

FOUR STATION NEWS

A delightful bridge party was given at the Narrows home last night by the ladies...

Mrs. Helen V. Harris is spending a 5 days' leave in El Paso.

Miss Avis G. Babas is spending a few days in El Paso and will return home this week.

Mrs. Helen V. Harris was a Carrizozo visitor this week.

Patients discharged the past week were: Joseph Enocha, Sylvester Fleck, Cyril Daunt, Niles Glad.

On Saturday morning, we were favored by a concert by the New Mexico A. & M. College Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. W. L. Multer.

Wm. H. Knight, a Veterans' Bureau patient, was brought in to the hospital for treatment from the Ruidoso.

Earl Farr, our stenographer, is in El Paso for a week.

Jules Hakonson and Jack Ranier were Carrizozo visitors Monday, attending to some business matters.

Messrs. Sather, Paterson and Geo. Elmgren were in Carrizozo Wednesday, the first two named gentlemen leaving for Chicago on No. 12 and Mr. Elmgren returning to the Fort that evening.

"The Fair Co-Ed"

given under the auspices of Coalora Lodge No. 15, Order of Rebekahs, I. O. O. F., Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week, pleased the patrons at the Crystal Theatre and the Rebekahs realized something over $20.00 as their part of the undertaking.

Schell Bros. Famous Circus Coming Here April 18

There is a fascination about a Tent Show that appeals to everybody.

In our childhood days the glare of the band, the gaudily painted wagons, the animals, the funny clowns left an impression on the mind that remained there as long as life lasts.

Where old age comes and a circus is billed, tottering steps are directed to the parade, or to the circus grounds.

There is the delight there that came in the days of youth but there are the memories that come that count so much.

Young and old, rich and poor - all welcome at the big circus. It is an American institution that is popular. The lemonade and peanuts never taste so good as they do on a show lot.

Other pleasures may become monotonous, but the glamour of the teated arena never fades.

Schell Bros. Trained Wild Animal Show is an old institution, that has pleased millions of people for many years.

Aerial bar, ground and novelty acts are interspersed among the many animal features that can be seen only with Schell Bros. Trained Wild Animal Shows.

Among the many European novelty acts, none surpass the marvelous Japanese Artists, and the French troupe of wire-walking artists.

District Court

Judge Frenger, District Attorney J. Benson Newell, Court Stenographer Paul Brinegar and Interpreter Bennett are here this week as well as an array of attorneys who will present claims for their respective clients.

In the case of the state vs. Blundy Evans, charged with cow stealing, the jury could not agree on a verdict and the same was discharged. The next case will be that of Solomon Maes, charged with killing Juan Silva, we understand.

Our Little Friends Are Returning

To Meet at Carlsbad, May 6

The meeting of the Carlsbad Cavern-Grand Canyon Highway Association has been called to meet at Carlsbad on Monday, May 6.

We believe that this highway has great possibilities of bringing tourists to towns along the route as it is possibly the most scenic 700 miles in the United States.

A. D. Brownfield came in Wednesday, stayed over and went with the delegation to the Masonic Special at Tularosa last night.

J. E. Porter, Marshall West are here from Alto, being summoned on the petit jury and will remain until they are released by the Court.

Mrs. J. M. Shelton and her 40-piece Kiddie Orchestra is deserving of special mention after the performance last Saturday night at the Crystal Theatre.

The little fellows, performing on miniature instruments of different kinds, and the absolute time they kept to the leadership of Mrs. Shelton at the piano, was one of the most unique and interesting features we have had for many moons.

P. G. Peters was here yesterday from Capitan, transacting some business and leaving for home in the afternoon.

Word was Received this week from E.H. Sweet, proprietor of the Carrizozo Eating House, who is sojourning in California. Mr. Sweet said in his letter that he is feeling much improved in health and hoped to be able to return to New Mexico, soon.

town of old Lincoln, Picacho Hill, Bottomless Lakes of Roswell, oil fields near Artesia, Lake Avalon and Lake McMillan, Carlsbad with its bathing beach and mineral springs and Carlsbad Cavern. This gives one a variety of scenery that they are always glad to see on their way to and from points in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

We are hoping to have with us at this meeting the governor of New Mexico with his highway department and the governor of Arizona with a representation from the Arizona highway department as well as many people from both states who are interested in this highway.

We want to urge you to be present and bring your friends. Let us have a big meeting and put this over in a large way.

Dr. J. S. B. Woolford, Sec'y.

J. Benson Newell, H.B. Hamilton Attorneys, left for Santa Fe Saturday night, argued a case before the Supreme Court, and returned to Carrizozo this morning, ready for business in the district court here.

T. J. Pittman made a business trip to El Paso the latter part of the week.

Carrizozo Boy Scouts headed by Scoutmaster F. C. Rowland, left this morning for Roswell to attend the Jamboree.

Big Masonic Special

A rousing Masonic special communication was held at Tularosa last night, at which, 2 candidates received the third degree, Tularosa conferring the first and Carrizozo the second. The Masonic Hall was crowded to its capacity and the courteous reception given the Carrizozo delegation was highly appreciated.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

Held on April 8, at office of Village Clerk, at 7:30 p.m. President: G. T. McQuillen, Mayor; S. F. Miller, T. E. Kelley, Trustees; W. W. Stadtman, Clerk; Dr. P. M. Shaver, Treasurer. Absent: L. J. Adams, A. Ziegler, Trustees.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes items like 'Czo Outlook, printing $ 4 45', 'Lin Co News, 8 68', 'C R Carr, drawing plans, specifications for fire house, 158.70', etc.

The bids for construction of the new Fire House then came up for attention and the mayor informed the Board that a set of plans and specifications had been placed in the hands of the local contractors with request for bids and the bid of T. J. Pittman in the sum of $3498, being the only bid submitted and being considered a reasonable bid is accepted.

The matter of Occupation License previously required of the Fittsworth Company is tabled. There being no further business the meeting is declared adjourned.

Passing of Mrs Thurza Buxton Yesterday morning, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chloe Fisher of Capitan, Mrs. Thurza Buxton, aged 86, much loved by all who knew her, passed away following an illness of about one year's duration.

Mrs. Thurza E. Buxton, daughter of Jonathan E. and Chloe Gillett Hoady, was born Nov. 26, 1843, at Troy, N. Y.; married Stephen L. Buxton Oct. 20, 1861, at Tinmouth, Vermont. To this union was born six children, 4 daughters and two sons.

Mrs. Buxton came to Lincoln county February, 1910. She resided on her ranch between Nogal and Carrizozo until October, 1923, since which time she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Fisher at Capitan. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. H. Wilkinson, Quincy, Ill.; Mrs. M. M. Walsh, Harpers Ferry, Ia.; Mrs. Chloe Fisher, Capitan, N. M.; Mrs. H. S. Comrey, Ancho, N. M., and 9 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren. 3 of the grandchildren being well known in this county - Stephen E. Greisen, Mrs. R. L. Hale, and Mrs. W. B. Wagner of Payette, Idaho. Mrs. Buxton was a lifelong Methodist.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETING

The Lincoln County Teachers' Association held its convention last Friday and Saturday and practically all of the teachers of the county were present, 76 being registered.

A number of our state speakers were unable to be present, but some of them sent able substitutes and the other places were filled by local people. Mr. Enloe, High School Supervisor and Mrs. Rosseau, Rural School Supervisor, made very interesting talks in the general meeting and also were of great assistance to the superintendents and principals regarding their work. Mr. Gardner from A. & M. College gave an interesting address on Adult Education and Dr. Tremain from the State University presented the subject of Seat Work in a most interesting and practical way, using samples of actual work done and outlines for illustration. The Corona Rhythm band and the Carrizozo Primary Orchestra were very much enjoyed and Mmes. Shelton and Boucher are to be congratulated on the excellent work done with the little folks. The Spanish Dance by Miss Kimbrell and the high class musical numbers given by Mr. and Mrs. Boucher, Alfred Richardson, Miss Alene Thompson, the male quartet from the Capitan High School and the Carrizozo High School Orchestra were all very much enjoyed.

In the sectional meetings, the round table discussions and the numbers on the programs gave the teachers practical help in their class room work. The picture show Saturday night with the special numbers drew a large and appreciative audience, which was followed by a dance at Community Hall, the Arizona Nite-Hawks furnishing the music.

Last, but certainly not least, was the sumptuous banquet furnished by the people of Carrizozo. The color scheme of purple and gold was most artistically carried out in the decorations of candles and flowers. The menu was delicious and dainty and the toasts were spicy and piquant. Those responding to toasts were: Mmes. Thomson, M. L. Blaney, Rosseau, Alice French, County School Supt.; Miss Mary Fritz, Mayor McQuillen, Prof. Enloe, Supt. J. M. Helm and Rev. Ludlow. Supt. Helm, as president of the association and his committee wish to thank all those who so ably and willingly helped to make this meeting a success.

Fair View Viewings

Mrs. James A. Easley has recently left for Ft. Worth, Texas, to see her daughter, who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Turner's baby died recently.

The baby of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Petress is very ill.

The Fair View School will close on the 19th, following a program, Sunday School every Sunday at the Fair View School-house. I'll call again, Muchas Gracias.

Fair View Sunflower

Mrs. T. E. Armstrong Tucuman, was in Carrizozo for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. M. B. Paden.

Fairy Tale for the Children

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"I feel so wretchedly," said Mrs. Deer. "I feel as though I were not going to live any longer."

"And I want to live, for the world is such a beautiful place."

"The sun shines, the rain cools it off, the snow looks soft and white and lovely when the winter is here and the trees are almost always lovely."

"In the spring they burst into bloom, in the summer time they are full and green, in the autumn they are of various colors and in the winter they are often covered with soft blankets of white snow."

"There are the trees of the forests, the dark pines and spruces and elms. They are always beautiful."

"Oh, keeper, the world is a very beautiful place and I want to live so very much."

Mrs. Deer was very nervous, for all of the deer family are extremely nervous and timid.

They are naturally rather delicate, too, in most cases.

"I am afraid," said the keeper, as he saw Mrs. Deer limping about most "Well, Mrs. Deer, we must see what is the matter with you," the keeper said, and then the zoo doctor came along.

The keeper had sent for him. He had been around several times before, but the keeper had sent him away, saying:

"Stay around here, but not too near. We mustn't frighten Mrs. Deer, for she has enough pain without being made dreadfully nervous."

"We must be patient."

The zoo doctor had agreed with the keeper.

Mrs. Deer turned her eyes upon the keeper, now that she was being stroked by him.

The keeper stroked her and soothed her and said:

"There, there, Mrs. Deer, you'll be all well soon. All well soon."

Then the doctor looked at Mrs. Deer and he examined the place where the pain seemed to be.

"Dear me," said the doctor, "you mustn't worry, Mrs. Deer. You have rheumatism which is making you stiff and sore, but there are no broken bones and no fractured joints."

Mrs. Deer did not know just what all these things were, but she knew from the doctor's voice that everything was going well and that she would soon be about again.

"Yes," said the doctor, "you took cold and so got a slight attack of rheumatism which has pained you a lot."

"But you'll be all right in a day or so. You simply need a little liniment on your sore knee joint."

So the deer had the liniment put upon her knee joint. She didn't know just what liniment was, but she knew that something warm and soothing and comforting was being put on her knee and it was being rubbed in.

It was poured out of a bottle and too, it did make so much difference after it had been rubbed on her knee joint.

"You're going to be as well as ever in a day or so," said the keeper joyfully.

And Mrs. Deer, feeling so much better already, looked at the keeper, with tears of joy in her big eyes, and said, in deer language:

"Thank you, thank you so much, my kind, kind keeper."

Mrs. Deer Was Very Nervous.

painfully, "that you have sprained or strained your knee joint or maybe your ankle."

Poor Mrs. Deer, wanted to be made well and yet she was afraid to be captured by the keeper.

Now the keeper did not want to frighten Mrs. Deer, and he understood just how she felt.

She was certainly in a great deal of pain and yet she dreaded being attended to for she knew that often except so much more pain.

"I have to be patient," said the keeper, "for if I hurry her and frighten her I will only make her worse."

"Then she will have a terrible case of nervous fright in addition to the pain which is making her limp."

Indeed, the keeper was very patient. He waited a long, long time before the deer would let him take her gently, not forcing her to come to him.

Sheer Prints for Ensembles

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Printed chiffons are answering a call of the mode to "come early and stay late." Already with spring scarcely begun, sheer prints are making their lovely presence known. Their entrance into the style picture is being accomplished for the most part via the ensemble route.

The costume which has captured fashion's fancy for both daytime and evening wear is the ensemble which exploits lovely printed chiffon for the frock, likewise for the lining of the coat, which is usually of solid-tone crepe, silk or transparent velvet.

Just such an ensemble type as above described is shown in the picture. It is a charming model of the sort of flowery chiffon which is always so flattering to fair women. Its color scheme is richly enhanced by the presence of a chartreuse crepe coat, which, according to fashion's edict, is lined with the same print as that of which the frock is made.

The vogue for these lovely print-with-plain ensembles extends to daytime hours as well as those of evening. Designers suggest the idea of a duo role for these charming costumes by styling the frock with detachable long sleeves. At will the wearer can remove the sleeves, thus transforming a modish afternoon frock into a stunning evening gown.

Color sounds an especially triumphant note for these voguish costumes. Whatever the material of the coat, its color is selected to glorify the picture. Usually some one tone or tint in the print gives a clue as to what the coat color will be. There are such enchanting combinations as a frock of navy and white polka dot chiffon, topped with a three-quarter coat of bright navy transparent velvet, and completing this is a scarf of the dotted chiffon winding its graceful way about the neckline of the wrap.

Favoring on the list of these truly enchanting ensembles are those carried out in the capricious (nasturtium) shades.

Makes Cozy Room for a Girl

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In "Own Your Own Room" clubs, 4-11 girls learn how to plan a simple attractive room, how to overcome drawbacks and eliminate undesirable furnishings, how to arrange to best advantage what they already have, how to spend money wisely for new furnishings, and how to care for their rooms. Very often it happens that that she could have exclusively for herself was a little room over the kitchen which her two brothers had more or less wrecked with "rough-housing." There were seven shot holes in the walls where they had tried out their air rifles. The plaster was cracked in many places; the paper was streaked and faded, and none of the furniture was in usable condition. Ruby had almost no money to when a girl has succeeded, with the help and advice of the extension agent, in making her own room attractive, the family becomes interested and soon the whole house is transformed.

Ruby King of Alleman county, Virginia, wanted a pretty bedroom of her own. The only place in the house she had for improvement. She decided to invest what little she had in paint—white paint for the furniture and woodwork, rose water color for the walls. She fixed up the cracks and shot holes with putty, and then gave the walls and ceiling two covering coats. After the frame of the window and the doors were painted she varished the spots. In the course of her club-work she had made several articles of unbleached muslin, trimmed with a butterfly motif—a cushion, pads and pillow sham, runner for the dressing table, window curtains with a valance, and covers for the seats and backs of her two chairs. These accessories made a big difference in the freshened appearance of her room. She found an old mirror in the attic and painted that white, too. The result was so pretty, especially after she put a basket of flowers on the window and a braided rug, which she had made, on the floor, that her family gave her a white toilet set for her dressing table to complete the improvement.

Soap for Household Laundry

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The kind of soap used for household laundering depends on the fabrics that have to be washed, how much they are soiled, whether the washing is done by hand or machine, and whether the water is hard or soft.

Silks and wools are most sensitive to alkalis, and strong soaps which may contain uncombined alkalis should never be used on them, says the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. A mild, neutral soap of known purity should also be used on cotton materials that show a tendency to fade, and on all delicate fabrics. On the other hand, it is not economical to use an expensive soap on ordinary cotton fabrics where a medium-priced soap would be satisfactory, or on very heavy, dirty materials which would be more easily cleaned with a stronger soap. Many women ignore this and are either wasteful of good soaps or spoil their more delicate garments with poor ones. Chipped and flaked soaps go into solution very easily and have many uses for special fabrics. Some of these soaps are useful for the washing machine, but if heavy or much soiled articles are being washed, a solution made by dissolving a stronger soap in boiling water will do the work better. The ingredients of most washing powders are cheaper and more satisfactory when bought separately.

Water softeners are sometimes added to soaps but their price is usually greater than their value. It is cheaper to buy them separately. There are other objections to their presence in soaps. Common salt and other inert and sometimes insoluble materials are often added to increase the weight of the bar or to give scouring properties. Materials that will not dissolve and make suds, such as pumice and sand, are only valuable as scouring agents and should not be present in laundry soaps.

Casserole of Rabbit

Rabbit can be used in any of the many ways in which chicken is used. Those who do not like the strong gamey flavor of wild rabbit may parboil it in water containing soda.

To make a casserole of rabbit dress and cut up the rabbit, brown the pieces in bacon fat and then place them in a baking dish. Make a gravy by stirring flour into the fat, add seasoning and two cups of hot water. Stir this mixture until it thickens, pour the gravy over the meat, cover the baking dish and bake until the meat is tender.

A good laundry soap should also be free from excessive water, which makes a moist, but wasteful bar of soap. No one wishes to pay for soap and receive a large proportion of water. Almost all yellow laundry soaps contain rosin. It will lather and make suds, therefore it has some cleaning value, but if there is too much rosin the soap will have a disagreeable odor, give a sticky feeling, and possibly yellow the clothes.

Simple window curtains in a small room make the room appear larger.

A practical schedule of work is as necessary for the efficient housekeeper as for the business man.

Bolled frosting which becomes too stiff to spread may be thinned by adding a few drops of hot water and beating well.

Small hangers on rods placed low enough in the closet for children to reach them encourage children to care for their clothes, teach them habits of neatness and independence, and relieve the busy housewife.

Use an embroidery frame to help remove stains. Stretch the part of the cloth containing the stain over the frame and place it over a bowl. Boiling water can then be poured through without wetting much of the cloth or scalding the hands.

Some Good Things to Eat

By NELLIE MAXWELL

I wonder how many people appreciate fresh, green, piquant water-cress? When one may gather it fresh and serve it crisp and cool there is no green more appetizing. Here are a few ways to serve cress as sandwich filling:

Cress, Chives and Cheese Sandwich.—This one-half cupful of cress cheese with a highly seasoned french dressing, add one-half cupful of chopped cress and one tablespoonful of chopped chives. Spread on buttered graham bread. Press on a leaf of lettuce and cut into various shapes. Garnish the top of the sandwich with two or three sliced stuffed olives or a small fan made by thinly slicing a small sweet gherkin.

Cress and Egg Sandwich.—Mix equal parts of hard-cooked egg and water-cress. Bind with mayonnaise dressing and season well. Spread on buttered slices of whole wheat bread and sprinkle with finely chopped dill pickles. Trim, cut into finger shapes and serve on a bed of lettuce.

Cress and Tomato Sandwich.—Mix enough mayonnaise with finely chopped cress to use for filling for sandwiches. On top of the filling place two thin slices of ripe tomato well seasoned. Cover with another slice and cut diagonally.

Chicken and Mushroom Sandwiches.—Spread rounds of toast with the paste prepared of white meat, cover with large fried mushrooms, sprinkle with grated American cheese and brown under a hot flame. Garnish with bacon, cress and pickles. Serve at once.

Honey Sandwich.—Rub two ounces of Bagnolet cheese through a fine sieve and reduce to spreading consistency with cream. Spread on slices of white bread, press on a leaf of crisp lettuce. Cover and garnish with ripe olives and celery hearts.

Chicken is so universally well liked that one is always safe in serving it in homes where the family is of such size that several fowls are needed. The legs are often left, as white meat holds preference; the legs may be served in a creole sauce on toast, making a satisfactory use of good meat. Roasted chicken makes the best flavored meat for any dish, while for sandwiches the stewed chicken looks the best, which is true of chicken salad.

Chicken Livers.—Cut up and cook one dozen chicken livers and cook in butter until well done. Cut fine four slices of broiled bacon, mix with the hot livers. Toast and butter rounds of bread, spread with fried onions and top with the chicken livers and bacon. Garnish with two slices of fried tomato and surround with a little hot well-seasoned tomato sauce.

Hot kind of liver from a young animal should be simmered, never cooked at a high temperature, as it toughens it, as does boiling eggs.

"We're not hurt bad," Harris said. "The boys held them bunched in good shape."

A hatred of Slade was growing within her. Here, too, was a case where no other would benefit by the senseless stampede. If the beef herd could be broken up it would cause a delay to round it up in a strange range, with the certainty of many cows being mislaid—a case of weakening the Three Bar.

She had been so absorbed in turning the details of the new work, so elated at its progress, that she had come to believe in its ultimate success. And they had been unmolested for so long a time. Then had come the wanton slaughter of Three Bar bulls and now the stampede of the trail herd. It was conclusive proof that Slade had abandoned his former wearing-down process as too slow and was out to crush the Three Bar in the speediest possible way through any available means.

Harris, too, was pondering over Slade's change of tactics. He felt assured that Slade's own men had not participated in starting the run. Slade would not let any considerable number of his boys know that much about him. Some of Lang's men had undoubtedly been hired to stampede the Three Bar herd.

"The very fact that Slade is so bold with it is proof that he sees the necessity of crowding us fast," Harris said. "If we get too big a start he's blown up—and he can't had anything to work on—but plowed ground. He's o. r. now to worry us at odd ends. We can expect a steady run of mishaps now, for he'll work fast—but we'll win out in the end."

She nodded a little wearily for she knew that with Slade throwing all his forces against her the Three Bar would be hard pressed. In addition to this worry her mind was concerned with the riderless horse she had seen as she rode away from the wagon, the huddled figure "rawled in the dust. Every Three Bar rider was a friend and she hesitated to hear which one of her men had gone down in the raid.

"Who was it?" she asked at last, and Ha. is divined that she was asking back to the fallen night guard who had tried to head the raiders alone.

"I've been trying not to think about that," he said. "Lanky was a good pal of mine. I saw him go down, but I couldn't stop right then."

Evans occupied a place in her regard that was perhaps a notch higher than that of any other of the crew. "Can't we prove anything on Slade—do anything to stop him?" she demanded. "If they've killed Lanky, I'll judge myself it's the only way. I'll have Alden pick him up and I'll swear I saw him do the thing himself. He's as guilty as if he actually had."

"It's a bait or two for Slade," Harris said. "But that way may prove too slow. If Lanky's gone under, I expect I'll have to pick a quarrel with Slade and hurry things along."

"Don't you?" she objected. For all of her confidence in Harris' efficiency in most respects, her implicit belief in his courage, she could not forget the awkward swing of his gun and she had a swift vision of him facing Slade without a chance.

A crash of wagon wheels and the voice of Waddles' admonishing the horses interrupted her.

"How is Lanky?" was Harris' first query.

Waddles jerked a thumb over his shoulder. Evans, since once through the arms and a second time through the shoulder, reclined on the triple-thickness bed roll the cook had spread for him on the floor of the wagon.

"He'll come round fine in a few days if we can keep him often a horse and riding comfortable in the wagon. I've give him orders to that effect."

Evans groaned. "He drives over places I wouldn't cross afoot," he complained. "Did you hold the run?"

Reassured on this point he fastened out on his palfrey and the wagon heeled toward the herd.

The weary cows were held over for a day of rest. The night guards were doubled and this precaution was maintained during the succeeding two stops before reaching the shipping point.

Harris and Billie sat on the top rail of the loading chute while the last few Three Bar steers were being prodded on board the cars.

Harris slipped from his perch and motioned to Moore and Horne.

"You can go up now and take on a few drinks. Hunt up an old friend or two and wag your thins. Make it right secretive and confidential and make each one promise faithfully not to breathe a syllable to another living soul. That way the news is sure to travel rapid."

He returned to the girl as the stock train pulled out. Two hands waved a joyous farewell from the top of the cars, delighted at the prospect of a trip to market with the steers.

"I don't pretend to regret that old rille played over for Bangs," Harris said. "But I wish he'd sorted out some one else in the shipping place. It was bad business for the Three Bar when Harper went down."

"He was the head of the gang," she said. "The worst of the lot."

"And for that reason he was able to hold them down," Harris explained. "It was some of the outfit from over in the Breaks that stampeded us. Slade wouldn't let his own boys know that much about him, so he'd hire Lang. Harper had brains. He wouldn't have gone in for that. Lang has thrown in against us. He's all bulk and no brains and as savage as an Apache buck. He'll hang himself in the end but in the interim he may land us considerable grief."

CHAPTER X

All through the range and as far south as the railroad it was current gossip that the Three Bar would pay a thousand dollars reward for each of fifteen men, a fast saddle horse thrown in and no questions asked. The men were named, and if the rumor was based on truth it was virtually placing a bounty on the scalps of certain men the same as the state paid bounty on the scalps of wolves—except that it was without the sanction of the law.

This backbiting rumor had established a definite line with fifteen men outside, conspicuous and alone, and those who had once followed the hazy mid die ground of semi-lawlessness with perfect security now hastened to become solid citizens whose every act would stand the light; for the whippers seemed all-embracing and it was intimated that new names would be added to the original list to include those who fraternized with the ones outside the pale.

Those not branded by this alleged bounty system were quick to grasp the beautiful simplicity of it all. Some recalled that a similar rumor, supposed to have originated with old Tom Hattie, had wiped out the wild bunch that preyed on the Nations' cow-boys—that the Gallatin clean-up had resulted from a like report which Al Moody was reported to have launched.

It had the effect of causing the men so branded to view all others—with suspicion, as possible aspirants out to collect the bounty on their heads. The reference to the fast saddle horse was guaranteed that no questions would be asked before the price was paid and no questions answered after the recipient had ridden away from the Three Bar with his spoils.

Yet, if the thing were true, it was the most flagrant violation of the law ever launched, even in the Coldriver Strip where transgression was the rule. For the branded men were not wanted on any charge. It was merely the wholesale posting of rewards for the lives of some fifteen citizens whose standing in the community was legally the same as the rest—prize money offered by an individual concern for its enemies without reference to the law. On every possible occasion Harris flatly denied that there was a shred of truth in the report. But these very natural denials had served only to strengthen men's belief in the truth of the report; and inevitably they had established a hard line that cut off the men so named from the rest of the countryside.

Harris knew that his own life was forfeit any time he chanced to ride alone. He had not a doubt but that Slade had put a price on his head and that perhaps a dozen men were patiently waiting for a chance at him. Any man whose name appeared on the black list which he was supposed to have sponsored would overlook no opportunity to retaliate in kind. In addition to this there was always the chance of a swift raid on the men who had filed their homestead rights in the valley.

As a consequence Harris had taken every possible precaution. The full force of Three Bar hands had been kept on the pay roll instead of being let off immediately after the beef was shipped. These riders were stationed in line camps out on the range, their ostensible purpose being to hold all Three Bar cows close to the home ranch but in reality they served two ends, acting as a cordon of guards as well.

Three times in as many weeks strangers drifting in from other localities stopped in Coldriver and profanely reported the fact that for no reason whatever, while passing through the Three Bar range, they had been held up and forced to state their business in that neighborhood.

Hostilities had ceased. The Three Bar girl had anticipated a series of raids against the cows wearing her brand, swift forays in isolated points of her range, but no stock losses were reported. On the surface it appeared that Slade had given up all thought of harassing the Three Bar. But the girl had come to know Slade. He would never recede from his former stand. She noted that Harris' vigilance was never for an instant relaxed and it was gradually impressed upon her that the cessation of petty annoyances held more of menace than of assurance. Slade had seen that the Three Bar was not to be discouraged in its course and he now waited for an opportunity to launch a blow that would cripple, striking simultaneously at every exposed point and delaying only for a propitious time. In the face of continued immunity she was filled with a growing conviction of impending trouble.

Christmas had found the range covered with a fresh tracking snow which precluded possibility of a raid and all hands had been summoned to the home ranch for a two-day rest. The frolic was over and the hands back on the range. Harris sat with Billie before her fire.

"They'll be satisfied for another two months," he said. "Then we'll have to call them in for another spree."

This evening conference before the fire had come to a slightly occurrence. Together they went over the details of the work accomplished during the day and mapped out those for the next.

"Another two months and the cabins will be roofed and finished," Harris said. "Then we'll be through till the frost is out of the ground. We'll start building fences as soon as you can sink a post hole; and we'll have time to break out another two hundred acres of ground before time to seed it down."

The girl nodded without comment, content to leave him to his thoughts, her mind pleasantly occupied with her own. For long her evenings had been lonely but now she had come to look forward to the conferences before the blazing logs. She had made no attempt to analyze the reasons for the new contentment which had transformed her evenings, formerly periods of drab reflections, into the most pleasant portion of each day.

The weekly letters still came from Deane. The girl valued Harris as a friend and partner without apparent trace of more intimate regard. He wondered which would prevail, the ties which bound her to the life she had always known or the lure of the new life which beckoned.

City People Neglect Places of Interest

"Ninety per cent of New York's residents have never seen the sights which most interest visitors from other places," declares the editor of Farm and Fireside.

"Figures show that out-of-town visitors who go to the top of the Woolworth tower are largely in the majority, less than 10 per cent being New Yorkers," the article continues. A test was made by the editor while entertaining a group of farm boys and girls from Maine and Illinois. They all voted preponderantly that the panorama as seen from the top of the tallest building in the world was the most impressive sight they had seen in a list of many cities awarded them as champion grain growers or stock raisers by various farm clubs. Caretakers of other historic points in New York also informed the boys and girls that the number of New Yorkers visiting their places is less than 10 per cent of the total number of sightseers.

Lesson for April 14

HEZEKIAH LEADS HIS PEOPLE BACK TO GOD

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 30:1-27.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord your God is gracious and merciful. PRIMARY TOPIC—Helping Others to Know God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping Others to Know God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Leader with a High Purpose. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Influence of a Good Ruler.

1. Hezekiah Proclaims a Passover (vv. 1-12).

The way for a sinning and divided people to get back to God and be united is around the crucified Lord. The Passover was a memorial of the nation's deliverance through the shedding of the blood of the sacrificial lamb.

1. The invitation was representative of the nation (v. 2). The king took counsel with the princes and the congregation to show that the proclamation was the expression of the nation's desire.

2. The time was unusual (vv. 2-4). There was not sufficient time to sanctify the people, nor to gather them together at the regular time, so they resolved instead of postponing it for a year to hold it on the fourteenth day of the second month. This liberty had been granted before in an edict (Num. 9:9-10).

3. The scope of the invitation (vv. 5-9).

It included all of both nations who would come to keep the Passover to the Lord God of Israel. "Israel" is now used to include both kingdoms. The effort was intended to win back the nation which had seceded. The messengers were authorized to supplement the proclamation with urgent exhortation to restore a united nation. This urgent invitation was tactfully put as follows:

(1) It touched ancestral memories—"Turn again unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel" (v. 6).

(2) Recalled bitter experience—"Do not like your fathers and brethren, who trespassed against the Lord God, and were given up to decolation, as ye see" (v. 7).

(3) Aroused yearning for captive kinsfolk—"Your brethren and children shall find compassion before their captors" (v. 9).

(4) Stirred instinct of self-preservation—"So that they shall come again unto this land" (v. 9).

(5) Pledged forgiveness (v. 9).

4. Israel's reception of the invitation (vv. 10-12).

This invitation in Israel met with a mingled reception.

(1) Some mocked. The urgent and sincere invitation only excited opposition and ridicule. (2) Some with humble hearts came to Jerusalem.

In Judah, God gave them one heart to accept the summons to unite in the Lord around the great Passover.

1. The Passover Kept (vv. 13-27).

1. Altars removed (vv. 13, 14).

In the time of Ahab (23-24) these heathen altars were erected in Jerusalem. Before there could be worship of the true God all traces of idolatry must be removed. This voluntary act of the people showed a right spirit.

2. The Passover killed (v. 15). The zeal of the people was shown in their going forward with the service, though the priests were not ready for their task.

3. The priests and Levites ashamed (vv. 15-20).

The zeal of the people put to shame the priests and Levites, stimulating them to perform their duties according to the law as given by Moses. The Levites then took charge of the killing of the Passover. Though many of the people were ceremonially unprepared to take part in the most sacred service, they were accepted as worshippers through the intercession of Hezekiah. God accepted the purpose of heart rather than the letter of the law.

4. The praise of glad hearts (vv. 21, 22).

They continued seven days with gladness: (1) The Levites and priests sang God's praise daily with loud instruments (v. 21); (2) Hezekiah spoke comforting words to the Levites (v. 22). He commended them and their teaching of the knowledge of God.

5. The Passover prolonged seven days (vv. 23-27).

The king's object in prolonging the feast was to make as lasting an impression as possible, so as to result in the thorough conversion of their souls to God.

NICE WORDS WON'T DYE a dress or coat...

Neither pretty pictures nor colorful adjectives will dye a dress or coat. It takes real dyes to do the work; dyes made from true anilines.

Next time you have dyeing to do, try Diamond Dyes. See how easy it is to use them. Then compare the results. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree they are better dyes.

You get none of that re-dyed look from Diamond Dyes; no streaking or spotting. Just fresh, crisp, bright new color. And watch the way they keep their brilliance through wear and washing. They are better dyes because they contain plenty of real anilines—from three to five times more than other dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

Philippine Coinage

Money coined for the Philippine Islands first arrived in the Philippines from the Philadelphia and San Francisco mints in June, 1903, and was first placed in circulation in July, 1903. This was done in accordance with the provisions of a tentative law passed in 1902. On June 23, 1906, an act was passed to establish the standard of value and to provide for a coinage system in the Philippine Islands. From that time on the San Francisco mint, when requested to do so, has coined money for the Philippines. For the past few years the United States has not struck coins for the Philippines. The old dies are still in use.

Marlian Transformer.

A Brazilian inventor recently announced that he has perfected a device to make walking swifter and less tiresome. The apparatus, which he calls a Marlian transformer, weighs about two pounds and is attached to the back. It is supposed to energize the nervous system, so that one may hike long distances over high mountains with a small expenditure of bodily energy. With a similar device weighing about 33 pounds, the inventor claims that one may take off to aerial flight like a bird. As yet, however, no practical demonstrations have been given.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Board of Lincoln County Commissioners

which had been in session since Monday, April 8, closed its labors Wednesday. The principal portion of the time was consumed with the Board acting as a Board of Equalization and the long and tedious schedules were gone over and some increased in their taxes, while in other cases, there were reductions.

This work requires a great deal of time and the labors of the Board go on with but a small amount of consideration from citizens, from the fact that the public, mainly, fails to see what the board's labors really consist of.

Again, there is not a member of the board but what sacrifices a great deal in order to fulfill his duties as a commissioner. Take for instance, Mr. Rountree; he is connected with a big sheep raising and wool growing enterprise near Corona. The time is now near at hand for lambing and as a matter of fact, he is losing much valuable time on the board, because much work and preparation is yet to be accomplished before that period, which begins from the 27th of April to May 1st and continues for the remainder of that month, therefore, he is sacrificing a great deal in not being able to be on the ground and overseeing the work.

Mr. Grey, has much work on his hands in the State Highway Department and his absence from it to attend to his duties on the board, means much to himself and also to the department. During the sessions, he finds time to go out on the different projects, give directions as to how the work must be done, leave a competent man in charge and return to the sessions of the board. This sacrifices a great deal on Mr. Grey's part, but while he loses, the county gains.

Mr. Stover is a stockman in the lower valley and is also a truck farmer, all of which demands his time, more especially just at this time of the year. Therefore, Mr. Stover, like his associates on the board, sacrifices a great deal by being absent for a week or ten days from his duties in connection with his business.

It may be mentioned in connection with these statements, that the remuneration for the labors of the board amounts to nothing, compared with the loss they sustain by sitting on the board — for what they receive, is away short of what their expenses are during the sessions at this particular time of the year.

By MARGARET BOYD

(© by Margaret Boyd.) "All the dull, deep pain, and constant anguish of patience!" —Evangeline.

Peaceful patience is for the old or the philosophical. For the rest of humanity, patience is, indeed, a matter of constant anguish, a waiting for the hope deferred that "maketh the heart sick." So true is this that Thoreau, looking around at his acquaintances, expressed the belief that, "The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation. What is called resignation is confirmed desperation."

Patience has merits, but no pleasures. There is no doubt that whatever we greatly desire will come to us if we have the patience to wait for it long enough; but it takes age or great philosophy to lead us to say with Burroughs:

serene, I fold my hands and wait, Nor care for wind nor tide nor sea; I gaze no more against time or fate, For to my own shall come to me.

The stars come nightly to the sky; The tidal wave unto the sea; For time, nor space, nor deep, nor high, Can keep my own away from me.

Most of us want what we want when we want it. When we are patient, it is because our only choice is between patience and impatience.

We speak much of the patience of Job, but little of the anguish of that patience—the anguish that led him to curse the day of his birth, crying out, "Let the day perish wherein I was born"; the anguish expressed in his speech, "When I lie down, I say, When shall I arise, and the night be gone? and I am full of tossing to and fro unto the dawning of the day."

One of the great causes of misunderstanding between the old and the young is due to the fact that the old can be severely patient and the young cannot. It was Holmes who told the tale of the farmer who refused to plant an apple orchard because the trees matured so slowly he might not reap the benefits of his toil. The farmer's father refused for the same reason; but the old grandfather planted the orchard and lived to drink cider made from its apples. It takes words of the "dull, deep pain, and constant anguish of patience" to bring the gulf between the impatient young man and the patient grandfather.

SERVICE EXTENSIONS AT LESS COST

Rural Sections and Urban Subscribers Both Benefit

Continuing its aim to provide the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost to the public, this company recently announced an increase in the amount allowed for the extension of telephone service to subscribers located in sparsely settled sections and for the installation of private branch exchange systems most commonly provided for larger telephone users in cities and towns.

Previously, this company in furnishing service to outlying subscribers had paid at least $35.00 of the cost of construction for extending a new line from an isolated ranch or farm to the nearest existing telephone pole line. Under the new practice now effective, the company will pay $75.00 and in some cases more, when conditions warrant. This is simply another affirmation of this company's continuing effort to provide a service that will enable anyone anywhere to talk by telephone with anyone else anywhere else.

In connection with the installation of private branch exchange equipment, employed by large telephone users, this company's former allowance to the subscriber was $5.00 for each telephone connected. This limitation has now been removed entirely and these types of private branch exchange systems will be provided without payment of any installation charges.

The new practice, therefore, will benefit new subscribers in remote sections and also subscribers in cities and towns.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Hoover Will Give Jobs Only to Those Who Prove Their Fitness.

A RIGID scrutiny of all applicants for federal appointments is to be the policy of the present administration. President Hoover has announced in no uncertain terms that in the future every applicant for office in the government service must demonstrate his fitness for the job.

His first move in this direction is the reorganization of the present Republican organizations in Mississippi, South Carolina and Georgia, on the grounds of irresponsibility and corruption, and the demand that they be replaced by Republican leaders possessing integrity and the confidence of their communities. In Texas, Alabama, Florida and some other states, where the existing leadership has fallen into disrepute, the President announced that these leaders would be compelled to divide authority with advisory committees acceptable to the administration.

The President's action is based on the report of the Brookhart committee of the senate which made an investigation into the sale of federal appointments and other political corruption in that region.

This important announcement by the President was brought out by questions at the press conference at the White House. He said:

"Recent exposure of abuse in recommendations for federal office, particularly in some parts of the states of South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi, under which some of the federal departments, mainly the post office, were misled in appointments, obviously render it impossible for the old organizations in those states to command the confidence of the administration, although many members of these organizations are not subject to criticism. But such conditions are intolerable to public service, are repugnant to the ideals and purposes of the Republican party, and must be ended.

"The duty of reorganization, so as to correct these conditions, rests with the people of those states, and all efforts to that end will receive the hearty co-operation of the administration. If these three states are unable to initiate such organization through the leadership of men who will command confidence and protect the public service, the different federal departments will be compelled to adopt other methods to secure advice as to the selection of federal employees."

In other states, including Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and Florida, the Republican leadership has in recent times shown increasing strength and is now rendering able and conscientious service in maintaining wholesome organizations, under whose advice the appointments to public office have steadily improved and commanded themselves to the citizens of those states with increased confidence in the party."

A VIOLENT earthquake hit the stock market early in the week when call money went skyward. The first jump to 14 per cent caused a first class money scare in Wall street. Stocks came roaring down with a crash. Frightened traders sold for any price they could get, almost derailing the market. There was no sustained support, the rich men's stocks giving the most ground and the standard issues crumbling along with the good and the bad.

When call money later reached 20 per cent, the highest since 1929, records, prices and bank accounts went smash. Odd lot dabblers and the heavy plunger dumped their holdings overhead when they could no longer wait for the rally which came, but came too late. The market never was so violent. Later, when bargain hunters, investment trusts and institutions began buying, prices began the upward swing and recovered some of the ground lost.

Toward the end of the week the bulls recovered control of the market when assurances came that the money panic was not to be continued. Money eased to 15 per cent and was in adequate supply. New York banks kept the market unhindered as to any stringency in funds. The National City bank sent $25,000,000 over to the exchange to be loaned at rates from 10 to 20 per cent. J. P. Morgan sent over $10,000,000. This brought some cheer to the situation. Short covering got under way and prices reacted buoyantly.

Under the urging of the federal reserve board the strings about the credit supply have for some time been drawing tighter and tighter. It is the plan of the board to bring about a diversion of the country's money from speculative markets to normal channels of business. Should the week's mammoth liquidation serve its purpose, bankers anticipate a gradual relaxation of the purse strings.

One result of the market upset was that several houses sent out notices to their customers that hereafter all margins would be 50 per cent. Brokers admitted that if the federal reserve policy was continued and if the banks persisted in refusing to accept all kinds of securities and continued marking down the loaning rates, all margins in the street would have to be 50 per cent to ease the strain on the brokers.

THE arrival in Washington of Henry L. Stimson, former governor general of the Philippines, to take up his new duties as secretary of state, completes President Hoover's cabinet. Secretary Stimson immediately plunged into the work of familiarizing himself with pending problems and the duties of the office. Former Secretary Kellogg remained with him for a few days to give what assistance was necessary. The new secretary of state finds himself confronted with several matters of high importance such as American participation in the arms parley at Geneva, the Mexican revolution, American adherence to the World court of the Disarmament conference, the German reparations question, and necessary changes in the diplomatic corps.

PRESIDENT HOOVER has appointed Col. Henry L. Gilchrist, medical corps, to succeed Maj. Gen. Amos E. Fries as chief of the chemical warfare service, and Col. Stephen O. Fegan to succeed Maj. Gen. Robert H. Allen as chief of infantry. Both General Fries and General Allen, whose terms of office have expired, will revert to their regular rank of colonel, but both will be eligible to retirement as major general on application or because of age limit.

The appointments of Colonels Gilchrist and Fegan, who will rank as major generals during their four-year terms, was in accordance with the rotation policy adopted, but not always followed, during the last administration, and which was indorsed as "sound and in the interests of good administration" by Secretary of War Good.

ANOTHER airplane disaster has taken its toll of those who venture in the air. A pilot and three passengers were killed when the Ryan monoplane in which they were flying from Columbus to New York crashed into a tree in a dense grove on South mountain between Colebrook and Mount Gretna, Pa. Witnesses said that when the plane hit the tree it wavered, then rose slightly, turned over on its side, and crashed into the dense thicket. All of the men were dead when workmen from the Pennsylvania National Guard encampment grounds nearby reached the scene. It is believed the pilot lost his way in the fog and was trying to get his bearings over the military reservation when the accident happened.

THE preliminary work of the reparations commission in Paris has been completed and the conference has settled down to a discussion of the actual program of France. Chairman Owen D. Young said: "The work of the committee had reached a point where we must consider France before proceeding further in order to fit them into the scheme already written down. The only problem facing us is the number of annuities and the amount each year."

It is generally admitted that the total indemnity will be in the neighborhood of ten billions of dollars, but it remains to be figured out at the present value through the discount rate over the number of years it runs. The Germans stand pat for 37 years and the French insist on 59 years.

REPUBLICAN members of the house committee on agriculture, which is conducting hearings on the farm relief problem, are said to be almost unanimous in their approval of President Hoover's farm relief program. All the Republican members of the house committee as well as the members of the senate committee, which is also conducting hearings, have conferred with the President and have been acquainted privately with his general views on the farm which legislation should take.

THE Europa, pride of the German merchant marine, worth about $12,000,000, was completely gutted by fire. The building of the ship had taken about 18 months of patient night and day labor and was practically finished. Owing to the large quantities of paint, tar, oil and other inflammable materials aboard, the firemen found themselves up against a hopeless task in fighting the flames. An overheated plumber's stove was believed to have caused the conflagration.

THE Mexican revolution is slowly disintegrating. The army of Gen. P. Elias Calles continues its relentless plodding northward. Jimenez, former headquarters of the rebel commander-in-chief, Gen. Jose Gonzalez Escobar, has been occupied by the federal forces. The rebels abandoned the place on the approach of the federal troops.

The town of Douglas, Ariz., has got in bad because of the revolution. Charges that two city-owned machine guns and 37,000 rounds of ammunition had been sold to the Mexican rebels for $2,000 and that the city received only $500 of the money precipitated an investigation of the whole city administration by the United States Department of Justice. Several city officials were arrested and later released under bonds pending trial on charges of conspiring to smuggle arms across the border.

THE Radio Corporation of America has sold its communication interests to the International Telegraph and Telephone company, receiving stock equivalent to $100,000,000.

The deal makes I. T. & T. the largest international communications system in the world and apparently leaves Radio Corporation as a manufacturing and distributing company for radio apparatus, phonographs and talking films, divorcing it completely from communication enterprises.

TORNADOES and rains have added to the horrors the South has had to endure lately. Talking stock of the damage while floods still raged in some sections it was found that 40 lives were the toll taken by the two elements in six states. The greatest loss of life was in Tennessee, where 20 lives were lost at Harrison, seven at Rockwood and three at Webster. Four of the deaths were in Kentucky. With the exception of Tennessee and Kentucky, where major streams were rising, conditions were improving over the South.

Along the upper Mississippi the river continues to rise slowly. Police and militia are on guard at the danger spots to protect the property of those who have been forced from their homes by the flood.

A COMIC opera revolt which broke out in the principality of Monaco lasted all of 25 minutes and left the country completely paralyzed for the most of a day. A band of 300 determined soldiers marched to the castle of Prince Louis and forced him under pain of abdication to rescind the decrees which have recently turned the tiny principality into a hotbed of unrest. The most important decree that Louis was forced to repeal was that for the cancellation of the municipal elections. The citizens celebrated their victory by spending the rest of the day in a safe.

The Arizona corporation commission recently issued a certificate of incorporation for the Murphy Realty and Mortgage Company of Tucson. The company is capitalized at $100,000.

A Prescott jury deliberating an hour and a half returned a verdict of not guilty in the murder trial of Tom Owens of Humboldt, charged with the slaying of John Kachnic last December.

A record attendance of 150 delegates was assembled in Roswell for the New Mexico and west Texas older boys conference. It was the largest attended conference since the older boys movement was started in New Mexico.

The Farmington, N. M., Chamber of Commerce went on record last week as favoring a county fair for San Juan county. This action was taken following a favorable report of the agricultural committee of the organization.

A sixth member was added to the Arizona state baseball league when the Mesa Jewels joined the circuit by posting the necessary $1,500 bond. The state league is now composed of Phoenix, Tucson, Globe, Bisbee, Miami and Mesa.

Two Chinese merchants and one Phoenix patrolman have been slain recently within the confines of the narrow, winding streets of Phoenix's Little Chinatown, and although it was not a long war this time, police nevertheless, were admittedly baffled.

Two thousand jackrabbit tails formed the centerpiece of a unique window-display in a local hardware store in Las Cruces recently. The tails are from rabbits killed in a shoot in which seventy-five hunters participated. Three huns held in Las Cruces have netted 5,000 fads.

W. M. Talbot of the United States bureau of plant industry recently made a survey of losses sustained by cattlemen in southwestern New Mexico from poisonous plants. While in Las Cruces he interviewed a number of cattlemen relative to loco and other poisonous plants found on the range.

The resources of New Mexico state banks during the year 1928 increased $1,479,524.88 over 1927 with no increase in the number of institutions. State Bank Examiner Lawrence Tammo said in his annual report prepared for submission to Gov. R. C. Dillon. The report was made as of Dec. 31, 1928, and showed that demand deposits had increased $1,128,659.69 and time deposits showed an increase of $233,835.32.

Every purchaser of a fishing or hunting license in New Mexico this year will be required to toll how much game was killed or how many fish were caught by him last season. State Game Warden E. L. Perry believes it will be almost impossible to accurately obtain the number of fish, ducks, doves or geese because of the large numbers caught or killed, but he states that the record should show accurately the amount of other game killed.

Four members of the faculty of the University of New Mexico have tendered their resignations, effective at the close of the present school term. The faculty members who have resigned to accept posts in other schools are Dr. Helen Elizabeth Murphy of the department of biology, Dr. Helen Evers of the department of modern languages; Dr. George C. Torborg, professor of economics; and Mrs. Cora Fern Pearce of the department of music.

Now officers for 1929 have been elected in the Verde district, Yavapai-Mohave council, Boy Scouts of America, at a meeting held in Clarkdale, Ariz. Roy Marks, safety supervisor of the United Verde Copper Company of Jerome, is the new district chairman and by his election is also a vice president of the council. Robert K. Porter, head of the Bank of Arizona in Jerome, is secretary. These men succeed A. E. Reese, district chairman, and H. V. Young, secretary-treasurer.

Corn led all other grains on New Mexico farms on March 1, with 1,045,000 bushels, according to the report of H. F. Hare, agricultural statistician at Las Cruces. The stock of other grains on March 1 was: Wheat 345,000 bushels, oats 35,000 bushels, barley 27,000 bushels and rye 4,000 bushels. For New Mexico the merchantable portion of the 1928 crop is about 38 per cent. Mr. Hare said, as compared with 78 per cent of the 1927 crop, and 78 per cent of the ten-year average.

The eight weeks' summer season of the New Mexico College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts will be held at State College from June 3 to July 26, H. M. Gardner of the college has announced.

Range conditions on the Coconino national forest in Arizona are better than they have been for the past four or five years, according to principal Forest Ranger E. H. Oldham. Not only is the range in good condition, but stock watering conditions are in as good a condition as they have been in recent years.

HOW TO LIVE LONGER

By JOHN CLARENCE FUNK

KEEP AN EYE ON YOUR EYES

A SCHOOL nurse recently visited a home to report defective vision in one of the younger members of the family. Records had indicated that average acuteness was noticeably lacking in this particular scholar, while to all appearances the intelligence of the child was normal.

"You see," said the nurse, "the medical inspector came around today and discovered that Robert needed glasses. No wonder he has appeared dull!"

The point of this story is not to demonstrate the intelligent care that is being given to conserve child life and develop it to its highest state of mental and physical efficiency, but to emphasize the vital part that the eyes play in both the young and old.

As a matter of fact, both parents of this youngster were chronic headache sufferers because they needed glasses; and didn't have them. But after the nurse's story they developed a suspicion of this fact and straightway went to a store and purchased glasses for themselves!

"Of all the foolish things man is likely to perpetrate upon himself, to tamper with that marvelously delicate mechanism which registers objects for the brain is about the worst. Yet thousands of ignorant 'smart' persons will go to a counter, try on glasses until they get a pair that 'fit their eyes' and march away elated over the dollar spent and the ten dollars saved!"

It is difficult to understand the colossal conceit which prompts an otherwise intelligent person to "pick out" his own glasses—an act which calls for most expert examination and experience.

And the small order business is just as bad, however, urged by the high-powered statements of expert advertisement writers, there are many, especially those of the more remote or rural regions, who answer a questionnaire and obtain a "perfect correction in beautiful gold frames." The fact that the eyes are likely to suffer vitally as a consequence is quite beside the point.

Just remember this: "Your eyes are your best friends. It is no fun to wear glasses and if you do not have to do so consider yourself fortunate. But find out about this matter and obtain your information only from an oculist or registered optometrist. It is quite beyond your own intelligence.

A final warning: If you are suffering from an affection of the eye then proceed quickly to an oculist only. He alone is the person qualified to advise you, and when necessary, to tamper with this most useful member of your anatomy. Keep an eye on your eyes!"

STAY OUT!

"LOVE thy neighbor as thyself," is a familiar biblical injunction. But even so, it has its qualification. And the quarantine sign is one of them.

There appears to be a popular notion that for those on the "inside looking out," quarantine is a mandatory sort of thing, but that for those on the "outside looking in," it means little or nothing.

Oversolicitous about the welfare of a sick neighbor or a neighbor's sick children, people will deliberately disobey the order plainly set forth on the sign and go visiting by the way of the back door. Thus, under a misguided idea of friendship, they will violate a rule which for their good and that of others should never be broken.

One has to be commended for the display of solicitude for friends and acquaintances, but if it takes the form of invading a home that is guarded by a quarantine sign it is carrying the thing a bit too far. It must be understood that neither fancy nor whim had anything to do with its placement. Based upon the absolute knowledge that health officials possess, it is put up for the protection of the public. It plainly says, "Stay out!" And that means everyone except the physician and persons in attendance upon the case. Others are trespassers, and criminal ones at that!

The germs of the communicable diseases are not to be tampered with. While invisible to the naked eye, they nevertheless possess the power to hang on to you, infect you, or by using you as a carrier, infect others.

Just a few days ago there was a back-door infraction of a scarlet fever quarantine. "Not a bit afraid," remarked the kind neighbor lady who was reluctantly admitted to the home. She was not prosecuted, convicted and fined for her indiscretion, but she paid a penalty nevertheless. Scarlet fever attacked her in five days later and in two weeks she was dead.

Therefore, the next time you see a quarantine sign on a friend's house, see the telephone for your inquiries and solicitations. Don't stick your head into the lion's mouth. It might bite!

Advice

A man is hopelessly egotistic who won't listen to advice—but he is worse than that if he takes advice without giving it a great deal of thought and turning it over many times in his mind.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use, as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

What Do You Mean, "Aged?"

Speaking of Chief Red Fox, an article says: "Though nearing his sixtieth year he is wiry and active and able to engage in campaigns, were they necessary." Age is a relative matter. The young reporter in referring to any citizen past forty speaks of him as "aged." The other day we heard an elderly gentleman say, "Youth has no time for age. I called to take my niece, fifty-eight years old, out to lunch, but she told me she had a luncheon engagement, so I was compelled to lunch alone."—Houston Post-Dispatch.

WHAT DR. CALDWELL LEARNED IN 47 YEARS PRACTICE

A physician watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the system and is not habit forming. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for anybody's system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly.

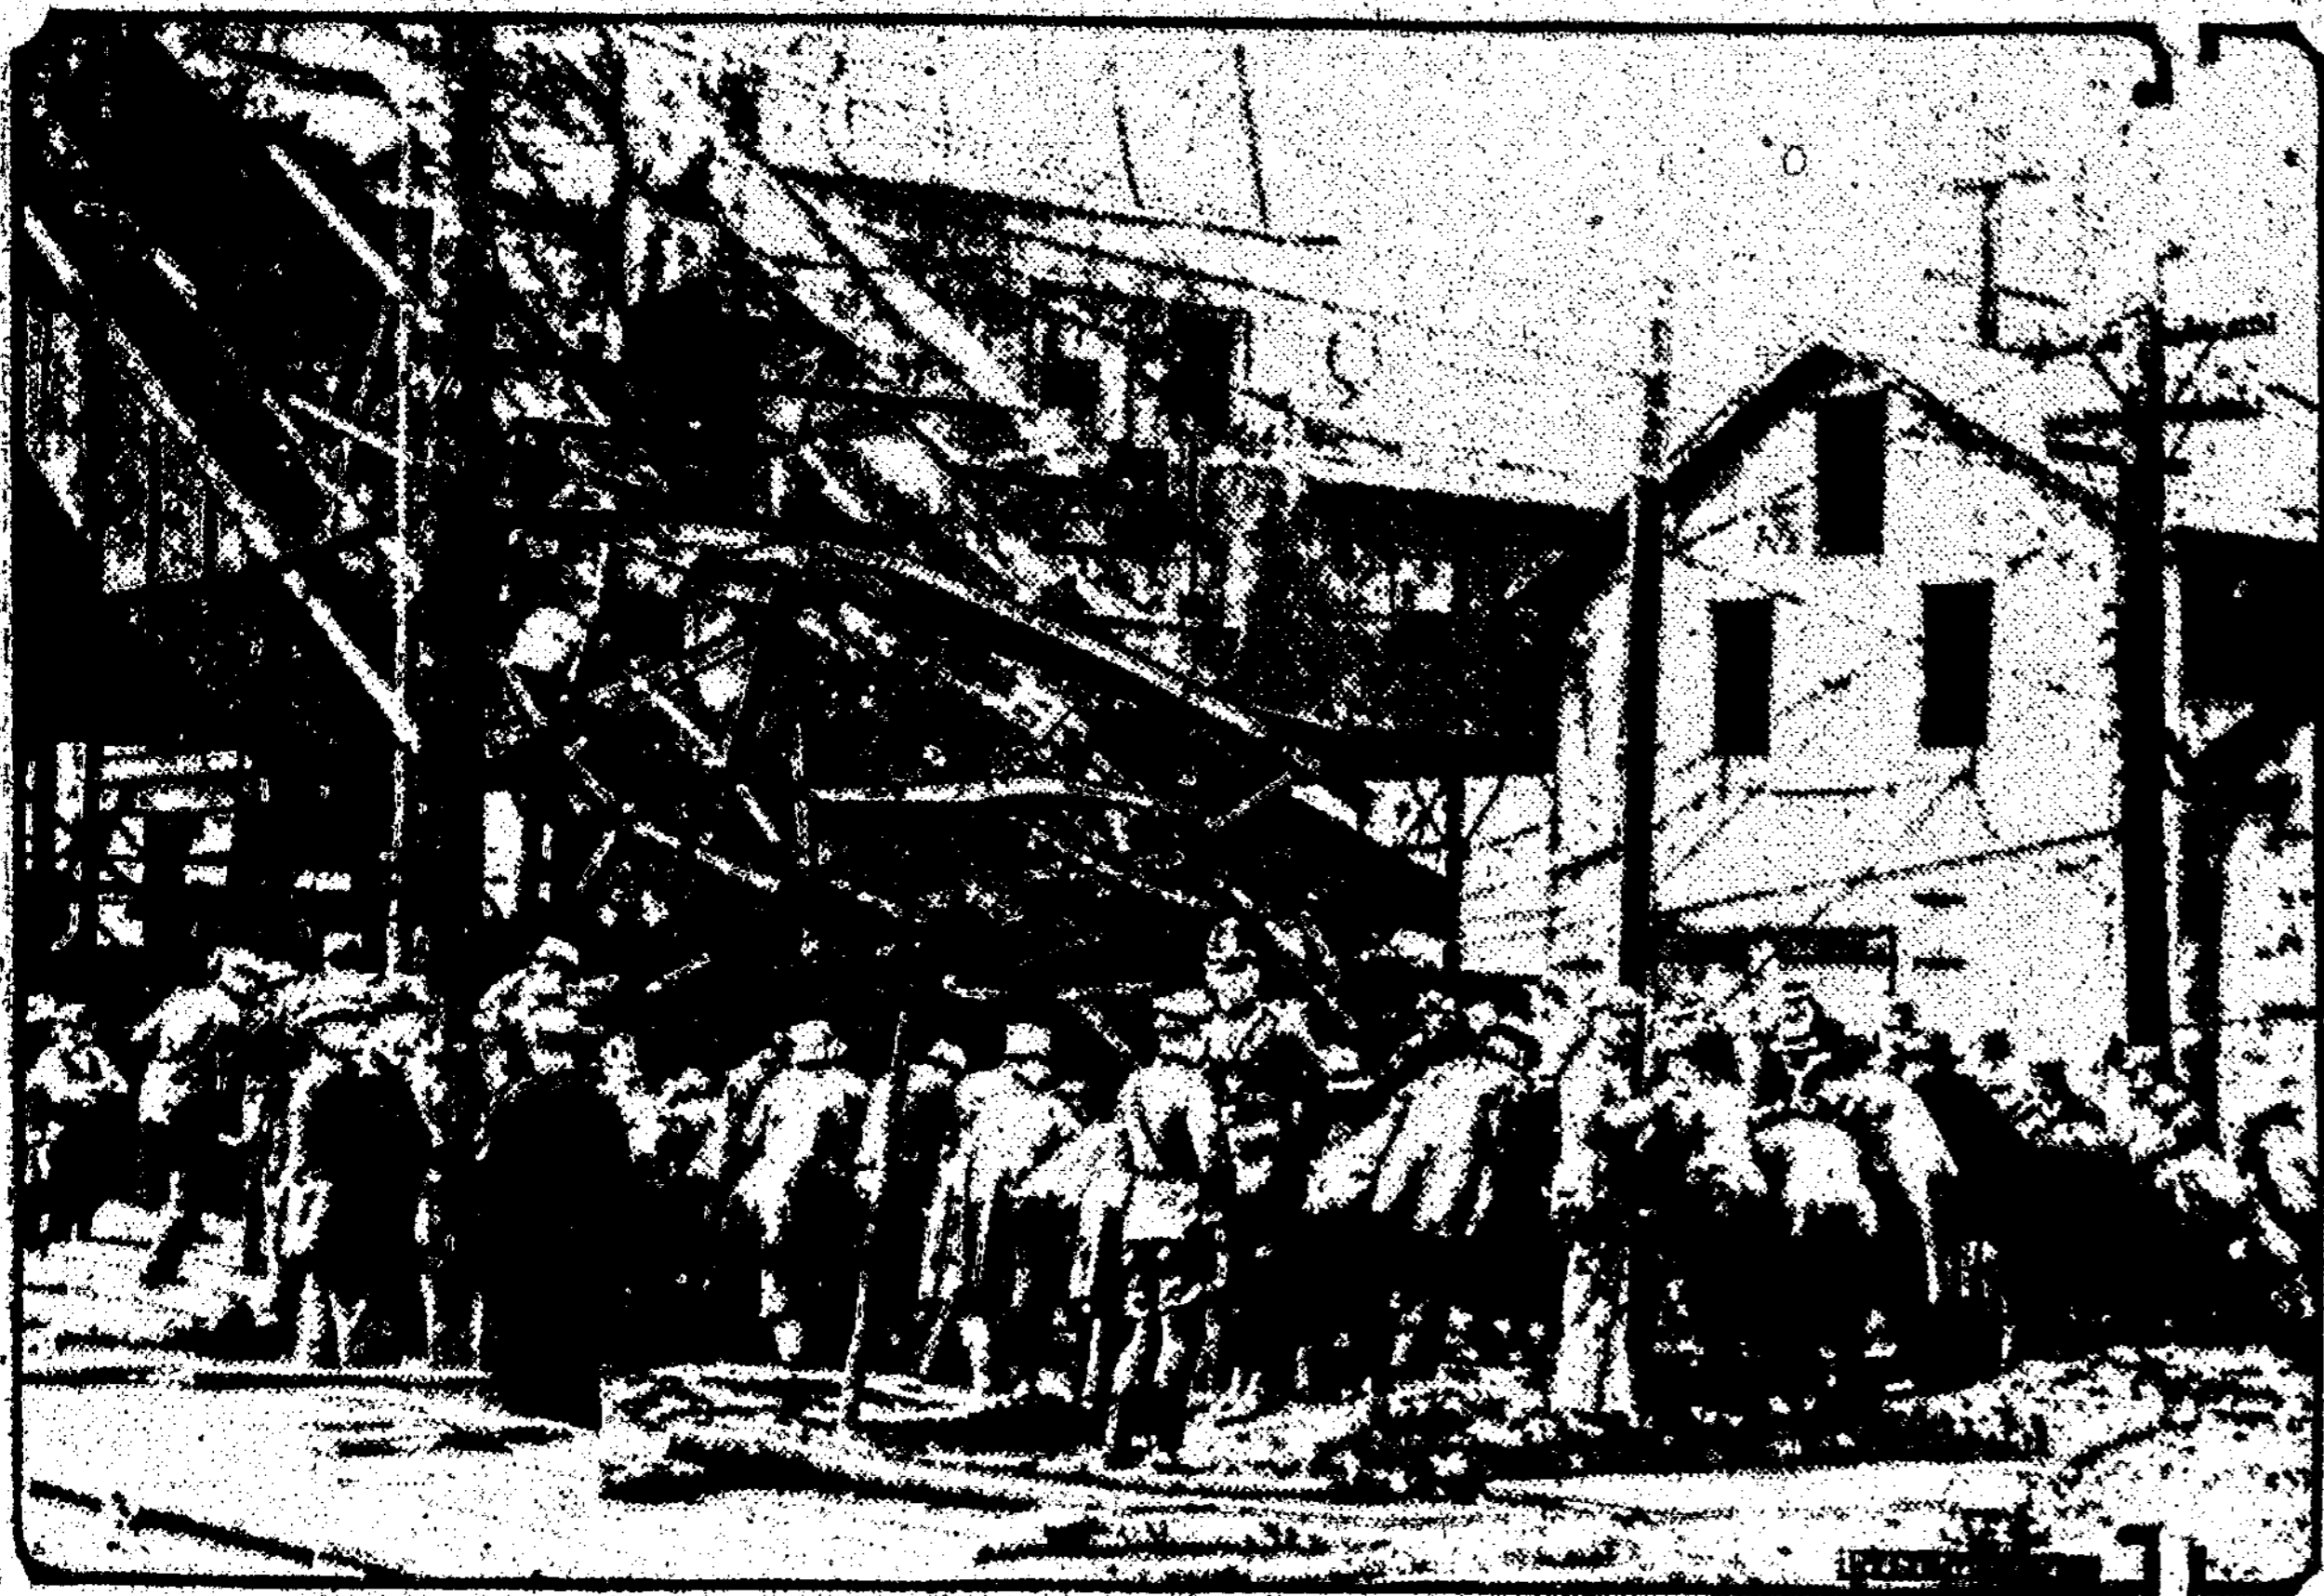

Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to the nearest drugist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. B3, Mendota, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

Shorter Working Hours Have Raised the Standard of American Workers

By ETHELBERT STEWART, Federal Labor Official.

MORE industrial workers in the United States are enjoying an increased amount of leisure than in any industrial country in the world. The dismal prognostications made some years ago when first shorter work weeks were introduced have not been justified.

The labor unions have agitated for shorter hours for many years and have succeeded in bringing about that reform. Now the five-day week is coming into general use. Forty or fifty years ago it was the universal opinion of employers that the longer the hours the better it was for the man. Vacations were practically unknown in industry. Both employers and the wives and children of workers in many cases dreaded Sundays because so many of the men got drunk. When the unions came along with their demands for shorter hours these arguments were advanced and were renewed when, more recently, the five-day week was proposed.

These arguments do not hold good any longer. The type of man working in the industries has progressed with the progress of industry. He has been compelled to keep up with the times or drop out of the procession entirely. Some workers still drink on their days off, but that is the fault of the man and not the system. If they drink habitually, they will find their jobs gone and, to that extent, the situation is self-corrective.

Modern Youth May Be Depended Upon to Measure Up to Test Put on It

By CONGRESSWOMAN RUTH BRYAN OWEN.

They talk about building more ships for defense against outward enemies! There are two ships we need within the nation itself—Citizenship and Statesmanship. A real republic is not governed by a small group, but by the service of each individual pulling together for the national good.

It has taken woman seventy years to find her place in the community. She is now gradually finding her place in government, and the future promises to see woman as a figure in international affairs. Uncle Sam needs a wife to help him with the national housekeeping.

On the young people of today depends the future of the republic. It is part of my campaign to give them an opportunity to play up to. Youth has always measured up to the test put to it. Look at youth's rally in wartime!

We still have the pioneer spirit in youth, and that spirit is as important today as it was when physical sacrifice was asked of the pioneer. We have our Lindberghs and our Amelia Earharts, who are more representative of American youth than the types criticized in the newspapers.

The same spirit is exhibited among young people with regard to citizenship. I am working chiefly among high school boys and girls, and the response proves that even they want their opportunity to be of service.

World Today Has Many Men of Faith Comparable to the Biblical Heroes

By REV. C. E. JEFFERSON (New York), Congregationalist.

Doctors, scientists and peacemakers are men of faith comparable to the Biblical heroes. Men of faith are not confined to the Bible or past history. We have groups in the world today who are heroes in the world of faith. Of these are the men who are working day and night to find a cure for cancer. Another are the engineers who are charting the log to perfect commerce in the air. Others are those working for a united church. Then there are the peacemakers, working for the abolition of war.

Many people do not know what faith really is. Faith is building on the invisible in order to accomplish the impossible. It is a thing of action, not a state of feeling. Most people connect faith with some theological belief about the Bible. Noah had faith, but there was no Bible in the ark. Enoch walked with God, but there was no book in his hand. So it is possible for men today to walk with God without a book to rely on.

It is true that faith is invisible; but scientists are working every day on foundations they don't see and never will see. No one has ever seen an atom, an electron, or wireless wave, yet we know they exist.

America's Need Is More of the Spirit of Christ and of Washington

By DOCTOR SHELTON, President National Bible Institute.

America today needs a greatly increased number of men and women who possess the disposition that was in Washington and that was pre-eminent in Christ—humanity, purity, clear-headedness. When Washington was derided and attacked he was patient and forbearing. When he wrote to the governors of all the states in 1783, he referred to his retirement as commander-in-chief of the American army, and said that he made it his earnest prayer that God would . . . most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy and to demean ourselves with that charity, humanity and pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the divine author of our blessed religion, without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation.

American Farmer Is Handling Only One-Half of His Own Business

By P. L. BETTS, Expert on Farm Economics.

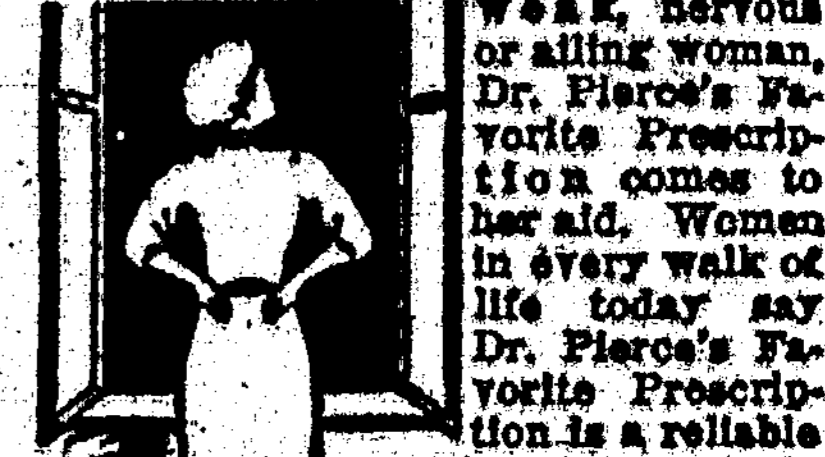

The farmer hasn't kept up with improving business methods. He has let some one else take over the selling end of the business of farming, where most of the money is made. He is permitting the other fellow to take profits the farmer himself should have.

Big businesses are merging, because by consolidating they can do things in a bigger way and produce greater dividends. What is the farmer doing? He is trying as an individual to compete with scientific business.

The farmers need to take over the other half of their business, the selling end, which they have let get away from them.

We farmers have made millionaires of those who own the other half of our business.

WHEN IT LOOKS DARK to my weak, nervous or ailing woman, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to her aid. Women in every walk of life today say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a reliable medicine. It is made from roots and herbs, sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablets.

Mrs. Bert Ross, 222 So. 14th St., Boise, Idaho, said: "Thru overwork I suffered a complete nervous breakdown. I could not sleep nor rest at night, had no appetite and my back bothered me. I was so miserable I could hardly do anything, but by the time I had taken three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my nerves were restored and I was feeling fine. I would advise any woman whose nerves are giving her trouble to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

This medicine contains no harmful ingredient. Send 10c for trial pkg. tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mason and Dixon Line Only Divided States

The Mason and Dixon line was the boundary line between Pennsylvania and Maryland, as surveyed in 1767, and popularly accepted before the Civil war as the dividing line between the free and slave states. If that line were to be extended due west it would divide such northern states as Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and leave Kansas in the south. As a matter of fact, the states south of the Mason and Dixon line which are generally regarded as southern states are Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland and Delaware, Cumberland, Maryland, is south of the line. The slave-holding states just before the Civil war included all of those mentioned above except Oklahoma, which was not then a state. Slavery had been abolished in the northern states before that time.

Mile-Deep Diving

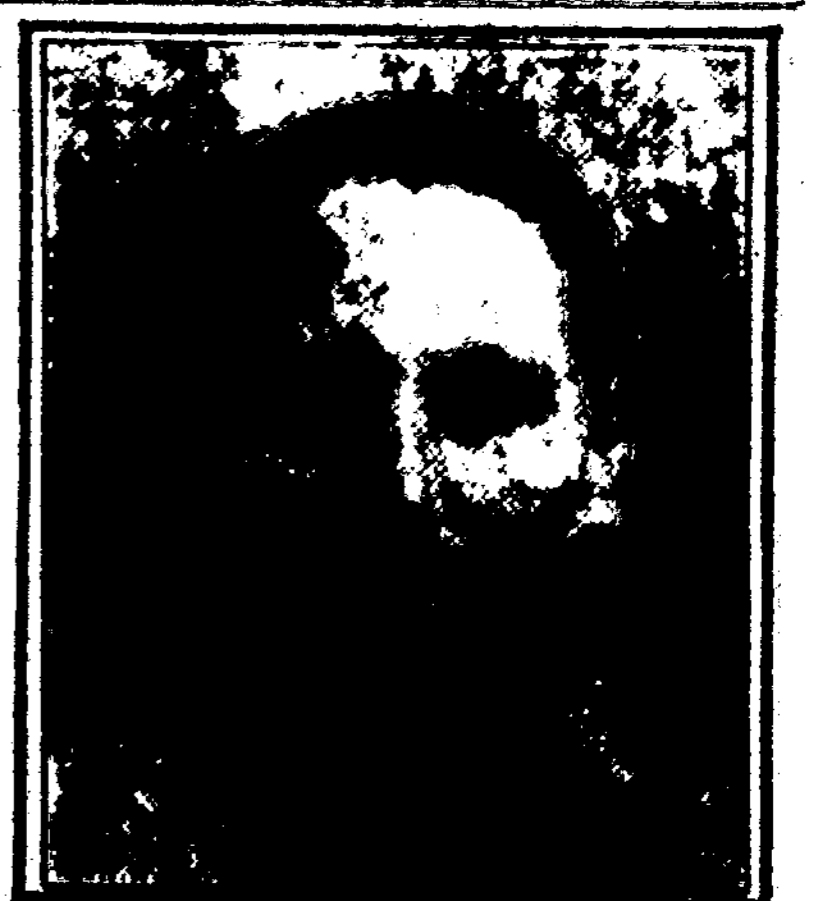

Dr. William Beebe, famous ichthyologist of the American Museum of Natural History, recently told of a new diving device which would enable one to descend a mile below the surface of the sea. It consists of a large steel cylinder, built to withstand a pressure of five tons to the square inch. Water pressure at the depth of one mile is about one ton to the square inch, so that the device would give its users a maximum margin of safety.

Three Generations Endorse It

"When I was a young single girl I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because my mother did and she gave it to me. After I married I took it before my children were born and afterwards, and I have eight living children. I am now a grandmother and still take it and will recommend it when any one is tired and run-down."—Mrs. Alfred Iverson, St. Edwards, Nebraska.
