Lawlessness Takes 9000 Lives a Year

So said President Hoover at a luncheon of the Associated Press in New York Monday. Continuing further the President said that many people believe that laws are made for those who choose to obey them and in addition, our law-enforcement machinery is suffering from many infirmities and regretted that it suffered in a great measure from inefficient and delinquent officials, from all of which we are reaping a disastrous harvest.

While these alarming figures stand out as actualities, he said and it is only too true, that but a small percentage of the persons committing these crimes are punished. Further he said that there are twenty times as many people murdered in this country every year than in England and fifty times as many robberies. At first thought, many might think that prohibition was one of the main causes of such conditions, but the President relieved their minds of that thought; he said that but 8% of convictions during the past year came from that source and a corresponding percentage during the time since the law went into effect.

He further said that the respect for law was fading from the sensibilities of our people but we do not wholly agree with the President on that. For if you will read the names of those who have committed murder and other crimes you will see that the names, where they have not been assumed, are mostly foreigners who come to our shores for no other purpose than to kill, plunder and in all manner disobey our laws. Take for instance the wholesale murders committed in Chicago and you will find Slovinsky, Lochowsky, Garibaldi, Doneturio and other tongue-tanglers too numerous to mention. Very few American names are found among them and few from any other countries than those where communism, anarchy and lack of respect for religion, law and order thrives, and the first thing in our opinion would be in order to get at the root of our national trouble, we deport every mother's son of them from this country as quick as possible on general principles and without trials, or send them to prison for life without pardon.

Dead Every Inch

Chester Hicks was a tight-fisted, hard-hearted old farmer. When his brother died he drove into town to have a notice about his death inserted in the newspaper. "That ain't no charges, be that?" he asked, anxiously. "Oh, yes, indeed," answered the editor. "Our price is $1 an inch." "Great Scott!" muttered the old man. "An' Bill was six foot two." — Sheriff John E. Brady.

Frigidaire Company Exceeded Its Sales Quota for 1st Quarter

March shipments were 50% ahead of the month preceding and 35% ahead of the same month last year. During March a total of 1040 carloads of finished products left the factories for all parts of the world. Units created for export were 50% more in number than during the same month of the preceding year.

"Prospects for April indicate still more broken records, said Mr. Biechler. We have already doubled scheduled production of our popular models. March orders and shipments were ahead of forecasts and as a consequence April shipments will be the greatest in our history."

People called at Frigidaire display and sales rooms last month in steadily increasing numbers to inspect new models. The percentage of floor sales was the highest we have yet experienced. General warm weather prevailing this spring has had something to do with the unusually early demand. But the introduction of the new Frigidaire cold control, through which the user can obtain any necessary temperature for dessert making has, we believe, contributed even more to present phenomenal conditions.

More than 25,000 of these cold control devices have been ordered as special equipment for machines in the field, which is a fair indication as to what people best able to judge of the value of this device actually think of its particular advantages. It is not merely a temperature adjustment but it is primarily a device for controlling freezing speeds in the desert and ice trays and is capable of producing near-zero temperatures in the freezing compartment at the turn of a handle.

Fuel Savers on the S. P.

Fruit and Produce Auctioned Over Long Distance Circuits

Neat Exchange of Advantage to Both Buyers and Producers

BY means of Bell System's transcontinental telegraph circuits, California fruit and produce growers are riding themselves of the disadvantages resulting from their distance from middle western and eastern markets. The organization supplying this service, beneficial both to farmers and wholesale houses, is the Agricultural Exchange of Pittsburg, which in a few years has developed a countrywide auction of produce during the busy season, the bidlers for which are located in the chief markets of the nation.

The Exchange's branch office in San Francisco each day collects detailed information concerning crops of produce being shipped east and at night distributes this catalogue over the wire to other branches in eleven cities between Minneapolis and Boston. The next morning these office notify prospective local consumers as to the nature of the shipment and the date of its departure from California. At 2 o'clock that afternoon, Eastern Standard time, the buyers meet in the Exchange's office in the different cities, and at this time, while the produce is still en route eastward, the goods are auctioned. "Line 1" is announced from Pittsburg and the buyers, who possess mimeographed sheets giving descriptions of "Line 1," make their bids. "Thirty-two," says a buyer in Chicago, and "Chicago thirty-two" is promptly relayed to the assembled jobbers by the operators in the other sales offices. A Boston house offers thirty-five dollars and this bid is similarly announced. The car is finally sold to a "Cleveland jobber for forty-one dollars.

Since the cars are sold 2 a. m. shipping point, and since the California producer is in immediate touch with current prices, the advantages of this system are obvious. A 5,000 mile circuit thus affords quick sale and provides the fruit grower in California with a market comprising seven of the largest eastern cities.

E. H. Sweet

of the Carrizozo Eating House spent Monday in El Paso on business.

R. A. Hunnicutt

and son William were Carrizozo visitors from their ranch about six miles east of Capitan Wednesday. Mr. Hunnicutt said in his attitude, the grass had not grown to a sufficient height for nipping, but that the soil was moist and the growth will be rapid after it gets a good start. Stock has wintered over well and enters the springtime in good condition.

Herman Consruch

one of the old pioneers of these regions was here from his home near Parsons and spent the first three days of the week among his many friends. Mr. Consruch lives alone on his possessions high up in the White mountains, which he would not exchange for any other place of abode. In spite of his advanced age, 87, he possesses a spryness that is remarkable. Before leaving, he told us that he had stayed long enough and was getting homeward.

Help Us Locate This Wandering Boy

On Saturday, April 13, Gareth Muchmore, aged 15, son of Clyde Muchmore, editor of the Ponca City News, Ponca City, Okla., left home in an old Dodge Roadster to satisfy a burning desire to become a western cowboy, since which time, no trace of him can be found, according to a letter received at this office from the boy's father, Monday.

During the entire year, Gareth had been on the honor roll at school as a sub-junior, but in spite of his advancement, he left a letter to his father in which he expressed a desire to be free from all school troubles and to cast his lot with those who occupy the great outdoors. He also left his savings, at least enough of an amount to pay all his obligations and to pay for the old car he drove toward the setting sun, reserving for himself but $90. His destination, as far as his father could learn was New Mexico or Texas, where he expected to hire out on a ranch and satisfy his desire to become a cowboy.

We would ask our many friends among the ranchers of this locality to assist us in the worthy movement of ascertaining the whereabouts of Gareth so that his father may correspond with him and induce him to return home and finish his education. He is a large boy for his age; he is 5 feet 10 inches in height, wears glasses and weighs 155 pounds. His father says that if he will come home and finish his education, he will help him to carry out his desire to go west, grow up with the country and become a cowboy. Any information concerning this young man, will be gladly accepted by Mr. Clyde Muchmore, Ponca City, Okla., or at this office.

Lincoln Forest Notes

This is American Forest Week. The week is set aside each year in order that the people of the country may think of the beauties of the forests and at the same time realize how disastrous forest fires are, 85% of which are started by thoughtlessness on the part of the public.

Supervisor O. F. Arthur and assistant supervisor S. Strickland were in El Paso Monday and Tuesday, where they met M. M. Cheney, Assistant District Forester of Albuquerque. The three men met with C. M. Harvey of Cadwallader & Harvey on land exchange matters. Mr. Arthur also transacted business with Ed Martin.

In a recent letter from Senior Entomologist H. E. Burke of Stanford University, California, he states he expects to again visit the bug-infested area in the vicinity of Cloudercroft this spring to make further investigations. Mr. Burke, together with Southern Pacific officials and Forest officers inspected the area last fall.

The forest fires in the United States cost us nearly $100,000 a day. Be careful with your camp fires, matches and cigarettes while out in the forests.

Assistant Range Examiner R. B. Ewing left Monday for the Glencoe Ranger Station. Before returning next week he will visit the Boca and Mesa stations.

Picture if you can—The American home without lumber; the American farm without wood fuel; American industry without wooden or fibre boxes for shipping its products; our coal mines without mine props; our railroads without wooden ties; the American people without news print. We can't get along without wood, but how about the wooden-heads who carelessly start forest fires?

Miss Georgia Nichols distributed American Forest Week literature, buttons and bookmarks to the Alamogordo schools on Monday.

Glencoe Woman's Club

April is a very active month for the club this year, closing with the district meeting at Carrizozo. On April 13, the club held its regular meeting at the Ranger Station, with Mrs. Vance Thomas as hostess and Mrs. A. F. Roselle as leader of the program. The subject was: "Organizations, Schedules and Budgets," and some splendid material and thoughts were presented, one of which was the reading of the General Federation News articles, written by our national president and national chairman of Rural Co-operation.

The club will send a member to enjoy the Farm Woman's Camp Meeting at Ruidoso on June 25-26-27. Mrs. D. N. Bonnell was selected to go. On the 20th, the club gathered for a luncheon at the Bonnell ranch. It was a cardinal day for the club; representatives from four clubs and several visitors were guests at the festival. Following a reception period the guests were ushered into the dining room. The tables were effectively decorated with apple and plum blossoms, and place cards held tiny sprays of apple blossoms, which blended with the color of the favors, the pajama lady.

Mrs. J. V. Tully, Pres. of the club, was general chairman in charge and gave the welcoming speech, which was responded to by greetings from the president and members of each club. The greetings centered around the thought of the work each club was doing.

Other delightful features of the luncheon were the readings by Mrs. F. C. Rowland of Carrizozo and Mrs. Plymate of Roswell; vocal solos by Mrs. V. J. Snodgrass of Tularosa and instrumental music by Mrs. O. M. Boggess of Mesalero.

The visitors and guests were: Mesdames Chas. D. Keys, Will Titaworth, Plymate, Lucas, Roswell; Helen Pate, G. F. Rousseau, Alamogordo; Paul Fickenger, V. J. Snodgrass, W. F. Coe, Tularosa; R. E. Lemon, J. B. French, R. E. Blaney, Paul Mayer, F. C. Rowland, Carrizozo; O. M. Boggess, F. H. Wilson, Mesalero; James Travis, R. S. Boyce, Ruidoso; Tom Burleson, Ft. Stanton.

Next regular meeting will be held May 18, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Werner, with Mrs. Geo. Coe assisting as hostess and Mrs. J. V. Tully as leader of program. Subject, "Looking Forward."

Delivered Charter for the Rainbow Girls

Last Friday night at Masque Temple, Mrs. Laura C. Becker, State Organizer and her assistant, Mrs. Campbell, both of Belen, were received by the local Assembly of the Rainbow Club for Girls, in a befitting manner.

The object of the visit was to deliver the charter to the local Assembly.

The degree was conferred by the officers for the benefit of the visitors who pronounced the work done in perfect order, and complimented the Mother Advisor and the staff of officers on the splendid record made so far, and predicted greater things to come.

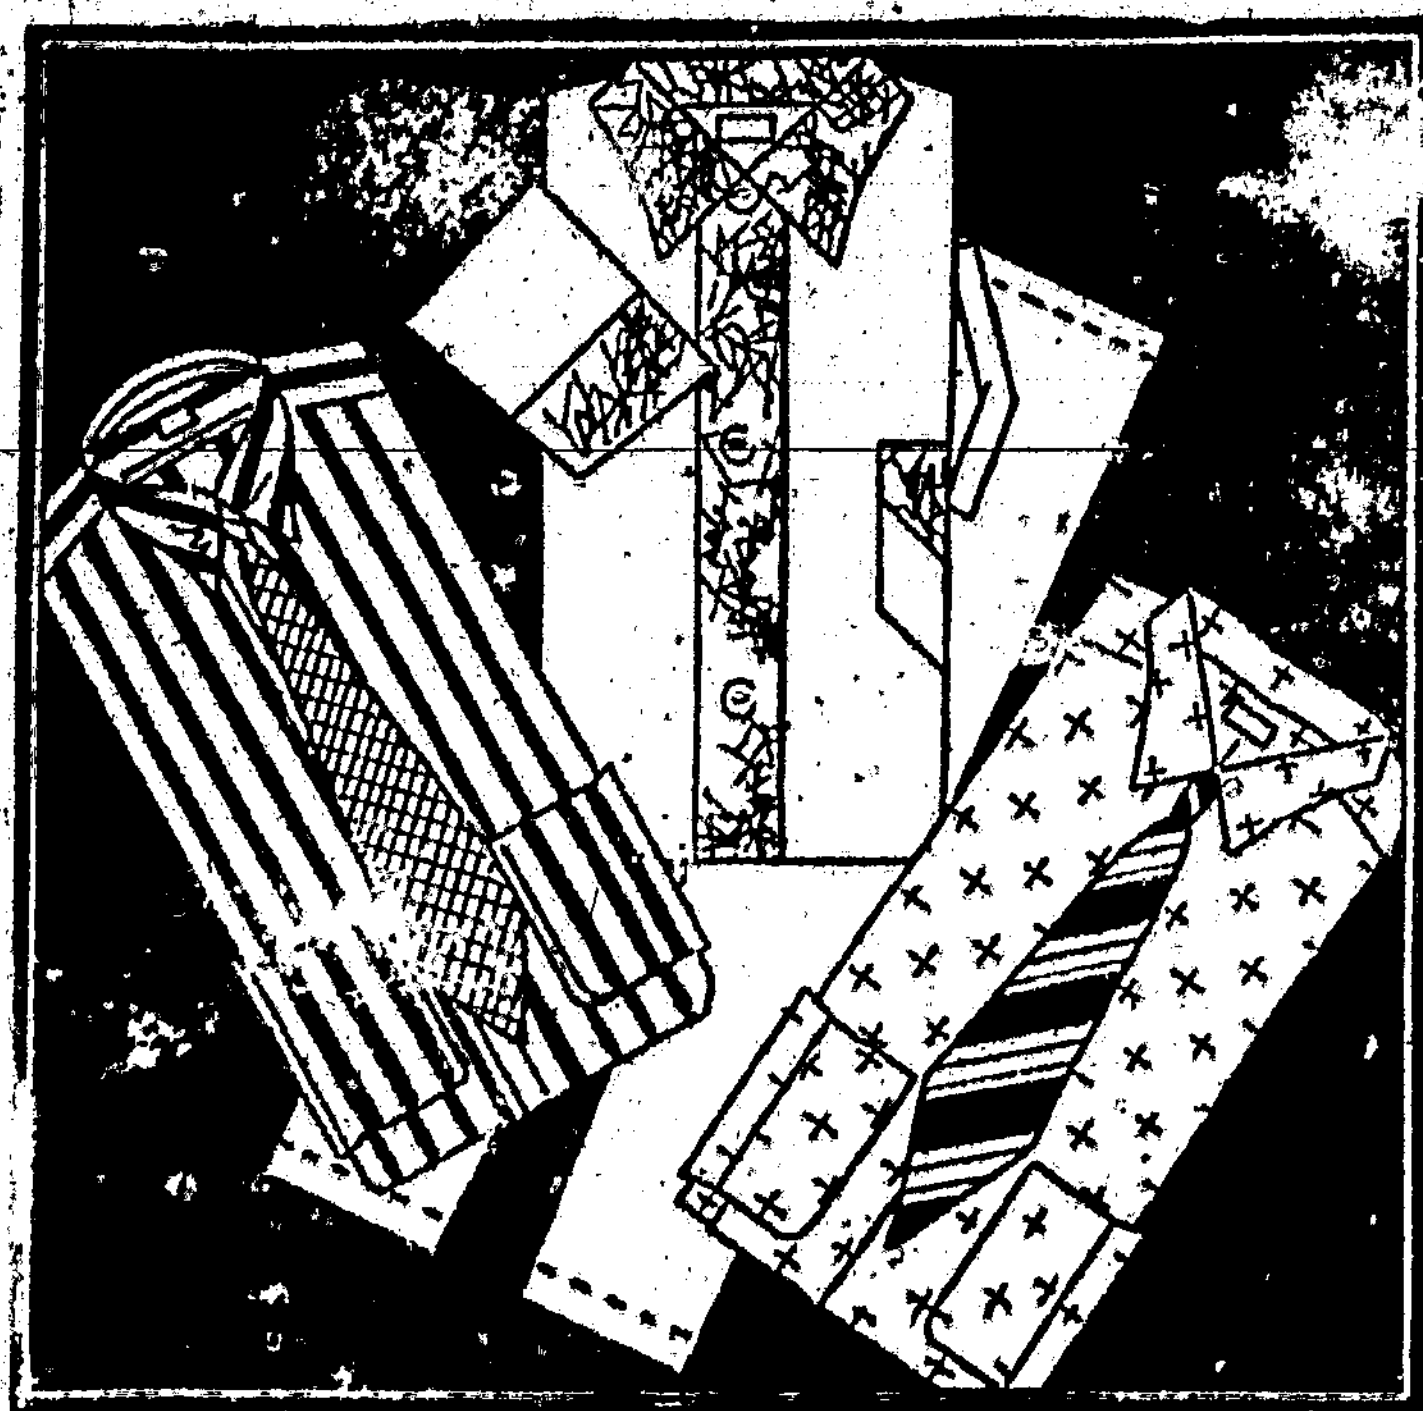

After the degree work, the State Organizer presented the Assembly with its official charter, and in turn she was presented with a bouquet of beautiful flowers, which closed the meeting, and was followed by the serving of refreshments in the banquet room. The hall was crowded to its capacity.

Rev. Ties Elkins

of the Church of Christ of Alamogordo will preach at Community Hall Saturday night, April 27, at 8 o'clock and also Sunday, April 28, at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. Everybody is invited to these services.
