United States with liquor in his possession will be liable to a fine of $300 and two months in jail for having liquor in an illegal place. It was explained that this was not a blow aimed at rum-running, but at hip-smuggling.

THE problem aroused by the seizure of a truck load of liquor consigned to the Stamese legation in Washington is being solved by plans under course of formulation by the administration and police officials. Under the new system foreign officials enjoying diplomatic immunity from arrest will be permitted to transport liquor from Baltimore to Washington without disturbance from prohibition officers or the police if a duly accredited embassy or legation official rides the truck with the wet cargo.

Diplomats desiring to transport a consignment of wine and whiskey from Baltimore to Washington will be furnished trustworthy information all they may require that the cargo is diplomatic liquor and as such, enjoys immunity from seizure.

Building permits issued in Phoenix, Ariz., so far this year are approaching the $1,000,000 mark in value. F. C. Furst, building inspector, recently reported.

John Stims of Albuquerque and Charles Catron of Santa Fe were recently sworn in as justices of the Supreme Court by Chief Justice Howard Blackley.

Wearied by the most turbulent climax in the history of a law-making body in Arizona, state senators and representatives have gone home after the sine die adjournment of the Ninth Arizona Legislature.

Postal receipts for Mesa, Ariz., during the year 1932 increased 17 per cent over the previous year and a further material gain was noted in the February of this year. Postmaster H. M. Hall of Mesa has reported.

The El Paso & Southwestern railroad, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific, has been authorized by the interstate commerce commission in Washington to abandon thirty-one miles of line from Deming to Hermanas, N. M.

Thomas A. Coffey, Jr., was recently sentenced in Santa Fe to serve five years in Leavenworth prison and to pay a fine of $500 for using the United States mails to defraud, in a $28,000 sale of cattle owned by the war finance corporation.

Recommendation for ten new stream gauging stations to be added this year to the forty-two already maintained by the state of Arizona was made in the biennial report of Frank P. Trot, state commissioner, submitted to Governor Phillips.

Indians of the Navajo reservation near Farmington are gradually adopting the white man's custom of making a last will and testament, according to the Reverend L. P. Brink who has spent some twenty years among the Indians as a missionary.

Single-handed, but armed with an automatic pistol, a shotgun and a flashlight, Father F. H. Bortell, S. J., priest of the San Felipe Church in Old Albuquerque, won a pitched battle with five men he caught in the act of looting his cellar of food and drink, and as a result two men were seriously wounded.

The road condition report service which is being inaugurated by the New Mexico Highway Department is bringing enthusiastic response from chambers of commerce over the state and touring bureaus in the East. It was announced in Santa Fe at the highway offices where a large stack of complimentary letters has been received.

The Central Arizona Light and Power Company has taken over operation of the Tompe gas and electric service under a certificate of convenience and necessity granted by the corporation commission. A 10 per cent reduction in gas rates and a reduction ranging from 14 to 40 per cent in electric rates will result under the transfer, it was said.

Attorney General M. A. Otero, Jr., in an opinion written for Harry F. Lee, county clerk of Bernalillo county, advised that House bill 270, providing for the codification of the laws of New Mexico is now in effect and that it becomes the duty of the county clerks to immediately begin enforcing the section of the act providing for the $5 tax on all actions filed in the office of the clerk.

Warden Est Dugan has been ordered to install an electric chair at the state penitentiary at Santa Fe for the execution of criminals sentenced to death in New Mexico, but the Legislature didn't give the warden any money to buy the chair with. The legislative measure simply provides that death shall be by electrocution instead of by hanging and that the sentence shall be carried out in the penitentiary.

Declaring the general appropriations bill passed by the Ninth New Mexico Legislature was greatly in excess of the revenues which will be available for the next two years, Gov. E. C. Dillon called a special session of the Legislature to meet April 2, this year. The special session will also correct the $5,500,000 highway debentures bill which was invalid because it was passed without an enacting clause.

That New Mexico will now come off the list published by the United States bureau of roads as being one of the seven states without legislation regulating roadside advertising, was stated in Santa Fe at the highway offices. A list of seven states was published a few weeks ago and broadcast over the nation which included New Mexico in its number as a state which had no legislation making it mandatory for advertisers to leave points of interest, scenic spots and dangerous portions of road unmarked.

A. M. Crawford of Clarkdale, Ariz., has been appointed to the newly-created office of legislative examiner. Under the terms of a bill recently signed by Gov. John C. Phillips of Arizona, Crawford will assume office July 1.

Alonso B. Muchlison, former assistant chief of police of Douglas, Ariz., was sentenced to a term of from one to three years in state prison for embezzlement of city funds while he was in office. Muchlison was sentenced by Judge C. C. Fures of Gila county, who heard the case.

HOW TO LIVE LONGER

By JOHN CLARENCE FUNK
OVERWORKING THE SUN

A MAN and his wife recently returned from their vacation. No one could have doubted the fact for one moment, for they were both victims of the "sunburn complex." Complex is used advisedly, for they were repentant. It happened every summer to them. People, you understand, must in this fashion be told that they had been away!

It seems strange that so many of us will studiously avoid the direct rays of the sun for three hundred and fifty days and then just as studiously stick our heads, shoulders and legs into it for the other fifteen. But that is exactly what happens.

Some are even so foolish as to sit motionless on the hotel porch deliberately growing a "tan." To these misguided individuals there appears to be something almost sacramental in permitting the sun to do its worst to them. Or are they merely looking for the undeniable proof of their godfathers? Sun is almost synonymous with life. But it must be respected and properly used if the best results are to be obtained. While wonderful cures have been effected by utilizing the sun's direct power on the human body, it has taken the scientific watchfulness and care of expert physicians to achieve these results. And it will continue to do so. The sun handled by experts is one thing, and mishandled by seashore excursionists quite another one.

Sunburn is no joke. It is painful as most of us know; and can most effectively take the joy out of one's vacation if, indeed, it does not actually make one ill.

Under the excitement and lure of the sea waves, many are prone to forget that the sun is shining until they are scorched. But by that time the harm is done.

Fifteen minutes is long enough for the first dip if the sun is out. Indeed, a quarter of an hour out of the water and the same time in it, is all the bathing anyone should have until the skin is pigmented or tanned.

Why come home all "done up" and miserable because of this sun business? Permit people to assume that you are honest about your trip to the shore even though you cannot exhibit a peeling or blistered epidermis as proof of the fact.

A vacation primarily should mean a change in environment, recreation and health. Any outing that does not fulfill these requirements is not giving you your money's worth or doing you much good.

Fresh air? Indeed; yes. Exercise? Plenty of that too. Amusements of one kind or another? That's what you go for. But sunburn? Well, the next time you go to the mountains, lake or shore, join the sensible minority and take your sun in homeopathic doses. Thus you will display unusual wisdom and in addition have the best vacation of your life. Don't become too friendly with Old King Sol—the stingee!

USE THE BRUSH

IT'S coming back, they say. But even if it were not, there is still plenty of it left on women's heads and on the pates of many men, to justify a bit of information on the subject.

If one were to believe the bald-headed barbers, one has but to dash on a bit of this and that and behold one's hair will remain forever. And more than that, dandruff will be gone! One does not blame the famous artist or his trade sister, the beauty specialist, for their suggestions. Business is business. As a matter of fact, a dandruff remover once in a while is a good thing. The alcohol in it thoroughly cleanses the head. It is excellent sanitation.

However, while barber and beauty-shop lotions destroy and remove dandruff, they only remove a particular crop. For, like the bad penny, it is sure to turn up again.

Many are prone to coddle their hair. They wash it with soap and water frequently and between times pour on toics. When it comes to the head even the good old standby, soapuds, can be overdone.

Dandruff always develops in a more or less degree upon a healthy head that possesses hair. It is not a sign of disease. True, there are some unusual conditions causing dandruff that need the attention and care of a physician; but these are easily recognized. For the general run, however, the practice of gently rubbing the scalp with a stiff brush is a most effective, quick and inexpensive way of massaging the head and keeping it free from the over-active process of dandruff development.

Therefore, buy all the hair beauty you want to buy. Use barber-shop lotions and soap and water in moderation. But when you have done all this, don't forget the brush!

Famous Old Italian City
The city of Pisa, Italy, was probably of Etruscan origin. It became subject to Rome in 180 B. C. At the height of its greatness, in the Twelfth Century, it is thought to have had a population of 100,000. In the Sixteenth century its population had dwindled to about 25,000. It is now in a thriving condition, with a population in the neighborhood of 70,000.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

Floods in Georgia Cause Big Damage

This air view of West Point, Georgia, shows the terrible destruction caused by the rising waters of the Chattahoochee river. Only the upper floors of the houses remain unflooded, while many of the smaller houses are completely inundated. Many have lost their lives and thousands are homeless.

Failure of Humanity to Find Real Happiness, Indictment of Christianity

By REV. DR. HENRY DARLINGTON (New York), Episcopal.

IF THOMAS A. EDISON'S birthday statement that he did not know any one who was really happy is a correct quotation, and if Mr. Edison is only partially right, what a judgment on 2,000 years of Christianity! One of the great things that Jesus sought to give us was happiness, joy and peace. And yet how few of us are realizing that God meant us to get the most out of life.

This we are failing to do, I believe, because of four joy-killers that loom all too large in the average person's mind, the product of over-emphasis on material values. First among these joy-killers we may place the Puritanical ideas and distorted sense of sin that too frequently make people feel that to enjoy themselves would in itself be wrong. They think that anything that is pleasing must be bad.

Worry is the second of life's great joy-killers—worry over things not worth considering. Jesus preached against worry. In one of the modern translations we find Him saying, "Don't let these fear-thoughts get the better of you."

Our third joy-killer is the ceaseless urge of this age which seems to be prodding us on and on. Here in America we seem to think that unless a man is working his finger nails off, there is something wrong with him. We seem unable to relax, to sit content on a beach and listen to the music of the waves.

Jealousy, bringing us all sorts of unnecessary temptations, is the fourth joy-killer.

Typical American and Christian Governed by Ideals Not Appetites

By REV. DR. JOHN McDOWELL, Presbyterian.

Character is the only foundation upon which we can build a republic. Conscience, not science, is the only adequate basis for a democracy. To speak of our American ideals with no reference to American religious faith is a thin and shallow interpretation of the nation's soul. A nation can exist without religion, but it cannot live without it.

The present situation in America creates and deepens three compelling convictions.

First—There is no hope for Americans apart from the Kingdom of God. No new political system, no new educational system, no new industrial system, no new social system apart from the Kingdom of God can ever save America.

Second—There is no hope for the Kingdom of God apart from the Christian church. Other institutions will help the church, and for their help we are profoundly grateful, but not one of them will take full and primary responsibility for bringing the Kingdom of God—the kingdom of righteousness, peace and joy—into the life of America. The school will not take it, the college will not take it, the legislature will not take it, congress will not take it, the court will not take it, the public press will not take it. If the Kingdom of God is to come into our American life, the Christian church must take primary and full responsibility for bringing it in.

Third—There is no hope for the Christian church apart from an efficient, consecrated leadership and membership which possesses the following qualities: vision, knowledge, conviction, co-operation, sacrifice and character.

Fault of Modern Education That It Gives No Clue to Significance of Life

By REV. S. M. SHOEMAKER, New York.

Our education today gives us so much knowledge and so little wisdom, so much sophistication and so little maturity, that when we have run the gamut of exciting sensations and exhausted the possibilities of such life as we know, our souls are like rags wrung out, like squeezed lemons.

It is a most baffling and uncertain time. The old anchors and moorings are gone. The assurances which science and the new liberty held out to us have not materialized. The animal existence which gives free rein to the instincts does not invariably lead to liberty, but often to worse enslavement than before. The intellectual life of investigating and learning, is high and fine, but it gives no clue to the significance of life.

It was Jesus' personality throughout the centuries that has compelled men to follow Him, and although His presence is no more visible on the earth His appeal to youth has grown even greater. The mark He has left upon history has been only a white mark. Many crimes have been committed in the name of His religion, but they were faulty human mistakes in application. Jesus himself has only exercised a beneficent and ennobling influence upon men and the world. Such a one, standing in front of the moral and spiritual vanguard of humanity, has a right to call each of us, and expect us to take up like men, and not run and evade like cowards.

Better Than Monetary Assistance. Is Aiding Needy to Help Themselves

By REV. C. EVERETT WAGNER, New York.

Those who need help should be taught to help themselves rather than receive momentary assistance by flinging out gifts of money. When sympathy runs wild by performing deeds for those persons who have aroused it, the recipient is harmed more than he is aided. In this way parents are frequently the worst enemies of their children. Individuals hand out money for relief instead of finding a permanent job for the unemployed.

Thousands of people will reach down in their pockets in the distress of thousands that are out of work, but they will not invoke the principle of trying to aid people to assist themselves by agitating for the establishment of state and federal employment bureaus. When they know an aged couple in want they satisfy their own emotions and sleeping consciences by giving temporary assistance instead of helping to create a social order which acknowledges a collective responsibility by passing old age pensions in the various state legislatures.

The last individual which the church can aid is the one who comes to it expecting the institution to do everything for him. That frame of mind is helpless in a constructive method. The first individual which the church should aid is one who really wants a chance to have that opportunity to do so.

If Back Hurts Flush Kidneys

Drink Plenty of Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's noxious waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and headache.

Of Course

"What do they mean by this higher education?" "Something that's over our heads, I suppose."

Pondering on what this universe can do to the human race, none of us should feel too important.

Denver Mother Tells Story

Nature controls all the functions of our digestive organs except one. We have control over that, and it's the function that causes the most trouble.

See that your children form regular bowel habits, and at the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness or constipation give them a little California Fig Syrup. It regulates the bowels and stomach and gives those organs tone and strength so they continue to act as Nature intends them to. It helps build up and strengthen pale, listless, underweight children. Children love its rich, fruity taste and it's purely vegetable, so you can give it as often as your child's appetite lags or he seems feverish, cross or fretful.

Leading physicians have endorsed it for 60 years, and its overwhelming sales record of over four million bottles a year shows how mothers depend on it. A Western mother, Mrs. R. W. Stewart, 4112 Raritan St., Denver, Colorado, says: "Raymond was terribly palled down by constipation. He got weak, fretful and cross, had no appetite or energy and food seemed to sour in his stomach. California Fig Syrup had him romping and playing again in just a few days, and soon he was back to normal weight looking better than he had looked in months."

Protect your child from imitations of California Fig Syrup. The mark of the genuine is the word "California" on the carton.

Constipated

Instead of habit-forming purgatives or strong, irritating poisons take—NATURE'S REMEDY—NATURAL BERRY BR—harmless, dependable, effective vegetable laxative. 10c. Constipated—NATURAL BERRY BR—harmless, dependable, effective vegetable laxative. 10c. Get a big box.

PERSONALS

Here from Lincoln
 Ex-county commissioner Lloyd Hulbert, W. K. Williams, the garage man, Fred Pfingsten, son Bert and Gorgonio Wilson were among the Lincoln business visitors Monday. They were conferring with the County Commissioners concerning grazing, etc.

A Man

went into Ziegler's one day last week and bought a pound of tomatoes among other things. Later in the day he went back and said to Ben Sanchez: "Those tomatoes you sold me were no good, they were rotten, but I didn't bring back the tomatoes." "That's all right, said Ben, "your word is as good as the tomatoes." The man had left his tomatoes lay there on the counter, but he thought he had left them at Joe Adams' pool hall and when he failed to find them there, he tried the above scheme on Ben, which very much failed, but he got his "tomatoes," which were very nice and fresh.

 Visiting Wyre and Foster

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Crossthwaite, daughter Belle, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Speck of Colorado, Tex., were the guests of Wyre & Foster, the popular young dairymen at the Sierra Vista Ranch - Dairy at Nogal. They were looking over this locality and were well pleased.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. DuBois
 Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rountree, Mr. Rountree's mother, A. S. McCamant, A. W. Varney and several other Coronates were here the first of the week. Mr. Rountree, as chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, attending to a meeting of that body, while the others mentioned conferred with the board in regard to road matters.

Mrs. Ralph M. Treat and sister Mrs. Sarah Fisher of El Paso visited the A. H. Aguayo family here last Saturday, after paying a visit to the E. V. Abeyta family of Capitan.

Sam Wells
 who has been in the mining game at Terrero, N. M., for the past year, was here this week, accompanied by a mining expert, on their way to Sam's iron mines near Tecolote. Sam has some good mining claims at that place and the expert referred to, was in quest of something good, hence his looking the matter over.

Ben M. Stanley
 who resided here during the year of 1921, married one of our esteemed Carrizozo girls, the former Miss Mary White and left for Midland, Texas, where they have since resided, was here for several days this week, attending to some business matters and left Wednesday for his home in Midland. Ben and Mary are the proud parents of three children, the oldest son, Duffy, aged 6, who promises to become a singer who will lead all others of his home state, according to a complimentary press notice in the Midland Reporter of Wednesday, February 20, which says:

Master Duffy Stanley, introduced as a future Caruso or McCormick, at the noon day luncheon of the Lions' Club, sang two numbers and was enthusiastically applauded. At the age of 6, he could hardly pronounce the words he sang, but his stage presence was that of a veteran. —Note: If Duffy climbs the ladder of fame, as he no doubt will, Carrizozo can put in a claim for a portion of the glory.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McBrayer and children, who left here early in March for California, arrived home last Saturday. While absent, they visited relatives and friends in several cities in the Golden State and their visit was an extremely pleasant one. They liked California, but were glad to return back to Carrizozo.

Guests of the T. G. Browns
 Raymond Polk and Miss Mary Searcy of Alamogordo were week-end guests of Project Engineer and Mrs. T. G. Brown.

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER No. 17 By Satterfield

1. One of Hoover's greatest hobbies has been the elimination of waste in industry.
2. Another is the "Better Homes in America" movement, now organized in many cities.
3. As head of the state, he issued the 1920 Broadcasting Service in history.
4. He has laid great stress on commercial aviation and has stimulated its development.
